BY DONNA RHODES
dhrhodes@salmonpress.news

TILTON — As a benefit for the Every Child is Ours program, serving Winnisquam Regional School District, police officers from Tilton, Northfield and Sanbornton were stationed outside Walmart in Tilton last weekend to collect donations of food and cash that will help provide weekend meals and snacks for children. Also lending valuable assistance during the food drive were several teen-aged members of the Tilton Police Explorer program.

The local Every Child is Ours is part of a nationally based nonprofit organization and provides healthy snacks for children in the district whose families may be facing economic hardship. As a result of the nutritional boost they receive, those children often show noticeable improvements in their school performance.

Each week volunteers from the Tilton Senior Center package bags filled with foods so children enrolled in the program can have snacks and lunches to enjoy over the weekend.

Local man’s generosity gives First Baptist Church ownership of parking area

SANBORNTON — Following their weekly Sunday services, members of the First Baptist Church of Sanbornton gathered to witness a generous donation to their church when James (Jim) Laughy signed over his title to the deed for their church parking lot, which he has owned since he was a young man.

“My father and I bought this land as a family investment when I was young. He then took me out of school to work in the woods with him and all of my pay went toward paying for this property, so this is really my gift to you,” an emotional Laughy said to the gathering. “It’s meant a lot to me over the years, and now I am turning it over to you.”

The Laughy family has long been a part of Sanbornton’s town history. Jim, now in his 80’s and remarried to his second wife Ruth (Pease) Laughy, has deep-seated roots in the community. He was born “in the sight of” the Sanbornton General Store and lived in the vicinity for many years. The busi-

Probation check-in leads to drug bust in Belmont

dhrhodes@salmonpress.news

BELMONT — At 2:57 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 3, New Hampshire Probation and Parole Officers contacted the Belmont Police Department when, during a parole check on Orchard Hill Road, they discovered what they believed to be illegal drugs on the property.

Officers from Belmont arrived to secure the premises then sought a search warrant, which they were granted from the court. With the warrant in hand they located and removed what Lt. Richard Mann called a “quantity” of suspect illegal items. Among those were prepackaged narcotic drugs, packaging materials, drug paraphernalia, syringes, a locked safe, phones, cash, knives, handgun ammunition and several weapons. The narcotics were processed and sent to the state lab for analysis and classification, Mann said.

New Hampshire Parole Officers removed one person from the residence for a charge of parole violation. That name is not being released at this time.

“The matter remains under investigation, and we fully expect to file formal charges once the state lab confirms the items seized are in fact illegal narcotics,” said Mann in his press release. “This agency, along with our law enforcement partners, remain fully committed to doing everything we possibly can to combat the scourge of illegal narcotic drugs sales and distribution in our communities.”

Anyone with information on areas where they suspect ongoing drug activity in their community is encouraged to contact their local police department or make an anonymous call to the New Hampshire State Police Tip Line at 1-800-NAB-DOPE.

Winnisquam FFA members attend national competition

TILTON — Eleven members of the Winnisquam FFA Chapter attended the National FFA Convention in Indianapolis, Ind. during the week of Oct. 23 and competed in three of the many Career Development Events (CDEs) held. The Winnisquam FFA'ers earned the privilege of representing the Granite State by placing in the state level competitions in Agricultural Issues, Horse Evaluation and Extemporaneous Public Speaking last spring.

The National FFA Agricultural Issues CDE is a competitive event that allows students to apply classroom knowledge to real-life situations. Participants research the pros and cons of an agricultural issue and present their findings and theories to a panel of judges. The event helps students develop critical thinking, problem solving and formal communication skills. Winnisquam competitors brought home a bronze emblem for their efforts. The team consisted of Makenzie Wallace, Caroline Crouch, Kate Merrill, Madisyn Skeats and Kirsten Frender.

In the Horse Evaluation CDE, students evaluate and rank horses based on breed characteristics, conformation and performance. As a team, students cooperatively solve problems related to equine selection, management, nutrition and production. The Tilton team earned bronze, with individual medals as follows: Victoria LaPorte, silver; Stephania Surowiec, silver; Jessica Lee, bronze and Laura Swain, bronze.

In the Extemporaneous Public Speaking event participants are given 30 minutes to prepare a speech on one of three assigned agricultural topics. They then present the speech to a panel of judges, and answer questions relating to their topic. Students must learn to think on their feet and develop an argument quickly and persuasively. Representing NH was Winnisquam Junior Rebecca Tinker, who scored a bronze medal.

The 90th National FFA Convention was attended by more than 67,000 students, teachers, parents and supporters of the FFA from across the United States. Participants had the opportunity to attend general sessions, workshops and tours. The National FFA Organization is a youth organization of 653,359 student members who belong to 8,568 local FFA chapters in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The FFA mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. The National FFA Organization operates under a federal charter granted by the 81st United States Congress and it is an integral part of public instruction in agriculture. The U.S. Department of Education provides leadership and helps set direction for FFA as a service to state and local agricultural education programs. Northfield man arrested following Riverfront Park crash

drhodes@salmonpress.news

TILTON — Twenty-five year-old Michael John Dussault of Northfield was arrested in Tilton on Saturday, Nov. 4, after a vehicle he was operating crashed into Riverfront Park on West Main Street.

Callers to 911 said the vehicle, a rented black 2016 Jeep Cherokee, veered into the park just after 11:30 that night, causing significant damage to the grounds and coming to a stop when it struck a granite post on the property. Dussault, who was operating the vehicle at time of the accident, reportedly told witnesses he had fallen asleep behind the wheel and then stated he needed to use a bathroom.

When officers from the Tilton Police Department arrived on the scene, they quickly determined Dussault was under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol and placed him under arrest for DWI. Their reports stated the suspect eventually admitted to having used illegal drugs during the day and officers then located two bags of what they believed to be heroin or fentanyl inside the vehicle.

The vehicle itself sustained heavy damage as a result of the crash and was towed from the scene.

Following his arrest for DWI, Dussault was released on cash bail and ordered to appear at the 6th Circuit Court of Merrimack County on Nov. 20 to face that charge.

Chief Robert Cormier reported there are also pending drug charges against Dussault and requested that anyone who witnessed

1 Million Cups shines spotlight on local entrepreneurs

FRANKLIN — Local entrepreneurs, established business owners and community members gathered around Take Root Coworking Wednesday morning, coffee cups in hand.

They gathered there for the soft launch of 1 Million Cups Franklin Falls, a national program that seeks to engage, educate and connect local entrepreneurs.

Founded by the Kauffman Foundation, 1 Million Cups is based on the notion that entrepreneurs network and discover solutions over a million cups of coffee. The free, monthly meetings help build startup communities on a grassroots level.

Oscar Gala Grano, lead organizer, said Franklin was the perfect place to start a 1 Million Cups group. More than 100 such gatherings exist in cities across the United States, but Franklin Falls is the only group here in New Hampshire.

Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month and include one to two presenters who can sign up to share their ideas. Presenters speak for about six minutes each, which is followed by a 20-minute question-and-answer session from the audience. On Wednesday, the crowd heard a presentation from Eric Pratt, of SwitchBlade Systems.

Pratt said, “Having the opportunity to speak about my business in front of regional business owners, about the challenges we face as a startup, was highly beneficial. Their feedback was valuable and got me thinking about new solutions to our problems.”

The inaugural 1 Million Cups Franklin Falls meeting will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 3, 2018, from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. at Take Root Coworking, located at 359 Central Street in downtown Franklin. This meeting will feature a presentation by Tyler Matzke of Hidden Collective. Entrepreneurs, innovators, funders and other interested community members are invited to attend this free event.

“The networking atmosphere, after the meeting concluded, was very helpful in regards to discussing what solutions we can offer each other as part of the business community,” said Pratt.

The program is currently accepting any business less than five years old that wants to present to the audience. Each company will be videotaped and have the opportunity to present at other 1 Million Cups across the country.

You can learn more about 1 Million Cups Franklin Falls by visiting www.1millioncups.com/franklinfalls or following the program on Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and YouTube.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

Where dreams come true

BY LARRY SCOTT

When Caroline Barnett, a young lady in her late teens, visited the Los Angeles International Church (named The Dream Center by the people on the street who had found there a place to dream again), Caroline knew “that was the place I was called to.”

Caroline’s story actually begins in 1997 during one of her work days at the Center. “[T]he phone rang. A social worker on the other end told me about a family in need living only a few blocks away from us. I ... then called my best friend; ... together we packed and bagged bread, fresh produce, and some canned goods into three boxes. ... I drove slowly down the street, passing one dilapidated apartment building after another. ... Lawns were littered with broken beer bottles [and] mounds of dog feces. ... Finally we arrived. When I knocked on the door, it opened with a loud creaking sound. There stood a weary mother, smiling faintly. My heart tumbled as I quickly counted eight children clothed only in underwear or diapers huddled around her, their eyes wide and curious. The smell from inside the room hit me full force – sweaty bodies and unchanged diapers. I sensed it had been a long time since anyone had had a bath. As tired and ragged as the woman looked, she couldn’t have been much older than twenty-five. Once the kids spotted the boxes of food we carried, a few of them gasped in amazement, some even leapt into our arms. ... I accidentally dropped one of the bags in the commotion, and a handful of produce plummeted to the floor. One of the children grabbed a zucchini that was rolling down the dirt-covered hallway and excitedly shoved it in her mouth. ... The apartment was practically bare. ... The only things in the kitchen cupboards were dead bugs. Children live here, I grieved. ... This should not be happening. What I saw that day changed my life. ... I walked away from that apartment knowing I couldn’t sit back and do nothing about the hunger problem that ravaged impoverished families and children. ... God was beginning to unfold a plan in my mind: a mobile food-bank ministry” (Caroline Barnett, Walking on Water, pp. 23-24).

No one could have imagined where the ministry of this one church would go, and the impact Caroline would have on its ministry. By 2013, “700 people call the Dream Center home: 115 interns, 75 staff members, 40 graduates from our programs who volunteered to give back, and 470 men, women, and children who are getting help for a particular need.” (Caroline Burnett, Walking on Water, p. 10).

In a society we consider to be broken and disoriented, Christians are about more than “preachin’ an’ prayin’,” and I make a point of this for I believe the non-church world is little aware of the fundamental commitment we have made to our society. No matter what the issue, we are about the business of declaring, as often as we can, that God would like to bring strength to the weakened, order out of chaos, and peace to the troubled. “For God so loved the world,” we are told; that is our mission!

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarry-scott@gmail.com.

PET OF THE WEEK

Found in Alton, wandering around on Main Street, as abandoned cats are want to do, since “Main Street” equates with human activity, a food source, and places to hide from the elements for those surviving by their wits.

How did such a handsome, sweet, longhaired grey cat come be alone, outside and unloved?

Over the Summer we at New Hampshire Humane Society provided the care he needed: neutering, plumping back up to a decent body weight. We know he is FIV positive but that present virus does not mean we cannot place him in an indoors only home. Once recovered from his life on the streets, jumping about at the shelter he re-fractured a leg that had been injured at some point in the past, bones had healed haphazardly and must have been a constant source of pain, an old injury that Clive had adeptly masked for a lengthy period of time. So now Clive is a three legged cat!

Clive has recovered beautifully from his amputation and acts like he still has four legs -such is his unfettered nimbleness. He truly deserves a loving home, one that can assure his person comfort and safety.

Please visit him - witness for yourself, what a stately, wonderful cat he is.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Employee compensation should be added back into Town Report

To the Editor:

The Sanborton Annual Town Report, as far as I can recall, always had a section entitled “Compensation for Elected & Town Employees,” which was included in the 2014 report.

For some reason, the last two reports, for 2015 & 2016, did not include that compensation information. I hope that this pertinent information will be included in the 2017 Annual Report so the public will be able to understand the impact of the new pay matrix and be able to compare the newly established matrix salary’s to the past staring salaries of 2016.

The Board of Selectmen, at a recent meeting, authorized the Town Administrator to schedule a public presentation /discussion on the pay matrix system for the public, no date for the presentation has been scheduled as of yet. I am looking forward to the presentation, and to hear what the rationale behind the various salary increases was.

North Country Notebook

And now, a few things about all those neat new roundabouts

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

Editor’s note: Mr. Harrigan was unable to submit a new North Country Notebook column in time to meet our press deadline for this week’s edition. The following column was originally published Nov. 9, 2016.

Whenever I have to go down to Dartmouth-Hitchcock in Lebanon, I like to take the slow way back on Route 10, up along the Connecticut River. Along the way, not far north of

JOHN HARRIGAN

Plymouth’s little roundabout fits neatly where the river meets the road, handling traffic between the bridge over the Pemigewasset and downtown. and around to points north and west.

Hanover, are two neat little roundabouts, also called traffic circles. I say “neat little” because they are neatly built, able to handle 18-wheelers, and are in fact quite small, as roundabouts go.

In Lancaster, where Route 2 veers off into Vermont and Route 3 continues north, the Department of Transportation spent most of the summer building a much larger roundabout. And as usual when DOT decides to build something, its planners and builders did a handsome job, employing lots of granite curbing and even planting some shrubberies in the middle.

Drivers in Plymouth, meanwhile, have been getting used to their rotary on the north end of downtown, which I discovered and used with aplomb on my last visit. There it wasn’t, it seemed, and suddenly there it was.

In fact, I thought, roundabouts seem to be popping up all over the place around New Hampshire, and this gave me an excuse to call up Bill Boynton, DOT’s main media person, whom I hadn’t called for quite a while and who is always fun to talk with. “What about all these roundabouts?”, I asked Bill.

“There is admittedly an educational aspect,” Bill said sort of defensively, so I figured that he thought I was calling about complaints, so I quickly said no, I’m a big fan of roundabouts and am glad to see them popping up like mushrooms.

“We’ve got about 40 of them around the state,” Bill said, noting that not all communities are all that hot on roundabouts. “Generally, if a town doesn’t want one we won’t build one,” he said.

Here are some of the benefits of a roundabout, as noted on the DOT’s Web site:

--A 76 percent reduction in crash injuries
--30 to 40 percent fewer pedestrian accidents
--A 30 to 50 percent increase in traffic capacity

Stampeding Bull Market May Slow Down ... So Be Prepared

As you know, we've been enjoying a long period of steadily rising stock prices. Of course, this bull market won't last forever – and when it does start losing steam, you, as an investor, need to be prepared.

Before we look at how you can ready yourself for a new phase in the investment environment, let's consider some facts about the current situation:

Length – This bull market, which began in 2009, is the second-oldest in the past 100 years – and it's about twice as long as the average bull market.

Strength – Since the start of this long rally, the stock market has produced an average annualized gain of 15.5% per year. While these figures are impressive, they aren't necessarily predictive – so how much longer can this bull market continue to “stampede”? No one can say for sure, but there's no mandatory expiration date for bull markets – in fact, they don't generally die of old age, but typically expire either because of a recession or the bursting of a bubble, such as the “dot.com” bubble of 2000 or the housing bubble of 2007. And right now, most market experts don't see either event on the near-term horizon.

Still, this doesn't mean you should necessarily expect an uninterrupted streak of big gains. Some signs point to greater market volatility and lower returns. To navigate this changing landscape, think about these suggestions:

Consider rebalancing your portfolio. If appropriate, you may want to rebalance your investment mix to ensure you have a reasonable percentage of stocks – to help provide the growth you need to achieve your goals – and enough fixed-income vehicles, such as bonds, to help reduce your portfolio's vulnerability to market volatility and potential short-term downturns.

Look beyond U.S. borders. At any given time, U.S. stocks may be doing well, while international stocks are slumping – and vice versa. So, when volatility hits the U.S. markets – as it surely will, at some time – you can help reduce the impact on your portfolio if you also own some international equities. Keep in mind, though, that international investments bring some specific risks, such as currency fluctuations and foreign political and economic events.

Develop a strategy. You may want to work with a financial professional to identify a strategy to cope with a more turbulent investment atmosphere. Such a strategy can keep you from overreacting to market downturns and possibly even help you capitalize on short-term pullbacks. You could invest systematically by putting the same amount of money in the same investments each month. When prices go up, your investment dollars will buy fewer shares, and when prices drop, you'll buy more shares. And the more shares you own, the greater your potential for accumulation. However, this strategy, sometimes known as dollar cost averaging, won't guarantee a profit or protect against all losses, and you need to be willing to keep investing when share prices are declining.

During a raging bull market, it's not all that hard for anyone to invest successfully. But it becomes more challenging when the inevitable volatility and market downturns appear. Making the moves described above can help you keep moving toward your goals – even when the “bull” has taken a breather.

Madelyn Bowen Connelly, 78

GILFORD — Madelyn Bowen Connelly, age 78, of Gilford, passed away gracefully in her home on All Souls' Day, Nov. 2, 2017, surrounded by her cherished children and beloved husband of 60 years.

Molly, as she was affectionately known, was born on April 13, 1939 to Dr. John and Madelyn (Lester) Anderson in Richmond, Va. She graduated from Mount St. Joseph Academy in Buffalo, N.Y. and the University of New Hampshire. She married William Connelly and moved to the Lakes Region to raise their family.

While Molly was a devoted stay-at-home mother, and spent each summer at Gilford Beach with her children, she also tirelessly served her community. She volunteered for numerous organizations including the Nursery Guild, the Gilford Public Library, and the Lakes Region Daycare Center, which she co-founded.

Molly was an educator. She taught catechism at Our Lady of the Lakes Church, childbirth classes to five thousand couples, and parenting classes for 30 years. As a Professor at UNH, she taught in the Family Studies Program, and was a renowned therapist and public speaker. In addition to delivering many of her 12 children at home, she helped over a thousand women deliver their babies as a Midwife.

Although she was a world traveler, one of her greatest joys was being right at home, lovingly tending her award-winning gardens. For fun, she formed a book club, held garden parties, annually hosted a motorcycle club during "Bike Week," and joined the Red Hat Society where she was elected their Queen Mother. She wore her crown well, and she will reign supreme in the hearts of many for all eternity.

She is survived by her husband, William Connelly; her siblings, Jacqueline Nash, Mark and Mary Teresa Neary, Matthew and Debra Neary, Michael Neary, and Mary Neary. She is survived also by her children, Sean Connelly of Phoenix, Az., Brendan and Jane Connelly of Belmont, Timothy Connelly of Gilford, Shelagh Connelly and Marty Riehs of Holderness, Moira Connelly and Paul Warnick of Gilford, Kieran Connelly of New York City, Brian Connelly and Samantha Jewett of Gilford, Kendra Danse of Portland, Maine, Liam Connelly of Portland, ME, Maeve Shar of Gilmanton, Deirdre Connelly of Gilford. Lakes Region Uncorked 2017 is a winner!

MEREDITH — In its fifth year, Lakes Region Uncorked, the area’s showcase charity tasting event, broke records for attendance, fun and fundraising. On Thursday, Nov. 2 at Church Landing in Meredith, well over 800 people gathered to enjoy the fine food and drink offered by local NH businesses and entrepreneurs and to support Lakes Region Community Services (LRCS).

“We are grateful for the excitement and enthusiasm Uncorked generates. It is a lot of fun, promotes unique businesses and is the largest fundraiser of the year for us,” said Rebecca Bryant, LRCS President & CEO. “It is a testament to the strong community spirit of the Lakes Region to watch the support from new and returning sponsors, guests, vendors and donors grow each year. Uncorked 2017 brought in more than $50,000 in support of LRCS programs and services, funds that will impact lots of lives.”

‘Blue Ribbon – Best of Show’ Raffle Winner

The ‘Wall of Wine’ charity raffle also expanded this year to include a new “Blue Ribbon-Best of Show” raffle

– a full collection of fine wines worth more than $1,500 in a custom-made display rack built by raffle Sponsor Wood & Clay, Inc. of Gilford.

Wood & Clay co-owner Shannon Robinson-Beland pulled the winning ticket and to everyone’s delight the holder of the ticket, Marlene Minemier of Gilford, was present at the drawing to become a very excited owner of a fine wine collection.

Wood & Clay is one of many businesses that has sponsored and supported Lakes Region Uncorked since it began.

commented, “Lakes Region Community Services is important to me and Kevin for many reasons. As the former Director of LRCS’ Family Resource Center, I know first-hand the great things that LRCS does to strengthen local families and community. And as business owners whose clients have chosen the Lakes Region as their home away from home, it is important to us to share the good work of LRCS, so newer residents have an opportunity to get involved and give back. Kevin and I grew up in NH, and we want to do all we can to ensure it remains a healthy and safe place for all families and individuals to live, work, and play.”

Lakes Region Community Services is a private nonprofit, comprehensive family support agency with a primary focus of providing supports to individuals with developmental disabilities and/or acquired brain disorders and their families. A dynamic human services organization, LRCS offers other essential and critical services to individuals in the greater Lakes Region from birth throughout their lifespan. At the core of LRCS’ work are inclusion, acceptance, and building strengths and partnerships – whether at the individual, family or community level.

LRCS has offices in Laconia and Plymouth which combine to serve families residing throughout Belknap and Southern Grafton Counties. For more information contact Joanne Piper Lang at 524-8811 or visit www.lrcs.org.

Hermit Woods Petite Blue named Food & Wine Magazine's Favorite Craft Beverage in NH

MEREDITH — In the November issue of Food & Wine Magazine, Ray Isle, Wine Editor, identified his favorite craft beverages in each of the 50 states. Hermit Woods Petite Blue was his favorite craft beverage in New Hampshire.

This is not Petite Blue's first brush with fame. In 2014, after having sampled Hermit Woods Petite Blue at a Wine event in New York, N.Y., Ray Isle shared Petite Blue with Kathie Lee and Hoda on the "Today Show." It proved to be one of their favorites as well.

This is also not the first time Hermit Woods has been recognized by Food & Wine Magazine. Earlier this year, Hermit Woods learned that Food & Wine Magazine included Hermit Woods Winery as one of America's top 500 wineries in their 2017 food and wine guide. This is no small feat for a local New Hampshire winery. Hermit Woods is the first New Hampshire winery ever to be included on the list and one of only two in all of New England.

We spoke with Ken Hardcastle and Bob Manley, two of Hermit Woods' founders and they had this to say:

"We can't begin to express how proud we are to be recognized by such an important national wine magazine. We have worked very hard over the past 7 years to make Hermit Woods the best it can be, and it's wonderful to have that work recognized," said Manley.

"It has been my goal since we opened, above all else, to craft the best wine we possibly can, and every year I strive to improve upon it. As Bob said, I am very proud to have that work recognized," added Hardcastle.

Hermit Woods Petite Blue is in good company on the Food & Wine list. Also included are Ravines Wine Cellars in NY, Alchemist in Vermont, Trillium Brewery in Massachusetts, and Dogfish Head Brewery in Delaware, just to name a few. You can view the complete list at: <http://www.foodandwine.com/wine/american-top#alaska-port-chilkoot-distillery>.

Founded in 2011, Hermit Woods is a small boutique winery producing fruit wine, meads, and ciders. Our wines and ciders are local (as much as possible), vegan (except the honey wines), gluten free, raw, and made from non-certified but mostly organic fruit. We always use whole fruit, and gentle hand processing. Our wines, meads, and ciders are styled after classic dry European grape wines. Hermit Woods sees more than 8,000 visitors in their tasting room every year, and its wines are available throughout New Hampshire and direct to consumer in 37 states.

Hermit Woods Winery and Deli is located at 72 Main St. in Meredith, just a stone's throw away from New Hampshire's famous Lake Winnepesaukee. The winery is open seven days a week year round. Wine tastings are offered during all open hours, while tours are available on weekends or by appointment. Visit them at www.hermitwoods.com to learn more.

For every tire sold in November, the Irwin Automotive Group will be donating $1 to Pub Mania LACONIA — Living in the Lakes region we are all familiar with the winter and the associated snow, ice, cold and climatic nastiness that goes with it. Snow tires are a necessity if you plan on driving in a typical winter in this part of the country. To help keep you safe on the road as well as contribute to a good cause, the Irwin Automotive Group will donate $1 for every tire purchased in the month of November at any Irwin Automotive Group Location. All tire donations will go to Pub Mania hosted by Patrick's Pub. Patrick's offers a program for people and organizations who are trying to raise money for charitable purposes called the Giving Back Program.

Winter tires pay for themselves the first time you stop clear of an accident situation, rather than winding up in it. Winter tires will make your ride safer and make a big difference with grip, handling, traction and all-around confidence. Help the Irwin Automotive Group further benefit the Giving Back Program with the purchase of your new tires and receive up to $140 on eight name brand tires, a low price tire guarantee, and Irwin is offering free lifetime tire rotations with the purchase of four tires.

Robbie Mills Golf Tournament raises more than $30,000 in support of area youth organizations

BELMONT — The Robbie Mills Memorial Golf Tournament, which was held Wednesday, September 20 at the Lochmere Country Club in Tilton, raised more than $30,000 in support of youth-serving groups in the region.

The event, now in its 19th year, is hosted annually by the MetroCast Foundation and honors the memory of Robbie Mills, a 14-year-old Laconia boy who was killed in 1998 for his trail bike by two older teens. Mills' mother, Wendy Mills, is a 32-year MetroCast employee.

Proceeds from the event will support the following organizations in the region:

- Spaulding Youth Center (Northfield)
- Boys and Girls Club of Lakes Region (Concord)
- Granite State Children's Alliance/Child Advocacy Center (Belknap, Carroll, Strafford Counties)
- Bread and Roses Kitchen (Franklin)
- Waban Projects, Inc. (Sanford, Maine)
- Haven (Rochester)
- Court Appointed Special Advocates of NH (CASA)
- Greater Lakes Region Charitable Fund, Children's Auction of NH

More than 30 sponsors provided support to the 2017 event: Atlantic Broadband, net2phone, Overhead Door Options, Binnie Media, The Laconia Soda Shoppe, Open Vault, Waveguide Inc., CSNNE (Comcast Sports Network-New England), A&E Network, 4th Wave Technologies, NESN, Alpha Technologies, Synacor, Unital, Viacom Media Networks, WEEL/Lakes Media, Brick Front Restaurant, Cantin Chevrolet Inc., Harron Communications, The Hawk/Lakes Media, iGLASS Networks, INSP TV, Irwin Automotive Group, MetroCast Business Services, Mix 94.1, Northeast Radio Group, Patrick's Pub & Eatery, Reelz, Service Credit Union, Spaulding Youth Center, Squam Lake Plumbing & Heating, Strogen's Service Experts, Target Marketing Maine, and White Mountain Cable.

In addition, more than 30 businesses donated prizes which were raffled off at the tournament.

"We extend our sincere thanks to our sponsors, donors, tournament players, and the MetroCast and Lochmere employees whose generous support and hard work made the event such a success," said Edward Merrill, Regional General Manager for MetroCast.

Tournament planners have slated next year's event for Sept. 12, 2018, marking the event's 20th anniversary.

Members of the First Baptist Church in Sanbornton were on hand when James Laughy signed over his deed to land they have used for parking for many years. Shown here at the signing ceremony are (on stage) Doug Killen, Rev. Toni Manning, Rev. Scott Manning, James E. Laughy the third and his wife Ruth. Seated in front are long time congregation members and clergy Carl Blais, Lisa Douglas, Lola Morse, Bruce McLaughlin, Nancy Fogarty, Gail Parent, and Vicki and Chris Chaffee.

ness, known then as Laughy's General Store, was owned by his grandparents and until their passing in 1943.

Jim grew up to marry his first wife Anita, another local Sanbornton resident, and they raised their own family in the town they knew and loved. Over the years, they built a few homes together, and even developed a 65-acre certified tree farm on property now owned by their son.

Sadly, Anita passed away in 2002, and Jim later went on to marry his current wife Ruth, herself a widow from a previous marriage.

Laughy recently decided the time had come to donate that one small remaining parcel of land along Rte. 127 and Church Lane that he has owned since he was a lad to the First Baptist Church of Sanbornton. And he did so in memory of his first wife, who passed away in 2002.

"Anita and I knew each other as kids growing up and going to school together in Sanbornton. We attended the Chapel Valley 4-H Club just down the road from the church and attended many events here," Laughy said. "This plaque I also have for you today is being donated by me to be hung in the church in her honor for all time."

On hand to support him for the deed signing and plaque presentation were his daughter and his new bride Ruth.

The property Laughy signed over last weekend was originally part of a 100-acre parcel abutting the church, which he and his family owned for many years. Much of it was eventually taken over under imminent domain in the 1960's, however, when construction for Interstate 93 got underway.

"We told them at the time that we wanted to mine the land for gravel but they said we only had a few days if we wanted to do that, so it never happened," Laughy recalled.

Through the years he and his family maintained the title to that one last 3,900-square foot parcel of land that the interstate didn't need along on Route 127, but graciously allowed the church to use it for parking, until last Sunday when Laughy made it their own.

After the signing Rev. Scott Manning said there were no immediate plans for any changes to the property as it sits today, but the donation was still most generous.

"It's just good to know we own it now. This helps square up our borders and gives us options for the future so we deeply appreciate this gift," he said.

In conclusion of the signing, Laughy's longtime friend Roland Bixby entertained the crowd with a few classic church tunes on his fiddle.

--Traffic slows to 30 m.p.h. or less

--Lower fuel use and pollution (no waiting)

There are those who think we have a traffic problem in downtown Colebrook, where Colby Street and Parsons Street bring drivers onto Main Street, and they sometimes have to wait, especially if they're turning across traffic. I'm not one to agree that there's all that big a problem, only a minor one that can easily be solved with a little stopping and waving, as seems to be an increasing nicety.

A traffic light is implausible there because Colby and Parsons streets are offset, and the necessary turn lanes would devour priceless storefront parking spaces, and besides, the waits would be interminable.

So the last time I was up Route 10 I stopped at one of the little roundabouts and paced it off, just for the heck of it, and then on my return home found, to no great surprise, that a roundabout in downtown Colebrook would be a tight fit. The rear wheels of a left-turning 18-wheeler would have to roll pretty close to the middle, close enough for horseshoes. Maybe.

When I went to England with my Dad, I did the driving, my first time of driving on the wrong side of the road, and quite soon we came to a roundabout, this one a very big one, where two major highways converged. And instantly there were lots of blaring horns, a thing that would make me jump right out of my skin in downtown Colebrook, because in the dictates of small-town etiquette, blowing one's horn is just not done, although a toot to wave hello is all right.

Northfield and Sanbornton officers were happy to be a part of the event this year and plan to continue their support in the future.

"It just makes good sense for us to be here. We're all in this together," said Sanbornton continuing in the years to come.

This year's presentation of three outdoor movies in the months of June, July and August provided free family entertainment in the park as well as drinks, hot dogs and popcorn for the children who attended.

The series was initially met with set-up expenses for the screen and other items necessary to establish the movie events. Henry said now that they have met the start-up costs for all those needs, he hopes next year's donations to PYC-T will be much larger.

PYC-T's Board President Stephen Rock said they were very grateful for all that police and community members have donated towards the center and were excited to receive such a generous donation from participants and local police.

The Pemi Youth Center-Tilton, located at 448 W. Main St. in Tilton, opened earlier this month to provide a safe and nurturing after-school environment for young teens in the Winnisquam School District. Since its creation, the center has received the assistance of not only local law enforcement officials but community members who have made generous donations of time, energy and supplies to support local youth.

D3 volleyball title comes to Tilton

Bears get revenge on Lakers, claim division championship

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@salmonpress.news

DERRY— Winnisquam and Inter-Lakes were the top volleyball teams all season in Division 3, and it is only fitting that the two would face each other in the state finals. With a clear memory of Inter-Lakes beating them in the regular season finally to nix a bid for an undefeated season, the Bears got redemption last week and handily defeated the Lakers 3-0 in front of a huge crowd at Pinkerton Academy.

Set one was all about peaks and valleys for both teams, but Winnisquam ended up coming away with a fairly convincing 25-19 win. Winnisquam went up early with some great playing by Aubrey St. Onge, Gabby Isabelle, Madisyn Skeats, Shannon Goodwin and Talia DaBlasie.

The Bears were up 17-8, keeping sophomore Emma Wheeler fairly quiet and not allowing her vicious slams to fall. However, Inter-Lakes woke up and put together a nice run and got the game back within striking distance, down 18-16.

After a few great volleys between the two powerhouse teams, Winnisquam began to pull away thanks to a couple big kills by Goodwin that were set up by DeBlasie.

Set two was all Winnisquam right from the beginning, with the Bears going up 15-5 and showing determination. The Lakers, led by Wheeler and setter Jessalyn Brown, clawed their way back into the game and closed the lead to 18-14. After forcing Winnisquam to call a time out and figure out a game plan, the Bears took over the rest of the set and won 25-16.

Set three saw Inter-Lakes come out to a quick 3-0 lead, and despite a fighting Bear squad, the Lakers jumped up 11-5 showing a spark of life. The Bears lingered and stayed fairly close before tying up the set 17-17 and then going on a huge 9-0 run to win the game.

The Bears went nuts and coach Mike Livernois and his bench rushed the floor to hug teammates and celebrate the big win.

The Winnisquam Bears lost to Inter-Lakes in a battle of undefeated top dogs of Division 3 volleyball teams in the final game of the regular season. It was a tough loss for Winnisquam, watching Inter-Lakes celebrate on the Bears' home court and seeing the undefeated season fizzle away.

Livernois said the Bears walked out knowing they didn't play up to their ability, and intended to make sure that didn't happen again.

Livernois admitted that the undefeated season is extremely difficult to pull off. He said the end of the season loss to Inter-Lakes served as motivation for his squad to go in firing. While an undefeated season is nice, Livernois said he will take an 18-1 record with a state championship any day.

Gabby Isabelle agreed, saying the team went into the game knowing they had to give it all they had.

"It's the last game of the season," said Isabelle. "Coach Kev (Archibald) said leave it all on the floor."

Isabelle said winning the first two sets was key, as the team didn't have the same pressure that Inter-Lakes had to come away with a win. She said the team could play more relaxed and loose. It also helped that she had everything working for her during the match, saying when she is on that kind of roll she is thinking "slow feet, fast arms" when going for kills.

Livernois said going into the game he felt very good. The team had watched tape of the last game against the Lakers and saw what they needed to do to beat a great team like Inter-Lakes. He admitted the Bears didn't play well last time-committing errors, not running attacks well and not hitting balls well.

This time, he was very pleased with the performance of his team.

"It was really important for them to see it," Livernois said. "Now we know what we did wrong and know what we needed to fix. The other thing you saw today is you saw a team that has been to semifinals last year. Some of those girls were in the finals in 2015. They had a front row seat. They saw it, they were prepared for it and we did what we needed to do."

Livernois wasted no time to commend the Inter-Lakes squad for the hard work they put in all season, saying it was a clear matchup of the two best teams in Division 3. He said he expects to see Inter-Lakes back in the running for a championship next year, as well. He also spoke very highly of Laker coach Randy Mattson who has yet to win a championship during her 27-year career coaching, saying he hopes she can come away with one but he just doesn't want it against his squad.

Mattson said nerves may have gotten to the Laker squad a little bit. She said the team never really got into the rhythm, and playing a team like Winnisquam, a team needs to have everything working in order to win.

"When you get down to the championship- I kept saying to the team in timeouts- when you get to the championship you've got to play great," said Mattson. "They were playing great and we had a hard time trying to stop them. Their hitters were on fire and we were making it easy

Bears bounce Cougars for trip to finals

PLYMOUTH — The road to the state championship stopped at a jam-packed Plymouth Regional High School last week, where second-ranked Winnisquam knocked off number three Campbell in a great three-set sweep on Nov. 1.

Winnisquam won convincingly in the first set by a score of 25-15, and then won sets two and three in close fashion by scores of 25-22 and 25-21. In the final two sets, while Campbell couldn't get on top of Winnisquam, the Bears had to fight hard for each point to take the wins.

The win sent Winnisquam to the state championship game to face undefeated Inter-Lakes. This marked the fifth appearance in the finals in eight years for the Bears.

"This says I have really good athletes," said coach Mike Livernois. "I could stand here and say 'it's all me. It's all me.' No, it's not. If you don't have athletes you don't go anywhere. I have been really lucky the past eight years."

Livernois said he has always had a big hitter and big setter, which is no different this season with the Bears boasting two of the best in the division. Earlier this season Shannon Goodwin achieved her 500th kill and Talia DeBlasie now has close to 1,400 assists, and both players are juniors. For DeBlasie, by the end of her career she is on track to be among the all-time leaders.

"She is on track to be the third highest setter in the state," said Livernois.

Livernois said the team opted to use a libero for the first time ever during this state tournament so he could get Olivia Dill more touches. He said it was a learning process, but after seeing how well it worked, it would probably be something he sticks with.

"It really gave us a little bit of a spark," said Livernois.

Riley, Day compete in Meet of Champions

NASHUA — The Belmont girls' cross country team had a couple runners qualify for last weekend's Meet of Champions at Nashua High School, and while none qualified for the New England Championship, it was a good showing for their final race of the season.

Junior Alice Riley ran a time of 19:31.6, which was good for 45th place in the event. Alexis Day was 111th in the event with a time of 21:15.2.

The Meet of Champions took place for the 41st time and involved runners from every division. The top six teams and top 25 individual runners qualified for New Englands. Winning the girls' race was Exeter senior Jacqueline Gaughan with a time of 16:51.2. Gaughan, who won last year as well, came into the race with the top cross country time in the nation this season.

Belmont girls come up one game short of finals

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

LACONIA — The Red Raiders’ girls’ soccer team had been surging at the best time possible, and had high hopes of making its second straight state championship appearance. However, fifth-ranked Belmont couldn’t fend off the top seeded Raymond despite having a 1-0 lead, and lost 3-1 on Halloween night at Laconia High School.

The Red Raiders came out firing, showing the confidence needed to knock off a team like Raymond. Star junior Julianna Estremera kicked off the scoring with a nice shot to the top corner of the net with 32:41 left in the first half to give Belmont a 1-0 lead.

The rest of the half would be a back-and-forth game with no clear advantage. Goalie Emma Cochrane was all over the place, making some nice stops and keeping Raymond scorers in check. All the while, Belmont remained aggressive with several shots but the Raymond defense was tough enough to clear the ball out on a number of occasions. When the whistle blew, it was a 1-0 lead for Belmont, and all of a sudden the top-ranked Raymond team looked vulnerable.

In the second half Belmont came out firing. Estremera led the attack with several shots on goal in the early minutes. The Red Raiders had several corner kicks, but each time the ball was cleared out by Raymond before Belmont could get a shot on goal.

The clock continued to tick away and Raymond was still being held scoreless until freshman Katherine LaCasse tied up the game 1-1 with just under 18 minutes to go. Raymond went on a tear and scored two more goals before the game was over, with LaCasse scoring her second goal with 15 minutes remaining. LaCasse also had an assist on the third goal for Raymond, which was scored by Hannah Harmon to give Raymond a bit of a cushion.

Belmont had a couple close scoring opportunities as time wound down, but in the end the top-ranked Raymond team was just too much for the Red Raiders. Belmont put up a big fight against a team that had rarely trailed all season and only lost one game to Hopkinton. Raymond went on to the finals and beat Fall Mountain 3-2 with overtime penalty kicks.

Coach Mark Dawalga said it was a great year for the Red Raiders. He said it was a tough way to end the season, especially with Belmont leading for the majority of the semifinal matchup.

“I thought that second goal was the difference of the game,” said Dawalga. “Overall I am very pleased about the season and the group going into next year. I was very impressed. And also, hats off to Raymond. I want to give them a ton of credit. They were a well-coached team and especially in the second half they played really well.”

Dawalga now looks ahead to next season, and said despite losing a few seniors to graduation, there is a strong core that should have Belmont right back in the hunt for a title.

The Red Raiders finished the season with an overall record of 12-4-3.

Salmon Sunday returns to Melvin Village Sunday

TUFTONBORO — Bring the kids and explore the life cycle of landlocked salmon, fish prized by anglers on New Hampshire’s big lakes, at the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department’s annual “Salmon Sunday” event on Sunday, Nov. 12, from noon to 2 p.m. at Pope Dam in Melvin Village. Pope Dam is nine miles north of Wolfeboro on Route 109 in the town of Tuftonboro.

During the event, fisheries biologists will be busy harvesting, or “stripping,” eggs and milt from adult salmon. Standing knee-deep in the cold water of the Melvin River, scientists expertly relieve the colorful adult female salmon of their eggs by stroking their stomachs. Milt from the male fish is obtained in the same way and mixed with the gold-colored eggs to fertilize them.

This activity is all part of the work the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department carries out each year, with support from the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program, to maintain the landlocked salmon population in New Hampshire’s big lakes.

Salmon used for the stripping demonstration are netted from Lake Winnepesaukee during October and early November. They are returned to the lake after their eggs and milt has been collected. The fertilized eggs are taken to Powder Mill Hatchery in New Durham, where they will hatch in three to four months. The salmon are raised in the hatchery for about 18 months, and then stocked into Lake Winnepesaukee and other New Hampshire lakes.

Underwater photographer Bob Michelson, of Braintree, Mass., will be at the event displaying images depicting the underwater life history of Atlantic salmon. Michelson will be available to answer questions about his observations of this species in the wild, as well as about SCUBA diving and underwater photography. Michelson has been a certified SCUBA diver and underwater photographer for almost 40 years. His work has been published widely, and his video footage and programming have aired on national networks. Michelson has generously donated many of his fish collection images for use on the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department web site for education/outreach efforts.

Fish and Game staff will be on hand to answer questions about salmon, the egg-stripping process, and the stocking program that ensures these beautiful fish continue to be available in the lakes for anglers to catch. Salmon Sunday is a “rain or shine” event. Dress warmly. If you have questions about Salmon Sunday, call 744-5470.

Mattson said the Lakers had a great season overall despite the loss. She was proud of the 18-1 season and making it to the finals for the first time since 2004.

“When we played them at their place in their last regular season game, we played better than they did and we won,” said Mattson. “Tonight, they played better than we did, and they won. But I’m enormously proud. We’ve accomplished a lot and come a long way.”

For the Lakers, Wheeler led the way with nine kills and six service points on the day. Brown had 20 assists; Hailey Hart had four kills and five service points and Morgan White had four kills.

For the state champion Bears, Goodwin had an outstanding day with 15 kills and 19 digs. DeBlasie had a fantastic all around day with 34 assists, four digs and two aces. Isabelle had 13 kills and 16 digs; Alli Foster had four kills; Olivia Dill had 10 digs; Skeats had six digs, three kills and a block; Aubrey St. Onge had 14 digs and Hannah Blackburn had three digs and an ace.

Skeats was all smiles after winning the championship in her senior season, saying it felt great to do it with such a special group of athletes.

“I’ve never made it this far in my volleyball career, so to do this is incredible,” said Skeats. “Winning all three sets really felt good. The last set was a little iffy, but we got it back and it was great.”
