Meredith Chamber salutes community contributors

BY ERIN PLUMMER

MEREDITH — The Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce celebrated a year of successes at its annual meeting last week, and honored those who have made big differences in the community. Chamber members and supporters gathered at Church Landing on Thursday night for its annual meeting, which brought back the awards ceremony.

Chamber Executive Director Sue Cerutti said membership retention has been high this year. The Fine Arts and Crafts Festival has been a signature event for the Chamber. The Chamber also produced a four-color brochure displaying major attractions and eateries, which has been distributed to different attractions. The Web site has had more than 8,000 visits in the past year. This year they began the replacement of the 30-year-old "Welcome to Meredith" signs at the major entrances to town. The signs were showing signs of decay and mold, Chamber president John Moulton said they had a meeting a year ago that led to a discussion on the signs. Cerutti said the committee worked for over a year, partnering with the Meredith Rotary and Annie Paquette of Paquette Signs to get some new signs up.

Moulton said John Stephens of Stephens Landscaping "got the job done," and Rick Wyman of Meredith Village Savings Bank was recognized for his efforts too.

"We hope you all like the entrance signs coming into town," Stephens said.

MEREDITH — The Meredith Public Library has been closed for more than a week following a flood that started with a burst water fountain.

The building has been closed since Monday, Oct. 22 due to flooding on the first floor that poured into the basement level. As of Monday, Oct. 29, the library would remain closed through Tuesday with many activities for the coming week taking place at the Meredith Community Center.

Library Director Erin Apostolos said she received a call on Monday, Oct. 22, by a patron who saw water coming from

The Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

From promoting local businesses to organizing the big yard sale and craft fair, the Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce is an organization with many different projects to promote the community and its businesses.

"The Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce is a business organization designed to advance and promote the commercial, industrial, service, professional, tourism and retail interests of the Winnepesaukee, Squam, and Newfound Regions of Central New Hampshire," says the chamber's Web site.

The chamber has more than 340 members in the towns of Meredith, Center Harbor, Moultonborough, and Sandwich, as well as Laconia, Gilford, Holderness, New Hampton, and Bristol.

The chamber will be celebrating its 40th anniversary next year. The organization was first founded in 1979 as the Meredith Civic Organization. The organization was disbanded and a chamber of commerce was formed. That same year the chamber held its first annual Fine Arts and Crafts Festival, which has been a major attraction

Costumed revelers gather for Meredith Halloween Bash

BY ERIN PLUMMER

MEREDITH — The threat of bad weather couldn't keep away families in costume from a night of Halloween fun at the Parks and Recreation Department's Halloween Bash.

People of all ages came to the party at the Meredith Community Center on Saturday night to play games, sample treats, and show off their unique costumes.

Program Director Sarah Perkins said they were a little worried about the weather, er, but it didn't seem to impact the event. She said the party got a great turnout with around 100 kids coming through.

This year, there were four new activities and games for the kids along with some new, relay type of activities.

"There's a lot of new faces; that makes me really happy to see, as well as our regular families," Perkins said.

Near the end of the evening, Parks and Rec staff member Teri Thompson read a creepy yet cute story to the kids. Perkins lead a game of "Tick-or-Treat" where kids took a slip of paper out of a bucket indicating they got a treat or had to do a fun trick for a treat.

Kids could also guess how many pieces of candy corn were in a jar (there were 376) and do a pumpkin seed spitting contest among many other games.

Perkins said a lot of people from around the community donated items for the party. Perkins also gave huge credit to the Parks and Recreation Staff and volunteers for their work, saying

A Series game at Fenway Park, and moments frozen in mind

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

When I was assigned to photograph a World Series game 43 years ago, the thing that most impressed me (at first) was how easily we found a parking spot at Fenway. But what took the cake was when I came face to face with Tom Yawkey, yellowed shirt and all.

I'd only been to Fenway Park twice, once when I was 10 or so and saw Ted Williams climb the Green Monster to snag a fly, and the second time with kids of my own, which consisted of endless trips for more popcorn and hotdogs.

This time was different. I was a member of what the rest of the world called the Working Press. And my Nikon and three lenses and I were about to go into a rooftop world, and what I'll always remember as First Class, Boston's best.

Joe McQuaid was the New Hampshire Sunday News editor back then (he's now a sort of retired Grand Lord Pooh-Bah), and I called him up the other day to ask why he assigned me and sports reporter C.J. McCarthy that day back in 1975 to that first game, pitting the Red Sox against the Cincinnati Reds.

"I don't know; we had the resources, and I guess I sent you because we could," Joe recalled. "We just wanted our own guys down there, and you guys were it."

I went down with my old and trusted Nikon frame and three lenses--a 50 mm, a 250 mm and the big, heavy 500 mm, the biggest lens we had.

"You have to have a tripod to use that lens," fellow photographer Chis Goudas had warned me, but in fact, the lens was so heavy that it practically cancelled out any shakes.

After C.J.'s miraculous parking, I headed for the main gate, but he hauled me back.

"We're going that way," he said, pointing to a short stairway, a uniformed guard, and an elevator to the roof.

It was like the first time I emerged from a long hike up through woodlands and scrub to gain my first above-timberline experience ever. I was about to enter a whole new world.

all over Fenway's first- and third-baseline roofs.

"We're going right," C.J. yelled against the city's background noise, the wind, and the growing roar from the crowd.

And there, standing at the Y's junction, was Tom Yawkey--old guy, close-cropped grey hair, yellowed white shirt, faded khakis, and, of course, those infamous saddle shoes.

"Hello boys, welcome to Fenway!" Mr. Yawkey said as C.J. tried to stammer out introductions. "Of course I remember you," he told C.J. "We're always happy when someone comes down for the Union Leader"

(even though we were technically there for the Sunday News--he, like so many people, thought they were one in the same).

Mr. Yawkey asked where I was from, and I replied that it was probably somewhere he'd never heard of, but oh no.

"Let's see," he said, gears whirling in his head. "That's just south of Pittsburg. Ted Williams had a lot up there he was thinking of putting a camp on."

Exactly right so far. But wait--there was more. Mr. Yawkey, really into the geographical thing now, was struggling for a name.

"We had a really dedicated fan up there, even got way down here for a game now and then," he said. "Gordon..." fingers snapping...wait a minute... "...Banfill!"

And indeed, Gordon Banfill, who lived just up from our house in Colebrook, was an ardent fan who, every now and then, made a game.

Mr. Yawkey beckoned to a nearby attendant to show us to our booth, urged us to get a bite to eat at the rooftop restaurant right over there, and said "You boys need something, just raise a hand and wave," which we had reason to do several times, and someone was there in a flash.

Because I was working, I don't remember much about the game. Boston won it 6-0, but lost the Series 4-3. Luis Tiant chased a teammate back to tag home because he'd missed. The guy in the booth next to us was a photographer from Sports Illustrated. He had three motor-driven cameras all pre-focused for home, first and second, and a big telephoto camera in hand. Everything mounted was electronically driven. All he had to do for most of the game, panel in hand, was push buttons.

As we left the game early to get my photos up to the newsroom via Associated Press, and C.J.'s story written and filed, a familiar face appeared along the catwalk.

"Did you boys lack for anything?" he said, and of course we didn't.

Days Gone By

20 years ago: Nov. 4, 1998

BY ERIN PLUMMER

The Meredith board of selectmen agreed to grant Town Manager Peter Russell a one-year contract, a shortened version of the usual three-year contract. Russell asked the selectmen why a one-year contract was being offered.

An evaluation document stated the selectmen felt Russell's performance was good overall, but illustrated areas where the selectmen felt Russell could improve. Selectmen Chris Witcher and Paul Lessard agreed with the one-year contract while selectman Jim Hughes said it should have been the usual three years. A number of residents also opposed having a one-year contract and felt the selectmen were doing Russell a disservice.

A dock agreement was signed between the town and the owners of the M/S Mount Washington after weeks of discussions, bringing the Mount to Meredith. The agreement was approved after two hours of discussion during the selectmen's meeting. Selectmen Jim Hughes and Chris Witcher voted in favor of approving the agreement, though chair Paul Lessard expressed that the agreement should have been decided at town meeting.

Residents stated they didn't have an issue with the Mount coming into town but with the agreement giving the company perpetual use of the dock. Resident Lynn Montana also raised the issue that the town docks were to be used solely for non-commercial purposes according to the 1971 town report.

The selectmen found that policy was ended by the selectmen in 1984.

A proposal for a new concrete business in Center Harbor was met with wide concern. Around 40 people attended the planning board meeting, which reviewed the business proposal by Coleman Concrete. Coleman Concrete proposed building a 60-foot silo on Route 3 near The Mug and Paquette Signs. Residents had concerns about noise and possible drainage into wetlands.

Area voters went to the polls for the 1998 midterm election. Jeanne Shaheen was the overall top choice for governor in all four towns with John E. Sununu the top choice for Congress. Most voters cast their ballots for Ray Burton as District 1 Executive Councilor and Carl Johnson was reelected as State Senator for District 2.

Cooperative Resources Internet Service of Plymouth advertised dial-up Internet service for $19.95 a month with unlimited monthly hours, an email account, a personal web account, and free software, as well as local calling to a number of phone exchanges in the area.

"You can be 'surfing the Web' and e-mailing your friends and relatives with Coop Resources!" read the ad. "We can usually activate you in less than an hour!"

Preferred Properties of Center Harbor was advertising waterfront properties on Winnepesaukee from a two-bedroom home for $99,900 to a five-bedroom home for $669,000.

Nash Realty of Meredith was advertising a building on Main Street in Meredith with two retail storefronts and a three to four bedroom apartment for $179,000. A 1.7 acre lot on Ridge Road in Meredith was available for $23,900.

Bestsellers and box office favorites at the Nichols Library

CENTER HARBOR — Here is the latest in best-selling books and DVDs at the Nichols Library in Center Harbor. At the top of the list? Who else but John Grisham. But this time, instead of a hero lawyer, we have a story about an enigmatic defendant. In his "Reckoning," a respected war hero, back from savage fighting in the Pacific, cold-bloodedly murders a pastor. He offers no resistance to his arrest and no explanation for his actions. "As usual, Grisham does a solid job of portraying a Southern town at a particular moment in time, touching upon social issues as he goes" (Kirkus Reviews).

"The Glass Ocean" by Beatriz Williams is a "seamlessly narrated" story about two American women aboard for the last voyage of the liner Lusitania, which was torpedoed by a German U-boat in 1915. One is an unhappy wife accompanying her distant husband; the other, a grifter seeking to make a score off her fellow passenger. Their intertwined fates are discovered an historian a century later. This is "an absorbing tale interlaced with espionage, secrets, and romance" (Library Journal). For the actual story of the Lusitania sinking, we recommend "Last Wake" by Eric Larsen.

In "War of the Wolf" by Bernard Cornwell, Lord Uhtred is sent to relieve the siege of Ceaster and rescue King Edward's son. In fact, he has been sent "to rescue a man who did not need rescuing." Uhtred, who has neither pledged loyalty to the throne nor embraced the Christian faith, is an odd man out in the king's realm. His risky mission deters him protecting his own lands from Viking invaders. This is "great entertainment for fans of historical epics" (Kirkus Reviews).

According to legend, if the ravens of the Tower of London were to depart, the kingdom would crumble. "The Ravenmaster" is the story tower guard Richard Skaife, who, as a Beef-eater guard, looked after the Tower's precious avian residents. Skaife interweaves history and myth, ornithological facts and the quirky personalities his birds in this "lively and often cheeky narrative" (Publishers Weekly).

Cheeky—and tense" might describe the sixth season of "The Americans," the story of two Russian undercover spies posing as citizens. The time is 1987, and the USSR is splitting into rival factions, one supporting Gorbachev, who favors peace with the West, and one which looks to overthrow him. The Jennings, our undercover couple, are similarly divided, with one of them working to foil Gorbachev's summit with Reagan. "The Americans is a rare show that's both thrilling and also deeply perceptive about the inner lives" of its characters (Quartz).

The subtitle of jukebox musical "Mamma Mia 2 -- "Here we go Again"-- is pretty apt. Expect more sun-splashed Aegean settings, romantic conflict, and plenty of ABBA.

The reviewer's consensus? A guilty pleasure. The classics hit the owl-hoot trail in "Damsel", a "quirky" western about an Odysseus (Robert Pattinson), venturing across the frontier in search of his Penelope. Except that his Penelope isn't the precious flower he has painted her to be. In "The Last Movie Star," an aging actor (Burt Reynolds) accepts an invitation to receive a lifetime achievement award. His career retrospective onstage pales in comparison to his offstage reflections with his brash chauffeur. Finally, "When I Rise" tells how Afro-American soprano Barbara Smith Conrad was cast in a 1956 student opera. Local conservatives, offended that having a black woman in the role of a romantic lead with a white male, succeeded in having her removed from the role. Their victory was pyrrhic. The event generated a national outcry, Smith's career was not, and in 2010, she returned to sing at the Texas State House.

Artisan Eyewear, a locally owned optical boutique featuring bold, colorful and fashion forward eyewear for women and men, recently opened their doors on Main Street in Meredith. The new business was welcomed to the community by representatives of the Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce and Meredith Village Savings Bank. ## EDITORIAL

On voting

This is not an editorial about politics. This is not a column written in support of a candidate. This is not even about any particular upcoming election or issue or policy. This is actually an editorial just about voting.

For most of us, voting isn't super exciting. It's not a holiday around which we can theme a cook-out or picnic or party. No one wishes anyone a Happy Election Day and children definitely do not clamor to be taken to the polls to watch the voting process. But wouldn't it be terrific if they did? What if we treated elections the way we treat Super Bowl Sunday? What if we made it the "Big Deal" that it truly is? Why don't all Americans love voting? Does voting need a marketing make-over? Maybe so.

Think about it: your vote is your voice. It is your most powerful way to decisively state your preference. No one can or should influence your vote. Your vote is an actual, documented and counted opinion. It's better than a Facebook "like," or a retweet or a swipe. It means even more than holding a sign, or having a bumper sticker, signing an online petition, or sending an email.

Voting, in our country, is a right. It cannot be taken from you. Throughout American history, it has been fought for, debated, argued, amended and signed into law...for you. What was once a privilege restricted to a single, narrow segment of the population is now a freedom that all Americans are literally born with Yet for many, voting is a guilt-driven, exasperating, burdensome task, one that often prompts exclamations like "What's the point?" or "Why do I have to do this?" It's one more thing to do on a busy work day, and inspires inner arguments: "What if the lines are long?" "I can't stand any of these politicians!" "Should I vote for or against Issue whatever?" "I don't want to admit how little I really know about anything on the ballot." In the same spirit of granting Election Day a status equal to major football games, what's needed is just a little pre-game prep. You wouldn't predict your Super Bowl winner without at least knowing the teams' records. Do the same with those candidates and issues! We have so much information at our fingertips today, including right here in the newspaper you are reading. You know more than you think.

Along with voting, we are granted the right to express opinions. Active, engaged citizens can and do discuss issues and situations and very often disagree with one another. Voting is the civilized expression of putting action behind words. Anyone can speak an opinion. Anyone can also vote in matters relating to that opinion. If someone chooses not to vote, their opinion, while no less valid, is nonetheless wasted. Your vote is your choice to use your voice...and to truly make it heard.

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, don't sit this one out. Your vote is real. It is counted. It matters. Vote!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I hope to continue serving you

To the Editor:

I am writing to ask you to allow me to represent Tuftonboro, Moultonborough, and Sandwich again in the New Hampshire House of Representatives.

I am proud of my record over three terms in the House. As a member of the Education Committee, I have led the effort to minimize federal intrusion onto the education of our children and increase local control. I have been nationally recognized for my legislation to protect the confidential information of students and teachers. Some misleading information about legislation I support has appeared in the press. Let me be very clear – I support the best education possible for every child. Even the best school might not be the best fit for every child. School choice is a means to provide education opportunities and equity well as increasing academic achievement for all students.

During the past two years, we have seen great gains in New Hampshire due to the work of our Governor and our legislature. Our unemployment rate is one of the lowest in the U.S., while our wage growth is also one of the best. Surveys from numerous publications rate New Hampshire one of the top states in everything from low crime to education to quality of life. It has taken much work to get to this point. The budgetary and legislative process requires much time and effort, but can make a difference. During just the past term, I had a dozen bills that I sponsored signed into law. I worked on legislation ranging from prohibiting your tax dollars being used to pay for lobbyists, prohibiting required implementation of common core standards, allowing the purchase of health insurance from out of state companies, and reducing business taxes. I am also known for mentoring new legislators on the committee and legislative process.

One of the things for which I am very proud is that I have gained the respect of House members and Senators of both parties. I have been appointed as a House Representative to numerous committees and commissions. This summer, I served on a committee to study education funding and a commission to explore requiring background checks on applications for teaching credentials. I am also House Representative to VolunteerNH and the Home Education Advisory Council. I am very proud of the assistance I have need able to provide to constituents ranging from veterans benefits to special education services to business assistance.

Unlike most candidates, I enjoy campaigning. I have knocked on many doors and it has given me the opportunity to talk with many of you about your concerns, my record, and what we can do to improve things in New Hampshire. As hard as I have worked campaigning, I work even harder in Concord.

Although we might not agree on every issue, you can count on my integrity, hard work and willingness to lead on important issues. I ask for your vote on Nov. 6.

Thank you.

Vote Republican to safeguard American values and prosperity

To the Editor:

Today's Democrat leaders have vastly different objectives from the Democrat friends of my youth; I can't believe these Democrat leaders represent most Democrats today.

In my youth in Illinois, Americans were patriotic, anti-Communist, and worked for better futures for their children; we wanted all Americans to be safe, free, and prosperous. The Southern Democrat mistreatment of African-Americans repulsed us all. Republicans and Democrats only disagreed on the best policies for improving the American people's lives.

Today's Democrat leaders don't compete for voters by offering better solutions for making Americans safer, freer, and more prosperous; they buy votes by promising people "free stuff" and by keeping people dependent on government hand-outs.

Democrats' high taxes, excessive regulations, and bureaucratic delays destroyed millions of good jobs, depriving millions of people of their opportunities to prosper. Democrats reward consistently bad schools rather than ensuring that each child gets a decent education and preparation for a prosperous future. Democrat policies drive poor families apart and lock them in dependency.

In the past, Democrat leaders like Presidents Obama and Clinton, and Senators Schumer and Reid described how illegal aliens harm Americans, e.g., depress wages, take jobs, commit crime, sell drugs, create a $134 billion-plus tax burden, etc. Current Democrat leaders promote and defend illegal immigration; they even create sanctuary cities which protect criminal illegal aliens from deportation and allow them to continue preying on Americans.

In my youth, it was obvious that Socialism / Communism are bad; those governments sent millions to gulags and shot people trying to escape to freedom.

Today's Democrat leaders adore and are soft on Socialist/Communist despots. Democrat leaders champion "Democratic Socialism," but they can't distinguish it from the Socialism we know that harms most people every time it's tried.

Because of our Constitution, capitalism, and the rule of law, our country is the world's most successful, peaceful, and prosperous heterogeneous society. Our Country strives to offer opportunities, freedoms, and equal treatment to all citizens; we are the world's most generous society; and we are a force for stability and goodness in the world.

In their lust for power Democrat leaders undermine the foundations of our wonderful society and of the American people's freedoms, security, and prosperity.

By eliminating many Democrat imposed shackles on our economy and our people, Republicans enabled great economic growth which offers good jobs, more freedoms, better wages, and more opportunities for millions of Americans. Black and Hispanic unemployment are at historic lows. There are more job openings than unemployed people. Americans can resume pursuing their American dreams.

Everyone who wants to continue enabling all Americans to be freer, safer, and more prosperous should vote for Republicans.

Thanks to sponsors of Chamber's Annual Meeting

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the membership of the Meredith Area Chamber of Commerce, I would like to thank the following businesses for their sponsorship of the Chamber's Annual Meeting this past week. Over 100 business leaders gathered for the meeting which featured the election of new directors, the presentation of the Community Awards, and an inspiring message from Justin Spencer of Recycled Percussion.

The Presenting Sponsor was Meredith Village Savings Bank, Major Sponsors were LRGHealth-care. Moulton Farm, and Overhead Door Options and Associate Sponsors included Berkshire Hathaway Verani Realty, Cormack Construction, Donahue, Tucker & Ciandella, PLLC, Giuseppe's Pizzeria & Ristorante, Hayward & Company, Lakes Region Community Services Council, Maxfield Real Estate and Realgreen Services.

Their support was much appreciated.

Sincerely,

Susan Cerutti

Vote to support public education

To the Editor:
Strong public schools are the foundation of our society, democracy, and economy. We must elect officials who are committed to strengthening New Hampshire public education and who will oppose any scheme that harms our public schools.
Molly Kelly, gubernatorial candidate and former state senator, promises to veto any so-called "school choice" legislation that uses state money to subsidize students attending private schools or being home-schooled. Gov. Chris Sununu's "signature" legislation, SB 193, now on hold, weakens our public schools by providing such subsidies. If re-elected, Sununu vows to revive this bill.

Conway attorney Chris Meier, candidate for the New Hampshire Senate in District 3, opposes SB193 (and its reincarnation) that incumbent Jeb Bradley championed. Meier points out that such voucher programs would also increase local property taxes.
Mike Cryans's background as a teacher, community banker, and CEO of a non-profit dealing with addiction treatment, make him ideally qualified to serve as Executive Councilor, District 1. He would not have voted, as did incumbent Councilor Joe Kenney, to confirm Sununu's pick for Commissioner of Education: school choice advocate Frank Edelblut, a businessman with no public education experience.

Caroline Nesbitt, John Morrissey, and Richard Stuart, the Democratic candidates for Carroll County NH House Districts 4 and 8, support public education and oppose voucher programs.
Please join me in defending public education by voting for Democrats Kelly, Meier, Cryans, Nesbitt, Morrissey, and Richard Stuart on Nov. 6.

Vote for Eliza Leadbeater

To the Editor:
Residents of Belknap County, District 2 – Meredith and Gilford, please vote for Eliza Leadbeater on Nov. 6. Eliza is running as an Independent candidate for the Office of State Representative from District 2. There are several well qualified candidates running for four (4) District 2 Representative openings, but Eliza's incredible background and experience make her the most qualified.
Recently I read letters To the Editor in the Thursday, Oct. 25 edition of The Gilford Steamer supporting Eliza. The first was written by Wes Dull, a Gilford resident. The letter states in part:
Experience in business, education, visionary leadership, economic development.

Cares about her community and is driven to help improve the lives of people in the community.
Honesty, no hidden agendas.
If these are the qualities and skills you consider important for your Representative in the New Hampshire House of Representatives, and you live in Belknap County District 2 (Meredith-Gilford), then please consider casting one of your votes for independent candidate Eliza Leadbeater.
The other Letter was written by (Former Rep.) Barbara Zeckhausen, Laconia. It highlights Eliza's commitment to community and her vast spectrum of knowledge and experience in business, education, the arts, housing, daycare, economic development, etc.

I have known Eliza for 26 years and the statements in the Letters portray her accurately. Having worked as a volunteer with several organizations Eliza championed, I can attest to her being an incredibly talented person who uses her talents, leadership skills, and tremendous energy for community betterment, thereby improving the lives of residents in the region.
On Tuesday, Nov. 6, please cast one of your four votes for District 2 Representatives for Eliza Leadbeater.

Harry Viens has my vote

To the Editor:
I am writing with wholehearted support of Harry Viens, candidate for State Representative for the towns of Center Harbor and New Hampton. Harry is a common sense, fiscal conservative who believes in the power of people to control their own lives and to solve problems together, not the government.
Since 2015, Harry has served on the Town of Center Harbor Board of Selectmen, and is currently chairperson. It is in this capacity that I know him especially well, as I have attended nearly every Selectmen's meeting for the past three years. I am always impressed by his willingness to listen to all sides of every issues, to try and understand the perspectives of others and to consider all this when making decisions. Harry is readily available by phone, and he almost always responds to email within an hour. He is also happy to meet with you in person to discuss your concerns or answer questions. Clearly, Harry values and respects everyone in town, and he loves Center Harbor.

Harry has a proven track record of bringing people together to solve problems and in so doing, he has strengthened our sense of community. The best example of this is the Snake River Bridge/Mosquito Bridge repair project being proposed by the New Hampshire Department of Transportation. Harry listened not only to the concerns of Center Harbor residents about the bridge project, but also to those of New Hampton. By bringing the people and the Selectmen of both towns together, Harry was instrumental in persuading the DOT to recognize and act on our local concerns. This led to a successful resolution for everyone.

Please join me in voting on Nov. 6 for Harry Viens as District 1 State Representative. He will be a staunch, tireless advocate for both Center Harbor and New Hampton at our State Legislature.
*Karen Ponton

Setting the record straight on my unexcused voting absences

To the Editor:
I am not in the practice of writing letters to the editor, as I have said before; I just wish when people write about another person that they really do their homework first.
Judy Eklund from my hometown of Moultonborough wrote that most of my missed votes were "not excused"; this is further from the truth. I had 5 "Not Excused" votes, hardly a majority of my votes. These votes were due to leaving the chamber for personal reasons and not being able to return in time for the vote. If you read the roll call votes correctly you would see that I was certainly there for voting that day on other bills, this occurrence happens to everyone. Out of 20 sessions days from Jan. 3-Sept. 13, I missed four full days of session due to sickness or work, one day for my daughters wedding in Colorado.

Ms. Eklund does not mention how many days and weeks that I was in my Committee Hearings while also in Session, it is not just about the Roll Call Votes. We are in hearings voting on bills that will be presented to the full house weeks before session starts. I find this entire negative letter writing to be disappointing and out of character for our small communities.
I am not a retired person, I am self-employed, and I own Red Hill Driving School and teach driver education to three high schools. Being a State Representative is a job I take very seriously, but it does not pay my bills and there are times I need to leave session for work.

Say what you will, but to me it is all about what is right for all citizens of New Hampshire and at the end of each day I go home with a clear conscience and proud of what I have accomplished. I have not taken or spent one single dime on my re-election and have returned over $500 to those organizations that wished to donate to my campaign; I am not one who will be obligated for my votes in Concord.
Please come out and vote of Nov. 6.
*Karel Crawford

Carroll County
District 4

Glenn Cordelli is the kind of leader we need in Concord

To the Editor:
Please consider re-electing Glenn Cordelli as a State Representative, Glenn has stood for protecting the New Hampshire Advantage of no income or sales tax, against the Democrat Party attempts to grow government with more of your money, making sure that every New Hampshire child gets the best possible education. Representative Cordelli has submitted numerous bills that are focused on our Children. He is a Champion and seeks the best solutions to educate our Children.

Glenn has submitted legislation to protect student and teacher privacy. Glenn has submitted legislation to screen for Dyslexia in schools. Legislation to require schools to include drug and alcohol education, increasing criminal penalties for sex trafficking.

Glenn has submitted legislation allowing small businesses and individuals to purchase health insurance across state lines and requiring new legislation to include the impact on small businesses.
Sounds like a leader in the New Hampshire House and the kind of Rep that we need.

David "Dave" Maxham, 55

LACONIA — David "Dave" Harold Maxham, 55, of Grant Street, died Monday, Oct. 22, at Lakes Region General Hospital.

Dave was born Nov. 11, 1962 in Brockton, Mass., the son of Harold W. and Barbara (Raymond) Maxham.

Dave worked as a machinist at Rochester Shoe and enjoyed sports, mainly football and baseball.

Dave is survived by wife of 22 years, Wanita Maxham (Robinson); two sons, Brandon and Michael Maxham; parents, Harold and Barbara Maxham; a brother, Doug Maxham and his wife, Patricia of Florida; two sisters, Dianne Parkhurst and her husband, Kevin of Meredith, and Debra Pardoe and her husband, Magnus of Nashua; and several nieces and nephews. Dave was predeceased by his infant son, David Harold Maxham, Jr.

Pleasant Street, Laconia, using the Carriage House entrance.

A funeral service will follow at 11 a.m., also at Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home, 164 Pleasant Street, Laconia.

Burial will follow in Union Cemetery, Laconia.

Wendy L. Smith, 55

MEREDITH — Wendy L. Smith, 55, of Meredith passed away peacefully on Tuesday, Oct. 23, 2018 at Brigham and Women's Hospital from complications of a lifelong heart condition. Her family was by her side, including her husband Shawn Smith and her daughter Allie Smith.

Wendy was born on May 9, 1963 in North Adams, Mass., the daughter of Frederick and Patricia (Crosier) Foster.

Wendy was a warm and generous person and perhaps best known for a wild and unpredictable sense of humor. She had a laugh that would fill a room. You never quite knew what she would say or do, but you knew it would be entertaining. She did not dwell on her illness but accepted it as a challenge and even found humor in it. Her family and dog Jade were a wonderful comfort as she battled her medical condition for years. Wendy loved living in New Hampshire. She delighted in visiting the mountains, skiing when she was able, and taking Jade for swims as often as possible. Hair-stylists are often therapists to their clients, and this was certainly true of Wendy. She loved to offer advice and comfort to them as they sat through cuts, curls and highlights over the years.

Wendy is survived by her mother, Patricia Foster; her husband, Shawn Smith; her daughter, Allie Smith; her sister, Sallie Foster; her brother, Norman Foster, and her dog Jade. In addition, she will be missed by her many close friends and clients from more than 20 years of work at Headlines Creative Hair in Glendale.

In a world that increasingly finds ways to separate people, she found ways to bring them together. Her family invites friends to share memories at a gathering to celebrate her life in the coming weeks. Details will be shared through text, email and phone by her family.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation Services, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, is assisting the family with the arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, go to www.wilkinsonbeane.com.

Close to the end of the party, families in costume paraded around the gym and had their costumes reviewed by judges. Awards were given out in a number of different categories, such as Funniest, Cutest, Most Original, Scariest, and Family.

The award for best family costume went to the Epstein family of Center Harbor for their costume based on the state's influx of squirrels. Beckett Epstein, 11, wore a cardboard car along a road with squirrel plushies all around. His parents, Liza and Jason Epstein were both dressed as squirrels and would run in front of the car.

Liza said they spent a few weeks looking for all the squirrel plush-

Donna Lee Robitaille, 69

CAMPTON — Donna Lee "De" (Schmidt) Robitaille, 69 passed away in her sleep during the early hours of October 10th at her home in Campton surrounded by her loving children and faithful pug companion, Mia.

She was born Sept. 23, 1949 in Springfield, Mass. She graduated from Commerce High School in Springfield, Mass. in 1968. De served in the United States Air Force, where she did book keeping. For many years after, she was a bookkeeper for various companies. Later she was a member of the Lioness club where she won the National Disability award. De married Edward in June of 1978. They raised a son (Marc) and three daughters (Ashley, Chelsea, and Brienne) in an open and loving home in Campton. Known to so many of her children's friends as "mom" she welcomed everyone into her home and cared for them as her own. Her passion for the well-being of children (her own as well as others) led her to advocate for disabled children and founded several parent-teacher groups in Campton and Tamworth. She enjoyed making costumes for her children in their younger years and then went on to make costumes of the Shakespearean era for Advice to Players for many years. Her love of gardening led her to the Campton Garden Club where she held the role of Vice-President and President 10 years. She also ran the "floor" at the Ski-Skate sale held by Plymouth Parks and Recreation and several Girl Scout troops for many years.

She was predeceased by her parents, Albert and Barbara Sansoucy, and her husband Ed (who passed in 2014 from esophageal cancer).

She is survived by her four children (son Marc Schmidt, his wife Barbara, and their children Mateja and Teigan of San Diego, Calif., Ashley Robitaille of Campton, Chelsea DeYoung and her husband Derek and son Dominic of Clayton, N.C., and Brienne Robitaille of Campton). She is also survived by an older sister, Noreen Mann, and her four children and grandchildren; her younger sister, Kim Melton; and her two children and grandchild.

It was De's wishes that donations be made in her honor to the Anderson-Ganog Cancer Center at Lakes Region General Hospital and to the Campton Garden Club. An Episcopal service will be held Nov. 11 at 2 p.m. at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Ashland. There will be a reception immediately following at Sherrill Hall.

The Mayhew Funeral Home, 12 Langdon St., Plymouth, is assisting the family with arrangements. To view Donna's online book of memories, go to; www.mayhewfuneralhomes.com.

under the backdoor. The police and fire departments responded to the building and discovered a flood caused by a burst water fountain.

"They said when they got in here, it was a geyser," Apostolos said.

The water was cut off at the fountain and vacuumed up before it could cause any more damage.

The worst damage was in the lower level. Water poured from the floor down the stairs and into the hallway and program room.

"It looked like it was raining in here," Apostolos said.

Drywall panels were removed from the walls due to damage. Carpet had to be ripped out on the first floor because of the wood floor underneath. While the basement level had the worst flooding, the carpet could be salvaged due to the cement floor.

Apostolos said a lot of damage was prevented, including any electrical damage, due to the quick response by the fire department.

An adjustor from the town's insurance company, Primex, came to the scene and the cleanup process started immediately. All Brite Cleaning and Restoration of Concord came in and put in fans and dehumidifiers to help dry everything out.

Because of the fire department's quick response none of the library's books and

She said herself and the staff worked to remove 10,000 books, cataloging and sort-events were moved to other venues. Apostolos said she was working with Parks and Recreation Director Vint Choiniere on how many events could be moved to the Community Center. As a result all Halloween activities were moved to the Community Center with the Friends of the Library meeting scheduled for this past week at Once Read Books.

Apostolos announced on Monday that the library would remain closed on Tuesday, Oct. 30, though they hoped to have it open during the week.

“We are working to restore service to the library as soon as possible,” Apostolos wrote. “We will know better by the end of the day (Oct. 29) when we will be able to open, though access to the Fiction Room and the Meeting Room will not be available for several weeks. In the event we cannot circulate out of the library in the near future, we have made arrangements to circulate out of Once Read Books at the Hannaford plaza.

We will keep you posted if we need to move over there.”

Apostolos gave thanks to the Parks and Recreation Department for working with the library to help reschedule its events.

Earlier, Apostolos also thanked the staff and volunteers for their work through this.

“Everyone’s been doing a great job,” Apostolos said. “They’ve been doing so much behind the scenes so we can open in some capacity next week.”

since.

The chamber was formed the same year as the Great Meredith Rotary Ice Fishing Derby.

“That was the beginning of a renaissance in Meredith that we enjoy today,” said Executive Director Sue Cerutti.

The chamber has several different projects and events during the year with new ones regularly coming up.

A listing of businesses and local events can be found on its Web site, www.meredithchamber.com. The organization also regularly produces brochures distributed around the area to promote businesses and attractions. The chamber will also organize a number of networking events such as Business After Hours.

In June the chamber organizes the Meredith Community Yard Sale. Different people, organizations, and businesses will set up their own yard sales and pay to be included on the map. Participants can be found across Meredith with some in Center Harbor and Moultonborough.

Each year the chamber hosts the Lakes Region Fine Arts and Crafts Festival. At the end of August a section of Main Street in Meredith is closed to traffic and populated with many different tables for a number of juried artisans from across New England as well as many local organizations selling food and raffle tickets to raise money.

The chamber also worked with local partners to put up the Welcome to Meredith signs at four different entrances to town. This year the 30-year-old signs were replaced with new ones.

were auctioned off.

The chamber has also been working with other business organizations around the area like the Greater Meredith Program, the Sandwich Business Group, the Center Harbor Community Development Association, and others.

The chamber presented a number of awards to different businesses and organizations.

The Community Pride Award went to the Cutillo Family of Path Resorts for their rehabilitation and reopening of the Center Harbor Inn.

The Business Citizenship Award was given to LaValley-Middleton Building Supply for the company’s community involvement in community projects such as the rehabilitation of Child’s Park in Meredith, redoing the roof of the Wicwas Lake Grange, donating the material for the Farnum House, and others. This year LaValley-Middleton provided use of its property as the staging area for Meredith’s 250th anniversary parade.

The Community Award for a Civic Project went to the Greater Meredith Program Design Committee’s Archie Statue Subcommittee for its efforts to put the Archie statue in Community Park to honor Bob Montana.

The meeting paid tribute to friends and community volunteers Mary Lamprey and Joe Cerutti, who both passed away in the past year.

This year’s guest speaker was Justin Spencer of Recycled Percussion. Spencer talked about how he grew up in Loudon, a poor kid managing ADHD with an alcoholic mother, saying an experience in middle school taught him the value of giving back. He formed Recycled Percussion with his friends to enter a high school talent show. Many years later, the band was featured on “America’s Got Talent” and is now a nationwide sensation with regular shows in Las Vegas.

Spencer now spreads the message of kindness and giving back. Recycled Percussion has been traveling across the state spreading this message, including the “Chaos and Kindness” show on WMUR.

Spencer encouraged all the entrepreneurs in the audience to give back and make a difference no matter what their job or economic status is.

“If you own any of these things you can still be a rock star in making a difference,” Spencer said.

He said giving back doesn’t have to be monetary and they can do whatever they can to do nice things for people. Next year will mark the chamber’s 40th anniversary, and Cerutti said the chamber board is already at work planning the celebration.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Consolidating Accounts Leads to Clear Financial Strategy

None of us can completely control all the things that happen to us. Yet, when it comes to achieving your long-term financial goals, including a comfortable retirement, you do have a great deal of power – as long as you follow a clear, well-defined financial strategy. And one way to help build and maintain such a strategy is by consolidating your financial accounts.

Over the course of their lives, many people pick up a variety of financial accounts from multiple sources. They might have a few IRAs from different providers, a couple of old 401(k) plans from past employers, an insurance policy (or two) purchased many years ago, and a scattershot of stocks, bonds, certificates of deposit and other investments.

If this picture describes your situation, you may want to think about consolidating. For one thing, having a variety of accounts can run up a lot of fees. Furthermore, you’ll have lots of paperwork to keep track of all your accounts, including several different tax statements. Plus, just by having so many accounts, you risk forgetting about some of them – and if you don’t think you’d ever forget about your own money, consider this: Well over $40 billion in unclaimed cash and property, including 401(k)s, pensions and IRAs, is awaiting return to the rightful owners, according to the National Association of Unclaimed Property Administrators.

But beyond reducing your possible fees, paperwork and potential for lost assets, consolidating your accounts with one provider can give you a centralized, unifying investment strategy, one that can help you in the following ways:

Diversification – If you own several different financial accounts, including IRAs, 401(k)s and online accounts, you might have many similar investments within them. You might even own a cash-value insurance policy containing investments that closely track the ones you have in the other accounts. This type of duplication can be harmful, because if a market downturn primarily affects one type of asset, and your portfolio is dominated by that asset or similar ones, you could take a big hit. But if you have all your investments in the same place, a financial professional can review your holdings and recommend appropriate ways to diversify your investment dollars. (Be aware, though, that while diversification can reduce the impact of market volatility on your portfolio, it can’t guarantee profits or protect against all losses.)

Staying on track – With all your accounts in one place, you’ll find it easier to keep the big picture in mind and make the moves necessary to help you progress toward your financial goals. Two main actions include buying or selling investments and adjusting your portfolio to make it more aggressive or conservative, depending on your situation.

Avoiding mistakes – If you own several separate accounts, you could see a loss in one or more of them and overreact by selling investments that could still be valuable to you. But with a consolidated investment platform, you can see more clearly that the impact of a loss may be small, relative to the rest of your holdings. As we’ve seen, consolidating your investment accounts with a single provider can have several advantages. So think carefully about bringing everything together – you may find that there’s strength in unity.

Open Mic Nov. 3

The next Open Mic rolls around on Saturday, Nov. 3, in The Arts Center at 12 Main in Center Sandwich. Doors open at 6:30 p.m.; music starts at 7 p.m. Please let Jan know by emailing janlgoldman@juno.com if you'd like to play, and which half of the evening you'd prefer to play.

Remember that you're welcome to bring treats to share, and that adult beverages are allowed. And, we definitely appreciate your donations to "the jar," which help us keep the building going.

Please note: December's Open Mic will be on Saturday, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m.

Because: On Saturday, Dec. 1, Kyle Carey, a daughter of Sandwich, will perform a program of Celtic Americana here at 12 Main (including some special holiday selections) in conjunction with the town's annual Christmas in the Village celebration. Kyle has released three CD's, which will be for sale and could make fine gifts if you'd like to share her music with friends and family. The suggested donation for this special event is $15-$20.

We hope your schedule allows you to join us for all three of these events. And bring some friends.

Warmly,
Jan, Lucy and Tom

Sandwich Historical Society Annual Meeting

The Sandwich Historical Society Annual Meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Doris L. Benz Community Center. Potluck dinner will begin at 6 p.m.; Annual Meeting at 6:45 p.m.; program at 7:30 p.m. The program will be "An Amateur Archaeologist's Perspective on NH Prehistory" by Plymouth resident Doug McLane. Please bring a dish (appetizer, salad, entree or dessert) to share.

Program details: Plymouth resident Doug McLane has viewed the unearthing of New Hampshire's Native American history from several diverse perspectives. While growing up in Manchester, Doug's Dad was an avid amateur archaeologist who found and documented what was then the oldest known human occupation in New England. Later, while living in Plymouth, Doug discovered prehistoric artifacts in both the Newfound Lake area and on the Squam Channel in Holderness. In recent years, Doug and his nephew have acquired an extensive collection of lithic (stone) artifacts collected by New Hampshire's preeminent archaeologist Howard Sargent. These beautifully made artifacts will be available for young and old alike to handle. If any attendees have artifacts of their own, please bring them to the meeting.

Sure, thank you for asking.

Peter and the Starcatcher

The Inter-Lakes Theater Company will present a play by Rick Elice called "Peter and the Starcatcher" in the Inter-Lakes Community Auditorium at the High School in Meredith. Performances will be Friday, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 10 at 2 and 7 p.m. This is the story of the Neverland you never knew—pirates, lords, mermaids, shipwrecks, crocodiles, and starstuff. It is a wildly theatrical telling of how an orphan boy became the Peter Pan you know and love.

Several Sandwich youths are part of the production. Tickets may be purchased at the door and are $8 for adults, and $5 for students and seniors.

Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid will meet on Thursday, Nov. 8 in the Methodist Meetinghouse of the Community Church of Sandwich. Craft items will be made and gathered for the Christmas in the Village craft table and ladies will sign sign-up for the chowder luncheon on Dec. 1. Following lunch and a business meeting there will be a program.

Thanksgiving Baskets

Every year, the Board of Outreach prepares Thanksgiving baskets for families in our community. If you would like to help, donations of canned and non-perishable boxed goods such as corn, peas, yams, cranberry sauce, chicken and turkey stuffing, and chicken or turkey gravy would be appreciated. Monetary donations help purchase meat, perishable items, and whatever else is needed to make a complete meal. Please make out any checks to the Community Church of Sandwich and write "Thanksgiving Baskets" in the memo line. If you can help or need more information, please call Jackie Berry at 279-0450.

Sanctuary Annual Meeting

Joan Merriman writes: The annual meeting of the Chapman Sanctuary and Visny Woods is coming up Saturday, Nov. 10, 10 a.m. at the Benz Center, and all are welcome. CSVW Members will soon be getting their annual appeal letter. If you are not a member but would like to be, please go to our website and follow the links to "contact."

This beautiful spot is open all year 'round for skiing, hiking, strolling, and learning about local birds, plants and other wildlife. We have had terrific volunteer help over the years, most recently that of Bob Carmany who is building a Visitor's Center at the Chapman house. It should be ready by Spring. Our information kiosk has been moved from the house parking lot to the new, upper parking lot. <https://www.chapman-sanctuaryvisnywoods.com/>.

Veterans Day

The Sunday morning worship service at the Community Church of Sandwich on Sunday, Nov. 11, will be at 9:30 a.m. instead of the usual 10 a.m. All are invited to attend the memorial tree dedication at The Samuel H. Wentworth Library at 11 a.m.

Tree Dedication

On Sunday, Nov. 11 at 11 a.m., the Sandwich Historical Society, Alfred Quimby Fund Trustees, and the Samuel H. Wentworth Library will host a program at the Samuel H. Wentworth Library to re-dedicate the memorial Maple tree to Pvt. Arthur Skinner. The original tree had been damaged by a plow and had to be removed; given the significance of the tree, it was replaced in the fall of 2017, and the time has come to re-dedicate it! ~ As many of you know, Veteran's Day is Nov. 11; however, did you know that this day was originally known as Armistice Day? Commemorating the WWI Armistice, it officially took effect on "the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month" of 1918. One hundred years later we will gather and commemorate the end of the Great War, re-dedicate the memorial to tree to Pvt. Arthur Skinner (a Sandwich native who died from his war injuries), and re-imagine Sandwich Village from 100 years ago.

~ Please join us for this event and help recognize those who left Sandwich to serve their country, some who returned, and sadly, some who did not. Music and light refreshments will accompany the presentations. Jennifer Wright.

Adult Craft at the Library

Make a beautiful muslin and cotton wreath with no sewing required on Tuesday, Nov. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Library Community Room. All materials are supplied; but participants are welcome to bring a favorite fabric. Please register at the library in person, or by calling 284-6665, or email sandwichlibrary@gmail.com.

Thank you, The Road Agent Unfinished House Concert

Roger Sorlien writes: Hi Folks, I have another Unfinished House Concert at the ready for Tuesday Nov. 13. May Erlewine writes and sings the most beautiful songs. I've been a fan of hers for years and noticed she and her band are playing Club Passim in Cambridge in a couple weeks. Pot Luck at 6:30 p.m. (optional), Music starts at 7:30 p.m., 352 Chase Rd., North Sandwich. Suggested donation of $20. All proceeds go to the musicians. How to reserve: please email me (Roger Sorlien) and I'll put you on the list. You'll pay at the door. Simple. 40 seat limit. grandraj1@gmail.com

Young dragons wanted

Richard and Mari-on Posner write: Many adults regard children as monsters, but few realize that many of them are simply dragons in disguise. We are in search of young people willing to release their inner dragons for dramatic purposes. Snap-dragon Children's Theatre invites them ( and any other aspirants) to our first rehearsal at the Union Hall, South Tamworth on Monday, Nov. 5, from 4-6 p.m.

Sign-ups on the day are welcome - cost per student for participation throughout the month of November, culminating in performance on Friday 30th November in the Sandwich Town Hall. Ages five - a flexible 14-15. We've lost count of the number of plays we have produced over the past 25 years or so, but we have averaged two a year...We have only rarely managed to keep dragons out of these plays, and we have now given up trying.

For further details, please email or call 323-7477 after Nov. 3. Snap-dragon Children's Theatre, part of Tamworth Learning Circles, a 501 (c) 3 non-profit educational charity.

Sandwich Christmas in the Village

For over 40 years, the first full weekend in Sandwich has been a celebration of craftsmanship. This year is no exception. Many artisans, farmers, bakers, craftspeople, individuals, businesses, and organizations are each doing something in the spirit of community and the holidays. The weekend will feature a tree-lighting, live entertainment, food, local hand-made gifts, fund-raisers for youth, live animals, and so much more. Combined efforts will mean a weekend of fun and festivities for all who come to enjoy. Each day more is being planned. Maps and events listings will be available around town and information (and photos) can be found on Facebook at Christmas in the Village-Sandwich, and at the www.discoversandwich.com Web site.

There will be a Farmer's Market at the Mount Israel Grange, lunch with Santa at the Corner House, and lots of workshops, artist studios, galleries, and more open. The Community Church of Sandwich will have the annual Ladies Aid Chowder Luncheon and craft tables in the Methodist Meetinghouse; and there will be wreath making in the Baptist Meetinghouse. ### Events

On Monday, Nov. 5, we present "Life on the WWII Home Front," with Linda Matchett. Men were off at war and women were left at home to raise their families, "do their bit for the war," and keep the home fires burning. Rationing began in 1942 with tires and by 1943 ration coupons were required to purchase coffee, sugar, meat, cheese, butter, lard, margarine, canned foods, dried fruits, jam, gasoline, bicycles, fuel oil, clothing, silk or nylon stockings and shoes. The automotive and appliance industries made airplanes and guns instead of cars and toasters. Find out how Americans coped during this difficult time.

Evening of Poetry on Tuesday, Nov. 6 will feature "The Flanigans" as the guest readers.

Thanks to the Friends of the Library, all 27 kindergarteners received a brand-new hardcover copy of "Wolf in the Snow," by Matthew Cordell, to start their home libraries this week. Children's librarian Sharon Gulla, along with Sherry Weene and Barbara Hawkins of the Friends, presented the books to both kindergarten classes, read the story aloud, and reminded the pupils that they can get their own library cards at the public library now that they are old enough to be in school.

Clifford, the Big Red Dog of picture-book fame, will meet and greet preschool children ages 1-4 at the Central School on Thursday, Nov. 8. There will be two sessions, either 10-10:30 a.m. or 2-2:30 p.m. All are invited to meet Clifford, and there will be other fun activities, plus a free book to take home. Sponsored by the Moultonborough School District and the Library.

There will be a very special "Flashlight Night" story time on Tuesday, Nov. 13 at 4:30 p.m. Author Matt Forrest Esenwine will be here to read his book, "Flashlight Night," and then we will have our own outdoor "flashlight night" activity, with pirate ships, castles, and who knows what else to be discovered on the library grounds. Flashlights will be provided. Rain date will be Nov. 20.

There will be another session of the "Music and Movement" program hosted by the recreation department and the library on Thursdays from 10-11 a.m., beginning on Thursday, Nov. 1, and continuing on Nov. 8 and 29 and Dec. 6 and 13. Toddlers are invited to the recreation building to wiggle, giggle, clap and dance during this awesome group activity featuring music, dance and rhythm. It's a great way to young children to develop balance, flexibility, social skills and self-esteem.

Wrapping up the fall series of book discussions, the last topic will be "Two-Part Invention," by Madeleine L'Engle, who is known as the author of "A Wrinkle in Time," a Newbury Award-winning children's book. The subject of our discussion on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 10:30 a.m. is a memoir of her long marriage to actor Hugh Franklin. Author Mary Hays will lead the discussion.

New Books

We added a nice batch of new nonfiction this week," including "On Desperate Ground," by Hampton Sides, about the Marines and the battle of the Chosin Reservoir during the Korean War; "The Spy and the Traitor," a Cold War spy saga by Ben Macintyre; "The Rise of Andrew Jackson," by David Heidler; "In Pieces," a memoir by Sally Field; and "Eager: Beavers and Why They Matter," by Ben Goldfarb, plus a trove of new computer books on Google Drive, Windows 10, iPad, digital photography, MacBooks, Android phones and tablets, Excel, Quicken, QuickBooks, Ancestry.com, and "the Cloud."

New in fiction are "The Winter Soldier," by Daniel Mason; "The Collector's Apprentice," "Elevation," by Stephen King; "Dark Sacred Night," by Michael Connelly, and "The Guilty Dead," by P.J. Tracy.

New DVDs are "Antman and the Wasp," "Mama Mia: Here We Go Again," and season six, the final season of "The American." New audiobooks are "A Spark of Light," by Jodi Picoult, "The Clockmaker's Daughter," by Kate Morton, and "The Word Is Murder," by Anthony Horowitz.

Sharon Paton and Susan Doherty-Funke has arranged a spaghetti and meatball luncheon catered by Chef Donna Grow and her well trained culinary group will be served at noon-time. November hostesses in charge of the ever popular dessert table are: Lorraine Arnold, Linda Crabtree, Amy Corston, Leslie Angelo, Cheryl Ulm, Jane Harrington and Barbara Palmer.

Volunteers are meeting twice a week to work on hand made decorations for the seven foot Christmas tree we are donating to the Altrusa December tree festival. Janet Schurko and Eloise Post have great, unusual ideas and have diligently worked with a crew on designing and decorating a tree differently every year. Our theme this season is "Birds of a Feather Gather Together" and a number of whimsical paper birds and many-many feet of colorful paper chains have been made.

Nancy McDonough had a group of members and friends, who walked the "Making Strides Against Breast Cancer" and did very well financially for the American Cancer Society. MWC has been involved in this good cause for the past twenty four years and has been recognized by the AMC for their outstanding results. Nancy and crew have reported taken in $5,093 on Sunday's walk. More usually trickles in after the event. More later on financial result.

Scholarship chair Mary Lou Charron is organizing a crew to bake, and work on the Election Day Bake Sale. Bake sales are an integral part of scholarships awarded each year. Members are known for their wonderful baking abilities, especially their pies. Be sure to vote and drop by for a free cup of coffee.

SPEAKING OF FAITH

“The present is not”

BY RAYMOND STINEFORD
N. Sandwich Quakers

My title for this essay is somewhat misleading. It's a quote from "Being and Nothingness," by John Paul Sartre, and I originally intended to muse on the meaning of Now, but the idea has gotten out of hand, has expanded into a topic better named, "How Long Is Forever?" And that title comes from learning that Voyager I, launched in 1977, is more than eleven billion miles from Earth, traveling at 36,000 miles an hour and is headed, barring anything getting in its way, into Outer Space where it will travel forever.

This is, of course, an oversimplification, based on google "research," but it illustrates the extremity of our ability to comprehend the idea of transcending finitude. Like Pooh Bear, I'm of very little brain and my subject is very, very large. But like that curious adventurer, I will see where my journey takes us. If Space is infinite, without boundaries or a center (already we are close to the imponderable) then Time as we understand it must no longer be calculable. If we know how many thousands of miles is traveled in an hour we can calculate distances covered for a month, a year, many years, but a total is unachievable. Astrophysicists know that Space-Time across the Universe is not linear, not from here to there. Forever is endlessness, nullifying the concept of a center and direction. To return to the title, Sartre is telling us what is obvious, that in the very breath I take for the first syllable of a sentence I am moving into the future.

What does forever mean when applied to the continuation of life after the body dies? From what I understand, a fair majority of people believe in some kind of immortality. The significant difference among them is believing in the survival of the individual person (soul), versus the belief that we merge with or into Divine Mind (e.g., Christian Science); or Transcendental totality. A Jewish friend calls it being like sparks. The orthodox Christian views favors the former, believing that eternal life is what we already are in right now, and continues, transformed, into life in the Spirit. And, like the closing verse of the 23rd Psalm (written long before the birth of Jesus) we will live (dwell) forever in a heavenly place.

So, how long is forever? No, let's restate the question: If our individual self persists beyond bodily death, what is it doing with (in) all that timelessness? Wallace Stevens' character in his poem, "Sunday Morning," does not want to live "where ripe fruit never falls." Surely no one wants to be in a state of suspended animation.

Voyager I is in endless motion, without a destination. Endless futurity. An evangelical, fundamentalist old pastor told me years ago that he did not know what heaven was like, but he was sure it was going to be wonderful. When folks with this view are pressed for further comment they say it's a matter of faith. Reason can't fathom its meaning.

Pooh, you're just an old stuffed bear with make believe honey on your paws.

MWC to host scholarship bake sale on Election Day

MOULTONBOROUGH — The Moultonborough Women's Club is all set for Tuesday, Nov. 6, is a very important election day, so be patriotic and get out and vote at the Moultonborough Life Safety Building. Scholarship chair Mary Lou Charon is organizing a crew to bake, and work on the Election Day Bake Sale. Bake sales are an integral part of scholarships awarded each year. Members are known for their wonderful baking abilities, especially their pies. Food will be coming in during the day and there will be a great assortment of cookies, cakes, breads and favorite pies. Pies being most popular are whisked out in no time. Everything pumpkin will be available including muffins, breads and cake. Other popular breads are Cranberry and Banana.

Everyone seems to love chocolate, so you can expect a good assortment of chocolate items, which are always on demand. Last June MWC awarded seven scholarships and most of the money was made by these baking sales, plus one other big event. Other members diligently baking, working tirelessly on the scholarship committee are: Donna Conway, Judy Ballard, Carol O'Hara, Sue Noyes, Jean Beadle, Barbara Palmer, Libby Reichlen, Louise O'Donald and Mary Whiting. A wonderful, energetic group.

We thank our generous community and remind them to be sure to vote and drop by for a free cup of coffee.

Lions send out record number of mailings for annual raffle

MOULTONBOROUGH — Got Mail? If not, you will soon because 17 Moultonborough Lions Club members showed up for the annual "Stuffin" party (sounds much better than mass mailing). Your letter, tickets and return envelopes, are now in the mail if you haven't purchased your annual $5,000 raffle ticket yet. This is a Major Fundraiser for the Lions and they ask for your support.

With all the hoopla with Mega Millions, and Mega Billions, the Raffle cannot compete with the amount of money you can win but it sure can compete with the odds! Support the Lions, keep it local, and whether you win or lose, you win! Because the money raised will go right back to the community. Can't get much better than that.

Lion(s) Eileen & Bob Zewski have chaired this event for a number of years, and are proud and thankful for the support they have seen from fellow Lions selling tickets and from the community buying tickets.

This has been a wonderful year for the Moultonborough Lions Club. They celebrated their 55th Anniversary, they welcomed 10 new members, and once again they will make someone very happy with a $5,000 check right before Christmas. You could

Humorous North Country storyteller comes to Corner House Inn Nov. 8

SANDWICH — Storyteller Cora Jo Ciampi, from the Great North Woods of New Hampshire, will have you grinning from ear-to-ear with some light-hearted tales at the Corner House Inn's Storytelling Dinner program on Thursday evening, Nov. 8. Cora Jo Ciampi has been telling wild tales since ...well, a darned long time.

Hailing from Montana to marry her sweetie, Ciampi has been telling tales at the Corner House Inn for more than 25 years. An audience favorite, she occasionally appears in tandem with her sister and best friend, Lauretta Phillips (a renowned storyteller in her own right), and together call themselves "Sisters Too." Audiences will agree, they tell some wild tales!

Ciampi likes to tell tales from times gone by and loves writing her own stories to tell. Humor is big with Ciampi, but she isn't past telling a tear jerker once in a while. "Telling stories is like a road into someone's heart from my own heart. It is a great avenue to encouragement and to promoting the art of the tale." Cora Jo just plain loves telling stories and loves the listeners who make it possible to tell.

The Storytelling Dinners are held every Thursday evening at the Corner House Inn from late October through May. The Storytelling Dinner begins at 6:30 p.m., and the price is $25 per person, plus tax & gratuity. For more information and reservations contact the Corner House in Center Sandwich at 284-6219 or online at info@cornerhouseinn.com.

LETTERS CONTINUED...

Glenn Cordelli is a man of principle

To the Editor:

Once again, I am writing a letter in support of Glenn Cordelli for State Representative in Concord.

Two years ago, I wrote: "I've known Glenn for a number of years and have found him to always be truthful and willing to stick to his principles, rare qualities in politics today. Glenn is a strong defender of personal rights and responsibilities and has respect for people. He has enough respect for people to believe that adult citizens should be trusted to have enough judgement and intelligence to know what is good for themselves, their families and their communities. After all, isn't that the foundation of Government by the People?"

I am pleased to say that Glen has shown to be true to all these principles, and remains to be a genuine friend of all the citizens of our State. He continues to be prudent with our money: he has never forgotten that tax money does not belong to anyone but us, the citizens.

He respects personal freedom, and has worked to preserve it.

Glenn has been a mentor to many new House members, taking his time to show new legislators the way through the maze that the State Legislative process can be.

He has also shown skill as a leader in Concord, and is recognized with appointments to many important positions by the House leadership.

Please join me in again voting for Glenn Cordelli on Election Day. It will help preserve your freedom to choose and to protect what is good for your Family, your Town, our County and our State.

Respectfully,

*Josh Bartlett
Moultonborough*

Join me in supporting Terry McCarthy

To the Editor:

Terry McCarthy is a smart, energetic candidate running for Carroll County Commissioner. Her motivation is to serve the public of Carroll County. She has served people throughout the years, growing up and living in Carroll County. She has been a volunteer on non-profit boards and town committees and has received service awards for her dedicated hard work. Terry knows the people and needs of Carroll County.

What we need at the County Commissioners office are people who are willing to work together, who want to solve problems, who do their homework, who want to get the work done and who want to bring the county forward in the best way possible. Please join me in voting for Terry McCarthy for Carroll County Commissioner.

Let's put Carroll County at the forefront of tomorrow's economy

To the Editor:

The strong U.S. economy that Republicans tout is buoyed by a trillion-dollar tax cut to businesses and the already wealthy, and is spurred on by the increase in defense spending. These policy moves have already increased the deficit this year by several billion dollars. We have seen this picture before, and it does not end well for the great majority of people. How does this economy affect Carroll County? Where is the so-called trickle down?

We need to focus on Carroll County. Let's work to diversify the economy by developing other opportunities, such as agriculture, as well as attract new businesses. Vermont has one of four programs in the country (and the only one in New England) where UVM students live on a farm for 6 months and learn to grow crops from seed to harvest as well as learn how to write a business plan for their farm (Boston Globe). This is an idea that could be explored in New Hampshire through the current UNH program with the Carroll County farm. Maine has had 1,000 farms started in the last decade by young people under 35 addressing the farm to table demand. This seems to be a growing trend that could be developed in New Hampshire in Carroll County.

The County delegation, consisting of our representatives, has had a contentious relationship with the County Commissioners especially over the County Farm. Let's work with the Carroll County Commissioners to get the most services for the least amount of money and utilize the farm as a resource.

Let's raise the minimum wage. New Hampshire has no minimum wage—it accepts the federal rate of $7.25 an hour. This is the lowest in New England. New Hampshire is the #1 state in the country supplying public assistance to the working poor. Our neighboring states have established a minimum wage—Vermont ($10.50), Maine ($10), Massachusetts ($11). Low income workers must work two or three jobs to afford an apartment. The issue of affordable housing is on every town's agenda – let's have New Hampshire State government partner with the towns and private builders to get this done. Without a livable wage and affordable housing, it will be difficult for New Hampshire to compete for young workers and families to choose New Hampshire as a place they want to live and raise families.

For Carroll County to be a desirable place to live and raise a family, we need to ensure access to quality public education and not siphon off public funds to private and religious schools. According to Rep. Neal Kurk (R-Weare) chair of the house finance committee that rejected it, the bill, SB193, would increase property taxes by $100 million over 10 years. Representative Cordelli is for such a bill. Rep. Crawford is undecided. I am against.

I am against any kind of regressive tax – taking a larger proportion from low income individuals – and will make sure that any bill proposals don't burden property tax payers. So, I ask that you consider John Morrissey for State Representative in Moultonborough, Sandwich, and Tuftonboro. For more information, see www.Morrissey4NH.com.

*John Morrissey
Moultonborough*

Please vote Glenn Cordelli for state rep

To the Editor:

For the past six years, Glenn Cordelli has been the State Representative and an effective spokesman for residents who live in the towns of Tuftonboro, Sandwich and Moultonborough.

Glenn is quick to respond to constituents on State Government issues. Rep. Cordelli opposes any broad-based income or sales tax. He's a strong defender of individual property rights, supports Right to Work, school choice and parental control. Glenn continues to lead on student and teacher privacy issues, and is focused on reducing government regulations that interfere with individual freedom and stifle business. He also working hard to fight the opioid crisis that affect so many New Hampshire families.

Glenn Cordelli is running for another term as our State Representative. He has pledged to focus his attention on issues that will ensure New Hampshire continues to be a great place to live.

Please consider voting for Glenn Cordelli for State Representative on Nov. 6.

Support of our fundraiser is appreciated

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the businesses and residents of our surrounding communities for their wonderful generosity and support for our fundraiser on Oct. 20. We held a ham and bean dinner, with raffle baskets and a donation box. Donations could also be made to an account at Meredith Village Savings Bank.

We wanted to raise money for the family of a two year old boy who suffers from a rare and devastating disease. The illness has taken a toll on his entire family as they have spent months in the Dartmouth hospital with him. Your wonderful response has been overwhelming to us and to the family.

Celebrate Halloween with murder and mystery on the Nile at Winnepesaukee Playhouse

MEREDITH — This Halloween, the Winni Players Community Theatre at the Winnepesaukee Playhouse will perform “Murder on the Nile” by the original queen of mystery, Agatha Christie.

One of Christie’s most famous and beloved mysteries, “Murder on the Nile” follows Kay Ridgeway, a stylish and wealthy girl with a new husband, as she embarks on a honeymoon voyage down the Nile. This charmed existence shatters when a shocking and brutal murder is committed. Under scrutiny is a multitude of memorable passengers, all with a reason to kill. The tension and claustrophobia builds, as an audacious conspiracy floats to the surface.

One of the most celebrated mystery authors of all time, Christie began her work during the First World War as a diversion from the tedium of her pharmacy job. In a twist not unlike those of her novels, it was her knowledge of pharmaceuticals that gave her work its realistic use of poisons. The story of Kay Ridgeway and her treacherous honeymoon began as the novel, “Death on the Nile,” first published in 1937 while Christie was travelling extensively with her second husband. Christie adapted the story with its exotic characters and romantic villainy in to a play in 1946. It has since inspired numerous adaptations for TV, and film including the upcoming 2020 release directed by Kenneth Branagh. “Murder on the Nile” plays at the Winnepesaukee Playhouse from October 31 to November 4. Tickets range from $12 to $20 and are available online at www.winnepesaukeeplayhouse.org or over the phone at 279-0333. Show times are Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m.

The Winnepesaukee Playhouse, a year-round theatre, is a 501(c)3 organization supported in part by the New Hampshire State Council on the Arts, New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, the Shubert Foundation, the Steinwachs Family Foundation, and by contributions from members of this community.

Christmas at the Castle celebrates holiday traditions from around the world

MOULTONBOROUGH — This November, Castle in the Clouds will host its popular annual Christmas at the Castle program – a festive event that brings the community together at this historic mountaintop estate. Working with the theme of “holidays around the world,” local businesses and designers will showcase their design aesthetic by adopting a room in the mansion or area of the estate grounds and decorating it to the nines.

“There will be décor inspired by holiday traditions in Japan, Germany, Mexico, and more,” explains Castle Curator, Robin Sherman. “Incorporating cultural traditions pays homage to the appreciation that Lucknow’s original owners, Tom and Olive Plant, had for the wider world. The couple enjoyed traveling abroad, and their regard for the traditional architectural design of other countries is apparent in the design of the Lucknow mansion, where English, Norwegian, Swiss, and even Japanese architectural features come together in this astounding Arts and Crafts style home. We are excited to merge the history of the estate with the traditions of other countries, and hope our guests enjoy experiencing these other cultures in an immersive and beautiful way.”

The holiday festivities begin with the Christmas at the Castle Preview Party on Friday, Nov. 16 from 4-7 p.m., sponsored by Lifetime Benefits Group. Tickets are $50 for non-members and $40 for members, and include an evening tour of the Castle, artisan fair, live music, appetizers, a tasting of Tamworth Distillery’s special winter Castle cocktails, and cash bar.

When asked what sets the Preview Party apart from the other days of Christmas at the Castle, Development Coordinator Jill Cromwell explains, “This is a special time to watch the sun set over the lake, and see the Castle lit with twinkling holiday lights at night.”

The Preview Party is a fundraising event, with all proceeds supporting the preservation and interpretation of the Lucknow estate, now listed on the United States National Registry of Historic Places.

The weekends of Nov. 17-18 and Nov. 23-25, Christmas at the Castle will take place from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. “Christmas at the Castle is one of the best events of the year for families and children,” says Stephanie Poole, Programs and Volunteer Coordinator.

“In addition to touring the Castle all decorated for the holidays, guests can enjoy free activities in the Carriage House including children’s holiday crafts, a visit with Santa Claus, cookies and hot cocoa, and the artisan fair.”

The Gift Shop will be open during the Christmas at the Castle event, and features more New Hampshire-made items such as candles, soaps, children’s toys, jewelry, cutlery, and more. Visitors can also enjoy lunch at The Carriage House Restaurant from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Tickets for Castle tours will be sold until 3 p.m. Admission is $20 for adults, $10 for 17 and under. Admission for members is $15 for adults and $8 for 17 and under. Children ages 4 and under are free. Christmas at the Castle is generously supported by presenting sponsor Infinger Insurance, and supporting sponsor Leone, McDonnell & Roberts Public Accountants.

Christmas at the Castle tickets are available online and at the door. Castle in the Clouds is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, whose mission is to preserve, interpret, and share the historic Lucknow Estate. For more information, call 476-5900 or visit www.castleintheclouds.org.

Lakers win intense rematch with Bears

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

MEREDITH — After the Newfound volleyball team won the second and third game of the quarterfinal match against Inter-Lakes, Laker coach Randy Mattson submitted her lineup at the table and went back to the team huddle prepared to give a pep talk.

"I didn't have to say much of anything," Mattson said. "The team had already taken care of business. They said 'we got it.'"

And got it they did, as the Lakers won the next two sets and earned a return trip to the Final Four with a 3-2 win over the Bears.

"Clutch situations are just not our strength," said Newfound coach Amy Fairbank. "We had some calls go not our way and had some issues with two touches."

The match was eerily similar to last year's Division III semifinals, when the Lakers won the first match and Newfound came back and won the next two before the Lakers came together and rallied to finish out the 3-2 win.

"It's a shame these two teams are playing right now," Mattson said. "This is more of a semifinal game."

"We had a few too many mistakes," Fairbank added.

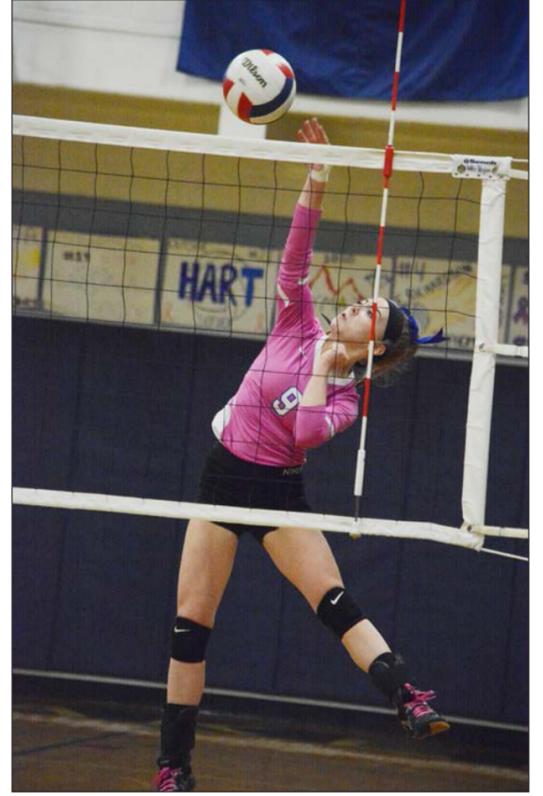

The Lakers came out and dominated the opening game. Laker Emma Wheeler and Newfound's Ashlee Dukette exchanged points and Megan Stafford had a service ace for the Bears. A good dig from Bailey Fairbank helped keep the two teams even and then a good tip and service ace from Wheeler helped the Lakers open the lead. Morgan White had a kill for the Lakers and they continued to stretch the lead, getting a service ace from Ava Duymazlar and a hit from Delaney Smith. Wheeler had a block to push the lead to 16-7 before Dukette came through with a hit for the Bears. Wheeler had another block and then Dukette followed with another hit. Wheeler came through with yet another hit and Inter-Lakes closed out the 25-11 win for the 1-0 lead.

The two teams exchanged points early on, with Stafford getting an ace for the Bears and Dukette following with a couple of hits and Kasey Basford adding a nice tip at the net. White had a pair of hits for the Lakers and then Bailey Fairbank found a perfect spot for a shot, with Newfound getting a 7-5 lead.

Duymazlar came back with a hit for the Lakers but Stafford and Fairbank answered with hits for Newfound. The Bears continued to up the lead, with a block and hit from Stafford pushed the lead to 13-6. The Lakers got a hit from Hailey Hart to get back on track but Newfound continued to pull ahead. Dukette had a pair of hits and Aryn Prescott also had a hit, stretching the lead out to 18-10. After Wheeler had a hit to help the Lakes draw within 19-13, Newfound closed things out with six points in a row, with Fairbank getting a hit and Maura Geldermann getting a service ace to close out the 25-13 win.

Volleyball Bears battle past Panthers and into Final Four

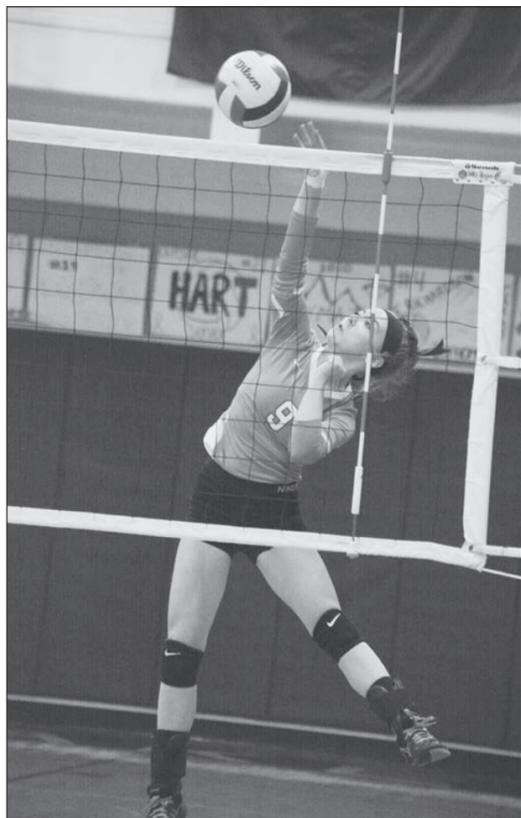

BY BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

TILTON — Winnisquam and Moultonborough have had some tight battles on the volleyball court, and while the Bears took the 3-1 win, the Panthers never quit and consistently clawed their way back into games.

The first set started off with Moultonborough leading the way but that quickly changed when the Bears went on a 12-0 run to make it 15-4. Many of these points were thanks to the hard spikes of Gabby Isabelle, who nearly knocked over Moultonborough players trying to handle her powerful slams. Winnisquam ended up winning the set handily by a score of 25-16.

The second set was a back-and-forth matchup that saw the lead change several times in the closing points. The game was tied 24-24 but Abi Iverson and Maddie Perrotti had a couple of nice kills for the Panthers to take the 26-24 win and tie things up 1-1.

The third set was another close one. It was 18-12 Winnisquam but Moultonborough battled and brought the game to a 24-24 tie once again. The Bears managed to hold on for a 26-24 win.

The fourth set was all Winnisquam, who came out on top with a 25-16 win.

The Panthers were led by Perrotti with 18 kills and 20 digs, and Iverson with 14 kills. Jess Lear had an incredible game setting the ball with 44 assists. Allie Taylor had 19 digs in the libero role. Rio Vasquez-Billin had five blocks in the game. The team did well serving with Perrotti going 15 for 15 with two aces, Lear going 16 for 16 with two aces, Vasquez-Billin going 10 for 10 with an ace, Aubrey Smart going 10 for 10 and Sarah Shannon going 12 for 13 with three aces.

Coach Lindsay Bliznik said since Aug. 13, the team had a focus on mental toughness. She said the team's slogan has been "battle time" and they focused on being ready for anything. Starting the season, she said the team knew they would need mental toughness, confidence and composure to be successful. The Panthers showed time and time again they could hang with the best, as the team played very strongly against top teams like Winnisquam, Farmington and Inter-Lakes.

Prior to the game against Winnisquam, the Panthers had a great opening round playoff win by a score of 3-0 over Campbell. The scores were 25-16, 25-16 and 25-7, which shows just how on fire they were. Campbell was the eighth seed and Moultonborough was ninth, so this was a solid underdog win. The team practiced with a focus on energy and mental toughness, knowing that Winnisquam would be a difficult matchup.

"The girls played the best I've seen them play on Thursday vs. Campbell and I knew if that played that way they would beat Winnisquam; nothing seemed to phase them on Thursday," Bliznik said. "The first two sets of the Campbell game were relatively close but you wouldn't have known my girls were playing loose and just doing what they know how to do."

On the way to Winnisquam Bliznik reminded the team that they were still the underdog and if they played their game they would give the Bears a run for their money. She said the girls were confident and embraced the underdog status.

"I thought my girls played with everything they had and really gave it their best," Bliznik said. "The result was not what we wanted but it was definitely a loss that they could walk away from with their heads held high. For the four seniors it was a little more tough being their last time playing together for Moultonborough Academy. The best thing about this team isn't necessarily our volleyball skills but it's the close knit family that's been created and fostered throughout the season."

Bliznik thanked seniors Lear, Perrotti, Vasquez-Billin and Iverson for being positive inspirations for the team on and off the court.

"I will miss the four seniors a ton next year but I'm happy they've had the influence on the younger players that they have because their legacy will live on within this program for years to come," said Bliznik. "The underclassmen really look up to them and emulate their hard work and effort. We were definitely not ready for our season to end last night so we'll have one last practice tomorrow, Monday, and be counting down the days to August to start again."

Panthers win playoff opener, fall in quarterfinals

By BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

MOULTONBOROUGH — The Moultonborough Academy girls' soccer team entered the Division 4 state tournament as the eighth seed and after knocking off ninth seed Hinsdale 2-0, the Panthers had the daunting task of facing top-ranked Sunapee and lost 4-0.

The game against Hinsdale came with snow lightly falling at the start of the game, in a bitter cold matchup to kick off the state tournament. The Panthers wasted no time and got on the board early with Zoe Norton knocking one home at the start of the first half. It was 1-0 after one half and then Norton struck again about two minutes into the second frame to make it 2-0.

"The team dominated play all over the field," said coach Kelsie Eckert. "Megan Colby really stood out in the midfield."

On Sunday, the team traveled to Proctor Academy to play number one Sunapee, and despite the loss, Eckert was happy with the team's play. She said it was much more exciting and back-and-forth than the previous games against Sunapee. Eckert praised Colby and Shaela Sturgeon for their work in midfield.

This was the last high school game for senior Katie Dubois, and Eckert called her an "all star on defense."

"She and Ellie Marchand and hunted down Sunapee's strikers and denied the breakaways that have defined previous games with them," Eckert said. "The girl of the match, however, had to be Grace Boucher, who had 16 saves in the first half and nine in the second. At one point she stopped a breakaway by coming out of the net and stripping the ball off of Sunapee's star striker's foot. It was absolutely incredible. Best goalkeeping in a high school game I've ever seen."

Including the playoffs, the Panthers ended the season with a 10-6-1 record.

Laker soccer teams both earn tourney bids

BOB MARTIN

Eli Dupigny winds up for a shot against Trinity.

By BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

MEREDITH — The Inter-Lakes boys' soccer team had an up and down season, but the determined senior heavy squad won the last two games of the season including a 1-0 overtime thriller to put the Lakers into the playoffs as the 16 seed. Unfortunately that meant the Lakers had the task of facing top-ranked Trinity, and ended with a 5-0 loss.

The Lakers were down 4-0 at half and Trinity tacked on another goal in the second half as insurance. Leading the way for Trinity was Ethan Frenette, who had a hat trick in the game. Dom DiZillo scored the fourth goal and Nathan Meeker scored the fifth goal. Goalie Anthony DiZillo also had a great game in goal to keep the Trinity squad undefeated.

"As a group we were excited and ready for another tournament opportunity," said coach Dan Curnyn. "It is never a given that you get in and we have been lucky enough to make it every year that I have coached, fourth season now."

Curnyn said Trinity is an extremely talented team and well deserving of the number one seed in the division, but the Lakers were hoping to keep it closer.

"We had some chances but we got beat by their top players a few times on some very nice goals (set pieces, balls in the air, etc.)," said Curnyn. "For the senior group who left it all out on the field for the last few weeks they were huge in getting us into the playoffs I just wish we could have had a better sendoff but can't always end the season on a win."

Including the playoffs, the Lakers finished the season 6-10-1.

The Inter-Lakes girls' soccer team also had an up and down season but managed to find its way into the playoffs as the 14 seed. The Lakers faced third-ranked Campbell in the first round and lost 7-0.

"Our playoff game against Campbell was a tough one," said coach Beth Pion. "From the start I brought the team together and told them to play the game like any other game. They came out scared and were nervous. Campbell's a strong team and they play very well with each other."

Pion said from where we were from the start of the season the Lakers didn't think playoffs were even a thought. She commended the team for overcoming adversity and getting to the state tournament.

"We battled injuries and that was very hard," Pion said. "The bench was ready to fill in and did a great job.

We also had players playing position that they never played. Reagan played goalie for the first time and she did amazing. You would of thought she played goal before. Mollie Durand was our fighter this season she played so hard and went out every game. We had a tough end of the season and had to win in order to make it to playoffs and we did that with our last game of the season against Berlin in the senior game."

The Lakers ended with a 5-11-1 record including the playoffs.

Lakers fall to Laconia in season finale

By BOB MARTIN
Bob@Salmonpress.news

MEREDITH — The Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough Academy football team ended its season with a 27-6 loss to the Laconia Sachems, putting the team at 1-8, but coach Jon Francis had nothing but high praise for the way his team hung in there and played tough all season.

"We were actually right in that last game but we gave up a couple of big plays," Francis said. "It was chilly out and it took a few minutes to adjust, but we had some good defensive stops and turnovers. The team as a whole, actually, played outstanding. A lot of the seniors saved their best games for last. Even though it was a loss, the season ended on a positive note."

The Lakers scored on a Blake Dunlap run from about three yards out during the second quarter. Laconia led 20-6 at halftime and tacked on another score in the third quarter. A main reason it was tough for the Lakers was that quarterback Noah Robinson was playing through injuries, which made it tough to move.

Francis said he was able to throw well in the beginning of the game, completing some good passes to get to the red zone, but as the game went on became more difficult.

Francis said Laconia is a strong, physical team and he felt his 18 guys handled the Sachems well. He said he is proud of the squad.

Robinson went 8/18 on the day with 110 yards and two interceptions. His main target was Markie MacDonald who had four catches for 64 yards. MacDonald also played linebacker and had eight tackles.

Leading the rushing attack was Dunlap with 18 carries for 57 yards and a touchdown. He also had seven tackles as a linebacker. Devin Schwartz had two tackles and an interception at defensive end. Ryan Caswell had three carries for 12 yards at fullback. He also had 20 tackles on defense as a defensive tackle.

Tae Miler was all over the field with three catches for 53 yards, as well as 10 tackles and an interception on defense. He also had 50 return yards.

"The seniors definitely left us a good framework to build on for next year," said Francis. "Every team has to overcome things in a season and it seems like we never really got a break. Every week we had some sort of injury or illness, and it caught up with us more than previous years. But these guys were always ready to go and had their heads up."

The Lakers are graduating five seniors who played all four years. These include Ryan Caswell, Tae Miller, Dre Miller, Anthony Yopp and Jack Ritchie.

"We are all really proud of these guys," said Francis.

Good job by Abby for finishing the race on a very sore ankle. The boys’ team finished 14 out of 28 teams, a great result for such a young team. Good job by all.”

The third-seeded Inter-Lakes girls’ volleyball team entered the playoffs without their big hitter, junior Emma Wheeler, but the Lakers had no problem putting away the 14th-ranked Sunapee with a 3-0 straight set victory in the opening night of the Division 3 state tournament.

The Lakers, who were last year’s runner up, were dominant in the first set with a 25-5 win. This was thanks to not only strong play by Inter-Lakes who were up big the whole time, but also sloppiness on the Sunapee side of the court.

Sunapee woke up in the second set by winning the first two points and keeping it close with the game tied at 6-6. However, the Lakers went on several big runs and pulled away with a 25-12 victory.

The third set was never really close, but Hailey Hart goes up for a kill for Inter-Lakes against Sunapee.

Sunapee hung around a bit with Inter-Lakes up 15-10. This was before the Lakers put the pedal to the metal and came away with a 25-13 win.

Leading the way was senior setter Jessalyn Brown. Brown had a triple/double with 18 assists, 15 points and 10 digs. Delaney Smith had a great all-around match with six kills, three blocks and six service points. Madisyn Wilson had 12 digs and five points in the win.

Hailey Hart had four kills and eight points. Ava Duymazlar had four kills and nine points. Olivia Jenkins had three kills and a block. Morgan White had 11 points.

Next up for the Lakers was the always tough Newfound Bears, who were ranked sixth this season. The Lakers took the win in an exciting 3-2 game led by Emma Wheeler, who returned from an injury with 19 kills, 17 digs and 14 service points (see separate story).

“We are excited to be heading back to the Final Four, and even more happy that it appears that Plymouth will not be flooded and that we will get to play at the University,” said Mattson “This has been a dream of many of my players since they were in middle school.”

Mattson said the Lakers have focused this season on growth and improvement one match at a time. She added that the players have worked hard to learn a more advanced style of play. The Lakers, she said, have embraced the challenge.

Panthers bumped from tournament by top seed

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

NEWMARKET — Admittedly it was a rebuilding year for coach Eric Porusta's Moultonborough Academy boys' soccer team, but the Panthers managed to find themselves in the playoffs as the 16 seed facing top-ranked Newmarket in the Division 4 state tournament. Moultonborough hung tough with Newmarket, but in the end the top seed prevailed with a 5-0 victory.

Porusta said that as the Panthers were facing the best team in the division, they opted to strive for good defense. Moultonborough left one player up top and 10 behind the ball throughout the game. This kept Newmarket scoreless for the first 30 minutes of the game before giving up a goal on a goalkeeper error.

The Panthers were down only 2-0 at half before scoring on their own goal to make it 3-0. The team needed to attack but couldn't manage to find the back of the net in the same time Newmarket added on two insurance goals. Porusta was proud of the team's play, but commended Newmarket.

"We felt we could play with them playing defense only, but they have experience and depth that we do not this season," said Porusta. "They were the better team all around."

For years Moultonborough has been a perennial powerhouse, but after losing almost all of last year's team

Ethan Larson makes a diving save for the Panthers, who were knocked out of the playoffs in the first round.

BOB MARTIN

to graduation, the Panthers came in young and inexperienced. Porusta entered the season with high hopes of going 8-8, but mistakes caused by youth put the team at 5-10-1 with two wins coming through forfeits from Nute, which forfeited the season.

He thinks that his team is better than this.

"We are better than a 16 seed," Porusta said. "We played a tough schedule, playing all the top teams. If we did not give up the lead to Colebrook, Farmington, and PCA...and held on to the tie of Inter-Lakes, we would have another 14.5 points in the standings, which would make us the eight seed. We still could have faced Newmarket eventually, but maybe had more confidence. Overall, the team progressed and I am very proud of their efforts this season. As a young team, with little varsity experience, given that all starters from last year were gone, we showed teams that Moultonborough soccer is improving and will be ready next season with a more competitive group. All players but one will be back."

That one player is senior Trevor Greene. Porusta was grateful for Greene returning to soccer after not playing for several years. He brought energy, toughness and a great sense of humor to the team, Porusta explained.

"We will miss that next season," Porusta said.

There were also two eighth graders on the team in midfielder Simon Porusta and goalie Ethan Larson. Each started and played nearly every minute of every game, and both were put to the test. Porusta appreciated the adversity they battled through.

"Both of them played essential roles this season," said Porusta. "Larson, our goalie, got tons of experience that will benefit him for next season and Porusta as a midfielder should see action as a forward next season."

This year's scoring leaders included Gavin Porusta with seven goals and seven assists, Gavin Mahoney with seven goals and one assist, and Ryan Mason with six goals and two assists. Porusta hopes the team can build off what was learned this season.

"The expectations will be greater from me and the players both," said Porusta. "We essentially will have the same team, where as the top teams in Division 4 will be losing substantial amounts of players. That combination will make us a much more competitive team next year. If the boys continue to work in the off season, which a core of them are, we will be ready."

"We've played a tough schedule, and I believe that has prepared us well for the post-season," said

Mattson. "Newfound gave us all we could handle on Saturday, and although we struggled to gain momentum during the match, I was very pleased with how the team responded to the situation." The Lakers played Farmington on Wednesday at Plymouth State University after deadline. If Inter-Lakes wins the finals is at PSU on Nov. 2 at 7 p.m.

Inter-Lakes got out to a 3-1 lead in the third game, with Wheeler getting a big hit for a point. Geldermann came back with a block and then Basford and Dukette came back with hits for the Bears to tie the match at four. Dukette followed with a service ace and Fairbank had a hit to put Newfound up by two points. Wheeler followed with a hit and then tied the match at six.

However, Geldermann took over on the service line and came through with a good run that stretched Newfound's lead to 11-6. A block from Smith got the Lakers back on the board but Fairbank and Dukette continued to lead Newfound with hits. Geldermann added a hit and the Bears went up 19-11. Wheeler added a trio of kills for the Lakers as they fought their way back, cutting the lead to 22-17. However, Dukette followed with a pair of hits and Newfound closed out the 25-18 win for the 2-1 lead.

Behind hits from Dukette, Newfound got out to a 3-1 lead in the fourth game, but Wheeler answered with two hits for the Lakers and a block from Smith put Inter-Lakes up 5-4. Geldermann tied the game with a hit and then Newfound pushed the lead to 9-6. White added a service ace for Inter Lakes but Newfound came back with a couple more points to go up 11-7.

The Lakers got a block from Smith and a hit from Hart to tie the match at 11. Stafford answered with a hit for the Bears and then Basford added an ace to put Newfound up 14-11. Wheeler led Inter-Lakes back to tie the match at 14 and then added another hit as the Lakers surged to the lead. Inter-Lakes went ahead 19-15 and 21-17 before Dukette followed with a hit to get the Bears back on the board.

Wheeler followed with a hit for the Lakers but Geldermann and Dukette answered with hits for the Bears, cutting the lead to 23-21. However, Inter-Lakers closed out the match with the next two points and the match was tied at two with a 25-21 win.

An ace from Hart and a hit from Wheeler got Inter-Lakes out to a 4-2 lead in the fifth and deciding game and the Lakers upped the lead to 11-4 and then 13-5 before Newfound came back. Leslie Shattuck came back with a big dig and then Stafford and Dukette had hits to help Newfound rally back and the Bears cut the lead to 14-12.

However, Wheeler followed with a hit and the Inter-Lakes crowd celebrated the 3-2 win and the return trip to the Division III semifinals.

"I told the girls, that was your game if you wanted it, you could've taken it," Fairbank said. "But don't be upset about how you played them."

"It just didn't work out in our favor," the Bear coach said. "It was a good season."

"My team was off balance after dominating the first set," Mattson said. "Kudos to Newfound's defense, they played fabulous."

She noted that Smith had a strong finish, with three of her six kills coming in the last two sets to help the Bears close out the win.

Wheeler had 19 kills, 14 digs and 14 service points, while Hart had 11 service points and 20 digs. The Lakers had 32 team assists on the evening.

The win sent Inter-Lakes on to the semifinals against Farmington and Mattson said they were looking forward to the rematch with the Tigers after losing to them earlier in the year.

"We faced them early in the season and it was not one of our best games," the Laker coach said. "We're happy to have another shot at them."
