GES project uncovers serious room ceiling issue

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Work is progressing on phase two of the mechanical, electrical, and plumbing project at Gilford Elementary School, which has stabilized one potentially serious issue in one room.

Assistant Superintendent for Business Scott Isabelle updated the Gilford School Board on the summer project during its meeting on Monday.

Isabelle said a significant amount of work has already been done in the project and demolition has gone smoothly.

In the course of doing electrical work in Room 651, workers discovered that the original ceiling was starting to collapse. Crews had removed the dropdown ceiling to do work on insulation and lighting. They found a section of the ceiling around six feet up that was four foot wide and spanned the length of the room that had sunk around a foot.

Isabelle said the ceiling was braced by two-by-fours. A meeting was schedule for the next day on how to secure and repair that section of ceiling and possibly find a reason why it started to collapse.

"That was unanticipated and that will be a cost to us," Isabelle said.

He said this is the first unknown element that have encountered so far.

"I'd rather have that be an unanticipated cost than have children hurt," said board Chair Rae Mello-Andrews.

Isabelle said Bonnette, Page, & Stone will be able to work with this and price out the needed repair.

The project also uncovered and addressed one potential inconvenience. Isabelle said it

Volunteers sought for sign ordinance review committee

BY ERIN PLUMMER
eplummer@salmonpress.com

The town is seeking volunteers for a new committee to examine the town's sign ordinance in light of a Supreme Court decision that could impact the current ordinance.

On June 28, the selectmen voted unanimously in favor of creating this committee to review the sign ordinance, seeking representatives at large as well as from the real estate industry and non-profit organization.

The decision was based on the 2015 ruling in the case of Reed vs. the Town of Gilbert. According to the court ruling, Gilbert, Az. had an ordinance requiring all signs to have permits unless they fell into 23 certain sign categories, with some different categories being subject to looser or stricter regulations. The ordinance put stricter regulations on "Temporary Directional Signs Relating to a Qualifying Event." The

Notes from the Gilford Public Library

BY MARK THOMAS

Library Correspondent

"On the road again. I just can't wait to get on the road again" (thanks Willie Nelson). Gilford loves to travel. The area is beautiful, but so are a lot of other places. We hear about travel adventures from several of our volunteers and patrons. It feels like collectively we have been everywhere in the world, but of course that can't be true. As traveled as the world is, it's got more to offer.

Whenever we see a slideshow of travel pictures, or hear about the bizarre places someone went, what really stands out is what the traveler learned. They learned how to travel well, about the local culture, local history, or something unexpectedly like how their guide 'Guy' has a Ph.D

in mechanical engineering but he really likes the mountains of Peru. Since the library is partial to learning, I like hearing most about what people learned.

Recognizing that people in Gilford like to travel and to learn, we asked Jane Ramsey to come and talk about her experiences with Road Scholar. She is the local Road Scholar Ambassador. As they explain, "Road-scholar is a leading not-for-profit organization which provides learning and travel adventures for adults at exceptional value. Created as Elderhostel over 40 years ago, the organization provides more than 5,500 all inclusive programs throughout the Americas and Canada and in most countries all over the world."

Jane has participated in 23 program in the United States, Canada, and Switzerland, so she has plenty of stories to tell. This August, she will be heading up the coast of Alaska on a small ship to learn about the gold rush, its impact on Alaska, and about the wildlife and glaciers. The Road Scholar programs span the globe, touching on history, contemporary culture, all with a focus on educating travelers. They also claim to keep prices low as part of being not-for-profit.

If you are looking for trip ideas, are curious about how Road Scholar works, or just want to hear about Jane's adventures, come by the Library next Thursday, July 20 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. to hear all about it. Let's learn!

Pet of the Week: Pepper

Sometimes we call it 'unpacking the suitcase' and in Pepper's case, she did, for a long time. However, human problems invariably meant a return two years later to New Hampshire Humane Society.

Now, before we all get on our high horses, let us state, categorically for the record, we support and encourage those that cannot continue dog ownership, to bring that creature back to us. It's the right thing to do.

Pepper is perplexed, and puzzled about the turn her young life has taken. Just 2 ½ years old, she grew up in the company of other dogs, and children. Always a bit of a worrier, and shy, Pepper mourns her former family. She so needs new friends to stand by her and help her realize life can be fun and enjoyable, again. She's such a good dog, having completed puppy training at the shelter when she herself was small, she is a wonderful calm, quiet companion who just needs a home to blossom and flourish in – as all good dogs deserve. Look into her wizened, melancholy brown eyes and see that glimmer of hope for a new home and a fresh start.

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

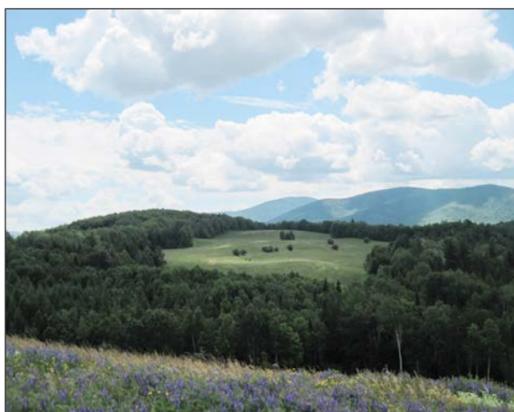

A truck-tour around the territory refreshes both memory and mind

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

It takes at least two people to maintain a back-country camp. My partner in this venture (he calls me "JDH," I call him "Mr. Shyne") spends his winters in California, and is always chomping at the bit to get back to the right side of the continent as soon as the weather warms up. When he shows up we're likely to take off on a truck tour, just to reacquaint ourselves with the territory.

This year's ramble took us up a rough road

Monadnock (our Monadnock, just across the Connecticut River in Vermont) loomed just to the west, its 3,148-foot hulk dominating the scene. Still visible, a third of the way up, are the remains of a gold mine dug, blasted and pick-axed in Civil War times by Ed Norton, an entrepreneur who tried many things that failed, including this one, which produced ore with traces of gold but never enough to pay.

Although many people don't know it, there are more than the one Monadnock so well known in southwestern New Hampshire, and of course from Thoreau's writing. The term, W-SEE NOTEBOOK PAGE A12

Strategies for Living

BY LARRY SCOTT

If I were to tell you I am a Muslim ... or into Buddhism or Transcendental Meditation, or if I claimed to be an atheist, you would probably say, "That OK! I accept you as you are" and I would enjoy your respect. If, however, I were to tell you I am an evangelical Christian and that I believe the Bible to be God's written revelation of truth, red flags go up all over the place. Indeed, I would more than likely be branded by what you think I'm against rather than what I'm for. You most likely would be convinced I am judgmental rather than tolerant, narrow-minded rather than understanding, convinced I have little of interest to say to your world. Wrong! And if you'll stay with me, it is an image I hope to correct.

For one thing, I have a suspicion there is much about which we agree. I believe, as a case in point, that there is something good and admirable in every religion. Even though our respective theologies may be incompatible – in some cases we can't both be right – I nevertheless have given my respect and interest to every religious faith.

I believe that every one of us has been created, to quote the Bible, "in the image of God." There is, indeed, a spark of the divine in each one of us. And, yes, that includes pedophiles, prostitutes, and perverts. The Bible may not sanction every life-style but God's Himself has granted each one of us the freedom of will to choose our path through life.

I believe in life after death. Eternity, in my view, is but an extension of life. If we choose to live without a personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ, we are going into eternity without God – and that is hell – whatever that means. Conversely, however, if we walk with God here on earth we are going to spend eternity in His presence and that is heaven – whatever that means. I don't propose to understand all I would like about life after death but of this I am convinced: God is as good as His Word! I expect to spend eternity in His presence!

I also believe that each of us is on a spiritual journey and have been given the opportunity to model character, honesty, and integrity before our respective families. We each cast a long shadow and the life we live is going to have a significant impact on those who know us and are influenced by our example. In truth, our family is, to a significant extent, a reflection of who we are. And to our credit or to our shame, the life we live and the principles we live by will be exemplified in the generations to follow.

This column, then, is dedicated to encouraging a serious consideration of those principles that will enable us to be the men and women God created us to be. Many of these principles come to us from the Bible, the book that is not so much about eternity as it is about life. We will explore them together and it promises to be an exciting journey.

You want to talk about it? Hit me up at rlarryscott@gmail.com.

Background check now required for Gilford school volunteers

BY ERIN PLUMMER
mnews@salmonpress.news

Regular volunteers at Gilford schools will now have to undergo a background check following the passage of a new policy.

The Gilford School Board approved a new volunteer policy requiring these background and criminal record checks during its meeting on Monday.

Superintendent Kirk Beitler said more than 300 people volunteer in the schools. Assistant Superintendent for Business Scott Isabelle said under the current policy volunteers are supervised by staff members.

The new policy states that any designated volunteer must be subject to a background investigation and criminal records check. If no disqualifying records are found, the volunteer will receive an identification badge they are to wear every time they work in the school.

Designated volunteers include people who work with students on a regular basis, chaperones, athletic coaches or assistant coaches, anyone who assists with performing arts events or shows, or anyone else designated by the school board or superintendent.

The background check will be conducted for individual volunteers every four years. For the three years in between that volunteer will be required to sign an affidavit.

Beitler said people who come in for one-time work or presentations will be exempt from this policy.

Beitler said he spoke with police Chief Anthony Bean Burpee in June about the proposed policy and the different methods of doing background checks. The Gilford Police use a system called IMC that records interactions police officers have had with people in the course of their duties. This system is only available for municipalities in New Hampshire that use IMC and cannot do checks in other states.

Beitler said the more extensive method was fingerprinting. This method can result in federally based checks which will get information from other states as well.

Board member Karen Thorndike said she supported the policy, though raised the issue that background checks do involve a cost. Beitler said the district will incur that cost.

Beitler said Bean Burpee told him he liked this policy overall.

“He thinks it’s a very proactive approach,” Beitler said.

Beitler said he has also spoken with Volunteer Steering Committee president Jen Kelly about this policy.

School board members overall supported the policy. Board chair Rae Mello-Andrews said she was going to be the first person to sign up for this, as she is in the schools on a regular basis.

“I think it’s all about safety these days,” Mello-Andrews said.

Beitler said this policy will be discussed at coming open houses. They plan to discuss it at the elementary school open house and they can discuss it at the middle school open house.

The school board unanimously approved this the policy.

Board member Gretchen Gandini asked if the district could send notices to parents about this and was told it could be done.

Susanne E. Irwin, 88

LACONIA — Susanne E. Irwin came into this world on March 28, 1929 and departed July 5, 2017.

Born to Mary Josephine (Forster) Eakin and Fred Cooper Eakin in Gary, Ind., she spent her early childhood in Indiana and Kankakee (outside Chicago), Ill. Her family moved in the 1930's to Jungle Trail, Orchid Island, Fla., where they worked the family's citrus grove. Her grandfather on her mother's side, Frank Forster, a US naturalized citizen from Germany, obtained the acreage for the groves in 1889 under the Homestead Act and, though, he was known as Captain Forster, he was, in truth, a stevedore (dock worker) with a lot of moxie who later became a farmer. Nonetheless, the property was both the family business and home for parts of several decades. Susanne was educated in nearby Vero Beach. Her family, by this time, had also begun spending time at a summer home on Lake Winnepesaukee. Eventually her father, Fred, took a position with Scott and Williams in Laconia and, then, her life's pace quickened as she moved to Boston for college in 1946, married Robert H. Irwin in 1950 at age twenty-one, helped start a family automobile dealership in 1951 at age 22 and gave birth to her son in 1953 at 23. Susanne and Robert continued to be active in their Laconia and Florida communities serving on numerous boards, donating to charities and causes with a particular concern for Laconia's school system. They were involved, yet always anchored by a balance of temperament and realism. This balance was born out of respect, love, and, quite frankly, Sue's 'Yin' to Bob's 'Yang.' She was "cull the excess" succinct with dry wit; he was a confluence of facts, figures and storytelling and, they put together 64 years of marriage. Apparently, it worked.

Susanne is survived by her son, Peter Irwin; daughter-in-law Sarah; grandchild Christopher and his wife Rose; grandchild Kara and her husband Daniel Hopkins; two sisters-in-law, Dorothy Touart and Elaine Irwin; a brother-in-law, John "Jack" Irwin; and many in-laws, nieces and nephews.

Susanne was predeceased by her husband, Robert H. Irwin, in 2014.

A Graveside service will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 15, 2017 at the family lot, Bayside Cemetery in Laconia, followed immediately by a gathering for all family, friends and neighbors to be announced at the service.

In lieu of flowers, please make donations to the New Hampshire Humane Society, PO BOX 572, Laconia, NH 03247, to the Wounded Warrior Project, PO Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675-8517 or to Central NH VNA & Hospice, 780 North Main St., Laconia, NH 03246.

Gerri was born on Feb. 3, 1932 in Vnderburn, Maine, the daughter of the late Antonio and Gladys (Labbe) Houle. She was a member of St. Andre Bessette - Sacred Heart Church.

She is survived by her three sons (Robert Simoneau of Laconia, Gary Simoneau and his longtime girlfriend Barbara of Belmont and Peter Simoneau of Denver, Colo.); three grandchildren (Ryan Simoneau of Las Vegas, Nev., Jacqueline Mancini and her husband Joe of Denver, Colo. and Nicole Reardon and her husband Matthew of Hopkinton, Mass.); one great grandson, Zach, of Denver, Colo.; two sisters, Vivian Doherty and her husband Donald and Judi Swanson and her husband Arnold, all of Laconia, two brothers, Hubert Houle and his wife Donna of Weirs Beach and Richard Houle and his wife Susan of Belmont; and many nieces and nephews.

In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her husband and the love of her life, Raymond Simoneau, in 2005; two sisters, Jacqueline Landry and Jocelyn Barry; and three brothers, George Houle, Norman Houle and her infant brother, Pete Houle.

There will be no calling hours.

A graveside service was held at 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 8, 2017 in the family lot at Sacred Heart Cemetery, Garfield Street, Laconia.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Are You Ready to Be an Entrepreneur?

July is Independent Retailer Month. As you know, local stores bring vitality, creativity and economic growth to their communities, so it's worth celebrating those "mom and pop" shops. But they aren't the only entrepreneurs in the country - about 10 percent of workers in the U.S. are self-employed, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. If you're thinking of joining these ranks, you may want to prepare yourself financially.

For one thing, you may need to pay more in taxes, depending on your income. Self-employed individuals typically have to pay twice the amount in Social Security and Medicare taxes because they have to cover the portion that employers normally pay.

Also, unless you're fortunate enough to have a spouse who can put you on their employer-based health insurance, you'll need to find your own, at least until you're eligible for Medicare.

Furthermore, you will need to take charge of your own retirement savings. Fortunately, several retirement plans are available to the self-employed. These plans typically offer tax-deferred growth potential and tax-deductible contributions.

Here are a few options to consider:

• Owner-only 401(k) — This plan, which is also known as an individual 401(k), is available to self-employed individuals and business owners with no full-time employees other than themselves or a spouse. For 2017, you can put in up to 25 percent of your annual income as an "employer" contribution, and you can defer up to $18,000 (or $24,000 if you're 50 or older). The sum of your employer contribution and your salary deferrals cannot exceed $54,000, or $60,000 if you're 50 or older.

• SEP IRA — If you have just a few employees or are self-employed with no employees, you may want to consider a SEP IRA. You'll fund the plan with tax-deductible contributions, and you must cover all eligible employees. As an employer, you can contribute the lesser of 25% of your compensation (if you're also an employee of your own business) or $54,000.

• Solo defined benefit plan — Pension plans, also known as defined benefit plans, are still around — and you can set one up for yourself if you're self-employed or own your own business. This plan has high contribution limits, which are determined by an actuarial calculation, and, as is the case with other retirement plans, your contributions are typically tax-deductible.

• Simple IRA — A SIMPLE IRA, as its name suggests, is easy to set up and maintain, and it can be a good plan if your business has fewer than 10 employees. Although planning for your retirement is important, you also need to prepare for unanticipated short-term expenses, such as a major car repair or a new furnace. While everyone should be ready to meet these needs, it's especially important if you're self-employed and have a variable income. So, work to build an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account.

You may find self-employment to be quite rewarding — but you'll likely enjoy it even more if you make the right financial moves.

One Light Theatre presents "Moon Over Buffalo"

TILTON — Join One Light Theatre for another riotous comedy, as once again they bring a collaborative cast of community members and professionals to the stage. "Moon Over Buffalo" follows the trajectory of a family of actors performing repertory theatre in Buffalo, N.Y. who are suddenly given a chance to impress a Hollywood director. Charlotte Hay (Heather Young) is thrilled for a chance at making their big break, but her husband George (Bo Guyer) throws wrench after wrench into the plan through a series of hysterical, drunken mistakes.

The cast brings back many familiar names in this season's professional company—Matthew McGinnis (Ethel), Owen Thomas (Richard), Jack Harding (Howard), and Heather Hunt (Eileen)—and also features One Light company manager David Sheehy (Paul) and marketing director Ashley Hanson (Rosalind.) The leading roles will be filled by two talented figures from the Lakes Region community.

Bo Guyer of Laconia is no stranger to the role of George Hay — he's portrayed the character three times at various local theaters. For many years Bo has been an active member of the New Hampshire theatre community. He is also a member of the four man vocal group The Rockin Daddios.

Heather Young—Director and Head Teacher at The Red Oak Montessori School in Franklin—holds a BA in Theater from the University of Maine, Orono

(1993), a New Hampshire Teacher's Certificate K-6 (2016), and a Masters of Education from Plymouth State University. After a 17-year hiatus from theatre, Heather returned to the stage in the spring of 2016 as the Baker's Wife in Winnisquam Regional High School's production of "I'nto the Woods."

"Moon Over Buffalo" will run from July 21-23 and 28-30 at Tilton School's Hamilton Hall. Join One Light Theatre for a wild evening full of love triangles, mistaken identities, and Irish coffee — you're sure to leave laughing!

Visit onelighttheatre.org or call 603.848.7979 for tickets. Box office hours are listed on the website. Tickets will also be for sale at Lakes Region Cupcakes on Main Street in Tilton.

Comedian Lenny Clarke at Pitman's July 15

LACONIA — Lenny Clarke is a name that virtually every New England comedy fan knows. There are few professionals with the credentials, the following, and the history of success Clarke has achieved.

The long time Boston based comedian will be appearing at Pitman's Freight Room in Laconia (94 New Salem Rd.) Saturday, July 15 for a 9 p.m. performance. Tickets are $25 in advance and $30 at the door and may be obtained through Pitman's website at www.pitmans-freightroom.com, by calling 527-0043, or emailing msmith7892002@yahoo.com.

Advance ticket sales have been brisk, and to date, the highest presale of any show at Pitman's with more than two weeks still remaining prior to show time.

"We have had a lot of early interest in the show and have sold a significant number in advance," said Dick Mitchell, who along with his wife Connie owns and operates Pitman's. "We have had a number of situations where people make reservations then don't show or bother to call so we are offering a $5 saving per ticket if people buy in advance."

This past December, Clarke kicked off Pitman's fifth year of comedy with a sold out show leading fans requesting to have Clarke return.

"Lenny was great his first time here and he got a standing ovation," said Mitchell. "The people loved him and wanted us to bring him back." He was here in December and a lot of regular comedy fans came out. We wanted to bring him back in the summer so those who are up for vacation can see him and at the same time see the room."

Pitman's regularly has music, as well as the monthly comedy shows and fundraisers for local organizations, as well as private functions.

Joining Clarke on the stage that night will be Boston headliner Mike Prior who has been seen on Comedy Central, MTV, and has toured nationally.

The Lenny Clarke show will be followed by the next comedy night at Pitman's scheduled for August 12 at 9 pm starring Artie "The Mad Pharmacist" Januario and Boston closer Dan Crohn.

"Pop" goes the Gilford Community Band

After a well-attended Independence Day concert, the Gilford Community Band is rehearsing for its' third summer concert which will be on Wednesday, July 22, at the Weeks Bandstand in Gilford Village. The concert will be at 7:30 p.m.;

and, as usual, inclement weather will bring the concert inside to the Gilford Performing Arts Center at Gilford High School.

A special feature will be "The Return of the Native"(thanks to Thomas Hardy) as Lyvie Beyrent will return to conduct the band. Many thanks go to Rachel Auger, who ably directed the last two concerts. Auger will be back in the first row. Many thanks also to The Thompson-Ames Historical Society for their delicious Independence Day dessert of strawberry shortcake. and thanks also to Walt Stockwell for the lyric notes.

This concert's theme will be pop music, including "Michelle," the love ballad by Paul McCartney (77 years old this year) that was released on the 1965 "Rubber Soul" vinyl album. The song was influenced by the French Left Bank culture of the 1960's. "March of the Siamese" was the 1951 music set to Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical "The King and I," and occurred during the presentation of the King's many children to Anna. The "Liberty Bell March" was an American military march composed by John Philip Sousa in 1893, and has been played at 5 of the last 7 Presidential Inaugurations. "Lawrence of Arabia" was the main musical score for the 1962 Oscar "Best Picture of the Year," beating out another outstanding movie " To Kill A Mockingbird."

The Gilford Community Band is a volunteer group of interested musicians, ranging from Middle School students to Senior Citizens. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the band room at the Gilford High School. For additional information, please contact Lyvie Beyrent at lbeyrent@sau73.org.

Gilmanton couple hosting garden party stroll to benefit food pantry, library

GILMANTON — On a quiet country road in Gilmanton, a charming red house sits on a rise. If you drive by and glance at it, you might nod and say, "What a well-kept lawn and yard."

You would be correct, but it goes much deeper than a nicely mown lawn. The owners of the property, Dick and Sue Barr, have fashioned a series of incredibly beautiful, you-can-stroll-forever gardens that seem to pop up from the sloping land.

The couple spend all spring, summer and fall in their gardens, weeding, planting, replanting and sometimes rethinking where new and old favorite plants, trees and shrubs will go.

Let's not forget the water features as well. The Barrs are experts at trying out unusual water fountains, and when something doesn't feel quite right or has run its course, they aren't afraid to rethink and redo an area. Case in point: their beloved little pond area with fish. Sue still shakes her head in distress when she speaks of the repeated effort of a nocturnal animal to make a feast of the fish. Tired of the effort and the risk to the fish, the Barrs removed the pond area and installed a wonderful new stone water fountain feature.

Not long ago, Dick decided he wanted a little greenhouse. Thus, he sent away for one from a European company and now has a wonderful greenhouse on the property. He says it's great year-round and especially wonderful on a cold and snowy winter's evening to sit in the little house and look up at the stars in the night sky while feeling the warm, moist air captured in the structure.

There doesn't seem to be much this couple is afraid of tackling when it comes to gardening. If you want to grab a fellow gardener or just want to stroll some beautiful gardens on a summer's afternoon, head to the first ever Garden Party Stroll at the Barrs. The event takes place on Saturday, July 22 from 4 to 6 p.m. at 30 High St. in Gilmanton and proceeds will benefit the Gilmanton Food Pantry and the Gilmanton Year-Round Library.

Tickets are $20 per person or two tickets for $35. Wine, cheese and crackers will be served, and you can have a before dinner snack and drink and stroll the beautiful gardens.

If you have gardening questions, or maybe you want to learn more about how Dick and Sue handle installation of the garden water features or how to grow something unusual or even what the process was for constructing and heating the greenhouse, the couple are always willing to chat and give advice.

For tickets to the event, and to RSVP, call the Barrs at 267-1905 or email susan.barr75@gmail.com.

Saturday, July 15, 9 p.m., $30 in adv, $35 at the door: Lenny Clarke Comedy

Lenny Clarke is famous for his thick Boston accent and role as Uncle Teddy on the series Rescue Me. Clarke was born in Cambridge, Mass. He was the most famous "saloon comic" in Boston during the 1980s, the heyday of the Boston comedy scene. The DVD release "When Standup Stood Out" details Clarke's early career and affiliations with other famous Boston comics, such as Steven Wright and Denis Leary, his good friends. In 1980, Clarke wrote and starred in a local television show, "Lenny Clarke's Late Show," featuring Wright and Leary, in collaboration with Boston comedy writer Martin Olson. Clarke and Olson were roommates, and their apartment, known by comedians as "The Barracks," was a notorious "crash pad" for comics visiting Boston, and the subject of a documentary film as Clarke and Leary explain in "When Standup Stood Out."

to return. However, this band did return in 2011 with a vengeance! Consisting of three core members of the original LA East Band from Laconia, and by adding in fresh new talent we round out this 5 piece hard hitting blues band, named Blues Tonight.

Not only does the Band play covers of blues songs that we are all familiar with, Blues Tonight also performs songs that not everyone has on their set list. But playing covers isn't really what we are about, it's the original songs that we are getting known for and that people are requesting. So come see for yourself what a powerful sound we can create and enjoy what everyone has been talking about in New Hampshire!

Don't miss "Panic in the Streets" this weekend on LRPA

LACONIA — Join Lakes Region Public Access Television this Friday and Saturday night (July 14 & 15) for our "LRPA After Dark" presentation of 1950's action-packed and seldom-seen film noir "Panic in the Streets," directed by Elia Kazan and starring Richard Widmark, Jack Palance (in his film debut), Barbara Bel Geddes and Zero Mostel.

In a squalid neighborhood of New Orleans, a back-room poker game has led to a disagreement among a group of thugs. A man named Kolchak, complaining of illness, leaves the game

(with all the earnings), and the other gangsters follow, determined to gain back their losses at any cost. Kolchak is fatally shot by gang leader Blackie (Palance), along with two others, including Raymond Fitch (Mostel). They leave Kolchak's unidentified body on the docks.

When he is brought to the city morgue, the coroner finds the bullets, but become suspicious about a virus present in Kolchak's blood. He calls Dr. Clinton Reed (Widmark), a U.S. Public Health Services officer, to come in on his day off to examine the body, SEE PANIC PAGE A13

Lakes Region Music & Arts Day Camp prepares for third season in Gilford this August

GILFORD — The Lakes Region will be alive with music and arts this summer, especially during the week of Aug. 7-11. That's when the new Lakes Region Music and Arts Day Camp will begin its third season as a full-day, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. camp experience for students aged nine to 14.

The brain child of Director Karen Jordan, this camp is unlike any other in the area in its mixture of offerings and opportunities for students.

"We have such a great resource of talented music and art teachers in this region that it only makes sense to offer a specialized camp," says Jordan. "Our mission will be to maximize the potential of each child through a quality curriculum that will stimulate thought and learning, in a safe and caring environment."

Four experienced instructors will make up the staff. Music educator Phil Breton taught music in the Laconia School System for 31 years, accompanies community theater groups, is an organist at Gilford's First United Methodist Church, and plays the viola with the Lakes Region Symphony Orchestra.

Alison Witham, an art educator at Laconia High School, is certified to teach music and art K-12, and is a flutist with the LR Symphony Orchestra. Vickie Wood Parrish is an accomplished musician on the French horn, a pianist, and a retired pastor who also holds a degree in music education. Camp Director Karen Jordan is a professional singer/actress, current director of the Lakes Region Singers and Youth Chorus, and the Wesley Choir at the First United Methodist Church, and past director of choral music at Inter-Lakes High School in Meredith.

The camp will offer students options to participate in beginner or experienced instrumental lessons, basic keyboard skills, bell choir, LRM&A Camp chorus, vocal training, drumming, beginner guitar, art classes, and again this year, every camper will learn to play the violin, rental of which is included in the tuition. The week's activities will culminate on Friday with a Showcase that parents and the public are welcome to attend. The great thing with learning to play the violin is that the fingerings are very much like the guitar and most students will be able to transition if they desire to.

"The campers will be allowed to work at their own pace," says Jordan, "while also being encouraged to try SEE ARTS CAMP PAGE A13

ORDINANCE

Good News Community Church, which does not have a permanent location, posted signs for its temporary locations. The church was cited by the town for having these signs up for exceeding the time limits that the signs were displayed and failing to include an event date. The church and Pastor Clyde Reed sued the town for going against their freedom of speech. The decision was handed down on June 18, 2015 that these kinds of content restrictions were unconstitutional.

Selectman Chan Eddy said Gilford's sign ordinance mirrors the one in Gilbert. Gilford's sign ordinance also has regulations based on categories, including a section on "Special Outdoor Event Signs" and what certain messages they can have. Eddy said the town will need to take a closer look at the sign ordinance.

Eddy said the basic message of the ruling was that certain speech cannot be restricted on signs; either allow all speech or none.

Eddy said the Planning Board asked the board of selectmen to put together a committee to review the Supreme Court decision as it relates to the town's sign ordinance and look at amending the ordinance. With the committee approved they would solicit volunteers.

The board voted unanimously in favor of forming the committee.

The board is now seeking letters of intent from Gilford residents who want to serve on the committee: seeking representatives from a nonprofit organization, the real estate industry, and a member at large.

For more information on this committee and how to sign up, call the selectmen's office at 527-4790 or email selectmen@gilfordnh.org.

banaki for "isolated hill" or "lone mountain," was long ago adopted for several mountains that fit the description. Hence, our Monadnock, tucked away in Vermont's Northeast Kingdom, a stone's throw from northern New Hampshire.

When I last hiked it many years ago there was a trail of sorts up this mountain, and I say "of sorts" because in places it was one of the worst trails I've ever been on, and that's plenty. But of course there is a story behind this.

Like many mountains of such dominance, our Monadnock long ago was selected as a prime site for a forest fire lookout tower. Its latest iteration was a so-called "kit tower," a standard design of rust-proofed steel created by the U.S. Forest Service and made available before and after World War II to state and timber company associations all across the country.

Although most have long since been abandoned, many of these incredibly strong towers are still standing, Monadnock's among them. And although most of the wooden steps had rotted away when I was last there, the tower was still sturdy, and a group of equally sturdy volunteers fixed it up so the stairs are once again safe to climb.

But ah, the trail. In the early years, the steepest part of the ascent was a classic switchback trail, zig-zagging its way up and eventually becoming a gently winding path through virgin softwoods and then beautiful, if stunted, hardwood forest.

Shortly after World War II, a telephone line was run up to the tower, and therein lies the story. It became part of the lookout's job to maintain the line, keeping it clear and repairing breaks caused by falling trees and limbs and wandering wildlife. And it wasn't long, of course, before the so-called Wire Trail became the preferred route up the steepest part of the mountain, the switchback trail nearby quickly becoming overgrown. Here and there the discerning eye can still see its remains.

From our promontory above Colebrook we could see, off to the southeast, a huge clearing that was once the site of a large farm but is now invisible to most of the traveling public, reachable only by a rough one-lane road originally laid out for ox-carts.

I wondered what I always wonder when I see such openings in a vast sea of trees, no longer grazed or hayed, and kept open only by committed owners who bear the expense of bush-hogging. How long will these openings stay open? In many instances, they are the only means by which we can view our views.

We eventually fetched up at Lake Gloriette, at the foot of Dixville Notch, where we discovered nothing much new at the Balsams, except a new (and fairly large) landslide on the cliffs behind, which are home to peregrine falcons.

(This column runs in papers covering two-thirds of New Hampshire and parts of Maine and Vermont. Letters should include town and telephone numbers in case of questions. Write to campguyhooligan@gmail.com or Box 39, Colebrook, NH 03576.)

was discovered that the heating system in the older parts of the building consisted of heating loops that spanned an entire wing. If there was a problem with any of these loops, the shutoff valve would shut off heat for the whole wing. The structure was changed so isolation valves were placed in each room, so the system can be shut off in individual rooms in the event of a problem.

This last minute fix cost an additional $2,083 that had to be approved at the last minute. Isabelle said the project has already seen significant savings; finds like this will cut down on that savings, but will not affect the overall cost of the project.

Isabelle said in general the project is going as scheduled.

Superintendent Kirk Beitler said the project will be putting back the ceiling in the two older wings later this month and then moving onto the hallways and past the gym. Isabelle and Beitler said the have been working in extended shifts and Saturday, taking a break during the Fourth of July.

FOOD FEST

came to Temple B'nai Israel on Sunday for the festival and sample from an array of traditional Jewish and Eastern European dishes all cooked by temple members.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the festival, which started as a fundraiser selling hot dogs and borscht.

"It evolved over the years," said Stu Needleman, who runs fundraising for the temple.

Now the festival offers a large number of different foods including cheese blintzes, knishes, chopped herring and liver, stuffed cabbage, kugel, and many more. Visitors could also choose from a variety of baked goods and deli sandwiches.

The food is made by temple members in different teams based on each item, each team with a captain. Needleman said they try to plan how much food to make based on the previous year's sales, though that is always hard to predict.

Needleman said they will normally see around 600 to 700 people at the festival. Food tends to run out quick. By that afternoon, they had already run out of knishes.

"We are in effect a 250 seat restaurant we operate for two and a half hours," Needleman said.

Needleman said the temple does extensive marketing to get the word out about the event. They have also gotten a steady stream of regular visitors over the years.

"This entire community knows about it," Needleman said.

The festival now offers pre-ordering online.

People who pre-order had first dibs of the menu items and they could go to a table and pick up their food right then. Previously pre-orders were only offered to members of the temple, now they are available to anyone.

The food appeals to many people around the community. Needleman said a lot of Jewish food is Eastern European food. Rhoda Goodman said a lot of the recipes came from people's parents and grandparents.

The festival is one of the temple's major fundraising activities. Needleman said while they want to raise as much as they can to benefit the temple, they care more about providing good quality food for the visitors.

reluctantly leaving his wife Nancy (Bel Geddes) and their young son at home. Reed and the coroner determine that the murder victim has pneumonic plague, similar to bubonic plague but spread by physical contact and just as deadly to those exposed but untreated. Reed calls an emergency meeting with the mayor, police chief and other city officials to debrief them on this dire situation. While at first they are skeptical, the officials come to understand the danger, and that they have only 48 hours to contain the spread of the plague. They must work quickly and carefully, lest the city be overcome with panic. What follows is a desperate race against time to learn everything they can about the dead man – who he is, where he came from, and most importantly, with whom he came into contact. Will Dr. Reed and the police stop the spread of the deadly disease on time?

“Panic in the Streets” was shot entirely on location in gritty New Orleans, giving the movie a gripping sense of realism that other film noirs, often filmed on a set, do not possess. Kazan, having already won the Oscar for “On the Waterfront,” made the most of his colorful location. The film’s scenes include abandoned lots, train tracks, back alleys, dive bars, flophouses and the like. The director also favored the use of locals, rather than Hollywood extras, to add authenticity to each scene. The film won the Academy Award for Best Screenplay, was chosen by the National Board of Review as one of the Top Ten Films of 1950, garner Kazan the International Award at the Venice Film Festival that same year. In its review, The New York Times noted that “... Elia Kazan has directed [it] with a keen sense of appreciation for violence and suspense.” If you’re a lover of classic movies and of suspenseful noir, you owe it to yourself to see “Panic in the Streets.” Grab your popcorn and meet after dark for this seldom-seen thriller from our cinematic past.

FOOD FEST

The temple holds a number of other fundraising activities throughout the year to raise money for a number of nonprofit organizations. A benefit on Memorial Day raised money for the Gilford-based Camp Resilience.

Irene Gordon of Belmont has been part of the festival since it began with hot dogs and borscht.

"It was very small; people liked this kind of food," Gordon said.

ish food. She said a lot of people, especially younger people, are not as involved in religious traditions.

"For us, this is very important, to continue the traditions," Gordon said. She said Jewish food is diverse depending on the culture.

"We try to give you a mix of food from all over the world," Gordon said. Rhoda Goodman of Laconia has been taking part in the festival for the past eight years and was the captain of the team doing stuffed cabbage.

"It's very exciting; it's a real team effort," Goodman said. "It's a lot of work. You do it with other people, so it's terrific."

The sandwiches featured bread by The Olde Craft Bakery in Dover, and owners Alexander and Alyona Nash sold their bread during the festival. The Nash's came from Russia and produce old world European-style bread right in Dover. Alexander Nash said they developed a significant pride in New Hampshire and decided to open the bakery. The Olde Craft Bakery opened in February with Alyona in charge of baking and Alexander in charge of marketing and other details.

He said Temple B'nai Israel found the bakery online and ordered rye and caraway seed bread.

Alexander Nash said enjoyed the festival.

"It's great; it's where people can enjoy getting to know the Jewish culture," Alexander Nash said.

Lakes Region wins Granite State Games field hockey title

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION

— The Granite State Games brings student athletes from all around the state together and an Olympic style competition, and the Lakes Region field hockey team, led by Gilford High School coach Dave Rogacki, took home a gold medal for the second straight time.

In the three years the Granite State Games have been done, Rogacki coached the field hockey team. He said this year went very well, as they were 4-0, beating the Coastal team 2-0. Last year they beat the Southern team 1-0 in the championship.

In the championship game, goals were scored by Tia Raspante of Tilton and Kellie Ryan of Gilford.

Rogacki said the key to this is having the bodies to last for three days of hard playing, and he was impressed at their work ethic.

The Granite State Games are split up into four sections, and student athletes from those areas can try out for the respective sports teams. There are nine different sports, and each involves teams playing for a gold, silver or bronze medal.

He can choose from students from Concord all the way up to the Canadian border. He said this can be a bit strange, as students from Newfoundland are in the Monadnock region since they use the Newfound River to separate the teams.

Rogacki said the group of players he had this year was great to coach. Many came from Gilford, Laconia, Winnisquam and the Tilton School. Top performers included the MVP of the tournament, Raspante of Tilton School, who had two goals and three assists.

Makenzie Snow of Winnisquam had three goals and an assist, while Ryan of Gilford had three goals. Brianna Salanitro of Gilford also had a goal and three assists.

From Tilton School there was Kaitlin Bardellini, Morgan LeBaron, Zoey Nash-Boucher, and Katherine Ruggles. From Winnisquam there was Auger, Madison House, Hallie McNamara, Kaylee Tierney, Ashlyn Toupin, Mckayla Toupin and Riley Toupin.

From Gilford High School there was Nicole Berube and Jillian Lachapelle.

Other players included Gillian and Olivia Conley of Laconia, Taylor Healey of New Hampshire and Kylee Warren of Merrimack Valley.

"I am very fortunate," said Rogacki. "For the 20 field spots we had 31 kids try out. We had a very good group and to do this two years in a row was great for them. It was nice to see them play against kids from other regions in the state."

Rogacki said you never expect to win a championship two years in a row. He said the other teams have a lot of players from Divisions 1 and 2, so this tournament showed the level of talent for field hockey in the area.

"We had kids from mostly small division schools, so it is a good compliment to the kids that they can come out and play against players from Division 1 and 2, from bigger schools," said Rogacki. "It's kids that come from bigger high school programs."

Host families needed for New England Wolves

LACONIA — Each season the New England Wolves will recruit talented players who show great potential to play at the college or pro hockey level, who do not live within a reasonable driving distance of the Merrill Fay Arena in Laconia. To take advantage of this great opportunity, the players need families willing to share their homes, and become a "home away from home" for them. Many families have done this for dozens of players from many countries and states.

What is expected of a host family?

The player needs a room of his own, or can share with a team member. He needs a bed, bureau, closet space and internet availability. Players are expected to provide bed and bath linens, personal care items, cell phones, and take care of their own transportation needs. The family also needs to provide the players with two meals a day, a basic breakfast that they can make on their own, and an evening meal.

What is expected of players?

The player must obey all team and house rules and show respect and consideration toward all family members. Players provide their own transportation as well as clean their own space, including laundry. They need to take care of their own belongings and contribute to your household.

How long is a family's commitment?

Players arrive in late

August and stay till the season concludes. The team takes a break at both Thanksgiving and two weeks at Christmas/New Years. Families will receive a monthly billeting payment for each player, which is $325 a month. Some have found it easier to house two players as they then travel together and are company for each other. Host families have included traditional two-parent families, single-parent families and "empty-nesters" too. All that's really needed is the willingness to help a player pursue his dreams by providing them a "home away from home."

For more information, contact Andrew Trimble, New England Wolves GM/ head coach at scoringconcept@gmail.com or 732-647-5696.

Boisvert helps Lakes Region to softball title

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

LAKES REGION — Lakes Region softball players made a serious impact at this year's Granite State Games, with the team taking home the gold medal with a game winning hit against the Coastal team.

Lexi Boisvert had a standout season at third base for the Gilford Golden Eagles, batting .421 with a team leading 24 runs while and making some incredible plays in the field. She continued her strong play into the summer months, where she had the game winning hit in the gold medal game of the Granite State Games.

The first game against Monadnock was won 8-2 by Hannah French of Proctor Academy, with Olivia Baldyga of Goffstown coming in for the save. Abigail Rochette of Concord had a complete game 7-0 win in the second game against Southern, while Payton Crowley of Tilton School had a complete game 6-2 win in the third game against Coastal.

The gold medal game against Coastal was won by French. The game was scoreless for six innings until Boisvert came through in the clutch to drive in the two runs with a base hit. French finished off the game with a 1-2-3 seventh inning for the 2-0 win.

It has also been a big year for Belmont High School coach Bill Clary, who was named the Division 3 Softball Coach of the Year this past spring. His accolades have continued into the summer, as he led the Lakes Region team to a second consecutive gold medal win at the Granite State Games.

"It was a pure pleasure and honor to coach these girls," said Clary.

Clary coached alongside fellow BHS coaches Bill Hart and Trish Geoffrey, as well as Rick Burley from Prospect Mountain and Rick Ladd from Bow.

There were several Lakes Region athletes who were on the team including Boisvert, Allie Taylor, Crowley, Jordan Sargent and Julianna Estremera of Belmont, Dominique Bolduc of Tilton, Rebekah Wheeler and Megan Sarno of Prospect Mountain and Emily Picard of New Hampton. Others on the team were Abigail Corbett, Nicole Cacciola and Haley Monroe of Concord.

Clary said he enjoyed working alongside his fellow coaches and coaching the team that took home a gold medal.

"It was Rick Burley and my second year together," Clary said. "We gave a lot of fun and it's just so easy to coach such good softball players."

He added, "Rumor has it we'll be back next year."

Taylor completed a fantastic freshman season for the Moultonborough Academy Panthers last spring, and while her team was beaten in the semi-finals against eventual champion Sunapee, she had some better luck at the Granite State Games.

The Lakes Region team came away with a gold medal after four straight wins last month. She said it was a fantastic experience playing with athletes from all different divisions.

"Being on the GSG team you are able to compete against Division 1 and 2 players, and that's always good for me coming from a D-4 school," Taylor said.

For a freshman, Taylor did just about everything a softball coach could want. She had quality innings on the mound and played solid second base, on her way to being named second team All-State. She hit .435, had a .527 on base percentage, five home runs and an insane .839 slugging percentage. She was also 6-2 with 65 strikeouts on the hill.

Taylor is working on enhancing her skills in softball this summer, as she is also playing for the 16 U Black N.H. Lightning where she is currently batting .353 with a .441 slugging percentage. She had a couple of hits in limited playing time during the Granite State Games, she said.

"It was an honor to be able to participate in the Granite State Games," Taylor said. "I had previously played with some of the girls on the team at one time or another in summer ball. Like them I have a passion for softball and am always looking to compete at a higher level."

Taylor said winning was a familiar feeling with French on her team, as they were teammates on a 12 U team in 2013 and 2014. She said French is a "competitor."

AutoServ on board as flag football sponsor

TILTON — The Lakes Region Flag Football League (LRF-FL) is now the proud owner of a 2015 Nissan NV200, courtesy of AutoServ of Tilton.

Bob Giroux, commissioner of the league, stated that the Gaudet/Hosmer family, owners of the AutoServ Dealership and who have children that play in the league, as being instrumental in making the dream of having a larger vehicle a reality.

Lakes Region Flag Football League was founded in the fall of 2010, with 75 players in the first season; has grown to over 300 players each season, ranging from four-year-olds to adults, playing throughout the year.

Before AutoServ's sponsorship, Giroux's personal vehicle was being used to cart all of the equipment necessary to convert a full-size football field into three smaller flag football fields, either to Inter-Lakes High School in Meredith or the Laconia High School field.

Harry Nedeau, General Sales Manager referred to LRF-FL as "a great program," and also said "we're glad to do it. It's all for a good cause."

To find out more about the league, go to lrffl.com or on Facebook at Lakes Region Flag Football, and don't forget to visit AutoServ, the official vehicle sponsor of the LRF-FL, for all of your new or used vehicle purchases.

Underage drinking

Think underage drinking doesn't affect a teen's brain? Think again.

IT'S A FACT. New research shows alcohol affects a teenager's developing brain differently than an adult's. Memory, learning and impulse control can be impaired seriously. The risk of addiction goes up dramatically. So talk to your kids about the dangers of alcohol and set clear rules about no alcohol use.

Gilford Cal Ripken baseball eyes longevity

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@Salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Baseball is popular among young ballplayers in the town of Gilford, and Gilford Youth Baseball Board Vice President Mike Giovanditto thinks it is about time that the sport becomes something more than a six-week season in the late spring.

“The baseball season is so short,” said Giovanditto. “We have such a young base this year with four t-ball teams, four coach pitch teams, one minor team and two majors teams. We are really trying to create a little bit of longevity with the baseball season.”

For the first time ever Gilford Youth Baseball will be holding clinics during the summer and into the fall. Giovanditto said they used to only do this during the winter, but sitting and watching the ballfield not being used in the summer months was something he couldn’t bear.

Starting July 20, every Thursday there will be baseball clinics from 6 to 8 p.m. This will run through Labor Day, but the ending will decrease due to time constraints.

Another discussion that is occurring, but with nothing set in stone, is a fall baseball team for the town of Gilford. They would play out of the Concord Sports Center, but Giovanditto said this is still in the works. Giovanditto said he is looking into specifics about the age range, as well. He added that children have many choices of sports in the community, between flag football, lacrosse, soccer and more.

“A lot of baseball players play other sports so I need to see the schedules on that,” said Giovanditto. “I want to see if we can actually do it, but if we could, now we are talking about baseball from February all the way through the end of October. That would be huge.”

Giovanditto said it would be safe to say that this is on the radar for an endeavor in the future.

“Gilford Cal Ripken is just one town,” he said. “We only draw from the consensus of Gilford. When we play other teams, especially in all-star tournaments, a lot of them draw from a lot of different towns. They play all the time just because they can.”

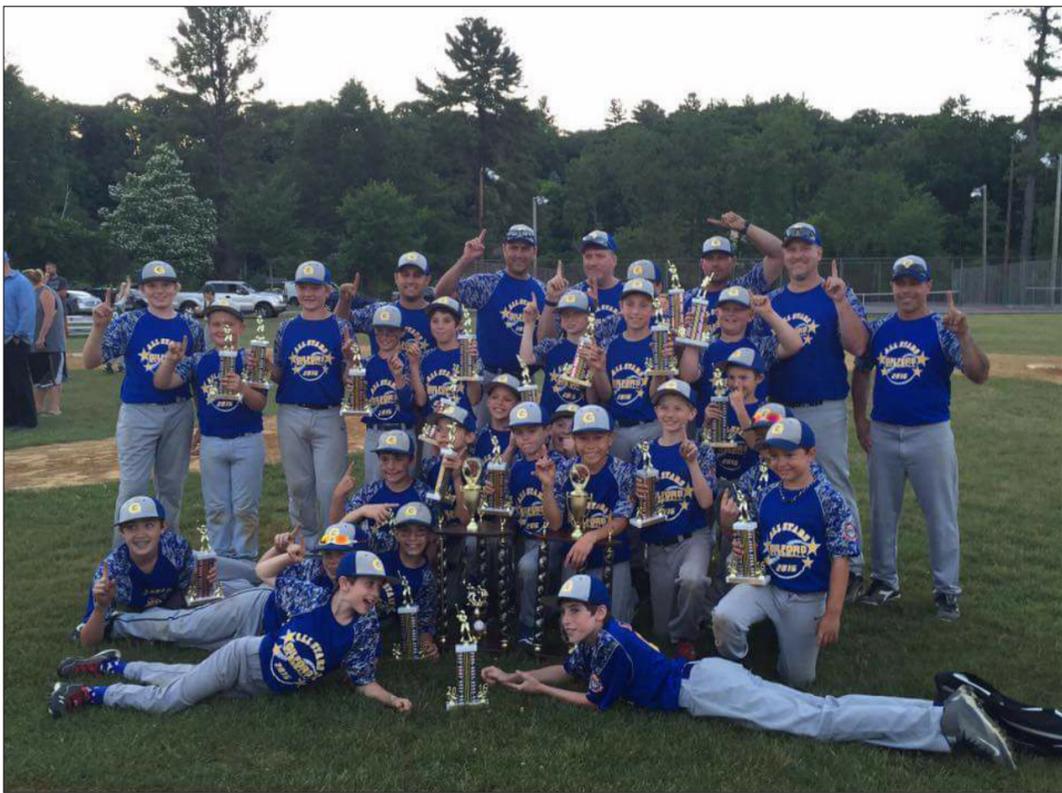

He said communities like Dover can play baseball as long as there is no snow on the ground. Giovanditto recognizes that it is a short season in Gilford, and they need to play as much as they can. The young kids have not had the opportunity to do it, and if Gilford baseball can allow for this, it could fully prepare them for teams in middle school, high school and beyond.

In Gilford, there is a good report at the district tournaments, he said, but this is a credit to the program.

“We only play six weeks and we go to tournaments,” said Giovanditto. “The future vision is to imagine if we can develop the kids more and invest the time in them. Instead of just going to state tournaments, Gilford baseball could be winning them.”

Giovanditto said it is amazing how much interest there is with baseball players to continue long after their seasons.

“This is my fourth year doing this,” said Giovanditto. “I see that Officials in Gilford Youth Baseball are working on increasing the opportunities for young athletes to place baseball in Gilford.

we have enough interest, and these kids want to go out and play baseball. I remember playing ‘til the sun went down every single day growing up.”

Giovanditto said it is a shame the players don’t get that opportunity, and this is something he hopes can change by being a cohesive league and community.

“Instead of six or eight weeks, what about six or eight months?” said Giovanditto.

While competition and athleticism is a major part of Gilford baseball, he said more importantly it is about sportsmanship. Giovanditto coached the minors team this year and he said this comprised players in grades two through four. He said most of the time children these ages wouldn’t converse with one another, but by playing sports together it has brought a different sense of camaraderie among peers.

“It is a nice little bridge,” said Giovanditto. “My son was just in fourth grade and we had a couple second graders on the team. He can say hi to them in the class and they say ‘I know that fourth grader from baseball.’ It’s kind of cool.”

said he has respect for the other sports being offered in the area, he also wants people to remember that baseball is fun and interesting. He wants the players to come back and continue to play.

On July 15, Gilford Cal Ripken Baseball will be holding an event for the first time. From 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Francoeur Field there will be family fun activities, plenty of food, music, batting cages and a whiffle ball tournament.

“This will be fun for kids and parents alike to come play,” said Giovanditto. “It’s a big thank you to everyone.”

Masonic trail race series starts tonight

WOLFEBORO — In July the Wolfeboro Free Masons will be hosting a family friendly running series at Abenaki ski area. There will be a three-mile trail race for all abilities, a short one-mile course and a popsicle dash for toddlers. The trails used are maintained by the Lakes Region Conservation Trust. The three-mile race will be timed, the one-mile race will not be timed as they would like it to be stress free and fun for all abilities. The dates for the races will be July 13, 20 and 27. It will be called the Wolfeboro Masonic Summer Cross Country Series. The toddler dash will start at 6 p.m., the one-mile fun run at 6:05 p.m. and the three-mile race at 6:30 p.m. All races will start on time.

This summer race series is for first time runners and seasoned runners. The goal is to create a non-intimidating environment that brings adults, children, families, new runners and fast runners together. Track teams are encouraged to come out and run too. With three different race options on well-marked courses there is something for everyone who wants to get out in the woods and make new friends. Socialization before, during and after the races will be encouraged and the last race will offer an awards ceremony for series winners as well as a potluck barbecue.

The proceeds from the race will benefit the Wolfeboro Masons and $2 from every race entry fee will be donated to the Lakes Region Conservation Trust.

Entry for each race will be $15 for adults racing the three-mile course and $10 for students. If you choose to register in advance for the series it will be $30 for each adult and $20 for students. The one-mile course and toddler race will be free but donations are encouraged.

Organizers are looking for a photographer to take pictures of the runners and if anyone is willing to donate food for the barbecue, Gatorade for during the race, timing equipment to be used during the race, survey flagging, raffle prizes or money to offset the cost of race insurance, bib numbers and trophies for the winners, please e-mail kfolcik2@gmail.com.

You can register the day of the race or save some money by preregistering for the entire series at www.runreg.com/summerxc. Races will happen rain or shine.
