

Executive Council says no to MacDonald

BY TARA GILES
tara@salmonpress.news

LITTLETON — Gov. Chris Sununu expressed severe disappointment after the Executive Council voted last week to reject his nomination of Attorney General Gordon MacDonald to become the next chief justice of the New Hampshire Supreme Court.

MacDonald was slated to replace outgoing Chief Justice Robert Lynn, who will retire in August. The state has a mandatory retirement age for this position of 70.

On July 10, the Executive Council met at the Littleton Opera House, where the vote took place. The room was quite full prior to the vote, then grew sparse after the tally was announced. MacDonald would have been the first individual to become chief justice without ever serving as a judge. Naysayers in the community also had concerns about his ties to the far right, particularly his views regarding abortion.

Of the vote, Executive Councilor Mike Cryans said, “I had come out earlier opposed to MacDonald under the grounds that he didn't have the judicial experience necessary not only for the Supreme Court, but for all the court systems.”

Cryans added, “I was concerned about his stand on students’ right to vote, as well as women's rights.”

Fellow Democratic Councilors Andru Volinsky and Deborah Pignatelli also voiced opposition to the nomination, saying that the position of Chief Justice requires balance. Republican councilors Ted Gatsas and Russell Prescott each voted in favor.

After the vote, a visibly upset Sununu ac-is clearly in the words of our own councilors going to be a litmus test. I personally think that political extremism is a breach of the public trust.”

Sununu then told the Council that he would refrain from making further nominations.

In a subsequent statement, he said, “It is clear we need to take a pause on the judicial nominating process and not move forward with any nominees until I have confidence that there's appropriate perspective from the council on their responsibilities to the process and to the state.”

Sununu was greeted by protesters outside of the Opera House. Several North Country teachers held signs in opposition of Sununu's decision to veto the budget proposed by the state Senate, which cut crucial aid to schools in the North Country. A compromise to the budget is still being worked on. Others were seen holding signs that said 'Save Forest Lake' in opposition to Casella's plan to build a landfill in nearby Dalton. Sununu did not address the protesters, nor did he speak of either issue while at the meeting.

Of the day's events, Cryans said, “I was very pleased to see the overall turnout and happy to bring the council meeting to Littleton. It gives people from outside the area to see the success that Littleton has had.”

A breakfast was put on by the Littleton Senior Center, which Cryans said was thoroughly enjoyed.

Littleton Area Senior Center volunteers Mary Swyner and Jeanette Howland were presented with proclamations for their service to the community. David Sundman of the Littleton Coin Company was also presented with a proclamation for his work in keeping the 75 year old business up and running and was commended for his service on various boards in town.

Cryans offered a read-

Fire Department to provide EMT services

BY ANGEL LARCOM
angel@salmonpress.news

LITTLETON — On Aug. 2, the Littleton Fire Department is scheduled to take over Emergency Medical Services as the town's contract with Golden Cross Ambulance, Inc. expires. This step is the result of a recent practitioner-based evaluation of Emergency Medical Services (EMS) in Littleton which was conducted by Municipal Resources, Inc. (MRI) out of Meredith and contracted by Littleton Town Manager Andrew Dorsett.

In a letter dated May 31 and addressed to Dorsett from Golden Cross President, Dale Girard, Girard indicated that a short-term contract between the two entities would not allow job stability for his employees or allow the company to invest in a new ambulance for the community. The letter proposed a minimum four-year contract with a deadline of July 1 and a termination

LITTLETON — As summer begins to peak, the North Country welcomes its first full-fledged food truck. Nomads Kitchen, owned by Lee Rashkin, made its debut at the First Annual Rek'Lis Block Party held in Bethlehem on July 4. Since then, the bright red truck has been popping up at a handful of locations around the area.

There are currently five employees at Nomads Kitchen, and Rashkin anticipates

New Vintage Market comes to Bethlehem

BY ANGEL LARCOM
angel@salmonpress.news

BETHLEHEM — Three years ago, Sean Gawlik had the vision to host a week-end-long festival featuring vintage, antique and salvage vendors. He had the idea but had not secured a location. When he met Sarah Levy, the new owner of the Wayside Inn on Route 302 in Bethlehem, everything began to fall into place and the first annual Vintage Market in the Mountains is scheduled for the weekend of July 27-28.

developing a fleet in the future. All of the Nomad employees have been delighted at the volume of community response with the first week of operations, especially Michael Goodwin who said the truck has already been invited to several private and public events.

"I've been in hospitality for 25 years, and this is the most fun I have ever had, hands down," he said.

"It's a lot of fun, and it gives us a lot of freedom. It's about having regulars but also having new people see us," continued Goodwin.

The menu is lean and mean with a focus on international street foods, and the tag line is "Bowls without Borders." There are a handful of street taco options, as well as a small selection of healthy bowl dishes. Menu items include flavors from Mexico, Korea, Thailand, Japan, Hawaii, and the Mediterranean.

All menu items are currently set at either $5 or $7 per dish, and the prices are tax-inclusive so customers will not need to worry about change.

Don't sweat the small stuff

Most individuals take time during the summer months to unwind and sort of reset after a busy fall, winter and spring. Summer vibes are usually all about taking things slow and soaking up as much sunshine as possible before Old Man Winter heads back into the neighborhood. Many people who suffer from “burn-out” welcome the longer days and warmer weather; however, sometimes these three months of frisbee throwing and hanging by the lake aren't enough.

With the go, go, go culture that has taken over our society, many people find themselves burnt out, to their detriment. Experts say people can reverse that feeling of burn out and we decided to share what we have found with our readers.

If work is taking its toll on you, you may need to make some changes there. Experts say that oftentimes, simply talking it out with a co-worker or supervisor can help to get things off your chest, especially if the consensus is to create a healthier work environment. Some people have found that the only way to cure burnout is to change positions, however without proper techniques every job, could eventually burn you out.

Managing stress properly is huge; however, not everyone knows exactly what that entails. Healthy eating, exercise and proper sleep are the easiest things one can do to ease stress in other aspects of your life. Most people who are overworking themselves claim that time is an issue. There is no time to exercise, no time to sleep, no time to eat healthy. A society that was able to put a man on the moon, however, can surely come up with ways for all of us to find the time to put ourselves first without letting our job duties fall by the wayside. This could include little tricks such as parking your car far from the entry of a place to extend the walk, taking the stairs or even placing your computer on a counter so that your sitting time is lessened. Everyone knows what works best for themselves, so often times a bit of creativity and resourcefulness is needed.

A vacation can help ease burnout symptoms, but often, a week isn't enough time to truly combat burnout. If you are at a severe risk of burning out, experts say to stop working for at least two weeks and cut yourself off completely from the office. According to those in the know, they say most employers will understand that this break will result in a better employee after they return. If two weeks isn't in the cards, at least take one day a week to yourself with no phone calls, no emails or anything work related.

Finding a release is imperative, whether it's going for a run or simply tuning out with a good movie or an old fashioned game of solitaire. If you let stress build and build without letting off some steam, that could lead to unintentional outbursts and severe irritability.

Try not to let yourself become dependent on alcohol and caffeine. Everything in moderation. We're not

Response to Dalton landfill pitch

To the Editor:

I woke up on my 90th birthday and somebody told me “Give it one more try” ... and so I'm trying.

Twenty-five years ago, John Casella took a big gamble and bought the Bethlehem town dump which like many others in New Hampshire was an environmental disaster. There was no lining so water polluted by trash could go wherever the underground system took it. There was no engineering to capture harmful gases like Methane, so our air carried toxicity wherever the winds decided to blow.

It was, however, a great site for a landfill for two reasons:

1. It was surrounded on three sides by the White Mountain National Forest and since the prevailing winds and weather usually run west to east, any toxicity would run into 30,500 acres of trees and not into Bethlehem or our neighbors situated above and to the West of the site.
2. It was only 5.5 miles off Route 93 and access to the site was entirely through the forest eliminating any traffic impact.

There are those in my town who think Casella is a disaster, any landfill is a potential disaster and they just do not want any part of it. For the first 18 years, they talked the town into suing Casella spending over $3 million of our money and over $3 million of his, until finally in January of 2012 a brave Board of Selectmen negotiated a 10 year agreement with Casella which resulted in the best Waste Management System in New Hampshire, $450,000/year in free curbside pick up of Recyclables and Non-Recyclables, $250 thousand/year in a free transfer station and swap shop, $250,000/ year cash as Host Community Fee and $400,000/year cash in taxes. This adds up to $1.350 million which is over 50 percent of our total Municipal Budget.

Five years into this agreement, a new Board of Selectmen negotiated a new 20 year agreement which doubled the benefits to the town to $54 million or $2.7 million/year or 100 percent of our Municipal Budget. Casella also developed a new Waste to Natural Gas system which converts toxic Methane and makes it useful instead of burning it in the atmosphere.

Why then is Bethlehem so willing to kick out its largest business and Dalton so willing to fight his move to their town? It's called Nimbyism. We all have an emotional reaction to certain “Ichs” in our life and human sewage and municipal waste are among them. If our town proposes to put the Town Water and Sewer facility on our street or the Town Landfill one street over, we will fight to the death...whether or not the 500 environmental engineers in the State Department of Environmental Affairs say it's safe, will create no odor or toxicity and we'll pay you for the privilege.

So, to my friends in Dalton, let me say you are wrong if you think Casella will harm in any way Forest Lake. Our 500 environmental engineers back me up and they will not “permit” if they have any doubts and then they will “regulate” in case any negative unforeseen circumstances arise. You do have a legitimate traffic concern as the 90 waste trucks per day will come through the heart of Twin Mountain, the heart of Whitefield and Bethlehem's second main artery ... but not through Dalton. You also are to the East of the landfill and lower than the landfill, but ask the residents of Trudeau Road ... they do not notice bad odors and their water is just fine.

Now to my friends in Bethlehem, you will miss Casella. You will miss his free services and the benefit to your environment that he provides. You will especially miss his cash, because you already have the highest tax rate in your area and it will go higher. Plus, you will end up with the environmental risk of two landfills, because you are right below and to the east of the proposed Dalton landfill and you will get not only the 90 truck per day waste traffic, but the 1400 Bethlehem homes will all take 1,400 weekly round trips over secondary roads, because you will not be able to afford the convenient pick-up.

I have put up six signs in Bethlehem with my phone number on them. If you missed them, the number is 869-2582. If you want to avoid this loss in our family and are willing to vote Yes ... call me and I'll do my best to give you a vote ... and financial stability for 20 years plus the best Waste Management System in New Hampshire.

“Six Dance Lessons” exposes some fancy footwork

BY KATE GOLDSBOROUGH AND GAIL GILMORE

This is an exciting season for the Weathervane Theatre! Eight shows completely new to the Weathervane will be produced on the main stage. Six Dance Lessons in Six Weeks by Richard Alfieri, a two person play starring four-time Elliot Norton Award recipient Leigh Barrett and Weathervane Artistic Director Ethan Paulini, is the season’s second show and opened to a nearly full house last Wednesday night.

In a post show interview, Barrett says “I started out in opera, but found my way into musical theater and straight acting. I like to tell compelling stories with humor and heart. This show has all of it, and it plays quickly. People should come out and see it. It’s also fun to do a play with Ethan. I’ve worked with him before. He’s quick, funny and rock solid on stage.”

The story is a touching and human comedy about a formidable retired woman, Lily Harrison, who hires an acerbic dance instructor, Michael Minetti, to give her private dance lessons. They meet once a week for six week in her condo in St. Petersburg Beach, Fla. What begins as an antagonistic relationship blossoms into an intimate friendship as these two, of different ages and from different backgrounds, reveal their secrets, fears, and joys while dancing their way through the Swing, Tango, Waltz, Foxtrot, Cha-Cha and Contemporary Dance. By the final lesson, Lily shares her secret and Michael reveals unexpected characteristics of loyalty and compassion. A comedy with music, albeit from the boom box Michael carts with him on stage, and dance, the play also addresses ageism, intolerance, and the healing power of love.

Barrett’s and Paulini’s chemistry pulls the audience into the story from the opening lines. Director/Choreographer Amiee Turner, who last season directed The Foreigner and Chicago at the Weathervane, uses Barrett’s minimalist acting style and Paulini’s more physical one to highlight the humor in the script. And it is laugh out loud funny.

The top of each scene introduces the dance of the week, and its flavor defines what’s happening emotionally between Lily and Michael. Director Amiee Turner’s quick, light choreography partners the script’s humor and heart. A delightful inclusion in this two person performance is her design of seamless set changes during which she features snippets of dance performed in silhouette by talented company interns mirroring the previous scene’s mood.

Despite the distracting filmy plastic over Lily’s picture window that looks as though she’s under renovations in her living room, the set provides the space to roll back the furniture and dance. And when Ethan as Michael cava-lierly kicks the rug back and drags the couch in Lily’s otherwise pristine decor, it’s hilarious.

The sound in the theater is gorgeous this year! Clearly the work of the talented sound team as well as theater sound upgrades. You’ll recognize the music in the show as dance era classics by signature artists like Strauss, Frank Sinatra, and The Beach Boys. The titles of the songs are from the script, but the best versions of them were picked for the show by Sound Designers, Isaiah Parnell and Jennifer Landis who made the music pop.

The costumes by Rien Schlecht are, as usual, superb; the audience actually gasped when Lily came out in Scene 3 dressed to waltz.

A two-actor show can be challenging. But Barrett and Paulini rise to that challenge beautifully, and received a well-deserved standing ovation. Fans of dance, comedy and a moving story shouldn’t miss this show!

When it’s time to move: Tips to help you navigate the process

As seniors age, housing needs inevitably change. For many older people, living in the family home where they’ve raised a family may no longer be feasible because of health, mobility or financial concerns.

Other seniors may desire a simpler lifestyle, with more time to pursue activities they enjoy without the worry of home maintenance and yard work.

Each individual’s situation is different, but for most seniors there will come a time when downsizing and moving to a smaller place — an apartment, an independent or assisted living community, or perhaps clear across the country to live near the kids and grandkids — makes sense.

Making decisions about what to do with your furniture and other possessions can be stressful, both emotionally and physically, but moving is manageable taken in small doses over a period of time and with a little planning and organization on your part. We’ve gathered a few tips to help you make the move as painlessly as possible.

- Start Early: It’s unrealistic to think that you can pare down the contents of your home in just a couple of weekends. Give yourself the gift of time so that you can make wise decisions about the items you want to keep and take with you, give away to your children, grandchildren and friends, donate to a thrift store or charity, or sell.

- Start Small: Pick one drawer, one closet or one collection of items.

Go through those things and decide if they will go in the “keep” or “let go” box. When you’ve finished, move on to the next. Enlist the help of any children or grandchildren who are willing to assist you. This can be a great bonding time, as you share stories of your life, how you acquired some of the belongings in your home and why they hold a special meaning for you.

- Be Realistic: Downsizing from a large home to a small apartment means that you won’t be able to take all your belongings with you. Knowing the size of the rooms and storage space in your new home will help you understand what furniture, clothing and keepsakes will fit.
- Family Heirlooms: You love Aunt Dot’s wedding china, your grandma’s button collection, and are very sentimental about the 40-year-old couch — with just a few stains, but still perfectly good — that you and your husband purchased just after you married. But let’s face it, your family may not feel the same way. Ask family members if they have

To the Editor:

The tree grows branch by branch for the people that volunteer their time to keep leagues like softball going for people of all ages.

They don’t have million-dollar contracts.

It’s the love of the game that draws them in.

The tree could be found either in Littleton, Bethlehem, Lincoln, Franconia, Lyndonville, Rye Gate or Cape Cod.

If you ever find it, look up to the largest branch. It has the name “Cliff Crosby” carved

No, Governor, you have damaged the process!

To the Editor:

Last Wednesday, in front of a standing-room only crowd at the Littleton Opera House, New Hampshire’s Executive Council voted not to confirm the Governor’s nominee to be Chief Justice of the New Hampshire Supreme Court. Democratic members acknowledged Mr. MacDonald’s character and legal expertise, but voted against his nomination for two main reasons: his lack of experience in court and his past efforts supporting extreme restrictions on women’s health.

The Governor reacted to the vote against his nominee with a vehemence, a sense of outrage, and a tone of spontaneous indignation in a prolonged outburst that he had clearly prepared beforehand in order to shift the blame for his defeat. He started his rant with “Never before has politics entered the judicial nomination process ... we have changed our system ... there has been a breach of public trust.” And went on and on from there, complaining bitterly about the partisan politics that had thwarted his attempt to put an honorable man on the Court.

The Governor did not comment on his changes to the process, most notably his failure to ensure that his nominee would be acceptable to three of the five councilors. He did not confer with the Democratic members of the Council, which until now was the customary process. He chose a man who, in his confirmation hearings, gave no indication that he had changed his views on abortion rights. He knew that nominating such a person would a) be highly controversial within the state, b) be completely consistent with the Republican party’s long term strategy of nominating judges who would support their attempts to restrict access to abortion, and c) result in a highly public failure that he figured would appeal to base Republicans. He staged this spectacle in order to cement his credentials as a modern, right-wing, highly partisan, elected Republican official who is working as hard as possible to overturn long-standing norms and procedures.

So, Mr. Governor, it is not the Councilors Cryans, Volinsky, and Pignatelli who have damaged the process, it is you.

Push to impose zoning is premature

To the Editor:

It is my feeling that folks have been misled to some extent by all of the scare tactics that have been presented to them.

The instant need for zoning or temporary zoning is really not there at this time.

It is really premature at this point, as DES hasn’t even been presented with a request for a landfill site, and it won’t be acted upon by DES (the state) until they are. It is my understanding that this will not happen in the near future.

As I have personally experienced the extremes that zoning can impose on the individual, I do not want to live with zoning for years waiting for something to take place that may or may not even happen.

I hope that the citizens of Dalton are aware that unless they want to live under zoning restrictions for years, they need to vote “No” at the special town meeting on Tuesday, July 30 at 7 p.m.

Please try to attend the informational meeting on Tuesday, July 23 at 7 p.m.

Let’s keep Dalton free, as it has been for as long as I can remember (more than 75 years).

Respectfully,
Donald Mooney

Local News
North Country Notebook

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

Sudden, brief rain squalls rolled through the area over the weekend, and I was glad I wasn't haying any more. Others were, and went racing by with lowbed trailers of round bales.

I decided to weed my garden, not a big job because it's not a very big garden. Just a row of radishes, some lettuce, and by and by, cucumbers and carrots.

I'm in no hurry, and it's a good thing because I was late and slow putting the seeds in, even though Mother Nature gave me plenty of time. Plenty, at least, for life halfway between the Equator and the North Pole.

The further north you go, the shorter the seasons. Everything is compressed. People in South Carolina think we are crazy for living in northern New England. I love it here but don't really understand how people manage to get by in the Far North, even though I've been there.

The winds were stiff and all over the place while I was in the garden. A stiff breeze will sometimes keep the black flies at bay, especially when the wind keeps changing

Black flies, and who knows why turkeys do the things they do?

directions. Still, while I was still in the protection of the shop I doped up, old-time parlance for putting repellant on.

Black flies are sneaky, and will let the wind fool you. They are so fast they can change direction when the wind does, and fly in the lee, and thus get the hovering time they need to land and latch on to hair or skin.

I sprayed my hat, a ridiculous piece of apparel I would not want to be seen in public in, but of course I am. There we are, after all, out there in full view, the both of us, looking silly.

Long ago, I learned to spray a little repellant on two fingers, and use them to apply it around eyes and ears. I also doped up arms and pants cuffs. All this usually gets me enough time to do whatever task is at hand without getting chewed half to death.

Why not a hat-net instead? I've tried them, including some of the most recent and best, and just can't tolerate them dominating my field of vision. And I certainly don't mind jumping into the shower.

I still call it bug dope, but it's a far cry from the old stuff. Today's repellants are said to have the minimum DEET needed, last much longer in water, and are easier on the skin.

Rudy Shatney used to mix up his own repellent, out of pine tar oil and citronella and a third (maybe fourth) mysterious ingredient I've forgotten. Many of the old woods-guides had their own repellent recipes, allegedly sworn to by generations. The people who were fighting deer flies and black flies before Europeans got here are said to have used bear grease.

Plastic steering wheels became common at about the time I started using Rudy's bug dope. He had an old Dodge I drove around to do camp chores, and the first (and last) time I ever tried to drive it with bug dope on my hands it melted the steering wheel.

I got a call from an old friend as I was writing this, about as old as they come--we were boyhood friends and neighbors. He and his date were driving up the road to their home in Stewartstown when they got a good long look at a full-grown bear with a very long tail.

"We thought at first we were seeing a five-legged bear," Skip joked.

Long-tailed bears, as the old saying goes, are not rare but are indeed uncommon. In older times, when people would slow down to look at such curiosities, they were placed on exhibit, and sometimes even trained to dance.

As we drift toward the Dog Days of August, I close with a photo sent my way by longtime reader and fishing friend Lou Ferland, who always signs his mail "Dr. David "Lou" Ferland, Chief of Police (Ret.), Adjunct Professor-Southern NH University."

Lou and I are part of a loose and varied group that has fished for years at Tim Pond, Maine, a body of water said never to have been stocked, meaning that it has its own native strain of fish. The photo, fittingly I think for us both, is of a turkey, happily and inexplicably plopped atop one of Lou's feeders.

Local families host Fresh Air Fund children

BY ANGEL LARCOM
angel@salmonpress.news

LYMAN — On Tuesday, July 9, 22 children from New York City arrived at the Saint Johnsbury School in Vermont to spend one to two weeks with volunteer host families throughout the North Country of both New Hampshire and Vermont.

Since 1877, the organization has been partnering thousands of Manhattan children, ages seven to eighteen, with rural families for life-changing summer experiences. For some of the children, this is their first trip out of the city, while others have returned to stay with the same host families in consecutive years.

Danielle, of Brooklyn, age 12 and Johnathan, of the Bronx, age nine, arrived on a bus alongside twenty other kids and were picked up by the Dorsett family of Lyman.

The Dorsett's have been hosting Danielle since 2016 and Johnathan since 2017. With their host family, Danielle and Johnathan are given the opportunity to enjoy hiking, backyard camping, swimming in area lakes and catching fireflies.

Host mom, Jen Dorsett, explained, "The things we take for granted are totally new to them. You can see their joy at having the freedom just to go outside and ride bikes."

Her husband, Andrew, added, "It's a great program that brings two different worlds together. As a hosting family, we get to experience joy with these children and many of their first-time experiences. Imagine seeing the mountains or the star-filled night sky for the first time."

"We build a relationship with their families, as well. It's a connection not likely to exist otherwise," he continued. "With so much divisiveness in our nation, this program builds bridges of connection and helps bring people to seek out human experiences that while in different environments and cultures, share many commonalities."

The Fresh Air Fund, an independent, not-for-profit agency, has provided free summer experiences to more than 1.8 million New York City children from low-income communities. Each summer, thousands of children visit volunteer host families along the East Coast and Southern Canada. For more information, visit www.FreshAir.org.

Local educator presents curriculum design to College Board

BY ANGEL LARCOM

angel@salmonpress.news

B E T H L E H E M — Jennifer Opalinski, a New Hampshire educator and AP psychology teacher who has worked at the Profile School in Bethlehem for several years, is scheduled to present at the annual National AP College Board conference in Orlando, Fla. on July 19.

The AP Annual Conference is scheduled for July 18-21 and will take place at the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin Resort in Orlando, Florida. The conference is the largest professional development gathering of the Advanced Placement Program (AP) and Pre-AP communities.

The conference has been held each year for more than sixty years and brings together thousands of education professionals, connecting teachers of all 38 AP courses. According to the event website, more than 2.8 million students from both public and private schools took more than five million AP exams. The 2020 conference is slated to be held in Boston.

Opalinski will be co-presenting a collaborative curriculum design that she developed with Dr. Elizabeth Howell Woodbury, a Concord, New Hampshire-based clinical psychologist. According to Opalinski, the curriculum utilized case-based instruction to encourage AP Psychology students to think about clinical psychology constructs in real-world terms.

diagnostic problems, identify suitable interventions and search for community resources throughout New Hampshire. The students consult with Dr. Howell Woodbury so they can hone in on details that are often presented in real-world cases. They then present their case formulations to a multidisciplinary panel composed of professionals at the New Hampshire Hospital, a 168-bed unit in Concord that focuses on acute, inpatient psychiatric services and employees approximately 600 staff.

Opalinski remarked, "One important goal of this collaboration is engaging students in authentic, applied learning and in the process, reducing stigma related to mental illness by making these issues more relatable."

Dr. Howell Woodbury expressed her desire to try to interest young people in the allied health professions. "There's a need for mental health providers in our state," she said. "We're hopeful that getting them interested early will have a positive influence and encourage them to consider a career in the allied health professions."

Controversy over landfill escalates

BY ANGEL LARCOM
angel@salmonpress.news

DALTON — The dispute over a proposed 180-acre, three-phase landfill near Forest Lake in Dalton continues to escalate, and another party has added their voice to the mix.

A town meeting has been scheduled by the Dalton Select Board for July 30 so that residents may vote on the establishment of emergency zoning ordinances. Meanwhile, community outreach on both sides of the debate continues to increase in the region and several groups have begun to emerge.

While organizations like Save Forest Lake are forthright about who they are and what they stand for, others, such as the North Country Alliance for Balanced Change, have chosen to approach the topic more Casella employees and community members gather outside the Dalton Town Hall on the evening of July 2, as Casella hosts the second of two informational sessions regarding a proposed landfill near Forest Lake. Casella will again host informational sessions on July 17, a few days before a public hearing on July 23 to discuss emergency zoning ordinances in Dalton.

In recent weeks, a third group called Save Dalton NH has emerged with the specific goal to prevent zoning ordinances from being established in the town. This group established an informational website in late June that is masked with private domain name registration and does not clearly indicate who is behind the message.

Save Dalton NH also distributed campaign yard signs that did not clearly indicate who the responsible party might be. According to a letter from the New Hampshire State Attorney General's office addressed to Dalton Selectman Anna Gilbody dated July 3, 2019, Gilbody had identified herself as belonging to the group responsible for the Save Dalton anti-zoning yard signs.

In the letter, Gilbody was informed that a failure to identify funders for the political campaign signs was a violation of NH RSA 664:14, which requires all political advertising to be signed at the beginning or end with the name and addresses of the natural person or entity responsible for it. The letter went on to state that a failure to adhere to the RSA would result in a cease and desist order or other enforcement action.

Since that time, the Save Dalton signs now say "Paid for by Douglas S. Ingerson." Ingerson is the owner of the 180-acre parcel being considered for a future landfill by Casella Waste Manage-

Amidst all of this recent activity, Casella Waste Management recently hosted a two-session informational cookout at the Dalton Town Hall on July 2. The corporation has scheduled another round of events at the same location for Wednesday, July 17 at 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. where Casella employees will again make themselves available to answer community questions.

According to the Dalton town website, the cookouts were not sponsored by the town government. Casella representatives requested use of the public space and the company was allowed to do so, due to Dalton's existing building use policy. According to Jon Swan, the founder of Save Forest Lake, the addendum statement about municipal space was added after the Town received pressure regarding the town sponsoring such an event.

Meanwhile, the organizers of Save Forest Lake have launched a radio campaign on multiple local FM stations.

According to Swan, Save Forest Lake now has approximately four hundred supporters and donations over the last week have covered the costs for two weeks of radio advertisements.

Coincidentally, the North Country Alliance for Balanced Change (NCABC) announced on their website that the Forest Lake Association voted unanimously at their annual meeting on June 22 to oppose the proposed landfill. The NCABC also states, "While preventing a landfill from being built in environmentally sensitive wetlands is our immediate concern, we should also be thinking about how to stop or reduce the need for landfills in general."

A Public Hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m. on July 23 to discuss emergency temporary zoning and planning ordinances. A Special Town Meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. on July 30, so Dalton residents may vote on emergency zoning and planning ordinances. Both meetings will be held at the Dalton Town Hall.

Pianist Michael Arnowitt to pay tribute to Aaron Copland at the Sancutuary

BY EILEEN REGEN
Bethlehem Hebrew Congregation

BETHLEHEM — A program not to miss! Enjoy a Copland program created by pianist and composer Michael Arnowitt at 5 p.m., Friday, July 19, in the Bethlehem Hebrew Congregation sanctuary.

One of today’s most creative musicians, Arnowitt performs a program surveying the music of Aaron Copland who created a distinctively American sound in classical music.

Copland’s landmark compositions from the 1930s and 1940s used the energetic jazz rhythms and folksong material from different regions of the United States and Mexico, blended into his own classical music writing style to evoke our nation’s vast landscape.

Arnowitt will perform music from Copland’s “Four Piano Blues,” “Piano Variations,” “El Salon Mexico,” and Copland’s famous “Appalachian Spring.” Also included on the program is “Conversation at the Soda Fountain,” from the music Copland wrote for the film version of Thornton Wilder’s “Our Town.”

Copland travelled to Paris in the early twentieth century to study with the renowned Nadia Boulanger at the Fontainebleau School in France, a program Arnowitt attended some 60 years later. Though Copland was influenced by his European travels and modern composers of the time, he returned to our country determined to create something uniquely American. His musical style has influenced American composers to the present day and contributed to the cultural creation of an American consciousness and character.

Arnowitt’s musical landscapes and sense of touch at the keyboard have delighted audiences around the world, from his home in Vermont to Canada, Korea, Russia, and many European countries. His life and music is the subject of a documentary film, “Beyond 88 Keys” (2004). The film has been broadcast on public television and shown at festivals in Europe and the United States.

His many unique creative projects include “If Music Be the Food of Love,” a program of classical and jazz music about food, simultaneously serving to the audience the food tastes that inspired the composers. For another intriguing collaboration, he combines his piano improvisations with the live creation of paintings on stage by visual artists.

Arnowitt, also a distinguished event organizer, directed the Vermont Millennium Music Festival chronicling music from the year 1000 to 2000, and a number of large-scale fundraisers for humanitarian aid for Balkan and Syrian war refugees.

Concert tickets may be purchased at the door: $20 General Admission, $17 BHC Members. For more information about upcoming concerts in this series, please visit www.bethlehemsynagogue.org/afternoon-concert-series/.

Hobo Railroad offers more than summer train rides

LINCOLN — During the late 1880’s, the railroad track in Lincoln was owned by the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad. It served as one of the primary routes north through New Hampshire for tourists wishing to make their way from cities like Boston, Hartford and New York to the pristine lakes and mountains of northern New Hampshire and points further north including northern Vermont and Montreal, Canada if they felt so inclined. This was a time when President Grover Cleveland resided in the White House, trains were pulled by steam locomotives and steam-powered cars were all the rage. In the early 1900’s, however, the rights to the rail line were sold to the Boston & Maine Railroad who kept the line active between the Lakes Region and Lincoln, NH for many years in support of the paper mills and other businesses that depended on passenger and freight service. Passenger service faded as automobiles and highways became more popular in the 1950’s and once the last of the Lincoln paper mills closed for good in the mid 1970’s, freight service came to an end as well. The rail line was then purchased by the State of New Hampshire and eventually it was offered up for lease. This unique opportunity caught the interest of Ed & Brenda Clark from Lincoln, NH in the mid-1980’s. After reaching an agreement with the State of New Hampshire, the Clarks created the Hobo Railroad - a tourist railroad - which they opened on July 1, 1987. For the past 32 years, the Clark family has continued to operate and grow their railroad – adding many family-oriented special events throughout the years. Located at 64 Railroad Street in Lincoln, NH the Hobo Railroad operates from late May through October and again from Thanksgiving until just before Christmas.

During the Summer months, from late June through Labor Day Weekend, there’s something taking place every day at the Railroad in addition to the 11 a.m., 1 p.m. & 3 p.m. train rides. Monday through Friday, members of the talented Jolley Family Entertainers group join passengers on the train where they share a mix of balloon creations and face-painting with children of all ages.

The Hobo Railroad’s popular Putt N Ride package is also available daily from late June through Aug. 25, and combines one hour and twenty-minute round-trip train rides with 18 holes of miniature golf at the nearby Hobo Hills Adventure Golf center located just across the parking lot from the Railroad. The miniature golf portion of the package can be used later during the Summer if desired.

The award-winning Nature by Rail series presented by Bank of New Hampshire takes place every Saturday from late June through August with the Squam Lakes Natural Science Center. Naturalist Instructors not only ride aboard the 11 a.m., 1 p.m. & 3 p.m. trains to share information regarding the plant life and wildlife that surround the train, they also host live animal and bird presentations at 12:30 p.m. & 2:30 p.m. in the Railroad’s Choo Choo Theater. These shows provide unique opportunities for folks to get close to popular birds and various animals that reside within the fields and forests of New Hampshire.

The long-running Storybook Sunday series presented by the Believe in Books Literacy Foundation takes center stage in the Railroad’s Choo Choo Theater every Sunday from late June through August. Featuring well-known readings with popular Storybook characters such as Winnie the Pooh, Curious George, the Cat in the Hat and many more at 12:30pm and 2:30pm, children can also pose with their favorite Storybook character following the readings. In addition, the Believe in Books Literacy Foundation’s Bookmobile is available on-site every Sunday throughout the Summer from noon to 3 p.m.

Although the main purpose of the Railroad has changed a lot since it was first built more than 130 years ago, the fact is that the Railroad is still operating today and is creating memories every time one of the Hobo Railroad’s trains depart Hobo Junction Station. Whether it’s to enjoy balloon creations and children with brightly painted faces, learning about plant life or wildlife that exist along the rail corridor, enjoying a day of activities that include an old-fashion train ride and 18 holes of miniature golf or sharing Storybook readings with the likes of Winnie the Pooh or Curious George, the Hobo Railroad offers much more than just a Summer train ride – it offers countless opportunities to create family memories that will truly last a lifetime.

The Hobo Railroad is located at 64 Railroad Street in Lincoln, just off I-93 at Exit 32. For additional information including train times and special events, visit www.HoboRR.com, Facebook at www.facebook.com/Hobo-Winnepesaukee-Scenic-Railroads or call 745-2135.

SAU 84 raises money for VFW Post 816 Veterans’ Relief Fund

On Friday, May 24, the staff of Lakeway Elementary School and Littleton High School/Daisy Bronson Middle Schools challenged one another to a fundraiser. Staff were invited to wear jeans and make a donation of any amount to benefit VFW Post 816’s Veterans’ Relief Fund. This friendly competition drove staff involvement and team building to benefit our local veterans! Together the schools raised $525 which as per Dave Victor, VFW Post 816 Quartermaster, can be “used only to assist our local veterans in need of financial help.” The $525 check was presented by DBMS/LHS Principal, Jennifer Carbonneau, and Lakeway Principal, Crystal Martin, on July 8. # Annual Tree Farm Field Day to take place at Rocks Estate

BETHLEHEM — The New Hampshire Tree Farm program will celebrate its 30th annual Tree Farm Field Day at the Rocks Estate in Bethlehem on July 20 from 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

The morning will include a forest management and wildlife habitat tour along the Rocks' Mile Path – which was built so that city visitors to the property could enjoy the outdoors – and will include the Summer House and Bee House. Visiting the Maple Museum and taking its Virtual Sugar House Tour will also take place before lunch.

In the afternoon, attendees may tour the Christmas tree farm to learn more about agritourism or visit nearby Go Green Wood Products mat log manufacturing facility. Mat logs function essentially as floating bridges, allowing streams to be crossed with a minimum of soil disturbance.

Tree Farms are privately owned forests managed to produce timber with added benefits of improved wildlife habitat, water quality, recreation and scenic values. Municipal watersheds, school forests and other public ownerships may also be certified as Tree Farms. New Hampshire has 1,450 tree farms, totaling 500,000 acres.

The New Hampshire Tree Farm Program is based on the American Tree Farm System and is operated by volunteers through the New Hampshire Tree Farm Executive Committee. Each year, the Committee holds a Tree Farm Field Day to celebrate tree farmers and to provide an opportunity to share ideas and information.

Registration is required by July 15. Cost is $20 for 18 and older, $5 younger attendees and includes lunch.

For more details, including the registration form, visit nhreefarm.org.

The New Hampshire Tree Farm program's annual Tree Farm Day is sponsored by the N.H. Division of Forests and Lands, the N.H. Timberland Owners Association, the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests, UNH-Cooperative Extension, and the Granite State Division of the Society of American Foresters.

Part of the N.H. Department of Natural and Cultural Resources, the Division of Forests and Lands protects and promotes the value provided by trees, forests and natural communities. For more information about the Division of Forests and Lands and the work of its Forest Protection Bureau, visit nh.gov/nhdf or call 271-2214.

St. Johnsbury Dental Associates welcomes pediatric dentist

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt. — St. Johnsbury Dental Associates is thrilled to welcome Pediatric Dentist, Krystal Kazemba, DMD, MS to its team.

Prior to entering the field of dentistry, Dr. Kazemba earned a Bachelor of Science in Microbiology and a Master of Science in Forensic DNA and Serology. While working toward her master's,

Krystal was employed as a dental assistant at the University of Florida Pediatric Dental Residency, where she learned the value of helping children. After receiving her second degree from the University of Florida, she was accepted into LECOM School of Dental Medicine. Upon graduating, Krystal pursued her passion of working with children and Krystal loves the outdoors, sunshine, and friendly people and has a dog who is her partner in crime. She believes that you can learn something from everyone and knows not to judge a book by its cover. Above all, she is eager to see what life has in store for her and is committed to serving the children of the Northeast Kingdom.

Dr. Darren Boles, owner of St. Johnsbury Dental comments, “We are proud to have Dr. Kazemba join our team. Her passion for children and expertise in pediatric dentistry will be a great benefit to families in our community.”

A pediatric dentist offers a specialized approach to pediatric care. Early dental visits promote lifelong dental habits and can predict dental & facial development for long-term planning.

Books of Jewish Interest Discussion Group begins July 17

BY EILEEN REGEN

BETHLEHEM — “The Plot Against America” by Philip Roth opens the Books of Jewish Interest season at 4 p.m., Wednesday, July 17, in the Bethlehem Public Library Conference Room.

“The Plot Against America” (2002) is a masterpiece of counter-factual history, a what-if story in which Charles Lindbergh, aviation hero and Nazi sympathizer, is elected U.S. President in 1940, leading to the widespread persecution of Jews in the United States. Roth focuses on members of one family to tell this story and the reader watches as each member of the family chooses to survive in a different way. Jacki Katzman will lead the discussion for this book. Light refreshments will be served.

Convener Gail Robinson has selected four high-interest books for this year’s reading and discussion. Members of the community are invited to join the lively discussions of Jewish-themed books from a variety of genres. Meetings are at 4 p.m., Wednesday afternoons, July 17, July 31 (“Bethlehem Road Murder” by Batya Gur), Aug. 14 (“Lovesong: Becoming a Jew” by Julius Lester), and Aug. 28 (“The Tattooist of Auschwitz” by Heather Morris) in the Bethlehem Public Library Conference Room. The library, located at 2245 Main St., Bethlehem, has conference call capability, handicapped accessibility, and plenty of parking. All books are available in the Bethlehem Public Library.

On July 10, New Hampshire Governor Chris Sununu was at the Littleton Opera House for a meeting with the Executive Council.

ing from Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," noting that "This was Hugh Gallen's, favorite poem, the former Governor of New Hampshire from Littleton, so it was a real Littleton day."

Dick and Debbie Alberini welcomed all in attendance in their Pollyanna era garb and opened the historical society museum for all to enjoy.

Protesters were outside the Littleton Opera House on July 10 in hopes of getting the attention of New Hampshire Governor Chris Sununu. Signs included those in opposition to Sununu's state budget veto as well as Save Forest Lake signs held in opposition to Casella's plan to build a landfill in Dalton.

"I knew the Wayside Inn was the perfect place," said Gawlik, an experienced vintage collector and the owner of AHI Salvage. "We can't wait for the show, and we know it will be the first of many to come."

According to Gawlik, vintage shopping and collecting are often known as "junk-ing," and New England is the ideal place to practice junking due to the rich history of the region.

The Vintage Market will feature more than sixty different vendors from as far away as California, Illinois, Texas, and Pennsylvania, in addition to numerous regional merchants. Special appearances will be made by Kate Avery of Connecticut's Heir and Space and Rich DiGiovanni of Skulls 4 All Mortal Carvings in Sandown.

As the date of his event approaches, Gawlik has been busy developing parking plans and shuttle routes for shoppers, building a performance stage and beer garden and overseeing the myriad of details necessary to host an event of such magnitude.

Gawlik, who vends at sixty to one hundred events yearly, knows what it takes to make it successful and no detail has been overlooked.

"People will have load tickets, and there will be two shuttles," Gawlik said. "Shoppers will be able to transport their purchases back to their vehicles using the shuttle service."

In addition to the vendors, ten food trucks will be on-site for the weekend, the Barnyard Pimps will perform live on stage, and DJ's from North Country Community Radio will be broadcasting live on location.

The Vintage Market in the Mountains is a rain or shine event scheduled on Saturday, July 27 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, July 28. Tours of the Wayside Inn and Restaurant are available throughout the weekend, and kid activities will be made available as well.

Admission to the pet-friendly, family event is $5 per person, and children are free. Early bird tickets cost $25, and include one-hour early morning access to the vendors before the market opens, as well as full access for both days. A limited number of ticket holders will be able to meet the staff, vendors, and special guests at the special Vendor Party on Saturday night with live music by Cheap City.

date of Aug. 2.

The evaluation comes on the heels of a recent termination notice and the demand for a long-term contract by Golden Cross. MRI was tasked with five goals; determine if the Town of Littleton should agree to the demands set by Golden Cross, ascertain how EMS transport be configured after the termination deadline of Aug. 2 and identify a list of viable EMS service options for the Town.

The evaluation was also tasked to determine if the Town of Littleton should issue a new Request for Proposals (RPF) for emergency services, develop a third municipal service to provide transport EMS or expand the Littleton Fire Department into one fire and rescue organization.

Historically, Littleton has operated under a public-private partnership where the fire and police work in conjunction with a contracted public vendor for EMS. At one time, EMS transport was provided by Ross Ambulance, but a significant proposed cost increase in 2010 led the Town to seek a new private vendor. Since then, Littleton has experienced nine years of service instability with two additional vendor changes.

According to MRI's evaluation, the operational relationship with Golden Cross Ambulance has deteriorated to such a degree that "both substantive and productive communications have been terminated." The report further indicates that the State EMS Bureau is currently reviewing recent response issues.

MRI's report, dated July 2, states, "Although we are sure that both parties contributed to the failed relationship and current level of conflict, Golden Cross has laid down the ultimatum that precipitated this crisis and should be seen as the prime actor circumventing a substantive public process."

Given the short timeline allowed for decision-making and adequate EMS services, MRI concluded that a transition to a fire-based EMS system would be the most appropriate option and one that could be achieved in a 30-60 day timeline.

The Littleton Fire Department is currently staffed with seven full-time firefighters who are also cross-trained in EMS. Littleton firefighters are required to be Advanced EMT's, Paramedics, or Advanced Life Support Providers.

Three of the seven appropriately trained firefighters previously served Littleton as the primary EMS providers with CALEX Ambulance. Three out of the other four firefighters have worked in fire-based EMS services or have experience in private EMS. According to a feasibility document, the current fire crew offers more than ninety years of EMS experience.

MRI offered a variety of recommendations. One, that the Town of Littleton create a separate unit with the Fire Department and assign EMS transport to Littleton Fire and Rescue. Two, the newly-formed department should rent, borrow, lease, or purchase a used ambulance so that operations can begin on Aug. 2. Three, that a lease in arrears should be established to order a new ambulance and buy a used ambulance that would serve as a backup unit. Four, that EMS transport responsibilities assigned to the Fire Department are considered a three-year pilot program.

Regarding the costs of such a department, MRI recommended that the operation should be funded at the average of the stipends paid by peer communities, plus a 3 percent annual increase. It further suggested that the fire department should be allowed to utilize stipends from adjacent communities, and all collected revenue should be applied to support operations.

According to Brian Duggan, the Director of the Fire Services Group at MRI, If the three-year pilot program is successful, Littleton Fire and Rescue should then begin to work with other communities and become

What kind of music do the churches of Christ use?

Isiah 1:18 "Come and let us reason together"

The churches of Christ only use a Capella singing in their worship. It is the only music to be used in the New Testament church (Ephesians 5:19; Colossians 3:16).

Singing without the aid of mechanical instruments follows the pattern of worship laid out by the Scripture and the early church. In the Old Testament the use of instruments was commanded (Numbers 10:10; 2 Chronicles 29:25) for the Israelite to worship God. Jesus and the Apostles did not carry the use of instrumental music into the time of the church; nor should we.

Instruments do not, and cannot, speak to the heart but only to the emotions. The kind of worship that pleases God is not one that pleases us, but Him.

Above all, God wants his followers to be obedient to the instructions He has given. If we cannot find any command, or example, or a way to infer something was done in the New Testament then we should not do it either.

We invite you to join us every Sunday for Bible study at 10:00 am and for worship at 11:00 am. We are located at 490 Main Street in Lancaster, NH next to the fair grounds.

"We even take care of the tax for you," said Goodwin.

Rashkin said, "This was a long process. It took us a solid six months to find the right truck."

A Littleton native, he had served as the CEO of Presby Environmental before the company's sale. He then relocated to Durham and operated a restaurant in the Seacoast region before deciding to return to the White Mountains. Rashkin says the food truck is truly a family affair and his father, Allan also helps run the company.

a regional provider.

According to Captain Chad Miller, the Littleton Fire Department will need to hire three additional full-time employees to provide fully functional EMS transport services. He said the Littleton EMS Commission met at the beginning of the month, recommended 8-1 to approve MRI's suggestions, and the decision went to the Littleton Board of Selectmen. Miller said the Board of Selectmen decided in a 2-1 vote during a non-public session to follow the EMS Commission's recommendations.

"It's kind of like building an airplane while it's flying in the sky. But fortunately for us, almost all of our full-time employees have significant EMS experience," said Miller.

According to Miller, the fire department inspected a potential ambulance option on July 13, and the consensus within the department was that that particular unit would work well for the Town's needs.

"Honestly, all the members of the department are excited and looking forward to this addition," continued Miller. "It's fun to be part of the process and help shape what it will look like."

sure, but we do believe the Red Bull trend has settled a bit.

Switch things up by asking for different responsibilities. When things get mundane they can become less interesting. Having fun while also getting the job done can make a world of difference. Even working away from the norm, and changing up the scenery can be a game changer. Find a nice coffee shop or a park and try to avoid working from home at all costs. If you work from home, you will begin to associate the same feelings about work, in the home. Your home is your sanctuary and you need to protect it.

Oftentimes, people take better care of their vehicles then they do themselves. To keep a car running smoothly, you need to upkeep with maintenance, use top of the line fuel and keep the miles low.

In the book "Don't Sweat the Small Stuff, and It's All Small Stuff" by Richard Carlson, he talks about how when you die, your 'In Basket' won't be empty. His point is that we all feel the need to get everything done. We stay up late, get up early, just to get everything done. By doing this, he says we put off having fun or spending time with loved ones. Keeping a full 'In Basket' means that your time is in demand, with projects to complete and phone calls to return. Carlson reminds his readers that no matter what you do or who you are, nothing is more important than your own happiness and sense of inner peace and that of your loved ones. He reminds us that when we die, there will still be things left to finish, and that someone else will do it, so there is never a reason not to step back, take in a deep breath, and smell the proverbial roses every once in a while.

special pieces they'd like gifted to them, but don't be offended if they don't want any of your belongings. Each generation has its own ideas of what a home should look and feel like. If it's going to be hard to part with these items, take a photo and write a description of each piece so that you can look at it later and enjoy the memory of it.

• Create Lists: Make a list of all the things you have to do. Along with deciding what items to keep, give away, donate or sell, moving to a new home includes filling out change of address forms at the post office, transferring magazine and newspaper subscriptions, arranging to have the utilities shut off at your old home, contacting home and car insurers, and multiple other tasks. Lists help you stay organized!

• Pack A "First Day" Box: Follow this great advice from the American Senior Communities organization and you'll be prepared when you reach your new home with all of the items you'll need that first day and night: toiletries, prescriptions, cleaning and kitchen supplies, toilet paper, and basic tools like a hammer and screwdriver. You might also add your nightgown or pajamas and a change of clothes for the next day. Having all of these items in one place will help your move go smoothly as you settle into your new home.

Employees accept new positions at WGSB

WOODSVILLE — James Graham, President and Chief Executive Officer of Woodsville Guaranty Savings Bank announced the following employee promotions, as approved at the Annual Board of Directors Meeting for Woodsville Guaranty Savings Bank held recently.

Amanda Arcone of Franconia was promoted from Assistant Vice President to Vice President and Commercial Banking Officer. Arcone has more than 28 years of professional experience in lending, cash management and treasury services, sales, business development, management, and client services. She joined WGSB in projects for the bank. Jon Hobbs of Woodsville was promoted from Assistant Vice President to Vice President and Commercial Loan Officer. Hobbs joined the bank in August 2003 as a residential lender and moved to commercial lending in 2013, due to his personal interest in the local business community.

Ashley Ricker

As a Commercial Loan Officer, Jon's ability to understand and support the needs of the local business community has made him an important resource to business owners in the Haverhill, Wells River, and surrounding areas. Ashley Ricker of Piermont was promoted to Assistant Vice President and Regional Branch Manager. Ashley joined the bank in 2015 as Branch Manager of the Woodsville, Central Street and Walmart offices, and then accepted responsibility for the Piermont and Lisbon offices as well. As Regional Branch Manager, she is responsible for the oversight and support of branch operations, employees, and customer needs at the bank's four western-most offices. "Each of these employees demonstrates a high level of skill in their jobs and each plays an important part in the bank's ability to grow, while continuing to serve the needs of customers," said Graham. "On behalf of the bank and its board, I thank them for their efforts and appreciate all that they do for the customers of WGSB." Woodsville Guaranty Savings Bank is a New Hampshire state-chartered savings bank headquartered in Woodsville, with nine banking offices in the communities of Woodsville, Piermont, Lisbon, Littleton, Lancaster, Plymouth, and Franconia, and a loan production office in Hanover. For more information, call 800-564-2735, visit the bank's Web site at www.theguaranty-bank.com, or find them on Facebook.

Feeling stretched as a caregiver?

LITTLETON — Powerful Tools for Caregivers is an educational series designed to provide you with the tools you need to take care of yourself. This program helps family caregivers reduce stress, improve self-confidence, communicate feelings better, balance their lives, increase their ability to make tough decisions and locate helpful resources. Classes consist of six sessions held once a week. Two experienced class leaders conduct the series (many are experienced caregivers themselves, who have successfully applied the techniques and they teach). Interactive lessons, discussions and brainstorming will help you take the "tools" you choose and put them into action for your life. You will receive a book, "The Caregiver Helpbook," developed specifically for the class. Classes will be free, thanks to support from ServiceLink of Grafton County. Classes will be held at Mt. Eustis Commons in the AHEAD conference room from 1-3 p.m. Sessions are held every Thursday, and begin on Aug. 22. For more information or to register, contact ServiceLink at 444-4498 or e-mail cjackson@gcsc.org. Class size is limited, and pre-registration is required.

Golf Season 2019

Golf for beginners

Millions of people hit the links to play golf recreationally, and many young stars of the game are inspiring others to try their hand at this difficult sport.

There has never been a better time to play golf. However, to the uninitiated, golf can be complicated. There are many different rules and all sorts of equipment to learn and lingo to follow. In fact, the experts at Golf Digest say that some people can be scared off even before they hit the green. Fortunately, all it takes is a little research to get started on learning about and ultimately embracing the game of golf. Here are six ways to get started.

1. Start off on a practice range and not on the golf course. The range is a great place to acclimate oneself to the game and practice your swings.

2. Hook up with someone who can show you the ropes. Going it alone can tame feelings of embarrassment from being new to the game. However, having someone in your corner guiding you can make it easier to learn and love the game. Work with a local golf pro or enlist the help of a friend or family member with some golfing experience.

3. Learn all you can about the clubs, including which kinds are used for various types of shots. While a golfer is allowed to carry as many as 14 clubs in a bag, you will not need that many when first starting out, nor do you have to invest thousands of dollars in a set of clubs. It's possible to find used clubs online if you want to try the sport before committing.

4. Lean toward more loft when selecting clubs. Look for drivers that have at least 10 degrees of loft and fairway woods that start at 17 degrees, offers Golf Digest. This will make it easier for beginners to get the ball into the air and can reduce sidespin so shots fly more straight.

5. Pay attention to short shots as well as the long ones. Spend as much time practicing with wedges and the putter as the driver to really tighten up all of your shots.

6. Learn the proper grip and stance by working with a coach. Invest in a glove to avoid callused hands, as you'll be spending significant time practicing.

With these tips, novice golfers can get on the road to developing a great golf game relatively quickly.

North Country roots fueling PSU baseball

COREY MCKEAN

Corey@salmonpress.news

PLYMOUTH — A 2003 graduate of Profile High School and 2007 graduate of Franklin Pierce College as well as four-year member and captain of their baseball team, Clay Jenkins has taken the reins of the Plymouth State men's baseball program over the last four years and has noticed one thing in specific, that Northern New Hampshire high school baseball has produced its' fair share of quality baseball players over the last 15 years, with many playing at the collegiate level and even a few going on to play professionally and that the best local North Country players are finding their collegiate playing careers continue very close to home.

Within only a few years of being the head coach at Plymouth, Jenkins has shown that he wants the very best North Country baseball players to stay as close to home as possible.

"Ryan McIntosh from Lincoln has been coaching with me since my first year (2016). We have always talked about all of the great ballplayers who have come from North Country schools, players we played both with and against. There were time periods where if you collected the best North Country players and assembled them at the same Division III baseball program, that team would compete for national championships," explained Jenkins.

With both Jenkins and McIntosh coming from Northern New Hampshire schools, they have a unique insight into what it takes to develop from a raw New Hampshire talent into a mature collegiate ball-player.

"Our coaching philosophies are foundational-ly built on development and becoming the best ballplayer that is within you" says Jenkins. "We both personally know what it takes to come

Summit Salute being held Sunday

PINKHAM NOTCH — The third annual Summit Salute will be held this year on Sunday, July 21, at the Mount Washington Auto Road in Pinkham Notch. This annual event is for all veterans, active service members and their families. The event is aimed at providing veterans, service members and their families the time and environment to connect with each other and other military families. The event starts at 2 p.m. and participants will be treated to hike, bike and play at the Mt. Washington Auto Road in addition to event activities such as military resources, an amazing cookout, music and prizes and a guest speaker, Colonel Mike Buckley, father, husband, Army Colonel retired, master cyclist, hiker and veteran advocate. The event is free and only open to veterans, service members and their families. The day ends with an opportunity to ride to the summit for sunset (weather permitting), there will be a minimal charge for the summit ride. This event is provided by Volunteers for Veterans Inc., a non-profit, 100 percent volunteer organization out of Gorham, supported by the generosity of donors such as the Mount Washington Auto Road, who help to make this amazing event possible. "Volunteers for Veterans Inc." was started by two north country veterans, Al and Kate Duncan, who know the value of coming together with others who have served. Many local volunteers pitch in to cook, set up and manage the Summit Salute as a way to give back to those who have served this country. The event is held rain or shine under a huge tent. Registration is required. To register, go to: <https://cont.cc/2XPv6Nv>.

Questions? Contact Volunteers for Veterans at Summitsalute@gmail.com or call Al and Kate Duncan at 239-227-9108. Details can also be found on Facebook at Volunteers for Veterans Inc.

out of small Class S (Division IV) schools, and then needing to survive in baseball worlds much larger than where we came from. The transition can be overwhelming, and we never would have ended our playing careers on such positive notes had we not developed and improved throughout the journey.

"Being able to relate to North Country players, and then take that one step further by providing them with relatable programs for player-development, makes PSU baseball the perfect home for North Country baseball players," added Jenkins.

With NHIAA Division IV team, Littleton, and NHIAA Division III team, White Mountains Regional winning four state championships combined in the last four years, (LHS 2016 and 2018) (WMR 2018 and 2019) the proof lies within the results that Northern New Hampshire baseball is still strong. With many athletes playing multiple sports throughout the year, Jenkins notices how well-rounded these northern athletes are which is a considerable reason why Jenkins likes to keep the North Country talent close to home.

"Northern NH is currently full of great baseball players and great baseball coaches. There are a few North Country players who would be ready to compete at our level immediately" says Jenkins of the North Country talent. "The biggest difference I've noticed between players from Northern NH and other locations is the well-roundedness of the North Country player. Typically they are two or three-sport athletes, work part time jobs, and do well in the classroom. This successful variety prevents them from mastering baseball, and sometimes puts them behind the incoming player from southern New England who has dedicated their whole life to improving at specifically baseball," Jenkins explained.

Jenkins has nothing but high hopes and will continue to push for continued success for the PSU baseball program. Many baseball players at Plymouth play in high-level prospect leagues throughout the summer and four have currently signed professional contracts in Jenkins' time at Plymouth, most recently 2019 graduate and First Team All American Josh Goulet of Nashua. As the Plymouth State baseball program continues to improve and be recognized on the regional and national levels, Jenkins hopes to have as many North Country baseball players as possible representing that success.

Notable North Country players that have played at PSU in the last 10 years:

Gavin Cook - Littleton - 2019 graduate - LHS catcher - Will be on roster in 2020 while obtaining his master's degree.

Tyler Brown - Littleton - 2020 graduate with two more years of baseball eligibility remaining. "Ace of staff, throwing in low 90s and only getting better and better." Plays in the prestigious NECBL (New England Collegiate Baseball League) in the summers.

Derek Walker - Littleton - 2022 graduate - "Arguably the most valuable newcomer to our team last year. Extremely bright future on the mound with steady improvements in every aspect of pitching."

Braxton Brown - White Mountains Regional - Entering freshman year at PSU. "We are extremely excited to have Braxton be a large part of our pitching staff right way."

Ryan McIntosh - Lincoln - Four years on PSU baseball coaching staff. 2013 graduate - captain, infielder - impressive all-around baseball player. "Raw northern NH talent who turned himself into an extremely well-rounded and impressive college baseball player. Now he's a self-taught incredible developmental coach."

Ryan Richard - Berlin - 2019 graduate. LEC (Little East Conference) All Conference Player.

Luke Merrill - Pittsburg - 2012 graduate and LEC All Conference Player.

Curtis Arsenault - Berlin - 2017 graduate and member of PSU basketball team four years.

Nick Englert - Lincoln - 2009 graduate.

North Country Relay for Life raises $49,000

BY TARA GILES

tara@salmonpress.news

LANCASTER — On June 22, at the Lancaster Fairgrounds, the North Country Relay for Life event took place. This event was a chance for the community to come together to celebrate those loved ones lost to cancer, survivors and those who are still fighting.

Prior to the start of the event, the WMRHS JROTC Color Guard presented the colors.

Each team has a person on the track for the overnight event to represent the fact that cancer never sleeps. Each event kicks off with a survivors' lap followed by a luminaria ceremony. That ceremony takes place when the sun goes down to remember those who have passed away. Each sand-filled bag is lit with a candle and a name of the person being remembered. A Fight Back Ceremony is last, where participants make a personal commitment to save lives by fighting back against the disease.

All teams participating in the North Country event raised over $49,000. The chair of the event is Melissa Womble. Co-Chair is Vickie Moore.

Donations will be accepted until August. On her team page, 'Next of Kin,' Womble explained why she participates in the event. "I know there are a lot of worthy causes to support, but I think participating in an event that helps save lives from cancer is about as worthy as it gets. That's why I decided to raise funds and walk in an American Cancer Society Relay For Life event."

She added, "Nearly everyone has been touched by cancer, either through their own personal battle or through the battle of someone they love and this disease has taken too much from too many. I'm participating in the Relay For Life event because I know I am making a difference in the fight to end cancer by raising funds and cancer awareness."

Womble said that not only is the event a way for her to join her community to fight back against cancer but says it's a way to inspire others to get involved.

The funds raised go towards cancer research, cancer patient programs and services.

"By walking in a Relay For Life event I joined more than four million global volunteers who are dedicated to finishing the fight against cancer. This was my opportunity to honor the cancer survivors in my life, remember friends and family I have lost and to raise funds to support the American Cancer Society's lifesaving mission," Womble said.

Top Notch Triathlon returns to Franconia Aug. 3

FRANCONIA — Part physical challenge, part beloved local tradition, the Top Notch Triathlon marks its 27th running on August 3, 2019.

“It’s always great to welcome people who have been participating in the Top Notch for years, as well as some new faces each race day,” said race director Kim Cowles. “This is a tough race, but it’s also a really fun community event.”

The Top Notch begins in Franconia village and brings racers – both casual and competitive – by bike through town, up Butterhill Road (Route 141), and through the woods to Echo Lake in Franconia Notch State Park, then on a half-mile swim across the lake, to the final leg, a 2.5-mile trek to the summit of Cannon Mountain.

Iron Furnace Brewing, located just beyond the start line in Franconia, will again host the awards ceremony and post-race lunch.

Once dubbed “The Race to the Face,” in honor of the Old Man of the Mountain, the Top Notch Triathlon was started after Cowles and other friends orchestrated a casual compilation of different activities in and around Franconia Notch. In 1993 Cowles decided to design a more formal triathlon, and she and her family have been intricately involved in the race ever since.

Some 500 competitors, from local families to Olympic athletes, participate in the race each year, and many return year after year to complete the triathlon. The event is supported by a dedicated corps of volunteers and local sponsors and is hosted by Lafayette Recreation, which serves the communities of Franconia, Easton and Sugar Hill.

The Top Notch Triathlon also serves as a fundraiser for Lafayette Recreation and the Franconia Life Squad. Since its inaugural year in 1993, the triathlon has raised more than $120,000, which has been used for local athletic field and ice rink enhancements as well as construction of the gazebo, disc golf course, and pavilion at Franconia’s Dow Park.

For more information or to register, visit www.franconianh.org/top-notch-triathlon.html. Registration fees increase July 20.

International Fly Fishing Film Festival in Bethlehem July 26

BETHLEHEM — Worldwide fly-fishing adventures from Alaska’s barren Kuskokwim River drainage to lush South American jungles will be premiered during the 2019 annual International Fly Fishing Film Festival, July 26 at the Colonial Theatre, 2050 Main St., Bethlehem.

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. with the film screening at 7 p.m. The showing is hosted by Colonial Theatre/Friends of the Colonial. Tickets are $12 or $10 for youth at the Colonial Theater on the day of the event.

For more information, contact gotoshow@bethlehemcolonial.org.

Festival films to be shown

The Midnight Mission - A nighttime angling adventure in which two buddies “rescue” a fly-fisher who has given up the sport by seeking a monster lurking in the dark big enough to scream, “I’ll be back.” Producer: Capture Adventure Media

Aniak - A 95-mile tributary of Alaska’s Kuskokwim River, the Aniak is full of rainbows, dillies, grayling, sheefish, northern pike and all five species of salmon. This mouse-skating adventure features angler Brian O’Keefe fighting large, heavy-shouldered leopard rainbow trout in the Alaskan backcountry. Producer: Todd Moen Creative.

Bigotry to Brook Trout - A film of one man’s transformation from a life of ignorance and hate to quiet solitude on the waters of northern Minnesota. Producer: Blue Forest Films.

One Day - Meredith McCord, Ken Tanaka and Marc Crapo meet up with the Fish Partner crew and bring viewers along for one day in Iceland. Yet another zany adventure by three-time IF4 winner Marc Crapo. Producer: Marc Crapo.

104 Years - In search of an escape from the daily grind, the Hog Leg Fly Fishing crew sets off on an adventure to chase wild migratory brown trout in a remote river in an undeveloped corner of South America where there is a thriving population of truly mammoth-sized brown trout. Producer: In-Tents Media.

One Path - When Fly Fisherman Magazine editor Ross Purnell heard about a pristine river valley in northern Mongolia that was roadless and undeveloped, he knew it would be no ordinary fishing trip. To get there, it would take a two-day journey by camel and horseback to reach the river. Then, a 100-mile two-week float trip through a river valley in search of giant taimen. Producer: Ross Purnell.

The Road Home - A journey along a secluded Rocky Mountain stream filled with feisty cutthroat and large bull trout lurking deep under logjams. The film provides a grand cinematic experience intimately revealing the sights and sounds of a river alive with trout feasting on green drakes. Producer: IF4 Original.

Total running time for all presentations to be shown in the 2019 International Film Festival is one hour, 36 minutes.

Additionally, there will be product giveaways and other promotions.

Mahindra Roxor to sponsor Xfinity Series race at NHMS

LOUDON — New Hampshire Motor Speedway’s Tripleheader Saturday (July 20) features three exciting races for fans to enjoy, with the highlight of the day at 4 p.m. when the NASCAR Xfinity Series takes on “The Magic Mile” with the newly-named Roxor 200. The day also includes the NASCAR Whelen Modified Tour Eastern Propane and Oil 100 at 2 p.m. and the NASCAR K&N Pro Series East United Site Services 70 at 6:45 p.m.

“We’re pleased to welcome Mahindra Roxor to our July race weekend,” said David McGrath, executive vice president and general manager of New Hampshire Motor Speedway. “Just like Mahindra Roxor vehicles, racing in New England is ‘built for the long haul,’ as the Roxor 200 will mark the 34th NASCAR Xfinity Series race here at New Hampshire Motor Speedway.”

Mahindra has been building vehicles such as tractors, automobiles, airplanes, motorcycles and more for over 70 years, building 600,000 automotive vehicles annually, all designed to complement many different channels of specialized businesses including construction, community work, ranching, search and rescue and, of course, hardcore recreation.

“We are excited to partner with New Hampshire Motor Speedway as a title sponsor,” stated Richard Ansell, vice president of marketing of Mahindra Roxor. “The audience aligns well with our marketing strategy for Roxor and the NHMS program is a perfect extension to our overall racing program.”

Fans can check out the latest Roxor models in action at The Flat Track during the Friday Night Dirt Duels presented by New England Racing Fuel as they are used to prep the new 0.25-mile dirt track in between racing action. They’ll also be on display in the Fan Zone, located in the S2 lot, throughout race weekend in a 3,000-square-foot Roxor display.

Roxor’s sponsorship of the NASCAR Xfinity Series race nearly completes the entitlement sponsorship line-up for New Hampshire Motor Speedway’s July race weekend, which already includes the following:

Monster Energy NASCAR Cup Series Foxwoods Resort Casino 301;

NASCAR Whelen Modified Tour Eastern Propane and Oil 100;

NASCAR K&N Pro Series East United Site Services 70;

Friday Night Dirt Duels presented by New England Racing Fuel;

Cape Cod Café Pizza Pole Day.

For ticket information for all 2019 events at New Hampshire Motor Speedway, including the July 19 Friday Night Dirt Duels presented by New England Racing Fuel, the July 19-21 Monster Energy NASCAR Cup Series Foxwoods Resort Casino 301 race weekend and the Sept. 20-21 Full Throttle Fall Weekend, visit the Speedway website at NHMS.com or call fan relations at 783-4931.

Sugar Hill Historical Museum Located beside the Sugar Hill village green (across from the old post office), this museum includes information of this scenic hillside town from 1780 to the present. Our campus consists of two barns, one main building, and the Reid-Burpee house adjacent to the Carriage Barn. The Carriage Barn is filled with tools, horse-drawn carriages, folk-style paintings of old Sugar Hill, and a Benjamin Morrill tower clock. The second barn, the Sleigh Shed, displays a vast and growing collection of historic public signs and sleighs, including one sleigh from the Bette Davis estate. It also garages the 1939 Ford fire Truck #2 given to the newly formed sugar Hill Fire Department in 1948 by Henry Crapo. This Ford truck, originally a farm truck, was retro-fitted by the firemen. When the museum is open, the fire truck magically appears on the front lawn. The main building contains extensive photograph archives, a local history and genealogy library, the Cobleigh Tavern public room, a gift shop, and a unique main gallery exhibit which changes annually to reflect the history of sugar Hill's people and places. Sugar Hill Quilts, the 2019 exhibit, will showcase quilts created by and owned by Sugar Hill residents. Alongside the quilts will be a delightful display of vintage toys. The Reid-Burpee house highlights a 1930s kitchen, an outdoor chicken coop, and a garden shed. Open Memorial Day Weekend through Columbus Day Weekend, Fridays and Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admission is free. Memberships and donations are encouraged. Special tours may be arranged during the season. Contact Curator-Director Kitty Bigelow at 823-5336. ## DISCOVER CLASSIFIED POTENTIAL

GUILDHALL, VT: Now available, 61.9 wooded and open acres with 4 bedroom farmhouse and Direct Access to the VAST Trail System. Includes 10 to 12 acres of excellent hay and cropland. The house has a big eat-in kitchen, laundry, living room, family room and a bedroom all on the first floor with 3 more on the second. The oversized 2 car garage with tool bay is attached with direct entry to the kitchen. $199,500 (4727966)

LANCASTER: Situated just off Main Street, across from the Brew Pub and Gallery, and next to the RizFit, this 3 story office/retail/apartment building will serve your business needs and provide added income as well. Now an attractive professional office on the first floor, both the 2nd and 3rd floors are spacious 2 to 3 bedroom apartments, one with laundry facilities. The basement is full and dry, with a walk-in cooler available. Great opportunity in an excellent location. $125,000

LANCASTER: This pastoral scene is one of the many features which will draw you to this lovely property "Out East". The twelve acres are nicely located with nice view potential, good southern exposure, and a drilled well and septic system now serving a 3 bedroom, 12 X 60 manufactured home. In addition to the small barn pictured, there is another storage building 18 X 10, lots of pasture, yard and garden areas, and plenty of woodland for winter heat, privacy and protection, and year-round enjoyment. $89,000

BERLIN: Nicely located at the end of the street, without traffic in one of the city's nicest neighborhoods, this lovely ranch home has been proudly and carefully maintained since the day it was built. Offering one floor living to avoid the frequent use of stairs, it offers a master and two other bedrooms, 1 and 1/2 baths, a large, bright and open kitchen/dining/living room, and a delightful sunroom overlooking the private back yard. The walk-in, level entrance basement includes a large den/family room recently finished, laundry, storage and workshop space, along with a one car garage with direct entry. We are proud to present this very comfortable, neat and clean home. $179,000

DALTON RIDGE: Privately tucked away on over 13 beautiful acres, with breathtaking panoramic mountain views and lovely southern exposure, this unique home is a must see. Spanning 4 levels with an open-concept floor plan, 4 bedrooms and 5 baths, this would be the perfect family retreat. Each of the 3 guest bedrooms has its own attached 1/4 bath, offering convenience and privacy, with the large master suite having a full bath with jacuzzi tub and sauna. The main living space is open with floor to ceiling windows allowing light, passive solar and views from every angle, with sliding glass doors on three sides leading out to the lovely balconies. A centrally located stone fireplace, open on 4 sides, offers warmth on chilly days, as well as a fun grilling section on the side open to the kitchen. The ground floor consists of a game room with gas fire place, 1/4 bath, workshop and direct access to the attached garage. Offered at $459,000 (4761457)

Dalton Ridge: Located on 9.57 acres with outstanding views, this extraordinary home was designed by architects to blend with the landscape. Features include a living room with fieldstone fireplace, library and glass doors to the patio and view. There is a private sunroom/den, an open kitchen/dining area, three bedrooms with a lovely master suite and double bath. There is a family room/study in the lower level and an attached 2 car garage connected by a mudroom. $389,000 (4749004)

Request for Proposals (RFP) Rehabilitation of the Old Fire Station

Introduction

The Town of Woodstock New Hampshire seeks proposals from qualified vendors capable of providing rehabilitation to our Old Fire Station located at 17 Lost River Road, Woodstock, NH.

- Proposals labeled "Old Fire Station" shall be submitted no later than August 2, 2019 to:

The Woodstock Board of Selectmen
165 Lost River Road, PO Box 156
North Woodstock, NH 03262-0156

- The Town of Woodstock reserves the right to reject any bid in whole or in part, to split a bid, to negotiate cost, or to re-bid this proposal, as it deems to be in the best interest of the town.

Background

The Town of Woodstock desires to rehabilitate the outside of the Old Fire Station located at 17 Lost River Road, North Woodstock, NH 03262. The purpose of this Request for Proposal (RFP) is to obtain quotes to make the repairs outlined below. It is also the intent of the Town to contract for the services of the vendor whose services are deemed to be in the best interest of the Town, based on the evaluation criteria. The Town also reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids received.

General Specifications

The vendor that is selected will be expected to enter into a contract to provide construction services for the scope of work stated, including, but not limited to the following specifications:

- The contractor shall submit a detailed plan to include the following:

- Remove and replace siding with white vinyl siding. Replace any damaged underlayment.
- West Side: Add a concrete pad to support the base of the present staircase, replace support beams, and level second floor deck.
- East Side: Add small garage door for entry into the old fire department storage area. Replace rotted sills as needed.
- Front of Building: Frame off existing garage doorways and mount the old garage doors to the frame to preserve the look and feel of the original building.

Any unforeseen conditions that will significantly impact the contract price or timetable of the project must immediately be brought to the attention of the Board of Selectmen for resolution.

- The contractor is responsible for all aspects related to the supply, installation and construction aspects of the plan described above.

Coordination

Parties interested in submitting bids should contact Selectman, Gil Rand to schedule a walkaround to get a complete understanding of the project. (603) 728-8682

Project Timeline

July 9, 2019:	Request for Proposal finalized and issued to prospective bidders.
August 2, 2019:	SEALED Bids due to Board of Selectmen
August 5, 2019:	Award notification to contractor
October 18, 2019:	Project completion date

Insurance

The selected bidder shall be expected to provide a certificate of insurance satisfactory to the Town of Woodstock for general liability and workers compensation.

Performance and Payment Bonds

When a construction or service contract is awarded in excess of $25,000, performance and payment bonds, satisfactory to the Town of Woodstock and executed by a surety company authorized to conduct business in New Hampshire, are required in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the price specified in the contract for the term of the contract.

Proposal Requirements

Four (4) copies of a proposal for construction services shall be sealed and delivered no later than 3:00 PM Friday, August 2, 2019 to:

The Woodstock Board of Selectmen
165 Lost River Road, PO Box 156
North Woodstock, NH 03262-0156

The proposal must include the following:

- A description of the company and its related experience in similar projects. Include appropriate summaries of projects as well as names and telephone numbers of references that may be contacted. Proposals must include at least two references from customers who have contracted similar projects.
- A complete description of the outline for construction approach and schedule.
- An estimated budget for the components of this project including scope of work outlined in this bid and detailed during the walkaround.

Selection and Evaluation Criteria

After receipt of proposals, the Town of Woodstock will use the following criteria in the selection of the winning bid:

- Qualifications of the bidders, including relevant experience in this type of project and the reputation of the business based on references.
- Technical approach of the proposal to include responsiveness to meet or exceed the general expectations.
- Proposed Cost.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Welcome to Coldwell Banker Lifestyles.

Coldwell Banker Lifestyles is pleased to share with you that we have acquired Coldwell Banker LinWood in Franconia, Littleton and Lincoln, NH. Our expanded company will be the White Mountains Region’s premiere real estate company.

The agents and staff that you know and trust will remain the same - and you, our clients and customers will enjoy all the benefits that the Coldwell Banker brand brings to your next transaction - expanded marketing, the #1 luxury division in real estate, and a massive national and international network.

We look forward to introducing you to Coldwell Banker Lifestyles and working with you to buy or sell your property.
