For a quick but quality meal, make The Hungry Dog your next stop for lunch

BY DONNA RHODES

drhodes@salmonpress.com

BELMONT — The Hungry Dog hot dog stand in Belmont is rapidly becoming the go-to place to grab a bit to eat on the road on a busy day or stop and relax beneath one of their shaded picnic tables while enjoying selections from their classic lunch menu.

Owned and operated by the father-daughter team of Brian and Samantha Watterson, The Hungry Dog opened last October after a lot of careful thought and preparation.

Brian's cousin has owned a popular hot dog stand in Marlboro for more than 20 years. The establishment is so popular that his customers have voted it to be one of the Top 10 of its kind in the state. Using that as a business model, Brian and his daughter began working on their own plans for a similar eatery in Belmont.

"This wasn't an idea we took lightly. We put a lot of time into developing the business," he said.

Brian already owns property on the corner of Route 106 and N. Main Street so he felt they already had an ideal location for such a venture. His daughter is a graduate of UNH's Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics and agreed with the decision.

They then went in search of an authentic hot dog stand and found a shiny red cooking trailer in Pennsylvania that was just what they were looking for. They researched vendors for their products, added some picnic tables along the lawn and got ready to meet the public.

While Brian keeps things going during the week, Samantha, who also has a fulltime job in Boston, joins him on the weekends when things get extra busy.

"We draw a lot of customers here from the Lakes Region and besides our regulars, we also have tourists stopping by on their way to and from the lakes. It was kind of quiet over the winter but it picked up in the spring and this summer we've been really busy now that people know we're here," Samantha said.

Sanbornton selectmen announce hiring of new town administrator

drhodes@salmonpress.com

SANBORNTON — Selectmen in Sanbornton announced last Friday that they have hired Katie Ambrose of Loudon as their new Town Administrator.

For the past year, Sanbornton had contracted with Municipal Resources, Inc. for a temporary town administrator as they considered how to move forward in the future following the departure of their previous administrator in 2015.

This spring they advertised for the position and after examining numerous applications and interviewing their final applicants, the board made the decision last week to offer Ambrose the position.

In a brief statement to the press, the board explained that Ambrose will soon be coming to Sanbornton after serving for the past three-and-a-half years as Hooksett's Project Coordinator in the Administrative Department. A start date was not announced.

Ambrose's online professional profile states she has, among other things, performed "technical, analytical and administrative support functions involving in depth knowledge of Town policies." During her tenure in Hooksett she also researched and implemented complex projects, and worked on procuring and implementing grants for the town. In addition to that, the job included work in public relations, vendor communications, website management and budget and equipment management for the town's information technology.

"We look forward to her arrival and joining the management team for the Town of Sanbornton," the board stated in its announcement.

Head-on collision claims life of Northfield woman

TILTON — On Aug. 1 at approximately 4:40 p.m., the Tilton Police Department received a 911 call via "On-Star" through 911 dispatch in Concord of a vehicle operating erratically traveling eastbound which was now just involved in a head on collision in the area of 748 Laconia Rd., just west of the Roadway Inn. Following the original 911 call, there were several more 911 calls of a serious accident in that area with entrapment.

When Police and Fire arrived they found two vehicles on scene with heavy damage. The Tilton Northfield Fire Department EMS checked the vehicle with the most damage and found the operator badly trapped inside the vehicle. They immediately confirmed she had very serious injuries from the accident and was deceased. Police and Fire worked several hours to investigate the accident and removed the trapped occupants from the ve-

Blueberry season in full swing at Sanbornton's Surowiec Farm

drhodes@salmonpress.com

SANBORNTON — The sweetest part about summer in New Hampshire is the bounty of fruits and vegetables provided by local farmers, and with blueberry season in full swing, Surowiec Farm in Sanbornton has all you need to prepare not only your favorite meals but even desserts, smoothies and some delicious blueberry pancakes that will get any day off to the right start.

In 1992, Stephen Surowiec planted their blueberry fields, and today, he and his staff maintain 600 bushes hicle. This left Laconia Road closed for several hours, and traffic was detoured through Sanbornton.

From our initial investigation and witness statements, we believe a 2003 Dodge Caravan, color silver, was driving eastbound on Laconia Road in the 700 block when it collided with a 2003 Ford F450 pick-up color green with a flatbed which was traveling westbound.

The operator of the 2003 Dodge Caravan, who pronounced dead at the scene was a Josephine Lepelley, age 72, of Northfield, and the operator of the 2003 Ford pick up was a Mathew Otto of Belmont. There were no other passengers in either vehicle. The Dodge Caravan had two small dogs in it which both survived and were reunited with the victim's family.

The Belknap County Traffic Accident Reconstruction Team (TAR Team) responded and assisted the Tilton Police Department. The accident is still under investigation and anyone with information and or who witnessed the accident should contact the Tilton Police Department at 286-4442.

Young cancer survivor's sailing wish is granted through local efforts

BY ERIN PLUMMER

erplummer@salmonpress.com

A seven-year-old cancer survivor will be able to have adventures around the lake with his family in his own sailboat thanks to the efforts of the Make-A-Wish Foundation and some generous local people.

On Sunday afternoon, Carter Mock of Amherst and his family ended their daylong treasure hunt at Fay's Boat Yard with the reveal of Carter's own sailboat "Go-Cart."

"He's getting accustomed to his prosthesis and feels really great," said his dad John Mock.

His mom, Danielle Mock, said Carter is as active now as he was before. She said while he has been having a rough year, he has been full of hope.

His family owned a small sailboat that John Mock said his son loved, but it was sold last year.

The family met with a representative from Make-A-Wish and went through an application process. Carter's wish was to have a sailboat the whole family could sleep in and camp out on the lake. John Mock said his son loved the idea of going on adventures.

Carter underwent rotationplasty, a surgery where the afflicted portion of his leg amputated and the lower portion of his leg with foot was reattached to his leg backward. His foot now serves as a knee and allows him to use a prosthesis with a wide range of motion.

Carter finished chemotherapy in early June and his parents say he is doing great.

"It's been a really fun day," Danielle Mock said.

Roy Carsen said

BY ERIN PLUMMER

Young women and teens showed their talents, poise, and personalities during the annual Miss Lakes Region and Miss Lakes Region's Outstanding Teen competitions.

On Saturday night, 12 young women and six teens came to the Gilford Youth Center to compete for the titles, which are part of the Miss America Scholarship Program.

Isabella Baer, Arianna Nelson, Kaitlin Soucy, Brooke Gatchall, Shawna Gile, Kaley Missert, Brittany Sulham, Emilie Tonucci, Laura Patnaude, Emily Vandeboncoeur, Elizabeth Henry, and Ashley Marsh competed for the title of Miss Lakes Region. Emma Miner, Emma Keenan, Nicole Bahder, Grace Henry, Sophia Joyal, and Paige Helmig vied for the title of Miss Lakes Region's Outstanding Teen.

The competition is under the direction of Wayne and Debbie Sevin. Each of the contestants took part in the competitions for talent, eveningwear, and on-stage question. The Miss competitors competed in Lifestyle and Fitness in Swimwear and the teen competitors took part in Lifestyle and Fitness in Sportswear.

This year's Miss Lakes Region is Elizabeth Henry of Durham, a senior at Portsmouth Christian Academy.

She said it was "amazing" to get the title.

"I've been working so hard for this and I'm excited to go to Miss New Hampshire for the first time," Henry said.

Henry took part in the Teen competition for two years; this is her first time competing for the Miss competition.

Her platform is "Anti-Bullying: Take Action." Henry said she was bullied in middle school.

"I took a negative thing and turned it into a positive," Henry said.

Her program especially addresses bullying through social media and will teach kids how to use social media responsibly. Henry said she wants to speak to kids in elementary schools and middle schools about the impact of social media.

There are other duties she is looking forward to as well.

"I'm so excited to sing on the Miss New Hampshire stage and to work with these two amazing directors," Henry said.

The first runner up was Laura Patnaude, who received a $300 scholarship, and the second runner up was Kaley Missert, who received $200. Emily Vandeboncoeur was voted the People's Choice.

The new Miss Lakes Region's Outstanding Teen is Sophia Joyal of Laconia, a junior at Laconia High School.

Joyal said winning was "incredible," especially for a local girl. She said she has always wanted to win a local competition. She has previously taken part in competitions in oth-

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

The last of the Coashaukees, and walking the international line

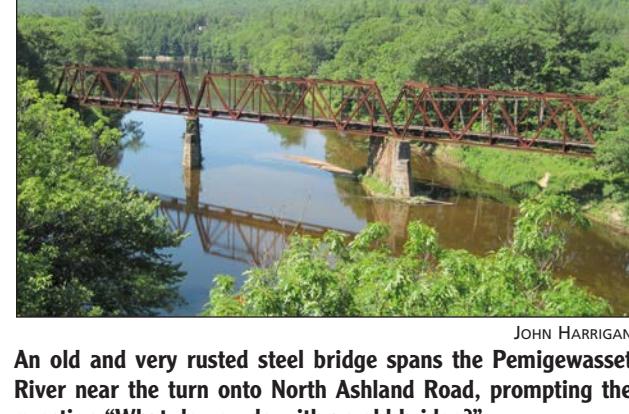

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

I wonder if it is worth reminding anyone that the remains of Metallak, the last (that we know of) of the Coashaukees (hence Coös), are supposedly under a tombstone in the North Hill Cemetery (Creampoke) just northeast of Colebrook, off Route 145. That is, unless they are not under the stone and are instead behind the cemetery fence, as asserted by the late J.C. Kenneth Poore, whose father buried the old Indian?

Whatever the case, this piece of landscape is either in the right of way for the proposed Northern Pass project, or close enough for government work.

These questions and stories spool out all along the route of this unneeded and unwanted project, from Pittsburg to Stark and through Easton and the White Mountain National Forest to Campton, and then down the lovely Pemigewasset valley to Plymouth and Concord. We are evidently expected to be supine and sublime about a for-pr-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In a recent letter to the editor, Sanbornton resident Bill Whalen asked why the Sanbornton selectmen found it necessary to hold 11 non-public meetings in the last three months. Rather than give a simple response to a simple question, the Selectmen "strongly urge" a local newspaper to print a "correction" to what they perceive is a libelous headline for the letter, and that the selectmen "and our town lawoyer" await your correction.

I wasn't particularly interested in the issue of non-public meetings until I read our selectmen's threat of legal action. Now I would like to add my

To the Editor:

The Belknap County Board of Commissioners has accomplished much during the last 17 months. We have shown fiscal responsibility from the outset. In 2015, we inherited a proposed budget from the previous Board that would have raised county taxes by 10 percent. We cut the increase to 1.3 percent. Throughout fiscal 2015, we continued to look for savings and ended the year with a $695,000 surplus. For 2016, we proposed a zero percent increase (no tax increase). We continue to work hard for the taxpayer to find additional savings for 2016.

The long overdue Community Corrections Center is currently being built and will be ready for operation in the fall of 2017. It will include programs, specially designed for our county, to combat substance abuse and to curb recidivism. The previous Board of Commissioners promoted a costly 42-million-dollar solution. We chose to pursue the "Sullivan County Model" of repairing the existing jail and adding a community corrections wing, not to exceed $8 million.

We have reduced the costs associated with employee health insurance in two ways. First, in 2015, we substituted a lower cost, similar coverage that substantially lowered the total cost number. Second, the county negotiated three new collective bargaining agreements with county employees, which through additional changes in health insurance

Cats are not disposable but all too often at New Hampshire Humane Society, we witness the results of a thrown away companion, lost in the shuffle of human lives upended.

Killian was abandoned with six others, rescued by Animal Control and transported to our shelter in April of this year.

Handsome rugged, stocky and self-assured, don't let his tough guy demeanor fool you. His wizened furry face tells you, if you listen, that life hasn't treated him well, crunched down ears from outdoor living is proof Killian has experienced much in his four plus years.

He is a love actually, very willing to bask in a sunny spot, rather than being outdoors. Cuddling with people who can see what a sweetheart he is really is all he wishes for these days. Not terribly fond of dogs, perhaps he's had some bad experiences, he deserves to be king, in his own kingdom, spoiled and cossetted forever voice to Mr. Whalen's and ask the same question, especially since a July 26 meeting at the fire house, increased the non-public sessions to a total of 12.

Also, I have a few questions to the selectmen of my own. Did you seek a legal opinion before you wrote you letter threatening a local newspaper with legal action? If so, who paid for the bill? Do you think that Sanbornton residents are going to remain mute while you run up legal bills for a perceived slight? On second thought, scratch the last question. I know the answer.

No one has worked harder for Belknap County than Hunter Taylor coverage provided more overall cost savings.

To that end, I ask you to support the candidacy of Hunter Taylor in the 3rd District (Alton, Center Harbor, Gilford and Meredith).

Commissioner Taylor has worked tirelessly and successfully for Belknap County since his installation as Commissioner in early 2015. He was the first person to suggest using the Sullivan County example as the model for the start of our jail planning. In addition, it was Hunter Taylor who headed the county negotiating team that reached the contractual agreements with the county employee bargaining units. Not only did we end up with good results for all concerned, we did it without paying an outside negotiator an exorbitant amount of money to lead and advise our team. There is no one working harder for Belknap County than Hunter Taylor, and I hope you will vote for him in the Republican primary on Sept. 13.

With Hunter Taylor joining me on the Belknap County Board of Commissioners, I am confident we can keep our county taxes among the very lowest in the state, while at the same time providing constructive leadership for a transparent and responsive county government.

July regional home sales rose less than 1 percent year-over-year on volume of $88 million with sales year-to-date, however, up more than 14 percent on volume of $490 million, an increase of nearly 14 percent from the previous year, figures show.

Meanwhile, month-to-month transactions in Belknap, Carroll and Grafton counties were down sharply, falling more than 19 percent from June to 290 closed sales for the month, compared to 360 in June, 2015, according to sales data supplied by the New England Real Estate Network Multiple Listing Service.

Despite the month-to-month drop in sales, the median home price in the tri-county region inched up 2.5 percent through the first six months of the year to $205,000, an annualized increase of 6 percent,

July sales gains modest, YTD closings up suggesting a market that continues to firm to the delight of home sellers.

New July listings dropped almost 20 percent YoY to 1,984 units, following a decline in June of 19%. YTD, new listings were down 11 percent to 3,697 housing units compared 4,163 units listed during the same period last year, NEREN figures show.

Fewer new listings combined with increased sales are a formula for rising prices. Housing supply in the three-county region remained just under 10 months at the close of July with the market absorbing an average of 271 units per month over the previous 12 months, according to NEREN figures.

"Although inventory is still being stretched thin in many areas, low mortgage rates coupled with higher wages have built a relatively steady housing marketplace," the New Hampshire Association of REALTORS® said in its most recent housing report.

"How long that can continue without fresh supply remains an important question, but conditions are seemingly good enough for serious buyers."

The NHAR report described activity this year as an "exciting period of home buying and selling," adding that the housing market has lived up to predictions of robust sales activity in 2016.

Across the state, home sales were up above 20%, YTD compared to 2015, on sales volume of $1.54 billion, an increase of 23 percent YoY, NHAR figures show.

The median home price statewide moved up nearly 3 percent for the year to $239,000. Housing affordability declined 7 percent, according to NHAR; meaning housing grew more expensive relative to the state's median household income. The supply of housing inventory across New Hampshire shrunk to 8.4 months, a decline of 15 percent over the previous 12 months.

Area builders are optimistic that a recovering existing home market characterized by fewer choices will spur new home construction, which dwindled dramatically with nation's financial collapse in 2008 and has yet to return in large numbers. In the Lakes Region, many say, existing homes can still be purchased for less money than the cost to construct new homes.

Carroll County rose above Belknap and Grafton counties in July home sales with 103 closed transactions, an increase of 17 percent YoY on dollar volume up 15.6 percent to $30 million, figures show. Sales through the first seven months of the year were also up a healthy 15 percent on dollar volume of $163.9 million, up 25 percent from the same period in 2015.

The July median home price in Carroll County rose a dramatic 14 percent YoY to $239,000. The median price YTD was up 8 percent to $213,500, according to NEREN. Housing supply at the end of July stood at 10 months on average monthly sales of 94 housing units over the previous 12 months.

Grafton County posted no sales gain in July with 95 closed transaction unchanged from a year ago. Home sales for the year were up 6.8 percent to 584 closed transactions on dollar volume of $155.8 million, up nearly 3 percent. New listings posted in the red at nearly 6 percent below the same period last year.

The median price of a Grafton County home at the close of July was $210,000, up 5.5 percent over July 2015, according to NEREN. Housing supply there at the close of the month remained unchanged at 10.5 months of available units for sale based on average monthly sales of 89 housing units.

Belknap County, a sales leader through June, saw its July sales numbers fall more than 12% to 92 closed transactions YoY on volume of $29.6 million, down almost 21 percent from a year ago, according to NEREN. To date, however, Belknap home sales remained up a healthy 22 percent to 574 closed transactions while dollar volume compared to the same period last year was up 16.5 percent to $170.3 million.

Housing supply there at the close of July stood at eight months on average monthly sales of 89 units, the lowest inventory of any county in the tri-county region, NEREN figures show.

Frances B. Jackson, 83

CENTER SANDWICH — Frances B. Jackson, 83, died July 29, 2016 at the Exeter Center after a period of declining health. She was born June 2, 1933 in Plymouth, daughter of the late Robert M. Berry and Marion (Nichols) Berry.

Frances grew up in and was a longtime resident of Center Sandwich. She was a graduate of Quimby School, and later attended Laconia Business School. In the early 1950's, Frances married Howard B. Jackson, and they were married for many years. She had several careers, first as a weaver for Aytote's Designery. Later, Frances was employed for many years for Anna Lee Dolls as a talented doll assembler. Lastly, she was owner and operator of the Wentworth Country Crafts. Frances had a passion for art, and she was known for her skill in pottery and water color painting. Frances was a member of the League of New Hampshire Craftsmen. Her other fondness was for the outdoors. Whether she was gardening on the farm, growing her flowers and herbs or caring for her two horses, "Lady" and "Firefly"; she was most happy in those moments. She could often be found providing horseback riding lessons for the many locals that were interested. She also resided several years in Gilford and Belmont.

She is survived by her son and daughter-in-law, Christopher and Diane Jackson of Exeter; four grandchildren, Christopher Jackson and his significant other, Devon of Barrington, Heather Jackson and her husband, Sean of Bend, Ore., Bobby Jackson and his significant other, Anneliese of Bend, Ore., and Rebecca Giannini and her husband, John of Aptos, Calif.; two sisters, Judy Walter and her husband, David of Stratham; sister, Joan Cook and her husband, Wilbur of C. Sandwich; several nieces and nephews; and her uncle, Roger Berry of Conway.

Private services will be held for the family.

Hal was born and raised in Franklin, and graduated from Franklin High School. He went on to graduate in the first class from New Hampshire Vocational Technical College with an Associate's degree in industrial electronics. He worked at Sprague Electric, Material Research Furnaces and retired from General Electric.

Hal was a man who did things his way. He loved the outdoors, and at one time loved to hunt and fish. He enjoyed watching thunderstorms and wildlife of all kinds. His retirement was filled with time riding his motorcycle with his wife and traveling. Throughout his life, whether his travels brought him to the next town over in New Hampshire, or Washington, D.C., Lake George, Mexico and most recently on cruises. Hal always brought back stories and many photos. He loved fireworks and spent many years putting on his own firework displays with his best friend Warren. Hal will be remembered as a wonderful husband, brother, father and papa. He was a loyal friend to many and never hesitated to help others with his time.

He leaves behind his wife of 36 years, Lori Leach (Grund); his two daughters, Joslyn Darling and Candice Leach; son-in-law Michael Frantz; and three grandchildren, Austin Kenney, Alexis Girouard and Elijah Frantz. He also leaves behind his brother, John Leach, and sister-in-law Diana Leach.

"Footloose" opening at Interlakes Summer Theater

MEREDITH — Interlakes is finishing off this summer's season with a show that will be performed for the first time ever in the New Hampshire Lakes Region, "Footloose," opening on Aug. 9.

This classic tale of teenage rebellion and repression features a delightful combination of dance choreography and realistic and touching performances.

When teenager Ren McCormack and his family move from big-city Chicago to a small Midwestern town, he's in for a real case of culture shock. Though he tries hard to fit in, the streetwise Ren can't quite believe he's living in a place where rock music and dancing are illegal. However, there is one small pleasure: Ariel Moore, a troubled but lovely blonde with a jealous boyfriend. And a Bible-thumping minister, who is responsible for keeping the town dance-free. Ren and his classmates want to do away with this ordinance, especially since the senior prom is around the corner, but only Ren has the courage to initiate a battle to abolish the outmoded ban and revitalize the spirit of the repressed townspeople.

Performances will be at Interlakes Auditorium 1 Laker Lane, on Tuesday, Aug. 9 through Aug. 14. Performances are 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 5 p.m. on Sunday. Matinees are Wednesday and Thursday at 2 p.m. Tickets are available at the box office Monday-Saturday 10 am-5 pm and Sundays noon-4 p.m. Ticket prices are $25-$33. Call 707-6035 to reserve your seats. Don't miss out on this exciting final show of the season!

Interlakes Summer Theatre has brought Broadway to this vacation resort town for locals and vacationers alike for the past nine years. Each summer, the producing director, Nancy Barry, leads an artistic team from Boston and New York in presenting a wide variety of musicals. Don't miss out on these wonderful opportunities to see great shows that feature great musical and artistic talent. Give the box office a call to purchase your tickets and our friendly staff members will ensure that you get the best seats possible.

A common situation as investors is that we do not want to miss the ride up, but certainly do not want to experience the pain of the correction. So what do we do? I would answer that with a series of questions. First, I would ask if the money in the market was retirement money and if so how far are you from retirement? If it is not retirement money, what is your risk tolerance and do you need this money liquid in the next few years? If you were saving for the down payment on a home or if this money was earmarked for kids college, then you know that you may need to take some or all of this money out of a risk scenario or at least mitigate that risk.

Another interesting observation is; that there is a good amount of merger and acquisition or M and A that is in the works. A lot of M and A is also a statistical precursor to a sharp market decline.

Just as I pointed out last week that the "smart money" often sells into market rallies fueled by the "dumb money", and I only point this out because readers of this column may think that I am very bearish in a market that continues to climb. Bearish I am not, cautious I am. My feeling is that a broad market correction is eminent. As I have stated in the past; lack of volatility is the pre-cursor to volatility, and the complacency in our markets right now is high with all that is happening around the globe.

A potential market top is in the making. The timing is not clear cut, but a quick acceleration to the upside has got my attention. Don't be afraid to take some profits, hedge with options or implement inverse Exchange Traded Funds. Sometimes these scenarios take a little time to play out, but they often play out big!

more are their delicious steamed hot dogs, Italian sausage, cups or bowls of hot chili, and nachos served with chili and cheese. Each can be ordered with a number toppings like onions, sauerkraut, bacon bits, chili and cheese at no extra charge.

"There's not a lot of places where you can get quality steamed hot dogs at a reasonable price," Brian said, "and our sausages are the same brand they sell at Fenway Park. People love them."

And the prices are certainly reasonable. With the most expensive item on the menu selling for only $4, a great lunch can cost as little as $6 or less with even a soda, bottled water or flavored iced tea to wash it all down.

The Wattersons are enjoying their new family-run business and already are considering ways to expand on it sometime down the road, but one thing they know will remain the same.

"We hope to build out a little more, maybe add a few new things, but we plan on staying in this same location where we can be reliable to our customers," said Samantha.

The Hungry Dog now has a Facebook following and can also be found on both Instagram and Twitter. The business is located at 21 Main St. in Belmont and open Tuesdays through Sundays from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. All sales are on a cash only basis.

that now thrive on nearly an acre of land. As high bush, cultivated berries, they are loaded with fruit and easy to reach as people venture out onto the field to pick their own.

"We've got a good crop this year. Since we started picking (two weeks ago), we've been really busy with customers who like picking their own berries and enjoying the view from up here, too," said his wife Katie Surowiec.

The blueberry season generally runs from July until early September, with the most bountiful crop available now.

"Prime picking is really between late July until the first couple of weeks in August but we have berries that ripen early, mid-season and late in the season. In a good year we can pick until Labor Day," said Surowiec.

This year's dry conditions have made for somewhat smaller berries in some varieties, she said, but they are still delicious.

Besides the blueberries, fresh picked raspberries and blackberries are also ripening.

"Rather than have the public come out to these fields though, we pick those berries ourselves and sell them fresh in the farm stand," Surowiec said.

Any other needs for a great home meal can also be found at their onsite market, ranging from local meats, eggs, milk and vegetables to honey, syrup, fresh breads and other products.

Coming next to Surowiec Farm will be apple season, where many of their semi-dwarf trees, such as Paula Red, Ginger Gold, Macintosh and Cortland will be available for people to pick or purchase from their farm stand throughout the fall months.

When coming to pick your own blueberries, picking containers are provided at no charge for those who need them; they only ask that dogs be left at home or in the vehicle for health and safety purposes.

Belmont police respond to second head-on collision in less than a week

BY DONNA RHODES

drhodes@salmonpress.com

BELMONT — For the second time in less than a week, Belmont Police Department was called to the scene of yet another head-on crash on Route 106 when 19-year-old Alexander Christie of Broken Down Drive in Concord collided with 57-year-old Robert Lombardi of Moultonborough Neck Road in Moultonborough. Lombardi was operating a 2001 Mack truck at the time.

According to police reports, Christie was driving northbound on Route 106 on Friday, July 29, and "for unknown reasons," veered into the southbound lane where the collision occurred as Lombardi was headed south along the busy state highway. As a result of the accident Christie received non-life threatening injuries but was transported by Belmont Fire Department to Lakes Region General Hospital for medical treatment. There was no report of Lombardi being injured in the crash.

A New Hampshire

State Police Commercial Vehicle Enforcement unit also responded to the scene to assist the Belmont Police in their investigation. Both departments feel neither speed nor alcohol appear to be factors in the crash.

"This is the second head on crash on Route 106 in this area in five days," reported Belmont Police Lt. Richard Mann. "We encourage motorists to be very aware of your surroundings and traffic flow when driving, and always wear your seat belts."

The accident remains under investigation and anyone who may have witnessed the crash or has further information on the accident is encouraged to contact Belmont Police Officer Derek Grey at 267-8350.

Revolutionary War adventure comes to the Playhouse stage

MEREDITH — While Broadway audiences are lining up for tickets to "Hamilton," Lakes Region audiences will have the opportunity to see the Revolutionary War recounted from the perspective of a slightly less well-known historical figure this summer. The Winnipesaukee Playhouse is proud to present the world premiere of "The Almost True and Truly Remarkable Adventures of Israel R. Potter," American Patriot, a rollicking romp through the Revolution! It runs from August 3-13 and Playhouse audiences will be able to say they saw it first, prior to its New York debut!

In the 1840s, "Moby

Dick" author Herman Melville stumbled upon an autobiography called "Life and Remarkable Adventures of Israel R. Potter." The autobiography, about a Massachusetts farmer-turned Revolutionary War soldier, was adapted by Melville into his eighth novel. The biography was picked up by playwrights Joe Bravaco and Larry Rosler, two life-long friends who turned the novel into a fast-paced adventure play where audiences will follow Israel from his Massachusetts farm to far-flung destinations, meeting various historical figures like Ethan Allen, Benjamin Franklin and George

Mike Newman as Israel Potter
Washington along the way.

The play fell across the desk of the Playhouse's Artistic Director, Neil Pankhurst, who knew at once it was a great fit for Lakes Region audiences.

"This play exemplifies the kind of work we have become known for: intricate, fast-paced adventures where actors take on various roles, sometimes just swapping out a hat or a coat," Pankhurst said, "plus it has a great deal of humor and heart. Of course, with 'Hamilton,' the Revolutionary War is a hot topic on the stage right now. 'Israel Potter' is a great way for parents to introduce their older children to the history surrounding the Revolution. It introduces some big players in the founding of this country in fun ways."

The Playhouse's production is directed by NH Theatre Award-winning director Matt Cahoon and features a mix of familiar and new actors to the Playhouse stage. The pivotal role of Israel Potter will be played by Mike Newman, last seen in Peter and the Starcatcher. He'll be joined by a terrific ensemble comprised of Nicholas Wilder, Rebecca Tucker, Molly Parker Myers, James Hesse, and Brent Alan Burlington. Though it's not a musical per se, the play does contain a lot of singing, mostly in the form of patriotic Revolutionary-era songs.

Financial Tips for Single Parents

Parenting is never an easy job — and, unfortunately, it can be especially difficult if you're doing it on your own. As a single parent, you face many challenges, not the least of which are the financial ones. But by following the suggestions below, you may be able to make life easier — for you and your children.

- Create a "safety net." On any given day, you could incur an unexpected — and unexpectedly large — expense, such as major car repair, a new furnace or a toothache-inducing bill from your dentist. Your daily cash flow may not be enough to cover these bills, and you won't want to tap into some of your long-term investments or retirement accounts. So you'll need to build a "safety net," or emergency fund, containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, held in a liquid, low-risk account.

- Purchase adequate life insurance. With sufficient life insurance, you can provide your survivors with a level of comfort and security. You might have heard that you require coverage worth seven or eight times your annual earnings, but there's really no one "right" answer for everyone. A financial professional can assess your situation and recommend an appropriate amount, and type, of life insurance.

- Consider disability insurance. As a single parent, without the support of a spouse's income, you could run into serious financial difficulties if you were to become ill or injured and had to miss work for an extended period. Your employer might offer disability insurance as an employee benefit, but it may not be enough to meet your needs. So you could consider adding private coverage.

- Save for retirement. It's not always easy to simultaneously save for your retirement and your children's college education. You will have to decide on your own priorities, but keep in mind that your children may have access to grants, loans and scholarships, whereas you have to rely on yourself for your retirement income. Consequently, you may want to put in as much as you can afford to the retirement accounts available to you, such as an IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored plan.

Establish your estate plans. All parents need to develop their estate plans — but it may be even more essential for single parents. Your estate plans should include at least these three documents: a will, a power of attorney and a health care power of attorney.

A will allows you to name a guardian for your children and specifies how you will pass your assets on to them. A power of attorney gives someone the legal authority to make financial and other decisions for you, while a health care power of attorney authorizes someone to make medical decisions on your behalf if you become incapacitated.

You may also need to create other arrangements — such as a living trust — but in any case, you will need to work with your tax and legal professionals to develop comprehensive estate plans.

Single parenthood can offer every bit as much joy as any other family situation, but it will require you to plan carefully and take advantage of every opportunity to help ensure financial stability for your children and financial freedom for yourself.

LACONIA—Join Lakes Region Public Access Television at 10:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday night (Aug. 5 & 6) for our "LRPA After Dark" presentation of 1936's seldom-seen crime drama "Great Guy," starring James Cagney and Mae Clarke.

The plot for "Great Guy" is fairly straightforward. Retired prize-fighter Johnny Cave (Cagney), engaged to his girlfriend Janet Henry (Clarke) and trying to make a decent living, accepts the position of Deputy Chief in the New York City Bureau of Weights and Measures. Soon enough, he discovers that his department is filled with corruption, deceptive business practices and lies, all of which are cheating hard-working families struggling through the final years of the Great Depression. Cave takes on the dishonest bureaucrats and businessmen, rebuffing threats and bribes, and getting into more than his share of physical altercations. His career, his life with Janet, and his future are all under attack, but what can an ex-boxer and all-around "great guy" do, except to fight for what he believes is right?

"Great Guy" was Cagney's first film at Grand National Pictures, one of the so-called "Poverty Row" Hollywood studios that specialized in low budget B-movies. Cagney had been out of the spotlight for more than a year due to litigation over his walkout at Warner Bros. He was sick of being typecast as the "tough guy" and wanted more control over the types of roles he was being offered. The production values on "Great Guy" are decidedly low, especially by comparison to the movies that Cagney had made up until that time, but the storyline is solid and entertaining, and the performances, particularly those from the two leads and the many supporting actors, are solid. The viewer will really feel the influence of the Great Depression on this film: the average American was feeling the economic pinch, and our hero fought for their everyday struggles. If you're a Cagney lover, then "Great Guy" is for you. It showcases the actor's unique charisma and his reflection of American integrity, doing what's right, even if the costs are high. It has been described by some film devotees as the "most off-beat film noir that you'll ever see." How can you resist? So grab your popcorn and meet us after dark for this rare gem of a film.

You can't find television like this anywhere but LRPA TV, MetroCast Channel 25. Not a subscriber? Then log onto Live Stream through our website (www.lrpa.org) where you can catch all the fun.

Discover Gilmanton's First Village, Saturday, Aug. 13

GILMANTON — The Gilmanton Historical Society will host a tour of two buildings, essential to Gilmanton's first village, Lower Gilmanton. The tour will begin with a visit to the Kelley Corner School, Gilmanton's first school and the only one still owned by the school district.

Meet at the Kelley Corner School, just off Route 129 about a quarter mile south of the junction with 107, at 10 a.m. The tour will proceed from the school house to the Baptist Church on Route 107. Along the way tour guides will point out some of the oldest homes remaining in Gilman-ton.

The first settlers in Town, Benjamin and Hannah Bean Mudgett, arrived in the winter of 1761 and established a homestead on Pancake Hill Road. Others soon followed, and a thriving village developed. The school at Kelley Corner was authorized in 1778 by Town meeting vote. It was the first of as many as 18 throughout the Town. The Baptist Church was organized in 1778, and the present building was constructed in 1842.

This program is a field trip, part of the Gilmanton Historical Society's 2016 summer

The programs are free and open to the public. The hall is handicapped accessible. The Society's

Belknap Mill showcases incredible history on the NH Heritage Trail

LACONIA — Many if not all—museums on the New Hampshire Heritage Trail boast a unique history that rivals that of any comparable institution anywhere. Located in Laconia in New Hampshire's Lakes Region, Belknap Mill is no exception, as it is the only unaltered textile mill in the nation.

Saved from "the wrecking ball in the early 1970's and placed on the National Register of Historical Places," Belknap Mill has since become known as the "Gateway to Laconia" and holds the distinction of being the Official Meetinghouse of New Hampshire. Today, Belknap Mill offers two unique museum areas—the Knitting Room with exhibits that illustrate the Mill's operation and the Powerhouse, which celebrates the history of hydro-power in New England through hands on exhibits that explain the hydro-power sources used there.

As with many museums on The Trail, Belknap Mill may be used for private and community gatherings, as it features a 2,800 square foot function room that Tara Shore, operations manager at Belknap Mill, said has become especially popular for weddings.

"Each spring, we also host up to 1,200 New Hampshire elementary school children for our nationally recognized industrial heritage program, My First Day of Work at the Belknap Mill," she said. "This interactive all day program immerses the students in a day at the Mill in 1918, covering topics of economics, science, math, and history. Each child gets paid accordingly, $0.10 – the rate of pay for a day of work at that time."

Having recently just assumed her new role at Belknap Mill, Shore she "loves the uniqueness of each day" and expressed excitement at helping advance its mission.

I drove Anders to about as remote a spot as you can find in New Hampshire, a beaver dam on an old logging road up near where Maine, New Hampshire and the Province of Quebec meet, and dropped him off to hike up to the border, just up a ridge, and wend his way westward. I haven't heard from him since, but assume that (a) he got out of the woods (he's an accomplished back-country trekker, and (b) I will.

SPORTS

Impressive senior year a fitting conclusion for Harmon

BY JEFF LAJOIE

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

TILTON – Ask any coach at Winnisquam Regional High School, and they'll tell you they wish they had a hundred Tim Harmons.

The recent graduate and Northfield resident capped off an amazing athletic career with the Bears this year. The three-sport star took home All-State honors in each of his three seasons as a senior, leading Winnisquam to historic successes on the field in an action packed final year. He'll attend the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, studying sport management in the Isenberg School of Management.

Harmon's unforgettable senior year began last fall on the football field. The Bears ran the table undefeated in the regular season, capturing the Division III South Conference title before falling in the semifinals to Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough in a heartbreaker at home. Harmon took home All-State First Team honors as arguably the top wide receiver in the state, proving to be a favorite target of quarterback Christian Serrano.

"We stayed motivated all year and didn't lose a game but once we got to the playoffs, we had the confidence and when things started to go south, people got nervous," Harmon explained. "It was weird, we had never experienced (losing) this year until that final game. It was my last game, I'll never play football with this team again. But I wouldn't trade the people I played with for the world."

Harmon's football career began way back in second grade, when he was a member of the Franklin-Tilton Falcons ("I was probably about 50 pounds then," he recalled with a laugh). He was a quarterback up through middle school, though he ultimately decided to play golf in favor of football as a freshman attending Bishop Brady. But when returned to Winnisquam as a sophomore, he decided to go back out for football.

had the ability to run with the ball. I always wanted to be a receiver. I could catch the ball, understood what routes were what."

As Harmon developed as a wide receiver, so too, did the Bears offense. With Serrano shifting from running back to quarterback as a senior, the combination proved quite fruitful.

"Winnisquam as a program has always been a 'line up and run the football, power kind of team,'" Harmon said. "We had never really experienced throwing the ball all that much. I had two touchdowns last year (as a junior) and then that went up to 12 this year in the regular season. Once we had the quarterback to do it, we decided we could mix it up."

Harmon's connection with Serrano was undeniable. The pair caused havoc for opposing defenses, and the Bears put up points in bunch-

Former Belmont star TJ Hennessey will continue his soccer career overseas this fall, playing for the GPS International Academy based in London, England.

JEFF LAJOIE

TJ Hennessey was Belmont's leading goal scorer during a senior season that saw him selected to the Division III All-State First Team.

Hennessey set for international experience

By JEFF LAJOIE

jlaioie@salmonpress.com

BELMONT – There was no question that TJ Hennessey was going to continue his soccer playing career after leaving Belmont High School.

The only decision was where.

The Canterbury resident and recent BHS graduate will take his talents over the pond to England this fall, joining the GPS (Global Premier Soccer) International Academy for a nine month, full-time training program in North West London.

"I'm definitely excited but there's that nervous, 'Oh man, this is actually happening' feeling," said Hennessey, who leaves on Aug. 20 for England. "I won't see my friends and family for nine months, but at the same time, I'm excited to get out of here and see where I can go with (soccer). The talent is going to be incredible."

According to the team, the GPS attendees will "be exposed to professional scouts through regular exhibition games against professional academies and of trial events throughout the UK and Europe."

Hennessey said the trip to England will be his first, and it'll be just his third time flying overall. Until departing, he's been playing with a U21 GPS team in New Hampshire alongside some of the top talent in the Granite State.

"I wish I had started playing GPS sooner," he explained. "I'm playing with Division I and II kids from Pinkerton, Concord, places like that. I thought, 'I can play with these guys, they aren't that far ahead of me.' The last two years, I've skyrocketed as a player just from being on these teams. When you're surrounded by better players, you're going to get a lot better."

Hennessey's soccer prowess enabled him to become the top scorer on the Red Raiders this past fall, where he was named a Division III All-State First Team selection in guiding Belmont to a quarterfinal appearance.

"Losing in the quarters (to Campbell), that goalie had the game of his life," he continued. "He kept them in it and won it for them. All in one moment, they scored es with a deep aerial assault proving to be a big-time weapon.

"I was definitely excited because I had always played sports in other seasons with him and knew we had that chemistry," offered Harmon of Serrano. "I knew he had the arm to do it and he wouldn't be afraid to throw the ball up to me. He knew how to throw me open. Teams would have a corner on me and a safety shading my side. Once teams started sticking to me, then Cody (Varney) would have single coverage. It worked out that we had some options."

What resulted was the best season in program history. Winnisquam won nine games, including a huge win over Bow in the regular season on the road.

"I'm definitely proud because of our record and how we were able to keep winning," he said. "I wasn't sure how we were going to do going into the season, to be honest. But a lot of young guys stepped up and we had a great season."

Harmon's big season helped earn him an invite to play on the New Hampshire team at this summer's Shrine Maple Sugar Bowl against Vermont. His selection continued an impressive run of recognition for the Winnisquam program at the Shrine.

"Getting that invite, it made me kind of realize how well I had done," he said. "A lot of my teammates in previous years have played.

It's amazing how they got there and I never thought I would but I'm excited to play and excited to be a part of the purpose of the game as well."

After a heartbreaking loss to end the football season, Harmon shifted gears to basketball this past winter. The Bears had high expectations, paced by an outstanding senior class that also featured Serrano and Mike Buxton. But like football, Harmon & Co. again tasted a disappointing end to the season. Visiting Hopkinton sank a buzzer beater in the D-III quarterfinals, ending Winnisquam's season just one win shy of an elusive Final Four trip.

"From Day 1, our

"I always got so hyped playing for Belmont," Hennessey said with a laugh. "I think this year was the big year where I thought we could go somewhere... we could really do something. I had my best season ever. With the team we had, we knew we could do this for not only us, but our town and our school. It's been a long time since they won a championship."

"Losing in the quarters (to Campbell), that goalie had the game of his life," he continued.

goal was to get to the Final Four," said Harmon, who averaged 12.2 points per game and was named an All-State Honorable Mention selection.

"We felt we were one of the top four teams. As the standings played out, you could see there was a top tier and we felt we were part of that.

Ultimately, came up one tip short. I definitely wasn't happy with what happened but you can't let one moment like that determine the season.

We definitely had a good year but it was a rough way to go out."

The spring baseball season saw Harmon once again honored for his contributions.

He was tabbed a Third Team All-State pick after batting .340 while compiling a 3-3 record with a 1.86 ERA and 40 strikeouts in 37.2 innings as the team's ace.

"This year we weren't sure how we would do," began Harmon. "We knew we had good pitching and defense but the offense was kind of shaky. We had a tough schedule to start out but one thing we knew was we couldn't get down on ourselves. Luckily we stayed positive and came back after a slow start, made the top 12, which was our goal."

With so much tied into his three sports at Winnisquam, graduation and the end of the road brought about quite a realization.

"Once baseball ended, I just thought to myself that I wouldn't be going back to summer football workouts, summer basketball, because I don't have another season left," he admitted. "You realize it kind of quickly that there's not another sport to go back to and get ready for."

Still, the constant 'on the go' from his high school years have undoubtedly prepared him well for his time at UMass. Like he has his entire career, expect Tim Harmon to fare well in the years ahead.

"When you play sports, you definitely stick to a schedule," he said. "You've got practice, homework, eat, sleep, repeat. I think it'll be like that in college... going to class and then playing intramural sports or whatever I decide to do. But I think I'm prepared well for college and I'm excited to see what's next."

Clairmont led the way as three-sport starter for Raiders

jlajoie@salmonpress.com

BELMONT — Athletics, and athletic successes, have been a big part of Courtney Clairmont's high school days. The Belmont High School star graduated this spring after four years worth of contributions in three different sports. Clairmont, who will attend UNH this fall, said that her hours spent in the sports world have helped shape her in many ways.

"I met most of my friends from playing sports," began Clairmont, who will study human development and family studies in Durham. "So to not be playing sports anymore (at UNH), it's weird to think about. Like, how do I make friends without that natural introduction? But seriously, I'm proud to say that I played at Belmont for all four of my high school years. It'll be nice to go home and watch some games next year."

As a senior on the soccer team last fall, Clairmont, a defender, was one of a handful of upperclassmen trying to lead the way for a talented group of youngsters. The Raiders reached the postseason, falling to Hopkinton in the D-III quarterfinal round for the fourth time in five years.

"I think my biggest contribution in soccer was always trying to help the underclassmen understand that you have to put everything into the sport to be successful," Clairmont explained. "Especially at a small school, you know that some people who play soccer, that's not their main sport. But consistency, that was our biggest issue during my time here. I remember showing up to a game sometimes and truly not knowing whether we'd be 'on' that day or not. One of the big things for us was understanding that every single play, there could be one play that could change the complexion of the game. Hopefully I helped the underclassmen understand that."

Clairmont pointed to a 1-0 loss in the playoffs her junior year to Somersworth as a defining game in her soccer career. The Raiders lost in controversial fashion, with the Hilltopper goal appearing to come in large part thanks to a handball that wasn't called.

"I was really emotional," she admitted. "But I think, to be honest, that's really when I realized that I cared a lot about the sport and the team because I really felt that passion for the situation. It was a good learning experience."

In the winter months, Clairmont served as a guard on the basketball team for Belmont. As a senior this season, she again had the ability to lead for a young Raider side.

"I think it was really exciting to me to be one of the leaders," she began. "From playing sports all throughout high school, I know what type of leader I don't like and don't respond to. I felt like I knew exactly what not to do so I was excited to be what I felt like was a good leader."

The spring softball season, where Clairmont started at second base, closed out her high school athletic career, and the Raiders also reached the quarterfinals before falling to eventual state champion White Mountains.

"I think we had a ton of leadership on the team, not even just from me," Clairmont explained. "I think with this year's team, we understood that we were actually good and we can actually make a run. Once we realized that, we decided to take it more seriously and we played really well down the stretch."

Throughout it all, Clairmont said the experiences going through the grueling seasons with her respective teams will be what she misses the most in college.

"More than anything, the team camaraderie, just having that team where you don't really know those people otherwise, just on the same team and in same boat together.. that's what I'll miss," she explained. "It was always a huge group of friends for at least that season so I'll definitely miss those experiences."

JEFF LAJOIE
Belmont's Courtney Clairmont (8) keyed the Red Raider defense last fall, and the recent graduate will attend UNH this fall after starting for three different teams during her time at BHS.

JEFF LAJOIE
The starting second baseman for the softball team, Courtney Clairmont tries to turn a double play during playoff action against Newport earlier this spring.

ball overlapped with soccer too much so I couldn't play this year."

Now that his contributions at BHS are complete and he prepares to become an international sensation, Hennessey said he'll miss the years he spent donning that trademark red that represented his school and community.

"To not be at Belmont anymore... I think it'll be a little weird for the next couple years but I'll get over eventually," he offered. "Not playing with all my friends anymore is going to be the weirdest and hardest part. But like they always say, 'Once a Raider, Always a Raider.' I'll definitely agree with that."
