Town reminds residents to separate their glass at recycling center

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Residents are reminded to separate their glass from the rest of their recyclables and deposit it in a separate container at the recycling facility.

The town posted a notice on its website on July 16 asking users of the recycling center to separate their glass into special bins. The town asks that the glass be clean and without any lids. If people are unable to separate out their glass they are asked to dispose of it with the rest of their household waste. "The reason for this change is the cost to taxpayers for processing recycled materials exceeds the cost of trash disposal and glass is the heaviest of these products that are billed on the basis of weight," the notice read.

Glass will be crushed and mixed with aggregate for road construction.

During Wednesday's selectmen's meeting, selectman and Solid Waste Committee member Richard Grenier said people as well as watershed activities from the New Hampshire Lakes Association's Watershed Warriors program.

Inside kids could do bowling among the bookshelves in the children's room and play mini golf with actual books in the hallway. There was also a cook-out outside and a variety of food available inside the program room, where a slideshow displayed photos from the past 10 years.

Library Director Katherine Dormody said she was proud to be part of the building's 10th anniversary celebration.

"Time flies when you're having fun," Dormody said. "It's hard to believe."

The event also marked the end of this year's Libraries Rock summer reading program.

Children's Librarian Bethany Clarke said around 80 people came to the kickoff party in June and 177 kids signed up for the program this year.

The program featured events like Storytime at the Beach, a performance of "Treasure Island" by the Hamstead Theater, Akwaaba Ensemble drumming, and many others.

Children's Librarian Arielle Masterson said the program this year was fun with a lot of good activities.

"We did a lot of different things throughout the six weeks," Masterson said.

Teen librarian Mark Thompson said the teen program was a big success this season and the

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS
Library Correspondent

You may have seen the strange light up magic box buzzing like a spaceship near the paper printer at the Library. Well, it's not a magic box, though the technology can seem that way — it's a 3D printer. It's an Ultimaker 3 to be precise, and it was purchased with funds provided by the Friends of the Gilford Public Library. Once again, the Friends have made a major contribution to the educational and creative potential of the Library, so thanks to them for making dreams come true.

3D printers can, actually, make dreams a reality. You may have seen them before, or even used them, but to ELI5 (explain like I'm five), 3D printer software takes 3D models, wraps them in digital skin so they have thickness, slices them into super thin layers (0.1mm by default) and then figures out a path for the printer to go to make the whole thing. The printer itself is a really, really accurate hot glue gun that squirts, in this case, fancy plastic.

Since it comes out in a line, the software needs to tell the printer where to spread the line. So when we tell the printer to make a 3D house prototype, we really tell it to squirt from point A to point B, to point C, and on, layer by layer, until it's done.

It's cool technology (the print head actually heats up to 400 degrees Fahrenheit often), but it's not really new or complicated. The printers themselves have gotten better over the years with conveniences like a heated print bed to help the plastic stick, a self-leveling bed, and software that adds supports for you (to hold up a figure's arms, for example). One of the distinguishing features of this printer is that it has two nozzles. That means we can print in two colors, materials, or even use a water-soluble material for the support structure, leaving just the model you wanted after a good soak.

'We' refers to all of us. You can 3D print at the Library right now! Just bring a digital 3D model in, make one on one of our computers, or find one online. Once you load the model into the 'Cura' software installed on all of the library computers, let a librarian know that you are ready and we will save it to be printed. Printing can take a long time, so there will be a queue, but it'll be just like waiting for your turn at a new book! The only cost is to compensate for the materials used.

So come by and try out this new tech! Feel free to ask any questions. Make a decoration for the house, a specialized tool, a replica lightsaber for an escape room at the library (yes, we did that). Boldly we go, unto the future.

Gilford Rotary awards Cheryl Lynn Walsh Scholarship

The Cheryl Lynn Walsh Memorial Scholarship was presented at the Gilford High School Senior Awards Night, June 14, to Olivia "Livi" Trindade of Gilman-ton, an outstanding member of the Class of 2018. Trindade will be attending Southern New Hampshire University (SNHU) majoring in business administration.

The Award and Scholarship are presented annually by the Cheryl Lynn Walsh Memorial Scholarship Foundation and Gilford Rotary Club. It is awarded to the applying student(s) who display Cheryl's character, promise and aspirations. With the presentation of the 30th Annual Cheryl Walsh Scholarship, more than $70,000 has been presented to 48 graduating Gilford High School seniors.

The Scholarship was started and was first presented in 1989. Gilford Rotary initially funded the Scholarship with seed money which was invested conservatively. The proceeds/earnings of investments plus contributions by Committee members, family members and friends has resulted in $500 - $2,500 grants to the recipients over the years.

Annually, recipients receive a silver commemorative bowl, a citation, and the grant at Senior Awards Night in June. In May, a selection committee of Board Members, friends and past recipients conduct interviews to select the recipients. The Scholarship has traditionally attracted the brightest and most talented leaders and scholar/athletes of the Senior Class.

Several fund-raising activities have been held over the years, including the long-standing Annual Rotary Pancake Breakfast at Gilford's Old Home Day. The goal has been to raise and conserve a substantial enough principal to fund a meaningful and truly helpful grant to each year's recipient(s). The current fund goal is $100,000.

Pet of the Week: Chance

CHANCE: so named by his original shelter, all the way down in South Carolina, this sturdily built canine travelled a very long way for his "second chance". Sadly overlooked, he's been waiting since June 1st for his lasting forever home.

Medium sized brown dog, just about 50lbs – he seems to have faded into the background of the adopting public's consciousness and after this length of time, as the prettier, more obviously purebred, and cute tiny puppies leave the building, he remains, forlorn and lonely.

We know he would be a good dog with some guidance away from the shelter. For some dogs it's just is too loud, too busy, to reactive for them to cope with the constant stream of visitors, and proximity of other canines.

Ideal home, Chance is actually afraid of cats! He may be able to enjoy the company of another dog at some point in his life, maybe a local canine playmate. We must be very clear, he has had no experience that has been positive with children and really needs an adults only home.

Please come and visit this sweet two-year-old Shepherd mix today and chat with one of our knowledgeable adoption staff. We really want to make the right match for him.

Shelter is open on Weekends, 11-4 and every day except Mondays and Wednesdays Noon to 5p.m Check www.nhhumane.org

If something has to go, it has to be the hornets

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

Editor's note: Mr. Harrigan is taking an extended hiatus, and was unable to submit a new column in time to meet our press deadline for this week's edition. The following column was originally published Aug. 13, 2015.

I was mowing around the edge of the garden the other day, very slowly on account of ever-emerging rocks and hit the top of a broken grade stake, the kind you pound into the ground to hold up your chicken fence, if you're numb enough to have chickens, when I felt, well, a presence, as if tiny little wings were buffeting the air all about me.

Little wings actually were doing just that, and drawing from bitter experience I ducked and shoved the speed lever to Fast Forward and got out of there, and looked back to see the air full of hornets, better known as ground hornets, the kind that erupt when something has vibrated the ground around their nest, that would be me, and attempt to sting it to death.

This was a hole in the ground in close proximity not only to the garden but also to the bird feeders, where I still put out tidbits like suet for my little and not so little feathered friends (I know, I know, bears, and no furrowed-brow calls to Audubon or Fish and Game, please), hang the laundry out not to just make my own totally insignificant yet feel-good contribution to the anti-global-warming effort but also to savor that great freshness when I take them in, tend the garden, and (yup) mow the lawn. Eschew the lawnmower and use goats or sheep, you say? Been there, done that, and even they are not dumb enough to like ground hornets.

Clearly, these hornets had to go, as in to Hornet Heaven. So, having ascertained from a safe distance, the actual hole from which this menace was still issuing, like so many fighter planes taking off from a carrier, I made a bee-line (sorry, couldn't help that) for my nearby shop, which contains everything to fix just about anything, including hay-rakes, wood-splitters, lawnmowers, and yes, ground hornets, this last in the form of one of those kill-the-hornets bombs that sprays a stream of stuff up to 20 feet and, for all I know, can kill not just hornets but the entire Klingon Evil Empire.

All this may seem overly decisive, action-oriented, thoughtless and, well, sort of final, I am, after all, I admit it, a guy, and clearly I should have taken this to a sensitivity committee or some-

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

Culture wars

By LARRY SCOTT

Even a quick survey of what is happening in America will demonstrate that our culture is out of step with the Christian faith. From abortion, to same-sex marriage, to transgender support, to the vilification of our faith within the school system, to the disintegration of the American home, Christians who refuse to go along with issues decidedly against their faith and who refuse to remain silent, are in deep trouble.

In the Jan. 9 issue of Christianity Today, several articles – "Bolivia Makes Evangelism a Crime," "The Religious Conflict at the Heart of our Culture Wars," "Why Chile's Churches Are Under Attack as Pope Francis Visits" – verify again the deep divide that exists between the Christian message and our society.

George Tanner, in an article published by Fox News on April 14, 2017, notes that, "A list generated by Open Doors USA, a non-profit organization focused on serving persecuted

Christians, has documented that "as many as 1,207 Christians were killed around the globe for faith-related reasons during the 2017 list's reporting period." Open Doors furthermore "documented a total of 1,329 churches attacked worldwide for faith related reasons."

What is going on? Christians – if they are consistent with their faith -- work hard, are faithful to their spouse, pay their taxes, are honest and trustworthy. They are good citizens. Why the an-tagonism? There are, I think three reasons.

First of all, the Christian faith runs counter to human nature. One friend during my teen-age years told me, "Scott, you must be a saint! You never have any fun!" A saint I am not, but I'm having the time of my life! Some of my closest friends like me but reject what I have to say, not for theological or philosophical views, but for personal reasons: they want to preserve their freedom to do what they want when they SEE STRATEGIES PAGE A12

FROM OUR READERS

The "Frugal Four" are seeking your support in the primary

To the Editor:

My name is Harry H. Bean, and I am proud to announce my candidacy for State Rep in District 2, Gilford and Meredith. I am the third of five generations of Beans named Harry. My family has lived at the same location on Saltmarsh Pond Road since 1842.

I have been married to Priscilla for almost 47 years, and have three grown children, eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren. We also have two cats and a great dane. Together, Priscilla and I have enjoyed traveling together over 150,000 miles on our Harley Ultra Classic over the last 10 years.

We started H & P Apartments, a rental business in Laconia, 45 years ago. With the help from my son Harry IV, my grandson Harry V and my daughter-in-law Tina, our business has prospered and has been recognized with a number of "Front Porch" awards from the city Laconia and the town of Gilford.

Priscilla and I are very involved in our community, and enjoy fundraising and helping local charities. I enjoy playing Santa with my wife for the kids in our community at the Laconia Elks and many, many surprise locations while cursing on our Harley in Central New Hampshire for the last 10 years. (Yes, in December, as long as there is no snow or ice on the roads.) We also have enjoyed helping prepare Christmas dinner for the First United Methodist Church for the past 20 years and the monthly meat raffle at the Laconia Elks for almost five years.

Through our arm-wrestling competitions, we have raised approximately $35,000 over the last 25 years and donated the money to various organizations like St. Jude, Make a Wish, St. Andres, St. Vincent, the Salvation Army and too many others to name.

Issues of concern, and my reasons for running for this office, are:

1. I want our vets to get the care they need, whether physical or psychological. They have given part of their lives to protect our nation, they deserve the best medical care, and to be treated with dignity.
2. Voter Integrity. Every citizen's right to vote must be protected, and the value of their vote must be protected against votes from people who aren't committed to our communities and state. In 2016, there were about 6,000 votes cast in New Hampshire that could not be connected to anyone who lives here.
3. Illegal immigrants. What part of 'illegal' isn't clear? It makes no sense to let criminal illegal aliens stay in our country.

I, along with Glen Aldrich, Rick Notkin, and Jonathan Mackie, are the "Frugal Four"; we are committed to responsible government spending and respecting your rights. We will do everything in our power to protect our American way of life based on the Constitutions of the United States of American and of this great State of New Hampshire.

You can contact me at 455-2993 or froggytourtaint@aol.com

We are asking for your votes in the Republican primary election in September.

*Harry H. Bean

Discover what lies inside “The Red House” on LRPA this weekend

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (Aug. 17 & 18) for our “LRPA After Dark” presentation of 1947’s psychological film noir “The Red House,” starring Edward G. Robinson, Judith Anderson, Allene Roberts and Lon McCallister.

“The Red House” introduces us to Pete Morgan (Robinson), a disabled farmer who lives on an isolated farm with his sister Ellen (Anderson) and Meg (Roberts), a teen that they adopted as an infant when her parents died. Pete is having trouble keeping up with the farm, so Meg’s classmate Nath Storm (McCallister) comes as a hired hand to help with the chores. Meg is delighted, as she has a crush on Nath, even though he has a girlfriend. The Morgan farm is surrounded by Ox Head Woods. Pete forbids the teens to enter the woods, and warns them of an abandoned building there known as The Red House. One night, Nath takes a shortcut through the woods, where someone knocks him out cold. As more strange events unfold, Nath and Meg become suspicious of Pete’s obsession with the woods and the Red House. They begin to ask questions and explore on their own, which fills Pete with unspeakable rage – and slowly drives him mad. Meg and Nath feel that their lives may be in danger; what might have happened at The Red House to turn Pete into such a jealous, unstable person?

“The Red House” has all the makings of a film noir classic: great stars (Robinson and Anderson), along with fantastic performances from the supporting cast (including a young Rory Calhoun and a gorgeous Julie London); a cool plot with psychological surprises; creepy music that sets the film’s tone, etc. So why hasn’t it become a cinematic classic? Some reviewers think it’s because the pacing of the plot is a bit slow, while others feel that it’s because the subject matter was, for its time, distasteful. “The Red House” was well received by critics, who thought that Robinson’s performance was very strong. This truly is a film that is not shown very often, so grab your popcorn and meet us after dark for this rare cinematic gem.

Pitman’s welcomes Katie Dobbins, Patrice Williamson Trio this weekend

LACONIA — Pitman’s Freight Room is pleased to announce the following events for this weekend:

Thursday, Aug. 16, 8 p.m., $20: Jazz featuring The Patrice Williamson Trio

A native of Memphis, Tenn., Williamson is a scintillating, soulful singer who swings hard and can scat with the best of them. She’s rightly been compared to Ella Fitzgerald and Sarah Vaughan in publications such as the Los Angeles Times and The All-Music Guide to Jazz.

A favorite of the Boston music scene, Williamson’s sensitive ballad work and fluent scat style have garnered invitations to perform at the Berklee Global Jazz Institute. As an Associate Professor of Voice, her work has taken her to Perugia, Italy, Seoul, South Korea, and India, where she performed with saxophonist Donald Harrison in the New Delhi Jazz Festival.

Katie Dobbins

Williamson is also passing on the love of jazz to others through her teaching. At the New School of Music in Cambridge (a community music school), she has a number of private students, and at Wellesley College, she leads a (popular) jazz vocal ensemble called Body & Soul. Doors open at 7:15 p.m., and we are a BYO Venue. For reservations, call 527-0043.

Friday, Aug. 17, 8 p.m., $20: Live music featuring Katie Dobbins

With a mastery of storytelling and the heart of a poet, Katie Dobbins captures elements of life and relationships in ways that lift spirits and challenge the soul.

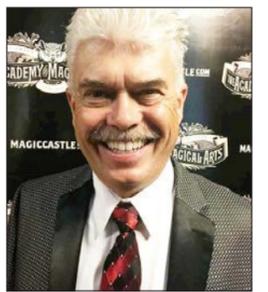

Her debut album, “She Is Free” (released 2017) was described by The Deli Magazine as “a deeply personal record that is full of reflective poetry and messages of love . . . bringing to mind Jewel’s ‘Pieces of You.’” The comforting texture of her voice accompanied by her beautiful guitar or piano creates a warm inviting atmosphere that leaves her listeners longing for more. Dobbins is currently recording her sophomore album, which will give fans a deeper look into Katie’s spirit and songwriting.

Opening for Dobbins is local musician Jack Polidoro Ph.D. (“The Good Dr. Jack”), a New Hampshire author, songwriter, singer, and performer of contemporary folk/easy listening popular music. Dr. Jack accompanies himself on six- and 12-string guitars and has been performing in the New England area for about 30 years. Doors open at 7 p.m., and we are a BYO Venue. For reservations, call 527-0043.

Tall Granite Big Band returns to Pitman’s Aug. 25

LACONIA — On Saturday, Aug. 25, at 7 p.m., Pitman’s Freight Room, located on New Salem Street, will host a Swing Dance with the Tall Granite Big Band.

From the syncopated heart of New Hampshire, the Tall Granite Big Band carries on its Swing tradition Texas style! This 18-member band has its roots in Texas with music collected over seven decades by the late Houston bandleader Johnny Dyson. The Dyson band’s early repertoire included classics from Glenn Miller, Count Basie, Perez Prado, Duke Ellington, Harry James, and other greats. But Dyson also worked closely with Texas arrangers including Don Elam and Fred Baetge, and over time his bands acquired unique material reflecting the vital “Third Coast” culture and its Blues and Latin influences, which help distinguish Tall Granite today.

Today, our members are drawn from around the Granite State and our focus – as it was in Dyson’s day – remains on dancing! Our Pitman’s Dance Nights typically are prefaced with a complimentary Swing dance lesson from area instructors to help everyone acquire or brush up their moves! So if you’re done with dueling banjos or screaming guitars, grab your two-tone shoes, slick back that hair, join us at the excellent Pitman’s Freight Room and swing and sway or just relax to the Tall Granite Big Band’s smoky horns and unique sound!

There will be a free dance 7 – 8 p.m. Doors open at 6 p.m. For reservations, call 527-0043 or visit www.pitmans-freightroom.com.

Frank was born April 12, 1922, to parents Victor DeNauw and Claire (Thibodeau) DeNauw in Manchester and spent his youth there. He met and married Marcelle (Trotter) DeNauw, also of Manchester, in 1939. When WWII broke out he joined the Naval Reserve and they moved to Pensacola, Fla. In the Navy, he flew as an Aviation Machinist's Mate First Class on a Catalina PBY patrol plane. Soon they added the Fish Dish drive-in restaurant to the market (where the 405 Pub is now located) Frank and his brother Victor DeNauw, Jr. took over the business and later remodeled the drive-in and opened it as DeNauw's Restaurant which became a well-known and loved restaurant in this area for many years. They opened three more DeNauw's Restaurants in Concord, Manchester and Nashua.

Shortly after that he and his wife moved to New Smyrna Beach, Florida, where they lived happily for many years until for health reasons they moved back to Laconia and family.

While growing up in Manchester, Frank caddied at the Manchester Country Club where he learned to play and love the game of golf for the rest of his life. He was well known in Laconia for his game and won many tournaments and championships. He even made the news in New Smyrna Beach for still playing golf at the age of 90.

Frank was a wonderful friend to have and will be missed by many.

Roger James Donahue, Jr., 72

GILFORD — James Donahue, Jr., 72, of Sagamore Road, passed away peacefully at home on Friday, Aug. 3, 2018.

Roger was born on March 12, 1946 in Salem, Mass., the son of Roger James Donahue, Sr. and Ruth (Peterson) Donahue. He spent most of his life living on the North Shore in the Beverly/Danvers area of Massachusetts. He served honorably in the United States Air Force during the Vietnam War.

Roger, who was affectionately known to all as "Jim," was a manager for Home Depot for several years. He was also a board member and an active role model at the Piers Park Sailing Center. Jim was very active in getting both disabled veterans and children back out on the water to give them a sense of freedom that they had been missing in their lives. Sailing was his absolute passion! He began sailing in his younger days and after working for UPS for a time, he left his job to explore the country by doing sailboat deliveries and bare boat charters all over the world. Jim thoroughly enjoyed working on and restoring sailboats. He also loved baseball and spent a large amount of time volunteering with his son's little league teams. Family was very important to him and he loved spending time with them, most especially his two children who are and have always been his proudest accomplishment. Watching his children grow and participating and supporting their efforts were a tremendous source of pride and joy for him.

Bowen; brother Robert Donahue and his wife, Pamela; sister Elizabeth Donahue; and several nephews and nieces.

William H. Phillips, Jr., 92

William was born on March 20, 1926 in Boston, Mass., to the late William Sr. and Olive (Beaulieu) Phillips. He was raised and educated in Hingham, Mass. In his yearbook, was the prescient inscription: "Life is long, why not I."

William was a World War II combat veteran, serving in the European Theater with the 83rd Infantry Division. He retired from the US Army with the rank of Sergeant Major. Mr. Phillips also retired from the Hingham Police Department after 35 years of service. He was assigned as a Safety Officer for 12 years, and helped reorganize and supervise safety patrols in all of Hingham's elementary schools and St. Paul's Parochial School. In 1982, William organized Hingham Police's first Traffic Division under the direction of Chief Wm. Schmitt and Captain F. Krause. He also served on the Hingham Traffic Committee for 20 years, spending 7 of those years as chairman. William was past president of the Massachusetts Safety Officers League, past president of the South Shore Safety Officers, and past president of the Hingham Police Association.

During his Hingham years William balanced his work as a Hingham Police Officer, his commitments to the US Army Reserve, and continual home renovations.

After his retirement in 1986, William moved to Gilford, where he was elected to and served on the Gilford Budget Committee from 1999 to 2009. He also found time for researching his genealogy; rooting for the Patriots; and taking grandchildren to Boston plays, the US Military Academy at West Point, and Washington, D.C. In his 80's, William was able to drive on cross country trips to Ohio, Kansas City, Oklahoma, and Texas and fly to Alaska as he visited grandchildren and members of the 83rd Infantry.

Phillips and his wife, Michelle of Attleboro, Mass.; a daughter-in-law, Dolores Phillips; a brother, John J. ## Re-visit the "Steamboats of Winnepesaukee" with Winni Historical Society

LACONIA — The Lake Winnepesaukee Museum will host David Warren and his program "Steamboats of Winnepesaukee" on Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 7 p.m.

David Warren is a local historian and master model builder who has created a number of detailed scale models of steamboats that are on display at museums around the Lakes Region, including the Wright Museum of World War II, the Libby Museum, and the New Hampshire Boat Museum in Wolfeboro. Recently Warren finished his latest creation - a scale model of the first tourist steamboat The

David Warren

James Bell - which is now on display at the Lake Winnepesaukee Museum, along with his models of the Governor Endicott, the Chateaugay, the SS Mt. Washington II, and the mailboat Uncle Sam.

In his presentation, Warren will demonstrate his enthusiasm for the steamboat era on Lake Winnepesaukee and take the audience on a journey back in time to the early days of lake transportation. We will visit with folks who lived in the Wawbeek community in Melvin Village, and go for an exciting ride with an inebriated captain. We will meet Henry Libby, the founder of Libby Museum in Wolfeboro, and find out about what the Goose had to say about folks who chartered his boat the West Wind. If you have a story of your own, you are encouraged to share it with other attendees at the presentation.

Programs focusing on Lakes Region and New Hampshire history are held at the Lake Winnepesaukee Museum throughout the summer season. The museum, open to the public Wednesday - Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., is located on Route 3 in Weirs Beach, next to Funspot. This event is free for Lake Winnepesaukee Historical Society members, and for non-members there is a $5 fee. Seating is limited, so please reserve your seats by email to lakewinnepesaukeemuseum@gmail.org or by phone to 366-5950.

where hopelessness persists."

Gilford woman claims dismissive treatment by local state rep

BY NANCY WEST
InDepthNH.org

GILFORD — Melissa Sullivan was hoping to garner support from an elected official to oppose sending mentally ill individuals to the Secure Psychiatric Unit at the men's prison when she emailed Rep. Marc Abear, but said his response was both shockingly inaccurate and insulting.

Sullivan, of Gilford, said Abear called her naive and indicated she didn't know what she was talking about in his response Aug. 5. Abear, a Republican from Meredith, made excuses for the practice of locking up civilly committed people at the prison psych unit and made statements that were simply untrue, Sullivan said.

"I was so shocked. At worse, I thought he would say he had a different opinion. I didn't expect to be called naive or chastised. I really felt he was being a bully," Sullivan said in a phone interview, adding she has first-hand experience visiting her brother, Kasey Riley, who was civilly committed to the unit after being deemed not competent to stand trial in the murder of his roommate five years ago.

Reached by phone Wednesday, Abear laughed at Sullivan's description of his email coming across as bullying. He said it was Sullivan's email that seemed aggressive and confrontational.

It appeared to blame him for the state's policy of housing civilly committed patients at the Secure Psychiatric Unit when they are considered too dangerous to themselves and others to be housed in the New Hampshire Hospital, the state's psychiatric facility, Abear said.

A survey conducted by InDepthNH.org two years ago with a Fund for Investigative Journalism grant revealed that New Hampshire is the only state to incarcerate civilly committed mentally ill patients who haven't committed a crime with convicted criminals who are mentally ill.

"Gee, I'm sorry. That was not my intention at all," Abear said. "I do think she misunderstood me, and she didn't reach back."

Sullivan did, in fact respond to Abear's email, but he said he didn't get it, or if he did, hadn't read it.

Abear said he would be happy to meet with Sullivan to discuss it further, but added he isn't running for re-election, and so will not have a voice in any legislation during the next session. He isn't running again because he has Stage 3 cancer, he said.

"The situation was created by the state a long time ago, and she was pretty aggressive in her assertion that something needed to change because she thinks it should be changed," Abear said.

In her first email to Abear, Sullivan didn't mention that she has a Master's degree in social work, or that she and her family have visited her civilly committed brother at the Secure Psychiatric Unit every weekend for the past five years.

"I write to express my disturbance over the State of New Hampshire's continued practice of sending people with serious mental illnesses who may be a danger to themselves or to others directly to a Secure Psychiatric Unit within the confines of New Hampshire State Prison for Men," Sullivan wrote to Abear.

Sullivan went on to quote from a recent article on the Marshall Project's Web site that said "men and women who have not been charged with a crime are dressed in prison jumpsuits, photographed and held in isolation up to 23 hours a day."

"They are guarded by state corrections officers, and can be shocked or held in four-point restraint — strapped to a bed by their arms and legs — if they refuse medication, relatives say," the Marshall Project article continues.

Sullivan told Abear, "The practice of imprisoning innocent would-be patients is an obvious denial of an individual's rights and liberties. It is also inhumane."

In his email response, Abear told Sullivan "Your outrage is apparent. Your grasp of what is required to deal with these people is naive in the extreme."

The Secure Psychiatric Unit has its own entrance and staff and the mentally ill people housed in the unit would require security wherever they are held, he wrote. The unit, referred to as SPU, does not commingle with the general population of the prison, he said.

"Third, as you put it, the residents of SPU are people with serious mental illnesses who may be a danger to themselves or to others directly. They must be isolated somewhere for the safety of the general public," Abear wrote.

"Have you taken the time to visit the facility you criticize? I have been (to) SPU enough times to understand your outrage is baseless," Abear said.

He explained, "The residents of SPU are dressed in a specifically colored jump suit to identify them. That provides them protection and alerts staff to unintended events in progress. It has been scientifically determined that taking pictures of people sane or insane does them little harm and will be of great use in assisting their recommittal in the event of an inadvertent release. No one in SPU is held in isolation 23 hours a day unless by direction of the medical staff."

"The security force works at the direction of the medical staff. What you assert would be malpractice," Abear wrote.

Abear is retired, and formerly worked as a corrections officer at the state prison's Laconia facility before it closed. He said he wouldn't discuss his prior employment.

Advocacy groups are to blame for fueling the debate in New Hampshire about commingling populations at SPU, he said, because they will benefit financially.

"I don't have a solution. I haven't really studied it," he said.

"It's the people writing reports that have a dog in the fight and benefit monetarily."

Rep. Renny Cushing, D-Hampton, offered his take on Abear in an email to Sullivan.

"Unfortunately, voters elect people to the legislature who fit the same profile as Rep. Abear—candidates/office holders who take the Pledge to not spend any money on anything," Cushing said. "Responsibility for the SPU and the way we treat people with mental illnesses in our state lies with our legislature. Responsibility for the legislature lies with the voters of our state."

Cushing has been pushing for years to prohibit incarcerating people who haven't been convicted of a crime in the men's prison because they are mentally ill. He expects more support during the next session as Sen. Kevin Avard, R-Nashua, and others are intent on stopping the practice.

Sullivan's brother, Kasey Riley, 26, was accused of second-degree murder in the death of his roommate, Zachary March, by strangling him in Laconia when Riley was 19. Riley was deemed not competent to stand trial and civilly committed to the Secure Psychiatric Unit.

Sullivan said her parents adopted Riley as an infant and he has been treated for mental illness for most of his life. Riley had just been released from the New Hampshire Hospital a few days before the want. God is simply not welcome.

STRATEGIES

In light of our world view, it is little wonder that we are driven to share our experience with others. I know I often come across as arrogant or as a smart-mouth and I have found it abominably difficult to counter that image. Please understand, however: if you believed what I believe you'd be out front sounding off just as I.

Finally, what we see happening in our culture – as noted above – we see as devastating to the future of America and the preservation of our society. The family, to me the focus of divine activity since the time of Abraham, is being destroyed. Divorce, abortion, gay marriage, single-parent homes, all relate back to the home, and it is having a horrendous impact on our children. Who would have thought the day would come when a boy couldn't decide whether he was a boy ... or a girl? You have to be kidding!

To us there is but one answer: America needs to get back to God. The message of the Christian faith – the reality of sin, the need of forgiveness, and the demand to accept God's authority, is a message far too many don't want to hear. And to think that God's gift of eternal life is free for the taking, There is available to each of us a quality of life that cannot be found in wealth, power, or pleasure; it is found only in Jesus Christ.

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarryscott@gmail.com.

an American citizen more than 40 years ago. Her art has influences from North America, Europe and South America. She has lived in Florida for more than 20 years, and resides in Gilford during the summers, where her son and daughter-in-law live.

DiLorenzo and her husband resided in Vermont and New York for more than 25 years prior to retiring to Florida. Art and Art studies have been a part of her life as far back as she can remember. She has many fond memories of drawing as a child on her family's orchard in Villa Regina, Argentina.

While living in France, she took courses at the famous art school of Fontainebleau and also taught art classes at their high school. She still enjoys teaching workshops in water media occasionally. Over the years, she has participated in many different workshops by both American and foreign artists. Some of her favorites include Tom Jones and Lian Quan Zhen.

The presentation should be of particular interest to both artists who like to learn painting new methods and techniques as well as others who appreciate art. The demonstration is free and open to the public. There will

"There are a number of other factual points that you have misstated and I are still putting glass in the same containers as other recyclables. He went to the recycling center that day, saying when the workers there get busy he will help push the recyclable material into the bins.

"I was dismayed the amount of glass in those, 20 yards is stunning," Grenier said.

He said he was seeing buckets of glass dumped in there when they have separate bins now available right beside them just for glass.

Grenier said if people are unable to separate out their glass they should dispose of it with the rest of their household waste and not put it with the rest of the recyclables.

Board chair Gus Benavides asked if they should put additional signs out there. Grenier said they could also hand out flyers.

"It was dismaying to see that a many bottles out there," Grenier said.

Public Works Director Jason Hayden said he has seen an attendant in the different recycling centers, something he said they have had on the back burner in Gilford.

"I was amazed on the glass," Hayden said. "It's going to take somebody whose there who's going to have to direct people."

Grenier said with the new recycling center being constructed and anticipated to be done by next year, this is a problem that will take care of itself.

Hayden said they will put some signs out there telling people to separate their glass. Grenier said there is already a huge sign on the bins saying "No Cardboard" and he would like to see the same thing advising about glass.

There are probably horrendous environmental fallouts to both and/or other methods, but I don't exactly see any

Save the Hornets activists rushing to the fore here.

By the way, if anyone reading this has a wasp's nest (a sort of similar yet totally different situation, in the Cause/Effect sense) artfully constructed above, say, a seasonal door, the kind you fling open to enjoy the mid-summer breezes only to be attacked by squadrons of wasps, I recommend the Safe Distance Spray and making among others. "We look forward to another good school year ad having an excellent summer after that," Thompson said. Thompson said it's hard to believe the library is now 10-years-old. "The building still feels like it's new, it's an awesome space, it makes a lot of things possible," Thompson said.

then the rehearsal schedule has been spread out a few nights a week. Demko said this is meant to allow for kids to take vacations with their families and take part in other shows and camps along with being able to work with Streetcar.

Demko said since the parts are spread around the production, it wouldn't be a major problem if a few of the performers were away at any time.

Demko said the show has had an older cast with the performers range in age from students entering seventh grade to those in high school. Demko said he has already worked with at least 15 of the 18 kids in other productions in Gilford schools, Streetcar, RB Productions Theater Company in Concord, One Light Theatre Company in Tilton, and others. He said it has been great working with all of the performers.

"These kids are amazing to work with," Demko said. "Some are traveling pretty long distances. They've bonded really well together."

Demko said this show has truly been done as an ensemble effort. Three of the performers are also doing the choreography and a few are working on costumes.

ERIN PLUMMER

Demko said they aimed to keep the set simple and not require multiple changes and Demko and Peter Ayer of Thornton found different set elements from different places. The trees came from the Gilford Middle School production of "Peter Pan," and Ayer found the castle from the church's madrigal show. Ayer said the stage itself came from a production of "Alice in Wonderland" that had been painted multiple colors in a painting party. Most of the costumes also came from Gilford.

"It really does feel like we all just worked together," Demko said.

Ryder Fisk of Concord played Cinderella's Prince. Fisk described the Prince as "egotistical," though his love for Cinderella increases everyday that he can't find her after the festival.

Fisk attends Rundlett Middle School and has done different shows in the Concord area, including with RB Productions. This is his first time working with Streetcar.

"It's definitely a new experience, I really like it," Fisk said.

Olivia Mills of Tilton plays the ghost of Cinderella's mother who lives in a tree and helps her get ready for the festival. Mills also plays the Steward to Cinderella's Prince. She said her character is "very snooty," like he is important because he is with the prince.

This is her fifth year with Streetcar, she has also done productions with her school, Winnisquam Regional High School, and One Light Theatre.

Griffen Plourde of Gilmanton plays the Wolf.

"He's kind of greasy and weird and someone you don't want to be around," Plourde said.

He will also play one of the wicked stepsisters as well. "I love it, I think this is my seventh or eighth show," Plourde said.

He also does theater with his school, Gilford High School.

"Into the Woods" will take the stage at the First Methodist Church of Gilford on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 17 and 18, at 7 p.m. and on Sunday, Aug. 19, at 3 p.m. Tickets are available at Greenlaw's Music in Laconia, at the door, and online at <https://www.streetcar-company.com>.

Gilford senior finding success in motocross

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Gilford High School senior Devin Farrell has loved motorsports his entire life and for the past year-and-a-half he has followed his dream of racing motocross and most recently walked away with a pair of first place finishes in Youth C and 250 C divisions.

Farrell began racing in March 2017 with New England Motocross (NEMX), riding a Kawasaki KX250F.

"It is personal preference," Farrell said. "I love Kawasakis."

He won the championship for the Youth C class during the spring series and was awarded the Ironman Award for competing and finishing every race with NEMX. In fall of 2017 he placed second in the championship for Youth Class C and was also won the Ironman Award. He came in fifth place in the 250 C class.

He is now in his second year racing with NEMX and has also decided to race with Winchester Speed Park wearing the number 188. On July 14 he wrapped up the 2018 Spring Series and took first place in the Youth C and 25 C divisions. These great results have picked up sponsors including Seven-mx, Dunlop, Acerbis, Mobius, Spy, and Bell.

Farrell explained that he is now in the fall series and his goal is to place high in the C Classes and hopefully bump up to the B Class.

"While keeping two summer jobs, he remains focused and driven to achieve his goals within the sport, and not choosing the normal path of settling for something other than his dream," said Farrell's mother, Sandy.

Farrell explained that since he was about three-years-old he has been interested in riding dirt bikes and snowmobiles. He actually raced snowmobiles from age three to five.

"I raced dirt bikes twice when I was like 10 years old and after that it is all I wanted to do," said Farrell.

Farrell said while his father always had snowmobiles and bikes, he is the only person in his family to go the route of competitive racing.

"Being competitive is huge," Farrell said. "You don't have to rely on anyone else with this. It's just you out there. You try to prove yourself and improve every lap and every race."

Farrell competitively races at tracks all over New England and said once the winter hits travels to other tracks down south to train in places like the clay tracks of Georgia. He said MX207 in Lyman, Maine is a lot of fun because there are plenty of jumps. He also races at MX338 in Southwick, Mass., Capeway Rovers in Middleboro, Mass., WSP MX in Winchester, Heman's MX in Minot, Maine, NHMX in Lempster.

Back in May, Farrell made it through the area qualifier at MX207 to earn a spot at the regional qualifier in New Berlin, N.Y. for Loretta Lynn's Amateur National Motocross Championship. This is one of the most prestigious amateur races in the country.

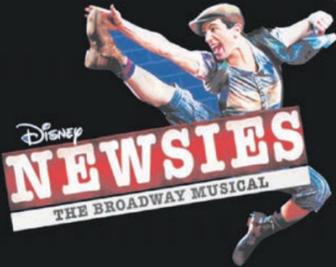

Farrell said this is fairly unique in Gilford, but he has friends who come and cheer him on at races. He said his parents have been very supportive, as well.

"They are always there," Farrell said. "My dad helps me with ev-

Morea makes collegiate swimming plans

BY BOB MARTIN

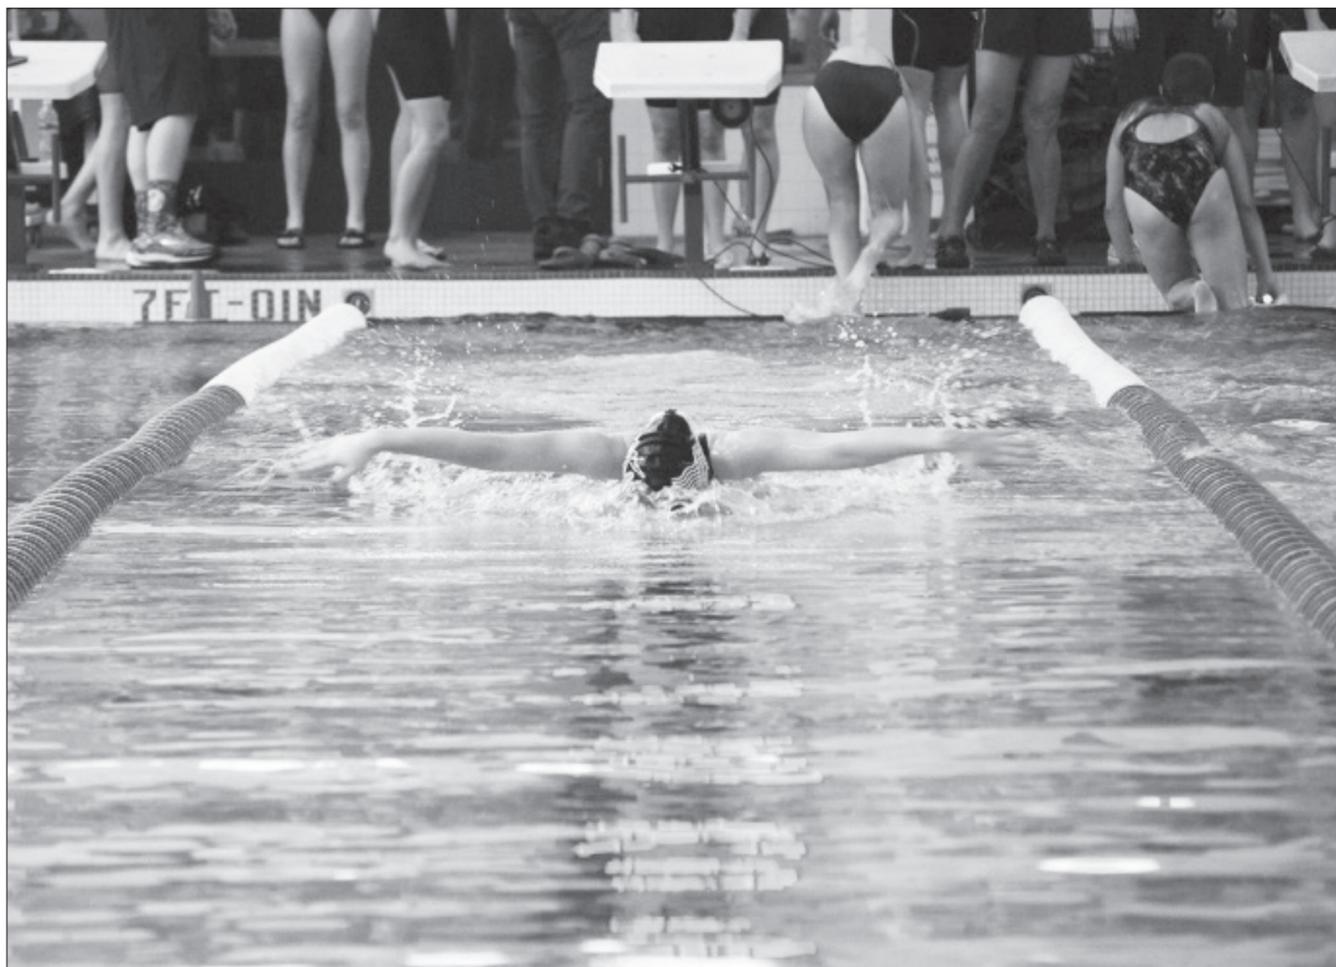

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Olivia Morea was a rock for the Gilford High School swim team for the past four years and now she will be continuing her swimming career at Alfred College in New York, which she will be attending in the fall.

Morea started competitive swimming when she was six years old for the Lakes Region Wavemakers. She swam for the team for 12 years and stayed on the club team all throughout high school while also swimming for Gilford for all four years.

During her time at Gilford High School she received an award for sportsmanship, as well as the Golden Eagle Award. Looking back at her career, she said she was very proud of her work with the girls' relay teams. She said she also had steady improvements with her 50-yard freestyle swim and 100-yard butterfly. Her favorite race is the butterfly, which is what she was recruited for at Alfred College.

Throughout the summer, Morea has been training vigorously. She said when she arrives at Alfred College there will be weight training, flexibility training and other out of pool training. Morea knows what it takes to be a great swimmer as she has competed for most of her life, but she acknowledged that the jump from high school to collegiate swimming is nothing to be scoffed at.

Morea said she is looking forward to the next step in her life, but added that she will remember her time at Gilford High School fondly.

"I will definitely miss the people," Morea said. "I'll miss the comfort zone, but that is part of the joy of the college team. They will push me outside of what I do know."

Morea was recruited by Alfred College, but she also looked at several other schools in Florida and the Carolinas. She ended up choosing Alfred College for the swim team.

It is a small Division 3 school with about 40 students on the team. Morea said when she first arrived she did an interview with the coach, where he asked her questions about his swimming and she was able to ask questions about the team.

After the interview, Morea stayed on campus with a girl on the swim team. She was able to get a good idea of the culture of the campus and the swim team.

"It's not as much of a team as it is a family," Morea said. "Everyone is very close. Even right when I got there everyone was very welcoming. They made me feel like I was a part of the team as soon as I got there. That, to me, was very important."

Morea did her recruit trip in February and since then the team has given her updates through post cards and other correspondence.

While swimming is a major part of why Morea is heading to Alfred College, she is also focused on her studies. Morea is majoring in studio art and minoring in art history. In the long run she hopes to be a museum curator.

As for swimming goals, she hopes to continue to improve her times and focus on becoming a better butterfly swimmer.

She moves in on Aug. 20 and she said she couldn't be happier to get going.

"I'm the only one from Gilford going to Alfred College, but I am ready for this," said Morea. "The team is so welcoming and I am looking forward to joining them."

everything mechanic-wise and they are always helping any way they can."

Farrell said coming up next is a big race for him at MX207 in September with Racer X magazine.

"That is a big turnout every year," Farrell said. "It should be great."

Sportsmen's Association hosting open house, pig roast

GILFORD — The entire Lakes Region is invited to an open house as the Belknap County Sportsmen's Association celebrates the completion of the purchase of the land that the clubhouse has sat on for 30 years. The BCSA completed the purchase of the land from the city of Laconia and the Laconia Airport Authority during 2017. The purchase was made possible by the donations made to the tax-deductible Belknap County Sportsmen's Charitable Fund, which so far has raised more than $110,000 toward their goal of $250,000.

Members and the Lakes Region Community at large are all invited to this celebration on Aug. 18. They will have information tables staffed from 12 to 1 p.m. explaining the programs and events that have been carried on since the club's beginning in 1931, programs such as kids' fishing derby, hunter safety course, Becoming An Outdoors Women, hiking the Belknap Range, Barry Camp in Berlin, to name a few. Walk the 3D target archery range and see the rifle and pistol range. Tour the clubhouse itself, which is available for rent, seats more than 120 for weddings, reunions, and family gatherings and is equipped with a full kitchen.

If you have an interest in joining the club a table will be set up to take applications and do range orientation that day so you can immediately get your range card.

If you are already a member and want to be more involved with the club by serving on a committee, talk to any of the directors. They can always use additional help.

They will have a 50/50 raffle and apparel for sale.

At 1 p.m. they will be serving lunch which will be a pig roast and include cornbread, baked beans, corn on the cob, coleslaw, dessert, water and soft drinks. Tickets can be obtained from Kathy at 267-6947.

Locals help Cannons wrap up successful baseball season

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

CONCORD — The Concord Cannons wrapped up the summer baseball season with a 28-3 record, and the players from the Lakes Region did big things all season to lead the team.

“The Lakes Region guys were instrumental in the success of the team,” said coach Eric Duquette, who also coaches baseball at Gilford High School.

The Cannons finished the season in the Blue Chip Invitational at Diamond Nation in New Jersey, where 68 of the top U16 teams on the east coast played each other. Duquette was pleased with the team’s play, saying it was a very successful week.

The Cannons opened with a 5-2 win over South Jersey Young Guns. Alex Rives, a Gilford resident and a player for New Hampton School, was the winning pitcher, throwing five and two thirds innings allowing two earned runs on six hits. Leading the offense was Cam Magerer of Belmont, who had a pair of RBIs. Griffin Embree, also of Belmont, shut the door for a save.

The next game was a 14-0 blowout win over the New Jersey Bulls. Gilford’s Isaac Wallace threw five shut out innings allowing only three hits. The Cannons had 14 hits on the day and were led by Laconia’s Nicholas Ritchie with three hits. Rives pitched in with a pair of hits, as well.

Adrian Siravo of Gilford took the hill in the next game against nationally ranked East Coast Lumberjacks. Siravo, who according to Duquette has committed to UConn, did not disappoint with six innings allowing three hits and seven strikeouts. With the game tied 2-2 with two outs, Wallace knocked a game winning single with two strikes on him to win 3-2.

The last game was also against a nationally ranked team in the Diamond Jacks Super 16s, with the Cannons losing 7-1. The team went on to win the tournament. While it was a loss for the Cannons, Duquette said Embree pitched well in defeat.

The end of the season stats don’t lie, with the Lakes Region players putting up some impressive numbers. Siravo posted a .463 batting average with 38 hits and 22 RBIs. He was also 5-0 on the mound with 86 strikeouts in 44 innings.

Wallace had a .288 batting average with 20 RBIs. He was also a stud on the hill, with a 5-0 record and a 1.75 ERA. Catcher T.J. Carmilia of Gilford had a .283 batting average and a .421 on base percentage.

Embree had a 5-1 record with a 2.82 ERA and 56 strikeouts for the Cannons. Magerer, who split time at catcher and played all over the diamond, had a .299 batting average with 20 hits and 16 RBIs.

Rives batted .320 with 24 hits on the season. He was also 7-1 with a 2.58 ERA. Noah Bolduc of the New Hampton School had a .295 batting average with 10 RBIs. Ritchie, who goes to Concord Christian but hails from Laconia, had a solid season at second base making only two errors. He also hit .333 with 25 hits and six doubles.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Financial Tips for Alzheimer’s Caregivers

If you are, or will be, a caregiver for elderly parents or another close family member living with Alzheimer’s disease, you may experience some emotional stress – but you also need to be aware of the financial issues involved and what actions you can take to help address them.

You will find few “off the rack” solutions for dealing with the financial challenges associated with Alzheimer’s. For one thing, family situations can vary greatly, both in terms of the financial resources available and in the availability and capabilities of potential caregivers. Furthermore, depending on the stage of the disease, people living with Alzheimer’s may have a range of cognitive abilities, which will affect the level of care needed.

Here are some general suggestions that may be useful to you in your role as caregiver:

Consult with family members and close friends. It’s extremely hard to be a solo caregiver. By consulting with other family members or close friends, you may find that some of them have the time and ability to help.

Consider obtaining durable power of attorney. If you possess a durable power of attorney for finances, you can make financial decisions for the person with Alzheimer’s when he or she is no longer able. With this authority, you can help the individual living with the disease – and your entire family – avoid court actions that can take away control of financial affairs. And on a short-term basis, having durable power of attorney can help you take additional steps if needed. You’ll find it much easier to acquire durable power of attorney when the individual living with Alzheimer’s is still in the early stage of the disease and can willingly and knowingly grant you this authority.

Gather all necessary documents. You’ll be in a better position to help the individual living with Alzheimer’s if you have all the important financial documents – bank statements, insurance policies, wills, Social Security payment information, deeds, etc. – in one place.

Get professional help. You may want to consult with an attorney, who can advise you on establishing appropriate arrangements, such as a living trust, which provides instructions about the estate of the person for whom you’re providing care and names a trustee to hold title to property and funds for the beneficiaries. You also might want to meet with a financial advisor, who can help identify potential resources and money-saving services. And a tax professional may be able to help you find tax deductions connected to your role as caregiver.

Finally, use your experience as a caregiver to reminder yourself of the importance of planning for your own needs. For example, a financial professional can suggest ways of preparing for the potentially huge costs of long-term care, such as those arising from an extended stay in a nursing home.

Caring for an individual living with Alzheimer’s has its challenges. But by taking the appropriate steps, you can reduce uncertainties – and possibly give yourself and your family members a greater sense of security and control.

NHMS offering weather guarantee

LOUDON — To ease weather-related worries about buying NASCAR race tickets, Speedway Motorsports, Inc. announced a Fans First initiative that will have fans 'singing in the rain.'

The Speedway Motorsports Weather Guarantee provides race fans the ultimate assurance in their NASCAR ticket investment. As part of the company's new weather policy, if a NASCAR race is postponed due to weather and the ticket holder is unable to attend on the rescheduled date, a ticket credit can be issued toward a qualifying NASCAR race at any Speedway Motorsports venue. This initiative is valid for Atlanta Motor Speedway, Bristol Motor Speedway, Charlotte Motor Speedway, Kentucky Speedway, Las Vegas Motor Speedway, New Hampshire Motor Speedway, Sonoma Raceway and Texas Motor Speedway. "Of all major professional sports, none is as heavily impacted by adverse weather as NASCAR," said Speedway Motorsports' President and CEO Marcus Smith. "With drivers already racing on the very edge at nearly 200 mph, even a little rain can have a dramatic impact on race weekend schedules. What we want to do is take weather out of the ticket-buying equation so fans can focus on having a great time and making memories on our premier NASCAR event weekends." Fans with an unused, eligible ticket will have 60 days from the original race date to request a ticket credit on a qualifying future event. The credit must be used toward another Speedway Motorsports' NASCAR event within one calendar year of the original race date or the same event the following year, even if it takes place beyond the one-year mark. Certain restrictions may apply. Visit speedwaymotorsports.com for more information. The July and September NASCAR weekends, starting with this year's Full Throttle Fall Weekend (Sept. 21-22), at New Hampshire Motor Speedway are eligible for the SMI Weather Guarantee.
