Community fun and tradition during Gilford Old Home Day

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Thousands of people from multiple generations gathered for a day of fun, music, food, games, and community celebration during Gilford's 98th annual Old Home Day.

With the theme of "Small Town America," Old Home Day took place on Saturday from the early morning until later in the evening a host of activities took place all throughout the village. The center of activity was on the Gilford Village Field where craft and food vendors set up and games and performances took place. The day started with the Gilford Rotary Pancake Breakfast and the Gunstock Nordic Association's 5K. At 10 a.m., the parade went through the village, Home Day was dedicated to the Gilford Community Band, who held a concert on the bandstand in the evening. The day ended with fireworks and a DJ dance.

By Saturday afternoon Parks and Recreation Director Herb Greene said Old Home Day was going excellently with high attendance. The warm, sunny weather was a major benefit for the event.

Greene said the Old Home Day Committee started planning this year's event last October following a wrap-up of Old Home Day 2016. Different groups took care of different aspects of the event.

Greene said this is already a big event for his department and he has a wonderful committee, "which is a big weight off my shoulders."

He said a lot of volunteer efforts go into making Old Home Day possible.

Freshman Jumpstart introduces GHS to new students

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Before entering Gilford High School, incoming freshmen had the chance to tour the school, get to know their classmates and teachers, and meet some upper-classmen helpers during Freshman Jumpstart.

On Wednesday incoming freshmen came to the school, met their advisories and their teachers, and did activities as part of their advisories. Students received tours of the school and their first schedules.

Freshman Jumpstart has been an annual tradition for around seven years.

"It's a way for us to get to know them and to get

The students did a number of activities including making a coat of arms for each of their advisories, a scavenger hunt, learning how to build their high school resumes, and more.

Groups, businesses, families, individuals, and so many others entered their variety of floats and marchers in Gilford Old Home Day's parade.

On Saturday morning, marchers started at town hall and continued down Cherry Valley Road and into the village. A panel of judges reviewed each display, especially how it went with the theme of "Small Town America." The awards were announced during opening ceremonies.

The Grand Prize went to Gilford Cal Ripken Baseball for its "Field of Dreams" themed float.

"We're pretty excited about it," said Gilford Cal Ripken Vice President and coach Mike Giovanditto.

This was the team's first year taking part in the parade based on a suggestion during a board meeting. Board member Kali Giovanditto suggested doing "Field of Dreams" as a

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS

Library Correspondent

It's hot! What a relief that we don't have to heat our homes year round, because, frankly, it's expensive and a lot of work. Now we can relax, lie back, and just think about the future. The cold, cold future. It's weird to think about it in this heat, but we know that it is going to get so cold. Winter is coming. If only there was a way to prepare now to help reduce the cost of heating our homes and reducing the work of carrying wood.

Yes, you have caught on; there is a way! Button up! Plug the holes, line the windows with plastic, consider alternative clean fuel sources. A lot of energy and money can be saved easily by making our homes more efficient. I know that I don't want to be heading out into the cold trying to treat my windows, so why not get a jump start and do some winterization prep while the weather is fair?

You can learn all about buttoning up in a workshop sponsored by NHSAVES. Gil Richardson of New Hampshire Sustainable Energy Association will share tips and tricks on how to improve the energy efficiency of our homes, such as weatherization, energy audits, and rebates. The program is totally free and open to the public (we are trying to save money after all).

Weatherization is a catch all term for getting your home ready to reduce waste energy whenever it isn't 70 degrees and mild. Ever feel like you are heating the whole state when you feel a draft? The workshop will help to keep your heat in. If you don't know where to start with increasing efficiency, having an energy audit will show you the variety of things in your home that can be improved (there is always something to do). Even if you are a pro at energy conservation, you can learn about the NHSAVES rebates so that you can get compensated for reducing waste and helping the environment.

Bench dedicated to volunteers to be placed at Glendale

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.com

A granite bench will be installed at the Glendale docks in honor of four prominent volunteers from Lockes Island.

Last Wednesday, the board of selectmen approved a proposal by Lockes Island residents to install a bench dedicated to the Pangburn's and Dean's for their years of community service. The matter first came to the board at the previous meeting with some selectmen voicing concerns about setting a precedent. On Wednesday a number of island residents came to the meeting to advocate for the bench.

Priscilla Sutcliffe spoke to the board representing the Lockes Island Association asking for permission to donate a bench to Glendale. The bench would be named in honor of Jan and Bob Dean and Dot and Dave Pangburn. Sutcliffe said the Dean's and the Pangburn's had many volunteer efforts that resulted in island improvements especially the trails.

"This is not a memorial bench per se; it's more about honoring four citizens for their civic commitment to this community," Sutcliffe said. "The Glendale dock is prob one of the most obvious ways. (It) would be an attractive asset to the Glendale community."

Sutcliffe proposed a maximum six foot wide bench made of either granite or Polywood. She said it would not need any maintenance and should last a long time.

Town Administrator Scott Dunn said there is a bench there now best described as "rickety," though said it is portable. All the benches and chairs on Glendale are taken inside in the winter. A granite bench, however, would be immovable.

Sutcliffe said this would not just be for island residents, but for everyone who accesses the Glendale docks. She said they would work with the town to make the bench suitable for the area.

"I can't think of a better family than the Pangburns and the Deans," said selectman Gus Benavides. "They had dedicated themselves into public service and they are examples to the rest of Gilford about giving back to the community."

Benavides said, however, they did not want to make a decision that could have ramifications for years. He said he would rather the bench were easy to move and Polywood might be a more palatable option to anyone who had concerns about this. Selectman Richard Grenier said he has had experience with Polywood benches and said it is a good option.

Benavides asked what would happen if another island asks to put a similar memorial. Sutcliffe said she understood the concern that the dock area would be filled with benches.

"If that happens, I think that's a good thing," Sutcliffe said.

Denise Cunningham, also representing the Lockes Island Association, said granite would be the best option for honoring these two families. She noted that the Gilford Public Library has a structure that is bolted to the concrete in that same area as well as a canopy donated by the Rotary and neither are moved.

"That area of Glendale is really the only place the Gilford islanders come together," Cunningham said.

Rick Dean, president of the Lockes Island Association, said his parents are two of the ones being honored by that bench, which is greatly flattering. He said he has used that dock in winter weather and said the current bench there does have granite pillars. He said granite would be the best look for that area.

"My folks started the Gilford Island Association way back when, I think that's why they chose that location," Dean said. "I too would want to see the granite as the association president for Lock's Island and selfishly for my folks."

The board of selectmen unanimously voted in favor of placing the granite bench at the Glendale docks.

Buy your week's supply of fresh veggies at Gilford Farmers' Market

Buy all the fresh veggies you need for the week at the Gilford Farmers' Market located on the grounds of the historical 1838 Rowe House Museum on 88 Belknap Mountain Rd. in the heart of Gilford Village. Start your Labor Day activities by coming to the Market on Saturday; both the Market and the 1838 Rowe House Museum are open from 9:00 a.m. til noon; take a tour and then buy your veggies.

Our farmers offer a wide variety of fresh produce; mixed greens, tomatoes, radishes, corn, string beans, broccoli, cauliflower, baby potatoes (that don't need to be peeled), squashes, and blueberries, New Hampshire grown peaches (so sweet and juicy), are just some of the locally produced items. Plus lamb from the Shepherd's Hut and a wide variety of breads and sweets for dessert. For the extra touch, pick up a bouquet of flowers. After shopping at the Market, all you need for a basic meal is meat and milk, then you can brag that your meal is nutritious and locally grown.

Labor Day, Sept. 2, will sadly be the last day that our own Gilanton/Gilford guest potter, Molly Harper of Soul Pine Pottery, will be at the Market. Molly was first introduced to ceramics as a student at Gilford Middle High School where she fell in love with working with clay.

She says that "There is something so simple and elemental about working with clay, it is a media that just speaks to me and I think the organic roots of clay are some of the reasons my artwork is so inspired by the natural world."

Her white birch vases and candle holders have been especially big sellers, along with her mugs in which the bottom wood design turns into a regular smooth mug at the top. Come and check out her wide variety of items, buy something for yourself or as a special gift.

She has progressed from working at her potter's wheel as a hobby to doing it full time as her profession. She got her start three years ago at our first Market when it was her hobby, she has since taken specialized classes and now shows her items at several galleries and does special orders. If you are planning a wedding and are looking for that special bridal guest gift to be at each place at the reception, she has done that before and has ideas about appropriate gifts; she will take special orders for you. Check out her Web site at www.soulpinepottery.com.

By coming to the Gilford Farmers' Market to buy fresh produce, pastries, and craft items, you are helping the Gilford Historical Society to raise money to keep the 1838 Rowe House repaired and a building that Gilford can be proud of. All the vendor fees and profits from the coffee and doughnut table goes into a special fund for the upkeep and restoration of the Rowe House.

The Society is fortunate to have sponsors who value the importance of keeping the 1838 Rowe House in good condition. They are: Belknap Landscape Company, Gilford True Value, McDonald's Veterinary Services, and Patrick's Pub and Eatery, plus Sally Bickford who donates and starts the Woodshed coffee perking every morning.

Trash, and living in a flood plain, and being told you have to get out

By JOHN HARRIGAN

When you talk with someone who lives on a back road, you risk getting into trash talk--not foul language, but talk about trash. What is it in the brain (or maybe lack of a brain) that lets people feel okay about tossing stuff out of a vehicle? Suffice to say that whenever I'm out walking my road, I'm picking up trash. As are my neighbors. Talk with any dirt-road-dweller for very long, and the talk will turn to trash. Throwing trash from vehicles is learned behavior, which means that it's

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

On the road to Damascus

BY LARRY SCOTT

Christians in Damascus, Syria little realized that they were in deep trouble. The "Osama bin Laden" of the first century church, Saul of Tarsus, was on his way. With authority from the religious leaders in Jerusalem, he was about to apprehend any Christian he could lay his hands on, put them in prison, and, if possible, even support a death sentence. This man was out to destroy the fledgling Christian church.

Saul was incensed at how this new religion was impacting his Jewish faith. He was a sincere follower of God, an ardent conservative, a man wholeheartedly dedicated to preserving the rules, regulations and theology that had been normative for Judaism since the time of Moses. From Saul's perspective, it was beyond belief that God was in-involved in this new faith. Especially galling was the claim that this Jesus had appeared alive and well for 40 days after His crucifixion. Any fool had to know that simply could not be, and Saul was no fool.

But something happened to this dedicated Pharisee on his way to Damascus that changed everything. Before getting to Damascus, he had, by his own words, an encounter with Jesus Christ. "As I was on the road, I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun. ... I heard a voice saying to me in Aramaic, 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? ... I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.'" Now that was a shocker! The faith he had been defending had come to the Jewish nation straight from God Himself. One can only imagine the trauma through which Saul went as integrated this new faith with everything he had been taught and believed, but from this day forward, Saul was a new man with a mission.

Within a few years, he became the Church's most eloquent spokesman and influential exponent of the Christian faith. Second only to Jesus Christ, Saul, soon known as the Apostle Paul, more than any other set the theology and the direction of the Christian church. But conversion came at a terrible price. Fiercely persecuted from his earliest days as a Christian, he was stoned and left for dead on one occasion, he was beaten 8 different times, he spent several years in prison and was finally executed by Nero. And his verdict on all of this? "I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me."

Paul was proud to be a Christian.

It is difficult for most people to even imagine the dramatic effect that takes place in one's life when Jesus Christ is taken seriously. You can join Islam ... or Buddhism ... or Hinduism ... or a new set of regulations demanded by your new faith, you need not experience any semblance of a spiritual transformation. Christianity, however, effects a dramatic change, not only in what one believes and which church he attends, but also in fundamental qualities of integrity, character, and disposition. I am not over-dramatizing this: the greatest "miracle" I have ever seen has been the change of life that has come to those who have welcomed Jesus as the Lord of their life.

"Bill," or "Bud" as he was known to many, was a veteran of the United States Air Force and served at Grenier Field during the Korean War. He had been a resident of the New Hampshire Veterans Home in Tilton since May of 2017.

Bill met his bride, Shirley Mary Gorham, at a company bowling event. They were married on Oct. 23, 1948 at St. Francis deSalles Church in Bennington. They moved to their home on Bedford Ave in Gilford in 1959 and were married 45 years prior to her death in 1993.

Bill was employed in many ways over his lifetime, but he probably made the most friends as an insurance salesman and as a rural route driver in Laconia and Belmont for the United States Post Office. After his retirement, he worked part time as a courier for Village Bank & Trust and Orthopedic Professional Association in Gilford. He enjoyed flea markets and collecting "useful" objects, as well as deer hunting with his two sons. He loved children and animals.

Bill is survived by his loving companion, Marie Bonnett; his two daughters, Kathleen (Richard) Unger of Pembroke and Carol (Stephen) Goetz of Freeport, Maine; and two sons, Wayne (Melanie) Burgess of Gilmanton and Colonel (Ret) Thomas (Waltraud) Burgess of Woodbridge, Va. He was a loving grandfather to Adam, David, Gregory, Jessica, Joseph, Patricia, Rebecca, Robert, Samantha, and Vincent, and great-grandfather to Allison, Jack, Kathryn, Lilly, Lucas, Madison, and William.

In addition to his parents and wife, he was predeceased by a sister, Nellie Butteroff, and his brother, Harold Burgess.

Bill's family would like to thank his special friend Diane Stetson, and the New Hampshire Veteran's Home for their loving care of him.

Per his request, there will be no calling hours.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 31, 2017 at St. Andre Bessette Parish - St. Joseph's Church, 30 Church St., Laconia.

Interment will follow at Pine Grove Cemetery in Gilford.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to The NH Humane Society, 1305 Meredith Center RD, Laconia NH 03246, or the Santa Fund of the Greater Lakes Region, PO Box 7454, Laconia, NH 03246.

Charles Lewis Peavey, Jr., 52

LACONIA — Charles "Charlie" Lewis Peavey Jr., 52, of 135 Pleasant Street, died Tuesday, July 18, 2017 at Lakes Region General Hospital after a sudden illness.

He was born on March 3, 1965 in Laconia, the son of the late Charles L. Sr. and Dorothy May (Ceily) Peavey. Charlie worked as a prep cook at Shorty's Mexican Roadhouse. He enjoyed hiking, swimming, sewing, costume creating and making dresses for his nieces. He was happiest when he was with his family, especially his great nieces and nephews. Uncle Charlie was loved and well known in the community and will be missed by so many. He impacted and infected so many with his generosity, fabulous sense of humor and his genuine smile. Our families' greatest memory was all our trips to Union Cemetery to visit those who had passed before us.

He is survived by his brother, Vince Sylvia of Concord; two sisters, Lena Jameson and Katrina "Peppy" Plourde of Laconia; three nieces (Amy Jameson of Franklin, Jennifer (Peavey) Arizmendi of Belmont, and Lisa (Peavey) Brousseau of Laconia); two nephews, Jeffery Jameson of Concord and Nicholas Jameson of Belmont; four grand nieces (Leah Jameson, Hannah Bolduc, Izabella Peavey, and Sirenitea Arizmendi); and six grand nephews (Jacob Jameson, Joshua Bolduc, Raul Arizmendi Jr, Domanick Arizmendi, Derrick Higgins and Parker Peavey).

He was predeceased by his nephew, Raul Arizmendi, Sr.; his mother, Dorothy Peavey; and his father and step mother, Charles Sr. and Cecile Peavey.

There will be no calling hours.

A Celebration of Life will be held by the family at a later date.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation Services, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, is assisting the family with the arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, go to www.wilkinsonbeane.com.

Alan David Shaw, 50

BLANDON, Pa. — On Aug. 24, 2017, we lost an avid New England Patriots fan. Alan David Shaw, 50, of Blandon, Pa. left this earth due to sudden heart failure.

Alan was born on April 10, 1967 in Laconia. He loved his family, friends and his football. Alan was a great cook, and enjoyed experimenting in the kitchen. His big heart (kindness), easygoing attitude and quick wit will be missed.

He leaves behind his wife, Kelly Shaw; his father, Glenn Shaw, and his wife Pamela; his sister, Laura Cameron, and her husband Tim; his brother, Lance Shaw, and his wife Carrie; and a nephew, William Shaw.

Alan was predeceased by his mother, Judi Shaw.

There will be no calling hours, and a family burial will take place at a time in the future.

Alan had a great love for animals; donations to the New Hampshire Humane Society, PO Box 572, Laconia NH 03247, in lieu of flowers are suggested.

Greater Lakes Region Children's Auction seeks event coordinator/executive director

LACONIA — The Board of the Greater Lakes Region Children's Auction is seeking applicants to fill its new position of Event Coordinator/Executive Director.

In the Auction's third year as a standalone nonprofit organization, the needs of the community and requests for support continue to grow. The Board is looking forward to the continued growth and energy of the Auction, but they realize the Auction cannot meet the growing needs if they too do not grow. In order to help the all-volunteer Board, the decision has been unanimously made to hire an independent contractor to become the Event Coordinator/Executive Director of the Auction.

Although the Auction takes place annually in December, this is a year-round, part-time position. This year's Auction takes place Dec. 5-9. The Event Coordinator/Executive Director would be responsible for coordinating all data; securing sponsorships; creating a working document of all auction department processes; and working with the Board, volunteers and community to manage, help grow and sustain the auction. The hours will be based on the need and time of year.

The right candidate should have knowledge of the community and a desire to see children of the Lakes Region grow and prosper. Please send resumes or questions to Sandy Marshall, Board Chair at smmarshall@lrg.org or call 527-2985.

The Greater Lakes Region Children's Auction is an annual event held every December in central New Hampshire.

Countless volunteers and donors have helped turn it into a major campaign on an annual basis. Over the 33 years that the community has come together, more than $4.5 million has been raised for local charities, all through volunteer efforts, community donations and corporate sponsorships. The Greater Lakes Region Charitable Fund for Children is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that helps community organizations in the Central New Hampshire region.

Original donor perpetuates support of local students

LACONIA — One of the Lakes Region Scholarship Foundation's originating donor organizations in 1956 was the Laconia Emblem Club. The Club, which was established in 1940 had been awarding scholarships for several years even before it became affiliated with LRSF. Over the past sixty-two years, the Emblem Club has awarded nearly $46,000 in scholarships through LRSF.

Do you have Prediabetes? LRGHealthcare offers Prevent T2 Diabetes Program

LACONIA — With the change of seasons, many of us are focusing on what we can do to improve our health. If you have been told that you may have "prediabetes" or borderline diabetes, LRGHealthcare has options to help you manage this condition so that you can live the life you want to live.

Many people are at risk for or have prediabetes and don't even know it. Prediabetes means your blood sugar is higher than normal, but not yet considered diabetic. Diabetes is a serious disease that can cause heart attack, stroke, and numerous other complications. Type 2 diabetes can be delayed or prevented in people with prediabetes through effective lifestyle change. How do you know if you are at risk for or have prediabetes? Visit www.doihaveprediabetes.org and take a short quiz to determine your risk. Talking with your healthcare team is also a great way to find out if you are at risk or have prediabetes.

starting a new session of a program called "Prevent T2 Diabetes" in September. For those at risk or who have prediabetes, this lifestyle change program provides education and support to help you on your journey to better health. The program was designed by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and aims to help participants increase physical activity and healthy eating strategies to achieve a 5-7 percent weight loss over the course of a year. The program meets for 16 weekly sessions and then transitions to a monthly meeting for the remainder of the 12 months. A trained Lifestyle Coach guides participants through the program. This program will be offered in both Laconia and Franklin. Free information sessions are scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 7 from noon-1 p.m. at Franklin Regional Hospital and on Tuesday, Oct. 17 from 9-10 a.m. at Lakes Region General Hospital. Call 527-7120 to sign up or find out more information.

Perhaps you already have been diagnosed with diabetes. You are not alone. According to the American Diabetes Association, "In 2012, 29.1 million Americans, or 9.3 percent of the population, had diabetes." LRGHealthcare also offers a workshop called "Living Well with Diabetes". This six-week group program was designed by Stanford University and aims to bring tools to those who attend to help them better manage diabetes and live a healthy life. Topics include blood sugar monitoring, medication use, healthy eating, physical activity, reducing stress, goal set-

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Are You a "Hardworking" Investor?

Next week, we observe Labor Day, a celebration of the American worker. You work hard your whole life with the hope that your efforts will ultimately allow you to achieve your financial goals, such as a comfortable retirement. But for that to happen, you may need to apply some of the lessons of the workplace to your efforts as an investor.

So, what are these lessons? Here are a few to consider:

- Be consistent. The most successful workers are the ones who show up, day after day, and strive to overcome the inevitable obstacles that crop up. As an investor, you, too, need to be consistent in your habits — which means you should keep investing in all types of markets. If you take a "time out" every time the market drops, you might end up missing opportunities when the next rally begins.
- Be flexible. When good workers see that something is not going well, they change what they're doing. And when you invest, you also may need to make adjustments. If an investment has consistently underperformed, or if you have too many others very similar to it, or if it just doesn't meet your needs anymore, you may be better off by selling it and using the proceeds to invest elsewhere. This doesn't mean you should constantly be buying and selling — in fact, you'll likely be better off by purchasing quality investments and holding them for the long term. But you need to be flexible enough to make the appropriate moves at the appropriate times.

• Be informed. The best workers are those who regularly update their skills and acquire knowledge that helps them do their jobs better. As an investor, you should also keep learning — about the investment world in general and about new opportunities for you to explore. And you should always understand what you are investing in — and why. Even if you work with a financial professional, you need to inform yourself about every aspect of your investment portfolio — after all, it's your money and your future.

• Be farsighted. Good workers not only know what they're doing — they also can visualize the desired outcome of each task. And, of course, people who are in charge of a particular endeavor, or who are responsible for the fortunes of a business, have a clear view of what they want to accomplish, even if the achievement of that goal is many years in the future. When you invest, you also need to see where you want to go. If you can constantly keep in mind your long-term goals — such as the type of retirement lifestyle you desire — you will likely find it easier to stick with an investment strategy that's appropriate for your needs and risk tolerance. Conversely, if you lose sight of your destination, you might be more prone to taking short-term detours, which could work against you. Labor Day reminds us to appreciate the skills and dedication of all workers — and as an investor, you can put these same attributes to good use.

A tasteful tradition continues

'Lakes Region Uncorked' premier charity tasting event returns Nov. 2

LACONIA — In its fifth year, Lakes Region Uncorked has become New Hampshire's showcase event to sample locally-made wine, beer, mead, cider, spirits, fine foods and much more. Uncorked returns to Church Landing at Mill Falls in Meredith on Thursday, Nov. 2 from 5-8 p.m., where the rustic elegance of Church Landing creates the perfect atmosphere for guests to enjoy locally crafted food and beverages and appreciate all New Hampshire has to offer.

"We are grateful for the excitement and enthusiasm Lakes Region Uncorked generates. It is very special and people look forward to it each fall and love to share the experience with their friends and colleagues. Uncorked presents a fabulous variety of fine NH made and grown products. It is a lot of fun, supports unique local businesses and is the largest fundraiser of the year for LRCS," said Rebecca Bryant, LRCS President & CEO.

Uncorked 2017 features new and returning vendors and sponsors.

"We are excited to be welcoming 30 vendors this year, including new specialty food businesses," commented Joanne Piper Lang, LRCS VP of Development. "And the support from the business community is simply amazing - 16 separate business sponsors are making this event possible for everyone to enjoy."

Guests will be offered an assortment of fine foods - appetizers and hors d'oeuvres and New Hampshire made sweet and savory foods - chocolates, cakes, toffee and specialty foods such as smoked meats, local cheeses, grilled vegetables and fresh farm products, as well as locally roasted coffees. Uncorked will also offer a limited number of 'Amuse Bouche' Celebrity Chef Tickets for a 5:30 or 6:30 p.m. seating with Chef Kevin Halligan, owner and executive chef of Laconia Local Eatery. Chef Halligan will prepare small 'happy' dishes using fresh, local ingredients paired with cocktails prepared by Tamworth Distilling.

Special at every turn, Uncorked guests can also start their holiday shopping with unique silent auction items donated by local artisans and businesses. Last year's the auction featured 65 items. The 'Wall of Wine' charity raffle has also been expanded. The popular 'Pull a Cork' Wall of Wine held at the event where 'everyone is a winner' continues this year as well as the new "Blue Ribbon-Best of Show" raffle - offering a chance to win a full collection of fine wines worth more than $1,000 along with a custom-made display rack. Tickets for the 'Blue Ribbon-Best of Show' raffle are on sale now (limited to 250 tickets) and the winner doesn't have to be present or attend Uncorked to win.

Vendors in our Tasting Room include: Black Cove Beverages; Canterbury Aleworks; Coffin Cellars Winery; Cold Garden Spirits; Farnum Hill Ciders;

Solar eclipse a busy day for the LRGH Family Birthplace

The solar eclipse was a busy day for the Family Birthplace of Lakes Region General Hospital. Little Oliver here, with his parents, Raven Foss and Joshua Ritson, was one of three babies born Aug. 21, the day of the first total solar eclipse since 1979. He won't remember this one, but Oliver can catch the next one in 2024, when he's seven years old.

"All of that assistance is certainly appreciated in the end," Greene said.

Hayley Merriam, 6, did relay races with other younger kids. Her aunt Jessica Carder said they were having a great day and it was the first time Hayley had ever seen a parade. Carder said she grew up with Old Home Day.

"It's so nice living in a town, everyone comes out for (this)," Carder said.

Cole Ringer, seven, did relay races with the kids ages seven to 12. His mom Carla Ringer said she grew up with Gilford Old Home Day.

"I wouldn't miss it, this is my old town," Ringer said.

The family lives in Sanbornton, though Ringer said they try to come every year.

The Gilford Rotary displayed wooden butterflies decorated by members of the community by donation to the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Rotarian Don Clarke said the idea and butterfly template came from the Alton Rotary, who encouraged other Rotary Clubs around the area to do the same.

Using plywood donated by Bill Finethy of Gilford Home Center they made 50 butterflies that could go to anyone with a $25 donation. Clarke said the Gilford Fire Department housed the butterflies and distributed them, collecting the money and giving it to Rotary.

Kids and adults decorated their butterflies in a variety of different themes. The Rotary then collected the total of 47 decorated butterflies and mounted them on the tennis court fence. Each of the entries were reviewed by judges for prizes and visitors could vote for their favorite.

"I love the idea, it's a great community thing, it encourages the arts too," said outgoing president Russ Lunt. "I think it's just a wonderful community spirit activity, which is the perfect fit for Old Home Day."

Rotarian Peggy Lac-ey said there was a five-year-old who held a lemonade stand towards buying a butterfly, raising $60.

The Gilford Community Church also held its annual Fair and Silent Auction. A white elephant sale went on in the fellowship hall and a number of food stand set in the parking lot such as the Chuck Wagon selling grilled items and the Doughboys selling fried dough.

"It's one of our biggest fundraisers," said volunteer Rick Nelson.

Money goes to both the church and the Gilford Youth Center. Nelson said a lot of people utilize the GYC for free and this is a way for people to give back.

Nelson said he loves Old Home Day, especially seeing people from the church and more. Volunteer Allan Whitney said this day is all about the people who left Gilford coming back.

Nelson also said seeing all these friends is a big benefit of volunteering.

"Almost all my friends come from volunteering in Gilford, whether it's the church or Parks and Rec people," Nelson said. "I tell anyone who considers volunteering it's a great way to make friends."

new people," said teacher Lorianne Valovanie.

She also said it was a good way for the kids to get to know the school and their teachers while getting help from the student leaders.

"It's a great way to get them involved," said teacher Leaman Antone.

Antone said this begins a bond between the members of the advisories that these students will have through their entire high school careers.

"It's something really fun, it shows the fun, social side of what school can be," Antone said.

The freshmen received assistance from 22 student leaders in grades 11 and 12, who will also be available to help them into the new school year. Jewett said when the freshmen come into school they will have a familiar face and someone they can ask questions.

Student leader Gabrielle Podmore said this makes the freshmen's introduction to high school a lot smoother.

"Instead of diving into the pool, you out your toes in," said student leader Joe Sawyer.

Student leaders said this program was a big help to them when they were freshmen. Student leader Emily Kordas said this activity helped her get to know a few people.

"It's really nice that they have this supportive group right off the bat," Podmore said.

Sawyer said this is a bond that gets stronger by the time they reach senior year.

"It was fun meeting new people," said incoming freshman Angie Bonnell.

Students said they had already been in the high school building on other occasions, though were getting to really know it for the first time. Bonnell and classmate Griffin Plourde said they felt a lot more confident and relaxed about coming to the high school after Freshman Jumpstart.

"I think it's going to be like a whole new experience and it's going to be an exciting one," Bonnell said.

Incoming freshman Emma Savoie said she especially liked doing the scavenger hunt.

Incoming freshman Xavier Mullen said it was also great to meet the students coming from Gilmanton. Plourde will come to GHS from Gilmanton Elementary School and said Gilford is a much different experience from Gilmanton. He said he is excited about meeting kids from Gilford when he enters GHS.

The float was an all hands on deck effort by members of the board and the team that Mike Giovanditto said took a few weeks of work. Belknap Landscaping donated float trailer and truck to pull it. Moulton Farm of Meredith donated a lot of cornstalks to create the cornfield look.

They learned about the Grand Prize win from across the field while they ran the dunk tank.

"We're excited, we weren't expecting it, we were just doing it for fun," Giovanditto said.

Lakeshore Park won first place in the categories of Our Town Kids and Neighborhood Float. Lakeshore Park has taken first place wins for several years.

Lakeshore Park Recreation Director Ann

Saulnier said planning for the float started in April and they looked online to get some ideas.

"We kept it simple," Saulnier said.

She said this is not the work of one person but a big team.

"We have a lot of great people in Lakeshore Park," Saulnier said.

Saulnier said she is "very proud" of what they achieved. She said every one of the blue ribbons go on display in the office.

For Our Town Kids, Beyond the Belt placed second with its "Star Wars" themed display complete with kids lightsaber fighting as Rey and Kylo Ren and a replicas of R2D2 and a speeder.

The Gilford Public Library came in third place with its summer reading themed float and also took second place for Neighborhood Float.

For Mini Float, Under His Wings Preschool came in first place with its crayon box and kids as crayons. Second place went to the Lakes Region Chordsmen, who performed while riding on a trailer. Third place went to locally based singer Katie Dobbins, who marched in back of a pickup truck painted in her logos with speakers playing her music.

Streetcar Company came in first place in Commercial Float with an old-fashioned small town theme.

Gilford Buildings and Grounds came in second place with its hometown float preceding a line of Public Works vehicles. Bank of New Hampshire came in third with its farm stand displays.

Bob Blake won first place in Other Vehicle, Rusty's Towing came in second, and Gilford Public Works came in third.

In Antique Vehicles, Peter Ellis and Hayden McLaughlin both tied for first. Boy Scout Troop 243 came in second and the Knights of Columbus was in third place.

For Individual Marchers, Miss Winnepesaukee Amanda LeDoux came in first place and Miss Winni-pesaukee's Outstanding Teen Eliza Fisher came in second place.

The Uiker Cowgirls won the top prize in equestrian display. Kathy Salanitro was also recognized for oxen. Neil Flaherty was recognized for his Classic Vehicle.

The Gunstock Acres Noodle Brigade came in first for Neighborhood Marchers.

This year's Grand Marshal was longtime community volunteer Mary Chesebrough.

Chesebrough has long served as a member of the Old Home Day Committee and was still volunteering that day. She has also been part of the Gilford Outing Club, Little League, and many other efforts.

Emcee Bob Pomeroy said he remembers taking his kids to the Gilford Outing Club and learning to ski thanks to Mary and Don Chesebrough. Pomeroy asked her about her fondest Old Home Day memory.

"It's a great place and it's been a great celebration all along," Chesebrough said.

mouth editorial about throwing trash?" Well, here is where I get to say what a friend loves to say (which is somehow just not a guy thing), "Goodie," because I don't own any newspapers anymore and thus don't have to worry about having to come up with editorials. Instead, I write columns.

Okay, so this is such a smug in-house word-parsing thing, because people tend not to know the difference, but then why should they? Article, item, column, letter, they're all the same-old, shname-old. It's like expecting people to know the difference between an Ayrshire and a Holstein. "Come on," most sane people think, "That's a farmer thing. It's a cow."

Anyway, my standard answer is that people who throw trash, as if it's somehow going to magically disappear (it is--think "The guy with the dog and the Jeep, and the neighbors") are not likely to read and comprehend, let alone read a column or editorial, let alone take it to heart and change their behavior.

Still, I just have to write about the incredible crassness of littering now and then, to dredge up terms like "morons" or "landscape-trashing louts," and get another crop of foam off my mouth.

As I wrote this, a hurricane was threatening the Gulf Coast, and the media were full of flood warnings and stories about "mandatory evacuation."

This is a loaded term if ever there was one. Who has the right to tell you to leave your home? "It's for your own personal safety" is the standard refrain. The implicit risk to safety and rescue personnel is often cited, and as a guy with more than the usual connections to people who take risks for others, I get that.

But there should always be a way, I think, for people to say that they don't want to be rescued, and will take their chances. It's home, after all, and references to it are all through our founding documents.

But the seldom-mentioned element, I've always thought, is looting. Mandatory evacuation has too often been used as a signal for the criminal element to slink, slither, and slime their way into people's houses, sully the soul of the home, and steal whatever they can carry.

I was discussing all this with a friend, who said, "Well, people shouldn't be living in flood-prone areas anyway," and then checked herself, because she realized that for some people it's not a matter of choice.

And economic and social discrimination aside, it's a fact that Europeans tended to plant their first colonies where great rivers emptied into the sea. These generally offered safe anchorages and quick avenues for commerce with the interior.

Rivers make mud flats, deltas, and bluffs, and that's where Europeans tended to plant the first colonies and towns. Growth, being a tenet of civilization's mindset, resulted in millions of people now being where they shouldn't.

I remember taking a transcontinental train trip by way of Louisiana a few years ago, and seeing the destruction caused by the most recent hurricane (I think it was Andrew) in West New Orleans. Some homeowners were rebuilding, but some of the houses were abandoned and were just plan junk.

How many of the people in these houses were there by choice? That's a question for social and demographic wizards. My view from the window of a passenger train was probably the worst, but that snapshot and some knowledge of the history of the place told me "Not many."

I'm lucky to live on a ridge at elevation 1,556 where, I'm fond of telling visitors (who increasingly seem to roll their eyes) any drop of rain that falls is headed for Long Island Sound as fast as its little legs can caper.

Mandatory evacuation? Knowing as much as anyone who's been on the planet for seventy years can know, and of course happily feigning fierceness in the face of the odds, if anyone told me that I had to get out of my home, I'd reach for the thirty-odd six and head for the roof.

Cormier said, "It has been a pleasure working with the Emblem Club all these years. Their commendable record of support for the educational and career goals of Lakes Region students, as well as many other worthwhile community programs, could not have been accomplished without the fundraising efforts of its hard-working and dedicated membership."

Current club financial officer, Sandra Bolduc, announced, "Our board has now unanimously voted to ensure that the Laconia Emblem Club's proud legacy will live on in the community through this gift of $10,000 to the LRSF, establishing a permanent scholarship endowment fund."

or, Marti Bolduc. The purpose was to gather individuals from the community college for a day of connecting, team-building, and to develop LRCC's Strategic Goals.

As the college preps for their Fall Semester beginning Aug. 28 and continues to celebrate its 50th anniversary, faculty and staff shared that the experience was enjoyable, productive and a huge step in the right direction for the organization. Focusing on both long term and short-term objectives, members of the college were able to work together to develop plans for enrollment, employee engagement, communication, revenue and transferability, expanding programs, technology use, community partnerships and instruction improvement. Working groups consisting of employees from different departments collaborated throughout the day resulting in unique ideas and opinions which will serve as a framework for the plan's action items. Dr. Larissa Baia, Interim President and Dr. Alan Panches, Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs sat back from their usual facilitator roles to answer questions, provide feedback and take notes.

Baia says, "It was such a pleasure to see so many LRCC employees working together, particularly those that don't get to interact with each other often. Their drive and commitment to student success makes me proud to be part of this team."

LeMien, Registrar of LRCC says of the event "It was fantastic to be off campus and see faculty and staff come together, get to know each other and collaborate on how we can improve our services to students. I feel the outcome from this retreat reenergized faculty and staff, and the campus as a whole provided ideas of how to improve our campus."

In planning for next 50 years, LRCC's leadership team looks to build on our successes towards becoming one of the top higher education institutions in the state.

Gilford water skier competes in national championships

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Olivia Morea has a love of water skiing, and this summer she took this love to another level and competed in the 75th Goode Water Ski National Championships in Martindale, Texas where she came in 20th place.

Morea, who specializes in trick skiing on one ski, was coming off a second place finish in the Eastern Region Water Ski Championships in Monroe, N.Y. at the end of July. While she placed higher in nationals, Morea said she was very pleased with how she did and that it was a true honor to be in the largest water ski championship in the country.

Olivia Morea came in 20th in the 75th Goode Water Ski National Championships in Martindale, Texas.

"It was really cool knowing that the best world in the world were there," Morea said. "I competed against the world record holder, which was cool but kind of intimidating. It was cool to say I got to do that."

Morea is a 16-year-old senior at Gilford High School who rides a Quantum ski. She performs a variety of tricks including the side slide, which is where she turns that, her ski 90 degrees to the back of the boat before returning to normal position. She can also pull a 180-degree turn, 360-degree turn, a back grab and her favorite, a "wake back-to-back."

The "wake back-to-back" involves Morea cutting over the wake to one side, and then jumping over the wake to the other side. She will be backwards, then come back in and jump over the wake, and finishing turning forward.

Morea grew up going to the national championships watching her father compete, who taught her how to waterski when she was only two years old. For this reason, she said it wasn't too intimidating of a setting, but she did acknowledge the size.

"It is a lot bigger, a lot more sponsors and more competition," said Morea. "It is a little more professional but at the same time it is still very close because you know everybody."

Morea said in order to increase in the rankings she simply needs to keep plugging away and continue training.

"A lot of waterskiing can be luck because some days you fall and some days you do really well," said Morea. "I was still happy with my placement because I held my place. There were some girls there tricking insane amounts of points. I still feel like I did good in my sixth tournament."

Morea said she plans to compete again next year and that she looks forward to the challenge of the future.

"It is an amazing experience," Morea said. "There were 680 people who went to the nationals and it is the largest tournament in the world. It was great."

Golden Eagles shut out Berlin

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — The Golden Eagles are soaring early with the girls' soccer team coming out of the gate with a 4-0 win at home against Berlin in their first game of the season on Friday.

Coach Tom Raymond said it was great to get the win, but it was especially nice because they picked up right where they ended last season. He said getting a win this early was a great momentum boost for the Golden Eagles, as it took several games to get their first win last year in a season where they went 3-11-2.

"They had good ball movement and the whole team was shifting as a unit up the field," said Raymond. "It all seemed to be there for us."

The Golden Eagles scored in the first 15 minutes of the game and then again not long after that. They had two more in the second half. Raymond was pleased that the goals were spread around to four different players, and he said this is a good sign of things to come as he believes he has three other players that can score at will. He said there wasn't a lot of selfish play on the field, which is great to see early in the season.

Goal scorers were Sarah Fillion, Samantha

Knowles, Taryn Breton and Maddi Rector in that order. Gilford had a total of 28 shots in the game.

"We had a nice balanced attack," said Raymond. "We did well defensively. We made some adjustments at half time and did well."

Raymond said the team gave up a couple shots he didn't like in the first half and they decided to tighten things up defensively. The second half was a different story, with the defense responding the adjustments and executing.

Raymond said it was nice to go up by two goals at half time and the girls had an immediate confidence boost.

Goalkeeper Hannah Perkins had 10 saves in the shutout.

"This was definitely a great way to open the season," said Raymond.

St. Katharine Drexel 5K/10K scheduled for Sept. 16

ALTON—In the midst of summer, it might be difficult to think about the coming season of fall. Yet, a small group of dedicated committee members who organize the St. Katharine Drexel 5K/10K road race and 5K walk each year are doing just that.

As they plan for the seventh annual event, held this year on Saturday, Sept. 16 on the church grounds off Route 28, in Alton, they are encouraging runners of all ages and abilities to lace up those running shoes, practice, and sign up for the sanctioned race, which raises monies for three very worthy charities.

This year, as in the past several, monies raised will go to support the James Foley Scholarship, given to a graduating senior from Foley's alma mater, Kingswood Regional High School. Additionally, the Camp Fatima Special Needs campers program and the remaining Indian mission, founded by St. Katharine Drexel in 1903, will also receive checks.

Of course, the race would not be successful without the continuing support of local businesses who, each year, are most generous to the causes. This year they have two title sponsors, Eastern Propane and Oil Co. and Integrity Earthworks. To date, they have also received support from All Earth, Weston Auto Body, Northeast Delta Dental, Bartlett Tree Services, Peaslee Funeral Home, Bon Venture Bulletin Services, Wolfeboro Eye Associates, Granite State Physical Fitness, Calico Graphics, Tut's Trophies and Awards, Hannaford of Alton, Harvest Market, Johnson's Steak and Seafood of New Durham, Granite State News, The Nordic Skier of Wolfeboro, River Run Deli of Alton and Dragonfly Gardens of Alton.

"Our goal has always been, and continues to be, to give to others in need," said Robin Allen-Burke, race director. "All those who work behind the scenes, those who contribute financially, registering to run or walk, or who donate raffle prizes are part of this event, and we would not be successful without them."

For further information, contact Allen-Burke at 569-3996 or ironmom40@metrocast.net. See also the St. Katharine Drexel web site [stk-drexel.org] and click on the link.

BOB MARTIN

The Gilford High School cross country team is gearing up for the fall season with workouts at the Gunstock Nordic Center.

Numbers up for Gilford cross country

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — The fall season is under way, and that means that Gilford High School's cross country team is out running and hoping for a great season.

Coach Janine Powis is in her second year at the helm for the Golden Eagles, and she said senior Michael Wernig and junior Matthew McDonough are runners to watch on the boys' team. For the girls, she said seniors Madison and Elizabeth Relf should be a couple of the top runners.

There are also some newcomers to watch, she said, which included senior Beck McLean, freshman Charles Townsend and freshman Harrison Laflamme. For the girls, newcomers to watch include freshmen Bethany Tanner, Lydia Jordan and Alaina Osburn.

"We gave a really young team this year with lots of new athletes, which is really exciting to see the program grow," said Powis. "It's going to be a fun season. I'm excited to see everyone learn and improve in their performance."

Powis said that the team, which has been practicing daily at the Gunstock Nordic Center, comes to practice ready to work. She said this should pay off at the end of the season. Powis added that there are a few seniors on the team that will give them a chance to be leaders and role models for the new and young athletes.

Early in the season the team has been working on hills, long runs and other long intervals. She said this is intended to help build endurance that they will need during the hillier races.

Powis said the goal for this season is to consistently improve in times and performance. Last year they narrowly had a runner miss going to the state meet by one place, so she is hoping to get athletes there or maybe even New England.

"We are a much bigger team this year, which is encouraging to the athletes," Powis said. "They gave more athletes around them during practice to push one another, which I think in general will help improve us this year."

Jamborees help to kick off volleyball season in Gilford

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD —In what has become a tradition leading up to the fall sports season, Gilford High School's volleyball team hosts jamborees each year. This past Saturday was the second of three jamborees hosted by the Golden Eagles, and coach Joan Forge said she is happy with how her team is looking early.

"We've been hosting these jamborees for as long as I have been coaching," said Forge. "It is a fantastic way for the girls to see where they are at this time of the year. It gives us an idea of where we are, where we need to go, in a fun atmosphere."

Saturday's jamboree involved five teams that played 40 minute games in a rotating manner. These included volleyball teams from Winnisquam, Kennett, Kingwood, Winnisquam and Sunapee. Forge said the same teams tend to come back for the jamborees. Last week teams involved included Laconia, Farmington, Campbell and Milford. The final jamboree, which took place on Wednesday, had Plymouth, Newfound, Moultonborough and Prospect Mountain.

"There are a few jamborees around the state, but ours is one of the longest running ones," said Forge.

While the jamborees are not officially scored, Forge said it was easy for her to tell how her team has fared. Forge said the jamborees also allow her to figure out where the players are best fit. Sometimes there are even some surprises with players who will end up making solid contributions moving forward.

"You can practice all you want, but until you get into a game situation you don't really know what the team can do," Forge said. "At the end of last Saturday, I felt like I had a good handle of who needs to go where, but it took me four games to figure it out."

Wednesday's jam-

The Gilford volleyball team played Winnisquam in the final game of Saturday's jamboree.

It was a tight matchup between Gilford and Winnisquam in the final game of Saturday's volleyball jamboree.

Gilford High School hosted the second of three preseason volleyball jamborees on Saturday.

boree is much more like game night, where they work hard on service rotations, defensive positioning and becoming comfortable with each other on the court.

This year Gilford has five players being replaced due to graduation, so there have been spots up in the air. This makes the jamboree all the more interesting.

"It builds steam as we go," Forge said.

Also last Friday, previous to the jamboree, both the Gilford and Winnisquam volleyball teams scrimmaged a team from Royal West High School out of Montreal, Quebec in Canada. Forge said their coach, Jan Mateus, has been coaching volleyball for three decades. A former coach of Belmont had them come play the Red Raiders and this morphed into them coming to play at jamborees.

However, due to various rules, the Royal West High School cannot play in a jamboree. They can play in single games for scrimmages instead. For the past 20 years this has been the case, and Forge said it is such a great experience for their players as well as those in the Lakes Region who get to play them.

The teams play for two hours and then have a dinner, which involves pizza, salads and desserts. The players sit together and talk, as well as having bonding activities. The Montreal kids stay in Weirs Beach and get to see fireworks and take in what the Lakes Region has to offer.

The team then played Winnisquam's volleyball team prior to the scrimmage and gifts were exchanged between the teams.

"It is such a great experience for everyone," Forge said.

Forge acknowledges that the Gilford volleyball program has been among the best for many years, although she also said that there are many excellent teams in the division that could make some noise. For the jamborees they host, she said it is a good chance for other teams to get to face the Golden Eagles in the preseason.

This year there was a great matchup between Gilford and Winnisquam, and Forge said after playing them she knows they will be making waves this season with their quality outside hitters.

Forge said the main point of the jamboree is that is a fun chance for teams to square off against each other—many of which they may not see again soon.

"It's fun," said Forge. "It's very competitive. It's a good opportunity to play teams we don't see in the regular season, but then there are teams like Winnisquam—that we do play."

Forge added, "Here's the thing: it doesn't matter what we have and what they have now. When we play them during the season it is completely different."
