TILTON — Residents of New Hampshire Veterans' Home were rockin' and reelin' to the sounds of the Bel-Airs doo-wop band last week as they looked over rows of antique and classic cars that overflowed their parking lot, tapping their fingers and feet all the while to timeless hits like "Rockin' Robin" and "Blue Suede Shoes."

Joining the veterans were family, friends and members of the general public as they admired the more than 80 vehicles that took part in the event. Louise Dean, a World War II Navy Nurse, was among the residents of NHVH who made the rounds and looked over nearly a century's worth of Chevy, Ford, Dodge and Mercury trucks and cars lining the parking lot, along with newer Corvettes, Mustangs, Chevelles, Camaros and much more. "They're all beautiful," Dean exclaimed as she was wheeled around the lot. Her favorite by far though were all the antique pick-up trucks on display. "I've never driven

Celebrate Old Home Day in Belmont this Saturday

BELMONT — This Saturday, Belmont celebrates its annual Old Home Day and the long-running success of the Belmont 10-Mile Road Race and Tioga Fun Run. The long distance race kicks off its 50th running with an 8:30 a.m. start.

Registrations for that race, as well as the 30th Tioga Fun Run, are available at 7:30 a.m. at the Belmont Middle School. Recently loaded onto the town's Web site is the past 20 years of race results for the 10-Mile Race. If you've run the race before, come back this summer and try to achieve a new personal best. For those who choose to ease into their morning, the Baptist Church will be cooking up a delicious pancake breakfast under the Tioga Pavilion on Mill St. at 7:30 a.m. Vendors will be setting up their booths all around the village SEE BELMONT OHD, PAGE A12

BELMONT — Belmont Public Library turned 90 years old in 2018, and the birthday celebration continued last Saturday with a Dance Party and pizza in the children's library.

According to research done by the late Wallace Rhodes and printed in his 1969 publication, "Reminiscences of a New Hampshire Town," Belmont's original library was established in 1893. It was located on the second floor above Stevens Store in the building known as the Johnson Block.

As more books and periodicals were purchased or donated, the library outgrew that space in just the very first year of its existence. It was then moved to the second floor of the New Hose House, which was home to the fire department and also housed the selectmen's office on the second floor.

By 1919, Rhodes wrote that the library's annual SEE LIBRARY, PAGE A12

An offer of help turns Northfield man into a robber victim

BY DONNA RHODES
dhrhodes@salmonpress.news

NORTHFIELD — Police in Northfield are still looking for a suspect who stopped at 115 Zion Hill Rd. on Wednesday, Aug. 1, on the premise of asking for assistance, but instead not only robbed the residence, but fled the scene in the victim's own vehicle.

Sgt. Michael Hutchinson said the resident reported that he was in his living room at approximately 8:51 a.m. that morning when there was a knock on his door. Simply calling out for the visitor to come in, he told police that an unknown large black male with some facial hair walked inside and told him he needed gas. The victim said he had a gas can in his garage that was half-full and he would drive down to the gas station to fill it up for the man. The two then chatted for a short time before the suspect began rummaging around inside the home. "When the victim asked 'What are you doing?' the man instructed the victim to lie on the ground or he would shoot him," Chief John Raffaelli said in his press release. "The man then grabbed a sneaker belonging to the victim and began removing the laces. The victim thought he was going to tie his hands together." He ultimately didn't tie the victim up, however. The man instead grabbed a duffle bag he had brought inside with him and began filling it with items from the home. He then took the keys to the victim's 2010 blue Nissan Altima and left. Northfield immediately sent a "Be On the Look Out" alert to area police departments as officers helped the resident assess what was taken in addition to the vehicle. Hutchinson said SEE ROBBER, PAGE A12

Belmont American Legion Post 58 busy at Old Home Day on Aug. 11

BELMONT — American Legion Post 58 in Belmont will have a booth during the day on Mill Street behind the library, starting around 0900 for Old Home Day this coming Saturday, Aug. 11. They will be selling raffle tickets, “These Colors Don’t Run” T-shirts, Legion dog tags, bracelets and poppies -- all to raise funds for their many charitable endeavors. The raffle prizes include a $500 discount on any car at Alan Young’s, a $179 cordless drill/driver kit from Home Depot, a unique wooden lamp and shade (hand crafted by Mo Gouin and normally selling for around $150), 4 gift cards for a free breakfast, lunch or dinner at The Tilton Diner, a $79 135 pc. mechanics tool set from Lowe’s, two $20 gift cards from Brookside Pizza/The Tap, a $35 state inspection from Rusty’s, a $25 gas card from Irving Oil, a $25 gift card from The Wine’ing Butcher, a $25 gift card from Fratello’s Italian Grill and a $15 gift card from Rossi’s Ristorante and Pizza. They invite everyone to please enjoy the festivities of Old Home Day and stop by their booth. Post 58 supports many local and state charitable, community service and veterans/troopsupportprograms. They make annual donations to local food pantries, Boy and Girl Scouts, the BHS Band, the Fire and Police Relief Funds, Santa’s Helper program, the New Hampshire Veterans Home Benefit Fund, the Pease Greeters, Liberty

House, Veterans Count, Camp Resilience, the Girl Scout Cookies for deployed troops program and the Belmont Senior Center, among others. They also provide Book Awards and Sportsmanship Trophies to Belmont High School students and sponsor a student to attend Boys State. Post 58 provides flags for every veteran’s grave in Belmont and for the schools and other public places. They work hard to raise the funds for all these programs and appreciate patronage at their booths.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

Come back to me!

“Come back to me ...” is a refrain heard often in God’s relationship with the people of Israel. God had rescued them from slavery, brought them through forty years of training, and into the “promised land.”

But Israel abandoned their spiritual heritage and turned to foreign gods. In the words of the prophet Jeremiah, “My people ... have forsaken me, the spring of living water, and have dug their own cisterns, broken cisterns that cannot hold water.”

Abandoning their rich heritage, Israel degenerated into idolatry. God gave them the right to choose and they chose to go their own way. Ultimately, they paid the price for their independence. Jerusalem lay in ruins, the Temple was destroyed, and the nation was taken into slavery.

First it was Babylon, then Assyria, and finally, Rome. And then in 1948, in a development that was nothing short of a miracle, Israel was returned to its homeland. They are still without central place of worship. Biblical prophecy indicates, however, that the Temple – the traditional place of divine encounter -- will one day be rebuilt. God will be back!

Few of us are under any illusion that our founding fathers were all practicing Christians. Almost without exception, however, they had a profound respect for the principles of governance and practical living given us in Scripture. The Bible was a respected guide to their thinking. God was revered, and prayer was something they believed in.

Beginning, however, with the turbulent 1960’s, America took a sharp turn to the left. Secularization took hold and we never looked back. Our Constitution, the finest legislative guide ever developed by a nation, is slowly being re-charted. The current debate over a new Supreme Court Justice has little to do with his personal integrity or suitability for the job. The fear is that he is sufficiently persuasive that he will slow down the tendency of our highest court in reinterpreting our Constitution!

We are not fear-mongering when we say that America is in deep trouble. Reasons are not hard to find. Philosophically, we have been told truth is relative, and that there is no absolute standard of right and wrong. Institutionally, we have redefined marriage and challenged the sanctity of the home. Morally, we have given even the most aberrant among us our approval and support. And our children, tomorrow’s leaders, I note with great dismay, are developing without a valid concept of God, without an objective standard of authority, and without a Biblical perspective of right and wrong.

“Come back to me” is an invitation that is still valid. The God who brought us into being as a nation again calls for our attention. Some are saying God is about to punish us; I think not. I believe he will simply leave us to our own devices: what we sow, we will also reap. Our drift away from God, abandoning the principles of truth and morality given us in God’s Word, will, I fear, do much to destroy the qualities that have made America such a great nation.

Before it is too late, America, it is imperative that we heed the call: Come back to me! We have not yet reached the point of no return, but we are in deep trouble! We must come back to God!

PET OF THE WEEK

NAME

Believe it or not this gorgeous Angora rabbit awaits her forever home at New Hampshire Humane Society.

Angelica – so named by our staff – is beautiful and high maintenance and particular about her diet and her boudoir. She enjoys a daily brushing; in fact, we will demand her new home can indeed unfailingly carry out that basic but necessary task, least she fall into disarray.

She loves a selection of bunny appropriate greens, parsley, carrots, a little kale, some timothy hay, and special rabbit food which can be purchased at well supplied local pet shops.

We are not entirely certain of Angelica’s age, no well respecting lady ever divulges that anyway.. but she is spayed and ready to go.

Come and visit her, she is a sweet girl for sure.

Shelter weekend hours have changed, we are now open at 11a.m and close at 4p.m Saturdays and Sundays.

Check www.nhhu-mane.org for complete opening times.

Insects, finding nothing to eat, fold up their tents and go home

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

Editor’s note: Mr. Harrigan is on a temporary hiatus, and was unable to submit a new column for publication this week. The following column was originally published on Aug. 14, 2014.

At the end of push-brooming the shop, I was thinking about Rachel Carson’s landmark book on the insect world and our sisyphian effort to determine which insects should live or die. Her book “Silent Spring” is on the shelves of hundreds of thousands of wildlife writers and nature lovers, right there alongside Aldo Leopold’s “Sand County Almanac.”

As always, as the successive sweeps of the broom concentrated detritus into the middle of the shop floor, I began to take a look at what I was sweeping up, a survey more telling not because of what was there but what wasn’t.

June bugs have been a part of my life ever since early childhood, when one particularly big behemoth smacked me in my right eye in the waning light of a soft June night. They appeared by untold thousands to hurl themselves toward any source of light.

Two years ago I began noticing the absence of June bugs in the usual shop-floor litter (ditto for butterflies and moths). Last summer’s tally: maybe a dozen or so June bugs, their little legs curled, having died on their backs.

Surely there was something going on here, but I didn’t necessarily expect a team of entomology experts to show up with butterfly nets and all to find out what.

The answer to such of life’s myriad little mysteries is often right there, if only you look toward the ground and then all around. The June bugs are not central to the question, but instead are among many other bit-players who are suddenly absent from the scene.

While I was wondering about the sudden lack of diversity and numbers at one hand, about as low on the food chain as you can get, I’d neglected to tie in the fact that for the first time in many years, we have no livestock around. Thus the removal of a key part of the cycle on the high end, large creatures that represent a huge loan from the microbe and insect world but eventually will have to pay up, when skin and bones eventually hit the ground.

The hay barn, usually alive with various creatures trying to eat each other, is now largely bereft of big spiders and webs.

The other day I took a walk around the various barns, just to poke around. Where I usually would run onto huge networks of webs harboring barn spiders the size of Volkswagens, now there are only a few webs, set up defensively in corners. This is sure-fire evidence of their being nothing much to catch.

As I hoed the garden a little later, another thought smacked me up side the head, as in swatting a deer fly. There are far fewer black flies, deer flies, horse flies and moose flies around. Again, the connection of livestock as the main attractant to perpetuate reproduction.

In the past, I’ve been a bear on keeping the door shut from shop into Fish and Game Room. This summer I’ve developed the habit of leaving it open, and even the door leading from the shop to the main barn. We can get away with this because of a near-total lack of house flies, which I loathe and after breakfast will hunt down like the Hounds from Hell.

We’ve quit haying, and the only remaining livestock are up at Nancee’s farm, up the river in Vermont. So the insect population has crashed around my farm, atop a ridge three miles from downtown Colebrook.

This a nice thing, this new emancipation of keeping doors flung open, with only the occasional wasp or bumblebee to contend with. Ah, how swiftly things can change. Now, after a couple of decades husbanding bees, chickens, cows, sheep and horses, we suddenly are bereft of the key link in the huge dog-eat-dog cycle: large animals.

How swiftly this can change. After this brief sojourn of no manure to draw the flies and the underground recyclers, no spilled grain to attract the mice and voles, no watery noses and eyes to draw biting insects that can eat and drink at the same spot, I’m thinking of reinstalling, because I’ve always liked them so much, pigs.

And then of course, the multitudes of insects will come.

One Light Theatre brings “Cabaret” to the stage

TILTON — “In here, life is beautiful. The girls are beautiful. Even the orchestra is beautiful.” One Light Theatre welcomes you to leave your troubles outside and enjoy the final production of their 2018 summer season, “Cabaret.”

Set in a Berlin nightclub at the expiration of the 1920’s, this classic production invites the audience to forget the outside world and allow the Master of Ceremonies to entertain. The Emcee’s racy songs serve as commentary on the tumultuous lives of Berlin’s residents as Germany slowly yields to the rise of the Third Reich.

The show explores complicated facets of society: politics, religion, sexuality, power.

“I see the cabaret as not only a reflection of the events happening during the time period, but a response to the human experience as well,” says actress Becca Turmel, a Bristol native who has taken on a number of roles with One Light since January. “This show will definitely challenge your perspective, sparking an important conversation.”

Though “Cabaret” was originally written in 1966, its story is timeless. One Light will be performing the 1998 version, which features favorite musical numbers such as “Willkommen,” “Maybe This Time,” and “The Money Song.”

“Our show is for people today, not for people in the ‘60’s, so we wanted to highlight how the many issues portrayed are relevant now,” says Michael DeRosa from Londonderry.

“Cabaret” is performed Aug. 3, 4, 10, and 11 at 7:30 p.m. and Aug. 5 at 2 p.m. in Hamilton Hall at Tilton School. The address for Tilton School’s campus is 30 School St., Tilton. Tickets are available at www.onelighttheatre.org, by calling 848-7979, or they can be purchased at the door.

The West African drumming and dance ensemble Akwaaba will make its debut at the Laconia Multicultural Festival on Sept. 8.

Make a date to tour the world at Laconia Multicultural Festival

LACONIA — Some dates, times and places are worth noting and remembering.

One such special upcoming date is Saturday, Sept. 8, when the 18th annual Laconia Multicultural Festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Rotary Park and areas surrounding the Belknap Mill.

Sponsored by the Laconia Human Relations Committee, in addition to many other contributors and numerous dedicated volunteers, this signature event celebrates America’s cultural diversity and the rich ethnic heritage of the Lakes Region. As always, it’s a family-friendly happening with free admission for all ages.

“You might make a date to eat out, to shop, or to take a trip to an exotic locale,” explained Becky Guyer, Multicultural Festival Committee Executive Director. “But only on Sept. 8 will you have the chance to tour the globe & do it all in one day!”

“Your tour will include the native cuisine as well as the ethnic arts & crafts available at the many vendor booths,” added Festival Committee member Debbie Frawley Drake, “and particularly by the musical artists performing all day on the Main Stage at Rotary Park and at the City Hall Stage.”

“Our goal this year is ‘to improve and excite’ which will be shown by the number of new talent involved in the event,” commented Committee member Matt Soza. “One group making their Festival debut is Akwaaba Ensemble, a traditional West African drum & dance ensemble. The musicians and performers are led by master percussionist/teacher Theophilus Nii Martey. Their exciting, energetic style is a reflection of their name, which means ‘Welcome!’ in the African language of Ghana. We bid ‘Akwaaba!’ to them and to you!”

“Saturday, Sept. 8,” concluded Becky Guyer. “Make a note, jot it down, set it aside, keep it open, tell your family & friends. It’s one date you’ll be glad you kept!”

Set sail for adventure with “Captain Kidd” on LRPA

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (Aug. 10 & 11) for our “LRPA After Dark” presentation of 1945’s swashbuckling adventure “Captain Kidd,” starring Charles Laughton, Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton.

In the unabashedly unhistorical “Captain Kidd,” the larger-than-life pirate (played by Laughton, who portrayed the silver screen’s definitive Captain Bligh in the 1935 version of “Mutiny on the Bounty”) convinces England’s King William III that he is an honest ship’s captain, and that he’s just the man to escort a treasure-laden vessel bound for England through the dangerous waters off of Madagascar. He further persuades the King that he needs a crew of condemned pirates for the job – and that they should be given a royal pardon. Kidd’s plan is to double-cross the King and take the treasures for himself. The pardoned crew is made up of scalawags and cutthroats (you’ll recognize the great character actors including John Carradine, Gilbert Roland and Sheldon Leonard, among others). One of them, Adam Mercy (Scott), is a smart and sophisticated rogue with manners and intelligence that very much please Kidd – and later, attract the attentions of Lady Anne Falconer (Britton). But soon things are not as they appear. Is Adam really who he says he is? What are his real intentions? Can a buccaneer such as Kidd trust anyone for very long?

Although woefully inaccurate in terms of history (there is a scene that includes the Tower Bridge, roughly 200 years before it would have been built!), “Captain Kidd” is well-regarded for strong performances from a deep and terrific cast, notably Laughton, who “binds the entire affair with his bravura villainy,” according to Turner Classic Movies. The legendary New York Times critic Bosley Crowther wrote, “‘Captain Kidd’ is strictly Charles Laughton’s vehicle; the rest of the crew are merely along for the ride.” The film received an Academy Award nomination for Best Original Score. Ahoy, Mateys! Get ready for a rollicking adventure. Grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark – or walk the plank!

Saturday, Aug. 11, 7 p.m., $20: Swing Dance with the Tall Granite Big Band

From the syncopated heart of New Hampshire, the Tall Granite Big Band carries on its Swing tradition Texas style! This 18-member band has its roots in Texas with music collected over seven decades by the late Houston band-leader Johnny Dyson. The Dyson band’s early repertoire included classics from Glenn Miller, Count Basie, Perez Prado, Duke Ellington, Harry James, and other greats. But Dyson also worked closely with Texas arrangers including Don Elam and Fred Baetge, and over time his bands acquired unique material reflecting the vital “Third Coast” culture and its Blues and Latin influences, which help distinguish Tall Granite today. Today, our members are drawn from around the Granite State and our focus – as it was in Dyson’s day – remains on dancing! Our Pitman’s ACT AGAINST ABUSE!

Donald Arthur Bickford, 92

TILTON — Donald (Don) Arthur Bickford of Tilton died peacefully at 6 a.m. on Sunday morning, July 29, at the Tilton Veterans Home. He was 92.

Don was born in Rumney on May 20, 1926 to Preston Bickford and Mary (Baker) Bickford and was a lifelong native of the state.

He was a veteran of both the Army and the Navy during World War II and the Korean War. Don’s time in the military was a highlight of his life and he enjoyed talking about it often, recalling stories, events, and people.

Also very meaningful to Don was his trip to Washington, D.C, at 90, with Honor Flight, the veteran’s organization, which pays the airfare for our veterans and takes them on a tour of the city’s World War II and Lincoln monuments, Arlington National Veteran’s Cemetery, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

In addition, Don was a member of the American Legion, Post 45 and in 2016, received an award for 65 years of continual, dues-paying membership.

After serving, Don worked at the Tilton Leather Shop for many years before becoming a janitor for the Tilton-Northfield School District. He had a great sense of humor and told numerous corny jokes to his children and grandchildren, all of whom love and miss him.

Donald was predeceased by his wife of 64 years, Minnie (Rollins) Bickford; two brothers, Kenneth Bickford and Paul Bickford of Tilton; sisters Katherine Davis of Tilton and Eleanor Bickford who died at infancy and a grandson, David A. Bickford, Jr.

Survivors include his sister, Lillian Kimball of Northfield, and children David A. Bickford of Tilton, Dennis P. Bickford of Meredith, Douglas T. Bickford of Franklin, Linda M. Morris of Fayetteville, Ga., Richard L. Bickford of Pembroke, Randall W. Bickford of Franklin, and Theresa A. Ludwig of Tilton, as well as 22 grandchildren and 48 great grandchildren, and nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were at Paquette-Neun Funeral Home, 104 Park St., Northfield, on Sunday, Aug. 5, 2018 from 3-5 p.m.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on Monday, Aug. 6, at 11 a.m. at Assumption Church, Chestnut St., Tilton. Burial will follow at Veterans Cemetery in Boscawen at 1 p.m.

Donations in memory of Mr. Bickford may be made to the New Hampshire Veterans Home Patient Activities Fund, 139 Winter St., Tilton, NH 03276.

For directions and an online guestbook, please visit www.neun-funeralhomes.com.

Alan Dale Punches, 58

ALAN PUNCHES

LACONIA — Alan Dale Punches, 58, died suddenly Friday, July 27, 2018 at his work.

Born Oct. 13, 1959 in Ponca City, Okla., he was the son of Dewey and Marie (Maxwell) Punches.

Alan was an educator for over 30 years, recently moving to Laconia five years ago from Ohio. He was the Vice President of Student and Academic Affairs at Lakes Region Community College. Alan was a lifelong learner and teacher, and cherished the relationships he maintained with students and faculty at several colleges and universities. He was a student of philosophy, academia, history, and psychology, and held multiple graduate degrees from Colorado State University. He was quick with a joke and a laugh, and possessed a wonderful “dry” sense of humor, and displayed great love and compassion for his family.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth (Wade) Punches; three sons,

Christopher, Dustin, and Andrew Punches; parents Dewey and Marie Punches; brother

Michael Punches; sister Becky Walker and her son, Daniel Worthen.

He was preceded in death by his niece, Chelsi Koller, in 2016.

As per his wishes, there will be no services.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation

Services, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, is assisting the family with the arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, go to www.wilkinsonbeane.com.

Carpet cleaning tips from the pros at All Brite Cleaning & Restoration

What not to do if you spill red wine!

GILFORD — It was a great dinner party. Everyone had a great time and loved all your food and wine. Problem is, you’re tired and want to go to bed, but you realize that one of your guests spilled red wine on your beige carpet! It can wait until morning...right? Red wine is better with age, but red wine spills are not! Sorry, but the best thing to do with a red wine stain or just about any spill is to work on it as soon as possible. Putting it off will only make the task harder.

Here are a few tips you can use to keep the red wine flowing in your house without too much worry!

- blot the stain with a clean white cloth and soak up as much as you can as fast as you can! Remember, don’t rub. Blot.

- add a little water to stained area on the carpet and continue blotting.

- make a paste of baking soda. One part baking soda to three parts water. Apply the paste directly to the carpet stain and wait for it to dry. Once dry, vacuum up the dried paste.

Interestingly, you can even use white wine after a red wine spill. Be sure to blot the red wine as much as possible and then treat and blot with white wine to pull out the stain. If you didn’t notice the spill until it was dry, cleanup will be more difficult. Mix 1 tablespoon of liquid hand dishwashing detergent and one tablespoon of white vinegar with 2 cups of warm water. Sponge the stain with the solution, then blot with a clean white cloth. If the stubborn stain still persists, call in a professional as soon as possible. Depending on the age, material, color, pile and age of the stain, results will vary. However, most often you’ll be amazed at the results they can achieve...keeping your carpet clean and ready for the next party.

League of NH Craftsmen Gallery hosting knitted hat workshop

MEREDITH — Spend a few creative hours with us at The League of New Hampshire Craftsmen – Meredith Fine Craft Gallery on Saturday, Sept. 8 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 22 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to create an original knitted hat design dedicated to the beautiful unique 72 square mile glacial lake in New Hampshire with instructor, Maryly Matthewman.

This special hat is a colorful motley mix of Romney Ridge hand dyed, locally sourced wool knit in Fair Isle, ancient Latvian patterns, Estonian and textured stitches which mingle to form trees, waves and beautiful mountains.

Matthewman’s knitting style is relaxed and based on a concept of change, texture, depth, imperfection, irregularity and most importantly, individuality Waves, trees and mountain landscapes are constantly changing, have depth and are not perfect. Make this your creation like nobody else can.

You will become a hat designer with splashes of color here and beads there!

This workshop is split into two sessions.

Session 1: Review of texture stitches, a new cast-on idea, beautiful ribbing, Estonian Nupp, colorwork ideas and how to incorporate beads into your knitting.

You will be expected to do some knitting in between sessions.

Session 2: How to finish hat top, bind off and folding, various tassel ideas and beads of course!!

Class fee: $75 includes a pair of four-hour sessions.

Materials fee: $40 Romney Ridge Farm Blend Yarn, hand dyed 50 yd skeins in 5 colors of Lake Winnepesaukee. Pattern for Lake Winnepesaukee Hat. You will have enough yarn for another colorful hat or fingerless mitts. Bead for tassel, bits of unique art yarn for tassel and some glass beads to incorporate into your hat. I will also have additional skeins for purchase.

Skills: moderate beginner-advanced

Students to bring: #5 16 inch circular needle, basic knitting supplies. Your own trinkets or beads to incorporate into hat. Very small crochet hook.

Maryly has brought this workshop to many stops in New England, Virginia, Colorado and in October 2018 to Taos Wool Market in New Mexico.

To register for this workshop, please call the League of New Hampshire Craftsmen – Fine Craft Gallery at 279-7920 or stop by the gallery located at 279 Daniel Webster Highway in Meredith.

Franklin VNA & Hospice receives donation from Eversource for Teuscher – Wilson Hospice Garden

FRANKLIN — This past June, Franklin VNA & Hospice celebrated the dedication of the Teuscher-Wilson Hospice Garden at its 75 Chestnut St. location in Franklin. The garden is open to the public to visit any time, and the VNA is working hard to get the word out that the garden is a place of peace in this worry-filled world. To help support the mission of the Franklin VNA & Hospice, and support the Hospice Garden, Eversource has come on as a $500 donor. The garden features a brick patio where anyone can purchase a memorial brick engraved with the name or message of their choice and visit any time of the day or year.

Speaking about how the Garden is already benefiting people, Elaine Cartier, Franklin VNA & Hospice's Director of Hospice, reveals, "The garden has changed how we hold our grief support groups. Nature provides sights, sounds and views that engage us in different ways, allow us to open ourselves to peace and move through our grief."

The garden features flowers, a path leading to benches to rest and relax, and Kathy's rock, a stone focus-object for meditation and contemplation.

Catalina Celentano, Eversource's Community Relations Specialist, was on hand to present the check and tour the garden, and commented "Eversource is proud to be able to support this wonderful community garden. The ability to have a peaceful and serene location to be, especially during difficult times, is reassuring and we are honored that we can support this effort for the Franklin VNA and the community."

Watts Water Technologies and the Franklin Elks Lodge #1280 helped to support the garden's beginnings and now Eversource is helping to further this important community resource with its donation.

Chaplain Tobias Nyatsambo states, "I hope this can become the beginning of a positive relationship with our community members in the garden. We welcome everyone to visit and benefit from the serenity to be found here."

Franklin VNA & Hospice is an independent, non-profit organization established in 1945 to serve the Home Health care needs of the community. They provide home care, Hospice, clinic and community education services to Andover, Belmont, Boscawen, Canterbury, Franklin, Hill, Northfield, Sanbornton, Salisbury, Tilton, Webster and surrounding towns, as requested. For more information on sponsoring a Memorial Brick or partnering with them for a stronger level of support for the Teuscher-Wilson Hospice Garden, call Franklin VNA & Hospice at 934-3454 or visit www.FranklinVNA.org.

New exhibit at League of NH Craftsmen Gallery spotlights Wendy Jackson's pottery

MEREDITH — The League of New Hampshire Craftsmen Fine Craft Gallery in Meredith is excited to announce "Out Of The Ashes," a collection of wood fired pottery by Wendy Jackson.

Jackson's intense process is one of love and patience. First creating her cups, pots and vases with multiple layers of slip (liquid mix of clay and water along with other materials), she then spends hours carving thru those layers. This method, called sgraffito (Italian "to scratch"), reveals different colors or designs hidden in the layers of slip. When she completes the carving, the pieces are ready to be fired in a wood-burning oven, or kiln.

Wood-firing is an ancient process, most revered in the Japanese culture. Each piece of pottery is carefully loaded into the specialized kiln. A small fire is started inside, and over the course of several hours, is slowly built in size and intensity. With the continuous stoking of the growing fire, the flames and ash leave unique deposits and marks on each piece of pottery. It takes many hours, or sometimes days, of continuous fire building for the heat to reach optimal temperatures, in order to melt glazes and ash deposits. Once the heat cycle is complete, the kiln slowly cools over almost a weeks' time and then is unloaded to reveal the treasures of the firing.

The raised surfaces on Jackson's wood fired cups and vases and the raw edges on her vases bring her natural designs to life. The sea turtles and other designs rise up to greet your hands and eyes. The unique combination of wood ash, the extreme heat, and the salts and minerals in the clay, work to also be congruent with nature in their resultant colors of purple, brown, and shades of orange.

"Out of the Ashes" will be on display for the entire month of September at the Meredith Fine Craft Gallery.

The League of New Hampshire Craftsmen is a nonprofit arts organization that encourages, nurtures, and promotes the creation, use, and preservation of fine craft through inspiration and education of artists, and the broader community. # Bank of New Hampshire’s Prestige Plus customers cruise the Norwegian Coast

REGION — Bank of New Hampshire’s Prestige Plus members recently returned from a twelve day tour including a six night cruise of the Norwegian Coast onboard Hurtigruten’s ship, the Nordkapp. Highlights of the tour included Oslo and the Viking Ship Museum, Flam Railway, Bergen, Alesund, crossing the Arctic Circle, Kirkenes and the Naeroyjord Fjord, the narrowest fjord in Europe. The tour was escorted by Bank of New Hampshire’s President and CEO, Paul Falvey and his wife Caryl along with Peter Camera, a professional tour manager from Collette.

The trip began in Oslo, Norway, where the group visited the remarkable Viking Ship Museum, home of three ancient Viking ships. The museum was something that first time Bank of New Hampshire traveler, Jean Halfmann of Belmont, always wanted to see and it was a highlight for her. Halfmann went on to say that the scenery and the fjords were wonderful, everyone was very friendly and the group had “a lot of laughs.”

In Bergen, Norway, the group boarded the Hurtigruten ship, the Nordkapp, a working cruise ship for the “world’s most beautiful voyage” sailing along the stunning Norwegian coastline. George and Nancy Jewell of Meredith said that the scenery on the northbound cruise was spectacular. Everyone on the trip echoed the same sentiments: the scenery and the fjords were some of the most breathtaking sights of any trip in the world.

A special moment for everyone was becoming one of the select few that can say they have crossed the Arctic Circle. Prestige Plus members experienced firsthand what it is like to live in the Land of the Midnight Sun, where from May through July the sun never sets! A trip highlight for Clint and Jean Dougan of New Hampton was getting up at midnight with the sun still shining to see the ship pass the majestic Trollfjord.

“The trip was worth every penny,” stated Mrs. Dougan.

One of the best experiences of the cruise was arriving in Krikenes, the home of the Sami people who have herded reindeer for centuries.

“Meeting and getting to know the Sami people was a standout for me,” stated Mr. Jewell, a sentiment repeated by everyone.

“The Norwegian Coast has some of the world’s most beautiful scenery and the Fjords we sailed into were amazing. It was a trip of a lifetime for me and for our Prestige Plus customers,” Paul Falvey said of the experience.

Bank of New Hampshire plans trips months in advance and tailors them to meet the needs of its valued Prestige Plus members. With many years of experi-

Local dancers prepare for annual charity show

GILFORD — On a typical Wednesday evening, Edgewater Dance Studio was alive with activity. Dancers from all across New Hampshire had met to rehearse for the upcoming, Dance to Make a Difference which is set for Wednesday, Aug. 22 at 7:30 p.m. The rehearsal included tap, modern and hip hop performances all featuring local dancers and choreographers.

All of the dancers spent the evening, like so many other evenings, rehearsing for the upcoming show with enthusiasm and a full heart. Unlike other professional performances, none of the dancers to be featured in the show receive any payment or incentive to participate outside of giving back to their community. The dancers donate their time, energy and money to make the annual dance show happen, to support The Faith Hope and Love Foundation, a local non-profit that aids to bring relief to children struggling with homelessness, poverty or hunger.

The dancers’ compassion to give back to their community is clear through their efforts, and the comradery amongst the group is strong. When asked why the dancers are giving so much to support the foundation, they each respond with a reason that is meaningful to them.

When asked, Jessie Byram shared, “I love it! It’s worth it (the time and energy) to be able to help a good cause.”

Byram added with a grin, “Plus, my best friends run it and they would kill me if I didn’t do it!”

Kelsey Piper, one of the dance’s co-founders of New Hampshire Dance Movement, stated that she dances because she valued her college experience and she knows that through Dance to Make a Difference, she can aid a student attend college with FHL’s annual college scholarships.

ServiceLink of Belknap County offers free Medicare workshops

LACONIA — By most estimates, about 10,000 Americans turn 65 each day, making them eligible for Medicare. But while the program provides coverage for a broad range of important health care services, those new to it may experience a bit of a learning curve when it comes to understanding how the benefits work.

That's why ServiceLink of Belknap County is pleased to offer a pair of free workshops for those who are, or will be, new to Medicare.

New to Medicare Workshops
Tuesday, Aug. 28 from 10:30 – 11:30 a.m.
Tuesday, Sept. 25 from 10:30 – 11:30 a.m.
The Partnership for Public Health
Suite 205
67 Water St., Laconia

According to Lori Raymond, a Medicare Counselor for ServiceLink of Belknap County, the workshops will provide a broad overview of how Medicare works and help recipients prepare for open enrollment for prescription drug plans and Advantage plans, which runs from Oct. 15 through Dec. 7 for 2018.

"Medicare prescription drug plans can change from year to year," Raymond says. "And for those new to the program, there can be a lot to learn – cost of plans, prescription drug coverage, what pharmacies and doctors are in the network and more."

Raymond noted that ServiceLink of Belknap County, which is part of the Partnership for Public Health, provides a two-step approach to Medicare enrollment. The workshops provide a primer about how Medicare works and then the agency provides additional assistance by appointment for those who have specific questions. In addition, ServiceLink of Belknap County will be available to help Medicare beneficiaries compare and change prescription drug plans and Advantage plans beginning Oct. 15 through Dec. 7 of this year. These programs are free of charge.

"Our goal is to inform, educate and empower community members," she said. "So that they can make the best decisions for themselves and their family when it comes to this vitally important issue."

While the workshops are free, pre-registration is required as space is limited. Raymond said that family members and caregivers are also welcome. To sign up, please call her at 707-5871 or contact her via email at lraymond@service-linkppnh.org.

About The Partnership for Public Health

Now celebrating our 11th year of community service and health promotion, The Partnership for Public Health's mission is to improve the health and wellbeing of the region through inter-organizational collaboration and community and public health improvement activities.

Local favorite Katie Dobbins returns to Pitman's Aug. 17

LACONIA — On Friday, Aug. 17 at 8 p.m., Katie Dobbins returns to one of her dearest New Hampshire venues, Pitman's Freight Room in Laconia.

A New Hampshire native, Dobbins is a folk singer-songwriter who performs with passion and precision, weaving messages of love and perseverance throughout. Dobbins is a storyteller, whose music has aired on multiple radio stations around New England, including New Hampshire stations WLNH, Pulse Radio, and The Hawk.

Boston broadcaster Carolyn Cruse of Country 102.5 described, "Sweet but bold, Katie's voice is reminiscent of one of her heroes, Jewel, but only deeper . . . a fearless spirit with a gentle touch."

Since the release of her debut album, "She Is Free," Dobbins has been touring throughout four New England states and featured in several renown music industry magazines. Most recently, Boston Voyager Magazine published her personal testimony of pursuing her passions and living free. Dobbins is currently in studio working on her sophomore album which will give fans an even deeper look into Katie as a songwriter and soulful spirit. "She Is Free" is available on iTunes and Spotify. You can learn more about Dobbins and her music at www.katie-dobbinsmusic.com.

Dobbins will be joined by special guest and local favorite "Dr. Jack" (Jack Polidoro). Dr. Jack has a 50-year career as a prolific songwriter, acoustic performer and recording artist with nine albums (from vinyls to CDs). His original songs/style are analogous to Lightfoot, Croce, Taylor and his songs embrace love and love lost, social issues and ballads that express life in general. A New Hampshire resident, his local following is quite extensive. Polidoro is also a novelist, having written eight books since 2000. His name is derived from his Ph.D. in Animal Science, resulting in a career in biological research which is unrelated to his passion for songwriting and literary works. Two new books, a novel and a book of poetry are in the works for 2019. You can learn more about Dr. Jack and his creative works at www.longtailpublishing.com.

On Aug. 17, audience members will also have the opportunity to participate in an exclusive silent auction, with all proceeds going toward the production of Dobbins' sophomore album. Items include beautiful artwork donated by local artists, a Katie Dobbins Music merchandise bundle, a fiddle lesson, and more!

Local student graduates from University of Wisconsin

MADISON, Wisc. — Nearly 7,500 students received degrees during the University of Wisconsin-Madison's spring commencement ceremonies, May 11-12, including Logan Tydryszewski of Sanborn-ton, who received a Bachelor of Science in Geological Engineering.

The ceremony for doctoral, MFA and Medical Degree graduates was May 11 at the Kohl Center, bachelor's, master's and law graduates received their degrees May 12 at Camp Randall.

Chancellor Rebecca Blank told graduates they've been educated in the proud tradition of the Wisconsin Idea — the commitment to public service. She urged graduates to focus on the question, "What am I doing for others?"

"If you keep asking that question, you will keep finding ways to use your knowledge and skills to make the real world a little better," she said.

During his remarks, David Muir, anchor of "ABC World News Tonight," emphasized two themes: our shared humanity and the need to overcome fear.

Winni Players holding auditions for all line-up

MEREDITH — The Winni Players Community Theatre will host joint auditions on Aug. 12 for the upcoming fall line-up at the Winnepesaukee Playhouse. The shows are classic fan favorites “Murder on the Nile” by Agatha Christie, and the radio dramas “Journey to the Center of the Earth” by Jules Verne and “The Lost World” by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. “Murder on the Nile” will hold a second audition night on Aug. 13, while the Radio Drama Double Feature of “Journey to the Center of the Earth” and “The Lost World” will also see potential actors on Aug. 14. Running Sept. 28 and 29, The Radio Drama Double Feature of “Journey to the Center of the Earth” by Jules Verne and “The Lost World” by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is adapted by John de Lancie from scripts by Nat Segaloff and John de Lancie. In “Journey to the Center of the Earth,” we see a professor and his nephew set off to retrace a famed explorer’s footsteps and make their mark on history, while in “The Lost World,” another professor embarks on an expedition to prove that prehistoric animals still exist. These shows offer a great opportunity for those with little to no experience on the stage since there is no memorization required and the rehearsal period is shorter than a traditional play. Agatha Christie’s “Murder on the Nile,” playing Oct. 31 through Nov. 4, is the story of the beautiful and wealthy Kay Ridgeway as she embarks on a honeymoon voyage down the Nile with her new husband. Fatal circumstances await when the idyllic surroundings are shattered by a shocking and brutal murder. Under scrutiny is a multitude of memorable passengers, all with a reason to kill. The tension and claustrophobia builds, as a shocking and audacious conspiracy is laid bare. This production will be helmed by Michael Cobb, a new director at the Winnepesaukee Playhouse. For more information on both productions including rehearsal schedules, production team, what to prepare for auditions, and much more, interested actors should visit: <http://www.winnepesaukeeplayhouse.org/>

winni-players-community-theatre-auditions.html. The Winnepesaukee Playhouse, a year-round theatre, is a 501(c)3 organization supported in part by the New Hampshire State Council on the Arts, New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, the Shubert Foundation, the Steinwachs Family Foundation, and by contributions from members of this community.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

Five questions for your advisor

BY MARK PATTERSON

If you’re looking for a new advisor or just meeting with your current advisor, I have what I believe are five relevant questions that need to be asked and answered honestly.

1) Does your advisor and their firm act in a fiduciary capacity — in other words, do they work for you, the client? If yes, have them put it in writing.

2) Does your advisor really know the purpose and needs of the money you have invested with them and their firm? Is your portfolio custom designed for you or a model portfolio for the masses?

3) Does your firm engage in revenue-sharing with fund companies, and if so, were you informed by the advisor or was it buried in their disclosure documents?

4) Is your account held with a third-party custodian that gives you a transparent view of your accounts and your accounts performance?

5) Is your advisor well-versed in asset management, financial planning or are they being paid a fee to manage the relationship with you?

These five questions represent a good place to begin if you are interviewing a potential new advisory firm or if you are meeting with your current firm.

Most advisers will claim that they work for you in a fiduciary capacity, however that is not often the case. It’s not that your advisor is lying to you, they probably just don’t realize that working for you in a fiduciary capacity means “all the time,” not just when they choose. That’s why I say, get it in writing. My firm, MHP Asset Management, states in our client agreement that we work in a fiduciary capacity for our clients. If your advisor and their firm are in fact working for you in a fiduciary capacity they will have no problem furnishing that in writing.

I’ve stressed very recently that your money must be invested not only with proper risk tolerance, but with the proper purpose. Many advisors are good at accumulating money through various funds stocks or bonds. It is key to your financial well-being to understand that when you are relying on your assets for income you must manage them not for accumulation but for distribution. Many of the investment vehicles that are there for accumulation are not suitable for distribution those assets as income. That’s why I say to those who have left 401(k)s or 403B plans in place after they leave a job and heading for retirement, redirect that money to an IRA where you have multiple choices for investing that money for the proper purpose. I have yet to see a 401(k) or 403B that is suited for distribution of assets as income.

Revenue-sharing is one of my pet peeves that I believe is a very disingenuous means of collecting more money for the company coffers at the client’s expense, it is commonplace for every broker-dealer and advisory firm connected to a broker-dealer.

Very few advisory firms hold custody of client funds. TD Ameritrade institutional, Fidelity, Charles Schwab and Pershing are top custodians for client funds that most advisers use to hold their client’s money.

My question number five is a bit self-serving, but I believe that most people should work directly with the asset management firm as opposed to an advisor who charges a fee to manage the relationship but then passes on your money to other money managers who charge you a fee in addition to your advisory fee.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Time to Put Excess Cash to Work?

You'll always want to base your investment decisions on your own needs and goals. But there may be times when you might consider adjusting your portfolio because of risks and opportunities. Now may be one of those times.

Here's some background: In recent months, the Federal Reserve has raised short-term interest rates several times, and given its generally favorable outlook on the economy, it has indicated it may continue bumping up interest rates gradually over the next year or so. The Fed doesn't control long-term interest rates, but these rates often follow the lead of short-term movements. However, longer-term rates haven't yet risen as much as shorter-term ones, which means the difference between short- and long-term rates is relatively small, historically speaking.

This doesn't mean you should make drastic changes to your portfolio. You still need to stick with the asset allocation that's suitable for your situation, which typically involves owning a certain percentage of growth-oriented vehicles, such as stocks, and a certain percentage of fixed-income securities, such as bonds. However, if you do have space in the fixed-income part of your portfolio, you may find the higher interest rates offered by short-term bonds and certificates of deposit (CDs) to be attractive. To take advantage of this opportunity, though, you will need to have the cash available to invest.

Some people hold too much in cash, waiting for interest rates to rise, or as protection against the risk of a market decline. But holding excess cash involves its own risk – the risk of not investing. So, if you have your cash needs covered, you may want to consider investing any excess cash.

To determine if you are holding excess cash, you'll need to review your entire cash situation. For example, do you have enough cash, or cash equivalents, to create an emergency fund of three to six months' worth of living expenses? This fund can be vital in helping you pay for things like a major car repair or an unexpected medical bill without dipping in to your long-term investments. And, of course, you need enough liquidity to provide for your lifestyle, including your regular spending needs – your mortgage, utilities, groceries and so on. Also, you may want to set aside enough cash for a goal you want to reach in the next year or so, such as a vacation.

But if you have taken care of all these needs and you still have excess cash, you may want to consider putting this cash to work, possibly by investing in short-term fixed-income vehicles now being issued at higher interest rates.

And keep in mind that regardless of where interest rates are going, bonds and other fixed-income investments can offer some key benefits to investors.

In addition to providing a source of regular income, these types of investments can help reduce the effects of volatility on your portfolio. While bonds can, and will, fluctuate in value, they typically can provide more stability to your portfolio and tend to behave differently than stocks over time.

After years of historical lows, shorter-term rates now have risen to levels that are more attractive to investors. Take the time to review your situation, perhaps with the help of a financial professional, to determine if taking advantage of these rates may be appropriate for you.

said with a smile as she pointed out a 1969 Ford F-250.
Assisting Dean for the event was her new friend Dan, a resident of Northfield and the Vice President of the Combat Warriors Motorcycle Club. An Army veteran himself, Dan was among the many veteran clubs and Bank of New Hampshire's members of the Military Support Assistance Group who made sure all the residents interested in cruise night could get out and about to enjoy the evening.

Harry Trott was another resident who liked what he saw as he made the rounds last Thursday. His preference? Chevys.
"The first car I ever had was a '34 Chevy, so I like seeing them here every year," Trott said. The residents' preferences were important that night too. They were all asked to drop tickets into buckets placed in front of each vehicle they wanted to cast a vote for in categories like Most Memorable, Best in Show, and everyone's favorite, Most Likely to Get a Ticket.
Donald Baldinelli is the Sergeant at Arms of the NHVH Resident's Council, which the evening benefitted through 50/50 raffles, refreshment sales and donations. While he said he admired a pretty '57 Thunderbird, his eyes stayed fixed on a 1927 Ford Model T owned by NHVH staff member Melissa Libby and her father Jeff Libby.

"The paint job on this Model T just blows me away," he said. "I don't see a car here that beats it."
Melissa Libby appreciated his comments and said that she and her dad first bought just the rusted shell of the Model T then took its restoration on as a joint project. For three years they sand blasted the body, added a 410 horsepower, 5.7-liter Corvette engine, then turned it over for a professional paint job and restoration of the upholstery.

"We did as much of it as we could do together. It was a lot of fun," Melissa said.
The results drew a lot of appreciative attention at Cruise Night

Baldinelli was pleased with the turnout that night, saying it is always a great time for not just the car owners, but the residents and their families as well.
"It keeps us all busy and I know I like staying busy, too," he said.
In his eyes, he added, every car that took part in the event was a winner.

course, the books they, too, enjoy at Belmont Public Library. Last weekend the children's room was decorated with crepe paper and balloons. There were also some noisemakers, lively music, pizza and ice cream to help with the celebration.
"This year we've had a successful summer reading program and we've received a lot of help and support from the community, like Brookside Pizza, Belmont Village Store and Shaw's who all pitched in for today's Dance Party. We're looking forward to another 90 years here at Belmont Library," said librarian Sarah Frost.

reports began to show signs that the New Hose House location was also becoming insufficient for the size of their ever-growing collection.

A few years later, in stepped George and Walter Duffy, owners of the Belmont Hosiery Mill. In 1927 the New Hose House was moved to Fuller St. and became the home of the Charles Kilborn American Legion Post, providing the room for the Duffys to have a new brick library built in its place.

Newspaper excerpts Rhodes found from Feb. 4, 1928 were quoted as saying, "The new library given the Town of Belmont by the late George E. Duffy of Worcester, Mass. and his brother, Walter F. Duffy of Franklin, was dedicated today. Exercises were held in the Community Hall, which was filled to capacity. John M. Sargent presided."
During the ceremony, Walter Duffy presented the town with approximately $25,000 to pay for the cost of building the library, plus what was only described in the news article as "a sum" for a trust fund that would provide an annual income of $500 towards its maintenance. In addition to the money, Duffy also presented the new library with 5,000 volumes for its collection.

As part of the dedication, the school children of Belmont sang for the large crowd on hand that day.
On the main floor of the building there was both a children's room and an adults room, while the basement, now the site of the children's library, was used as an assembly room that could seat up to 100 people. Overseeing the new library in 1928 was Etta Belle Dearborn, who served as the town's librarian for 20 years.

"It is the finest gift ever made to Belmont. In the interior of the Library is a bronze tablet inscribed in recognition of prominent citizens of the community in past generations," the article concluded.
That tablet still graces the library wall 90 years later.
And just like the boys and girls from Belmont who took part in the library's dedication in 1928, children from 2018 celebrated all the programs, crafts, and of tasty concession stands. A competitive Pedal Tractor Pull, free climbing wall, and traditional children's games will keep the youngsters busy. Enjoy the music of the Back 2 Back band on the bandstand at 10:30 a.m., leading up to the grand parade at 1 p.m. This year's parade will feature the music of NH Police Pipes and Drums, Moulton's Band, and our own Belmont High School Marching Band.

cupboards were left open and the bedroom showed definite signs that someone had gone through the home. The victim took a quick inventory of what was missing and reported that his laptop, cellphone and several other miscellaneous items were gone.
Police tried locating the cellphone, hoping it would indicate where the suspect and the vehicle were, but the "ping" they got back from area cell towers showed it to be in the vicinity of Kelly Road in Franklin, which included the radius of the home on Zion Hill.

"We haven't located the phone because the battery's now gone dead, but it looks like the man could have thrown it out the car window when he left the scene," Hutchinson said this past Monday.
The good news, however, was that the car was later located when someone spotted it abandoned at the Exit 18 Park and Ride in Canterbury.
Hutchinson said police processed the car for

The Belmont High School basketball team won the championship in the Laconia summer basketball league.

Belmont edges Winnisquam for summer hoop league title

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

LACONIA — The Belmont and Winnisquam basketball teams did very well in the Laconia summer league, with the Red Raiders knocking off the Bears in the finals last week by a score of 50-45.

It was a tight battle throughout the game, with the two rival schools tied up with time winding down. However, the Belmont squad was able to fend off Winnisquam for the win.

Belmont coach Jim Cilley was very pleased with the effort put forth, and said the team was happy to come away with a win against its near-by rival. While it isn't the regular season, the summer showed that the team is ready to play and make another playoff push come winter. The Red Raiders lost their number one scoring option in Matt Pluskis, but he said players like Aiden Rupp, Matt Thurber, Griffin Embree and Nate Sottak should provide a well-rounded scoring attack.

"You know, I tell the kids before the summer even starts that I don't really care about the wins and losses," said Cilley. "It's about developing our identity, playing hard and starting to form what we will be as a team. I always have core values of a team and one of which is that we will always go out and out-work the other team and always play defense because it takes no talent to hustle."

Cilley said whether it is a summer league game or an open gym practice, intensity and effort is stressed. He said the team isn't out there to just goof around, they were looking to defend, execute and take quality shots.

"I thought for the most part there were a lot of one on five matchups and at first we weren't exactly playing terrific," said Cilley. "We kept talking about that and then about two weeks ago the big change was that Aiden Rupp decided that 20 percent of his shots should come outside the arc and the other 80 percent should be in the paint. The guys started to trust him more and it turned things around."

Cilley said this was noticed by Embree, who is the team's point guard. He said it was his job to get the ball to Rupp, Thurber and other big men in the paint, which changed the dynamic of the game.

"Matt had a good AAU season and has developed a nice jump shot and post work," said Cilley. "Seriously when the season starts we should really be a team that has more than 50 percent in the paint."

Cilley said last year Rupp could get away with perimeter shots since the team had Dylan Gansert who could rebound and get the ball to Pluskis. This year the team doesn't have this luxury as Gansert and Pluskis graduated. However, what Belmont does have in Rupp is one of the best offensive rebounders in the state, according to Cilley.

"He gets his hands on everything," Cilley said of Rupp. "He has that innate ability. He is long and is quick off his feet. In some regards he reminds me of Trevor Hunt, just not quite as polished. Aiden gets a lot of his own misses and he runs like a deer so we can get some early action in transition."

While Rupp is a double/double machine, as he showed toward the end of last season, another strong point for Belmont is the team's core of guards in Embree and Sottak who are solid perimeter players. Jackson Ruelke has also shown great moments during the summer, as well as Tommy Galambos, who Cilley expects to get playing time next season.

"There has been some nice contributions from these guys, especially late in the summer," said Cilley.

Cilley said more so than any other summer, the team established its offensive identity. He said the Red Raiders may not have a big time scorer on the team, but if there are five or six players averaging more than seven points a game it will be tough to beat.

While some teams struggle to get numbers during the summer, as many players have jobs, vacations or other sports, this was not the case for Belmont and Winnisquam. Cilley said at times the Red Raiders had upwards of 15 peo-

16U Nor'Easters fall in tourney quarterfinals

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

GILFORD — The 16U Nor'Easters softball team finished its season with a loss in the quarterfinals of the Nor'Easter Classic, and coach Becky Beaulac was pleased with the performance of her squad that included several Lakes Region athletes.

"This was the best tournament we have played, it all came together for us," said Beaulac. "Our hitting has improved immensely from a tournament average from the first tournament in Rochester with an overall batting average of .158 and slowly progressing to the Nor'Easter Tournament with a batting average of .352. I saw a lot of improvement from the start of this tournament season and next season should only be better as only three players are aging out."

The team went 2-1 in pool play at the team's host event, with an opening night loss to the Barrington Blaze by a score of 8-3, an 8-1 win over Blue Hills on Saturday morning and a 6-4 win against the Rage on Saturday afternoon. In tournament play the Nor'Easters won 7-4 to the Kingdom Khaos and then lost 13-5 to the Northeast Hurricanes in the quarterfinals.

The first game came between rain storms at Memorial Field in Laconia, with Nyla Dame of Laconia High School pitching against the Blaze. Same had four strikeouts and four walks in four innings pitched. The team was led by an inside the park home run by Laconia's Taylor Morrill.

The second game saw Jade LaSalle of Inter-Lakes in the pitching circle and cruising to the 8-1 win. She had a strong day with 16 strikeouts. Profile's Maddie Reeves, who went three for three with a double, and Profile's Sadie Young, who had a single and a triple, led the offense.

In game three, Mari Spears of Merrimack Valley was the starting pitcher against the Rage, and Dame shut the door in the final innings. The pair combined for six strikeouts in the win. Morrill, Sydney Hawkins of Berlin and Kelsey Trudeau of Belmont High School were commended for their strong defensive play in the outfield.

In the tournament win against the Khaos, Reeves was the offensive star with a single and a three run homer. Morrill also had single and a double and Olivia Boucher of Berlin had a three for three day that included a double.

In the quarterfinal loss, Dame started the game in the circle and was relieved by LaSalle. The duo had four strikeouts and three walks, and much of the damage done in the 13-5 loss was in the first inning where the Nor'Easters gave up eight runs mostly on singles. Morrill had two hits including a three run homer.

For local athletes, Dame ended her season with a .260 batting average and had quality innings in the circle.

"Nyla Dame was one of our top pitchers this year and also did a great job relieving when needed," said Beaulac. "When not pitching, she played first base and is a solid hitter."

LaSalle, while quiet at the plate with a .206 batting average, had a strong summer pitching and continues to improve.

"Jade LaSalle, one of this year's quad captain's, pitched and played some outfield," said Beaulac. "Jade is a solid pitcher that knows the position well and also stepped into the outfield when I needed her to. I have confidence that wherever I put her, she will give it all she's got."

Trudeau had a tough summer at the plate but was commended for her defense in the outfield throughout the season.

"Kelsey Trudeau also was a great contributor to this year's team playing in the outfield she had some great catches," said Beaulac. "She also improved over the season."

The team's top hitter was Young with a season batting average of .422 which was highlighted by an eight for 13 showing in the Nor'Easter

Classic.

"Sadie Young is one of the most solid and graceful players I have come across," said Beaulac. "If I had to vote for an MPV for this season, she would definitely be in the running."

Reeves batted .600 during the tournament and propelled her batting average to .340. Hawkins also hit well with a .302 batting average.

With most of the team coming back next summer, Beaulac likes the direction of the team as she said she saw noticeable improvement as the season went on.

"I can't wait to see what another year of school softball brings to the team next year," Beaulac said.

Belmont athletes help 14U Nor'Easters to solid season

BELMONT — Local softball players excelled this summer for the 14U Nor'Easters, with coach Bill Clary saying he was very happy with the team's effort and results from beginning to end.

The summer culminated with the team's first ever win in the Nor'Easter Classic, which is the host tournament involving more than 50 teams that takes place in Laconia, Gilford and Belmont.

Clary, who coaches Belmont High School as well, had several players from Belmont High School on his team, including pitcher Morgan Hall who went 9-1 with an ERA of 0.750. She was one of the team's top pitcher all summer and impressed Clary in the championship. It bodes well for next spring, as Hall will be relied on heavily for innings in an attempt to capture the elusive title. Last spring Belmont was the runner up in Division 3.

Kelley Allen of Belmont was also got some innings and had a 1-2 record.

18U Nor'Easters wrap up strong summer season

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — The 18U Nor'Easters started strong with a win in the state tournament and then finished with the first ever win in the Nor'Easter Classic, putting together an incredibly strong summer of softball from start to finish.

The team had a great combination of offense, defense and pitching, which was showcased in the Nor'Easter Classic when the team had a stretch of three games outscoring opponents 36-0. Overall the Nor'easters posted a .358 batting average over the summer.

Carly Catty of Winnisquam was the leader at the plate with a .462 batting average in the leadoff spot. She had one homer and scored 49 runs in 100 at bats.

"Carly ran the bases well all year," said coach Fern Beaudet, who said she was consistent all year. "She has a great sense of the game and took many extra bases."

Meeka Bolduc of the Tilton School batted .387 and smashed three homers. Gilford's Jillian Lachapelle, who graduated this past spring, was a great source of power with a .348 batting average and a team high four home runs. Bolduc and Lachapelle were commended by Beaudet for their clutch hitting.

Ella Harris of Gilford showed that she is a top pitcher by ending strong with a no-hitter against the Brattleboro Heat and a one-hitter against the Northeast Impact. Harris was a major surprise as she joined the club halfway through the season and immediately made an impact in the circle, in the outfield and at the plate.

Cait Mallahan of Laconia and Liz Fleming were outstanding in the outfield and made key plays for the Nor'Easters all summer.

"I think you could not have asked for a better season from our team, from pitching, offense and defense, all the players pulled for each other all year," Beaudet said. "Real true team chemistry."

COURTESY

The 18U Nor'Easters had a fantastic summer highlighted by a wins in the state tournament and the Nor'Easter Classic.

Beaudet said it was an incredible feat for the Nor'Easters to start off with the state tournament win after putting together a team filled with new players from an array of different schools. The team also had only two practices before states.

ple playing and Winnisquam coach Kevin Dame said 10 or more players were consistently playing.

Dame, like Cilley, was pleased with the effort put forth by his team. Last year the Bears had an up and down season and narrowly missed the playoffs. This summer the team was a seven seed out of eight teams heading into the final tournament and turned some heads with their play when the Bears knocked off Laconia and Merrimack Valley to get to the championship game against Belmont.

"It was a back and forth championship game but they just made a couple more plays than us," said Dame.

Once again, Dame said the team was relying on Kyle Mann for the brunt of its scoring. He also spoke highly of Philip Nichols and Angelo tices before states. "To play as well as we did against some of the best teams in the state was incredible," said Beaudet. "To end the number one seed after pool play in four out of six tournaments, and the third seed in the other two tournaments, this talks about how competitive this team was all season. The players never gave up. Ending the season winning our own Nor'Easter Classic against 15 other teams throughout New England against some great competition, and the way we finished with four shutouts out of seven games in our classic, what a way to finish a great memorable season."

Glover, who he said will make an impact. It also gave coaches a chance to see what some players had to offer that had not gotten much playing time in the past.

"We only lost one senior and while we're still pretty young, we had a strong JV team and freshman class," said Dame. "Now they're sophomores and we have some incoming players that are working hard and can do some nice things. It was good to get these kids some touches."

Dame admitted that he had to work a lot and he commended the work by Zach Hall and Adam MacLeod for their coaching this summer. He said the players showed up and worked hard.

"That's how teams get better," said Dame. "I'm proud of them."

MEREDITH NEWS/THE RECORD ENTERPRISE/WINNISQUAM ECHO

Thornton, NH - Beautiful open concept design with 3 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, and the ever coveted garage on 2 acres! A home energy audit done in 2015 revealed that this home was so air tight that an air exchange unit was installed. All light fixtures were replaced with LED bulbs, hot water pipes were wrapped with insulation, thermostats were replaced, and the basement and garage were insulated with a spray foam closed cell insulation. The only thing left is for you to add your own cosmetic upgrades! Located in the Waterville Estates community where you can relax on your own deck listening to the river, or sit on a deck by one of 3 pools at the community center. Other amenities in Waterville Estates include tennis courts, an exercise room, and ski area!

Dunleavy of Laconia had a 1-0 record pitching and had a .975 fielding percentage. Courtney Turpin of Laconia caught all but four games and was solid behind the plate.

Lilly Simpson of Inter-Lakes High School had an incredible summer at the plate with a .475 batting average. She was also a leading pitcher with an 11-2 record and a 0.850 ERA. Simpson was an offensive anchor on a team that hit over .350 this summer. The team had nine shutouts and amazingly outscored opponents 241 runs to 60.

Clary has been involved in the Nor'Easters as a parent, coach, board member and volunteer for more than 15 years, and it has also become a family affair. "My wife Diane has helped in many ways over the years and I am so lucky that she allows me to still coach," Clary said. "My oldest daughter Caitlin played for the Nor'easters and this last year was an assistant coach for the 16s, I am so proud of her and how far she helped those girls go this year and improve individually. My youngest daughter Courtney has been my assistant for the last two years, she keeps my book and stats. She helps call the pitches and is right on with statistical information. She is a great asset during and before games."

Clary called the Nor'Easters a "first class organization that cares about its players but also about its reputation." He said the success this season, ending with the host tournament win, was unprecedented and a thrill for him, his team and the family members involved. Clary added that
