BY DONNA RHODES
drhodes@salmonpress.com

SANBORNTON — Logan Morrison, a local Boy Scout and a member of Winnisquam Regional High School’s Class of 2017, set out this summer to help his community by attempting to gather 750 pounds of nonperishable foods and household goods in his endeavor to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout.

Last week, when he finally delivered his donations to First Fruits Pantry in Sanbornton, he was pleased to discover he had more than met that goal.

Morrison, a member of Boy Scout Troop 366 in Laconia, said he began his active collection process during Sanbornton’s Old Home Day celebration on June 23. At that time he manned a booth to collect food and cash donations. He also helped organize other fundraising events to boost his collections that day, such as a raffle and Cow Bingo, with prizes for each donated by Appletree Nursery, Osborne’s Agway, Heritage Farm, Pirate’s Cove Mini-Golf and Brick-house Bistro.

“I really want to thank them all for their support that day,” said Morrison.

He then went on to collect other food and cash donations through the Sanbornton library, friends, family and his church in Laconia as the summer progressed.

Morrison comes from a family of community-minded people.

Robert Presby of First Fruits Food Pantry in Sanbornton was pleased to receive a large donation of both food and cash from Eagle Scout candidate Logan Morrison last week, all of which will help feed more than 150 local residents in need.

Newmont Military Band performs at Belmont Bandstand

BY DONNA RHODES

BELMONT — The 1908 Belmont bandstand provided the perfect backdrop for the Newmont Military Band’s performance last Sunday afternoon, drawing more than 90 people to the village green to enjoy songs from the 19th and 20th Century. The concert was sponsored once again by the Belmont Heritage Commission, thanks to a generous donation from the John M. Sargent Fund, and supported by American Legion Post 58, Friends of the Bandstand, the Belmont Library, and the town’s parks and recreation department.

Led by director Dr. James Chesebrough, the 19 members of the Newmont Military Band who took part in the concert performed their musical wizardry on period instruments, much as one

Besides the many residents and visitors to the community, a dozen or more residents of New Hampshire Veterans Home were in attendance as special guests of American Legion Post 58 and many of the songs the WWII veterans heard brought back a lot of fond memories.

“This is like the old days when we would go down to the bandstand in Manchester to hear the bands play,” said one veteran as he gazed across the lawn. “This is very nice.”

Before each song was played, Chesebrough also gave a bit of the history behind them, such as The Star Bangled Banner.

“During the War of 1812, Francis Scott Key wrote a poem about the battle at Fort McHenry that was eventually set to music by John Stafford Smith,” Chesebrough explained before asking the crowd to rise for their performance of the national anthem. That music, came from England and was originally meant for the popular song, “Anacreon in Heaven.”

Other songs were accompanied by similar commentary on the background and composers of each.

As the music flowed across the village for adults to enjoy, children were invited to take part in other activities as well as Belmont Recreation Department pro-

the Tiger Mother ignited a global parenting debate with its story of one mother’s journey in strict parenting. Amy Chua argues that Western parenting tries to respect and nurture children’s individuality,

while Chinese parents typically believe that arming children with skills, strong work hab-prepares them best for the future. Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother chronicles Chua’s iron-

her daughters, Sophia able, sometimes heartbreaking results her choice inspires. Aching-

Studio Two is a headlining Beatles band that pays tribute to the early Beatles years, choosing songs from the pre-Sgt. Pepper era.
Unlike other Beatle acts that try to deliver the entire Beatles’ catalog, Studio Two concentrates only on the most exciting and fun time in The Beatles career -- the club and touring years (1960-1964). Featuring graduates from Berklee College of Music and Beatles devotees, Studio Two band mates met in a “cellar full of noise” in a town slightly west of Liverpool (Milford, New Hampshire!) to pay homage to the greatest rock band of all time.

Band members are experienced musicians of today’s generation dedicated to preserving the memory and fan culture of The Beatles generation. By recreating the Fab Four’s mu-

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

If you caught an image of a verifiable mountain lion on your trail camera, it'd look like this one, caught on a trail-cam in Saguaro National Park, Az.

A “maybe” creature in the woods that’s big, stealthy, and hungry

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

There’s a pile of stuff on a corner of my desk that has a life of its own. No matter how often or much you take out of it, it remains the same—a pile of stuff. Call it the 100-Year-Old Soup of writing.

In the pile was a recent note about a mountain lion attack in Idaho.

One of my oldest friends, hailing from coastal Maine in warm months and Georgia when the sun goes south, was in the territory for a couple of days, and for his going-away breakfast I said “Let’s go to the Spa.”

This longtime restaurant is in West Stewartstown, roughly an hour and a half north of Littleton, and another half hour from Berlin. Colebrook-area readers will roll their eyes at this obvious fact, but I have to put it in here for the benefit of downstate readers, some of whom think New Hampshire ends at Franconia Notch.

Breakfast conversation never ceases at the Spa, and the particular reason I love it there, aside from the great food, is that it’s usually a steady patois between English and French, French and English, with habitués slipping back and forth with ease.

We had the catbird seat, and fiends from my Beecher Falls Factory days stopped by to say hello. So did two of my favorite people, Paul and Cheryl Cote, who for a very long time owned and ran one of the region’s last two full-service gas stations.

We were discussing this and that when somehow the topic turned to the Canaan cougar. This was a little drama that unfolded earlier this summer when a mountain lion appeared in the backyard of a Canaan Hill woman, who had the alacrity to grab a camera in the kitchen and shoot two frames, one of which was reportedly good enough for a Vermont Fish and Wildlife officer.

A note about photos, as per the one above:

There are thousands of trail-cams set up all over New Hampshire, but so far what I’ve been sent has been mostly garbage—very poor images under bad conditions, or worse, images most definitely not even from anywhere around New England, as is easy to see.

PET OF THE WEEK

LEIA

Leia, aged perhaps one year old is the perfect sized pint sized canine for anyone looking to share their life with a happy, extremely outgoing, super intelligent dog.

She arrived at New Hampshire Humane Society as a stray back in May. Perplexingly not one call from anyone looking for their missing companion meant she was available for adoption after the required time we must hold strays had expired. Leia enjoys regular trips off campus with one of her favorite volunteers. She has shown all of us just how much she wants to please and be with humans. She looks to those she is with for instruction and is incredibly obedient knowing many commands. Truly though, a solid bond of mutual love and respect will provide years of happiness to the folks who take that special plunge and adopt Leia. Weighing in at a little over 30lbs, with a lustrous sleek short coat, a perky jaunt in her step and a perpetual smile on her face; what’s not to love about Leia?

Ideal home: one that provides activity, walks and hikes, opportunity to meet the world – she might prefer to be the only dog in the home.

To the Editor:

The Lakes Region needs a State Senator in District 2 who will work for the people, support the constitution and promote the economy. Bob Giuda is that man.

Bob Giuda graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy. He served as an aviation officer in the U.S. Marine Corps. Bob Giuda has been an international airline pilot since 1986 and will soon retire. I have three good friends who are also former military pilots and now fly as international commercial airline pilots. All of them are men who possess great judgment. This is something we are lacking in politics today.

I have worked with Bob Giuda’s opponent, Brian Gallagher, and I do not agree with his decision making. He has little or no experience working in the private sector. How can Mr. Gallagher make needed changes in government when has been employed by the government for the last 30 years?

The following are some examples of his judgment and decision making, as a first term State Representative.

As a Lakes Region small business owner, I was shocked when Repr. Brian Gallagher stated that both New Hampshire Motor Speedway(NHMS) and Motorcycle Rally Week promote prostitution. These activities are extremely important to our local economy, and his statements were reckless. These events can make or break many small businesses. Laconia’s Police Chief claimed that in his 22-year experience, he has never made a prostitution arrest during bike week. The General Manager of NHMS also disputed Mr. Gallagher’s unfounded statements.

Brian Gallagher was also the author of the failed nipple bill. A first offense would be a misdemeanor. A second offense would be a class B felony. A woman convicted of this “crime” could have been sent to state prison for seven years and be required to register as a sex offender. When Representative Gallagher’s bill was being reviewed in committee, he was asked if it should apply to men. His response was, “I would have to think about it.”

As your County Commissioner, I worked hard with my fellow commissioners to find taxpayer savings and we ultimately amassed a $695,000 surplus. The County Complex roof has failed, which includes the County Nursing Home. Nursing home residents live with the threat of a roof that could start leaking at any time. As a fiscal conservative, I recommended replacing the roof with the surplus to avoid the taxpayer paying interest on a bank loan.

Representative Gallagher lead the opposition against this action and wanted to use the entire amount to reduce the budget. He prevailed and soon the County will ask the delegation to bond a new roof. The residents of Belknap County will now have to pay Wall Street unnecessary principal and interest for years to come. He takes credit for this action in his campaign website. Now elderly people, in their final stages of life, live under a failed roof only to benefit his State Senate campaign.

The clear choice for our next State Senator is Bob Giuda. He is a fiscal conservative with private sector experience and a man with good judgment. Please join me in voting for Bob Giuda for State Senator District 2, on Sept. 13.

David DeVoy, Chairman

Gallagher — a real conservative Senate District 2 leader

To the Editor:

I, Rep. Brian Gallagher of Sanbornton, seek State Senate Seat in District 2 to follow in the important Republican shoes of Sen. Jeanie Forrester. Jeanie is a proven effective leader who is running for Governor. Candidly, I am a true Conservative. As a leader, I am compassionate, and an excellent listener: qualities critical to building consensus.

The centerpiece for my campaign has been reaching out and listening to all of the voters throughout the 27 towns which comprise Senate District 2. I have traveled throughout the District repeatedly, since the early spring, and met hundreds of voters face to face. Through my conversations voters have gotten to know me and are able to recognize my qualifications and abilities to serve them in a consistent manner in Concord with similar constituent traditions Senator Forrester has established for the good of the people.

My vision for a promising New Hampshire future includes:

A balanced financial plan with responsible spending supported by realistic revenue projections;

Promoting excellence in education with local control and parental choice;

Protecting 2nd Amendment rights and expanding personal liberties by reducing government overreach.

Term limits for government officials which will bring hard work, accountability and dependability to our political environment.

As a Belknap County State Representative I have worked tirelessly to:

Return $600,000 to County Taxpayers by holding the line on spending;

Work in Concord to help take on the Heroin/Opioid crisis;

Support Law Enforcement and fought Human Trafficking issues;

Help Grow Jobs by supporting Cutting Business Taxes;

Stand strongly for “Right to Life”;

Help pass a responsible NH Budget with no new Increased Taxes;

Support Education Choice and Parental Rights.

Support protections for private landowners rights.

Presently serving as State Representative from Belknap County representing District 4, I live in Sanbornton with my wife, Karen and her 93 year old Mom in the house I built in 1986. Together, we have been blessed with 5 children and 7 grandchildren. During the 2015-2016

Steel yourself for suspense with “The Hitch-Hiker” on LRPA

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (Sept. 2 & 3) for our “LRPA After Dark” presentation of 1953’s gritty crime thriller “The Hitch-Hiker,” starring Edmond O’Brien, Frank Lovejoy, and William Talman.

“The Hitch-Hiker” was inspired by the events of real-life serial killer Billy Cook, a psychopath who murdered six people on a 22-day killing spree in the early 1950s. The film was directed by Ida Lupino, a well-known actress who went on to a successful career as a director at a time in Hollywood when female directors were very scarce. In fact, Lupino was the only female member of the Director’s Guild from the late 1940s through the early 1950s and is still considered one of Hollywood’s most prolific female directors. “The Hitch-Hiker” earned Lupino and her cast strong reviews and was a box-office success. It went on to be one of 25 films selected in 1998 for preservation by the National Film Registry. In his review of “The Hitch-Hiker,” noted critic Leonard Maltin said: “Well-made suspense yarn about two men on a hunting trip whose car is commandeered by a murderous fugitive. Good performances, especially by a venal Talman in the title role.” What more does a movie-lover need? So grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark for this crime drama from the past.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The fight against Northern Pass is far from over

To the Editor:

At a recent political event in Colebrook, I spied John Amey, whose bright eyes seldom betray the long hours of scratching out a living on his Indian Stream farm.

The political attraction was Jeanie Forrester, who’s running for Governor and who has opposed Northern Pass from the start. But when I looked at John, I thought, How long have we been fighting this thing now? Six years? Seven?

We are people who love the landscape and rose up out of the sod when someone got wind of this insulting proposal and ran up onto a ridgetop and blew a bugle. Who this person was is unknown and mythical. The important thing is that so many people came running. We could beat this horrendous thing, we believed, and still do.

Sometimes, it may seem that our opposition has faltered or lost its way in the face of billion-dollar back-stage energy deals and the juggernaut of what passes for progress. Fear not. But it’s not easy fighting a for-profit foreign “Crown corporation” that considers gambling $45 million on New Hampshire real estate chump-change, and the New Hampshire we love nothing more than a doormat.

Too often, I get the question on whether Northern Pass is a done deal. It is anything but. As the lawyers would say, “They don’t own the dirt.” And from the High Road, we need to remember the bumper-sticker slogan, “It’s not about need, it’s all about greed.”

The other bumper sticker would be “No eminent domain for private gain.” That would be the law we all piled into cars and buses to go down to Concord and packed Legislative Hall to get passed, back when we began fighting this thing tooth and nail, which we still do.

legislative session I was appointed by the House Speaker to serve on the important House Ways & Means Revenue Committee.

I grew up in Rhode Island in a strong Catholic family. . My mom worked as a Principal’s Secretary at an Elementary School for 20 years while my dad supported the family of three boys by selling life insurance. Dad also served in World War II and was awarded the Bronze Star. I am a former marathon runner having participated and finished races in Boston, New York City and Cape Cod.

I graduated from Boston College earning a Bachelor’s degree and a Master’s degree of Business Administration from Plymouth State University.

My professional career experiences include over 30 years in finance including work in the New Hampshire Budget/Finance Office in Concord where I served for 12 years helping to manage state finances under many Governors (both Republican & Democratic) beginning with the Honorable Governor Meldrum Thompson.

Later I served in the New Hampshire Supreme Court at the Administrative Office for eight years. Following this, I was appointed as first Business Manager for the Newfound School District in Bristol. Subsequently, I accepted appointments as the Business Administrator for both the Windham/Pelham school districts.

After more than 30 years of a successful career in public finance I retired while continuing with limited educational consultation in New Hampshire. As a community leader, I know how to steward the public tax dollar. I’ve served on many local town and school organizations and I am a member of the State Lilac & Wildflower Commission. This year, I was recognized for “Conservative Achievement” credentials by the American Conservative Union.

There continues to be many challenges in Concord; fighting against a sales and income tax and stopping government economic waste being just two. Together, we can provide common sense and accountability to the State House while managing wisely with understanding and compassion to address financial needs of the people of New Hampshire.

I humbly ask for your support and vote for Brian Gallagher for State Senate District 2 on Tuesday, Sept. 13 in the Republican Primary.

John S. Shepard III, 82

FRANKLIN — John S. Shepard, 82, of Franklin died Thursday, Aug. 18, 2016 at the Concord Hospital in Concord following a period of failing health.

John was born in Northbridge, Mass., July 7, 1934, son of John S. Shepard, Jr. and Ruth (Crockett) Shepard.

John was raised in Franklin and graduated from Franklin High School in 1952. Upon graduating from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, in 1956 with a BA degree, John then joined the U. S. Navy and served with the 7th Fleet in the Mediterranean. John married Nicole Lair in 1959 in Nice, France. They moved to Boston, Mass. in 1960, where John completed his Navy enlistment. He was predeceased by Nicole in December of 2010. They had no children. John loved working with people and believed in providing the best service to all. He and Nicole learned the restaurant business; he worked as maitre d’ at the French Restaurant, Autra Choise in Cambridge.

In the 1960’s, they opened their own discotheque, Club Henri IV just off Harvard Square. He was the author of several guides to making wine cocktails. From the 1970’s to 1998, he opened and ran his independent business, “General Delivery Service,” covering the entire Boston region. Retiring in 1998, he and Nicole returned to Franklin. This time, he worked for Friendly’s and Foodies Restaurants in Concord. Tiring of the drive to Concord in all types of weather, he became a cashier for Wal-Mart in Tilton until the time of his death. He believed his customers deserved the best service with a friendly smile.

Since his youth, John enjoyed spending time with family in Maine and his numerous visits to the Old Man of the Mountain site and White Mountain areas.

In addition to his wife, John was predeceased by his sister, Ruth Anne Kurtz.

He leaves his sister, Lt. Col. Rosamond R. Shepard, U. S. Army (ret.) of New Braunfels, Texas; nephews, Stephen M. Kurtz of Rochester and David L. Kurtz of Blacklick, Ohio; cousins and great niece and nephews.

According to John’s wishes, there are no public calling hours or services. Burial in the Shepard lot in Franklin Cemetery will be at a later date.

Rather than flowers, those who wish, may make memorial contributions in John’s name to the Franklin Animal Shelter, 71 Punch Brook Rd., Franklin, NH 03235 or the Franklin Historical Society.

Assisting John’s sister with arrangements is the William F. Smart Sr. Memorial Home of Tilton.

A child of The Great Depression, Isabelle practiced thrift and recycling long before environmentalists took up the cause. Each summer she would freeze and preserve home grown vegetables enough to last a year. She was a good country cook.

As with her own mother, Family was the center of Isabelle’s existence. Up until the last month of her life, she kept in active contact with four generations – sister-in-law, nieces and nephew, sons, grandchildren and great grandkids. Until the confinements of this past year, she attended the UCC church on Upper Bay Road in Sanbornton.

As Anne Reneau-Major, granddaughter, put it: “Isabelle...whose soul lies in the strength of the soil and beauty of the flowers. A beautiful woman.”

Calling hours were held from 4 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 31, 2016 at the Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, using the Carriage House entrance. A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 1, 2016, also at the funeral home. Burial will follow in the family plot at Union Cemetery, Academy Street, Laconia.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation Services, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, is assisting the family with the arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, go to www.wilkinson-beane.com.

Smith and fellow grads receive commendation from Gov. Maggie Hassan

NEW LONDON — For their professional success, future contributions to the health care of New Hampshire’s citizens, and commitment to the health and well-being of their fellow citizens, New Hampshire Gov. Maggie Hassan recognized Colby-Sawyer College’s exceptional 2016 undergraduate nursing class, including Chelsea Smith of Belmont, with a commendation at the Governor and Executive Council meeting held on campus Wednesday, Aug. 24.

The commendation was presented to Associate Professor and Chair of Colby-Sawyer’s undergraduate nursing program, Joan G. Loftus, DNP, RN, who was joined by recent graduates Amanda Chasse, Rebecca Hashem and Grace Lavoie. It notes nurses’ critical role in the health and well-being of New Hampshire’s families, communities and economy; the national workforce shortage in all areas of health care, and Colby-Sawyer’s part in addressing this challenge.

One hundred percent of Colby-Sawyer’s 2016 undergraduate nursing class passed the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN), administered by the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN), on their first attempt (by comparison, the 2015 national pass average was 86.77 percent). Of the 33 graduates, 27 are now employed as Registered Nurses in New Hampshire; 25 of them are at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center (DHMC).

At the earlier breakfast meeting, Dr. Susan Reeves ‘88, dean of the Colby-Sawyer College School of Nursing and Health Professions and Gladys A. Burrows Distinguished Professor of Nursing addressed the governor and council about the state’s nursing shortage. Dean Reeves, appointed this spring by Gov. Hassan to the Commission on Health Care and Community Support Workforce, noted that New Hampshire has the second highest oldest population; many in the nursing field are nearing retirement age; there is a shortage of nursing faculty; the demands and stressors of nursing drive people out of the profession, and there is a high turnover and vacancy rate in the state.

“We have to do something about making sure we have adequate programs for nursing students,” said Dean Reeves. “Faculty shortage is driving a lot of our challenges; we have a high quantity of quality nursing programs in this state, both at the associate degree and baccalaureate levels, and certainly numerous graduate programs, but the interest in our programs exceeds our ability to make spaces available for the students.”

Enrich and improve your life with Adult Education!

LACONIA — This fall offers many opportunities for expanding your knowledge, skills, or even your future. Laconia Adult Education is again offering a diploma program, HiSET (formerly GED) testing and prep, ESOL, along with many varied and unique enrichment opportunities.

The Laconia Adult Education diploma program, known as Laconia Academy, offers an opportunity to take targeted classes or work toward a high school diploma in the evening. Besides classes on Physics, Poetry, Cuba, Cold War, People of the World, and Modern Short Stories, Laconia Academy offers Pre-nursing courses such as Chemistry and Biology (both with labs) and Algebra I. The Algebra course is further designed to help students improve or brush-up on their math skills allowing them to not spend large amounts of money taking remedial courses in their post-secondary pursuits.

About nursing at Colby-Sawyer
The Colby-Sawyer College Nursing Program was established in 1981 in partnership with DHMC, its clinical education facility. It is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) and approved by the New Hampshire Board of Nursing.

This spring, Colby-Sawyer also graduated its first cohort in its R.N. to B.S. degree program. The online program provides a flexible and affordable way for practicing nurses with associate degrees to earn a B.S.N.

This fall, Colby-Sawyer will expand its nursing education operations to offer its first graduate program, a Master of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.). In collaboration with Dartmouth-Hitchcock, Colby-Sawyer’s M.S.N. program, co-designed by nursing leaders from Colby-Sawyer and Dartmouth-Hitchcock, will initially enroll a cohort of 12 part-time students from a segment of DHMC employees to fill the demand for the new role of Clinical Nurse Leader. Applications for the M.S.N. program are now being accepted.

Camera Club explores “Mood and Emotion in Photography” with Al Greene

MEREDITH — Al Greene of Tilton will speak on the topic of “Mood and Emotion in Photography” to Lakes Region Camera Club members as the club begins its new year on Sept. 8, at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Meredith.

Greene states that “Communicating mood and emotion are my most important motivators for making images. If my photographs speak to the viewer on an emotional level, then I have succeeded in my work. My favorite subjects are landscapes, the sea, old architecture and rock formations. These all have a mood to convey and these moods can shift from day to day and season to season, as does our perspective of the world we live in.”

Greene is a member of the New Hampshire Society of Photographic Artists, Photographic Society of America and Lakes Region Art Association. His work may be seen at the LRAA Art Gallery at the Tanger Mall in Tilton.

Lakes Region Camera Club invites all those interested to attend a meeting or two before deciding to join. The meeting is at the Trinity Episcopal Church on Route 25 in Meredith from 7–9 p.m. The club hosts presentations and competitions, as well as field trips and other activities, and meets the first and third Thursdays of the month.

For more information on Greene’s work, go to his Web site at www.algreenephoto.com. For more information on LRCC, visit their Web site at www.lrcameraclub.com or call Phyllis Meinke at 340-2359.

MEREDITH — The League of New Hampshire Craftsmen Meredith Fine Craft Gallery invites you to join us on Saturday, Sept. 17 from 10 a.m. – 2:30 p.m. for a class to create your own unique Felted Pumpkins and Gourds. The familiar symbols of the autumn harvest are perfect for dressing up a harvest table and to incorporate into your seasonal home décor.

Students will be guided through the entire felting process to complete their own needle felted pumpkin or gourd made entirely of wool.

Curious fiber artist, Carolyn Wright, will teach students to build the basic shape, add color, and define specific pumpkin or gourd details to each one of a kind piece.

The felting process makes a large tuft of wool condense down into a more dense mass of wool with the use of special felting needles. Each needle has small barbs cut in one direction along the shaft of

Investors Can Learn Much from Workers

Next week, we observe Labor Day, a celebration of the American worker. And there's a lot to celebrate, because our workers have accomplished great things and, in the process, demonstrated a variety of impressive character traits – many of which also can be useful to investors. For example:

Perseverance – Have you ever read about an inventor who failed dozens of times before finally hitting on a winner? Or a scientist who studied the same problem for decades before discovering a revolutionary solution? All kinds of workers display this type of perseverance, in one form or another. As an investor, you, too, will need this “stick-to-itiveness” because you will face challenges. Markets will drop, individual investments may disappoint, tax laws may change, and so on. But if you're patient, and you follow a long-term strategy that's based on your needs, risk tolerance and time horizon, you can overcome those obstacles that may be blocking progress toward your goals.

Inquisitiveness – During your own work, you've probably found that you can improve your effectiveness simply by asking a few questions or otherwise learning a little more about your tasks at hand. As an investor, you'll also find that knowledge is power – because the more you know about investing and investments, the better prepared you can be when making decisions. Sometimes, this knowledge can help you look past the so-called experts who are touting the “next hot stock.” Other times, your curiosity may lead you to find new opportunities. In any case, learn as much as you can, and if you work with a financial professional, ask questions – as many as necessary. The investment world is fascinating, and it can be complex – but it is also understandable to those who make the effort.

Flexibility – When something isn't working, you may need to try another approach. Successful workers know this – and so do successful investors. Suppose, for example, you have been trying to boost your overall return by buying and selling investments. After a while, you may realize that such behavior is costly – in more ways than one. You will likely rack up fees and commissions, you may incur the highest rate of capital gains taxes (assessed on investments held less than one year), and you will be disrupting any cohesive investment strategy you've established. Upon recognizing these problems, you could decide to “switch gears” and follow a long-term, “buy-and-hold” strategy. That's flexibility – and that's a great attribute for investors.

Vision – Good workers have a clear picture of what they want to accomplish – and they know what they must do reach their goal. As an investor, you also need to establish a vision of where you want to go and how you can get there. So when contemplating your retirement, try to foresee the lifestyle you hope to lead – will you travel the world or stay close to home, pursuing your hobbies? Then, use this vision to help guide your actions, such as increasing your contributions to your 401(k) or IRA, or changing the investment mix within these accounts.

Transferring what you learn from the working world to the investment arena can help make investing a less laborious – and potentially more enjoyable – process. So put that knowledge to good use.

14th Annual Brenda's Ride with Friends raises $10,800!

Proceeds to benefit oncology patients at LRGHealthcare

LACONIA — Eighteen-year breast cancer survivor Brenda Ganong recently hosted the 14th Annual Brenda's Ride with Friends: Fighting Cancer One Mile at a Time. The day was a huge success, raising $10,800 to benefit Oncology patients at LRGHealthcare!

Proceeds from Brenda's Ride are used to assist patients in a number of ways, to help lighten the financial burden during an already very tough time. Funds have been designated to: help with co-pays for ports

(necessary to be put in so they can receive their drugs); assist with co-pays for prostheses; purchase gas cards and cab vouchers to get patients to appointments; and to buy disposable phones/phone cards to be able to get in touch with patients.

"The staff and patients at LRGHealthcare are incredibly grateful to Brenda and John Ganong and all of their bighearted friends and family who continue to make each Brenda's Ride a success," states LRGHealthcare Vice President of Clinical Services Marge Kerns.

"The staff at Faro went above and beyond for this event; Matt Langley and band AXIS added a lot of energy to the afternoon, and everyone just seemed happy to be a part of the day, knowing that their support will go a long way in assisting local patients," added Kerns.

The Aug. 13 Brenda's Ride welcomed several high-level supporters including $1,000 Gold Sponsors Sal's Pizza and Winner's Circle Auto Sales; $500 Silver Sponsors Brady Companies, The Looney Bin, Roche Realty Group, and Nick & Carolyn Zayka. Dozens of other businesses and individuals support Brenda's Ride through food, auction, and in-kind donations, shirt sponsorship, or by volunteering at the event. A special thanks to everyone at Faro Italian Grille for being the gracious host of Brenda's Ride, and to Matt Langley and his band AXIS for providing awesome live music.

LRGHealthcare is a not-for-profit healthcare charitable trust representing Lakes Region General Hospital, Franklin Regional Hospital, and affiliated medical providers. LRGHealthcare's mission is to provide quality, compassionate care and to strengthen the well-being of our community.

Genesis Behavioral Health awarded $300,000 in tax credits

LACONIA — Genesis Behavioral Health (GBH), the community mental health center serving Belknap and southern Grafton Counties, was recently awarded $300,000 in Tax Credits from the Community Development Finance Authority (CDFA). This funding will allow GBH to achieve a long-term organizational goal to consolidate four of its Laconia facilities into one location creating an integrated health care campus that meets identified community needs, especially among low-income individuals.

The project will transform mental health services in the Lakes Region by strengthening and expanding a critical system of care for nearly 4,000 patients and the community. Access to behavioral health and addiction treatment are identified as top priorities in recent Community Needs Assessments and Community Health Improvement Plans. Improving facilities will give GBH the capacity to expand essential services, including integrated care, crisis intervention, and substance use disorder treatment.

"This year's tax credit awardees demonstrate a strong commitment to serving New Hampshire through a variety of initiatives vital to the success of our communities," said Taylor Caswell, Executive Director of CDFA in a statement released by the organization.

The agency has been working to expand its facilities to keep pace with the current demand for mental health and substance use disorder treatment. Services have increased by 55 percent over 10 years. Services to individuals with severe and persistent mental illness increased by 182 percent, emergency services increased by 70 percent, and short-term therapy for the under/uninsured increased by 62 percent. GBH has increased the number of clinicians by 38 percent to meet these needs and has reached full capacity at its current locations.

The consolidation of GBH's multiple locations into one facility will achieve a variety of the agency's goals: improving patient care, increasing access to care, creating operational efficiencies, strategically positioning GBH for opportunities to expand services to better meet community needs, developing more effective private-public partnerships between GBH and its stakeholders, and increasing organizational visibility raising public awareness and reducing stigma.

"I am excited to have the opportunity to expand and strengthen our relationships with the community, its businesses, and banks in bringing this much needed project to the greater Lakes Region," said Genesis Executive Director, Maggie Pritchard.

GBH looks forward to having a facility in which community partners and patients can utilize space for trainings, education, and enrichment opportunities. Partnerships between community members, area businesses, foundations and other stakeholders will allow the organization to more effectively meet the needs of the community and contribute to the region's overall wellbeing and economic vitality.

Genesis Behavioral Health is designated by the State of New Hampshire as the community mental health center serving Belknap and southern Grafton Counties. A private, non-profit corporation, Genesis serves nearly 4,000 children, families, and adults each year. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call 524-1100 or visit the website at www.genesisbh.org. ily determined by terrain and vegetation.

Surely there are some better and verifiable trail-cam images out there, and if requested I'll not reveal anyone's identity or precise location. Ergo, I'm waiting...

I've been keeping track of cougar sightings in New Hampshire for more than four decades, investigating and publishing only the very best, the encounters that are beyond any reasonable doubt. Thus I'm carrying around in my head about a dozen reports that I consider unassailable.

Among them is the Canaan Hill mountain lion, which has been seen by several residents and passersby. It appears to be a young adult, and appears to pose no threat.

But ah, there's the rub. Adult cougars can weigh almost 200 pounds, and need a lot to eat.

We're all presumed to adore such top predators as symbols of the wild, assigning them the same kind of lofty emotional perch we've reserved for the wolf.

But mountain lions out West have been known to take children, and even adults of small stature. I remember a story about a 5-year-old (or so) in Colorado dragged off in front of his horrified parents, and a widely reported incident in California a couple of decades ago when tree-perched cougar killed a slightly built woman jogger with a bite to the neck.

One of the old saws about travelling in far-flung forests is that there is nothing in the woods of the Northeast that'll kill you but your own stupidity. If you think about it, it's true. Absent grizzly or brown bears, and (in theory) absent a viable cougar population, about the only threat is not checking or being ready for the weather, or forgetting some crucial item for your pack.

Earlier this month, a family camping trip to Green Canyon Hot Springs in Idaho nearly turned tragic when a four-year-old girl, supposedly put to bed for the night, went outside the tent looking for a shoe and was snatched up by a cougar, which her mother had caught a glimpse of earlier. When the nearby parents heard screams, the mother, who was closer, ran at the cat, which dropped the child and

The girl escaped with bite marks, punctures and slashes, and will be all right. Idaho Fish and Game officers enlisted a hound hunter to track and tree the cat nearby, and killed it.

"It could have gone the other way so easily," the girl's grandfather told the East Idaho News. "She could have been gone and we would have never seen her."

So as the New Hampshire cougar story expands and evolves, we supposedly pine for the creature's return to its ancestral territory, as one more symbol of all that's wild and free, and of righting old wrongs (moose, turkey, falcon, marten, and wonderfully on and on). But in the cougar's case, would we be able to live with the consequences?

Since it began in Laconia in 1999, the New Hampshire Law Enforcement Torch Run organization's Fueling Dreams initiative has raised over $4 million for Special Olympics and set an example for other states to follow. Tilton Police Chief Robert Cormier, a leader in LETC, said they anticipate reaching a total of more than half a million dollars New England-wide when the 2016 campaign is done.

Following the concert, residents of NHVH were then escorted to the Tioga Pavilion, greeted by AL Post 58 Commander Richard Stanley and other members from the Post. There they were invited to enjoy a traditional summer cookout fare of hamburgers, hot dogs and salads, topped off with ice cream from Jordan's Ice Cream in Belmont.

"Since the bandstand's 100th year birthday all the events and concerts we've held here have been special, but this was one of the most memorable," said Linda Frawley, chair of Belmont's Heritage Commission.

His older brother Luke Morrison earned his Eagle badge last summer when he gathered donations of blankets for the homeless as his own Eagle Scout project. As Logan set out on his own quest to achieve that rank in scouting, their younger sister Leah pitched in, too, creating special hygiene packs of soaps, towels and toiletries to add to her brother's project.

"It's been good for the boys and Leah to be a part of their community and see the difference they can make when people pitch in and work together," said their mom Ursula Morrison.

After delivering two carloads of goods to First Fruits Pantry at Mountain View Church last Friday morning, director Bob Presby congratulated and thanked Morrison for a job well done.

Each box and bag was carefully weighed as it came through the door, and in the end, Presby recorded 545 pounds of food and household items.

Morrison then handed him cash donations totaling $1,100 after $218 was used to purchase some additional nonperishable food items for the pantry.

"This is great because for every dollar we receive, our buying power can actually turn it into another pound of food," said Presby.

That made Morrison's total contribution an amazing 1,645 pounds of food for local families, more than doubling his goal.

"That makes me feel really good. It took a while to get this done, but I'm just glad I could do something to help my community and know that people will have meals for their families," said Morrison.

Besides the commercial donations he received, Morrison said he also wanted to thank all who contributed food and cash for the pantry, especially a former teacher who made a very generous donation that helped him surpass his goal.

Morrison will next make a presentation on his project to the Eagle Scout Review Board later this month and then await their final determination.

First Fruits Food Pantry is actually a small and very efficient grocery store filled with dry goods, milk, meats, canned goods, toiletries, and anything else one would shop for at a local store. Much of their inventory comes to them through the New Hampshire Food Bank, but they also rely heavily on local donations to keep the shelves well stocked.

Presby said donations such as Morrison's mean a lot to them. He and his staff of volunteers are currently assisting 45 clients, which translates into approximately 150 people whom they are feeding. Each person receives a week's worth of groceries per visit.

"We give out three meals a day for a week for all of those people. You do the math," Presby said.

(We did. It comes out to 3,150 meals overall per week.)

Steele Hill Resort sales staff and employees have also been steady contributors to the pantry along with the student body at Sanbornton Central School. It's donations like those and other local businesses that help keep families fed in the Lakes Region, he added.

First Fruits Pantry is located on Upper Bay Road in Sanbornton, and is open the first and third Wednesday of each month. For more information or to make a donation please contact them at 524-5996.

Despite graduation losses, Bears still plenty talented

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

TILTON – It was a season for the record books for the Winnisquam Regional High School football team in 2015, as the Bears ran the table undefeated in the regular season, capturing the NHIAA Division III South Conference championship. But the ride ended a bit prematurely, as Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough came to Tilton and pulled off a semifinal upset, halting Winnisquam just one game shy of a state championship berth and a final record of 9-1.

The loss marked the end of the careers of many outstanding players, including perennial All-State picks in quarterback Christian Serrano and wide receiver Tim Harmon. With many new faces in some key positions, this year's edition of the Bears will look a tad different to fans. But head coach Pat Riberdy, who enters his ninth season at the helm with a career record of 46-30, has some key returning options to ease the transition into what undoubtedly will be an interesting season at WRHS.

"We're very proud of the season we had,"

JEFF LAJOIE

Winnisquam senior running back Jake Snow returns this fall, and he'll be one of the focal points of the Bear offense after the squad graduated players like Christian Serrano and Tim Harmon.

said Riberdy. "One game didn't define us. We just had a bad game. Whatever it was, something in the air that day that didn't work our way. But we're proud of that season and building off it still. We wanted to get over that middle of the pack hump and now that we have, we just need to keep moving forward."

Winnisquam opens defense of its South Conference title on Sept. 2 on the road at Somersworth (7 p.m.), before traveling to defending state champion Newport in Week 2 on Sept. 10 (1:30 p.m.). The home opener is slated for Sept. 17 against rival Franklin (1:30 p.m.), as the Bears are scheduled to play their entire home slate right on the WRHS campus. The rest of the 2016 schedule features tilts against Bishop Brady (Sept. 23), Raymond (Oct. 1), Farmington-Nute (Oct. 15), Campbell (Oct. 22) and Epping-Newmarket

Brendan Vaughn of Winnisquam will see time at wide receiver and in the defensive backfield this fall.

(Oct. 29).

Who's out: The Bears graduated one of their top classes in program history, led by the dazzling Serrano, who helped shape Winnisquam over the course of his four years. Serrano, who moved into the quarterback position for his senior year after three years as the top rusher on the squad, had the ability to single-handedly break plays for long touchdowns, and his dynamic abilities will be sorely missed this fall.

Harmon was a First Team All-State receiver who caught double-digit touchdown passes from Serrano last year. The big target transformed into one of the top receivers in the state, and his size (6-foot-4) and route running made him a matchup nightmare for opposing defenses.

The duo weren't the only huge losses to graduation however, as fellow skill position stars Matt McHugh, Joey Correia and Cody Varney also moved on. McHugh and Correia were also huge cogs on the Winnisquam defense, while Varney was selected to play in the Shrine Game earlier this summer alongside Harmon.

Also on the defensive side of the ball, tackles Logan Patten and Steven Bass-Wagner will be big departures via graduation.

Veteran Raiders seek consistency as new season approaches

BY JEFF LAJOIE

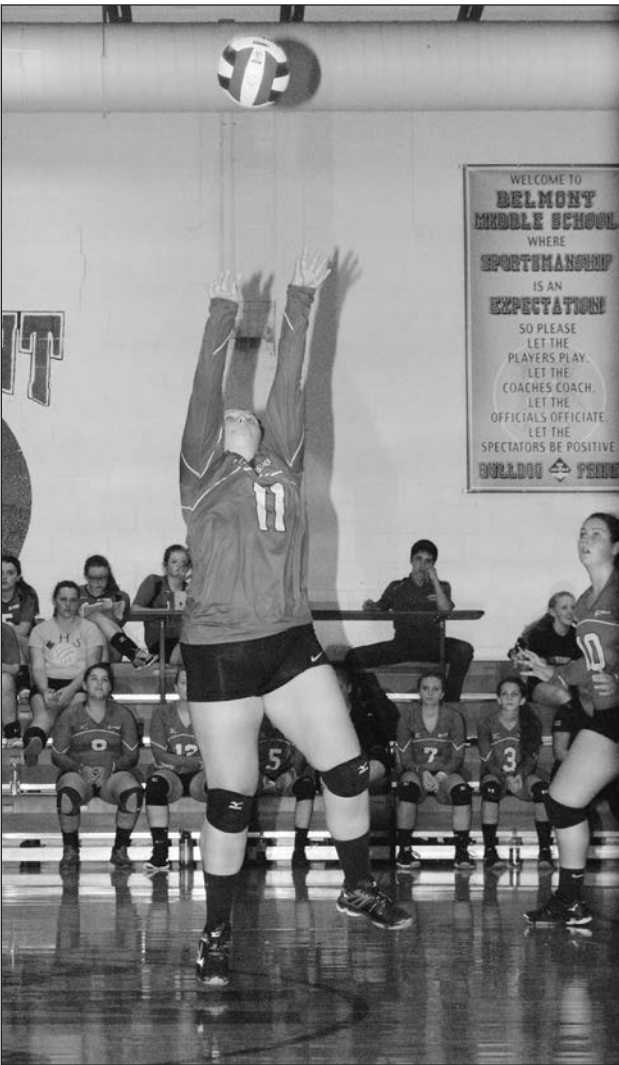

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

BELMONT – With a versatile and deep senior class to lead the way, the Belmont High School volleyball team has visions of making a charge through the NHIAA Division III tournament this fall. New head coach John Rodgers takes over for Melissa Miner, and he’s looking to help catapult a Red Raider team that posted back-to-back 6-11 seasons in 2014 and 2015.

“Our goal is to make it to (the Final Four),” said Rodgers of the Raiders, which lost to Winnisquam in the D-III preliminary round last year. “We’re returning seven players from last year’s squad and we’re starting to gel very well already as a unit.”

Belmont is set to open its 2016 slate on Sept. 2 with a road game against Franklin before hosting Masce-nic in the home opener on Sept. 9. The Raiders play two matches each against Franklin, Win-nisquam, Pittsfield and Prospect Mountain.

Who’s in: Belmont has six players new to the varsity club, led by junior middle hitter

JEFF LAJOIE

Belmont senior setter Emily LaFlam will find herself right in the middle of the action this season, as the Raiders aim to improve upon a 6-11 season in 2015.

Keagan Berry. Sophomores Tatum Hartford (libero), Jenny Joyce (right side hitter), Chantelle Martin (setter/right side hitter), and Arianna Janosz (OH) are also on the club, while freshman Rebecca Camire (defensive specialist/setter) is the lone member of her class up with the varsity.

Who’s out: Belmont graduated just three seniors from last year’s team, headlined by middle hitter Andrey-a Murphy. Fellow hitters Madison Hartford and Alexis Sanborn also graduated off the Red Raider roster.

Who to watch: Senior setter Emily LaFlam stirs the drink for the Belmont offense, and she’s got plenty of experience in the position to lead the way.

Gilford-Belmont set for inaugural varsity co-op season

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

GILFORD – For the sixth time in eight years, a new coach will lead the way for the Gilford High School football team this fall. The Golden Eagles turn to Josh Marzahl this fall, as he takes over for Shawn Garrett, who compiled a 10-8 overall record in two years at the helm.

Marzahl, who was the JV coach at GHS the past two years, has the arduous challenge of guiding a Gilford squad that officially merged with Belmont High School for a Gilford-Belmont cooperative program at the varsity level this fall. The two towns have combined at the JV level for the past two seasons, but this year marks the first time the squads will compete in a varsity game.

The changes weren’t done there however, as Gilford-Belmont was re-aligned, moving from Division III to the Division II North Conference. The two schools’ combined enrollments necessitated the move up, and the level of competition is not going to be easy. Last year’s Gilford team went just 2-6 overall in D-III, and the squad will now compete in the stand-ings with fellow North Conference foes Bow, Hanover, John Stark, Kennett, Kingswood, Laconia, Lebanon, Merrimack Valley, Pembroke and Plymouth.

The Eagles lost some key players to graduation from last year’s team, with All-State quarterback Carter Mercer headlining the departures. Wide receiver Brandon Sasserson also moved on, as did reliable lineman Shane Podmore.

FOOTBALL

“We do have kids who were playing behind all those guys last year waiting their turn,” explained Riberdy. “We want to emphasize to them, it’s your turn. You saw what kind of work they put in; you don’t just show up and become an All-State player and put up those numbers. You have to do the work. Now’s your chance, we’ll put you in the position to succeed.”

Who to watch: Senior Hunter Tierney steps into the starting quarterback role, and Riberdy said that he’s confident the new signal caller can lead the Win-nisquam offense.

“He hasn’t had a lot of game time so we’re working on some things but Hunter can runt he ball if he needs to, get out of the pocket and scramble,” offered Riberdy. “I think as he gains experience, he’s going to be strong in that spot for us.”

The running game will certainly be the focal point of the Bear offense however, and senior Jake Snow is the main option after starting at tailback a year ago. Snow and fellow senior Dominic Lamanuzzi will get the lion’s share of the carriers.

“Jake is one of the key components of the offense,” explained Riberdy. “We want to pound and set things up so Hunter doesn’t have to work so hard and we can run some play action. But run is our first option, whether it’s Jake or Dominic; we have a good mix of power and quickness there.”

While Harmon’s loss creates a big void on the outside, the Bears will work in senior receivers Brendan Vaughn and Garrett Patten, along with classmate Isaiah Singleton who has impressed early.

On the line, junior TJ Robinson and seniors Cody Griffin and Tyler Moran pace a huge unit that averages somewhere north of 240 pounds. Robinson is an All-State caliber lineman, while Griffin returns to his familiar spot at center.

“This year’s line

should be very comfortable guiding the attack, junior outside hitter Jordyn Laval-lee and senior middle hitter Shannon Davies are two top offensive options that she’ll look to distribute the ball to this fall. Lavallee burst onto the scene last year after transferring in from Goffstown, and she wound up being arguably the most dynamic hitter in the Raider rotation. Davies has plenty of hitting power as well, and if she gets on a role serving the ball, look out.

Senior Lindsey Huckins returns after several years of varsity experience as a right side hitter, while junior Amber Lemay is also back and should contribute as an outside hitter once again.

The defensive contingent for the Raiders is led by senior defensive specialist Sam Lugar and sophomore libero Morgan Ferguson, as the pair return after manning the back row a year ago.

“We’ve got a lot of leaders on and off the court, a lot of natural leaders,” offered Rodgers. “And the talent is extraordinary.”

Outlook: It’s a big season for the Raiders, as they look to climb out from back to back losing seasons and one and done playoff trips. The senior class is plenty experienced to get the job done, and Lavallee is a top-notch hitting talent. Belmont went 4-1 in its pre-season jamboree at Plymouth State, and if the Raiders can put it all together on a consistent basis, they’ll be able to surprise some teams around the Lakes Region.

Hunt, Antonucci set to lead golf Raiders

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

BELMONT – The numbers are there for the Belmont High School golf team this season, and despite the graduation loss to top player Mike Sanborn from a year ago, the Red Raiders seem primed to improve upon last year’s 6-14 season, with eyes on qualifying for a team to the NHIAA Division III state tournament.

“Our numbers are great this year and pretty evenly distributed throughout all the grades,” offered Belmont head coach Kevin Charleston. “This will be great for the future of the program, but we have a lot of work to do getting some of our younger players up to speed with tournament golf.”

There’s a solid returning core back for the Raiders this fall, led by seniors Trevor Hunt and Nicole Antonucci, who both have loads of match and tournament experience. Junior Wyatt Paquin and sophomores Michael Marrone and Karley Towne were also regulars in last year’s rotation, while junior Robbie Skaff also returns for Wyatt Paquin, Karley Towne, and Michael Marrone. In our division we play seven golfers and count four scores, so we will rely on four of these players for scoring. As the season progresses, the hope is some of the newer players will begin to contribute to the scoring as their play matures.”

Sophomore Hunter Davies is new to the roster, while the freshman trio of Samantha Jelley, Paige Irving and Will Robarge round out the squad.

“If there is ever a year we need to be mentally tough, it’s this year, and I think we have the players in place to grind out matches even when things don’t go as planned,” said Charleston. “Looking at our roster, we have some players that can do this, and I hope their toughness becomes contagious with the others on the team.”

Belmont is set to open the 2016 season with a trip to play on the road at Derryfield (Sept. 1). The home opener at Canterbury Woods is slated for Sept. 13, while the NHIAA Division III state tournament is scheduled for Oct. 6 and 8 at Waukegan Golf Club in Center Harbor.
