

Boodey Farmstead Committee seeks submissions for fundraising cookbook

Crissa Evans and Sherry Cullimore, members of the Zechariah Boodey Farmstead committee who are compiling cookbook of favorite local recipes. The proceeds will support the restoration and reconstruction of the colonial era home located in the town of New Durham.

NEW DURHAM — The Zechariah Boodey Farmstead committee is compiling a cookbook of favorite recipes to celebrate the wonderful cooks and traditions in New Durham and the surrounding area.

Zechariah Boodey was an early settler in town and his home was the birthplace of the Free Will Baptist Church. Publishing this cookbook is a chance to showcase our local cooks and raise much needed monies towards the reconstruction of the Zechariah Boodey Farmstead, which includes a house and an 18th century barn.

The Committee is working on the restoration and reconstruction of the colonial era home, located in and for the town of New Durham. The house was originally constructed in 1769 and is a timber frame colonial style cape that was gifted to New Durham by the Boodey family in 2006. The reconstruction of the English style barn, a gift to the town in 2019 will

GWRSD lifts outdoor mask mandate

BY ELISSA PAQUETTE
Contributing Writer

WOLFEBORO — The Governor Wentworth Regional School District Board voted unanimously on a motion by board member Jim Pittman of Effingham to lift the outdoor mask mandate during its May 24 meeting at the Kingswood Arts Center.

The Center for Disease Control (CDC) has dropped the mask mandate for outdoor activities with the understanding that UV rays and air circulation outdoors lower transmission in that setting to just above 1 percent. Superintendent Kathy Cuddy-Egbert noted that the Athletic Association has dropped its requirements for mask wearing outside. The waiver extends to children during outdoor recess.

Vaccinated adults are no longer part of the guidelines, but mask wearing is still recommended for schools. She reported that the New Hampshire Health and Human Services Department predicts that mask wearing could be dropped by the time the next school year begins.

Pittman’s motion gave room for the wearing of masks in the occasional sport settings in which the opposing team requires mask wearing. And the school will support those parents who desire that their students continue to wear a mask outside.

Graduation, if there is no interference by the weather, will be outdoors on June 11 on Alumni Field, mask free for those who wish.

Discontinuance of the outdoor mask wearing mandate is one more step in a continuum of decisions the board has faced since March 2020 as more data has affected official guidance.

Prospect relay teams lead the way in Division III State Meet

GILFORD — Members of the Prospect Mountain track team made the short trip along Route 11 for the Division III State Meet last week.

This year, the meet was divided into two meets, with the girls competing on Tuesday, May 25, and the boys competing on Wednesday, May 26, both at Gilford High School.

The top performance for the Prospect girls came from the 4X800-meter relay team, as Veronica Dowd, Amber Fernald, Ella Smith and Hannah Capsalis ran to a time of 11:29.32 for third place.

Dowd ran her way to 10th place in the 1,600 meters, finishing with a time of 6:02.99.

The boys took to the track the next day, and while the meet was eventually cut short by weather. The triple jump and high jump were both being contested when the thunder and lightning forced the meet to be postponed.

The highlight of the day for the Timber Wolf boys came in the final event of the day, where the Prospect Mountain 4X400-meter relay team of Jonathan Winslow, Perrin McLeod, Trey Ranaldi and Alex Ludwig finished second in a time of 3:24.61, which coach John Tuttle noted was 11 seconds faster than the team’s seed time.

Prospect also finished fourth in the first event of the day, the 4X800-meter relay, finishing with a time of 9:03.12 with the team of Dennis Simpson, Deuce Smith, Ranaldi and Joey Howlett doing the work. Tuttle noted it was 26 seconds faster than the seed time.

Taylor Community, Wright Museum to launch Faces of Taylor

WOLFEBORO — In 2021, Taylor Community and the Wright Museum will work together to shed light on Americans who lived during World War II. Dubbed Faces of Taylor, the collaboration kicks off with a video and story series in which Taylor Community residents will share their perspectives on life during and immediately after World War II.

“This is an incredible opportunity for us to share the stories of Americans with direct experience of one of the most important eras in world history,” said Mike Culver, executive director of The Wright. “We are thrilled to work with Taylor Community.”

Faces of Taylor will culminate in a 30-minute pre-recorded video that will be released in the summer as part of a special virtual event that includes interviews with residents.

“We’re grateful this partnership includes an opportunity for many of our residents to share their memories about growing up and serving during this pivotal time in history,” noted Gretchen Gandini, Director of Development & Community Outreach, Taylor Community.

In addition to Faces of Taylor, Taylor Community will co-present the exhibit, Shaped by Conflict: Mementoes of the WWII Era, which provides visitors with an in-depth look at common mementoes and personal items of the WWII era. Some of the items in the exhibit, which is co-presented by Weirs Times, includes sweetheart jewelry, trench art, journals and diaries, and more.

“We are proud to partner with the Wright Museum to help bring the Shaped by Conflict: Mementoes of the WWII Era exhibit to the Lakes Region,” added Gandini.

For Culver, the collaboration with Taylor Community is particularly special.

“We are losing people from this generation every day,” he noted. “This partnership will ensure that some of their stories are captured in perpetuity so future generations can remember and appreciate their contributions to America and the world.”

The region’s leading resource for educators and learners of all ages on World War II, the Wright Museum features more than 14,000 items in its collection that are representative of both the home-front and battlefield.

The Reading Room At Gilman Library

ALTON — THE READING ROOM AT GILMAN LIBRARY - YES, WE ARE OPEN - Did you know that the Alton Historical Society has a museum inside the Gilman Library? The Historical Society was formed in Alton in 1950. The Society’s goal is “to collect, organize, preserve and display for public education and enjoyment, historical materials pertaining to the Town of Alton, New Hampshire.”

The museum is located on the lower level, to the left of the Agnes Thompson Meeting Room. It is open by appointment. You can contact an Historical Society Director, through their website: <http://www.altonnhhistoricalsociety.org>, for an appointment.

The Alton Historical Society is always looking for new members to join them. You do not have to be an historian, nor even a long-time resident of Alton. You need a general interest in history and a specific curiosity about Alton History, or simply a desire to support a worthy cause. There is a downloadable membership form on the website, that you can mail in with your dues. The address is on the form. You may also pick one up at the Gilman Library circulation desk.

Dues are applied in varied amounts based on membership levels as a student, individual, family, or business. There is also a Lifetime membership and there are Sponsor memberships as well. Sponsors may choose to support specific endeavors, such as funding for programs or program refreshments, or to acquire artifacts for the museums or supporting the J. Jones Freight Building. Alton Historical Book Sales also fund these endeavors.

The Historical Society has two books for sale, by ordering through mail, email, or telephone. That information is also on their website. We also sell their books for them here at the library circulation desk. The titles are “Alton Bye Gone Daz’e: Businesses 1920-1960,” a collection of photographs and stories compiled by Robert (Bob) M. Witham, “Alton: a town to remember,” a pictorial history by the Alton Old Photograph Committee, Alton Historical Society, Alton, New Hampshire. Stop by and have a look.

If you are interested in Alton history, please make an appointment to see the Museum. While you are here, why not consider joining this wonderful organization?

A history of Memorial Day

When Memorial Day was first celebrated in the aftermath of the Civil War, it was known as Decoration Day. Youngsters would place flowers in cemeteries while they sang songs and honored those lost due to war. The Civil War, that ended in 1865 took the lives of more people than any other war in the history of the United States, the estimate is roughly 620,000 — the Union losing 365,000 and the Confederacy 260,000. History says that more than half of these losses came as the result of disease. As a result, the first national cemeteries were created.

In 1868, General John A. Logan, the leader of an organization for Northern Civil War veterans, called for a nationwide day to honor fallen soldiers. General James Garfield gave a speech at Arlington National Cemetery on the first Decoration Day and the more than 5,000 people in attendance decorated more than 2,000 graves, both Union and Confederate.

The holiday as we all know is celebrated on the last Monday in May, and became an official holiday in the year 1971. Parades across the country take place, and people visit cemeteries where family members who have served in the military have been laid to rest.

At 3 p.m. every year, a moment of silence takes place across the country. In December of 2000, President Bill Clinton signed the “National Moment of Remembrance Act,” which designated the time be at 3 p.m. In 1966, the government marked Waterloo, N.Y. as the official birthplace of Memorial Day. In Waterloo, every business in town would shut their doors and owners would venture out to decorate graves with flags as well as flowers.

Originally, Decoration Day was intended to honor those lost in just the Civil War. After WWI America felt the need, and rightfully so, to honor all those lost serving their country. During the Great War (also known as the First World War), 116,516 Americans died, and 405,399 were lost during WWII. The Korean War took 36,574 lives, and the Vietnam War cost 58,220 lives. A total of 4,411 were lost in Operation Iraqi Freedom, 73 in Operation New Dawn, 2,346 as the result of Operation Enduring Freedom, 48 in Operation Freedom’s Sentinel and 61 in Operation Inherent Resolve.

An estimated 38 million people in America traveled over the holiday weekend, and two and a half million travelers will board flights. Memorial Day is the fourth busiest travel day of the year.

In New York, Washington, D.C., and Chicago you can find the largest parades in the country. Because of the three-day weekend, many Americans were expected to throw parties and barbecues or head out of town for a mini getaway.

Letters to the Editor

Flapping lips

To the Editor:

Again, I’ve turned to the dictionary for the correct use of a word “lunatic” according to Webster’s [$<$ L. The moon] 1. Insane or for the insane 2. Utterly foolish -n an insane person.” The reason I work with this word is to talk about the House Representative, Marjorie Taylor Green, who, is complaining about masks, and vaccines, Concepts suggested for the health, with safety in mind for all the people of the world. The mandatory use of masks has saved many lives, we may never know just how many. What I’ve heard from that representative proves to me she is a lunatic, she supports #45, whose goal was to destroy the Constitution, in action and his words, the document that caused his first impeachment, also his second. The document that gives her the right to speak her foolish words and spread her lies comparing the holocaust victims who wore a yellow star, to wearing a mask, and getting the vaccine pure foolishness.

I do not support her crazy language, or anything she says. I do support her right to flap her lips; apparently, she thinks she is saying something of worth. From time to time, the right fringe wing of the Republican party gets the chance to spout garage about whatever the Democrats are trying to do. For you who listen to Fox News and think they are defending you against an onslaught from Democrats, the truth is, you are listening to obstructionists who do not want to see any progress made in this country by the other party. Put another way, if your child does not have Internet access, if you lose power during the winter, if you don’t have a good paying job when your extra unemployment benefits has been cut off, because of the mis-guided lie that you would rather stay home then take a job. There may be a few who do that; the majority, however, want a job in hopes it will pay more than their last job they are hoping to get re-educated for that better paying job. I believe this is what Biden is trying to do.

There are always those who feel they’re all set, don’t need any improvement, and the party that wants changes is only trying to mess up the comfortable life they have. Just leave it the way it is; that may be OK for you; also, you may not care or want to care about others that live a very different life then you, they may struggle every day to feed their family, looking for a safe housing, and getting a job that will accomplish their goals. You’re right — that’s their problem. Do we continue to obstruct, or do we pull together to help fellow Americans reach at least the level we find ourselves? Or do we only complain about the government that does not work the way we think it should. The news, is, it will never be just what we all want. A little give and take would be good.

It is up to all of us to support Biden’s plans that will transform this country into a more perfect union. Will it be perfect? Probably not. But it will not be two more years of nothing getting done. Police reform — I haven’t even started on that one. We need the police, but we have created, in the last hundred years, a class of people who believes they are the law and above it — not all, but some. Yes, they are the arm of the law which acts, but how they act and what they do has in some cases gone off the rails.

Voting rights being changed — I support the Idea that what was done because of Covid-19 to aid people to vote can be mitigated from what it was in 2020, but there should be no obstruction or aid to help any legal voter from not being able to cast their vote. We are a stronger nation when everyone can participate who wants too, please think about taking the ‘them’ mentality out of the equation.

For the people who hear on Fox News that the Democrats are trying to take your rights away, it is just spin from the right wing stating a lie, which in fact is the last thing Democrats would want to do. They are the big tent party, even though you hear Fox News saying the opposite. The Republicans, of whom not one voted for the last stimulus package, are now out in their districts touting what a good job they did for “we the people.” When, in fact, if they were in control of the House of Representatives, that $1,400 would not have been sent to you.

The future of our country can go two ways — one, we return to paying the rich and getting nothing meaningful done, since they only seem to care about tax breaks for themselves and their companies, always with the promise it will help all Americans. The other side is to make a commitment to change the path we have been on, to fix what has not worked, and create a new country goal one that the world, can look up to again, and not be laughed at, as it was over the last couple of years, please wake up reconsider the evil #45’s thinking, when you think the party of Republicans is working for you, it is truly, only working for the rich.

Sorry to be so boring for you who do not agree, thinking #45 is a good guy; truth be known, he is only looking for the money in your pockets, and will say anything to get it. He wants more rallies; what, is he going to run again, and will he serve his one term from a jail cell? It is not unheard of. One more time, he does not believe in the document “the Constitution,” which gives us all our rights, even the ones that the right wing, is screaming about we are losing. We have never lost rights under a Democrat administration. On the gun issues, the Democrats only wanted a good reason for anyone to have the right to carry an assault rifle who was not actively fighting in the military, why would a civilian need to carry such a weapon unless they wish to do harm to others so it makes little sense when you think about how they have been used by the lunatics. So, what is Marjorie Taylor Green’s next move? If she serves on no committees, why are we paying her a salary? Kick her out and stop pollution of the airways.

Respectively,
John Q. Henderson

LETTERS FROM EDWIN

Notes

The other morning, I was fixing myself up another wonderful breakfast as I do every day, I love breakfast. I make myself a monster mound of magnificent morsels be it egg based or peanut butter and grains, the result being when I'm finished, I won't be feeling hungry again for quite some time. I used to make it all the way to supper time, but these days I find that two in the afternoon is a reasonable time for a snack.

While doing my usual prep work, the cat usually comes to the door telling me that it's time to feed her. This I know, but being busily involved with my present task, I've learned to pretty much ignore her. I'll acknowledge her comments and ask her to please cease her whining, but she, being unable to relate to such a concept, continues to repeat herself about every four seconds. Needless to say, this can get a bit aggravating.

That day, she didn't show up like usual. I contentedly continued my prep unannoyed. Finally, when I went over to the table to put my plate down, I glanced over at the slider and there she was, her mouth was moving but she wasn't saying anything. Upon further reflection, I realized that it was me that wasn't hearing her. I've wished for a long time that she'd just shut up, but this wasn't the desired means. I guess that those are just a few more frequencies that no longer work for me.

It's interesting that those particular notes are the ones that have disappeared. Why? It can't be the cat's constant calling, can it? This hearing thing is pretty strange. I hear her when she says other things. It's only that one cat call.

So I've been listening to the sounds inside my head lately and have made some interesting observations. In addition to the ever-constant tinnitus ringing, if I rotate my head to the right, a high C6 note rings in my right ear. The 6 denotes the sixth octave meaning high note on the right side of the piano keyboard. It's pretty loud so I could actually tune my guitar if I had a C string, which unfortunately I don't.

Then, I figured out that if I clench my jaw, a B6 rings in my left ear. That was pretty cool. I have a ti do situation. I can almost play music in my head.

Eventually I found out that if I tilt my head back all the way, a D6 plays in both ears. I now have a re! I can do a three-note lick. Picture me trying to do so, it's pretty comical. I'd look like some mentally mangled misfit, which I am, but I can't possibly play fast enough with such gyrations for my liking.

When I first bought my little truck, it needed new tires. I picked up a full set of what they called "quiet" snow tires. I loved them. They weren't super loud and had sufficient traction in snow. Since I don't travel lots of miles in my truck, I decided to keep them on all year round.

After a couple years, I needed to replace a pair, so I asked the tire guy to put on some just like to old ones. When I got back to pick up my truck, it had regular kind of snow tires. He said that they no longer made the other ones. Bummer.

These new tires were so loud in the truck that I bought a pair of hearing protective earmuffs and drove around all that winter wearing them. Come spring I quickly rotated the tires and could once again drive without my earmuffs. I thought.

I usually don't drive long distances in the truck. Just short local trips mostly below fifty miles per hour. But this weekend I headed off to a mountain top summer camp in the "whites" to help get it ready to open this season. While cruising up the highways doing over sixty, I realized that the cacophony of sounds inside that truck were incredible! If I were to want to listen to the radio, it would need to be even louder still to be heard over that din. I quickly reached for my ear muffs and wore them for the rest of the ride.

Even as everything I do seems to cause my hearing to deteriorate, I'm still foolish enough to want to play music. Loudly. Sometimes wants need to be moderated.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

In search of a biblical world view

BY LARRY SCOTT

Dr. Dell Tackett, in a DVD prepared for Focus on the Family, and lecturing on "The American Dream," quoted much of what follows and made this observation:

"I am convinced that the people who founded this country ... the pilgrims, the puritans ... came with a comprehensive Biblical world view ... When we examine the American Experiment we are going to try to separate as best we can the principles they were trying to achieve, and I am convinced they tried to lay down Biblical principles in the formation of the country."

Recorded in 2008, Dr. Tackett's point of view has never been more true. In the 240 years of our history, much has changed. What began as a God-fearing, Bible-centered, Christian perspective that profoundly influenced our educational system and the writing of those great documents that made us a nation, we have now come to the point where God is no longer welcome in the classroom, the Bible is no longer read in public, and the moral deterioration of our national life is evident to anyone willing to look honestly at the evidence.

But it was not meant to be. I commend the National Education Association for taking a strong stand. "If the study of the Bible is to be excluded from all state schools; if the inculcation of the principles of Christ is to have no place in the daily program; if the worship of God is to form no part of the general exercises of these public elementary schools; then the good of the state would be better served by restoring all schools to church control." That, of course, was 1892. How things have changed!

Charles Carroll, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, wrote a letter on Nov. 4, 1800 to James McHenry: "Without morals, a republic cannot subsist any length of time; they therefore who are decrying the Christian religion ... are undermining the solid foundation of morals, the best security for the duration of free governments."

John Adams, the second President of the United States, wrote on June 21, 1776, as quoted in The Wall Builder Report, Summer 1993, "Statesmen, my dear Sir, may plan and speculate for liberty, but it is Religion and Morality alone, which can establish the Principles upon which Freedom can securely stand."

And then there is this, from Patrick Henry, in a letter to Archibald Blair, dated Jan. 8, 1799: "The great pillars of all government and of social life [are] virtue, morality, and religion. This is the armor ... and this alone, that renders us invincible."

The Christian community has been roundly criticized for calling America back to God but the absence, in almost every level of our society, of those Biblical principles that helped make us the great nation we have become indicate that we are in deep trouble. I love this country and I am proud to be an American, but I am not blind. I am convinced that we cannot continue to ignore God and the principles of sound moral living He has given us and survive as a nation. Sooner or later, we will have to pay the piper! America, it is time to wake up! You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarry-scott@gmail.com.

NHSaves Virtual Button Up Workshop presented by Gilmanton Energy Committee

GILMANTON — Button Up New Hampshire, the popular home energy savings workshop series is coming virtually to the Gilmanton Area. It will take place on Zoom with screen and audio over the internet, on Tuesday June 8 from 7-8:30 p.m., including a live Q and A time. The workshop is hosted by the Gilmanton Energy Committee, The Gilmanton Library and Solarize Gilmanton and it is sponsored by NHSaves and coordinated statewide by the Plymouth Area Renewable Energy Initiative (PAREI).

NHSaves is a collaboration of New Hampshire's electric and natural gas utilities (Eversource, Liberty Utilities, NH Electric Cooperative and Unitil). The utilities are working together to provide NH customers with information, incentives, and support designed to save energy, reduce costs, and protect the New Hampshire environment. PAREI of Plymouth is working with local groups around the state to bring these workshops to the public on behalf of New Hampshire's utilities.

This NHSaves Button Up Workshop is a one-and-a-half-hour presentation about how to improve the energy efficiency of your home. It is conducted by a certified energy auditor and covers basic building science principles as well as examples of whole house weatherization measures that will button up your home for the heating and cooling seasons. It also covers details about the energy efficiency programs offered by NH utilities (for existing homes and new construction) that provide energy audits, weatherization measures such as air sealing and insulating and rebates on new technologies and products such as electric and gas appliances and high efficiency electric heating/cooling equipment.

New Hampshire residents wishing to use energy more efficiently, conserve energy and save money on their heating and cooling bills, will find the workshop presentation very helpful. Registration is not necessary but helpful for the host to have an idea of attendance. If you wish to register, have questions or would like the zoom link please email Sarah at scthorne350@gmail.com. If you have questions on using zoom go to www.plymouthenergy.org for directions.

Here is the Zoom link for 7 p.m. on Tuesday, June 8:

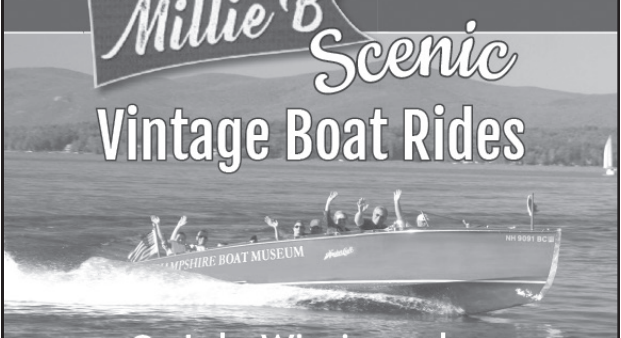

<https://ccsnh.zoom.us/j/95985761696>

Workshop organizers also recommend the public sign up with NHSaves Facebook and Twitter pages for up to date information on energy saving tips and programs.

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain boys’ tennis team advanced to the second round of the Division III tournament with a solid 7-2 win over Inter-Lakes in the opening round of the tournament on Thursday, May 27. Prospect Mountain was able to clinch the match in the singles play, picking up five wins before winning two of the doubles matches to seal the win. Joey DeJager played in the top spot for Prospect Mountain and came through with a 9-8 win in the tiebreaker. Dalton Lawrence got the 8-4 win in the second spot in the lineup. Jaren Unzen swept his way to the 8-0 win at number four, Asa Guldbrandsen got the 8-3 win in the fifth spot and Liam White got an 8-5 win at number six singles. The lone loss in the singles came in the third spot, where Cameron Gagnon dropped an 8-3 decision. In doubles play, the

PET OF THE WEEK

Sasha is a wonderful girl who loves to play! She is perfect if you are looking for lots of personality in a medium sized package! Sasha loves to play with her toys, and already has excellent house training habits. Sasha is working on her leash skills, impulse control skills, and sharing her things. She is looking for a quiet home, where she can continue building her skills with positive reinforcement, and get lots of play time and walks! Sasha would do well in a home with adult humans, no cats, and no dogs- she wants to be your one and only four legged friend!

Bernier leads Prospect softball past Kennett

JOSHUA SPAULDING

PROSPECT'S Eve Roberge takes a lead off first as Kennett's Ashley Glaze moves behind her to take a throw in action last Monday.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
SPORTS EDITOR

NORTH CONWAY — The final week of the regular season saw the Kennett and Prospect Mountain softball teams meet in North Conway and it was all Prospect, all day, as the Timber Wolves cruised to a 13-0 win over the host Eagles on Monday, May 24.

“It was nice to see the bats get going overall, all the way across the line-up,” said Prospect coach James Christie. “Overall, I’m happy with the team’s effort, last time it was 4-0, we know they’re a good team.”

Izzy Higgins got the start in the circle for Kennett and with one out, she hit Kenzie Renner and Ella Bernier followed with a base hit. However, Higgins got a strikeout and a pop up to first to end the inning.

Bernier followed suit and struck out the side in the bottom of the first inning and Prospect’s bats came to life in the top of the second inning. Mar-en Rayno led off with a base hit and stole second. Piper Flood walked and one out later, Julia Leavitt delivered a double to drive in the first run. A wild pitch plated Flood with the second run and Gwen Christie followed with a double to plate another run. A Renner double drove in another run and one out later, a walk to Mariah Gates and a base hit from Michaela Gates pushed the Prospect lead to 6-0 before Higgins got a pop up to left field to end the inning.

Bernier struck out the side in the bottom of the second inning, working around a base hit from Ashley Garside. Higgins came back and struck out a pair in the top of the third, working around an Eve Roberge base hit. Mariah Gates made a nice grab of a soft liner to first in the bottom of the third, the first out on a ball put in play and Bernier got through the inning with no trouble.

Renner walked to open the top of the fourth inning and was forced at second on a ball hit by Bernier, who was replaced on base by Noel Azzara. Mariah Gates walked and another Michaela Gates base hit and a fielder’s choice by Rayno pushed across another run. One out later, Roberge lined a base hit down the third base line, plating two more runs and Prospect had the 9-0 lead before Higgins got a strikeout to end the inning.

Bernier set the side down in order in the bottom of the fourth inning, striking out two more and Prospect added two more runs in the top of the fifth. With two outs, Bernier crushed a homer over the fence in left field for the 10-0 lead and after Mariah Gates walked and Michaela Gates beat out an infield hit, an error on a stolen base attempt allowed the 11th run to score. Rayno beat out an infield hit to keep the inning alive, but Higgins got a strikeout to end the inning.

Higgins led off the bottom of the fifth with a base hit and Garside followed with her second hit of the game. Lauren Violette was hit by a pitch to load the bases, but Bernier got two strikeouts and a ground-er back to the circle to close out the inning.

Catherine Chick took over pitching duties for Kennett in the top of the sixth inning. With one out, Leavitt had a base hit and Christie worked a walk. One out later, Bernier delivered a base hit to drive in both runs for the 13-0 lead before Chick got a strikeout to end the inning.

Bernier was able to work around a Chick base hit in the bottom of the sixth, striking out three more to bring her total to 14 for the game. The Prospect freshman reached the 100-strikeout mark for her career in her team’s previous game against Somersworth, with Christie noting it came on her 1,000th pitch of the season.

“We hit a lot better this week,” Christie said, praising Leavitt, Bernier and Michaela Gates for their multiple hit games. “Ella has been on a hot streak the last few weeks.”

The Timber Wolf coach also is looking toward the playoffs, where Prospect was scheduled to take on either St.

Thomas or Campbell after deadline Wednesday.

“The first couple of rounds are going to be big ones for us,” Christie said. “But it’s nice to have eight practices before the playoffs.”

The winner of that playoff game will face off with either Raymond, Somersworth or Gilford on Saturday, June 5.

Kennett is scheduled to open the Division II tournament after deadline on Monday, May 31, at Kingswood. The winner of that game moved on to face Plymouth after deadline Wednesday, June 2, and the winner of that game faces either Merrimack Valley or Laconia on Saturday, June 5.

Knights beat Belmont in final week of season

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — The Kingswood baseball team scored twice in the first inning and kept on going, piling on nine more runs on the way to an 11-0 win over Belmont on Monday, May 24.

The first inning saw Drew Swinerton doubling home a run and Cole Paro singling home another run and they never looked back. The big inning for the Knights was the seventh inning, where Kingswood put six runs on the board. Calvin Kinville, Andrew Keniston, Oleg Sheahan, James Yarling and Will Darnais all pushed runs across the plate in the inning.

Sheahan led the charge for the Knights, picking up three hits, while Swinerton, Kinville and Yarling all picked up two hits to lead the way for the Knights, who racked up 13 hits on the day.

Justin Stirt was dominant on the mound, as he allowed just two hits over the course of the seven innings, striking out 11.

Three days later, The Knights scored twice in the bottom of the first and five in the bottom of the third on the way to a 9-3 win. Christos Zavas, Paro and Darnais all drove in runs in the five-run third inning.

Yarling got the Knight offense started with a homer in the bottom of the first inning.

Yarling and Paro each had three hits to lead the offense, while Jonathan Hossack and Zavas each had a pair of hits and Paro drove in three runs.

Tyler Sprince got the start on the hill and pitched into the sixth inning, allowing six hits and three runs while striking out seven. Jack Thompson finished the game out on the hill.

Kingswood is scheduled to open the Division II tournament today, Thursday, June 3, hosting Laconia at 4 p.m. The winner of that game faces either Merrimack Valley, Plymouth or Kennett on Saturday, June 5, at 4 p.m.

God took a day off after creating us.

But you can find Him here all summer.

Genesis 2 tells us, “On the seventh day God completed the work he had been doing; he rested on the seventh day from all the work he had undertaken.”

COVID couldn’t stop our community of faith. Thanks to God’s loving care, we have been able to bring the Word of God and Holy Communion to you throughout the pandemic, usually in person (indoors and outdoors) as well as on line, on television, and on the radio.

Here are a few of the regular events at our church—your church—this summer. You are welcome to join us for all of them:

Saturday: Confession at church at 3:00. Mass at church at 4:00.

Sunday: Mass at church at 7, 8:30, and 10:30; online at 10:30 at stkdrexel.org, on the radio at 10:30 at WASR AM 1420/FM 97.1.

Monday: “Discovery Group” discussion at 7:00. Call for details.

Tuesday: “Lectio Divina” prayer and discussion. Call for details.

Wednesday: Night Prayers any time after 7:00 at stkdrexel.org.

Thursday: Rosary at 6:30, Prayer Group at 7:00 at stkdrexel.org.

Friday: Eucharistic Adoration in church from 9:00 to noon.

Weekdays (except Thursday): Mass at 8:00.

Dr. C. Paul Vincent to present on “Collapse of the Nazi Concentration Camp System”

WOLFEBORO — On Tuesday, June 8, Dr. C. Paul Vincent will present Collapse of the Nazi Concentration Camp System, a lecture originally conceived with the intent to focus on two concentration camps, Auschwitz and Dachau. After additional research, however, he reached the conclusion that the collapse of Nazi Germany's concentration camps was “a system-wide implosion.”

“It cannot be limited effectively to two places, even if the significance of those two camps is more dramatic than the average person might appreciate,” he said. “The collapse of Nazi Germany's concentration camp system is inextricably linked with the evacuation of literally hundreds of thousands of prisoners from thousands of camps in the closing four to five months of the war.”

The numerous “death marches” that ensued, he noted, took the lives of roughly a third of those prisoners.

“[It indicated] the ferocious and vicious nature of the war's final phase, even when measured against the genocidal standards of Nazi Germany,” he continued. “If one fundamental truth stands out, it must be the link between camp collapse and death marches.”

According to Mike Culver, executive director of The Wright, Dr. Vincent's presentation highlights the breadth and scope of the museum's 2021 Lecture Series, presented by Ron Goodgame and Donna Canney. “These lectures are important, because they provide insight into a period of history that profoundly shaped today's global landscape,” he said. “Some lectures are fun, while others are sobering. The outcome is that you will learn something you did not know before and have a chance to interact with interesting, knowledgeable experts in their respective fields.”

Dr. Vincent is Interim Co-Director of the Cohen Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies, and Professor Emeritus of Holocaust Studies and History at Keene State College.

New Durham awarded PREPA grant

NEW DURHAM — Back in February, PREP announced the 2021 Piscataqua Region Environmental Planning Assessment (PREPA) Grant Program to assist communities in implementing the 2020 PREPA recommendations. This month, PREP is excited to announce five communities within the region were granted awards totaling nearly $45,000, including the town of New Durham!

The communities and a summary of their projects are listed below. Projects range from increasing shoreland setbacks for buildings and septic systems, adopting the Southeast Watershed Alliance model stormwater management standards, development of a new coastal hazard overlay and updated floodplain management ordinance, updating the Wetlands Protection District ordinance and buffer requirements, and applying the 2020 NH Coastal Flood Risk Summary Part II: Guidance for Using Scientific Projections into local decision-making. Each of these projects will improve protections for water quality, build coastal resilience, and reduce inconsistencies in regulations across the region.

In New Durham, the funds will be used to increase buffer and setback regulations on 1st through 4th order streams to 100 feet within the Water Quality Protection Overlay District, the Aquifer Overlay District, and the Open Space Conservation Subdivision.

The projects all address one or more of the recommended actions from the 2020

PREPA report published earlier this year. The recommended actions were designed to address gaps or inconsistencies in water quality and natural resource protections within the region and are tailored for each community based on the assessment questions. Community specific recommendations can be found by searching for each town’s individual page on the 2020 PREPA report home page.

The entire PREPA data set, town specific data, and subwatershed data are available for download on the PREPA homepage. Stay tuned for updates on the five projects over the next 18-months.

Public Notice Announcement
Regarding Outdated Special Education Records

In the upcoming months, SAU 61 Farmington School District will destroy records that have been collected, maintained, and/or used in providing special education services.

This will affect records of students born in the year 1995, and only applies to students who received special education services during any of their time in the Farmington School District. This activity is in compliance with Federal, State, and local policy. The destruction of data policy provides that records may be destroyed when they are no longer needed for educational planning purposes.

Please be advised that some of the information contained in these files may be needed later on for other purposes, such as eligibility for Social Security Disability benefits. If you wish to have these records before they are destroyed, please contact us at 603-755-2627 or email dlemire@sau61.org before June 18, 2021.

Records will only be provided to a former student who is 18 years of age (or older) or the former student’s legal guardian with the proper identification.

Anyone obtaining records will be required to produce identification that contains both a picture and signature. We will notify the individual by phone when the requested records are prepared. The records can be obtained at the SAU office, 35 School Street, Farmington, NH 03835.
