

Board, teachers back to negotiations

BY DAVID ALLEN
Contributing Writer

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain High School Board voted at its Tuesday, May 1, meeting to re-enter negotiations with the school's Teachers' Association for a new contract. The vote was in response to a letter from the association asking to restart negotiations. The board and the Teachers' Association broke off negotiations before Town and School Meetings after reaching deadlock.

The primary disagreement between the parties was the share of healthcare costs that teachers would pay. The Teachers' Association felt it would leave some teachers with almost no increase in net pay. They were looking for a healthcare cost sharing closer to what the Alton School Board had recently negotiated with its staff.

The current contract ends in seven weeks on June 30. A contract needs to be agreed upon several weeks before the annual School Meeting so it can go before the voters at that Meeting. The board and Teachers' Association hope to have preliminary meetings before school is dismissed in mid-June. Both parties are hopeful that an agreement can be reached during the fall semester.

Before voting on the Teachers' Association invitation, the board met in non-public session to discuss their response off the record.

The board had a second non-public session at the end of the meeting to meet with the board's new attorney, Matt Upton. No action was taken by the board when they returned to public session, so presumably no actual decisions were made.

The board and the Teachers' Association were notified recently that in late March the New Hampshire Supreme Court had accepted the PMHS board request to hear an appeal on an issue that has been hanging over the school for over two years now.

As first reported in the Jan. 12 issue of the Baysider, (<http://linpub.blob.core.windows.net/pdf/1/645311f3-20f9-400e-aed7-0ce52ce9ba72.pdf>) in 2015 the PMHS Superintendent denied reimbursement for hotel expenses in Boston on the night before a professional conference in Boston. The staff member wanted also to attend a pre-conference session first thing in the morning. The superintendent denied on the basis Boston was within commuting distance of the teacher's home.

As reported in the Jan. 12 Baysider, conflicts such as this can be four-inning games, with a different umpire each inning. The Teachers' Association started the first inning by appealing the board and superintendent's decision to the New Hampshire Public Employees Relations Board (PELRB). The Teachers' Association won the first three innings.

The board asked for a fourth inning with the Supreme Umpire when they decided in February to appeal to the New Hampshire Supreme Court. The court decided at the end of March they would hear the board's appeal. And if you think baseball is a slow game, know that there is often a 9+ month rain delay from the time the Supreme Court decides to hear a case and the time they actually hold hearings. That is followed by another 9+ month rain delay before the Supremes issue their written decision.

Business Manager Heidi Duford reported that the school had received the final audit of income and expenditures for the previous school year (2015-2016) and it showed actual ex-

Selectmen stay busy with full agenda in Alton

ALTON — The Baysider had a chance earlier in the week to catch up with Town Administrator Elizabeth Dionne about last week's Alton Board of Selectmen's meeting. What follows is a recollection she shared in a half hour sit-down with the Baysider on Monday.

Dionne described the May 1 session as a "full meeting" that addressed a wide range of topics.

She noted that a representative from the trustee of the trust funds attended as part of a new initiative in which key members of town committees are invited to offer feedback and receive board direction. Dionne described an iterative process that promotes communication and identifies areas of potential collaboration.

Dionne said the BOS heard a pair of so-called "unmerger requests." According to Dionne, in decades past, officials had the authority to merge abutting properties with a common owner without explicit owner consent. Some mergers were, however "voluntary" per owner approval. One request was denied since it was documented that the owner voluntarily approved the joining of their lots; another hearing will be continued as it will be necessary for the owners to demonstrate that their merger was not voluntary.

Town Planner Nic Strong spoke next. She advocated for the renewal of the town's membership in the Lakes Region Planning Commission. This is an unbudgeted expense — one that was cut during the deliberative process. Dionne said the town planner sees a lot of value in a continued engagement with the commission.

Dionne said that some residents of East Side Drive have been reportedly contacted by the state DOT. She said this triggered some concerns since DOT officials notified Bay-area property owners years back about "encroachment issues" that could have involved the removal of structures along Route 11. Knowing this history, she said it was important to make record of residents' concerns, although the town has not been officially notified of any violations or matters of concern. Dionne said that DOT typically informs municipalities before contacting property owners, but that the town is taking residents' concerns seriously.

made a pair of appointments, expediting the approval of Everett Clark to the parks and rec commission and Annette Slip to the library trustees.

The BOS also approved allowing the Monarch School to hold a bike ride fundraiser, which will involve stretches of Routes 28 and 11. The vision of the Monarch School is to "bring indi-

Alton Fire-Rescue holds promotion, awards ceremony

ALTON — The Alton Fire-Rescue Department celebrated the committed men and women who serve the town of Alton as first responders with an awards dinner on Wednesday, May 3, at the Central Fire Station in Alton. Captain Patrick O'Brien organized the dinner with a turnout of approximately 70 people in attendance. Family members and friends gathered to enjoy a wonderful evening with dinner, awards, promotion ceremony and watched a slide show that was dedicated to the graduating two senior interns.

and pinning ceremony started the evening's events. Chief Ryan Ridley is pleased to announce the following officers now representing and protecting the Alton community.

Captain Justin Kantar - eight years of service with the town of Alton Fire and Rescue Department, fulltime as a career firefighter/paramedic at the Tilton-Northfield FD.

New Durham board makes appointments, adjusts public input policy

BY MARK FOYNES

NEW DURHAM — New Durham Selectmen discussed a full agenda at their May 4 meeting.

The Baysider wasn't able to attend in live time, but board chair David Swenson was kind enough to take several minutes to catch this reporter up regarding some of the highlights of last week's session.

The meeting began with the public commendation of Officer Jameson Young, who recently completed his standards training near the top of his class. Taylor Griffin, who completed his training some time back, was also recognized for achieving key credentials.

Water quality in the Merrymeeting watershed has been at the fore of public discussion of late. Consequently, volunteer Mike Gelinas - who's conducted cyanobacteria tests in the past year - was granted permission for small boat access to the waterway in an area adjacent to Downings Pond. Tonight, May 11, the inaugural meeting of a special committee will discuss the matter, with details available on the town web site.

Swenson said the town received an inquiry last month from a resident curious as to the cost savings resulting from last year's adjustment to the transfer station's hours. Swenson noted that the resident was present during the meeting. Swenson said the town could report that some $6,600 in savings resulted from the new schedule. Swenson said the citizen was satisfied with the presented data but that further analysis will be conducted to confirm the number.

The public input session was kicked off by Clayton Randall, who, according to Swenson, urged that the Community Room in the fire station retain its honorific to past Fire Chief Rod Nelson. There has been some discussion as to whether the space should be named in honor of one individual, fire chiefs and personnel in general, or simply be known as a community room. The space is available as a meeting area for civic groups and town committees.

David Bickford, according to Swenson, stressed that current staff levels should be maintained for the short term and "tested" to ensure that they are at a level that maximizes efficiency. He urged against adding staff in the short term.

During the Town Administrator's report, Swenson said Scott Kinmond recommended that the town extend its current paving contract with F.R. Carroll for 2017. He said weather last year prevented the completion of certain projects. The scope of work will be revisited at the next meeting on May 18, Swenson said.

Town-owned property was the next item of discussion. Lots owned by the town do not generate tax revenue, and in the past year, the BOS has made a priority of moving certain town-owned parcels into private hands. He said the current policy needs some tweaking to expedite the process moving forward - a matter that will be continued to the May 18 meeting.

A policy that did pass last week involves the disposal of surplus materials. Swenson used the example of a road crew that uses a little less gravel than anticipated for a project. Since storing the excess could represent a liability, staff now have the authority to give away such materials on request.

The BOS also authorized the budgeted expense of approximately $3,100 to renew its membership in the Strafford Regional Planning Commission, which provides ongoing staff expertise including guidance relating to the town's updated master plan.

"They bring a lot of perspective and expertise, and we [as a board] agreed that this is a good value," Swenson said.

New Durham was one of several towns that postponed March elections because of a blizzard, which dumped over a foot of snow. Swenson said that state officials are recommending that localities hold public hearings to certify results.

"We took extraordinary measures at an extraordinary time," Swenson said. He added that maximizing participation was key - a goal all present decision makers agreed was central.

Swenson said that such a measure to certify results is "strongly recommended" by state officials and that such a hearing will take place on May 18 and be appropriately posted.

The BOS also made several appointments, term expirations for each appear subsequently in parenthesis. Serving on the ethics committee are Dot Veisel (2018), Ellen Phillips (2020), Joan Swenson (2019) and Carol Allen (2018). Parks and Recreation appointees include Veisel (2018), Patricia Luckern (2019), Andrew Hernandez (2020) and Douglas Perkins (2020). CIP appointees include Bill Meyer and Terry Jarvis.

The BOS was set to examine ethics committee policies but deferred the matter to its May 18 meeting, by which time it's expected that the ethics committee will give recommended changes greater deliberation.

The BOS's public participation policy was given consideration with "a few significant wording changes" resulting.

Selectman Swenson said at the core of the discussion was how best to promote respectful civic engagement. "We serve at the behest of the voter and the taxpayer," he elaborated.

While the 15-minute limit still applies, Swenson said that the new verbiage allows for a majority of the BOS to extend the input session. He said that the new wording codifies what's more or less current practice and allows for "optimal public engagement in town affairs."

Another matter involved what the fire station community room should be officially named. There is current signage identifying the space as the Rod Nelson community room. Going forward, the public gathering space will be known as the Community Room, with exhibit-like areas devoted to the contributions of Rod Nelson and other fire chiefs "who have made a lasting impact on the town," according to Swenson.

After authorizing the town administrator to hire seasonal DPW employees, the BOS discussed a new community outreach initiative. Swenson said Selectman Cecile Chase was a driving force behind an idea that's informally being called "Coffee with the Town." Swenson said BOS members or the TA would be available on a monthly basis to meet with taxpayers at the general store to discuss town matters. Swenson said that the proprietors of the store are eager partners in such an endeavor.

"More engagement by the public is the goal," Swenson said.

The BOS next meets on May 18. The agenda will be available via the town web site.

NEW DURHAM — New Durham Parks and Recreation is in the midst of summer program planning and would like to share plans with the greater community. Registration for all activities will be available online at www.newdurhamrec.com and further information can be sought from Nichole Hunter, Recreation Director, at ndrec@newdurhamnh.us or 859-5666. All programming is open to the general public.

Youth track and field

The youth track and field team out of New Durham has open registrations for the 2017 season. Practices are being held at Prospect Mountain High School through May and June ahead of the Granite State Track and Field regional and state meets later in June. This program is available for youth ages nine-14 and all are welcome. Coaches will work with families who have other springtime commitments to make sure any interested youth are able to participate in this program.

Summer field trips

Thirteen trips have been planned for the summer months and are open to all ages. Trips range in experience and price to provide opportunities for as many people as possible. Trip destinations include the NH Farm Museum, Monkey Trunks, Squam Lakes Natural Science Center, OSG Paintball, Gunstock, Whale's Tale and more. Additional information can be found online.

Swim lessons at the lake

As is tradition, Parks and Recreation will again host swim lessons at the town beach on South Shore Road in New Durham this summer. Lessons are taught by Red Cross certified instructors and are open to youth ages four and up. Six levels of lessons are available during three two-week sessions. This is a wonderful opportunity to introduce youth to swimming or to enhance the skills they already have.

Annual Fun, Games and Giving 5K and Kids' Fun Run

As part of the Celebrate New Durham town event on July 29, the annual 5K and Fun Run will take place starting with registration opening at 7 a.m. The race takes place on a closed course through New Durham, starting and ending at Farmington Fish and Game Club. The first 50 registered participants will receive a race gift and prizes will be given out to the top runners. Runners will receive a discount off their registration fee by donating a non-perishable item for the New Durham Food Pantry. Fun Run participants' registration fee is just one non-perishable item for the Pantry. All experience levels and ages are encouraged to attend.

ALTON CENTRAL'S SCOOP

BY CRIS BLACKSTONE
Alton Central School Principal

Friday, May 5, Mrs. J. Leathers, Ms. R. Weymouth, Mrs. L. Stevens, Mrs. D. O'Brien and Mrs. R. Hawkins were indeed honored during an all-school assembly for the 2017 Champions for Children award. Perhaps more interesting than the honor itself was the way the five were genuinely surprised to walk in to the gymnasium, hearing the band playing a welcoming song, and seeing across the front of the gymnasium, a head table with members of their families and friends already seated, waiting for their entrance.

With hugs, and laughter and tears and applause, they proceeded to be seated, and took in the packed gymnasium, realizing that all grade levels were seated and ready for the program to begin. With an opening presentation of the Star Spangled Banner by our chorus under the direction of Ms. Harrison, the audience was seated and the Title I team could catch their breath — with the reality that the whole school was gathered from their afternoon classes to be celebrating what the Champions for Children mean when they say they're looking for those people in our NH schools who continue to go above and beyond their daily job descriptions to reach the children in the school.

With the programming opening with Mrs. Pamela Stiles, Superintendent of SAU 72, being the first to recognize the Title I team as the ACS recipients for this year, she went on to let the audience know a little bit about the sponsoring organization. This award was started by the New Hampshire School Administrators' Association, to recognize those who "embody through action, the guiding principles to successfully provide for the needs of all children." Mrs. Stiles warmly recognized different quotes from the letters of reference submitted on behalf of Principal Blackstone's recommendation to have ACS Title I team be this year's local recipient of the award. The attendees may recall the assembly last year, recognizing Mr. Kirt Hussey, from food service and many years with the buildings and grounds crew, as the recipient. That assembly began with the band marching in, playing a rock legendary song, in Mr. Hussey's honor. Mrs. Stiles concluded with her words of congratulations and joined the head table for the rest of the afternoon assembly for the group.

Presentations included flower planters, from fifth graders, who also used the gifts as a part of their science lessons, and hand crafted bouquets from the third grade, who were proud to have kept their handiwork a complete secret from the Title I team, in spite of having different honorees in and out of their classroom over the past few days while the work was in progress. The youngest students at ACS, our pre-K students, presented banners, as did grade five. Cards were bundled in bright yellow ribbons from Kindergartners, and presented in a mini-parade by the students from where they sat in the audience to the head table. A special presentation of a science song, used as a memory device to help children learn aspects of their unit on cells, was performed with the seventh graders spontaneously joining in the song, as they would have had that in their fifth grade curriculum under Mrs. Quinn's direction, too. Ms. Rush's second grade Spanish students' performance of their song about sounds animals make to Spanish-speakers' ears meant the honorees were up and out of their seats, in a march through the second graders' raised, arched arms. That was a crowd-pleaser, to see the honorees up and in action!

Closing the program, Mr. Neveu conducted the band in a rousing rendition of Katie Perry's "Roar" which put the whole audience in a rocking mood, and united everyone in singing the most famous parts pride at accomplishments every day here. If you see these folks, do offer your "congratulations" to them, too — and remember, the school year opened last August with an all-staff meeting where they were recognized albeit briefly, as having those 85 years of service to ACS. Here's wishing them many, many, more years together, here, working towards school goals for all of our students.

THE BAYSIDER, THURSDAY, MAY 11, 2017

Moving forward

Readers of last week's paper may have noticed that we were a bit short on stories. One of our front page stories was written by a Granite State News writer on a regional organization based in Wolfeboro.

We typically try to focus on Alton, Barnstead and New Durham, particularly on our front page. Inside, we will often print press releases from surrounding communities, including Wolfeboro, Pittsfield and Gilford that we believe readers might be interested in reading about. But our stories tend to focus on the three towns that we cover.

However, last week we ran into a problem when we realized that we had very few stories for our front page. In fact, as of Monday, the only story we had scheduled for our front page was the piece on the Route 28 construction in Barnstead written by Mark Foynes. Cathy Allyn stepped to the plate with a nice story on a presentation in New Durham and we added the story on WEDCO to round out the front page.

Unfortunately, this is one of the problems we run into not having a full-time staff reporter. Our contributing writers do a wonderful job getting to events and getting us stories, but they also have other jobs, in most cases, full-time jobs that require their attention 40 or more hours a week. They do the writing when they have time and we greatly appreciate their work, but also understand they have other commitments they need to attend to.

We are excited to add a little help to our contributing writer flock this summer, as we will be welcoming an intern from the University of New Hampshire to our small crew. Katie Lesnyk is a Prospect Mountain graduate, so she is familiar with the community and she's been writing for the UNH student newspaper in her first year of college. We are happy to have someone else on board to lend a hand through the summer months with some interesting features and some meeting coverage.

With that in mind, as always, we appreciate story ideas and suggestions. We can't always be where we want to be, but we can often follow up with the right people if we can't (both board of selectmen stories this week were written this way). If you have any story ideas, please send us an e-mail (baysider@salmonpress.news) or give us a call (569-3126) and we'll do our best. With an extra set of hands on deck over the summer, we imagine things will get a bit easier in this regard.

As we've said many times, small community newspapers rely heavily on the community to keep us updated and to help fill the paper each week. We appreciate everyone's submissions to the paper each week and we appreciate any story suggestions or ideas that you might have.

And as we head in to summer, keep an eye out for our contributing writers or our summer intern as they are out and about in the community. We appreciate their hard work each and every week.

The next chapter

Families are invited to join in on the fun an early chapter book club has to offer at the New Durham Public Library. Open to children pre-kindergarten through first grade, the club provides an early chapter book to be read aloud by parents, and materials to make a craft related to the book. Copies of "The Miniature World of Marvin and James," the story of a little boy and his beetle friend, are available now. Materials for the craft will be set up in the Children's Room beginning May 8, and families may come into the library on their own schedules to make the take-home item.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you to Susan Whiting

To the Editor:

On April 30, Susan Whiting, executive director of The Children's Center in Wolfeboro, officially retired after 41 years of service. Susan's attributes and career path were recently well documented by Shirley Ganem in the March 16 Granite. We cannot emphasize enough the many hats she wore, first as a teacher and program coordinator, and then as executive director for the last 20 years.

Through all the growth and changes in the center, Susan has maintained her high standards and remained steadfast in her commitment and dedication to the children and the center. She has been an exemplary leader and role model for the staff, the center's families and the community. Truly, she has been the heart and driving force of the center for many years.

While we wish Susan well in her retirement we would be remiss if we did not say that we are feeling the loss of her departure. That said, we the staff would like to express our deepest gratitude and appreciation to her for the gifts she has given. We are all better people for having had the good fortune of knowing her and working with her.

They cannot accept upholstered furniture items and electronics will be accepted after examination.

Happy Hobby Doll Club makes bonnets

ALTON — The members of the Happy Hobby Doll Club recently completed a workshop in making 1850 bonnets. The workshop, taught by Michelle Hamilton, author of a Victorian doll dress-making book, began with the construction of the foundation of the bonnets with wire and buckram just as they were made in the mid-1800s. Each club member chose silk fabric for the outer layer and Hamilton provided the basic kits of buckram, wire, fine cotton and jersey. All steps in the construction of these bonnets were done by hand.

As the bonnets took shape and the linings were sewn into the hats, it came time to choose the ribbons, laces, feathers, flowers and other trims to embellish the creations. At this point it was exciting to see how going step by step in the process created a treasure for a 1840s-1860s doll, which could become a future heirloom.

The Happy Hobby Doll Club meets in the Alton Bay Community Center the fourth Saturday of each month except July. Enrollment in the club begins now and anyone interested in joining or just more information about the club activities, may call 569-3745.

Lakes Region FFA chapter competes at state convention

WOLFEBORO – Recently, the Lakes Region FFA chapter competed at the Granite State FFA State Convention, held at the Mount Washington Hotel. The chapter brought 16 of its members, and everyone worked very hard to put forward the best that they had. They competed in events and attended sessions put on by the state officer team and leadership workshops by the national officer.

Several of the members competed in state award competitions, including the Star Greenhand Award, awarded to first year FFA members, where Katherine Ricci received bronze and Riley Quinlan received gold.

In the State Star in SAE Awards, awarded to second year FFA members, Katelyn Yazinka was the overall winner and received a $100 check for her work. Yazinka was also the State Proficiency Award winner for entrepreneurship in the area of Beef Production, which included a check for $250 for her efforts. This award will be forwarded to the National FFA for judging in the fall.

REP. CAROL SHEA-PORTER attended the New Durham Democratic Committee's meeting on May 5.

Shea-Porter, Marchand talk with local Democrats

NEW DURHAM — Friday evening, May 5, the New Durham Democratic Committee had a get together at Rich Leonard's Miller Farm. The group celebrated Cinco De Mayo with Mexican food and drink and about 40 local Democrats. Rep. Carol Shea Porter was in attendance and gave inspiration and hope for the future to those who were there.

Steve Marchand, who has already thrown his hat into the ring for governor in 2018, also spoke about why he is running for governor.

The committee invited folks who attended to join the committee and many of those attending did just that. It was a cold, rainy night outside, but inside the people were warm, cozy and engaged in discussing the future of the democracy.

Any New Durham Democrats or like-minded independents who missed this get together are welcome to join the committee at its next meeting on June 8 at the New Durham Public Library.

Marchand addresses voters in Barnstead

BARNSTEAD — A large crowd of liberals, progressives and Independents from Barnstead, Gilmanton and Alton gathered at the Barnstead Town Hall on Monday, May 1, for the Tri-Town Democrat meeting. The featured speaker was Steve Marchand, the former mayor of Portsmouth, who has announced his bid for the 2018 gubernatorial race. His talk covered issues such as quality public education, sustainable energy, infrastructure, healthcare, the importance of inclusivity and entrepreneurship, and how addressing all of those issues are necessary for New Hampshire's economic development. Marchand said, "We need to re-stitch the social safety net in fundamental ways, not just because it's the right thing to do, but because it's key to growing the economy in the future. And that's true for LGBTQ rights, and that's true for immigration, and that's true for the way we do health insurance, and it's true for why we need America's strongest public education system. It's why we need to invest in infrastructure. It's why you have to be serious about holistic solutions as they deal with opiate and alcohol recovery and it's why we need a culture of entrepreneurship."

The next Tri-Town meeting will be held on June 5 at the Alton Community Senior Center at 7 Pearson Road in Alton at 6:30 p.m. June's featured speaker is Erin Turmelle, Political Director for the New Hampshire Democratic Party. The meeting is open to any and all residents of Barnstead, Alton and Gilmanton who consider themselves liberal, progressive or like-minded independents. Refreshments to share are welcome but not necessary. For more information, please contact Heather Carter at starryheather@hotmail.com or visit the "Barnstead, Alton, and Gilmanton Democrats" Facebook page.

Great Waters presents an evening of barbershop on May 12

WOLFEBORO — On Friday, May 12, Great Waters Music Festival will present "The Best of Barbershop" at the Great Hall upstairs in the Wolfeboro Town Hall.

The performance features three talented, award-winning quartets from the Boston area — Downtown Crossing, Boston Accent and DRIVE A Cappella. The show will start at 7:30 p.m. It is sponsored by Fidelity Investments.

While the modern era of barbershop music is accepted to have begun with a 1940s revival, opinions as to the genre's origins vary with respect to race, gender, region and context.

BARBERSHOP QUARTETS will perform in Wolfeboro on Friday night.

Barbershops have a long history of serving as community centers, where men would gather for a variety of activities. English "barber's music," for example, was described in the 17th century by Samuel Pepys as amateur instrumental music. In the United States, the role of the barbershop continued, particularly for African American men, who passed time there singing spirituals, folk songs and popular songs. This generated a new style, consisting of unaccompanied, four-part, close-harmony singing.

Later, white minstrel singers adopted the style, and in the early days of the recording industry their performances were recorded and sold. Early standards included songs such as "Shine On, Harvest Moon," "Hello, Ma Baby," and "Sweet Adeline."

According to the Barbershop Harmony Society (BHS), "Barbershop music features songs with understandable lyrics and easily singable melodies, whose tones clearly define a tonal center and imply major and minor chords and barbershop (dominant and secondary dominant) seventh chords that resolve primarily around the circle of fifths, while making frequent use of other resolutions." Slower barbershop songs, especially ballads, often eschew a continuous beat, and notes are often held (or sped up) ad libitum.

Downtown Crossing consists of Dan Costello, Ben Orenstein, Joey Constantine, Seth Orenstein. They have most recently been honored as the 2013 Northeast District Quartet Champions, but you're just as likely to hear them singing on the T as on stage. They say that all their friends call them DTX, so you should too. Much to Nashville's dismay, Downtown Crossing is an officially registered quartet of the Barbershop Harmony Society.

Boston Accent is the 2006 Harmony, Incorporated International Quartet Champions based on the North Shore of Massachusetts, and includes members Cheryl Brusket (lead), Karen Rourke (bass), Ruth Berman (tenor) and Julie Jeffrey (baritone).

DRIVE, the 2016 Northeast District Champion, consists of Dan Allison, Josh Beswick, Joey Constantine and Ray Johnson.

Information and tickets for all performances are available at the office at 54 North Main St. in Wolfeboro, by calling 569-7710, or online at www.greatwaters.org.

Nickerson to address Alton Historical Society

ALTON — The Alton Historical Society is pleased to present a program by Madge Nickerson of Alton on May 16, at 7 p.m. in the lower level of the Gilman Library on Main Street. Nickerson will present a program beginning with the story of the Liberty Ships, which played a major role in winning WWII. Her father was a surveyor involved in building them at the South Portland, Maine shipyards. She will then talk about ocean liners and the part they played in her growing up as a survivor of the sinking of the ocean liner "Andrea Doria," being the biggest event for her personally. Nickerson has printed a booklet about the "Liberty Ships" and it will be available, with the proceeds going to the Alton Historical Society.

Alton Historical Society programs are always free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served after the presentation. To learn more visit the group on Facebook or at alton-historicalsociety.org. Any questions, please contact President Marty Cornelissen at 875-5456.

Sales up, supply down, quarter one prices rise: Reports

BY RANDY HILMAN
Contributing Writer

First quarter regional home sales rose more than four percent year-over-year to 715 closed transactions but declined 37 percent from the previous quarter, during which 1,139 single-family homes and condominiums traded hands, according to the New England Real Estate Network Multiple Listing Service.

Meanwhile, the quarterly year-over-year median home price in Belknap, Carroll and Grafton counties also rose four percent to $189,000, an indication of rising home values in the area.

Transacted dollar volume for the quarter increased 9.3 percent to $182.2 million, compared to the first three months of 2016, another indication that home prices are exceeding the rate of sales, experts say.

"The start of the year ushered in a wave of good news about a hot stock market, higher wages and an active home sales environment," the New Hampshire Realtors® wrote in its winter housing report. "At the same time, housing prices have continued to rise, and the low inventory situation and affordability crunch has been particularly hard on first-time buyers struggling to get into the market.

"Nevertheless, buyer activity is easily outpacing seller activity ... culminating in relatively quick sales and low supply."

In New Hampshire, as in many other regions across the nation, unemployment has reached pre-recession levels and Americans are optimistic about finding quality jobs, which matters in housing markets because job and wage growth fuel home purchases, NHR reported, adding, however, that employment and wage growth may not kick start the housing market today, if rising home prices and mortgage interest rates outpace income growth, as is the current trend.

The fact is "sellers are getting a generous number of offers in this market" but these sellers may find there will be fewer homes from which to choose when they become buyers, wrote NHR.

New listings statewide were down 20.5 percent for single-family homes and 21.0 percent for condo properties, NHR reported. In the three counties covered in this housing report, first quarter new listings fell 24 percent year-over-year to 1139 units against 715 closings, according to NEREN.

Statistically, homes sold faster compared to the first quarter of 2016 with median days on market declining to 85 days, down 23 percent from the 110-day first-quarter median a year ago.

In yet another indication of a market favoring home sellers, closed transactions, as a percent of new listings, rose 4.5 percent from January through March to 60 percent of newly listed properties, compared to 43.7 percent of newly listed properties in the same period three-month period last year, NEREN figures show.

In Belknap County, first quarter single-family and condo sales declined 1.7 percent year-over-year to 227 transactions, but the pace of sales quickened significantly with the median days on market declining 21 percent to just 80 days, NEREN figures show. In the same period, the median price of a Belknap County home rose 7.5 percent to $192,500.

Carroll County homes sold statistically faster than a year ago but sales declined three percent for the quarter to 215 closed transactions, compared to 221 quarterly sales a year earlier, NEREN figures show. Median days on market dropped 13 percent to 110 days. The median price of a Carroll County home declined to $191,500, down two percent from $195,000 posted for the first quarter of 2016.

Home sales in Grafton County increased nearly 17 percent to 273 closed transactions, while the pace of sales dropped 18.5 percent to just 92 days on market. The median home price rose to $172,500, up nearly five percent year-over-year, NEREN figures show.

Are you thinking of selling your home? Recent statistics show that our regional housing market is short on inventory and needs quality homes. This may be a good time to get top dollar for your home and pay real estate commissions as low as 1.5 percent. Ask me how. Meanwhile, thank you for reading The Winnepesaukee Talkie.

OBITUARY

Marianne Clare Palmason

Loved to write

WOLFEBORO — Marianne Clare Palmason, 92, died peacefully on Sunday, April 16, at the Sugar Hill Retirement Community in Wolfeboro, in the presence of family following a brief illness.

Marianne was born Feb. 24, 1925, in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, to Hill Rodgers and Mabel (Dryden) Rodgers, and was the youngest of four children. Marianne started her education in a one-room schoolhouse in Sanford, Manitoba, where she skipped two grades because she loved to learn. She later graduated from the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg, where she also met her husband, Lorne. They were married for 67 years, until his passing in July 2015.

After graduating, Marianne and Lorne lived in Ontario for six years, followed by a move to the United States in 1953 to the Boston area, living in Malden, Natick and Wellesley over 10 years. Marianne's very first job was as an administrator at Workingman's Cooperative Bank in Boston. The family moved to Summit, N.J., in 1962. There, Marianne and Lorne were active in their community and church. They were also members of the Plainfield Curling Club, very appropriate for a pair of Canadian immigrants.

In 1984, Marianne and Lorne retired to their residence in Wolfeboro, which they had owned since 1970. Most recently, Marianne lived at Sugar Hill Retirement Community, where she was an avid bridge player. She loved to write, and spent hours documenting her life story over the years. Most recently she started to write poetry. Her favorite phrase, "I love you as high as the sky and as deep as the ocean," is often repeated among her family members. Marianne was also an avid Red Sox fan.

Marianne is survived by sisters-in-law Erla Macaulay of Toronto and Evelyn Allen of Vancouver. Marianne is predeceased by sisters Margaret Holmgren and Lorraine Corbett and brother Grant Rodgers.

She also leaves daughter Susan (Palmason) Ruggiero of Amherst, son Robert Palmason and wife Julie (Sydow) Palmason of Littleton, Mass., grandchildren Mark Ruggiero and wife Melissa (Demarest) Ruggiero, Megan Ruggiero, Lauren (Palmason) Winterfield and husband Patrick Winterfield, Matthew Palmason and wife Jessica (Omilanowicz) Palmason, Erik Palmason and Hilary Palmason, as well as three great-grandchildren, Grant Palmason, Owen Palmason and Lillian Winterfield. She is predeceased by her son William Palmason and wife Nadine Palmason.

A memorial service will be held in Wolfeboro this coming August, information will be provided in advance.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the First Congregational Church, 115 South Main St., Wolfeboro, NH 03894 or Central New Hampshire VNA & Hospice.

We can hope that our retirement money invested in the stock market or mutual funds will do well when we are ready to retire. We can hope that Social Security will be there for us when we are ready to retire. We can hope that we are working with an investment professional who understands the difference between accumulation of assets and distribution as income. We can also hope that our retirement money is being managed cost efficiently and appropriately for our risk tolerance and age. We can hope that our retirement income plan is sustainable, will provide steady income and has plenty of liquidity. We can also hope that we have the courage to plan for our retirement income and not bury our heads in the sand hoping that it'll all turn out okay. We can also hope that we do not get ill or die without a will or trust in place.

If you fit the category of people who have put off planning, don't feel bad you are probably the majority. From 2001 until 2011 the markets went nowhere and had a couple of significant drawdowns. It is human nature to receive your statement from your brokerage and just toss it in a drawer unopened because we really don't want to see the damage. Many people do not have life insurance because they don't want to face the fact that they may actually die someday. People can also justify not having life insurance or disability insurance believing that they do not need it any more when in fact, there passing or disability would create a liquidity issue for their families.

Instead of hoping all these things will be okay, why don't we know that they will be okay? You can find out what your Social Security benefits will be depending on when you take them by going to the Social security government website. If your 401(k), 403B or IRA are made up primarily of mutual funds that are really designed for accumulation of assets and not for distribution of income, you may want to consult with an advisor that can show you how to get predictable sustainable income from those investments. Make sure that your assets are also liquid. You should mitigate market, credit and interest rate risk with your income plan. The equity markets have been good the last eight years, so it is easy to become complacent and risk your retirement money in the equity markets. Don't rely on the equity markets for your retirement income. The equity markets are more a growth vehicle than an income producing vehicle.

There's a humorous commercial on TV that shows a husband and wife doing every conceivable chore in the house or yard to avoid retirement planning. Across the street sit their neighbors with an insurance salesman who flips around his laptop saying they your retirement plan is all done. Both, in my opinion, are exaggerations. An insurance product alone is not going to solve your retirement planning needs.

Take the time and muster up the courage to look at a retirement plan that is sustainable, steady and design for income, growth and provides liquidity, just in case.

Winni Walk of Wonder set for June 2 in Alton

ALTON — The eighth annual Winni Walk of Wonder, sponsored by the Alton Central School National Junior Honor Society will take place on Friday, June 2, at 9 a.m. Students will take to the road to help those less fortunate.

The walk is open to students in pre-kindergarten through eighth grade and there are prizes for students who raise the most money for charity. There are three different routes to accommodate the different grade levels. Permission slips are due by May 24 and they can not accommodate walkers who do not bring the permission slips by this date.

Last year the Winni Walk of Wonder raised more than $8,800 but with slightly fewer students this year, they have set a goal of raising $7,000.

Each grade level has chosen a charity to donate funds to. Pre-kindergarten students will donate to Make-A-Wish, kindergarten will donate to David's House, both first and second grade will donate to End 68

Hours of Hunger, third grade will donate to Easter Seals Camp Sno Mo, fourth grade will donate to the Alton Food Pantry, fifth grade will donate to Lakes Region Humane Society, grade six will donate to Dana Farber Cancer Institute, grade seven will donate to American Cancer Society and grade eight will donate to the Blue Ribbon Project.

Any local individuals or businesses looking to help support the walk are encouraged to contact Laurie Griggs at lgriggs@alton.k12.nh.us.

viduals with intellectual, physical, medical and behavioral disabilities into the mainstream of everyday life." To this end, school staff endeavor to create a "nurturing environment" where "a comprehensively-trained staff works one-on-one with each individual, uniquely integrating both education and therapy, to ensure successful transitions to school and to the community."

Dionne said that the town continues to be engaged with state officials related to rumble strips on Route 28. She said the town's letter to the state was responded to by Chris Collins, special assistant to Governor Chris Sununu. Dionne noted that no action is pending, but that the town is requesting further study of the strips' necessity. She said matters of noise are of especial concern. Dionne said the town will likely recommend that any decibel studies be conducted at a peak travel time such as Memorial Day weekend.

Dionne added that the Alton Bay Christian Conference Center has expressed a willingness to donate space for town voting. Recent venues have included PMHS, the senior center on Pearson Road and the St. Katharine Drexel Catholic church.

Dion said all venues present opportunities and challenges.

Although easily accessible, the layout of the PMHS lot makes it hard for mobility-impaired voters to get to polling. "The parking scheme reflects the need for buses to get in and out," she added. The church offers an easier walk from the lot, but driving distance-wise it's almost in Wolfeboro. Since the last election took place during a blizzard, some are concerned about the distance between polling places and where voters live.

Although the senior center on Pearson Road is smaller, officials last November spoke glowingly of the centrally-located site and the efforts of volunteers. Dionne concluded, but added that having an additional option is appreciated from a planning perspective. The TA noted that the BOS will select the location of forthcoming elections, but that the management of the events is delegated to the moderator and the supervisors of the checklist.

Dionne also said that an inspection of the fire station was discussed last week. The comprehensive site evaluation noted six items in need of attention. "Five of them were addressed prior to the meeting - things like a burnt out light bulb," she said.

But Dionne added that the report also recommend that the main station have a sprinkler fire suppression system. Being a major expense, the TA suggested that addressing the matter would either involve CIP consideration or a potential warrant article.

Dionne also reported that work on the bandstand in the Bay was "about 75 percent complete." She said that ice conditions prevented the contractor to walk or boat out to the site. Dionne said repairs include a fix to the structure's roof and an examination and potential remediation of its soffits.

According to the town web site, the BOS next meets on May 15 at the town hall.

penditures fell far short of budget and income. A surplus of $380,800 was accumulated with $205,000 returned to Alton School District and $175,000 returned to Barnstead School District.

Several board members expressed surprise at the amount of the surplus. Terri Noyes asked Duford what budget areas contributed the most to the surplus. Duford promised to provide a detailed breakdown to the board, and noted that the price of heating oil had dropped significantly from the time it was budgeted to the winter months nine months later. She added that there had been turnover in staff with newer teachers hired to replace senior teachers who left from the upper salary levels, and that also brought about a parallel reduction in retirement benefit payments.

Duford also reported that the NH Department of Revenue Administration had provided the SAU with the final amounts of the 2017-2018 assessments for each town toward the next year's budget. And she asked the board to accept a $12,500 grant from the Granite State Leadership Academy for Employees. The grant will pay for a school employee to participate in the Academy's leadership development program.

The board approved shifting $11,000 from unused funds to pay towards the costs of students in the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) and students in HOSA (Health Occupation Students of America) to attend their national conferences. Principal J. Fitzpatrick had reported at the April PMHS Board meeting that these students had won prizes in state level competitions that entitled them to participate at the national level.

Chair Diane Beijer announced committee assignments for the new board. They include Finance: Eunice Landry, Karen Kharitonov, Michael Ball, and Diane Beijer;

Negotiations: Landry, Peter Leavitt, Jason Henry, Terri Noyes;

Building: Beijer, Kathy Grillo, Leavitt, Noyes;

Personnel: Kharitonov, Grillo; alternates: Noyes, Lyla Adkins;

Professional Development: Adkins;

Technology: Ball.

In one more business item, the board approved the renewal of support staff contracts including the percentage proposed by the administration for performance increases in salary for each position. Principal Fitzpatrick assured the board that no support staff was currently involved in any improvement plan.

The balance of the meeting included reports from the superintendent, the student representative, and the principal.

Superintendent Richard Cullison reported that 102 of 125 seniors have received early acceptance into post-secondary programs. He also told the board that a conflict at the February board meeting in which resident Jeffrey Clay accused the board of improper conduct in relation to the New Hampshire Right to Know law was now resolved in favor of the board.

Katelyn Beam, student representative, reported that the History Club had had a very successful tour to Cape Canaveral, Fort Sumter (first shots fired in the Civil War) and other destinations. Leavitt, Board Vice-Chair showed particular interest in the Cape Canaveral visit and asked several questions about what they had seen. Good pre-planning allowed them to get a more close up view of the operations, and the space sized equipment than the average tourist.

Beam noted to a sympathetic board that spring sports were off to a slow start because of multiple rain cancellations. Advanced academic students were in the midst of an anxiety provoking Advanced Placement exam week. Spring band and chorus concerts had been successful and well attended. She was looking forward to an upcoming student talent show organized by two teachers. A board invitation to Principal Fitzpatrick for a special performance was politely declined with the humble comment from Fitzpatrick that it would negatively affect the level of the show's talent.

The senior class spaghetti supper was held last Thursday. It was the final senior class fundraiser of their PMHS career. And what better than a Thursday night spaghetti dinner to jump start the Senior Class trip to Ocean Beach, N.J. coming up this weekend.

Not enough opportunity for giddy seniors? Add in senior prom and junior semi-formal with a theme of "To the Moon and Back."

Fitzpatrick told the board that Beam had stolen his thunder with her report overlapping most of his list. He added that June 1 will be eighth grade information night. Eighth graders from both Barnstead and Alton will visit the high school. He will give them an overall introduction to the school, its opportunities, and its expectations. With a little luck all students will receive their freshmen schedules (caution: new software system has to cooperate), and will then have an opportunity with their parents to visit classrooms, meet their scheduled teachers, and see some of the other special opportunities the school has to offer.

A walk, in place of a run offers many a reason to stop

On Monday morning, two days ago, on May 8, residents of far northern Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont awoke to a blanket of new snow, on the ground and atop picnic tables prematurely dragged out of winter storage by overly optimistic inhabitants of the frozen tundra.

Local historians said the last time it snowed this late was a century before, in the spring of Ought 8. "No, it was the spring of Aught 8," remonstrated Fenton Hardwick, of East B Hill, Maine. "You media people and the forecasters are always getting it wrong. It's supposed to mean Zero, so it's Aught 8, as in '08."

In that year, Mr. Hardwick recalled, the curled-up little feet of roosting chickens froze to their perches and hapless hens could be released only by careful use of a hair dryer, courtesy of the R.E.A., rural electrification, which came to the countryside 30 years later. "Yep, that was the spring of '38," Mr. Hardwick recalled. Other farm families reported that hogs' nostrils froze shut, and could be pried open only by careful use of those tiny little crowbars that were on sale for just the week before at Ocean State Job Lots.

(Okay, so I'm kidding in the previous two paragraphs, but the first one is true. It indeed snowed during the early hours of Monday, May 8, not a record for northern New England, by any means, but still a shocker to denizens who had already tuned up their lawnmowers.)

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

By JOHN HARRIGAN

who dream up heart attack rehab programs want you to walk a lot, which is fine by me because I've always liked walking, although in truth I have long preferred running. But these days I have to be satisfied with only memories of long-distance running, not because of my heart but because a couple of years ago I invested in two new knees. "Read our lips," my surgeon and his PA assistant said after I was slid off the operating table, new knees in place, their eyes boring into mine. "Do not run." If I'd known that, I'd have scrounged up more money and purchased the Extra Deluxe Runners' Knees, item 7-A right there in the catalog, but I'd have had to mortgage the farm.

Anyway, my problem with walking is that I'm always stopping to look at stuff, which makes me late for supper. And in truth, I had just barely begun my walk last Sunday afternoon when I came upon a burl in the bottom of a black cherry tree, which gave me pause. Some tree burls can fetch some pretty good money. People make them into fancy salad bowls and the like that sell for gazillions. Maybe, if I cut down the cherry tree and the burl proves to be solid, not rotted hollow, I can get enough money to take the trans-Australia train from Sydney to Perth.

ON Monday morning the front-lawn signpost, which features the outline of a mountain lion for a very good reason, sported a coating of new snow.

ago, while on vacation in a neat little cottage across the road from Rye Beach, our walks took us past a whole bunch (Stand? Cope? Thicket?) of what I quickly called elephant grass, because on the spur of the moment it reminded me of the kind of grass that surely would grow where tall creatures were stomping around.

We brought some home, and took a small bunch up to my folks' house on South Hill, which my Mom eventually threw into a little swamp just up the road.

It thrives there today, and in fact has grown into a tall and broad wall of grass reminiscent of that original stand we'd encountered at Rye Beach. But alas, no elephants.

known. But my search for "hoorah," used as a noun, turned up a mythical bird that chases people in dire straits, wanting to do them further harm. "Don't let the hoorah get you," was an Old English warning.

These phenomena of Mother Nature are also instruments of justice, our elders warned us when we were kids, and will sew your mouth shut if you tell a lie.

Saying this kind of thing to a child these days could get you hog-tied, dragged away, and thrown into the slammer.

Borelli pitches Prospect to win over Winnisquam

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain baseball team worked around the weather last week, getting in three games in the span of two days.

The Timber Wolves traveled to Tilton on Wednesday, May 3, and played a doubleheader with the Bears. The teams were originally going to play in Alton, but those plans were scrapped because the fields were too wet.

The teams ended up splitting the twin bill, with Winnisquam winning 13-7 in one game and Prospect earning a 4-3 win in the other game.

In the win, Sam Borelli got the start on the hill and pitched very well, giving up just three runs and nine hits while striking out 16 Bear hitters through seven innings.

Prospect scored one run in the bottom of the second inning and added three in the bottom of the fourth inning for a 4-0 lead but Winnisquam came back and plated two runs in the top of the fifth inning and then added another in the top of the sixth to cut the lead to 4-3, but that was as close as it would get, as Borelli kept them off the board in the top of the seventh to secure the 4-3 win.

Drew Nickerson led the offense with two hits on the afternoon, while Brandon Stellon worked three walks and Ryker Burke took two bases on balls.

The next day, the Timber Wolves traveled to Raymond for a game that was moved up a day due to Friday's anticipated weather.

The Rams took a 2-0 lead after two innings, scoring one run in each of the first two innings off Prospect starter Drew Nickerson and made those runs hold up, as the Timber Wolves did not get a single hit on the afternoon. Borelli worked two walks and Nickerson also worked a walk. Prospect scored its lone run in the top of the seventh inning but could not get in the tying run.

Nickerson went the distance on the hill, striking out 13 Rams in the process.

The Timber Wolves will be in action today, May 11, hosting Somersworth and will be at home on Tuesday, May 16, against Franklin, both set for 4 p.m. starts.

Prospect bats come up short in doubleheader

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

ALTON — The Prospect Mountain softball team couldn't get the bats going for most of the 21 innings on the week and it resulted in a pair of losses to go along with a win.

"We didn't hit well and they have some good hitters," said coach Rick Burley of his team's doubleheader at Winnisquam on May 3. "If you look at the runs they've been scoring, I think we did all right (giving up five and six).

"If we would've hit the way we should, we wouldn't have had an issue," Burley continued. "But we left our bats at home."

The first game saw Prospect score just one run while giving up five in a 5-1 loss. The second game the Timber Wolves gave up six runs but scored just five.

"It just wasn't our night," Burley said. "Unfortunately in a doubleheader, sometimes that carries over into the second game."

Prospect got two runs in the third inning. Bekah Wheeler reached on an error and eventually scored on a homer by Ali Brown.

Prospect added three more in the seventh inning. Megan Chase walked and Leah Dunne reached on a fielder's choice. A base hit from Wheeler plated both runners and a double by Burley just missed going out of the park and she set-led for a double. She scored on a base hit by Brown but that was all the Timber Wolves could get.

Megan Sarno got the start in the pitcher's circle and went the distance for the Timber Wolves.

"It was tough losing two that day," Burley said. "A split we could've dealt with."

The Timber Wolves traveled to Raymond the next day and the bats struggled early, as Prospect trailed 3-2 in the fourth inning before pulling away and eventually getting a 10-4 win.

With a big week featuring Mascenic and Campbell after deadline and Somersworth today, May 11, the Timber Wolf coach is hopeful that the bats come along.

"Hopefully our bats will show up," Burley said. "I told the girls to stay positive, you have to have a positive mental approach at the plate."

"And hopefully we'll peak at the right time during the season," he added.

In addition to today's game with Somersworth at 4 p.m., Prospect will be hosting Franklin at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, May 16.

Kennett opened the week with a 9-0 loss at home to Berlin.

The two teams will face off again today, May 11, in North Conway.

The Eagles will be at Trinity on Friday, May 12, and at Berlin on Monday, May 15, before returning home to host Goffstown on Wednesday, May 17, all at 4 p.m.

The Knights will be in action on Friday, May 12, at Windham and will be hosting Plymouth on Monday, May 15, at 4 p.m.

Knight girls sweep past Eagles in windy battle

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — In the middle of a couple of very busy weeks for the Kennett and Kingswood girls' tennis teams, the Knights and Eagles met up at the Foss Field courts in Wolfeboro.

The teams were not only facing off with each other, but also had to battle the wind that whipped off of Back Bay through the entire match.

In the end, the Knights were able to come away with the 9-0 win, the first non-forfeit win for the team in its return to Division II.

The first match off the courts was at number four singles, where Kingswood's Brooke Seigars defeated Abby Acone of Kennett by an 8-0 score.

The number one singles match was next off the courts, with Jasper Shapiro of Kingswood defeating Olivia Couture of Kennett by an 8-3 score.

Kingswood's Marina Eveena followed that up at number three singles, defeating Liz Davis of Kennett by an 8-2 score.

The fourth singles match off the courts was at number two, where Kara Phu of Kingswood defeated Becca Lees of Kennett by an 8-4 score.

The fifth match to finish was at number five, where Kingswood's Danielle Schillereff defeated Alex Samuel of Kennett by an 8-2 score, clinching the match for the Knights.

The final singles match saw Kingswood's Rebecca Coache finish off Kennett's Abby Tepe by an 8-0 score.

In doubles action, the number two match was first off the courts, with Phu and Eveena defeating Davis and Acone by an 8-0 score.

At number one doubles, Shapiro and Seigars played for Kingswood and defeated Couture and Lees by an 8-2 score.

Schillereff and Coache defeated Tepe and Samuel at number three to round out the 9-0 win for the Knights.

While his team hasn't been winning matches, Kennett coach Jacques Couture likes what he sees from his young group of kids, many of whom are new to the sport of tennis.

"They're having a good time and they've learned a surprisingly lot considering the little amount of time we've had on the court," said Couture. "It's amazing what good attitudes they have."

The Eagle coach was also pleased with how the kids have handled things, despite some tough scores against them.

"The scores may not reflect it, but their attitudes are great," he noted.

Kingswood coach Tom Merrell was pleased his team was able to get its first win of the season, other than a forfeit from a match with Pembroke.

"Not only the first win, but a shutout win is always nice," Merrell said, also noting that he believes his team has been competitive in most of the matches, despite the losses.

"Other than Oyster River, all the matches we've played could've gone either way," Merrell said. "This will be a confidence booster for all the girls coming up."

The Knights opened the week with a 5-3 loss on the road at Goffstown.

Merrell noted most of the matches could've gone either way and in games played, the Grizzlies edged the Knights 48-47.

Knights push past Eagles for first win

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

NORTH CONWAY — A clock mistake had the Kennett and Kingswood lacrosse boys playing an extra six minutes in the first half of their game on Monday, May 1.

And as he believes his team is a first-half squad, it actually ended up being okay with Knight coach Matt Tetreault when the second half was shortened to make up the difference and the Knights went on to an 11-8 win over their Carroll County rivals.

"We really are a first half group," said Tetreault. "Maybe the shortened second half helped us out today."

"There was a couple of times when we got some good momentum going," said Kennett coach Alec Frankel. "The defense was playing strong the entire time, but we weren't able to hold the ball on offense long enough."

The first half was played with two 15-minute quarters instead of the normal two 12-minute quarters. To make up for it, the second half was played with two nine-minute quarters.

Erik Madden opened the scoring for Kingswood just 31 seconds into the game, firing a shot past Kennett keeper Theo Charles for a 1-0 lead. Charles came back with a save on another Madden bid moments later.

With 11:44 to go in the extended first quarter, Kingswood upped the lead to 2-0 when Cam Taatjes bounced a shot past Charles on a feed from Sam Barton.

Nicona Williams had a shot stopped by Charles and then Brett Miller followed with a shot that went high at the other end.

The Eagles were able to get on the board with 10:06 to go in the game, as Trevor LaRusso ripped a shot past Kingswood keeper Burke Ruel to cut the lead to 2-1.

Garrett Scott came back with a chance at the other end for Kingswood but it was Mark Chrysaferis who scored, ripping a shot in the net with 9:28 to go in the first for a 3-1 lead.

Tanner Brown and Patrick Cullen played good defense for the Eagles while Barton and Cam Mann teamed up on a bid for Kingswood.

The Eagles cut the lead to 3-2 with 6:36 to go in the first, as Declan Thibodeau deposited a shot on a feed from Anthony Graziano.

Right off the next faceoff, Connor Doucet raced the ball in and fired it past Ruel to pull the Eagles even at three.

Kennett then took the lead just a short period later, as LaRusso picked up his second goal of the game with 5:47 to go.

That goal led to Tetreault replacing Ruel with Ben Eldridge, who promptly made a nice save on a bid from LaRusso.

Chrysaferis was able to pull Kingswood even at four with 3:32 to go in the quarter but Kennett came right back off the ensuing faceoff, with Doucet firing a shot in the net for a 5-4 lead for the Eagles.

Madden netted his second goal of the afternoon with just less than three minutes to go in the first quarter, tying the score at five and that score held to the end of the frame.

Eldridge made a nice save on Chase Lee early in the second quarter and Madden came back with the go-ahead goal for the Knights, scoring with 1:25 gone in the frame for a 6-5 lead. Chrysaferis, Madden, Taatjes and Williams continued to the offensive attack for the Knights but they couldn't convert.

With 7:29 to go, Madden was able to get one past Charles, bouncing a shot in for a 7-5 lead.

The Eagles came back just more than a minute later, as Miller found Lee in close and he buried the ball to cut the lead to 7-6.

The Eagles answered with a goal from Cole Emerson with two ticks under five minutes to go in the half and then just 42 seconds later, Barton finished off a feed from Madden to make it 9-6. Both teams had chances in the final minutes but Kingswood took the 9-6 lead to the shortened second half.

Chrysaferis made a couple of nice moves to finish off his hat trick 1:25 into the third quarter for a 10-6 lead. The Knights came through a few minutes later as well, as Taatjes got in close and buried the shot on the man advantage for an 11-6 lead.

Kennett came back with plenty of chances in the final few minutes of the quarter, as Dennis Morgan, Josh Rivers and Doucet had good chances in the zone.

The Eagles were able to capitalize on the pressure with 1:52 to go in the quarter, as Lee buried a shot to cut the lead to 11-7 heading to the fourth quarter.

Just less than three minutes into the final frame, Morgan scored a shorthanded goal on an assist from LaRusso to cut the lead to 11-8. Chrysaferis, Madden and Barton continued to have chances for Kingswood but Charles held strong in the net to close out the 11-8 win.

"You've got to give it to Ben there," said Tetreault of his junior goaltender. "Those are the performances we want out of kids."

"I couldn't be happier for him, for him to have an impactful performance as the goalie is reassuring," the Knight coach added. "Ben made timely saves and it allowed us to make good scoring plays."

He also praised the work of Chrysaferis with his first hat trick.

"We told him he's good at dodging across the middle but we told him he should shot," Tetreault said. "It can't always be Erik."

"If we had a game, I'd have to split it in half," the Knight coach said after his team's first win.

Frankel noted it was the third time this season that LaRusso has scored the first goal of the game, a strong start for the freshman, but again noted the offense needed to possess more.

"Our defense ends up playing 75 percent of the game," Frankel said, while also praising Charles. "He's really on top of hard shots and they have some good outside shooters."

The Eagle coach said he was also looking forward to the rematch, which was scheduled after deadline Wednesday.

"We play these guys again, so I'm looking forward to taking it to them on their field and showing them what we can do," Frankel said. "We have a big week ahead of us."

Kingswood will be back in action today, May 11, at Oyster River at 4:30 p.m., will be hosting Spaulding on Monday, May 15, at 5:30 p.m. and will visit Spaulding on Wednesday, May 17, at 4:30 p.m.

Kennett will be hosting John Stark on Friday, May 12, at 4 p.m., will visit Oyster River on Monday, May 16, at 5:30 p.m. and will host Portsmouth at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 17.

As most readers of this column probably know, I'm a creature of habit and I like to stay in my comfort zone. I wake up at the same time every day, I go to the gym at the same time, eat essentially the same lunch, etc.

However, last week, I decided to take a couple of big leaps out of my comfort zone and try a couple of things that definitely constitute a change in my routine and my life.

First up is a new diet and exercise program that I started, thanks to the recommendation of a friend. I've been going to the gym four to five times a week for the past four or five years and truthfully, haven't seen many results, though I had been maintaining weight and not gaining it. However, at my last doctor's appointment, the weight went up and I realized (or the doctor strongly suggested) it was time for a change.

So, I began a program that seriously altered the food that I eat and the exercise that I do. The food is a huge change, as it involves lots of cooking my own food, preparing and portioning food. While I am a capable cook, it's not something I've done much of for numerous reasons. The exercise was also a change, in that instead of the normal hour I'd been doing, it is a half-hour program every day, but the exercises are much more intense.

SPORTING CHANCE

By JOSHUA SPAULDING

So far, a week in, I've noticed a few changes, but I don't know that I can characterize those as good changes. The first change is in my grocery bill, which has skyrocketed and has also been coupled with the fact that I now have to shop every week instead of every two or three weeks. The other change is in the increase in the amount of time I spend in my kitchen. Whether it's cooking, prepping or doing dishes, I think I've spent more time in my kitchen the last week than in the last two years. And the Sunday mornings that used to be dedicated to relaxing and watching a little television have now become cooking time. The other change is that my muscles are so sore that I can barely walk at times. It was not pretty at times last week.

However, the exercise instructor keeps saying "give me 21 days and I'll give you the body you want." So, I'll keep it up, though I'm not sure how she's going to get me Taylor Swift.

The other jump out of my comfort zone came on the last day of April when I took the stage and auditioned at the Village Players Theater.

I've been involved in many productions over the past six years or so but I've had just minor appearances on stage. I auditioned for Spamalot, but with the express purpose of getting the part with one word (which I did). This time was different.

I spent a lot of time listening to the opening song for 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee over the previous week and got the song down. I was prepared to do the singing without much issue, though it was the first time I'd really sung on stage. The dancing was a whole other story and was pretty scary, truthfully.

Anyway, I got an e-mail a few days later that I got the part of William Barfee for this summer's production, so it's bound to be a busy few months leading up to the July production.

Maybe by that point my legs won't be sore from the workouts anymore.

Finally, have a great day Erica Bickford Cray.
