BHS students experience the beauty of Yosemite

BELMONT — As a group of Belmont High School students who were enrolled in Ecology, Wildlife Biology and Earth Science classes over the past year head off for the summer, they are taking with them memories and knowledge gained through a trip to Yosemite National Park in April, where they shared exciting experiences while learning in the great outdoors.

Park first came under federal protection in 1864 and is renowned for its glacial formations, majestic waterfalls and “the persistence of life” in many forms that call the High Sierra Mountains of northern California home.

Fourteen members of Sarah Deuell and Adrien Deschaies’ science classes at BHS spent nine days out west over their Spring Break, including two days visiting San Francisco, where they participated in team building activities, collected data for their own research projects and learned more about the national park and its unique environment.

Ethan Merrill said he obtained enough information through a case study he did to incorporate it into his final class project. His goal was to examine weather data collected by park scientists then apply that information to the density

SANBORNTON — Police in Sanbornton are cautioning residents of not only their town, but other communities as well to be mindful of seasonal criminal activities and keep not only their homes, but their vehicles locked to prevent theft.

Last week, a vehicle parked on Sanborn Road was left unlocked and unattended, and a purse was stolen from inside.

This is a common type of theft during the warmer weather, and the best way to prevent it is to not have valuables in your vehicle and to keep the doors locked,” Chief Stephen Hankard said in a warning to residents on social media.

His department further advised everyone to keep ground floor windows and doors locked at night. In past years the town has experienced several summertime burglaries where suspects have entered TILTON — When the Tilton Police Department’s free Movies in the Park series kicks off at Riverfront Park, attendees may see some familiar faces in the opening “infomercial,” which was filmed on Monday at Pauli’s Bakery & Restaurant in downtown Tilton.

Camaro Heaven joined in the series by becoming the Premier Sponsor for the three movie nights and, with changes underway in their business, owners Chuck and Lisa Drew decided to have some fun by creating a brief opening film of their own.

As Brian Dumka captured his words and actions on film, Chuck Drew of Camaro Heaven and Drew’s Auto Parts played his part in a fun local “infomercial,” which will be shown before each of the free movie nights in Tilton’s Riverfront Park, beginning June 23.

“We’ve added a new division to Camaro Heaven, Drew’s Auto Parts, and thought this would be a great way to let people know about it and everything else we offer,” said Chuck Drew.

BY DONNA RHODES
drhodes@salmonpress.news

FRANKLIN — As the 2017 Motorcycle Week drew to a close last weekend, a Massachusetts man was killed in a three-vehicle collision on Hill Road (Route 3A) near the intersection with Lake Shore Drive in Franklin last Sunday morning.

At 10:13 a.m. on June 18, Franklin Fire Department was asked to respond to Hill Road, where they were advised that one person was trapped inside their automobile and a motorcyclist, who had been thrown onto the hood of the vehicle, was unresponsive at the time of the call.

When FFD arrived at the accident, CPR was immediately begun on the injured man and he was taken by ambulance to Franklin Regional Hospital where he was later pronounced dead. The driver of one of the other two vehicles was also transported to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Early reports from an investigation into the accident indicate that the motorcyclist, a 37-year-old male from New Bedford, Mass. whose name has not yet been released, collided head-on with an SUV. Another passenger vehicle was also caught up in the collision.

That portion of Route 3A was closed for several hours, but reopened again at approximately 5 p.m. on Sunday. Police say the accident is still under investigation, but no criminal charges are expected to be filed at this time.

Summer White Water Release celebrates 30 Years of river advocacy

Slalom racers will return to Tilton/Northfield and downriver boaters will be in Franklin

NORTHFIELD — In 1987, the Winnepesaukee River was threatened by two proposed dams which would have eliminated all of the white water on the river. One dam was proposed just upstream of the island in Tilton. The other, at Cross Mill Road in Franklin would have diverted the river into a 14 foot diameter penstock/ pipe to a powerhouse by Route 3 in Franklin. Concerned individuals and groups came together and sprang into action and Friends of the Winnepesaukee River was born. Motions to intervene were filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) by Friends of the Winnepesaukee River on behalf of the Merrimack Valley Paddlers, Central NH Canoe and Kayak Club, Basil W. Woods Chapter of Trout Unlimited and Ducks Unlimited. Friends of the Winnepesaukee worked with local communities to promote recreation and conservation on the river in their master plans, and increased awareness of the River through Earth Day events, advocating for placement of the “Winnepesaukee River” highway signs now at Exit 20 on Route 93 and together with the Merrimack Valley Paddlers created the annual New Year’s day paddle which now draws boaters and spectators from all over New England. By the mid 1990’s the permits for the proposed dams had expired, but interest in the river as a vehicle for economic development was growing rapidly. During the last 20 years, the towns of Tilton, and Northfield and City of Franklin have each developed parks or conserved shorefront land along the Winnepesaukee River including the Salmon Run Conservation area and Riverfront Park in Tilton, Granite Mills Conservation Area and the Surette Battery Recreation area in Northfield and Trestle View Park in Franklin.

PermaCity Life and the City of Frankilin are exploring plans to build a white water park ending at Trestle View Park in Franklin, and the Winnepesaukee River Trail connects all three communities and is part of a larger regional trail network. On June 24 and 25, in conjunction with Tilton, Northfield Old Home Day, there will be a Summer white water release on the Winnepesaukee River including a white water slalom race on the “upper Winni” where one of the dams was proposed 30 years ago. The event is made possible through a collaborative effort involving the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services, the towns and Conservation Commissions of Northfield and Tilton, Friends of the Winnepesaukee River and private land owners who are allowing access to their land. The race will be hosted by Sonny Hunt and his daughter Amy who have run the slalom race on the Blackwater River in Webster for over 30 years. Sonny Hunt stated, “Racers are looking forward to this event as part of the New England White Water Slalom series and as preparation for the White Water Slalom Nationals to be held in early July.” White water slalom racing combines precise boat handling skills with speed. Paddlers are timed racing through a series of gates (poles dangling from wires across the river which include both downstream (with the current) and upstream (against the current) gates. Penalties (seconds) are added for every pole touched or gate missed with the fastest times winning the race. There are a variety of categories for canoes and kayaks including men and women, combined and solo and tandem boats. Novices are encouraged to come out and give it a try.

Race headquarters will offer great views and it will be located on the Northfield side of the River on the conservation land at the end of Granite Street, Saturday the 24th will offer paddlers the opportunity to practice the course and the actual race will begin Sunday the 25th at 9:00. Race registration information can be found at: NESSRACE.COM Volunteers who would like to help with the race on Sunday will be required to have about 20 mins of training please arrive by 8:15 on Sunday. For more information contact Amy Hunt aehunt79@gmail.com or 401-

338-5669. Franklin will also see white water boaters over the weekend with downriver play boaters paddling the class III and IV rapids from Cross Mill Road to Trestle View Park in Franklin. Best viewing there will be at Trestle View Park and along the Winnepesaukee River Trail. Ken Norton from Friends of the Winnepesaukee River stated “The communities of Franklin, Tilton and Northfield and groups like Choose Franklin have promoted conservation and recreation efforts on the Winnepesaukee River as a vehicle for economic development by attracting people to the downtown areas of our communities. Last year’s slalom race and down river boating brought paddlers from across New England as well as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania as well as a strong contingent of New Hampshire paddlers and many spectators” Norton also offered special thanks to the NH Department of Environmental Services for their efforts to work closely with community leaders on this event.

“Take Me With You” by Catherine Ryan Hyde: August Shroeder, a burned-out teacher, has been sober since his nineteen-year-old son died. Every year he’s spent the summer on the road, but making it to Yellowstone this year means everything. The plan had been to travel there with his son, but now August is making the trip with Philip’s ashes instead. An unexpected twist of fate lands August with two extra passengers for his journey, two half-orphans with nowhere else to go. What none of them could have known was how transformative both the trip—and the bonds that develop between them—would prove, driving each to create a new destiny together. (Amazon)

Pennsylvania rust belt. Devereaux’s reluctance is partly rooted in his character—he is a born anarchist—and partly in the fact that his department is more savagely divided than the Balkans. In the course of a single week, Devereaux will have his nose mangled by an angry colleague, imagine his wife is having an affair with his dean, wonder if a curvaceous adjunct is trying to seduce him with peach pits, and threaten to execute a goose on local television. All this while coming to terms with his philandering father, the dereliction of his youthful promise, and the ominous failure of certain vital body functions. In short, Straight Man is classic Russo—side-splitting, poignant, compassionate, and unforgettable. (Amazon)

“Avalon High” by Meg Cabot: Avalon High, I was starting to think, might not be so bad after all. Maybe it’s not where Ellie wants to be, but if you have to start at a new school, Avalon High is typical enough: There’s Lance, the jock. Jennifer, the cheerleader. And Will, senior class president, quarterback, and all-around good guy. But not everyone at Avalon High is who they appear to be... not even, as Ellie is about to discover, herself. As a bizarre drama begins to unfold, Ellie has to wonder, what part does she play in all this? Do the coincidences she’s piecing together really mean—as in King Arthur’s court—that tragedy is fast approaching for her new friends? Ellie doesn’t know if she can do anything to stop the coming trouble. But somehow, she knows she has to try. (Amazon)

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

BY LARRY SCOTT

Referring to the capacity of a GPS to recalculate when one gets off track or lost, Ron Carpenter Jr., in his book, “The Necessity of an Enemy,” makes this observation:

“So if you’re sitting there thinking, Man my life is a mess, I have something to say to you. No matter what mistake you made, God can always recalibrate your life. ... He knows you because He made you, He knows right where you are because He went there with you, and He knows the way out because he made it before you ever went in. Opportunities come in cycles, and you just have to wait for the next one to come along and for the door to reopen. God will take care of us while we’re recalibrating. He’ll create special moments when restoration and healing will come” (p. 196).

Ron Carpenter is writing, as you can tell, about a personal God Who can be and would like to be deeply involved with each of us. The Bible presents God as a living personality, one who can be hurt and angered but who is also interested in being loving and deeply integrated in the day-to-day affairs of our lives. I have said it often in this column but again I repeat: God loves each of us so much that He is committed to make each of us the very best that we can be. That is true whether we insult Him, ignore Him, or accept Him for who he is. Within the context of our gender, our intellect, our abilities and our station in life, God is available to help us achieve our most cherished dreams, limited obviously, by what is legal, moral, and, from His point of view, best for us. And how do I know this? I listen carefully to what Jesus had to say.

I must tell you honestly, were it not for Jesus Christ, I would be a part of the crowd for whom God is a non-entity. Everything I know and believe about God comes to me from the life Jesus lived and the message He preached. There is so much about God I do not understand; His availability to me and His involvement in my life are beyond my ability to either explain or justify. But He is there and He is not silent ... and my faith in God is strengthened when I observe what Jesus did and hear what He had to say. God for Jesus was not a distant and uninvolved Being. You cannot read the Gospels without observing the personal warmth when Jesus was talking to or talking about His Heavenly Father.

It is tragic that to so many God is that unknown force “somewhere out there” Who has little relevance to the daily grind of our lives. But I must tell you that I have a secret source of information. What little I know about God I find exemplified in the life and message of Jesus Christ, and by Him I discover a God who is quite capable of taking my messed-up life and giving me hope, peace of mind, and a new sense of direction. Knowing Jesus, in short, changes everything.

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarryscott@gmail.com.

PET OF THE WEEK

AUDREY

Sweet, petite, demure, words to describe this little dark tabby girl Audrey, who has been calling this shelter home since February 2017.

Audrey arrived thanks to a caring stranger who scooped her up off the cold, icy street in a neighboring town. Audrey was shy, not a little bewildered and very obviously, lost.

No-one claimed her, even though we are sure she was a housecat and constant companion for somebody, somewhere. Slowly she’s come out of her shell and is trusting humans once more.

Now, that the sun is shining, she resides happily in the Small Feline Social Room, a.k.a. The Fat Cat Lounge, basking blissfully in the window and enjoying the company of other cats.

You will be rewarded when you visit, with her quiet gentility as she meanders between feet and ankles, loving brushing your legs with her rotund little body. Did we mention she has the tiniest little cat feet! So endearing and a gentler, more serene soul you will not find.

June is Adopt A Shelter Cat Month. Could not our Audrey, aged just about three years young, find her permanent home soon?

Check www.nhhumane.org for more details.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What will happen to Sanbornton’s budget surplus?

To the Editor:

The taxpayers of Sanbornton should be made aware of the budget information that can be found on the Sanbornton Town Web site.

For the taxpayers’ information, I would like to share the following budget information: at the town meeting, we appropriated the sum of $4,600,905 for our current budget, and as of May 31, we have actually spent $3,840,769. The actual figure is for an 11 month period so far. My calculation tells me that we still have a balance of $760,136 with only one month to go. That’s a fairly large sum, and the question is, what are the Board of Selectmen’s plans for any moneys left over after the expenses are paid for the last month of this year’s budget?

Taxpayers should take more interest in money decisions that have been made by the board of selectmen in past years, when we have not spent all the appropriated money on the various/specific budget lines!

One also has to ask why, if all the appropriated budget funds have not been spent in a given year, aren’t those budget lines adjusted downward for the following year? Ask your selectmen!

Just curious!

Wait! It’s something on my back! It’s (you guessed it) (ugh) a tick...

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

I’m having to get used to the reality of ticks, as in “Yechhh.” Others in more tick-accustomed climes will be shrugging and saying “Whoa up, poor guy! Get used to it!” Still, when you have not had to live with ticks, or even think about them... Not so long ago, there were no ticks where I live, which is in northern New Hampshire near the 45th Parallel. (Okay, “not so long ago” in my case means maybe 20 or 30 years ago. Two decades is an eye-blink when you’ve reached 70. Still, it gives me hope. The other day I saw Joan and Donald Dickson, walking around town and picking up the trash that the New Millennials don’t seem to think or care about. (Donald’s pushing, oh, at least 95, and they have a room waiting for him at The Home. Joan, by contrast, is a mere child.) But the climate has been warming, and even just that little tenth of a degree or something over a few years gives certain insects the edge they need to expand their range, which all of us, as a species, man and cockroaches and ticks, seem wont to do. Even though I’m proud and lucky to have taken an entomology course from the fabled Tom Fisher back when UNH was running night courses in Manchester, I’m no expert when it comes to creepy-crawlies and wing-ed beasts. For that I call the State Entomologist, or even Tom Fisher, who when he’s not singing in a barbershop quartet somewhere still answers my questions about things that creep, crawl, bore, tunnel, rasp, sting, bite, and fly. Anyway, the experts tell me that ticks tend to extend their territory by following rivers, which makes sense (lowest places, hence usually the overall warmest weather, lots of animals trav-

Longtime friend Glen Zibolis, now of Rhode Island but dating back to Merrimack and my first newspapering job at the Nashua Telegraph (1968), was up last year and, having plunged into the surrounding greenery, discovered, upon feeling something creeping, a tick. It was what is commonly referred to as a dog tick, fairly large and easy to locate and catch as it creeps upward (always upward) from legs to torso (that’s where the “Ugh” comes in). This year it was my turn. Glen came up for a weekend of scouting around the territory, and our meanderings took us to Brunswick Springs, an ancient Wobanaki (Abenaki) (Coashaukee) mineral spring that falls into the Connecticut just below where the Nulhegan comes in. It is a place well known to people who canoe. I’d forgotten that I’d had a heart attack and was supposed to be on therapy and stuff, and down we capered, to think a lot about history and admire the abundant totems and petroglyphs and respect the

It was a hike equal to a hike into camp, which we might have done otherwise. The next day, I felt something crawling up my left leg as I sat watching the latest unbelievable follies on TV, the fawning and so embarrassing Cabinet meeting, out of Washington. I grabbed it and it squirmed away. I love “squirmed” in this sense, sort of like “obsequious,” which in some way reminds me of the totally reprehensible stuff coming out of Washington. I was reaching behind my back to catch this tick, which I did when it entered a crevasse (never mind), and then I took it out onto the kitchen counter to crush it. To do this I ultimately, almost, had to fetch a hammer. Dog ticks will, along with earwigs, inherit the earth, and probably are here for longer than I am. One Light Theatre presents “The 39 Steps”

TILTON — One Light Theatre’s summer season continues with the wild comedy “The 39 Steps,” a stage adaptation of Patrick Barlow’s novel and Alfred Hitchcock’s classic thriller of the same name. Richard Hannay is whisked into the world of international espionage after helping an undercover spy escape a dangerous situation. Over the course of the play, he stumbles through three romances and meets over a hundred other side characters. Despite the abundance of characters at play, “The 39 Steps” is portrayed by a cast of only four. Directed by Kirstin Riegler, One Light’s production will feature four of their professional Resident Artists: Owen Thomas, Heather Hunt, Jack Harding, and Matthew McGinnis. Owen Thomas (Richard Hannay) is entering his senior year at Rockford University in Illinois, where he is pursuing dual BFAs in Musical Theatre and Dance. Outside of Rockford University, he has previously performed at the Schoenbrunn Amphitheater in New Philadelphia, OH and the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in Edinburgh, Scotland. Heather Hunt (Annabella Schmidt/Pamela/Margaret) is working toward her Acting BA from Keene State College, where she also helps run the student theatre organization. Regionally, you may have seen Hunt in the ensemble of “Jesus Christ Superstar” with the Winnepesaukee Playhouse or as Beth March in “Little Women: The Musical” at the Seacoast Repertory Theatre. Earlier this summer, Hunt attended Springboard NYC, an intensive training program run by the American Theatre Wing. Jack Harding (Clown #1) recently graduated Gilford High School as valedictorian and with an impressive theatrical resume already under his belt, including several regional credits from the Winnepesaukee Playhouse. He made his professional debut last Christmas as Silly Billy in the Winnepesaukee Playhouse’s pantomime production of “Jack and the Beanstalk.” Harding will be majoring in Actor Training at Hartford University. Matthew McGinnis (Clown #2) studies music education at Keene State College, and has experience with directing and music direction as well as performance. Past roles include Lumiere in “Beauty and the Beast,” Lt. Cable in “South Pacific,” George Bailey in “It’s a Wonderful Life,” and Gabe in “Next to Normal” – be sure to come see him reprise his role as Gabe later in One Light’s season! One Light is a non-profit theatre company with a particular passion for bringing new shows to the Lakes Region. Their mission is to not only entertain the community, but to enrich their audience by challenging norms and provoking discussion. This is a season you will not want to miss! “The 39 Steps” will run for two weekends (July 7-9 and July 15-16) at Tilton School’s Hamilton Hall. The fast-paced, humorous script coupled with this immensely talented cast is guaranteed to keep the audience on the edge of their seats! Come witness what New Hampshire’s young artists are accomplishing, and be taken along with Richard Hannay for the ride of a lifetime! Visit onelighttheatre.org or call 848-7979 for tickets. Box office hours are listed on their website. Tickets will also be for sale at Lakes Region Cupcakes on Main Street in Tilton.

Franklin VNA & Hospice Coloring Contest takes flight!

FRANKLIN — Like Polaroids and buttercream roses, coloring contests are having another day in the sun. For several years now people have been paying more attention to the benefits and joy that coloring can provide. Studies show coloring as a form of art therapy is helpful among people dealing with a variety of conditions, such as depression, dementia, anxiety, and PTSD. Plus, it's just fun!

This year to celebrate National Coloring Book Day on Aug. 2, the Franklin VNA & Hospice is hosting its first annual Coloring Contest.

One VNA staff member noted, "Coloring is something so accessible and fun for people of all ages and abilities, and the contest provided a great way for us to engage the community members and local businesses."

And they did keep things local! Prizes were donated from the Tilton Dairy Queen, The Soda Shoppe, Central Sweets, Ralph and Jo's and The Franklin Studio all in Franklin and Dipsy Doodle in Northfield who were all excited to provide enough prizes to allow first, second and third place prizes for each of the three age groups in the contest, eight and under, nine to 14 and 15 and older.

The picture depicts a butterfly in flight whose wings are filled with whorls, circles and crescents. The butterfly, part of the log for the Franklin VNA & Hospice is a visual representation of their mission - to provide quality home health care, Hospice care, and education to individuals and families in our communities so that they may reach their highest level of independence.

"It was important that the contest have fun prizes, and that the picture was also enjoyable to color for everyone," said a member of the design team.

The contest is running now through July

LRGHealthcare ICU recognized for top patient care

LACONIA — In the spring of 2015, the LRGHealthcare Intensive Care Unit (ICU) was selected among 69 adult ICUs nationwide to participate in a national quality improvement initiative called the ICU Liberation Campaign ABCDEF Bundle Collaborative. At the project wrap up meeting recently, LRGHealthcare was recognized as the top community hospital on the East Coast for performing spontaneous breathing trials (SBTs) in an effort to get patients off life support sooner, which has been shown to decrease patient mortality.

LRGHealthcare was also recognized as a top performer for engaging families in their loved-one's care with the goal of making them part of the healthcare team. Family involvement is an important component of helping patients get better quicker. For example, studies have shown that a family member can tell when their loved one is in pain better than the nurse and doctor can.

The goal of the ICU Liberation Collaborative was to translate research into practice and improve patient outcomes in the critically ill. More than 100 peer reviewed publications support the interventions included in the ABCDEF Bundle in the ICU, but it had never been evaluated in a real-world setting on a large scale.

One Light Theatre brings “Big Fish: The Musical” to Tilton

TILTON — Curtains open on One Light Theatre’s inaugural summer season June 30th with their first performance of “Big Fish: The Musical” at the Tilton School’s Hamilton Hall, 30 School St., Tilton. Featuring a core company of professional actors supported by talented community members, this production showcases the best of collaboration in the arts. You’ll recognize New Hampshire talent at work both onstage and off: the backdrops projected for each scene were painted by local artists, with originals on display in the theater lobby.

“Big Fish: The Musical” follows two storylines: in the present day, Edward Bloom grapples with his own mortality as his son, Will, prepares to become a father himself. In the past, we experience Edward’s young adventures as he once told them to Will: full of embellishment, magic, and storytelling. The two storylines finally overlap when Will, searching for the truth amidst Edward’s flair, uncovers a secret that Edward never shared. Full of adventure, emotion, and exciting songs like “Be The Hero and Fight the Dragons,” this show is sure to be one the whole family can enjoy!

page. Vallone commented: “Public engagement around education policy is critical to ensuring all students have access to educational opportunities that will prepare them to thrive in the 21st Century. Please come and bring questions and concerns, ideas and thoughts, to this meeting.” For more information, contact Dan Vallone via email at dan@reachinghighernh.org.

FRANKLIN — Ronald Magoon, President & CEO of Franklin Savings Bank, announced today that the bank outperformed other peer banks last year in commercial mortgages as published in the May 2017 edition of The Registry Review. Overall, the bank ranked #1 in commercial mortgages by volume totaling $12,669,950 and #4 in number of loans with 22. The data was provided by The Warren Group, publisher of the Registry Review, a trusted and reliable source in New England for real estate property data. “This recognition would not be possible without the outstanding efforts of our commercial lending team,” commented Ron Magoon,

President & CEO. “We are fortunate to have a talented team of lenders with decades of collective experience in assisting business owners with finding the appropriate financing to meet their needs.” The data included in the report represents all purchase and non-purchase loans originated by banks, credit unions

“New Hampshire on High - Historic and Unusual Weathervanes in the Granite State” at Gilmanton Historical Society June 27

GILMANTON — The Gilmanton Historical Society’s 2017 summer program series continues on Tuesday, June 27, with a presentation on historical weathervanes in New Hampshire. The program, at Old Town Hall on NH Route 140 in Gilmanton Iron Works, begins at 7:30 p.m., with social hour and refreshments at 7 p.m.

This program offers a fun and engaging look at the historic and unusual weathervanes found on New Hampshire’s churches, town halls and other public buildings from earliest times down to the present. Highlighted by a visual presentation of a sampling of the vanes found throughout the State, Glenn Knoblock’s program will trace the history of weathervanes, their practical use and interesting symbolism, as well as their various types and methods of manufacture and evolution from practical weather instrument of architectural embellishment. The program is supported by New Hampshire Humanities. The Gilmanton Historical Society’s 2017 summer programs are offered on the fourth Tuesday of each month, May through September. In July, join the Society for a walking tour of the Gilmanton Corner village. Pat Clarke tells us about Gilmanton Summer Hotels in August. The final program in September addresses the hurricane of 1938. The Society’s Museum in Old Town Hall features an exhibit of Vintage Clothing worn by Gilmanton residents on Saturday morning, July 29, 10 a.m. to noon.

The programs are free and open to the public. Donations to support the work of the Society are always welcome.

Don't miss Charles Laughton as "Captain Kidd" on LRPA this weekend

LACONIA—Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (June 23 & 24) for our “LRPA After Dark” presentation of 1945’s swashbuckling adventure “Captain Kidd,” starring Charles Laughton, Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton.

In the unabashedly unhistorical “Captain Kidd,” the larger-than-life pirate (Laughton) convinces England’s King William III that he is an honest ship’s captain, and that he’s just the man to escort a treasure-laden vessel bound for England through the dangerous waters off of Madagascar. He further persuades the King that he needs a crew of condemned pirates for the job – and that they should be given a royal pardon. Kidd’s plan is to double-cross the King and take the treasures for himself. The pardoned crew is made up of scalawags and cutthroats (you’ll recognize the great character actors including John Carradine, Gilbert Roland and Sheldon Leonard, among others). One of them, Adam Mercy (Scott), is a smart and sophisticated rogue with manners and intelligence that very much please Kidd – and later, attract the attentions of Lady Anne Falconer (Britton). But soon things are not as they appear. Is Adam really who he says he is? What are his real intentions? Can a buccaneer such as Kidd trust anyone for very long?

Although woefully inaccurate in terms of history (there is a scene that includes the Tower Bridge, roughly 200 years before it would have been built!), “Captain Kidd” is well-regarded for strong performances from a deep and terrific cast, notably Laughton, who “binds the entire affair with his bravura villainy,” according to Turner Classic Movies. The legendary New York Times critic Bosley Crowther wrote, “‘Captain Kidd’ is strictly Charles Laughton’s vehicle; the rest of the crew are merely along for the ride.” The film received an Academy Award nomination for Best Original Score. Ahoy, Mateys! Get ready for a rollicking adventure. Grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark – or walk the plank!

You can’t find television like this it anywhere but LRPA TV, MetroCast Channel 25. Not a subscriber? Then log onto Live Stream through our website (www.lrpa.org) where you can catch all the fun.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

Financial abuse and older Americans

BY MARK PATTERSON

Before I begin to share information regarding the financial abuse amongst our seniors, I must state that I know or have known people near 100 that have not lost cognitive abilities and remain very sharp, so just realize that this information is a generalized statistical study.

According to new research from Daniel Marson, a professor of neurology at the University of Alabama-Birmingham, adults in their 60s and 70s start to exhibit declines in financial abilities, including a vulnerability to potential telephone fraud, difficulty with making change at checkout and having a harder time at prioritizing bills. Those diminished abilities can become a real struggle when trying to keep up with everyday financial management tasks.

The findings suggest that there are several warning signs that friends or family members can look for in order to give them indications that there may be trouble ahead for this person. An untouched stack of mail may indicate that bills are not being paid and they have fallen behind which is even more of a problem. Calculating a tip at a restaurant or figuring out a deductible on a medical bill could be a sign of cognitive decline. Overlooking investment risks and focusing on the benefits rather than the risks of potential loss is a problem that may be associated with age.

Research also confirms that people typically live longer than they had anticipated, creating planning problems around their long term health plans, or just having adequate income to live. I have experience with clients that wanted to go for a high risk investment for a big return out of desperation. That desperation opens them up to “get rich quick” schemes that are targeting seniors and their money. Contractors, financial advisors and even family members can be the culprits looking to take advantage of the vulnerable. Contactors, financial advisors, accountants and lawyers can be checked out for problematic pasts, but a family member with bad intentions can be most difficult to recognize.

For those seniors with a spouse, make sure your spouse is aware of what is going on with the investments and household finances that is just a good practice for a number of reasons. For those without a spouse or partner, a sibling, son, daughter or close friend may be honored to have you “consult” regarding day to day financial decisions. The good news is that aging is not all bad. We often times gain wisdom and increased pattern recognition as we age. Those who stay physically and mentally active may hold off the effects of aging for an indefinite amount of time.

A personal observation on my part is; that I know and converse with many older friends and family members in their 70’s and 80’s, many who still work at their business or stay involved with outside interest. While they may claim that they have “issues” remembering certain things, I believe they are just playing “possum.” Yes, I was raised in the south, so possum is in my vocabulary!

Cole Contigiani was named the Division 3 Player of the Year.

Contigiani named Division III Player of the Year

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

BELMONT — From day one it has been a special season for Cole Contigiani of the Belmont High School baseball team, who pitched a no-hitter even though he took a loss in his first game of the season. His momentum on the mound and at the plate never wavered throughout the season, and the coaches around the leagues took notice by naming him the Division 3 Player of the Year.

In the regular season Contigiani was 7-1 with the only loss being a no-hitter. He followed up that loss with a one-hitter, which showed how just on fire he was right out of the gate. Contigiani pitched 52.2 innings and allowed only four earned runs. He had 69 strikeouts and had a season high of 15 strikeouts in one game.

What is most impressive is his .532 ERA and 0.742 WHIP.

Contigiani shined in the playoffs as well on the mound with a 2-0 record and got the win to send the Red Raiders to the championship against Campbell.

At the plate Contigiani was the cleanup hitter and was solid all season. He hit .405 with a .592 on base percentage and 1.183 OPS. He had 21 RBIs and 19 runs scored. He also played solid third base throughout the season with a cannon arm from the hot corner.

Contigiani said he started training hard in December by hitting and working on his pitches. He said he was going to the batting cages and doing soft toss and tee work. On the mound, Contigiani worked on perfecting his pitches and he said he feels that it has helped a lot.

"I think my control has gotten a lot better with practice this year," said Contigiani. "I just wanted to hit my spots."

Contigiani said he has never been clocked but he estimates his fastball hovers in the low 80s when at its best. When he hits his spots and mixes with off-speed pitches and curves, he is as tough to hit as anyone in the division.

Contigiani said he was trying to become a better player, but he knew that he just had to play his role and be the best player for his team. He said he wasn't expecting the honor of being player of the year.

"It is an awesome feeling but I couldn't have done this with my team and coaches," said Contigiani.

Coach Matt Leblanc has said it has been a joy to watch Contigiani improve as a baseball player over the course of his career. It was his first time making All-State, let alone being Player of the Year, but Leblanc said it is very clear how much work he has put in to get to this level.

"You can't feel anything but happy for a guy like Cole to be named to the first team and, even bigger, the Division III Player of the Year," said

Leblanc. "Cole works harder than any player who has come through our program in quite a while. He spent the fall and winter working on baseball as he wanted to be a positive contributor to the team. That work propelled him to the season he is having which was noticed by every coach that saw him play. Through hard work and hustle Cole surpassed his personal goals and the team benefited as a whole."

Contigiani will be heading to UNH next year and plans to play on the club baseball team.

Raiders earn baseball All-State nods

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

BELMONT — The Belmont Red Raiders had an outstanding season, winning 17 games in a row before losing heartbreaker in extra innings in the finals. The team had four All-Staters this year in Corey Derosier, Jonny

Leclair, Cam Magerer and Cole Contigiani- the Division 3 Player of the Year.

Corey Derosier

Derosier is a senior and has been the center piece of the Belmont baseball team for the past four years, according to coach Matt Leblanc. He is a three-year captain and a four-year starter for the Red Raiders who plays shortstop and pitches. On the mound he was 5-0 during the regular season and allowed only one run all season. He had an incredible 0.239 ERA, 0.818 WHIP and 34 strikeouts. Offensively he was a force at the plate taking care of the leadoff spot. He had a .447 batting average with a .542 on base percentage. He also had an OPS of 1.032, 16 RBIs and 22 runs.

“Four years ago we had a vision of what we wanted our program to be and Corey was the embodiment of that,” said Leblanc. “We wanted this team to be a reflection of him and he was named captain as a sophomore. The positive results that we’ve been able to have is because Corey raised the bar for himself and other players worked harder to keep up with Corey. He’s had a tremendous statistical year in all phases of the game and has played his best defense in his four years of being on the varsity team.”

Derosier was second team All-State last year and this year he set a goal to be first team. He said he worked on his mechanics and correcting minor errors in the off-season to make him a better player.

Being his senior season, Derosier said it has been a thrill to have such a solid season and make it to the finals.

“Everyone has been having a lot of fun this season,” said Derosier. “We have all worked hard and are very motivated.”

Jonny Leclair

Leclair made the second team All-State and was about as good a hitter down the stretch this season that one could imagine. He batted .439, with many of the hits line drive ropes into the outfield. He had a .478 on base percentage, 1.064 OPS, 15 RBIs and 14 runs.

Leclair, the team’s right fielder, said he was shocked to be named to the team but said he was proud to be named. He attributes vision training that he did in the off-season to help in seeing the ball at the plate. Leclair said he has improved greatly since he was only part-time in his sophomore and junior seasons. This year is another story, and he has been one of the main factors in the lineup.

Leclair was also second team All-State for soccer this year, as well.

“A three-year starter in right, Jonny has had the best season of baseball in his life,” said Leblanc. “A kid who excels on the soccer pitch, Jonny kind of lacked some confidence on the diamond. That all changed in 2017. He listened to coaches, and put his best effort onto doing the little things right. Once Jonny started finding consistent success his confidence rose with every at bat. He has become a solid hitter and someone we rely on to set the table for the top of the order.”

Cam Magerer

Magerer, a sophomore, was a third team All-State selection. He stepped into the role of catcher this year when Doug Price got had an injury and moved to first base. The transition was seamless, and he shined both behind the plate and at the plate.

Magerer batted .367 with a .481 on base percentage. He also had an

OPS of 1.003, 14 RBIs and 15 runs scored.

Magerer grew up playing baseball and has played AAU over the years. He said his hitting wasn’t great early, but last year he worked on going to the opposite way and getting on base. This year he has had the pleasure of catching a pitching staff that has been highly praised.

Leblanc has high praise for his young catcher.

“As a freshman Cam was impressive with his consistency at the plate, never striking out on the year,” said Leblanc. Someone who almost always puts the ball in play tends to find success more often than not. Cam is looked at as one of our better hitters and this year he has added defense to his game. In the second half of the season Cam was called upon to take over with catching duties. Since being inserted into the lineup he has impressed with his receiving and blocking abilities. Cam has had a positive impact on our pitching staff and is as smart of a baseball player that we have.”

Despite tough season, Bears baseball has three All-Staters

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

TILTON — It was a rocky season for the Winnisquam Regional High School Bears baseball team, but there were some shining moments which include the play of three All-State seniors Mike Lowrey, Brendon Vaughn and Hunter Tierney.

Mike Lowrey (First team)
The starting shortstop for the Bears, Lowrey was named to the All-State first team this season. He was the third hitter in the order and the leading run producer on the Bears. Lowrey had an incredible batting average of .500 with 23 hits, two doubles, two triples and a grand slam. He led the team with 14 RBIs and had 11 stolen bases. Perhaps most impressive was his .641 on base percentage. He was also selected to play in the Twin State All Star Game for seniors on June 24 against Vermont at Memorial Field in Concord. Lowrey has been playing baseball for years, in Legion and throughout high school. He said there was countless hours in the batting cage, fielding and working out to become an outstanding player. Lowrey's best game of the season came in a 12-7 win over Somersworth where he hit a grand slam to take the lead, and then later hit a two run double to give them the lead again. "When I heard I was named All-State I was a little surprised, but I knew that I had worked hard all these years," said Lowrey. "I believe that this was earned and not just given. I put in a lot of time and effort." Lowrey will be playing baseball at Keene State College next year.

Brendon Vaughn (Second team)
Vaughn was an incredible success story by being named to All-State second team since he was nowhere in that spectrum the year before. He was the team's leadoff hitter and starting center fielder who hit .356, which was 260 points higher than his previous year's average of .096. Vaughn led the team with 15 runs scored and had an on base percentage of .435. He also had a few innings on the mound for the Bears.

"I worked really hard in the off-season," said Vaughn. "I was definitely surprised to be named." Coach Fred Caruso praised him for his overall play in the field that helped him achieve the All-State honor. "He played error-free centerfield and made many spectacular plays," said Caruso. Vaughn was selected to be an alternate in the Twin State All Star Game. Vaughn will be attending West Virginia University in the fall.

Hunter Tierney (Third team)
Tierney had a rough start to his season on the mound but he turned it around quickly, ending the season with a pair of wins to go along with a 2.89 ERA. He had 51 strikeouts over 41 innings. As the lineup's number two hitter, Tierney helped set the table for the meat of the order. He had a .333 batting average, a .414 on base percentage and led the team with five doubles. Tierney said he loves pitching and catching because it is where he gets to see the most action on the field. However, he said he was ready to play anywhere coach was going to put him.

Tierney recalls his start against Franklin in the last game where he said his curveball was feeling great, and it was a good feeling to get redemption after a big loss to their rival earlier in the season. In the 18-3 win, pitched a complete game with 10 strikeouts and no earned runs. Tierney said he is happy to be named to the All-State team in his senior season. "I was definitely surprised to be named," said Tierney. "It's an honor. I didn't think I had a chance after the first two games doing so poorly on the mound and being a utility guy. But this is huge." Tierney will be attending Anna Maria College where he is set to play football and baseball.

Finemore wins JV baseball Coach of the Year

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

TILTON — The Winnisquam Bears junior varsity baseball team had a great season going 13-1, and for that reason coach Ken Finemore was named coach of the year. This is the second time in three years that Finemore was given the award, and he said he couldn't be prouder of the accomplishment. "I'm very excited about it," said Finemore. "I really didn't expect it this time, but we had a great season so it is a great honor." Finemore said the program is about the varsity and he has a wonderful coaching relationship with varsity coach Fred Caruso. He said they are always in constant communication throughout the year, and he has ideas of what he wants to see on the varsity level. He said this was meaningful to the other coaches, and believes this is why he received the award. Finemore said he can't say enough about what it has been like working with Caruso for the past 12 years. He said Caruso always makes the JV players and coaches feel like a meaningful part of the program and is great at congratulating players on making honor roll and other achievements. Finemore said he is proud of the young squad that he coached this year, and while it is hard to translate JV success to varsity, he believes Winnisquam has a promising future with the talent he has had this year. He said that this year they had experienced good players come into the system, but also some who were new but they meshed very well together. Some of the inexperienced players were freshmen Jack Beau-lieu- a pitcher who went 8-0 with seven complete games and first baseman Michael Allard, who helped lead the way for the team. He also said sophomore Brady Ellsworth was a main contributor who could have a good future in the system. He said these are great leaders with excellent professional approaches. He also said Andrew McKinnon at shortstop and Addam Dunham in centerfield have been quality contributors. "Combine that with the rest of the team that was already in the system last year, we really benefited," said Finemore. "We only had nine or 10 players most of the season so everyone got a chance to play. It made for a steady JV season." With the varsity team losing several seniors this year, there will be some spots open for JV players to have a shot. Finemore acknowledged that coaching junior varsity is a different beast, and there is a lot of focus on fundamentals, hitting and baserunning. He was proud of the success the Bears showed this season under his leadership. "We made a lot of progress as a team this year in base running because we had good contributions up and down the lineup, so everyone had a lot of chances to run," said Finemore. Finemore said it is exciting to see where the program could be heading. He said in Winnisquam's championship years they had players come up through the JV system that were integral to the success, and he envisions some big things ahead for the baseball program. "It's so exciting to watch these players and teach them," said Finemore. "It's very rewarding."

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
