Sanbornton community comes together to support Swain family

BY DONNA RHODES
dhrhodes@salmonpress.news

SANBORNTON — There was an overwhelming display of love and support last Saturday afternoon when the community of Sanbornton held a birthday party and fundraising event for David Swain, owner of Swain's dairy farm on Hunkins Pond Road, which is one of the last standing agricultural entities in the town.

From old residents to new, seasonal residents to even supporters from nearby towns, the Sanbornton Town Hall and all its surrounding land was filled with people who came out for a great barbecue in his honor. At the same time they donated money, enjoyed children's activities and took part in both live and silent auctions for the adults.

The highlight of the day however was an appearance by David Swain himself.

Swain experienced a stroke on Jan. 2, followed by a second and more severe stroke four months later in May. As a self-employed farmer all his life, he and his wife of 55 years, Elaine, don't have health insurance; therefore, Sanbornton residents readily took on the mission of assisting a family who has meant so much to the town for five generations.

"You guys are the bedrock of Sanbornton, really and truly," Ken Vandermast told Swain as he greeted him at the event.

It wasn't just a fundraiser, though. In fact, many said donations

When Sanbornton's most well-known farmer suffered a stroke in May, the community rallied to not only show their support but helped him celebrate his 80th birthday. Presenting him with a cake, as hundreds sang to him, was his granddaughter Rachel.

Winnisquam Watershed Network: Collaborating to Care for Lake Winnisquam

BELMONT — Lake Winnisquam is the third largest lake in New Hampshire and one of the few lakes without its own lake association to manage and protect it. That will change Saturday, July 29 when the newly formed Winnisquam Watershed Network (WWN) will hold its charter meeting at 9 a.m. at the Leslie E. Roberts Town Beach in Belmont. Everyone who lives on or is interested in Lake Winnisquam is welcome to attend.

"We have long needed a single organization to protect, advocate for and celebrate all the wonderful aspects of Lake Winnisquam," said Lisa Eggleston, who helped launch the Winnisquam Watershed Network. "Although many groups have an interest in the lake, there has historically been very little communication or coordination among those groups. The WWN will be the first to focus exclusively on all of Lake

Swim With a Mission draws massive crowd to Newfound Lake

dirhodes@salmonpress.news

BRISTOL — Huge crowds overflowed Wellington State Beach in Bristol last Friday as both young and old came out to cheer on participants in Swim with a Mission, a fundraising event which raised money for veterans' causes both locally and nationally.

Phil and Julie Traub of both Bedford and Hebron organized the day's activities, and were excited to bring in the United States Navy SEALs to headline their efforts.

"I wanted to bring a major event to this beautiful lake. My hope was to energize a group of people, like swimmers, who don't usually take part in 5K races and other types of fundraisers, to come out and raise money for our veterans," Traub said. "I reached out to the SEALs and to people all across and they all said, 'Tell me what you want me to do.' This isn't just about money today though, it's about outreach for our veterans, and this is how we decided to bring attention to them."

Beneficiaries from the event, he added, would be the Navy SEAL Museum in Ft. Pierce, Florida, New Hampshire's "Veterans Count" organization, and Plymouth's Bridge House shelter, which aids homeless veterans in central New Hampshire.

The origin of the Navy SEALs goes back to World War II, when it became evident that beach reconnaissance missions were important to U.S. defense tactics. Since that time, the SEALs have been a vital part of the military, renowned for their strength, determination and capability of handling missions on air, land and sea.

Swim with a Mission began last Friday morning with three endurance-swimming events on Newfound Lake. Among the events were a 5K individual swim, a 10K individual challenge, and finally a grueling 10K team relay. Top fundraisers for the charitable swims also had the opportunity to have a Navy Seal join them in their efforts.

The day also included food from the Common Man Family of Restaurants and other local vendors, a beer tent, ice cream, face painting, some temporary body tattoo art, live music from the band "Madison Rising," as well as live broadcasts from WGIR radio in Manchester.

The SEALs brought in their K9 partners for a special demonstration and even posed for photos with children who were excited to meet them all. Among the guests was former U.S. Senator Kelly Ayotte, who was excited to meet the K9 corps and Navy SEALs and pose for a few photos as well.

At the end of the swimming challenges, a special ceremony was held, featuring the sing-

TILTON POLICE LOG

TILTON — The Tilton Police Department responded to 265 calls for service and made the following arrests during the week of July 3-9. Please note that the names of juveniles, and those of individuals taken into protective custody but not formally charged, have been withheld.

Arrested during this time period were Tevin Mitchell (for Driving After Suspension and Possession of Drugs), Bryon Hilliard (on Domestic Violence charges), and Nathan Dostie (in connection with a warrant).

Franklin Animal Shelter now located on Rescue Road

FRANKLIN — Franklin Animal Shelter announces its new street name, Rescue Road. The name change is as a result of a recent review of the Franklin community by our NH911 Field Representative. The 911 field representative suggested that a separate road name leading to the shelter and other buildings in the area be considered as a source of less uncertainty to eliminate potential response confusion.

The buildings in the area include the animal shelter, the transfer station warehouse and the transfer station. By following State NH RSA 226 guidelines, the Franklin Animal Shelter board met and voted on the new name, Rescue Road, which was approved by the Franklin Fire Chief Kevin LaChapelle.

It is important to note that the Animal Shelter is not moving to a new location. This name change allows the potential for future development and less confusion in locating the building for the response team to provide treatment and/or rescue.

The Franklin Animal Shelter is operated by the Granite State Animal League under contract with the City of Franklin. The Shelter is a tax-exempt organization. Tax deductible contributions may be made through the Web site, www.franklinanimalshelter.com, or mailed to PO Box 265, Franklin, NH 03235

Community members paint for a cause

REGION — Cathy Murray likes to entertain at home, and would sometimes gather her friends and a professional painter for an afternoon of canvas painting, snacks and fun. When she inherited her father-in-law's dog, Scooby, who was diabetic and had a lot of medical issues, a new idea was born.

"Scooby's medical care was very expensive, and I realized how fortunate we were that we could afford the very best medical care for him," she says. "I wanted to share my gratitude by raising money for local animal shelters who save the lives of less fortunate animals."

And thus, Painting for Paws was born - a creative fundraiser to bring together Murray's love of entertaining and an afternoon of painting to raise money for a great cause. The event, which was held at Cathy's residence on Saturday, June 24, raised $325 for the New Hampshire Humane Society.

A professional painter donated her time and Cathy's friends gathered, donating funds to spend the afternoon painting a pug portrait and indulging in animal-themed wines and brews, scrumptious treats, and goody bags. Cathy provided each guest with information about the NH Humane Society, and a themed goody bag.

"It is amazing when a community member takes it upon herself to put together an event and raise money for the animals here at the shelter," says NH Humane Society Development Director Lissa Mascio. "We are truly blessed that there are so many animal lovers out there that help us sustain our mission of caring for the lost, abandoned and neglected animals that find their way to the shelter."

The NH Humane Society is a 501(c)3 non-profit whose mission is to provide shelter for the lost, abandoned and unwanted animals; find responsible and caring forever homes for every animal that enters our shelter; advocate and be the voice for the voiceless. The Humane Society works hard to prevent cruelty to animals and offers education and outreach programs, pet therapy, and many community initiatives to help people and their pets in the 17 communities in the NHHS area, and beyond.

If you have an idea for a fundraiser you, your business, school or other group would like to do for the NH Humane Society, contact Lissa at lissa@nhhumane.org or 524-3252, ext 309.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

The Evolution of American Values: Part II

BY LARRY SCOTT

In assessing the current state of American values in our conversation last week, I placed special emphasis on the issue of abortion, and I believe it demands one further note.

According to the Guttmacher Institute (see www.guttmacher.org), in 2005, 1.21 million abortions were performed, down from 1.31 in 2000. From 1973 through 2005, more than 45 million legal abortions occurred. Janet Folger, in her book "True to Life," notes that, "Only 3 percent of women getting an abortion did so for their own health. Another 3 percent because the baby may have health problems. No, abortion is not about rape and incest, the so-called "hard cases." It has become a routine method of birth control" (page 2).

How did we get to this point as a nation? As I stated last week, I am convinced that the social revolution of the 1960's and the civil rights movement were two trends that contributed to the deterioration of our national conscience. Concurrent with these came a third, the emergence of the Great Society. It was a fitting social "safety net," desperately needed by the weak, the poor, and the homeless, and that was good for America. Others less deserving, however, taking advantage of America's generosity, looked to society to shield them from the consequences of their actions. This trend toward unrestricted freedom to do as we please has now influenced almost every facet of our national life. Marijuana has been legalized, aberrant sexual drives have been sanctioned with legislation approving social unions and gay marriage, and transgender issues have now captivated national attention. We can only wonder how long it will take for polygamy to finally claim legal approval.

Added to all of this came the rise of post-modernism – a philosophy that claims truth is relative and conflicting points of view are both right. Post-modernism, rejecting objective standards of morality, has given philosophical sanction to personal freedom and the right to choose. "I'm OK... you're OK" we are told. No one is wrong; everyone is right. Consistent with this philosophical bias, God has been ejected from the classroom and the Bible has been put on a shelf. From my perspective, the consequences have been catastrophic!

It is truly time for all responsible citizens, and especially every Christian, to take a stand and be counted! Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these" (Matthew 19:14). The survival of the next generation, from conception through to a healthy home environment, with a mother and father to guide and exemplify truth and morality, demands our attention. No longer can we ethically sit back and criticize those who are impacting America with their godless philosophy while we do nothing! If we are to be God's representatives on earth, it is imperative that our response to this American crisis reflect Him in both our attitudes and our actions. With respectful but unwavering opposition to current moral trends, we make no apology for saying it is critical that America finds its way back to God and to the objective standards of morality and responsibility clearly outlined in His Word.

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarry-scott@gmail.com.

PET OF THE WEEK

PEPPER

Sometimes we call it 'unpacking the suitcase' and in Pepper's case, she did, for a long time. However, human problems invariably meant a return and two years later to New Hampshire Humane Society.

Now, before we all get on our high horses, let us state, categorically for the record, we support and encourage those that cannot continue dog ownership, to bring that creature back to us. It's the right thing to do.

Pepper is perplexed, and puzzled about the turn her young life has taken. Just 2 ½ years old, she grew up in the company of other dogs, and children. Always a bit of a worrier, and shy, Pepper mourns her former family. She so needs new friends to stand by her and help her realize life can be fun and enjoyable, again. She's such a good dog, having completed puppy training at the shelter when she herself was small, she is a wonderful calm, quiet companion who just needs a home to blossom and flourish in – as all good dogs deserve. Look into her wizened, melancholy brown eyes and see that glimmer of hope for a new home and a fresh start.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lots in store for Old Home Day!

To the Editor:

We had our successful and tasty fundraiser for David Swain (having an 80th birthday, too!). Old Town Hall hasn't looked so pretty in a long time – Rachel Swain has a way with flowers and hay bales!

Now it's on to Old Home Day in Sanbornton Town Square. Saturday, we start with the historical society's pancake breakfast from 8 – 10:30 a.m. at Lane Tavern. The three sites: library-church-Old Town Hall, Life-Safety Building / Town Office, Lane Tavern / Currier building and field will all be busy with family-satisfying fun and programs, vendors, raffles, demos. Town website has the day's activities to preview. Information booth in front of the library, with $5 commemorative T-shirts. Parking in school lot with bus service to the sites by First Student-Tilton and Sant Bani School. Many thanks to them! Early breakfasters can park at the end of Currier field – providing it is dry enough. We'll know by then.

Lunch for sale both by Old Town Hall and in Currier Field. BB's Scoops ice cream at Lane Tavern /

Currier Field. Rock Salt Creamery ice cream in library parking lot.

Cribbage tourney at the fire station has a firm 9 a.m. start – ends with prizes. Touch-a-truck there, and plastic fire hats for the kids.

Last of all is cake slices with ice cream, free, at Old Town Hall at 1-2 p.m., leading up to the 2 p.m. parade, and end of our once again celebrating Sanbornton. Hear band music and eat cake and ice cream! Visit with friends. Bring folding chairs.

2 p.m. parade (line-up at corner with Huckins Pond Road / school lot) will have color guard of local veterans, thanks to Bill North organizing it. Walkers, groups, floats, animals, custom cars, tractors welcome and needed in the parade. Theme: the Four Seasons.

Sincerely,

Lynn Chong

North Country Notebook

Of dirt roads, lobsters, and loons, and the insult of Northern Pass

By JOHN HARRIGAN

COLUMNIST

What is the etiquette of dirt-road driving, called "gravel roads" in polite circles?

My pace is usually slow because I do not want to bash up around $34,000 worth of machinery. Apparently younger drivers (and understandably, those on the way to logging jobs) don't care, or don't have the time. They pass me as if I were standing still.

I was on the way out to the Middle Branch of the Dead Diamond when the grill of another truck appeared in my mirrors. I was doing maybe 25, avoiding pot-holes and washboard.

I pulled aside and let these two guys speed ahead, wondering if they had ever been taught manners on a dirt road. What else can you do?

Steady travelers on Route 3 in northern Coös are accustomed to seeing interesting crops along both sides of the highway at the Potter farm south of Groveton, within shooting distance of the actual place-name, Northumberland.

This and the Vermont village of Guildhall, just across the Connecticut River, are from whence

JOHN HARRIGAN

Soybeans were flowering in front of the Potter farm, one of the North Country's oldest homesteads, along Route 3 just south of Groveton.

Stratford, Columbia, Colebrook and points north were settled.

The unusual crop, for these times, is soybeans. Chris and Joyce Brady, who have done so much to revitalize the old Poulin place just south of Lyman Falls, in North Stratford, grind and mix the dried beans with other crops, in an effort to wean their farm away from far-off and high-priced grain, and feed their livestock with locally grown crops instead.

This is an independence-driven movement throughout northern New England. All I can think, knowing a bit about what Joyce and Chris have to figure out each morning, is "Wow."

On my Sunday round of calls to family and friends, I caught up with Jeff Fair, formerly of Sandwich and now a denizen of Alaska.

He was holed up in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, capturing, weighing, and otherwise trying to ensure the future of loons, one of his life's passions.

He complained, sort of, about the project's slightly younger helpers. "They won't let me carry anything."

The upcoming (July 27) tour of the North Country by members of the Site Evaluation Committee will not enable a stop atop Clarksville's Ben Young Hill, which affords such a sweeping view of the territory.

This vista of farm and forest demonstrates why Northern Pass, neither needed nor wanted by a power-exporting state, and aimed at get-rich markets in Connecticut and New York, is such an insult to New Hampshire's landscape and people.

Northern Pass is anything but a done deal. Finally, at this late hour, Plymouth and Concord are steaming mad--and the SEC is listening.

Raymond Burr and Angela Lansbury star in "Please Kill Me!" on LRPA this weekend

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (Aug. 19 & 20) for our "LRPA After Dark" presentation of 1956's crime drama "Please Murder Me!" starring Angela Lansbury and Raymond Burr.

Told in flashback, "Please Murder Me!" is the story of a deadly love triangle involving attorney Craig Carlson (Burr), who's fallen hard for Myra Leeds

(Lansbury), the wife of Joe (played by character actor Dick Foran), Craig's close friend and WWII buddy. Craig owes Joe his life and so is tormented by his feelings for Myra. Joe tells Craig in confidence that he suspects Myra of having an affair. It's too much for Craig to bear, so he confesses to Joe that he's "the other man." Surprisingly, Joe isn't angry — he asks Craig for a few days to think things over. Craig is mystified by Joe's behavior. When he asks Myra about it, she advises him to do nothing until Joe responds. A few nights later, Myra shoots Joe, claiming self-defense. Craig, while shocked by his friend's alleged behavior, agrees to serve as Myra's attorney. He defends her superbly, even putting his own reputation on the line, anticipating a happy and peaceful life after the conclusion of the trial. But there is more, it seems, to Myra than meets the eye.

"Please Murder Me!" is one of the least-known entries in the film noir genre. While it certainly is a small, low budget thriller, it is a thriller nonetheless, and features some wonderful plot twists wrapped up in a bracing 78-minute film. Angela Lansbury is terrific here, playing, as she often did early in her career, the heartless femme fatale. Classic television fans will likely recognize minor character actors including Dick Foran as the cuckolded husband and Denver Pyle (best known for shows such as "The Dukes of Hazard" and "The Doris Day Show") as a police lieutenant. But the standout is Raymond Burr, who ironically, up until that point in his career, usually played the bad guy (who can forget him as the ruthless killer in Hitchcock's "Rear Window"?). Burr's intelligent and earnest lawyer, who is more than slightly unhinged by the film's end, was likely the model for his biggest, career-defining role — that of TV lawyer Perry Mason. "Please Murder Me!" deserves to be better known by film fans everywhere. So grab your popcorn and meet us after dark for this seldom-seen thriller from the past.

Canterbury Shaker Village hosts first dance and music festival Aug. 5

Experience a number of unique performances during this full program at the Village

CANTERBURY — Canterbury Shaker Village will celebrate the Shaker legacy of dance and music with a contemporary twist. This inaugural event entitled Shaker Inspirations: A Day of Music and Dance offers an opportunity to see diverse dance performances and learn about the influence of Shaker music. In between, picnic on the grounds, explore the buildings, and enjoy the unparalleled scenery of what Rand McNally hailed as one of America's best great escapes.

The day begins at 11 a.m. with a children's performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" from Ballet Misha, an affiliate company of Manchester based Dimensions in Dance studio. Choreographed by Artistic Director Amy Fortier, this performance will enchant children and adults alike with its lively characters and adventures. Ethnomusicologist and composer, Roger Lee Hall, will present his program "Give Good Gifts — The Simplicity of Shaker Music," which examines how the simple music of the Shakers has influenced the hearts and minds of many people throughout the years. Joining the day's activities will be two pieces performed by students and alumni of the Plymouth State University Dance Program. One piece will be choreographed by Dance Director, Amanda Whitworth and the second will be choreographed by alumna, Mariah Rasmussen. The Canterbury Singers will round out the day with authentic Shaker music and inspired arrangements in the Chapel of the Dwelling House.

An evening performance of a Shaker-inspired dance collaboration between Boston based choreographer Lorraine Chapman and NYC based choreographer David Parker danced by their companies LCTC and The Bang Group, The Zealous Laborers, concludes this exhilarating day. The first draft of this piece premiered at the Village last August and has now been reworked into an evening-length performance.

Admission prices: A day and evening pass, including the evening performance and a chance to picnic on the grounds is $35 (no charge for members). General admission prices for only daytime events from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Visit: www.shakers.org/aug-5-shaker-inspirations/ to purchase tickets.

About Canterbury Shaker Village

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Match Short- and Long-Term Goals With the Right Investments

Not all investments are created equal. Some are better suited for short-term goals, while others can help you build resources for objectives far in the future. As an investor, then, one of your biggest challenges will be to match your short- and long-term goals with the appropriate investment vehicles. How should you proceed?

For starters, identify your short- and long-term goals. Your shorter-term goals will change throughout your life. When you are starting out in your career, for example, you might aspire to purchase a home in the next three to five years. Later on, though, your biggest short-term objective might be to save enough money for a long tour of Europe — without racking up credit card debt.

As for long-term goals, your biggest one likely will be to enjoy a comfortable retirement. But you may well have other long-term plans, too, such as sending your kids to college in 10 or 15 years.

After you have a clear sense of your short- and long-term goals, you can choose the right investments to help you meet them. Let's start with the shorter-term ones. When you're saving for a down payment on a home or for an expensive European vacation, you want to make sure that a certain amount of money will be available to you at a certain time. Consequently, you may want to avoid stocks or stock-based vehicles, which will constantly fluctuate in price, because you don't want the value of your investment to be down at the moment you need the money. Instead, for short-term goals, you may want to consider a fixed-income vehicle, such as a bond, which is designed to provide regular interest payments and return your full principal upon the bond's maturity (providing the issuer doesn't default, which, with investment-grade bonds, is generally unlikely).

For longer-term goals, such as college for your kids and a comfortable retirement for yourself, it's a different story. To achieve these goals — and especially for retirement — you generally need to accumulate as much as you can. As a result, you need investments with growth potential, which means you will need to consider stocks and stock-based instruments. As mentioned above, stocks will always fluctuate in value, and they may be worth more or less than your original investment when sold. However, building a portfolio with an investment mix that's appropriate for your risk tolerance, and that contains a reasonable amount of growth-oriented vehicles, can potentially help you overcome short-term volatility and continue making progress toward your long-term goals.

Plus, you have some attractive long-term options available. With a 529 college savings plan, you can save for college and possibly achieve tax benefits, too. And by contributing regularly to your IRA and 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored plan, you can defer taxes while spreading your dollars among a wide range of investments. But there's one thing all long-term investments have in common: You need patience and discipline to stick with them.

So, there you have some ideas on short- and long-term investing. Keeping this distinction in mind when you invest can help boost your confidence that you're making appropriate moves for all your goals.

What is hospice care?

BY LESLIE T. ARI
Central NH VNA & Hospice

In a recent Dear Annie piece, “Death With Dignity My Way” wondered about choices in end-of-life care and hospice care in particular. She asked “When the obituaries say the person died surrounded by family, did that person have a choice?”

This seems like a good opportunity to talk about Hospice Care – what it is and certainly what it is not. Let’s start with what it is.

Considered to be the model for quality, compassionate care for people facing a life-limiting illness or injury, hospice care involves a team-oriented approach to expert medical care, pain management and emotional or spiritual support expressly tailored to the patient’s needs and wishes. Support is provided to the patient’s loved ones as well. At the center of hospice and palliative care is the belief that each of us has the right to die pain-free and with dignity and that our families will receive the necessary support to allow us to do so. Though care is primarily based in the home, enabling family members to remain together in peace, comfort, privacy and dignity, care may also be provided in a group home, nursing home or, yes, even in a hospital.

Hospice focuses on caring, not curing. A hospice team includes a Medical Director, skilled nurses, nursing assistants, social workers, spiritual counsel, a bereavement coordinator and volunteers. In many cases, additional disciplines may be added to the patient’s team. The hospice team develops a care plan that meets each patient’s individual needs for pain management and symptom control. Care also includes assisting the patient with the emotional, psychosocial and spiritual aspects of dying, provides hospice care related drugs, medical supplies and equipment, coaches the family on how to care for the patient and provides bereavement care and counseling to surviving family and friends for up to 13 months.

Hospice is not a new idea or a fad. In fact, the term “hospice” (from the same linguistic root as the word “hospitality”) can be traced back to medieval times when it referred to a place of shelter and rest for weary or ill travelers on a long journey. The name was first applied to specialized care for dying patients by physician Dame Cicely Saunders, who began her work with the terminally ill in 1948 and eventually went on to create the first modern hospice - St. Christopher’s Hospice - in a residential suburb of London.

Hospice is not for everyone – it must be entered with the full consent and understanding of both the patient and his/her network of support. Hospice is not rigid and does not preach – it allows each patient to define his or her own experience. Hospice is not a “cure” – it is concerned with relieving pain, providing a quality end of life experience and providing support.

It is indeed sad that “Death With Dignity” (wherever she lives in the United States) did not seem to receive these services to aid her in the loss of her father, mother and husband. Her grief must be substantial. However, should she choose Hospice Care for herself when the time comes, she should feel assured that the choices are hers and hers alone.

A good resource for those seeking information about hospice care is The National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization found on the Web at www.nhpco.org. Locally, Central New Hampshire VNA & Hospice has been providing hospice care for the NH Lakes Region communities for more than 37 years and is able to answer all your hospice related questions as well as direct you to other resources available in the community. You may find them at www.centralvna.org or by calling 524-8444.

LRGHealthcare’s Family Birthplace promotes breastfeeding for healthier babies

LACONIA — LRGHealthcare’s Family Birthplace is happy to announce that they will once again participate in celebrating World Breastfeeding Week held annually from Aug. 1-7; this year’s theme is “Sustaining Breastfeeding Together.”

Family Birthplace has several programs to assist families with breastfeeding goals. As many know, breast milk is the best nutrition for infants and provides many benefits for both the infant and mother. Breast milk is the primary nutrition for the first year and beyond. The mother’s milk provides protection for infants with antibodies to prevent or lessen the risk of infections, protect organs, lessen the risk of childhood obesity, and in addition, good for the environment and cost effective.

Internationally Board Certified Lactation Consultants Karen Meader, RN, IBCLC and Betty Quinlan, RN, IBCLC are available to support mothers with initiating the first breastfeeding at birth through the final weaning period. Karen and Betty offer inpatient lactation visits and consultations, as well as outpatient consultations (by appointment). For breastfeeding questions, call 524-3211, ext. 3707.

The free Breastfeeding Support Group meets on Wednesdays with a casual environment for mothers to seek reassurance, check baby’s weight, and get help with questions or concerns that do not need a private consultation. It is a great way to social-ize with other new mothers. Call for times.

In celebration of World Breastfeeding Week on Wednesday, Aug. 2, Lesley Robie, Clinical Services Nutrition Dietician will present a class on healthy nutrition for babies six months and older. Family Birthplace will also be doing raffles that week for inpatient mothers, attend the support group, or attend a prenatal breastfeeding class.

Other classes and support available at Family Birthplace include: alternative feeding methods when breastfeeding is difficult, childbirth class, prenatal breastfeeding, postpartum, and breastfeeding support groups. Please call 524-3211, ext. 3744 for questions and scheduling classes.

Life coach speaks to vets' spouses/caregivers

Emily Clement, a Lakes Region-based certified life coach, recently volunteered her time and expertise to speak to a group of spouses and caregivers attending Camp Resilience. The special Camp Resilience session was facilitated by retired Army Lt. Col Peggy Laneri and Army Reserve Major Tony Riello, both of the Worcester, MA Veterans Center. While in the Lakes Region, the veterans' spouses and caregivers participated in a series of workshops like Clement's as well as recreational activities and discussion groups designed to help them better cope with their veteran's issues including PTSD from multiple combat deployments. For more information about the work of Camp Resilience or to make a supportive donation, please visit the Web site, www.prl.us. Sherlock and Watson attempt to crack their most famous case at Winnepesaukee Playhouse

MEREDITH — Since its original serialized publication in 1901, "The Hound of the Baskervilles" has been adapted more than 20 times for television and film. In the third production of the stage and screen-themed summer season, the Winnepesaukee Playhouse presents this classic tale of mystery and legend from July 19 through July 29.

An adaptation of perhaps the most famous Sir Arthur Conan Doyle classic, this twist on "The Hound of the Baskervilles" features story-teller and sidekick Doctor Watson thrust onto center stage. Four actors play Sherlock Holmes' beloved Boswell in this rendition, each telling the story of the infamous Hound said to have murdered a sinful ancestor of the Baskerville estate, and transforming into other characters as the story unravels.

Come see Watson's detective skills put to the test as he attempts to solve the mysterious death of Sir Charles Baskerville, uncover the secrets of the suspicious Barrymore, locate a missing boot, and discover whether or not a supernatural hound really does haunt Baskerville Hall. All this unfolds while Baskerville Hall, and the fortune that goes along with it, is set to be handed down the line of succession to an American relative, Henry Baskerville.

Three familiar faces (Nicholas Wilder, Richard Brundage, and John-Michael Breen), plus one newcomer (Marshall Taylor Thurman), play the four Watsons, as well as dozens of other characters. The production reunites several members from Winnepesaukee Playhouse's previous Sherlock Holmes production, The Final Adventure, director Neil Pankhurst and costume designer Lori McGinley. The production team also includes set designer David Towlun and lighting designer Graham Edmondson.

The 2017 summer season is generously sponsored by Bank of

New Hampshire and the Taylor Community. The Hound of the Baskervilles is further supported by the generous sponsorship of Bruno Coppola at Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage, AutoServ Dealerships, and Kovio's K-9. Tickets range from $20-$34 and can be ordered by calling 279-0333 or online at www.winnepesaukee-playhouse.org. The Winnepesaukee Playhouse also offers free educational programs in conjunction with each of the mainstage productions. Visit the Web site for details.

Tales from the home of the world's worst weather at Taylor Community

LACONIA — While many places on earth experience severe weather, few are inhabited by humans 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The Mount Washington Observatory has been operating a continuously-staffed scientific outpost on a remote peak since 1932, providing the Observatory with information on many remarkable storms and an intimate knowledge of the mountain.

Will Broussard, the Observatory's Education Coordinator, will share Tales from the Home of the World's Worst Weather, Monday, July 24 at 6:30 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building. The event is free and open to the public.

Through the years, the hearty men and women of the Observatory has experienced white-out blizzards, stunning 100-mile vistas and everything in-between. They've survived a 230-mile wind gust, endless days of disorienting fog and snow drifts more than 20 feet tall. They have worked with scientists and celebrities, students and snow rangers. And they have amassed one of North America's longest continuous climate records.

Taylor Community is a not-for-profit Continuing Care Retirement Community whose mission is to provide the highest quality of retirement living options to support the independence, health and dignity of community residents. Visit www.taylorcommunity.org or call 366-1400 for more information.

Gilmanton Historical Society features Gilmanton Corners in July

GILMANTON — A walking tour of Gilmanton Corners will be conducted at the Gilmanton Historical Society's July meeting on Tuesday, July 25. Meet at the Academy (Town Offices) at 6 p.m. Learn about the Academy and how its presence influenced many of the other residential buildings in the Corners.

Brief histories of each of the houses in the Corners will be presented. Several prominent buildings which once stood in the Corners, but are now gone, will also be discussed and photographs shown. Wear good walking shoes.

Light refreshments will be provided at 'The Parsonage' at the conclusion of the walk.

The Gilmanton Historical Society's 2017 summer programs are offered on the 4th Tuesday of each month, May through September. Focus on the Town's history continues with a display of vintage clothing donated by Gilmanton residents on Saturday morning, July 29, 10 a.m. until noon, at Old Town Hall in Gilmanton Iron Works. On the evening of Aug. 22, Pat Clarke tells us about Gilmanton Summer Hotels. The final program in September addresses the hurricane of 1938.

The Society's Museum in Old Town Hall is open Saturday mornings June, July and August from 10 a.m. until noon. It is open every second and fourth Saturday morning, 10 a.m. to noon, September through May.

The programs are free and open to the public. Donations to support the work of the Society are always welcome.

ing of the Star Spangled Banner by Miss New Hampshire, who performed before an honor guard provided by the U.S. Naval Sea Cadets and League Cadets.

An interview, along with a question and answer session from Navy Seal Museum's Executive Director, Richard Kaiser, a retired Navy

SEAL himself, followed.

Kaiser said it was an honor to have served his country and explained a bit about what it takes to be a Navy SEAL before taking questions from the crowd.

One person asked if he was ever really afraid in his years as a SEAL. Kaiser replied that fear was always a factor in his line of work.

"Yes, of course. You don't want someone beside you who isn't afraid. Fear is healthy if it's well managed. If you don't have some fear, then I don't want you out there beside me," Kaiser said.

He also stated that while he has been thanked hundreds of times for his service to the country, donations to veterans' causes would be much more appreciated than a mere thank you, no matter how sincere it may be.

"If you want to thank a veteran, give money," he said.

The event came to an end with a thrilling aerial demonstration when two members of the SEALs parachuted from a helicopter and landed just off the shoreline of Newfound Lake. As they touched down just off Wellington Beach, they were greeted with loud cheers and applause.

Crowds attending the daylong event were huge for a chilly and overcast summer day. While the park officials couldn't determine an official count, they guessed it to be close to 2,000 people, possibly more.

"This was a really big day here at Wellington, that's all we know right now," they said.

Cars overflowed the large parking lots while many more visitors had to park along West Shore Road then walk in to the event. Surprisingly, most didn't mind. They were just excited to support three great causes and spend some time with some real American heroes.

At the end of the day one woman said, "This has been amazing. We live in Massachusetts and my son said he wants to be a Navy Seal one day, so we got up at one o'clock this morning just to come here to see them in action. It was well worth it; these are great people and it was all for a great cause."

Musical entertainment by the Rockin' Daddios at Taylor Community July 26

LACONIA —The Rockin' Daddios bring back some of the best-loved songs of the 1950's and early 1960's, sung in doo-wop style with an accent on harmony and fun lyrics. They bring their talents to Taylor Community Wednesday, July 26 at 7 p.m. in Taylor's Woodside Building. This free event is open to the public.

The audience is sure to smile as they remember songs like "Book of Love," "Blue Moon," and "Teenager in Love," to name a few. The group is comprised of Lakes Region Residents Jim Rogato, Bo Guyer and Angelo Gentile, who have been performing together for more than 10 years. The vocals and guitar magic of Drew Seneca add to the

mix. Taylor Community is a not-for-profit Continuing Care Retirement Community whose mission is to provide the highest quality of retirement living options to support the independence, health and dignity of community residents. Visit www.taylorcommunity.org or call 366-1400 for more information.

photography /digitally enhanced photography. This year's judges are Pam Tarbell, owner of Millbrook Gallery and Sculpture Garden in Hopkinton, Tom Driscoll, Professor of Art at Plymouth State University and Richard Whitney, a portrait and landscape oil painter.

"Each year our members work hard to submit their newest and best creations, making this show truly worth seeing" said Lakes Region Art Association President Jean Kennedy. "It is very impressive to see the quality and talent of art that exists in the Lakes Region."

The Lakes Region Art Association, founded in 1940, is a non-profit group providing education and support to local artists, both amateur and professional, in the Lakes Region.

The Opening Reception Awards presentation is at 6 p.m. on Aug. 3. Presented by the Bank of New Hampshire, both the Reception and the Show are free and open to the public. The Annual Art Show is on display at the LRAA Gallery through Sept. 17. The LRAA Gallery is open Thursdays through Mondays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information, visit www.lraanh.org.

DONNA RHODES
 (Left) Elaine Swain snuggled up to her husband David when the Town of Sanbornton held a fund raising event/80th birthday party in his honor last Saturday.

DONNA RHODES
 (Below) As part of the David Swain fundraiser/birthday celebration last Saturday in Sanbornton, a few animals from his family's farm were brought along for children to enjoy. Eight-year-old Trevor's dad grew up working on the Swain dairy farm and Trevor enjoyed a few moments hanging out with one of the young cows.

towards his continuing health care were secondary to the day. They just wanted to laud their favorite farmer.

As it turns out, Swain also turned 80-years old just two days earlier so the day became more about celebrating a special time for a very special community member.

"He's an institution. They just don't make 'em like him any more," said another resident.

As the crowd joined together to sing "Hap-

"This is the best thing we've ever done in Sanbornton," said resident Jackie Brouillard. "This is what community is all about!"

In a tribute to his agricultural background, the party also took on an old-time country atmosphere with a farm animal petting arena, Cow Flop Bingo, and vases of local, country grown flowers for sale. For dinner and dessert there was a special barbecue dinner, courtesy of Rock House Barbecue, home-style lemonade, maple cotton candy and, of course, birthday cakes. Many local home bakers contributed their talents to a special pie and cake auction as well.

Former resident and State Rep. Liz Merry said she was one of many to come back to Sanbornton to show their support for the Swain family.

"They've contributed so much to this town, and it's time to give back," she said.

David Swain's family members were overwhelmed by the day. Son Matt Swain, owner of Heritage Farm, said it was simply amazing to see all the love and support for his father.

"This is a great community, and we can't thank everyone enough," he said.

His wife Rachel echoed Matt's sentiments.

"I love seeing people here who don't have a lot, but came here today, bringing something to help him. It touches my heart so much. This is amazing," she said.

Rachel also wanted to give thanks for her children who offered to pitch in and help their grandfather. One child wanted to donate her beloved horse to the auction, but finally settled for donating a children's saddle so others could ride as she does.

"This event was about hugs and kisses to David Swain and not really about the money. We appreciate all who came out today," said Rachel.

Thanks to a generous community effort, all proceeds from the day were forwarded to a fund to help Swain in his recovery.

ing Snow Since 1770!

Some highlights of the day: At 9 a.m. (firm start-time) in the Fire Station is the cribbage tournament with prizes (call Brad Crosby at 286-8605); 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. antique appraisals will be offered on the Currier Building's Farmer's Porch for a modest fee. 10-11 a.m., Michael Lang will be our story teller in the library; 11 - 11:30 a.m., White Tiger Karate demo in the library field; noon - 1 p.m., Wildlife Encounters behind the library; 11 a.m. - noon, Balloon Burst Booth (thanks to Franklin Savings Bank for the equipment loan and Mountain View Baptist Church youth for running it) outside Old Town Hall; Moulton Band will play from 11 a.m. - noon in the gazebo; New Horizon Band will play from 1 - 2 p.m. in the library field.

Throughout the day, you will find Custom cars showing at Town Office, Tucker Snow Cat Snowmobile Trail Packer at Currier Field, Chainsaw carving in Currier Field, Blacksmithing demo in front of Currier Building, Snow Roller (model for this year's T-shirt art) on display in Currier Building, Fiber Group in Currier Field, Art Show in Lane Tavern.

At 10 a.m., tours of the Lane Tavern begin, for fascinating Sanbornton history. Come to the Old Town Hall from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. to tell your personal Sanbornton stories for a book available at our 250th Sanbornton birthday in 2020. Fire Safety Demos will start at 9 a.m. in the Life-Safety Building, along with Child Fingerprinting & Police Demos.

Vendors will display crafts and wares for sale, and representatives of town committees will set up in the field beyond the library. Buy lunch from our food vendors: Mountain View Baptist Church, Mohawk Trail Riders, Rollin' in the Dough, veggie offerings from Raw Life Café and gluten-free items from Theresa Ludwick. Beverages will be available from Sanbornton Congregational Church and John Shay's lemonade stand.

Thanks to Rowell's

for providing us port-potties for the day.

T-shirt sales ($5) and information booth will be in front of the library. Thanks to Sant Bani School and First Student, Tilton, we will have buses running loops to the three busy sites. Parking will be at the elementary school with some at the far end of Currier Field for early breakfasters.

Free cake and ice cream will be served between 1 - 2 p.m. in two locations this year - Old Town Hall and Lane Tavern. BB Scoops ice cream at Lane Tavern and Rock Salt Creamery ice cream at Old Town Hall. Many thanks to our volunteer cake bakers!

Parade is planned to start at 2 p.m. We welcome decorated bicycles, groups walking, horses, tractors, floats, and thank you to Bill North for assembling our Color Guard made up of Sanbornton military veterans. Thank you, veterans.

We owe gratitude to our 50 sponsors - their names on the back of our T-shirt, as their donations cover our costs. Kathy Farrington who moved to Arizona still loves Sanbornton, and again has put her artistic skills to work on our T-shirt. A sponsor who came in late is Ciao Pasta, giving us a generous gift card among the cribbage prizes. Huge thank you to our hard-working committee!

Please put Sanbornton Old Home Day on your calendar and bring family and friends. For more information call co-chairs Lynn Chong at 934-6486 or Dave Witham at 286-9590.

Underage drinking

Think underage drinking doesn't affect a teen's brain? Think again.

IT'S A FACT. New research shows alcohol affects a teenager's developing brain differently than an adult's. Memory, learning and impulse control can be impaired seriously. The risk of addiction goes up dramatically. So talk to your kids about the dangers of alcohol and set clear rules about no alcohol use.

Solid summer so far for Nor'Easter 18U girls

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — The 18U Nor'Easter softball squad has had a solid summer season thus far, with a runner up finish in the state tournament and a win in the Summer Sizzler in Brattleboro, Vt.

The team has a healthy portion of Lakes Region athletes, including Stevie Orton, Sarah Lachapelle and Jillian Lachapelle of Gilford High School. Lachapelle just finished her freshman year at the University of New England where she has been playing third base.

Other Lakes Region players include Cali Swormstedt of Laconia, who just finished her freshman season playing ball at Rivier College. Meeka Bolduc represents the Tilton School while Amanda Johnston and MacKenzie Ryan represent Newfound Regional High School.

Other players on the team include Josie Bentlage of Hamden Conn., Brianna McGrath of Lisbon who has been playing at the University of Maine Farmington, Jacqui Hallisey of Gorham and Cait Malahan of Bishop Brady High School.

"We are doing really well," said coach Fern Beaudet. "We have a good group of girls on this team."

The Nor'Easters were runners up to the Lady Cannons of Concord in the N.H. States from June 16 to 18, when they lost a 7-6 nail biter after Lady Cannon runner was called safe on a play at the plate.

They followed that up with a win in Brattleboro the following weekend, when they entered a number two seed. They won two out of three games and then played three games on Sunday, ending up in the semi-

Nor'Easter Classic takes place this weekend

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — Nor'Easter Softball will be celebrating its 20th year during the 2017 Nor'Easter Classic taking place the weekend of July 21-23, where 55 teams from New England and as far away as New York will be competing in a tournament style setup.

The event is one of the largest ASA Junior Olympic softball tournaments in New Hampshire, according to noreastersoftball.org.

President and 18U coach Fern Beaudet said over the course of three days there will be teams from four age brackets playing 134 games on 14 fields around the lakes region. This includes six fields in Laconia, four in Belmont, two at Winnisquam and two in Gilford.

Beaudet said this is one of the larger tournaments in northern New England, and they try to keep the team number around 55 or so. Others are smaller, at about 20 or 30 teams.

The tournament is set up so there is a four game guarantee, weather permitting, with three games in pool play on Friday and Saturday. It is followed by a single elimination game on Sunday.

There will be team and individual trophies distributed to tournament champions and runners up.

On the night of July 21, all three of the teams in the Nor'Easter program will be playing at Memorial Park to get the hometown fans all together. Beaudet said all ex-players, board members and parents to come watch the softball teams face teams from near and far.

"We expect a really good turnout for that Friday night," said Beaudet.

Shawn Garrett coaches the 16U team and is a voting member of the Nor'Easter Softball board of directors, and said that it is a good chance to pay respect for the coaches and players that have been a part of this for 20 years. He said they have spent so much time helping the local high schools and the players involved.

He added that the Nor'Easter Classic is not only great for the players and families, but also a chance to recognize the businesses and sponsors that have helped.

"The economic impact is huge," said Garrett. "Just ask all the restaurants and hotels on Sunday night."

16U Nor'Easters looking to shine in home tournament

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — The Nor'Easters 16U softball team has had its ups and downs this summer, but coach Shawn Garrett is hoping that they can turn things around in the second half.

Garrett said summer softball can be beneficial, but also a bit frustrating because there are many variables that go along with who is available. Summer is a prime time for family vacations and weddings, but he foresees the second half of the season to be better with a fuller roster.

"We have had some games rained out and some players that couldn't be there because of other commitments," said Garrett. "So far we are 5-7 and that is definitely where we expected or wanted to be."

Garrett said the Nor'Easters have been playing better as time goes on, however, and he hopes to see them thrive in the second half of the summer season— notably at the Nor'Easter Classic in front of hometown fans and former players.

This year's squad consists of players from seven different high schools, coming from as far away as Vermont. Coming from Lakes Region Schools included Taylor Morrell of Lacombe and Liz Fleming of Belmont. Garrett was the coach of the junior varsity softball team at Gilford High School, and said he managed to attract several players from his school including Tricia Jarry, Emily Smith, Randi Byars, Nicole Daigneault and Karly Sanborn.

Representing In-

ter-Lakes was Jade LaSalle, who just wrapped up her freshman season and was highly lauded by coach Harry Blood throughout the season for her pitching despite a tough all around season for the Lakers.

LaSalle said she felt that the team has been playing its best during pool play, rather than elimination play in the tournaments thus far. She said the past couple weekends have been disappointing but she had similar sentiments as Garrett, saying that the best has yet to come for her team.

"We are playing some higher skilled players so it is a lot different than high school ball," said LaSalle. "I have to work the strike zone a lot more and keep the girls focused on where the next play is going to be. We also need heads up base running."

LaSalle said the team is young and they are trying to get on the same page, but she said with the skill she has seen on the 16U team, they have the chance to do well in the remaining tournaments.

LaSalle feels that summer softball, overall, is great for her. She said playing with and against players from all over the state and beyond has helped her improve her skills.

"It is cool to pick up what they are good at," said LaSalle. "They can teach you."

Garrett reiterated that it is important for the players to be able to play, and give them the best quality baseball they can pay for. He said the great thing about the Nor'Easters is that it is only $350, and this gives girls a good opportunity to play high level softball at a reasonable cost.

Hamlin brings backup car to NHMS Victory Lane

LOUDON — Denny Hamlin exited turn four during Friday's first practice session at New Hampshire Motor Speedway and slid down the frontstretch before crashing into the interior wall. On Sunday, Hamlin's final exit out of turn four went a whole lot better. With two of the Monster Energy NASCAR Cup Series' hottest drivers — Kyle Larson and Martin Truex Jr. — on his heels, Hamlin was able to take his backup car to Sunoco Victory Lane at New Hampshire Motor Speedway after winning the Overton's 301.

It was the third-career victory at NHMS for Hamlin, whose last win here came in September of 2012. The win also ended Joe Gibbs Racing's winless streak in 2017.

"Friday was tough, but I think today shows the kind of team and equipment that we have, and what we are capable of," said Hamlin. "It's always great to come here and we've run here in the past. To get the win gives us a huge boost and hopefully we can carry that momentum moving forward."

While it was nice to finally get a win for Gibbs, the team owner realizes that parity is a good thing for the sport and that New Hampshire Motor Speedway provides a great opportunity for his team to break through whenever they come here.

"I think it says you got to have respect for our sport, there's a lot of great teams out there," said Gibbs. "We love coming to Loudon. For whatever reason, this has been a favorite place for our drivers. I think for our whole team we like coming here for racing and for our sponsors."

KATHY SUTHERLAND

Denny Hamlin celebrates in Victory Lane at New Hampshire Motor Speedway.

Larson, Truex, Matt Kenseth and Kevin Harvick round out the top-five.

Larson put together a strong run and had a shot to chase down Hamlin over the final 10 laps, but lap traffic kept the number 42 from reeling Hamlin in. It wasn't a completely disappointing day for Larson, who started the race in 39th after failing post-qualifying inspection after taking the pole on Friday.

"I was catching him a couple 10ths, but then lap times evened off and I couldn't carry the speed on exit like I needed to catch him," said Larson, who picked up his best finish at NHMS since finishing second as a rookie here in 2014. "It was another hard-fought race, and we've been able to finish second the last two weeks (after starting) dead last. I'm proud of our team and proud of everybody."

On the heels of a victory at Kentucky Speedway last weekend, it looked like Truex might be on pace to win back-to-back races for the first time in his career. But the number 78, which led a race-high 137 laps on Sunday, couldn't get back to the front late in the race and had to settle for his sixth top-three finish of the season.

"The last restart we were third, but we didn't get a good restart on the bottom and didn't quite have the speed at the end of the race compared to the first 200 laps," Truex said. "It was a solid third-place effort."

Kenseth and Harvick were the 2016 July and September race winners, respectively.

The remaining top-10 finishers include Daniel Suarez, Clint Bowyer, Kurt Busch, Brad Keselowski and Jimmie Johnson.

The big talk over the weekend was about the P11 substance that was applied to the track to help provide more grip for the drivers. In essence, it was supposed to create more side-by-side racing — and it's safe to say that the fans weren't disappointed, as there was competitive door-to-door racing all around the 1.058-mile oval on Sunday.

"I thought it was awesome; I was surprised how well it worked," said Larson. "I like the element of change and how it may wear out slightly and wear out in different spots. Today, everyone I got around was running a different line. You could run three or four different lanes. It was fun."

Hamlin echoed those sentiments: "As far as I'm concerned we should race here 10 times a year."

Stage 1 winner — Truex Jr.

An unapproved deck lid in qualifying may have moved Larson from the pole position to the back of the pack for the start of the race, but the pilot of the number 42 for Chip Ganassi racing wasted little time in moving back to the front. Larson went from 39th to third by the end of the first stage, putting him in a good position to make a run over the next 225 laps.

Truex, who moved from second to pole-sitter following Larson's penalty, picked up the most points in Stage 1, leading all 75 laps.

Kenseth, Larson, Jamie McMurray, Kyle Busch, Kasey Kahne, Ryan Newman, Ryan Blaney, Hamlin and Chase Elliott rounded out the top-10 earning points in the opening segment.

Stage 2 winner — Kyle Busch

Truex's dominant opening stage didn't translate to the second, as he fell back following a slow pit stop during the segment break. He was, however, able to move up to sixth by the end of the second stage.

Kyle Busch was the dominant car over the second 75 laps, leading 72 of them enroute to the Stage 2 victory. While Kyle Busch pulled away from the pack out front, there were battles all over the track — with many going two- and three-wide to make passes, something rarely seen in past races at the 1.058-mile oval.

Hamlin, Harvick, Kurt Busch, Johnson, Truex, Kenseth, Blaney, Larson and Clint Bowyer rounded out the drivers earning second stage points.

LARS MAJOR dives back to first base during action on Saturday morning.

Alton inches closer to clinching Junior Legion playoff berth

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

ALTON — After posting a solid win in a make-up game with Merrimack on Friday evening, the Alton Post 72 Junior Legion baseball team took two more steps toward clinching a playoff berth with two wins in a doubleheader sweep of Weare on Saturday.

"We won a good one last night and this gets us closer to clinching a playoff spot," said Alton coach Bubba Noyes.

The opening game of the doubleheader saw Austin Didsbury get the ball on the hill for the Post 72 squad and despite a couple of bloop hits in the first inning, he got through the frame without a run scoring, striking out one and fielding a grounder for the final out.

Alton then got on the board in the bottom of the first inning. With one out, Colby Brown drew a walk and, on an attempted steal of second, the ball went into center-field and he took third. He scored on a wild pitch for the game's first run. Austin Garrett and Ryan Dube each worked walks, but the Weare pitcher got himself out of trouble by snaring a liner back to the mound and turning it into a double play to end the inning.

Didsbury walked the leadoff batter in the top of the second, but struck out the next two and got a pop fly to first to end the inning. Lars Major worked a one-out walk in the bottom of the second for Alton but he was stranded on first. Didsbury got himself out of trouble after walking a batter in the top of the third, as he was able to catch the runner in a run-down, firing to Noah Sanville at third, who threw to Ryker Burke at second to get the out. Didsbury then got a strikeout to end the inning.

Alton added to the lead in the bottom of the third inning. Burke led off with a double and both Brown and Garrett were hit by pitches. Dube's grounder to second forced a runner at the plate, but Didsbury worked a walk to plate Brown with the second run of the game.

Didsbury worked around a base hit and an error in the top of the fourth inning, striking out another batter and Alton added to the lead in the bottom of the frame.

Major led off with a base hit and then Sanville put down a sacrifice bunt to move him up. Burke and Brown both worked walks to load the bases and one out later, Dube's base hit delivered two runs for a 4-0 lead for Alton. Didsbury then set the side down in order in the top of the fifth inning, finishing off his work on the hill for the day with a strikeout. Alton also went in order in the bottom of the inning.

In the top of the sixth, Robbie Rohrbaugh took the hill for Alton and after a leadoff walk, got some defensive help in the form of a 6-3 double play started by Brown up the middle. Two more walks and a base hit loaded the bases, but Rohrbaugh got a pop fly to end the inning.

Alton got two more in the bottom of the sixth inning. Burke had a one-out base hit and took second on Brown's ground-out and third on a passed ball. Garrett worked a walk and stole second and both runners scored on Dube's base hit for a 6-0 lead.

Rohrbaugh returned to the hill in the seventh and walked the leadoff batter, but got the next three in order to seal the 6-0 win for Alton.

The second game had a bit of a strange ending, as Alton led 8-7n in the fourth inning. Both teams were low on pitchers and Weare actually only had one sub for the two games. In that fourth inning, Weare's first base coach, who was a player, got kicked out of the game for arguing with the umpire and because they had already subbed in their sub, they couldn't continue the game without enough players and Post 72 got the 8-7 win.

"Austin threw the ball well," Noyes said of his starting pitcher. "He got stronger as we went along.

"And we got some hits when we needed it," the Alton coach continued. "That bunt by Noah (Sanville) was important, up only 2-0. He placed that perfectly."

The Post 72 coach went on to praise the work of his pitching staff, which had thrown a lot of innings over the course of the week.

"I can't say enough about the guys who've been throwing for us," Noyes said. "This group as a whole has been very dedicated.

"We don't have an abundance of players, so they don't have to worry about playing time," he added.

The team will be traveling today to Lebanon to continue a game that was stopped by thunder and lightning last week.

finals. The Nor'Easters moved on to the finals and beat the Vermont Cougars handily.

On the weekend of June 30 to July 2 the Nor'Easters played in the Mount Washington Valley Classic in Conway, but did not fare so well. They only played a couple games due to rain, and Beaudet said it didn't show how well they have been playing.

From July 7 to 9 the Nor'Easters played in the Turn 2 Tournament in Bow, and lost 4-3 in the semifinals to the Maine Thunder - a team that ended up winning the tournament.

Beaudet had high praise for the players from the Lakes Region. Orton has been playing part time for the Nor'Easters this year, as she has been working on her basketball skills for next season at Snow College as well as working a part-time job. She has been playing catcher and outfield for the Nor'Easters.

Orton commended Beaudet for his coaching, and also said she has liked how the team has played together this season.

While she will be playing basketball next year in college, Orton said it has been a quality experience playing organized softball for a final time.

"It keeps me active and my skills sharp, and it is a lot of fun," said Orton.

Beaudet recalled a game where she led off with a home run, and said she not only has some good power, but is a "great athlete and a great kid, as well."

Speaking of power, second baseman Jillian Lachapelle has been a force for the team despite battling a recent ankle injury.

"She is one of the most powerful hitters I've ever seen hit a ball," said Beaudet. "She can really hit, and she is our number four hitter."

Lachapelle said it is a great experience playing with college players and other older girls that she can learn from. She has been enjoying playing against players she normally wouldn't face at Gilford High School. Something that is new for Lachapelle is playing second base, and she said it has been fun to switch up positions.

Lachapelle said she has been very happy with the play of the team, saying they have come together over the course of the season.

Lachapelle's sister, Sarah, has been logging plenty of innings on the mound this summer. This is a change from her play at the University of New England where she was playing third base. Lachapelle is one of the top pitchers for the team, and also plays third base and second base.

"Sarah brings a lot of experience," said Beaudet. "She is a great player and comes with a good attitude."

Lachapelle said she had a great year in college despite being on a young team, and said it was a great experience going from there to summer ball where she can use her experience. She added that the level of play is high in the Nor'Easters, and she has been impressed by their play.

"This is by far my favorite team I've played on for summer ball," said Lachapelle.

Bolduc is a first year

18U player, but has plenty of experience at the Tilton School playing third base. She has been a big time offensive contributor in the fifth or sixth spot in the batting order, Beaudet said.

"Those four players have added a lot of offensive power to our team," said Beaudet. "They are all great hitters. We have a really good offensive team."

He also said Swormstedt brings great leadership to the team and is a great offensive and defensive player.

"She is our leadership in the field at shortstop," he said of Swormstedt. "Cali brings great energy."

Having these players who have played college, it brings the experience and leadership to the team to push the Nor'Easters to the level they have been playing.

NFI North, Inc.
Inspiring and empowering people to reach their full potential

NFI North is seeking full time Wraparound Facilitators/Care Coordinators to work in the System of Care Fast Forward program (SOC-FF). The NH System of Care is a value-based system designed to serve children, youth and families experiencing difficulties due to the child or youth's Severe Emotional Disturbance. The child or youth served through the system of care are at risk for acute psychiatric hospitalization or out of home placement in a residential treatment facility.

This is a unique position in NFI North's expanding service array working with an integrated team that provides a wide array of therapeutic services to youth and families throughout New Hampshire. This position will require a flexible schedule and require some evenings and weekends based on youth and family needs.

Candidate must possess a Master's Degree or equivalent; or Bachelor's Degree in human service field with four years' experience and/or training. Preferred candidates will have experience working with juvenile justice or other at risk juvenile populations. Salary range: $47,500 - $50,000 annually depending on education and experience.

We offer an excellent benefit package with health and dental, generous time off package including paid vacation, sick and holidays, tuition reimbursement, life insurance, various vendor purchasing discounts, excellent training, career growth and supportive work environment.

NFI North is a proud partner with Southern New Hampshire University's (SNHU) College for America, an accredited, nonprofit college designed to develop working adults through cost-effective, competency-based higher education. Not only do we offer our employees access at incredibly low and affordable rates but now you can also enroll your immediate family members. SNHU offers accredited bachelor and associate degree programs completely online at your own pace for only $3,000 a year or less when eligible for our tuition reimbursement program.

Please send cover letter and resume by email to: nfinorthhr@nafi.com and put SOC-FF in subject line.
