

Belmont Middle School recognized for pursuing Excellence in Education

BELMONT — The 2017-18 school year has certainly been one to remember at Belmont Middle School. The celebrations began in September when BMS was one of only four schools in New Hampshire to be awarded a National Blue Ribbon Award as an Exemplary High Performing School, but the accolades didn't stop there. Next up was a special recognition for Principal Aaron Pope, who was named the New Hampshire Association of School Principals' Middle School Principal of the Year.

Capping it all off last week, BMS was recognized by the New Hampshire Excellence in Education Awards Program

Jessica Richardson and Annie Collacchi.

Decibus said the committee paid a visit to BMS back in March when they were considering candidate schools and they liked what they saw- hardworking teachers who were engaged in their teaching and students who were empowered as a result of those

Walk For Addiction draws support from throughout the region

TILTON — More than 50 people came out last Saturday morning for the fourth annual Walk for Addiction, sponsored by the Tilton Police Department in conjunction with organizers Carol-ee Longley and Wendy Hill, showing support for families and individuals, sharing stories of success in the struggles with addiction and remembering those lost along the way.

Police Chief Robert Cormier said the idea for the walk began when police realized how widespread the problems with opioid drugs had become, not just in Tilton but communities all across the state.

"There were a lot of people hurting, losing kids and family members we all knew. We had never dealt with anything like that before but we knew we had to address it," said Cormier.

Police first set out to establish a relationship with organizations in the recovery community to see what resources they had available. Working with them to get people the help they need when fighting addiction, they then established the walk.

"For a lot of people, this is comfort for them. This is not just about helping the recovery groups raise money, it's a way to give families a chance to celebrate the life of a loved one and keep their memory alive," the chief said.

A Memorial Table was set up where people could add their family member or friend's name and even a photo to a large poster. Many gathered nearby to discuss their loss and how they are coping with it while lending support to one another at the same time.

Several nonprofit organizations also had booths with information on their services. Among them was Teen Challenge, a 15-month residential program for men 18 and older that started in Brooklyn, N.Y. 50 years ago and has seen great success in all of its locations. A faith-based program with a facility now in Manchester, Teen Challenge doesn't turn anyone away and in fact, has expanded services to include a women's residential program now in Rhode Island.

"It's hard for people to afford to go to programs like ours, so we sell merchandise and ask for donations to help get the next guy in," said one young man who is in recovery now himself.

A young girl stepped up to leave a donation as her mother explained

Mount Washington shakedown cruise marks official start of tourist season

BY THOMAS BEELER
Contributing Writer

CENTER HARBOR — Last Thursday, the M/S Mount Washington held its first shakedown cruise in several years, taking an hour cruise out of The Weirs to The Broads and back, returning just in time to avoid a spring rainstorm.

Until 2010, the Mount Washington held a special cruise as soon as Ice Out, the date when ice has cleared off Lake Winnepesaukee enough to allow the cruise ship to reach all of its five ports (Meredith, Center Harbor, Wolfeboro, Alton and The Weirs).

This year, ice-out was declared on Thursday, April 26, at 5:40 p.m.

The purpose of the cruise was to make sure its WWII-vintage engines were working properly after six months of storage at Center Harbor, according to Capt. Jim Morash. After the engines were replaced in 2010, such cruises were no longer necessary.

Addressing passengers before the cruise began, Morash gave credit for reviving the annual cruise to Gov. Chris Sununu, who wanted it to mark the beginning of the tourist and boating season in

New Hampshire. The cruise this year included not only state officials and area selectmen – as in the earlier shakedown cruises – but also leaders of the state’s tourism industry.

Sununu himself was present to announce officially the start of the tourism season, introduce the key members of the new Department of Business and Economic Affairs, and to emphasize that increasing tourism is a major focus of his state economic development plan. He also stressed that bringing more tourists into the northern half of the state was a key goal. As the manager of Waterville Valley, he felt that the state should do more to increase the flow of visitors to the lakes and White Mountains, and his goal was to focus the state’s development efforts on that.

Following the governor, Taylor Caswell of Hollis spoke. He is the first Commissioner of the Department of Business and Economic Affairs. Victoria Cimino, director of Travel and Tourism, also spoke.

The Department was formed last year by Gov. Sununu by separating out the divisions of Economic Development and Travel and Tourism from the Department of Resources and Economic Development (DRED). (The other two divisions of DRED, Forest and Lands and Parks and Recreation, were merged with the Division of Cultural Resources to form the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources.)

Cimino said “summer is the perfect time to explore northern New Hampshire” and tourism, second largest industry in the state, is enjoying a surge of interest and visitors. She said room & meals tax revenues were up $12 million or 5 percent this year. This year 3.4 million visitors are expected to spend nearly $2

Memorial Day weekend (May 25-27), is expected to draw 650,000 out-of-state travelers and generate more than $120 million in spending. Landers said that 10,000 people are employed in tourism in the Lakes Region.

She then pointed out the large number of attractions in the state that draw visitors, including Wolfeboro’s Wright Museum and Tamworth’s Remick Country Doctor Museum and Farm. This year the White Mountain National Forest will celebrate its 100th anniversary and the town of Meredith will celebrate its 250th.

Landers said her association has also seen an increase in destination weddings and family get-togethers.

Before the cruise got underway, Morash took the opportunity to honor Capt. Bruce Campbell, who retired in 2017 after serving Mount Washington Cruises in a wide range of capacities since 1969.

“Bruce held just about every position on the boat,” Morash said before presenting him with a plaque and large watch.

During the cruise, Sununu made himself available for questions and suggestions and even took the wheel of the ship briefly (under the close supervision on Capt. Morash) when it reached The Broads, before turning around and returning to The Weirs.

Franklin VNA & Hospice wants you to know May is Physical Fitness and Sports Month

FRANKLIN — May is National Physical Fitness and Sports Month! But what does physical fitness mean? According to the CDC, “the ability to carry out daily tasks with vigor and alertness, without undue fatigue and with ample energy to enjoy leisure-time pursuits and respond to emergencies.” Other definitions include being able to accomplish daily activities efficiently and effectively.

There are many benefits to physical fitness; very often people focus on appearance and weight loss, but there are so many more benefits. Physical fitness boosts brain power and focus, decreases stress, depression and anxiety, improves energy and can help ward off diseases including heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes and arthritis. Plus, it can help increase your strength and endurance which can help prevent falls as we age!

Physical fitness has several components: strength, cardiac endurance, flexibility and balance. Strength comes from taxing muscles as you would do with weight lifting or fit bands, while cardiac endurance happens from raising your heart rate for an extended period of time like during running or Zumba. Flexibility, which is from stretching of muscles regularly, as you would do in yoga and balance, takes all of the above plus practice at purposeful balancing activities. You should be picturing anything from graceful ballerinas to nimble boxers for this part.

Now that you have a brief review of what physical fitness is made up of, how do you achieve it? The easiest answer is to get moving! Find an activity you enjoy and break a sweat. Or try out a new activity by joining an exercise class, walking after meals with a friend or family or even using a workout from your local library or watching it on Amazon Prime! Or design your own workout. The old standbys we learned in gym class: pushups, sit ups, squats, planking all work and don’t require any equipment or special gear. These can be modified for those starting out or with mobility issues: pushups against the wall instead of the floor, wall sits instead of squats. Some other ideas? Try gardening, dancing, jumping rope or playing an active game with your kids or grandkids. The goal is to do more and do it longer to get stronger. Joining a gym can be a great motivator for some; no one wants to waste money so make it worth what you paid!

Whatever you choose, set a personal goal for yourself so you are working towards something. This can be walking two miles three times a week or lifting a set amount of weight. Maybe it’s touching your toes, running a 5K, carrying your groceries comfortably into the house or playing ball with your kids or grandkids. Perhaps it’s to take a yoga or spin class or just stand long enough to wash your dishes. Not sure what your goal should be? The Surgeon General recommends 30 minutes of moderate exercise, like walking or gardening, five times per week or 15 – 20 minutes of strenuous exercise like running or jumping rope. Looking to lose weight and keep it off? Up that goal to 60 minutes five times per week. Start where you are at, and work up to your goal!

The rewards of physical fitness are many, including better health, a sense of personal accomplishment, setting a great example for the next generation and maybe even building new friendships. Talk to your health care provider about the best plan for you, and then grab your water bottle and go!

You have a choice in your homecare provider. Choose local. Choose Franklin VNA & Hospice. They provide home care (nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, LNA, medical social work and home-making services), Hospice, health clinics and community education services to Andover, Belmont, Boscawen, Canterbury, Franklin, Hill, Laconia, Northfield, Sanbornton, Salisbury, Tilton, Webster and surrounding towns, as requested. For more information, call Franklin VNA & Hospice at 934-3454 or visit www.FranklinVNA.org Your choice, your local VNA.

Belmont man arrested for selling drugs

BELMONT — Belknap County Sheriff Mike Moyer announces the arrest of Oliver Blackstone of Belmont on May 7 by the County Drug Task Force.

The arrest came as a result of a joint investigation with the U.S. Marshal’s Joint Fugitive Task Force and the County Drug Task Force. The initial focus of the investigation was a fugitive case, where Blackstone failed to appear on two charges of Sale of Drugs. After following numerous leads, Joint Fugitive Task Force members located Blackstone at a residence in Belmont. Once Blackstone was taken into custody, it was discovered that there was evidence of a drug sales operations. The Belknap County Drug Task Force was called to assist in the drug investigation.

The investigation yielded a seizure of five different drugs, a large quantity of U.S. currency, and firearms.

Blackstone was subsequently charged with five counts of possession of a controlled drug with intent to distribute. He refused bail, and was being held at the Belknap County Jail pending an arraignment at Belknap County Superior Court.

The Belknap County Drug Task Force is comprised of investigators from the Belknap County Sheriff’s Department and the Belmont, Center Harbor and Tilton police departments. Other local police departments assist by providing critical information to assist in the investigations.

Unique “Comeback Community” idea exchange to take place May 23

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt. — It’s a commitment to helping communities comeback. That’s the focus of ADG’s upcoming Comeback Community Idea Exchange on May 23 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Engine Room Conference Center, 188 South Main St., White River Junction, Vt.

A Comeback Community has a history of economic excellence, followed by a period of tough economic decline and now - due to innovative strategies and people - is coming back, but differently. Four such communities will be featured - Rutland City and White River Junction, Vt. and the cities of Claremont and Franklin, New Hampshire. Each of the four, in different stages of comeback, will discuss their concept, research, visions and plans that got them started as well as what resources were needed and where they found them and the action steps now underway. Owners, developers, funders, investors, residents and those actively engaged in the comeback process will be exchanging ideas and experiences.

“We have seen over time that certain communities in our region have shared attributes in their economic trials and recovery that they may not realize. These communities were once economic powerhouses, then had steep declines, and are now are re-envisioning themselves, but differently,” said Stu Arnett, Economy Developer at ADG, a leader in smart planning and development solutions for municipalities.

The agenda includes facilitated Q & A between “hands-on” individuals from the communities and the attendees. A short walking tour of the host community, White River Junction, Vt., will take place and a network session will conclude the day. The event’s principal sponsor is UBS Wealth Management.

“We are excited for the opportunity to share our efforts to improve our community with others and to be able to assist them in doing the same,” said former Claremont Mayor and current NH State Rep. Ray Gagnon. “As a business owner, I know an idea exchange is exactly what is needed to move us all in a positive direction for the betterment of everyone.”

The cost for the Comeback Community Idea Exchange is $40, including lunch. Space is limited. Register today at <https://conta.cc/2p-JMSlw>. Sponsorship opportunities are available. For more information, contact Annette Zamarchi at 603-219-0043 or at annette@arnettdevelopmentgroup.com. All net proceeds go to future events for Comeback Communities.

New Hampshire senior leadership announces Class of 2018 AARP, UNH and Dartmouth choose activists committed to advocating for older adults in New Hampshire

CONCORD — Twenty-eight activists have been chosen as members of New Hampshire Senior Leadership, a collaboration among AARP New Hampshire, Center on Aging and Community Living at UNH, and Dartmouth Centers for Health and Aging. Now in its seventh year, the program is designed to build a state-wide corps of volunteers interested in advocating for people as they age.

“New Hampshire is aging and with an increasingly older population come individual and community needs such as retirement security, long-term care, caregiving, transportation, housing and health care,” said AARP New Hampshire Associate State Director for Advocacy Doug McNutt. “Many of these issues will guide the state’s legislative agenda for years to come.”

The following participants will receive eight months of training on a wide variety of topics such as the history of aging and aging services, creating livable communities for aging populations, the legislative process, and community engagement.

- Karen Ulmer Dorsch, Sanbornton

“Upon completion of the program, these advocates for aging issues will represent a strong, cohesive voice for the residents of New Hampshire,” added McNutt. “AARP New Hampshire and our partners will continue to offer this program to amplify the voices across the

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

A magnificent creation

BY LARRY SCOTT

Little did my wife and I realize what lay before us. We had anticipated our visit to Montana’s Glacier National Park with growing excitement, and we were not disappointed. It was early July, 2007, and we were at the tail end of a visit to the West Coast. Our joy in visiting with friends and family was soon overshadowed by this magnificent display of God’s creation.

Only those who have been there can visualize the natural beauty of the Grand Canyon or the grandeur of Mt. Rushmore. The vastness of Kansas’ prairies and Old Faithful in Yellowstone will leave each with memories that will never be forgotten. Glacier National Park was to be our last stop before heading home; we had left the best to last.

We arrived at the west entrance Visitor’s Center late morning. We soon found the shuttle, nervous with anticipation as we embarked on the Going-to-the-Sun road to Logan Pass. In just a little over an hour, we finally reached the Visitor’s Center at the pass. There before us ... well, it was magnificent! What a world! There it was in all of its glory! We stepped out of the Visitor’s Center to the sight of a giant mountain rising into the stratosphere. Etched against a cloudless, deep-blue sky, the view left us speechless. In the valley between us and the mountain, elk could be seen taking their noon-time siesta.

It was time for lunch, so we spread out a blanket, made sandwiches, and settled back to enjoy the scenery. A friendly ground-squirrel, only one of the “permanent residents” of the Park, soon joined us. Posted signs were quite clear, “Don’t Feed the Animals.” Yeah, sure! Who can say “No!” to those beady little eyes, that twitching tail, and those little hands awaiting a snack?

The day was too soon over, but as we returned in the shuttle, one last surprise yet remained. The Going-to-the-Sun road skirts the ten-mile long Lake McDonald before arriving at our point of departure. We walked to the edge of the lake and added to a camera-full of memories from this outstanding display of God’s creation.

All of this God created, I note, in six “days.” I take that to mean “periods of time,” and it reflects, I think, the mind of our God. I have used the word “magnificent” too many times already, but what can you say? Outstanding? Picturesque? Marvelous? Whatever, ... it was indescribable.

I can only imagine what heaven will be like. I am not impressed by the Apostle John’s vision of golden streets and pearly gates. But what I have seen on earth brings up a thought. If God was able to develop this creation in six relatively short periods of time, what will heaven be like? He has been working on that project for some 40,000-plus years (I’m guessing, of course)! I can only imagine what awaits me when I get home! Do I deserve it? No way! But I rest on Jesus’ promise, “Trust in God; trust also in me. ... [I]f I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me (John 14:1-2). What a magnificent (sorry!) prospect.

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarry-scott@gmail.com.

PET OF THE WEEK

This sweet little black and white domestic shorthaired cat has a slightly startled look, big green eyes widened, ears perked forward in anticipation... of... what exactly? Mittens is a shy girl, even up close and personal she wasn’t quite sure what to think of shelter life, and who can blame her, dogs barking, people bustling, phone ringing, lots of humans coming and going all the time – it’s a lot for a feline with a delicate disposition to get used to; hence we placed her in a volunteer foster home to add some calmer enrichment to her life- we know that permanent home is just around the corner!

Mittens arrived in June 2017, she’s a ‘long-stayer’ in shelter parlance, but that should not deter you: prospective adopter, from considering her for your next pet if at the top of your Wants List is ‘must be affectionate, sweet and one that purrs, constantly’.

Please come and visit her at the NH Humane Society, OR we can facilitate a meet & greet in her foster home.

A report on a brief tour of the world as I know it

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

Public Television carried a feature on Theodore Roosevelt this past Sunday. He is my favorite President, chiefly because he became an ardent conservationist and was largely responsible for what lands in the West we have left.

This generally means lands free of exploitation or development. I’m not sure whether the bargain-basement granting of grazing permits constitutes exploitation. But then, what about long-range hikes and rafting ventures, and pack-horse hunting trips?

If there is a President history has done a disservice, it is Roosevelt. Most Americans, if they can remember him at all, seem only to remember big game safaris.

Today, it’s hard to imagine a world that would have the room or the patience for a Teddy Roosevelt. Imagine a President taking off for a month for a camping trip in the Rockies, or letting the White House lawn be home to ponies and goats.

However, TR was an energetic guy, bouncing and bellowing his way around the White House like a top-hatted Tigger, and the documentary shamed me into getting up out of my living room chair (Command Central, with everything that matters within reach), and going outside for a tour of the immediate premises, my longest trip on crutches yet.

Would-be rescuers, fear not—my trusty guard dog and interference runner Millie was with me every step of the way, scanning for danger. As always, she ranged out front, looking back and wondering why I was so slow, much slower than usual.

Right off, not far into the trip, I determined that the pile of junk wood we left when the snow came down in earnest a few months ago was still right there, waiting. This kind of job doesn’t go away when the snow covers it; we just think it does. In this case, out of sight, out of mind doesn’t work.

There was that term, just then—junk wood. When I was helping Rudy split and haul firewood, a junk was a twisted piece, all knots and gnarls, that wouldn’t split. Because of this, it was slowest to burn. Sometimes, just before bed, he’d say “Throw on a junk, Bub,” meaning the best piece to hold the fire overnight.

And there was the fence. The thing people tend to forget about a fence is that once you put one up, you’ve got to take care of it. Deer jump over it, their hooves dragging just a bit here and there, and wind and fallen limbs have their

But before the season’s livestock comes in, the fence will get fixed. We don’t want loose animals any more than the neighbors do. The four worst words anyone wants to hear, especial-

May Murder Madness continues on LRPA with “The Strange Love of Martha Ivers”

LACONIA—Throughout May, Lakes Region Public Access Television will highlight some of the darkest and grittiest movies ever to come out of Hollywood! Join us each Friday and Saturday night at 10:30 p.m. for “May Murder Madness,” a tribute to vintage film noir. This weekend (May 18 & 19), we keep the ball rolling with the 1946 film noir classic “The Strange Love of Martha Ivers,” starring Barbara Stanwyck, Van Heflin, Lizabeth Scott and Kirk Douglas (in his debut role!).

In 1928, the young heiress Martha Ivers tries to escape her claustrophobic life with her authoritarian aunt, Mrs. Ivers (Dame Judith Anderson). She wants to run away with local bad boy Sam Masterson, but the police catch them and bring her home. Martha and her aunt argue, and in the heat of the moment, the teenager pushes Mrs. Ivers down the stairs, killing her. The son of her tutor, Walter O’Neill, witnesses the event. When Martha lies to her tutor about how the accident happened (an intruder killed her!), Walter backs up her story. Walter’s father suspects that young Martha is lying, and so manipulates the situation to one of financial gain for his son. Fast forward nearly 20 years. A grown Martha (Stanwyck) is now married to Walter (Douglas), an alcoholic district attorney. Martha has built her aunt’s factory into a small empire. Their marriage is a disaster, as he loves her, but she doesn’t return the feelings. Meanwhile, Sam Masterson (Heflin), now an aimless drifter, winds up back in his hometown dues to a car wreck. While waiting for his car to be repaired, he meets the lovely Toni Marachek (Scott), who’s just gotten out of jail. After Toni gets picked up for violating her parole, Sam visits Walter to see if he can help her out of this jam. Walter is wary of Sam, as he thinks that Sam is in town to blackmail the couple for what he knows about Miss Iver’s death. Martha sees Sam again for the first time in nearly two decades, and Walter jealously realizes that Martha never lost her feelings for Sam. What follows is an unfortunate chain of events that prove the cold, calculating and vengeful nature of four human beings.

If you’re a lover of classic movies and of film noir in particular, then “Martha Ivers” has it all: murder, blackmail, greed, deceit, dirty secrets and ruthless dames. It received an Oscar nomination for Best Original Story, and deservedly so. Every actor gives a stellar performance, particularly Van Heflin, who played here against type as the sneering, hard-boiled bad boy. In writing about the film debut of Kirk Douglas, famed columnist Louella Parsons noted that Paramount Pictures had “unearthed themselves another wonder boy,” and she certainly was right. Critic Leonard Maltin described “Martha Ivers” as a “...gripping melodrama – 3 out of 4 stars.” What more do you need to know? So grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark for this vintage classic!

Mark your calendars for our final murderous movie:

Franklin Opera House proudly presents Rust Never Sleeps, a unique, live rock show that celebrates the musical career of Neil Young.

First class tribute band brings music of Neil Young to Franklin Opera House

FRANKLIN — Franklin Opera House proudly presents Rust Never Sleeps, a unique, live rock show that celebrates the musical career of Neil Young. Capturing the spirit, the sound, and the feel of what can best be described as a “dream come true” concert experience, the show features selections from Buffalo Springfield as well as Young’s early ‘70s folk-rock gems. Savor the sweet harmonies of Crosby, Stills, and Nash as well as the raging guitar duels between Stills and Young. Feel the high voltage snap of Crazy Horse as well as the plaintive beauty of “Heart of Gold.”

Based in the Greater Boston area, Rust Never Sleeps pays tribute to Neil Young and his music the best way they know how... with integrity. Lead singer and guitarist Ken Gibson has an amazing guitar tone on his vintage Fender Amplifiers and both Gretsch and Gibson guitars. The other five members of the band are tip-top pros as well: Chuck Nemitz on guitar, Mike Garron on bass, Jeremy Esposito on drums, Rob Hamilton on pedal steel guitar and keyboards, and vocalist Reena Valley.

While some groups in the tribute-band genre are content with a note-for-note replication of the original recordings, a Rust Never Sleeps show is infused with the passion and truth that comes from musicians using their own unique, creative energy to present these great songs.

It all happens on Saturday, June 16 at 7:30 p.m. Franklin Opera House is located within Franklin City Hall at 316 Central St. There’s plenty of free parking.

Tickets are $18 for adults, $16 for seniors and students.

For more information on the event, reservations and tickets, visit www.FranklinOperaHouse.org.

Summer Camps: Roots of an Iconic American Experience – bringing history alive in an exhibit experience

MEREDITH — Join the Lake Winnepesaukee Association and NH LAKES for a fascinating presentation by Cynthia Robinson, director of the Museum of the White Mountains, on Thursday, May 31, 7 p.m., in the Carriage House at Church Landing at Mills Falls in Meredith.

In the summer of 1980, Ernest Balch and a few friends set up camp on the shore of Squam Lake. A recent dropout of Dartmouth, Balch paddled the lake, admired the mountain views, cooked over an open fire, slept in a rough-hewn shelter, and discovered his life’s purpose. What he found was an island and an idea that would transform American childhood.

Ms. Robinson brings history alive through an exhibit experience; you will learn how experiencing nature in NH’s lakes and mountains has been life-changing for generations of children.

The talk, hosted by the Lake Winnepesaukee Association in partnership with NH LAKES, kicks off NH LAKES’ 2018 Lakes Congress program, ‘NH Lakes – The Next 25 Years’, held on Friday, June 1, at Church Landing at Mills Falls, Meredith. Thursday evening’s program is $5, and registration is required. Visit www.nhlakes.org/lakes-congress or call 226-0299.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

Conviction and purpose

BY MARK PATTERSON

As a registered investment advisory firm that specializes in asset management, I can tell you that most investment portfolios that are brought to my firm for review are very similar. I believe these similar portfolios are designed based on a model that the broker-dealer firm has designed to match up to a risk questionnaire that the client has probably responded to. It is very likely that the financial advisor who oversees the relationship between the client and the broker-dealer is required to fill out a risk questionnaire and apply the mutual funds or exchange traded funds that match the risk profile of the client. The major flaw with this model is this; the risk profile of the client does not necessarily yield a portfolio that meets their objectives.

If the client is telling me that their objective and need is income, I am going to design the portfolio to give my client steady, sustainable, predictable income. If my client doesn't necessarily need income but wants growth, they are going to get a portfolio of investments that are designed more for growth than income.

It is very simplistic to fill out a risk questionnaire and design a "model" portfolio based on your client's answers. While this type of questionnaire may satisfy the broker-dealers compliance department, it does not, in my opinion, answer the question, what is the purpose of this money?

In the past, I've written about the transition from the accumulation of assets during the first 50 years of one's working life. As we approach retirement or even a time when we are not making money, but starting to rely on our accumulated assets for steady sustainable predictable income. Asset preservation becomes even more critical in this period. In the retail brokerage world, assets are shifted to more conservative bond mutual funds that have a different kind of risk and away from stocks or equities that bear market risk. You simply cannot structure a steady sustainable stream of income using bond funds. Bond funds cannot manage interest rate risk that in fact could be a very substantial risk. High yield funds AKA "junk" pay a higher rate of interest but are highly correlated to the equity markets and subjected to a high degree of credit risk.

The families that MHP asset management works with range from young families needing growth from their assets, to families approaching retirement and needing to set up a steady sustainable income plan, or to those in retirement that may need income from their assets or are creating a legacy for their heirs.

These various portfolios are going to be drastically different depending on not only the risk tolerance but the true purpose that this portfolio is designed to achieve. That is why MHP asset management investment portfolios are crafted with conviction and purpose!

driving skills while BPD Officer Joe Marcello and Barbara LaPlante of Dale's Driving School tested them on another level.

"We have Drunk Buster Goggles so they can try to do activities like assembling a puzzle, stacking blocks or playing catch both with and without the goggles. That way, they can see what it's like being impaired and how much longer it can take for them to do something simple," said LaPlante.

Routinely, she said, they find students take anywhere from 30-45 seconds longer to perform a task with the goggles on, and she reminds them it only takes two-tenths of a second for it to be "all over" behind the wheel.

Adding reality to the consequences of wrong choices, two BHS graduates met with students to tell their stories of addiction and the impact it had on their lives.

Other speakers represented the New Hampshire Department of Corrections, Belknap County Court, the N.H.

Attorney General's Office, Pike Industries and New Beginnings. Among the topics they discussed were sexual assault and harassment, and healthy ways to celebrate life's special moments.

BHS School to Career Counselor Amy Burke and Student Assistance Coordinator Jen Gagnon organized this year's Healthy Choices Day. The two were confident that they brought together a very qualified panel of speakers who had valuable information and advice for the students. Teachers and staff members had a role to play as well. Burke said they each had a tag on their clothing with suggested talking points to engage the students. The tag began with "Ask me about..." and was completed by topics such as "a life lesson I've learned," "a single piece of career advice," "a life changing experience," or "a healthy choice I'm proud of."

Students could also enter raffles for a lot of great prizes, from I-Tunes cards to gift certificates for recreational facilities and local businesses.

Feed back from the day was positive, Burke said later, and one particular email she received stood out.

"I just wanted to tell you that today's event was spectacular. I know many people mess around, or do not show care, but I know that it is extremely difficult to set up something such as today. It was very smooth, and I was blown away with the whole thing," the student wrote.

A faculty member also added praise for all Gagnon and Burke had done by writing, "Thank you so much for everything you put into Thursday's activities. It was incredibly powerful and I know it definitely reached the students."

Burke said the entire event was geared toward topics she and Gagnon felt would be relevant to the students and they were pleased by the success of the day.

"This is all because we care about our students. We're like a family so we want to make sure they're educated and do all we can to help keep them safe," said Burke.

Sgt. Evan Boulanger and other representatives from Belmont and the New Hampshire State Police spoke with students about making good decisions in their lives during this year's Pre-Prom Healthy Choices Day at Belmont High School.

Drunk Buster Goggles had students from Belmont High School struggling to perform otherwise simple tasks during Pre-Prom Healthy Choices Day last week.

"It didn't take us long to realize that Belmont Middle School was the Middle School of the Year... You now have bragging rights," she said.

Joining the EDie committee on Thursday morning was Larry Johnston, the Brand Ambassador for McDonald's, a major sponsor for the state's annual educational awards program. The 2017-18 school year, he said, marks 25 years of their partnership and he told the excited crowd, "They (the selection committee) obviously had wonderful judgment in selecting such a wonderful school!"

Johnston topped off his congratulations with the presentation of a check for $2,000 from McDonald's to be used in future educational endeavors at the school.

Principal Aaron Pope's first duty as head of the New Hampshire Middle School of the Year was to then ring the ceremonial EDie Bell. Soon the school will also receive their own engraved brass bell to commemorate their distinction this year.

"Everybody worked really hard at this," he said with pride, as he also took a moment to thank the teachers and staff who prepared for the selection committee's visit in March.

Pope then cued the music and as the sounds of Kool and the Gang's 1980s hit song "Celebrate" filled the gym, teachers, staff and students alike all danced.

"This is a great honor," Pope said afterward. "The students and staff worked really hard and it's so nice to see all that hard work pay off. There was a lot of time and effort put into the curriculum, the building and everything that goes on here. It's just a great place to be and it's been a great year."

Pope added that the recognitions BMS has received in the 2017-18 school year are all wonderful but he and the staff will not rest on their laurels.

"We're not going to stop presenting challenges to our students, whether that's here at the middle school, in high school or in life," he said.

Late runs push Golden Eagles over Raiders

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Two of the top pitchers in Division 3 squared off last week in a battle between Gilford and Belmont. While Belmont’s Griffin Embree had a no-hitter through six innings, Adrian Siravo and the Golden Eagles came away with a 2-1 win thanks to a late game rally and a balk to bring in the winning run.

Siravo pitched a complete game, allowing just one earned run on two hits and two walks while striking out three. Embree also pitched a complete game while striking out 10 batters, walking seven and allowing two hits and two earned runs. The runs and hits against Embree all came in the sixth inning.

Belmont got on the board in the first inning with their only run of the game. After two quick ground outs by Colby Brown and Embree, catcher Cam Magerer took a low fastball and beat out an infield hit. A passed ball got him to second base and then Matt Pluskis hit an RBI single to centerfield. Magerer crossed home plate clapping and yelling to pump up his team. Siravo then struck out Kyle Minery to get out of the jam and come away allowing only one run, which is all he would allow the rest of the way.

In the bottom of the first, Embree came out firing heat mixed with a killer curveball to keep Gilford hitters off balance. He struck out Jack McLean to start the game but then walked Cody Sullivan. Embree then struck out Siravo and Isaac Wallace to come out of the inning unscathed.

In the top of the second, Brett Auclair reached on an error, but Siravo got out of the inning when he forced a fly out to right and got Auclair stranded for a double play on a nice throw by right fielder Sullivan. Wallace made a great scoop at first base to end the inning.

In the bottom of the second, Gilford was down 1-0 but making a push with no outs and runners on second and third. However, Embree did a good job getting out of the jam with a strikeout and a double play on a failed suicide squeeze.

The two pitchers dueling back and forth the rest of the game and it was 1-0 going into the bottom of the sixth inning. Siravo led off the inning with a walk, but this was followed by a strikeout. After Siravo stole second base and got to third on a wild pitch, Alex Muthersbaugh brought him in or a suicide squeeze to tie up the game at 1-1. Muthers-baugh then scored when Embree balked to take the 2-1 lead.

In the top of the seventh inning, Siravo got three straight ground outs to win the game, throwing his glove in the air and being mobbed by his teammates. The smile on his face said it all, as this could have been anyone’s game.

Belmont coach Matt Leblanc was frustrated with the loss but knows that his team worked hard all day. Leblanc said he was happy to see Embree keeping Gilford hitters off balance all day.

“He is very quietly

one of the best pitchers in Division 3,” said Leblanc. “We have the utmost confidence in him. We had a couple hiccups in there, myself included. I’m very proud of this team and wouldn’t want to be in charge of another club.”

This week Gilford faced Fall Mountain and White Mountains after deadline. Next up is Franklin High School for the Golden Eagles.

Belmont, who is 8-2 with both losses coming from Gilford, hosted Bishop Brady twice and will head to Inter-Lakes on Thursday and White Mountains on Friday.

Bears get extra-inning win over Franklin

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

TILTON — It was a tough week for Winnisquam softball, with the Bears losing three of four games to bring the team’s record to 4-6 after starting the season 3-1.

On May 7, Winnisquam was shut out 12-0 against Gilford where Natalie Deshaies had the team’s only hit. Ella Harris of Gilford had a no-hitter going into the final inning with two outs when Deshaies hit a line drive up the middle. The game ended after five innings due to the mercy rule.

On May 8, the Bears hosted Franklin and won 8-7 in eight innings.

Cailey Clogston had a strong day at the plate with a two for four showing, including a pair of runs scored. Carly Catty was one for one with four walks and four runs scored. Hannah Max was two for four with two RBIs.

In the top of the eighth inning, Franklin was threatening with two runners on and nobody out. The Tornadoes sacrificed to get runners on second and third base, and then loaded the bases after an intentional walk. The Bears had an 8-1-2 double play to stop the scoring chance, with the would be go ahead run thrown out at home plate.

After an intentional walk to Catty in the bottom of the eighth inning, Max drove in the game winning run with a single down the left field line.

“Nice job finding a way to get a win against a rival,” coach Kevin Dame said.

On May 9, the Bears lost 19-4 to Bishop Brady. Emily DeCormier was two for three with a double. Ashley and Natalie Deshaies, as well as Chloe Colarusso had two hits apiece.

On May 11, the Bears lost 13-10 to Raymond. DeCormier was four for four with four runs while Clogston was three for four with four runs scored. Catty had a two for two day with three runs and two walks. Colarusso was two for three with three RBIs.

Dame said the team played well enough offensively to get the win, but struggles in the field allowed Raymond to get extra at bats that led to runs.

“Twelve hits and four walks on the day couldn’t get the job done,” said Dame. “The top of the lineup was outstanding offensively.”

Winnisquam traveled to Laconia and Berlin after deadline. Next for the Bears is a home game against Conant on May 18 at 4 p.m.

Belmont laxers looking to jump into win column

BELMONT — It has been a tough season for Belmont girls’ lacrosse, who lost three games last week to bring the team’s record to 0-10.

On May 7, Belmont lost 18-6 against Laconia. The team was playing with a new goalkeeper, sophomore Alyssa Morse, and coach Meya Minor commended her for her 10 saves in net.

On May 9, Belmont traveled to Pelham and lost 17-5. Katie Gagnon had eight of the team’s 12 draw controls, which brings her to 53 total draw controls on the season.

On May 10, the Red Raiders lost at home to Bow by a score of 15-3.

“We stayed with them through the first half, ending 7-2 and lost momentum with some bad shots and choices,” said Minor.

Belmont traveled to Trinity and hosted ConVal after deadline. On May 18 the Red Raiders host St. Thomas Aquinas for a 4 p.m. matchup.

TILTON — Winnisquam Regional High School had a good showing at the track meet on May 10 in Laconia, with the girls' team coming away with a win and the boys' team coming in third.

The girls' team was led by a strong day by Gabby Isabelle, who had three first place finishes. She was first in the 100 meters with a time of 13.21; first in the long jump with a distance of 16 feet, 1.5 inches and

Baseball Bears continue up and down season

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

TILTON — It has been an up and down season for the Winnisquam baseball team, and despite some close low scoring games, the Bears dropped three of four games last week, which brings Winnisquam's record to 4-8.

On May 7, Winnisquam had the difficult task of facing undefeated Gilford on the road. Winnisquam hung tough with the Division 3 powerhouse team, but in the end it was a 6-3 loss for the Bears.

"The Bears gave the undefeated Eagles all they could handle," said coach Fred Caruso.

Winnisquam had a 2-1 lead in the fourth inning, which was the first time Gilford had trailed all season. However, in the fourth inning Gilford scored four runs, taking advantage of miscues in the field by the Bears. Michael Allard was the leader at the plate with a two for two day including a pair of RBIs. Jack Beaulieu had two hits with an RBI. Devan Glover was solid in his 3.1 innings in relief.

On May 8, the Bears hosted long-time rival Franklin High School and came away with a 3-2 win. Winnisquam scored all three runs in the third inning, with Bryce Corey knocking in what would be the eventual winning run with an RBI single.

The star of the day was Beaulieu, who threw four and one third innings while allowing only one hit. He struck out eight batters and sat down the last 10 hitters in a row. He battled Harrison Clark of Franklin, who had a three-hitter and struck out 10 batters.

On May 9, Bishop Brady edged out Winnisquam 5-3 in a well-played home game for the Bears. Winnisquam got on the board first with a two-out infield single by Glover. Bishop Brady then scored three runs in the third inning to take a 3-1 lead.

Allard hit his first career home run over the right-center field fence to bring the team within one run. However, Bishop Brady added runs in the fifth and sixth innings to make it a 5-2 game. In the seventh inning, Alex Mango doubled and Nick Snyder reached on an error. Beaulieu then walked to load the bases with one out. Allard knocked in Mango on a sacrifice fly but the game ended with potential tying runs on base.

Philip Nichols had two hits for the Bears while Beaulieu had a solid day behind the plate in his first varsity start at catcher.

On May 11, Raymond shut out Winnisquam

5-0. The Bears' offense was stagnant in this game and the Rams allowed only two hits in the win. Raymond has been hot of late, winning six straight. Glover and McKinnon had the two hits for Winnisquam. Nichols had a good day on the mound allowing just one earned run on five hits over five innings.

Caruso acknowledges that the team has had its difficulties, but he remains optimistic.

"We're dealing with a few injuries," said Caruso. "That aside, we just haven't hit with guys on base. In the Brady game, we stranded 11. We have two weeks left and probably have to win two or three more to get into the tournament. One thing guaranteed: we will play hard."

Winnisquam traveled to Laconia and Berlin after deadline. Next up is a game against Stevens on May 18 at 4 p.m.

first in the shot put with a throw of 31 feet, seven inches. She was also second in the 200 meters with a time of 27.74.

Shannon Goodwin also came away with a win in the discus with a toss of 81 feet, 6.5 inches.

Other highlights included a second place finish in the 1,600 meters for Faith Gosselin with a time of 5:51.18 Hannah Blackburn had a second place finish in the discus with a throw of 76 feet, 2.5 inches. Rebekah Persson was second in the javelin with a throw of 77 feet, nine inches.

The boys' team finished third behind Bow and Laconia. The team was led by Xoren Powell, who won the high jump with a leap of five feet, six inches. Dylan Robert won the 800 meters with a time of 2:07. Jesse Fredette took first in the discus with a toss of 101 feet, six inches.

Other highlights included Hunter Hinxman coming in second in the 100 meters with a time of 11.97; Ricky Fournier coming in second in the 1,600 meters with a time of 4:51; Kyle Mann in second with a time of 2:14 in the 800 meters

Waterville Valley honored by US Ski and Snowboard

WATERVILLE VALLEY — On May 3, the U.S. Ski and Snowboard Congress awarded Waterville Valley Resort with the Paul Bacon Award for "outstanding service to events." The Freestyle Sport Committee submitted the nomination after the 2018 Freestyle National Championships for Moguls and Dual Moguls were held at Waterville Valley Resort this past March 20-24. In attendance to accept the award was Waterville Valley Resort's President/General Manager Tim Smith and Marketing Operations Manager Jamie Cobbett.

The nomination described the entire resort's excitement, hard work, and dedication to a commitment of excellence for all aspects of the event with "The result (being), one of the best national mogul events we have had in years. The number of compliments received not only during the event, but days after, has been amazing."

Waterville Valley Resort is proud to have hosted the event this year after being one of the first ever freestyle dual mogul event sites in the early 1970's. "It takes a village to pull off events of this magnitude. I'm very proud of our team," says long time event guru Cobbett.

Waterville Valley Resort will have the opportunity to serve the U.S. Ski & Snowboard Team again next spring when they host the 2019 Freestyle National Championships.

Ducks Unlimited committee meets in Tilton

TILTON — The Daniel Webster Chapter of Ducks Unlimited held its 30th annual dinner banquet auction on Saturday, March 24 at La Piece ~ The Room in Riverfront Place, the award winning renovated mill building located at 322 Main St. in Tilton. James Cropsey was area chairman again this year. This is a group effort from the committee consisting of Ian Keith, Bob Mazur, Kurt Swett, Peter Spear, Doug Swett, Ron Columb, Jack McNutt, Steve Saulten, Mark Dewolfe, Ernie Shipman, Greg Bowen and Angela Swett. Thanks to their efforts they nearly broke their record.

This past year they honored Brad and Kennetha Marshall of Marshall Firearms in Boscawen for their support and commitment that spans a decade helping the youth and wetlands conservation. Daniel Webster also honored Dennis Cook of Alegany Outfitters of Coos Bay, Ore. for his generous longtime support of Ducks Unlimited and wetlands conservation. Ray Jackson, the New Hampshire State Chairman attended and presented Peter Spear with the MVP award. Spear sold two tables of dinner tickets and obtained thousands of dollars of donations.

Nearly 6,200 local Ducks Unlimited fundraising events throughout the country last year contributed towards Ducks Unlimited's national fundraising effort of almost $175 million. Last year Ducks Unlimited achieved 84 percent efficiency, resulting in 84 cents of each dollar raised being spent on wetland acquisition or improvement.

Each year the United States loses some 140,000 acres of wetland habitat. Since its inception, Ducks Unlimited has raised over one billion dollars and enhanced and restored nearly 14 million habitat acres, encompassing over 15,000 wetland projects, in an effort to reverse this destructive trend. DU's projects provide habitat for more than 600 wildlife species, including ducks, geese, and endangered or threatened species like the whooping crane and bald eagle.

While Ducks Unlimited has accomplished a great deal since its founding in 1937, the rapid draining of wetlands demands that the organization continue to accelerate its work. Efforts like those of the Daniel Webster Chapter are a vital part of Ducks Unlimited's efforts. This year the Daniel Webster Chapter sent the national organization almost $13,500, just $300 shy of the 2017 total. The average cost per prime acre conserved last year was $880 with a little under one waterfowl nest per acre. About 0.39 metric tons of carbon is sequestered each year on average on each acre of prime wetlands. There is still time to assist the effort by becoming a sponsor and attending a wine tasting event to be announced shortly. Please call Cropsey at 286-9633 for more details.

Friends and peers

The single most predictive risk for underage drinking is if your child's peers drink. Encourage your kids to choose friends who support your family values and no-alcohol rules.

Students with high-refusal-assertiveness skills are less likely to drink underage. Find good ways to say "no" and practice them often in role-play situations. Some ideas are:

- "No thanks. Drinking is not my thing."
- "No thanks. I need all the brain cells I've got."
- "No thanks. I've only got one brain. Why would I want to trash it?"
- "No thanks. Drinking before your brain is developed can dumb yourself down."

If there is alcohol at a party, LEAVE.

Keep your social environment alcohol-free.

Peers

Children often think that other people their age are drinking and smoking regularly, but most are not.

Help your child to choose friends wisely

Get to know your child's friends and their parents. Discuss your no-alcohol rule with the parents and enlist their support. Ensure that teens and their friends have planned activities with appropriate adult supervision.
