The cast of "Urinetown" rehearses for the show that opens on Nov. 12.

Revolutionaries, corporate bosses, and downtrodden locals are some of the many and sometimes wacky characters Gilford High School students are playing in the coming production of "Urinetown."

Rehearsals are underway for the production that will take the GHS stage Nov. 12-13 and 19-20. "Ureintown" takes place in a society where the only place people can do their number one business is to pay to get in designated toilets and a group of revolutionaries are working to change that.

Freshman Luc Martin plays Bobby Strong, who he described as a nerd who never really got into any cause until a girl he likes inspired him to get involved in the rebellion.

"It's interesting; it's a weird concept, but I like it. I like the role too," Martin said.

Martin has done the theater department's summer program in the past.

Senior Eva Bondaz plays Bobby's mom Josephine, an older lady who runs a secret business.

"I help lead the revolution with Bobby, and I'm a pretty cool grandma," Bondaz said.

Bondaz was involved in theater when she was at Merrimack Valley Middle School and Gilford Middle School.

"I really missed it," she said. "I didn't do it for a while. Really good to be back, it's a lot of fun."

The Gilford Youth Center hosted a variety of frights during the annual Haunted Village. Most of those doing the scaring were Gilford High School juniors doing a community service project.

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

The Gilford Youth Center turned into the place for some good scares during the annual Haunted Village thanks to a lot of community efforts.

On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday night, guests were invited to walk through the dark corridors and brave an array of unsettling scenes and scary characters jumping out from the shadows.

GYC director Scott Hodsdon said the Haunted Village started a few years ago as both a fundraiser for the GYC and a fun Halloween activity.

Hodsdon came up with different ideas for haunts with the GYC staff. He said they would think of new ideas for scares throughout the year after seeing different movies, TV shows, and other sources. By the time the event came around they had a map laid out on the big window in the office.

The staff also came up with the costumes.

"It really came together," Hodsdon said.

The Haunted Village was an event meant for anyone from teens to adults who were okay with the scares. During the day the GYC hosted the Not So Scary Halloween Stroll for younger kids. Families could come in costume and do a maze where different treats were hidden. Children could also meet with costumed characters like Mickey, Minnie, Olaf, and more.

On Saturday night, Hodsdon said that night brought out their biggest crowds. More than 100 people showed up on Friday night and Saturday's turnout counted around 200 people. Different groups were also coming out, such as 70 students from New Hampton School.

Most of the ghouls and killers populating the village were members of the Gilford High School junior class.

Hodsdon said they reached out to the junior class to take part. The juniors wanted to have their prom at the GYC, Hodsdon said the kids could volunteer at the Haunted Village to have their prom there for free and also get required community service hours.

The students took on different characters and were instructed on what scares to deliver at what times.

"They really made the haunted house a success for us," Hodsdon said.

GHS junior Natalie Clay said she plays basketball at the GYC, when she found out about the Haunted Village she immediately knew she wanted to take part in it.

"I just think about what would scare me," said junior Camryn Marshall said of her scaring technique.

Clay said it was rewarding to see people get scared and disappointing when people going by didn't act scared.

"It's fun when they scream because it feels like I'm doing a really good job," said junior Riley Powers.

Even Hodsdon's 10-year-old daughter Addison got in on the frights. She played a creepy little girl in a white dress with a knife and surrounded by creepy dolls.

Remembering our roots

We remember the ‘good ol’ days’ when the thought of a video phone conversation would be epic. We thought the best we might get is something along the lines of Max Hedroom, who was introduced in 1984. What we ended up with is substantially better. What a great way to keep in touch with family members and friends across a far distance.

That being said, the rate at which technology is advancing is moving a bit too fast. It seems as though once an item has been unveiled, it becomes obsolete in a nano-second, paving the way for something better, faster and with more bells and whistles.

As time moves forward, how can we maintain a solid grip on our past? A recent trip to a local Historical Society had us speaking with those in charge, in regard to how ‘most people just don’t care about history anymore’.

The destruction of old buildings is becoming more and more common, and we wonder how that will affect future generations. It is one thing to look at old photographs of old schools, buildings, churches and other landmarks, however the history becomes more alive when you have something you can stand next too, observe with your own eyes in person, touch it, walk around and get a feel for how things once were. There really is a magic to it.

History is fascinating. The way things once were, the way human beings have evolved over the years and how things have changed are some of the best stories one can hear. History keeps us grounded and in tune with who we are, especially family history dating back as far as you can go. You could find out that your great grandfather was an Editor of a newspaper in Philadelphia and have an ‘a-ha’ moment, that perhaps that is why you’re sitting in front of a newfangled typewriter, writing, which is the case for this Editor. DNA is a pretty neat thing.

History is what has shaped us into who we are as a society. Preserving history is crucial in that it, if it can be done, represents different aspects of our culture, politics and economy. Being able to walk through Paul Revere’s house in Boston, gives us a direct connection to that specific time and place, often representing major milestones. The ability for those sites to connect the dots to where you’re standing over the years is something that should never be taken for granted.

If old buildings and structures continually are demolished, what will be left of our past? While we do understand that sometimes this is a necessity due to safety or financial reasons, we also have the motto, “If they can put a man on the moon, they can save a building.”

Preserving history is a way to appreciate our local and national heritage. Some buildings may be the only iconic ones left in a small New England town. Those are the places that give these small towns and big cities character. Often, even just one old building is enough to define a town. While new structures can draw in investments into a town, it is the history of a place that lures people to it.

Every major city, and every town worth its salt has a historic village. We feel it is our duty, as we move throughout our lives, to do what we can to protect the past.

In the words of Marcus Garvey, “A people without the knowledge of their past history, origin and culture is like a tree without roots.”

Kate Sullivan pushes the ball over the net during Gilford’s 3-0 win over John Stark in the Division II quarterfinals on Friday evening. The top-seeded Golden Eagles had a bye in the first round and the win over the Generals sent them to the Division II semifinals, which took place after deadline on Wednesday against Milford at Pinkerton Academy. The Division II finals are slated for Saturday, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m., also at Pinkerton.

North Country Notebook

Meanders of the mind

In the 1990s, I saw something about a ‘possum causing consternation in Littleton because it got into garbage cans and people didn’t know what it was. I did a sort of “What’s up with opossums?” column, and among other things found out that one had hitched a ride to Berlin on a UPS truck.

When we visit, which is too seldom, Calvin and I often drift off into obscure topics. These may or may not have anything to do with each other, but in general they sort of follow a thread. They can range from deciding to go fishing when there’s still three feet of snow, which we did one April, to moving a gigantic newspaper press from Rochester to Lancaster, which we did when we were young and stupid. Time has changed us a little, at least from the head down.

So the other day when I called him about a book I’m editing, he asked me about “tarvea,” which had absolutely nothing to do with editing a book, and said he hadn’t had much luck looking it up, and then suggested that it might not even be a legitimate word, and so there it was, smacked right down there in a sort of Court of Public Opinion, a challenge to the very word that I’d used in a recent column.

So this is what his idle question had been all about, a snake in the grass—a Scrabble challenge, which Divorce Court lawyers will tell you can lead to hissy-fights. His sources apparently told him it was not even a word. But of course he acknowledged hearing it all his life, or as the old joke goes, not yet.

“Tarvea,” aside from being a popular girl’s name in the South, means, generally, “pavement,” or a paved road. An old-timer I claim I grew up with, whose actual name I’ve forgotten, is the ‘Hiram’ I use as a means of telling particular stories. If you went looking for Hiram, you’d be pretty late for supper.

Anyway, Hiram was a laconic old farmer who nonetheless knew his history, and was always talking about where the old North Star Road met the “improved tarvea.” Another version used the old term “macadam.” This seemed to be an almost magical place, where the humble old dirt two-wheel oxcart road met a tarred road, leading to a cornucopia of all things new and wonderful. The improved tarvea led to stores! Restaurants! Parking spaces, with parking meters!

I suspect that Life as We Have Known It will be gone when weekly newspapers become too gun-shy to run photos of happy young hunters and their deer. The papers do this as a matter of course in Maine, but the closer you get to Manhattan, the higher the risk of offending someone.

“Well, don’t go to Manhattan,” is the rejoinder, but Manhattan seems to be coming here. Television programming is overwhelmingly urban, and with 85% of the population living on 15% of the land, that’s not apt to change.

Hunting is declining as more people, particularly younger people, flock to the cities. Hunters have tried to broaden the appeal of hunting with Youth Hunting weekends, in which kids hunt with licensed adults.

In New Hampshire, young hunters have to complete a Hunter Safety course, no easy thing. They learn how to dress a deer out and take proper care of the meat.

And well they should. Venison, properly taken care of from field to freezer and then properly cooked, is the stuff of kings—and queens. These days, a girl calling a friend might be told that she’s not home right now—she’s out hunting with her grandmother.

Gilford Community Church receives major donation from Three Friends Fund

Recently, Gilford Community Church (GCC) received a major donation from Three Friends Fund, a gift described as "remarkable" by Pastor Michael Graham.

"This is the third year they have made an unsolicited donation to support our broad-based mission to act as caring stewards of our community and the earth," he said.

Noting the financial contributions have been used to enhance their outreach efforts to support local social service agencies, Graham said the donations have also supported GCC's Clean Energy Project. Recently completed in September with the installation of 204 solar panels on its campus, the multi-phase project also included installation of LED lighting fixtures and lighting control systems.

"Most importantly, the project helped us reduce our carbon footprint," he explained. "Secondly, the project will significantly reduce utility expenses, which allows us to further expand our outreach work."

In looking to the future, Graham said he hopes GCC can continue to position itself as not just a "religious," but a community, leader.

Gilford Community Church is an inclusive, open community," he said. "We welcome believers and doubters, seekers and skeptics, young and old -- I have faith that this message will build bridges in our community and beyond."

Golden Eagle boys survive Kearsarge in quarterfinals

GILFORD — The eighth-seeded Kearsarge boys' soccer team traveled to top-ranked Gilford last week for the second round of the playoffs and while Kearsarge took the game into overtime, Aiden Bondaz was able to knock in a shot off of a free kick by Chance Bolduc for a 2-1 victory. Haukur Karlsson got the Golden Eagles on the board first at the 26-minute mark on an assist by Anthony Haddocks. After several close opportunities that were thwarted by Kearsarge goalie Cole Rozum on a diving stop, along with some narrowly missed shots, Karlsson was able to put the ball to the top off the net over the outstretched arms of Rozum to go up 1-0. Gilford continued to fire off shots throughout the half, but soccer can be a game of inches as the Golden Eagles continued to barely miss on close shots and plays near the net. However, it was Kearsarge who would score next with about two minutes to go in the first half. Matthew Carr made a nice rush up to the goal and managed to put the ball in the back of the net on an unassisted goal to tie up the game. Kearsarge capitalized on missed opportunities in the first half to tie things up and the Cougars hung tight with the undefeated Golden Eagles. Kearsarge came out hungry and looking to knock off a top-ranked team to advance in the playoffs. In the second half, Gilford came out firing and had a number of close shots that narrowly missed taking the lead, including two shots that knocked off the post. Gilford almost took the lead several times as time was winding down in regulation. Just before the end of the second half Gilford had two corner kicks in the closing seconds. One shot by Tanner Keenan went wide right and then on the next corner kick he tried to head the ball in, but it was saved by Rozum. The game went into overtime and it was all Gilford, and with 6:54 left on the clock, Bondaz was able to knock in a rebounded shot on the free kick to go up 2-1 to win what was a hard fought Division 3 playoff battle. Gilford coach Dave Pinkham said he told Bolduc to put the ball right at the goal. He sent two extra players and Pinkham admitted it was a big chance but one that paid off. "They are a very solid team and we knew it," said Pinkham. "Our nemesis all season long has been that we can't finish. We had a lot of close shots that just barely missed and even here I saw the goalie make that save and said, 'oh no, not again.' But he was able to toe the ball in. Pinkham attributed the team's devotion to conditioning for the ability to turn things on again in the second half. "It was a good win for us and we get to go on another day," said Pinkham. "But my compliments to them. They did a great job. This was a good win for us and one that will help us going forward. This was only our fourth goal given up in 18 games. We take pride in our defense and they made us play defense better." The Golden Eagles opened the playoffs with a 5-0 win over White Mountains. They were scheduled to play in the Division III semifinals after deadline on Monday. The Division III finals are slated for Friday, Nov. 5, in Laconia at 5:30 p.m.

Gilford soccer girls shut out Berlin in playoff opener

GILFORD — The Gilford girls' soccer team's strong regular season continued into the post-season, as the Golden Eagles cruised to a 9-0 win over Berlin on Wednesday, Oct. 27. "It really could not have gone any better," said Gilford coach Rob Meyers. "The girls were excited to play, confident and on top of their games. "They moved the ball well and created lots of chances," the Gilford coach continued. "We were able to get a lot of players through the lineup and give everyone a good amount of field time in preparation for what will be a tough game against Derryfield at home on Sunday." The Golden Eagles came out strong and scored two goals in the first 10 minutes and added two more in the first half for the 4-0 lead at the break and then scored five times in the second half to finish out the 9-0 win. Geena Cookinham had three goals and three assists, while Allie

Kenyon chipped in with two goals and an assist. Anna Coapland, Millie Caldon and Reece Sadler each had a goal and an assist, Addy Harris had a goal, Molly McLean had a pair of assists and Alyssa Craigie added a helper. Maura Hughes and Hannah Gannon combined for the shut-out in net. Cookinham's hat trick and three assists brought her season total to 31 goals and 14 assists. The Golden Eagles moved on to host Derryfield in the Division III quarterfinals. The game was scheduled to be played on Sunday, but the field conditions prevented the game from being played on Sunday and it was moved to after deadline Monday afternoon. The Division IV semifinals were after deadline on Wednesday and the finals are Sunday, Nov. 7, at 2:30 p.m. at Manchester Memorial.

with leather jackets and knives.

Campo did theater at Bishop Brady High School and for the Winnetka Playhouse. She said she wanted to attend Gilford because of its theater program.

Senior Anna Cook plays Penelope Pennywise, Bobby's co-worker and the former lover of Caldwell B. Cadwell, who runs Urine Good Company. She also has a secret that is revealed during the show.

Cook is a Gilford theater veteran, doing shows in the middle school and throughout high school.

Senior Caitlyn Costa plays Officer Lockstock, a local police officer who's partnered with Officer Barrell. While Officer Lockstock is responsible for making sure people don't pee in the street, he also acts like an older brother to the street kids.

"It's a very fun show. It's kind of a serious show done in a silly way," Costa said.

Costa has been doing theater since Middle School and has worked with Streetcar Company.

Campo, Cook, and Costa helped run rehearsals when director Matt Demko was out for a while

"I've done the show before, so it's nice to have a different perspective," Campo said.

Cook said the experience was a little stressful running both a rehearsal and doing their parts.

"It's stressful because you want to make a good production and look professional," Cook said.

At the same time, she said it was a really fun experience because they all get along.

Costa said it's been a fun experience working with the two other seniors on rehearsals, though it's also a little stressful getting everything together for showtime.

"We just want to get everything right and make sure things are going well," she said.

Aldren Townsend makes the final turn in Saturday's Division III State Meet in Manchester.

Madeline Burlock heads to the finish line in the Division III State Meet on Saturday.

BUDGET

the Lakes Region Mutual Fire Aid went down this year to $93,081.

Factoring in all the details, the selectmen's proposed budget for 2022 is $16,755,975 and the board unanimously approved the figure. The budget will now go to the Budget Committee for review and possible changes. The final budget will then go to voters for the 2022 deliberative session and town meeting voting.

Dunn also said they received an estimate for the municipal portion of the taxes at $4.10 per $1,000 in assessed valuation. He said they can keep the tax rate at that number if they use around $207,000 from the fund balance.

"It's a lot of money cumulatively to use from fund balance because we've already had $1 million earmarked from the capital budget, however we have in excess of $4.9 million in the surplus find balance," Dunn said. "It's entirely up to you whether we also want to use more to level fund the tax rate or give it a tax rate increase."

Selectman Chan Eddy said he would rather use that money in fund balance to offset the taxes.

"People are going to get hit pretty hard this year, particularly with inflation now really starting to be felt," Eddy said. "We can reduce some of that burden in a small way. I would prefer to do that; after all, it is the taxpayers' money. Why don't we give it back to them?"

The rest of the board agreed.

PLANNING

value of those homes is around $5 million more than last year. The value also accounts for almost all the value of construction.

Permits for different services such as plumbing, electrical, and others is also up.

Ayer said they have been seeing twice as many applications for solar panels than they usually do. They've also been seeing a lot more applications for variances than usual we well.

"It's generally speaking been a very busy year, which is a good thing in many ways," Ayer said.

Selectman Chan Eddy said he wondered if all these increases were the result of more people moving to the area from larger cities because of the pandemic.

"This is kind of outside what we normally see as far as seeing this much of a jump," Eddy said.

Ayer said Eddy was "probably right."

A few proposed building projects are in the early stages.

Starbucks is looking to build a new location on Lakeshore Road. Ayer said the proposed plan would take down the mostly vacant buildings at 1429 Lakeshore Rd. and build a new coffee shop with a drive through and parking for 12 vehicles.

Ayer said the project's site plan application will be on the agenda at the next planning board meeting. The planning and land use boards in both Gilford and Laconia are watching any possible impacts to Black Brook.

"I don't think they're proposing anything that's really going to be terribly impactful there fortunately," Ayer said.

Developers of a new medical building in Airport Plaza are working on getting their building permit application in.

At the beginning of the meeting, the board recognized Ayer for his 20 years of service to the town.

Board chair Gus Benavides said, as someone who regularly interacts with the Planning and Land Use Department, it is always a pleasure to work with Ayer.

"It's always a pleasure to deal with your professionalism your wisdom and your willingness to answer any kind of question that the general public has and that's exactly what we always want to do," Benavides said. "We say that our local government should be a help rather than a hinderance to our residents and to our business owners. So thank you in large part for taking that leadership role in your department."

Plans underway for annual Mae Hart Thanksgiving Dinner

MEREDITH — We are pleased to announce that the Annual Mae Hart Thanksgiving Dinner will once again take place on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 25 at the Meredith Community Center thanks to the generosity of the Hart’s Turkey Farm Restaurant.

Hart’s Turkey Farm Restaurant has partnered with the Meredith Parks and Recreation Department for years to provide this wonderful meal and wanted to ensure that the meal would be provided again this year.

Again this year, the Annual Mae Hart Thanksgiving Dinner will be a drive-thru event and offered to those in the Meredith and surrounding area. We will still be providing delivery to those who are house bound who live in Meredith, Center Harbor & New Hampton.

Anyone wishing to pick-up a meal, volunteer their time or is house bound and would like a meal delivered please contact Terri Thompson at the Meredith Parks and Recreation Department at 279-8197 or tthompson@meredithnh.org. Pre- registration for drive-thru curbside pick-up and housebound delivery is required by no later than Nov. 19.

Drive-thru curbside pickup will take place at the Meredith Community Center from 11am-1pm on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 25. Meal delivery will be made between 10:30 & 11:30 a.m.

This special meal is a long-time tradition thanks to the generosity of Mae Hart, the Hart family matriarch, who promoted community spirit and believed no one should eat alone on Thanksgiving Day.

The very generous Hart family has continued her tradition since 1988. We would also like to thank a generous anonymous donor, who contributes funding each year to help provide delivered meals. Thank you also to the many volunteers who have made this wonderful gathering possible over the years.
