CENTER HARBOR — Bass fishing teams from around the state descended on Lake Winnepesaukee on Thursday, Sept. 23, for the annual state tournament qualifying round, which saw a total of more than 25 teams take to the waters to try and qualify for the state championship tournament. In the end, a pair of local teams were able to land in the top 11, which allows them to move on to the championship round. Each school was allowed to keep eight fish for weighing and 10 of the top 11 teams carried eight fish to the weigh station, with only Fall Mountain coming in with seven. The placement of each team was based solely on the weight of their fish. The Prospect Mountain Timber Wolves, who won the first NHIAA bass fishing tournament, finished in

National Guard recruiter updates Rotarians

Staff Sgt. Joshua Stone (Right) was introduced as Guest Speaker by Rotarian and US Army Veteran George Feeney at Rotary's weekly morning meeting last Thursday, held in the Alton Senior Center. Stone talked about the many changes and opportunities available as a soldier in the New Hampshire National Guard.

ALTON — Staff Sgt. Joshua Stone, a New Hampshire National Guard recruiter and retention spokesperson, addressed Alton Rotarians at their weekly Thursday AM meeting about the many changes and opportunities now available in the New Hampshire Guard. “Our state of New Hampshire has the smallest number of soldiers per capita, smaller than any other state in the country, but that doesn’t change, in any way, how we as an active unit are trained and qualified to help and secure areas in our state, country or the world, when disasters, natural or man-made, may occur. We are prepared to serve whenever and wherever needed,” he stated. Stone often speaks with students at a number of area high schools, including Prospect Mountain High, Alton, about them enlisting in the New Hampshire State Guard. “I see students, both boys and girls, who are enthusiastic and ready to serve. They want to give back, and are seriously thinking about their futures, including some wanting to join the military,” he added. When you join the New Hampshire National Guard, it’ll require 10-15 weeks of basic training at one of many Army training camps in the country, then, attending monthly weekend training at home, and two weeks a year at a military camp away from home. “The chances you’ll be called to duty during your enlistment in the NH Guard, is very likely. You may need to serve to help save and improve lives anywhere needed, it’s very exciting and rewarding to be involved in such causes,” he ended. Stone has served our country for a number of years both within the USA and countries like Japan, Iraq and in Europe. The Alton Rotary club meets every Thursday for breakfast at the Senior Center, Alton. For information on joining Rotary, contact Rotarian Duane Hammond at 569-3745.

Charlie Moore films at New Hampshire Boat Museum

Charlie Moore, The Mad Fisherman, with NHBM Trustee Nancy Black at the New Hampshire Boat Museum.

WOLFEBORO — Recently, Charlie Moore filmed “Charlie Moore Outdoors” at the New Hampshire Boat Museum (NHBM), an occasion that marked the second time “The Mad Fisherman” has worked with the nonprofit in 2021.

“He hosted our virtual Ice-Out event in April, which helped raise money for the museum and helped kick off our year,” said NHBM Executive Director Martha Cummings. “We really appreciate him sharing his spotlight with us.”

Eleven-time Emmy award winning TV host, Moore also hosts the nationally syndicated

TV series, “No Offense” and “Bruins Academy,” and he is creator, writer, and executive producer of “Behind the B” with the Boston Bruins.

“We are not entirely sure when our episode of ‘Charlie Moore Outdoors’ will air on TV, but according to Charlie, it will be some time later this fall or early winter,” added Cummings.

Moore’s participation in NHBM programs caps a “star-studded” year for the nonprofit museum, which has also welcomed former Olympians and nationally-known speakers in its free 2021 Lecture & Arts Series. All lectures are virtual, while the featured art is locally produced and available for viewing at the museum.

The next lecture, which is free, takes place on Thursday, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m. and will feature author Daniel Boyne, who will discuss his book, The Red Rose Crew. The book chronicles the first camp-based US women’s eight selection, under Harvard men’s coach Harry Parker, and their surprising run to a silver medal at the 1975 World Championships in Nottingham, England.

“Daniel will discuss highlights from the book and share his perspectives on how the Red Rose crew changed the sport for all women,” noted Cummings.

The lecture program was made possible with support from New Hampshire Humanities in partnership with the National Endowment for the Humanities. The Red Rose Crew can be purchased at the NHBM’s gift shop.

Founded in 1992 by vintage boating enthusiasts, NHBM is also sponsored this year in part by Goodhue Boat Company, Eastern Propane & Oil, Meredith Village Savings Bank, FL Putnam, Stark Creative, Bank of New Hampshire, and NH Humanities.

ABA September Monthly Member Highlight: Rockstar Gardens

ALTON — Every month, the Alton Business

Association sit down with one of our amazing ABA members to get to know them a little better! For September, spoke with Lina MacDonald, owner of Rockstar Gardens. We ask each member the same questions, providing an opportunity for our members to highlight the important work that they do in our communities. If you’re an ABA Member and would like to be considered for future Monthly Member Highlights, please reach out to us via email at info@altonbusinessassociation.com

Q: Tell us about your business?

A: Rockstar Gardens is a landscape design company. Our design ethos is what stands us out from other businesses, in which we focus on using naturalistic compositions that allow nature to connect with people.

Q: Tell us about yourself:

A: I’m person who just like a flower, was able to grow in places people never thought I would.

Q: How did your business get started?

A: I’ve been landscaping for 10+ years (starting at an early age with my grandparents). I’ve worked for the top landscaping companies in NH/ME, and I was frustrated with the way they approached their designs and gardening tactics. There was more often than not, no practical rhyme or reason and sustainability was often undercooked. So getting started consisted of turning my passion into a career, and striving to be a company in which our values, knowledge, and expertise would make us stand out from others.

Q: What has your relationship with the Alton Business Association done for you or your business?

A: I have yet to partake in what the association has to offer.

Q: What do you value most about this community?

A: The people! The longer I live here, the more I realize that it’s such a caring community.

Q: Why did you want to open your business in this community?

A: This is the town I currently live in. My family and I currently rent, but we hope to have the opportunity to buy a house here, and continue to be a part of the community.

Q: What business accomplishment are you most proud of?

A: I subcontract for another landscaping company- the owner is a friend of mine. His business for years has centralized around lawncare. He’s always offered other services, but a large portion of his clientele is based on lawncare. My time with him has influenced him to broaden his business to taking on more jobs tailored to gardening.

Q: What does the future hold for you and your business?

A: I’ve asked myself this question time and time again, and I really don’t think that the future for any business is foreseeable. This question has always filled my head with fear of the uncertainties, but I’d like to believe that the future holds the outcome of me manifesting my goals and dreams into reality.

Q: What is one piece of advice you wish you had as a new business owner?

A: Don’t sell yourself financially short from what you actually deserve just to gain clients. Price yourself right in the beginning. Sure, things might be slow, but honestly, it’s slow starting out regardless.

Q: How can people who want to learn more about you or your business get in touch with you?

A: Phone calls are great, but honestly it’s whatever approach you feel most comfortable with; Facebook, email, phone (via text or call) .

Wright Museum presents “The American St. Nick”

An American GI dressed as St. Nick in the village of Wiltz, Luxembourg in December 1944.

WOLFEBORO — On Tuesday, Oct. 12, the Wright Museum will show the documentary film, “The American St. Nick,” as part of their 2021 Lecture Series, presented by Ron Goodgame and Donna Canney. The film is based on the book with the same name by author Peter Lion about the true story of American GIs who brought Christmas back to the small village of Wiltz, Luxembourg in the midst of World War II. Having previously spoken about his book at the Wright Museum in September, Lion will return for the screening of the 2015 documentary. He will discuss the making of the film, which was produced and directed by the WWII Foundation’s Tim Gray. “Gray combined actual filmed footage of the 1944 Christmas celebration with contemporary images and film,” noted Wright Museum Executive Director Michael Culver, who recommended bringing “a handkerchief to the film.”

“This is a wonderful opportunity to actually see the people, places and events that comprise this heart-warming, true story that spans nearly seven decades and continues to this day,” he said. “This film honors the incredible sacrifices of all American soldiers who helped liberate Europe in World War II.”

“The American St. Nick” begins at 7 p.m. and will be shown at the Wright Museum, 77 Center St. in Wolfeboro, on the first floor of the new DuQuoin Education Center. Admission is $3 for members and $8 for non-members.

Masks are optional for all fully vaccinated audience members. Reservations are strongly encouraged and can be made by calling 603-569-1212. The region’s leading resource for educators and learners of all ages on World War II, the Wright Museum features more than 14,000 items in its collection that are representative of both the homefront and battlefield. For more information about the 2021 Lecture Series, or museum, visit wrightmuseum.org.

Take a break from bad news

Oftentimes, ideas for Editorials arise when something close to us personally surfaces that hits home, or when we hear a significant amount of chatter about a specific topic. This week, the chatter has been about national news overload.

We love the news — after all, it's what we do. Sharing information with our readers on the local level is both an honor and a necessity.

This week, however, we have heard many people say they just can't listen to the national news anymore. They feel bombarded by a relentless parade of doom and gloom, from the continuing (and to us, frankly confounding) debates over mask mandates in schools to the minute-by-minute coverage of the tragic Gabby Petito case, oftentimes leaving them feeling depressed and overwhelmed. News junkies watch the news every morning and night, check their Twitter feeds, listen to talk radio on their commutes and are constantly in the know. It's important and responsible to be aware of what's happening around you, however finding a balance is key, even for those of us in the businesses.

It seems as though the national news cycle has been nothing but chaos. Bad news seems to ping our phones almost on the minute. This can be exhausting.

As a way to catch your breath, pick one day of the week as a 'no news' day, sort of like a news siesta. Get outside, unplug, read a book, listen to some vinyl or watch Cobra Kai (we do recommend for a splash of nostalgia). Attempt to shut off the little magic box we all stare at way too much on the daily. Could landlines actually still serve a purpose?

If you feel like you can't make a difference, realize that you can. Do something every day to make the world a better place, even if that means your own little world. Such actions can often result in the domino effect.

Take some time to count the blessings in your life. Positivity still surrounds us in bulk if you look for it. Family, friends, dogs, crisp fall leaves, apple crisp, bacon, a friendly wave from a neighbor, morning coffee, a cold drink, a beautiful hike or walk, a good novel and a nice music blasting session are just a few things we can lean on to always lift us back up.

Take some time to count the blessings in your life. Positivity still surrounds us in bulk if you look for it. Family, friends, dogs, crisp fall leaves, apple crisp, bacon, a friendly wave from a neighbor, morning coffee, a cold drink, a beautiful hike or walk, a good novel and a nice music blasting session are just a few things we can lean on to always lift us back up.

FROM OUR READERS

There are heroes in Alton Bay

To the Editor:

I think oftentimes people don't hesitate to write a letter of complaint, but this is not that letter.

We hosted the 31st Annual Labor Day Weekend Craft Fair at the Bay Sept. 4, 5 & 6.

The fair was very successful; however, about an hour before closing on Labor Day, we got a weather alert on our phones. We were notified of a "small squall" heading our way and we proceeded to let everyone know to pack up and seek shelter if necessary.

Within minutes, the sky turned black, the rain poured down, and worst of all, the wind went wild. It was very scary.

We had a fast moving micro-burst rip through Alton Bay, and the minute it started, the employees of Shibley's at the Pier came running out of the restaurant to help assist our exhibitors.

The Shibley's staff held on to canopies, secured boxes, tables, chairs and gathered crafts as they blew into the parking lot . . . it was amazing.

The microburst ended almost as quickly as it began and we were so fortunate that there were no injuries.

We just thought you should know . . . there are heroes in Alton Bay.

And we are all so very grateful.

Best wishes,

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

Living without God

BY LARRY SCOTT

Can man live without God? Absolutely ... and man has done so throughout human history and, some would say, very effectively. For some, it was because they weren't even aware there was a God; others rejected Him by choice. Let's face it: rejecting God appears to have its benefits. We all want to be free, to do as we please; it is a characteristic, human trait.

To those who have researched this issue, French Philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche is a well-known figure. Before his death in 1900, he led an all-out attack challenging the existence of God. One of the most influential and forceful atheists of all time, Nietzsche not only dismissed God's existence but also rejected many of the traditional values held by the Christian community.

God is dead, he proclaimed, and since God does not exist, this life is all there is. To him, as he wrote in "Anti-christ," Christianity "is the greatest of all conceivable corruptions. ... I call it the one immortal blemish on mankind" (p. 220). It is, unfortunately, a point of view with which many would agree.

The kicker here, however, is that so many of those fundamental principles necessary to a balanced, responsible, and happy life have a tie-in to the existence of God and the values He has built into each one of us. Without God, not only must we discover who we are and why, but we must also determine our purpose for living, the ethical standards that will guide us through life, and the hope that justice will eventually be served on the Hitler's of our society. If man is the measure of all there is, who do we follow: Hugh Hefner, Joseph Stalin, or Mother Teresa?

If there were no God and no objective standard of morality, I would grant you the possibility of enjoying what is known as the good life. You are satisfied, self-confident, happy, and prosperous in your chosen field of service. You "did it my way!" and you're proud of the fact. If God is dead, so be it. And, indeed, it wasn't too long before Nietzsche was dead -- at age 44, in a mental asylum, and under treatment for syphilis.

Which brings us again to this thorny issue. If there is no God, this is as good as it gets; this is the only heaven you are ever going to know. There is no tomorrow. "Eat, drink and be happy ... for tomorrow we die!" For me, and for Friedrich Nietzsche, that just doesn't cut it!

But the Apostle Paul suggested a solution. "If only in this life we have hope in Christ," he wrote, "we are to be pitied more than all men. But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead." Jesus' resurrection changes everything.

The Republican party is going the way of Neanderthal man

To the Editor:

When Homo Erectus evolved onto the scene by the Creator's hand, Neanderthal man was doomed, either to assimilate or go extinct. So too will the white supremacists and the like (the Republican party), if you will, need to assimilate, or face the same demise as the Neanderthal. From what is seen on TV, one could say the Neanderthal just upgraded their clothes and stormed the, US Capital Building, on Jan. 6. Although here I think I do a disservice to the Neanderthal man. We saw the demonstration in defense of those insurrectionists on Sept. 18, for what it was; losers who are uninformed, and don't understand what harm they do to their own country and its government. They met their goal to rile up the Capital police, making D.C. jump through hoops to prevent violence. I say deny them anymore rallies in D.C.

I am fascinated that I might have been in that group of what I now call traitors, had I been born twenty year later than I was. When I was 16, I wanted to quit school, and join the Navy; my two older brothers were both in the service. By age 18, I was a big supporter of "Hell no, we won't go," having had discussions with both brothers, who both reported to me that our country was involved in another country's civil war which we had no business being in. What was said about war, fighting, and glory are hype created by people whose agenda it is to benefit by the conflict that war creates. That the Nixon administration interfered with the peace efforts the Johnson administration was trying to put in place. So, voting Nixon in for president in 1968 on his promise to end the war, America stayed embroiled in five more years of a Vietnam war. The whole timeframe of that part of my life, there was a deep undercurrent of crime in our government. Turns out, I was correct; Nixon was a crook after all, I was pleased that his party thought the same thing, and showed him where the door was. I had the same opinion of both political parties at that time; they were corrupt. It is almost no different today, with what has happened to this country under the last guy — you know who I mean, the loser. With one exception, today the party of the traitor president who is still hellbent on destroying our faith in our form of self rule, turning it into some sort of perverted autocracy, that his party will not show him the door, but instead embrace him for the sake of the power they seek for themselves. Proof is in the states that are passing new voter restriction laws which will take away the people's vote if it's not in line with the state's prominent political party in power at the time. In short, they are stealing your vote if you don't agree with them. I say why bother having an election if it is so rigged. Did you see how Apple & Google helped Putin stay in power? Goes to the idea absolute power corrupts, absolutely. Wake up! It is happening here also, by the Republicans' leaders.

You know, I keep bringing this topic up, of the evil that #45 bought to America, and those of you who hold a different point of view still bury your heads in the sand, 'hear, see, and speak no evil,' yet you turn and bite the hand that is trying to help you out of your deluded thinking about the loser. The party which is now on the front line of Making America Great, in my opinion, is not going far enough to make people wake up. Joe Biden only does good when everyone participates, but the refusal of the elephant people to work with the donkeys people is not helping anyone. The elephant people want four more years, under sleepy Joe to be empty of growth, under a false belief if the elephants get control, they will make it better. They have never, in my lifetime, made it better so far, and I don't trust they will in the future.

Using dogs to hunt bears: Who defines “fair chase?”

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

There’s a certain place on the road up the hill where the wild creatures like to cross. It’s a place where a bear came tumbling down on an otherwise humdrum day.

On a commute that is like “Lion Country Safari” to begin with, I’m extra watchful on a short stretch of road that goes by a field and through spruce and fir, and then is broken up by a big glacial esker, with a spring-fed pond to boot.

Over the years, I’ve seen everything here—bears, a bobcat, moose, too many deer to remember, partridges (grouse) too. And red tail hawks crossing at Warp Factor Five as they zoon through the woods, hunting at speeds beyond belief.

The tumbling bear is fixed in my mind because it was a special bear, as was the bear I saw feeding on the first green grass of spring in a field behind Kathy and Curtis Keazer’s house on Route 145 one spring.

Then there was the bear I encountered in the middle of Titus Hill Road during a seven-mile run on a rainy, windless day. Now, that was one for the books—a bear that was running up through the hardwoods off Titus Hill Road and hove up over the embankment just as I came along, knocking off 8.5-minute miles and zoned out, thinking.

And there we were, the bear immediately standing up and swaying, trying to catch my scent, and me breathing hard, because I was running, not jogging, so I stood with arms around my chest, trying to contain my breathing and prolong the moment, a moment that probably went all of five seconds but seemed like one of those slow-motion clips, forever.

The bear that I saw sitting down just over a kept-up fence along Rabbit Path Road in Landaff was a standout for me, because you don’t often see a bear sitting down. It was one of those corner of the eye things, and I was well beyond the bear when I slowed down, and then backed up to be sure what I’d seen.

It was a big boar of a bear, its coat rippling in black waves, as it sat there scooping up dirt with a front paw, at least what looked like dirt.

“Don’t shut the engine off,” Rudy always advised as part of his basic driver’s education, and so I never touched the switch, the sound remained part of the background noise the bear had already dismissed as a threat, and so it sat there so bear-like and focused on the business at hand, which was getting food. It was such big business, so bear-like for a bear.

But it begged the question, which was whether the ants were worth it—the energy expended versus the energy derived. Was a paw-full of dirt and ants worth the brain-cells and muscle-power to get it?

Sort of like the energy spent climbing onto a dumpster and tearing the lid apart, versus the small amount of food within. It’s a tradeoff a bear no doubt struggles to make, like the time and energy spent breaking into a camp versus the possible food inside.

So there is how we wind up treating our top predator, willingly or not, in keeping with the mantra of a fed bear being a dead bear, no matter the circumstances, and so it most often goes. Pathetic, but true.

The other day I had a chance to visit with an old friend who knows way more about bears than I ever will, a guy who’s cheerfully spent a lifetime at it, while my experience has largely been with bears hellbent on quitting the scene.

Bears are very much in the news just now, with controversies rising anew in towns like Sandwich about using hounds to chase and tree bears, and what constitutes “fair chase,” and one of the hearts of the issue, landowners’ rights.

Sandwich is simply where two fundamental freedoms—no, three, maybe four or five—have come together to force the issue.

I asked my old friend about hounding, and landowner rights, and what is fair chase, especially from a bear’s perspective. What’s it like for the bear, the anxiety and terror of it, the dogs and humans ever closer, the commotion and the fear?

Well, he said, to a bear it might be all in a day’s work, the main object at hand being the constant search for food anywhere the bear can find it, whether apples or standing corn or garbage on your Uncle Fudd’s deck.

“A bear is worrying and weighing odds all the time,” he said, whether it’s free-running dogs, or crossing roads, or encountering hikers or hunters deep in the woods. And as ever—more people acquire their little pieces of God’s Country and build their dream houses, humans steadily encroach on bear habitat—another source of conflict and fear.

He knows his bears, and I couldn’t fault his thinking.

PETS OF THE WEEK

Gannon

Meet Gannon! This big doofus loves to play, go for walks and eat treats. He's an inexperienced fella who needs an experienced owner to help him lean his manners! Gannon isn't a big fan of other dogs or cats, so he's seeking to be the only pet in his new home. Because Gannon is inexperienced with petting and handling, and he's still learning to share his things, he will do best in a home without children. Gannon is currently being treated for a skin condition that may or may not resolve with his current treatment plan. His adopters should speak to their veterinarian, and be prepared for the possibility that Gannon will need to take medication or be on a prescription diet for the rest of his life.

THE READING ROOM AT GILMAN LIBRARY

SAMPLE BEFORE YOU BORROW ~ The best method for browsing is to read or listen to the sample of the book and/or read the summary before borrowing, if you are not sure you will like it. If you use NH.OverDrive.com or the Libby app to access our downloadable ebooks, audio books or digital magazines, please do not hit BORROW until you are certain that the title is one you really want to read, because it costs participating NH libraries in the consortium a LOT to renew the leases after a certain number of times borrowed. In NH each library is also charged on the basis of number of circulations. We are so happy to have you use this service. We need to be certain that costs reflect ACTUAL use and not merely browsing!

DO YOU USE LIBBY? ~ If you use the Libby app for your downloadable eBooks and Audiobooks, you may have noticed that Libby has a new look. If you have not tried Libby or NH OverDrive resources, you may not be aware that they are available for free as part of your library membership at Gilman Library. All you need is your library card number and your password to borrow eBooks, audiobooks, eMagazines, and more! For more information, come into the library AT 100 Main Street, Alton, and ask at the desk or check out our website at gilmanlibrary.org.

IF YOU PREFER PRINT ~ Come in and check out our great selection of new magazines and 2021 books in hardcover, paperback, and large print formats. The Best Years of Our Lives begins at noon on Tuesday, Oct. 5 at the Wright Museum, 77 Center St. in Wolfboro on the first floor of the new DuQuoin Education Center. Admission to this program is free due to generous support from Edward Jones, Kevin Lawlor, Financial Advisor.

Author Daniel J. Boyne to speak at NHBM’s Online Lecture Series

WOLFEBORO — In partnership with New Hampshire Humanities, the New Hampshire Boat Museum (NHBM) will welcome author Daniel J. Boyne to its 2021 Virtual Lecture Series on Thursday, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m.

Noting it has been 20 years since the book was first published, NHBM Executive Director Martha Cummings said the growth in women’s rowing has been “explosive on all levels.”

“The Red Rose Crew changed the sport of rowing for all women,” she said “Women have so many more opportunities now to be a part of rowing and to really excel.” “The Red Rose Crew: A True Story of Women, Winning, and the Water” takes place on Thursday, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m.. ### OBITUARY

“Life is short. And so are my pants.” - Tyler Balint

ALTON-----Tyler James Balint, 18, of Alton, NH, passed away suddenly on Saturday, September 18, 2021. Our Tyler now resides in the wind that blows through the trees, in the music to which we sing and dance, in the memories that we share and he will forever be in our hearts and souls.

Tyler was born to Jodi (Cubeddu) Balint and Jamey Balint on May 16, 2003, in Dover, NH. He attended Alton Central School through 8th grade and was a 2021 graduate of Brewster Academy in Wolfeboro, NH. Tyler had just started his college career at Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, NY as a bioengineer-ing major at the time of his passing.

Early on Tyler demonstrated a strong propensity for logic, math and science. He participated in numerous First Lego League programs where he learned how to do animation in motion and began learning about robotics. He went so far as to spend two weeks at Brown University's Pre-College Program studying Physics in Film and Creating Your Own Smart Home with Arduino. He was a member of Alton's BSA Troop 53 and was selected by his troop to attend BSA's National Youth Leader Training program.

At Brewster, he blossomed in the inquiry and project-based learning environment. An avid member of the Brewster Robotics Team from day one he became not only designer, builder and problem solver but was their primary driver, a responsibility one can only appreciate after watching a formal First Robotics League competition. Tyler balanced his more scientific pursuits by engaging enthusiastically in the theatre and cinema programs at Brewster. Although rarely stepping into the limelight himself, he enjoyed supporting his acting colleagues with preparation and set logistics and became an amateur film critic. He was known as a helper to those who struggled with topics, having a gift for explaining concepts in ways that would help them better understand.

At 16 Tyler got his first job at O Bistro at the Inn on Main in Wolfeboro, NH, as a dishwasher and was promoted over the past two years to food prep. He thought of his coworkers as family and did everything he could to help in any way possible including keeping them on their toes with his crazy/quirky socks and playing silly games.

In his free time, he enjoyed spending time with his beloved animals, cats Tia, Bruno and Chloe and the love of his life, our rescue dog Penny who joined our family in 2015; traveling, off-roading, hiking, swimming in the falls on northern NH and snowmobiling, boating on the lake, going to the movies and of course playing Xbox, a lot.

One of Tyler's friends recently called him a "hidden gem" – a term that perfectly describes Tyler. Tyler was not a conversationalist – but he was always listening and observing. When Tyler did engage in conversation, his words were typically insightful, helpful and honest. His kind and caring soul was so prominent with the love for his family - especially his cousins Giana and Ayla - who meant the world to him.

Tyler is survived and will be greatly missed by his parents, Jodi and Jamey Balint of Alton, NH; grandparents Cindy and Tom Balint of Gilford and Sanborn, NH; Paula and Fran Biegaj of Plymouth, CT; John and Theresa Cubeddu of Bristol, CT; aunts and uncles Jason and Tricia Balint of Gilford, NH, Jonna (Cubeddu) Anderson of Ponte Vedra, FL; James Cubeddu of Tuftonboro, NH; Heather (Kinmond) Skelley of Hamburg, NY; and Sherry Jacques of Inlet Beach, FL; cousins Giana Cubeddu of Alton, NH and Ayla Balint of Gilford, NH and many extended family members including those at Brewster Academy and O Bistro.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to a cause that Tyler was passionate about, the robotics program at Brewster Academy at <https://www.brewsteracademy.org/campaign/giving/in-memory-of-tyler-balint> or an animal rescue league or humane society of your choice.

A Memorial Service for Tyler will be held at Anderson Hall at Brewster Academy, 205 So. Main Street, Wolfeboro, on Sunday, October 3, 2021, at 1:00 PM (masks required), followed by a Celebration of Life reception at O Bistro at The Inn on Main, 200 N. Main Street, Wolfeboro immediately following the memorial service. For those who knew Tyler, he always wore shorts, no matter the season or weather, and his favorite flannel shirt. Those attending may do so if they wish.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation Services and 603Cremations.com, 164 Pleasant St., Laconia, NH, 03246, is assisting the family with arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, please visit www.wilkinsonbeane.com.

Knight girls battle tough with Con-Val

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — Late in the first half of last Tuesday’s game with Con-Val, the Kingswood girls’ soccer team got a burst of energy when Amelia Kilmister buried a penalty kick, cutting a 2-0 Cougar lead to one and seemingly giving the Knights a little momentum heading to the second half.

However, the Cougars didn’t let the Knight momentum go very far, as they scored two goals in the final two minutes of the half, upping the lead to 4-1 and taking control of the game on the way to the 5-1 win.

“We played the game we wanted to play, but we didn’t get the outcome we wanted,” said coach Shane Flood. “Credit to Con-Val, they played a great game.”

Con-Val got on the board early, scoring in the first five minutes on a rebound after a Heidi Roiter save for the 1-0 lead. The Cougars continued with some more good chances, but Roiter stood strong in the net and Marcella DeNitto, Megan Davey and Rowan Donovan-Laviolette all helped with good defense. Madison Eaton had a great ball up the field just ahead of Kilmister as well.

The Cougars made it 2-0 just more than halfway through the half and the visitors continued to pressure, with Roiter making the saves and Sara Hyde, Eaton and Jill Caravella all helping out on defense.

As time was clicking toward the final few minutes, Kylie Rapoza was taken down in the box, giving the Knights a penalty kick and Kilmister responded with a shot to the low left to cut the lead to 2-1.

However, Con-Val scored two quick goals to take the 4-1 lead to halftime and never looked back.

Kingswood did have a few offensive chances in the second half, with Eaton, Caravella and Anna Tibbetts working on chances, but it was the Cougars who got the next goal, scoring just more than 10 minutes into the half for the 5-1 lead. The Cougars also had a couple of good corner kicks, with Roiter holding her own and Kamdyn Hobbs also getting a good clear. Kingswood had a late corner, but the Knights couldn’t convert and the visitors took the 5-1 win.

“We did what we wanted to do, we played well in the second half,” said Caravella. “I think we outplayed them in the second half.”

“We definitely came into our own in the second half,” DeNitto said.

“I think the girls played a great game,” Flood added.

Kingswood is scheduled to be at Pelham on Friday, Oct. 1, at 4 p.m. and will be at Spaulding on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 4 p.m.

Four unanswered goals lift Knights past Derryfield

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — The Kingswood field hockey team fell behind early in the game against Derryfield on Monday, Sept. 20.

However, the Knights answered quickly and scored four unanswered goals on the way to a 4-1 win over the Cougars.

“It’s been a long time (beating Derryfield),” said coach Kaitlin Reilly. “It’s nice to see them play so well as a team.

“They’re really connecting,” Reilly continued. “Everybody on the sideline, everybody on the field, they work hard for each other on the defensive side and the offensive side.”

Sarah Paraskos, Ana Ekstrom and Fallon Peacock had early bids that the Derryfield defense was able to turn away. The Knights had the first three corners of the game as well, with Ekstrom getting off a shot on the first one and Emilia Galimberti got a shot on net that was stopped as well. On the second corner, Erin Meyer had a bid denied and on the third, Rachael and Sarah Paraskos teamed up for a bid that the defense stopped.

The Cougars were able to get on the board with just less than 10 minutes to go in the first quarter, as they scored on a shot from the side for the 1-0 lead.

The Knights didn’t let that lead last long, as just more than a minute later, Ekstrom sent a nice ball to Lauren MacPhee, who was able to fire the ball into the net, tying the game by one. Sarah Paraskos had another bid that was stopped and the Cougars had a chance deflected as well. Ekstrom and Meyer teamed up for a bid that went wide of the net and Rachael Paraskos and Hailey Kelly had good defensive stops and the first quarter came to a close with the score tied at one.

The Knights got on the board quickly in the second quarter, as Ekstrom ripped a shot from the top of the circle about a minute and a half into the frame for a 2-1 lead. Derryfield came back with a corner, but the ball went wide of the net. Sarah Paraskos sent a ball up the field just ahead of Peacock and Kingswood had a corner chance that Ekstrom sent wide of the net.

Kingswood continued to pressure, getting a couple more corners, with Galimberti getting a bid in the zone and Peacock and Sarah Paraskos teaming up on a bid. Derryfield had a corner as well, but Kelly and Hailey Brooks teamed up to keep the ball away from keeper Carrigan Williams.

The Knights ended the quarter on a high note, as Galimberti made a nice feed to Sarah Paraskos, who buried it past the Derryfield keeper for the 3-1 lead with 41 seconds left in the first half.

The third quarter saw Kingswood get a few early corners, with Galimberti and Ekstrom getting chances but Derryfield actually had the better chances on corners, as they had five in a row, with Williams hanging tough in the Kingswood net and turning things away, with the defense helping out as well. Brooks and Kelly had good defensive stands late in the quarter and the Knights took the 3-1 lead to the final frame.

MacPhee, Sarah Paraskos and Meyer had early chances in the fourth but it was Ekstrom that got the fourth goal of the game for the Knights, as she and Peacock connected for the 4-1 lead with 12:12 to go.

Both teams had corners as the quarter went along, with Williams making a save for the Knights and Derryfield clearing out Kingswood’s attempt. Kylie Lewis made a nice run up the field but was turned back and Brooks made another defensive stop, helping to seal the 4-1 win.

“It’s a full-team win,” Reilly said. “Those are the wins that carry over, that’s the energy that builds.

“They want it for each other and it’s exciting to watch,” the Knight coach continued. “We always talk about that it’s not the mistakes, but what you do after them that counts.

“I’m proud of the defensive corners and the offensive corners,” Reilly added.

Kingswood is slated to be at home on Monday, Oct. 4, at 5:30 p.m. against Oyster River and will be hosting Sanborn on Thursday, Sept. 7, at 7 p.m.

2021 Challenge inaugural event for Children’s Auction a big success

GILFORD — The 42 Teams who make up the 2021 Challenge kicked off their very first Sweepstakes Social this past Friday to raise funds for the Children’s Auction. Presented by Daniels Electric Corporation and held on board the M/S Mount Washington dockside at the Weirs, the event featured entertainment, dancing, delicious appetizers, and $15,000 in cash prizes to 10 lucky winners.

More than $20,000 was raised at the event, which passes thru to the 2021 Challenge Teams in support of their fund-raising efforts thru the year. Teams will tally their funds and present to the Children’s Auction on Dec. 9 at a Closing Ceremonies celebration. Last year, the Challenge Teams raised $249,640 bringing the total of the 2020 Children’s Auction to $435,809 which was distributed to 63 organizations that provide food, clothing and shelter; child and family resources; education, afterschool and recreation programs; and healthcare, substance abuse prevention and victim outreach.

In the spirit of Patrick’s Pub Mania, which transformed into The Challenge in 2020, the Sweepstakes Social was about having fun while making a difference for children and families in need in the greater Lakes Region.

“People really enjoyed themselves. The cruise ship was the perfect venue, providing a spectacular setting, delicious food and beverage, along with some great entertainment,” said Tom Milligan, President of Daniels Electric Corporation, who picked the 10 cash prize winners. “We are delighted to be associated with this event and proud to support the 2021 Challenge Teams on behalf of the Children’s Auction.”

Each of the 300 tickets purchased selected one of the 2021 Challenge teams of their choice to receive a matching amount of money in the event their number was chosen. Grand Prize Winner Kate Flaherty of Gilford won $5,000, and her team, Patrick’s King’s Corner, received a matching amount.

“I’m so happy to be a winner, and even happier that $5,000 will go to bolster our team’s fund-raising efforts,” said Flaherty.

Challenge teams have a fun and spirited competition for the three awards: Top Dollar Team, Outstanding Participation and the Feeding Families Award. 2020 team winners were presented with their awards prior to the grand prize drawing: Juggernaut Fitness - Feeding Families Award; Ladies of the Lake - Outstanding Participation; Belknap Landscape Corporation / Merry Misfits - Top Dollar Team. Mount Washington Cruises and Shaw’s were major sponsors of the event, along with Lakes Region HVAC, Gilford Home Center, Meredith Village Savings Bank, US Foods and Patrick’s Pub & Eatery.

“Carnival of Souls” kicks off LRPA’s Shocktoberfest

LACONIA— Do you like scary movies? If you do, then LRPA TV has got you covered! Celebrate the scariest month of year with our Fifth Annual Shocktoberfest, a month devoted to vintage horror films. This weekend (Oct. 1 & 2 at 10 p.m.), take a trip to Terror Town with 1962’s eerily atmospheric cult favorite “Carnival of Souls,” directed by Herk Harvey and starring Candace Hilligoss.

Mary Henry (Hilligoss) and two friends are out in a car, enjoying the day. At a stop light, some guys in another car challenge them to a street race, and they accept. As the girls’ car speeds across a bridge, the driver loses control and the car plunges into a river. A search party drags the river for the car, and just when things look dire, Mary emerges from the water, cold and dazed. She can’t seem to remember any details about the wreck and has no real answers for the searchers. To move on with her life, Mary accepts a job in a different state as a church organist. On the drive to her new position, she passes a mysterious deserted carnival pavilion to which she finds herself inexplicably drawn. As she is looking at the pavilion, Mary is startled by an ominous man looming in her path, nearly causing her to drive off the road. She blames this vision on a lingering aftereffect of the accident, composes herself, and drives to her destination. Mary arrives at her destination and takes a room at a boarding house, meets her new employer, and generally tries to get on with her life. However, she can’t stop seeing the apparition of the menacing man – nor can she get the vision of the abandoned carnival pavilion out of her head. What do these frightening visions mean? Will she ever be able to move on with her life?

Although it was an initial failure at the box office, “Carnival of Souls,” made on a shoestring budget of less than $20,000 and with a total crew of six(!), has since become a highly regarded and well-loved psychological horror cult classic. It is the only feature film ever produced by director Herk Harvey, but certainly not his only time behind the camera. During his successful, 30+-year career, he made more than 400 industrial, safety and educational films and documentaries for Centron Productions. Harvey used a three-week vacation to make “Carnival of Souls.” Upon the film’s re-release in 1989, critic

Roger Ebert awarded the film three out of four stars and wrote that the movie was “... an odd, obscure horror film that was made on a low budget in 1962 and still has an intriguing power. Unlike most of today’s horror movies, “Carnival of Souls” has few special effects. Instead, it depends on crisp black-and-white photography, atmosphere and surprisingly effective acting.” Lead actress Candace Hilligoss studied with famed teacher Lee Strasberg at the Actor’s Studio in New York City and brings remarkable depth to the character of Mary. This movie’s not to be missed! Grab your candy corn and join LRPA after dark for this fan favorite classic from the past.

roller box which I hadn't used in a decade. Every time I needed to refill the roller, I needed to climb down the ladder then back up. That was a tiring afternoon.

On the way home, I stopped by another painting job hoping to find that I had forgotten my bucket there. A quick look proved my idea a fantasy. Which meant that I now only had one left. I went home and found them on line and ordered two more for $15 each. Inflation for sure.

Every day I look around at all my stuff that's piled up in every nook and cranny of my life. It looks more than it actually is because unlike most people, I keep selected boxes for packing away stereo and other sound equipment in case of the eventual move. Actually, I don't want to move. I'm totally content here. Things may change but barring any unforeseen circumstances, this place is pretty cool. A secluded hide away, time warped from the present madness of a world that can never satisfy it's desires seventh place with a total of 16.38 pounds and a large fish of 2.97 pounds.

The Kingswood Knights finished with a weight of 15.46 pounds, which put them in ninth place overall. Their largest fish was 2.32 pounds.

The Moultonborough Panthers finished in 16th place overall with five fish for a total of 7.03 pounds and a large fish of 1.44 pounds and Gilford finished in 22nd place overall with three fish for a total of 4.3 pounds and a large fish of 1.92 pounds.

Sunapee came home as the winning team with a total of 22.15 pounds and also had the largest fish of the day using a credit card.

I'm half a mile from nowhere. A short walk into the woods and my only connections to this world are what I'm wearing, or carrying. Traffic sounds get muffled by the trees and become rarer as summer wanes. Sitting out there on a downed tree, a feeling of total peace pours over me.

When I lived in the city, I could always find that space too, it was just a little harder to find. There are just too many distractions and surprises constantly bombarding your consciousness. Even if only other people like yourself looking likewise. I found mornings to be good peace times. Quiet places off the beaten tracks were good too. Possible even when surrounded totally by trash. Ever woken up in a dump? They're pretty peaceful in the morning.

Yesterday I returned to do more painting at the second house. There I found my old bucket half filled with rainwater. It was perfectly placed behind a tree where it wasn't visible from my quick drive past vantage point.

at 3.78 pounds. Keene, Mascoma, Monadnock, Souhegan, Bishop Guertin, Kearsarge, Fall Mountain and Hillsboro-Deering will be joining the Timber Wolves and Knights in the state tournament.

The state tournament will take place this weekend, Saturday, Oct. 2, at Lake Wentworth in Wolfeboro. Teams will take off from the Mast Landing both launch on Crescent Lake and weigh-in will take place on the Wentworth State Park Beach on Route 109.

Sports Editor Joshua Spaulding can be reached at 279-4516, ext. 155 or josh@salmonpress.news.

My tired legs just didn't want to carry me out of the truck to wander up to the house. So now I'll have four inserts.

They'll sit, nested together down in the furnace room among lots of my other stuff waiting for me to make use of them. Adding an incremental bit more to my life's clutter.
