Alton selectmen have a busy night

BY DAVID ALLEN
Contributing Writer

ALTON — The Aug. 17 Alton Board of Selectmen meeting began with the board recessing and then reconvening as the Board of Health. In this role, the board was asked to review two requests for variances from the zoning ordinance to ensure granting the variances would pose no health concerns to the citizens of Alton.

Each of the requests involved situations in which the circumstances and layout of the lot made it to place a septic tank and/or leach field within the lake and lot setbacks prescribed by the ordinance. In both cases the plans were five to 10 feet short of the required setbacks.

The board approved both requests and then reconvened as the board of selectmen.

Earl Bagley of the Conservation Commission reported that the Boy Scouts will be placing trail signs on the Gilman Pond trails. He also reported a dilemma with a parcel of land owned by the town in which a private party owns and would like to exercise logging rights. The commission would like to keep the land in its current forested condition and is hoping to be able to purchase the logging rights. Although there are adequate funds in the Current Use Fund, there may have been dedicated by a warrant article to another purpose. The conservation commission is working to sort out the problem.

Shelly Carita and Susan Lavarack presented a request on behalf of the Lakes Region Partnership for Public Health. They are Executive Director and Associate Director of the partnership. They were established several years ago to try to build the public health capacity in small towns that public health departments have in large cities and otherwise would not exist in towns like Alton.

Their budget is currently covered by a combination of other funds and they are asking the towns that they serve to help pay for the services delivered to those towns. The requested the support of the select board for a $2,500 warrant article on the 2018 town ballot.

Town Administrator Elizabeth Dionne told the board she had negotiated an improved contract with the Seacoast Business Machines that currently provides copy machines for the town. The new contract will increase copying capacity, speed and service for all departments at a lower cost than the town currently pays. The agreement guarantees no cost increase for five years. The cost of the combined leases on five copiers will be about $12,000 per year.

Selectman Reuben Wentworth commented that the town has a policy that any purchase exceeding $5,000 needs to go out for bid. Dionne said she did not believe the policy applied in this context because the town will be leasing the machines, not buying, and because the lease cost of the individual machines is less than $5,000; it is only combined that it exceeds the $5,000 mark.

The board voted 3-2 against the proposed contract, and asked that the copier proposal go out to bid.

Dionne informed the board that the town was due to update its Emergency Operations Plan (EOP). The last plan was prepared in 2008, and plans must be no older than 10 years for the town to be eligible for certain emergency services and recovery funding. Dionne said grant funds are available to hire a consultant familiar with EOPs to work with the appropriate town departments to prepare the plan.

Highway Manager Ken Roberts updated the board on plans for a major project on Bay

Hill Road. The road has had damaging washouts four times in recent years, despite the highway department's best efforts to rebuild it after previous damage to withstand heavier storms. In the most re-

Alton Civil War documents up for auction

BY MARK FOYNES
Contributing Writer

ALTON — A cache of 19th-century documents describing how locals experienced the Civil War will be auctioned off on Sept. 15 by a U.K.-based seller via a live online auction. The documents include currency notes, letters from the front lines, and illustrated envelopes bearing patriotic messages.

The seller, Dee Atkinson & Harrison, boasts it has "the local knowledge and professional expertise to advise and promote your property or chattels to help you achieve the best possible market price in a time frame that suits your needs." The auction house sells real estate, as well as collectibles and historic memorabilia.

Several of the Alton items were letters mailed to Daniel and Alonzo Sawyer. According to one lot description, "Daniel Sawyer (1801 - 1869), son of Enoch (a founding father of Alton), merchant man, spent most of his life undertaking civic duties, including being a Deputy Sheriff, J.P. and on the staff of Ichabod Goodwin, New Hampshire's Civil War Governor, he was an ardent anti-slaver."

Local sources affirm this claim. The "History of Merrimack and Belknap Counties," edited by D. Hamilton Hurd, notes, "Hon. D.S. Sawyer was easily the leading citizen of his town; a man of strong physical and mental organization, pronounced in his views and opinions and not easily swayed in his judgment."

It continued, "An ardent Whig in politics, he was particularly strong in his anti-slavery views, and also an earnest advocate of the temperance cause." Some historians consider the Whig party to be a progenitor of the Republican party, drawing parallels between social forces that led to abolitionist and temperance sentiments.

Sawyer, the account noted "was a Free-Will Baptist [who was] public-spirited and with broad views for the welfare of his towns-people."

One letter was penned on the stationarity of the 12th New Hampshire Infantry, which was organized in Concord and mustered in for a three-year stint on Sept. 10, 1862. Based out of the Military District of Washington as part of the Army of the Potomac, the unit saw action at Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Cold Harbor and Gettysburg.

While specific to the 1860s, the connection to the Sawyer family is significant. The father of postmaster Daniel was Enoch Sawyer - one of the pioneers of Alton, being the second who built a house in what is

Finishing touch

Alton hairdresser Pat Edwards (right) applies her magic, honed by 50 years of experience, to a customer during her final week of work. She has clipped and curled at several different salons through the years, but up until eight years ago, her place of business was known as Miss Pat's Beauty Shop. Retiring with mixed emotions about the big step, Edwards said it's been "a wonderful time with a lot of wonderful customers. I've appreciated the business and friendship, but I've finally closed the door."

Full slate of programs at New Durham Public Library

NEW DURHAM — The New Durham Public Library has an outstanding calendar of events to welcome in the new school year.

Stories, songs, music, movement and crafts for the younger set are covered in two weekly programs held on Thursdays. Newborns through toddlers two and a half are welcome to attend First Steps from 10:15 to 10:45 a.m. and older children are invited to Storytime from 11 to 11:45 a.m.

Arts and crafts classes are always a big hit at the library.

"We're glad to offer a pottery class for adults once again," Library Director Cathy Allyn said. "It's incredibly popular."

Potter Sarah Burns will lead the two-session class to make wall hung containers on Sept. 18 and 25, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A suggested donation will go toward covering some of the materials used in the tactile art experience, and registration is required. Glazed and fired items completed during the sessions will be on display at the library.

The library has two active book clubs that meet monthly to discuss their latest selections. The Mystery Book Club meets the first Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. and the Book Club holds its discussions on the third Monday at 7 p.m.

Artist Trading Cards club experiments monthly on the second Friday with different art techniques to make a series of small masterpieces to trade and collect. A display of some of the interesting work the group has created is at the library.

Artistic ability is not required, just a desire to have fun with art. There is no charge and sessions begin at 6 p.m.

Something a little different is slated for Wednesday, Sept. 20, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Peter Rose, a retired senior software engineer and Ninth Degree Black Belt master instructor of the Rose School of Karate in town, will present a free one-hour seminar on the concepts and implementation of practical self-defense, karate and personal awareness training.

"Peter has 50 years of experience under that black belt," Allyn observed. "Some really neat things can come out of this."

The seminar will consist of a discussion of the concepts of not only self-defense, but also of how confidence can be used to tune into people's awareness and the environment around them to make their lives safer and more fulfilling. There will be ample time for questions.

"This is not a 'punch and kick' clinic," Rose said, "but a discussion of self-defense preparedness, conflict avoidance, dealing with fear, principles of power dispersion theory and application, and some simple examples of getting out of holds."

Information about the Rose School of Karate is available online at zzrose.com/rsk. Registration is appreciated.

Professional photographer Susan Lyndes will lead a Photography Walk on Saturday, Sept. 23, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Some of her work is currently on display at the library, and her pieces have also appeared in solo and group shows in the seacoast area, one juried by a National Geographic photographer.

Composition of digital photographs will be the focus of the event, starting off with a brief talk and then a walk outside to apply the tips learned and a discussion of how to use light.

Lyndes said, "I hope to find a group of interested camera enthusiasts to meet up and share our love of photography."

Registration is required.

The fall Junior

FIRST/Lego Club will start up in September. Open to kids in grades kindergarten through three, the free program will allow participants to work on the national challenge and prepare a presentation for a conference.

Call the library at 859-2201 for more information on joining and schedule.

AARP is the experts on life in the later years, and they'll be on hand on Monday, Oct. 2, 6 to 8 p.m. at Life Reimagined to help you gain insight into where you are in life and where you want to go.

At this free presentation, you will discover new tools to help you plan your next move, and connect with a Life Reimagined Guide and people and service groups in your community who can support you along the way.

"It's never too late to make a change," Allyn said. "At Life Reimagined you can reflect on your goals and determine your personal strengths."

AARP will provide the tools and inspiration for you to take the next step in your journey through life.

Take some time to focus on you and register for this program at <https://aarp.cvent.com/NewDurhamLR>.

NEW DURHAM — The Zechariah Boodey Farmstead Committee invites the community to a fundraiser classic Italian lasagna dinner on Saturday, Sept. 16, beginning at 5 p.m. at the Community Room located behind the New Durham Fire Station on Main Street.

The menu will offer sumptuous classic Italian meat lasagna prepared from an old family recipe by committee member Tatiana Cicuto. A Caesar salad, bread, beverage and dessert are included in the price of a ticket. Committee member Sherry Cullimore will be preparing meatless lasagna for those who prefer this version. An alternate selection of macaroni and cheese will be available for children.

Guests may purchase tickets at the door. Dinner ticket prices will include options for adults, kids under 10 and families.

Raffle tickets for an Italian themed gift basket, featuring a $50 gift card to Johnson's Steak and Seafood, will be available.

By supporting this fundraiser for The Zechariah Boodey Farmstead Committee's 2017 fall "Italian dinner," all proceeds will be applied to the "barn raising" campaign, which is the next phase of the Zechariah Boodey Farmstead project. They need to raise another $6,100 to meet the fundraising goal of $20,000 by spring 2018.

The mission of the committee is to preserve and reconstruct the Zechariah Boodey Farmstead, to interpret this historical property and its artifacts, increase public awareness and an appreciation of New Durham's heritage.

This building will provide, to a larger variety of people, a location for educational, social and civic events.

The committee is looking forward to sharing the progress achieved to date for this project. Please call Catherine Orlovicz for more information about the project or dinner at 859-4643.

Woollett honored with Alton's Boston Post Cane

BY ELISSA PAQUETTE
Contributing Writer

This story appeared in last week's paper, but Mr. Woollett's name was spelled wrong. We apologize for this error and are running the story again.

WOLFEBORO — Charles Woollett received Alton's Boston Cane on Aug. 24 from Selectman Philip Wittmann, an honor bestowed upon the town's oldest citizen. Born on March 12, 1916, Woollett is 101 years old. Active in the Alton community for many years, he moved to Sugar Hill Retirement Community in Wolfboro in 2014 from his Hall's Hill Road house following the death of his wife, Lucille.

There were cookies and refreshments on hand and attentive Sugar Hill staff members welcomed Woollett's daughters, Mary and Ruth, and his many friends acquired over the years, among them members of the Alton Rotary Club and the Masons. Woollett received wide smiles and warm handshakes from a line of well-wishers following the presentation.

Woollett was a member of the Alton Volunteer Fire Department for 31 years, beginning in 1952 and retiring when he reached the mandatory retirement age of 67. The firefighters met each month upstairs in the Bay Fire Station. He became the janitor and tended the furnace on his walk to and from the post office every day. Woollett says that in the early days, a separate home phone would ring to alert firemen.

Two major fires during Woollett's involvement were the fire at McGrath's store and the campground fire.

Woollett was known by others in town as a notary public, a broker for fire insurance with the West Farm Agency — following in his father's footsteps, and a Strout Agency real estate broker for 35 years with Lucille, in a house by Levey Park, previously damaged by fire from a neighbor's barn.

In the early 50s he and Lucille owned the Busy Corner Store and lived in the apartment upstairs, eventually selling it to Sid Butler.

The Woolletts were long time members of the Community Church of Alton. Local historians may remember when the men of the church, Woollett among them, dug out the cellar, propped the church up on beam timbers and poured concrete in the cellar to create an area for Sunday School classes. He says that Dwight Meder, who drove the school bus, was the minister. Woollett was head usher for 12 years and only missed one Sunday to attend daughter Ruth's graduation from UNH.

In 2015, Woollett donated funds for the fellowship hall of the Maple Street Church in Barnstead in memory of his wife and her lifelong passion for children.

Clearly, Woollett is at home at Sugar Hill Retirement Community after a life active in his community. The Boston Post Cane is in good hands.

Book signing at Always in Season, LLC Saturday

ALTON — On Saturday, Sept. 9, the Always in Season Shop at 119 Main St., Alton, will host author Rev. Dr. Glenn B. Havumaki for a book signing event from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. His book, "Trashed or Treasured? A Short Practical Theology of Aging," was released by Xulon Press on Oct. 27, 2012. Shortly after publishing the book he was notified that he won second place in the Theology Category of the Xulon Press annual 2012 Christian Choice Book Awards Contest.

The book was written to challenge the church and the family to help older adults live out their years with value and purpose. Why is this important? Today one out of eight Americans is 65 or older and the population is heading toward one out of five by 2029. Every seven seconds a Boomer (born between 1946 and 1964) is turning 65 years old, analogous to a tsunami that will result in 78 million adults over the age of 65 12 years from now.

The book will motivate you to live out your life with intentionality and purpose, and to help others to do the same. Dr.

Havumaki has been ministering to older adults since 1976. For almost 35 years he served as Director of Christian Ministries and Lead Chaplain at the Elim Park Baptist Home in Cheshire, Conn. Prior to that, he served as first chaplain of the Community Chaplain Service in southern Massachusetts. In his retirement he and his wife are serving as Certified Partners of the Christian Grandparenting Network of Colorado Springs, Colo., presenting a seminar titled Courageous Grandparenting. He and his wife Sandy are owners of a cottage at the Alton Bay Christian Conference Center, and are parents of three married children, and grandparents to seven grandchildren.

His book is available as an e-book, paperback or hardcover at any of the major book sellers online and can be ordered through local bookstores. You can view a video trailer on YouTube: www.youtube.com/watch?v=sHlWnToF0PY.

THE BAYSIDER, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 2017

Back to school

It's official, with Tuesday's kickoff for the Governor Wentworth Regional School District, which includes New Durham, the local kids are back in school for another year.

The 2017-2018 school year is off and running and there is plenty to look forward to in the coming months. There are tons of sports contests on the calendar for the local teams, including soccer, field hockey, football, golf, cross country and volleyball. In addition, there are sure to be plenty of open houses at the local high schools and as we move forward there will be band and chorus concerts along with robotics competitions and more.

We encourage all parents to get involved in their kids' school lives and stay engaged with the school community. If you have a child in the local school system, take advantage of the open houses or office hours to meet your child's teacher or teachers and when the opportunity presents, also get to know the principal and other administrators in your child's building. These things can be huge in opening up the lines of communication between the school and your family. Communication is so important when it comes to your child's education. Teachers should be aware that you are parents that want to be informed about what's going on in your child's life when he or she is not in the home. If the teacher has a face to put with a name, communication will be much easier for everyone involved.

Moving forward with the school year, keep up with what your kids are studying in school, whether that's through helping them keep on track with their homework or simply asking about what they learned in school. We can't stress how important it is to have simple discussions with your kids about what they learned in school, particularly when they are younger. If you are asking your kids about what they learned and they tell you, they are repeating what they were taught and repetition is never a bad thing when it comes to learning.

Homework is part of school and if you want to help your kids be successful in the homework, give them a place where they can do their homework without distractions. Keeping the television off during homework is important, giving them a chance to focus on what they are doing.

Be involved in your kids' lives, know their teachers, know their administrators and know their friends. Know where they are when school is over. If you can, go to their sports games or other extracurricular activities whenever possible and show your support.

If your kids drive to school on their own, make sure their phones are not used during the drive, keep them from being distracted.

Back to school is a busy time for everyone in the local community and we hope that everyone has a chance to check out what is going on in the local schools. We know there are plenty of good things happening and we hope everyone gets to see what's going on.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks for supporting the fire department

To the Editor:

Thank you to every patron who supported the Alton Firemen's Association annual chicken barbecue. It was a great turnout. There were a lot of familiar faces enjoying the festivities. It is great to see our residents of Alton of every age coming out to support our community. We had youngsters checking out the fire engines and locals singing to our interns. It truly is the people who make this such a great event. This event is a piece of Alton Old Home Week tradition as far back as we can remember.

The support generated by our great community assists with the needs of the Alton Fire Department as well as the community itself through the Alton Firemen's Association. The AFA raises funds and purchases supplemental items needed by the AFD. It also gives to the community through a student scholarship, donating to other local causes and the Mrs. Santa Drive.

Most recent purchases that were donated to the AFD from the AFA are a plow for the utility pick-up, tracks for the ATV to negotiate tough terrain better and safer. The AFA also donated the purchase of winter jackets that are high visibility red and yellow for our Emergency Medical Service providers to protect them from our New England winters while out on ambulance calls in our community.

A special thanks to all the local businesses who were very happy to donate towards this cause. Thank you, Alton Circle Store, Alton Village Store, Aroma Joe's, Aubuchon Hardware, Camp Brook woods, Dunkin Donuts, East Alton Fire Association, Jack's Pizza, Lisa's Butterfly Gardens, McDonalds, Lowe's of Tilton, River Run Deli, Roberts Cove Marina, and a very special thank you to Hannaford's. It is the generosity of our local business leaders that has helped make this fundraising effort the success that it is each year.

Again, thank you to everyone who visited us at the Alton Central Fire Station and enjoyed a meal with family, friends and neighbors. It is your generosity that supports the Alton Firemen's Association. The AFA donates to the cause of the Alton Fire Department. The AFD serves you on a daily basis to the best of their ability, proudly. Thanks again. It starts with you and ends with you. See you next year.

Just watch

To the Editor:

Congress is about to return to Washington. Predictably they will start falling over each other in their rush to "help" the victims of storm Harvey.

There will be the usual grandstanding, platitudes, and crocodile tears of concern as they present a massive spending bill that will meet stiff resistance.

This will be a repeat of the super storm Sandy fiasco. That bill was loaded with millions of dollars of pork barrel projects, not connected with the storm, but designed to make anyone opposed to it look mean and uncaring. They included funding for museums, libraries and community block grants for areas hundreds and thousands of miles from the affected areas. That excess baggage was eventually removed and funding was provided for the victims at a much later date. While Congress was trying to clean up the mess, they made with the legislation, the victims were trying to clean up the mess, made by the storm, with no help.

Just watch. A massive spending bill will appear, loaded with requests for LED streetlights, wi-fi enabled parking meters, bike paths, milfoil control and public charging stations for the new coal powered electric vehicles. Congress will spend months on the grandstanding, platitudes, and crocodile tears, while the residents of Texas are hung out to dry.

As damaging as these storms are they are not capable of doing the same amount of damage to this country as Congress is. Just watch.

Hazardous waste, medicine collection Saturday in Alton

ALTON — The Lakes Region Household Hazardous Product Facility (LRHHPF) will hold a satellite hazardous waste collection at the Alton transfer station on Saturday, Sept. 9, from 8:30 a.m. to noon. The collection will also include medication disposal for prescription, non-prescription and over-the-counter drugs as well as herbals, vitamins, creams, pet meds and personal care products.

in their original containers as the pharmacist must identify and count all prescription drugs. Pills should not be mixed together in baggies. All drugs are incinerated. Controlled drugs are given into the custody of two police officers for proper disposal as outlined by DEA and state of New Hampshire regulations.

Twice a year LRHHPF personnel travel to Alton to facilitate collecting oil-based paints, stains, automotive fluids, pesticides, herbicides, cleaning products, and other products marked danger, flammable, poison, corrosive or with other warnings. Save time and enjoy the convenience of local disposal provided as a 16-year member community of the LRHHPF.

Alton residents and taxpayers may also attend the third Saturday of the month collections at 404 Beach Pond Road, Wolfeboro, from May through October, 8:30 a.m. to noon. To be safe, please bring hazardous waste products in original containers. Small items may be placed inside a cardboard box for swift removal from your vehicle. A business card hazardous waste pass can be gotten for free from transfer station personnel prior to the collection.

organization's work with New Americans and to educate Democrats about the refugee situation, the laborious process required to enter America, and the economic and educational requirements they must meet after they arrive.

Come for socializing and potluck any time between 6:15 and 6:30 p.m. The meeting runs from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The meeting is open to any and all residents of Barnstead, Alton and Gilmanton who consider themselves moderate, liberal or progressive Democrats or like-minded Independents. Pair of documentaries at Gilman Library Friday

ALTON — View a free special double feature screening on Friday, Sept. 8, of the documentaries "4.1 Miles" and "From Damascus to Chicago."

The films will be screened at 7 p.m. at the Gilman Library in Alton. Enter through the rear of the building. In the Oscar-nominated short film "4.1 Miles," Daphne Matziaraki follows a day in the life of Kyriakos Papadopoulos, a captain in the Greek coast guard who is caught in the middle of the refugee crisis in which Europe is embroiled. Despite limited resources, the captain and his crew attempt to save thousands of migrants from drowning in the Aegean Sea.

In the documentary short "From Damascus to Chicago," two young Syrian siblings recently resettled in Chicago enroll in a dance class, while the film follows their family's experiences in navigating a new city and country. (Filmmakers: Colleen Cassingham, Alex Lederman.)

After the films will be a general, non-partisan discussion about the films and the issues they examine. An open exchange of ideas is encouraged.

St. Katharine Drexel 5K/10K scheduled for Sept. 16

ALTON — In the midst of summer, it might be difficult to think about the coming season of fall. Yet, a small group of dedicated committee members who organize the St. Katharine Drexel 5K/10K road race and 5K walk each year are doing just that.

As they plan for the seventh annual event, held this year on Saturday, Sept. 16 on the church grounds off Route 28, in Alton, they are encouraging runners of all ages and abilities to lace up those running shoes, practice, and sign up for the sanctioned race, which raises monies for three very worthy charities.

This year, as in the past several, monies raised will go to support the James Foley Scholarship, given to a graduating senior from Foley's alma mater, Kingswood Regional High School. Additionally, the Camp Fatima Special Needs campers program and the remaining Indian mission, founded by St. Katharine Drexel in 1903, will also receive checks.

Of course, the race would not be successful without the continuing support of local businesses who, each year, are most generous to the causes. This year they have two title sponsors, Eastern Propane and Oil Co. and Integrity Earthworks. To date, they have also received support from All Earth, Weston Auto Body, Northeast Delta Dental, Bartlett Tree Services, Peaslee Funeral Home, Bon Venture Bulletin

Services, Wolfeboro Eye Associates, Granite State Physical Fitness, Calico Graphics, Tut's Trophies and Awards, Hannaford of Alton, Harvest Market, Johnson's Steak and Seafood of New Durham, Granite State News, The Nordic Skier of Wolfeboro, River Run Deli of Alton and Dragonfly Gardens of Alton.

For further information, contact Robin Allen-Burke at 569-3996 or ironmom40@metro-cast.net. See also the St. Katharine Drexel web site [stkdrexel.org] and click on the link.

OBITUARY

June Rose Cutter Loyal friend to many

NEW DURHAM — June Rose Cutter, age 82, of Brackett Road in New Durham, died Aug. 30.

Born June 13, 1935 in Whitefield, daughter of William and Bernadene (Roberts) Newton, Sr., she resided in New Durham for 53 years.

She worked hard in several professions and at home all her life. She was a loving, caring mother with the well-being of her children always central, as well as a true and loyal friend to many. She was a gentle soul but had great strength that allowed her to endure many hardships and still remain able to look for the good in everything.

June loved her home, nature and all of its beauty, animals, sunshine, coffee, Bingo and yard sales. She also had a beautiful voice and sang on stage and the radio in her youth. She was a gentle soul and devoted to the care and well-being of her family. Her biggest prayer and hope was that her children were "ok." She enjoyed making people laugh and said, "Remember the laughter."

Widow of the late Richard W. Cutter, Sr., she is survived by their three children, Richard W. Cutter, Jr., Waneta J. Garland and Necia Currier and her partner John Allan; five grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, also several nieces and nephews. Predeceased by her brothers, William Newton, Jr. and Wayne Mason.

As per her request, there will be no services. Interment will be at John C. Shirley Cemetery in New Durham. Cremation care by Peaslee Funeral Home, 24 Central St., Farmington, to express condolences, please visit www.peasleefuneralhome.com.

val games and a bouncy house. They will be setting up in the church/town hall parking lot. This is a free event, so bring your family and friends. If you have been looking for a church to attend, come this Sunday and see what they are all about. They offer Sunday School classes for all ages every Sunday starting at 9 a.m. The regular morning service follows at 10 a.m. For more information, contact the church at 269-8831 or check out <http://centerbarnsteadcc.org/>. The Center Barnstead Christian Church is located on Route 126, next to the Town Hall.

Ladies holding Bible study group in Barnstead

BARNSTEAD — Beginning Tuesday, Sept.

19, at 7 p.m. at Center Barnstead Christian Church, there will be a six-week community ladies Bible study entitled "When God Doesn't Fix It." Grammy Award-winning songwriter Laura Story had a fairy-tale life, until her husband was diagnosed with a brain tumor. Can blessings arise from broken dreams? Can good results rise out of terrible situations?

Tackling common myths about God and hardship, Story examines what happens when life doesn't turn out as we expect, and offers assurance that although the situation may never get better, people can grow because of it.

The cost for the book and the study guide have been reduced for this course.

For more information, please call Center Barnstead Christian Church at 269-8831, e-mail Pastor@Centerbarnsteadcc.org or go to Centerbarnsteadcc.org and go to a link that will give an overview of Story. Center Barnstead Christian Church is located right across from the town hall.

Mark on the Markets

Are you part of the book or a family?

BY MARK PATTERSON
Contributing Writer

This may sound like a very unusual question, are you part of the book or family? What I'm referring to is how you may be viewed by your broker, financial advisor, financial planner or investment advisor. If you've read my column in the past you know that I started in this business as a retail broker at Tucker Anthony, now known as Royal Bank of Canada. The brokers, including myself, had a black binder with page after page of clients and transactions. This was literally called your "book of business." It's a common term used in the insurance business, stock brokerage or financial advisors, even planners and investment advisors.

A short time ago I was at a conference speaking with the insurance producer who had recently passed an exam that allowed him to collect the income for managing a relationship, not the assets, of clients. This insurance guy, now investment advisor representative, was bragging about the size of his book of business. He then asked me how big my book was? I answered; I don't have a book; however, I manage assets for approximately 85 families. You see, this investment advisor representative has not learned what "working for the client's best interest" a.k.a. fiduciary actually means. Even though he is licensed to place assets on a fee-based platform and collect fee income, he had not figured out that, that alone does not make a him fiduciary advisor, but putting the clients best interest first means just that.

Another subtlety that you should be aware of are the fees that you may be paying to the advisor, firm and asset manager. I'd stated above that the investment advisor rep was being paid a fee to manage his relationship with his "book." But he was not managing assets. This advisor rep includes one percent on top of his registered investment advisory firm's half a percent for a total of 1.5 percent. Then, the asset managers or mutual funds have fees of possibly another .75 percent? Total fees and expenses to the client average 2.25 percent. To make matters worse, in my opinion, is that many of these portfolios are what I call "plug-and-play" portfolios, that are designed in advance and not custom designed for the client's needs. With the equity markets are good as they have been for quite a while now, the fees do not seem to be that big of an issue. However, when we have a correction in the markets or maybe a period of slow to no growth, then most people start to pay attention.

This is not a case of "you get what you pay for." In my opinion, it's more of a situation where the layers of marketing, the firms cut, the advisors cut and the asset managers cut equal a lot of fees.

Many times, when prospective new families meet with me or an advisor with my firm. A member of the potential new family questions how can, and why I charge what I do? My explanation is that MHP asset management is an asset management firm, we manufacture the portfolio for that specific family's needs using individual stocks, bonds or low-cost exchange traded or mutual funds. Therefore, the family is getting a custom-designed portfolio at a very reasonable cost without any additional "relationship" fees.

Mark Patterson is founder and advisor at MHP Asset Management, and can be reached at 447-1979 or Mark@MHP-asset.com. Client funds are held at TD Ameritrade institutional.

Crafters share their creations during Labor Day Weekend fair

BY ERIN PLUMMER

mnews@salmonpress.news

GILFORD — In both rain and shine, visitors could spend some time Labor Day Weekend looking over an array of handcrafted items on sale at the Labor Day Craft Fair at Gunstock.

The second annual Labor Day Weekend fair took place Saturday and Sunday.

"It's bigger than last year, and I'm very happy about that," said fair organizer Joyce Endee.

Endee said a little more than 70 exhibitors showed their crafts that weekend.

Endee said Saturday was a great day, with nice weather, bringing a lot of people to the fair. The weather on Sunday, however, had cooler temperatures and intermittent rains. Endee said some exhibitors pulled out early because of the weather. While things were slower on Sunday, Endee said they still had good attendance despite the rain.

Heather Dumais, a native of Livermore, Maine who travels with her job in the National Park Service, makes aromatherapy heat bags for her company Sacred Space: Yoga Meditation, and Gifts. She sews and fills the three-pound bags and customers can choose different scents they want infused in the bags. The bags can be microwaved for heat and frozen for cold therapy.

"When you apply three pounds of pressure to your body, you promote relaxation," Dumais said.

Dumais started making the bags around five years ago. At first, she made one as a Christmas present for her mother, who uses the bag to help relieve fibromyalgia pain.

"Before I knew it, people wanted them and stores wanted them, and it became a full-fledged business," she said.

Brandon Roberts and Sheri Abild sold their creams, candles, and other products from their company Vermont Simple Beauty at the Labor Day Craft Fair at Gunstock.

Wanda Van Noren of Laconia sold her wire-wrapped jewelry with her company Wire-Wrapping Gemstone Creations.

Dumais has a background in environmental science and has worked to find the best combination of oils to meet different people's needs. Her mother is also a registered nurse and also helps her make these bags.

She said she has had a lot of success at the Gilford fair.

"I came here last year, and I sold out completely," Dumais said.

Wanda Van Noren of Laconia makes jewelry from wire-wrapped gemstones for her company Wire Wrapping Gemstone Creations. Van Noren said she got into stones around 10 years ago.

"They pulled me out of a really deep depression," Van Noren said.

She said she knew a lot of people who would keep gemstones in their pocket to have their energies close to them. She said she wanted to make something that would allow people to wear these stones.

Van Noren, who is a graphic designer by trade, taught herself wire wrapping and makes a variety of pieces. Pieces include wire designs around single stones, smaller stones used in more intricate designs, and more.

"Every piece is a unique piece," Van Noren said. "I never know how it's going to look until it goes finished."

Van Noren said she enjoys being creative and learning new crafts as well as helping people find positive ways to help themselves.

She said she used to do this fair every year, though she has been doing more psychic fairs. She said she just happened to have this weekend free.

"I love Joyce's fairs; she does an amazing job," Van Noren said.

Sheri Abild and Brandon Roberts of Brownsville, Vt., make soap, moisturizing cream, soy candles, and more for their company Vermont Simple Beauty.

The company started two years ago. Abild said she will give herself pedicures and one day ran out of salts. This led to her wanting to make some salts herself, which evolved into the business.

Vermont Simple Beauty is Abild's full time job, Roberts works as a life insurance salesman and this is a second job for him.

Roberts said a lot of their work is research and development, coming up with the best ideas and testing them out. Sometimes what's put on paper might not work in actuality. Abild said they will look at trends and popular items to decide what to make next.

Vermont Simple is also veteran-owned: Abild served in the Air Force in the 509th Bomb Wing. They will give a 5.09 percent discount to veterans in honor of Abild's former unit.

They have been displaying at the Labor Day Weekend Fair since they started.

"It's a wonderful fair for us," Abild said.

Wright Museum lecture series continues with a reflection on the Holocaust

WOLFEBORO — The Wright Museum will host the 19th lecture in its Ron Goodgame and Donna Canney 2017 Educational Program Series on Tuesday, Sept. 12, from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Wright Museum, 77 Center St., Wolfeboro. Doors open at 5:30 p.m. for "The Holocaust: the Twisted Road to Auschwitz," a lecture by Tom White.

This presentation focuses on the cascading radicalization and evolution to genocide that took place from 1939-1945. White will explore how Nazi policy incrementally evolved and adapted over time in the complex face of changing political, military, and social circumstances. Specific attention will be placed upon the Nazi racial laboratory of Poland 1939-1940. Topics to be covered include: Nazi ideology; the influence of location; emerging role of the SS; the process of implementing emigration policy and demographic engineering; and more. By exploring individual initiative of "working towards the Führer" we will examine the "moral universe" created by willing perpetrators.

White is the Coordinator of Educational Outreach for the Cohen Center for Holocaust Studies at Keene State College. He served on the Diocese of Manchester's Diocesan Ecumenical Commission for Interfaith Relations; is the co-chair and producer of the Cohen Center's annual Kristallnacht Commemoration; and serves on the Board of Directors of the Association of Holocaust Organizations (AHO). White received NEA New Hampshire's Champion of Human and Civil Rights Award in 2009; and in 2015 was named a Peace Ambassador by the Center for Peacebuilding from Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The non-profit World War II Foundation is producing a film for American Public Television (PBS) recognizing the 75th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor and America's entry into World War II (Dec. 7, 1941). Featured in the film will be interviews with three of the seven living survivors of the USS Arizona, as well as other veterans of Pearl Harbor, civilians who lived on the base on Dec. 7, historian Daniel Martinez of the Valor in the Pacific National Monument and Mitsou Fuchida, the commander of the Japanese air strike on Hawaii.

The film will be donated to APT and also schools and libraries so that the courage and sacrifice of those who were there at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7 is not forgotten.

Wright Museum members are admitted for free. Space is limited. Reservations are strongly recommended to ensure sufficient seating for all. Call 569-1212 to reserve your seat today.

New Hampshire Boat Museum readies for 10th Biennial Race Boat Regatta

WOLFEBORO — The New Hampshire Boat Museum is preparing for its 10th biennial Wolfeboro Vintage Race Boat Regatta to be held on Wolfeboro Bay on Lake Winnepesaukee Sept. 15 and 16. This two-day event is filled with the thrilling spectacle of vintage triple cockpits, outboards, Gold Cup racers, skiffs, and hydroplanes running in heats around a one-mile course. To learn more about all the details of the event, visit nhbm.org and click on the Regatta icon for details.

The Wolfeboro Regatta is regarded as one of the best venues on the vintage race boat circuit. Race crews are signed up to attend from as south Florida and western Canada. It is anticipated that more than 40 crews will be present this year.

Since its inception, the event has expanded to include day-time and evening activities for the race crews and public. The heats will occur on Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with more than 40 vintage race boats performing demonstration laps on a one-mile oval course on the Bay. The public is invited to see and hear these boats run from the Wolfeboro Town Docks during these days. There is no charge to watch the heats from the docks.

For those wishing to view the action up close from the water, the Winnepesaukee Belle will be offering rides throughout the day. The cost for these water tours are $12 per person. Tickets can be purchased at the regatta on the Town Docks.

For those more adventurous, many of the race boat drivers are donating rides on their race boats with the proceeds going to the New Hampshire Boat Museum. The cost for these charity rides will range from $100 to $300 depending on the chosen boat. To view the boats that are giving charity rides, visit the regatta section of the museum's web site at nhbm.org.

Those attending the regatta will also be given the opportunity to view the crew staging area also known as the hot pits. This secured area will be open to the public only between heats, but will allow spectators the opportunity to meet drivers and crew and see the boats up close.

This year's Race Boat Regatta is sponsored by Bradley's Hardware, Coco Engineering, Alton Bay Yacht Club, NAPA Auto Parts - Wolfeboro, Danna's Collision Repair, J. Clifton Avery Insurance, HK Powersport in Hooksett, Bayside Concrete, Brock's Building Supply, B&B Service Center, Rochester Toyota, Advantage Construction, Knight Security, Kenneth A. Lane Master Electrician, Ramsey Plumbing and Heating, Sal's Advanced Auto, and Wolfeboro Car Wash and Executive Detail.

In-kind sponsors are assisting the Race Boat Regatta including Reliable Crane Service, Andrew's Marine Service/Lake Tow, Corinthian Yacht Club, Wolfetrap Grill and Rawbar, Watermark Marine Supply, Stark Creative, Three Sisters' Country Store, The Wolfeboro Inn, Jo Greens, Dive Winnepesaukee, J.C. Signs, and Carrier's Construction.

This well-planned event requires much coordination and collaboration with the American Power Boat Association, state of New Hampshire Marine Patrol, town of Wolfeboro and the support of the community. More than 100 volunteers fill many stations including registration, hot pits, parking, set-up and clean-up to name a few. If you're interested in volunteering for a shift, please call the museum at 569-4544.

The New Hampshire Boat Museum is open daily to the public for the 2017 season through Monday, Oct. 9, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and Sunday noon-4 p.m. The museum is a not-for-profit institution focusing on New Hampshire's boating and fresh water heritage. It is located at 399 Center St., two miles from downtown Wolfeboro in the former Allen "A" Resort dance hall. For further information, contact the museum at 569-4554, museum@nhbm.org, www.nhbm.org or via Facebook. now the village. Years later, as the village grew and prospered, Enoch maintained an inn and a general store, earning a reputation as one of the more substantial men in town.

His son, Hon. Daniel Sawyer, was, in his own right, one of Alton's principal townsmen, and a counselor on the staff of Ichabod Goodwin - N.H.'s famous Civil War-era Governor. Sawyer had previously represented the town in the General Court and held other offices. Daniel's brother, Seth, was a Free-Will Baptist minister.

The items are spread across three lots available for bid.

Most of the 30-plus

CIVIL WAR artifacts with Alton roots are being auctioned off online.

documents are addressed to "A[lonzo].H. Sawyer, Postmaster, Alton, N.H.," and originated from camps in locales such as California (1861), Virginia (1862), Beaufort (1862) and Potomac (1863). Alonzo Havington Sawyer (1827 - 95), was Postmaster of Alton in the early 1860s - an appointee during the Lincoln administration.

Spread out over three auction lots, the documents include campaign songs and the discharge papers of Frank P. Sawyer, who enrolled on the Oct. 26 1861 in the 5th N.H. Regiment.

The auctioneer managing the sale, Dee & Atkinson, estimates that the documents could sell for between $200-$250 per lot. The Alton items are spread out over lots 77-79.

One letter, penned by William Watson of the 12th NH Regiment noted the deaths of Charles Lougee and Arthur York near Fredericksburg having "sacrificed for the cause." While enmeshed in the throes of the conflict, he added, "I wish that could get... home so as that could be home to vote this spring." It continued, "I want you republicans to do absolutely this spring."

In recognition of Abraham Lincoln, the letter concluded, "I must bide you [-] glory be the president. This from your servant William Watson."

Another lot includes several of the envelopes that the correspondence was sent in. The Civil War saw a trend in incorporating patriotic messages on envelopes - a trend that persisted through WWII.

Sawyer and a business associate also operated a bank of sorts. One of the lots includes several notes drawn on federal specie. The Dee & Atkinson auction description reads, "J. Jones & A. H. Sawyer - four fractional currency notes, 100 x 53 mm, Alton Oct. 18th 1862, for 25 cents, numbered 1, 5, 9 and 190." The description continues that each is "signed verso Daniel Sawyer with redemption stamp, together with four Alton N.H. Nov. 26th 1862, 5 cents, number 1, 10 cents, number 1, 25 cents, number 2 and 50 cents, number 1, together with two Alton N.H. June 23rd 1864, two cents, number 46 and three cents, number 93 (10)."

The online catalog notes, "Fractional currency was introduced by the Government on the 21st August 1862 due to people hoarding gold and silver coins during the Civil War. In local areas banks, merchants, and railway companies introduced their own. It was withdrawn on the 15th February 1876."

So how did these N.H. Civil War-era items wind up in the U.K.?

Dee & Atkinson representative Andrew Spicer summarized, "My vendors inherited them from the estate of Dorothy French who was related to the Sawyer family, and they came to her as the last of her branch of the family. I believe the Alton museum has many things from her mother in it."

In reaching out to the Baysider, Spicer wrote, "I am very happy to answer any questions that you have relating to this collection as I would really like it to end up back in Alton where it belongs." His e-mail address is AndrewS@dauctions.com and the lots up for bid can be viewed at <http://www.dee-atkinson-harrison.co.uk/>.

explains Patrick’s co-owner Allan Beetle. “The $10 entry fee will be donated to the Pub Mania team of your choice and includes a complimentary beverage and chance to win in the post-shuffle raffle.”

The course loops over to the Bank of NH Pavilion and back to Patrick’s. “We encourage people to work on

One hundred percent of the proceeds of the Mania Shuffle will pass through to the Greater Lakes Region Children’s Auction and on to children and families in need here in the Lakes Region.

Last year Pub Mania raised $276,267 for the Children’s Auction and has now raised over $1,313,000 in the first eight years of the event. Pub Mania 2017 is scheduled for Dec. 7 and 8.

cent destruction, the force of the rushing water was enough to move six-inch rocks all the way down the hill. In that event, 2.5 inches of rain fell in 40 minutes.

To avoid repeats of the same damage, Roberts wants to put approximately 800 feet of drainage underground, fed by five well-constructed catch basins. This will channel the powerful storm water away from the roadbed and protect it in the future.

Roberts also discussed his plans for the $165,000 in one-time state road funds that Alton will receive from the special state road funding. (A recent Baysider headlined the Barnstead BOS discussion of its share of funding). He pointed out that there are constraints on the use of funds: it cannot be used for new road-building or to replace town tax dollars in already planned maintenance.

The highway manager told the board that he now has three unfilled positions in his department. With the improvement in the economy, private companies are now paying more than many towns are, employees are leaving and qualified applicants are looking to the private sector for jobs. He believes that by purchasing a $165,000 excavator he can change the maintenance of Alton’s 57 miles of drainage ditches from a job that requires five workers, to one that can be done by three workers. Selectman Virgil MacDonald agreed, and added that the excavator could also be used in other work in addition to ditch maintenance.

Kellie Troendle reported that Alton Parks and Recreation had had a successful summer season. The summer camp was well attended. The staff did find that they were challenged more than in previous years by behavioral issues from some children. In planning for next year’s camp, they will be looking for school personnel with special training in behavior challenges to supplement their usual staffing.

The Alton Parks and Recreation Commission has decided that the bids they received to create handicapped access to the bathrooms at the town’s three parks are inadequate and too costly, and they will not award bids this year. They will revisit the issue in planning for next year.

In order to move forward knowledge-ably on the problem of cyanobacteria in the Merrymeeting River, the towns of Alton and New Durham have been told they will need to develop a Watershed Management Plan for the entire river. The towns will split the cost, which will be about $20,000 each.

Dionne presented the town administrator report. The solid waste department’s baler, which compresses and bales waste from aluminum cans to cardboard, died at the end of the previous week. The department relies on the baler not only to keep citizen deliveries moving out of the department’s limited space, but also for several hundred dollars a week in income. For example, the town produces two bales of cardboard a week, which is currently selling for $130 per bale.

Dionne asked the board for permission to purchase the replacement without going through the bid process. It will cost slightly over $12,000. The guidelines for bidding exempt “specialty equipment” when there are an extremely limited number of potential bidders. She is not aware of another dealer in the area except the one the town has been working. Wentworth said that in keeping with his concern of the need for getting bids in all situations he could not support an exemption in this case either. Phil Wittman joined Wentworth in disagreement. The majority of the board agreed by a 3-2 vote to give precedence to the timeliness of replacement of specialty equipment used daily and authorized the purchase.

Dionne reported to the board that Metrocast has recently been purchased by Atlantic Broadcasting Company. Atlantic has asked the town to re-sign the contract it has had with Metrocast showing the new ownership. There is no change in contract terms and the contract takes effect automatically in four months even if the town does not sign it. The board agreed.

The town administrator asked for guidance from the board on several compensation issues that need to be addressed as she puts together the staff budget proposal. The board has agreed to a two percent COLA (cost of living adjustment) for town staff. She asked how the board wants to apply that with contract personnel including the board’s own compensation, the retainer for the town attorney, the police prosecutor, and other attorneys involved in current litigation.

The board agreed to apply the COLA to the town attorney. They accepted the COLA adjustment proposed by the police prosecutor; agreed that the COLA should not apply to attorneys already involved in litigation, and declined any increase for themselves.

Some repairs and maintenance is needed in the foyer of the Town Hall building. Because of the Town Hall’s status as an historical building, she has discussed the needed work with two people with historical restoration experience. They have provided guidelines for the work. The cost will be covered by funds in the Clough-Moral Trust Fund, which was established for this purpose. Thus, it will require no expenditure of tax funds. The board agreed by consensus to move forward with the work.

The Gilman Museum also needs some maintenance work including repainting the rusting back door. Funds for this work will come from the Gilman Trust Fund. The board concurred. MacDonald asked if the cataloging of the existing historical collection has been completed. Dionne said it was her understanding that yes it has.

She added for the board’s information that staff are investigating the potential for a change in the signage of the museum with the goal of improving the esthetics of the corner of Main Street and Route 140. Parts of the big green sign at the corner of the lot are in poor condition, but rather than simple maintenance she is hoping to develop a better design of the signage.

The board rescheduled its next meeting from Labor Day to Wednesday, Sept. 6 at 6 p.m. at Town Hall.

A little caper to camp and a long slog home

It was just a little work detail, clearing brush and tall weeds and grass from the mile-long trail from log-landing to camp. A jaunt. A breeze.

And despite the hard work of catching up on two years of deferred trail maintenance, it wasn't all that bad. Sweaty and tuckered from clearing the trail in, we opened up the camp to let it air out, and had a fine lunch on the porch.

And then it was back down the trail, mowing with the DR Field and Brush Mower, an original device of its kind with an initial model that's still hard to beat, augmented by a blade-equipped weed-whacker. My contribution was rearguard cleanup-action, using my walking stick to flick brush from the cleared path into the adjoining woods.

It would be a nice ride out on logging roads at just about dusk, and then an easy ride home on what the old-timers called "the improved tarvea," or a bit later, "macadam."

Little did we know.

HARRY BROWN and friend a few years ago on the trail to camp, evincing the never-ending, always-waiting, ever-advancing fecundity in face of tools and toil.

Throughout my newspapering career, I've preached about being prepared. Keep lanterns and candles and batteries and bottled water on hand for outages during storms. Give newly licensed kids emergency road kits for birthdays or Christmas. Have smoke alarms on all levels of the house, and check the batteries. Stuff like that.

So, flushed with trail-clearing success, we sallied forth from log-landing toward home, and took a little side-trip even farther off the beaten path. And then I felt a pull on the steering wheel, as if we were dragging a bear, or maybe a moose.

But it was an impending flat tire, and from a long and storied life of driving back roads, I knew this for sure. This tire was only going to remain round for a few seconds longer. "Oh, shucks," I said as I pulled over, or something like that.

I'm a Ford guy, and for many years now Ford, like most truck-makers, has put its spare tires up under the cargo bed. And with all previous trucks, I've immediately removed the spare from this ill-conceived position and carried it up in the bed. Salt and sand and time can make the removal of a spare from under the frame next to impossible, and in any case no fun at all in sleet or snow.

But with this F250, my sixth or maybe seventh truck, I'd never got around to getting the spare tire out of limbo and into the heaven of the bed, where at least you could get hold of it. And I never had given it a thought, until Monday's flat.

My usual toolbox was not in the back of the truck either, and I don't know why. Likewise, my usual flashlight was nowhere to be found.

Neither was my owner's manual (it was on the kitchen counter for studying up on some minor feature, maybe like changing a flat). And we didn't have enough heavier shirts to ward off the impending cold.

The missing manual would have reminded me that a special end-of rod socket for getting the spare down was in the glove compartment, something I knew but had forgotten.

Out of all bad stories good stories come, the saying goes, and somehow our problems worked themselves out.

We decided to drive out on the flat tire to the nearest place of potential succor. It was about seven miles to the main loop road and the Million Dollar Bridge. We made it with almost no rubber on the ruined tire to spare.

We neither expected cell phone service nor got it, being accustomed to the realities of the region. We pondered the likelihood of anyone coming by such a remote spot, especially on a weekday evening. We began plotting walking distances and times to the nearest sources of help.

But a Pittsburg High School sophomore, Devon Marsh, out for a ride on his four-wheeler, stopped to see if we needed help. Lo and behold, he had weak cell service for his phone, let us use it, called his mom to let her know he'd be late for supper, stayed to make sure we'd made the contacts we needed, and lit off for home, almost an hour overdue. How great it is that they still make kids like Devon, not to mention understanding moms.

We rode out to the main road with wrecker proprietors Dale and Jane, and a friend met us there to help get all us down to Northern Tire in Colebrook, and all was well that ended well. We'll have this story to tell our grandchildren, who will undoubtedly (and rightly) roll their eyes.

And it was a lesson. How does that old Boy Scout motto go?

TUCKER KIERSTEAD and the Prospect Mountain soccer boys dropped a 2-0 decision to Belmont last week.

Prospect soccer teams off and running

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

ALTON — After winning the first two games of the season in convincing fashion, the Prospect Mountain girls' soccer team struggled out of the gate on Thursday, Aug. 31, and dropped an 8-1 decision to Raymond.

"We never work up," said coach Matt Locke, noting that the Rams scored two goals in the first two minutes and finished with seven goals in the first half. "It just went from bad to worse."

With the team trailing in a big way, Locke was aware that things probably weren't going to go his team's way so at half-time, he asked his team to work on things, tasking his defenders, midfielders and forwards with different things to work on throughout the final 40 minutes.

The Timber Wolves were able to get a goal in that span and allowed one as well for the 8-1 final score.

"It was probably a good wakeup call," Locke said. "We know we'll have a good team but if you don't come to play, you can get swamped."

He noted that the biggest adjustment in the early part of the season is getting the three new backs into the rotation, as the Timber Wolves had to replace three of their four backs heading into the new season.

"I guess it's better that it (the big loss) happens at the beginning of the season," Locke stated. "Hopefully we'll learn from it and move along."

The Timber Wolves opened the season on Saturday, Aug. 26, with a 6-1 win over Somersworth and then continued on Tuesday, Aug. 29, with a 4-1 win over Inter-Lakes.

The team will be in action again on Friday, Sept. 8, at Hillsboro-Deering at 4 p.m. and will be hosting Gilford on Thursday, Sept. 14, at 4 p.m.

The Timber Wolf soccer boys were unable to get on the board in the first two games of the season but still came away with a point in one of those games.

Eagles, Knights battle to hard-fought tie

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

NORTH CONWAY — The Kennett and Kingswood boys' soccer teams both entered Tuesday's second game of the season looking for their first win.

Neither team came away satisfied in that regard, but a back and forth battle provided a hard-fought game for both teams, as the squads played to a 1-1 tie after 100 minutes.

"It was our second overtime game in a row," said Kennett coach Dave Hart. "There was a lot of good energy and lots of good confidence."

"I give both teams a lot of credit, it was an absolutely great battle," said Kingswood coach Kempes Corbally. "It was a pretty well-contested game that could've gone either way."

Erik Madden made a nice cross out of the gate for the Knights but Garrett Kearns made a good clear out of the zone. Kingswood had the game's first corner and Madden just missed connecting with Brian Winn on a bid. Mackenzie Murphy had a couple of chances for the Eagles, while Kingswood got in the zone with chances and the defense held tight. Oliver Clay-Storm had a bid stopped by Knight keeper Kolbe Maganzini and Lukas Narducci had a shot denied by Maganzini as well. Madden also had a shot go wide of the net for Kingswood. Dylan West sent a nice ball ahead for the Eagles but Nick Duntley cleared it out for Kingswood. Josh Duntley also got a run into the zone but Neil Harrison stepped up to hold the defense. Marco

Ross-Parent had a blast into the zone that Josh Duntley cleared out.

The Eagles got the game's first goal when they were given a penalty shot just past the midway point of the first half. Narducci stepped up and took the shot and buried it for a 1-0 lead.

Narducci came back with another chance for the Eagles but Maganzini made the save.

Kingswood was able to answer the bell just about five minutes later, as Andrew Bacon sent a nice feed in to Axel Plache in front of the net and he buried the ball to tie the score at one.

The two teams then went back and forth, with Kennett keeper Jack Thompson making a save on a couple of Josh Duntley shots, while Ross-Parent just missed connecting with Ciro Santiago. Clay-Storm also had a bid denied by Maganzini and the game went to the half tied at one.

Clay-Storm and Narducci teamed up for a quick bid to open the second half, while Nick Duntley had a good clear for Kingswood. Charlie Arinello just missed connecting with Tucker Gosselein and then Gosselein just missed connection with a ball going forward. Wilder Byrne just missed a chance with Ross-Parent on a run into the zone for Kennett while Madden had a direct kick stopped by Thompson.

Narducci came through with a great bid that saw Maganzini make a diving save to keep the game tied. Kirk Badger had a bid for Kennett that Maganzini also stopped and Ross-Parent and Santiago teamed up for a chance that was cleared out. Kennett got a couple of direct kicks, with Ross-Parent getting one on net that Maganzini saved, while the other was cleared by Liam Morrissey. Kennett also had a corner cleared out by the defense. Morrissey just missed connecting with Winn on a bid and then Ross-Parent had a couple of scoring chances but could not convert. Kearns was able to clear out a Kingswood run and West then sent a shot high.

Camp Birch Hill hosting pickleball tournament

NEW DURHAM — Camp Birch Hill will be hosting an open pickleball tournament and recreation weekend as the summer wanes, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 23 and 24. The pickleball phenomena has seen explosive growth in the Northeast with enthusiastic participants taking over tennis courts, YMCA gyms and community centers. Its appeal began with the senior set, but the fun of this combination of ping-pong, tennis and badminton has begun to infect the up and coming generations and proved to be the most popular racquet sport at summer camp.

The kick-off for the event begins on Friday night, Sept. 22, with a welcome lakeside barbecue on the Birch Hill beachfront. Saturday will feature a men's doubles and women's doubles tournament followed by a mixed doubles tournament on Sunday. Tournament participants will compete on two levels, novice and advanced. Prizes and trophies will be awarded to the winning teams and the runner-ups.

Participation is open to all ages. Attendees can enjoy the full gamut of recreational activities at Birch Hill on tournament days when not actively engaged in competition. These include waterfront activities on canoes, kayaks, swimming and paddleboarding along with tennis, paddle tennis, volleyball and much more.

Camp Birch Hill is a 100-acre campus with a warm water lake in New Durham, three miles up Birch Hill Road from Route 11, between Rochester and Alton. Participants are welcome to come for the day or enjoy the entire weekend with overnights available on Friday and Saturday nights in the Birch Hill cabins. Breakfasts, lunches and dinner will be served in the camp dining hall.

Saturday's tournament will follow a one-hour 10 a.m. pickleball clinic led by Camp Director Rich Morell. Single day participation fee includes tournament entry and lunch. The full weekend fee includes two breakfasts, two lunches and two dinners along with two overnights. Overnights should bring sheet, blanket and pillow for their cabin accommodation. The 20 cabins are all equipped with hot showers.

Timber Wolf girls experienced on volleyball court

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain volleyball team is returning a solid core of players for coach Mike Christy's third year at the helm.

"We had some holes to fill but I think we filled them pretty well," Christy said. "I think we're going to be a solid team."

"We were pretty young last year," the Timber Wolf coach continued. "The freshmen and sophomores got playing time last year and it's showing this year."

The majority of the team returns with some experience, which should give the Timber Wolves significant depth.

"I think we have some pretty good depth," Christy said. "They saw what we were working on last year and they wanted to do things and they've been working hard."

"And I've been very pleased with the results in the preseason," the Timber Wolf coach added.

The team has six seniors, five of whom are returning to the roster.

"They're all leaders on the floor," Christy said of the seniors.

"They have a goal of being a really good team and that's what their focus is."

The five returning seniors are Gabriela d'Empaire-Poirier, who will work as the team's libero, Hannah Bureau who will be a middle hitter, Tiffany White, who is the team's setter and defensive specialists Kaci Gilbert and Serena Avery. The final senior is newcomer Megan Ouellette, who Christy notes has been working hard to learn the game.

Among juniors, Gabrielle Fossett is coming back from an injury and can fill in anywhere on the court, while Kayle Duquette will be a middle hitter and Jane Holiday will work as an outside hitter. Gabby Guzman is also back for the Timber Wolves to add to the depth.

"I can move them around and they won't miss a beat," Christy said of the team's flexibility. "We can more around if we need to."

The Timber Wolf coach noted that in his third season, the program he is installing is taking shape and he's excited to see the girls continuing to buy in.

"I've kind of got my philosophy instilled in them," Christy said. "They've totally bought in to what we want to do."

"They're excited and I'm excited," the Timber Wolf coach continued. "A lot of really good players graduated in this division."

Christy will be joined on the sidelines by JV coach Courtney Leavitt, who moves up to the high school teams from Alton Central School.

The Timber Wolves will have a schedule featuring two games each with Nute, Portsmouth Christian, Inter-Lakes, Belmont and Farmington, plus one game each with Mascoma, Raymond, Newfound, Hillsboro-Deering, Trinity and Pittsfield.

The Timber Wolves were scheduled to open the season after deadline on Wednesday at Mascoma and will continue the schedule at Raymond on Friday, Sept. 8, at 6:15 p.m. On Monday, Sept. 11, the team hosts its first match, with Newfound in town at 6 p.m. and on Wednesday, Sept. 13, they will be hosting Nute at 6 p.m.

Kingswood got a direct kick that Arinello sent over the top of the net while at the other end, Clay-Storm sent one over the cross bar. Madden took a direct kick that Thompson grabbed and Josh Duntley had a bid go wide of the net. Kingswood had a late corner that Byrne cleared away and Arinello and Murphy had defensive clears at opposite ends of the field. Chris Caputo had a shot go wide for Kennett as time wrapped up in regulation.

Winn had a shot go wide for Kingswood to open the second half and then Clay-Storm had a shot stopped by Maganzini. Kennett had a pair of corners, with Ross-Parent sending the ball high on the second one. Clay-Storm had a shot blocked as well. Kingswood came up with a pair of corners late in the overtime, with Kearns heading the ball out of the zone on the second one.

Good defense from Nick Duntley for Kingswood and Murphy for Kennett kicked off the second overtime, while Arinello had a direct kick go high and Bacon's shot was stopped by Thompson.

Perhaps the best chance to end the game came off the foot of Madden, but Thompson got a hand on the ball and punched it off the cross bar and out.

Both teams had late corners and the game finished in a 1-1 tie.

"We need to improve our passing and combination plays," Hart said. "But the energy was there and that's what we were looking for."

"Jack made some great saves for us, right at the end, that was a game-saver," Hart continued. "And he played spectacular in the first game too."

The Eagle coach also praised the leadership he got from his three captains, Murphy, Ross-Parent and Byrne.

"They really helped the team manage themselves and stay focused," Hart pointed out.

"I think we had the better chances over the course of the game," Corbally pointed out. "But if you don't put them away."

He said taking the penalty that resulted in the penalty shot was tough, but he was still proud of his team.

"I am proud of the guys, they gave it their all," he stated. "They played all the way to the end. I'm proud of the way they applied themselves today."

Corbally also noted that it's always tough to go into Kennett, but to come out with a point was a good thing.

"And then hopefully we can take care of it at home," he added.

Kennett will be hosting Portsmouth on Friday, Sept. 8, at 4:30 p.m.

Kingswood will be hosting St. Thomas on Friday, Sept. 8, at 7 p.m. and will be hosting Lebanon on Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 5:30 p.m.

Jones nets pair as Eagles shut out Knights

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

NORTH CONWAY — The Kennett and Kingswood girls' soccer teams took to the field at Millen Stadium on Tuesday, Aug. 29, in what was the first game of the season for the Eagles and second for the Knights.

While the Knight girls showed significant improvement from their opener, the Eagles came away with a 3-0 win on the strength of two goals from one of the younger players on the team.

"I couldn't be more happy, it's a great start to the season," said first-year Kennett coach Jamie Killeen. "We have something to build on now."

"It's about spirit and fire and that's what I saw," said first-year Knight coach Rob Kelly. "Last game we had 20 minutes of spirit and fire and today we played 80 minutes with spirit and fire. And we were scrappy."

The Knights got the first chance in the offensive zone but Kennett keeper Sylvie Brustin held tight in the net. Kennett came back and Gracie Hanson turned in strong defense for the Knights. Kennett's Maggie Miller also turned in strong defense against Brittany Lapolla's run into the zone. Britney Jones got into the zone for the Eagles but Kingswood keeper Mary Peternel came out of the net to make the play. Sophia Killeen just missed connecting with Rebecca Schiller for a bid for the Eagles, while Kelsey Bush followed up with a ball that went just ahead of Helen Badger, with Peternel coming out to scoop up the ball.

Rachel Lambert-

son had a shot for the Knights that Brustin handled and Hannah Chatigny sent a shot just wide of the net. Killeen came back with a bid that Grace Saunders was able to clear from the zone and Chatigny came back down the field with another chance. Saunders also had a good defensive play on Kennett's Hannah Tessier and Shawna Knowles also cleared out a Kennett crossing pass. Badger also had a bid go wide of the net for the Eagles.

Badger also just missed connecting with Jones and Peternel was able to scoop up the ball and Riley Phillips had a clear for the Knights as well.

However, with 16:20 to go in the first half, Badger was able to send a low shot on net that slipped through Peternel's hands for a 1-0 lead for the Eagles.

Kingswood came back with a chance from Lambertson that went wide and Jones came back with a couple of bids for the Eagles, with Hanson coming through with good defense and Peternel coming up with another save. Badger found Christina Solomon with a nice cross but Peternel made the stop and Jones sent a ball high off a feed from Killeen. Lambertson had a shot for Kingswood and Chatigny also got in the zone, but good defense from Miller and Sara Tetreault helped Kennett take the 1-0 lead to the half.

Kennett controlled the play early in the second half and was able to capitalize in the first seven minutes, as Jones ripped a shot from the top of the box off of Peter-

Lots of new faces for Knight volleyball

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — The team that finished last season in the Kingswood volleyball uniforms is much different than the team that takes to the court this year.

Coach Al Koehler is looking at a large turnover after serious graduation losses, but the Knight mentor likes the way this year's team has come together.

"Basically the whole team is all brand new," Koehler said. "But I like the way things are going. They're working hard."

"I've been in this position before, so I know what needs to be done to keep us competitive," Koehler continued. "I really push the word team and in a situation like this, you really need all the girls to step up."

The three captains of this year's team were all part of last year's team, with Abby Koehler returning as a setter and Kasey Birth and Claire Richard will both be serving as defensive specialists.

The only other player on the team with varsity experience is Geri Andrea, who will return to set up shop in the middle of the Kingswood attack.

"They're doing a really good job of bringing the girls together," Koehler said of his returning girls. "They're all really good together."

While the rest of the roster is new to the team, Koehler said there will still be solid players hitting the floor for Kingswood.

Alissa Baldwin will work as an outside hitter, while Billie Jo Dumont is a defender, Marina Eneeva will be an outside hitter and Sarah Hotchkiss will work as a hitter as well.

"There's definitely a lot of talent, we just have to bring it out," Koehler stated. "I feel confident in what they're going to do."

Koehler stated that he is keeping 11 players on the varsity team, so it will be a small roster, but he anticipates everyone getting to make a contribution to the squad on most nights.

"We've been working on certain skill sets so we can compete," the Knight coach stated. "We definitely have the talent, when it comes to the games, we'll see how it goes."

Koehler noted that the team has had a few scrimmages and competed in a few jamborees and he's liked what he's seen out of the team in those games.

The Knights finished at 11-5 last year and earned the sixth seed in the Division II tournament. They defeated Plymouth in the first round before losing to Somersworth in the quarterfinal round.

This year's schedule features two games each with Coe-Brown, Gilford, Kennett, Plymouth and Portsmouth and one game each with Hanover, Oyster River, Laconia and Somersworth.

The team kicked off the season after deadline on Wednesday against Coe-Brown. On Friday, Sept. 8, the team hosts Hanover at 6:15 p.m. and on Monday, Sept. 11, they will be hosting Gilford at 6:15 p.m. On Wednesday, Sept. 13, the Knights will be at Kennett at 5:45 p.m.

A great weekend of Survivor and sightseeing out west

Last week's column was written in Logan Airport as I was awaiting my flight to Salt Lake City.

The trip proved to be a lot of fun, though as mentioned last week, unless I find a second job or win the Mega-bucks, it will probably be my last lengthy trip for a while (not counting the Olympics, obviously).

As I've mentioned, I am a fan of Rob Has a Podcast, run by former Survivor player Rob Cesternino. While I listen mostly for the Survivor coverage, he does a lot more than that, running a weekly "news" show, plus covering other reality and scripted television shows. Probably the only thing I listen to more of is the Red Sox games I tune in to every single night.

Rob has been doing a lot of live shows over the last few years and I've made it to every single one that was focused around Survivor. I've made six trips to New York City for live events, plus a pair of trips to Los Angeles, one to Toronto, one to Chicago and one to Reno. Most of the trips are day trips, where I come and go on the same day, but I decided to make Utah a few days.

I flew out of Boston on Friday evening and arrived in Salt Lake City at almost midnight. After securing my rental car, I got to the hotel at about 12:30 a.m. However, I tried to stick to my exercise program and got out of bed at 7 a.m. on Saturday to do my workout in the hotel room. The food I ate throughout the day probably was not as much on the diet.

We had a group breakfast for fans of the podcast and the first panel got under way at 10:30 a.m. or so in the hotel conference room. After a short break for lunch, the second panel, which was the Survivor-centric one, took place. In addition to Rob, Survivors taking part included three-time player and season 27 winner Tyson Apos-tol, Rick Nelson from season 23, Jonas Otsuji from season 24, Rachel Foulger Apostol from season 27 and Neleh Dennis Nielsen, who was on the fourth season. Like most of these panels that I attend, it was great to hear stories from their time on the game as well as their perspective on things we saw but may not have gotten the whole story. I had met Tyson before in an event in Los Angeles and just like he was on the show, the guy is a riot. I was unsure what to expect from Rick, since he was quiet on the show, but he was funny and had some great stories.

Later that evening we had a gathering in a bar near the hotel and I spent about 45 minutes talking to Rick. He was pretty shocked to find out that Rob records five or six podcasts about each one-hour episode of Survivor and that people flew in to attend the event, including one guy from Saudi Arabia.

I was hoping that my brother would be off work so we could meet up on Sunday, so I booked a late flight, but he was out in the field. Instead I spent some time driving around the area and visited a number of the Olympic sites, as well as the beautiful state capitol building and the Great Salt Lake.

Not only was it great to meet some new Survivors and spend some time talking about my favorite television show with them, it was also great to catch up with friends I've made through the podcast and meet some new folks with who I can share my love of Survivor. Finally, have a great day Jason Hill.

nel's fingers and in for a 2-0 lead.

Hanson turned back a Jones bid in the zone and Sarah Harrigan's bid for the Knights was cleared out. Jones had a shot go wide and Badger had a bid stopped by Peternel. Phillips had a strong defensive stand against Jones and at the other end, Brustin came up with another save. Tessier rocketed a shot off the cross bar for the Eagles and Kingswood came back with some chances. Chatigny had a bid denied by Brustin, while Knowles just missed connecting with Kasey Kelliher and sent a good ball in to Lambertson.

With 13:44 to go, Jones took a nice feed from Nicole Lockhart and buried the ball for a 3-0 lead.

Kingswood had a corner kick chance but could not connect and Harrigan and Chatigny had bids but couldn't convert. Killeen and Tetreault also had chances at the other end for the Eagles.

Kingswood's best chance came with just less than eight minutes to play, as Lambertson was awarded a penalty kick. However, Brustin made the save and kept the shutout intact for the Eagles, who took the 3-0 win in the season opener.

"The nice thing was, we got everyone in to play," Killeen said. "All 21 played, which was something I was hoping to do."

"Up 2-0, I felt like we were comfortable enough to play some of the freshmen and getting them some game time," he continued. "Some of the younger girls were nervous, but the older kids were able to anchor the team."

He praised the "spine" of the team up the middle with Killeen, Bush, Miller and Badger, noting they did a good job throughout the contest.

"The determination was improved," Kelly said. "They kept fighting, on every part of the field they battled."

The Knight coach also pointed out that he only had three or four subs to work with throughout the game, which tested the team's stamina.

Kennett will be in action on Friday, Sept. 8, at Portsmouth at 4:30 p.m. and on Thursday, Sept. 14, the Eagles will be at Berlin at 4 p.m.

Kingswood will play on Friday, Sept. 8, at St. Thomas at 4 p.m. and will be at Lebanon at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 12, before hosting Kearsarge at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 14.
