Selectmen look at water, police issues

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Selectmen voted to at least tentatively start the process of selling a Park Street parcel next to the water tower by putting out a “non-binding” request for proposals from developers.

Town Administrator Doug Willardson said they town will look into whether the money gained can be used for future water/sewer upgrades, although it probably doesn’t legally have to and will go to the general fund. He noted the minimum asking price will be about $400,000.

Selectman Earl Gabor, who also chairs the Water-Sewer Commission, said they’re “open to any ideas” of how it might be used. He suggested it could be split into commercial and residential sections given its location. But the town has not yet surveyed it to divide off the upland section where the tower stands.

Water-Sewer Superintendent Greg Woods noted the tower there is about 60 years old. Although it hasn’t had any major issues and could last another 20, he speculated it will eventually need replacement. Because of elevation, that site is necessary to maintain water pressure to that part of town.

That discussion transitioned into one about whether the town ought to start paying the water department differently for water it uses in town facilities. The town currently pays about $26,000 a year, but might be able to save around $10,000, selectmen observed. However, if they did so,

Dudley selectmen put APR program proposal on hold

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – The Dudley Board of Selectmen will be seeking confirmation from the state to see if an opportunity exists to allow farmland owners a chance to reap additional incentives for designating land through the Agriculture Preservation Restriction, or APR, Program.

John Briare, a common spokesperson for agricultural programs in Dudley, appeared before selectmen on Feb. 10 explaining that an opportunity exists for town farmland owners to receive nearly all of their land value if they were to designate their property as APR Program land. The concept would require the establishment of a process to identify APR land during permitting processes.

“The state of Massachusetts reached out to me a couple months ago about APR land. There was a farmer or two that was considering putting their land in the APR bank. I guess the way it works today, and it’s a change from past years, is if a piece of land is valued at $100,000 the state comes in and does an appraisal. If that land is appraised at $100,000 the state gives the farmer 80 percent of that value and what the APR does is basically the farmer agrees to sell the development rights to it,” said Briare. “Because Dudley adopted the right-to-farm bylaw it’s is now five percent more so now the state gives 85 percent of that $100,000. So now the farmer is guaranteed an extra $5,000 from the state. Because the town of Dudley has established an agriculture commission the state is now giving another five percent.”

With that math in hand, Briare noted that right now farmland owners that utilize the APR Program receive 90 percent of the value of their property in exchange for surrendering development rights. The program allows the state to preserve farmland for agricultural use while offering significant incentives to the landowners. However, the state currently lacks an effective communication system with municipalities to

Dudley exploring bylaw change for Mill Overlay District

CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – As Camden Partners continues to show interest in the Steven’s Mill property in Dudley negotiations have been at a stand still while Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda examined potential recommendations concerning limitations contained within the town’s bylaws regarding historic properties.

Ruda, along with several other town officials including Town Counsel, met with representatives of Camden Partners in early February to discuss the status of their planned project to bring market rate housing to the vacant mill. In order for Camden Partners to do this they would need a waiver to override the town’s bylaws concerning the mill overlay district. However, in order for a waiver to be approved the bylaw itself must be amended as well.

“The hang up and the slowdown and the challenge has been that under our overlay district bylaw requirements we are to have ten percent low income or affordable housing in these districts. That’s a deal breaker for Camden so we’ve come up with a proposal to amend our existing zoning bylaw to allow for a waiver by the Planning Board on the recommendation of the Board of Selectmen to allow for that use during the time that they apply for a special permit,” said Ruda during a meeting of the Board of Selectmen on Feb. 10.

The Town Administrator said he would be working on a draft copy of the bylaw amendment following that meeting for selectmen to examine. However, the selectmen don’t plan to make any decisions alone. Ruda stated several entities will be involved in the decision process, including the public.

“We’re going to have a public meeting. We’ll ask the Planning Board to come in, economic development, and the board of selectmen to hear what the Camden Partners project is so everybody has a good overview of it,” said Ruda. “I think this is a pretty good solution not only for this project but for future projects that might qualify for this kind of redevelopment.”

While Ruda had yet to finalize a draft of the bylaw changes

Putnam Science Academy to take on Winchedon at St. Joseph

WEBSTER — On Saturday, Feb. 22, St. Joseph School in Webster will host the Putnam Science Academy (PSA) Men’s Prep Basketball Team as they take-on Winchedon.

The Putnam Science Academy Mustangs, under the direction of Head Coach Tom Espinosa, are currently ranked #3 nationally with a record of 25-3. However, the team is not new to the national spotlight. The Mustangs finished the 2018-19 season ranked third in the country and were the 2017-2018 National Champions. Over the last six years, the Mustangs have made 6 consecutive appearances in the National Prep Championship Tournament, had six seasons with more than 25 wins, and four seasons with more than 30 wins. You may also be familiar with the name Hamidou Diallo. Diallo plays for the Oklahoma City Thunder and took home the title of 2019 NBA Slam Dunk Champion. What you may not realize is that he was also known for his athletic ability and vertical leap during his time with the Putnam Science Academy Mustangs and is their all-time leading scorer with 1,415 points.

The current PSA roster includes three players who are seven feet tall or more: seven-foot center, Josh Gray from Brooklyn, N.Y.; seven-foot, one-inch center, Mathias Van Dem Beemt from Amsterdam, Netherlands; and seven-foot center, Vladislav Goldin from Nevskogo, Russia. The Mustangs

Claflin Hill Symphony to perform composition by Webster resident

MILFORD — The Claflin Hill Symphony Orchestra continues the celebration of its “Twentieth Anniversary Season” on March 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Milford Town Hall Grand Ballroom with “Favorite Destinations in Heart and Mind.”

The program will feature music of Aaron Copland – “Our Town,” together with Ferde Grofé’s “Grand Canyon Suite,” Ottorino Respighi’s “Pines of Rome,” and a world premiere of a work written for the CHSO’s Anniversary Season by Webster composer Robert

The entire concert performance will be accompanied by projected images and photos illustrating the natural beauty of each region the music depicts.
“It has been a truly monumental season so far,” stated Paul Surapine, Founding Executive & Artistic Director of CHSO. “Beginning with our November concert which featured Gustav Holst’s ‘The Planets’ and Maurice Ravel’s ‘Daphnis & Chloe,’ the orchestra has performed one amazing and epic concert after another this season, culminating in the recent ‘All Tchaikovsky’ concert on Saturday, Feb. 8 – a performance that may go down as one of the greatest performances ever by the CHSO in 20 years!”
“We’re looking forward to the next program, which in a sense, will be the Birthday Celebration Concert of the season, featuring some of our favorites works from the past 20 seasons – including Aaron Copland’s ‘Our Town,’ which will be accompanied by pictures of our community and Claflin Hill events and members from the past two decades.”
The world premiere of long-time Webster resident Robert Christensen’s “Adirondack Sketches” has a special connection to Claflin Hill, as the composer is the former Director of the Julius Hartt School of Music in Hartford, Conn., during which tenure, CHSO future Founder and Director Paul Surapine was a student there.
“I have known Paul

(Surapine) as a musician par excellence since his student days at Hartt School of Music where I first heard him perform on the clarinet,” Christensen said.
“I have followed his career with great interest and have been extremely impressed with the phenomenal growth of the Claflin Hill Symphony Orchestra under his leadership. So, I was very honored when he chose to premiere my ‘Adirondack Sketches’ to commemorate Claflin Hill’s 20th Anniversary Year.”
“It is truly a very special opportunity to be able to re-connect with a teacher from my past – a teacher who had a significant part in my high school training and helped launch me into a lifetime of music study and performance, and to be able to bring to life a composition that he has written for us in this Anniversary Season. Although I’ve ‘bumped’ into Bob along the way now and again over the past 20 years, he has been observing the growth of Claflin Hill and is very proud of the work we have done in our community to create and nurture a world-class culture. It promises to be yet another “Herculean” evening of amazing music created right in our own beautiful Milford Town Hall.”
The CHSO Season will continue through the end of April, and includes performances on the CHSO

Homefield Credit Union Jazz Series at the Caffe Sorrento on March 21; The CHSO Family Symphony Matinee on Sunday, March 29; a chamber concert at Apple Tree Arts in Grafton on April 4, and the season finale at Milford Town Hall on April 25.
More information and tickets for the Claflin Hill Symphony concerts can be purchased online at www.claflinhill.org or by calling the CHSO office at 508-478-5924.

Zachary
Age 116

Hi! My name is Zachary and I hope my future family has a pet!
Zachary is an active and curious 16-year-old boy of Caucasian descent. Zachary has made tremendous progress in his current placement and he feels he is ready to be placed with a family. Zachary is very invested in the adoption process and wants to attend adoption events and learn about families. Zachary is very insightful and one time shared with his social worker that he feels he would have more to smile about if he was placed with a family. Zachary likes to participate in extracurricular programs that his current placement offers including basketball. His teachers report that he is a pleasure to have in class and he is often found helping other students. Legally freed for adoption, Zachary will need a family that is able to help him maintain connections with his grandfather. Zachary could be placed in a single or two parent family with or without older children. A family that has pets or is willing to have a pet would be Zachary’s wish.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.
The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.
To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have “a permanent place to call HOME.”

Country Bank donates more than $900,000 to local nonprofits

WORCESTER — Country Bank proudly reported donations for 2019 totaling $905,049. Through the bank’s philanthropic efforts, they provide support to local non-profits throughout the communities they serve; in 2019, more than 500 of these organizations received generous donations. Organizations receiving support included The Children’s Fund, Hearts for Heat, The Children’s Trust, Provision Ministry, Sherry’s House, the Worcester Youth Center, and Preservation Worcester.

Recognizing the importance and overwhelming need to help organizations that address hunger, Country Bank provided monetary donations to food programs throughout the region that exceeded $100,000. The recipients of these funds included Mustard Seed, St. John’s Food Program, and the Worcester County Food Bank as well as many local food pantries.

“Our desire to support and enrich our communities is not only a part of our mission, it’s truly who we are,” stated Paul Scully, President, and CEO of Country Bank. “Team members embody our Standards of Professional Excellence every day by applying the bank’s iSTEP core values of integrity, service, teamwork, excellence, and prosperity. These values continue to guide our mission, especially through our community involvement efforts.”

In addition, Country Bank’s Employee Charitable Giving Program raised more than $30,000 in 2019 through events such as jeans days, bake sales and raffles. “Our team volunteered more than 1,000 hours of personal time at various events within our communities. These volunteer hours speak directly to our culture and our belief in helping others. Serving meals, filling backpacks for the homeless and building beds for children in need are just a few of the ways we gave back to our communities,” stated Jodie Gerulaitis, Vice President of Community Relations.

Woods asked them to also look into how it assesses indirect costs and other things.

The board voted the idea down for now, but Gabor said it will be addressed at the April public hearing on water-sewer rates for more discussion and public comment.

Woods then summarized his department's plan for water system upgrades, saying he has 43 streets where pipe segments need replacement due to small size or damage "in the next six to eight years." In some areas, the lines need complete replacement, in others, mechanically removing the accumulated tuberculation and relining them from inside may suffice. The latter is about 15 percent less expensive, but has the risk of potentially causing leaks, so it might not work in some areas.

He hopes the town will support a $2 million bond every other year to do such work, with about $500,000 additionally coming from retained earnings. If the rates continue to increase by 3.5 percent annually, the department can maintain such a plan, he noted.

For the coming year, a top priority is replacing the existing pipe in part of Route 12 with a larger 12-inch line. Willardson said the May Town Meeting warrant will include an article to fund engineering, while the construction costs will go to the fall Town Meeting.

Selectman Randy Becker noted that would "help with the hydraulics [water pressure] and fire safety for those large commercial properties" in that area.

In other business, the board heard a semi-annual update from Chief Mike Shaw on police activity since last July. He noted the department's full staffing "was short-lived," because two men retired, but he's seeking to fill those slots now. He's also planning to finish hiring part-timers this month, which he said is likely to be Webster's last hiring under Civil Service rules. (To ensure that, though, Shaw asked the board to draft a Town Meeting article seeking special legislation that would essentially make the recent vote to exit Civil Service permanent.)

Comparing data from 2018 and 2019, Shaw said the department saw about 100 more arrests and 1,600 more vehicle citations, but about the same number of car accidents and protective custody holds. He attributed the big citation jump to a relatively young staff, including one officer specifically assigned to traffic duty, and the ability to have more traffic shifts due to grant money.

He cited two key accident locations: Exit 2 off 395 and the Route 12/16 intersection, with the latter often involving people turning left into the road. He said he'd like to see that be designated a right-only area when the ongoing redesign is complete.

Willardson also noted the Park Ave/Slater intersection "popped up as having more than typical, but I don't recall seeing one there."

Among last year's key events, Shaw pointed to the July arrest of a kidnapping suspect, which he described as "an excellent job and one of the things I'm most proud of with those guys." He also cited a couple drug busts, the September arrest of a stalker who had attached GPS trackers to his victim's car, and the November investigation into a shotgun shell found at the middle school. Although it proved to be nothing but a student's "show and tell," he praised all involved for "great coordination between police, fire and EMS."

Additionally, he noted the department had finished reorganizing and auditing its evidence room, something he wanted to ensure a "clean slate" transition from the prior chief. Southbridge Detective Sgt Carlos Dinguì did the audit by selecting cases at random, and "all our evidence was accounted for," he said.

Going forward, Shaw said he's seeking to add a social worker to his staff to handle domestic violence, drug abuse and other issues. Webster was looking into a grant sharing one with Southbridge, but he said he felt that would be "overwhelming work for one social worker between the two of us."

The towns currently share a domestic violence advocate.

Shaw also listed a variety of community events, receipt of a $25,000 state earmark for the opiate task force to hire outreach advocates (which will be in his budget this year), the fact the department now has a mobile camera that sends video to his phone, and changes to the lake patrol fleet as notable.

APR PROGRAM

determine if land is APR land and adding a simple measure of checks and balances with the Massachusetts Department of Agricultural Resources would allegedly add another five percent to that incentive according to Briare. So, for example, land valued at $100,000 would see the state paying $95,000 to the landowner.

"The town's obligation is to simply flag it and notify them during the process. It doesn't require us to do anything else. The state will simply update their records," Briare said.

During the discussion, Briare presented a simple single-page document that landowners would fill out during permitting processes which would notify the town if the land in question was APR land. Briare said the town's Agriculture Commission voted to support the document and he wanted to see selectmen vote to support wither the document or some for of checks and balances to qualify landowners for the extra five percent.

While selectmen did acknowledge that the extra five percent would surely be a great benefit to locals, they felt the idea was too good to be true with nearly every member wanted to learn more about the program before proceeding with a vote.

"I think (selectmen) are afraid that there might be a hook for this," Selectman Kerry Cyganiewicz said. "Nothing's free, so what's the hook?"

"It almost makes sense, but I just don't see the backup information that says it," Selectman Jason Johnson added.

Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda recommended the board be allowed to seek more information reading the room that any vote that night would result in the concept being voted down due to caution on the part of selectmen.

"I'm not opposed to helping the farmers out but first they've got to be legitimate farmers to get the help. I don't know what the tax ramification is - Before I can make a recommendation to the board, I need to know more about this," Ruda said.

Much to Briare's disappointment, selectmen decided to hold off on a vote on the proposal to receive more details about the APR Program from Town Counsel.

he did provide some insight into what such waiver processes would require if the town approved the idea. Part of the criteria will include the Planning Board considering if a would preserve some or all of the historic building, if the site is suitable for the proposed use, if it serves social, economic or community need, if its compatible with the character of the neighboring properties, and if it impacts the towns fiscal responsibilities including impact on town services and tax base among other requirements. It would also involve a written recommendation from selectmen. Ruda said this would not only get every entity to the table at once it would also "force communication" between these departments in advance of granting any such waiver to make sure no stone is left unturned.

The joint meeting had yet to the scheduled as of the Feb. 10 meeting. Ruda concluded his report saying that in the meantime negotiations are set to continue with Camden Partners in the near future which will involve a recently appointed committee to help facilitate forming the agreement between the town and the company with the interests of both parties in mind.

Lost time
found again

Lately, we have been hearing an awful lot of chirping about how people are too busy these days. Too busy to catch up with extended family, too busy to grab a workout, too busy to read a book, too busy to do the things we forgot we enjoyed doing. The largest contributor to the lack of free time seems to be time spent at work. Many people in today’s world juggle two or three jobs to make ends meet. Sometimes, however, we need to make some cuts in our lives to give ourselves something more valuable than money, time. Time is a treasure.

For one, you cannot make more time. Ways to earn money will always be at your fingertips however there is never a way to create more time. There is not a spell book that has the answer to creating more hours in a day or a way to give you more years on Earth. Time is finite, and that is something we could all stand to remember.

Take a moment to think about the fact that you can do more with time off than with a day’s pay. While we all can earn a different amount of money during a shift at work, a day off is the same to all of us. During a day off, you can choose to do what you want with it. Catch up on chores, hike a mountain, catch a movie, enjoy a nice lunch or pick up your dusty guitar and remember how to play the C chord.

Memories hold more stock in our lives, than money. When we think back on our past experiences that brought us fond memories, how many of those were because of money and how many were because of another person? Travel of course costs money, or the purchase of a fancy boat, however it is the simple moments that are always the ones that count.

At the end of a person’s life, you will never hear them say they wished they had more money, however you will hear them say they wished they had more time. A good question to ask yourself if you had a short time to live, ‘Would you like $5 million dollars or ten more years to live?’ The answer is obvious.

A survey of roughly five thousand people was conducted to back up the fact that most people prefer time over money. Most people opted to take a position with less hours and less money over long hours with a high salary. Young people, who have more time ahead of them, did choose to make more money, however this proves the point that if you have less time, you value it more.

Money changes in value every day, but time does not. Think about the price tag you would place on a three hour beach day with good friends.

Time brings us awareness and clarity, and gives us a chance to figure out the person we want to be or already are. These things cannot be bought. Sure, we need money to live, however time is what puts life, into our lives. Often, we need to get creative about how we can give ourselves more time. We must always remember to protect and prioritize our time.

VIEWPOINT

isn’t easy

“Optimism, optimism, optimism. It’s great that you are so optimistic, but I’m just not that way. I’m a realist and I see things as they are and the facts of the situation determine if I am optimistic or not,” the email began. I’d love to be more like you but being optimistic may make you feel better in the moment, but in reality, optimism changes nothing.”

I fully realize there are more people in the world who feel this way. It’s easier to let circumstances control your attitude than to thoughtfully work your attitude to positively impact your circumstances.

The email continues. “It’s easy for you to be optimistic. Your job is to sit at a desk and type a bunch of happy words into a computer and get paid for it. I’d be optimistic too of that’s all I had to do!”

I don’t think I’ve ever met the author of this email. It was sent anonymously and that’s okay. I am never offended by a response like this. I view this as a positive opportunity to help this reader and others live a more optimistic life.

It’s easy to be optimistic when everything is going your way. Things are good at work, the economy is good, your love life is positive and there is an expectation that your positive life will not change.

Suddenly, without warning, there is a downturn in the economy and your company frantically looks for ways to cut expenses. You lose your job and your significant other becomes irritable at the change in circumstances and the uncertainty of your financial future. Circumstances can change without notice. You can choose to dwell on how unfair life is or you can find the positive opportunity buried within the negativity and move forward.

One of the only things certain in our lives is the inevitable uncertainty. Optimism, when you are on top of the world is easy, but when the future is uncertain and your outlook is dire, it’s difficult to find an optimistic person. When your optimism is needed most, that’s when it’s harder to muster.

Controlling your attitude and outlook is difficult for most people. They allow circumstances to determine their outlook. As their attitude plummets, so does their optimism.

Optimism properly applied is a way of life, not a here now, gone later state of mind that is controlled by external forces. It is your optimism that will guide you to a positive future.

In 2004, I was CEO of a company that was growing, thriving and providing

POSITIVELY

BY GARY W.

great products and services to the incredibly stable housing market. Life was good. It was easy to be optimistic.

I’ve told you this story before, but with encouragement from family and friends, I decided to write a book about my father’s experience in baseball and war. Once completed I began my search for a publisher. My first rejection came quickly, followed by the second and third ... then the eleventh, twenty-seventh, forty-ninth, sixty-third and seventy-fourth. After seventy-four rejections what did I do? I submitted it a seventy-fifth time and it sold. A reviewer said “Playing with the Enemy” became a surprise hit. A surprise to others, but not to me. I was always optimistic I would find a publisher and the book would succeed. I’ve since then written two more and have a fourth ready to go.

So, in 2006, I was still CEO of a company and a part-time author. Less than eighteen months later, a massive implosion of the housing market destroyed my company, left me out of work. I lost almost everything. I was depressed for a few days, then I clicked my optimism back on and evaluated my opportunities. It appeared that in the midst of the Great Recession, my chances of landing a corporate position were bleak. I didn’t have the resources to start a new business, so I decided I’d write for a living. I published two more books and began writing this column. It’s been a long road. My column is still expanding its reach and I continue to write more books but, deciding to write full-time was a risky decision that mustered all the optimism and positive energy I could find.

Here’s my point. If you allow your circumstances to determine your optimism ... you have no optimism. You are a bobber floating in the water. The weather and tide will determine your fate. Optimism allows you to think past your current disaster. Your belief something better is coming encourages you to create the plan to make it so. As I say almost every week ... “If you believe nothing better is possible, why would you try?”

Optimism in the worst of times, leads you back to the best of times.

Driving
deer

The makeup of Dudley provides a combination of rural, residential, and business districts. This mix offers a driver the opportunity to be exposed to some unique circumstances while on the roads. We obviously have a variety of wild-life moving around the area. Instances of deer strikes by motor vehicles occur quite often. I wanted to make people aware of this important issue and offer some information to avoid crashes.

The National Highway Safety Administration (NHSA) conducted a study concerning the increasing dangers from deer-related vehicle accidents. These crashes have consistently risen over the years due to increasing deer populations and destruction of their habitat. Given the fact that Dudley has many open fields and wooded areas along many miles of road, the possibility of these incidents occurring increases. Anyone who has experienced these situations understands deer often run out into traffic. They are large animals, and a collision can cause a great deal of damage as well as injuries to occupants.

Many resources provide explanations and tips for dealing with these situations. “The Culture of Safety” indicates most of these incidents will occur at dusk or early evening. Deer have tendencies to travel in packs, so if you see one, there is a high likelihood more are nearby. Pay attention to deer warning signs along highways in other prominent areas, as those locations have been determined to be places of frequent contact. In rural areas, be sure to visually scan fields or wooded places while driving to become aware of these animals.

Injuries and serious damage can occur when drivers swerve to avoid animals. The recommendation is to avoid major evasive maneuvers that can cause a serious crash. Often, it may be your best bet to strike the deer, or other animal for that matter, as opposed to colliding with a tree, an oncoming vehicle, or rolling your car over. These situations are always determined case by case. Encounters of this nature are unexpected. It is critical to be aware of your surroundings, watch your speed, and drive defensively.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

Can you improve your relationship with money?

In your life, you will have all sorts of relationships – with your family, your friends, your co-workers, and even with civic groups and charitable organizations you support. But have you ever considered another key relationship – the one you have with money?

Of course, this type of relationship has several aspects, such as saving, spending and investing. And your fellow Americans clearly face some challenges in these areas. For example, in a recent survey by financial services firm Edward Jones, only 21 percent of respondents reported that they feel happy when thinking about saving money, while 92 percent said they see room for improvement in their financial health. Yet only one in four plan to improve their spending habits. Furthermore, just 26 percent said retirement was a top savings priority.

If you share some of these concerns, what should you do? Here are a few suggestions:

- Identify your money-related emotions. Try to recognize the emotions you feel in connection with saving and investing. Do you get nervous about spending? Does putting away money for the future give you satisfaction or not? Do you worry that you don’t know how much you should be investing, or whether you’re investing in the right way? Clearly, these types of questions can cause some anxiety – and, even more importantly, they may lead you to make poor decisions. Emotions are obviously closely tied to money – but they really should not play a big role in your spending, saving and investing choices.

- Develop a financial strategy. By developing a sound financial strategy, you can reduce money-related stress and help yourself feel empowered as you look to the future. A comprehensive strategy can help you identify your goals – a down payment on a new home, college for your children, a comfortable retirement, and so on – and identify a path toward reaching them. Your financial strategy should incorporate a variety of factors, including your age, risk tolerance, income level, family situation and more. Here’s the key point: By creating a long-term strategy and sticking to it, you’ll be far less likely to overreact to events such as market downturns and less inclined to give in to impulses such as “spur of the moment” costly purchases. And without such a strategy, you will almost certainly have less chance of achieving your important goals.

- Get an “accountability partner.” Your relationship with money doesn’t have to be monogamous – you can get help from an “accountability partner.” Too many people keep their financial concerns and plans to themselves, not even sharing them with their partners or other family members. But by being open about your finances to your loved ones, you can not only avoid misplaced expectations but also enlist the help of someone who may be able to help keep you on track toward your short- and long-term goals. But you may also benefit from the help of a financial professional – someone with the perspective, experience and skills necessary to help you make the right moves.

Like all successful relationships, the one you have with money requires work. But you’ll find it’s worth the effort.

This article was written by Edward Jones for use by your local Edward Jones Financial Advisor. Please contact Dennis Antonopoulos, your local Edward Jones Advisor at 5 Albert St., Auburn, MA 01501 Tel: 508-832-5385 or dennis.antonopoulos@edwardjones.com.

The beaver problem

The topic of beaver destruction to our forests and river banks throughout the state was discussed at a recent meeting at a local Rod & Gun Club. Destruction along river banks by beaver and damming of outlets restricting water flow is out of control in many areas. With spring not far off, flooding of private and public land will cause serious damage to areas, killing trees and damaging homes in the area.

Trapping by sportsmen that enjoyed being outdoors, also kept numerous species of fur bearing animals under control, including beaver. The trapping ban in Massachusetts needs to be lifted. Not only did trappers keep the animal population under control, but they also purchased a license to do it. Now trappers can only use live catch traps that are extremely expensive and hard to handle. The cost of trapping is extremely expensive, with the cost being handed to local cities and towns.

The new leg hold traps and trapping laws need to be addressed soon.

Some local clubs have installed “Beaver Deceivers” (a device that restricts beaver damming at water outlets) and helps somewhat, but the beaver are still causing some serious damage to trees and brush along river banks and surrounding areas. If any landowner caused the destruction to riverbanks and woodlots along waterways like the beaver do, they would be locked up. Wildlife of all forms need to be kept under control, and the best tool is hunting and trapping.

The deer harvest figures for Massachusetts’ 2020 season are in and they are another record setting year. The youth deer hunt day had reported 89 deer harvested and the paraplegic hunt had only five recorded.

The archers scored the largest harvest with a whopping 6,149 animals while the shot-gunners had 4,984. Primitive firearms season scored a good number of deer totaling 2,694. Figuring in non-retrieved deer and car deer collisions the total could reach higher than 15,000 deer.

Many impressive deer sporting huge antlers and weighing in at more than 200 pounds has got to say something about our deer herd in Massachusetts!

There will be plenty of deer meat for the freezer this year, but most, if not all, hunters dis guarded some of the best part of the deer which included the tongue. I was watching a hunting video this past weekend and one of he cooks explained the best way to cook the tongue. They claim it was delicious. I still think I would pass on that part of the deer for food.

This writer received another release from the Mass. Marine Fisheries on the proposed regulations for striped bass this year. It looks as though the slot limit for striped bass will happen. The commercial striped bass fishing will also be cut back along with their season, but they will still be able to take striper’s over the maximum size limit of recreational anglers. They reported that the release of striped bass by recreational bass anglers have a high mortality rate. The striped bass will see an 18 percent reduction for commercial anglers for 2020. No gaffing of striper’s will be allowed for recreational anglers also.

Some ice fishing by local anglers at Lake Ripple in Grafton this past weekend had some nice fish being caught. One angler showed me a nice four pound large mouth he had just caught. Close to a dozen anglers braved the dangerous ice conditions.

This past week, this writer was at Jerry’s Pro Shop in Milford and watched nine year old Lucas Bergman receive his birthday present from his dad. The excited archer was presented a new Hoyt bow for his birthday. After he was given the bow he headed for the archery range for some instruction at the shops indoor range, but not before he was given a new Hoyt hat. The young archer is part of the new generation of archers that will hopefully enjoy bow hunting for many years to come.

Expand your edible garden indoors

No matter the season, size of your garden or climate, you can inject homegrown flavor into your meals. Just clear a shelf, countertop or windowsill and get busy planting herbs, greens and even tomatoes to enjoy year-round.

For quick results, grow microgreens. These nutrient packed edibles are ready to harvest in as few as 10 days. Plant microgreen seeds in a quality potting or seed starting mix. A recycled fast food container or other shallow pot with drainage holes works well. Plant the seeds according to label directions, moisten the soil and place in a warm location. Keep the soil moist and move to a sunny window or under artificial lights as soon as sprouts peak through the soil. Then break out the scissors and start harvesting when the second set of leaves appears. Use microgreens on salads, sandwiches, soups or as a snack.

Replace those underutilized appliances cluttering the counter with an under the cabinet LED light garden like the Bamboo Mini LED Grow Light Garden. You’ll be able to grow and harvest your own herbs and greens right in the kitchen for easy access. The LED lights will also help brighten the room – a welcome addition to any dreary winter day.

Purchase plants or start herbs from seeds in individual pots or a container large enough to hold several plants. Select herbs you and your family typically use for seasoning. Basil, chives, sage, parsley, and oregano are a few of the easier herbs to grow. Just harvest a few leaves or sprigs as needed for some homegrown flavor.

Boost the vitamins, minerals and fiber in your meals with leafy greens. Plant an indoor garden of leaf lettuce, spinach, arugula, baby leaf kale and beet greens. A self-watering pot with a built-in overhead light like the Gardener’s Revolution® Light Garden Kit (gardeners.com) makes it easy to grow a variety of greens at the end of a counter, next to a desk or anywhere you have a few square feet of space.

Harvest greens regularly to keep the plants producing. You’ll enjoy the convenience and have no excuse not to boost the flavor and nutritional value of your meals.

Reserve a space in front of a sunny window to grow a tomato or pepper plant. Expand your growing options and ensure a bountiful harvest by supplementing natural daylight with artificial lights. Start with compact tomato and pepper varieties that require less space. You will probably need to start plants from seeds when growing these vegetables outside the normal outdoor gardening season. Once the plants start flowering, you will need to lend a helping hand. Give the stems a shake for pollination and eventually fruit formation to occur.

Reduce maintenance and the mess with self-watering containers. These planters have reservoirs that hold water that moves into the soil via wicking systems. This provides the plants with a constant supply of water while extending the time between watering. Plus, the self-contained watering setup minimizes the risk of water getting on your floor.

Start plans for your indoor edible garden with a walk around your home to identify potential growing spaces. Then develop a list of favorite herbs, greens and vegetables you and your family enjoy. Match the space to your favorites and invest in plants and resources that fit your gardening goals and help ensure success. Then start growing and enjoying the benefits of fresh, homegrown produce all year long.

Water Department at work on upgrades

WEBSTER — The Webster Water Department’s new Memorial Beach Water Treatment Plant (WTP) began filtering water this past November. The filtration plant is designed to treat 2.75 million gallons of water per day using four 12-foot diameter Greensand Plus filter vessels. The vessels operate by removing oxidized iron and manganese from the raw water, resulting in drinking water with very low concentrations of the two minerals.

The WTP began operating with only the well from Station 2, which allowed Station 1 to be taken off-line for renovations to the five wells and their associated pumps. Once the Station 1 rehabilitation was complete, the five wells were brought on-line and the water routed through a new transmission main to the filter plant. As of Jan. 15, all six of the wells from the two sites are being treated by the plant. The filtered water is pH adjusted and disinfected before being pumped out of the plant into the distribution system.

The Water Department also finalized the Thompson Road water main project by making the final two connections at Park Road and Park Avenue. This work could not be completed until Station 1 was taken off-line. This new 16-inch water main allows the higher flows leaving the WTP to be distributed into the water main system. The Thompson Road project will be completed this spring when the road is milled and paved between Park Road and Memorial Beach Drive. The Department also plans to have an open house at the new WTP this coming spring. The Department appreciates the patience of the Town residents during these important system up-grades.

Vintage Comfort Food Recipes

If your mouth's been watering for baked beans like grandma used to make, if you just can't seem to get the recipe down pat for Aunt Ellen's heirloom pickles, or even if you simply yearn to cook up an old fashioned feast, then perhaps the answer to your food fantasies are as close as a vintage cookbook. Cookbooks of the past provide a peek into yesterday's kitchen. From historical dishes to childhood desserts, the following recipes recall simpler times when food was real, comforting, and made from scratch.

The Boston Cooking School Cookbook (Farmer, Fannie Merritt. The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book. Boston: Little, Brown, 1918)

Fannie Merritt Farmer was credited with standardizing measures for recipes. Until her Boston Cooking School Cook Book came out in 1896, most recipes called for "a pinch" or "egg sized" portions. She has been credited with singlehandedly revolutionizing recipes. One of her most popular recipes is this one for authentic Boston Baked Beans. Note that she has added helpful notations at the end of the recipe.

Boston Baked Beans

Pick over one quart pea beans, cover with cold water, and soak over night. In morning, drain, cover with fresh water, heat slowly (keeping water below boiling-point), and cook until skins will burst,—which is best determined by taking a few beans on the tip of a spoon and blowing on them, when skins will burst if sufficiently cooked. Beans thus tested must, of course, be thrown away. Drain beans, throwing bean-water out of doors, not in sink. Scald rind of three-fourths pound fat salt pork, scrape, remove one-fourth inch slice and put in bottom of bean-pot. Cut through rind of remaining pork every one-half inch, making cuts one inch deep. Put beans in pot and bury pork in beans, leaving rind exposed. Mix one tablespoon salt, one tablespoon molasses, and three tablespoons sugar; add one cup boiling water, and pour over beans; then add enough more boiling water to cover beans. Cover bean-pot, put in oven, and bake slowly six or eight hours, uncovering the last hour of cooking, that rind may become brown and crisp. Add water as needed. Many feel sure that by adding with seasonings one-half tablespoon mustard, the beans are more easily digested. If pork mixed with lean is preferred, use less salt.

The fine reputation which Boston Baked Beans have gained has been attributed to the earthen bean-pot with small top and bulging sides in which they are supposed to be cooked.

Equally good beans have often been eaten where a five-pound lard pail was substituted for the broken bean pot.

Yellow-eyed beans are very good when baked.

What Mrs. Fisher Knows about Old Southern Cooking: Soups, Pickles, Preserves, Etc. (Women's Cooperative Printing Office, San Francisco, 1881)

Abby Fisher was a former Alabama slave who couldn't read or write but was an expert cook. Her talents made her a repeat recipient of blue ribbons at county fairs. Her pickles and jams took first prize at the San Francisco Mechanics Institute Fair in 1880. The next year she transcribed her recipes from memory and the cookbook "What Mrs. Fisher Knows about Old Southern Cooking" was published. This recipe, which is one of the 160 in the book takes a lot of time, but like most great Southern foods, it is likely well worth the effort!

Sweet Watermelon Rind Pickle

Take the melon rind and scrape all the meat from the inside, and then carefully slice all the outside of the rind from the white part of the rind, then lay or cover the white part over with salt. It will have to remain under salt one week before pickling; the rind will keep in salt from year to year. When you want to pickle it, take it from the salt and put into clear water, change the water three times a day —must be changed say every four hours — then take the rind from the water and dry it with a clean cloth. Have your vinegar boiling, and put the rind into it and let it lay in vinegar four days; then take it from the vinegar, drain, and sprinkle sugar thickly over it and let it remain so one day. To make syrup, take the syrup from the rind and add eight pounds more sugar to it, and put to boil; boil till a thick and clear syrup. Weigh ten pounds of rind to 12 pounds of sugar; cover the rind with four pounds of it and make the syrup with the remaining

"Ruth Wakefield's Toll House: Tried and True Recipes" (M. Barrows & Company, New York, 1941)

Ruth Wakefield ran the Toll House Inn in Massachusetts. While her claim to fame was the invention of the chocolate chip cookie in 1930, Ruth created many other memorable dishes for her diners. One of these favorites is the English Cheese Soup recipe below.

Toll House Old English Cheese Soup

Melt one half cup butter. Add four tablespoons flour, one teaspoon salt and one half teaspoon pepper. Blend well and add four cups milk. After thickening well add 1 1/2 pounds Old English or a yellow snappy cheese; 1 1/2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce; and 1/2 teaspoon paprika

If too thick, thin to desired consistency with hot milk. Serve with crumbled crisp bacon sprinkled over the top of soup or a garnish or shredded boiled eggs.

"First Ladies Cook Book: Favorite Recipes of All the Presidents of the United States," Parents' Magazine Press, 1965.

When this cookbook came out in 1965 housewives everywhere scrambled to make dishes fit for a President. This recipe for Johnny Cakes was said to be William McKinley's favorite.

Johnny Cakes
Ingredients:1/3 cup granulated sugar; one egg; one half stick butter, melted (no substitution); 3/4 cup yellow corn meal; one teaspoon salt; one teaspoon soda; one cup sour milk (modern milk spoils, but won't "sour"so substitute buttermilk.); one cup flour; butter or lard for greasing the griddle

Directions; Mix sugar, egg and melted butter together. Blend corn meal and salt together, then stir into egg mixture. Stir soda into milk. Add white flour alternately with the milk, a bit at a time, blending to make a smooth batter Allow mixture to stand in a cool place about 30 minutes to "lighten."

Heat a greased griddle or heavy skillet until a few drops of water will "spit" and bounce off the surface. Spoon or pour the mixture onto the hot griddle, using up to 1/4 cup at a time. Brown pancakes on each side, (turning only once), about 1 minute per side. Don't overcook. Serve hot, with more melted butter, maple syrup, honey or jam.

WORCESTER — For some teams, the pressure-packed moment can become too much when playing under the bright lights of the Kneller Athletic Center in the annual Clark Tournament.

But that wasn't the case for the Bartlett High boys' varsity basketball team, who defeated Millbury High in the first round of the Large Schools bracket in 81st edition of the tourney, 73-42, on Monday, Feb. 17.

The top-seeded Indians improved to 18-2 and will play No. 5 Groton-Dunstable Regional (15-5) in a semifinal on Friday, Feb. 21 at 7:45 p.m. No. 2 Grafton High (18-2) and No. 6 Westborough High (13-7) will meet beforehand in the other semifinal. The eighth-ranked Woolies finished their season 9-11.

Bartlett led at all the stops: 17-10 after one quarter, 34-17 at halftime and 55-30 through three, proving that the Indians relished — and didn't back down from — the moment.

"We had a good week to prepare for everything. Having that opportunity to get after it and tidy up on the defensive end — I think the key to the game was our defense," said Bartlett head coach Tony Paranto. "Last time we played them they committed 35 turnovers, but we didn't convert on those turnovers. We knew if we got the score up into the 70s they'd have a hard time keeping up."

This time around Millbury committed 21 turnovers and the Indians scored 15 points off those possessions.

"We caused a lot of turnovers and got rebounds when we needed to, stops when we needed to," said Logan Paranto, who in 29 minutes gained four steals. "We got on those good [scoring] runs because of our defense."

Logan Paranto scored 10 of his 12 points before halftime, while teammates Brandon Boucher and Wilson Aybar picked it up over the course of the final two quarters. Boucher netted 13 of his game-high 20 points after the break, while Aybar scored 10 of his 18 points in the second half.

"On any given night someone can pump in 20 points, and that showed here," Tony Paranto said of the team's spread-the-wealth offense. "We did a great job with one more pass, pretty unselfish, and that created wide open looks for us."

Of the Indians' 28 baskets, 16 came off an assist. "We feed off each other's energy," said Logan Paranto. "When one person makes a shot, it seems like another person will make a shot, and then another one."

Bartlett is excited about having the chance to make the Clark Tournament championship game, should they defeat Groton-Dunstable.

"Being here before, we come to this tournament not just for an appearance. They're not scared of the moment," said Tony Paranto.

"We were in this last year, playing the first round against Sutton," added Logan Paranto of a 74-60 loss in the Small Schools bracket. "It was a tough go out. We came out this year and our No. 1 goal was to win the Clark Tournament. We're putting ourselves in a good position right now."

Coach Paranto knows that the game won't be an easy one, though.

"Groton-Dunstable is a great team. They're big, so it's going to be a different philosophy, but we'll be prepared," he said.

Bartlett, continuing to grow, takes down Southbridge

SOUTHBRIDGE — This duo was dynamic.

Cam Heenan scored 13 points and Gabi Piowarczyk added 12 more to help lead the Bartlett High girls' varsity basketball team past upset-minded Southbridge High 51-32 on Tuesday, Feb. 11.

Both players scored 10 of their points in the second half, which started with the Indians clinging to a 21-16 lead. In addition, Piowarczyk, a junior, finished with 19 rebounds and 3 assists, while Heenan, a sophomore, was able to grab 5 rebounds, record 3 assists and make 2 steals.

Piowarczyk paced the Bartlett offense in the third quarter, scoring 8 points.

Heenan picked up in the fourth quarter where Piowarczyk left off in the third, netting another 8 points.

Other Bartlett players contributing to the win were freshman Vicky Spitz (10 points, three 3-pointers), junior Kayla Berthiaume (5 points, 8 steals, 3 assists), sophomore Maddie Nuttall (6 points) and senior twin sisters Brittany and Breanna Ward.

Brittany Ward, in addition to her second quarter basket, pulled down 5 rebounds, made 2 steals and recorded 2 assists. Breanna Ward scored 3 points and grabbed 4 rebounds.

Bartlett's win against Southbridge in many ways mirrored its season.

The Indians started slow, trailing 9-7 at the end of the first quarter, got on track in the second quarter, after which they led 21-16, maintained their momentum in the third quarter to take a 31-26 lead into the final period, and then sealed the deal with a 20-point fourth quarter.

"We came into this game off a tough loss [41-37 to Quaboag Regional on Friday, Feb. 7] which is why I think we were a little slow to get going at the beginning of the game," Bartlett first-year head coach Kashawn Hampton said. "The good thing is the girls know they have to continue to work hard. They understand they must come out each quarter, whether we're up, down or tied, focused."

"We take each game a quarter at a time because a lot can happen in a quarter," Hampton continued. "Even though it was close at the end of the first quarter, we came in and altered our game plan to counter what they were doing, and then we went back out and moved forward from there."

The win over Southbridge was Bartlett's third victory in four games and improved its record to 8-11. The Indians finished the season 8-12, losing to powerhouse Millbury High on Friday, Feb. 14.

"We've grown a lot since the beginning of the season. We're playing together more than we were. This year was a big adjustment for the girls compared to how they played last year because I brought in with me a whole new system," Hampton said. "The girls know the whole system now and they work hard. The team is developing; it understands now what I want to do, offensively and defensively and how I want to do it.

"Because I did bring in a new system, there were a lot of things we needed to work on, we needed to get better at, when the season started," Hampton added. "All the credit for the success we've had this season goes to the girls on this team; they came to practice every day and worked hard on the things we needed to get better at, and in the end, we got better at those things."

Hampton, a big teddy bear of a man who is always wearing a wide smile, can't wait for next year.

"We lost some close games this year that could have put us in the running to make Districts," Hampton said. "But this team is a lot different than the team that won only four games last year, or even the team we had at the beginning of the season when we were still finding our way."

Gabi Piowarczyk of Bartlett fights through the defense of a Southbridge player and attempts a shot from close range.

Kayla Berthiaume of Bartlett watches as her 3-pointer sails toward the basket.

Holy Name takes it to Rams in Westborough Invitational Tournament opener

WESTBOROUGH — With 67-43 and 78-32 losses to Holy Name High over the course of the regular season, Shepherd Hill Regional's girls' varsity basketball team knew it was up against a tough opponent when the two squared off for a third time on Sunday, Feb. 16, this matchup taking place in the Westborough Invitational Tournament. The end result was the same — a win for the Naps — but this was the closest of the three as the Rams fell 66-47.

Ava Diggs (15 points), Jaini Edmonds (12) and Grace O'Gara (10) were double-digit point-producers for Holy Name, who grabbed a commanding 24-6 lead through the first quarter. From there, the game was about even — 42-41 in the Naps' favor — as The Hill was led by Emery Mullen (16 points) and Triniti Sughrue (10).

Holy Name, seeded third in the tournament, will next play No. 7 Westborough High in the second round. The sixth ranked Rams, meanwhile, dropped to 3-16 and will conclude their season against No. 2 Tantasqua Regional in the second round (after press time).

Paula Barba of Shepherd Hill tries to fight through a defensive double team provided by Holy Name.

With head coach Maura Hackenson watching, Amanda Adamuska of Shepherd Hill looks to pass the ball away.

Shepherd Hill's Grace Nellis weaves through Holy Name's defense while dribbling the ball down the court.

Shepherd Hill's Emma Lanpher finds a cushion in Holy Name's defense and elevates to shoot a jumper.

Shepherd Hill's Emery Mullen leaps to pass the ball up and over the reach of a Holy Name defender.

Under odd circumstances, Rockets tie North Middlesex to take Dana Willard Memorial Tournament

AUBURN — Way back on Saturday, Dec. 14, Horgan Arena hosted the first round of the Dana Willard Memorial Tournament. First up, East Longmeadow High's boys' varsity ice hockey team defeated the Worcester co-op, 2-1. Then, in the nightcap, the Auburn High co-op (along with Millbury High, Tantasqua Regional and Shepherd Hill Regional) played the first period against North Middlesex Regional and trailed 1-0. Then, between periods, the Zamboni hit a door and broke it, making the rink unusable.

"What are you going to do? Things happen like that," Rockets' head coach Glen Bombard said.

So, on Wednesday, Dec. 18, Auburn defeated East Longmeadow 3-1 and Worcester took care of North Middlesex 7-1.

Then, on Saturday, Feb. 15, the tournament finally came to a close when the Rockets hosted North Middlesex. The game started back up with Auburn trailing the Patriots 1-0 in the second period. But thanks to a goal by Shawn Bradway with 7:54 to play in the third period, the Rockets rallied to tie the game at 2-2.

That tie gave Auburn the Dana Willard Memorial Tournament title, as they finished 1-0-1 in the two games. East Longmeadow and Worcester both went 1-1, while North Middlesex finished 0-1-1.

"We had the best record in the tournament. We were the only ones that didn't lose, everybody else lost a game," explained Bombard.

Auburn's Joel Miller was named Tournament MVP after registering two points against East Longmeadow and grabbing another point on an assist versus North Middlesex.

Bombard was pleased with the Rockets' two periods of play, which also saw Dillon Winkelmann tie the score at 1-1 in the second period.

"We had some opportunities tonight. For two periods I thought we played pretty well," he said.

Winkelmann's goal came shorthanded as Auburn had three penalties in the second period, all of which were successfully killed off. Nic Spanos assisted on Winkelmann's tally. Spanos carried the puck into the zone and fed a pass to Winkelmann's stick on the right point. From there, Winkelmann blasted a slap shot past Patriots' goalie Thomas Kelly.

North Middlesex (5-8-4) took a 2-1 lead early in the third period on the power play when Nick Miller and Caleb Amidon assisted on Jimmy O'Keefe's goal.

The resilient Rockets then tied it up on the power play when Joel Miller gave a pass to Spanos, who then went behind Kelly's net and found an open Bradway in the slot. His shot then got past Kelly for the equalizer.

That gave Auburn the tournament title in back-to-back years for the first time in school history.

Despite the accomplishment, the Rockets' record stood at 6-10-2 as they will miss the upcoming Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament for the first time in four years.

"That's our ultimate goal," Bombard said of trying to qualify for District play. "We just struggled putting the puck in the net."

Auburn lost 13 seniors from a year ago and will lose another 12 this spring, but Auburn's Joel Miller dangles past a diving North Middlesex defender.

Bombard enjoyed this season despite the sub-.500 record.

"Overall it was a great year, had a lot of fun with these guys," he said. "Probably the hardest working team I've ever had. They stuck together all year and just kept working. They never quit, they just lacked putting the puck in the net."

"I'm thrilled, I really am," added Bombard. "I had a lot of fun this year, I know they did, and we all worked hard together. We all wanted the same thing, unfortunately we fell a little short."
