Belmont — The Board of Directors of the Land and Community Heritage Investment Program (LCHIP) is delighted to announce the awarding of more than $4.7 million in matching grants for 40 projects supporting both historic preservation and land conservation. Projects are well distributed among the state’s ten counties, including the Gale School in Belmont.

Gov. Chris Sununu has this message for the grant recipients: “Congratulations to all of you for making this year’s LCHIP grant award recipients,” said Governor Chris Sununu. “These grants help preserve and define the character of our local communities. It’s what New Hampshire is all about.”

Lakes Region Community Developers received a $180,000 grant award to support the transformation of the historic Gale School into a community facility that will include a new early learning center operated by the Boys & Girls Club and a new program center operated by Lakes Region Community Services.

We are very appreciative of LCHIP’s investment in preserving the Gale School and giving this unique building a second life,” said Can- men Lorentz, LRCD’s Executive Director. “The LCHIP award is critical to bringing the Gale School back to life as it can serve children and families once again.

The Gale School was built in 1894, and was added to the Belmont school district until the mid-1980s. The building has been mostly vacant since then, and of neglect hangs over it.

The Gale School was named to the New Hampshire State Registry of Historic Places in 2018, and was selected as one of New Hampshire’s Seven to Save in 2017.

In July 2020, the building was successfully moved by the local Save Our Gale School Committee (SOGS) to a new location at 60 Concord Street in Belmont Village. LRCD agreed to partner with SOGS to redevelop the building.

Construction on the Gale School could begin as early as summer 2022 if all funds are secured as planned.

LCHIP funds will support projects in all ten of the state’s counties. The natural resource projects awarded funding in this grant round include land to help meet the increased interest in outdoor recreation activities, farm land to supply local food for local people, land with scenic and environmental values and working forests to sustainably transform a highly visible part of the landscape into products needed by the people of the state. The historic resource grants include projects as straightforward as new roofing to as complex as near-total rehabilitation of elaborate buildings. Coincidentally, the oldest and newest buildings receiving grants are both built in 1789: Salem (1789), now historical society headquar-

Raider girls hoping offseason work pays off

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor
BELMONT — The Belmont basketball girls put in the work in the off-season and coach Mike Andriski, entering his second year at the helm, is excited to see what they can do in the new season.

“The kids worked hard to get better over the summer, as we had eight kids play AAU,” Andriski said. “We had 14-15 kids at open gym, which was a pleasant surprise.

“The kids have come in wanting to learn and working hard to get to be able to compete,” the Raider coach added. “From the seniors down to the freshmen, I’m really pleased with the attitude of the kids and how hard they are working.”

Seniors Savannah Perkins and Courtney Burke and junior Lena Rodrigues will be looked at as leaders for the Belmont girls this year.

“Shore and Edgen can get adjusted to playing bigger roles early it will go a long way to how good a team we can be,” Andriski said.

The Raider coach said the goal is to take things one game at a time as the team returns to a regular Division III schedule after last year’s COVID-altered slate of games.

“The goal is to take each day as it comes and get better every day and hopefully be in the mix at the end of the season,” Andriski said.

Belmont has a pair of games each with Berlin, Gilford and Proctor Mountain and single games each against Campbell, Winnisquam, Stevens, Mascoma, White Mountains, Laconia, Raymond, St. Thomas, Masimic, Inter-Lakes, Somerset and Norwood.

The first game of the season was slated to be at Berlin on Dec. 10, but that game was postponed until early January. They also had road games against Gilford and Campbell and home games with Berlin and Winnisquam prior to the holiday break.

The Raiders will be taking part in the lakes Region Holiday Hoop Tournament in Gilford. They will kick off the tournament on Monday, Dec. 27, at 11:30 a.m. against Newfound.

About New Hamp- shire’s Land and Community Heritage Investment Program

The New Hampshire Land and Community Heritage Investment Program is an independent state agency created by the legislature in 2000. LCHIP’s legislative mandate is to ensure the perpetual contribution of natural, cultural and historical resources to the economy, environment and quality of life in New Hampshire. LCHIP does this by providing matching grants to New Hampshire municipal- ities and non-profits to conserve and preserve the state’s most important natural, cultural and historical resources. The program has provided 330 grants which have helped to conserve close to 60,000 acres of land for food production, wa- ter quality, ecological values, timber manage- ment and recreation and has supported projects to study and rehabilitate 334 historic structures and sites. Grants have been awarded in all parts of the state and in 179 of New Hampshire’s 234 communities. $54 million of state money has led to a total projec- tive value of more than $132 million. The money for LCHIP grants comes from fees on four kinds of documents recorded at the Registry of Deeds in every county of the state.

For more information about LCHIP, visit LCHIP.org or call (603) 224-6113.

RE/MAX Bayside gives back this holiday season

REGION — We own- ers, staff and associates of RE/MAX Bayside strongly believe in giving back to our community during the holiday sea- son, and all year long.

“We care so much about families and busi- nesses that support us, and feel that since we are so fortunate, we want to help those less fortu- nate in any way we can,” said Chris Kelly, Broker Owner.

For the past 4 consec- utive years, the owners, staff and associates of RE/MAX Bayside have been deeply involved in the Toys for Tots pro- gram. Our offices are serving as a drop-off location. It’s not too late to drop some new, unwrapped toys at either location. We are at the junctions of Routes 3 & 16 in Mere- dith (603-279-0937), and at 644 Main St, across from the Colonial Theatre in downtown Laconia (603-527-9520). Just call ahead for curbside pickup.

This year, RE/MAX Bayside purchased and donated 10 turkeys to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul Food Pantry and Thrift Store in Laconia, which they gave to those in need. RE/MAX Bayside also is working together with the Boys & Girls Club of Central New Hampshire. We will look forward to putting together gift bags for some of the many youngsters that are part of this worthwhile orga- nization. This year, company staff and associates will be the time to compile gift bags for 25 individual children of all ages.
Popular toys through the years

“Being there for a child is the most noble thing a toy can do.” — Larry Scott

Santas is preparing for his big night, which is just three days away. His elves are always busy working in the toy shop, making and checking, checking, checking. They’re always on the lookout for memorable toys, always that leave children wide-eyed on Christmas morning. Every toy that Santa delivers to the children found under the tree more than 100 years ago are still popular today.

In 1921, Lincoln Logs were the hot ticket. In 1933, tin Marx wind-up toys were the new thing. In 1940, the Red Ryder BB gun cost $5.00. In 1947, the original Clue board game first appeared in stores. In 1955, Silly Putty could be found in stockings eve. In 1961, even though Lincoln Logs were popular, they were sold for just 25. In 1963, Crayola Crayons date all the way back to 1926. In 1973, Shrinky Dinks were a blast. Stretch Armstrong kids could use the patience for it. In 1982, He-Man was a hit, followed by My Little Pony. In 1985, the Easy Bake Oven first appeared for $15. Jackson Musgrave’s time at LRCC planted a seed that grew into budding business empire

Laconia — Growing up in Bedford, Jackson, the second-oldest of five boys in the Musgrave family was unprepared for his next step after high school. He spent the months following graduation working a series of odd jobs with a moving company, officiating youth hockey games and selling Christmas trees. Little did he know, the latter experience plant- ed a seed that would ultimately grow into his own arborial empire.

Though he enjoyed his time selling Christmas trees, he initially did not think much of it and later that spring decided to explore a potential career as a firefighter. He enrolled in the Fire Protection program at Lakes Region Community College (LRCC) in Laconia. Around the same time, the Musgrave family was preparing to move to Nashua, on one of the busiest intersections in the Lakes Region. The third floor of the hotel was reserved for student housing.

“I thought, hey, we could probably sell Christmas trees here – I have an idea of how to run a business,” said Jackson.

That entrepreneur- al spirit led Jackson to meet with the hotel’s management to discuss selling trees in a corner of the hotel parking lot. Understanding the challenges of selling a new business, the two parties negotiated an agreement: the hotel would pay them a commission, Jackson would provide on-the-spot Christmas tree lighting and would have an idea of how to refine his budding enterprise.

“We really engaged the community – people loved the idea of local trees and start down his own family business.”

During the holiday season, MMB Trees is visible throughout the state at the busiest intersections of the year for traffic. The business continues to grow, with Jackson's passion and enthusiasm making it abundantly clear that he believes in what he’s doing. He credits his time at LRCC as both an incubator for his budding business and as a support system that helped him grow himself.

“I know I had a passion for Christmas trees and wanted to continue growing the business. My professors helped me tailor my education and the concepts I learned there. They taught me the importance of what I was doing on campus and how to bring my dreams to reality. I was also able to have a family who believed in me and friends who maintain this day – many of them even come up to visit and help me at home!”

During the holiday season and the busiest time of the year, MMB Trees is a wholesale operation of 800 trees each season, delivering from Connecticut to Florida. Today, MMB Trees is a wholesale, retail, and grower of farm fresh Christmas trees and wreaths.

“Most people start from scratch and go years before making a profit. I’m sort of doing it backwards by reinvesting the overgrown land.”

Jackson has expanded his empire, which coincidentally is helping bring him back to his roots. For the past three seasons, he has partnered with a farm- er in Bedford to provide wholesale customers in the Lakes Region with a wholesale and retail business in addition to the wholesale lot. Jackson acquired a long-running retail tree stand in Nashua, where he typically sells more than 800 trees each season.

Jackson’s passion and enthusiasm make it abundantly clear that he believes in what he’s doing. He credits his time at LRCC as both an incubator for his budding business and as a support system that helped him grow himself.

Last-minute holiday shopping tips

Some people thrive by doing all of their tasks early. Others seem to do their best when faced with a time crunch. The methods individuals use to manage their time at work and play may extend to the ways they approach holiday shopping as well.

There’s no right or wrong way to handle holiday shopping tasks, though Christmas Eve crowds at malls and throughout shopping districts suggest that there’s more lateness than there are early birds. The following tips can help those who typically wait until the last minute to check names off their lists.

• Utilize free shipping services. Shoppers who shop for gifts online at the last minute run the risk of gifts not arriving on time. Many online retailers charge a premium for expedited shipping. Try to stick to shipping at online retailers that offer free shipping even in the eleventh hour.

• Create a budget. When waking around from store to store, it may be easy to spend more than you want to. Make a list of how much you want to spend on each person, and stick to that limit for each person. Move on to the next store if you didn’t find what you needed in your price range.

• Establish a time limit. Stores have strategies in place to keep shoppers in their establishments longer, hoping you’ll make impulsive buys. These tricks include scented the air with inviting aromas, putting necessary items at the rear of the store, failing to display the time, and putting discounted items by the registers or doors to attract shoppers. Set an alarm on your watch or phone for each store so you get what you need and get out on time.

• Subdivide bulk gifts. Think about purchasing bulk gifts like gift baskets from wholesale clubs and then breaking them down into individual gifts. This way you can gift several people on one purchase and save time in the process.

• Choose one-size-fits-all gifts. Think about a gift that can be purchased for multiple people so you can time shopping for individualized gifts for everyone. For example, print a personalized photo calendar for several members of your family. You also can purchase multiple subscriptions or memberships to zoos or magazines for people on your list. Streamlining gifting in this way can save money as well as time.

• Choose in-store pickup. Rather than scouring various aisles, you can shop a retailer’s website and then pick up items in the store. You’ll save on potential shipping fees but still benefit by avoiding crowds.

• Some people wait until the last minute to do their holiday shopping. A few tricks of the procrastinator’s trade can make last-minute shopping go smoothly.
