Families welcome spring at Belmont's Easter Fest

BY DONNA RHODES

drhodes@salmonpress.news

BELMONT — Last Saturday afternoon, Bryant Field in Belmont was filled with lots of fun and excitement as the fourth annual Easter Fest, organized by several local churches, joined forces to create a day for families to gather together and enjoy springtime in the Lakes Region.

Paster Andy Barnes of First Baptist Church of Belmont said Clive Roberts first presented the concept for an Easter Fest to his church. Roberts had been visiting Texas one winter and found the Tree of Life church, which held a big festival for Easter each

"When he came home, he brought the idea back to us. We got other churches involved and it's been growing ever since," said Barnes.

Over the past three years, that Texas church has helped sponsor the event as one of their mission outreach projects, but this year, Barnes said the Lakes Region churches decided to make the project their own.

"And by the Grace of God, here we are today. We did it," he said with a smile.

Among the churches and religious organizations involved this year were Barnes' Belmont congregation, Lochmere Baptist Church, First Baptist Church of Sanbornton, Hope Community Chapel of Franklin, Laconia Christian Academy, Heavenly Sunshine Pre-School and Camp Sentinel. They were further supported by several local businesses organizations as well, such as Franklin Savings Bank, Coca-Cola and more.

Beginning in January, each of the churches volunteered their time to fill plastic eggs with all sorts of treats. Barnes joked that it became a bit of a competition with some of the organizations as to which could fill the most eggs. The end result this year was nearly 20,000 colorful Easter Eggs for children to gather.

There was more than just the egg hunt however. A bouncy house was a popular spot for many of the children and a climbing wall had them lined up for a turn as well. There was also face painting, free hot dogs, and lots of room to run and play. In addition to all of that, each child received a free raffle ticket for a chance to win a number of great prizes, including 23 new bicycles and some electronic tablets.

Boys and girls waited eagerly for the start of the Easter Fest egg hunt at Bryant Field in Belmont last week. Tossing a few of the nearly 20,000 colorful eggs in the air were (left to right) 11-year-old Micaiah of Tilton, three-year-old Jordan and nine-year-old Liam, both of Belmont.

Help clean up the Winni River Trail on Earth Day

NORTHFIELD Celebrate Earth Day! Come one and come all to assist the Winnipesaukee River Trail Association with their annual clean up and maintenance day. This is a rain or shine event which will be held on Saturday, April 22, from 9 a.m.-

noon. People are needed to help pick up trash and provide some light trail maintenance. We will meet near Cross Mill bridge for the and work on the Northfield and Franklin sections of the trail. The Northfield Conservation Commission will also be gathering there to cut brush on the newly acquired Blais Memorial property to improve river access and prepare for installing a parking area. Participants are encouraged to bring work gloves, and hand tools including rakes, brush cutters, shovels, wheel barrows, etc. We will provide garbage bags for trash pick up.

The Winnipesaukee River Trail is a multi use pedestrian trail that follows the abandoned railroad and connects the downtown areas of Franklin and Tilton/Northfield with Route 140/Exit 20 on I-93. The Winnipesaukee River Trail Association has begun planning for Phase III to go from Route 140 to Silver Lake in Lochmere. A regional trail system, The Winnipesaukee River trail will eventually connect with trails in Laconia and Belmont to the east and the Northern Line to the west/north. We look forward to seeing you out on the trail, or come to our month-

Rotary fundraiser could be your "Golden Ticket" to a summer of fun

BY DONNA RHODES drhodes@salmonpress.news

TILTON — The Tilton-Northfield Rotary is holding a "Golden Ticket" fundraiser this spring and summer, an exciting opportunity for one lucky ticket holder to win a whole lot of money that will also benefit nonprofit organizations both locally and around the world.

Rotarians said that the tickets are selling for $100 each, with a limit of 200 tickets available. As a 50/50 raffle, the ticket pulled in the drawing later this summer will reward someone with half of the sales, while the other half will benefit groups like Every Child Is Ours, a nutritional food program for local children in need of assistance, as one of their local initiatives.

"The money will also support our efforts to fight polio worldwide and bring water to Honduras," said T-N Rotary President Barbara Blinn. "Lastly, it will support the efforts of Winnisquam Regional High School's InterAct Club to provide Shelter Boxes and Disaster Relief around the world."

Through Rotary International and its junior partners in InterAct, Shelter Boxes provide temporary shelter, pots and pans, blankets, and hope for those caught up in emergency situations like natural disasters, war and drought.

SANBORNTON Bodwell's Tree Farm in Sanbornton was alive with young ones who hopped through warm, sunny fields last weekend in search of their portion of approximately 2,800 treat-filled eggs hidden throughout the farm.

The annual holiday egg hunt was organized once again by the Sanbornton Recreation Department, which received the assistance of a number of volunteers. Among those were not only community members but students from both Winnisquam High School and Winnisquam Middle School

Little Ethan, age 11-months, enjoyed not only the delicious treats but even the colorful eggs they came in during his first Easter Egg Hunt on Bodwell's Tree Farm in Sanborton.

Scrabble... Adults only A little history about the game: In 1938, American architect Alfred Mosher Butts created the game as a variation on an earlier word game he invented called Lexiko. The two games had the same set of letter tiles, whose distributions and point values Butts worked out by performing a frequency analysis of letters from various sources, including The New York Times. The new game, which he called "Criss-Crosswords," added the 15×15 gameboard and the crossword-style game play. He manufactured a few sets himself, but was not successful in selling the game to any major game manufacturers of the day.

In 1948, James Brunot, a resident of Newtown, Conn. - and one of the few owners of the orig-Criss-Crosswords game – bought the rights to manufacture the game in exchange for granting Butts a royalty on every unit sold. Though he left most of the game (including the distribution of letters) unchanged, Brunot slightly rearranged the "premium" squares of the board and simplified the rules; he also changed the name of the game to "Scrabble," a real word which means "to scratch frantically." In 1949, Brunot and his family made sets in a converted former schoolhouse in Dodgingtown, a section of Newtown. They made 2,400 sets that year, but lost money. According to legend, Scrabble's big break came in 1952 when Jack Straus, president of Macy's, played the game on vacation. Upon returning from vacation, he was surprised to find that his store did not carry the game. He placed a large order and within a year, "everyone had to

The Bookers discuss -"Breathing Water" by T. Greenwood

Three years after leaving Lake Gormlaith, Vermont, Effie Greer is coming home. The unspoiled lake, surrounded by dense woods and patches of wild blueberries, is the place where she spent idyllic childhood summers at her grandparents' cottage. And it's where Effie's tempestuous relationship with her college boyfriend, Max, culminated in a tragedy she can never forget.

Effie had hoped to save Max from his troubled past, and in the process became his victim. Since then, she's wandered from one city to another, living like a fugitive. But now Max is gone, and as Effie paints and restores the ramshackle cottage, she forms new bonds--with an old school friend, with her widowed grandmother, and with Devin, an artist and carpenter summering nearby. Slowly, she's discovering a resilience and tenderness she didn't know she possessed, and--buoyed by the lake's cool, forgiving waters--she may even learn to save herself.

Wrenching yet ultimately uplifting, here is a novel of survival, hope, and absolution from a writer of extraordinary insight and depth. (Am-

Early Notice and Public Review of a Proposed Activity at Property Containing Wetlands Town of Tilton, New Hampshire

The Town of Tilton, New Hampshire is proposing to expend federal funds on a property that contains wetlands. The subject funds are Community Development Block Grant funds administered by NH Community Development Finance Authority. The Town of Tilton will be identifying and evaluating practicable alternatives to locating the action in/near a floodplain/wetlands and the potential impacts on the floodplain/wetlands from the proposed action, as required by Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management and Protection of Wetlands.

The Town of Tilton, New Hampshire, via a subrecipient Gaslight Village Cooperative, Quinn St, a 29 unit manufactured housing park, is proposing to undertake the following activities: Connection of the Park into the municipal sewer system, abandonment of the individual septic systems, razing the house in the front of the park, and infrastructure in the front of the park for additional lots. The total area of wetlands on the property is 3,608 SF or 0.083 Acres. The work will not occur in the wetlands, no impact to the wetlands is anticipated.

There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in floodplain/wetlands and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas. Commenters are encouraged to offer alternative sites outside of the floodplain/wetlands, alternative methods to serve the same project purpose, and methods to minimize and mitigate impacts. Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information and request for public comment about floodplain/wetlands can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks and impacts associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in floodplain/wetlands, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk.

Written comments must be received by the Town of Tilton, at the following address on or before May 8, 2017: Town of Tilton, 257 Main Street Tilton, NH 03276 Attention: Joyce M. Fulweiler, Town Administrator. A full description of the project may also be reviewed from 9-5 the address above. Comments may also be submitted via email to: townadmin@tiltonnh.org or by pnone at 603-286-4521.

Come tour the big, magnificent trees of Prescott Farm Saturday, April 22!

LACONIA — Prescott Farm is home to huge old trees, including a black walnut tree which is officially the largest one in Belknap County! Tree tours highlighting this black walnut tree, and others equally magnificent, will begin Saturday, April 22 from 11 a.m. to noon. All ages are welcome on this tour.

The trees featured during this tour are quite magnificent to behold, and can also teach us a great deal — just imagine what they have "seen" over the course of their lives! During this one hour program, you will learn a lot about trees (of course!), but also fascinating fun facts about ecology, history changed over the years.

Our black walnut tree, featured during this tour, was added to the NH Big Tree list last year. It measures seven feet, seven inches (91 inches) in circumference, meaning it is about 130 years old (planted in about 1886). The largest recorded black walnut tree in New Hampshire is almost twice the size at 14 feet, 10 inches (178 inches) in circumference and is located in Hopkinton.

The NH Big Tree list is organized by UNH Cooperative Extension and recognizes and records the state's biggest "champion" trees. From the "William Whipple" and how the land has horse chestnut in Portsmouth to a black spruce bog in the North Country, dedicated volunteers search the state for the largest examples of individual trees species that grow in New Hampshire. New Hampshire's State and County Listing of Big Trees can be viewed online their website at https://extension. unh.edu/Trees/NH-Big-Tree-Program.

> If you are unable to make it to the tour on Saturday, April 22, other tours are being offered Saturdays, June 24, Aug. 12, and Oct. 14 from 11 a.m. to noon. These tree tours are sponsored by Belknap Landscaping Company.

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

BY LARRY SCOTT

What do you do with a son who is too impatient to wait until you die to inherit ... so asks for his inheritance now, then runs off and spends it all on parties, prostitutes and passionate living? Sound familiar? Indeed, human nature has never changed and the story has been repeated many times ... but this story is an ancient one, and comes from Jesus Himself as found in the Gospel of Luke, Chapter 15.

As often happens, when the money ran out so did the friends. Alone and abandoned, tending a herd of swine just to survive, he took a good look at himself and decided to return home and take the fall for his foolishness. To his surprise, however, when his father saw him coming, he ran to him, embraced him and welcomed him home. And much to the chagrin of an older brother who had covered for him during his absence, the father threw a party to celebrate. "Son," he said to his oldest, "don't be mad. Your brother was dead and now he's alive. He was lost and has been found."

Jesus, of course, was telling the story to make a point.

First of all, I note that, in a day when many are questioning even the very existence of God, Jesus never got caught up in the argument. I find no evidence that Jesus ever attempted to prove the existence of God; He simply took it for granted. What you do find, however, is that Jesus spent quality time describing who and what this God is all about. The picture of a loving father ready to welcome a son who has returned with a repentant heart is typical, and that, too, is a scenario I have been privileged to witness many times. The greatest miracle I have ever seen, hands down, is the miracle of conversion. So dramatic have been the changes I have observed in countless lives I can easily make the case that if there really isn't a God, to believe in him is still to our advantage!

It is amazing to note how many times the scenario of the prodigal has been played out in modern life. God, I know, is thought by many to be a kill-joy, limiting a man's freedom and demanding a self-discipline we would all rather ignore. But God made us with the drives and passions necessary to our survival, and far from limiting our freedom, He merely wants to prevent us from self-destructing.

I find it interesting that in a realistic perspective on life, Jesus' story has the wandering son discovering sin to be a vicious taskmaster. Sin is fun ... grant the point ... but sooner or later "the chickens come home to roost." God is not unfeeling; He understands human nature and the Bible itself talks of "the pleasures of sin for a season." The results, however, can be devastating and Jesus pictured a Father Who is more than anxious to forgive the past and give a man a new lease on life. In God's world, the lost can be found, the wicked can find forgiveness, and the wayward can come home.

PET OF THE WEEK

Sprinkles is as sweet as the confection she is named after.

She was rescued off the streets of Belmont while we were all coping with the winter that just wouldn't leave.

This lovely little cat was starving and emaciated, bedraggled, barely alive. Later we diagnosed Sprinkles with feline diabetes. In the short term we are treating her condition with a specially formulated diet. She's doing so much better already.

We'd like to place her in a foster home, a less stressful option for this adorable long haired tabby girl, giving us time to regulate her system.

SPRINKLES

Could you offer your heart and home for perhaps the most affectionate, gentle cat we have who surely deserves a second chance? She will repay your kindness with affection and purrs a plenty!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Belmont Select Board's attack on county delegation's budget was based on inaccurate information

Editor's note: The following letter was submitted by Mr. Abear in response to an opinion piece by the Belmont Board of Selectmen published in a recent edition of the Laconia Daily Sun.

To the Editor:

It is interesting to observe that the Belmont Select Board has chosen to characterize passage of the county budget as a "battle waging in the press." The county delegation has not used its time or county resources buying space in the local newspaper to characterize its actions. Instead, what you have been reading is an attack by the press, and those unhappy with some aspect of the county budget, fostered by the press in order to move papers.

Please understand, the Laconia Daily Sun has declined to print the side by side comparison of the 2016 Actual Spending versus the Commissioners' Proposed Budget versus the Delegation's Appropriation unless I pay for advertising space, an action which was not a public service. My impression is, it was self-serving bullying, an action to which they are entitled. It also fosters use of cherry picked facts for furtherance of a disagreement, which is good for circulation.

To address your statement that "...the Delegation made significant cuts to the Corrections portion of the budget..." let me observe that the actual spending by Belknap County in fiscal year 2016 for the Corrections Department was $3,481,101. The budget passed by the delegation for fiscal year 2017 appropriates $3,814,227. The budget for the Corrections department was increased by $333,126, or about 9.56 percent. It is my hope this helps you understand what something about the source of your inquiry

With respect to your statement that the cuts to the Corrections portion of the budget "... will impact the new facility..." this is misinformation. The new facility, currently under construction, was funded last year. Its completion, which is expected late in Q3 or early in Q4, is not impacted by the operating budget of the Corrections department. Those are separate funding items. The funding for the new facility was put into place in the 2016 county budget and is not an issue in the 2017 budget. The only activity will be changing from a construction type loan to permanent bonding once the facility is complete. Your statement that the cuts to the Corrections portion of the budget will "... potentially impact the Sheriff's Department..." too is misinformation. The Sheriff's Department is a separate department with its own budget.

To try to put into perspective what you may have heard, the total actual spending by Belknap County in fiscal year 2016 was $26,002,876. The appropriated budget for fiscal year 2017 is $27,487,463. That is a one year increase of $1,484,587 or about 5.7%. The delegation considered the prior history of county's actual spending, the commissioners' proposed budget, the presentations by the departments and we projected expected needs moving forward.

Finding the balance in the county budget is a difficult exercise. The delegation put in place a budget that is respectful of the requested spending levels, the functions of the county, the people served and the taxpayer's ability to pay. I would have included a copy of the budget comparison so you could assess the information you have gotten in context, but the paper previously declined to print it.

The delegation also passed a motion giving the county commissioners the ability to control spending within each department without coming back to the delegation for permission to do so. The commissioners have the ability to set spending in each department as they so choose up to the departmental total. The operation of the county is not part of the authority of the delegation. The delegation is responsible for appropriation of monies but little else short of malfeasance by county officials. Responsibility for operation of the county falls to the elected commissioners. Should they choose to behave irresponsibly it will be unfortunate.

It is my belief the unspecified information source you relied on in generation of your letter is painting a picture to elicit a response from you. My questions to you are: Was the information you received complete and correct? Are any threatened actions reasonable and likely? Is your request that the delegation further increase the county budget reasoned and reasonable? Please understand, this is only my personal response to what I read today, not a response by the county delegation.

Sincerely Marc Abear Belknap County Delegation Meredith

Drought, fire risk and ravens, and on to Northern Pass woes

By John Harrigan COLUMNIST

At the end of last the newspapers, radio and TV were full of warnings about the continuing drought and forest fire danger.

"Forest fire" can mean anything from a grass fire to a brush fire to a full-fledged event involving actual trees. New Hampshire has had precious few of the latter in recent decades. thanks to better fire suppression and communications.

The news media did deign to mention that the drought and fire danger alert involved all of New Hampshire except the North Country, without explaining just where the North Country actually is.

In such cases, we defer to former Governor and White House aid Sherman Adams, who defined the North Country as those lands to the north of the great notch-

Snow-melt reveals, on many people's lawns, the sure evidence of moles, in the form of networks of pushed-up dirt tunnels.

These sometimes look like entire villages, with intersections and sidestreets. These little guys were busy down there all winter, while you and I were still thinking about the potential for more snow and diminishing piles of firewood. +++++

Among guests at my bird feeders toward the end of March were a couple of Canada jays. I'm always happy to see these big, puffy birds, associated with high-country regions here and boreal forests on up to the sub-Arctic.

If offered a piece of meat or other treat from the fingers, which they will often take, they haul it off to the nearest tree to stand on a branch and hold it with their feet so they can tear it apart, all the while keeping an eye out for the next possibil-

While moving vehicles and equipment around one day last week, I heard a familiar "gurgle-squawk," and scanned the sky for ravens, and sure enough, there they were, four them squawking and gurgling their way southward to other high-country places.

I love to see and watch these big, scruffy birds, a bit larger than a crow

Grateful to everyone who helped save our son's life

To the Editor:

On the morning of March 22, our 16-year old son, Derek, a sophomore at Belmont High School, collapsed from sudden cardiac arrest due to an undetected congenital heart condition. Derek miraculously survived due to the professional and rapid response of our public safety personnel and the competent medical care that he received. as well as due to the immense outpouring of love, prayers and support from those in the Belmont and surrounding communities.

We would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to the following: the 911 operator who promptly got us started doing CPR and gave us excellent instructions on how to do it properly; Belmont off-duty Paramedic Andy Frechette, who had just gotten off duty, was in our neighborhood and responded several minutes before the ambulance arrived; the Belmont Fire Department ambulance crew who promptly took charge of the scene, stabilized Derek and got him to Lakes Region General Hospital; the Emergency Department at Lakes Region General Hospital; the Dartmouth Hitchcock Advance Response Team who airlifted Derek to DHMC; the competent staff of the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit at the Children's Hospital at Dartmouth (CHAD); David's House at CHAD; Elders Beck and Fraughton of the Hanover Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints; Belmont High School staff and administrators; the Tilt'n Diner; Jordan's Ice Cream; Infocus Eyecare; Price Plumbing & Heating; Coach Jim Cilley and the Belmont High School boys basketball team; Franklin, Gilford, Interlakes and Prospect Mountain High School boys basketball teams, Gilford Hoops; NHSportsPage.com; Danielle Embree; Devin Poslusny; and friends from near and far who prayed, sent cards, reached out to us through social media, provided meals and gift cards, etc.

We are truly blessed to live in such a caring community. The outpouring of love, prayers and support are what got us through each difficult day.

Several years ago, while speaking briefly to an anti-Northern Pass crowd, I said that right of way clearance was the sleeping giant in the entire scenario.

Now, more than seven years after the battle began, adjacent residents and homeowners with views are realizing that Northern Pass would often involve use of the entire right-ofway width, not just the strip down the middle that utilities have previously used.

In many cases this clearing would come right up to people's back yards. And, predictably, people from Plymouth to Deerfield are up in arms, to which we can only say "Welcome aboard."

(An anti-Northern Pass event, "Hands Around the State House," is set for Sunday, April 23. Beginning at noon. Details can be found on Protect the Granite State's Facebook page.)

products or services are not as competitive as they once were.) • Avoid "toxic" investment moves. Since the first Earth Day in 1970, we have had some success in identifying and eliminating toxins in our air and water. You can also

On April 22, we observe find - and avoid - "toxic" investment moves. One such move is chasing a "hot" stock. By the time you hear about this stock - from a friend, relative or even a television or internet commentator - it may already be cooling off. Even more importantly, it might not be suitable for your needs, either because it's too risky or because you already own several similar stocks. "Hot" stocks aren't so hot if they aren't right for you.

• Reduce "excess" investments in your portfolio. Environmentalists stress the need for all of us to reduce our "footprint" on earth - that is, we can help improve the environment by owning less "stuff." The same idea can also apply to investing. If you took a close look at your portfolio, you might find investments that you've held for years but whose purpose is no longer clear to you. Some may even be duplicates, or near-duplicates, of other investments. You might be able to improve your financial picture by getting rid of this "clutter." By selling investments you no longer need, you could use the proceeds to purchase new investments that may be far more effective in helping you meet your objectives.

• Plant "seeds" of opportunity. Many Earth Day lesson plans

Be an "Environmentally Friendly" Investor for students emphasize the value of planting gardens and trees. As an investor, you, too, need to look for ways to plant "seeds" of opportunity so that you can eventually harvest the results. Specifically, look for those investments that, like trees, can grow and prosper over years and decades. Of course, growthoriented investments carry investment risk, including the possible loss of principal. Yet, to achieve your long-term goals, such as a comfortable retirement, you will need some growth potential in your portfolio. You can reduce the level of risk by owning a mix of investments - including less aggressive vehicles, such as bonds - in your portfolio.

> Each year, Earth Day comes and goes. its messages have had a profound impact on generations of people interested in preserving our environment. And translating some of these lessons to the investment arena can have a powerful effect on your financial future.

Beth also attended several PE classes at the middle school and introduced students to the amazing world of yoga enhancing their understanding of what they can do to promote healthier living.

Many of the student and staff participants shared out what a great time they had including:

Donna shared, "Beth did a great job leading us through the different poses. I always enjoy taking a class with her."

Christina replied, "Doing the yoga at their business was relaxing and enjoyable."

Kathy reported, "It was my first yoga class ever, and I had a great time. The pace seemed as those with yoga experience. The instructor was able to offer variations of different positions that allowed us to push ourselves to our own comfort level. Great experience! "

In our first year as community partners, ONE has offered a variety of amazing and generous offerings to students and staff including, participating in our annual WRMS career day, our annual fall, winter and spring community nights, free yoga instruction, donating generously to the MS student test reward program, and more. In addition, we are working on some future plans to get students and staff kayaking on the Winnipesaukee River and partaking in the beautiful nature trails rich in New Hampshire history that travel along the river's edge.

Flamingo fundraiser underway at Gilmanton School

The Gilmanton School PTA is back at it again with it's flocking flamingos! Our annual event started last week, and there have been sightings in Gilmanton, both in the classroom and in the community! Last year, our generous community flocked almost 70 homes in Gilmanton. This FUNdraiser helps supplement Gilmanton School students' curriculum and enrich their educational experiences. The funds raised by the PTA help fund programs such as our artist in residence and our classroom naturalist. They also help fund field trips and so many other things! These activities are extremely important to our children's educational enrichment. If you are interested in putting some pink birds on your students, family or friend's home (in Gilmanton only), please send us an e-mail at gilmantonschoolpta@gmail.com and our flocking technicians will get the job done! Have they migrated into your yard or classroom yet?

SANBORNTON The Board of Trustees named Hans Mundahl as its second head of school effective July 1. He will succeed founding head Kent Bicknell, who is retiring after 44 years of exceptional leadership.

Mundahl has been invested in SBS since his daughter entered kindergarten years ago. He and his wife Sarah live in Sanbornton with their two children, Olivia (seventh grade) and Ben (fourth grade). Along with being a current parent, he has worked closely with the school on a number of projects and has been a trustee for the past two years. He comes most recently from the very successful consulting firm he established, Hans Mundahl and Associates. Over the last three years, he has worked with more than 40 independent schools and associations around the country, helping with staff training, content marketing, and strategic planning.

From 2001 to 2014, Mundahl was on the faculty of New Hampton School where he served on the administration as Director of Experien-

The Streetcar Company Community Theatre has been staging wonderful, high quality productions in central New Hampshire for more than four decades. In recent years, many of the production teams have been headed largely by women. This year is no different.

During the last weekend in April, the company will be staging the Tony winning musical "Mary Poppins" at Inter-lakes Community Auditorium in Meredith. The title character, of course, is a super strong lady who is "practically perfect in every way." She is portrayed in the local production by veteran performer Kelli Powers of Gilford. Powers comes to St. Car with experience and training earned locally under Faith Rupert at Gilford High School and vocal coach Karen Jordan of Laconia. Kelli has appeared with the company in several other shows, including tackling the very wellknown role of Fantine in "Les Miserables." Her passion for music and dance has been a big asset to the production and to her fellow cast mates. Powers has even taken on the extra duty of choreographing a couple numbers in the show.

the many dances in the show are veteran female dance teachers and choreographers Joan Frates of Frates Dance and Erin Lovett Sherman of Artsfest, both in Laconia. These two ladies have been leaders in arts education for many years and have influenced the lives of kids and adults alike. Both dancers have worked with the company on numerous shows and continue to help both young women and men learn the art of not only dancing but also group dynamics and management, communication, cooperation, time management and collaboration. Numbers created and staged by Frates and Lovett Sherman include the tap show stopper "Step in Time," as well as audience favorites, "Let's Go Fly a Kite" and "A Spoonful of Sugar."

The production features the talents of many other local women as well. Leading the production teams is local AEMT and acupuncturist Raelyn Cottrell of Gilmanton. Cottrell leads a team of about 20 technicians, designers and artists. It is her task to make sure all the jobs are done in regard to making the production possible. Coordinating lighting, sound, set building, publicity and costumes teams as well as things like program and ticket production. The team work, communication and patience required to merge all of these teams is mammoth. "Mary Poppins" is Cottrell's third outing as producer and she notes that "working with so many passionate people to produce a topnotch production that meets everyone's exacting standards is a challenge."

The lighting design is being created and set by Lindsay Sullivan of Gilford. Sullivan has recently returned to St. Car from a stint working at Universal Studios as a technician on one of their major theme park attractions. Sullivan brings a wealth of knowledge about lighting design and how to set a scene and evoke audience emotion through the use of lighting effects. She is working with a large team that includes several local teenagers and hopes to share her love of lighting with the next generation of theatre or movie professionals. She is very excited about the special effect lighting that "Mary Poppins" requires, including a night sky with thousands of stars and special rain effects. The company has purchased some new equipment to help her make these effects pos-

There are other ladies with leading roles in the endeavor as well. The costume team is being headed up by Hillary Ayers of Gilmanton. This is Ayers' first outing as lead costumer and she has marveled at the amount of coordination and planning that goes into the process. From getting performers' sizes to finding costumes in the correct time period as well as making sure the color palette goes with the lighting design! Her team includes Becky Guyer, Becky Fredette, Orianna Filiaut, Erin Zarella and Justine Campione. House manager Jenn Schillinger is leading up the crew of ushers, and publicist Lynn Dadian has spent hours writing articles and doing interviews.

Heading up this crew of talented ladies, is director J Alward of Gilford. Like Powers, she learned her craft under Faith Rupert at Gilford High School, and then went on to study theatre for a time at PSU with the dream of working behind the scenes on Broadway. Now, living and working in New Hampshire, she keeps her skills up by directing for St. Car and other local groups. Alward has staged more than 40 productions big and small. Some of her favorites include "Jekyll and Hyde," "Beauty and the Beast," "Agnes of God," "Les Mis" and "A Few Good Men."

Alward notes that community theatre is a huge part of her life.

"I met my husband there, and both my sons were raised by our St. Car family," she says. "They have other mothers, aunties and uncles, brothers and sisters from there. I love this SEE POPPINS, PAGE A13 friends discovers Lucy in Huan's shop and tells the boxer. He is outraged that Lucy is associating with a foreigner and goes to the shop to seek his revenge. What will happen to young Lucy and her hero Cheng? Can their innocent yet forbidden love survive?

Anvone familiar with the films of director D.W. Griffith knows that he usually favored including spectacle, high production values, lengthy film times and elaborate sets. "Broken Blossoms" premiered in May of 1919, and critics and theatregoers alike were stunned by the story's relative simplicity: three main characters, a straightforward story, and a brisk running strained performance. It was a hit then, and, unlike some of Griffith's more controversial films ("The Birth of a Nation" in particular), is considered one of his finest movies, and a silent film masterpiece. While contemporary ers will note that the film's ideas about race are woefully outdated (Huan is known as the "Yellow Man"), there is still much about the film that transcends time and place, particularly in its views of good and evil in everyday life. In the decades since its release, "Broken Blossoms" continues to win over film historians and critics. "Broken Blossoms" is included in author Ste-Schneider's book 1001 Movies You Must See Before You Die. In writing about "Broken Blossoms", noted film critic Roger Ebert wrote: Griffith in 1919 was the unchallenged king serious American movies ... "Broken Blossoms" was seen as brave and controversial. What remains today is the artistry of the production, the ethereal quality of Lillian Gish, the broad appeal of the melodrama, and the atmosphere of the elaborate sets. And its social impact. Films like this, naive as they seem today, helped nudge a xenophobic nation toward racial tolerance. What else do you need to know? Grab your popcorn and meet us after

Taylor Community residents tour the Belknap Mill

Belknap Mill Society hosted a "First Day of Work at the Belknap Mill" tour for an enthusiastic group of Taylor Home community residents on Friday, April

In 1918, the Belknap Mill was owned and operated by J.P. Morin. Bill Nunamacher, playing the role of J.P. Morin, welcomed the new "employees" to work, showing slight disapproval for their tardiness, as "work at the Mill begins at sunrise!" The group was greeted by volunteer Martha Clement in the historic Knitting Room, where she carefully showed the 'knitter ladies' what their jobs would be and how important it was that they made sure their socks were perfect when they came off the knitting machines - "A knitter was paid by the piece, but only received pay for quality socks!" Volunteer David Stamps, portrayed as a 'machine fixer' toured the Taylor Home er House. Mr. Stamps explained how the Mill used hydropower for many years, using the strength of the Winnipesaukee River. In 1918, Mr. Morin realized he could use the power of the river to generate electricity, which would then enable him to keep his mill open for longer hours!

The group enjoyed a light lunch catered by Contigiani's, in the beautiful Rose Chertok Gallery located on the third floor of the Mill. Tara Shore, Operations Manager for the Belknap Mill, shared a video from the 2016 Industrial Heritage Program and spoke of the importance that volunteers play in the success of the school program.

"We welcome elementary aged students throughout New Hampshire to the Belknap Mill during the month of May and into early June," Shore said.

> The Belknap Mill is currently seeking volunteers to assist with this year's Industrial Heritage Program. The program runs Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday each week beginning in May through early June. The program relies on volunteers from the community. Schedules are flexible and training is provided. VNA of Franklin to present film at Unitarian Universalist Church

FRANKLIN — Franklin VNA & Hospice will present the film "Consider the Conversation" at the Unitarian Universalist Church in Franklin on Saturday, April 29 at 10 a.m.

The film is a thought-provoking look at end-of-life issues that opens the floodgates of thought and, hopefully, will start conversations about this subject among families and community members.

Barbara Scott, RN, Hospice Coordinator at Franklin VNA, says "This film sheds light on the 21st Century American struggle with communication preparation at life's end. Throughout the film, there are intimate accounts of the emotional, spiritual, physical and social burdens associated with the historical shift that has occurred with dying. 'Consider the Conversation' examines multiple perspectives on end-of-life care and includes information and experiences gathered from interviews with patients, families, caregivers, physicians, nurses and others."

The film was eighteen months in the making and is the work of a filmmaker and a Hospice worker who were motivated by personal experience with loss and funded this project entirely with private donations.

Scott adds, "Fifty years ago, most people experienced a quick death, but today we are more likely to go through a slow, incremental dying process. This film does not hand down answers but it provides the questions we all need to be contemplating. What we hope to accomplish in the showing of this film is 1) change the current attitude that views end-of-life as a failed medical event to one that sees it as a normal process; 2) initiate dialogue between patient and doctor, husband and wife, parent and child, etc. and 3) encourage medical professionals, healthcare organizations, and clergy to take the lead in counseling others."

Admission to the film is free.

For further information about this event. please contact Barbara Scott at Franklin VNA & Hospice, 75 Chestnut St., Franklin, NH 03235. Phone: 934-3454.

LRGHealthcare announces new Vice President of Provider Services

LACONIA — LRG-Healthcare President and CEO, Kevin W. Donovan is pleased to announce Rebecca Woods the organization's new Vice President of Provider Services.

Woods is currently Vice President and Chief Information Officer (CIO) at Porter Medical Center in Middlebury, Vt., where she oversees the Patient Access Center, Provid-Scheduling, Infor-Technology, Compliance, Health Information Management (HIM), Plant Operations and Master Facility Planning. She will officially begin her new role at LRGHealthcare on May 15.

As Vice President of Provider Services, Woods will be responsible for developing, promoting and monitoring a culture of efficiency and patient centered care within all employed and affiliated professional practices of LRGHealthcare. She will also build upon relationships with provider leadership, physicians, associate providers and office managers to successfully design, implement and monitor practice operations to deliver high quality care and patient satisfaction.

Woods currently holds a B.S. in Communications, a Master's in Healthcare Administration and Informatics, and certification in Project Management. Her work experience prior to Porter Medical Center includes traveling throughout the U.S, Canada and Puerto Rico installing Electronic Health Records for Meditech, as well as the role of senior consultant for Dell Systems.

"We are lucky to have Rebecca joining LRGHealthcare's senior leadership team," states Donovan. "Her broad range of skills and experience are a great match for us given our plans and goals for the future, and we look forward to having her on board."

Woods specializes in applying her expertise and project management knowledge to the healthcare industry where she is able to identify areas of low productivity and work with all teams involved to create process improvement plans.

Woods and her family currently reside in Vermont, but she and her husband are New Hampshire natives, and they plan to move back to the local area along with their two children.

"We are excited to come back to New Hampshire to be closer to our families, raise our daughters and give back to the place we still call "home," Woods shares. "In my current role, I have worked closely with providers on multiple levels and look forward to meeting the providers of LRGHealthcare and seeing how we can work together to help the organization move forward."

MARK ON THE MARKETS

Spring volatility!

BY MARK PATTERSON

'Sell in May and go away' has been a mantra that has been heard every spring in regard to the stock market. The term was actually born in London's financial district. The full saying is "Sell in May and go away; come back on St. Léger's day." The St. Leger Stakes is the oldest of England's five horse racing classics and is the last to be run, typically mid- September.

According to the Stock Trader's Almanac, since 1950 the Dow Jones Industrial average has had an average return of 0.3 percent 7.5 percent during the November-April time frame. The only "danger" month is September that has had a negative return of minus 0.06 percent says the STA.

Data from Standard and Poor's takes the statistics to another level that shows an approximate 8 percent return in the markets if the your money was left in a broader S+P 500 index; however, if, on May 1 through the end of October, your portfolio was re-allocated or rotated towards defensive stocks and health care, your returns average near 11 percent. Defensive stocks are those that typically do better than others during difficult market periods. Examples are companies or funds in Tobacco, oil, utilities or food.

So my take away on this data; that it makes a lot of sense to reposition your equities or exchange traded funds in the spring to reflect defensive and healthcare related stocks or ETF's especially in qualified or tax deferred accounts, those taxable accounts should weigh the tax ramifications of selling and buying.

The data also suggest that a buy and hold strategy works, however a buy and reallocate strategy works better. Statistically the difference of 8% versus 11% over a period of years will have a dramatic difference in the value of your investments, and possibly the amount of your retirement income.

April, historically has been a very good month in the markets and can be a very good time to make adjustments towards liquidity or to hedge your portfolio with ETF's like VXX which is a short term volatility control fund. As the S+P 500 becomes more volatile, the price of VXX goes up. Due to the extreme lack of volatility that we have had. this could be the "undervalued" addition to your investment mix. We are also eight years into a bull market with no real corrections. We are due.

A proper mix of low and non-correlated asset classes using "modern portfolio theory" can increase your returns while lowering the standard deviation or risk in the portfolio.

Exchange Traded Funds (ETF's) are a very efficient and cost effective means of executing this type of re-allocation strategy. Some ETF's can be traded with no commission and very low fee's, just do your homework or work with a professional to implement this strategy.

New listings statewide were down 20.5 percent for single-family homes and 21.0 percent for condo properties, NHR reported. In the three counties covered in this housing report, first quarter new listings fell 24 percent yearover-year to 1,139 units against 715 closings, according to NEREN.

Statistically. homes sold faster compared to the first quarter of 2016 with median days on market declining to 85 days, down 23 percent from the 110-day first-quarter median a year ago.

In yet another indication of a market favoring home sellers, closed transactions, as a percent of new listings, rose 4.5 percent from January through March to 60 percent of newly listed properties, compared to 43.7 percent of newly listed properties in the same period threemonth period last year, NEREN figures show.

In Belknap County, first quarter single-family and condo sales declined 1.7 percent year-over-year to 227 transactions, but the pace of sales quickened significantly with the median days on market declining 21 percent to just 80 days, NEREN figures show. In the same period, the median price of a Belknap County home rose 7.5 percent to $192,500.

Carroll County homes sold statistically faster than a year ago but sales declined 3 percent for the quarter to 215 closed transactions, compared to 221 quarterly sales a year earlier, NEREN figures show. Median days on market dropped 13 percent to 110 days. The median price of a Carroll County home declined to $191,500, down 2 percent from $195,000 posted for the first quarter of 2016.

Home sales in Grafton County increased nearly 17 percent to 273 closed transactions, while the pace of sales dropped 18.5 percent to just 92 days on market. The median home price rose to $172,500, up nearly 5 percent year-over-year, NEREN figures show.

The First Baptist Church of Belmont and several other local churches held the fourth annual Easter Fest at Bryant Park last Saturday. Among those who helped make the day a success were Christina Barnes, Belmont Police Officers Pat Riley and Matt Terry, David McClure of Camp Sentinel and Barnes' 11-year-old son Nickulaus.

Despite being the smallest in her group of family and friends, five-year-old Neala of Belmont was the first to make it all the way to the top of the rock wall during Easter Fest in Bryant Park last Saturday.

Some of the little girls even took advantage of the opportunity to wear their Easter dress a day early and had fun dancing in their ruffled skirts as they waited for the egg hunt to begin.

Camp Sentinel, Heavenly Sunshine and other groups had booths set up to hand out information on their educational services and upcoming summer programs as well.

"This is all just our way of giving back to our communities. None of the organizations have any expectations except to have people come out and enjoy a beautiful spring day in Belmont," said Barnes.

softball off to good start Big bats get Winnisquam

BY BOB MARTIN Bob@salmonpress.news

TILTON — The Winnisquam Regional High School softball team battled Gilford High School in a high scoring matchup, coming away with a 15-13 win on April 13. They also won 14-5 against Somersworth.

The Bears trailed Gilford early 2-1 but answered quickly with a four-run third inning to give them a 5-2 lead. Gilford then tied up the game in the fourth inning on some big hitting, including back-toback triples. However, Winnisquam again battled back and took a 9-5 lead. They went up 15-6 and then had to fend off a rallying Golden Eagles squad. The game ended on a long fly ball to center field and Winnisquam took the win.

Coach Kevin Dame said the team has some experience, but also some young players. He said since the team has been cooped up inside to practice, the players were excited to be able to get out on the field to face live pitching. He was happy to see them have good timing at the plate.

"It was good to see them come out and hit like this," said Dame.

Carly Catty was fourfor-five with three RBIs, a double and three runs scored. Lauren Bolstridge went three-forfive with two RBIS, a double and four runs scored. Molly Tinker was the winning pitcher, and was also two-forfive with a home run. double and four RBIs.

There were three other players who had two hits, as well.

Dame said the game against Somersorth was huge for his freshmen, as they got their first varsity hits. Hannah Max went one-for-two, Ashley Deshaies went one-for-one, Harmon was one-for-two and Meghan Cote was one-for-three Madyson Skeats went two-for-four with a double, RBI and a run scored and Catty went one-forfour with a double.

Tinker pitched a complete game and had seven strikeouts, three walks, five hits and five runs. Only two runs were earned.

"The scoreboard says it all," said Dame. "Offensively we are off to a great start. We have been hitting the ball Meghan pretty well."

Dame said they have been putting pressure on the defense by getting on base a lot. However, they have some work to do with pitching and defense.

"Molly has given up some runs that she shouldn't have and we made some errors behind her," said Dame. "Every error you make is big. It is one step closer to the top of the order."

Dame added, "We have work to do but we started well."

BELMONT — The Red Raiders softball team has come out playing well this season with a 16-4 blowout against Laconia and a 3-2 extra innings win against Berlin.

On April 12 Belmont won 16-4 in five innings of play, with Lizzie Fleming getting the win. She allowed two earned runs on five hits. six walks and seven strikeouts. Offensively all nine starters had at least two hits. Julianna Estremera, Shannon Davies and Makenzie Donovan all went threefor-four and Chantel Martin went three-for-

Belmont tied up the game in the third inning, but Berlin again answered with an RBI double to right field to take a 2-1 lead. In the bottom of the fourth Belmont tied the game 2-2 on an RBI double. The game remained tied until the eighth inning where Sargent capped it off with extra-inning heroics.

Clary said Fleming was hitting her spots all night, which was a major difference maker. He was happy with her performance.

Baseball Bears split first week of the season

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@salmonpress.news

TILTON — The first week of baseball for the Winnisquam Bears started about as bad as things can get with a 17-0 loss to Gilford, but they followed up the next day with a 12-7 win over Somersworth.

Gilford jumped out to an early 3-0 lead in the first inning and never looked back, scoring two more runs in the second inning off of Winnisquam pitcher Hunter Tierney. The Golden Eagles put another three runs on the board in the fifth inning and a lone run in the sixth inning before exploding in the seventh inning for eight Tyler Sargent took the hill for Gilford High School and dazzled from the beginning, striking out the side in the first two innings. The pitching staff was incredible overall for Gilford, striking out 17 of the 26 batters faced. They also only allowed a handful of baserunners throughout the game, including a sole hit by Blaise Ross.

Winnisquam pitchers had a lot of trouble finding the place against Gilford, allowing 15 walks and three hit batsmen. They also allowed nine hits on the day.

Coach Fred Caruso

said the loss was as bad as he could have imagined, but was confident they will bounce back.

"It's only one game," Caruso said.

Winnisquam battled Somersworth the following day and trailed to begin the game. It was 3-0 in the bottom of the third inning when Winnisquam went off for four runs and took the lead for good. They were led by Tierney, who doubled with two outs in that inning and scored when Bryce Corey reached on an error. After a walk by Josh Shevlin, Blaise Ross knocked in two runs with a double to left field. Ross scored on a Somersworth error on a misplayed fly ball to left hit by Noah Smith.

The Bears scored three more runs in the fourth inning, including two on a Mike Lowrey single. Somersworth bean to mount a comeback, bringing the score to 7-6 in the fifth inning, but the Bears put the game away with five runs in the bottom of the inning.

Ross led the inning with a single and was sacrificed to second by Smith. Devan Glover then reached on an error and Alex Mango brought him home on a suicide squeeze. Later that inning Lowrey closed the door on Somersworth with a grand slam to right field, giving the Bears a 12-6 lead.

Glover pitched into the sixth inning and had his first varsity win. He allowed seven runs with five being earned, four hits, four walks and five strikeouts. Corey had the save by getting the final five outs.

The offense was led by Lowrey with two hits, six RBIs and his grand slam; Ross with three hits including a double, two runs and two RBIs; Mango with two hits and an RBI; Tierney with a double and two runs and Brendon Vaughn with

Belmont baseball loses despite collective no-hitter

BY BOB MARTIN

Bob@salmonpress.news

BELMONT what is certainly a rare occasion, the Belmont High School Red Raiders lost 1-0 to Berlin in a game where the Belmont pitching staff threw a no-hitter.

Coach Matt Leblanc said there were three walks and two hit batters throughout the game, which was started by Cole Contigiani. Contigiani had five strikeouts on the day and pitched six and two-thirds innings. Griffin Embree finished the game with a strikeout. The one run was unearned due to a throwing error in the seventh inning.

"Offense wasn't there today," said Leblanc. "We made contact a lot. We put the ball in play a lot, but I give them credit for a lot of first pitch strikes. Tip of the cap to him for sure."

Leblanc said it is vital for Belmont to get more baserunners and score some runs. He said the team needs to go out and stay focused, while making better contact than they had that day.

"If we keep getting pitching and defense like we got today, we should do well," said Leblanc. "They're a good team with a good group of guys. I know they'll have a pretty easy time to come back and play Raymond on Monday."

Leblanc said while they have seen plenty of pitching inside the gym practicing, it often doesn't translate over to game situations. With the first game of the season out of the way, it is time for the team to move on and continue to im-

"I like the team a said Leblanc. "These guvs are hard workers and are an easy group to coach. From this point forward I think we just have to keep at it."

Plymouth, NH - Beautifully remodeled Tenney Mountain end unit sits right on the top of the bunny slope/tubing hill. The current owners have completely redone the interior of this unit. The MLS # 4614173 living room and dining have wide board pine floors, while the bathrooms and entrance have custom tiled floors. The owners added small overflow bedroom on the first floor and split the loft into two more bedrooms upstairs giving this unit 4 bedrooms and room to sleep all your family and friends. The unit has a wonderful open floor plan that is awash in natural light. French doors from both the dining area and the living room access a great wrap around deck that looks right out onto the slopes. Skiing and hiking right out your door, quick access to the center of Plymouth and all the amenities that New Hampshire's beautiful White Mountains have to offer

Encouraging news:

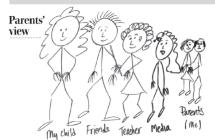

Central to this media campaign to eliminate underage drinking is the encouraging news that studies show parent disapproval is the No. 1 reason children choose not to drink alcohol. Parents empowered can trump peer pressure.

The most effective parenting techniques are among the most simple, including:

- Set clear rules about no underage drinking
- Mow where your children are and whom they are with
- Know your children's friends
- Ensure your children's social environments are alcohol-free Have daily, positive communication and interaction with your children
- Eat dinner together

Most parents don't realize they are the No. 1 influence in their children's lives.

When parents were asked to draw the greatest influences on their teens, they placed themselves last.

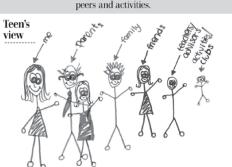

When teens were asked to draw the major influences in their lives, they placed their parents first, before
