GHS top 10 seniors share career plans, memories

BY ERIN PLUMMER

eplummer@salmonpress.com

Gilford High School's top 10 graduating seniors will be going to schools from Vermont to Utah and pursuing everything from engineering to acting, though all of them will leave with some favorite memories.

Sienna Remick, Rebecca Cook, Sarah Lachapelle, Christian Ayer, Karina Tomlinson, Samih Shafique, Patrick McKenna, Mariah Nelson, Jordan Dean, and Mitchell Mattice are the top 10 ranking seniors at GHS.

"This top 10 has been the same people, we've been the same since they told us for the first time," Cook said.

Remick is the valedictorian and Cook is the salutatorian.

"We worked pretty hard to keep our grades up in all our classes," Cook said.

Remick will go to Boston College, though said she has yet to decide what she will do for a career.

Cook will be attending Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania and said she wants to be a civil engineer.

Mattice will be attending the University of Western Ontario to study computer engineering. He has Canadian citizenship and said it will be cheaper for him to attend school in Canada.

"I get to experience what it's like to be there," Mattice said. "They have a really great engineering program."

Shafique will be attending Boston College and aims to be a doctor.

Ayer will be going into Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, saying he wants to go into journalism and acting.

Dean was recruited to Saint Michael's College in Colchester, Vt. for their volleyball team. She said she wants to go into pharmaceutical research.

Lachapelle will attend the University of New England in Maine, and said she wants to try for the softball team. She said she plans to be a physician's assistant, but is unsure if that will remain her career track.

McKenna is going to Gettysburg College for Political Science and Public Policy. McKenna said he wants to write public policy.

Nelson will go to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute majoring in biology, but she said she is currently unsure of what she would like to do for a career.

Tomlinson, who will be attending Endicott College in Beverly, Mass., and also said she is unsure what to do for a career.

As the top 10 seniors move on from GHS, there will be things they will miss about Gilford.

McKenna attended Bishop Brady High School his freshman year, but came back to GHS.

"I'll miss the sense of community we have at our school," McKenna said.

"I feel like I made relationships with people I never expected I would," Dean said.

Cook said she felt she built some good relationships with the staff members.

Homecoming and Winter Carnival were a few activities the seniors said they greatly enjoyed. Dean, Mattice, and Cook said these have been great opportunities for people to work together. Cook said she especially liked Spirit Wallways during Homecoming and Dean said she really liked the Homecoming sports.

"These are the only games I can really go to support others," said Dean, who is a three sport athlete and said she doesn't always get the opportunity.

Sellout WOW Ball to help with next trail phase

BY ERIN PLUMMER

LACONIA — A night of dinner, dancing, and some huge prizes was big help for the WOW Trail as it nears its second phase of construction.

The 13th annual WOW Sweepstakes Ball brought partiers to the Opechee Conference Center for a night of fun and chances at big prizes, including the $10,000 grand prize.

During the ball each ticket holder had their numbers chosen to win various prizes, including thousands of dollars in cash. Guests could also take part in a live and silent auction as well as dance to the music of Phil 'N the Blanks.

WOW Trail executive director Gretchen Gandini said they had an early sellout this year, with all tickets being sold by Wednesday.

"People are actually calling us (today) to see if they can find tickets," Gandini said.

The grand prizewinner of $10,000 was Maureen Mello of Gilford, who was not present when the prize was announced.

Ashley Donovan of Gilford was the second place winner of $1,000. Donovan said this was her first WOW Ball. She found out from Gilford librarian Maria Suarez that there was a table for people from the library and she was invited to take part.

"It was very exciting; it was very unexpected," Donovan said of her win.

Donovan and Mello were given the option of splitting $5,500 each. After a phone conversation between the After hard work and a few challenges, members of the Gilford High School band and chorus came back from a music festival at Six Flags New England with top honors.

In April the band, percussion ensemble, and chorus took part in Music in the Parks at Six Flags New England, a one-day music competition held at Six Flags parks around the country. GHS will take part in the Six Flags competition every other year between years with big trips.

At the end of the daylong festival, GHS won Best Overall High School for both band

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS
Library Correspondent

What do "Far From the Madding Crowd," "The Martian," and "A Walk in the Woods" have in common? They were all books that were made into movies. Or, if you recognized the titles from their movies, they were all recent films based on books. From either perspective, the stories were so interesting and so well told, they were worth retelling in a different media.

Sometimes the transition doesn't quite work (see: "The Giver," "The Golden Compass," or "Gulliver's Travels") but most of the time the attempts are at least worth a watch. In the case of "Fight Club" its author Chuck Palahniuk said that the movie adaptation was a better telling of the story than his own novel was.

As many new films are based on books, those of us in the know can take the opportunity to read the book beforehand if we haven't already. Yes, we will probably throw in the odd "Well, in the book, it happened like this..." although I recommend caution. Viewers of "Game of Thrones" show won't let me live it down now that the HBO series has out-written George R.R. Martin.

In recent memory, many of the most popular movies have been those based on books. "Far From the Madding Crowd" by Thomas Hardy was turned into a movie that I often recommend. "The Revenant," loosely based on Michael Punke's book of the same name, is currently the most popular movie in the collection. Some others include, "In the Heart of the Sea," "The Danish Girl," "A Walk in the Woods," "Z for Zachariah," "Still Alice," "Room," and many, many others.

It seems like all of the greatest hits in teen books have been made into movies since Harry Potter. Recently, we have seen Suzanne Collins' "Hunger Games" series, Veronica Roth's "Divergent" series, and James Dashner's "Maze Runner" series. Each of these series have been high grossing, multi-film sagas with a lot of interest at the library. "The 5th Wave" just came out to add another series to the lot. They do make films out of other books besides those set in dystopian societies, like "Paper Towns," "Me and Earl and the Dying Girl," and "Pride and Prejudice and Zombies."

Eternal fans of "The Notebook" can celebrate at other Nicholas Sparks books being made into movies; "The Longest Ride" and "The Choice" being the latest releases. I was amazed to find out that 11 of his books have been made into movies. Eleven!

This trend is only growing. The list of anticipated 2016 films based on books is staggering. We can look forward to Dan Brown's "Inferno," Jojo Moyes' "Me Before You," Paula Hawkins' "The Girl on the Train," M.L.

Stedman's "The Light Between Oceans," and several others. Of particular interest is the true memoir by Susannah Cahalan, "Brain on Fire." Teens will enjoy Ransom Riggs' "Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children" and the outrageous Newt Scamander's "Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them," set in the Harry Potter universe. Children are sure to enjoy the new "The BFG" movie (Big Friendly Giant).

I, for one, will not complain with the trend. Film makers and producers could do worse than great names in fiction when looking for ideas. In most cases we have both the books and their films at the library, so stop by to enjoy these stories twice!

New technology, more programming among recent LRPA changes

BY ERIN PLUMMER
erplummer@salmonpress.com

New technology and programming with a smaller budget were some of the changes recently made by Lakes Region Public Access Television.

Grace McNamara, director and station manager of Lakes Region Public Access TV, spoke to the Gilford board of selectmen during a recent meeting to do a presentation and do an update on the organization.

LRPA has an agreement with Laconia, Gilford, Meredith, Belmont, and Northwood to provide Public, Educational, and Government

(PEG) access programming. Programming can be found on Channels 24, 25, and 26.

Town Administrator Scott Dunn said the town pays less than $15,000 a year as a member of LRPA, money that comes from the Metro-Cast cable franchise fees and not from taxation. Dunn said at one point, that fee was more than $20,000.

McNamara started as the station director on July 4 of last year and said there have been a number of changes since the beginning of the year.

The organization cut $35,000 out of its budget through changing jobs and job titles. Everyone who works at the station does so on a part time basis instead of full time and payroll is outsourced.

LRPA works in conjunction with students at the Huot Tech Center. Last year, 40 Huot students worked during the Children's Auction.

She said they upgraded the studio's equipment and lighting. They now have an eight-channel switcher and can have up to eight cameras running at a time.

McNamara said they have been doing a lot of community outreach, especially with key stakeholders.

"We're trying to get people connected in the station that way," McNamara said.

They received a $300 grant from Meredith Village Savings Bank to upgrade their website, which she said will make the website more collaborative. Programming is now streaming on the website www.lrpa.org. The site will be coming down soon so changes can be made, but McNamara said they will find a way to keep live-streaming up.

LRPA has 41 regularly scheduled programs with 10 new programs that were created this year. McNamara said they estimate they've had a 32 percent increase in programming, which doesn't include special programs. McNamara urged people to come in and start their own programs. The station is located at Laconia High School and use of it is free.

"It's actually really, really fun, I highly recommend it," McNamara said. "If you have something that's of interest to you, chances are it's of interest to your friends and neighbors. That's why public access TV exists so it gives you direct access to the media."

LRPA is also looking for volunteers to help film events going on in the community throughout the year.

McNamara said they would appreciate feedback on anything including anything people would like to see. LRPA can be reached at 528-3070 and director@lrpa.org.

Summer ACE Academies filling up

GILFORD — WinnAero, the aviation-themed non-profit, is gearing up for its summer 2016 ACE Academies. The ACE name is derived from the WinnAero mission which, in part, is to provide Aerospace Career Education or ACE.

WinnAero Educational Services Director, Dan Caron, promises a diverse daily activities schedule no matter what age group is involved. Caron pointed out that word-of-mouth publicity, based on prior summers' graduates, has already generated 26 applications for the 80 available seats. One such early registration came from Charlie Gelatt, Middle Schooler from Canterbury. Charlie and his dad, Anthony, drove to the WinnAero Board Meeting on 17 May to hand-deliver Charlie's ACE application. The board was so impressed with the young man's dedication that they granted Charlie

Pet of the Week: Thor

Giving this little puppy a big empowering, Superhero name is just the first step for young Thor as he learns a little more about the world each day at New Hampshire Humane Society.

Thor and his four littermates were found in the driveway one morning. We're glad those folks left them with us, rather than abandoning them in the woods somewhere; we ARE here to help, after all.

Thor is a handsome tan & white pup of terrier extraction, only a DNA test, yes they have them for dogs now, will tell the tale of his parentage but it's a reasonable guestimate he's a gentle, sweet, shy Staffordshire Terrier type. Perhaps watching the documentary, The Champions, might help those decide if they wish to open their hearts and home to little Thor, he needs some confidence building and required puppy classes available at New Hampshire Humane Society.

With kind, positive guidance Thor will surely emerge from his shell of insecurity into the sunlight of confidence that life with caring humans will imbue him with.

Best home, one with children over twelve years of age, and did we mention, he likes cats!

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

Across the continent by train, to find home just about the same

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

I don't know what else I should have expected after getting back home from a transcontinental train trip—a springtime heat wave, or black flies hatching out a bit early, or peepers peeping away after getting put down by a cold spell just before I'd left. But not snow.

Yet there they were as I drove northward on Route 3 just above Stratford on the morning of Monday, May 16, vehicles bearing a couple of inches of the white stuff on roofs and hoods, refugees from the higher country all around, evidence that winter was not done trifling with us yet.

Neighbors had graciously kept my dog for the week while I was continent-hopping, and the road up to their house was flanked by big spruce and fir trees heavy with snow. Millie always greets me with chaotic yips, whines, shrieks, tail-wagging, false biting and much leaping about, whether I've been gone for an hour, a day or a week, and Wayne knelt on the kitchen floor to watch the show, lacking only a box of popcorn. When we made the turn into my back barnyard, Millie never straying an inch from my side, I thought I saw the tips of tulips pushing up through the white stuff.

That afternoon, despite a stiff and cold wind from the northwest, black flies flitted around my head whenever I found myself in the lee of house or barn. These were the males, which do not bite. Soon to come would be the females, which most certainly do. Someone asked me right about then, somewhere, how black flies can hatch in such cold. But that's dictated by the temperature of the water in brooks and streams, which is where black flies hatch out. And the water temperatures are creeping upward no matter what the weather's doing, at least enough to trigger black flies.

Two days later, with partridges beginning to drum in the woods, I was looking at green grass all around, with the front lawn due for its second mowing and the pastures almost ready for the horses, or cows, or a mixture of both that take up residence there as soon as there's anything to eat and stay until late fall when every last green thing is gone.

The train I so enjoyed had taken me from Boston to Chicago and then along the Lower 48th's northern tier into Seattle, a sparkling city that is one of the jumping-off points (Portland, Oregon being the other) for Alaska, Yukon, British Columbia and the rest of the Far North. It is a bustling place where anyone who can't get a job, I'd guess, doesn't want one.

In its cross-country trip, the train had traversed the lower regions of Glacier National Park, where the vagaries of the seasons, I figured, have nothing on us.

Make it easier for emergency responders to access your home

To the Editor:

Residents of the Lakes Region should try to make it easier for the Fire & Police Departments to help them act more quickly in an emergency at their residences, and to save themselves the cost of replacing a door or window in the process.

If there is an emergency in your residence and the Fire or Police Departments are called, either by an alarm company or by one of those companies that seniors might use to monitor themselves in case they have fallen and cannot get up, the only way for the first responders to enter your locked residence to assist you to try to save your life or property may be to break down a door or window of your home, unless there is a better way for them to get quick access.

There is a better way. This problem can be easily avoided by installing on the outside of your home, near the entrance, a locked steel device designed to hold a key to your residence but that can only be accessed by the Fire Department. Many commercial establishments already have these.

There are at least two, perhaps more, companies that sell such boxes that are keyed only to your local fire department. You can find out which of the companies your fire department works with on these by contacting your own fire department. The devices are known by various names such as Knox Boxes or Kidde Supra Safes.

They range in cost from about $50 to over $200, plus the cost to install if you cannot do it yourself. Some can even be connected via a tamper switch to your alarm system if you have one.

In any event, it seems like it may be advisable for your local fire department to be able to get quick access to your home in the event of an emergency. It might even save your life.

two, they decided to "go for it" and let the final draw decide. In the end Mello won the $10,000 and Donovan won $1,000.

The third and fourth place prizes of $500 went to Robert Wright of Windham and Randall Hancock of Meredith. Prizes of $200 were given to George Hachey of Gilford, Christine Robie of Exeter, Shelley Proulx of Gilford, Rachel Normandin of Hudson, Sharon Cavanaugh of Laconia, and Mike Seymour of Laconia.

This was the last WOW Ball at the Opechee Inn and Conference Center. WOW Trail board chair Allan Beetle said the location of the next ball is "totally up in the air." He said they would want a venue around Laconia so more people would be able to take part, which would be difficult if it was in a farther area. Beetle said there are not many locations in the Laconia area that could fit that many people.

Proceeds from the evening's event will go to the continuation of the WOW Trail, especially the construction of Phase 1.

The WOW Trail awaited a vote by the Laconia City Council to build Phase 2 of the trail, which will be on New Salem Street between Pleasant Street and Pittman's Freight Room. Beetle said the biggest issues involved eliminating 12 parking spaces and a right hand turn lane. If the project is approved, construction will begin around July.

The project is $76,000 short assuming that the WOW Ball would make an average amount. Beetle said they will be approaching businesses and community members to help raise that money.

"That shortfall will not stop us from building," Beetle said. "We will build it even if we have to borrow money."

rus performed "Gloria Deo" and "Danny Boy."

The band had been working on their pieces since the beginning of the third school trimester.

"We had a lot of challenges trying to fit in parts, but it all came together in the end," said Leah Gardener.

Beyrant said one of the challenges for the band was one half is in morning band and the other is in the regular afternoon band.

"It's hard to put those two together to come up with a decent overall product," Beyrnt said.

She said she chose one easier piece as opposed to two hard pieces.

"I think the band really pulled it together better than I thought," said Shannon Anderson.

Joining the festival was the percussion ensemble. Gardener said the school has not had a percussion ensemble for a while. She said they didn't have a lot of time to rehearse and had to come after school.

"We tried our hardest and we did good," Gardener said.

Dawson Ellis said the chorus picked out songs toward the later end of the second trimester and have been working on them since. He said the songs were a bit interesting, with one having some different meters that were a little bit of a challenge to work with.

Chorus director Denise Sanborn was unable to be at the festival. Ellis said he joked about taking the role of conductor and Sanborn actually agreed with the suggestion. Ellis said he had never done any conducting before.

"It was something I was really glad to have the opportunity to work with," Ellis said.

Ellis said he still has a ways to go before being more proficient at conducting, but the chorus members really helped him understand how to do it better.

Chorus member Cordelia Penney said Ellis was a good director overall.

"A lot of the kids, I felt like they were scared because they didn't have Mrs. Sanborn there to help them," Penney said. "Dawson stepped up."

Ellis and Penney said there was a point in the week where they were questioning whether they could do this and they were unsure how they did right until they got the award.

"We did our first song pretty well," Penney said. "Our second song we were off key in the beginning. You could feel some people start to panic and tense up. With the help of Dawson and everybody else we managed to pull it together."

Gardener said when the band was announced as the trophy winner, "I could not contain my excitement."

"When they said we won it, I was very surprised," Gardener said.

Lauder Miller, 88

SANBORTON —Lauder Miller, 88, of Jolly Island, Gilford, and 131 Woodman Rd., Sanbornton, passed away peacefully at home on May 12, 2016, surrounded by his loving wife of 65 years and family after a long decline.

Born in Newport, R.I. on Nov. 26, 1927, Lauder was the son of the late Robert and Grace (Stenhouse) Miller. Lauder was a 1946 graduate of Rogers High School, and earned his BS and M.Ed. from Boston University, with additional work towards his Ph.D. at Bridgewater State University.

Lauder grew up in Newport, R.I. As a young man, he served two tours of duty in Korea during the war with the U.S. Army. He married his high school sweetheart Estelle Burn while attending college in Boston.

After completing his education they moved to Foxborough, Mass. He was the first male elementary teacher in Foxborough and later became a junior high math and science teacher. He served as president of the Foxborough Teachers' Association. After teaching for 35 years, he and Estelle retired to New Hampshire where his family had lived summers since 1893.

He served as President of the Jolly Island Association for many years, as well as acting as the island's Agent where he performed a high level of stewardship for his beloved island for years and years. He once said that during his time in Korea he would try to imagine hearing the wind in the pine trees at his camp in New Hampshire in order to find peace.

His greatest love was spending time there with his family, working outdoors on all kinds of projects using his mind and his hands to build and repair all shapes and sizes of structures and seeing his growing family enjoy his favorite place. His wife, children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren were his entire life and his most cherished times were spent with them.

In 1994, he and his wife journeyed to Scotland, a trip he'd always wanted to take to visit areas where his father grew up and to reconnect with his Scottish and Viking roots. He loved the outdoors and nature and spent most of his advanced years working around his home in Sanbornton when he wasn't at his camp on the lake.

He is survived by his loving wife, companion, and best friend, Estelle B. Miller of Sanbornton; his daughters, Jessica E. Miller of Weymouth, Mass., Rachel M. Cooper and her husband Stephen of Shelburne, Mass., and Rebecca A. Beane and her husband Scott of Sanbornton; his seven adored grandchildren (Simon M. Wilensky of Berlin, Germany, Amanda Ranieri of Franklin, Mass., Spencer Lauder Beane and his wife Aurelia of Reading, Mass., Erin Wilensky of Shelburne, Mass., Vanessa Knasas and her husband, Alvy of Burlingame, Calif., Chelsey R. Canavan and her husband Timothy of Boston, Mass., and Ariana Ranieri of Coconut Grove, Fla.). He also leaves behind his long awaited and dearly loved great grandsons, Elias Erwin Wilensky and Aiden Lauder Wilensky of Berlin, Germany, and Alvy Lauder Knasas of Burlingame, Calif., as well as his nephew, Scott McAskill of Newport, R.I.

He was the brother of the late Robert Miller of Coventry, R.I.; the late Roberta (Miller) McAskill of Newport, R.I.; and the late Madeline Miller of Newport, R.I.

During the last years of his life, Lauder was lovingly cared for by his devoted wife, along with the unwavering and dedicated assistance of his caregivers, Haley Johnson, Elizabeth ford Schools and went on to graduate with degrees in accounting. She loved her cats, Dusty and Speedy. She was an avid fan of the Patriots, the Red Sox, NASCAR and she loved watching wrestling.

Talk to Your Adult Children About Smart Financial Moves

If you have children who are finishing college or embarking on their first full-time job, you obviously want them to get off to a good start in their adult and working lives. And by virtue of your years of experience, you probably have some good advice to offer - especially when it comes to making smart financial moves.

Of course, you can find a broad array of financial topics to discuss. But if you want to concentrate on just a few, you might consider these for starters:

- Investing for the future - When young people are paying off student loans, they may not think they can also afford to invest for the future. Indeed, this can be challenging - but it's not impossible. So, if your children go to work for an employer that offers a retirement plan, such as a 401(k), you may want to point out that they can have money automatically invested - and since they never really "had" this money in the first place, they are less likely to miss it. They can start by deferring small amounts; when their earnings rise, they can increase their contributions.

- Buying a home and paying off a mortgage - With interest rates still low, now is not a bad time for prospective first-time homebuyers. Of course, if your children truly are starting out in the working world, it will likely take them a few years to save up enough for a down payment. But even after they reach that goal, you may want to warn them not to become "house poor" by spending a large portion of their total income on home ownership. If they do buy a house, though, and their incomes go up as their careers progress, they may wonder if they should pay down their mortgage quicker. While they might feel good about lowering that debt, you may want to point out that an argument could be made for putting money in assets that will likely be more liquid, such as stocks and bonds. For one thing, if your children were to lose their jobs, and they needed cash to tide them over until they were once again employed, they'd likely find it much harder to get money out of their homes than their investment accounts. Also, in terms of accumulating resources for retirement, they might better off building up their investment portfolios, rather than sinking every extra dollar into their homes.

- Using credit wisely - Urge your children to avoid taking on excessive credit card debt and taking out non-essential loans. As you know, having a good credit score can pay off in several ways, including getting better rates on mortgages. You may want to risk sounding "old fashioned" by encouraging your children to live within their means. And consider pointing out that it's often the people who are the most frugal today who may end up with the most money tomorrow.

It's not always easy for young people to get off on the right foot, financially speaking. But as someone who knows a thing or two about controlling debt, saving and investing, you can help your children out by imparting a few words of wisdom.

How to show appreciation for military personnel

Military personnel are unsung heroes whose sacrifices for their country make it possible for hundreds of millions of people to enjoy freedoms that many people across the globe do not have. In recognition of those sacrifices, many people want to show their appreciation to both active and retired servicemen and women. Fortunately, there are many ways to do just that.

- Pitch in at home. According to the United States Department of Defense, the United States military currently deploys active duty personnel in nearly 150 countries. Many of those troops are separated from their families for months at a time, and that separation can make things difficult for their loved ones back home. If a neighbor's spouse is deployed overseas, offer to help around the house. Whether it's mowing their lawn, dropping their kids off at school or inviting the whole family over for dinner one night each week, such gestures can go a long way toward easing the burden faced by spouses of deployed military personnel.

- Send gifts to active personnel. Servicemen and women on active duty do not enjoy many of the luxuries that tend to be taken for granted back home. But men and women who want to show their appreciation can send care packages to active personnel serving overseas. An organization such as Operation Gratitude (operationgratitude.com), which to date has sent nearly 1.3 million care packages to active personnel, sends care packages filled with snacks, entertainment, personal hygiene products and handmade items. This provides active personnel a taste of home while also letting them know their extraordinary efforts are appreciated and not forgotten.

- Volunteer at a veterans hospital. Unfortunately, many servicemen and women return home from their deployments with injuries or health conditions that require long-term care. By volunteering at veteran hospitals, men and women can help veterans overcome their injuries and provide much-needed help to staff at hospitals that could use a helping hand. Visit volunteer.va.gov for more information.

- Make a financial donation. For those who want to support servicemen and women but don't have much free time to do so, financial donations can go a long way toward improving the quality of life of active and retired military personnel. Many programs work with veterans to improve their quality of life, and such organizations rely heavily on financial donations to make their missions a reality. The Wounded Warrior Project (woundedwarriorproject.org), for example, works to honor and empower servicemen and women who incurred physical or mental injuries or illnesses on or after September 11, 2001. The organization relies on the generosity of individuals who want to help wounded military personnel overcome their injuries and illnesses. Based on audited financial statements of the 2014 fiscal ending on September 30, 2014, 80.6 percent of total expenditures went to services and programs catering to wounded military personnel and their families, assuring prospective donors that their donations will go toward helping those in need.

There are many ways that civilians can express their gratitude to active and retired military personnel.

Sailing school announces partnership with local communities

It is an unfortunate fact that, in an area called "the Lakes Region," many youngsters have little to no opportunity to enjoy our Lakes. The Lake Winnepesaukee Sailing Association, which has run a popular sailing camp since 1988, is working hard to address that reality by making it possible for local parks and recreation programs to add sailing to their after-school offerings.

Through this new partnership, students in Belmont, Gilford, Laconia, and Meredith may enroll through their local park and recreation departments in afterschool classes that will be taught by the sailing school's certified instructors at their Sailing Center on Smith Cove in Gilford. Amy Tripp, the school's executive director says "This will allow kids who would otherwise not have the opportunity, to experience the joy and challenge of sailing. In that spirit, we will work with the communities to provide financial assistance where needed."

This program is open to students age 11 and older. It will run for five afternoons, from 4 to 7 p.m., on June 1, 6, 8, 13, and 15. At the Dave Adams Memorial Sailing Center, 25 Davis Rd., in Gilford. Tuition will be $99 per student.

Al Posnack, a longtime volunteer with the program, emphasizes that this program is about a lot more than learning to operate sailboats.

"It's about developing self-confidence, teamwork, problem-solving, concentration, and more," Posnack says. "Sailing SEE SAILING PAGE A13

Local educator selected to participate in Advanced Placement program reading

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Amie Edmunds, a Social Studies teacher at Gilford High School, was recently selected to participate in the College Board's annual AP Reading in World History.

Each June, AP teachers and college faculty members from around the world gather in the United States to evaluate and score the free-response sections of the AP exams.

AP Readers are high school and college educators who represent many of the world's leading academic institutions. The AP Reading program is a unique forum in which an academic dialogue between educators is both fostered and encouraged.

"The Reading draws upon the talents of some of the finest teachers and professors that the world has to offer," said Trevor Packer, Senior Vice President, AP and Instruction at the College Board. "It fosters professionalism, allows for the exchange of ideas, and strengthens the commitment to students and to teaching. We are very grateful for the contributions of talented educators like Amie Edmunds."

The Advanced Placement program (AP) enables willing and academically prepared students to pursue college-level studies — with the opportunity to earn college credit, advanced placement or both — while still in high school. Through AP courses in 37 subjects, each culminating in a rigorous exam, students learn to analyze complex problems, construct solid arguments, and see many sides of an issue — skills that prepare them for college and beyond. Research indicates that students who score a 3 or higher on an AP exam typically experience greater academic success in college, and are more likely to earn a college degree than non-AP students.

The students and staff at Gilford Elementary School collected a total of 870 cans of fruits and vegetables for Gilford Got Lunch program as part of the Early Act Club's annual food drive. In addition, the Early Act Club made a cash donation to bring the total number of cans donated to 1,000 cans! Sponsored by the Gilford Rotary, the Early Act Club engages learners (grades 3 and 4) in character-building activities and community service opportunities.

Celebrate Halfway to St. Patrick's Day with Dropkick Murphys Irish Festival

GILFORD — Boston's own Dropkick Murphys are closing out the 2016 Eastern Propane Concert Series at Bank of New Hampshire Pavilion in Gilford, Sept. 17! Tickets ranging from $29.75 to $49.75 go on sale Friday, May 27 at 10 a.m. Get your tickets by calling the Box Office at 293-4700 or log on to [www.BankNH Pavilion.com](http://www.BankNH Pavilion.com).

An American Celtic punk band, formed in Quincy, Massachusetts in 1996, Dropkick Murphys have made a household name for themselves locally through constant touring and yearly St. Patrick's Day week shows held in and around Boston. Their 2004 smash hit "Tessie" became the band's first mainstream hit and one of their biggest charting singles to date. "I'm Shipping up to Boston", off their 2005 "Warrior's Code" album was featured in the 2006 Academy Award-winning film "The Departed." This single went Platinum, and remains one of Dropkick Murphys' best known songs to date, becoming the walk-up song of Red Sox closer, Jonathan Papelbon, who danced an Irish jig to the song several times throughout the 2007 Boston Red Sox Championship season.

Dropkick Murphys first started playing in the basement of a friend's barbershop and soon began to tour and record. Their first big break came when the Mighty Mighty Bosstones selected them as an opening act for their 1997 tour.

Halfway: Dropkick Murphys Irish Festival will feature music on two stages, with Dropkick Murphys headlining this new annual festival event and will be bringing their own hand-picked direct support acts, to be announced very soon, together with regional acts including The House on Cliff, The Have Nots, Tighticus Finch, Stone Giant, Ricecrackers, Vundabar and Lady Pills. Also on site during the festival will be the Murphys Boxing ring. VIP seats to the boxing matches will be available to ticketholders and on sale shortly. Check out our Midway Festival with events in every corner. From Gaelic musical chairs and the Magic Hat Mayhem Course to Harpoon Saloon keg bowling and Samuel Adams National Stein Hoist competition — there's something for everyone. Don't forget to visit Crafters Row in the Midway with Moat Mountain Brewing Company, Woodstock Inn Brewery and Smuttynose Brewing Company and celebrate New Hampshire beer!

Defensive adjustment sends Eagles past Belmont, 24-13

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

GILFORD – Thanks to a second half adjustment, the Gilford High School girls' lacrosse team was able to pull away for a badly-needed victory on May 17.

The host Golden Eagles switched senior Dana Ruchti onto Belmont High School star Allivia Burbank, and the squad went on an 12-1 run in the second half to turn a close game into a convincing 24-13 victory in Division III play at the Meadows.

"We made a couple of second half adjustments on defense," explained Gilford head coach Mike Normandin. "Dana did a great job against (Burbank), who is a great player. She tore us apart in the first half."

Burbank scored seven of her game-high 11 goals in the first half, as the senior was able to score on all seven of her shot attempts in keeping the Raiders within 11-9 at intermission. Andrea Murphy and Jen Hamilton also scored goals for Belmont in the first half.

"In the first half this was a really close game," said Belmont head coach Marie Lander. "When Gilford scored, we responded with a goal as well and we were tied for some time. Our girls were doing so well."

Burbank's tally just 12 seconds into the second half pulled the Raiders within 11-10, and the second frame had all the makings of a back and forth affair. But Gilford, which badly needed a win to keep its slim playoff hopes alive, answered with a Laurel Normandin tally that set off a run of nine straight Golden Eagle goals. All told, Gilford used a 12-1 run to take a 23-11 lead, putting the game out of reach in the process. The team got goals from a variety of players in the spree, including Kaylee Smith, Kaylee Robbs, Mariah Nelson, Laura Zakorchemny and Ruchti.

JEFF LAJOIE

Gilford senior Mariah Nelson tries to corral a loose ball in front of Belmont's Emeli Reed during the host Eagles' 24-13 victory in Division III action on May 17 at the Meadows.

JEFF LAJOIE

Kaylee Robbs of Gilford carries the ball into Belmont territory in the first half of the Eagles' 24-13 win.

"Unfortunately in the second half, our endurance was lacking and we were not able to keep up the movement or recover on defense and that really hurt us," said Lander. "All of the skill was there, we just could not finish."

Junior goalkeeper Emily Hayden came on in relief to earn the victory for Gilford, her second career varsity win. In addition to her big day defensively in the second half, Ruchti led the Eagles with six goals. Normandin followed with five goals, while Smith had three markers and Nelson added three.

"Offensively we had big outputs from a number of different players and that enabled us to sustain some things in the second half," Normandin lauded.

The first half was indeed a back and forth affair. Belmont took a 2-1 lead when Murphy scored off a pass from

Baer wins shot put, javelin at Wilderness Championship

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

BELMONT – Led by junior Marina Baer, the Gilford High School track and field team made its mark at the annual Wilderness League Championships held at Belmont High School on Saturday.

The final tune-up before this Saturday's NHIAA Division III state championship meet, the Wilderness serves as a preview of what to expect on the biggest stage. Baer showed why she'll be in the discussion for multiple state titles, as she captured two events on Saturday to help the girls' team to an eighth place performance with 22 points. The boys' team was 11th overall, scoring 10 points in total.

Baer won the shot put with a heave of 31 feet, 11.5 inches, good enough for the top spot by 1.5 inches. She also added a victory in the javelin, outdistancing the field with a throw of 117 feet, three inches. Baer earned a 10th place finish in the 200 meters (28.70 seconds) to round out the busy day.

Gilford's Alliyah Oswald also scored a point for the team in the girls' event, as she was sixth overall in the javelin with a heave of 87-0.

Misty Medeiros (eighth, 400 meters), Aria Stephan (ninth, 1,600), and Kaitlyn Callahan (10th, 1,600) all earned top 10 finishes for the Golden Eagles, while Madison Relf was 12th overall in the 3,200 (14:29) and Callahan added a 15th place finish in the 800 (2:49).

On the boys' side, the Eagles were paced by two scoring performances from Jacob Baer. He was fifth overall in the 300 hurdles, crossing the Senior Ryan LaFrance had Gilford's best finish overall in the boys' race, taking third overall in the 3,200 meters with a time of 10 minutes, 20 seconds. He followed that up with an eighth place performance in the 1,600 meters (4:40).

Sandor Gamache came through with the final point for the Eagles in the triple jump, where he was sixth overall (37 feet, 8.5 inches). Gamache added a top 10 in the 300 hurdles, finishing ninth in 47.30 seconds.

Sophomore Michael Wernig added a top 10 finish in the discus (eighth, 106-11), and also ran to a 13th place showing in the 800 meters (2:11).

Eagles split pair, face big final week of regular season

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

TILTON – Hits were hard to come by for the Gilford High School baseball team on May 18, as Winnisquam senior Tim Harmon struck out four and allowed just one hit in five innings to power the host Bears to a 9-1 win in Division III action.

Tyler Sargent broke up the no-hitter in the fifth inning with a single, though the Eagles fell behind early and couldn't claw back. Winnisquam took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, scored one in the third and four more in the fourth to take a commanding 7-0 advantage.

Gilford, which fell back below .500 with the loss at 6-7 overall, had its lone run of the game come from Sargent. Will Baldwin also had a single for the Eagles, which had starter Connor Hayes knocked out of the game in the fourth inning. He allowed three earned runs on seven hits and two walks, striking out a pair, before giving way to senior Brandon Sasserson for the final 2.1 innings of work (two runs, two hits, two strikeouts).

Gilford 6, Belmont 5

BELMONT – For the first time since April 19, the Red Raiders found themselves on the losing side of a 6-5 decision to Gilford on May 16.

After eight straight victories, Belmont watched as the visiting Eagles rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh and held on for the win.

"We had a lot of guys on base but couldn't get them home and Gilford was able to make enough plays to get the job done," Belmont coach Matt LeBlanc said.

Trailing 4-3 in the seventh, the Eagles tied the game on a wild pitch and put two more runs on the board to take a 6-4 lead. Belmont got one back in the home half but couldn't scrape together the tying run.

Sargent got the start and went five innings on the mound for the Eagles. He allowed two earned runs on three hits and eight walks while striking out a pair of Raiders.

Belmont led 3-1 in the sixth, before the Eagles again came back with two runs to tie the score. Hayes and Alex Muthersbaugh delivered, stroking a pair of RBI singles to make it a 3-3 game.

Hayes had two hits and a pair of RBIs for the Eagles, while Branden Lemay had two hits and a run scored and Alex Thornton registered a hit and an RBI.

Gilford closes out its regular season this week with games against Berlin, Prospect Mountain and Somersworth before the D-III Tournament begins next week.

Valpey, Brulotte shoot Eagles past Coe-Brown

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

GILFORD – Wins have come at a premium for the Gilford High School boys' lacrosse team this spring. But despite windy and cold conditions at the Meadows, the Golden Eagles did just enough to earn a hard-fought home win on May 16.

Gilford battled back and forth all day long, but in the end, the Eagles survived a challenge from visiting Coe-Brown in a 9-8 victory in Division III action at the Meadows.

Seth Valpey had three goals for the Eagles in the win, including the opening tally from Drouin Brulotte to take a 1-0 advantage. After C-B tied the game, Brulotte's goal with 4:23 left in the first quarter enabled Gilford to take a 2-1 lead into the first break.

It was touch and go the rest of the way. Brulotte wound up joining Valpey as hat trick heroes in the win, while Andrew Nelson, Josh Valentine and Sander Valpey also found the back of the net with single markers.

Nate Cobis picked up a win in his first varsity game as goalkeeper, totaling 13 saves between the pipes. The defensive unit was powered by Logan Essaff, Damon Shute, Mitchell Mattice, James Buckley and Joe Bonnell, while Nate Hudson had an outstanding game up top with three assists.

Another perfect season as Eagles capture 64th straight win

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

GILFORD – For the fourth season in a row, the Gilford High School boys' tennis team ran the table during the regular season. For their efforts, the Golden Eagles were awarded yet another number one seed in this week's NHIAA Division III tournament.

The three-time defending state champions won their 64th consecutive match to close out the regular season on May 18. An 8-1 win over Sanborn capped off a perfect 14-0 mark, as the squad hasn't dropped a match since falling to Profile in the 2012 semifinals.

In the win over Sanborn, Gilford swept all six singles matches, with Alex Soberon Zertuche, Tyler Hanf, Christian Workman and Connor Craigie all capturing victories via 8-0 scores. Ethan Drew was an 8-1 winner while Sam Shafique took an 8-2 decision in his match at second singles.

The doubles tandem of Josh Bolduc and Connor Sleeper earned an 8-4 win at No. 1, while Kyle Davies and Donovan Searle were 9-8 (7-4) tiebreaker victors in the two-hole. Brendan Bergman and Christian Ayer played well before falling at third doubles, 8-6.

The week also featured an 8-1 win over Monadnock, with four singles players again earning 8-0 sweeps over their opponents in Soberon Zertuche, Shafique, Workman and Craigie. Hanf took an 8-3 win while Drew also played well in an 8-2 victory.

Turning to the rest of the lineup to partake in doubles yet again, Gilford won two of three with Bolduc and Sleeper winning an 8-2 match at No. 1. Ayer and Shaun Edson were 8-4 winners at third doubles, while Searle and Adam Donnelly dropped a tight 8-6 decision at No. 2.

Girls' tennis

The season came to a close for the girls' tennis team on May 18, with the Eagles closing out a winless 2016 campaign with an 8-1 loss to Sanborn. Josey Curley earned the lone win for Gilford (0-14) at fifth singles, closing out a solid late season run for the scrappy freshman.

Seniors Sisi Remick and Emily Curtis dropped an 8-2 match at first doubles, while the tandem of Sarah Fillion and Emma Donnelly also fell via an 8-2 score at No. 2.

"If you look at our scores all season, we have to be disappointed," began Gilford head coach Hermann Defregger. "But it was not for a lack of trying. These girls showed up every day at practice and at matches with an attitude a coach can only dream about. They deserve better, but tennis is funny that way. You can look very good out there and still lose."

The Eagles will graduate four players in Curtis, Remick, Donnelly and Clara Jude.

"We wish them all the best as they move on to their next adventures," Defregger said. "I know they will be very successful."

Gilford played well in the match that opened up the final week of competition, falling to Monadnock, 6-3, on May 16.

Fillion nabbed a singles win at No. 3 for Gilford, holding off Sarah Cody of Monadnock, 8-5, while Curley made it a perfect 2-0 week in singles action with an 8-1 win at No. 5.

Donnelly and Fillion grabbed Gilford's other point in doubles, as the pair took home an 8-3 win in the second spot.

The goals came fast and furious, as Belmont answered with three straight, and Hamilton's goal with 16:56 left put the visitors up 5-4.

Belmont took its biggest lead of the game up 7-5 when Burbank put in back-to-back goals, though Gilford eventually used a 4-0 run late in the half to take an 11-8 lead. Burbank closed the Raiders within 11-9 at half-time, scoring with 1:38 left to make it a tight contest at the break.

Lachapelle shuts down Winnisquam in 2-0 win

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

TILTON – What a difference a day made for the Golden Eagles.

One day after a disappointing loss to rival Belmont, Gilford High School put it all together for a solid 2-0 win on the road at Winnisquam on May 17.

The Eagles didn't commit a single error in the win, one day after totaling an uncharacteristic seven miscues. Sarah Lachapelle pitched a gem of a game, striking out 10 batters and giving up only four hits and one walk.

"Sarah had complete control of her game today," said Gilford head coach Joan Forge. "Her pitches kept the Winnisquam batters out of sync all game and she played excellent mound defense. She also had the game winning hit."

Gilford scored both of its runs in the fourth inning. Samantha Knowles singled and reached second on a Jillian Lachapelle fielder's choice. Sarah Lachapelle hit a line drive double to left center to score Knowles for a 1-0 lead. Sarah Lachapelle reached third on a Maggie McNeil fielder's choice and scored on a Stevie Orton single for the 2-0 advantage.

Belmont 9, Gilford 3

GILFORD – Just four days removed from a wild, come from behind walk-off victory, the Red Raiders made no doubt about it in the rematch with Gilford on May 16.

Visiting Belmont completed the season sweep of the Golden Eagles, storming out to an 8-0 lead and cruising to a 9-3 victory.

After scoring three times in the bottom of the seventh to earn a 5-4 win just four days earlier, the Raiders decided to get out in front in the rematch. Belmont took a 5-0 lead in the top of the third inning, with Julianna Estremera, Taylor Lavallee and Makenzie Donovan all coming through with run-scoring hits.

Belmont continued its offensive assault in the fourth, as Jordan Sargent led off with a single and scored on an Estremera RBI double to make it 6-0. Nicole Antonucci singled home Estremera, and she eventually came around on an error for an 8-0 advantage.

It was 9-0 Belmont before Gilford got on the board in the bottom of the fifth against Raider senior starter Megan Prescott. Pinch hitter Kaley Colby singled with one out, and eventually scored after Jillian Lachapelle's single was followed with an infield error to make it 9-1.

The Eagles tacked on two more in the sixth, as Stevie Orton reached with an error and took second on an Alexis Lacroix walk. Taryn Breton's sacrifice bunt moved the pair up to second and third, and Orton came home on a passed ball while Lacroix made it 9-3 when she scampered home on an error.

That would be as close as Gilford could get however, as Prescott retired the final five batters she faced, including the side in order in the seventh to secure the season sweep.

Estremera paced the Belmont offense out of the lead off spot with a pair of RBI doubles, while Gilford was led by Sarah Lachapelle's two hits.

Sarah Lachapelle took the loss for Gilford, giving up seven hits and nine runs while striking out four and walking two. Jillian Lachapelle pitched the final two frames, giving up one hit and no runs while striking out two and not issuing a walk.
