Members of the Belmont Fire Department proudly posed for a photo with their new Engine 2, which the public got its first look at during the town's celebration of the National Night Out last week to promote public safety and community relations.

REGION – National Night Out is designed to be a community-building campaign between police and other first responders to promote greater community relations and last week, hundreds of people gathered in both Belmont and Northfield to have fun and spend some time getting familiar with local safety services.

In Belmont, the night kicked off outside the Belmont Mill with free hot dogs, courtesy of the Belmont Rotary Club.

There were chips, watermelon and free sodas supplied by the local Coca-Cola Company as well.

Bank of New Hampshire handed out balsa wood airplanes to young boys and girls, and a statewide Youth Operator program supplied information to parents of children approaching the age of 16. The group promoted ways to keep all new drivers safe as they got their first experience behind the wheel of a motor vehicle.

Escorting the two groups was Pete Burdette of the Military Support and Assistance Group of Merrill Lynch, Dee Moore from Liberty House and car owner John Slavin.

TILTON – Last Thursday evening was the annual Cruise Night for residents of New Hampshire Veterans' Home and as the men and women admired more than 100 classic and antique vehicles that surrounded their outdoor pavilion, they were joined by a large crowd of local residents who enjoyed the show as well.

"This is fabulous- the whole oval is filled and we have a great crowd here tonight," said the NHVH Program Information Officer Leonard Stuart.

From restored Model As and Model Ts to jazzy sports cars of the more modern era, there was plenty of shiny cars and trucks for everyone to behold. One spry and smiling veteran noted that a fully refurbished Ford convertible from the 60's would make a great "date car."

"I like the Corvettes

the best though," countered another resident.

In addition to the cars that filled the oval, there was food and snacks for residents and guests, raffle tickets to support the NHVH Residents' Fund and live cruise music from the 50s era, provided by The Bel Airs.

Henry Mathis said he has been a resident at NHVH for just under a year so this was his first experience at Cruise Night.

"I'm having a wonderful time and meeting a lot of nice people. This is a lot of fun," he said.

Generous donations get new patrol bike for Northfield PD

NORTHFIELD – Police officers in Northfield had their new patrol bicycles on display during their National Night Out celebration last week, hoping to raise $1,000 to finalize their purchase deal with MC Cycle and Sport, and before the night was over they met that goal, thanks to a local business.

"Mike Chase of MC Cycle is from Northfield and he sold us the bikes as a matching deal. His company paid for one and we needed to buy the second one," said Patrolman Christopher Gustafson, a member of the department's trained bicycle patrol.

They started the fund drive on National Night Out with $350 in their donation jar, thanks to many generous contributions from the public. Not even one hour into the event however, Josh Dunlop and Jon Cook of Stonehenge Masonry and Stove handed Gustafson a check for the remaining $650.

"This was a very generous donation," the officer said. "It's just amazing."

Dunlop said he and Cook grew up in Northfield and as business owners now they realize the importance of supporting the town where they live and work.

Partial solar eclipse visible on Aug. 21

BY DONNA RHODES
dhrhodes@salmonpress.news

REGION – On Monday, Aug. 21, New Hampshire will be treated to a rare meteorological event when the moon will cross in front of the sun, causing a partial solar eclipse throughout most of New England.

Gene Bank is a local amateur weather buff from Bridgewater who keeps a close eye on the sky year round, and he is excited about the upcoming eclipse.

“This is much rarer than a lunar eclipse (when the earth shadows the moon),” Banks said. “We’ll have a partial solar eclipse here in New England, where about 60 percent of the sun will be covered. About a 70-mile wide swath from Oregon to North Carolina will see the total eclipse however.”

This time the real East Coast show, he said, will be in the southern states, but even a partial eclipse is still a most unusual and interesting sight to behold.

On March 7, 1970, a total solar eclipse on the East Coast was memorialized in the Carly Simon song “You’re So Vain,” when she sang about a former wealthy lover who flew to Nova Scotia to see the total eclipse of the sun. The last solar eclipse of any kind in New England however, was a partial eclipse, sometimes technically called an annular eclipse, which occurred in May of 1994. At that time, the moon didn’t block the entire sun but passed before it, leaving a “halo” of light around the perimeter.

“As luck will have it, we’ll get to enjoy another solar eclipse in April of 2024 though. This time we’ll be very close to the path of totality, which will pass northeast from Texas and reach across northern Vermont and New Hampshire. That’s going to be huge,” said Bank.

This year’s solar event will begin at about 1:45 p.m. on Aug. 21, and peak at approximately 2:45 p.m. If skies are fair in the northeast, residents may notice sunlight dwindling during that one-hour period, but as a partial eclipse for the region in 2017, the sky will not become completely dark this time around.

While Bank strongly cautions that people not stare directly at the sun, there are ways people can observe this unique solar eclipse. Welders’ goggles are one safe means to look at the sun for more than a few moments, but special solar glasses are also being sold for a low cost at local businesses and Walmart stores. The glasses provide the proper protection for a good look at the sun as the moon moves slowly across it.

In early May Tilton police detectives received information that a minor child had been sexually assaulted. Interviews and an in depth investigation resulted in a residential search warrant and a felony arrest warrant for Charles H. Beckley of 22 Grange

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

On the Origin of Life

BY LARRY SCOTT

Most children begin life by dabbling in fantasy. As they age, however, and discover that life is far more complicated than the world of Little Red Riding Hood, and they soon determine life cannot be lived in a fairy-tale world. Life demands knowledge and truth that is consistent with reality.

Writing in Can Man Live Without God?, Ravi Zacharias makes this observation:

“The search for truth then becomes all-pervasive, encompassing implications for the essence and destiny of life itself. Even if not overtly admitted, the search for truth is nevertheless hauntingly present propelled by the need for incontrovertible answers to four inescapable questions, those dealing with origin, meaning, morality, and destiny. No thinking person can avoid this search, and it can only end when one is convinced that the answers espoused are true” (Chapter 9).

Over the next four weeks I want to explore with you the implications for life stemming from these four issues: origin, meaning, morality and destiny. One can, of course, give little attention to any of these, but acting as if they are unimportant and best ignored doesn't change the facts. First, then, on our origin: how did we get to where we are?

It may surprise you to learn that Charles Darwin, in The Origin of Species, doesn't even try to answer the question as to where life came from in the first place. That is the ultimate question. The Bible teaches that the universe had a beginning and that life as we know it came from a loving God, with the creation of Adam and Eve as His crowning achievement.

It is interesting to note to what extent those who reject the existence of God will go to postulate the origin of life. Some will tell you that life originated in a “primordial soup” over billions of years. Fine ...but who made the universe to begin with? To maintain this point of view they must also postulate the universe as being eternal. But the astrophysicists tell us otherwise. The universe had a beginning in what is popularly known as the Big Bang. But where, may I ask, did matter come from in the first place, and how could something come from nothing; and how could life come from non-life? It cannot be denied that creation, from its origin to where we are now, is just what a believer in God would expect.

The more we have learned about the Earth and how it came to be, the more difficult it has been to justify and maintain the origin-of-life scenario postulated by those who refuse to acknowledge a Creator God.

In short, we can believe with confidence that a loving God, desiring to create a human family whom He could love and who would love Him in return, brought all of what we see and who we are into being. It is neither naïve nor superstitious to believe in God, with this caveat, as per the prophet Jeremiah (29:13): “You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart.” God will always reveal Himself to those who come to Him with an open heart.

Update from the legislature

To the Editor:

With my first session as the Senator representing the people of District 7 behind me, I wanted to take a moment to thank the people who sent me to Concord to serve them.

The New Hampshire Legislature, working with Governor Chris Sununu, accomplished a great deal this year. We expanded programs to help fight the opioid crisis and mental health to establishing more educational choice for students and parents.

There were three key accomplishments that will impact the communities in District 7 most prominently.

Every two years our state is required to pass a balanced budget. The budget we passed this year cut taxes for small businesses and even repealed the electrical consumption tax. It increased funding to fight the opioid crisis and doubled the money going into our alcohol fund. A scholarship program was even established to not only encourage New Hampshire students to attend institutions of higher learning in our state but to also stay here putting their skills to work after they graduate Governor Sununu ran on establishing full day kindergarten for every child in the state. This was a promise he made and the legislature helped him keep this promise by delivering a bill for him to sign.

Every child in New Hampshire will have greater access to educational opportunities because of this program.

Finally, the state has been trying to sell the old Laconia State School property for years with little success to show for it. This year, I worked with Senator Chuck Morse to develop a plan to establish a Lakeshore Redevelopment Planning Commission. This commission will develop a plan to use the property, similar to the Pease Trade Port on the Seacoast. We expect this to bring greater economic development and jobs to the greater Laconia area and I look forward to working with the commission to ensure this project moves forward promptly.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve you in Concord and I look forward to doing even more in the next session for my community.

Senator Harold French
Franklin

Senator Harold French (R-Franklin) represents District 7 including the towns of Andover, Belmont, Boscauven, Canterbury, Franklin, Gilford, Northfield, Salisbury, Webster and Laconia. He also serves as the Vice-Chair for the Senate Commerce Committee and on the Senate Judiciary Committee.

From caves to billowing sheets and the bliss of being an Elder

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

New Hampshire is not exactly famous for caves. Oh, there are a handful of fairly well-known caves, but compared to other states, not many.

What brought this to mind was a conversation with a fellow heart-rehab participant who lives near a cave up back beyond Maidstone Lake, in nearby (as in “just across the river”) Vermont. I’ve always wanted to visit that cave. It’s on my Bucket List.

One of New Hampshire’s more famous caves is the Paleo-Indian flint mine on Mt. Jasper in Berlin. Mined for 9,000 years or more, its signature material has been found in the Mississippi basin, evidence of the trade routes among the continent’s first people so long ago.

There is a Cave Road in Stratford that makes me wonder, and there is a cave on the eastern slope of Magalloway Mountain, in eastern Pittsburg. In fact, there are caves all over New Hampshire, but most are quite shallow.

Dave Cook and I were fishing Boundary Pond one afternoon a few decades ago when I got sick of it, and decided to explore the pickup-sticks of huge granite boulders on the pond’s eastern shore.

I found plenty of caves, made so by the sheer jumble, and one in particular was quite deep, and featured scattered piles of animal bones around its entrance. It furthered my curiosity, but not enough to go spelunking.

One of the simple pleasures in life is to hang out wash, especially when a breeze is blowing, which is almost always.

I was on the phone Sunday with my eldest sister Susan, who lives in Manhattan, and after exchanging news from a recent family reunion I said I had to go. I’d hung sheets around the rooftop deck, and they were at risk of blowing off to Bangor.

There aren’t many Harrigans left, and so it was fun to get some of the remnants together

JOHN HARRIGAN

Both the bedding and Millie, the North Country’s most-spoiled dog, were in danger of being blown off to Maine.

JOHN HARRIGAN

In just three weeks it’ll be Labor Day weekend, and the Lancaster Fairgrounds will be full of parked vehicles, exhibits, the midway, 4-H-ers, and lots of people who just plain go to say hello.

er at a rented house in Bartlett, although “remnants” is not fair, because the East Coast and West Coast cousins have sprouted new generations, and we haven’t really been in good touch with the Littleton-area Harrigans.

Susan couldn’t make it because of various ailments, and I barely did so, and was chagrined yet pleased to get treated with great deference as the eldest of the clan.

Lameness aside, there’s something to be said about being the oldest at a family reunion.

For instance, you can’t do a thing, not even dry a dish. “Oh no, Uncle John, you just sit down right here,” an impossibly young person says, proffering a chair. They even gave me a quiet bedroom on the ground floor, to spare me climbing the stairs (even though I’m quite able, thank you).

The nice thing about the situation is that when you hold your hand up to speak, people go quiet because they think you might actually have something worthwhile to say.

It’s almost Fair time. These great social events are in trouble in regions to the south, partly because of changing social attitudes and preferences, and relentless demographics.

The Lancaster Fair (over the Labor Day weekend) has always been, to me, one great big family reunion. The main reason I go is because I’m likely to bump into people I haven’t seen for years – or fond faces from just the other day.

I remember grubbing for dropped coins under the more violent rides like the Twister, 60 years ago. A quarter back then would get you a hotdog.

These days I settle for just meandering around the midway, savoring the Fair Food and enjoying the 4-H kids and the pride they take in their projects.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

Bond basics

BY MARK PATTERSON
Contributing Writer

Often times I have mentioned that I do not care for bond funds and would much prefer to ladder a bond portfolio to the client's needs and wants. Bond funds are perpetual, which means they really have no maturity date. The problem with not having a maturity date is that you are at interest rate risk that you as the fund participant can't control. If you owned individual bonds, bills, notes, agency paper, zero coupons or even CDs then you have the ability to sell the bond for profit or loss, or hold to maturity or if called by a provision in the bond that makes it callable. You do not defer the decision regarding tax consequences to the fund manager. He or she doesn't know your situation and really does not care. Bond mutual funds are investment vehicles used by many retail brokers who lack the ability or knowledge to construct an individualized fixed income portfolio. If you currently have "bond funds" in your portfolio, check to see if they have an "A" or "C" imbedded in the ticker symbol. If so you should evaluate the commission and internal expense associated with these share classes.

So, if you are going to manage a fixed income portfolio or have an asset manager handle it, then you should know something about bonds. Corporate bonds are typically a good blend of yield and reasonable safety. Beware that there are junk bonds in almost all classes of bonds, but typically found in corporate issuance or municipal. A fixed income portfolio is not the place to take risk in my opinion.

A typical bond offering may look like this: Bristol-Meyers Squibb Co bond 3.250 11/1/2023 A2 A+ 101.434- 101.733 3.011.

This offering is pretty straight forward, not callable, just a typical corporate bond. The first section simply tells us who is offering the bond and what the coupon or yield is. Then it shows the date of maturity followed by two rating agencies grading. These are good quality bonds. Then the bid price for the bond followed by the ask price. Then the yield to maturity. You would notice that the yield to maturity is not as high as the coupon. The reason is that we would pay a premium for this bond which lowers the yield that we receive. Par is considered 100, and if we were buying a lesser quality bond we may get a discount like 960 that would increase yield to maturity.

When I refer to laddering, I am simply structuring the portfolio so that we have maturities that are spread across a time horizon designed for your needs. Bond prices will fluctuate with changes in interest rates or risks, but if you hold your bond or bonds until maturity you should get exactly what we bargained for in the beginning. Sometimes you may get the opportunity to sell early for capital appreciation or loss but the point is that it is a choice you maintain, not a fund managers. You are also not at as much interest rate risk because you simply can reinvest the maturing bonds at the current higher or lower rate.

So, if you have bond funds, I encourage you to manage or have an asset manager design and manage your own personal portfolio that just for you and your special situation. Many people are suspicious of bonds because of potentially rising rates. A well-constructed bond ladder can mitigate some of this interest rate risk by having the bonds mature at specific intervals, thus allowing the portfolio manager to reinvest at current rates. This is referred to as "immunizing" the portfolio against rising interest rates.

NH Humane Society welcomes three new members to its board of directors

LACONIA — The New Hampshire Humane Society was pleased to welcome three new board members in June - Wayne McBrian, Neil Irvine and Debbie Irwin.

McBrian enjoyed a long and noteworthy 40-year career in the loss prevention and security industry, with 12 years developing and managing internal audit departments for a variety of multi-million dollar corporations. He is chair of the Loss Prevention Foundation Re-Certification program and is a Charter Member of the Association of Professional Interviewers. He was also a deputy sheriff in Los Angeles, Calif. McBrian served his country during the Vietnam War as an Air Contoller assigned to Operations and Intelligence with the US Navy. He maintains those military ties to this day and is active on the board of the USS Sterett Association. Now officially retired, he and his wife Susan reside in Meredith, where enjoyment of the rural landscape by land and sea remains a priority. Interests include boating and sailing - McBrian is treasurer of the Mountain View Yacht Club, Gilford - skiing and woodworking, volunteering at New Hampshire Humane Society and the Veterans Administration.

"Having lost our dog and best friend Chloe a few years back it is still hard to think of replacing her," says McBrian. "After retiring, it was finally time to find a new family dog, but on a trip to the NH Humane Society, I found that volunteering gave me an even greater experience on each visit, with dozens of dogs that all need me."

After more than 20 years in the hospital-ity industry, which began in Scotland and included nine years at sea with a major cruise line, Irvine and his wife Joanne moved to New Hampshire to put down roots. Residing in New Hampton, Irvine has served as vice-chair of the planning board and currently serves on the select board, with two years as its chair. He brings to the New Hampshire Humane Society Board a diverse background of customer service and human resources management, combined with a formal education in computer programming and business/hotel management, with recent studies specializing in data analytics and statistics. He also brings experience testifying on a variety of social issues affecting both his community and the State, before State and Federal agencies and legislative bodies. The Irvine home is shared with Ceileigh the Rottweiler; Tikka, an energetic rescued mix; a very handsome Tennessee Walker named Gabriel, and; Piper, a rather suspicious Shetland pony.

"Seeking a seat on the board at NH Humane Society was the intersection of two complimentary interests, love of animals and serving my community," says Irvine. "It was important to my wife and I to add animals to our family after almost a decade at sea, starting with our dogs in 2000 and adding horses when we moved to New Hampshire. Coming from a family of public servants, it was the logical step getting involved in my community when I moved to New Hampshire, initially on my local planning board and currently on the selectboard and now the Humane Society."

Irwin is Assistant Vice President and Marketing Programs Officer for New Hampshire Mutual Bancorp, which includes marketing responsibilities for Meredith Village Saving Bank, Merrimack County Savings Bank and Mill River Wealth Management. Irwin has a diverse background in marketing and worked in the recreation and hospitality fields before coming to the finance industry. She has volunteered for a number of organizations over the years and is currently Secretary for the Lakes Region Tourism Association and is on the Meredith Village Savings Bank Culinary Arts Center Advisory Board for the Huot Technical Center in Laconia. She has also served on the board of the Lakes Region Chamber of Commerce, and is a 2014 graduate of Leadership Lakes Region. Although both sons have graduated college and are actively pursuing careers in the marine industry and photography, Irwin and her partner, Doug's home is never quiet, currently filled with four-legged family members, German Shepherd, Bodi; NHHS feline alum, Roo, and; unofficial ruler of the house, the diminutive Pomeranian, Peek-A-Boo. When not working, Irwin competes lightly in Dressage with her thoroughbred-cross TaylorMade, and maintains a second thoroughbred, Ellie, whom she rides just for fun. She and Doug enjoy kayaking, biking, hiking and during the snowshoeing during the winter.

Irwin has always been involved with the community by volunteering with business organizations, but recently decided to volunteer with a charity that resonated with her personal side, the animals.

"The New Hampshire Humane Society is an organization

Debbie Irwin

I have been familiar with over the years as I have adopted several animals from there," she says. "I have watched NHHS grow from the old building that it used to be to the beautiful shelter that houses and shelters animals today. Although the building may have changed, the mission of the staff and volunteers and their desire to help animals has remained the same. My hope is to be part of that ongoing animal advocacy."

"We are thrilled to welcome three new members to our board," says Marylee Gorham, Executive Director of the New Hampshire Humane Society. "We are lucky to have so many dedicated community members who want to support our mission, and the animals of course. These three individuals inject a renewed sense of enthusiasm and urgency to our mission."

The New Hampshire Humane Society is a 501(c)3 non-profit whose mission is to find responsible and caring forever homes; provide shelter for the lost, abandoned and unwanted animals; advocate and be the voice for the voiceless. The Society works hard to prevent cruelty to animals and offers education and outreach programs, pet therapy, and many community initiatives to help people and their pets. To view adoptable pets or make a donation, visit www.nhhumane.org.

The other members of the New Hampshire Humane Society's board are: Christopher Walkley, commercial banking officer at Bank of New Hampshire, who is the current Board President; Kelli Kemery, Assistant Director of Facilities Finance at Plymouth State University, serving as Vice President; Patrick May, PhD, a professor at Plymouth State University and Secretary of the Board; Michael Moyer, Belknap County Sheriff; Tim James, entrepreneur and President of the Laconia Country Club; Kara LaSalle, Housing Development Project Manager at the Laconia Area Community Land Trust. Board members have the opportunity to participate in various committees, fundraising and events while sharing the Humane Society's mission with the public.

Franklin VNA scores highest rating in patient care

FRANKLIN — Franklin VNA and Hospice is pleased to announce the most recent Home Health Compare survey results show a five-star rating in patient satisfaction for the agency, the highest rating available. This is also the highest rating of any Lakes Region VNA. In addition, Franklin VNA's rating for wound care is higher than both the national average and the average for the state of New Hampshire.

Home Health Compare, established by Medicare to be a tool for consumers to use when choosing a home health care provider, was designed to be a source of authoritative information on provider quality. The Home Health Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS) is a national survey that asks patients about their recent experiences with a home health agency. All Medicare-certified VNAs must use the HCAHPS survey for their Medicare patients. These survey results form the basis of the Home Health Compare data.

The results from the most recent HCAHPS survey, which cover the entire calendar year of 2016, show very high patient satisfaction results for Franklin VNA. In addition to the overall five-star rating for patient satisfaction and the high marks for wound care, Franklin VNA also scored higher than other local agencies and higher than both the national and state averages in the following categories:

- Professionalism of VNA staff
 - Communication between patient and VNA staff
 - Discussion of medication, pain, and home safety
 - Overall care rating of VNA staff
 - Patient would recommend this agency to family/friends
- “We are very pleased with these results, which come as a result of hard work by our staff to ensure that each patient they see gets the best care we can possibly give. This sometimes requires going that extra mile and our staff will do that every time,” said Barbara Normandin, Executive Director of Franklin VNA.

She continues, “We are a small agency and, as such, we are able to collaborate with each other, combining the expertise of several disciplines, easily and seamlessly to make sure that our patients get coordinated and compassionate care. We care for the whole patient and their family/caregivers.”

Franklin VNA is located in Franklin, and serves the communities of Andover, Belmont, Boscawen, Canterbury, Franklin, Hill, Northfield, Salisbury, Sanbornton, Tilton and Webster. They can be reached by phone at 934-3454 or on the web at www.franklinvna.org.

LACONIA — Thirty-six employees were recently honored for reaching milestone anniversaries for a combined 380 years of service to Bank of New Hampshire. Bank of New Hampshire understands that happy employees create happy customers. Employees that feel valued and empowered are far more likely to enjoy their jobs and be personally invested in the bank, and in turn provide better customer service. Each year, Bank of New Hampshire takes the time to honor and thank our staff for their loyalty. 2017 marked 25 years of service for Connie Ehmann and Debra Davis. Along with them, four employees were honored for 20 years of service each; Cindy

Odaiko New England drum ensemble to perform at Multicultural Festival

LACONIA — Have you noticed anything different lately: an unusual resonance, a distinctive beat, distant but definitely making its approach? A sound which lifts your spirits and captures your attention? That beat might be the Odaiko New England (ONE) drum ensemble as the musicians prepare for their performance at the 16th edition of the Laconia Multicultural Festival, slated for Saturday Sept. 9, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This signature event—the original 'First' festival of the area and the season—is sponsored by the Laconia Human Relations Committee and the Belknap Mill. With only six weeks to go, helpful contributors and dedicated volunteers have been preparing for this event, which celebrates the cultural diversity and rich ethnic heritage of the Lakes Region. As always, the event happens rain or shine, and admission is free for all.

Oaiko, an audience favorite over the years, will perform from 3 to 4 p.m.

"In so many cultures, drums serve not only as entertainment but for information, communication, and to guide people to gather at important destinations or events," explained Becky Guyer, Multicultural Committee Festival Director. "The group's sound is palpable and its language universal, creating the perfect closing ceremony for the event."

"Odaiko New England is one of the premier Taiko groups in New England, combining a Japanese aesthetic sensibility with an American spirit to create their own distinctive style and voice," adds Martha Kruse, Entertainment Chair. "In Japan, the sounds of Taiko drumming infuses all aspects of life, such as Shinto and Buddhist ritual celebratory festivals. We are delighted to have Odaiko participating in our festival again this year."

Members of Odaiko are as diverse as all New England, but they strive to drum as one voice. Moving and drumming in unison, they create a sensation which is felt as much as heard. The combination of powerful sound plus dynamic group movement results in an energetic, exuberant performance sure to mesmerize any audience.

Arranging entertainment is one of many tasks on the organizers' to do list.

"It takes many volunteers to put on an event of this magnitude," commented Guyer.

Anyone wishing to help on the day of the event should contact Becky at beckyg@metrocast.net.

"Most importantly," she added, "come to Rotary Park in downtown Laconia on Saturday, Sept. 9, and enjoy the event. And if you don't know the way, listen for the drums, and follow the rhythm in the air."

chronic bronchitis and emphysema and is the third leading killer in the U.S., and the second leading cause of disability.

COPD occurs most often in people 40+ who are or were smokers, had long-term exposure to lung irritants and air pollution, or have a rare genetic condition. Symptoms include shortness of breath, chronic coughing or wheezing, producing excess sputum, or feeling unable to take a deep breath.

Although it kills more women than breast cancer and diabetes combined and is mostly preventable, there is a lack of awareness partly because of the associated stigma.

Established in 1916, BreatheNewHampshire is the only non-profit public health agency in the state dedicated solely to lung health. Breathe NH's mission is to eliminate lung disease and improve the quality of life for those with lung disease, from asthma to COPD.

At the end of the night, Pierce's Fords dominated the votes when Don Giguere's 1959 Ford Anglia won as the award for "Most Memorable" car on the lot this year and the "Veterans Choice" award went to a 1929 Ford Model A owned by Don and Bonnie Gott. Daryl Wood's sleek 2001 Plymouth Prowler was determined to be the vehicle "Most Likely to Get a Ticket," while the "Best in Show" award was given to John and Carol Slavin's stylish 1949 Cadillac Limousine.

"I don't know why they do it, but it's a really beautiful car. I just love the glass panel that goes up between the front and back seats," Baker said with a big smile. Escorting many of the veterans that evening were groups of

Sgt. James McIntire (far left) and Officers Christopher Gustafson and Adam Seligman (far right) of the Northfield Police Department were excited when Jon Cook and Josh Dunlop of Stonehenge Masonry and Stove presented them with a check for $650 to meet their fundraising goal for the department's new patrol bicycle.

"Plus, we have better access to the Winnepesaukee River Trail because the cruisers can only drive out there a short way."

The bikes come equipped with a bag that enables them to carry along a first aid kit, cold drinks and anything else they may need for their patrol duties. Their utility belts hold all the other standard safety needs and don't inhibit them from pedaling along the streets and trails.

Fundraising is not done however. Gustafson said they are now hoping to send NPD Sgt.

James McIntire off to become certified as an instructor for police bicycle patrol, and of course the bikes will need maintenance as well.

To support their new bike patrol initiative, donations may be made at any time to the Northfield Police Association with the notation of "Bicycle Patrol" on the memo line.

How Can You Leave the Legacy You Desire?

You may not see it in the greeting card section of your local drugstore, but August is "What Will Be Your Legacy Month." So it's a good time to think about the type of legacy you'd like to leave.

Of course, "legacy" can mean many things. In the broadest sense, your legacy is how you will be remembered by your loved ones, friends and the communities to which you belong. On a practical level, establishing your legacy means providing your family and the charitable organizations you support with the resources you'd like them to have.

And that means you may need to take the following actions: create your plans, communicate your wishes and review and update your documents.

Let's take a quick look at all these steps:

- Create your plans. You will want to work with your legal professional, and possibly your tax and financial professionals, too, to draft the plans needed to fulfill your legacy wishes. These plans may include drafting a will, living trust, health care directive, power of attorney and other documents. Ideally, you want these plans to do more than just convey where you want your money to go – you want to impart, to the next generation, a sense of the effort that went into building the wealth they receive. Without such an appreciation, your heirs may be less than rigorous in retaining the tangible legacies you've left them.

- Communicate your wishes. It's important to communicate your legacy-related wishes to your family members as early as possible. By doing so, you can hopefully avoid unpleasant surprises and hurt feelings when it's time for your estate to be settled – and you'll also let people know what tasks, if any, they need to perform. For example, if you're choosing a family member to be the executor of your estate, or if you're giving someone power of attorney over your financial or health-related matters, they should be prepared.

- Update your documents. During your life, you may well experience any number of changes – new marriage, new children, opening a family business, and so on. You need to make sure your legal documents and financial accounts reflect these changes. For example, if you've remarried, you may want to change the beneficiary designations on your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement accounts – if left untouched, these designations may even supersede the instructions left in your will. And the directions in life chosen by your grown children may also dictate changes in your will or living trust. In any case, it's a good idea to review all your legacy-related documents periodically, and update them as needed.

In addition to taking the above steps, you also need to protect the financial resources that go into your legacy. So, when you retire and begin taking funds from your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement accounts, make sure your withdrawal rate is sufficient for your living expenses, but not so high that it eventually jeopardizes the amounts you planned to leave to your family or to your preferred charities. A financial professional can help you determine the withdrawal rate appropriate for your situation.

With careful planning, and by making the right moves, you can create the type of legacy you desire – one that can benefit your loved ones far into the future.

DONNA RHODES

Belmont Police Captain Evan Boulanger and his partner Vito went through their paces to show people some of the K9's many skills during National Night Out in Belmont last week.

DONNA RHODES

Northfield Police Chief John Raffaelli grilled up burgers and he welcomed the public to enjoy dinner with safety officials during the fourth annual Night Out celebration at Union-Sanborn School last Tuesday evening.

DONNA RHODES

At the annual National Night Out in Northfield, boys and girls got to ride along a wooden course set out for them by the staff at Highland Mountain Bike Park, one of many options for children in the area looking for positive things to do with their time off from school.

NIGHT OUT

partment Public Works Director Craig Clairmont brought along his freshly refurbished plow trucks and other vehicles for kids to explore, and Belmont's police and fire departments had vehicles for them to inspect as well. Included in the fleet was BFD's latest 2017 Pierce Enforcer truck, known officially as "3 Engine 2," which was put into service just the day before.

Deputy Chief Mike Newhall said the new engine also carries the latest slogan they adopted from a southern fire department that proclaims, "Our Town, Our People, Our Responsibility."

"That's how we look at our job. We thought it was appropriate," said Newhall.

The excitement of the night didn't end there though. BFD members had a vehicle donated by Belmont Auto and Salvage for a Jaws of Life demonstration by the fire department, while a teen driver program showed parents of children approaching the age of 16 the ways they could be safer when encountering their first experiences behind the wheel of a motor vehicle.

Finally, Vito, the town's K9 officer, was brought onto the lawn beside the Belmont Mill to give a demonstration of his many skills.

"Working with Vito is the single best job an officer can have," his handler, Capt. Evan Boulanger, told the crowd. "He's had three years of training and he just keeps getting better and better."

Meanwhile, on the grounds of Union-Sanborn School in Northfield, another large party was also under way for National Night Out, hosted by the Northfield Police Association.

Members of Tilton Police Department, the Tilton Police Explorer team, which assisted with traffic control, and the Merrimack County Sheriff's Department joined Northfield Police for the night filled with fun. Franklin Police Department also stopped by with their K9 dog for a special skills demonstration in that town.

Police Chief John Raffaelli and his staff manned the grills for hot dogs and hamburgers and Uno's Pizza generously donated pizza slices for all who attended. For dessert, Dipsy Doodle Dairy Bar of Northfield also had plenty of ice cream on hand.

Christine Murray, Administrative Assistant for NPD and the Treasurer of the Northfield Police Association, said this was the fourth year the department has participated in National Night Out and the event has been a huge success right from the start.

"We generally see anywhere from 400-500 people come out on this night every year," she said. Besides dinner, there was much more for families to do and explore though.

Tilton-Northfield Fire and Rescue gave children a chance to climb aboard their rescue vehicles and Rusty's Towing Service and Auto Repair also provided them with a vehicle for a live demonstration of the Jaws of Life.

Highland Mountain Bike part erected a wooden bike path for children to test their biking skills, and throughout the night Every Child is Ours announced that there were backpacks filled with supplies for school at their booth for the first five children in different grade levels. Other students also received a variety of school supplies just for stopping by their tent.

The Northfield Police Association had an inflatable obstacle course for kids to play in and Cub Scout Pack 842 provided fun games as well.

All of that activity was set to the backdrop of live music and broadcasts from Fred Caruso of Mix 94.1FM radio.

"It's just our neighborhood cookout where everyone is invited to come out and have a great time," said Murray.

National Night Out is an annual community-building campaign that promotes police-community partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie to make our neighborhoods safer, more caring places to live. National Night Out enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community. Furthermore, it provides a great opportunity to bring police and neighbors together under positive circumstances.

Millions of neighbors take part in National Night Out across thousands of communities from all fifty states, U.S.

territories and military bases worldwide on the first Tuesday in August (Texas celebrates on the first Tuesday in October). Neighborhoods host block parties, festivals, parades, cookouts and various other community events with safety demonstrations, seminars, youth events, visits from emergency personnel, exhibits and much, much more.

Coach Bill Clary of the Nor'Easters 14U softball team discusses strategy with Kelly Hall of Belmont during the Caroline Farley Tournament.

14U and 16U Nor'Easters wrap up the summer season

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — The Nor'Easters softball 14U team ended the season with a 4-12-1 record, and while the record didn't stand out as a major achievement, Coach Bill Clary said summer softball is much more than a season of wins and losses.

Summer athletics are a great time for high school players to fine tune their skills, face teams and players they normally wouldn't see and keep their bodies and minds in game shape. The Nor'Easters softball 14U team just wrapped up their summer season, with several Lakes Region girls contributing greatly.

Clary, who also coaches the Belmont High School softball team in the spring, explained that summer softball is a faster paced game with plays happening all the time.

"No matter what position you are playing, you could be involved in any play," said Clary. "Summer ball is not only for the young girl that wants to play in college, but the girl that loves the game. It is an extremely technical sport. The age group really doesn't change the game. I believe it is just played at a faster pace."

Clary said the in-game situations are the same, and he tends to coach the same during the summer as if he were coaching at Belmont. What is interesting about summer teams, he said, is that they are usually composed of girls that get a chance to play with girls that are as good as them, if not better.

It is also a chance for them to play alongside players that would normally be from rival towns, or even girls that they would never have faced because they are from a neighboring state.

This season Clary coached a number of girls that were 12-years-old for the first time in several years, and he said it brought him back to coaching basic fundamentals.

"I saw great improvements as the season went on and hope we can continue to build their skills as we go forward," said Clary.

Clary went into the season worried about the team's ability to hit, but instead it was the area where they hit the ground running. He said one thing they could have improved on was the ability to bunt. The Nor'Easter pitchers also need to work on their accuracy and consistency, he said.

Clary said the Nor'Easter program is so successful because they have volunteers to allow the athletes to play the sport they love at a good price while being close to home.

"Softball, as any sport, helps to mold young girls into young ladies," said Clary. "Sports teaches hard work, sportsmanship, time management, team work and many other aspects that these young people will need to succeed as they go forward."

Top performers:

Emma Cochran, Canterbury: .333 BA to lead the team

Hannah Max, Winnisquam: .310 BA, six doubles, one triple

Becca Fleming, Belmont: four steals to lead the team

Gwen O'Keefe, Sugar

Hill: four putouts and an assist from outfield off the bench

Nyla Dame of Laconia and Morgan Hall of Belmont: Led the team in innings pitched

Nora Dunleavy, Laconia: Led team in putouts at first base

Kara Stephens, Belmont: Led team in assists at third base

Jill Gagnon and Ashlyn Baron, Laconia : Team leaders in pinch hits

Nor'Easters 16U

The Nor'Easters 16U softball team ended their season with a 10-15 record, and while this wasn't exactly where the team wanted to end up, coach Shawn Garrett said the important thing was that they were always enthusiastic and putting forth their best efforts on the diamond.

Garrett may have only been the head coach for the team for one season, but he said in that short time he already saw how valuable summer softball is for athletes.

"Something that is incredible about it is the dedication," said Garrett. "Showing up to practices and games. We had two girls from Vermont and from winter ball on, they only missed one practice each. I will miss the passion about all this."

Garrett said it was so much fun coaching this group of girls, saying that it was incredible to see the local talent being exhibited from New Hampshire and Vermont.

"These are going to be the stars of the future," said Garrett.

Individual statistics for the Nor'Easters 16U team were unavailable.

Winnisquam swim planned for Aug. 17

REGION — The newly formed Winnisquam Watershed Network (WWN) will be providing logistical and safety support for former US Marine amputee Mike Welsch during his attempt to swim the length of Lake Winnisquam on Aug. 17. They will start at about 7:30 a.m. at the Loon Preserve. If anyone would like to swim, boat or kayak along you are welcome. If there is bad weather the swim will occur Aug. 18. The swim will end at just under Mosquito Bridge at the Winnisquam Market dock sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Welsch is an incredibly motivated individual who decided years ago, when he lost one of his legs due to a motorcycle accident, that this would not slow him down nor dictate who he is. He has taken on several other New Hampshire lake swims already and is an accomplished marathoner and triathlete. The WWN will motor alongside Welsch for safety and to provide him with nourishment throughout his journey. Welsch saved Lake Winnisquam for last because of the ties to Laconia and Bike Week and to push his message of

18U Nor'Easters enjoy strong summer season

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — The Nor'Easters 18U team had a red hot summer that started right from the get go, which culminated in a Caroline Farley second place finish and an overall record of 20-8-5.

The record translates to an incredible .714 winning percentage, and four out of the six tournaments the team played in they were runner up or better.

"You couldn't ask for a better year out of these special players," said head coach Fern Beaudet.

The Lakes Region was well represented on the team this summer, which included Sarah Lachapelle and Jillian Lachapelle of Gilford. Sarah Lachapelle just finished her freshman year at the University of New England where she has been playing third base, while her sister is one of the leaders on the Gilford High School squad.

Sarah Lachapelle brought undoubted leadership to the team due to her collegiate experience and skills on the field. Her sister, while battling an ankle injury, provided plenty of spark at the plate. Beaudet once described her as one of the most powerful hitters around.

Stevie Orton, who admittedly has a main focus on basketball as she will be attending Snow College on a full ride in the fall to play hoops, also was a limited, but solid contributor as catcher.

The Nor'Easters 18U team finished 20-8-5 in summer softball this season.

Other Lakes Region players include Cali Swarmstedt of Laconia, who just finished her freshman season playing ball at Rivier College.

Dominique Bolduc represents the Tilton School, and Beaudet applauded her play throughout the season. She was in her first year as an 18U player, and was a key offensive contributor in the fifth and sixth slots in the batting order.

Amanda Johnston, one of Division 3's top players, and Mackenzie Ryan represented Newfound Regional High School.

Other players on the team include Josie Bentlage of Hamden Conn., Brianna McGrath of Lisbon who has been playing at the University of Maine Farmington, Jacqui Hallisey of Gorham and Cait Malahan of Bishop Brady High School.

The final weekend embodied much of the success and guts that the Nor'Easters displayed during the short season. They went all the way to the finals in the Caroline Farley Memorial Tournament and lost 2-0.

The weekend started with the Nor'Easters going 2-0-1 in pool play on Friday and Saturday. They scored 18 total runs and only allowed four, which included two shutouts. Beaudet said the pitching and defense were "awesome." They ended as a number three seed in the division with a first round bye on the final day.

Jillian Lachapelle and Sarah Lachapelle, right, were two of the top performers on the Nor'Easters 18U softball team this summer.

There were 13 teams remaining and on Sunday their first game was against the Lady Cannons. This was a bit of redemption for the Nor'Easters, as it was a rematch of the State Finals where the Lady Cannons came away with a win.

This time would not be the case, with the Nor'Easters winning 3-1. Sarah Lachapelle had a masterful game on the circle, pitching a two-hitter with four strikeouts. Key offensive contributions came from Bentlage, Johnston and Bolduc.

The second game of the final day was a 13-7 win over the Diamond Gems. Brianna McGrath allowed four hits and four strikeouts in the win. Offense was the story here, with Jillian Lachapelle leading the way with a home run. Other stars included Sarah Lachapelle, Bolduc, Bentlage, Johnston, Malahan and Hallisey.

The Nor'Easters faced the New England Shockwaves in the final game and lost 2-0 despite another great pitching performance by Sarah Lachapelle. She gave up two hits and two runs in the first inning, but didn't let up another run after.

"We just couldn't get the offense started after playing in our third game on Sunday," said Beaudet.

Beaudet noted that the team played well overall, and there were plenty of defensive stars over the weekend including Jillian Lachapelle, and Malahan. He added that Swarmstedt also played great defense, and ended up with the Umpire's Award for the tournament.

The pair of Newfoundland players, Johnston and Ryan, were praised for their quality pitching by Beaudet, as well.

Five of this year's players will be beyond the age limit after this season, but he hopes there will be five returning.

"I am very privileged to have coached this awesome 18 U team," said Beaudet. "All the players and parents were great all year, and I appreciate all their support in making this season a memorable one."

While the season just ended, Nor'Easters was back at it again with tryouts at Belmont High School on Saturday.

"I look forward to next year," Beaudet said.

Top offensive performers:

Dominique Bolduc, Laconia: .425 BA, five doubles, one homerun, 37 hits

Amanda Johnston, Newfound: .410 BA, six doubles, two triples 34 hits

Josie Bentlage, Laconia: .400 BA, one double, 25 hits

Jillian Lachapelle, Gilford: .365 BA, five doubles, one homerun 31 hits

Cali Swarmstedt, Laconia: .301 BA, two doubles, 25 hits, 10 sacrifices, 11 base on balls

Top defensive performers:

Dragons hosting tryouts on Sunday in Laconia

LACONIA — The Dragons USA Softball open tryouts are being held on Sunday, Aug. 13, at Woodland Heights Elementary School, located at 225 Winter St. in Laconia. A parent or guardian must be present to fill out the tryout packet. Tryouts are free.

Tryouts for 10U players will be from 9 to 10:30 a.m., 12U will try out from 10:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 14U will try out from 12 to 1:30 p.m. Any 16U player should e-mail to schedule a tryout.

USA Softball, formerly ASA, gives players that love the game on opportunity to play longer in the summer and at a higher caliber of play on a travel team. USA also only allows certified coaches and patched umpires so it is the next level of play.

The Dragons believe at the 10U and 12U level, girls shouldn't have to choose between playing for their local leagues or USA. They went them on the field as much as possible to foster competitive future high school teams. Therefore, these teams will have tournaments after the closing of the local league season. They will have practices, however, will work closely with local leagues to avoid conflicts.

If you have any questions, e-mail dragonsasasoftball@gmail.com or kellisargent@outlook.com.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
