

Back to school for Barnstead School Board

BY DAVID ALLEN
Contributing Writer

BARNSTEAD — Back to school time. That was the primary theme of the Barnstead School Board meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 28.

One other key issue came before the board: Education finance. New Hampshire is one of a small handful of states that rely on the local property tax for the largest share of local school funding. Most states provide close to full funding from state revenue from a variety of types of taxation.

A couple months ago, board member Eliza Drolet attended a meeting at Pittsfield High School at which two leaders in the field of education finance reform (Andru Volinsky and John Tobin) discussed potential legal and legislative action to make the system fairer. Following that meeting, the Barnstead School Board decided to ask for a similar educational forum in Barnstead.

The New Hampshire system creates huge differentials in the funding of local schools. At one extreme, Berlin has $282,760 of taxable property for each student in town, while Millsfield has $47,089,281 of taxable property for each student. Let's set Millsfield and Hale's Location aside because they each had only two students as of Dec/ 31, 2017. Instead, consider Moultonborough with its 461 students and property value of $6,267,340 per student.

On average, New Hampshire towns spend about $15,000 per student. To raise $15,000 for each student Berlin must levy a tax of $10,610 for a house valued at $200,000. Moultonborough can get away with a tax of $479 on that same $200,000 home.

Drolet reported to the board that following the Pittsfield meeting there had been an explosion of interest from towns across the state. Volinsky and Tobin cannot possibly respond to all the invitations so they are trying to be strategic in spreading their workshops around the state. With Barnstead next door to Pittsfield, and several residents already having had the opportunity to hear the presentation, they will not be able to do the workshop in Barnstead.

BES administrators reported on progress during the summer on projects intended to improve the school experience during this year.

The D-wing, home for the seventh and eighth graders, was re-roofed. This a project that the administration has wanted to tackle for a few years, fearing the old roof was ready to start leaking.

Two bathrooms were converted to storage and walls were painted. The custodial staff worked with unusual diligence to prepare the floors, walls, and other physical features of the building for the new year. Administrators, staff, and board members commented this is the cleanest the building has ever looked. The board commended the custodians for a job well done.

PMHS contract deliberative session is Monday

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain School Board and the Prospect Mountain Teachers' Association have announced the plans moving forward for a vote on a new contract.

The last proposed contract was voted down at the polls earlier this year but voters gave the two sides more time to agree to a new contract to present to voters.

The warrant and budget were set to be posted on Aug. 31.

The deliberative session will be held at 7 p.m. on Sept. 17 in the PMHS auditorium and the voting will be held on Oct. 15.

BARNSTEAD — Two motorists, each driving Jeeps, walked away mostly unscathed, but a moose didn't fare quite so well in a crash that will likely be one of several over the next several weeks.

According to Barnstead Police Chief Paul Poirier, a northbound Jeep struck the moose and killed it on impact on Route 28.

While the motorist, whose name was undisclosed, tended to their own matters, the moose carcass remained in the road.

Before the dead moose could be removed, it was struck again by a second Jeep. Upon impact, the vehicle flipped over.

Poirier said the vehicle making the initial impact was in a condition where it "could have been safely driven home."

Not so much with the second Jeep, which landed on its roof.

"It was in pretty rough shape," Poirier summarized.

The incident occurred on a stretch of Route 28 between the intersections of Route 126 and Maple Street. The highway was temporarily closed last week during clean-up operations, with traffic being detoured to side roads running parallel to Route 28.

Poirier ruled out excessive speed and potential impairment as causative factors.

"I think it was just a plain case of bad luck - being at the wrong place at the wrong time," he said.

The area is a known moose crossing. Poirier emphasized that motorists should use extra caution, "and just be cognizant of your surroundings" along this stretch in particular - and while driving generally.

Kent Gustafson is a wildlife biologist, who's been with N.H. Fish and Game for 25-plus years. He knows about moose behavior about as well as anyone in the Granite State.

"This is a time of year when people should be especially alert," Gustafson said.

He explained that over the next several weeks, moose will be on the move as the fall breeding season begins.

"And it doesn't help

AMERICAN RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVES

HELP KIDS KICK CANCER BY GIVING BLOOD WITH THE RED CROSS

RED CROSS AND SPORT CLIPS HAIRCUTS PARTNER TO RAISE AWARENESS OF CHILDHOOD CANCERS, OFFER FREE HAIRCUT COUPON TO DONORS IN SEPTEMBER

MANCHESTER, NH (August 27, 2018) – During Childhood Cancer Awareness Month this September, the American Red Cross encourages eligible donors to give blood to support kids, teens and young adults battling cancer, as well as others in need of transfusions.

According to the National Cancer Institute, more than 15,000 children and adolescents in the U.S. are diagnosed with cancer each year. Childhood cancer patients may need blood products on a regular basis during chemotherapy, surgery or treatment for complications.

Wren Jansen was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia, the most common form of childhood cancer, at age 3. In the two years since her diagnosis, Wren has received 16 blood and platelet transfusions, which she calls “unicorn juice,” thanks to a crafty nurse who used the term to calm her fears during treatment. These “magic” gifts from generous donors have helped restore Wren’s strength and spirit so she can be a normal 5-year-old and fight back against cancer.

In December, Wren and her family hope to mark a special milestone – the end of treatment and the battle with cancer won.

Blood and platelet donors of all blood types, especially type O negative and O positive, are urgently needed to replenish the blood supply following a critical summer blood shortage. As a thank-you, those who come to give blood or platelets Aug. 31-Sept. 4 will receive a Red Cross aluminum water bottle, while supplies last. Make an appointment to donate by downloading the free American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Mill Pond posted due to cyanobacteria

ALTON — Based on rumor that water clarity in Mill Pond was impaired, Michael Gelinis of New Durham collected water samples for analysis last Thursday, Sept. 6. Provisional microscopic evaluation implicated that Microcystis organisms (a cyanobacteria) were present in high numbers. The Department of Environmental Services (NH DES) was immediately notified. On Sept. 7 those water samples, as well as a new freshly collected sample from the same site, were taken to the NH DES for confirmation. In the meantime, Gelinis went to the Alton Fire Department, located across Route 140 from Mill Pond, and made station employees aware of the fact that the Mill Pond water was contaminated and potentially harmful to those who come in contact with it.

By 1:30 p.m. Sept. 7, Amanda McQuaid of the NH DES confirmed the presence of large numbers of Microcystis organisms at Mill Pond and posted an advisory warning people to avoid contact with the water and to keep pets away from the water.

Fred Quimby, chair of the Cyanobacteria Mitigation Steering Committee (CMSC) of Alton and New Durham spoke again to the fire department staff and provided them with the NH DES confirmation and additional information regarding cyanobacterial toxins. He also confronted several groups of fishermen and kayakers preparing to recreate on Mill Pond.

Cyanobacteria are found in the sediment of all freshwaters in New Hampshire but usually remain dormant unless conditions favorable to their growth exist. Those conditions include sunlight (cyanobacteria are photosynthetic), warm water temperatures, and excess levels of phosphorus. Once these conditions are met, cyanobacteria begin to reproduce rapidly, rising in the water column and causing discoloration of the water. As these bacteria begin to die, they release toxins into the water. The toxins made by Microcystis can cause human and animal health problems including skin rashes, gastrointestinal upset, as well as damage to the liver and nervous systems. Quimby noted that these toxins may be taken up by fish; therefore, consumption of fish during an advisory is discouraged.

The CMSC has been actively monitoring the Merrymeeting River since cyanobacteria blooms first occurred in 2015. These blooms are a common occurrence in New Durham impoundments of the Merrymeeting River below the Powder Mill Hatchery. Mill Pond does not receive water directly from the Merrymeeting River but its water flows into the Merrymeeting River. Finding a unique source of phosphorus entering Mill Pond will be a high priority of the CMSC, which has already collected water samples for evaluation by the Center for Freshwater Biology at UNH.

Masons serving breakfast on Sunday morning

ALTON — On Sunday, Sept. 16, the Masons of Winnipisaukee Lodge in Alton will be hosting their monthly breakfast buffet, open to the public, at the Lodge on Route 28, a quarter mile south of the Alton Circle. With fresh fruit, biscuits and gravy, scrambled eggs, omelets, bacon and sausage, home fries, beans, pancakes, French toast, coffee and juice being served, it is a perfect time for family and friends to sit down and enjoy an all you can eat breakfast buffet. So, join them for breakfast between 7:30 and 11 a.m. They hope to see you there, always on the third Sunday of the month. For more information, contact Jim Matarozzo at 875-3962.

Into fall we go

Labor Day weekend has come and gone, so unofficially, summer is over. Yes, officially summer is still around and will be until Sept. 22, but with Labor Day in the rearview mirror, thoughts of autumn will now be in the forefront.

It has been an interesting summer and reports are that things have gone fairly well for businesses with the tourists. People seem to be traveling more and that may have certainly helped bring more people to the area.

Of course, summer is always a challenging time in the local area. The influx of summer residents and tourists seem to have Lakes Region communities bulging at the seams. There is no doubt that tourist season can frustrate those of us who live locally throughout the year. Traffic is heavier wherever you go, making a simple trip to the store a daylong excursion, or so it seems. The lake is also busier, as there are plenty of boats on the lake, whether for enjoyment or transportation to an island home. It is safe to say that now that Labor Day has come and gone, things will clear up a little bit.

That being said, this area relies heavily on tourist dollars and those dollars that come from summer residents. Whether it's taxes paid on a summer home every year, fees paid to a local marina to dock a boat throughout the summer months, rental fees paid on local motel rooms or cottages, money spent on gas at local convenience stores, groceries at local stores and food at local restaurants or one of the many attractions that cater to tourists in the area, a lot of money comes into the local economy through people who don't live here year round.

So, as we head into another fall season, it's important to remember that the traffic backups and the pedestrians walking out in the middle of traffic all serve a purpose. People love the area that we call home and by sharing it with all those people, we let other people see how great it is.

We have always been excited about the area that we live in. There are so many opportunities for activities for people, whether out on the lake or on land. There are tons of great local people who run great local businesses and we are thrilled to have all of them as part of our community. These three communities that we are a part of feature some wonderful events and activities all year long and in the summer, we get to share how great it is with so many other people.

There is no doubt that there are problems that come along with tourist season. We've mentioned a few of those. But there are also so many good things that come out of the few months that we are swamped with extra people that it's worth working through each summer.

Fall is on the way and with it, the changing leaves and cooler nights. But let's not forget those summer nights.

Explaining the Gunstock vote

To the Editor:

I received many calls and emails regarding the RAN (Revenue Anticipation Note) and concerns over privatization of Gunstock. For full disclosure, my family learned to snowboard at Gunstock and I know a few people who work there during the winter months. I also know that the view from the top of the mountain is breathtaking.

So, let's get to the heart of the matter. I voted no on the RAN at the previous meeting, I voted no to close debate, and I voted yes for the RAN at Wednesday, Aug. 29's meeting. Why you ask did I vote no originally? At the meeting, I asked Mr. Goddard the General Manager of Gunstock why there was such a large discrepancy between his statement of only having approximately $100,000 on hand when their revised cash flow statement of Aug. 15 projected they would have approximately $208,000 on hand. He went on to explain accrual accounting of the profit and loss statement. I am concerned that Mr. Goddard didn't know what we were given for documentation, which was – 1. proposed action plan by the Gunstock Commissioners 2. a quick overview 3. the previous cash flow statement, and 4. a revised cash flow statement as of Aug. 15 with actuals through the end of July 2018 - Why does all this matter?

It matters because if their forecast for cash on hand decreased by over 50 percent in 14 days, will the $600,000 RAN be enough. Mr. Goddard could not answer the question why their forecast was so different, cash matters. I presented a similar question to Mr. Goddard at the previous meeting, on the cash flow statement they included the $600,000 RAN but did not include the $175,000 payment they were going to make to the county. When I mentioned my concern, he told the delegation just deduct it off the total, this is not how a real cash flow statement works.

My concern during and after the meeting last evening was 1. That some of the commissioners had not looked at the cash flow statement, one commissioner told me they would look into the discrepancy and another well I don't know anything about that. 2. We as delegates are responsible that the management of Gunstock will be a going concern and benefit all residents. 3. It seems as if Mr. Goddard did not know what was handed to the delegation and how important cash flow statement projections are. They are a month by month accounting of how much cash will be received in each month and how much will be spent each month. If the projection shows a positive cash flow with the $600,000 RAN at the end of November of $289,733 and your projections are already decreased by $108,000 leaving a positive cash projection of $181,733 there is not much wiggle room, and the projections for September, October and November need to be spot on.

It is my hope that the Gunstock Commissioners will be proactive in following their proposal, so the we all may enjoy Gunstock for years to come.

Shame on selectmen

To the Editor:

Should a technical violation of a public bodies rules for public participation by ever serve as grounds to violate the citizens right to freedom of speech and/or be used to have the citizen ordered removed from a public building? It was in my case.

On Feb. 22, 2017, after being invited to do so, I approached the microphone at the Alton, selectmen's meeting in order to speak during the first session of public input, which is limited to agenda items only.

My purpose in addressing the board was to hold them accountable for the careless and unethical manner in which the selectmen had been sending Alton residents to collections for unpaid ambulance bills, all without any written policy to do so.

I began my comments by stating "I think that you folks are without a doubt the most reprehensible, incompetent, collection of a board of selectmen I have ever know." I was just 12 seconds into my allotted three minutes of speaking time when the chairwoman of the board, Cydney Shapleigh-Johnson, began shouting at me "do you have something to speak to on the agenda."

My remarks to the board on this occasion, however, did pertain to an agenda item: Ambulance Billing. The board absolutely knew this as I had already spoken to this very issue three times prior during the public hearing on ambulance billing, which took place just moments prior to the first session of public input.

However, the fascist Alton board had no intention of allowing me to further disclose the illegal and unethical manner in which they had been sending Alton residents to collections over unpaid ambulance bills; so the board did what fascists do: they ordered me removed from the building by the Alton Police Dept.

The pretext employed by this fascist board in silencing me, and ordering me removed from the building was that I had allegedly failed to identify the agenda item I was addressing. Unbeknown to me at the time, one of the rules of public participation states that speakers must identify the agenda item they are addressing prior to speaking.

I find it quite understandable that I was unaware of this rule requiring a speaker to identify the agenda item prior to speaking as it never existed prior to July 2017, when the selectmen adopted it in an illegal non-public meeting, and because the selectmen had never, ever, held anyone accountable for the rule prior to enforcing it with me despite numerous previous violations.

Clearly, not identifying the agenda item prior to speaking would be a technical error of the most innocuous kind. A violation of the rule in of itself clearly does not create a "disruption" of a meeting; nor does it prevent the board from accomplishing its business in a reasonably efficient manner; nor does it interfere with the rights of other speakers; perhaps this is why it had never previously been used.

The truth of the matter is I was singled out and silenced because of my outspokenness in holding the board and certain public employees of the town accountable for their incompetent, unethical, and illegal behaviors, and that is the definition of fascism!

Today, as a result of Alton's decision to retaliate against me, I now have a criminal record; I have spent thousands of dollars in legal fees and the town and court systems have expended untold hours and taxpayers dollars. Shame on the disgraceful Alton Board of fascist Selectmen.

WOLFEBORO — Bring flammable, toxic, poisonous and all dangerous products on Saturday, Sept. 15, from 8:30 a.m. to noon to the Lakes Region Household Hazardous Product Facility (LRH-HPF), 404 Beech Pond Road, Wolfeboro. Member towns of Alton and Wolfeboro may attend the next to last collection of household hazardous waste for the 2018 season with a pass from their town.

An LRHHPF pass may be obtained by residents, taxpayers and renters, prior to the collection at the transfer stations in each town. There is no additional charge for the pass. Please note:

the numbered business card pass is different from a town's dump sticker.

Get your copy of the revised tri-fold flyers available at your solid waste facility, which provides a comprehensive list of products acceptable commonly found in the garage, garden shed, under the sink, or from the pool area.

Latex paint is not accepted as it is not a hazardous waste. Ask for a list of alternative products with lesser toxicity at the collection.

Any household from other communities may attend on a cash basis. For every five-gallon increment, the cost is $40 payable by cash or check. The HHW waste hauler counts containers by size, not by the ounces remaining inside, to determine the five-gallon increment. When possible, please bring items in their original containers placed securely within a cardboard box for speedy removal from your vehicle.

Please call the site coordinator with any questions at 651-7530. Come Sept. 15, 8:30 a.m. to noon, to avoid the rush at the final collection of the season on Oct. 20. Collections are held rain or shine.

Cleaning up

BY EDWIN TWASTE

Contributing Writer

Every year I throw a couple of empty barrels into the garden cart and head out to my road. I usually get this over with well before Earth Day, but with the snow piles as they were this year, I barely made it. I go up the road about a half mile then turn around and do the other side passing my driveway for another ways and then return. I sort them all and squash what I can and bring them to the transfer station. It looks so nice to not see all that litter.

Years ago there were mostly beer cans and bottles. Today I find lots of water bottles and juice cans too. Now this trend has me concerned that littering is on the rise. Now I can understand that cruising high schoolers want to get rid of all the evidence, but these non-alcoholic drinks are something else. They seem to come in pockets, like somebody regularly drives from their house and finish their orange juice and they just have a favorite spot to wing them. Maybe they're trying to hit a certain tree. I can't say. But I can say them blue Bud Lite cans do win the popularity prize.

The problem with cleaning up is, the second you finish, it starts getting dirtied all over again. I know that when I vacuum up the rug nice and clean the cat will soon come in and roll around and deposit dirt and new tufts of kitty fur on it. So when is enough? I've been working for a customer for over 10 years now. The first time I washed her house and deck it was like "shazam," a total transformation, all nice and wonderfully clean. This spring when I arrived at her house I thought that it already looked spectacular and the washing could easily be skipped. Not a chance. At the top of the list was to wash the house, decks, etc. I have regularly told her that it's very corrosive but that's not the issue, or at least it hasn't been. Her plastic decking is popping up all over the place because the fasteners holding them down are rusting away. But they sure are clean.

A while back some new folks bought some land down the street and put up a nice new house there. When they moved in, I went over to welcome them to the neighborhood and get acquainted. They asked me if I had seen a cat.

I hadn't, and they explained that their female cat stayed around but the male one took off and he'd been gone now for a couple of days. I told them not to worry, that he was only scoping out the females in his new romping area. He would come home in a week, and if not, he was probably dinner for some fox or fisher or coyote, to mention three of the local predators. They didn't like my answer, but he came home in a week.

In the meantime, they had gone to a web site and printed out a bunch of lost cat posters and plastered them all over the area. Now I wonder what the thought process is when someone posts those signs in the middle of a stretch of wild wooded back road? Anybody driving by would be going too fast to read it. It would take a real hard core do-gooder to pull over for one of those, and besides, they're strung out all down the road. It's easier to catch one when you're slowing down for a corner.

After about six months had passed I mentioned to him that their lost cat signs were still hanging on trees and telephone poles down the road. He said that he'd get his wife to take care of it. That was about a year ago, and they're still there, joined by more ugly unreadable mildew stained lost pet signs.

Maybe they came from a place where someone gets paid to come around and clean up all the old out of date postings. But around here we have to take care and clean up our own messes.

the historical, socio-cultural, and religious background of the conflicts in the Middle East. Defaa will also discuss the threat these conflicts pose worldwide.

Certified by the International Center for Educational and Cultural Consulting in Lyon, France, Defaa earned a BA in French Language and Literature from the University Ibn Tofail in Kénitra, Morocco. He also possesses an MA in Communication and Expression from the University Mohamed V in Rabat, Morocco.

"So much of what we think we know about the Middle East becomes clouded in the different media, which brings us the news of the region," said Mike Culver, executive director of the Wright Museum. "Mohamad has spoken at the Museum before and he is a wonderful source about the Middle East. This lecture will provide real context and understanding for these complicated issues."

The Wright Museum's Lecture Series takes place every Tuesday through the end of the museum's season, which concludes Oct. 31. Admission is discounted for museum members. Seating is limited and reservations can be made by calling 569-1212.

Wright Museum is open daily through Oct. 31 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and noon to 4 p.m. on Sundays. For more information, visit www.wrightmuseum.org.

Citizen of the Year

This year a group of citizens decided to award a longtime resident with the honor of Barnstead's 2018 Citizen of the Year. Congratulations to Paul King for his lifelong dedication to Barnstead and her residents. Paul and his wife Linda settled in Barnstead in the late 1960s and have quietly been helping since then. Paul was a member of the Barnstead Parade Fire Company that later became Barnstead Fire Rescue, Inc. While a member of the Barnstead Parade Fire Company, he was active with his training as a firefighter. When a call came in he was usually the first one at the station. He also helped with the fundraising that happened every year including the ham and bean suppers and the Fourth of July celebration. He was also known for helping Santa Claus on Christmas Eve with visiting the young people in town. For many years, he also operated an automotive repair shop in town. He was known for helping many a person with their car repairs.

Alton Historical Society to hear from Pouliots

ALTON — The Alton Historical Society will welcome Paul and Denise Pouliot to the Tuesday, Sept. 18, meeting in the Gilman Library at 7 p.m. where they will present a Power Point slide program and speak about the Cowasuck Band of the Pennacook and Abenaki People. Paul Pouliot is the “Sag-8mo” or Chief Speaker for the Cowasuck Band of the Pennacook and Abenaki People and Denise is known as “Sag-8mosquaw,” the Wife of the Speaker. They are Alton residents who work to champion and preserve the Abenaki culture and educate others of their ancestral history. Their tribal heritage is Abenaki and Colonial French from the Quebec and New England regions. Presently, Paul Pouliot is a Native American Indian historian, ‘Maven’ and lecturer. Among his many accomplishments, he was a founding member of the NH Commission of Native American Affairs and he is “keeper of the Band Red Hawk drum, which sings Algonquin language based songs. He has also received authority to perform marriages in New Hampshire and Massachusetts as the spiritual leader of an autonomous cultural and religious group.” Denise Pouliot is an artist working in the Abenaki traditions of design and symbolism. One of her favorite mediums is basketry in three different styles, birch bark, coil and woven ash. Her work has appeared in two books, The Language of Basket Making by Jesse Bruchac, Elie Joubert and Jeanne Brink and Shaping Our Heritage, produced by the New Hampshire State Council on the Arts. Denise Pouliot has contributed artifacts to different exhibits at the Mt. Kearsarge Indian Museum in Warner and is a former board of director trustee and board chairwoman of the museum. The Power Point presentation will explain what it was like as an indigenous person in the 1600-1700s and will be supplemented with artifacts from their own collection and ‘period correction’ clothing with related accessories. The public is invited to attend the program and bring any artifacts of their own to share. For more information, contact sandy2@metrocast.net.

Library plans after school programs in New Durham

NEW DURHAM — Great free after school programs are gearing up at the New Durham Public Library. Students in grades K-3 can take a Time Leap back to Colonial days on Thursday, Sept. 20, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Children can dress up in colonial garb and explore objects from the 1700s, courtesy of the American Independence Museum’s traveling trunk. In addition, participants will play a game, make a craft, learn a song, and eat food from the era. The following Saturday, Sept. 22, children can make use of the trunk during the library’s regular hours, 10 a.m. – 1 p.m. Lego Challenge Club will meet on Tuesdays, Sept. 25 – Oct. 16 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Students in grades 1-3 will build individual and small-team projects every week, and the program will culminate with a huge Halloween display for the library. Kids in grades 3-6 can take advantage of a professional photographer’s instruction in Focus!, a digital camera club. The program will meet Thursdays, Oct. 4 – 25 from 3:30 to 4:45 p.m. Participants should bring their own camera, phone, or tablet. Three amazing art projects await students in grades 1-3 on Wednesdays, Oct. 10-24, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. All programs require registration, as spots are limited, so call the library at 859-2201. Children in grades 1-3 who participate in library programs will take the red bus and be met at the library parking lot by a staff member. Parents need to sign a permission slip, available at the library, and send in a written note to the school indicating their children will be on the bus.

Car show, dinner to benefit Team Unforgettable Saturday

FARMINGTON — Team Unforgettable will again be participating in the Walk to End Alzheimer’s on Sept. 23 in Portsmouth. As a fundraiser, the team will be holding a car show and benefit dinner on Sept. 15, from 4 to 7 p.m. at Kelly’s Country Kitchen, located at 1075 Route 11 in Farmington. Entry to the car show is free and includes a cash drawing, a DJ with oldies music, gift card prizes, prime rib giveaways and raffles. The spaghetti dinner will feature homemade meat sauce, homemade Italian bread, garden salad, soda, water and coffee. Tickets will be sold at the door. All proceeds benefit Team Unforgettable in the Walk to End Alzheimer’s.

*Running deer shoots
Sundays in New Durham*

NEW DURHAM — Looking to test your skills shooting a running deer? Every Sunday in the months of September and October, come join the running deer shoots at the Farmington Fish and Game Club from 9 a.m. to noon. The shoots are open to members and non-members and one fee covers as much shooting as you would like. For more information, contact Lou Mattia at 312-2551.

Happiness workshop is Sept. 13

NEW DURHAM — Bob Kroepel of New Durham will be presenting a workshop on The Psychology of Happiness, 7-8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 13, at the New Durham Public Library. The following questions will be asked and answered: What is the mind? What are feelings? What is the connection between the mind and feelings? What is happiness? How can happiness be achieved? The worship is free to the public. Reservations are requested at 767-6021.

LRCT leads hikes up Piper and Belknap Mountains

REGION — The Lakes Region Conservation Trust happily hosted a guided excursion hike in the Belknap Mountain Range Saturday, Aug. 25. Led by Russ Wilder, LRCT Trustee, 13 hikers on this moderate/strenuous hike learned of the historic and natural heritage of the area. They were joined by Matt Tarr, PhD, Associate Extension Professor-Wildlife Specialist at UNH Cooperative Extension Service.

Leaving from the upper parking lot on the Belknap Mountain Carriage Road, hikers were introduced to the fact that they were touring the remnants of the Lakes Region Mesozoic volcanoes, which were active about 200 million years ago. When these volcanoes were formed, North America was lying south of the equator and beginning to pull away from Europe and Africa, forming today's Atlantic Ocean.

As the hikers ascended the trail to the north summit of Piper Mountain, Wilder discussed how the Belknap Mountain Range was formed, and pointed out exposures of Gilmanton Monzodiorite rock and Rhyolite dikes, which are fine-grained granite intrusions in the bedrock along the trail.

At the north summit of Piper Mountain, Wilder and Tarr spoke of the mountains' formation and shallow soils supporting blueberry bushes and shorter trees with limited resources. Wilder showed hikers that from where they stood upon Piper Mountain, they could see the caldera that is the Belknaps. Looking out from the summit, the mountain range is in a recognizable rough circle; stretching from where they stood atop Piper Mountain as the southwestern arm, reaching around to Belknap Mountain, and out to Diamond, Rattlesnake, Ship, and Moose Islands in Lake Winnepesaukee about 7.5 miles to the northeast.

As hikers made their way from Piper Mountain to the Belknap Mountain Fire Tower, they went through the upper reaches of the "Jail Pasture," a steep sided valley to the southeast of Piper Mountain. This valley was used as a containment area for pasturing cattle over 100 years ago. The steep sides of the valley were likely formed during the last glacial period. The ice left this area about 14,000 years ago.

Also in this area, hikers observed several talus slopes (large blocks of rock pried by frost from the mountain that have fallen in a chaotic jumble at the base). They were even lucky enough to spot a porcupine, good enough to demonstrate how talus slopes are great habitat for them.

As the hikers made their way up Belknap Mountain to the fire tower, Wilder pointed out the plentiful black trumpet and chanterelle mushrooms, while Tarr spoke of the different forest compositions. Tarr explained that at this time of year, many of New Hampshire's songbirds have started their migrations south. Tarr and hikers were able to spot a few Red-tailed Hawks and Turkey Vultures, and heard a Golden-crowned Kinglet.

From the fire tower, hikers were now able to appreciate the view of the Belknap Range and Lake Winnepesaukee with a new understanding of the history of this landscape. For more information about upcoming LRCT guided excursions, please visit LRCT's web site at www.lrct.org, call LRCT's headquarters in Center Harbor at 253-3301, or e-mail LRCT at lrct@lrct.org.

The Lakes Region

Conservation Trust was founded in 1979 to conserve the natural heritage of New Hampshire's Lakes Region. To date, LRCT has conserved more than 145 properties totaling more than 25,000 acres. LRCT's conservation and stewardship work preserves community character, conserves critical wildlife habitat and diverse ecosystems, protects natural landmarks and scenic landscapes, and provides outdoor recreation opportunities for people of all ages.

OBITUARY

Marguerite (Peg) Hebden Active in her church

TUFTONBORO — Marguerite (Peg) Ann Hebden passed away peacefully at home in Melvin Village on Aug. 28, surrounded by family and friends. She had a strong will and enjoyed life so much she was kicked out of hospice three times.

She and her late husband, Ted, were looking for an adventure when they bought the Melvin Village General Store in 1973. They learned a new business, settled in quickly and became engaged in many community groups. She was very active in the Melvin Village Community Church, serving as deacon, choir member, fair organizer and vacation bible school puppeteer. Always ready and eager to perform, she sang with the Sweet Adelines and at numerous Hikers Club events. As a docent, she enjoyed ruling the second floor at the Castle in the Clouds on Sunday afternoons while Ted watched football. As a volunteer, her wonderful smile, joyous spirit and faith brought comfort when she visited hospice patients. Her love for bridge games could never be satiated. The bounty of her lovingly tended gardens was often shared with others.

Peg was born in Philadelphia, Pa. to Marie and Harry Nuss on Nov. 6, 1926, the youngest of three daughters. She is survived by her son, Stephen, daughter Natalie and her partner Paul King, daughter, Meredith, grandson, Evan Schafer and his wife Julia Schafer, granddaughter, Gabby Hebden-Pearl, her cat Mio and four grandpets, Marty, A. Dora Belle, Roo and Bug. She is preceded in death by her husband, Ted, her parents, and sisters Mari and Marcia.

We would like to extend a huge hug of gratitude to her longterm caregivers who kept her so happy at 48 Sodom

Road for many years and to the exceptional staffs of the Central NH VNA and Peabody Home in Franklin who kept her comfortable during her last weeks.

A memorial service will be planned for early fall. Her cremains will be interred at The Melvin Village Community Church.

In lieu of flowers, please make donations in her name to any of these organizations that she loved:

Tuftonboro Free Library Building Fund, 221 Middle Road, Center Tuftonboro, NH 03816;

Central New Hampshire VNA and Hospice, 240 S. Main St, Wolfeboro 03894;

Lakes Region Humane Society 11 Old Rtoue 28, Ossipee, NH 03864.

The Baker-Gagne Funeral Homes and Cremation Service of West Ossipee and Wolfeboro are assisting the family with the arrangements.

Please share your messages, stories, or leave a short note and sign an online guest book at www.baker-gagnefuneralhomes.com.

MARK ON THE MARKETS

401(k) wants

BY MARK PATTERSON
Contributing Writer

Research and studies regarding 401(k) plans and their participation or lack thereof is a topic year after year. But reading some material from KRC research has confirmed information that anyone who is involved with managing 401(k) plans in the field probably already knows. On occasions clients will ask me to help them with their 401(k) allocations with their current plan that their employer have provided for them. Because I'm a fiduciary advisor, in other words I work for my clients, I will do this for them to help them maximize their 401(k) plans at work, even though the plan should have an advisor to help plan participants. KRC research found that 80 percent of respondents believed that having a 401(k) at work made it a more valuable place to be employed. So, we know from the employer's perspective it is beneficial to offer a solid retirement plan to their employees, it is only good business. But the plans that I see in place often are not maximized by the employees because of primarily two reasons that are related. The first and most basic deficiency is that the participants get very little, or sometimes no help in choosing the funds that should be designed for their objectives. The obvious fix for this is to have an advisor available to meet with the plan participants, individually if necessary to sit down and explain their choices and help them allocate their money into these plans that make it valuable to the plan participant. More than 70 percent of plan participants say that they don't ever see anyone therefore they do not participate to the maximum, or they keep far too much money in a fixed account or money market with minimal growth potential.

Plan participants also want an uncomplicated plan with fund choices that are easy to understand, low-cost and represent multiple low correlated asset classes. Employers need to be conscious of the broker or advisor managing the plan. Is the advisor acting as a fiduciary? Is the advisor really a broker that is using mutual funds with 12b1 fees attached? The Department of Labor legislation that in part went into effect the middle of April this year has something to say about those issues. While I don't want to get into the technicalities of those issues in this article, is extremely important for the employer or fiduciary of the plan to understand the changes that they may have to implement regarding this DOL legislation. It is my observation that large 401(k) plans managed by the behemoths i.e. Fidelity, typically are structured very well, and while they may not offer that much personal help to participants, there is usually a good electronic means of communication and ability to change the plan attached to some good planning tools. It is also my observation some of the small to medium-size businesses that may have a broker sold plan platform, may need changes.

The Department of Labor legislation is a good reason to review your 401(k) plan if you are the employer or participant and get ahead of the proposed changes sooner than later. It is also the right thing to do for your valued employees.

Mark Patterson is an advisor with MHP Asset Management and can be reached at 447-1979 or Mark@MHP-asset.com.

Learn to learn music Sept. 20 in New Durham

NEW DURHAM — Professional musician and music teacher and published author of music instruction books Bob Kroepel will present a learn to learn music workshop in which he will discuss and demonstrate what music students wanting to learn to play music on pianos, organs and keyboards will need to learn before deciding to commit themselves to learning to play music. In the workshop, prospective music students will be given valuable information in music symbols, the elements of music: melody, harmony and rhythm, learning to play music by reading music versus faking music ("playing by ear"), what keyboards are available, how practicing can be done by rehearsing a singer and a band, and how persistent practice can produce genuine musical progress. The learn to learn music workshop will be free to everyone and presented on Thursday evening, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. in the New Durham Public Library. Reservations are requested at 767-6021.

Locke Lake board meeting is Sept. 20

BARNSTEAD — The next Locke Lake Colony Association public board of directors meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 20, at 6:30 p.m. at the lodge. These meetings are open to LLCA members only.

a major highlight of the evenings, and snack is provided. Students have a one-time registration fee with a family maximum.

The church is rolling out a new timeline for its Sunday morning programs as of Sept 16. The worship service starts at 10 a.m., and nursery is provided, as always. Following the worship service is a short coffee break; teen and adult Bible studies resume at 11:15 a.m. and are dismissed at 12 p.m. The Kids for Christ are in grades K to six and will be dismissed from the worship service at 10:30 a.m. to begin their own program that ends at noontime. Kids for Christ can expect Bible lessons, memory work, games, life skills or crafts, and small groups of peers meeting with their caring and attentive leaders each and every week.

The new Sunday schedule begins on Sept 16, and Wednesday night meetings will kick off on Sept 19. On Wednesday, Sept 19, from 6 to 7:30 p.m., at the open house for Kids for Christ in grades K to six, they will provide dinner for the whole family while you complete your registration form, meet your leaders, catch up with your friends, and get ready for a new year with the Pioneer Club program at Kids for Christ.

They have new adult classes that begin this fall and winter. Soon they will hold another session of Financial Peace University, which is a financial training series. This class will be held in addition to the two ongoing adult classes. In the near future they hope to hold a parenting class, with childcare provided.

The church is looking forward to serving you in the upcoming year. For the church calendar and additional details, visit centerbarnsteadcc.org.

are seeking craftsmen, farmers' market type products and anything that is homemade and unique. They are also seeking lunch vendors, especially farm to table, homemade soups, or sandwiches. Please contact Lori Mahar for an application. Call 269-2329 or e-mail lorimahar@tds.net.

CC Mixer scheduled for Nute High School on Sept. 27

MILTON — Moose Mountains Regional Greenways (MMRG) will hold its sixth annual 'CC Mixer' on Thursday, Sept. 27, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Nute High School Cafeteria, 22 Elm St, Milton. The evening will focus on natural resource updates to town master plans, with guest speaker Matt Sullivan, Director of Planning and Development for the town of Wolfeboro. The program will also feature networking, information-sharing, and brainstorming by conservation commissioners and municipal officials from MMRG's seven service towns, Brookfield, Farmington, Middleton, Milton, New Durham, Wakefield and Wolfeboro. The event is a unique educational opportunity for planning and development decision-makers in these communities and a chance for interested members of the public to learn about incorporating natural resources in planning.

A native of Milford, Sullivan took the position of Wolfeboro Planning Director in 2016 after six years as a Senior Planner and GIS Manager for Strafford Regional Planning Commission (SRPC) in Rochester. He currently sits on the Governor's Millennial Advisory Council and the Wentworth Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors. At this CC Mixer, Sullivan will discuss Wolfeboro's current (2018-2019) community Master Planning process, which includes an update to its 2011 Natural Resources Inventory (NRI) and considers the impacts of natural resources on Wolfeboro's culture, infrastructure and economy. He will address the town's use of MMRG's recently-completed regional Conservation Action Plan and how the plan has been used to shape the vision, goals, recommendations, and overall comprehensive planning process for the community.

Members of municipal select boards, planning boards, zoning boards of adjustment, conservation commissions, and others involved in community development planning are all invited to participate in a round table discussion sharing recent successes and challenges related to natural resources in town Master Plans. The evening will begin with networking and complimentary refreshments. This event is free and open to the public but pre-registration is required. For more information, call MMRG Education Coordinator Kari Lygren at 978-7125 or e-mail info@mmrg.info.

MMRG, a non-profit land trust, works to conserve and connect important water resources, farm and forest lands, wildlife habitats, and recreational land and offers many educational opportunities to inform all ages about the benefits of the region's natural resources. MMRG's Conservation Action ciated resource maps, are available at www.mmrg.info.

Up to code

Alton Code Officer John W. Dever II addressed members of the Alton, Barnstead, New Durham Centennial Rotary at its regular Thursday morning meeting about his responsibilities as code officer. He focused his talk on the three main parts of his job: Building inspector, zoning administrator and health officer, including environmental subjects. He also stated that since March, 25 new housing permits were issued in Alton to build single family houses, spec houses and lake front homes, a much larger number than over the past many years. Dever's 20 years of service in the US Navy has taught him the importance of following regulations required for local purposes, USA government regulations and OSHA. Rotarian and Program Director George Feeney (right), thanked Dever for his presentation.

Chili Challenge coming to Wolfeboro Sept. 22

WOLFEBORO — The Kingswood Youth Center's (KYC) Chili Challenge is just around the corner. For the ninth year in a row, the KYC's main fundraiser will be held at the Durgin Stable's Green, located in downtown Wolfeboro, in front of Country Booksellers and Penny Candy Shop. A silent auction will also be held throughout the event, featuring local products and opportunities.

Anytime between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 22, come by to sample a variety of chili made by local restaurants, individuals and groups. Event-goers receive three ballots to cast for their favorite chili; first, second and third place awards will be announced at 2:30 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the event.

This fundraiser helps the KYC to continue to offer after-school, summer, evening and weekend programs to middle and high school students in the Governor Wentworth Regional School District.

Founded in 1999, the center's mission is to provide a safe, positive environment in which youth may grow, learn and develop important life skills critical to their success in the adult world.

Please contact Mara Michno at 569-5949 or teendirector@theykc.org for more information.

Moonlight walk set for Sept. 22 in Farmington

FARMINGTON — On Saturday, Sept. 22, Moose Mountains Regional Greenways (MMRG) will offer a family moonlight walk led by local naturalist and educator Sally Cornwell. Intended to engage children with the natural world and encourage a new generation of conservationists, this activity is part of MMRG's new nature program for kids and their families called 'MOOSE-ies for Families. The event will take place in Farmington from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at Leary Field and Forest, which MMRG is working with landowners Bob and Debbie Leary to conserve. Cornwell has been a beloved trip leader for MMRG for many years and has led some of the organization's most popular outings. On this occasion, she will lead families on well-kept forest and field trails, pointing out some of the wonders of nature along the way. The destination at the top of Leary's high hay field will provide a fine view of the nearly full moon rising behind the mountains. At this scenic location, Cornwell will teach owl calls and songs and tell stories from the Native American tradition. Children of all ages are welcome with their families. Families are asked to bring a snack, something to sit on, and a flashlight. The outing is free for MMRG member households (see below) but pre-registration is required. For more information, directions, and to pre-register, call MMRG Education Coordinator Kari Lygren at 978-7125 or e-mail info@mmrg.info. 'MOOSE-ies for Families' stands for Members Only Outdoor and Social Events for Families and the program of six

'MOOSE-ies for Families' activities per year is a benefit for MMRG members. The final 2018 event will be a family bonfire storytime at McKenzie's Farm in Milton in October, with more activities planned for 2019. If MMRG's $25 per household per year membership fee is a financial burden, families may inquire of Executive Director Patti Connaughton-Burns about available scholarships by calling 473-2020.

Throughout the year, MMRG offers many educational opportunities to inform all ages about the benefits of our region's natural resources. that they are dark in color and just generally disregard traffic," he said. While temperatures have moderated in recent days, Gustafson said that the recent heat wave disrupted moose behavior. "They don't want to be moving around in that weather, so they get on the move after the sun goes down." Gustafson added, "And it doesn't help that they have little regard for cars - they're big and don't really feel the need to use caution." He urged motorists to exercise caution from now through Columbus Day, which is their peak breeding season. "People can slow down, be vigilant, and not out drive the ability of their headlights," Gustafson said.

FOLLOWING a collision with a moose that left the animal dead in the road on Route 28 in Barnstead, another vehicle struck the carcass and was overturned on impact. The moose succumbed to its injuries, but both drivers suffered no major injuries. The incident resulted in a temporary closure of a section of Route 28 near the intersection with Route 126.

Russell Wilder to address Wolfeboro seniors

WOLFEBORO — The Wolfeboro Senior Citizen Club will meet on Wednesday, September 19 at 1 p.m. at the Episcopal Church. The program, "Belknap Mountain Range Conservation Coalition" will be presented by Russell Wilder of Alton Bay. Wilder is retired and works as a volunteer on various conservation efforts in the Lakes Region. He was an environmental consultant for 32 years. Previously, for 10 years, he was with the Environmental Protection Agency in Boston working on cleaning up wastewater discharges and wetlands protection in New England under the Clean Water Act. He is currently a member of the Alton Conservation Commission and Planning Board, Chairman of the Board of the Lakes Region Conservation Trust and Chairman of the Belknap Range Conservation Coalition. The BRCC is a non-profit organization whose mission is to promote the conservation of open space, responsible stewardship, and low-impact public enjoyment of the scenic, natural, recreational and historic resources of the Belknap Mountain Range.

New York City actors work through show at Village Players

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — Though the summer production at the Village Players Theater had wrapped up prior to last weekend, there was still action on the stage.

Academy Award winning actress Estelle Parsons, who grew up in Wolfeboro and calls the town home during the summer months, approached the theater board about bringing a group of actors from New York City to Wolfeboro for a few days to workshop a play. With the board's blessing, Parsons scheduled a few days to bring in the actors.

The show, Home is a Verb, focuses on a group of former convicts who were involved in theater productions during their time in prison and formed a group on the outside to help them continue their theater and also to work as a support group.

While the show was based on a script, much of the work the actors did was improvised, as they worked through different scenarios and looked to figure out just what the best way to proceed is.

The actors, all members of the Actors Studio in New York City, were impressed with the Village Players building and appreciated the space they got to rehearse in for three days.

ESTELLE PARSONS (center) was joined by (l to r) Ryan Johnson, Ron Scott, Marcus Naylor, LeLand Gantt, Erick Betancourt and Javier Molina in working on Home is a Verb at the Village Players Theater last week.

The actors included Ryan Johnson, Ron Scott, Erick Betancourt, Marcus Naylor, LeLand Gantt and Javier Molina.

Gantt has toured the country with his autobiographical solo show, Rhapsody in Black and has also been seen on film and television in Law and Order, Law and Order SVU, Requiem for a Dream and Malcolm X and on stage in The Last Days of Judas Iscariot and Let Me Live among others.

Naylor has performed in Are You Now or Have You Ever Been and MacBeth at the Shakespeare Theatre Company in Washington, D.C. and on television he's been seen in Madam Secretary, Boardwalk Empire and Without a Trace.

Scott was most recently in August Wilson's Piano Lessons with Portland Stage and has performed in other regional productions, as well as off-Broadway in Waitin' 2 End Hell and Waiting for Lefty. His television credits include all three Law and Order shows, The Blacklist and Jessica Jones.

Betancourt has been seen in a number of stage shows, including The Last Days of Judas Iscariot, Our Lady of 121 Street and Julius Caesar. His film credits include 11:55 and Missing, William while television credits include Master of None, Law and Order SVU and Sneaky Pete.

Johnson has been seen in his one-man show in New York, We Lost Ourselves, along with The Last Days of Judas Iscariot, Our Lady of 121 Street and Black Angels of Tuskegee.

Molina is known for Manito: Brother's Sacrifice, 99 Homes and Transformations. He also served as a director, writer and producer on Manito: Brother's Sacri- fice and as a writer and director for Transformations.

Due to callbacks in New York City, both Betancourt and Johnson had to leave early Monday morning after one day of work, but the other four actors and Parsons returned to the theater on Monday and Tuesday. Tuesday's work culminated with a public performance of some of the scenes that the actors had been working on. Additionally, Carroll County Attorney Michaela Andruzzi joined the group for a discussion of the justice system in New Hampshire and the similarities of the situations facing the characters in the show and the justice system in rural New Hampshire.

Joshua Spaulding can be reached at 279-4516, ext. 155 or josh@salmonpress.news.

annual outside audit of the school's financial records as a protection against misuse of public funds. Business Manager Donna Clairmont stated this was the smoothest audit she has ever experienced. She commended her assistant, Amy Burley, for her great attention to details and well-ordered records.

Turnover of teaching staff is higher than average at BES. Principal Tim Rice informed the board he hired 22 people over the summer to fill vacancies and almost all positions were filled as of the date of the meeting. Later in the meeting, the board confirmed several more hires.

Allyson Vignola is the new Director of Special Education, hired at the end of the last school year. She reported on special education staffing and summer activities. She also told the board that the University of New Hampshire teacher-training program has started consulting with a few schools around the state regarding the most successful special education practices. They also work with schools on increasing literacy outcomes and improving communication about challenges and successes with all interested parties. She was able to get Barnstead on the list of schools served by the university program.

The ever-popular Barnstead Adventure Zone program (BAZ) has 78 students registered already out of a capacity for 80. As with many employers, especially low wage employers, they still have to hire a few more staff. The BAZ program operates entirely with parent fees and grant funds. No local tax dollars are involved.

The school has two new staff members working on technology. Adam Hollins was hired as technology coordinator, responsible for keeping all the computers and related technology working and up to date. Peter Osiecki was hired as the technology teacher, responsible for helping students learn proper and effective use of technology, beyond the games and social media that they have to teach us adults about.

The two of them have moved quickly and with enthusiasm to understand the status of BES technology, to start troubleshooting problems, and to develop a plan for effective ongoing management and more productive use of existing assets.

Board Chair Eunice Landry stated she is very impressed with the plans and progress reflected in the technology report.

Principal Rice told the board that Brewster Academy had approached him in June with an invitation for a few students to participate in a student leadership program the Wolfeboro school was holding in conjunction with several middle schools around the state. Seven students applied and four were selected.

Principal Rice told the board that he fully understood that Brewster Academy had a certain self-interest wrapped into this program. In addition to sharing expertise and providing a good experience for the students, they are recruiting future applicants to their private tuition school.

He added that he saw it as a great opportunity for the students and would leave the choice of high schools to the families.

Because of tragedies in other parts of the country, there is discussion of school security at almost every board meeting. Superintendent Dr. Brian Cochrane has met with Barnstead Police Chief Paul Poirier and they are regularly looking at options for improvement.

Principal Rice mentioned a specific problem to the board. Most of the doors in the building are key locked creating a double risk. He asked for prices to replace the locks and they run from $450 - $500 per door. He has had some done in the primary wing and will come up with a process for the rest.

Cory Halvorsen, the owner of Revolution United, which offers most of the recreational soccer and basketball teams in Alton and Barnstead, asked the board for help in getting better access to the school's playing fields and more timely preparation of those fields before seasons start. Halvorsen said he hopes to help develop more fields, but that is down the road. The board took his request under advisement.

The board also met in non-public session with a family that had a specific question or concern regarding a student in their family. The nature of that concern is not public information, but the family said afterwards that they were hopeful that the board had heard their concerns and would respond in a helpful way.

The thing about a nursing rehab home is you get to meet some pretty nice people

There is a device, made of a piece of plastic and a piece of rope, for putting your socks on if this is a major challenge in your life. There probably is a professional name for this contraption, but I just call it my sock-putter-onner. If only I owned the patent.

About two months ago I disappeared from most people's radar screens, unable (or even unwilling) to answer e-mail. A detailed explanation for this isn't really necessary. Suffice to say that it involves a hip surgery gone terribly awry.

The sock device enables me to get my socks on without too much effort, and slide my feet into the warm embrace of a pair of moose-hide moccasins. Writing this column is sort of like that, as comfortable as an old shoe. It'll be good to slip back into it.

The lion's share of my obscurity was at Country Village in Lancaster, from which I emerged on Sept. 7. I now have been a guest at two of the North Country's major long-term care and rehabilitation facilities, and can say that the food and housing are pretty much the same.

Long-term recuperation leaves you with three main sources of entertainment: television, books, and the company you keep. The usual cast of characters sought me out, Baker Bob chief among them. Their familiar faces peering around the doorway were a sight to gladden the heart.

Even a good book or two, plus magazines and the like, get tiring to hold, and anyway you can read only so much. That leaves television, way too much television. To say that TV, particularly daytime TV, is a vast wasteland is a vast understatement, with apologies even to the word "wasteland." An item or two:

Television programmers have cut the time between ads from a second or two to almost non-existence. This may Spiro Agnew's main attorney, Martin London, appeared on a news show to liken the current White House situation to "rats leaving a sinking ship." This reminded me of that time so long ago, when five bells ringing in the Wire Room signaled the resignation of Richard Nixon. I took part in an interview with Agnew back when he was the Vice President, and I can still see him standing there, hair all slicked back and his demeanor and delivery as smooth as silk.

Alaskans I know are thoroughly embarrassed by shows such as "Alaskan Bush People," and when asked what's wrong with this particular stripe of tripe don't know where to begin.

Everything seems to be breathless "breaking news" these days, to the point where this has become a watered-down phrase and means next to nothing. And astute viewers may have noticed that producers hardly ever say just where the latest disaster has occurred, so they can keep viewers hanging on into the next (or the next) "segment" (think ad dollars and ratings).

Back in the days when I was helping Rudy Shatney guide clients on a hunt, it wasn't unusual, of course, for someone to shoot and miss. We generally hunted thick cover, by the way, and for anyone to even get a crack at a deer was an occasion.

Timber Wolf net girls battle by Belmont

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BELMONT — The Prospect Mountain volleyball team got the season started with a pair of 3-1 road wins, including a solid win over Belmont on Friday, Sept. 7.

"They battled, I'm really proud of where we are so far," said coach Mike Christy. "I knew we'd have ups and downs with young players, but our athleticism is really strong."

The Timber Wolves got off to a quick start as Jordan Ingoldsby had a pair of aces out of the gate and Prospect went up 2-0. Julia Leavitt had a nice hit to push the Timber Wolves to a 3-1 lead but Belmont came back and went up by a 6-4 score. Another hit from Leavitt got the Timber Wolves with in one and then Gabby Guzman and Gabrielle Fossett came through with a nice play to pull the Timber Wolves up by two. Belmont rallied and took a 12-8 lead but Prospect came right back and a hit from Fossett helped them cut the lead to 14-10.

However, Belmont was able to open the lead to 16-11 before Prospect fought back. An Ingoldsby hit helped the Timber Wolves pull even at 17. After another Belmont point, Ingoldsby had a hit to pull the Timber Wolves even again and then an ace from Ava Miasiaszek put Prospect in the lead. A pair of hits from Leavitt allowed the Timber Wolves to pull away for the 25-18 win and the 1-0 lead.

Ingoldsby had a couple of nice hits to get the Timber Wolves out to a 2-1 lead but Belmont battled back and went up 4-2. Leavitt had a nice hit to help Prospect pull even and then Allie Stockman also had a hit to keep the Timber Wolves even. Belmont opened up a 10-6 lead before Ingoldsby had a nice hit and nice tip to cut the lead to 11-8.

The Raiders were able to open the lead again and took a 14-8 lead. Leavitt, Fossett and Ingoldsby had hits to pull the Timber Wolves within a 17-15 score but the Raiders were able to open the lead up to 19-15. Prospect pulled even at 19 and again at 20 but the hosts got the 25-21 win to tie the game at one.

The two teams were tied early in the third game, with Leavitt getting a couple of nice hits for the Timber Wolves. Belmont went up 11-4 before Ingoldsby went on a big run, coming through with five hits to bring the team back to within 14-9. Another Leavitt hit helped Prospect get closer and Leavitt came through with another hit to eventually tie the score at 16. Prospect went up on a hit from Fossett and a tip from Ingoldsby, making it 21-17. Belmont pulled closer at 21-20 but Ingoldsby had a huge hit and Jane Holiday had a great play along the line to allow the Timber Wolves to close out the 25-21 win.

Prospect went up 4-0 in the fourth game, with Kaylee Duquette coming through with a nice hit. A Guzman ace helped Prospect continue to grow the lead to 7-3 before Belmont came back and cut the lead to 7-5. A Leavitt hit got Prospect back on the board but Belmont continued to fight and got within 8-7. Ingoldsby had a couple of hits and also found a nice spot on a tip to push the lead to 13-8. Leavitt had a nice tip and a hit as well and Prospect opened the lead up to 18-10. Leavitt and Fossett continued their strong play at the net and Stockman added a good hit to as Prospect went up 21-13. Fossett finished things off with a nice hit and Prospect took the 25-16 win and the 3-1 victory.

"What I like about this team is we don't stay down," Christy said. "We came right back, we were focused and right back to our job."

Prospect golfers sweep home match

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

FARMINGTON — In the Prospect Mountain golf team's first home match in just about a decade, the Timber Wolves swept their way to victory in a three-school match on Wednesday, Sept. 5, at Farmington Country Club.

Prospect Mountain senior Sam Reynolds earned medalist honors for the day, finishing with 26 points after firing a 37. He was 10 points ahead of the second place finisher on the day.

Overall, Prospect finished with 56 points to lead the way, with Gilford finishing with 48 points and Campbell rounding out the field with 33 points.

Seth Huggard was the second scorer for Prospect Mountain, finishing with 11 points from the third spot in the lineup.

Max Tuttle put up 10 points in the second spot in the lineup to finish as the third scorer and Aidan Gehly's nine points in the fifth spot rounded out the scoring for Prospect Mountain.

Both Aaron Haynes in the fourth spot and Joel White in the seventh spot finished with eights and Mykel Whitehouse was unable to put any points on the board.

The Timber Wolves are in action today, Sept. 13, at Laconia, will be at Owl's Nest on Monday, Sept. 17, and will be hosting another match on Wednesday, Sept. 19, before traveling to Laconia again on Thursday, Sept. 20, with all tee times set for 4 p.m.

Late first half goals pace Hawks past Prospect

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

ALTON — Coming off a hard-fought scoreless tie with rival Gilford and a 4-0 win over Bishop Brady, the Prospect Mountain boys’ soccer team welcomed Hopkinton to town on Friday afternoon and couldn’t get the offense going, as the Timber Wolves dropped a 4-1 decision to the Hawks.

“We held them for 29 minutes, but we switched off for some reason and made too many mistakes,” said coach Cory Halvorsen. “We knew Hopkinton would be a tough team, we knew we had to play for a full 80 minutes. And we didn’t do that.”

“Though in the second half we showed we can play with them,” the Timber Wolf coach added.

Nolan Sykes had a couple of chances early on, as Isaac Smolin sent him in on one bid that just missed connection and Michael Perry sent another bid in that Sykes put on net only to see the Hawk keeper make the save. The Hawks had a couple of good chances as well but keeper Nick Clark made the save in the Timber Wolf net.

Prospect had the game’s first corner but it was cleared away by the Hawk defense. The Hawks also had a shot go wide of the net and Clark made another save. Hunter Arsenaault had a nice cross that was cleared away, while Smolin sent Carter Dore in on a bid that was denied by the Hopkinton keeper.

The Hawks got their first corner of the game and made it count with 11 minutes to play in the first half, as the ball bounced around in front of the net and was eventually put in the goal for the 1-0 lead.

Perry and Connor

Lagace had good clears for the Timber Wolves and Tucker Kierstead and Smolin also chipped in with good defense to keep things close at 1-0. However, with 6:15 to go in the first half, the Hawks struck again, firing a shot in for the 2-0 lead.

The visitors weren’t quite done yet, as they were able to push another shot through and it was 3-0 with 3:50 to go in the half. Dore sent a nice ball down into the corner but just missed connection and then Michael Mahoney sent a nice cross into the box that just missed connection and the game went to the half with the Timber Wolves trailing 3-0.

Nate Holiday fought his way through the defense for a chance early on and Mahoney just missed connecting with Lucas Therrien on a crossing pass. Prospect had a corner chance that was cleared out. Clark made a diving save to keep the Timber Wolves in the game and McKaie Normand had a shot go just wide of the net. The Hawks had a long direct kick that Clark came out to grab and then Therrien had a nice cross that Sykes headed on the net but the Hawk keeper made the save.

Normand had a good give and go with Sykes but the shot just missed the net. Travis Stockman sent a shot just high and the Timber Wolves had a corner kick that was cleared out of the zone. Dore had a direct kick that that was ticketed for the top of the net but the Hawk goalie punched the ball out of the air and over the top. The Timber Wolves had two corners but couldn’t get the ball in, as the first ball just missed and the second had Lagace head a ball in that was stopped by the keeper.

The Timber Wolves

got on the board with 12:17 to go in the game, as Normand sent a nice cross in that Dore was able to rip home to cut the lead to 3-1. Normand and Arsenaault had chances but they were denied and the Hawks were able to score on a shot to the low corner and it was 4-1 with 4:50 to go. Clark continued to make saves in the Timber Wolf net and Therrien and Dore had bids that were denied and the Hawks took the 4-1 win.

“We just weren’t there today in the back four,” Halvorsen said. “And they took that to heart.”

“We have to make sure we’re able to come back from that,” the Timber Wolf coach stated. “It’s good that we only had 11 minutes left in the first (when they scored) because we needed that half to regroup.”

Halvorsen noted that the team played better in the second half, which is what he believes the team is capable of.

“The movement on that goal, that’s the kind of movement I was looking for on a consistent basis,” the Prospect coach added.

The Timber Wolves will be back in action on Friday, Sept. 14, traveling to Whitefield to take on White Mountains Regional at 4 p.m. On Monday, Sept. 17, the Timber Wolves will host Campbell at 4 p.m.

St. Katharine Drexel road race is Sept. 15

ALTON — The seventh annual 5K/10K sanctioned road races and 5K walk will be held at St. Katharine Drexel Church in Alton on Saturday, Sept. 15, would be just that. Races begin at 8:30 a.m. sharp with awards and raffle prizes following.

This year, as in the past, we will award funds to the James Foley Memorial Scholarship, given annually to a graduating senior from James’ alma mater, Kingswood Regional High School in Wolfeboro. We also support the Special Needs Campers program at Camp Fatima in Gilmanton, and we are always thrilled to send financial support to the remaining Indian mission in New Mexico started by St. Katharine Drexel in 1903,” said race director Robin Allen-Burke.

None of this would be possible, of course, without the many sponsors and local businesses who contribute financially or who provide raffle prizes. Title sponsors this year are Eastern Oil and Propane and also Integrity Earthworks. Longtime support also comes from All Earth/Joe Balboni, Delta Dental/Northeast Delta Dental, and Weston Auto Body are gold sponsors. Silver sponsors include Big Dave’s Bagel and Deli, Wolfeboro Eye Associates, Closet Place LLC and Calico Graphics. Additional bronze sponsors include Sal’s Advanced Automotive/Three Sisters Gas Station-Wolfeboro, Hannaford’s of Alton, Peaslee Funeral Home, Skehan Home Centers, Inc. Rochester Floor/NorthEast Wood Solutions and DiPrizio GMC Trucks Inc.

Male and female runners of all ages and abilities are welcome at the race, as well as those who walk the 5K. The course is an out-and-back from the church parking lot to Route 28A, and up Old Wolfeboro Road, with a turn around to the finish line. For more information or to register, access www.stkrace.com, go to <https://2racereg.webconnex.com/drex-el5k2018> or make a call to the race director at 569-3996 for more information. Plan to come out for a great day and help support worthy causes.

Fast start propels Bobcats past Knights

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

PLYMOUTH — The Plymouth field hockey team has been able to score early and against Kingswood on Wednesday, Sept. 5, the early scoring led to another win for the Bobcats.

“Scoring in the first minute is a rare thing to see,” said Plymouth coach Ashley Laufenberg. “The earlier you can score, the more you can keep it going, the better.”

“The last few games we’ve scored at least two goals in the first 10 minutes,” she continued. “That’s huge. It’s hard to be on the defensive end of that.”

It took the Bobcats less than 30 seconds to get on the board, as Kelsey Johnston fired a shot into the net just 29 seconds in and Plymouth took the 1-0 lead.

Johnston came back and played good defense on a Kingswood run into the zone and the Bobcats were able to come right back and score again before four minutes were gone in the game.

Olivia Eastman rifled a shot from far outside that worked its way through the circle and Emma Campbell was able to redirect the ball past Kingswood keeper Sam Tavares to push the lead to 2-0.

Johnston came back with another bid that was stopped by Tavares and then Holly Mason had a shot go wide. Grace Comeau sent a nice cross through the circle and both Amanda Lapar and Cheyann Cardinal helped to clear the ball away.

The Bobcats came through with a couple of corner chances and Tavares made a nice save and then another shot went wide of the net. Campbell sent a ball in to the zone that resulted in another corner for the Bobcats and both Kate Ogden and Eastman got in close but couldn’t put the ball in the net.

Kingswood came back with a run into the zone but good defense from Elsa Lauriat turned that bid away. Mason came back with a chance that went wide and then Campbell made a run into the zone but Lapar was strong on the defense for the Knights.

The Bobcats pushed the lead to 3-0 on a corner with 13:59 to go, as Mason unleashed a shot from the top of the circle that found its way through the crowd and into the net.

After another Plymouth corner, Kingswood had its best chance of the half, as Sara Hartford, Bridget Coughlin and Mackenzie Doran were all in close on Plymouth keeper Molly Edmark, but she stood her ground and kept the ball out. Katherine Lambert had a shot for the Bobcats on another corner and Tavares turned it away. Lapar stepped up on defense again on another Johnston bid.

After a Hartford bid on the Kingswood end, Campbell and Mason made a run for Plymouth and Coughlin, Lapar and Tayghen Gelinias combined to turn the ball back up the field. Kingswood’s Alison Drew made a nice defensive play on Hailey Patridge and Doran had a late shot that Edmark stopped and the game went to the break with Plymouth up 3-0.

Much like in the first half, the second half started with an early goal from Plymouth, as Eastman ripped home a shot on a feed from Johnston just 1:03 into the half for the 4-0 lead. Johnston and Eastman continued to attack but Grace Abraham was solid on the defensive side of things. Plymouth had back to back corners, while Kingswood’s Abby Kelly had a nice block on one and Eastman tipped a Comeau shot wide on the second.

At the other end of the field, Doran made a nice cross to Hartford but Kingswood could not capitalize and Plymouth came back with a bid from Eastman and Comeau, but Kelly was able to clear the rebound away after Tavares made the save.

Drew and Hartford teamed up for another bid for the Knights but Patridge was strong on defense and then Lapar sent a good ball in to Doran but the defense turned it back up the field.

Plymouth went up 5-0 with 16:19 to go, as Campbell put the ball in on a feed from Emma Webster to push the lead to 5-0.

Kingswood got its first corner of the game and Drew and Giana Cubeddu had a look but couldn’t convert. Plymouth had chances from Stella Smith and Samantha Ashe but Kingswood got good defensive stops from Abraham, Kelly and Coughlin. Hartford had a run into the zone for the Knights but Avery Stone had a solid defensive stand.

With 6:55 to go, Johnston sent a shot on net and Ogden was able to tip it past Tavares for the 6-0 lead. Eastman put back a rebound of her own shot with 2:15 to play in the game for the 7-0 lead. Edmark made a nice stop on a Doran bid in the final minutes and the Plymouth keeper held on for the shutout.

“The good thing with this group is they’ve been together so long that the chemistry is there,” Laufenberg said. “They know how to work with each other.

“Particularly every one on the offensive line,” she continued. “They see each other well and trust each other.”

Laufenberg also pointed out that the Bobcats didn’t let down defensively, allowing just one corner in the game.

“It’s easy to get caught up in the game and get flustered,” she said. “But we always expect a fight from Kingswood.”

Plymouth finished the week with a 3-0 win over Goffstown while Kingswood picked up its first win with a 7-0 decision over Milford.

Against Goffstown, Mason scored in the first half and then Eastman scored on an assist from Lauriat and Campbell scored on a cross from Johnston for the 3-0 win.

The Knights will be back in action on Friday, Sept. 14, at John Stark at 4 p.m. and will be hosting Bow at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 18.

The Bobcats will be at Souhegan on Saturday, Sept. 15, at 2 p.m., will be hosting Pelham at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 18, and Portsmouth on Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 4 p.m.

Saunders leads Knights in home match

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

WOLFEBORO — After more than a week off thanks to Mother Nature, the Kingswood golf team got back to work in its first home match of the season on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at Kingswood Golf Club.

The Knights continued their consistent play with a 69 to finish in third place, with Kennett taking top honors at 110 and Windham finishing in second at 99. Coe-Brown finished fourth with a 61.

“It was enjoyable watching two really strong teams play today,” said Kingswood coach Jeremy Fuller. “Kennett has really impressed me and Windham is a yearly contender.

“We have a lot of work ahead of us to improve and play with both those teams,” he continued. “We were able to get one victory, which is nice, but losing two at home always stings.”

The Knights were led by Henry Saunders in the second spot in the lineup, as he finished with a 15 for the day.

Both Davis Ekstrom in the third spot and Max Jensen in the fifth spot finished with 14s to take the next two scoring spots for the Knights.

Reese Clarke in the top spot, Sam Danais in the sixth spot and Brett Conley in the seventh spot all finished with 13s, with two of those scores counting toward the team score.

Rounding out the Kingswood lineup were Tyler Sprince in the fourth spot and Justin Stirt in the eighth spot, with both finishing with 12s for the afternoon. It marked the first varsity match for Stirt and Fuller was pleased with his play.

“I really like the attitude he has in practice,” Fuller said. “He seems to have a hunger to get better and I’m sure he will.”

The Knight coach noted that after the first match of the season in late August, he decided to try a variety of players over the next two matches to see just where they stand and then evaluate the team before the scheduled home matches in the coming week.

“We need to work on all areas of the game, driving, putting, chipping,” Fuller said. “We are going to stay positive and keep working hard.”

Kingswood went right back to work the next day, traveling to Cochecho Country Club, where they again met up with Windham as well as St. Thomas and Portsmouth.

“The good teams keep coming,” said Fuller.

The Knights finished with an 82, while St. Thomas swept the match with a 116, Portsmouth shot a 109 and Windham finished with a 108.

Danais in the sixth spot and Sprince in the third spot both finished with 17s to lead the way for the Knights. Fuller noted Danais had a great tee shot on the third hole to get within 10 feet of the hole and two-putted for par. He also made par on the ninth hole. Sprince had a birdie on hole one, as his approach from 110 yards ended up four feet from the hole and he sank the putt. He also hit for par on the fourth hole.

Saunders, playing at number one, Jensen, playing at number four and Michael Palmer, playing at number five, all finished with 16s to round out the scoring for Kingswood.

Ekstrom played at number two and finished with a 13, Richard Curran finished with a 12 in the seventh spot and Jack Thompson finished with a five in the eighth spot.

The Knights are slated to be in action today, Sept. 13, at home, then will be at Goffstown on Tuesday, Sept. 18, and at Windham on Thursday, Sept. 20, all with 3:30 p.m. tee times.

Knight net girls come up short against Bobcats

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — After opening the season with a road win in Hanover, the Kingswood volleyball team welcomed Oyster River to town on Tuesday, Sept. 4, for the home opener.

Unfortunately, the Bobcats were able to spoil the day for the Knights, taking a 3-0 win.

“We did a lot of good things at good times,” said coach Lynette Place. “But that team played consistent. We knew every ball was coming back at us and we’re just not there yet.

“The biggest thing right now is finding consistency,” she added.

Out of the gate in the first game, Oyster River jumped to a 4-0 lead before a block from Maddie Ward got the Knights on the board. After a couple more points from the visitors, a good dig from BillieJo Dumont got the Knights another point and then hits from Geri Andrea and Maddie Shatzer allowed the Knights to close the gap to 7-4.

The Bobcats were able to put together a good run to stretch the lead to 12-4, though a good volley featured nice plays from Dumont and Emma Hammond. Allison Bellemore had a nice hit to help the Knights get a bit closer at 12-6 but the Bobcats upped the lead to 15-6 before Schylar Mohan came through with a hit for the Knights to get them back on the board.

Oyster River stretched the lead to 19-9 and went up 20-10 before Andrea came through with a big hit for the Knights. After another Oyster River point, Shatzer had a hit to make it 21-12 but the Bobcats closed out the match with three points in a row for the 25-12 win.

In the second game, Oyster River jumped out to a 3-1 lead but Kingswood came right back, with Mohan getting a hit and then two service aces to send Kingswood to a 5-3 lead. The Bobcats came back with a good run to go to the 7-5 lead but Shatzer had a hit to cut the lead to one.

Oyster River continued to stretch the lead, as they went up 14-7 before Kingswood rallied. Shatzer started the run with an ace and Ward had a good tip at the net. Shatzer added another ace and the Knights were within one at 14-13. After three points from the Bobcats, Mohan had a hit to get the Knights back on the board. Andrea and Dumont had good points for the Knights to cut the lead to 19-17 but Oyster River ran off five points in a row to go up 24-17.

A big hit from Shatzer got the Knights back on the board but the Bobcats were able to close out the match for the 25-19 win.

The Knights were able to get out to a lead in the third game. Andrea had a couple of hits and Shatzer had a nice block as Kingswood opened up a 5-2 lead. Oyster River came back and went up by an 8-6 score and then pushed the lead to 12-7.

Shatzer had another hit for the Knights but Oyster River continued to open the lead, making it 14-9. However, Bel-lemore came through with a great service run, including three aces and Andrea had a couple of hits as the Knights moved to a 16-14 lead. The teams were tied at 17 but then the Bobcats went up 22-17.

A service ace from Mohan and another from Andrea along with a hit from Andrea and a tip from Bellemore cut the lead to 24-22 but Oyster River closed out the 25-22 win for the 3-0 victory.

“Hanover, they got a lot of confidence off of that and I think we did a lot of good things tonight,” Place said. “But they (Oyster River) returned everything we tried to put at them.

“But we have to have some confidence in our hitters and they have to have confidence in themselves,” Place said. “And we have to be more consistent with our serves.”

The Knights will be in action on Friday, Sept. 14, at Kennett at 6:15 p.m. and will be hosting John Stark, on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 6 p.m.

Where were you?

There are moments in your life that you will always remember.

People in a generation ahead of me will always remember where they were when President Kennedy was shot in Dallas in 1963 or where they were when Neil Armstrong walked on the moon. These are seminal moments in the history of the country but can always be related to on a personal level.

For my generation, there are a few moments that you will always remember. For me, the first one that I feel I will always remember is in 1986 when the space shuttle Challenger exploded over Cape Canaveral, Fla. Of course, the reason that many school kids in New Hampshire were heavily invested in that one was the presence of New Hampshire teacher Christa McAuliffe on the shuttle. I remember my entire fourth grade at E.G. Sherburne School in Pelham watching the launch on a television in one of the classrooms. It was certainly a confusing time for kids, but nonetheless, I will always remember that moment and where I was when that happened.

But of course, the moment that will forever be with just about anyone in the United States was Sept. 11, 2001. This past Tuesday marked 17 years since that fateful day and I remember distinctly where I was that day.

It was a Tuesday morning and at the time, I was working at Mountain View Nursing Home in Ossipee. My job had varied hours, including mornings on Wednesdays and Fridays and evenings on other days. However, my Tuesday hours were a bit different than the rest of the staff. While most evening staff worked 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., on Tuesdays I worked from noon to 8:30 p.m. since I was in charge of cleaning out the kitchen and scrubbing the floors after the rest of the staff left.

That being said, on Tuesday mornings, I tended to sleep in a little bit since I didn't have to be in to work until noon. On that Tuesday morning, I remember my phone (I didn't have a cellphone, so it was my landline) ringing some time between 9 and 10 a.m. It was my landlady, calling from next door and telling me to turn my television on.

For the next few hours I was glued to the television, much like the rest of the country. I headed in to work at noon and the kitchen radios were all tuned in to radio reports and the televisions in all the common areas, as they were for days following, were tuned in to news stations as we all tried to comprehend exactly what had happened.

As time has gone by, most memories fade away, but such huge moments in life will often never disappear from your mind.

Finally, have a great day Rose Frost.

Our Alpine Orthopedic practice in our Plymouth and Franconia locations are seeking to add the following positions to their team.

Medical Secretary: This position is 32 hours a week and is located in our Plymouth practice. Responsibilities include greeting patients and family members. Maintaining physician appointment scheduling. Collection of payments and co-pays, obtaining insurance referrals and pre-certification and verification of insurance eligibility. Responsibilities also include updating and verifying patient demographics and insurance information and processing patient charts for appointments. High school diploma required. Viable candidates must have prior experience in a medical office and working knowledge of medical terminology, word processing, data entry, and strong customer service skills.

Certified Medical Assistant: This position is 40 hours a week and is located in our Franconia practice. The CMA is responsible for performing selected clinical and administrative duties. Assist providers in preparing for physicals, procedures and minor surgeries and administer injections. Prepare patients for examination and treatment. Take patient histories and vital signs, specimen collection and analysis. Change dressings, do wound care and remove sutures and castings. The CMA will assist with scheduling of tests and treatments and follows through with referrals and pre-certifications as necessary. Implement physician orders under physician direction and notify patients of results as directed by physician. This position requires certification from the American Association of Medical Assistants. One year medical office experience preferred.

Physical Therapy Assistant: This position is 40 hours a week and is located in our Franconia practice. Responsible for administering physical therapy modalities of treatment as supervised by the staff physical therapist (PT). Administers treatment and physical agents as directed by the staff physical therapist, after the physical therapist has evaluated the patient. The PTA may begin the information gathering and assessment portion of an initial evaluation order, prior to the patient being seen by a PT. The PTA assists with restoration of patient functioning to prevent disability following injury, disease or physical disability. Assists patients to reach their maximum performance and level of functioning, while learning to live within the limits of their capabilities. Participates in all infection control, departmental equipment training, organizational safety and fire safety programs. Must have degree or certificate in Physical Therapy from an accredited school (minimum requirement is a certificate or Associates Degree). Must have a current license or be eligible for licensure in the State of New Hampshire. Previous outpatient experience preferred. BCLS required.

Friends and peers

Students with high-refusal assertiveness skills are less likely to drink underage. Find good ways to say "no" and practice them often in role-play situations. Some ideas are:

- "No thanks. Drinking is not my thing."
- "No thanks. I need all the brain cells I've got."
- "No thanks. I've only got one brain. Why would I want to trash it?"
- "No thanks. Drinking before your brain is developed can dumb yourself down."

If there is alcohol at a party, LEAVE.
Keep your social environment alcohol-free.

Help your child to choose friends wisely
Get to know your child's friends and their parents. Discuss your no-alcohol rule with the parents and enlist their support. Ensure that teens and their friends have planned activities with appropriate adult supervision.

Check Yourself:

The single most predictive risk for underage drinking is if your child's peers drink. Encourage your kids to choose friends who support your family values and no-alcohol rules.

The Law

Furnishing or supplying alcohol to a minor is a criminal offense-punishable by a $2,000 fine and 12 months in jail.

Buying or supplying tobacco to anyone under 18 is also a punishable offense

Peers
Children often think that other people their age are drinking and smoking regularly, but most are not.

Bob Davis, Vice President, Commercial Loan Officer, MVSb

As real estate experts for the Lakes Region, RE/MAX Bayside in Meredith and Laconia recognizes the importance of relationships in running a business. In fact, their very success depends on developing an in-depth understanding of each client's unique requirements.

It's not surprising, then, that they partnered with Meredith Village Savings Bank. After all, MVSb shares these same values. It is only in developing close, collaborative relationships that our seasoned professionals are able to recommend the business solutions that best address customers' needs.

And, since we make commercial-lending decisions locally, customers are assured of a streamlined loan-approval process.

If your business needs help making the right moves, turn to the experts at MVSb.

and not miss a beat," the Timber Wolf coach continued. "It's really fun to watch right now and it's only going to get better." The Timber Wolves opened the season with a 3-1 win over Sunapee. "We were much better tonight than on Wednesday (against Sunapee)," Christy added. "Sunapee was very defensive, they dug everything. But we overpowered them with our hitting. "Our defense was better tonight as a whole," the Timber Wolf coach concluded. Prospect will be back in action on Friday, Sept. 14, for the home opener against Stevens. On Wednesday, Sept. 19, the team hosts Portsmouth Christian, both with 6 p.m. starts.
