GILFORD, N.H.

Engineering class unveils new Go Baby Go cars

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Three more students at Gilford Elementary School have their own special mobility devices in the form of little cars thanks to work by Gilford High School Students. The Introduction to Engineering Class took part in their second Go Baby Go project helping some more kids.

Last year the class took part in a project to make Power Wheels toys into mobility devices for three GES kids with special needs, a project spearheaded by now-alumnus Troy Gallagher. The project gained a lot of attention, including from Sen. Maggie Hassan, who declared the class “Granite Staters of the Month” and paid the class a visit.

own Jeep cars. Morgan Schneider shared vehicle made last year, but this year got her own pink sports car.

Teacher Dan Caron said he spoke with representatives from ILES to find out what students could really benefit from having their own vehicle. The engineering students then met with the three kids and their families, getting an idea of their needs and taking measurements to fit the cars properly.

Different student worked on different components of each car.

Sophomores Clara Bartley and Saje Merrill helped make the seats for Lila's car. Bartley said when they first came into the class they already had ideas for the project. They started by figuring out that Lila needed and measured

BY ERIN PLUMMER

Voters will review, discuss, and potentially make changes to a number of different warrant articles this Thursday during the town's deliberative session.

Gilford's deliberative session is scheduled for Thursday in the Gilford High School auditorium at 7 p.m. This year, voters will consider 26 different articles. The final votes and decisions will be made at town meeting voting on Tuesday, March 10.

Voters will review the town's operating budget of $14,263,580 in Article 4. If the article fails the default budget will be $13,645,456.

Article 5 is the three-year collective bargaining agreement between the board of selectmen and the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees Local 534 on behalf of certain Public Works Department employees, which calls for an increase of $700 in the benefit package.

This year's warrant includes a number of vehicle and equipment purchases.

A new ambulance will be purchased and equipped for $275,000 in Article 8.

Article 7 is a five

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS
Library Correspondent

Out with Dewey and in with words that make sense. I'm talking about the way that we categorize our non-fiction sections in the Library. We have to have some way to organize the many thousands of non-fiction books, and the Dewey Decimal System has been good enough, more or less, for decades, but our standards for ease of use have outgrown our need for extreme specificity. We want people to be able to find our books on the shelves without taking a class on the classic Dewey

Decimal System, and to have the option of browsing the shelves instead of searching for a specific title in the catalog.

You've probably already seen the fruits of this effort in the Biographies, Cooking, Travel, History, and Hiking sections, all of which use words instead of numbers to organize books. So when you are looking for a book on quick recipes for the modern palette, you can head to "Cooking Quick & Easy" instead of 641.56. Well, we just finished the next big step by re-cataloging the entire children's nonfiction section. That's about 4000 books (excellent books, btw) that we sorted and relabeled from unintuitive numbers into Animals, Science & Nature, Tech, Art, Health & Daily Living, and many others. Our aim is to make the collection more approachable for kids, parents, and teachers and to make the search more fulfilling.

As we were working, we found so many incredible books that were 'lost' in the Dewey organization. We hope that now these thought-enriching books will find their way into the hands of readers who will enjoy them. Maybe kids will find their way to my personal favorite section, Curiosity & Wonder. Stop by the kids' room next time you're in and take a look at how the Library is evolving.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

To fee or not to fee

BY MARK PATTERSON

When I started in the brokerage business 24 years ago, there were mostly commission-based brokers. So when you walked in to one of the local brokerage houses, you knew what to expect for the most part. Most of the brokers at Tucker Anthony, where I started my brokerage career, were building portfolios with individual stocks or bonds, municipal bonds being a favorite. While mutual funds were becoming very popular, they were typically used in conjunction with the individual stocks and bonds. I myself used mutual funds for very specific reasons. Exchange traded funds were not even available at the time. If you are investing money in 1995, it was very likely that you are in a typical brokerage account as opposed to a fee-based or fee-only wrap account. The tide has shifted dramatically in the last 20 years towards fee or wrap accounts. Brokers were transformed into financial advisors with less ability to touch the money as opposed to delegating to mutual funds, managed money or variable annuities. While most brokers were persuaded to get their series 65 or managed money license, I recall most accounts at Tucker Anthony were commission based brokerage accounts.

In 2020, we now have a variety of fee only, fee and commission or commissioned product sales. But it gets even more complicated by the fact that fee only, fee and commission, or commission product sales people are not all the same even within their own category. For example, a financial planning firm that is fee-only may charge for the creation of a financial plan and a fee to allocate those assets. But that same firm may not manage assets in house but designate to outside managers. They may recommend certain types of insurance but they do not sell you the insurance they may refer you to an insurance agent. A different fee and commission firm may manage your assets in house sparing your account of additional outside management fees. That firm may also sell the insurance recommended for that client. Then you have the “financial advisor” that is licensed differently than the investment advisor. That advisor is considered a registered representative that works for a broker-dealer, the investment advisor typically works for the client in a fiduciary capacity. Registered reps with a license to use a fee platform may have the ability to manage money on their firm’s platform but I believe they are more biased to product sales and commission business. You may find an advisor that is only licensed to sell insurance product. It can be very confusing to the investing public because, at times, the insurance salesperson holds themselves out as an advisor or planner but may not have that experience or training.

I could be biased and give you my opinion of what model is best, but I’ll will keep opinion to myself. What I recommend is that you review your account statements. Look at the advisor or your advisors firm, ask questions regarding how they are paid, how are they licensed or registered and don’t be afraid to talk with a couple of different types of firms. Look for your best fit and do your homework. Learn to find, read and understand the various disclosures regarding that firm and their practices.

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

Cadillac roads along old foot-paths, and highways twist house and barn

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

The little things in life have a way of amalgamating into life as we know it, a general assessment of the times. Historical markers alongside the road would probably go into the Little Things basket, but not for Helen Pike or people who still pull over for picnics.

Now there’s a thought: Pulling over for a picnic. Who does that any more? As a matter of fact, who reads roadside markers? To most people, the markers are a 58-m.p.h. blur. In the grand scheme of things, who cares?

Helen Pike does. Helen lives in what’s left of Waterford, Vt. (specifically, Lower Waterford). Much of Upper Waterford is under Moore Dam reservoir, which flooded a major section of the fabled Fifteen-Mile Falls).

A writer in her own right, Helen is the daughter of renowned North Country author Robert Pike, best known for Tall Trees, Tough Men, and its companion book Spiked Boots. Both are a wealth of stories and data on loggers and logging in the late 1800s and into the next century.

The 58 miles an hour reference is a tip of the hat to steady commuters on Route 3, where in most stretches the posted limit is 50, but as the saying goes “They’ll give you 58.” This will be steadfastly denied by anyone in uniform.

JOHN HARRIGAN

A classic case of new road and old: Route 26, heading west for Errol, with Rangeley, Maine just a memory.

ical baseball field---if a pullout spot is attractive, picnickers will come.

All along Route 3, from Nashua north, hints and vestiges of these old places can be found. From Concord up through Woodstock, and from Franconia Notch to the Canadian border in Pittsburg, many of the old picnic pullouts are evident, and some are still used.

One of them, a beautiful pullout just north of the notch, is still popular, and the discerning eye can find many others along the old road all the way to Canada. Here, much of the existing Route 3 was actually built over the old cart-path, which followed the old foot-paths, which were first blazed with axes in settlement times, and so on into the mists of time.

Wait, wait---where were we? Being swallowed up by the mists of time again. Anyway, my grandparents on my mother’s side used to stop at the above-the-notch pullout because it was about mid-point in their four-and-a-half-hour annual trip from Concord to Colebrook, to visit their

This is the case with too many roadside markers: Overtaken by trees and shrubbery, letters faded or missing. This one’s in an old pullout overlooking the Connecticut River just below North Stratford and Bloomfield, Vermont.

This 58 business is in the Frequently Asked Questions section of the Law Book. Over a long career, searches for “The Law Book” have proved fruitless. (There are, of course, the Revised State Statutes Annotated, better known as RSAs, which come in about a dozen volumes and weigh a ton. They would be no fun to tote around. Besides, “Law Book” just sort of rolls off the tongue.)

Anyway, back to Helen, who has written to me a couple of times about the deplorable state of roadside markers. Their upkeep falls under the auspices of the New Hampshire Department of Transportation and the Division of Historical Resources. When I called the DHR a while back to check on the fairness of “deplorable,” a pleasant but harried-sounding woman agreed that, alas, this was true of too many markers, but they are being cleared out and fixed up as steadily as possible.

Okay, so who pulls over for a picnic these days when so many people are evidently misplaced (polite term for “lost”) and are always looking at their watches, evidently out of pathetic hope for the subway or a bus?

My experience is that it’s like the myth-

Belknap EDC and Wayfarer Coffee Roasters partner to support Wayfarer's continued growth

LACONIA — Wayfarer Coffee Roasters owners Karen Bassett, Ben Bullerwell, and Reuben Bassett recently worked with the Belknap Economic Development Council (Belknap EDC) in planning for Wayfarer's continued growth in the Lakes Region.

Rose W. Caley Spence Bogle, 97

BOXFORD, Mass. — It is with sadness we announce the passing of Rose W. Caley Spence Bogle, 97, of Boxford, Mass. and formerly of Peabody, Mass. She died peacefully on Wednesday, Jan. 22, 2020 at the Kaplan Family Hospice House, Danvers, Mass. with her family by her side. She was a warm and loving woman who embraced life and was extremely proud of her family.

Rose was born in Kingston, Ontario, Canada, the daughter of the late John William and Clara O’Lander Caley who had immigrated from London, England. She later moved to the United States where she lived for many years in Peabody, Mass. before moving to Boxford, Mass.

She was proud of her heritage and was a descendant of the Caley family that owned a store across from Windsor Castle, a supplier of goods to Her Majesty The Queen. After moving to Peabody, she met and married Wesley E. Spence who was serving with the US Army Air Corp during WW II. She became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1944.

Rose worked at the former Warren Five Savings Bank in Peabody for fifteen years prior to her retirement. She had been active in St. Paul’s Episcopal Church in Peabody, and later at the Second Congregational Church. Rose was a proud member of the Ladies Charitable Society of Second Congregational Church serving the needs of the community and church for over 20 years.

She was predeceased by her loving husband, Wesley; her first son, Ace, Wesley E. Spence, Jr.; sisters Edith Bouchard and Lillian O’Blenes; brothers George and John Caley.

Rose leaves her children, Michael J. and Cynthia M. Spence of Wolfeboro, Cynthia and David Ruddock of Boxford; her cherished grandchildren, Evan, Jillian and Tyler Ruddock, Jessica and husband Kevin Hebert; Emily and husband Brett Soucy, and Kimberly Spence; also, her precious great grandchildren, Ryan Michael, Emma Rose and Samantha Cindy Hebert and Thomas Spence Soucy; as well as many nieces and nephews.

Later in life, Rose married Stanley F. Bogle, and was predeceased by Stan and his daughter Priscilla Costello.

She is survived by his daughter, Nancy Gillespie; his grandchildren, Ryan Gillespie, Erin Ricci, Amy Costello; and his great grandchildren, Ella and Ava Ricci and Elliott Costello.

A celebration of her life will be held 11 a.m. on Feb. 17 at the Second Congregational Church, 173B Washington St., Boxford, Mass. with Rev. Laura Gronberg officiating. Expressions of sympathy may be made to Make-A-Wish®.

GILMANTON — Jackson Cooper (Coop) Brulotte, 19, a lifelong resident of Gilmanton, passed away unexpectedly on Jan. 21, 2020.

Jack was born in Manchester on Aug. 12, 2000. Jack was a graduate of Gilford High School class of 2018.

Jack’s passions were making music, lacrosse, snowboarding, hanging with his dudes and his best friend and brother Dru. He was a kind, fun loving “skunkle” to all of his nieces and nephews. Family always came first to

Jack. His smile lit up the room and his sense of humor was infectious. Everyone who met Jack loved him. He will be greatly missed by his family, friends and the entire Gilman-ton community.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that any donations be made to Gilmanton Youth Organization at PO Box 234, Gilmanton NH, 03237.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

A mandate from God

BY LARRY SCOTT

From the very beginning, man was created to play a vital role in the administration of our world. Far from being a sinner in search of forgiveness, a prisoner in need of freedom, or a failure on a quest for self-respect, God meant for man to be his vice-regent over all creation. He was endowed with a mandate from God.

“God blessed [Adam and Eve],” we are told, “and said to them, ‘Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky and over every living creature that moves on the ground (Gen. 1:28). Many years later, following the great flood by which all living things were destroyed, one godly family survived to begin the process all over again. To Noah and his family, God said, “Be fruitful and increase in number and fill the earth. ... Everything that lives and moves about will be food for you. Just as I gave you the green plants, I now give you everything (Gen. 9:1,3).

In the words of Joaquin Molina, “The Bible reveals that all things upon the Earth were to be put under man’s dominion so that he might rule them. In addition, for that work, God has placed man in a position of authority, ‘crowning him with glory and honor” (Molina, What Is Man?).

One cannot imagine what life on earth would have been like had Adam and Eve never sinned. The imagination soars when dreaming of the perfect world we could have enjoyed. Just think! Perfect legislators directing our political affairs; perfect educators teaching unbiased truth; perfect drivers always watching out of the other man; perfect children always obeying and always learning from perfect parents. Unbelievable!

It is, perhaps, a sign of the end times that, in Jesus’ words, “Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold” (Matt. 24:12). It has been on our watch that our young people have been led to believe this is no such thing as absolute truth, no evidence for a Creator God, and no objective standard of right and wrong.

Francis Schaeffer and C. Everett Koop, writing in 1979, anticipated the outcome in this way: “The thinkable of the eighties and nineties will certainly include things which most people today find unthinkable and immoral, even unimaginable and too extreme to suggest.” (Schaeffer, Whatever Happened to the Human Race?)

They would be astounded to know how prophetic they were. Transgender rights, homosexual marriage, gender reassignment, and social tolerance for almost anything, however extreme, weren’t on the horizon at that time. They could not have imagined what has happened to America – and that with popular approval. "As it was in the days of Noah," Jesus said, "so will it be at the coming of the Son of Man.” (Matt. 24:37).

It is little wonder that those of us committed to model the Master find the challenge overwhelming. There is no respect for God, no concept of sin, and when it comes to Jesus Christ, total ignorance.

But we cannot abandon our society. We, too, have been given a mandate from God: we have been called to be living models of the Master, Jesus to our generation. America may challenge our message, but they cannot argue with the change Jesus Christ has brought to our lives.

As a D.C. outsider, I'm not afraid to shake things up in Washington.

Here's what many establishment politicians won't admit:

Washington has been bought by corporations. To pass progressive policies on climate change, health care, and gun safety, we need to break the corporate stranglehold on our government. That's why I'm calling for big structural reforms, like term limits. Congress was never meant to be a lifetime appointment. Term limits will bring new ideas into Congress and ensure our representatives are accountable to the people, not the corporations, so we can pass the progressive policies this nation needs.

If you're ready for an outsider to drive real change, join our campaign.

kith and kin in the frozen tundra of Upper Slobovia, as some of us fondly call home. These days, many of those old pullouts are besmirched by the ultimate insult of trash, from diapers to beer cans, and many are nothing more than tissue-strewn, barely screened latrines, in a territory where (to excuse visitors from afar) there are no public restrooms easily found. In fact, get this: Along the entire stretch of Route 3, from the Notch to the border, the only public toilets are just north of Colebrook. Often the picnickers are Canadians, with Quebec plates outnumbering Ontario about two to one. Ah, those Quebecois! They seem to know how to slow down, if only for a moment.

coach route—to go right by their front porches, even between house and barn. Imagine. That was when the rough north-south roads represented the only connection between the settlements in the howling wilderness and the cornucopia of “bought” goods from far down below. “Down below” is still in wide use in everyday northern life to refer, often with a good-natured, dismissive gesture, to everything down below the great notches—Franconia, Crawford, and Pinkham. There are several “lesser” notches which to many are not lesser at all, among them Kinsman and Grafton.

hunt, I took a compass bearing, and humped on up. It was a narrow little defile, rock ledges on each side, maybe 20 to 30 feet high, with a well-worn path down the middle. Well worn by whom, and what? By the occasional surveyor, timber-cruiser, logger and hunter, I thought, with maybe boot-leggers to boot, and wandering predators leaving old ground for new. Spooky, as I said, but in a good way. (Please address mail, with phone numbers in case of questions, to campguyhooligan@gmail.com or 386 South Hill Road, Colebrook, NH 03576.)

Notches are special places, especially the many wild and relatively untrammelled notches visited mostly by hikers and hunters. I can think of several such notches, some of which are downright spooky, but in a good way, in the manner of fellow creatures and kindred spirits. One of these is on the far edge of a bowl-shaped swamp in the northern reaches of the state, where I’ve hunted for partridge and deer. When I look at this place on a map, I wonder if a meteorite slammed in there long-ago, the notch formed by lava or muck. The little narrow “gun-sight notch” can be seen from many places around the upper edges of the bowl—hardwoods up high, softwoods down in the middle. And so one warm day, too warm to

Pond Hockey Classic brings out thousands

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

MEREDITH — Teams were back on the ice for the 11th year of the New England Pond Hockey Classic. Despite some literal bumps in the ice, the warmer weather didn't keep away players or spectators.

Rinks were set up on the ice of Meredith Bay for the tournament officially starting on Saturday and going through the championships on Sunday. There were plenty of fun activities for visitors over the weekend such as a beer garden, live music on the Bank of New Hampshire Pavilion Stage, and so much more.

"I think it was great, an overall success; a lot of happy people," said Pond Hockey Classic founder Scott Crowder.

The warmer temps and ice surface proved to be a significant issue. The surface was rough with a lot of cracks and bumps.

Crowder said having 500 games over a weekend on a natural surface can be tricky. On Friday night the Meredith Fire Department helped smooth out the ice with freezing temperatures, though the warmer temps on Saturday night made any resurfacing undoable. Crowder said all they could do was get the sweepers out on the rinks when they could to keep the ice as clear as possible.

As a result of the ice condition the stage and different amenities were moved to the parking lot of the Inn at Bay Point.

Crowder said over all the 35 degree weather wasn't a big issue for a lot of people.

"I don't think people were deterred at all with the weather and the temperatures," Crowder said.

The games concluded on Sunday afternoon with the championships and awards presentations.

The title for the Red Bull Open Ice division went to Young Guns of Boston after an overtime game.

Young Guns team captain Kevin Maresco said it was a good game and a hard fought battle.

The team has been taking part in the tourney for around seven years, last year they lost in the championship in a "heartbreaker."

"We've been talking about this all year," the winning teams at the 2020 New England Pond Hockey Classic gather for one big photo at the end of the weekend.

Maresco said. "We could detail a plan and execute it, it's what we do."

He said it felt great to finally win it.

The title for the 30-Plus division went to Dirty Dekes of Boston. Team captain Nick Yeomelakis said it was "unbelievable" to win.

"This is our seventh year so it's been a long time coming," he said.

Yeomelakis said the final game was "a battle of attrition" and took a come from behind victory of 9-8.

The team members have been friends since high school.

"It's our favorite weekend of the year by far," Yeomelakis said.

For the fourth year in a row The Boston Beauties of Boston won the Women's division.

Team member Mari-el Lucina said the final was a challenging game between two great teams. Team members said the rough ice made for some difficult games.

Team captain Sue Schmitz said she was proud of their achievement.

"It's awesome, it's a big claim to fame for us," Schmitz said.

Members of the team are old friends and play women's league hockey every Sunday night.

"We know where we are going to be on the ice," Schmitz said.

Members of the team said they also hope in future tournaments there will be spots open for more women's teams.

The winners of the Shinny 35+ division were Mugs of Gloucester, Mass.

"This is amazing, this is what we all talk about," said team captain Tony Fronteiro.

Fronteiro said the championship game was a battle with the score getting closer by the end of the game.

"Both teams were great," Fronteiro said. "Great game, nobody's out to hurt one another."

Fronteiro said the ice was extremely challenging. This was the first year he heard teams said they would rather do a shootout rather than a game to avoid getting hurt.

The Boot 2 of Barrington, R.I. won the 40-Plus division and The Boot 3 of Providence, Rhode Island, won the 50-Plus division. Shinny 21-Plus went to Bank of New Hampshire Loaners of Laconia. The win for Shinny 50-Plus went to the Johnny Cash team of Rumford, Mass. The top Twig division team was Beer Thrashers of Worcester, Mass.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Be Aware of Social Security Myths

Social Security can be one source of retirement income for you and your spouse. To maximize your benefits, you'll need to make some key decisions and be aware of some common myths.

- Myth 1: Always take Social Security early. You can file for Social Security benefits as early as 62, but you could get 25% to 30% more if you wait until your "full" retirement age (likely between 66 and 67). You can receive even more if you wait until 70, at which point your benefits will "max out." However, there's no right time to file for everyone – it depends on your situation, including factors such as your life expectancy, employment, financial need and spousal considerations.
- Myth 2: When you claim Social Security won't affect your spouse's benefits. This is not true. How much you receive in Social Security can affect your spouse's benefits while you are alive (spousal benefits) and after you've passed away (survivor's benefits). Your spouse could receive up to half of your retirement benefit, offset by his or her own benefit, so the longer you work before collecting Social Security, the greater the potential spousal benefits. For survivor benefits, your spouse would receive 100% of your benefit or his or her own, whichever is larger, so when you file affects how much your spouse would receive if you pass away early. In any case, you'll want to consult with the Social Security Administration about how much your spouse can receive, as his or her own benefits can also affect your decision-making.

- Myth 3: You can't work during retirement and collect Social Security. Yes, you can. But if you start receiving Social Security before your full retirement age (likely between 66 and 67), you can only earn up to $18,240 in 2020 and still get your full benefits. Once you earn more than this, Social Security deducts $1 from your benefits for every $2 you earn. But during the year you reach full retirement age, you can earn up to $48,600 without your benefits being withheld. If you exceed this amount, $1 will be deducted for every $3 you earn during the months before you attain your full retirement age. Social Security will increase your benefits when you do reach full retirement age to adjust for the previous work-related withholdings. So, if you plan on working and receiving Social Security, it may not make sense to file if most of your benefits will be withheld. Once you reach full retirement age, you can earn any amount without losing your monthly benefits, although your benefits could still be taxed.

- Myth #4: Social Security will provide for all my needs in retirement. Social Security will provide about a third of pre-retirement income, on average, according to the Social Security Administration. Consequently, you'll probably still need other sources of retirement income because Social Security alone most likely won't be enough to meet your needs. So, throughout your working years, contribute as much as you can to your IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. Combining these income sources with Social Security can help improve your chances of enjoying the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned.

Gilford hoop teams continue to roll

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD – The Golden Eagles have begun to find their identity as a team as the Gilford hoop girls rolled through two big wins last week against St. Thomas Aquinas and Campbell, which came in overtime.

On Jan. 28, the Golden Eagles took on St. Thomas Aquinas, which is a team that is among the best in the division when at full strength. St. Thomas Aquinas had a full lineup this night after several games being shorthanded, but the Golden Eagles continued to play well with a 68-44 win.

It was fairly close in the first half with the Golden Eagles up 29-18 at halftime. Gilford played solid defense and did well transitioning into offense to put points on the board. The Golden Eagles also played well on the glass, as they managed to snag offensive rebounds for putbacks consistently.

The second half was all Gilford, as Allison Carr took over in the third quarter especially with 16 of her 20 points. She was a machine as she took the ball to the hole finishing shots with ease, and also finding open looks from behind the three-point line. The Golden Eagles cruised in the fourth quarter and were able to get solid play from the whole team en route to the blowout win.

It was a break out game for Kate Sullivan, who had a double/double with 18 points and 12 rebounds. She also had five steals and two blocks. Carr was the scoring leader with 20 points, to go with five rebounds and two assists. Shelby Cole just missed a double/double with 17 points, nine assists and two steals.

Abby O'Connor had an incredible defensive performance for the Golden Eagles as she set a new school record with eight blocks. She also had two points and seven boards in the win.

Tea Rodney added four points and Maura Hughes had two points and three boards.

"I thought we came out of the gates and were running right from the start," said coach Rick Forge. "We wanted to make them run all 94 feet of the court and I think we did. We hustled really well especially in critical times."

Forge felt the team was moving the ball well offensively, getting great looks inside as well as finding players on the perimeter to hit shots from deep. He said moving Sullivan into the middle was a key aspect, and something she has been working on in practice. Forge also said the defensive play of O'Connor was integral, and the offensive play by Carr and Cole was lights out.

Carr did not miss a shot in the third quarter and at one point had eight points in about a minute.

"We have to get more people involved in the offense and that is something we were able to do tonight," said Forge. "That is key. Great team win tonight. To have 10 wins already is big. The kids are starting to find a little groove here before a tough stretch of games."

On Jan. 31, the Golden Eagles took on Campbell and came from behind in a 46-40 overtime victory. Sullivan was once again a force with her second straight double/double performance of 11 points and 14 rebounds.

She also had three steals and three blocks on the night.

O'Connor continued her incredible play on defense with seven blocks. She played well all around with eight points and five rebounds.

Cole had 11 points and five assists in the game. Carr added nine points and four rebounds while Abby Warren filled the stat sheet with six points, 12 rebounds and a pair of blocks.

Forge knows that wins like this are vital for the setup of the playoffs, which are just around the corner.

Bulldogs notch a pair of shutouts

BOB MARTIN

Colin McGreevy had two shutout victories for the Bulldogs last week.

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

LACONIA – The Belmont/Gilford Bulldogs had a couple of big games last week and the hockey team came away with a pair of shutout victories to improve to 7-3 on the season.

On Wednesday, the Bulldogs shut out John Stark-Hopkinton by a score of 2-0. The first period was anyone’s game, as both teams managed to put shots on goal but exceptional work in net by B/G goaltender Colin McGreevy kept the game locked at 0-0. Each team had scoring opportunities but couldn’t find the back of the net. The Bulldogs spent much of the period in John Stark’s zone and it was only a matter of time before they were able to get on the board.

It took until halfway through the second period to get the scoring going with a power play goal by Hayden Parent on an assist by Cam Jarvi. Parent was able to pull the puck past a John Stark defender and fire off a quick shot that found the corner of the goal and ended up in the back of the net.

It was back-and-forth with plenty of chippiness and hitting between the two teams the rest of the way. The second goal didn’t come until the end of the third period when John Stark had an empty net hoping to tie up the game with an extra attacker. Parent stole the puck from John Stark captain Brett Patnode and went for the empty net. The goal got dislodged in the process but the referees ruled it a goal to make it a 2-0 game.

On Jan. 31, the Bulldogs pulled off a 5-0 win over Sanborn/Epping. Nate Shirley led the way with a pair of goals. Other goals came from Jarvi, Griffin Tondreau and Zoltan Stefan. Parent had two assists in the game.

“A very dominant per-

Boys’ basketball
The Gilford boys’ basketball team also had a nice week with a pair of wins. On Tuesday, the Golden Eagles beat St. Thomas Aquinas 44-41 with sophomore Riley Marsh playing the hero with a three-pointer at the buzzer for the win. It was a tight game throughout with neither team leading by more than five points at any point.
Marsh had a good night overall with 10 points. Adrian Siravo was the leader with 15 points and 13 boards.

On Friday ,the Golden Eagles had another close win by a score of 43-41 over Campbell. Campbell was coming off a big win over Division 2 powerhouse Pelham and confidence was high. Freshman Jalen Reese played the hero role this time with a game-winning shot with less than a minute to play. He then sealed the deal with a blocked shot as time was expiring.
Siravo had another big night with 13 points and 13 rebounds.
“Seven players contributed to a balanced scoring attack and the team played great team defense,” said coach Rick Acquilano.
