

ACS students raise funds for animal shelter

BY KATHERINE LESNYK
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

ALTON — Two third-graders at Alton Central School (ACS) spent the last few months of school working with their teacher, Derek Pappaceno, to put together a fundraiser for a chosen organization, Four Legged Freedom Rescue in Kennebunk, Maine. Kaylin O’Connell and Jocelyn Cogswell ultimately raised $620, and collected hundreds of meals for cats and more than 150 pounds of cat litter, according to Pappaceno and the students.

O’Connell and Cogswell, two close friends, decided they wanted to do a fundraiser for animals soon after returning to the classroom this spring after months of remote learning. With Pappaceno’s help, they spent many recesses and other free times picking the organization to donate could participate in. Numerous students submitted art pieces for the contest, and the raffle for dog toys and supplies took place at $1 per ticket, or $5 for an arm’s length of tickets, Cogswell and O’Connell said.

Petco, Aubuchon Hardware and Alton Bed and Biscuit donated supplies including litter and food. Pappaceno said that Petco has a donation program for shelters already in place, and when the group arrived at the store in Rochester to collect donations for the fundraiser, the store allowed them to collect much of the existing donation bin for the Kennebunk rescue.

Four Legged Freedom Rescue is a registered 501(c)(3) non profit organization that operates solely on donations, according to the rescue’s website. O’Connell, Cogswell, Pappaceno, and the girls’ families traveled to Wells, Maine recently to drop off the dona-

OFML receives ARPA grant

BARNSTEAD — The Oscar Foss Memorial Library is the recipient of $1,523 in grant funding thanks to the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), made possible by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) and the New Hampshire State Library. The grant funds will support the library’s efforts to expand our community meeting and programming space to the outdoors!

Using these grant funds, the library has purchased several café tables and chairs and a large tent to be set up in the clearing at the rear of our parking lot. This area will be available for seating (Wi-Fi is accessible from this space), outdoor programs, and for non-profit groups to reserve for meetings, in the event the meeting room is unavailable. Additionally, we have purchased a portable sound system for outdoor programs and a glider bench patrons can use for working and reading outside.

The Oscar Foss Memorial Library is currently seeking a volunteer to level the clearing at the rear of the parking lot so we have a flat space to set up the tables and tent. Those interested in making this happen for us can contact Danielle at 269-3900. We would greatly appreciate this wonderful gift to the community!

To learn more about the Oscar Foss Memorial Library, its services, and resources, visit oscarfoss.org, or stop by and visit us at 111 South Barnstead Rd. in Barnstead. To learn more about ARPA funding, visit <https://www.whitehouse.gov/american-rescue-plan/>.

to, deciding on how to raise money and gather supplies, and coordinating with donors. They chose to focus their efforts on gathering supplies for cats.

In order to raise money, the pair planned a raffle and held a drawing contest throughout the school that students

Title chosen for fundraising cookbook

NEW DURHAM — The Zechariah Boodey Farmstead Committee is thrilled to share a sneak peek at the cover design for the cookbook! The cookbook’s title, “Hometown Cookery,” exemplifies our communities’ “Hometown” spirit. This cookbook will be a collection of new, as well as tried and true, recipes from some of the area’s best cooks.

The deadline for accepting recipes has been extended to July 30. We realize it has been a busy time with special celebration and holiday events and activities.

We are looking for goodies in all categories: appetizers, soups, mains, breads, vegetables, desserts, and beverages. We would also like to include some old tried and true recipes used in years past for keeping a household going; soap making, whitening the wash, pest control, herbal remedies, and natural dyes, etc.

The Committee is grateful for the wonderful variety of recipes received. Please keep them coming! We are requesting that all recipes be submitted on the Recipe Collection Sheet, provided by the publisher which includes instructions for writing your recipe(s). These forms are available at New Durham Library or forms can be requested from committee members Crissa Evans, chevansme@gmail.com or P.O. Box 47, New Durham, NH, 03855 or Sherry Cullimore, Waqoit32@yahoo.com or P.O. Box 408, New Durham, NH, 03855. We hope you will enjoy entering your favorite recipes and join us in our community venture.

The Committee is working on the restoration and reconstruction of the colonial era home, located in and for the town of New Durham, N.H. Zechariah Boodey was an early settler in town and his home was the birthplace of the Free Will Baptist Church.

Summer lineup

Thanks to a donation from the Alton-Barnstead-New Durham Centennial Rotary Club, a crowd of about 100 kids and adults got up close and personal to a variety of animals from Wildlife Encounters. As part of the New Durham Public Library’s summer program Tails and Tales, more free performances open to the public are scheduled this summer at the New Durham School: storyteller Simon Brooks on Wednesday, July 21 at 1 p.m.; a hilarious magic show on Wednesday, July 28 at 1 p.m.; and a presentation and interactive story with Marty Kelley, and book give-away courtesy of the Children’s Literacy Foundation on Tuesday, Aug. 3 at 10 a.m.

“Alton doesn’t need a park, Alton is a park!”

ALTON — Alton Centennial Rotary Club members heard this bold comment about Alton being a ‘Park’ from Rotarian Peter Bolster, after he and other club members listened to the informative talk by its guest speaker, Kellie Troendle, Parks and Recreation Director for Alton, at Rotary’s Thursday weekly meeting.

“I’m doing what I love, and love what I’m doing,” she stated.

“And... I’ve been an Alton resident for 28 years, my children are in Alton public schools, and my husband is a Civics and Government teacher at PMHS, Alton is my home,” she added.

As Alton P&R Director, Troendle’s tasks are many and varied. She successfully manages more than 80 Programs/events and 38 town properties. Her management skills were developed thru her earning a Bachelor of Science in Recreation Management-focus in Public Administration degree from the University of New Hampshire. Her standards, goals and objective for Alton is to provide programs and facilities that are open to all. As part of Alton’s Town Government, she oversees and provides places for people of all ages to play, opportunities to connect with nature, places to reflect, find peace and solace, and engage in many, many activities like road races, ball games, Yoga and weight training classes, hiking, plus much, much more. On top of all this, she’s maintaining the town cemeteries, upgrading town properties and keeping the town neat and clean.

With a staff of 6 full-time employees, and 12-14 seasonal staff, it’s a challenge to keep up, stay within budget and to keep Alton the envy of all surrounding towns. Troendle wants all to know that July is Parks and Recreation Month and to celebrate. She also encourages all taxpayers to go online immediately and com-

Rotary Club hears from community leaders

ALTON — Alton Centennial Rotary Club had two community leaders, Andrea Caruso and Kelly Sullivan, as guests for the club meeting last Thursday.

Caruso, a veteran high school English teacher, with 19 years experience, the last 14 at Prospect Mountain. She is also a member of the Alton Community Profile-Steering Committee, which is a committee appointed by the selectmen to gather data to be used in the formulation of a new Master Plan for Alton. In addition, she is an administrator of the Alton Community Facebook page.

Sullivan operates a family run excavation/hardscape business (Alton Excavation/PDK Cottages) with her husband and two sons. She is past president of Alton Central School PTSA and the Alton Business Association and is currently the Director/President of Alton Community Youth Activities, a nonprofit volunteer program aimed at bringing families and community together at little or no cost, through such activities as dog shows and ice skating.

Caruso and Sullivan were co-chairs of “All in for Alton,” and both are known for being quick to gather help for members of the community in need. Both have expressed dedication to making Alton a place where our young people will want to stay.

Following the Rotary breakfast, Caruso spoke to the club about her experience as a parent and teacher during the recent pandemic period when schooling was conducted largely via the internet.

As a parent, Caruso realized early on the stress that remote learning and isolation from teachers and classmates could produce. To reduce that stress on her student daughter, Andrea would plan some activity for each day which she and her daughter could do together that would be fun. During the remote learning period, Andrea and her daughter, among other things, enjoyed many long walks and hikes.

From a teaching perspective, she emphasized that remote teaching and learning were totally new for both students and teachers and that miscalculations were made along the way. But teachers and administration worked together closely from the beginning to make changes and adjustments as needed. She explained that Alton and Prospect Mountain were particularly fortunate to have a Superintendent who “listened and was creative” and who provided “extraordinary leadership during a very difficult time.”

While the remote educational program improved as it was tweaked along the way, it was never, in her opinion, as good as in-person education. This view was borne out by the unanimous view of Caruso’s students when they returned to the classroom. At that point, Andrea asked each student to write a short description of their experience with remote learning. The reactions were uniformly negative, with the term “overwhelmed” being the most widely descriptive term used.

On the positive side, Caruso noted that when the students returned to the classroom, it was obvious that they did so with enthusiasm and a very positive attitude about being there.

From a teaching perspective, she said that she shared in the enthusiasm. In the past she would joke about how wonderful it would be to dress casually, “like in sweats,” to teach. After having now taught many times in her sweats, she says she will never again joke about it. “Non-casual dress and the classroom both sound very good me now.”

A more important positive for Caruso—one that she is now focusing more on in her classroom—is an added dimension to her teaching. In the past she focused on the subject matter.

“Now I still emphasize the subject matter, but I am focusing more on teaching the student how to learn. Hopefully, this added emphasis will be helpful in the classroom and outside,” she said.

In the discussion period that followed Ms. Caruso’s presentation, the audience members made clear their appreciation for the teachers and administrators who weathered the educational storm and provided the best remote learning program possible under the circumstances. It is clear that their efforts and their hard work are appreciated by the community.

Tuesday Night Yoga at OFML returns July 20!

BARNSTEAD — Mary Ellen Shannon, RYT, has been a resident of Barnstead for 18 years and a yoga practitioner for even longer. She is excited for the opportunity to share the benefits of yoga with our community!

We offer three classes at OFML: Beginner Yoga: A 45-minute class designed for adults who are beginners and are seeking a gentle, low impact form of movement and stretching. Intermediate Yoga: This class is designed for adults who have some basic yoga knowledge. Taking a mindful approach, modifications will be used to enhance the postures to make them personal for your body and ability. Senior Yoga (currently in session on Fridays): Chairs are provided and used throughout this gentle yoga class. Held outside in the library parking lot when weather permits.

Please wear comfortable clothing and bring a yoga mat. If you have blocks and straps, please bring those also. Classes are by donation ($6 suggested). All are welcome and encouraged to attend, regardless of ability to donate. We are currently keeping class sizes to 10 people per class, so please call the library at 269-3900 to have your name added to the class list each week. Classes will be first come/first serve until we are able to expand group sizes again.

We Will NOT be Undersold

Keep it civil

One of the great things about being an American is the right to free speech. A recent uproar in a small community regarding a vulgar word prominently displayed for all to see on a main stretch of road prompted this editorial.

On commercial property, with specific sign ordinances, in a quaint New England town, there is a vulgar sign. One in which children of reading age, five and six years old, can easily look out the car window and sound it out and herein lies the problem. It's our job as adults, to set a high standard for our children and to protect them at all costs.

Now, while the First Amendment protects free speech, that does not include all speech, when it pertains to commercial or public property. Profanity is not always protected as well when it pertains to threats of incitement, fighting words, etc. or when used against a public official in a public forum.

Even so, just because you have the right to use profane language, does it mean you should? Can you get your point across without it? My father always told me there was a 'time and a place' for everything. If you know children could potentially see this profane language, is it the best choice to still put it on display? Further, not only should children not see this, but there are generations of people who come from a time when profanity could only be found in seedy areas of big cities. To them, it is even more offensive from the feedback we have received.

This is why movies, plays, music and books are given ratings, because then you have the choice on whether or not you or your children see it. In a public area, we think it's important to keep things classy, and set a better example as adults for our children. If you feel you need to use profanity in such a way, well sure that is your right, we all utter those words from time to time, however a display in a public place is a different animal.

Using a vulgar word, at the end of the day will not change anyone's mind about whatever it is you're upset about. It simply won't. Civil language is far more conducive to meaningful discussion and debate.

LETTERS FROM EDWIN

Gray cat

Looking out the back window this morning I saw the gray cat prowling across the yard. It checked out the gardens and all the other places where it hoped to find some small rodent to catch. This cat is pretty wild. As far as I can tell, it lives in the woods and spends most of its time hunting. My place is most likely on its list because we sometimes feed the birds, so therefore, we have a more than a normal quantity of little critters for cats to consume.

My cat, who gets fed twice a day, was still sleeping on the rug pad behind the trunk on the front porch at this time. She usually crawls out when she hears me pattering around down in the kitchen, then starts doing her "feed me" whine. She could always go and inspect the premises for a delectable creature to catch, but she prefers to sit around and wait for handouts from this human benefactor guy. Any earth creature will get accustomed to getting handouts and give up on providing for themselves. Humans included. That's nature.

This gray cat has been frequenting my place for years. There have been a couple of times during snowstorms, that it's placed itself on the back porch looking into the slider. As soon as one so much as walked near the door, it would run away. Totally skittish of humans, but somewhere down inside I feel that it has known the benefits of living with us.

Just a week or so ago, I was out planting in the garden when it came around hunting. I heard the fellow who lives at the house, and talks to felines by whistling, doing just that. Standing up to see what the cat calling was all about, I startled the gray one that was unaware of my presents only about twenty feet away, and it rocketed off into the woods. Meanwhile my cat calmly slept on it's cinder block pedestal in the sun.

When it first started coming around, it was a lot less skittish than it is now. I actually opened the slider and spoke quietly to it and it didn't just run off. But it wouldn't let me come close to it. At that time, we already had two resident cats, which is plenty as far as I'm concerned. Over the years it has learned to maintain its distance.

I've thought that it may be time to get back to being a two-cat house, and actually considered putting out food to entice the gray one to trust humans a little more. I always hesitate to do such a thing in case it is someone else's cat. I feel that I've lost at least one cat to over compassionate others. He was also very woods savvy and not likely to become prey. I've seen him after he chose to switch residences. If this gray one was ever someone else's cat, it shows no sign of that anymore.

Some new neighbors moved in a few years back and they have two cats. One of them regularly comes to visit. I likewise usually see it in the morning, hunting. That might be because I'm rarely home during the day. Or maybe it's because every creature that wakes up in the morning to a beautiful new day just has that idealistic innocence that causes them to let down their guard just enough to allow themselves to be easy prey.

As I said, I usually have been seeing the gray one early in the morning, before the sun comes up. In the winter when the leaves are off the trees and there's snow on the ground, I can see it way off, out in the woods as it hunts around for food. So in a way, I still do have two cats. One that I take to the vet to get its shots and yearly check-up, that sleeps most of the time, and the wild one that helps keep the rodents in check.

It's not that my cat doesn't ever hunt. She does. But with her, it's more for fun, I guess.

Letters to the Editor

A historic legislative session

To the Editor:

I have concluded my first session (2020-2021) as a New Hampshire State Representative from Belknap District 5. It was historic, both for me personally and for legislation passed and signed into law by the Governor.

Personally, and along with other first termers, not once did we meet in the State House's House chamber due to a combination of State of Emergency edicts and Democrat legal filings. This term's House was a traveling road show, from UNH in Durham to the NH Sportsplex in Bedford.

Legislatively, I am pleased to have been able to vote yes on a bill that included New Hampshire's first successful pro-life measure since the 1973 SCOTUS decision legalizing abortion. We have provided protection to unborn babies who have reached 24 weeks. NH has joined 43 other states in protecting unborn babies who have reached 20 or 24 weeks of existence. I was a supporter of Presbyterians Pro-Life and CareNet RI during my years as a Pastor in active service to a congregation. How grateful I am to God for providing me with this great privilege of being able to advance legislatively the pro-life and pro-family cause in New Hampshire.

Additionally, I voted yes on a bill that includes a first ever measure that will permit NH parents 300 percent above the federal poverty level and below to have a greater ability to choose the school that is best for their children. We have done this with the establishment of grants under an Education Freedom Program. I ran on a commitment to increase excellence in education, and have been a long time believer both in competition as a means to promote excellence and empowering people to make choices that they believe are in their best interests. If you are an interested NH parent, here is one place where you can sign up to learn more about this great new opportunity: https://nh.scholarshipfund.org/.../nh-education-freedom...

Those of you who (like me) are interested in tax and spending may be pleased to learn that we cut a total of $170 million in total taxes, including reductions that will make NH a more attractive state to visit, in which to operate a small business and to begin to realize the elimination of our actual income tax, the Interest and Dividends Tax. It's your money, and you should be able to keep it and choose to spend as YOU wish!

Thanks to all of you who contributed to my campaign and election last November, and for all who wrote to or contacted me with questions, concerns and views on issues and bills. Except for a very few from out-of-district communications, you all were very courteous and civil, and so were most helpful and even enjoyable to hear from and reply to.

I look forward to the 2021-2022 session as I, together with my colleagues, will be working to build upon this past term's many fine and groundbreaking accomplishments.

Farm museums depict a way of life we can scarcely imagine

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

New Hampshire's first European settlements were down around Portsmouth, circa 1623, and among the last were farms carved out in the upper North Country.

Farm museums exist in both places, but the buildings themselves could not be more different. One farm is spread out to the sun, and the other is tight as a drum.

The New Hampshire Farm Museum's buildings are set along a southern stretch of Route 16 in Milton, just north of Portsmouth. Far to the north, the Poore Family Homestead Historic Farm Museum's buildings are huddled like a horseshoe against a hill in Stewartstown.

Each tells a story of farms and farming, and each in a different way. They are opposite ends of the same picture.

I have some personal experience with the J.C. Kenneth Poore farm, long before it became a museum.

Near the last of my years living with Rudy and Joan Shatney at Clarksville Pond, I worked at the Lyman Forbes farm in East Colebrook. On days off, I hitch-hiked up to Clarksville.

The Poore farm was a frequent stop. At the least, I could get a dipper of ice-cold water. In a pinch, I could use the hand-cranked phone to call Rudy's for a ride.

The telephone was the sole modernity. The Poore house had no electricity. Lanterns served for light. The kitchen stove and a parlor stove provided heat. A hillside spring sent water into the barn but not the house.

The Poore Family Homestead Historic Farm Museum is tucked into a hillside along Route 145, the so-called "back road" between Colebrook and Pittsburg.

Instead, water went to a trough in a shed attached to the house ell.

During my early years, Kenneth Poore was a frequent guest at the supper table. He would drive his team into town, and stable the horses just down the street while he ran various errands downtown. Our Mom would give him a ride home so he wouldn't be driving horses after dark, and he'd find a ride into town a day or two later to fetch his team.

Kenneth's father fought in the Civil War. His discharge from the Grand Army of the Republic hung on a living room wall. Around and around the same room grew the same ivy Kenneth's mother planted on the day his father marched off to war.

One day when Kenneth was still living in the house, and before it became a museum, I happened to stop by for a visit. Kenneth was in the barnyard, and wanted me to see a dump-cart.

This was a two-wheeled affair, meant to be pulled by horse or ox. "Pull that pin there," said Kenneth, pointing to a hardwood pin on a cord, holding the dump-cart onto its draw-bar.

"Put your hand under the dump-body," said Kenneth, and I did, and on his direction lifted ever so slightly, and the dump-body tilted right up, as nice as pie.

The price of success

BY LARRY SCOTT

In the New Testament book of Hebrews, we read: "By faith Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He chose to be mistreated along with the people of God rather than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a short time. He regarded disgrace for the sake of Christ as of greater value than the treasures of Egypt." Of Hebrew origin, he was the grandson of society's most powerful and wealthy man... and everything life had to offer was available to him.

One cannot imagine the sumptuous lifestyle that was his to enjoy. The wealth, the power, a life of "wine, women, and song" was his for the taking. But it was not to be.

Despite the ease and comfort available to him as an Egyptian Prince, Moses chose instead to be identified with his Hebrew family. When he was 40 years old, things finally came to a head. He killed an Egyptian who was abusing one of the Hebrews and had to flee for his life. For the next 40 years, giving up on any dreams of greatness he might have had, he became a shepherd to his father-in-law in southern Arabia. The "pleasures of sin," the sumptuous lifestyle, the educational opportunities, the benefits of power, all lay behind him.

But God had not abandoned him. At 80 years of age, God called on Moses to lead the Hebrew people out of Egypt. It would be forty years before they reached present-day Israel, the land promised to Abraham centuries before. Moses, who had spent forty years in Egypt thinking he was somebody, spent 40 years shepherding sheep thinking he was a nobody, only to discover that God can take a nobody and make a somebody out of him—so long as he is willing to pay the price for his success.

But that is God's way. He is more than able, and willing, to take us as we are and where we are and help make us the best that we can be. That I believe to be true whether we acknowledge Him or not. But taking Him seriously and following the guidelines He has laid out for us, changes everything. A godly life may demand self-discipline and surrender to His will, something that unfortunately most people do not find the least bit appetizing, but as Moses discovered for himself, it beats anything a self-centered and godless life has to offer.

God's plan for our lives, however, can only be discovered "from the inside out." In Jesus Christ we find enough evidence to substantiate the fact that our faith in God is not misplaced. It is to our advantage, far above anything life without God has to offer, to take a step of faith, accept Jesus Christ as the Lord of our life, and discover for ourselves that the promises of God have not been exaggerated; God is as good as His word!

Kingswood 12Us come up short against Berlin-Gorham

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

EPPING — The Kingswood and Berlin-Gorham 12U squads met up in the second game of the state tournament at Mary Blair Park in Epping and the Kingswood squad picked up a 13-8 win.

However, in the finals of the losers' bracket on Saturday, July 9, the two teams met again and this time, Berlin-Gorham came through with 5-2 win to advance to the state championship.

Nolan Lavigne took the hill for Berlin-Gorham and after Nate Cloos worked a leadoff walk, he got a strikeout and catcher Evan Ladd gunned down Cloos stealing second for the second out. Lavigne then got another strikeout to end the inning.

Cloos took the mound for Kingswood and after giving up a one-out base hit to Ladd, shortstop Hayden White, second baseman Reid Swinerton and first baseman Bryan Purington turned a 6-4-3 double play to close out the inning.

Lavigne struck out the side in the top of the second inning and Max Moore led off with a walk. He was forced at second on a grounder by Cooper Ladd before Cloos went to work and got a pair of strikeouts to end the inning.

Kingswood got on the board in the top of the third inning. After Lavigne struck out the first two batters, Nolan Chominski got a double and Brendan MacPhee was hit by a pitch and stole second. Cloos then popped a base hit to center to drive home both runners and Kingswood had the 2-0 lead.

Berlin answered in the bottom of the inning. Mason Johnson was hit by a pitch to start the inning and one out later, after Evan Ladd was hit by a pitch, Owen LaPointe took over on the bases at second, bringing in White to the mound for Kingswood. Lavigne followed with a base hit and then Moore reached on an error to plate the first run for Berlin-Gorham. Cooper Ladd followed with a base hit to right, which was compounded by an error, allowing both runners to score for a 3-2 lead. Brody Croteau then dropped a bloop hit in shallow right to drive in two more runners for the 5-2 lead. Catcher Tavin Herget followed by gunning down Croteau stealing second to end the inning.

Herget had a one-out base hit in the top of the fourth and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Aaron King worked a walk but a grounder to second closed out the inning.

Brooklyn Gagne reached on an error to open the bottom of the fourth and a sacrifice bunt by Andrew Albert moved her up to second. She took third on a groundout by Jaxson Vallie but was stranded there when a pop up to Purington at first base brought the inning to a close.

Lavigne struck out the first two batters of the top of the fifth before he reached the pitch limit and Cooper Ladd took over on the hill. MacPhee beat out an infield hit and Cloos was hit by a pitch, but both runners were stranded on a grounder to third base.

White set the side down in order in the bottom of the fifth inning, including a couple of pop ups that he fielded on his own and one that Ben Johnson snagged in left field.

White was hit by a pitch to start the top of the sixth inning, but Cooper Ladd settled in, got a pop up to third and then two strikeouts to seal the win and send Berlin-Gorham into the finals the following morning against Gilford.

After winning the district tournament, Kingswood opened the tournament with a 6-2 win over Newport, then beat Berlin-Gorham 13-8 before falling to Gilford 5-3.

Kingswood drops weather-shortened game to Exeter

JONATHAN HOSSACK takes a lead off first base in Senior Babe Ruth action last week.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — The Kingswood Senior Babe Ruth team welcomed Exeter to town on Tuesday, July 6, and the two teams managed to get the majority of the game in before the thunder and lightning brought the teams off the field in the sixth inning.

The Kingswood team, which is being coached this year by players Drew Swinerton and Oleg Sheahan, sent Caleb Desrochers to the mound and he was greeted by a long double by the first batter of the game. However, he struck out the next two batters and then Christos Zavvas made a nice grab in right field to close the inning.

Jonathan Hossack led off the bottom of the first reaching on an error, but was caught stealing after a strikeout. James Yarling was hit by a pitch to keep the inning going, but a strikeout ended the inning.

Exeter got on the board in the top of the second inning. After two walks, a sacrifice groundout

Richard Eldredge Dame, 84 of Alton NH, passed away in Concord on July 7, 202. Born on April 18th, 1937, the son of Eldredge and Frances (Malone) Dame.

He grew up on Rochester Hill Rd., Rochester NH, on the Dame Homestead est. 1755, He was very proud to be the 12th Generation on his father’s side from England and 3rd Generation on his mother’s side from Ireland. Richard graduated from Spaulding High School in 1955 and pursued a career as an electrician, attending Portsmouth VOTECH for 2 years. However, his passion was with automobiles beginning when he was in high school at the Shell Station located at the bottom of Rochester Hill, which he later leased until it burnt in 1970. It was at this time he moved his business to Alton and started Richard E. Dame Tire and Automotive Repair which he ran until 2014.

In 1960 he met the love of his life, Marilyn Proctor Varney at the Alton Bay Roller Skating Rink. He could be seen driving his brand new 1959 Black Ford Galaxy Skyliner Convertible Hardtop around on the weekends. Prior to his marriage to Marilyn he joined the Navy Reserves out of Portsmouth for 8 years. In 1962 he and Marilyn wed, and built their home in Alton next to her parents where he lived until his passing. Dick, as he liked to be called, was a Mason since the age of 21, with memberships in Humane Lodge #21 in Rochester and Winipisaukee Lodge #75 in Alton. He spent numerous years on the Alton Fire Department, Lion’s Club and a short time on the Water Commission. One of Dick’s favorite vices until the very end was a good old Manhattan while sitting outside at his cottage on Half Moon Lake. It could be 100° or 0° with the wind blowing, regardless he would never refuse Ja Manhattan.

However, it was the love of cars and the social aspect of talking to customers that he enjoyed the most. He had no qualms of heading out in a snow storm to New Durham Ridge to get a plow truck running or saving someone’s weekend when their boat wouldn’t start. But to all that knew him, he would always be muttering “where did I leave that damn wrench” as his garage was always a mess.

Richard is predeceased of his wife Marilyn (Varney) Dame since 2013 and is survived by his three children, Richard Dame and wife Cynthia of Alton NH, Sheryl-Lynne Dame Schmidt and husband Yawn of Mebane NC, Marc Dame and wife Cynthia of Alton NH.

Grandchildren include Brooke Dame, Haley Dame, Logan Schmidt, Chandler Schmidt, Nicholas Dame and his two Great Grandchildren Sophia Dame and Victoria Dame.

Richard is one of five siblings, Carol Brown (Ronald) of Rochester, Helen Bourgoine (Barry) of Lee, John Dame (Cynthia) of Strafford and predeceased by sister Dorothy Nau.

Calling Hours will be Monday, July 26th from 10-12 noon at Peaslee Funeral Home at 24 Central Street, Farmington NH with a Masonic Service held at 12 noon. A private family burial will take place at a later time.

In lieu of Flowers, donations can be made to the Alton Firemen Inc, 65 Frank Gilman Highway, Alton NH 03809, for the numerous calls and helping hands over the years.

The house was originally constructed in 1769 and is a timber frame colonial style cape that was gifted to New Durham by the Boodey family in 2006. The reconstruction of the English style barn, a gift to the town in 2019 will complete the picture of the Boodey farmstead. Such a barn was part of the original Boodey homestead

The Farmstead will afford space for demonstrations, i.e., herb gardening, weaving, cider making, cooking over fire, maple sugaring, etc. This property is important to our local community and national history for two reasons. The first is for its architectural features and, secondly, it is the birthplace of the worldwide Free Will Baptist faith movement. Once reconstructed, the buildings will be used as a house museum for educational opportunities and a function hall for meetings and conferences. To sustain the farmstead, rental opportunities by private, public and civic groups for their events and activities will be available. For more information about this project, please visit www.newdurhamnh.us/boodey-farmstead-committee or follow us on Facebook at Zechariah Boodey Farmstead or call Catherine Orlowicz at 859-4643.

brought home two runs for the 2-0 lead. After another walk, Desrochers got a strikeout for the second out of the inning, but a base hit pushed the lead to 3-0. A grounder to shortstop brought the inning to a close.

Desrochers walked to lead off the bottom of the second inning, but three consecutive strikeouts kept him from advancing and Exeter added another run in the top of the third. After Desrochers started the inning with a strikeout, an error and a base hit put two runners on base and a fly ball to left field plated the fourth run of the game. Desrochers got a strikeout to end the inning.

Justin Stirt led off the bottom of the third with a walk but Kingswood could not push the run across. Desrochers set the side down in order in the top of the fourth inning, including a pair of strikeouts before Kingswood got on the board in the bottom of the inning.

Will Danaïs led off with a walk and after a James Yarling base hit, Desrochers worked a walk and Nate Holiday was hit by a pitch to plate the game’s first run for Kingswood. A groundout by Sheahan plated another run and then Jake Apgar followed with a base hit to cut the lead to 4-3 before the inning was closed.

Exeter opened the lead in the top of the fifth inning, starting with a double and followed by a base hit. Another double pushed across another run and then a base hit kept the inning going. Exeter tried a double steal, but a 1-3-2 pickoff play cut the runner down at the plate.

Holiday took over on the mound and an error allowed a seventh run to cross for Exeter before he got a strikeout to end the inning.

Shaw Swinerton led off the bottom of the fifth with a base hit and moved up on a wild pitch. Kolby Place worked a walk but three consecutive fly balls brought the inning to a close with no runs crossing the plate.

A hit batter and a walk got Exeter off to a quick start in the top of the sixth, bringing Zavas to the mound and after a strikeout, a groundout plated another run for the 8-3 lead. Zavas got a strikeout to end the inning, but before Kingswood could get to the plate in the bottom of the inning, the umpires pulled the players off the field as lightning was spotted.

Kingswood is slated to be at Seabrook tonight, July 15, for a doubleheader starting at 6 p.m. On Monday, July 19, they will be at Newmarket for a doubleheader at 6 p.m. and will be at Barrington on Thursday, July 22, at 6 p.m.

Extreme skiing pioneer Dan Egan’s new book full of skiing stories

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BRISTOL — Sprinkled throughout the local communities are people who have lived pretty extraordinary lives.

They have stories to tell, stories that when collected would make an interesting book.

One local individual with stories to tell has done just that, collecting those interesting stories into a new book that is available at retailers around the area.

In 1990, extreme skiing legend Dan Egan was lost on Mount Elbrus in Russia for 38 hours in a massive storm and the story of those harrowing hours serves as the base of his new book, “30 Years in a White Haze,” which he wrote with Eric Wilbur, a longtime Boston Globe writer.

I always wanted to write a book, but not end it with that story,” Egan said last Tuesday at a book signing event at Basic Ingredients Bakery in Bristol. “That was the beginning of my adult life, not the end.

“Everything today is a result of that trip, in one way or another,” he continued. “And we weaved that story in throughout the book.”

In that life-changing event, Egan’s life was saved by a Russian and the next day, he and that Russian rescued 14 other people who had been lost in the same storm, just one of the many stories that dot Egan’s life of extreme skiing around the world.

Egan notes that Wilbur approached him around the time he and his brother were inducted into the US Ski and Snowboarding Hall of Fame a few years back and said he should write a book. The local ski legend at the time said that he had one in mind and a year later, he was on the phone with Wilbur ready to put something together.

While Egan made his name skiing all over the world, the book spends a lot of time right in New Hampshire, where Egan has called home since 1993.

He originally moved to New Hampshire to run Ski 93, which he did for five year and then moved on to Tenney Mountain, where he served as general manager for four years, skiing at Waterville Valley as a college racer and spent many family ski trips at Cranmore Mountain in North Conway. And he continues his connections to the area he now calls home by coaching freestyle skiing at Proctor Academy in Andover.

“We also track the history of extreme skiing,” Egan says of the new book, noting that about a decade ago, it was thought that it came out of the European alpiners, but for Egan, the free doggers of the 1980s were the ones who brought it to life. He notes Waterville Valley was considered the birthplace of freestyle skiing and remains a hotbed for training for some of the best freestyle skiers in the world.

“We packaged it and we sold it,” he said. “The VCR, that was the birth of extreme skiing.

“Extreme sports are not as much a sport as entertainment,” he continued. “Those tapes last for years, that’s why people remember us.”

Egan went on to become the VHS representative east of the Mississippi for extreme skiing pioneer Warren Miller and in the process was able to open his own video distribution business.

“A lot of people have described (the book) as sitting in the base lodge and hearing the stories apres ski,” Egan said. “It’s about perseverance of falling down and getting back up, in business and in life.

“It’s told in the third person, so it gives the other characters space for their opinion,” he continued. “It opens the book up and you have a lot of different perspectives.”

Egan notes that the White Mountains Region is one of the best places to live when it comes to skiing because so many people care about the industry and there are so many people who have been incredibly successful in the industry.

“Around here, we care so much about the ski industry,” he said. “We ski a lot of days and we ski in a lot of weather.

“There’s so many world class athletes here, but it’s not a big deal, that’s one of the reasons this is a great place to live is because here, you can just be,” Egan continued. “There’s a passion around here for the mountains.”

Going back to that mountain in Russia in 1990, Egan notes that it was pretty meaningful for many reasons, one that goes all the way back to his childhood.

On the wall in his grandmother’s home there was a family tree and on that tree were three different Dans. His uncle Dan had died in Korea, his cousin Dan died in a car crash and between that, he had a baby brother named Dan who had died.

“When looking at that wall, I would see the three dead Dans,” he said. “They all died under the age of 24.

“I was 24 in 1990,” he said.

It’s safe to say that Dan Egan has lived an incredible life, one that has left him with plenty of stories to tell.

“30 Days in a White Haze” is available at Chase Street Market in Plymouth, The Book Monger in Waterville Valley, Ski Fanatics in Campton and Plymouth Ski and Sport in Plymouth and many other retailers or you can visit www.whitehaze.com/ to order a copy.

Egan will be holding book signing events on July 17 from 3 to 5 p.m. at Lahout’s Summit Shop in Littleton and on July 22 from 5 to 7 p.m. at Bookery Manchester

Gunner Olszewski gets nod to drive pace car at NHMS

LOUDON — On Sunday, July 18, Gunner Olszewski, all-pro punt returner and wide receiver for the New England Patriots, will trade the pigskin for the keys to the official Toyota Camry TRD pace car as he leads 40 of NASCAR’s best to the green flag for the Foxwoods Resort Casino 301 – the 50th NASCAR Cup Series (NCS) race at New Hampshire Motor Speedway (NHMS).

“This is a dream come true,” said 24-year-old Olszewski. “My brother and I grew up watching NASCAR with our dad, and I’m still a huge fan today. I can’t believe I get to lead the field to the green flag at ‘The Magic Mile.’”

Born in Alvin, Texas, six-foot Olszewski will enter his third season with the New England Patriots this year. On Dec. 6, 2020, Olszewski scored his first NFL touchdown on a 70-yard punt return against the Chargers, which was the first punt return for a touchdown for New England since wide receiver Julian Edelman, who drove the official Toyota Camry pace car at NHMS in July 2014, returned a punt 84 yards vs. Denver on Nov. 2, 2014. Olszewski is the first player in Patriots history with two punt returns of at least 60 yards in a single game and the first NFL player to do so since Dec. 22, 2019. He finished the game with 145 punt return yards, the second-most ever in a single game by a Patriots player. He also hauled his first touchdown catch on a career-long 38-yard reception, added special teams tackles and was named the AFC Special Teams Player of the Week.

On Jan. 3, 2021, Olszewski returned three punts for 36 yards against the Jets. In doing so, he finished first in the NFL with a 17.3-yard punt return average, the highest in Patriots history, passing Edelman’s previous record of 15.5 set in 2012.

“Gunner has proven himself on the gridiron and now is his chance to show New England race fans what he’s got,” said David McGrath, executive vice president and general manager for New Hampshire Motor Speedway. “We’re excited to welcome him to ‘The Magic Mile’ and put him behind the wheel of the official Toyota Camry TRD pace car.”

Patriots safety Patrick Chung (July 2018), offensive coordinator Josh McDaniels (July 2017), offensive tackle Matt Light (September 2016), linebacker Rob Ninkovich (July 2015) and Edelman (July 2014) have all served as pace car drivers, making Olszewski the sixth member of the New England Patriots to get behind the wheel of the official Toyota Camry pace car for a NCS race at NHMS. Other notable pace car drivers include Boston Bruins forward Chris Wagner (July 2019), Richard Rawlings of Discovery Channel’s “Fast N’ Loud” (September 2017), Dave Matthews Band bassist Stefan Lessard (July 2016), Olympic triathlete Sarah True (September 2015) and Boston Bruins legend Brad Park (September 2014).

Race weekend action gets under way on Doubleheader Saturday, July 17, with practice and qualifying sessions scheduled for the NASCAR Whelen Modified Tour (NWMT). The green flag drops for the Whelen 100 NWMT race at 12:45 p.m. followed by the Am-better Get Vaccinated 200 NASCAR Xfinity Series race at 3 p.m. The NCS Foxwoods Resort Casino 301 will run at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 18, marking the 50th NCS race at “The Magic Mile.”

For a NASCAR race weekend schedule, visit NHMS.com/Events/Foxwoods-Resort-Casino-301/Schedule/. Schedule subject to change.

Election law expert to speak at next “Peaches & Politics” event

NEW DURHAM — The Town of New Durham (NH) Democratic Committee is pleased to announce that the Keynote Speaker for their Second Annual Peaches and Politics event will be Lawrence Lessig, the Roy L. Furman Professor of Law and Leadership at Harvard Law School. Lessig is a well-known, long-time advocate for campaign financing, electoral college and Constitutional reform, state-based activism in politics and, more recently, ranked choice voting. He will address the July 31 gathering on the future of democracy reform.

Professor Lessig has taught on the subject of intellectual property rights at Stanford, where he founded the Center for Internet and Society, the University of Chicago, and Harvard. He clerked for Judge Richard Posner on the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals and Justice Antonin Scalia on the United States Supreme Court. Cited by The New Yorker as “the most important thinker on intellectual property in the Internet era,” Lessig has focused much of his career on law and technology, especially as it affects copyright. His current work addresses “institutional corruption”—relationships which, while legal, weaken public trust in an institution—especially as that affects democracy.

In addition to being the founder of Equal Citizens, co-founder of Root-strikers and a founding board member of Creative Commons, Lessig has served on the boards of MapLight and EFF, and on the advisory boards of Democracy Café and the Sunlight Foundation. He is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Philosophical Society - and has received numerous awards including a Webby, the Free Software Foundation's Freedom Award, and Fastcase 50 Award. In 2002, he was named one of Scientific American's Top 50 Visionaries.

Professor Lessig has authored a number of books on election law and campaign financing reform, including: They Don't Represent Us (2019), America Compromised (2018), and Republic, Lost: How Money Corrupts Congress—and a Plan to Stop It (2011).

Many of Lessig's books, as well as a large variety of “peachy keen goodies” will be available at the New Durham Democratic Committee's Second Annual Peaches and Politics event on the afternoon of July 31. The event will be held outdoors and follow guidelines from the Center for Disease Control and New Hampshire Department of Public Health.

Additional speakers to be announced as they confirm their schedules.

Tri-County Republicans display their patriotism

REGION – Tri-County Republicans (TCR) held a patriotic and pro-police sign wave Saturday morning, July 3, despite the inclement weather. We are a hardy group of New Englanders who honor the past and work for a better future to ensure the blessings of liberty will be passed on to the next generation. Saturday's sign wave was to honor valor and service to our country.

The NHGOP partnered up with local committees throughout Independence Day Weekend! Alton's patriotic and pro-police sign wave was one of several in the Granite State, including Portsmouth, Merrimack, Barrington, Londonderry, Windham, Keene, Epping, North Hampton, Wolfeboro, Rochester, Amherst, and Plainfield.

Tri-County Republicans is a conservative political group that believes in limited government and the interpretation of the US and NH Constitutions as written. All freedom-loving Republicans, Libertarians, independents and undeclareds from surrounding towns in Belknap, Carroll and Strafford Counties are welcome to participate in our group meetings and events. Our next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, July 21 at 6:30pm at 129 Main Street, Alton. Due to limited parking
