Good Samaritan from Australia reaches out to help local teen

It's not every day that the staff at Piche's Ski and Sport Shop gets an order for a new bike from a customer in Australia, much less one to be donated to a local organization.

"At first, I thought it was some kind of scam," states Patrick Bolduc. "He told me where he was calling from and asked if we carried a specific brand of bike. He explained that he read a Facebook post about a bike that was discovered stolen from the Laconia Area Bike Exchange in Laconia and he was interested in donating one to replace it."

Touched by the caller's generosity, Bolduc not only ordered the bike, but offered it at a discounted price.

stocky build, needed a bike that was larger than normal," Rogers explained. "Being a nice quality bike, it had been inside the shop and padlocked for added security, but I had unlocked it and pulled it forward a few days earlier in preparation for delivery."

GHS Senior Connor McKenna had outgrown his five-year-old bike, which was no longer sturdy enough for the 40-minute bike ride from his home to his job in Meredith.

"My parents drive me to work when they can, but I had to turn down a lot of shifts that were offered to me because they weren't able," he said.

Upon hearing of the boy's situation, Kristin Snow, a substitute teacher at GHS, directed him to the Laconia Area Bike Exchange. A nominal donation was made, and Carr, and the boy's School Advisor, provided transportation to the shop to pick

New fireboat and engine coming soon

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

A new fireboat and new fire engine are being put together, and are on their way.

Fire Chief Steve Carrier gave the selectmen a semi-annual update during the board's meeting last Wednesday.

According to a recording of the meeting, Carrier said they are "very excited" to be working on the new fire boat. He said they met with representatives from Eastern Boats and discussed specifications and what they're able to offer the department. Carrier said the company can start the build process now if possible. The biggest piece of equipment on the boat will be the fire pump, which Carrier said Eastern Boats feels comfortable they can do in around 12 weeks.

"They're confident that they will be able to have that boat to us this season and in the water before the end of the season," Carrier said.

He said if they can get the boat in the water as soon as possible they can run it and train on it. If anything needs to be tweaked they can take it back to Eastern Boats for work at the end of the season.

Selectman Chan Eddy asked if the old fireboat would be immediately taken out of service when the new boat gets here or remain on. Carrier

Educator talks about life, nature on top of Mount Washington

BY ERIN PLUMMER

The peak of Mount Washington is a second home to a number of researchers and staff working on everything from life-saving weather forecasts, studying arctic environments, and so much more. One staff member visited the Gilford Public Library last week to tell people about Mount Washington, the work of scientists and staff at the observatory, and life above the clouds.

Will Broussard, Outreach Coordinator for the Mount Washington Observatory, has worked at the observatory for the past six years and will do presentations around the state on the mountain and the observatory. On Thursday, Broussard gave a presentation to the Gilford Public Library as part of his job as an educator.

At 6,288 feet high, Mt. Washington is the largest peak in the Northeastern US, the highest peak west of this is in the Western Plains and the largest peak to the south is in North Carolina. The top of Mount Washington is a subarctic climate with plants and birds that can usually be found in the arctic.

The mountain receives a high volume of snow. Broussard said they received 18 inches just the week before and they see people skiing Tuckerman's Ravine into June and July. The highest recorded snowfall was in 1969, and Broussard said he heard the ravines didn't melt that summer. The record low in December was -34 degrees though the warmest temperature recorded in mid February is 72.

Mount Washington is famous for having the highest recorded windspeed when 231 mile per hour winds were recorded on April 12, 1934. That

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS
Library Correspondent

May the 4th be with you. It's a cheesy line, but any excuse we can find to celebrate Star Wars. This family saga has been in the making for decades, with a fan base that spans all demographics. We have retirees looking for Star Wars photography books, working folks reading from the canon, teens writing and reading fan fiction, and children watching animated shows or learning to read from BB-8. It is a big deal and it has been for a long time.

The power of puns to unite people is a mystical force that surrounds all of us. May the fourth came to be a day of celebration naturally, after a series of use in social media and marketing. Today, it is a day that schools and businesses around the world recognize.

Why, you ask? There are things about Star Wars that some may not love, but it has a lot going for it.

1: Star Wars is a saga, with characters that affect the story during, and often after their life. The ramifications of what happened in the past are forever felt. I mean, Obi Wan was like a dad to Anakin, and Anakin was a dad to Luke, but not like a dad, and Luke could be like a dad to Rey, and Kylo Ren has dad envy over Vader, and Leia is super-mom...

2: Star Wars has depth of time and space. "A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away" goes the opening line. The galaxy has, as galaxies do, billions of stars, with billions of planets, and an indeterminate number of species. Nevertheless, there is centralized power, governments, and the rule of law for most of it. There are books and games that take place thousands of years before episode 1, and they shed light on how the galaxy came to be like it is. The story will never really be done.

3. Stars Wars has something for everyone. Just as there are galactic power plays and gritty, back alley deals, adorable droids are up to their antics. That is why we have 'R' rated books, PG-13 movies, and kid's TV shows set in the same story.

4. Stars Wars is a story of good versus evil. A simple dichotomy in a complex universe. It is not at all veiled, with Leia in white and Vader in black, the full orchestra screaming 'bad, mean, nasty' when the Imperial Star Destroyer shows up. The force has two sides: light is selflessness, dark is selfishness.

5. Star Wars is a story where one person can change the trajectory of a galaxy. There are so many points where one person has to make a choice with galactic ramifications. Characters come from humble origins and a single fighter pilot can destroy the Death Star.

So anyway, there is a lot to like. This Friday, May the 4th, we are hosting an after school Star Wars Escape Room for K-8th graders, so check with the library to see if there spots left for kids you know. They will be escaping from Kylo Ren's Death Star 4.0. Happy Star Wars Day, and May the 4th be with you.

Town to keep older dump truck for backup

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

The Public Works Department will keep an older dump truck that was initially intended for trade to have as a backup vehicle.

In March, voters approved an article for $200,000 for a heavy duty dump truck with plow and accessories. Last Wednesday, the selectmen unanimously approved a motion to purchase a Mack 42 FR dump truck for $204,747 with $200,000 coming from one account and $4,747 coming from another.

According to a recording of the April 25 meeting, Selectman Richard Grenier said he thought they were going to trade in the old dump truck whereas the Public Works Department was planning to keep it.

Public Works Director Jay Hayward said they decided to keep the truck after going through this past heavy winter. Hayward said they are already operating on “bare bones” equipment and it would be in the town's best interest to hold onto that truck. He said they had a few storms where having an extra truck for backup would have been more efficient. Hayward said if a truck is in the shop it impacts certain snow routes getting done, which is especially an issue given the area's hilly environment.

“You really need to get something in those routes to stay up on it, or it really causes a lot of havoc for traffic (and) emergency response,” Hayward said.

He said they have had a great fleet, and have been blessed to keep an older truck to do chores around town.

Hayward said it would be in the town's best interest to keep an older truck around for occasional heavy jobs like paving, removing heavy rock, and sidewalk work that might not be the best idea for a newer vehicle.

“I'd like to see us get the most we can out of our equipment,” Hayward said.

Hayward said it would be better to keep that truck for the $4,747 discrepancy than to spend several thousands of dollars on a new one.

Grenier said he supported this decision and asked for an explanation because the town told the taxpayers that the old truck was in such bad shape a new one was needed. He said he didn't want it to look like they “pulled a fast one” on the taxpayers.

“I completely agree with what you say so I have no problem with it, but I think the taxpayers need to hear it because they voted a new truck thinking the 2002 was too far gone,” Grenier said.

Hayward said he would not want to put the older truck on duty on a daily basis and it is only a backup truck when such is desperately needed. He said if they run into any problems in the near future they still can sell that truck for around $25,000 to $30,000.

Fire Chief reports on trainings, projects, and staff changes

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Warm zone training, E-911 mapping, and changes in personnel are some of the going's on in the fire department illustrated in the fire chief's regular report to the selectmen.

Last Wednesday, Fire Chief Steve Carrier gave the board of selectmen a semi-annual update on the department. In addition to reporting the status of the coming fire boat and fire engine, Carrier also updated the board on different trainings, projects, developments.

There have been a few leaks in the tank of Engine 2 in the past two months. The tank is plastic and has had some pinhole leaks. Carrier said those have been repaired as part of the tank's lifetime warranty.

Carrier said EMS personnel have done training with the police department for the “warm zone” in active violence situations including shooters. This training allows victims to be moved out of the situation and provide treatment. The Gilford Fire Department will be part of a regional drill in Tilton on May 25.

The department has also been working with Town Planner John Ayer to update the town's mapping project and name roads to meet 911 standards. Major projects have been going on at Bank of New Hampshire Pavilion, Gunstock, and Laconia Airport with work also being done at Lakeshore Park.

“That's an effort to meet the 911 standards and get all of the roads named properly and mapped so that it's easier for us to find people in times of need,” Carrier said.

They are putting the containers in the newly built training facility. The department is also getting ready for concert season at Bank of New Hampshire Pavilion.

Carrier said they saw the busiest January they have ever seen with 159 emergency incidents reported.

“I suspect we'll have a very busy year based on the economy and the number of people around,” Carrier said.

Firefighter Greg Trombi will graduate from his paramedic class on May 21 and will be licensed soon after. This will bring the departments' number of full time paramedics to five.

Firefighter Kevin Patterson has resigned from the department and will take a position in Salem.

“On behalf of the board we pass on our best wishes to firefighter Patterson once he gets to Salem,” said selectman Richard Grenier said.

Carrier said Firefighters Adam Gravelle and Kim Hiffler are almost done their probation periods. Hiffler will take the 24-hour shift position from Patterson. They also made an offer to a new firefighter who will fill Patterson's position. Carrier said if all goes well the new firefighter will start on May 9, three days before he graduates from Lakes Region Community College's fire program.

Pet of the Week: Duke

Considering Duke has endured much upheaval in his life, it's a wonder he's even interested in the comings and goings of humans, but he still carries himself with noble poise and dignity, exuding a quiet confidence not often seen in a shelter environment. As long as he can carry a soft toy or two in his mouth, he meets each day with optimism, thinking "maybe today I'll find my permanent home?"

He was a 'free dog' on Craig's List who was surrendered to our shelter in August 2017. We placed him in a terrific home but his newest owners had health issues that meant looking after such a big dog was too difficult; So Duke returned to us in February. He was adopted to a lovely family in March, truly a match made in heaven, but horrible allergy issues not evident at the shelter meant he had to be returned, again, through nobody's fault: least of all Duke's.

Now he waits again. This big shepherd/massif/malamute mix takes life one day at a time as he navigates the fickle ways of the universe.

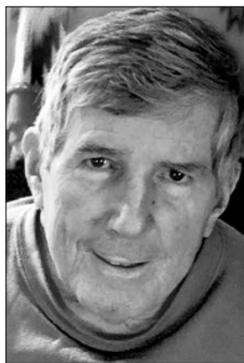

Really a large box of soft toys and being the one and only pet in the household is Duke's wish. Stalwart and true, a more refined companion you will not find anywhere else.

Come and visit him and see what we mean

NH Humane Society will host the third Community Rabies & Microchip clinic Saturday May 5 9-12 noon. Check www.nhhumane.org for more details.

Is the long winter finally over, Virginia? In the Upper North Country, not quite

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

JOHN HARRIGAN

Up on the Little Magalloway, the ice is all rotten and ready to move.

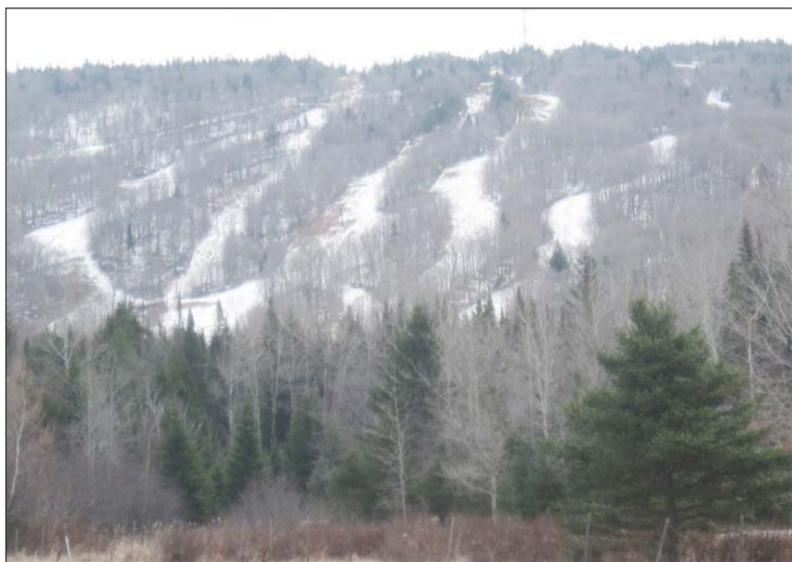

The forecast was for warm rain tomorrow, then (yes) snow for the next 24 hours, then a couple of days of relatively balmy 65.

People who I'd never heard utter an off-color word were swearing a blue streak. I even heard words I'd never heard.

People are sick of winter. They don't want to hear about another weekend of making the cash register bells ring in what has already been a banner year for skiing, snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, ice fishing and any winter-related, outdoor-oriented sport you can name. They want it to end. And yet it was supposed to snow Tuesday.

"I don't know why everybody's griping," an old forester friend thumped his cane and grumped. "I can remember being on snowshoes on May 5th. It's in my journal."

I looked around anxiously to see if anyone had overheard him. Nobody wants to hear about his damned jour-

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

When the world stops

BY LARRY SCOTT

It was just after 1 p.m., May 21, 1950, in the city of Cusco, Peru. I was enjoying, along with my sister Pat and my missionary parents, a relaxing Sunday dinner at the Hotel Tourista. The city was, at the time, a small Andean town of better than 50,000 residents, certainly nothing like the grand city of nearly a half-million residents it has become today. Catering to some two million annual visitors, the attraction is the ruins of Machu Picchu. It is a "world site," and a visit to Cusco is an experience one will never forget.

Dinner out didn't happen often, so for my sister and me this was a special treat. At 1:35, however, our "pleasure" came to a shattering halt as a vicious earthquake struck the city. There were 129 dead, 300 injured (and I believe these statistics are extremely low), with much of the city destroyed or severely damaged. The death count would have been much higher had it not been for a soccer game against one of the Lima teams, attended by much of the population. As my family and I got our act together, I clearly remember emerging to a street littered with bricks and plumes of dust slowly rising from buildings destroyed just outside our hotel. Adobe buildings aren't designed to withstand an earthquake; there was massive devastation. I don't remember how we got home; much of our route was blocked by buildings that had collapsed into the street. Fortunately, damage to our house was minimal. The destruction of a small Andean town doesn't "hold a candle" to what has just recently been happening in our world today. Hurricanes, earthquakes, and political turmoil has destroyed our sense of well-being.

We are also seeing a national breakdown in morality that was inconceivable just 20 years ago. The advent of a nuclear North Korea (and Iran), is threatening us with cataclysmic consequences. Where does one turn when it seems the world is falling apart!

You know what I am going to say ... but stay with me. I am not in sympathy with those who would like to make a "religious case" out of all this. Is God punishing us? Is this divine judgment? I think not. God has no need to punish us; sometimes he just leaves us to our own devices. As in the natural realm, we reap what we sow. We have taken God out of the classroom, the Bible out of our schools, and killed our unwanted babies, (more than 45 million legal abortions from 1973 to 2005 according to one statistic I have seen). A generation of children, raised with no respect for God or anything He stands for, are now in control of our national life.

Do I worry? Sleepless nights? Not at all! I have left my future in the care of a God who has all things under control. Come what may, my uncertainty over the future is strengthened by my faith, and my eternal destiny is secure. We are on a down-hill spiral! Things are certain to get worse, but I remain relaxed. What a privilege it is to know and trust in a loving God.

Winni Players present "The Government Inspector"

MEREDITH — The Winni Players Community Theatre continues their season with an all-new adaptation of Nikolai Gogol's "The Government Inspector." Featuring an array of funny and diverse characters, the play presents a silly satire of small-town corruption. When the crooked leadership of a provincial village discovers that an undercover inspector is coming to root out their commonplace corruption, the town weaves a web of bribery, lies and utter madness.

Since its first performance in 1836, this bustling satire from the pen of Russian comedian Nikolai Gogol has resonated with audiences all over the world. This all-new adaptation is an imaginative, madcap theatrical event perfect for ages eight to ninety-eight.

"There isn't another company like The Winnipesaukee Playhouse. This theatre chooses plays that we don't know like The Government Inspector, but should know. Plays that now ring true in a new way. These plays are seemingly ripped from today's headlines. This is why people keep coming back to the Winnipesaukee Playhouse, why artists keep wanting to work with them. I know that's why I do. The Government Inspector is going to be a true delight and I can't wait to share it with audiences," said Jim Gocha, actor in the role of Anton Antonovich and Winni Players producer of "The Government Inspector."

The Government Inspector runs May 10, 11, 12 and May 13. Tickets are $12-$20 and available online at www.winnipesaukeeplayhouse.org or over the phone at 279-0333. Show times are 7:30 p.m. May 10, May 11, May 12; and 2 p.m. May 13.

The Winnipesaukee Playhouse, a year-round theatre, is a 501(c)3 organization supported in part by the New Hampshire State Council on the Arts, New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, the Shubert Foundation, the Steinwachs Family Foundation, and by contributions from members of this community.

LRPA salutes film noir this month

LACONIA — Throughout May, Lakes Region Public Access Television will highlight some of the most dark and gritty movies ever to come out of Hollywood! Join us each Friday and Saturday night at 10:30 p.m. for "May Murder Madness," a tribute to vintage film noir. This weekend (May 4 & 5), we get the month started with 1945's thriller "Detour," starring Tom Neal, Ann Savage and Edmund MacDonald. In "Detour," we meet down-on-his-luck Al Roberts (Neal), an ill-fated piano player who hitchhikes to California to reunite with his girlfriend. Along the way, he gets a ride from Charles Haskell (MacDonald), who tells Al an ominous story about his recent encounter with female hitchhiker. Haskell suffers a fatal heart attack in the middle of nowhere. Al, fearful that he will be accused of murder, buries Haskell's body, takes his possessions, and assumes his identity. He stops at a gas station, where he picks up a drifter named Vera (Savage). Vera soon figures out the situation and uses it to her advantage, threatening Al to join her in a scheme or to be ratted out to the cops. Will Al be able to extract himself from this nightmare series of events, or will Fate continue to dog him wherever he goes?

"Detour" is an extremely low budget thriller, shot in only six days by director Edgar G. Ulmer. At a running time of less than 70 minutes, the movie packs a lot of story into short film. "Detour" has a cult following among fans of film noir, as it is often considered to be one of the most gloomy and existentialist examples of that genre. Famed critic Roger Ebert was a fan of this film, writing, " 'Detour' is an example of material finding the appropriate form. Two bottom-feeders from the swamps of pulp swim through the murk of low-budget noir and are caught grasping in (the director's) net. They deserve one another." It's a must-see! Grab your popcorn and join LRPA after dark for this dark drama from the past.

Mark your calendars for these upcoming murderous movies:

May 11 & 12: 1956's "Please Murder Me!"

May 18 & 19: 1946's "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers"

May 24 & 25: 1950's "D.O.A."

You can't find television like this it anywhere but LRPA TV, MetroCast Channel 25. Not a subscriber? Then log onto Live Stream through our Web site (www.lrpa.org) where you can catch all the fun.

Birdwatching is one of the fastest growing hobbies in North America. More than 50 million Americans participate in an excursion to observe wild birds each year. It's a wonderful way to spend time outside, provides opportunities to be challenged and learn new things, meet new people and become involved in conservation. It can be relaxing and lots of fun. If you haven't tried it, if it's been a while since you've done it or if you are an avid birder, this weekend is a perfect way to celebrate the birds. This event is a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, a federal law enacted in 1918 to prohibit the killing, capturing or selling of more than 800 species of migratory birds. The law was passed during a time when many bird species were being threatened. SEE BIRDWATCHING PAGE A9

Join local singer-songwriter Cindy Duchin for CD release party

SANDWICH — On May 19 at 7:30 p.m., you are invited to join Cindy Duchin and Friends at the Arts Center, 12 Main St. in Center Sandwich, for a CD release concert. She will be presenting original songs from her new solo album, “Dream Catcher’s Hand,” along with her songs from MiddleGround’s “Open Door” Cd which was released in 2014.

Joining her for this fun filled evening of stories and song will be Steve Hayden (upright bass), Ed Bernard (banjo), Natalie Hebden (mandolin) and Tammy Flanagan.

Duchin is a New Hampshire native raised in Swanzy, part of the the Monadnock Region. She moved to this area twenty-two years ago and has settled in Sandwich.

She began writing songs as a teenager and also writes poetry. She loves nature, gardening, is an outdoor enthusiast and mother of four wonderful children.

Music has always been a part of Duchin’s life, and she shared that love with her children at home and church through their younger years. When her youngest daughter showed interest in learning to play the violin the two began taking lessons together. As they progressed, Duchin also started spending more time with her guitar, which led to performing at local open mics. It wasn’t long before her creative juices started to flow and she began writing songs again.

In 2012, Duchin teamed up with Peter Heimlich and formed the folk Duo MiddleGround. In November of 2014, they were the local feature artists for The Cold River Radio Show in Intervale, performing three of Duchin’s original songs.

Duchin’s songs are rich with New England Tradition. Some are written about family history in an old timey way like “Died And Went To Heaven,” which is the true account of her mother’s family moving from Greenbush, Maine to Keene in the 1940’s, then there’s her ballad of love and betrayal “Jacob Henry”.

Here is what author Richard Carey has to say about “Dream Catcher’s Hand”:

“I’ve been listening to your new CD and loving it! Some particular favorites are ‘The Old John Deere’ —such a delicious turnaround to the old Dear John troupe in its word play and commitment to loyalty; a really sweet harmony vocal on the title song which sounds like you double tracking the vocal; the inverted melody line on ‘Nuthatch’ that so perfectly suggests the upside-downside postures of a nut-hatch on a tree trunk; and how ‘Jacob Henry’ invests the terrors of real life with the gravity of folklore. I could go on and on. It really is a nice piece of work, Cindy, and it plays on a January morning like a breath of summertime.”

Central NH VNA celebrates Occupational Therapy Month

REGION —What is an occupational therapist, you say? Do I need one if I don’t work?

Don’t let the term fool you. Occupational therapists do amazing work for people young and old, employed or retired, male or female. It is all about managing activities of daily living and helping folks achieve or regain the skill sets that allow them to be independent.

Often, there is confusion between occupational and physical therapy. While there is some crossover, a good adage is that “Physical Therapy gets you where you need to go - Occupational Therapy shows you what to do when you get there.” OTs enable people of all ages to live life to its fullest by helping them regain their function or teach them ways to improve their independence and live better with injury, illness or disability. Today, we celebrate our Occupational Therapists and applaud the work they do to improve people’s lives every day.

Common occupational therapy interventions include performing on-site assessments of both the home environment and work environment, making recommendations to appropriately adapt those environments, helping children with disabilities to participate fully in school and social situations, training people recovering from injury to regain skills, and providing supports for older adults experiencing physical and cognitive changes. For example, after a total hip replacement an OT would help a person to relearn bathing, dressing and meal prep independently and safely. Or after a stroke, an OT might up the bike. "He was crushed," states Carr, about the boy's reaction to the missing bike.

A photo was obtained from a nearby security camera and posted to the LABX Facebook Page, requesting the community's help in recovering the bike. The post touched on the heartstrings of a man in Australia who saw it due to friends in the area. Within a matter of hours, the Bike Exchange received a message from the Facebook user with instructions to call Piche's to arrange delivery of a bike which he had ordered and paid for in full. The donor requested to remain anonymous, simply asking to be identified as "a former disadvantaged Laconia kid seeking to pay back the generosity and goodwill extended to me by so many in the Laconia area many years ago. Those kind gestures helped me see that I could break the cycle and turn my life around."

In addition to the bike, a helmet was donated by Jane Karagianis, Business Manager at The Brain Injury Association of New Hampshire.

"This was a team effort with many people contributing generously," states Rogers. "It really renews your faith in humanity."

The Laconia Area Bike Exchange is located in the annex behind Eased Edges on Court Street in Laconia. Hours are Tuesdays 4-5:30 p.m., Thursdays and Saturdays 11 a.m. -1 p.m. to serve those in need of alternate transportation. Appointments may also be made by emailing labx2014@yahoo.com. The organization is looking for volunteers to assist with a spring cleanout of inventory on Saturday, May 19, 9-noon, with children's bikes being donated to local non-profits. On that date from 12-3 classic adult road and racing bikes will be sold for $10-$50. Donations of usable adult mountain bikes are always accepted, but due to space limitations, it is requested that people inquire before bringing other types of bikes for donation. For current information follow LABX on Facebook at www.facebook.com/LaconiaAreaBikeExchange/.

when the old boat will remain in service until the department is comfortable with the new boat in the water, then it will be taken out of service. Carrier said it would be easier to sell the boat and said they might already have a local buyer interested.

Later in the meeting, the selectmen unanimously approved accepting a $220 private donation towards the fire boat.

The town is also anticipating its new fire engine, though the process has been delayed a little.

Carrier said a new fire truck is being built and a pre-delivery inspection was scheduled, though that has been moved out two weeks. Carrier said the manufacturer has been exceedingly busy and might have overexerted themselves on delivery dates. He said a realistic delivery date might be at the end of May.

"It's a very exciting time for the department with a new truck and a new fireboat," said selectman Richard Grenier. "It's going to be a fun time."

Carrier said since it has been 40 years since they got the last boat, this is a neat experience. Grenier said he was there when the current boat was delivered.

record was broken with 253 mile per hour winds recorded on Barrow Island in 1996, though Broussard said Mount Washington still has the record for the highest wind directly observed by people.

Most of the visibility is low due to fog and a loud cover, though on a perfectly clear day one can see the ocean around Portland, Maine, or the mountains in New York. He also showed photos of unique weather and atmospheric features like hole punch and lenticular clouds and an aurora borealis.

The Mount Washington Observatory is a nonprofit organization was created in 1932 to study climate and is under contract with the National Weather Service in Gray, Maine. The observatory has a staff of around 25. Observers will study various weather features and phenomena on top of the mountain and give regular daily forecasts. There are also interns and other staff members.

"We have some of the same folks come back week after week to support the observers," Broussard said.

The observatory has enough storage capacity for three months worth of food.

The observatory has also had some resident cats. "Cats have always been part of Mount Washington," Broussard said.

He said cats love being up on the mountain. They once took care of the mice and provide companionship for the staff.

Weather observers use several manual instruments, many of which are quite old.

Some parts of the job can be dangerous. Broussard showed a video of a regular observer collecting precipitation collection tubes at night in high winds. Broussard said staff will only do what they're comfortable with and there are ample safety considerations made.

Broussard said having accurate weather forecasts for the mountain are crucial to hikers, skiers, and other people coming into the mountains. Broussard said the weather on the mountain especially above the tree line may be vastly different than the weather in the valley and an change at any moment.

"You can't plead ignorance up in the mountains," Broussard said.

The mountain has also been the place where many different companies and government entities have tested items if they could withstand high altitude conditions. The observatory partnered with the Air Force in the 1950's to test jet engine parts. Keurig brought up K-Cups that exploded at 6,000 feet and needed to be adjusted for the pressure. Eastern Mountain Sports has tested out winter clothing, including a tiny outfit on the resident Mount Washington cat Marty.

A beloved highlight of this annual service is the Tides of Harmony Choral Group, a team of Central New Hampshire VNA & Hospice of volunteers who sing individually and in small groups with patients and families throughout the year. Along with this music of comfort and hope, readings and remembrances will be offered by hospice volunteers and staff and local community members.

The service is open to all, whether you have been connected to hospice or not, and whether you are connected to a faith tradition or not. It will run from about 4 to 5pm and will be followed by a reception with light refreshments and opportunities for connection. ## NOTEBOOK

that'll get an old dog moving like a puppy. Millie is pushing 13, and was comfortably playing the role of old, resident dog when Bailey showed up. Long-time friends Beth and Glen visit here a lot from Rhode Island, and for sure did a good job of picking the right pup out of the litter, because Bailey's full of it, smart, and fast.

I was out on the lawn and heard a thunder coming up the other side of the hill. It was Bailey's huge feet, coming fast, "Really carrying the mail," as longtime hunting buddy Butch Chase would put it. One reason why she's so loud, no doubt, is that he has feet the size of teacups.

I was flipping through the current issue of Archaeology Magazine and came upon an ad for tourism and travel in Newfoundland and Labrador, with special attention paid to Lans aux Meadows.

Newfoundland indeed is being pitched as a tourism getaway, which it surely is---with very long drives between getaways, believe me. Still, the island is undergoing a tourism boom, partly because deserving attention is being paid, finally, to Lans Aux Meadows, the only confirmed Norse settlement site in North America. Its rude and rough planked huts were put up in roughly AD 1,000, almost 500 years before Columbus.

When I was traveling the Far North, transportation was mainly by boat, dog sled, snowmachine and float plane. Now much of Labrador's interior is accessible by road, and they're still building.

When I first traveled to Labrador to fish the huge and fast-moving Menihok Rapids, the country was reveling in the discovery of major iron ore deposits, some of the best quality in the world. The archaeological discoveries at Lans Aux Meadows were being talked about, but iron ore was king. Iron Ore Company workers built a heavy-duty railroad straight into the interior, 350 miles from the coast. It featured rails that weighed 72 pounds per foot, the heaviest in the hemisphere. The deal with the government for getting permission for the railroad was that two runs per week had to be made for civilians.

So twice a week, usually on Tuesdays and Fridays, the civilian train hauled hunters, prospectors, fishermen, scientists, military personnel and adventurers into the interior, some to make an in and out but many to stay months and years, studying this strange and mostly frozen land for knowledge and profit. The iron ore went by virtually non-stop trains to the port of Sept Isles, where it was loaded onto ships bound for ports all over the world.

But then iron ore was discovered in South America---not better ore, but ore that was cheaper to get out. And suddenly, Labrador was once again what it was before, a cold and empty place frequented only by the hunter, fisherman and adventurer.

Another no-hitter for Siravo

Gilford ace leads baseball to 6-0 win over Somersworth

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

SOMERSWORTH — Throwing one no-hitter is a milestone that many pitchers never experience, but Gilford sophomore Adrian Siravo has already thrown two in the early spring season, which most recently came in the form of a 6-0 win over Somersworth.

Siravo had 11 strikeouts and six walks in the no-hitter, which was his third win of the season. He has allowed no runs and only three hits all year, with all of them coming from Belmont's Cam Magerer in a 4-0 shutout.

It was a battle of aces, with Siravo squaring off with Somersworth's top pitcher, Colby Grant, who came into the game with three shutouts and a 3-0 record. Gilford got on the board quickly with a run in the first inning thanks to a walk to Cody Boucher, who went two for three with an RBI, followed by back-to-back two-out singles by Isaac Wallace and Alex Muthersbaugh. Muthersbaugh had a two for four showing.

Gilford scored two more runs in the second inning and another in the third inning. Sebastian Brodeur smashed a two-run shot in the sixth inning to cap off the scoring in the win.

Coach Eric Duquette was proud of the team, which has a great display of offense, pitching and defense alike. Defensively, Boucher had a great diving catch in right field to preserve the no-hitter in the second inning. He also commended the strong play at second base by Tyler McKinney and Siravo on a pickoff attempt.

"We played exceptional defense only making one error and eight starters had at least one hit led by Boucher and Muthersbaugh with two each," said Duquette.

The Golden Eagles have been unstoppable in the young stages of the season, with Gilford coming away with three shutouts in its four wins.

"If you told me we would be 4-0, with only one senior on the team, one full outside practice and all our games on the road, we would obviously take it," said Duquette. "We have swung the bat pretty well against some good pitching. Our own pitching has helped hide some of our deficiencies on defense. Now that we are finally able to practice outside, hopefully we can improve that part of our game as well as our situational awareness. Looking forward to see how we improve over next couple of weeks."

Siravo has been the clear ace with a 3-0 record, no runs allowed and 33 strikeouts in 20 and 1/3 innings, however Wallace has also been a dominant piece of the pitching staff. He has allowed only one hit and no runs in six innings pitched, as well as logging a save. Cody Boucher has the other win for the Golden Eagles to go along with a fantastic 1.75 ERA.

Offensively Wallace has been the leader with a .500 batting average and an OPS of 1.183. Chandler Mead has a .455 batting average and leads the team with five runs scored. Muthersbaugh has a .400 batting average, as well as Boucher who also leads Gilford with seven RBIs.

Gilford had a game scheduled against Prospect Mountain on April 27 that was postponed due to rain. The Golden Eagles hosted Inter-Lakes on April 30 and Franklin on May 1 after deadline. Gilford travels to Berlin on May 2.

Gilford softball continues to roll

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

HANOVER — The Gilford High School softball team had a pair of away games last week and the Golden Eagles came away with blow-out wins over Hanover and Somersworth to improve to 3-1 in the young season.

Gilford traveled to Hanover on April 23 and won 17-1 in a mercy rule shortened five-inning game. The Golden Eagles had 17 hits in the offensive onslaught with Gilford scoring five runs in each of the first three innings to go up 15-0.

Leading the charge was Alexis Lacroix, who had four hits, four RBIs and three runs scored. Karly Sanborn had a good day at the plate with three hits, three runs and two steals. Samantha Knowles also had three hits and three RBIs, while Rachel Langlitz and Emily Smith had a pair of hits apiece to go along with three RBIs. Kasey Moore had two RBIs and Jillian Lachapelle had an RBI.

Colby Butterfield was the winning pitcher, and Ella Harris came in for relief in the fourth inning.

On April 24 Gilford had a 14-1 victory over Somersworth on the road in a mercy rule shortened six-inning game. Harris had an outstanding game in her first varsity win, pitching five innings, allowing one unearned run, allowing only one hit and one walk while striking out 12 of the 19 batters she faced. Harris also went two for three, which included a triple, an RBI and three runs scored.

Once again, the Golden Eagle offense was on fire with 14 hits by eight players. Lachapelle was the offensive star of the day with a three-run homerun in the second inning and two doubles on a three for four day. She finished with six RBIs.

Gilford had a two run first inning to start things off strong, which was highlighted by Lachapelle's two-run double. The Golden Eagles scored seven more runs and had a commanding 9-0 lead after two innings. Knowles then had a two-run single and Lachapelle blasted a three-run shot.

In the third inning Gilford had a two-out triple by Harris and Lacroix knocked her in with a single. Gilford scored four more runs in the sixth inning, led by back to back doubles to start the inning by Lacroix and Lachapelle. After Rachel Langlitz was hit by a pitch she was knocked in by Moore's two run triple.

Lacroix went three for four with a double and an RBI. Moore had a double, triple and two RBIs. Others gathering hits were Knowles, Sanborn, Langlitz and Emily Smith.

Gilford has had a strong start to the season, outscoring its opponents 43-6 and knocking 57 hits in four games — something coach Joan Forge called “huge numbers.” Defensively the team has also been playing well, with only three errors.

She also commended the pitching staff, which has allowed only one run in three of its four games. Butterfield and Harris have been sharing pitching duties so far and have combined for 45 strikeouts.

“The defense is more solid this year because of our pitching staff,” Forge said. “Sophomore Colby Butterfield has dedicated much of her youth to pitching and she returns after one year of varsity experience and is much stronger and much more controlled. She is a six foot strong pitcher and that is an asset in softball. Freshmen pitcher Ella Harris is also a veteran to the game and has a great deal of composure and control with her spins.”

Gilford hosted Inter-Lakes on April 30 and Franklin on May 1. The Golden Eagles travel to Berlin on May 2 for a 4 p.m. game.

NORTHFIELD — The fifth annual Women's Gravity Weekend at Highland Mountain (May 18-20) brings together a diverse group of enthusiastic women in a supportive riding environment to help you develop essential mountain biking skills and take your park experiences to the next level. Women of all ages and riding abilities are invited to start the season right with a weekend dedicated to learning and reinforcing new skills, building relationships, and having a great time. Whether you're new to downhill mountain biking or have been riding for years, this program has something for you!

Riders will spend all day Saturday receiving focused instruction from Highland's coaching staff. Morning activities center on fundamental techniques, balance, and breaking bad habits so you can ride with control and confidence. In the afternoon, riders will have the opportunity to take on jumping, dropping, and cornering on Highland's dedicated learning features, under the guidance of their excellent coaches. Sunday is an entire day of freeriding where you can take what you learned during clinics on Saturday to ride on your own or with a new group of friends you have made. Instruction is available on Sunday for an additional fee.

The Women's Gravity Weekend package includes park passes and discount rentals for the entire weekend, giving participants plenty of time to reinforce new techniques on the terrain of their choosing.

This year they've we've partnered with Driftwood Stables of Northfield to provide a true “retreat style” lodging option for participants. Located just five miles from Highland, Driftwood's unique accommodations are made up of finished yurts, which house six to eight people. Each yurt comes equipped with its own bathroom, shower and electricity. Guests will have access to the facility's heated outdoor pool and spa. If you are coming as a group or have rooming requests, please e-mail camps@highlandmountain.com. Lodging at Driftwood can be added to your package at an extra charge.

Whether you're an experienced rider looking to hone your skills, or someone who's interested in trying out downhill mountain biking for the first time, this program is for you. Come check out the Women's Gravity weekend and see what the women's freeride scene is all about.

Golden Eagles put up solid results at Coe-Brown

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

NORTHWOOD — The Gilford High School track team sent a small group of athletes to the Black Bear Invitational hosted by Coe-Brown Northwood Academy on Saturday.

Leading the way for Gilford was Lauren Dean, who placed second in the 400 meters with a time of 61.33. This lowered what was already a school record held by Dean.

Laurel Gingrich qualified for the Division 3 state meet with a personal record time of 28.61 seconds in the 200 meters. She has qualified in three events so far this season.

Reese Clark had personal record in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 20.40 seconds and Emma Ramsey had a personal record time of 55.56 seconds in the 300-meter hurdles, placing 15th. Ramsey also had a time of 19.39 placing 12th in the 100-meter hurdles. Samantha Holland had a personal record leap of 26 feet, 1.75 inches in the triple jump.

Michael Wernig had personal records in shot put and discus. He was sixth in the discus with a toss of 118 feet and 26th in shot put

Tennis Golden Eagles off to 5-0 start

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — It may be very early in the season, but the Golden Eagles boys' tennis team is off to another hot start with a 5-0 record.

Gilford is on quite the streak with 89 straight wins. The Golden Eagles have won seven out of the last eight championship, including each of the last five.

Coach Terry Wilson has been impressed with the team in the early going, and said that for the season the focus is to "work hard, improve and take one match at a time."

"The team has played well in spite of not having had many practices due to the weather," said Wilson. "One key is having returning players with playing experience."

Wilson said co-captains Christian Workman and Tyler Hanf have been the clear cut team leaders. While much of the time Gilford has been in the driver's seat, the closest match was a 5-4 win over Conant on April 11.

The match was tied after singles, 3-3. The Eagles had to take the win in doubles by winning two out of three matches. "The team spends time practicing doubles which are very important in close matches," said Wilson. "Jonathan Nelson, a newcomer to the team, has worked very hard to improve and learn the game. One standout about this team is their drive to get to every shot. This is called a 'get,' getting to the ball before the second bounce. This provides incredible motivation to all players."

The Golden Eagles had no matches scheduled last week due to school vacation. Next up for Gilford is a home match against Moultonborough Academy.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Here's a Checklist for Changing Jobs

A few generations ago, it was not uncommon for workers to stick with a single job for their whole careers. But for many of us today, frequent job changes are a fact of life: The average employee tenure is just over four years, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. So, assuming you're going to switch jobs a few times, you'll want to be prepared. Here's a checklist of things you can do to smooth these transitions and help your financial situation:

- Build an emergency fund. Some of your job changes may be involuntary, so you'll want to have a cash cushion handy – just in case. One smart move would be to build an emergency fund, containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account.

- Consider your options for your former employer's 401(k) plan. If you had a 401(k) plan with your former employer, you have three main options: You could leave your money in the plan, if the employer allows it; you could move the money into your new employer's plan, if permitted; or you could roll the funds over to an IRA. You'll want to weigh the "pros" and "cons" of these choices carefully before making a decision.

- Choose investments from your new retirement plan. If your new employer offers a 401(k) or similar plan, you'll need to choose the investments within the plan that are most appropriate for your goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. Contribute as much as you can afford to the plan, and consider increasing your contributions every time your salary goes up.

- Make sure you've got health insurance. The health insurance offered by your new employer may not begin the minute you start your job. Given the high costs of medical care, you'll need to make sure you are protected until your coverage kicks in. So, for that interim period, you may need to consider the federal health insurance marketplace, COBRA continuation coverage or private medical insurance. You might also be eligible to be covered under your spouse's health insurance. And you may want to learn what your options are for health savings accounts (HSAs), if available.

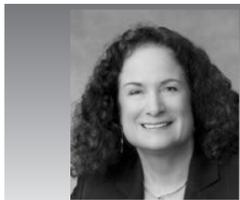

- Review your new benefits package – and take steps to fill gaps. Your new benefits package may include life and disability insurance, but these group policies may not be enough to fully protect you and your family. A financial professional can help you quantify your protection and insurance needs and offer guidance on how much coverage you may require.

- Understand your income tax considerations. Getting a new job may involve income tax implications, such as changes in your tax bracket, severance pay, unused vacation and unemployment compensation. And if you are thinking of exercising stock options, be aware that this, too, can be a taxable event. Finally, if you have to move to take a new job, you may incur some relocation and job hunting expenses that could be deductible. You will need to discuss all these issues with your tax professional.

Starting a new job can be exciting – and challenging. But you may be able to make your life easier by putting the above suggestions to work.
