BRISTOL – The Fourth of July Parade in Bristol celebrated families this year, and not only did families line the parade route; many participated in the fun and excitement of the day that was filled with music, floats, antique cars and plenty of candy to share with the younger crowds.

Carroll Brown, also known professionally as Solitary Man, hosted the event with classic hits and patriotic music from Central Square as everyone awaited the arrival of the parade. He then turned his talents toward emceeding the event.

This year's Grand Marshalls were John Bianchi and Bebe "Ski Bunny" Woods. Bianchi was chosen not only for his many years of commitment to fire department but his service to the town as well. Woods

Hannaford once again sponsors NH Marathon

BRISTOL — With a generous $4,000 donation from store manager Joel Lloyd, Hannaford Supermarket in Bristol has become the title sponsor for the second year running in support of the New Hampshire Marathon.

First held in 1993 as a single race event run mainly around Newfound Lake, the NH Marathon has evolved into four different events: the 26.2 mile marathon, a 13.1 mile half marathon, a 10k race, and a kids' marathon run in sections that finishes on race day.

Now, more than 600 runners come not only from New Hampshire and across the U. S. but international runners also flock to Bristol, NH, as well to compete in these prestigious events. Both the marathon and half marathon have been recognized as superior events by Runners' World and the 100 Half Marathons Club. This year, the 26th NH Marathon events will be held on Saturday, Sept.

29. Over the years, donors' fees, race entry fees, and funds from related events have contributed more than $275,000 to three local organizations: the Tapley-Thompson Community Center, the Circle Program, and Camp Mayhew. These groups provide important support to area youth through year-round programs touching and enriching the lives of over 500 children a year. This would not be possible without the support of community partners such as day

Angela Walker was busy manning Walker's Farm Stand in Bristol last week where all sorts of fresh vegetables from the family's fields are now available. Among the items currently being picked are kale, summer squash, spinach and a variety of other mixed greens. In the next few days she anticipated that cucumbers and tomatoes from their fields would be ready as well. In addition to the vegetables the stand also offers fresh local strawberries and strawberry jam, the Walker's own maple products and ice cream, cookies, breads and their fresh homemade pies. To add a nice touch to any dinner table there are also cut-your-own flowers in the gardens behind the farm stand. Hours of operation for the month of July are 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily. When the corn is ready in August, the stand will then expand their hours to 6 p.m. Walkers Farm is located on Walker Road, just off Route 104 in Bristol.

Preparations are underway for the 66th Annual Hebron Fair

HEBRON — Once again, the fun will spread across the Hebron Common on the last Saturday of July, starting at 9 a.m., rain or shine. Admission is free.

There will be a full array for the whole family including a large selection of crafts, rummage, white elephant, delicious foods, baked goods, plants, books, Hebron Fair t-shirts, lunch featuring homemade baked beans, raffles, pony rides, children's games, non-profit organizations, a silent auction from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and the live auction starting at 1pm. Please note there will be no chicken BBQ again this year.

This year's auction will feature "The Hebron Fair Dory," which has been beautifully restored and is ready for a new home! The 'vintage' oar locks have been dated to 1900-1920, but the actual age is uncertain. Handmade oars by John Erickson/Pike's Bay Boatworks accompany this classic boat.

Barb Harding is seeking donations of baked goods and plants for the church booth. The best sellers are whole pies, breads, muffins, cookies, cookie bars, brownies, krispy treats, perennials, annuals, and house

Bristol's fire and police departments face off on the baseball field

BRISTOL – For the first time in several years, Bristol's fire and police departments faced off in a Battle of the Badges softball game last Saturday evening where the fire department came out with hot bats to start the game but the police department stole the win over their friendly rivals in the end.

There was a lot of good-natured ribbing between the two professions throughout the game that added entertainment for the families and residents who pulled up lawn chairs along the field at Kelley Park to watch.

After a missed throw to first baseman Nick Kelly (BPD's K9 Officer) jokes flew about him needing his K9 partner Arro to back him up at the

A bird in the barn

BY JIM FROHN
Grafton County Forester
UNH Cooperative Extension

On a grey day earlier this spring, when it still looked and felt more like winter, I went out to my barn to work on my chainsaw in anticipation of some spring cleanup. As I entered, I caught a movement out of the corner of my eye, and saw a bird fluttering in front of a window. It was frantically trying to get out, but was blocked by the window pane, and the bird must have been too panicked to notice me. Much to my surprise, I was able to quickly catch it, and holding its feet gently between my fingers, I took some quick pictures before setting it free.

The bird was about five to six inches long, mostly brown with a white breast spotted with dark brown to black markings. Suspecting it was a type of sparrow, I looked through the sparrow section in my copy of the National Audubon Field Guide to North American Birds, and noted that the song sparrow, Melospiza melodia, most resembled the one I caught. I asked a colleague who is far more knowledgeable about birds than I to confirm the species, and indeed it was a song sparrow. In addition to the markings, another characteristic described in guide books is pumping of the tail in flight.

According to the Audubon Field Guide, this bird is “probably the best known of our native sparrows”, and “is found almost everywhere in North America.” Not a rare find by any means, but a rare experience to be able to hold a live wild songbird in my hands for a moment.

Range, Habits, and Habitat

The song sparrow

has a wide breeding range, from Alaska to Newfoundland, and from California across to North Dakota and as far south as the Carolinas. Winters are spent from southern Canada all the way down to the Gulf Coast and Mexico. Perhaps the bird in my barn was a local, having spent the relatively mild winter nearby.

Song sparrows occupy a wide range of habitats, including farm fields, overgrown pastures, the edges of freshwater marshes and lakes, forest edges, and in deciduous or mixed woods. Preferring to build their nests near the ground, any kind of dense shrubby habitat is suitable. The habitat around my house is perfect for song sparrows. There’s a small pasture behind my house, along with mixed young forest. Across the road is a mix of overgrown fields, hedgerows, open wetlands, and old beaver meadows.

The female song sparrow builds cup-shaped nest that is 4 to 8 inches in diameter, with the inside of the nest being about two to two and a half inches across. The nest is built of grasses, weeds, and bark, and lined with grasses, fine roots, and animal hair. Once a nest is built, the female lays one to six blue, blue-green, or gray-green eggs with brown, red-brown, or lilac spots. The eggs are three-quarters to one inch long. The female can have up to seven broods in a season. This many broods is probably necessary due to susceptibility to predation; raccoons, fox, skunks, squirrels, house cats, snakes, and other predators probably account for many losses of eggs and young birds. Heavy predation is one of the drawbacks of be-

PET of the Week Anton

Wandering alone in Laconia back in March, when the weather was still cold, there was still snow on the ground, and life on the streets would have been fraught with danger of starvation and dehydration. This stately black cat arrived under Police escort with a rather sweet note that mentioned he had ‘tiny ears’.

We’ve christened him Anton, he is calm and sweet, gentle, laid back, happy to be indoors where food is plentiful and humans are kind.

Anton awaits his next chapter enjoying the social rooms of the shelter, and our Catio, a nicely appointed three-season porch area. He likes the high spots to relax in and really is an easy keeper. Being a little older means Anton isn’t that interested in running about the place, leaping off furniture or scaling the drapes at 2.00a.m like a rambunctious kitten.

What he is interested in doing, for hours at time, like a big cat on the Serengeti, is relaxing and napping until dusk and supper time!

Anton tested positive for the Feline Immunodeficiency Virus, FIV- but we are able to confidently place him in a home, and he could live quite peacefully with other felines without compromising their health and vigor. He seems unconcerned about the barking of dogs, and the patter of children; truly, he’s a family cat in the waiting.

Please visit this handsome black cat – seeing his paws poking out of the cat tree he likes best, surely will enamor you!

Wow---that guy in the old movie is me

Confinement is my worst nightmare, but if you have to be confined it’s a pretty good deal to have television and books. As to the former, I can attest that Newt Minow’s dismissal of the medium as “a vast wasteland” is still accurate. As for the latter, I’ll never run out of books. People and publishing houses are always sending me new publications to review, even though I’ve never really been known as a book reviewer. And my local library and the state Bookmobile are great and seemingly inexhaustible resources.

I’m into television mainly for movies and breaking news (although these days everything seems to be “breaking news,” no matter how mundane). In the movie category, I prefer older movies because they were so well written and so well made, with detailed and historically accurate sets and an actual story line that made sense. And in some of those old movies lately I’ve been seeing a bit character that is, well...me.

That would be the guy in the cops and robbers flicks with the big “Press” stickler in his fedora and an incredibly bulky camera. I never wore a fedora, eschewing hats in general, but I sure did lug the camera around.

When I started at the Nashua Telegraph in 1968, the first camera that mentor Mike Shalhoup shoved into my hands was a 4 by 5 Speed Graphic. The “4 by 5” part referred to the size of the film. Today’s photographers, accustomed to 35 mm film, might say something like “Wow.” No, wait--they’d probably say “What’s film?”

Digital cameras are so fast and forgiving that they’ve made photography a whole new world. You can instantly see what you’ve shot, and if it’s not up to snuff, shoot a few more. In that vein, there is utterly no such thing as “shutter discipline” any more.

However, some of the old rules still apply. You need to pay attention to the direction of light, and what kind of light it is. And attention to foreground and background and framing your shot are still requisites of the trade. You don’t take a good picture, you make it.

The old Speed Graphics were cumbersome affairs, weighing in at something like six pounds. The model I used had a Zeiss Ikon lens the size of a silver dollar. Used with the correct film, it took excellent images that would stand up to the blowing up of even a small section, with remarkable detail and virtually no grain.

Along with the camera I carried a big canvas shoulder bag, to carry the film holders. You had two shots per holder. This required flipping the holder between exposures. And it required some serious thinking between shots.

You could lug perhaps a dozen film holders around in the canvas bag, translating to 24 exposures, about the same as today’s (now yesterday’s) 35 mm film. Well do I remember rushing off in the middle of the night to what turned out to be one of Nashua’s biggest mill fires with only five or six holders in the bag. This required shutter discipline in the extreme. And I think I made some of the best photographs of my career with that clunky old Speed Graphic.

On late night movies, I occasionally bump into an old film featuring a lot of police-press interaction, to me always a hoot. They remind me of the folly of the oft-used “Off the record,” and the hard lessons of everyday newsroom life.

There really is no such thing as “Off the record,” because there really is no “record” except for your mind, and in many cases you are never going to forget what you’ve seen

Support for Hebron Library is appreciated

To the Editor:

Friends of the Hebron Library stepped up to the plate on a very hot Saturday to do the BBQ for our first concert on the green.

Applause goes to the committee for their commitment and support of the Hebron Library. Despite the heat, the Michael Vincent Band moved concert goes to dance, clap and enjoy themselves.

Gerard Joseph Corcoran, Jr., 74

NEW HAMPTON — Gerard Joseph Corcoran, Jr., known to family and friends as “Gary,” 74, of New Hampton, died Friday, July 6, 2018.

Born in Boston, he was the loving son of Theresa A. (Dowd) Corcoran of Hingham, and the late Gerard J. Corcoran, Sr.

Gary spent his younger years in Hingham and was a 1962 graduate of Hingham High School. He went on to attend Boston University, The University of Maine, and earned his Doctorate of Education from The University of Illinois. Gary was the Director of Bands at Pittsburg State University in Kansas until 1990, and after one year at Georgia State University in Atlanta, moved to New Hampshire where he served as Director of Bands and professor of trumpet at Plymouth State University until his retirement in 2011.

Dr. Corcoran was a founding member of the

New Hampshire Band Directors Association and the New England Band Directors Institute. He loved traveling, playing golf, studying German, and rooting for his favorite sports teams: the Boston Red Sox and New England Patriots.

Gary was the beloved husband of almost 36 years of Kenda L. (Lee) Corcoran; devoted father of Sean P. Corcoran of New York City, and Ryan G. Corcoran and his wife Samantha of Wichita, Kan.; grandfather of Finn Joseph Corcoran; brother of Carol Murray and her husband Charles of Hingham; and uncle of Michael Murray, Nancy DeAnda, and Marlene Austen.

Relatives and friends were respectfully invited to attend the visiting hours on Tuesday from 6-8 p.m. in the Pyne Keohane Funeral Home, 21 Emerald St. (off Central St.), Hingham, Mass. A funeral service was celebrated on Wednesday at 11 a.m. in the funeral home, followed by burial at High Street Cemetery, Hingham.

A celebration of Gary’s life is being planned for a later date in Plymouth.

Expressions of sympathy in Gary’s memory may be made to the American Cancer Society, <https://www.cancer.org/>, the Concord Hospice House at <https://www.crvna.org/giving/donate>, or a GoFundMe for Plymouth State University scholarships at <https://www.gofundme.com/dr-corcoran-band-commission>.

See www.Keohane.com or call 1-800-Keohane for directions and online condolences.

Bernice T. Lowell, 94

MEREDITH — Bernice T. Lowell, 94, passed away on July 4, 2018 after suffering from a stroke two weeks ago, at the Goldenview Nursing Home in Meredith with family members by her side. She was the widow of Bernard C. Lowell, Sr. who passed away July 3, 2000.

Bernice was born in Rumney on Nov. 21, 1923 to the late John O. Thompson and the late Arberta Bacon Thompson.

She worked at the New Hampton School and at the Pemi Shores Restaurant. She lived in New Hampton, Alexandria, and then Bristol.

She was a member of the New Hampton Community Church. She was a homemaker, and enjoyed cooking for everyone. She is well known for her “Nanny” size pieces of pie, cake or whatever she cooked. She was known as “Nanny Lowell” to all who knew her.

She is survived by her four children (Virginia Lyon and her husband Merle of Bristol, Jeanine Rhoades of Tucson, Az., Russell Lowell and his wife Donna of Alexandria, and Bernard Lowell, Jr. and his wife George of Albany, Ore.).

She is also survived by one sister, Alberta Cogliano of Bridgewater, and one brother, E. Wayne Thompson of Bridgewater.

She is also survived by 15 grandchildren, 12 greatgrandchildren, and seven great-great grandchildren.

She was predeceased by brothers, John Thompson, Jr., Lyle Thompson, and Avery Thompson, and sisters Jane Morrill, Beatrice MacCreighton, June King, Following her wishes, there will be no service. A Celebration of her Life will be held at a later date at the convenience of the family.

Donations may be made in her name to the New Hampton Community Church, 14 Church Lane, New Hampton.

The Mayhew Funeral Home, 204 Daniel Webster Highway, Meredith, is assisting the family with arrangements.

Vacation Bible School is under way! What a joy to see all the smiling faces, helping hands and inquisitive minds. There is still time to join in the fun, from 9 until 11 a.m. this week, and everyone is welcome, young, wizened and those in between. A wonderful time to connect with singing, learning, sharing artistic talents with a big dose of love and laughter! Coffee is always on for adults and snacks are served for all. Friday, the last day, there will be pizza for all. Thank you Lynda Riedy for your help in the kitchen, and be safe in your travels when you return to California.

Sunday, July 15, church services will begin at 9 a.m. There will be a Missions Team meeting following the service.

Uh oh, we have an oopsie! Should you call AUMC, you will hear the melodious voice of Deb Hoffman, giving her telephone number. Please, by all means, leave a message at the church, or call Pastor Faith Greene at 1-603-491-4028. In an emergency please call Camp Sentinel at 539-4839 and they will give her the message. Thank you for your patience, we are still getting loose ends pulled together.

Hi ho, hi ho, it’s off to Vacation Bible School I go! One of my other hats, Ms. Snack Lady, and I sure do love that “job.” I’m going to miss a couple days unfortunately, but I found some hearts on the bookcase, which I’ll give to the children and teachers to let them know my heart will be with them! What’s happening in the Town of Groton?

I took a ride out Sculptured Rocks Road on Sunday. It looks as though the bridge is progressing and going out on Province Road there has been some work done out there since the flooding last October. It’s been a long time since I went out that way but I do intend to go more often and take the grandpoo for hikes once in a while. My garden has taken off hope yours has too. I find myself weeding every spare moment when it’s not 100 degrees out. I am NOT complaining though, I don’t want the snow back any earlier than necessary.

There has been a change in the dump hours; beginning this Wednesday the dump will be open from noon to 6 p.m.

The Select Board did not meet last Tuesday due to the Holiday but will meet this week so there will be more to report in the next column.

Groton Old Home Days will be Aug. 18 with the parade lining up at 5pm and ending after the fireworks. There will be a band playing for part of the evening and grilled dogs and burgers and goodies provided by the Town. There will be raffle items again. If you’d like to participate in any way please contact the Town Offices and we’ll direct you to the right person.

For some great summer reading make sure you are utilizing the Hebron Library which is free to Groton residents. The library hours are Mondays, 4 – 7 p.m., Wednesdays, 1 – 5 p.m. and Saturdays, 9 a.m. – 1 p.m.

The Town is still seeking for someone who would be willing and able to serve as a member of the Select Board to fill the rest of Christina Goodwin’s term which is up in March 2019. If you would like to serve in that capacity, please let us know soon so this position can be filled.

The old Police cruiser is up for bid starting at $500. If you would like to place a sealed bid, please drop it off at the Town Offices with “vehicle bid” written on the sealed envelope before Aug. 3 at 4 p.m.

Hebron Gazebo Program Saturday, July 14, 6 p.m.

Wyld Nightz will be playing a variety of tunes and the BBQ will be by the Hebron Historical Society

They will be serving Pulled Pork buns, Sweet or Hot Sausage Buns (onions & peppers) and hot dogs.

Preparations are Underway for the 66th Annual Hebron Fair Saturday, July 28

Once again, the fun will spread across the Hebron Common on the last Saturday of July, starting at 9 a.m., rain or shine. Admission is free. There will be a full array for the whole family including a large selection of crafts, rummage, white elephant, delicious foods, baked goods, plants, books, Hebron Fair t-shirts, lunch featuring homemade baked beans, raffles, pony rides, children's games, nonprofit organizations, a silent auction from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and the live auction starting at 1 p.m. Please note there will be no chicken BBQ again this year.

This year's auction will feature "The Hebron Fair Dory," which has been beautifully restored and is ready for a new home! The 'vintage' oar locks have been dated to 1900-1920, but the actual age is uncertain. Handmade oars by John Erickson/Pike's Bay Boatworks accompany this classic boat.

Barb Harding is seeking donations of baked goods and plants for the church booth. The best sellers are whole pies, breads, muffins, cookies, cookie bars, brownies, krispy treats, perennials, annuals, and house plants. They should be labeled for the "Baked Goods Booth," and can be left in the church kitchen on the Friday before the Fair or at the booth Saturday morning. Baked beans for the lunch booth may also be dropped off the morning of the fair or contact the office for other arrangements. Your donations are appreciated as all the profits go to support the church and its local missions.

White Elephant items may be delivered directly to Dian West's home at 17 Brookside Lane. Please leave them in front of her garage or on her front porch if raining. Rummage (clothing and textiles), auction items, books, puzzles and games will be accepted directly at the church (9 a.m.-4 p.m., seven days a week). The cut-off date for donations is the Wednesday before the fair, so please drop things off early. Call the church office to make other arrangements or for pick-up of large items. Please refer to the list of items we regretfully cannot accept by visiting our fair website <http://www.hebronchurchfair.org/> (under Donating) or contacting the office.

Anyone wishing to volunteer before, during or after the fair should call the office, 744-5883 or email staff@hebronchurchnh.org. The Church Fair Work Schedule is available (under Volunteering) on

Household Hazardous Waste Collection 2018

The annual Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) collection for the Newfound Region is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 4 from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the NH D.O.T. garage on Ayers Island Road (in back of the Wells baseball field).

HHW are substances that poison or contaminate the environment, waterways and lakes, and threaten the health of those in the local community. If these products are poured down the sink or storm drains they can pollute our drinking water, threaten wildlife and ecosystems. When HHW is disposed of in the regular trash or is improperly stored it can react and produce toxic fumes. These are just a few reasons why you should bring in your HHW on August 4th.

Please note this collection is for residential households only.

For alternate collection locations and what types of items are accepted, please view the Household Hazardous Waste Collections brochure or visit the Lakes Region Planning Commission's Web site

Episcopal Churches of the Holy Spirit, Plymouth St. Mark's, Ashland

This is a shared ministry between Holy Spirit and St. Mark's. Wow, this heat wave was unbelievably long. With this week's heat and last week's rain it was like watching time lapsed photography in our gardens!

Grow your spirit this summer!

You're invited to take part in our "Spiritual Practices Sampler," as we explore activities such as gardening, meditative walking, writing, and other creative arts that can feed our spirits and bring us closer to God. The series concludes with a 4-part introduction to the Episcopal Church as part of the "Jesus Movement," Aug. 2, 9, 16, and 23. All events take place Thursdays, from 5-6:30 pm at Sherrill Hall, 18 Highland St., Ashland.

This week, July 12: The Write Place - Kate Donahue will share some of her poems and vignettes and will provide writing prompts so we can try our hand at writing about place.

Next week, July 19 - Joan Bowers and July 26 - Guy Tillson

Caregivers Support Group

Would you like some support as a caregiver? Caregivers Support Group is a place you can meet with others to find that support. Held at the Plymouth Regional Senior Center, this group meets from 12:30 to 2 p.m. on the third Wednesday of each month: Upcoming dates include- July 18, and Aug. 15.

St. Anne's Day

The Sisters of St. Anne Bethany, 25 Hillside Ave., Arlington, Mass., invite you to join them in the celebration of the feast of St. Anne on Sunday afternoon July 29 at 4 p.m. The festival day will begin with a Eucharist in their beautiful 102 year old chapel followed by a box lunch picnic on the grounds of St. Anne Bethany Convent. Our Deacon Maryan is planning to attend and will try to afford transportation for all who wish to attend. We would need to leave St. Mark's at 1 p.m. to arrive in time to walk the gardens at the convent and will hopefully return to St. Mark's by 8-8:30 p.m. The Sisters always love meeting new people.

Book Sale

There will be a book sale this month. The July book sale will be held on Thursday, July 26, from 1 to 3 p.m. at Griswold Hall.

Holy Trinity (Roman Catholic)

Bishop Libasci has given the go-ahead for us to begin the construction of the Holy Trinity Parish Christian Life Center. Coneston Construction Inc. is our construction company for the project.

The project will begin with the demolition of the St. Matthew Hall.

All ministries that have been using this hall have moved out all of their belongings and have been relocated to properties on our other campuses. We are very grateful to all who have contributed to this project, and appreciate your continued patience as we move through the different phases of this project.

What will this new center provide? There will be easy access to restrooms, meeting spaces, and parish offices. The church will be open on weekdays to use for personal prayer outside of Mass. We'll have a dedicated, sacred space to celebrate Reconciliation. We'll meet in open, sunny spaces that we can quickly arrange to accommodate small and large gatherings. There will be a new, spacious kitchen for preparing meals and serving bereavements luncheons and receptions.

The building sketches can be found in the back of the church. If you would like to contribute to this project, campaign envelopes are in the pews. Thanks for your interest in helping to provide a life giving space of worship for our parish!

The parish picnic will be Sunday, July 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Wellington State Park. For more information, check the parish bulletin or our FB page, Holy Trinity News and Info, or our website, holyltrinityparishnh.org.

We are looking to start a Tot Time group in the parish.

This is an opportunity for parents of small children to gather with members of our parish community to find support and encouragement while our children play and learn together. Parenthood is a vocation and we need to affirm and inspire each other as we grow deeper in communion with Christ. Gatherings could include play dates at each others houses, Bible story time, meetings at the park, taking a walk together, and meeting for coffee. Our hope would be to casually teach our children new prayers and songs while playing with new friends.

Please contact Jodie at jotherriault10@gmail.com or 953-5552 if you have any questions or are interested in joining. First gathering coming soon!

Restoration Church, Plymouth (Assemblies of God)

Greetings from Restoration Church Plymouth, located at 319 Highland Street, Plymouth, NH 03264. If you do not have a home church we invite you to come and join our warm and friendly family here at Restoration Church. Please feel free to contact us at hello@restorationchurch.cc. Our church phone number is still the same, 536-1966. Our schedule has changed to the following:

Sunday: 10:30 a.m. Morning Service

Monday: First and third Monday of the Month

Noon-2 p.m. Helping Hands Food Pantry

Friday: Second Friday of the month

6 p.m. Food, Fun, Fellowship

On Sunday, Nov. 5, 2017, we officially launched as Restoration Church Plymouth. More details about this service will be included in the next article. We also started a new series entitled, Stories. We will be continuing this series this week as well. We have our own worship team during our services in our auditorium and then we watch as a Pastor Nate Gagne preaches via video during our service.

Our Mission Statement:

Just One More! Everyone is welcome to all of our services. The church is handicapped accessible on the east entrance.

Summer stargazing at Newfound Lake

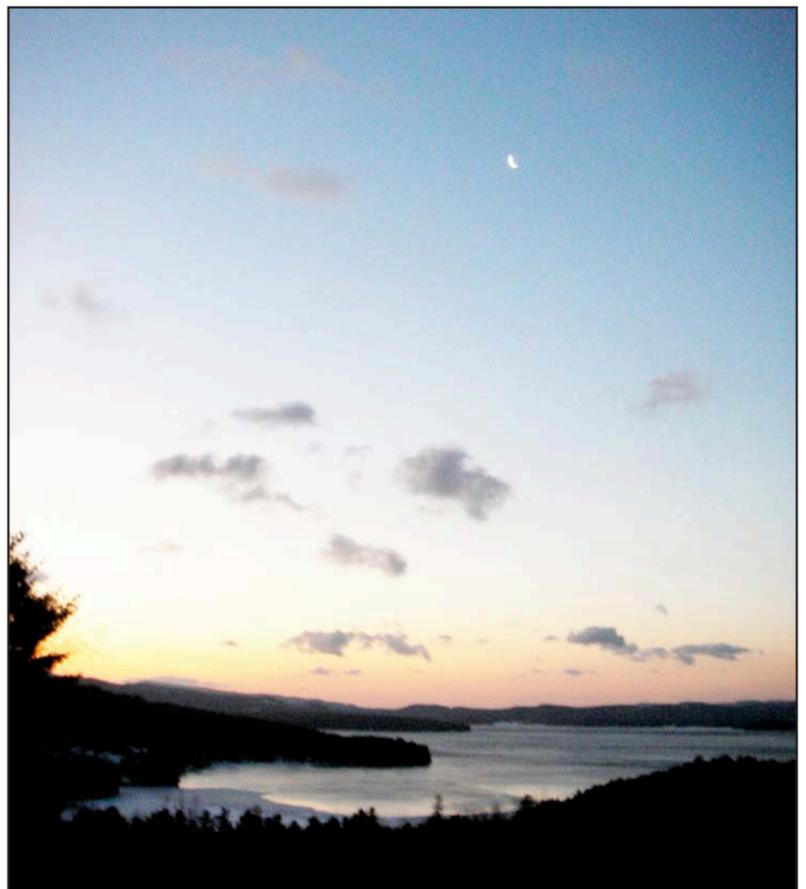

HEBRON — The Newfound Lake Region Association, New Hampshire Astronomical Society, and Newfound Audubon invite you to an evening of stargazing on Thursday, July 12, starting at 8:30 p.m.

Meet at Newfound Audubon's Ash Cottage, roughly a quarter mile east of Hebron Village on North Shore Road, at 8:30 p.m. Bring bug-resistant attire, a comfortable chair or blanket, and your binoculars or telescope. The New Hampshire Astronomical Society will bring telescopes and binoculars to share as they point out what the night sky holds.

This event is free and the public is welcome and encouraged to attend. Please register at www.newfoundlake.org/sevenweeks/ and contact us at info@NewfoundLake.org if you have any questions.

The weather is looking promising for this event — hope you can join us!

Bristol Rotary Club announces 66th Annual Penny Sale

BRISTOL — The Bristol Rotary Club will hold its Annual Penny Sale on Thursday, Aug. 9 at 6:30 p.m. at the Newfound Memorial Middle School on Lake Street in Bristol. Please note the change in venue as the event is back at the Middle School across from Bristol House of Pizza.

Now in its 66th year, The Rotary Penny Sale is one of New Hampshire's longest running annual fundraisers. Last year alone, the Bristol Rotary Club raised more than $9,000 for their scholarship fund for local youths in the Newfound Area seven-town district.

The Penny Sale works as follows: there are three prize rounds throughout the night offering 100 (or more) prizes in each round. Rotarians sell tickets for $1 each prior to each prize round. If a person's ticket is drawn, they win a prize and their ticket goes back into the raffle drum to be eligible to win again and again. The more tickets a person buys, the better chances they have being a winner. There will also be Grand Prizes at the end of the three rounds, of which anyone that purchased a ticket is eligible to win, including a Kindle Fire Bundle, Picnic Table from RP Williams, Mountain Bike from Rhino Bike Works, Scratch tickets from Shackett's Store, Bristol Hannaford Super Gift Card, Home Heating Oil from Dead River Company, and cash!

A 50/50 raffle to benefit the Bristol Community Services, 100 sweepstakes tickets to benefit the Tapply

Thompson Community Center Summer Scholarship Fund, and a Silent Auction to benefit Rotary Charities will also be held. Food & refreshments will be on sale, and this has always been a great night of fun for all. For further information, contact Rotary President, Bill Karkheck (bill.karkheck@deadriver.com), or any Bristol Rotarian.

Plymouth Regional Senior Center to celebrate 25 years with open house

PLYMOUTH — Located in the historic Boston & Maine Railroad Station, the Plymouth Regional Senior Center, part of Grafton County Senior Citizens Council (GCSCC), is the largest of their facilities at a whopping 15,000 square feet. In 1990, the derelict railway station became the property of the Town of Plymouth and GCSCC agreed to assume ownership of the building to transform it into a senior center.

In 1993, the building officially opened as the Plymouth Regional Senior Center following a nearly $1 million renovation project which was made possible by State and Federal funding, as well as, private donations. Since then, numerous upgrades and improvements have been made and have created a thriving center for seniors to come and partake of many activities including, but not limited to, congregate lunches, meals on wheels, trans-

Congressional candidates to speak at next PBVRC dinner

ASHLAND — Continuing with our tradition of introducing Republican candidates for office to the area community, Lynne Blankenbeker and Bruce Crochetiere will be at the July Pemi-Baker Valley Republican Committee (PBVRC) Spaghetti dinner at the American Legion Hall, 37 Main St., Ashland. The date is Friday, July 20. The dinner starts at 5 p.m. and goes to 7 p.m., and includes spaghetti, meatballs, Italian sausage, salad, garlic bread, beverages, and dessert.

Lynne Blankenbeker is a Congressional candidate from the Second Congressional District. She is an accomplished Nurse, Veteran, Legislator, and Attorney. She has dedicated herself to caring for members of the military, veterans and their families. A Captain in the Navy Reserves, Blankenbeker has deployed three times in support of operations in the Middle East. She has most recently served two active duty tours in D.C., one at the Pentagon and one at the Defense Health Headquarters. Upon graduation from nursing school, Lynne was initially commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant through Air Force ROTC. While serving on active duty, Blankenbeker deployed to the Middle East in 1990 as an operating room and trauma flight nurse, in support of Operations Desert Storm and Desert Shield. At the conclusion of Desert Storm, Lynne became an inactive reservist while raising her daughter and working as a nurse. She again answered our nation's call by joining the Navy Reserve Nurse Corps in 2000 and, following the terrorist attacks on 9/11, she was deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2003. She is currently the commanding officer of the Navy Reserve Medical Unit assigned to Navy Medical Center San Diego.

In 2009, she ran for and won a special election for the New Hampshire House of Representatives, beating the former Mayor of Concord in a heavily Democrat district by 17 votes. In the legislature she worked on veterans and public health issues in addition to playing a key role in balancing the state's biennial budget. Lynne won re-election in 2010, but was unable to run again in 2012 due to being recalled to active duty in 2011

Bristol Summer Concerts continue with a night of great Celtic music!

BRISTOL — The Jordan Tirrell-Wysocki Trio will be playing in Bristol on Thursday, July 12 from 6:30 – 8 p.m. in the Concert Pavilion in Kelly Park.

Putting a fresh spin on traditional Celtic music, the Jordan TW Trio delivers a dynamic show full of foot-stompin' fiddle tunes and classic Irish songs. Fiddler/singer Jordan Tirrell-Wysocki ("Master Artist" NH State Council On The Arts, "Best Fiddler" NH Magazine) is joined by fellow New Hampshire natives Matt Jensen on guitar and Chris Noyes on upright bass. Their shows blend the music of Ireland and Scotland with their own original material, drawing on multiple genres to produce a unique sound that has been described as a "larger-than-life" and "brisk, lean and exceedingly lovely." They have appeared live on NHPR's "The Folk Show," been featured on WMUR's "New Hampshire Chronicle," and perform regularly at listening rooms, pubs and Celtic festivals around New England. You can find more about their music at www.jordantwmusic.com.

The Bristol Community Events Committee would like to thank the many local businesses who stepped in to sponsor this year's concerts including: Goodrum Enterprises,

The Bel Airs bring oldies & Doo Wop to Bristol on July 19

BRISTOL — The award-winning doo wop group - The Bel Airs- are coming to Kelley Park in Bristol, on Thursday, July 19. The group will be performing in the Kelley Park Concert Pavilion from 6:30 – 8 p.m. Concerts are held "rain or shine" and in case of inclement weather concerts will be moved indoors to the Historic Town Hall at 45 Summer St.

The Bel Airs have played all over New England, won several awards, and shared the stage with such musical luminaries as The Tune Weavers, Freddy Cannon, Julie Grant and Kenny Vance. They have also been featured on New Hampshire Chronicle, and have just finished their 3rd CD entitled "Street Corner Style," which features all acapella songs. There has been a resurgence in the popularity of the is well known throughout the community for her impressive skiing accomplishments, her time as a beloved instructor at Ragged Mountain Ski Area and her long time dedication as a volunteer and outstanding member of the Newfound community. To honor them as Grand Marshalls, the pair was driven along the parade route in a classic 1965 Chrysler Newport Convertible.

Veterans, Troop 59 Boy Scouts, and several local Girl Scout troops also bore the nation's colors as they marched from Freudenberg NOK to Central Square waving to the crowds.

Ken Braley and Sons, West Shore Marine, Newfound Law, Medical Reimbursement Specialists, along with RP Williams and their 1934 Model T Ford took part in the parade, too, with many including their own family members on their floats.

Newfound Area Nursing Association, local churches and political organizations were also a big part of the celebration with colorful floats and words of inspiration. NANA's float thoughtfully declared, "Family... like branches on a tree we all grow in different directions but our roots keep us all together."

Newfound Football brought a large contingency of players and supporters to the day from both the middle school and high school levels while Tapply-Thompson Community Center and Heart Centered Multi-age Preschool and Kindergarten took part in the event with young children who may one day also be a part of middle school and high school athletics.

Older athletes were saluted as well when former track coach Earl Mills, a Hall of Fame recipient at Newfound Regional High School, cruised the parade route in an open-air convertible. His passengers were this year's Hall of Fame inductees Dan Harvey, Dani MacDonald and Nancy Mills who will be recognized in September for their contributions to athletics and education in Newfound Regional School District.

The popular Uncle Steve Band also played their way along the parade route with family and friends on board their float. As they rolled their way through town they performed a brief preview of the music they would play the following night for the Thursday night Concerts in the Park series at Kelley Park.

Speaking to the theme of celebrating families, the Peppercorn Natural Foods family created a beautiful float to reflect their love of camping and the outdoors while generations of the Worthen and Whittier families paid an enthusiastic tribute to their 150 years of residency on Peaked Hill Road in Bristol.

Of special note for the annual Fourth of July celebration was an entry from 11-year-old Ian MacDonald, who each year decorates a wagon to take part in town's parades. This year his red, white and blue outfit, balloons and decorations were a fitting tribute to the real meaning of the day.

Hannaford Supermarkets and other local businesses. This event also benefits the local economy by bringing in many athletes and their friends and families who support local businesses.

Participants in the 10K run and marathon will begin on Lake Street, in front of the Newfound Memorial Middle School while the Half Marathons start at Sculptured Rocks in Grotton. Downtown Bristol traffic going both ways will be temporarily delayed while runners start out though North Main Street will remain open as a detour. Those participating in the Half Marathon are reminded that buses will be leaving NMMS at 8am to take runners over to the starting point. Those running in the event must be checked in before this time.

Registration for the 26th annual NH Marathon, half marathon, 10K, and kids' run is now open. Access www.nhmarathon.com to complete the application. Check in time on race day will be 7-8:45 a.m. in the NMMS cafeteria. Pre-registered runners may also check in on Friday, Sept. 28 from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Those interested in the pasta dinner on Friday, Sept. 28 may pre-register for $8 or at the door for $10 between 5-7:30 p.m. Maps, lodging and sponsor info, entry form, and more may also be found online at www.nhmarathon.com.

Not a runner but want to help the cause? Please use the registration link to sign up to be a volunteer. Jobs include helping with registration, parking cars, directing traffic, manning water stops along the route and assisting at the finish line. Many of these positions require only a few hours on the morning of race day. You can also contact race headquarters at race@nhmarathon.com or 744-2713.

Birds

ing a ground nester.

Living in a variety of habitats, the song sparrow finds a wide range of foods to eat. Like most birds, it is omnivorous, and feeds on insects and other invertebrates as well as fruits and seeds. That's another reason the bird is found in open, brushy habitats – openings get more sun than shady woods, and insects prefer warmer environments, so more insects are found in open areas. The same principle applies to berry producing shrubs. They tend to thrive where they can get plenty of sun.

Song Sparrows Are Common, But Other Birds Aren't

Because the song sparrow is so common and widespread, it's not considered a species of conservation concern. The habitat it prefers is also preferred by some birds that are of concern, however, so maintaining habitat that favors song sparrows will also favor those less common species. The New Hampshire Wildlife Action Plan lists the golden-winged warbler, field sparrow, and eastern towhee as some of the species of greatest conservation need (SGCN) that also use shrubby, young forest habitat. The Wildlife Action Plan defines Species of Greatest Conservation Need as species that are "in serious trouble – declining numbers, with smaller patches of habitat, and/or threatened by a host of issues". The good news is that there are actions landowners can take to maintain and improve habitat for some of these species. It all starts with an assessment of the land regarding current habitats and features, and developing a plan of action for which habitats should be protected and which ones can be enhanced. UNH Cooperative Extension is a great place to get started.

Learn More

To learn more about songbirds and the NH Wildlife Action Plan, and how to care for wildlife habitat on your land, contact a UNH Cooperative Extension County Forester. We are available for site visits to your land to help you understand what resources you have to reach your goals for your land.

and heard. "Off the record" is a movie term whose application I've never fathomed in the workaday world.

Instead, there are two handy terms to put to rest people who are worried about their identities being exposed. One is "For background only," which means that you can use the information, but only in a way in which tracing its source is impossible. The other is "Not for attribution," which means that you can use a quote from someone who said something particularly newsworthy, but can't say who said it.

I've abided by these rules for more than half a century, and can truly say that I never "burned" a source, even though on more than a few occasions it has made for some tip-toeing. But in the long run, it is the best way.

tor John Stylianos and City Editor Mike Shalhoup taught me the basics of good reporting, which I have carried ever since. Accidents never take place, they happen, or occur ("take place" connotes premeditation). A car and a tree cannot collide; for a collision, both objects have to be moving. Spell out numbers less than ten. A robbery involves at least two people, a robber and a victim, while a theft can take place in solitude. "Claimed" is a loaded term that should be used with great caution, if at all.

I now have a nifty little Canon digital camera, one of the few cameras out there that has a see-through viewing apparatus (seeing through the back of a camera when the sun's at your back is next to impossible). In a world of change, the little Canon reminds me that some changes are vastly for the better (think of digital's elimination of plastic film, silver halide, film developing chemicals, and chemicals, paper and silver solution for making prints).

And the other day, I asked my daughter to bring me up a couple of Reporters' Notebooks from the News and Sentinel's newsroom, the kind I was handed way back there in 1968, when as a very scared 21-year-old, I went straight from lumberyard to newsroom.

And the notebooks hadn't changed a bit.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Help Protect Vulnerable Family Members from Scam Artists

If you have older family members whose cognitive functions or decision-making abilities have declined, or who are lonely or recently widowed, you might need to help protect them against financial scams. What steps should you take?

First of all, try to gain a good sense of their overall financial activity. Look for red flags, such as a reluctance to discuss money matters, consistently unpaid bills, unexplained withdrawals, mysterious wire transfers or a sudden need to purchase large quantities of gift cards. And watch out for new "best friends" or caretakers who show an unusual interest in your loved one's finances.

Whether or not you've observed any of these activities, you can help your elderly family members by making these moves:

Have checks (such as Social Security payments) directly deposited. You can help your family members avoid a lot of potential trouble by having their checks deposited directly into their bank accounts.

Seek permission to become a joint account owner. By becoming a joint account owner on your elderly family members' checking and savings accounts, you can review statements for suspicious activity. Of course, your loved ones may be initially reluctant to add your name, but if you have a good relationship with them, you should be able to explain the benefits.

Shred bank statements, credit card offers and notices of lottery or sweepstakes winnings. One of the most useful gifts you can give to your elderly family members may be a shredder. Encourage them to use it to shred old bank statements, credit card offers and other financial documents.

Get on a "do not call" list. Telephone scammers are persistent and devious. By registering your family members' house and cell phones at www.donotcall.gov, you may be able to reduce their exposure to unwanted calls.

Obtain power of attorney. By creating a power of attorney, your loved ones can designate you or another trusted relative or friend to assist with their finances now – for day-to-day assistance and protection from scammers – and later, should they become incapacitated. Again, you will need to employ some sensitivity when discussing this issue.

Check references of caretakers. As mentioned above, some caretakers are, unfortunately, dishonest. Before you hire one, check out this person's references. And even when you do, be careful – scam artists have been known to use accomplices as references, so you will need to be thorough in your research and questions.

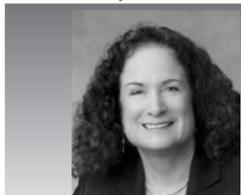

Get to know your family members' financial advisors. If possible, become acquainted with your older family members' financial advisors. Any reputable advisor will welcome a connection with their clients' loved ones. And if you are involved in any estate plans, this multi-generational relationship will prove beneficial for everyone.

Ask to meet any new "friends" they have met online. When someone is lonely, they become vulnerable to online friendships. Sometimes, these new friends make promises of meeting, but never show – and then they suddenly need money for one reason or another.

It can be challenging to guard against all threats posed by the scammers of the world. But by staying alert and taking the appropriate preventive actions, you may be able to help safeguard your loved ones' financial security.

base. Kelly soon shot back with another taunt to the fire fighters when one lobbed a ball into the infield.

"All those muscles for nothing," he said with a laugh.

While the game started with the fire department taking an early lead thanks to a first inning home run that scored two, the police finally came on strong in the third inning and never looked back.

The fire fighters didn't make it easy for their opponents in the fifth inning though when a seven run rally put them just two points behind, making the score 10-12.

A two-run homer by the PD and some solid hitting by the rest of the lineup stretched their lead to nine points by the bottom of the fifth. At the top of the sixth inning the fire department showed they weren't giving up though as they once again narrowed the PD's lead to just two points.

"How about that—the police just robbed the fire department," announcer Jeff Kane quipped after a play that resulted in their third out.

The bottom of the sixth inning was more like "police brutality" though when the men in blue pounded the outfield with doubles, triples and a three-run homer.

Finally satisfied with 20 runs in the inning, the police forfeited the remainder of their batting time for fear the fire fighters were "getting sunburnt out there on the field," they said.

"So in the sixth inning the police scored three touch downs and missed one extra point," announcer Jeff Kane joked over the PA system.

The game ended quickly in the seventh though when the fire department failed to get another rally going and the police claimed the victory and bragging rights for now.

"It was fun. Everyone had a good time and we certainly look forward to redemption," said Fire Chief Ben LaRoche.

Newfound Babe Ruth honors Ron Bucklin

Scoreboard officially dedicated in longtime coach's memory

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BRISTOL — It couldn't have been a more perfect day for baseball as the Newfound Babe Ruth teams gathered at Kelley Park on Saturday afternoon.

Not only was the weather perfect, it was a good day in other respects as well.

Many members of the community turned out to watch as the new baseball field scoreboard was dedicated in memory of the late Ron Bucklin.

Bucklin was a longtime coach for the Newfound Babe Ruth program and members of his family were on hand for the ceremony honoring his legacy.

"We are so happy to be able to honor Ron's memory of all that he gave to Babe Ruth and local baseball for so many years," said Jeff

JOSHUA SPAULDING

Kane, Newfound Babe Ruth League President.

The Newfound Babe Ruth program divided into a couple of teams to play a scrimmage against each other and the players lined up on the base lines for the National Anthem and Kane's presentation.

"As many of you are aware, the NBR (Newfound Babe Ruth) board has been working hard during the past year to bring scoreboards to Kelley Park softball and baseball fields," Kane told the assembled crowd. "With support from the town of Bristol, the community and volunteers, we recently installed the scoreboards here for the baseball and softball fields."

Kane noted that the scoreboards were installed in May at both fields. He praised the work of the many local businesses that helped make the scoreboards a possibility.

"We had many donations from businesses across the Newfound area," Kane said. "It was a lot of work, but well worth it."

Kane introduced Ron Bucklin's son, Tom, who was present with many members of his family, and he threw out the ceremonial first pitch of the Babe Ruth scrimmage, with Ron Bucklin's grandson, Reese, doing the catching honors.

"It's kind of humbling to come by and see it here," Tom Bucklin said of the sign honoring his father. "The fields look great and now they have nice scoreboards to go with it."

"And how the community came together is great," he added.

The Babe Ruth scrimmage that followed was a lot of fun for all involved, as league coaches served as officials and coach Logan Belanger, a Newfound Babe Ruth alum, pitched the first couple of innings on both sides. The game ended with one of the squads getting an 8-3 win over the other squad.

The afternoon continued at Kelley Park on the softball field, where the local police and firefighters were involved in a "Battle of the Badges" softball game.

Newfound Babe Ruth ran a concession stand throughout the afternoon, selling food and drinks to spectators and players.

Kane also pointed out that the first Ron Bucklin Golf Tournament was scheduled to take place on Sept. 8, at 1 p.m. at Den Brae Golf Course in Sanbornton.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Putting in the steps on a busy Fourth of July

Every year since I've been around the Wolfeboro area, I've walked with the Cate Park Band in the Wolfeboro Fourth of July parade.

This year has to take the cake as the hottest year in recent memory, so of course this year was the year that I walked the parade route almost four times.

SPORTING CHANCE

By JOSHUA SPAULDING

The day started, as it has the last few years, in the parking lot of Clarke Plaza, where our office was formerly located. From there, I walked down-

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS had a float in the Wolfeboro parade, celebrating 40 years of live theater in Wolfeboro.

Top Notch Triathlon returns on Aug. 4

FRANCONIA — The Top Notch Triathlon will return to Franconia and Cannon Mountain Aug. 4 for its 26th year.

The race began in 1993 when Kim and Tim Cowles, then owners of the Franconia Sport Shop, joined forces with a group of friends to put together a fun event encompassing some of the beautiful natural places around Franconia. The idea was to have a great time while promoting healthy activity.

"We're so fortunate to live near Franconia Notch State Park, and it only makes sense to take advantage of it," said Kim Cowles, now the Parks and Recreation director in Franconia. "The race took on a life of its own and has become a great community event."

The Top Notch Triathlon includes a six-mile bike leg from downtown Franconia up Butter Hill and through the White Mountain National Forest to Echo Lake, a half-mile swim across the lake, and a 2.5-mile climb to the summit of Cannon Mountain. The total vertical gain from the starting gun to the finish line is a whopping 3,320 feet.

Proceeds benefit the Lafayette Recreation Department, which comprises the communities of Franconia, Easton and Sugar Hill, as well as the Franconia Life Squad. Since its inception, the Top Notch Triathlon has raised more than $100,000, which has been used to support an array of projects, from building the gazebo on the Dow Park to purchasing soccer goals and repaving the multi-use skating rink.

The event attracts a mixed group, ranging from former Olympians (both alpine skier Bode Miller and cross-country skier Kris Freeman have competed) and seasoned triathletes to weekend warriors and local families. The first Saturday in August is a day many area residents look forward to, either to participate in the race, serve as volunteers, or cheer the competitors on throughout the course.

This year, the family-friendly post-race lunch and awards ceremony will be hosted at Franconia's newest business, Iron Furnace Brewing.

The Top Notch Triathlon includes Ironwoman and Ironman categories, as well as teams in the categories of male, female, co-ed, family, and youth. For more information and to register, visit www.franconianh.org/top-notch-triathlon.

town and then up the hill on North Main Street to the start of the parade, where the Cate Park Band meets up. I made a slight detour along the way to see the Village Players float, which was parked on Lary Road. This is the first time in 10 years that the theater has had a float and I had volunteered to take pictures of the float and I wanted to get a couple of "before" pictures as they got the float ready.

The heat was already a bit much before 9:30 a.m. and as we stepped off at 10 a.m. and headed down North Main Street, it showed no sign of cooling down. We walked and played our way down North Main Street, through downtown and then made the grueling trek up the hill heading out of downtown.

That hill may not seem like much when you're driving, but when you're walking and playing the trumpet, it takes a bit out of you. The heat just added to that fun.

Nonetheless, I made it through the parade and immediately started working my way back through the parade in the opposite direction. Many thanks to Sandra Ellis, Matt Lawlor and Matt Melnik, all who offered me water as I worked my way back through the crowds. My third time along the parade route ended part way up the hill on North Main Street, where I met up with the Village Players float and took a bunch of pictures as the parade came through downtown (my fourth trip through downtown of the morning) and worked its way up the hill.

That finished out the parade portion of my day, but that certainly wasn't the end of the day (though a short nap in front of the fan and the Red Sox game on the television were part of my afternoon). It was back to Wolfeboro for the annual Cate Park Band Fourth of July concert in the bandstand. The first hour of the concert was pretty hot, but once the sun disappeared behind the Avery building, it felt much better.

While the fireworks followed, I had to hit the road up to Brewster for job number two. I saw a few of the fireworks go off as I got to work and certainly heard the rest of them as I worked into the night.

While this was a busy day with lots of walking (I logged more than 21,000 steps), it was great to be part of the celebration again. Kudos to Emily Marsh, who organized the Village Players float and all the VP folks who turned out to help build the float or walk in the parade.

Finally, have a great day Willie Mork.
