WRHS student chosen for prestigious UNH internship

BY DONNA RHODES

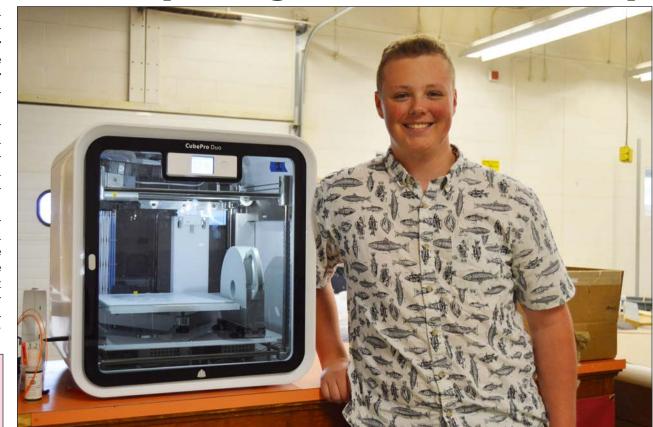

drhodes@salmonpress.news TILTON — Winnisquam Regional High School junior Thomas Trowsdale of Tilton was recently selected from a pool of 100 applicants from across the state to take part in a summer internship program at the University of New Hampshire's Interoperability Lab, where he will gain some valuable real life experiences in the field of electronic and computer technology.

The lab, Trowsdale explained, works with technology giants such as Apple, Samsung and other major corporations by testing their products to make sure they are all up to par with the standards of today's market.

"Through the internship, I'll be working and learning the tech business and what they do in the field. It's pretty exciting," said Trowsdale.

As part of the internship process he first had to fill out an extensive application form, write an essay, then take part in an online interview through Skype with rep-SEE WRHS, PAGE A17

This year's event was headed up by Rotarian Don Carpenter who said a few new features were added this year, like a casting game where children could try their hand at landing a weighted toy fish inside a hula-hoop placed several feet away.

"Since we start the day off by age groups, this was something for the kids to do as they awaited their start time," said Carpenter. "They got three casts each and when they landed the fish in the hoop they got to pick a prize. The kids really seemed to enjoy it!"

WOW Trail board Chair Allan Beetle and Executive Director Gretchen Gandini close out the WOW Sweepstakes Ball, with Gandini holding the grand prize winning ticket.

Guests enjoyed dancing, music, food, and had a chance to win thousands of dollars in prizes at the annual WOW Sweepstakes Ball.

Partiers gathered at Gunstock on Saturday night for the annual fundraiser for the WOW Trail. Each ticket came with a number, which was entered into a big basket to be drawn for prizes. At the end of the evening the last remaining ticket won $10,000.

This year marked the WOW Ball's 14th year, which WOW Trail President Allan Beetle said was a 14th straight sold out event.

Since its beginning the WOW Ball was held the Opechee Inn at Conference Cenand ter, though the center closed this year. WOW Trail Executive Director Gretchen Gandini said they looked for a new venue that could hold the usual number of ball attendees. She said Gunstock "rose to the top" as a possibility and the decision to move the event there paid off.

"They've been amazing, super welcoming," Gandini said. "The staff at Gunstock have been all hands on deck."

Guests congregated around the Main Lodge, including the outside patio where a band played. Inside guests danced to a DJ as numbers were called. Centerplate, Gunstock's resident food service, provided the food for the event.

Beetle and Gandini said the guests seemed to really enjoy the new space.

Gandini said as the WOW Trail is a big opportunity for outdoor recreation it was appropriate to have the fundraising event at Gunstock, another major area for outdoor recreation.

The WOW Ball's new sponsor this year was Daniels Electric Corporation of Gilford and many people from the company came to the ball.

People could bid on silent auction items and take part in a live auction with auctioneer Jesse Thompson. Starting around 8:30 p.m. numbers were drawn for the major prizes. At the end the last 10 numbers won cash prizes, including the grand prize of $10,000.

The grand prizewinner was Bradley Miles, who had the last number left on the board and won $10.000. Megan McKenna was the second place winner, receiving $5,000. Ben Davis received $500 and $300 went to David Houghton. Prizes of $200 went to Ilona Dunfee, Winnann Milligan, Marie Baker, Brenda Martel, Kate Tourville, and Margo Weeks.

WOW Trail principals are now planning phase three of the trail from Lakeport to the Weirs. Plans are being submitted to the Laconia Planning Board for review awaiting approval, which will involve numerous public hearings.

The planned route on the railroad tracks behind residences has been met with opposition by some area homeowners associations, who have indicated they will litigate if the project remains as planned. Beetle said if the current project receives planning board approval it is likely a lawsuit will follow. The WOW Trail orposed area of the trail is this trail is the best use all on state owned land for it.

PET OF THE WEEK

BY LARRY SCOTT

Viktor Frankl, born in 1905, an Austrian neurologist and psychiatrist with an M.D. and Ph.D. from the University of Vienna, was taken by the Germans in October of 1944 to Auschwitz, transferred to the Kaufering Camp and, for the next five months, he writes, "I was not employed as a psychiatrist in camp, or even as a doctor, except for the last few weeks. ... Most of the time I was digging and laying tracks for railway lines ("Man's Search for Meaning," p. 7).

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

Commenting on the impact camp life had on a man's outlook on life, he writes, "Everything can be taken from a man but one thing: the last of the human freedoms - to choose one's attitude. ... In the final analysis it becomes clear that the sort of person the prisoner became was the result of an inner decision, and not the result of camp influences alone. ... If there is a meaning in life at all, then there must be a meaning in suffering. Suffering is an ineradicable part of life, even as fate and death. Without suffering and death human life cannot be complete" (pages 66, 67).

Christians, too, have discovered that life has a way of surprising us with catastrophic days and nightmarish nights. Even to those, and at times it seems, especially to those, who are trying to live a godly life, things happen that pull us to a stop and demand that we determine what our living is all about. I recall the conversation I had with a pastor friend of mine who had just returned from the hospital, trying to comfort one of his parishioners. The man had foolishly tried to restart a coal-fired furnace by dousing the embers with a cup of gasoline. It flamed and as he jerked back, he splashed some of the gasoline on his daughter standing nearby, burning her badly. How does a man recover from something like that?

Life is tough! Suffering is inevitable but what we do with it – that is what will define us. When I have failed, when I have made a foolish mistake, when life has turned into a nightmare, my attitude -- in self-pity and bitterness or in acceptance and a determination to regain my stability -- will have a decided influence on whether it leads to my downfall or whether I come through unselfish, forgiving, and more mature. The strength of character, the means of identifying with others who hurt, the maturity resulting from patience and self-discipline, are all such that none of us would ever truly grow up but for times of enormous stress. I will grant that one need not be a Christian to mature through the catastrophes of life. But, as stated by the Apostle Paul, "I have learned in whatever state I am, to be content: I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound. Everywhere and in all things I have learned both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Although I have found my faith is no cop-out from the crises of life, I am pleased to tell you from personal experience, Christianity works!

Why can't we get the DHHS budget right?

To the Editor:

BY MARK PATTERSON

Whether you use a financial planner, advisor or do it yourself;

planning your financial future involves a plan, strategy and tactics to get you where you need

This is the 15th of my reports to the voters of Hill and Franklin on what is happening in Concord. I want to thank you for the numerous positive comments I received for last week's column on civility at the State House and how we must first get our families right. This week was slow but a worthwhile example of how we do business in the State.

The House's session was an "emergency" session to fix a budget problem. It's a problem that we've known for probably 18 months, but certainly at least six. Health and Human Services (DHHS) was supposedly going to be unable to pay bills to the tune of $66 million they had overspent if we didn't do something. I am still not sure I understand fully how they got in this jam, but it supposedly revolves around Medicaid. It seems that the original estimates for individual participation and overall costs were low. They (whoever is "they') underestimated the number of people who would qualify for aid and the amount we would be given in federal assistance (your tax dollars).

To fix this, according to the experts, was to have DHHS use $33 million that had as "extra" money. and that the State would kick in the remaining $33 million out of our current year's budget. This works well in a year when we have the surplus, but what if we didn't? Where would it come from this late in the fiscal year? It's simply lousy management.

I used to manage multi-million dollar programs, and we set a budget at the beginning... updated it periodically... and knew on a weekly basis how we were doing. Why can't DHHS and House Finance do this? Why do they wait until the last minute? Why is DHHS allowed to spend at a rate that doesn't match the budget? DHHS and House Finance watched the train wreck happen and did nothing until the last minute. Granted, House Finance did have money identified to pay for it in next year's budget, but that is in six weeks!

The bigger question is why DHHS was allowed to spend at a rate that did not fit their budget. Why didn't we tell DHHS 18 months ago that until they had additional money identified and approved, they needed to rein in their spending. I voted against it to say let's do our jobs and get the DHHS to do theirs. I am learning and not everything I see is good, but hopefully I can make a difference.

Please contact me at dave@sanbornhall.net or 320-9524 with your comments or if you just want to talk.

MARK ON THE MARKETS Strategies you have or have not done with your personal finances. To me a "plan"

is the most macro or broad big idea regarding (in this example), your financial picture. But then we must create a strategy for your plan. The strategy represents a subjective time frame; for example, five years. The strategy identifies the objectives you want to accomplish and attaches a loose timeframe to achieve your goal.

My strategy may read like this; Accumulate and grow my assets reducing the risk to the overall portfolio as I approach retirement at age 70. Using good Social Security planning, some "A" rated fixed indexed annuities for a small portion of income and a good fixed income bond ladder. I want to create a sustainable income that is not subject to market risks. Then with the remaining assets I want to continue to grow these assets with equities or stocks acquiring some mitigated market risks to keep me ahead of inflation and grow my legacy. I also want to fund Long term care insurance (asset based), and life insurance.

Now that I have outlined a basic strategy, I need to make "tactical" moves to get my strategy in motion. While I am still in the "accumulation" phase, a tactical move may be; with a portion of my assets I will sell cash covered "puts" to create income or accumulate stock in companies I want to own. Once I own this stock, I may sell covered "calls" for income. This is a buy/ write tactic that aids in the overall "accumulation" strategy.

The point is that your plan and strategy should be well defined. Not that changes should not be made, but a general idea of what you want to accomplish and how. The tactics that you or your advisor employ are more defined or maybe represent shorter periods of time. Tactics are just tools to help you reach your strategic goals which are a just a part of the overall plan.

Reading this may seem simplistic to you, but I know sometimes very basic concepts can be a valuable tool for solving problems that may have seemed very complex. Buying mutual funds until you retire and taking the money out of them when you need it would be a strategy and plan. But that plan does not include enough detail to ensure that you won't run out of money in retirement.

A very good exercise would be to write out your plan and objectives, then create a strategy to work towards your goals. If you are comfortable with the details or tactics to fulfill your plan, then write those down as well. If you are not comfortable with any or all of this then, call a planner or you can call my office.

By John Harrigan Columnist

America has, for a host of reasons, become a nation of A-to-B travelers. By this, I mean people obsessed with getting from point A to point B without savoring the trip in any fashion, whether there's a need for hurry or not. These are the people who ask me, when I'm getting back from a train trip, or a truck-tour down Old Route 3 or along winding Route 113, or a Jeep ride along equally winding Route 145, "Didn't it take a long time? Weren't you bored?" The answers are yes, and no-that last as in, "Not ever."

When it came past-due time to visit family on the West Coast, I took one of Amtrak's great trains, the California Zephyr, out and back instead of flying, which I used to love but have grown to loathe. This was anathema to anyone with no clue about trains then and now, or even any notion that trains still exist. "Didn't it take a long time?" No, just four days and three nights, which didn't matter at all, because the trip itself was such a pleasure. "Didn't it cost a lot?" No, not when you figure that on a train, you get your meals and your hotel room on wheels, not to mention an ever-changing scene out the window.

On trips south, especially to destinations down below the notches, I'll use Interstate 93 or its across-the-river companion I-91 to get to where I'm going as quickly as possible, usually a speaking event or a medical appointment. But on the way home, I'll take the slowest and most interesting route possible, often adding hours to the trip. And I never come home without a renewal of the sheer love of travel for travel's sake. The other day, Nancee and I piled into the truck to go down to Littleton on some errand or other, and wound up, as usual, taking the slow way

Peter Makris Memorial Run celebrates 11th anniversary June 10 Kick off to Laconia Motorcycle Week supports fire department, veterans, emergency responders and more

LACONIA — Spring in Laconia means dusting off your bike, changing the oil and making your reservation for the Peter Makris Memorial Run. For 11 years, friends, family and even those who never knew him, gather to honor the life of Peter Makris, patriarch of The NASWA Resort and community leader. The run has become the Official Kick Off for Laconia Motorcycle Week and The Peter Makris Memorial Fund brought ongoing has benefits for the Laconia community. Over $340,000 has been raised to fund the Laconia Fire Department's Water Rescue Team, to support the Easter Seals NH "Veterans Count" program, the area CERT Emergency Response Team and othlocal charities—iner cluding a 2016, $4,500 donation to the family of firefighter Kyle Jameson, who lost his battle to cancer just a year ago. This year's run has elements of tradition, like the bountiful breakfast buffet at the NAZBAR & Grill, followed by an opening performance by Sgt. Dan Clark, the singing trooper, thanks to the generous support of Marc Abare and his company, Plastic Distributors. Sgt. Clark's heart-pumping patriotic songs start the run off in high gear and are followed by a blessing of the bikes by Fr. Mark Drouin and Fr. John Routos.

But this year, the Peter Makris Memorial Run also has a new and intriguing route, which includes a ride to the New Hampshire Motor Speedway AND two memorial laps around the track and a lap around the road course.

"The euphoric feeling of riding a NASCAR racecourse is not to be missed," says Cynthia instead, a gourmet buffet, Makris, Peter's daughter and President of the NASWA Resort and the Laconia Motorcycle Week Board. "We are so grateful to GM Dave Mc-Grath for providing this opportunity to our riders—it is a 'bucket list' check for many and we know Peter will be smiling as he watches us do these laps in his memory!"

The ride will then continue on a scenic "feet up" Lake Winnipesaukee route, courtesy of the New Hampshire State Police who donate their time to lead this run, with no stops--a privileged riding experience. Arriving back at the NASWA, hungry and ready to celebrate, riders can park their bikes near their rooms, or across the street at the newly renovated parking lot, and then saunter over to the NAZBAR & Grill for a bountiful lunch buffet. Big Boy Catering steps up to the task and Chef Greg provides a lunch not typical biker fare--but including a steam ship round carving station, fresh seafood and homemade pasta, along with other delicious offerings. "Great food is important at the NASWA, so we are grateful to Chef Greg for his up-scaling of our food offerings for this run," says Makris.

Music is also important at the NASWA, so the famous James Montgomery Band will perform outstanding blues from 2-4 p.m. A 50/50 Raffle will keep dollars and drinks, funds and fun flowing and the party will go into the night. home, actually one of several possible slow ways home. This time we went up one of our favorite roads, Route 135, which follows the Connecticut River northward from Woodsville all the way to Lancaster.

It was a beautiful spring day. Signs of the season, and people's frantic efforts to catch up with it, were all around. Across the state line and up the river a bit, the four-lane highways beckoned, but there was a whole other world along the road there, running west of Dalton Mountain. And at the Mt. Orne covered bridge in South Lancaster, we crossed the river and went up Vermont's ancient and winding Route 102 all the way to Colebrook. If we had stopped everywhere we could have stopped along these fine old byways, we'd never have got home.

A trip like this always makes me wonder how many people have never changed gears, stopped looking at their watches, taken a deep breath, consulted a map, slowed down, and taken the road—as Frost put it so well—less traveled. There's a whole world out there to see, beyond the interstates and interchanges and other things that begin with "inter" except interesting.

Leaving for a long and wandering trip during a divorce is not the best way to go, but William Least Heat Moon did it, and generated a revival of spirit and a great book, Blue Highways, the name stemming from the color of the lesser highways and byways on the maps he used across the country. And later, as described in his equalterial things I've ever wanted in life, other than a remote, hike-in camp (which I have), was a Jeep born the same year I was, 1947 (which I also have). It's just a basic Jeep, no doors, no top, restored to good running condition and used for farm work (mainly building and maintaining fences) and the occasional pleasure jaunt around the back roads of the Upper Cohass (the Coashaukee name for northern Coös County).

I also have a neat, solid little World War II trailer, made for this very type of Jeep, courtesy of Fred King, who restored it and kept it in good shape until he was through with it, and then sold it to me for a pittance.

Wouldn't it be fun, I sometimes muse, to pack up the trailer with a few necessities, like lawn chairs and a tent and a bicycle or two, and fishing stuff, and the wangan that contains all of my outdoor cooking gear, and a few good books, and a journal and a camera, of course, and hit the road.

Both the Jeep and I are 65 years old, and there'd be inevitable breakdowns and repairs and aches and groans, not to mention a few missed turns and no doubt many a waterlogged day, but what stories we'd have to tell-if we ever turned around, and came home to tell them.

— Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) has announced that Kodey Converse of Belmont, a member of the class of 2019 majoring in computer science, was named to the university's Dean's List for academic excellence for the spring 2017 semester.

A total of 1,319 undergraduate students achieved the criteria required for WPI's spring 2017 Dean's List. The criteria for the WPI Dean's List differs from that of most other universities as WPI does not compute a grade point average (GPA). Instead, WPI defines the Dean's List by the amount of work completed at the A level in courses and projects.

"WPI's academic programs are rigorous and require a level of independence beyond what is required in traditional courses. WPI students go beyond the classroom to work on open-ended problems in and for communities around the world. The problems are important and the impact is real" said dean of undergraduate studies Arthur C. Heinricher. "Some of this nation's best and brightest students come to WPI to study engineering and science and business and the humanities. Those named to the Dean's List

TILTON — Belknap County Master Gardeners and Winnisquam Regional High School Ag Center students make a great team as they prepare for the annual plant sale to be held on Saturday, June 3rd from 9 a.m. (sharp) to noon at the Ag Center at the high school at 457 West Main St.

As usual, there will be carefully, potted perennials, herbs, and wildflowers for $5 each. This year, however, there will also be plants from the Ag Center greenhouse. Geraniums, annuals, and hanging baskets will be available at a variety of prices. Plants will be labelled with information about flower color and light needs. Both students and Master Gardeners will be available to answer questions and carry plants to your car.

From downtown Tilton, head west about one mile (toward Franklin), being sure to go straight through the lights at Park Street. The high school is on the right. There is plenty of parking both in front of and behind the school.

The proceeds from the sale will be split between the Ag Center and the Master Gardeners. The Master Gardener program is part of the UNH Cooperative Extension which has provided training to more than 600 Master Gardeners, who, in turn, have donat-

New 'Catio' opens at NH Humane Society

BY ERIN PLUMMER

eplummer@salmonpress.com

LACONIA — The feline residents of the New Hampshire Humane Society have a new place to walk around and get fresh air thanks to community support.

On Thursday night, Humane Society staff, board members, and supporters gathered for a ribbon cutting ceremony on the newly built "Catio." The ceremony preceded the Humane Society's annual meeting.

The Catio will allow cats an expanded place to move around safely and get into the sunlight. The Catio is a thin hallway with many different posts, small steps, and other structures for cats to play on. Cats can access the Catio through a pet door by the main cat play room.

The idea for the Catio came up around 2014 or 2015. Marylee Gorham, Executive Director of the New Hampshire Humane Society, said they wanted to build a space that would be safe for cats to walk around and get fresh air. Catios are especially popular in places like California.

The Humane Society raised money for the project. Paul Fleming & Sons Construction of Hebron successfully bid on the project and constructed the Catio.

The project extended the footprint of the building to around the eaves of the roof.

Gorham said the cold winter provided some challenges to the project. They wanted to finish the project in March. but were unto get to the gazebo. Gorham said they plan to move the gazebo closer.

The project was finally finished the week before the ribbon cutting.

With the Catio built. the volunteers worked to get its first users through the door.

The Catio's first user was a large, gray cat named Ferbie. Gorham said they tried to first entice Ferbie through with treats hoping that if the other cats saw one cat go through the door more would follow. It was reported during the annual meeting that Ferbie did indeed go through the door to explore the Catio.

"It's nice because this is a nice place for animals to be," Gorham said. "Let's make it as inviting as possible."

Gorham said they have been seeing changes in the number of cats at the society. The av-

Catch Bette Davis in her breakthrough role on LRPA this weekend

Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (May 26 & 27) for our "LRPA After Dark" presentation of 1934's melodrama "Of Human Bondage," starring Bette Davis and Leslie Howard.

In "Of Human Bondage," we meet Philip Carey (Howard), socially awkward and painfully self-conscious due to a clubfoot. He has dreams of becoming an artist, but is advised by his teacher to give up on those dreams due to limited talent. Philip returns home to London to enroll in medical school. Joining a fellow student

LACONIA—Join at a tearoom, Philip meets Mildred Rogers (Davis), a vulgar Cockney waitress who attracts many of her male customers with her wanton ways. Philip tries to flirt with Mildred, but she rudely rebuffs him. Undaunted, he persuades her to go on a dinner date, where she continues to mistreat him. Philip becomes obsessed with Mildred, daydreaming of her instead of studying for his exams. He proposes marriage, but she rejects him for another man, taunting him for loving her, and leaving Philip brokenhearted. Just as Philip is getting back on his feet and finding contentment with another woman, Mildred returns – with another man's child. Will Philip learn from his mistakes, or will the bond that he feels for Mildred draw him back under her spell?

Bette Davis was so convinced that "Of Human Bondage" would be her breakthrough film that for six straight months, she begged Jack L. Warner, the head of Warner Brothers, to lend her out to RKO to make this picture. Warner felt that the terribly unglamorous and indecent part would ruin her career, but he eventually gave in. It was the right decision, as both critics and movie goers alike found her spellbinding in this sadistic, heartless role. Davis had made 21 films before "Of Human Bondage," but Mildred the waitress was the character that catapulted her to Hollywood superstardom. "Of Human Bondage" was adapted from the W. Somerset Maugham novel and made into a movie two more times, once in 1946 with Paul Henreid and Eleanor Parker, and again in 1964, with Kim Novak and Laurence Harvey. Neither film was the critical success that is our original. The New York Times critic Mordaunt Hall wrote that Davis's portrayal of Mildred was "enormously effective" and said this of Leslie Howard's performance: "One might be tempted to say that his portrait of Philip Carey excels any performance he has given before the camera." This movie truly is a classic. Grab your popcorn and meet us after dark for the movie that made la Davis a star.

You can't find television like this it anywhere but LRPA TV. MetroCast Channel 25. Not a subscriber? Then log onto Live Stream through our website (www.lrpa.org) where you can catch all the fun.

preventable, Fuller said, and she urged students to make wise choices as they now head out to celebrate their accomplishments. Fatal accidents, she reminded them, affect loved ones of the victims as well.

BHS senior Jerica said that Fuller's presentation made a definite impact on her life.

"Her daughter was 17 and I'm 18 now so that really hit close to home for me. It was really eye-opening," she said.

Nascar driver Melissa Fifield of the Modified Racing Series also stopped by for a discussion about responsible actions behind the wheel and where smart driving practices can lead in the future.

Outside the school building students were encouraged to speak tives on hand for the Career Fair. As they made their way to booths that introduced them to public safety and health officials, corrections officers, local businesses, therapeutic specialists and outdoor recreation facilities, they also had some fun by playing "Human Bingo." As part of the game students were given cards that required them to seek out professionals who could sing in the shower, juggle, have had a unique career path, trained a dog to do a trick, relieves stress in a positive manner, and a number of other interesting experiences. Once they got "Bingo" on their card, they were then eligible for prizes at the end of the day.

"We thought it was a fun way to engage the students with the professionals and help them learn a bit about who they are and what they do," said Gagnon.

One professional who knows about training a dog was Corporal Evan Belanger who brought along his K-9 companion Vito of the Belmont Police Department. Several students stopped by to meet the officer, cross a square off on their Bingo card and discuss about what it's like to work with a K-9 companion.

"I already know I want to be a K-9 police officer, too," one student said after speaking with Boulanger.

Sue Rubbe, who serves as a nurse at both BHS and Lakes Region Healthcare's emergency room, also had students stop by her table to practice CPR and learn it's importance in saving lives. She said the school recently had a medical emergency when a student collapsed due to an unusual cardiac problem. Since that time CPR has become something vitally important to their entire school community.

"It's a life saving skill that everyone should know," said Rubbe.

Representatives from Dale's Driving School, Children's Hospital at Dartmouth-Hitchcock (CHaD) and the N.H. Liquor Enforcement's DUI Command Vehicle also stepped up to provide other life saving lessons about safe motor vehicle operations.

A video simulator let students safely experience the dangers of speed and other hazards on the road that left many with a different outlook on driving.

Aidan is a sophomore at BHS, and said that as he prepares to get his driver's license it was very interesting to learn the driving statistics Highway Safety Specialist Howard Hedegard had to offer. One startling statistic was that teenagers use seat belts less than any other age group.

"But, what's important is that my friends are taking part in this, too, so I know that we're all going to be safer and smarter about what we're doing when we're out on the road." Aidan said.

Students also got to experience what it is like to be under the influence of alcohol.

Donning special impairment goggles they first tried to assemble a child's puzzle and were shocked to learn how poorly they did at the seemingly simple task. It took one student a minute and 30 seconds to put the puzzle together with the goggles on, yet he went on to complete the same puzzle, without the goggles, in just 32 seconds.

"Notice that with the goggles on everyone's doing the puzzle with one hand, while stabilizing themselves with the other hand," BPD Officer Joe McDowell pointed out. "It shows a lack of confidence and ability in what they're doing. With the goggles they also bring their head down closer to the puzzle as they try to focus on what they're doing."

Students also attempted to play catch and stack blocks with impairment goggles then finally tried driving a golf cart through a course of orange safety cones.

BHS junior Adam yelled that driving with the impairment goggles on felt "very weird" as he carefully eased the cart back to its parking place.

"I had a lot of tunnel vision with those goggles on," Adam confessed at the end of his experience. "I would not like to drive like that at all and wouldn't ever want to feel like that. It was not fun."

Principal David Williams was pleased with the participation of so many local professionals, and even more pleased by the reception of the students at BHS.

He said he has never seen any other high schools present such a comprehensive safety and career event and really hoped it would start a trend in other school communities.

"Most of all, I hope this day helps our students make smart choices as prom and graduation approaches," Williams said.

Out on the pond, participants saw a lot of success as they each vied to catch the biggest fish. This year the Rotary purchased 250 rainbow and brook trout and New Hampshire Fish and Game matched their purchase by adding an additional 250 fish to stock the pond.

By 11 a.m., six-yearold Danny of Sanbornton had pulled in three brook trout, while his older brother Gavin had caught only one.

"I've tried a lot of things, but nothing seems to be working for me today," Gavin said.

The boys are sons of Tilton-Northfield firefighter Jon Powell and said they had a good time, regardless of how well their luck panned out during the derby.

"It's a lot of fun. My dad takes us fishing every chance we get open," Danny said.

Beside them, Riley, a four-year-old from Northfield, was proud of her catch and said one of her two brook trout even had her in second place in her age group.

"The rainbows seem to be down in the deep right now so you may want to lower your hooks," Carpenter advised the crowd at one point in the derby.

It was advice was well taken and soon boys and girls were reporting to the Murray Fay Memorial Measuring Board with some beautiful rainbow trout they caught in the cooler waters of the pond.

At high noon, the whistle sounded and the derby came to a close with tiny five-year-old Noelle Straight of Pittsfield topping the day with her 11 and a halfinch brook trout. Her lucky catch meant she was this year's winner of the Frank and Harry Trophy, a towering award that was as big as she was. Noelle also had the longest brook trout in the 1-6 year-old age group, giving her another smaller trophy as well.

"I'll share my 'tiny' trophy with my sister, but I'm keeping the big one," she grinned as she posed with her awards.

Dad Jesse Straight said he grew up in Northfield and brings his children to the derby every year. Noelle had even spent Saturday night practicing her fishing skills with him as she prepared for this year's event.

"She did a great job. I'm very proud of her," he said.

Other first place winners this year were: Brook trout- Jordan Dillon with an 11-inch trout in the 7-11 age group, and Chaz Hibbert who also reeled in an 11-inch brook trout for the 12-15 year-old group; Rainbow trout- Owen Tupek's 10-and-three-quarterinch fish in first for the 1-6 year-olds, followed by Matt Hibbert's 10inch rainbow in the 7-11 age group and Kalyse Allan-Foote's 10-and-aquarter-inch catch landed her in first for the 12-15 year-old category; and for Most Unusual Catch (anything other than a trout)- Myra Levasseur reeled in a seven-and-three-quarterinch catfish for the 1-6 year-olds, Eli Allen had an eight-and-a-quarterinch catfish in the 7-11 division and Alex Jordan's seven-inch catfish brought him to the top of the chart in the oldest age group.

over the last few years, taking him deeper into the world of modern technology. Through test and clean up laptops used in the classrooms.

Next year Trowsdale will add to his "head

"There were 100 people who applied, but they only accepted 15 people so I was pretty excited," he said.

Trowsale will now head down to Durham in June, where he will spend six weeks working in the Interoperability Lab and living on campus at UNH with his fellow interns.

Since the age of six, Trowsdale has had an interest in engineering and building things with his hands. He began with Legos as a young boy, moved on to remote controlled cars, then kept moving on to bigger and more complicated technology as the years went by.

"I've just always liked taking things apart and putting them back together again," he said.

The STEM program at WRHS (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) is something else he has greatly enjoyed STEM Trowsdale said he's taken a class in Gaming and Application design and another in 3-D technology.

"I really liked working with the 3-D printers. They're just so interesting," he said.

STEM, Besides Trowsdale has also taken part in the Running Start program at WRHS where he has been able to take actual college courses that meet his high school requirements yet earn real college credits at the same time.

"It's different from the AP (Advanced Placement) classes because you don't have to take a test at the end in order to receive the college credits," he explained.

In the summer months, he has attended tech camps at UNH and last summer he even had the opportunity to work with Winnisquam School District's technology department to start" on college by attending classes in chemistry, calculus, physics and English at NHTI in Concord while finishing up one final class at WRHS.

With high school graduation just a year away, he has already started looking at a few colleges and universities. Right now he finds himself torn between mechanical and computer engineering though so this internship could be an important factor in what his future goals will be.

"I like building things with my hands (thus his interest in mechanical engineering), but at the same time, I like using technology as I'm building, so that might mean computer engineering," said Trowsdale. "Hopefully, this summer will give me an inside look at computer technology and help me make my decision."

Belmont celebrates after a big win over the defending state champion White Mountains softball team.

Belmont knocks off undefeated state champs

BY BOB MARTIN Bob@Salmonpress.news

BELMONT — It is no mystery around Division 3 that the White Mountains softball team is the team to beat. Belmont High School did just that last week with a 1-0 win over the defending state champions.

Sophomore Julianna Estremera was on the mound for Belmont facing one of the toughest teams around. She was also facing one of the division's best pitchers in Katlyn Coulter, and the matchup would not disappoint.

It was a pitcher's duel right from the beginning, with pitchers trading off 1-2-3 innings for the first three innings. Both teams showed why they are two of the league's top teams, displaying solid defense and superior pitching. The batters were up there swinging on both sides, but hits seemed to always be right at a player.

In the top of the fourth inning, Estremera ran into the first real jam of the day. She walked the leadoff batter and then retired the next on a fielder's choice getting the lead runner. Estremera then allowed a runner to reach on an infield single, putting runners on first and second base with one out. Estremera dug deep and got two quick outs on balls that didn't leave the infield to retire the side.

Belmont came out in the fourth inning and thus far there had not really been any hard hit balls. Shannon Davies cranked a double down the line to left field with one out and after being advanced to third on a grounder, the inning ended on a diving catch on an infield popup.

Estremera had a 1-2-3 inning in the fifth and at this point Belmont was looking strong and determined. While the offense was having trouble getting anything going, they were swinging and trying to manufacture runs.

Their hard work paid off in the fifth inning when Lizzie Fleming came up with two outs and a runner on third. She grounded the ball to third base and hustled down the line for an infield hit that knocked in a run making it a 1-0 game.

That would be all that Belmont would need, as Estremera cruised through the rest of the game. There were a couple scoring chances for White Mountains, notably in the sixth inning but the defense was locked in and they were able to turn a heads up double play to end the inning.

Estremera said it felt great to beat White Mountains, especially since she hasn't been the team's number one option at pitcher this season. She came in strong and allowed only two hits, but Estremera gave plenty of credit to her teammates.

"Everyone stepped up and backed me up," said Estremera. "There were some great plays at third base and it was an allaround great game for everyone."

Estremera said the team is full of great leaders, with no drama and plenty of focus. Preparing for a tough opponent like White Mountains can be a tough task, but she said the main thing they did was remain focused to get a win in front of a big crowd on the school's senior night.

Coach Bill Clary said White Mountains is the best team they have seen, and this proved that they can play with the best of them. He also said Belmont needs to be more consistent because they have gone up SEE SOFTBALL, PAGE B2

GILFORD — The Belmont boys' track and field team led the pack with 80 points in the Wilderness League Track and Field Championship on Saturday, which according to coach Scott Clark, was the first time the boys have won the meet.

"Belmont's never won a Wilderness meet in 44 years," said Clark, who also spoke on behalf of coaches John Goegel and Aaron Hayward. "It completely speaks to the 67 kids we have on the team. They've made sacrifices and we are very excited for next weekend."

Leading the boys' team was Eli Allman who was first in the 110-meter hurdles with a time of 15.67 seconds. He was also fourth in the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 43.97 seconds.

The 4X100-meter relay team won with a time of 46.03. It consisted of River Mathieu, Marc Forgione, Hunter Dupuis and Allman.

Dupuis was third in the 200 meters at 23.65 seconds and was also on the first place 4X400-meter relay team with Ian Remenar, Adam Sojka and Nolan Gagnon. They had a time of 3:34.52.

Sojka was third in the triple jump with 39 feet, two inches and Remenar was third in the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 42.55 seconds.

Zach Ennis was second in the 3,200 meters with a time of 10:40.27 and Nick Randos was fourth in the 1,600 meters at 2:05.39 and 3,200 meters at 4:35.72.

The girls' team was in seventh out of 19 teams. They were led by Alice Riley who won the 1,600 meters and 3,200 meters, as well as Jasmine Syed who won the 800 meters.

Clark said when it comes to the championship time, the worst thing to do is over-train. He said they will be keeping their athletes rested, not talk about it too much and "do what you've been doing for 12 weeks."

Belmont lax boys win first game of season

BY BOB MARTIN Bob@salmonpress.news

BELMONT — It is always a good feeling for a team to get their first win out of the way, and the Red Raiders did just that last week with a thrilling double overtime 15-14 win over Milford.

It was a back and forth battle for much of the game. Belmont jumped out to an early 2-0 lead but Milford got right back in the game by tying it 2-2. Belmont took a 3-2 lead but then Milford took off and had a three-goal advantage going up 6-3. As the game progressed, coach Darren Premo said it was clear that his team was determined and able to hang in there with Milford. They battled back and while they were down 14-10 in the fourth quarter, Premo said this is not exactly a large margin when it comes to lacrosse. Red Raiders The fought hard and scored four quick goals by some nice plays by Chaz Hacking and Tanner Woods. Woods was great all day on winning faceoffs, giving Belmont an upper hand. The heroics took place in the final minute of the fourth quarter. Down 14-12, Belmont was surging down the field and knew they needed to score fast. With only 45 seconds left against other teams that have struggled and barely snuck by with a win.

Clary said if they can remain consistent and continue to play like this, they will be in good shape.

"We have some of the best defense around and I think it showed today," said Clary. "Jusaid Dame. "Getting contributions up and down the lineup is always a good thing."

The Berlin game was a come from behind win for Winnisquam, losing 4-0 until the fourth inning. Dame said the team had a lot of trouble getting any hits until the fifth inning when they went off for seven runs on three hits, two walks and a hit batter.

"We did a little bit of it all that inning," said Dame. "We were working counts, fouling off tough pitches. It was a good win against a solid pitcher."

Tinker pitched again and had four strikeouts, lianna pitched a heck of a game and Nicole Antonucci at third base made some fantastic plays covering their slap hitter. The outfield played well. From the bench to the nine on the field, I was happy with everyone's output."

Clary said the girls said after the game that they had a good feeling about the game going in. He feels great about a walk, 10 hits and five earned runs. The offense was led by Carly Catty who was 2 for 3 with a two-run triple. Ema Atherton was 1 for 3 with two RBIs and a run scored.

Dame said with a 9-5 record, he likes how the team looks as the season is coming to a close.

"When we limit teams to three outs we are the better team," said Dame. "I think we hit as well as any team. That's debatable, but up and down the lineup we swing really well. If we continue to work counts and make plays in the field, maybe we can peak at the right time and be dangerous."

the team and doesn't want to get ahead of things as they still have some tough games ahead.

The Red Raiders record stands at 10-4 as of press time, after going 2-1 last week. They had a tight 6-5 loss to Prospect Mountain on May 17 and a close win in extra innings against Inter-Lakes the following day.

Raider baseball continues hot streak

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@salmonpress.news

BELMONT — Belmont High School has been the hottest team on the diamond in Division 3, and that continued last week with the Raiders getting some big wins and increasing their winning streak to 12 games.

The Red Raiders started off the season 0-2, losing some tight pitcher's duels including a loss in a no-hitter by Cole Contigiani. However, since then Belmont has been lights out due to a perfect combination of big hitting, solid defense and pitching that is about as good as it can get.

"We are in a good place mentally," said coach Matt Leblanc. "These guys are working hard and they are earning these wins. It's a reflection of the work they put in every day. It is a pleasure to be able to coach this group of guys. They hustle, they work hard and they all want to be here."

Leblanc said up and down the lineup has been contributing. The stars like Contigiani and Core Derosier have been huge at the plate and on the mound all season, but he said there are many others who have been excelling. He pointed out people like eight hitter Jonny LeClair who has turned it on this season, and most recently went 3-3 against White Mountains in a 12-2 win.

"I'll tell you, when you get production like that out of your eight hitter things are working out well," said Leblanc. "Every guy is doing something on the field or otherwise."

On May 17 the Red Raiders faced Bishop Brady and beat then 5-3 in what Leblanc said was a tough game. On May 18 they shut out Inter-Lakes with a 10-0 win.

On May 19 the Red Raiders had another big win with a 12-2 score

Bears can't keep momentum going over White Mountains in five innings. Contigiani pitched a complete game with six strikeouts, a walk, two unearned runs and four hits.

"It was another strong showing," said Leblanc. "Their coach gave them a really nice compliment saying he is the best they've seen. You know what, he ranks right up there with anyone in Division 3. I love that he's a part of our team and he's our number one for sure."

Chris Marden went 2 for 3 with a run scored and Kyle Minery was 2 for 3 with three RBIs and three runs scored to lead the offense.

While the bats have been on fire, it is the pitching that has defined this team this season. They have a three-headed monster of Contigiani, Derosier and sophomore Griffin Embree. Embree had a complete game in the win against Brady allowing three hits, three walks and two earned runs while striking out nine batters.

Derosier had a complete game win against Inter-Lakes where he had six strikeouts, four hits and two walks. He only has one earned run on the season and has a 0.288 ERA, which is slightly ahead of Contigiani's ERA of 0.307. The team ERA is 0.477.

Leblanc said he wants to focus on this week's game before talking about the playoffs, but he likes how the team looks.

"I like where we are and we have this incredible pitching," said Leblanc. "Now that we have the bats going I couldn't be happier. The next game is always the most important. That's how we focus. I don't want to put the cart before the horse."

The Red Raiders had a 12-2 record as of press time.

TILTON — The Winnisquam baseball team has been struggling for a good portion of the season, and while it appeared the Bears were turning a corner with back-to-back wins, they ended up back in the losing column last week with a 9-4 loss against Laconia on May 17.

Devan Glover took the mound for the Bears against Laconia senior Dom Vaillancourt. Glover had some trouble in the first inning, but managed to get out of a jam. Laconia led off with a single to left, and after a popped up bunt. the runner stole second. With one out and a man on second, a runner reached on an error and after a flv out Glover walked a batter. Laconia had a chance to score with the bases loaded and two outs, but Glover managed to get out of the jam by forcing a fly out to center field. The Bears would come back and strike first against Vaillancourt. A theme of the game for Winnisquam was that their hitters would swing at the first pitch when leading off the inning. This was the case with leadoff hitter Brendon Vaughn, who poked a single to right field to get things going quickly.

ney up second, Vaughn showed his speed and took off for second sliding in safely. Tierney flew out to center, but Mike Lowrey would get Winnisquam on the board with a single to left that drove in Vaughn due to an error by the left fielder.

Bryce Corey then drew a four-pitch walk, and after a balk by Vaillancourt that moved the runner to third, Jake Snow also walked. Winnisquam had one out with the bases loaded, but Vaillancourt got out of the jam by striking out Josh Devlin and forcing a pop up to first.

The Bears had a 1-0 lead going into the second inning, but Laconia answered back quickly and evened the score 1-1 thanks to an RBI single that came after an infield hit and a walk.

In the bottom of the second inning Winnisquam did a great job manufacturing a run with some good old fashioned small ball. Blaise Ross led off and roped a single to center and then stole second base with a head first slide. Noah Smith knocked the runner over on a routine grounder to second base and Vaughn drove in the run on a nice suicide squeeze.

into the third inning. the good bat on the ball, but they were just out However, that's when a bit of bad luck and also of reach. It snowballed some good baseball by and got away from us there." Laconia came into play. The Sachems went off

The Bears wouldn't go down without a fight. In the bottom of the third inning Lowrey smashed a long triple to right field and after two quick outs Devlin was age that inning, but endhit by a pitch. He then advanced to second base with no contested throw and with runners on second and third base, Glover helped his own cause with a single to left field making it a 7-4 game. The Sachems added on two more runs in the fifth inning. Caruso understands the need for the Bears to win as much as possible after a slow start in hopes of the reaching the state tournament.

"We've got to battle," Caruso told his team in a huddle before the bottom of the fifth inning with Laconia leading by five runs. "The season's on the line here, guys."

The Bears had a chance to do some damed up leaving the bases loaded without scoring a run. The Sachems know what it means to struggle through a tough season, as this was only the second win for the Division 2 rival. The loss would be the first of a three game skid for the Bears. They lost to Berlin 10-5 on May 17 and also to Stevens on May 19 with a 10-6 score. As of press time Winnisquam was 4-11.
