Public Works to get new sand shed

BY ERIN PLUMMER
eplummer@salmonpress.com

The Public Works Department will soon get a new salt and sand storage unit, partly thanks to budget savings from this year's mild winter.

Public Works director Peter Nourse presented the project to the board of selectmen during their meeting on April 27.

The town is holding sand and salt in an open unit covered by a tarp. Nourse said during the meeting, which was recorded and posted on the town website, the salt they keep can freeze. Additionally the sand and salt has been stored close to a stream, which is not best practice with the Department of Environmental Services. The tarp covering the salt and sand can be a hazard in wind and thunderstorms; it also ices over and breaks down under UV rays.

Nourse said the biggest concern is that they have found evidence of children playing in the sand, which is a significant safety issue. Nourse said they have alerted the police department about this.

Every year since 2014, voters have approved $20,000 to be put into a capital reserve fund for the future purchase of a new shed. In 2015 the town sought an engineering study for an enclosed, storage unit for salt and sand.

This year the town had a mild winter and Public Works spent much less than expected for winter response and maintenance.

"This is the time that we could get a shelter that meets the town's needs," Nourse said.

The town put out a request for proposal for a unit to store 250 tons of sand with three openings. Three options were presented with differences in how many sides are enclosed and if there is a door.

Nourse said the preferred option was the third one of a four-sided unit with three fabricated sides and an overhead rolling door, which has a cost of $88,450. Nourse said they are recommending a door because of the issue with children getting in. The new structure will also be a place to store equipment during the non-winter months.

The capital reserve fund for the storage unit contains $60,043.73. The balance of $28,406 will be taken from the remaining money in this year's salt and sand line. Nourse said they normally budget $150,000 for winter operations, but the department used so little this year it will have $32,000 left for future salt purchases after this expenditure. Currently they have 400 tons of salt in cold storage.

Selectman Gus Benavides said he fully supported this proposal. He said he has listened to staff for several years and this is an ongoing issue. Benavides said the tarps are not only a safety issue for children, but also for staff as well as they lead to increased risk for slips and falls.

"I think it's the right thing to do here," Benavides said. "The DPW has been planning for a long time."

Board Chair Richard Grenier said not only does he support this, the taxpayers have supported this with the $20,000 that has gone into the capital reserve fund every year.

The project will be done by Rubb Building Systems. Benavides asked if there was consideration to put it to bid to get anyone else. Nourse said this comes specifically from the manufacturer with tight specifications and requiring a specific galvanizing process. He said few companies meet this exact specification, especially for longevity. Rubb Building Systems has made aircraft hangars as well as buildings for Laconia Public Works, that he said still look new after 13 years.

The selectmen unanimously approved a motion to accept the quote of $88,450 from Rubb Building Systems.

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS

Library Correspondent

New Englanders are no strangers to seeing worn granite grave-stones with etchings scrawled across the front in tiny graveyards around many corners. Who is buried there? What was their story?—because there is a story behind every one, even the toppled and poor stones.

Author MJ Pettengill came across the Country Farm-Pauper Cemetery in Ossipee, and had the same thought. As she explains on her website, she has dedicated herself to “sift through the dust” to piece together the experiences of forgotten peoples. She is most interested in those people that history documented poorly, believing that their stories inform the present just as the well documented and popular historical figures do. As she says, “It is my goal to give voice to those who were si-

A fascinating task for a fascinating person. Her first book is called “Etched in Granite,” a historical fiction set on a poor New England farm shortly after the Civil War. The story is told in three voices of the farm residents. Originally a work of non-fiction, Pettengill’s love for history and her long hours of sleuthing jump off the pages in “Etched in Granite.” She draws upon her own family history and the scattered information about the Abenaki Native Americans to give life to her characters and setting.

Librarians know more than most about the challenge of digging up information that is apparently lost. When Pettengill visited the Country Farm-Pauper Cemetery in Ossipee with its 298 numbered graves, she resolved herself to finding the names and stories of those buried there. Right from the start, she encountered resistance as some of the records were lost in a fire. Others thought that the work was fruitless or that the names and lives of the paupers weren’t worth the trouble. Despite the difficulty, her research helped Pettengill paint a picture of what life was like for ‘paupers’ in 19th Century New England. She found that the Civil War and the economic depression that followed it took its toll on the poor, elderly, mentally ill, and socially unwanted in a way that is left out of most contemporary history books.

Knowing how popular historical fiction, genealogy, and New England history are here in Gilford, we invited MJ Pettengill to the Library to talk about and read her work, sign, and to answer questions we have. The fruit of her research is available to us through her book and this upcoming talk. She will be here on Tuesday, May 17 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Books will be available at the event. You can learn more about MJ Pettengill from her website, mjpettengill.com.

Partnership for Public Health updates communities on projects, mission

BY ERIN PLUMMER
eplummer@salmonpress.com

Preparing for emergencies, finding ways to reduce the heroin epidemic, and helping past and present military personnel are just a few of the projects being undertaken by the Lakes Region Partnership for Public Health and its partners. Executive Director Lisa Morris and Kathleen Merriam, volunteer coordinator for the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) have been speaking to local boards of selectmen, recently visiting Gilford's board. During the April 27 Gilford selectmen's meeting, that was recorded and posted on the town website, Morris said every few years they will come to the towns and explain the work of their organization. The organization's goal is protecting and maintaining community healthcare. Morris said they will build relations with various community partners and within the community itself to address various topics in public health. They will develop various plans with various sectors in the community including government, businesses, schools, first responders, and many more. The state has established 13 area health networks. This area has the Winnepesaukee Regional Health Council encompassing all of Belknap County as well as Franklin, Hill, Danbury, and Northfield.

Gilford representative Geoff Ruggles said this collaboration involves over 86 agencies and 100 individuals in eight groups that work on the council, which identifies regional needs. They provide information resources and essential health data to create better outcomes. Ruggles said part of this involves public health networks in the Laconia and Twin Rivers areas feeding data to the council. Ruggles, who is also the town's welfare director, said he wanted to be involved in this effort. "I thought it was important to get involved to help some of our residents in need so they don't have to come to the town for assistance for whatever reason," Ruggles said. In Gilford they have been working with Deputy Brad Ober and the Gilford Drug and Alcohol Taskforce as well as the school district. This year, they have been training students and teachers in suicide prevention. Morris said the council has been talking with various agencies and businesses to find out if any clients or employees have or are serving in the military. This effort aims to help them find the resources available to them. "The big thing is to ask the question," Morris said. Another focus is mental health and addiction services. Morris said the state put $150 million into mental health services and the council will work with primary care physicians on an integrated approach to behavioral health needs. They will work with various agencies to put in an application for funds over the next five years to improve capacity. "Obviously, we have an epidemic going on in substance use and we need to figure this out and finally the resources will be available to the region to do that," Morris said. Morris said they are looking for the municipalities to also be involved in this effort and they want to give the boards updates from time to time. All of the regions are working on emergency preparedness. The Winnepesaukee network has around 82,000 people year round, though that number can be doubled or tripled in the summer and Motorcycle Week. Morris said that in Gilford they have been working with Fire Chief Stephen Carrier on how to manage that many people in the middle of a public health emergency. They will work on an emergency plan and exercise it on a regular basis. In the event of an emergency multiple agency teams will get together medical personnel and others on what the emergency is and how to get necessary supplies and equipment. Considerations include how to immunize 80,000 people.

Pet of the Week: Conner

Meet Conner, a strikingly handsome, infinitely photogenic Labrador-mix boy.

He likes having his picture taken and frankly, either side is his best side!

He's travelled all the way from Mississippi for a second chance up here in the cool, crisp Granite State where life for dogs is pretty good.

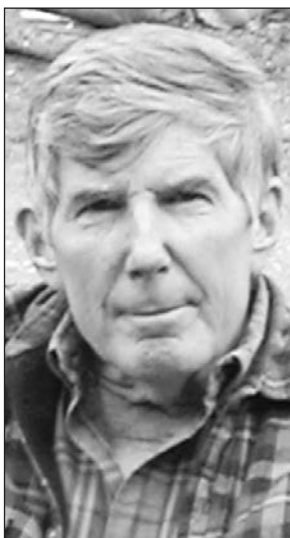

Less than two years old, he is ready to bond with humans who can provide the mental stimulation he needs, he's a smart boy, while at the same time monitor his physical needs, he does have an issue with his elbow, likely something he has been genetically dealt. Our medical team have assessed him – and pronounced him ready for adoption.

We are sure he would do well in a home without small children, and one where there are no cats, in spite of a funny elbow, he might just find them irresistible.

A sweet, more delightful dog you will not find at New Hampshire Humane Society. Visit this good looking dog, you will fall in love.

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

I was just beginning a wonderful circular drive around the North Country this past Wednesday when, at the western approach to Dixville Notch, I came across a chunk of ice. "Across" is probably the wrong word, because this fragment of glacier was not in the road, but instead clinging tenaciously to a small cliff, like a limpet mine on the hull of a ship.

For some reason, this reminded me of an oft-repeated statement by Warren Pearson, longtime skimeister at New Hampshire's northernmost ski area, The Wilderness, near where I encountered the ice. One of his frustrations was how to get the word out to skiers down south that long after most other ski areas had shut down for the season, The Wilderness still had plenty of snow.

"It's hard to convince people mowing their lawns in Boston that we still have plenty of snow," was his succinct way of putting it. Warren had the clipped accent of western Maine, not the better known Downeast drawl, and didn't mince words.

Further east, over the lip of the notch and coasting down into the

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

Ice, ice, it's everywhere, just what you need for a drink

JOHN HARRIGAN

This flying goose hunk of ice was more like an octopus, clutching at a rock face west of Dixville Notch, where the rays of the climbing sun will ultimately shoot it down.

Androscoggin drainage toward Maine, there was still plenty more snow and ice in the rubble of rock on the floor of the notch, where the sun hardly shines at all.

Not that this is the only place snow and ice can still be found in northern or high-country New Hampshire. There are plenty of places, in plenty of climes, where relics of winter will hang on well into early June, and still other places that will linger longer.

During my hiking days, when I knew many of the Appalachian Mountain Club's hut crews on a first-name basis, one of my favorite destinations was Carter Notch Hut, situated in a high valley tucked behind Wildcat Mountain. You reached it via Carter Dome, a lightning-prone bald pate of glacier-scraped bedrock featuring a heart-stopping descent to a convivial supper and a warm bunk for the night.

There is an ice-cave there just beyond the hut, aligned in such a way that the snow packs in there, driven by the fierce northwest winds, but the sun barely penetrates even on the longest days of summer. And back in there, as the cave's mini-glacier slowly recedes, hikers and hut-keepers alike keep stuff that'll spoil or they just want kept cool—butter, milk, and of course beer.

At Pittsburg's Boundary Pond, at 2,335 feet one of the state's highest ponds reachable (almost) by road, a famous deposit of snow and ice can usually be found southeast of the dam, well into high summer and sometimes beyond. Generations of people who've fished there have known about it, for good reason. If you plan to cook before the evening rise, for instance, and need your cooler and ice for the boat (wink, nudge), you can scamper down below the dam and put your other spoilables on a nice little glacier of compacted snow.

Boundary, by the way, in times of yore known as Mountain Pond, is the pond on which famed local pilot Harry Scott vowed to land his float plane (and of course take off again) but waited nearly a lifetime for the right conditions to do it.

This is a pond where the Canadian northwesterlies blow fiercely most of the time, having attained awesome speed crossing the mostly open and flat countryside of the Eastern Townships of southern Quebec. They then smash into the remnants of the Appalachian Mountains that form the boundary, and crash up and over, of course, Boundary Pond.

Great response to Conservation District plant sale

To the Editor:

The 2016 Plant Sale hosted by Belknap County Conservation District (BCCD) drew strong interest from County residents. Our plant orders are up 160% from last year. Many folks stopped by to pick up perennials, berry plants, shrubs, trees and even trout for their ponds on April 29-May 1. Everyone received a card thanking them for their support with conservation tips and a packet of pumpkin seeds.

BCCD appreciates local support for the Plant Sale which is a fund-raiser for the District and an opportunity to connect with County residents interested in learning more about they can conserve natural resources on their land. We can all make a difference in improving the environment by planting trees or growing our own food.

We offer special thanks to the Gilmanton Iron Works Fire Department and Picnic Rock Farms in Meredith who offered great locations for our Plant Sale. Thanks also to our volunteers including Jan Hooper, Shirley Stokes, Quinn Brouliard, and a great crew from Belknap-Merrimack Community Action Program Work Place Success that helped prepare plants for sale; and Gator Signs for a new banner for the sale. Lisa Morin, BCCD Program Coordinator worked long hours coordinating the event and packaging plants.

Now we look forward to hearing stories next year on how well the planting went and hopefully, to see the BCCD seeds produce some pumpkins that make their way to the New Hampshire Pumpkin Festival in Laconia on Oct. 22.

Your support for the Belknap County Conservation District matters. Our mission is to help landowners, communities and other organizations conserve soil, water and the natural resources of Belknap County. BCCD achieves its mission by:

Identifying critical natural resource conservation issues and needs

Initiating projects that demonstrate conservation best practices

Delivering conservation information and training

Creating access to technical and financial resources that enable conservation action

Marching Lions

Laconia/Gilford Lions Club members Mike Adams and Matt Soza, pictured above, attended the Second Annual Walk for Addiction Awareness held Saturday, April 30 in Tilton. They joined nearly a hundred who walked to raise money and awareness about the substance abuse epidemic in the area and promote organizations offering treatment. The motto for the event—"Use the Power of Lions to Break the Chains of Addiction"—was fitting in several ways.

Stand-Up Lakes Region anti-drug program welcomes Chris Herren to Bank of NH Pavilion on May 10

GILFORD — Stand-Up Laconia received a $6,000 donation from Meredith Village Savings Bank (MVSb) to secure Stand Up Laconia Lakes Region, a special event featuring guest speaker Chris Herren, recovering addict and former professional basketball player for the Boston Celtics, at Bank of New Hampshire Pavilion on May 10. Herren, who has already inspired thousands of youth nationwide with his personal account of addiction and success with recovery, will address approximately 5,000 Lakes Region junior high and high school students from Laconia, Winnisquam, Moultonborough, Wolfboro, Inter-Lakes, Belmont, Tilton, Farmington and Gilford. The event is free to all attending students.

"Chris has struggled with substance abuse for much of his basketball career. Drug-free and alcohol-free since Aug. 1, 2008, Chris has refocused his life to put his sobriety and family above everything else. He attends meetings daily to support his substance-free lifestyle, often sharing his experiences and road to sobriety," said Luke Freudenberg, co-owner of Winnepesaukee Waterfront Management and member of the Wolfboro Board of Selectmen. "With commitment from local schools and the community, plus the generous donation from MVSb, teens will hear his story about stardom and success and how opportunities can vanish for a person just as quickly as they appear. It's encouraging to see and hear how his journey became another kind of success story through recovery. Chris reminds us that hope is always an option, and that we can survive and manage the peaks and valleys of life while clean and sober."

"We are honored to support this event, which will bring a much-needed and inspiring message to the youth of our region," said Rick

Wyman, President of MVSb. "Chris Herren's experience offers guidance to local teens making crucial decisions every day about their own health, welfare and future."

Herren's professional basketball career began in 1999, when he was first drafted by the Denver Nuggets. He was later traded to the Celtics in 2000. As years passed, his addiction grew to a point where he could no longer play without being on drugs or intoxicated. He adopted a clean and sober lifestyle in 2008, and since that time, he's conducted more than 250 speeches per year, educating the youth about the dangers of substance misuse. Herren has been profiled in "Unguarded," an ESPN 30 for 30 film released in 2011, and has authored "Basketball Junkie," a memoir chronicling his tortured battle with addiction. He has also founded The Herren Project, a non-profit offering education and mentorship on substance misuse for people of all ages.

Stand Up Lakes Region was originally conceptualized by Freudenberg and Shawn Coope of Wolfboro.

"Destiny guided Chris to us through Luke," said Eric Adams, Executive Committee Member for Stand Up Laconia, a Laconia-based coalition working to end substance misuse. "I am grateful that Luke took the initiative and booked Chris. I'm thankful that it all worked out in a way that MVSb was able to step in and alleviate our fundraising efforts to repay Luke. Having Chris come to speak to our teens could not have come at a better time."

LCA to present “Little Women, The Musical”

LACONIA — Laconia Christian Academy will present the Broadway Musical “Little Women” at The Winnepesaukee Playhouse May 20 and 21 at 7 p.m. and May 22 at 2 p.m. Directed by LCA teacher, Jennifer Blieler, who helmed last year’s well received production of “Fiddler on the Roof” at the playhouse, “Little Women,” the musical, is based on Louisa May Alcott’s classic 1869 semi-autobiographical novel. The story follows the lives of the four March sisters Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy and their mother, Marmee in their Concord Massachusetts home while their father serves in the Union Army as a chaplain. The musical appeared on Broadway in 2005 with the book by Allan Knee, lyrics by Mindi Dickstein, and the music by Jason Howland. It won a Tony award for actress Sutton Foster as Jo. LCA’s cast includes Rachel Dadian as Jo, whose heart is set on being a successful writer; Anna Collins as Meg, the romantic; Ryann Hendricks as kind-hearted Beth and Abigail Dadian as the artistic, youngest sister, Amy. Also featured in the cast are Lynn Dadian as the girl’s mother, Marmee, Dan McKinney as neighbor Laurie, Bob McKinney as Laurie’s stern grandfather, Jennifer Manning as Aunt March, Stephen Watson as Professor Bhaer and Andrew Burke as John Brookes. ### Here’s How to Keep Your Portfolio Healthy

If you have a medical appointment this week, you might want to wish your nurse a happy National Nurses Week. This annual event is designed to celebrate the important role nurses play in health care. Of course, while nurses and doctors can help you in many ways, you can do a lot of good for yourself by adopting healthy living habits, such as eating right, exercising frequently, and so on. But you can also do much to help your financial health.

Here are a few suggestions:

- Stay invested. During times of market volatility, it can be tempting to head to the investment “sidelines” until things “cool off.” Going to the sidelines can mean a few different things – you could simply not invest anything for a while, or you could move a substantial portion of your portfolio to “cash” instruments, which are safe in the sense of preserving your principal but offer almost nothing in the way of return or protecting against inflation. If you’re not investing during a market downturn, or if you’ve moved heavily into cash, you might well miss out on the beginning of the next market rally.
- Rebalance your portfolio. It’s a good idea to periodically rebalance your portfolio to make sure it still reflects your goals and your comfort level with risk. Over time, and without any effort on your part, your portfolio can become unbalanced. For example, following a long “bull” market, the value of your stocks could have risen to the point where they make up a greater percentage of your portfolio than you had intended. When that happens, you may need to rebalance by adding bonds and other fixed-income vehicles.
- Diversify. Rebalancing is important. But a balanced portfolio should also be a diversified portfolio. If you only owned one type of financial asset, such as U.S. growth stocks, you could take a big hit during a market downturn. But different types of financial assets don’t always move in the same direction at the same time, so by owning a wide variety of investments – U.S. stocks, international stocks, government securities, corporate bonds, real estate, certificates of deposit (CDs) and so on – you may help reduce the effects of market volatility on your portfolio. Keep in mind, though, that diversification by itself can’t guarantee profits or protect against loss.
- Maintain realistic expectations. If you expect the financial markets to always move upward, you will be disappointed many times. Market downturns are a normal part of the investment process, and they will always be with us. Once you accept this reality, you will be less likely to make questionable decisions, such as abandoning a long-term strategy. If you’ve designed an appropriate strategy, possibly with the help of a financial professional, you can stick with it through all market environments.

By following the suggestions mentioned above – staying invested, rebalancing your portfolio as needed, diversifying your holdings and maintaining realistic expectations, you can go a long way toward maintaining the fitness of your financial situation.

Edmond O'Brien races the clock to solve the mystery of his poisoning in “D.O.A.”

Innovative 1950 thriller is this weekend's “After Dark” feature on LRPA-TV

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (May 13 & 14) for our “LRPA After Dark” presentation of 1950’s dark and gritty film noir drama “D.O.A.,” starring Edmond O’Brien and Pamela Britton.

Told in flashback, “D.O.A.” introduces us to Frank Bigelow (O’Brien), a businessman visiting San Francisco for a care-free week of bachelor fun before he weds his fiancée Paula Gibson (Britton). O’Brien meets up with a group of salesmen and winds up in a wild, waterfront jazz bar, only to have a mysterious stranger switch his drink. O’Brien wakes up in the morning with the hangover of his life. Feeling worse and worse, he visits a hospital, where doctors give him tragic news: he has been poisoned with “luminous toxin” – and there’s no antidote. The poisoning must have been deliberate, but who could have done it, and why? With nothing to lose, Bigelow spends his next frantic days attempting to solve the mystery of this heinous act.

“D.O.A.” was based on the 1931 German film “Der Mann, Der Seinen Morder Sucht,” a black comedy about a man who arranges for his own death, but then regrets his hasty decision. When it was adapted for American audiences, director Rudolph Mate created a much darker and more chaotic world, filled with dive bars and dangerous people. “D.O.A.” features the talented (and underappreciated) Edmond O’Brien in one of his most memorable roles. The film was remade in 1988 starring Dennis Quaid and Meg Ryan. Critics and audiences heartily agreed: the original “D.O.A.” was definitely the best. Jeff Stafford of Turner Classic Movies described it as “one of the most imaginative and frenetic entries in the film noir genre ... “and pointed out that it “... works as both a detective thriller and as a bleak, nihilistic melodrama.” Judge “D.O.A.” for yourself! Grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark for this unflinching thriller from the past.

LRGHealthcare announces new President & CEO

LACONIA — The LRGHealthcare Board of Trustees (Board) is pleased to announce they have selected Kevin W. Donovan, FACHE as the organization's next President and Chief Executive Officer.

Donovan is currently the President and CEO of Mt. Ascutney Hospital and Health Center in Windsor, Vt., a position he has held since September, 2010. He will officially begin his tenure at LRGHealthcare mid-June.

Though the sudden resignation of LRGHealthcare's previous CEO, Seth Warren, took place only two months ago, the decision to offer the position to Donovan was not complicated. When the search for a new CEO commenced previously, Mr. Donovan was viewed as a top candidate alongside Warren. With three final candidates put before providers, administration, and the board; it was both Warren and Donovan who were the number one choices. Each came with extensive experience and the leadership skills to be the right fit for LRGHealthcare.

"I was confident in our decision as a board to explore the opportunity with Kevin after Seth's resignation," states Scott Clarenbach, Chairman of the Board. "We were pleased to learn that he was still available and interested in the opportunity to lead our organization."

Prior to joining Mt. Ascutney as President and CEO, Donovan's previous roles included serving as a Senior Vice President at the Elliot Health System in Manchester, Director at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Lebanon, and a hospital and physician practice leader in various organizations in Massachusetts.

Donovan's professional experience in healthcare dates back to the early '90's, though he's been around it his entire life growing up with several family members who were clinicians as well as hospital administrators.

"I have been working towards a position such as the President and CEO of LRGHealthcare for as long as I can remember," said Donovan. "It has always been my goal to lead a full-service, community-focused hospital and health system like those I grew up around. The position at LRGHealthcare is the perfect blend of opportunity for me as it achieves my professional goals and allows me to work and remain in New Hampshire where I have raised my children for the last 17 years."

In addition to the positions he's held at various healthcare organizations throughout New Hampshire, Donovan has been heavily involved with a number of professional and community organizations. To name just a few, he is a fellow of both the American College of Healthcare Executives and the American College of Medical Practice Executives; the president-elect for the Northern New England Association of Healthcare Executives; a board member for the Vermont Association of Hospital and Health Systems; a member of the American Hospital Association (AHA) Small and Rural Governing Council; and past president of the Windsor, Vt. Rotary Club and the Vermont Regent to the American College of Health Care Executives.

Clarenbach continued, "On behalf of the Board of Trustees we are very excited to welcome Kevin to our organization. His recent experiences in contemporary transformation and system wide health information system implementation are both aligned with LRGHealthcare's current needs. Kevin will be a leader that will be seen in our hallways as well as a visible member of our communities."

Donovan currently resides in New London with his four high-school aged children but plans to move to the area. Please join LRGHealthcare in welcoming Kevin W. Donovan to the LRGHealthcare family and its communities.

plex has two buildings already, with plans to build a third. The project also acquired land from the library for the project.

The grant would go toward the development of the 24-unit building. Gilford Village Knolls trustee Tony Ferullo said at the meeting, that was recorded and posted on the town website, the project would be situated on the lot that was originally owned by the library. The building would have a similar layout to Gilford Village Knolls II, with 24 single bedroom units and a common room.

Ferullo said the waiting list for Both Gilford Village Knolls I and II contains 60 applications.

“There’s obviously a need,” Ferullo said. “We’re asking for support from the town to support our grant application.”

Gilford Village Knolls has have partnered with the Laconia Area Community Land Trust to complete the project. Steven-Hubbard said Gilford Village Knolls, Inc., will sell the property to the partnership to create and develop the property.

“It’s absolutely needed in our community,” said Selectman Gus Benavides. “To date, the board of selectmen in Gilford has always been a proponent of the Gilford Village Knolls. You’ll absolutely get my vote and my endorsement of this.”

The board of selectmen unanimously approved a motion to submit the CDBG application and authorize the chair of the board to sign the approval and execute any documents. The board also approved the required Resident Anti-Displacement and Relocation Assistance Plan in case the project would displace anyone. Lane said this is required for any project seeking CDBG funding. Lane said this project, however, will not displace anyone.

always aborted in a sort of “touch and go” decision because he feared cracking up either on the way in or trying to get out. “But one day,” he whistled, “I happened to hit it just right,” and down he went, and after enjoying a pontoon ride around the pond a couple of times just to add emphasis and flirt with disaster, off he went again. Harry always began his sentences with a barely discernable whistle.

One time Dave Cook and I were under the dim confines of a big spruce tree there at Boundary, having been blown ashore by the usual tempest, and gradually our pupils dilated so that we could perceive the outlines of another creature under there, and it became Harry, seeking the same shelter. “Hello, boys,” he said with a little whistle, just as if we were encountering each other in downtown Colebrook.

One hot summer day at Boundary, “hot summer day” meaning about 55, with a Force Five gale, Bunny Bunnell and I had come ashore to avoid being blown off to Bangor, and as was our usual strategy in a crisis, one of us, or maybe both of us, called for an adult beverage to sooth our nerves and add a touch of sharpness to our already well-honed sagacity.

“But hark!” he cried, or something like that, “we need ice!” (the cooler’s supply somehow having become exhausted), and down over the dam I scrambled, because I was the younger and number, and fetched plenty.

Lachapelle clubs homers in back to back days as Eagles roll

BY JEFF LAJOIE

GILFORD – Home run derby kept the Gilford High School softball team on its current winning path last week.

For the second day in a row, sophomore shortstop Jillian Lachapelle clubbed a first inning home run, and freshman Lexi Boisvert also clubbed a homer over the fence as the Golden Eagles powered to a 10-4 win over visiting Laconia in Division III action on May 5.

Gilford, which improved to 6-2 overall entering this week, jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning on the strength of Samantha Knowles' RBI single and Lachapelle's three-run bomb over the center field fence.

Boisvert made it 6-0 in the second when she hit a no-doubter over the left field fence, scoring Sarah Lachapelle (single) to give Gilford a commanding advantage.

lead with three runs in the fourth to pull within 6-3, but a Boisvert RBI double in the fourth, a Stevie Orton RBI triple in the fifth and a Maggie McNeil RBI single in the fifth reestablished the advantage at 9-3.

The teams would trade runs from there as Boisvert scored on a wild pitch en route to the 10-4 victory.

Sarah Lachapelle was the winning pitcher for Gilford, as the senior retired the first 10 batters she faced and allowed just two hits to Laconia (both home runs). She totaled 11 strikeouts while walking just one and hitting a pair of batters.

The Eagles combined for 12 hits on the day, with Boisvert going a perfect 3-for-3 with three RBIs. Jillian Lachapelle also had three hits and three RBIs in the win. Taryn Breton had a hit and made a great catch in center field for Gilford.

GILFORD – With the finish line to the regular season in sight, there appears to be few things slowing down the three-time defending state champion Gilford High School boys' tennis team. The Golden Eagles continued to roll last week, sweeping a pair of matches against Littleton and White Mountains to enter this week's slate of matches with a perfect 9-0 record in Division III action.

While Gilford closed the week with a Saturday matinee 9-0 sweep of White Mountains at home, the squad took the trip up to Littleton on May 5 for a contest with the Crusaders.

Despite being without the services of two of the their starting six, the Eagles had few problems dispatching of Littleton in the 9-0 win. Alex Soberon Zertuche was an 8-0 winner at first singles, while teammates Grant Workman and Sam Shafique also took care of business in 8-0 fashion.

Kyle Davies captured an 8-2 win for Gilford, while Connor Craigie moved up to fourth singles and captured a come from behind 8-6 victory after trailing 6-5. Ethan Drew also showed a flare for the dramatic, turning a 7-6 deficit into a 9-7 win that enabled the Eagles to sweep the six singles matches.

Soberon Zertuche and Workman teamed for an 8-0 sweep at first doubles to continue the run, and Shafique and Craigie captured an 8-1 win in the two spot. Closing out the day was the duo of Josh Bolduc and Connor Sleeper, as they claimed an 8-4 win at number three for Gilford.

Against White Mountains, Tyler Hanf added to the winning side for the Eagles in addition to the top of their lineup, while the doubles team of Ricky Hughes and Sleeper captured a doubles win.

Girls' tennis

Littleton 8, Gilford 1

GILFORD – The match of the day came at fourth singles, where the Golden Eagles got a gutsy win from Josey Curley to get on the board against visiting Littleton on May 5.

Curley dug deep late in the match, winning the final two games after being tied 7-7 to capture a 9-7 win over Susan Aubin.

Littleton claimed the rest of the matches, with Gilford's Sisi Remick taking two games off Allie Horne at first singles in the other closest match of the day.

While the results haven't been exactly what the Eagles would have liked so far this season, head coach Hermann Defregger said his team has been extremely dedicated and hard-working on and off the court.

"These girls are the nicest, most caring athletes I have ever coached and I wish we could win (a match) because they deserve it," Defregger said.

White Mountains 8, Gilford 1

WHITEFIELD – A huge effort at second singles from Sarah Fillion led the Eagles during a Saturday matinee trip up north to White Mountains, as she claimed an 8-2 win over Imani Gaetjens-Olson in an 8-1 loss.

Curley once again played well at fourth singles, dropping a tight 9-7 decision to Monica Valderas, while Clara Jude (8-3) and Olivia Salesky (8-3) also had strong moments in losses at fifth and sixth

GILFORD – It was a dominant day for the Gilford High School girls' track and field team, as the Golden Eagles bested the four-school field by nearly 30 points on May 3.

Gilford finished with 93 points, taking the top spot ahead of runner-up Hopkinton (65.5). Franklin was third with 41.5 points while Concord Christian nabbed fourth with 29 points.

Junior Marina Baer won three individual events to power the Eagles on the day. She captured the javelin (117 feet, 10 inches), shot put (31-4.5) and long jump, while taking second place in the 100 hurdles.

Maddie Harris won two events for Gilford, snagging victories in both the triple jump and 300 hurdles while also adding a runner-up finish in the 100 meters and long jump.

Misty Medeiros won the 400 meters and was third in the 200 meters, while Jess Ladd won the discus and finished third in the 300 hurdles and javelin.

han and Shannon Mercer claimed victory, while runner-up finishes for Gilford also went to Kasey Moore in the javelin, Callahan in the 1,600, Madison Relf in the 3,200 and Stephan in the 400. Cordelia Penney took third in the discus, as did Gannon in the 800.

On the boys' side, Gilford finished second overall with 64 points behind just Hopkinton's 99 points. Concord Christian was third with 27 points, while Franklin nabbed fourth with 27 points.

Jacob Baer led the Eagles with a pair of wins in the 110 and 300 hurdles, and he added a second place showing in the high jump. Michael Wernig captured his first career win in the discus, and was also third in the shot put and fourth in the 800 meters.

Sandor Gamache won the triple jump for Gilford, and also added scoring performances in the 300 hurdles (second place) and long jump (fifth). Ryan LaFrance was second overall in both the 1,600 and 3,200, while Troy Gallagher took third in the discus.

bottom of the first inning from Jillian Lachapelle would be all the offense the Eagles needed on May 4. Gilford scored multiple runs in every inning en route to a 12-0 victory over visiting Newfound in a run-shortened contest.

Gilford starter Sarah Lachapelle got the victory in the pitching circle, as she struck out six and walked just one while allowing five hits. On the flip side, the Eagle offense was paced by Jillian Lachapelle's three-run bomb, and she also added another hit and three stolen bases in the win. Knowles registered a monster day, roping five RBIs on a pair of hits, including a two-run double. Orton had two hits and an RBI while Sarah Lachapelle, Alexis LaCroix and Nicole Berube chipped in singles and Lexi Boisvert tacked on an RBI.

Gilford led 6-0 into the third inning when Knowles drove in Karly Sanborn (HBP) and Emily Theberge (walk) on a two-run double to make it 8-0.

Knowles extended the lead to 10-0 when she plated Berube (single in first varsity at bat) and Sanborn (HBP) on a two-run single.

Orton singled home Jillian Lachapelle in the fifth, and eventually scored on a wild pitch to secure the 12-0 shutout.

Tough end to the week for Eagles

BY JEFF LAJOIE
jlajoie@salmonpress.com

GILFORD – It was an up and down week for the Gilford High School baseball team. The Golden Eagles opened action with a convincing win over Newfound, and had perennial power Laconia High School very much on the ropes with a lead entering the seventh inning. But the Sachems rallied to earn a late win, and things came to a close with a tough loss at home to Belmont on Friday to put Gilford at 4-5 overall entering this week.

Belmont 15, Gilford 4 (five innings)

GILFORD – Despite the first career varsity home run for Tyler Sargent, the Eagles were unable to hold down red-hot Belmont in a 15-4 loss on Friday. The Raider offense was rolling from the get-go, getting to starter Branden Lemay for 11 runs (eight earned) in two innings of work. Sargent's three-run homer in the fifth inning brought the Eagles back a bit, and Alex Thornton also added an RBI and three hits on the day. Lemay was 2-for-3 with two runs scored at the plate, while Pat McKenna and Will Baldwin also registered hits against Belmont starter Cole Contigiani, who went all five innings.

Braedon Lacroix and Brandon Sasserson saw action out of the Gilford bullpen on the day, with Lacroix tossing two innings and Sasserson pitching a perfect top of the fifth while striking out one batter.

The loss came one day after a heartbreaking defeat to Laconia on May 5, as Gilford led 9-8 entering the top of the seventh but defensive miscues enabled the Sachems to tie the game, and they tacked on three more to go ahead en route to the 12-9 win.

The Eagle offense

was excellent against Laconia ace Carter Doherty, and the slugfest featured a combined 30 hits between the two teams. Gilford led for the majority of the game, coming up with key hits in building an advantage that it held until the seventh. The teams were slated for the rematch after deadline on May 9.

Gilford 13, Newfound 3 (five innings)

GILFORD – Like the softball team, the Eagles also earned a run-ruled victory over Newfound on May 4.

Sasserson's three-hit and three-RBI day at the plate powered Gilford against the Bears, while Lemay also added three hits, including a triple, and four runs scored. Also contributing offensively were Sargent (2-for-3, two RBIs), Baldwin (1-for-2, two runs), Connor McKenna (1-for-2, RBI) and Thornton (1-for-3, run).

McKenna (three innings, one hit, four walks) picked up the win in his varsity debut on the hill, while Lacroix closed things out with two frames of perfect relief work.

Gilford led 6-3 into the fourth, before adding three runs in the stanza and tacking on four more in the fifth to reach the mercy rule.
