BRIDGEWATER — Representatives from Tanger Outlets in Tilton made a stop at Bridgewater-Hebron Village School last week to present them with a check for $1,224 for their latest STEAM project involving students in grades 3-5.

Principal Dana Andrews was pleased to accept the check, saying it would be used to help students gain more knowledge in the areas of science, technology, engineering, arts and math. Otherwise known as STEAM.

The upper grade level students at BHVS have been engaged this year in a project known as P.O.P., which stands for “Power of Possibility.” Together they work as mixed age groups in six categories where Representatives of Tanger Outlets in Tilton delivered a Tanger Kids Grant check to Bridgewater-Hebron Village School last week for their programs in the fields of science, technology, engineering, arts and math. On hand for the presentation were (L-R) Tanger Outlets Associate Assistant Manager Chris LaBranche, Office Administrator Justine Milan, General Manager Eric Proulx, BHVS Principal Dana Andrews and Newfound Area School District Superintendent Stacy Buckley.

Town Hall project to get underway in June

BY THOMAS P. CALDWELL
Contributing Writer

BRISTOL — Work on the new town hall is projected to start June 1, according to Town Administrator Nik Coates, who said the project will rely upon “value engineering” to bring costs in line with the budget for the job.

Bids for the upgrade of the former Newfound Family Practice building on School Street came in much higher than projected, but included a lot of work that a closer look showed to be unnecessary — such as painting the insides of closets. Some of the adjustments will result in lower-quality material — things with a 15-year life expectancy rather than a 20- or 30-year life — but some things were eliminated, as well, such as the backup generator for the building.

Voters agreed to purchase the building from LRGHealthcare at a special meeting last year, and in March, they appropriated the funds to renovate the building, which would allow town offices to relocate from the Bristol Municipal Building. Once they move out, the Bristol Police Department will be able to expand into the additional space in that building.

Construction costs have risen about 7 percent since Town Meeting, according to Selectman Rick Alpers, which helped to push the bids over the $899,637 projected cost of the work.

Coates said some common-sense reductions will help to bring the project back in line with the budget, such as replacing only doors that need to be replaced, rather than putting all new doors on the offices. They can keep some of the existing cabinetry instead of purchasing new ones, and bring some furniture from the Municipal Building instead of buying all new furnishings. Replacing the upstairs railing was nixed, and an inspection of the alarm system showed that it was fully functional, so there is no need to replace that.

Other things, such as the elevator to the second floor, will be harder to make do without. The plan originally called for just putting in the elevator shaft so it would be ready to add one in the future, but selectmen had “hoped to build the whole thing from day one,” said Coates. Now it is back to the shaft alone.

There are other savings to be realized by having the town provide collection bins instead of having a contractor provide them and having Coates coordinate the scheduling of electrical work rather than paying an electrician to oversee it. They were going to remove a sink from the office the town clerk will have, but Raymah Simpson said it actually would be a good thing to have after handling money during the day.

Plans also called for such things as replacing

“It’s really kind of cool to see them all work together like this,” Andrews said. “Together they create things then

Groton Historical Society hosting program on Benedict Arnold

BY DONNA RHODES

GROTON — Beginning at 11 a.m. on Monday, May 27, the Groton Historical Society will be hosting a special presentation, and invites everyone to join them at that time, where they can learn more about Benedict Arnold, the man whose name has become synonymous with “traitor.”

While most are familiar with Benedict Arnold, a general in the Continental Army during the American Revolution who defected to the British in 1780, there is a lot more to his legacy than that. From 1775-1777, when “the dream of independence was at its most fragile,” say historians, Arnold stood out in the military. Among his feats was the tiny army he led through the wilderness during a blinding snowstorm on a seemingly impossible mission, along with other decisive actions he took that benefitted the cause of the Revolution.

The program has been made possible through a grant from the NH Humanities Council’s “Humanities to Go!” speakers bureau and will be led by George Morrison. During his presentation, Morrison will take the audience on a journey through New York, New England and Quebec Province

Kris Bean and Dr. Kimberly Safde, Curriculum Coordinator the school district.

BRISTOL — Thanks to a Children’s Literacy Foundation grant, boys and girls at Bristol Elementary School welcomed a couple of special yet familiar guests at their assembly last week.

Dr. Kimberly Sarfde, Newfound Area School District’s Curriculum Coordinator, said that while the

CLiF grant the district received this year was used in a number of ways, they were still able to provide the students with books from local authors, Jim and Brad Tonner of Twin

Circle Program announces winner of School Spirit Challenge

PLYMOUTH — The Ninth Annual Circle Trot road race, held on May 5, was another success! Friends to the Finish, the Trot moto, encouraged kids from all area schools to participate as part of the Circle Program’s School Spirit Challenge. This competition recognizes the school with the highest percentage of participation in the Circle Trot by awarding the winner a $400 scholarship towards athletic department equipment. For the last two years, the School Spirit Challenge was sponsored by Bryant Paving, whose team of employees was at the Trot to cheer the kids on! And drumroll

please..... for the second year in a row the winner of the $400 scholarship award was Holderness Central School!The check was presented to the students by owner of Bryant Paving, Leslie Bryant and Holderness School Principal, William Van Bennekum -- who shared he will be letting the students that ran the Trot pick out something for the playground with their winnings!

The Circle Trot was a Plymouth State University cluster project again this year with six PSU students and one teaching faculty member,Pam Childs of the Sports Management Department, helping to organize the event from start to finish. The cluster students decided to take Pemi the Panther (the PSU Mascot) around to visit all the local schools to get the kids excited about being a part of the race. Pemi gave high fives and hugs to all while challenging students to bring their friends to the Trot to help encourage community participation in healthy activities. Pemi also signed a few autographs!

The Circle Trot is a 2k, 5k, and 10k road race that takes place in Plymouth, New Hampshire to benefit the Circle Program. The Circle Program provides girls from under-resourced New Hampshire families with new opportunities to learn the skills, courage and confidence they need to handle the challenges in their lives. This happens through a unique combination of adult and peer support that is delivered through year-round mentoring and residential summer camp programs. The Circle Program currently provides support to 87 girls and teens from 33 towns from Concord to Thornton, and the community that supports the Trot is directly helping those girls enroll in program services.

This year the Circle Trot’s primary sponsors were Bank of New Hampshire and Plymouth State University, with Bryant Paving sponsoring the School Spirit Challenge. The staff at Circle Program has a tremendous amount of gratitude for all our sponsors and volunteers who made the event so successful!

Minot-Sleeper Library engages community in American Creed conversation

BRISTOL — The Minot-Sleeper Library hosts a three-part series, American Creed: Community Conversation, beginning at the end of May through mid-June. The series welcomes all to come together to think about and engage in conversations about our community’s values and explore the idea of a unifying set of beliefs. The three programs held at the library in Bristol are part of this year’s nationwide American Creed: Community Conversations project. The Minot-Sleeper Library was one of 50 libraries in the country, the sole library in New Hampshire, to be awarded with a grant to participate in the project by the American Library Association.

The series will kick off at the library on Thursday, May 30 at 6:30 p.m. with a screening of the film “American Creed,” in which Condoleezza Rice, former U.S. Secretary of State, and David M. Kennedy, Pulitzer Prize-winning historian, come together from different points of view to investigate the idea of a unifying American creed. Their spirited inquiry frames the stories of people striving to bridge deepening divides in different communities around the country. The screening of the film will be followed by a community conversation, facilitated by Meg Petersen of the National Writing Project in New Hampshire.

The second program in the series will feature work by area high school students and will be held Wednesday, June 5 at 6 p.m. at the library. Students from Newfound Regional High School will present original projects in a variety of formats exploring community values and the idea of an American creed. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions of the students following the presentations.

The third and final program in the series will be a round table conversation held Tuesday, June 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the library. This event brings together community leaders to hear and discuss the ideas and beliefs shared by attendees of the first two programs and explore how this may inform their work in the Newfound Area.

The library invites all to participate in this exciting program, made possible by our country’s leading library organization, the American Library Association. Local organizations supporting this series include New Hampshire PBS, the National Writing Project in New Hampshire, and Newfound Regional High School.

Information about the American Creed series is available on the library’s Web site at minotsleeperlibrary.org. Those interested in the series may also call the library at 744-3352 or email librarian@town-offbristolnh.org with questions and comments.

Lakes Region Mental Health Center recognizes Mental Health Awareness Month

REGION — Mental Health Awareness Month has been observed in May in the United States since 1949, reaching millions of people in the United States through the media, local events, and screenings. Lakes Region Mental Health Center (LRMHC) is joining communities around the country raising awareness of the mental health needs of the one in five Americans that will be affected by mental illness in their lifetime. The statistics are alarming:

- More than 43 million adults experience mental illness in a given year.
- Nearly 1 in 25 adults (10 million) in America live with a serious mental illness.
- 1 in 5 teens and young adults live with a mental health condition—half develop the condition by age 14 and three quarters by age 24.

Each year more than 34,000 individuals take their own life. Suicide is the 10th leading cause of death among adults in the U.S. and the 3rd leading cause of death among adolescents.

“It is our hope that we will inspire others to raise awareness and take part in sharing information, resources and support for mental health conditions,” said Maggie Pritchard, Executive Director at LRMHC.

Lakes Region Mental Health Center has a number of educational and awareness events throughout the month of May in recognition of Mental Health Awareness Month.

May began with a kickoff event on May 1 at the New Hampshire Statehouse with remarks from Chief Justice John Broderick, Jr. co-Chair Change Direction New Hampshire followed by a proclamation from the Office of the Governor recognizing Mental Health Awareness Month in New Hampshire.

LRMHC Chief Executive Officer, Margaret Pritchard will be featured throughout the month of May on radio broadcasts on WEMJ and WEEI talking about workforce challenges and providing insight into the rewards of entering the mental health profession.

Also running the month of May on Lakes Region Public Access TV will be a panel discussion on the topic of trauma in children and adults and the impact trauma has on the family unit. Featured panelists include Ryan Aquilina, MS, LCMHC, Clinical Coordinator and MATCH Supervisor for LRMHC Child and Family Services; Chris Burns, APRN, Prescriber; Clinical Team and DBT Team member; Jen Schmidt, LCMHC, Clinical Coordinator for LRMHC Child and Family Services and DBRT member; and Jayme Sullivan, MSW, CSP Therapist, Clinical Team and DBT Team member. Erica Ungarelli, Director of the Bureau of Children’s Behavioral Health, Department of Health and Human Services will serve as moderator. LRPA is aired on Atlantic Broadband on channels 24, 25 and 26 in Belmont, Gilford, Laconia, Meredith and Northwood, NH. All other viewers who do not subscribe to Atlantic Broadband may view the Channel 25 simulcasts over the internet at <https://livestream.com/lrpatv/channel25>.

On May 9, LRMHC will have a vendor booth at Plymouth Regional High School’s Convergence event; a silent auction to raise awareness for mental health and substance misuse. Clinicians from LRMHC Child and Family Services will be on hand to answer questions. Staff will also be participating at the upcoming Health Expo on Sunday, May 19, held at the Gilford Community Church beginning at 11 a.m.

PSU awards 982 degrees at 148th Commencement ceremony

PLYMOUTH — Plymouth State University (PSU) celebrated its 148th commencement on Saturday, May 11 in the Bank of New Hampshire Field House of the Active Living, Learning, and Wellness (ALLWell) North Center; the University's state-of-the-art academic and athletic complex. A total of 982 undergraduate degrees were awarded before a crowd of more than 4,500 guests. Graduate and doctorate degrees were awarded in a separate ceremony on Thursday evening, May 9.

The theme for PSU's 148th commencement was 'persistence,' and President Donald Birx, Ph.D., opened his remarks by noting that the Class of 2019 began its journey at PSU at the same time as him. Birx, who began his tenure as PSU president in mid-2015, said, "We have grown a lot, experienced both good times and challenging ones, and yet we are here together today, in this place, sharing a moment that we will always remember."

As the Baby-Boomer generation continues to age, the need for physical therapists in skilled nursing facilities, home care and outpatient settings is expected to gain momentum. There is an increased emphasis on shortened hospital stays and according to a new study published earlier this month in the Journal of the American Medical Directors Association, "one to two weekly physical therapy sessions can help lower the chances of re-hospitalization." ### Memorial Day is about more than just a barbecue

We wanted to take this opportunity to say thank you to our readers, family and friends who have served, or who are currently serving in our armed forces. We all should take the time to remember those who have paid the ultimate sacrifice in the name of freedom.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, when we are relaxing, enjoying some barbeque and a big plate of pasta salad, we should take a moment to pause, even if it is undetected, and ruminate about the individuals who were brave enough to afford to us this freedom. Pick a battle and try to imagine, if you can, what it would be like if you were on the front lines. Those of us who have never served can't possibly imagine what this would feel like, however we can appreciate, recognize and commend the courage of those who are no longer with us and those who continue to serve.

When Memorial Day was first celebrated, it was known as Decoration Day following the Civil War. Youngsters would place flowers in cemeteries while they sang songs and honored those lost due to war. The Civil War, which ended in 1865, took the lives of more people than any other war in the history of the United States, the estimate is roughly 620,000. The Union losing 365,000 and the Confederacy 260,000. History says that more than half of these losses came as the result of disease. As a result, the first national cemeteries were created.

In 1868, General John A. Logan, the leader of an organization for Northern Civil War veterans, called for a nationwide day to honor fallen soldiers. General James Garfield gave a speech at Arlington National Cemetery on the first Decoration Day and the over 5,000 people in attendance decorated over 2,000 graves, both Union and Confederate.

The holiday as we all know is celebrated on the last Monday in May and became an official holiday in the year 1971. Parades across the country take place, and people visit cemeteries where family members who have served in the military have been laid to rest.

At 3 p.m. every year, a moment of silence takes place across the country. In December of 2008, President Bill Clinton signed the "National Moment of Remembrance Act" which designated the time be at 3 p.m. In 1966, the government marked Waterloo, New York as the official birthplace of Memorial Day. In Waterloo, every business in town would shut their doors and owners would venture out to decorate graves with flags as well as flowers.

Originally, Decoration Day was intended to honor those lost in just the Civil War. After WWI America felt the need, and rightfully so, to honor all those lost serving their country. In WWI 116,516 Americans died at war and 405,399 were lost during WWII. The Korean War took 36,574 lives and the Vietnam War cost 58,220 lives. A total of 4,411 were lost in Operation Iraqi Freedom, 73 in Operation New Dawn, 2,346 as the result of Operation Enduring Freedom, 48 in Operation Freedom's Sentinel and 61 in Operation Inherent Resolve.

An estimated 38 million people in America will travel over the holiday weekend, and 2.5 million travelers will board flights. Memorial Day is the fourth busiest travel day of the year.

In New York, Washington, D.C. and Chicago, you can find the largest parades in the country. Because of the three day weekend, many Americans will throw parties and barbecues or head out of town for a mini getaway. Whatever your plans might be, we hope you will join us in taking a moment at some point over the next few days to reflect on the sacrifices this holiday was enacted in tribute to.

Workplace prevention, education, and training

BY DEB NARO

Support your drug-free workplace program by educating staff and supervisors about the effects of substance use on health, job performance, and work safety. Be sure to communicate the value the organization places on the personal health of employees, their families, and their communities. An employee education program should clearly communicate the hazards of substance use and the benefits of avoiding substance use. At a minimum, the employee education component should also: provide materials on the risks associated with misusing alcohol, prescription drugs, and other drugs; inform employees on how to avoid substance use problems; and provide general health promotion information on topics such as stress management, healthy eating, and fitness. As resources permit, organizations should select one of several evidence-based substance misuse prevention programs that present materials in the context of broader health and safety issues.

Health and wellness topics such as stress management, nutrition and weight management, physical activity and exercise, and pain management are great opportunities to provide educational materials and other information on substance misuse prevention. The training topics can be tailored to the needs and interests of your specific workplace.

Stress management: Relying on alcohol or drugs to deal with problems and emotions can often create more problems. Identify social and emotional rewards that people seek from drugs, including alcohol and prescription drugs, then identify healthy alternatives to relieve stress and meet other social and emotional needs. Stories from people who have embraced healthier alternatives and are reaping the rewards can motivate participants toward behavior change. Modeling opportunities that promote the use of healthy alternatives and the avoidance of substance misuse can build self-efficacy and teach new skills.

Pain management: Pain is a common reason people seek medical treatment. Opioid pain relievers are among the most prescribed drugs in the United States. These drugs have a high potential for misuse, which has led to many overdose deaths and injuries. You may wish to consider alternative therapies for pain treatment when designing and reviewing employer-sponsored health care coverage.

Nutrition, weight management, and exercise: These health promotion topics can be used to raise awareness about the tendency of certain drugs, including alcohol, to lower inhibitions and lessen the effectiveness of dietary and exercise plans. Testimonials from individuals who have changed their behaviors within the context of their weight management, nutrition, or exercise plans can help motivate other employees.

For more information on living healthy drug-free lifestyles, please visit the CADY Web site at cadyinc.org. If you or someone you know struggles with addiction or substance use, please call 2-1-1 or the Doorway at LRGHealthcare (934-8905) for help.

Around and around the fields they go, thinking more than we ever could dream

Sometimes it takes you a lifetime to get mad about something. Even then, it turns out to be one of life's little foibles that you can't do much about---except perhaps write about, and share the blame.

A local man had died, in a family I knew of only faintly. But he had relatives in town; that's how I recognized the name. I was on the same sub-jayvee basketball team as his nephew.

They lived Out East---that seemed to be most of what anyone knew. "He was just a farmer," one of the adults said. Maybe she didn't mean it to be derogatory or dismissive, but it was a phrase I never forgot.

A few years later, I worked a summer for Lyman Forbes, who at that time was running one of the biggest dairy farms in the state (milking 105). These days, megafarms milking a thousand, even several thousand in Florida and California, are as common as crows, but back then 105 was really something.

Lyman was really something too. Never had I known a man (except, of course, my Dad) who thought so much about so many things, so fast. The frosting on the cake was a great sense of humor.

In his idle time, if there was any, Lyman invented a gutter-cleaner. A gutter is (or was) the narrow, shallow pit behind the business end of a cow.

Before Lyman built his back-and-forth, folding-paddle machine, manure was moved and removed by shovel and hoe.

It took seven surrounding out-of-business farms to provide enough hay for Lyman's operation. All spring, summer, and fall, Lyman figured out when and where to put machinery and hay-wagons and men, and what to cut and bale, and when, all the while supervising (and helping do) the milking. There were a myriad other not-so-small matters, such as grain, sawdust, and painting the silo (featuring, of course, me).

My main job for milking was to go get the cows, which I did all by myself, dogless, and then feed the young stock, and then help scrape and bed. My last job of the day, unless advancing storms called for us to bale late and get hay under cover, was to go down to the bulk tank and fill a big stainless steel pail with milk for the table. "Just a farmer," I remember thinking one night as I trudged back up to the house.

It might sound strange to say you're honored to put someone in the ground, but it was true when 200 or so kindred souls heard music and told stories and bowed for prayer to bury John Amey on a drizzly Sunday afternoon. Honored, as in honored to have known the man, and honored to be there.

I wonder if people wonder what a person driving a tractor around and around a

Elaine C. MacAdam, 72

BRIDGEWATER — Elaine C. MacAdam, 72, died Saturday, May 11, 2019 after a lengthy illness. She was born the second of three daughters of Robert and E. Lenore (Lewis) Cullen in Framingham, Mass.

Elaine was a long time resident and a participant of the noted "Framingham Heart Study." In 1984, she and her husband "Vic" purchased property in Bridgewater and began building the home they would spend the next 30 years of their lives in.

Elaine's professional career started in banking and investments for Framingham Trust. She eventually moved on to Shear Development, also known as National Computer Systems (NCS), designing financial software. From there, she became Senior VP of Investments and Senior Sales and Marketing Officer for First NH Bank. Elaine wanted a change from "corporate America" so she and Vic ventured into retail starting Iron Horse Metal Works showcasing Vic's wrought iron work. After years of traveling to craft shows to sell Vic's work, they opened Earthly Treasures Gift Shop in Bristol. There they sold Vic's creations, as well as work by many other American artisans, including Elaine's jewelry creations. Over the years Elaine was a member of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce and the Bridgewater planning board.

In addition to her professional career, she was well known as a highly spiritual woman who loved to share astrology through teaching and doing readings. Her astrology readings were always meticulously thought out and usually spot on. She had astrology clients from all over the country. Her love and light shined through her and always enjoyed helping guide others through life. Elaine truly enjoyed the creative side of life. Connecting everyday life to a creative spiritual journey. She loved making jewelry with stones that had a purpose. She enjoyed painting, especially oil and watercolor. Her connection with nature allowed her a green thumb and loved caring for her flowers, especially orchids.

Family members include her husband, Victor MacAdam of Bridgewater; a daughter, Nicole, and her husband Chris Goudreau of Bristol; two grandchildren, Hayleigh LeTourneau and Zachary Goudreau; one sister, Barbara; and her husband Edward Skrobach of Alexandria.

She was predeceased by one sister, Joan Martin.

Honoring Elaine's wisher, there will be no calling hours. A memorial mass with a celebration of life will be held later this summer. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in her memory to Newfound Area Nursing Association (NANA), 214 Lake St., Bristol, NH 03222. Arrangements are under the direction of Emmons Funeral Home of Bristol.

South Danbury Church

The South Danbury Church is nearing the end of its three-year preservation project. While the inside is mostly finished, the outside is waiting for some dry conditions –aren’t we all? If anyone could help on some cleanup days, your services would be greatly appreciated: southdanburychurch@gmail.com.

Grange Chicken BBQ

At their last meeting, the grange voted to donate the proceeds of their chicken BBQ on June 15 to the Lee Knapp Post of the American Legion. In the first stages of re-organizing, the post wishes to establish their presence in the community and work on maintaining the building. They are looking for donations to their fundraising raffle. Put June 15 – 5 to 6:30 p.m. on your calendar. Come on out to support the Danbury Legion.

School Plant Sale

The elementary school plant sale will be held on June 8. Originally planned for Memorial Day weekend, the plants and the weather seemed not ready for a sale. They will have started plants and seeds, many of which were saved and packaged by the afterschool program as well planted by the students. The plant sale is a large part of the fundraising to sustain the gardening program at the school. The school garden also needs volunteers to water and weed—just once or recurring during the summer.

Those that could help should contact Sharon Klapyk at 768-3701; sklapyk@comcast.net.

Open house

Gungewam Outfitters will hold an open house to celebrate their first year in business on Saturday June 1 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be free coffe, doughnuts and lunch will be served. There will be door prizes, equipment demos and many items on sale! Happy first anniversary!

Merrimack Wonder Pepper

The Danbury Country Store announced that they will have starter plants for sale at the store beginning on Thursday, including the Merrimack pepper. A community member that bought the pepper seeds at the farmers market this winter boasted 100 percent germination—great rate! Being an heirloom plant, you can let the pepper grow to maturity, take out the seeds and dry them for replanting next year. But-- Remember that if you plan to save the seeds for another year, you must only have that one kind of pepper in your garden. Planting more than one type will create cross pollination and the resulting plant from the saved seeds will not be like the original.

Touch a Truck

On Sunday June 2, the recreation committee will sponsor a Touch a Truck exhibit at the trailhead parking area in the center of town. From 11 a.m. until 2 p.m., bring the little ones on down to discover, touch, “drive” and experience big equipment!

Jake Shimabukuro rocks the 'uke' in Plymouth

PLYMOUTH — Jake Shimabukuro showcases his high energy live performance at The Flying Monkey in Plymouth on Saturday, June 8 at 7:30 p.m. Shimabukuro is known as the "Jimi Hendrix of the Ukulele." Tickets for this concert start at $39.

Don't underestimate the ukulele. It may be small, but musician Jake Shimabukuro proves that you don't need more than four strings to make magic happen.

rendition of "While My Guitar Gently Weeps" was posted on YouTube without his knowledge and became one of the first viral videos on that site.

One minute, his performance can sound like a lush lullaby, like the waves hitting the shores in his native Hawaii, while the next he can rock out with all the rasically tonality of an electric guitar. He can dive bomb it into a groove, shake it with some bluegrass spirit and still have it pay homage to its roots with classical Hawaiian signature chords.

"When I was in high school, I would pull electric guitar riffs and quote classical pieces and things like that. And I remember people just kind of looking at me and saying, "Wow, I didn't think you could do that with the ukulele." That's kind of when the light bulb went off. I started dabbling in different styles of music, playing some rock tunes, and jazz tunes, classical pieces... just hinting at different things in the beginning before really tackling them with a serious arrangement.

My freshman year in high school is when I really started to get ex-

Time to 'Cycle' through Some Investment Ideas

If you've noticed an increase in bicycle-related events lately, it may be because May is recognized as "Bike Month" – and some cities even observe a specific Bike Week. Of course, bicycling is good exercise and an environmentally friendly method of transportation, but it can also teach us some lessons about investing.

Here are a few to consider:
Put the brakes on risky moves. To keep themselves safe, experienced cyclists regularly do two things: They keep their brakes in good shape and they don't take unnecessary risks, such as whipping around blind curves. As an investor, you can combine these two actions by putting your own "brakes" on risky moves. For example, if you're tempted to buy some hot investment you heard about, you may want to think twice before acting. Why? In the first place, most "hot" investments don't stay hot for too long, and may be cooling off by the time you hear of them. And even more important, they might not be appropriate for either your risk tolerance or your need to diversify your portfolio. When you invest, you can't eliminate all risks, but you can reduce them by avoiding impulsive moves and sticking with a disciplined, long-term strategy based on your needs and goals.

Get regular financial tune-ups. Avid cyclists keep their bikes in good shape through regular maintenance. When you invest, you usually don't need to make a lot of drastic moves, but you should periodically "tune up" your investment portfolio, possibly with the help of a financial professional, during regular reviews. Such a tune-up may involve any number of steps, but the main goal is to update your portfolio so it reflects where you're at in life – your goals, risk tolerance, earnings and family situation.

Protect yourself from bumps in the road. All serious bicyclists – and all bicyclists serious about keeping their heads intact – wear helmets when they are riding, because they know the dangers of rough terrain. Likewise, you need to protect yourself from the bumps in the road that could impede your progress toward your objectives. For starters, life insurance can help your family meet some essential needs – pay the mortgage, educate children, and so on – in case something were to happen to you. And you may need disability insurance to replace your income temporarily if you became injured or ill and can't work for a while. Also, you might want long-term care insurance, which can help you guard against the potentially catastrophic costs of an extended stay in a nursing home or the services of a home health care worker.

Don't stop pedaling. When going long distances, bicyclists ride through rain, wind, sun and mosquitoes. They elude angry motorists and they change flat tires. In short, they persist in reaching their destinations. As an investor, you will pursue some goals that you may not reach until far in the future, such as a comfortable retirement, so you too need to demonstrate determination and persistence by continuing to invest, in good markets and bad, through unsettling political and global events – and even despite your own occasional doubts.

Whether you're an avid cyclist or not, following these principles can help keep your financial wheels moving along the road to your goals.

you can learn from death, and that the dead are still here all around us. He says death is our home. The Earth is our school. Van Praagh started his journey of developing his connection as a medium over 35 years ago. Born in New York, James ventured to California with the intention of becoming a sitcom writer. "I went to see the spiritual medium Brian Hurst, and he told me that I had the ability to be a medium and that I was going to help change the consciousness of the planet," he said. "That really got me thinking about psychic phenomenon, healing and wisdom." That encounter planted a seed that would eventually sprout into a full blooming connection to the spirit world. Van Praagh has become nationally known as a pioneer in the field of mediumship and has worked with millions of people, including celebrities. He co-produced "The Ghost Whisperer," and has been on numerous television shows including "Oprah," "Dr. Phil," "Larry King Live," "20/20," "The View," "Chelsea Lately" and the "Today Show." He also penned 11 books, with "Talking to Heaven" reaching the No. 1 spot on the New York Times best-seller list and the newest, "The Power of Love: Connecting to the Oneness," released at the end of 2016. Van Praagh has a bevy of accolades, and although he isn't keen on making house calls, he does tour the nation, hosting various demonstrations and events hoping to connect as many people with their loved ones as possible. Join the original "Ghost Whisperer" for a unique, one-of-a-kind evening that will expand your awareness and bring you in direct connection to the Other Side. James will share life-changing insights gleaned from decades of speaking with Spirit, and deliver detailed messages that will prove the existence of life after death. You will leave transformed and inspired, with a fresh perspective on life and death- and a stronger connection. Tickets for James Van Praagh range from $45-$55. 14 meters with a single electric meter, but that would only serve to make it more convenient for Eversource and was eliminated from the project.

“There are a lot of little things we can do to save money, and hopefully will be able to add some things back because of the savings,” Coates said.

Historic plaques

Coates said the selectmen are hopeful of being able to make use of historic plaques created by Plymouth State University students as part of a public history project they did for the town. The plaques may be placed in the new town hall, or in locations around town, but the Historic District Commission rejected them as not being suitable for the buildings they were intended to occupy.

The project is one of two that PSU students agreed to perform for the town as a community service project combined with a learning exercise. The other project is a merchandising and economic development project which will culminate in a report that the town has not yet seen.

The students doing the history project consulted twice with the Bristol Historical Society and did research with Richard Musgrove’s History of Bristol to identify 12 historic buildings and create weather-proof plaques that name the building and provide a brief history, with a QR code that allows people to scan it and be directed to a webpage the students created with more historical information.

Coates said he was not present when the Historic District Commission rejected the students’ work, so he could not speak to the reason the commission dismissed their scholarship, but as for the plaques, he said the commissioners wanted brass plaques that would be more in keeping with the character of the buildings than the Trex material the students used.

When Selectman Don Milbrand reported to his board about the decision, Chair Les Dion expressed dismay, saying, “That’s contrary to what we’re trying to do” in getting assistance from others.

Coates said after that meeting that “The board will figure out what to do next, and we’ll find a solution.”

New cruiser, new ambulance

Police Chief James McIntire reported that the new cruiser is in and he asked the selectmen at their May 16 meeting to approve a $17,000 transfer from the police cruiser capital reserve fund to equip the cruiser it is replacing with a hybrid cage that can be used for the K9 patrol as well as being able to transport a prisoner.

Selectman J.P. Morrison objected, citing the promise that the K9 patrol would be funded by donations and not cost the town any money. Chief McIntire explained that he wanted to make that cruiser a K9 vehicle so he could then sell the oldest cruiser that currently serves that function.

Selectmen approved the expenditure with Morrison abstaining from the vote.

Fire Chief Ben LaRoche reported on the arrival of the new ambulance, along with the new stretcher that had to be ordered to comply with new regulations that bar the use of the “hook and horns” stretchers that have been a mainstay in ambulances for many years. He said other towns pay more for ambulances, but he feels the one they purchased is “a pretty good product.”

LaRoche also reported that he would be interviewing finalists for the new firefighting position.

Selectmen heard the finalized schedule and plans for Bristol’s bicentennial celebration this summer and agreed in concept to the purchase of an evergreen tree for the downtown common. They asked members of the Pasquaney Garden Club to provide some prices and specifications.

Selectmen also agreed to try earlier weekday hours for the transfer station to accommodate people whose jobs prevent them from using it at the current schedule. The change will not take effect until the new transfer station opens.

On a 4-1 vote, selectmen agreed to a $23,500 contract for marketing and branding for the town, a proposal that originated with the economic development committee. Morrison voted against the contract, which came in 60 percent higher than the town had expected. Milbrand said he personally saw little value in rebranding the town, but went along with it because so many others considered it important.

On hand to deliver the check from Tanger Outlets on May 16 were General Manager Eric Proulx, Associate Assistant Manager Chris LaBranche and Office Administrator Justine Milan.

Proulx said each year the national Tanger Kids Grants program provides grants for schools selected from all across the country. The funds they disperse are made possible through coupon book sales for Tanger stores.

“The national program gives us $1 from every coupon book sold nationwide and this time we were given a total of $4,000 to give back to local schools in central New Hampshire,” Proulx said.

While more than 30 schools applied for the Tanger Outlet Kids Grants in Tilton, only four were of the local applications were approved. Those came from BHVS, Newfound Memorial Middle School, Canterbury Elementary School and Gilford Elementary School.

This year marks the second in a row that BHVS has been awarded a Tanger Kids Grant. It will be used to purchase Lego kits and other supplies for the P.O.P. program, while the $800 grant Newfound Memorial Middle School received will benefit the school store.

“We’re really grateful for all the support from Tanger,” Andrews said.

The goal of this event is to elevate the voices of people with first-hand experience in the discussion about solutions to these issues.

On May 23, look for LRMHC’s annual May Insert “Rooted in the Community” in the Salmon Press newspapers; a publication that is devoted to raising awareness of the prevalence of mental health issues that many people face in their lives. This year’s edition will also focus on the collaboration LRMHC has with other local organizations in order to increase access to care, expand services and improve patient outcomes.

On May 24, The American Red Cross and the Lakes Region Mental Health Center are partnering to bring Red Cross Resiliency Programs to Veterans, Service members, and Military Families. The first session, “Introduction to Mind and Body Skills” will be held at the LRMHC Conference Center from 5:30 – 7 p.m. on May 24. The workshop series continues on June 14th and on the second Friday of every month thereafter (June – December). Participants may attend one, some or all the sessions and there is no charge. The Resiliency Workshops aim to help improve coping abilities, communication skills and personal wellness strategies. Sign up for May’s workshop at <https://lrhmcmindbodymay.eventbrite.com>.

The Lakes Region Mental Health Center, Inc. is designated by the State of New Hampshire as the community mental health center serving Belknap and southern Grafton Counties. A private, non-profit corporation, LRMHC has two campuses, in Laconia and Plymouth that serves over 4,000 children, families, adults and older adults each year. LRMHC provides Emergency Services 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to anyone in the community experiencing a mental health crisis, regardless of their ability to pay. Additionally, LRMHC provides individual, group and family therapy; mobile crisis teams in the event a tragic event occurs that impacts a community at large, psychiatry; nursing; community support programs for people with severe and persistent mental illness; care management; community-based supports; housing; supported employment; substance use disorder treatment; and specialty services and evidence-based practices for children and their families, including trauma-focused therapy, art therapy and play therapy. still accomplish great things then to have Jim and Brad come meet with them,” said Sarfde.

During their visit the brothers not only provided copies of their first book, “The Original Story of Diane the Turtle,” they also surprised the students by reading them their latest book, “Happy Birthday Diane the Turtle.”

Diane the Turtle is a celebrity in her own right, living the good life in her spacious aquarium inside the brother’s shop. Nearly every child at the school raised their hand when the Tonners asked if they had ever stopped in to say hi to Diane. A live Web camera capturing her activities has also attracted fans from all over the world and Diane the Turtle has even been featured in newspapers, magazines and television shows from as far away as Europe and Asia.

Before they read the new book last week though, Jim and Brad first told students how Diane the Turtle came to be part of their lives.

When Jim was 12-years-old, he became ill and had to spend six months on his back in recovery. With no Internet in those days and few television channels for entertainment, he quickly grew bored with his confinement. The idea to hang a basket outside his bedroom window though soon became something Jim could look forward to each day as friends and neighbors regularly dropped small gifts, notes, books or toys inside to help him pass the time.

On Dec. 15, 1968, Jim said that he pulled the basket up to see if there was anything in it that day and was surprised to find a live, tiny turtle with a cute little habitat awaiting him.

While baby turtles were popular with children at that time, not many survived more than a few weeks or months since the proper care and the food for them was hard to come by. That didn’t stop Jim, his siblings and parents from treating her with loving care though. The whole family pitched in to help Jim nurture Diane over the years and last December, as perhaps the most pampered pet turtles around, she celebrated her 50th birthday with her friends near and far.

“Diane’s one of the few turtle survivors of the 1960’s,” Brad told the students. “When we brought her to Bristol we had no idea how many people would love her.”

The pair then brought out their newest book that tells the story of that landmark 50th birthday and all the fun the Tonners, their family and Diane’s friends had while planning her party. It was complete with items such as turtle donuts, cookies and cupcakes, face painting, balloons and other fun turtle trinkets for their guests. People even lined up outside their shop to wait for their chance to wish Diane the Turtle a happy birthday.

To this day Jim still has no idea who placed Diane the Turtle in his basket back in 1968, but he and Brad dedicated this latest book to that special unknown person, wherever they may be today.

Amidst the fun of the “Happy Birthday Diane” literary debut, Twin Designs’ Dancing Turtle pal joined in on the fun. When the story was over, the Dancing Turtle then helped Jim and Brad pass out gifts to the children of BES and “high-fived” each of them as they lined up for snacks.

Safde told them that as they each received not only an autographed copy of “The Original Story of Diane the Turtle,” but a plush turtle and a tiny toy turtle replica to take home, they should all keep the fun of reading in mind.

“When you read a book, any book, you should be reading it to your new turtle,” she said.

Jim and Brad also encouraged the boys and girls to care for any pets they have and treat them with the kindness and love they’ve shone Diane the Turtle over the last 50 years.

“Diane trusts everyone and she’s never had a bad day. You have to love your pets and take care of them and they’ll live a long time,” said Jim.

Copies of “Happy Birthday Diane the Turtle” will be on sale in just a few weeks at Twin Designs Gift Shop on Central Square in Bristol.

field is thinking about. If they notice the tractor, that is, or the field. Some people miss everything and look straight ahead, tunnel vision. It can lead to flawed policy at the highest levels.

John Amey, at such times, was thinking about how much manure he had left and where it should go before the grass got too high for the spreader. Or what he would say at the next Joint Rivers Commission meeting. Or whether Northern Pass was really going to rear its ugly head again. Or how the family would make it to the next milk check. Or whether that red-tailed hawk scudding along the treetops was a local or headed for the Maritimes.

It takes five trips around a field to make a bale of hay, and that’s if nothing goes wrong. I know, because I’ve done it. John Amey had done it a thousand times over, which is why neither one of us was a good recipient for a complaint about the price of a bale of hay. “You go out there and make one,” I wanted to say, and did, and probably he wanted to too, but he’d sooner bite off his tongue.

John and I knew each other as kids---one of his sisters and her husband were next-door neighbors---and then our adult lives took us on decidedly different paths. But in recent times we’d renewed a friendship that had always been there. We talked on the phone once a week. We went out to lunch once a month.

Seldom did we ever get the time to actually finish lunch. John was a good story-teller, and I’m no slouch. People dropped by our booth. Sometimes they stayed. We never got to even think about dessert.

And that’s what I heard Friday when he was lowered into the ground---that he couldn’t be gone, shouldn’t be gone, that there would be no more like him, that there should have been time for at least one more story.

Baseball Bears fall short against Franklin

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BRISTOL — The Newfound baseball team hung tight with Franklin on Wednesday, May 15, but the Golden Tornadoes came up with four runs in the sixth inning to turn a one-run lead into a five-run lead and held on for the 6-1 win.

“Their kid throws gas, but when all you have is a fastball, you choke up on the bat and hit it,” said Newfound coach John Larsen.

The Bears were able to take advantage of their aggressiveness in the bottom of the first inning after the visitors’ aggressiveness cost them the inning in the top of the first inning.

Freshman Kaleb Davis got the start on the hill and after getting the first two outs, he surrendered a double and a stolen base put the runner just 90 feet away. He attempted to steal home but catcher Mike Macklin was able to get the tag on before the runner touched the plate and the Bears were out of the inning.

With one out in the bottom of the first inning, Reed Wilson had a base hit and then Logan Rouille worked a walk. Both runners stole bases to move up and one out later, Wilson was able to steal home to give the Bears the 1-0 lead before the inning came to a close.

The leadoff batter in the top of the second reached on an error and eventually came around to score on a wild pitch to tie the game at one. Two more errors put runners on base but Davis got out of the inning with a groundout to short, that saw Rouille make a nice throw from the ground an Luke Gordon make a nice scoop at first to end the inning.

Aidan Ehmann led off the bottom of the second with a base hit and then both Gordon and Macklin were hit by pitches, loading the bases with nobody out. Two outs later, the bases were still loaded and Ehmann broke for home trying for Newfound’s second steal of home of the afternoon, but this time the Golden Tornadoes were able to get the out to end the inning.

The visitors took a 2-1 lead into the fifth inning and Davis continued to pitch well, striking out two in the inning, however the Bears also went in order in the bottom of the inning.

Franklin got a double, a base hit and an intentional walk to load the bases in the top of the sixth inning and then a hit batter pushed the third run across. A groundout to first drove in another run but Davis, third baseman Hunter Stickney and Macklin were able to cut down a runner trying to steal home. However, a hit batter and double plated two more runs for the 6-1 lead before Davis got a strikeout to get out of the inning.

Rouille made a nice diving play on a line drive in the top of the seventh inning to keep the Bears’ hopes alive. In the bottom of the frame, Gordon worked a walk and Macklin had a base hit, but they were stranded and Franklin took the 6-1 win.

“We catch that ball (first inning) in the outfield, it’s a different game,” said Larsen. “But we haven’t put pressure on the kids as we should have. And that’s a coaching issue.”

The Bear coach also praised the work of Davis on the hill.

“This kid has exceeded all expectations,” Larsen said. “That was big for a freshman.”

He said that younger players pushing the older players will make everyone better.

“If you make mistakes, we can put someone else in,” the Bear coach said.

The Bears hosted Hillsboro-Deering on Tuesday, May 14, and dropped a 9-3 decision to the Hillcats.

Newfound took a 3-2 lead into the fifth inning but the visitors had a three-run homer to take the lead for good.

After H-D scored once in the first, Newfound scored three in the third on a base hit from Ryan Lyford and a double by Wilson.

The visitors added four more in the seventh inning to close out the game.

Newfound had six hits, with Davis and Lyford each managing multiple hits.

A day earlier, the Bears dropped a 4-3 decision to Somersworth.

The Bears got on the board in the second inning on a Macklin single to plate their first run. However, Somersworth scored four runs in the fourth inning. Wilson and Rouille each had two hits on the day to lead the Bears.

The Bears are scheduled to wrap up the regular season on Friday, May 24, at home against Gilford at 4:30 p.m.

The Division III tournament opens on Wednesday, May 29, at the home of the higher seed at 4 p.m.

Big bats send Bears by Franklin

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BRISTOL — The Newfound softball team banged out 16 hits on Wednesday, May 16, and cruised to a 24-2 win over Franklin.

“You certainly have to respect your opponent no matter what,” said Newfound coach Kelly Meegan. “Anyone can win on any given day.

“We just have to come out and play our game,” the Bear coach added.

Newfound got one run in the first inning and then put up seven in the second inning to jump out to an 8-1 lead behind pitcher Kasey Basford. Basford worked around a walk in the top of the third inning as well.

Newfound kept the bats rolling in the bottom of the third inning. Maddy Cronis started the rally with an infield hit and Hayse Broome followed with a base hit and Tiffany Doan walked to load the bases. A Hayleigh Pabst base hit drove in another run for a 9-1 lead and then Bailey Fairbank tripled to drive in three more runs. Basford continued the inning with a walk and then Madison Hanley reached on an error to drive in Fairbank. One out later, Mackenzie Davis had a base hit to drive in two more runs and the Bears were well on their way with a 15-1 lead after three.

After a leadoff walk in the top of the fourth inning, Broome snagged a line drive at second base and turned it into a double play to keep the Golden Tornadoes off the board.

Newfound was able to plate nine more runs in the bottom of the fourth inning and closed out the 24-2 win.

“Hopefully this will build some confidence,” Meegan said. “Our team chemistry has been good lately.

“I’ve been trying to get the girls to come together and celebrate each other a little more,” the Bear coach said. “Chemistry is an important part of the team.”

Meegan also noted that Cronis and Alysia McDonough were called up from the JV program and did a nice job helping the varsity in the game.

For the game, Pabst had four hits, three RBIs, three runs and a triple, Fairbank had three hits, six RBIs, three runs, a double and a triple, Doan had two hits, two RBIs and four runs, Madison Perry had two hits, two RBIs, three runs and a double, Broome had two hits, one RBI and three runs and Cronis had two hits and scored two runs.

Basford gave up just one hit and struck out five over the five innings to get the win.

The win was Newfound’s second in a row, as they defeated Hillsboro-Deering 13-7 the previous day.

Fairbank had two hits, a double, three RBIs and two runs, Basford had two runs, three RBIs and two runs, Emalie Ruiter had two hits and a triple, Doan had a hit, an RBI and three runs, Pabst had a hit and three runs, Perry had a double and a run, Caroline Marchand had a hit and a run, Broome had a hit and a run and Jillian Buchanan drove in a run.

Pabst went the distance in the circle, striking out nine in seven innings.

On Monday, May 13, the Bears dropped a 10-9 decision to Somersworth. The Bears battled until the final minute but came up just short at the end.

Somersworth had two runners on in the seventh inning and a deflected ground ball allowed the winning run to score.

Newfound actually outhit the Toppers 15-3. Doan and three hits, a double, an RBI and three runs, Fairbank had three hits, two RBIs and a run, Perry had two hits, two RBIs and two runs, Ruiter had two hits, Pabst had two hits, one RBI and one run, Marchand had two hits and a run and Basford had a double, an RBI and a run.

The Bears wrap up the regular season on Friday, May 24, at home against Gilford at 4:30 p.m. The Division III tournament kicks off on Wednesday, May 29, at the home of the higher seed at 4 p.m.
