Northbridge Elementary School to host Kindness Challenge

BY RAYANNE COOMBS
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

WHITINSVILLE — Northbridge Elementary School will be hosting the Amazing Kindness Challenge on Saturday, April 7, from 9:00 AM to noon, at the NES playground. The school’s music teacher, Joel Warren, will be performing throughout the event for students and their families.

Warren said, “With all of the terrible things happening in the world, a group of us at NES wanted to spread the message of kindness locally and beyond.”

As part of the festivities, Warren will be filming scenes for his latest music video, and students are encouraged to bring a one-gallon paint drum to create an instrument to join in and make music with Warren.

The Amazing Kindness Challenge at Northbridge Elementary School began as a way to support the National Kindness Challenge, a grassroots movement that is striving to make schools, communities, and world a kinder and more compassionate place for all. At the heart of The Kindness Challenge is the simple belief that kindness is strength.

NES faculty and staff coordinating the event believe that as an action is repeated, a habit is formed. With the Great Kindness Challenge checklist in hand, students have the opportunity to repeat kind act after kind act. As kindness becomes a habit, peace becomes possible.

Warren said, “Most of all, we want students and our community to recognize that everyone has kindness, but without it we experience a heaviness that is internal and can weigh heavily. Our hope is that our Amazing Kindness Challenge will get rid of the heaviness and bring kindness out in all.”

Joel Warren and Kathy Averka greet students to remind them Kindness Matters

To promote the event, an Amazing Kindness Challenge checklist has been distributed to elementary school students that includes many kind acts to complete at home or in school, including: smile at 25 people, hug a sibling or friend, make a thank you card, compliment 5 people, make a new friend, and say “Good morning.” to someone. Students are encouraged to complete their checklist and bring it to the April 7 event.

First grade teacher, Kathy Averka, said, “The elementary age group brings a unique enthusiasm to almost anything presented to them, especially when it is doing something positive for others. Any age is truly impressionable is we are open to challenging ourselves and growing.”

Averka added, “What teachers love about young children is that they teach us in return to be light, and to be able to laugh at ourselves. Kindness to ourselves is just as important as kindness to others.”

Free concert planned

Local folk troubadours Mark Mandeville & Rianne Richards have returned from a month long tour including 13 dates in Manitoba, Canada to reunite with their band (Doug Williamson, Peter Hart) on Saturday April 14 at 7 p.m. The Concert is free to the public and is sponsored by the Uxbridge Cultural Council.

All the members of the band are employees of Uxbridge local business Blackstone Valley Music School. The school specializes in music lessons but also sells instruments, supplies and offers a free monthly community coffeehouse event on the first Saturday of the month.

Mandeville and Richards recently received official recognition before congress and were added to the congressional record by Senator Ed Markey for their efforts in the community through the Massachusetts Walking Tour.

Mandeville and Richards are clearly inheritors of a timeless legacy, creating music that is both original and evocative of a rich tradition. Blending distinctive voices and a wide range of accompaniment (guitar, harmonica, ukulele, clarinet, penny whistle, electric bass), their songs have been well-received by audiences around the eastern United States since 2010. Transcending the genre of folk Americana, their music echoes inspiration from traditional folk duos and singer/songwriters like Ian & Sylvia, Kate Wolf and Neil Young – combining beautiful harmonies and a lyrical intensity, while establishing a unique sound of their own. With their bandmates — Williamson on bass and piano and Hart on pedal steel guitar — they continue to impress listeners with their heartfelt songs and to inspire in me an even deeper appreciation of contemporary American folk music.

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: When is the best time to buy a Car or Truck?

The RIGHT answer: (PART 3) The NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT theory. Almost every day is a good day to buy a new car or truck. We know that most new cars have rebates from the manufacturer. They may also have special finance terms or some combination of both. This theory is based on the fact that if you are trading your car, its value is at its highest right now. Depreciation is always eating away at the value of a used car. The other aspect to consider is the factory incentives when buying a new car. Incentives can be a volatile thing and can change at the drop of a hat. Manufacturers like Ford watch the markets very closely. They adjust their strategies based on sales and production targets in an effort keep the factories moving. As inventory levels, market share and consumer demand change the rebates and incentives change. A strong economy and low inventory might mean fewer rebates. High inventory or the desire to gain market share might mean higher rebates. In any case what we know today is how a vehicle is priced. If a customer finds a vehicle that fits their needs and the numbers make sense then buy now. Waiting could cost you more. Our current economy appears to be at a turning point. If the rebates go down or stay the same and your trade has lost more value your cost to buy will have gone up. Let us here at Place Motor show you how to take advantage of the current incentives and get the most for your trade. Let us show you why we are the Right Place to buy a Ford since 1923.

Janice Ford; and fifth place $250: Jomar Diaz. Greg Lynskey was winner of the 50/50 raffle, totaling $203.

The 11th annual Webster Lake Association Ice-Out Contest was an enormous success and the Einstein Ice-Out Committee would like to thank everyone for their support. 1,762 tickets total $8,800, a contest record, were sold throughout Worcester County. Group aims to educate and empower women to take action on toxics

The Blackstone Valley chapter of a revolutionary new organization, the Savvy Women’s Alliance, hosts founder and author of Little Changes to our first open discussion event gathering at Galliford’s Restaurant and Tavern, 5 Southwick St., Mendon on April 12 beginning at 7 p.m.

The group aims to connect mainstream women to the environmental health movement, with the ultimate goal of creating the tipping point in the tide of citizens calling for safe food and products free from toxic chemicals that harm human health.

Thursday’s event is free, and open to all. Come meet Kristi, hear her personal story and be inspired to be a protector of your health and enjoy meeting other like-minded women! Please RSVP here to <https://www.savvywomensalliance.org/blackstone-valley-2018>

The Savvy Women’s Alliance is a first-of-its-kind nationwide organization dedicated to leading and nurturing mainstream women who are curious and new to nontoxic living, and mentoring powerful agents of change. The organization’s model is a cutting-edge combination of online social forums with real face-to-face chapters designed to unite, educate, nurture, and ignite women to make informed decisions leading to healthier lifestyles and a healthier world.

“The Savvy Women’s Alliance contributes to tipping the scales of the environmental health movement,” said Kristi Marsh, founder and executive director of the Savvy Women’s Alliance. “By reaching deep into the curious mainstream and offering them a safe, encouraging community to learn, and tools they need to make change, we’ll shift healthy and nontoxic living to a new norm.”

Diagnosed with aggressive breast cancer at age 35, with three young children at home, Marsh became aware of the links between toxic chemicals in food and products and cancer, reproductive harm, hormone disruption, developmental problems, infertility, and a host of other health impacts. She has since risen to become a nationally recognized and celebrated advocate for women’s environmental health.

“As I learned and made changes in my own home and with my family, I wanted to take it to another level,” said Marsh. “I wanted to take action to eliminate these chemicals for good, but I needed support in figuring out how to do that. This is why I launched Savvy: we ensure that every woman who wants to learn, participate, and make a difference - whether a beginner or passionate change maker - has a home to do just that.”

The local Savvy Women’s Alliance chapter is designed for women beginning down a similar path: from women who would like to learn alongside others, or those who are battling breast cancer or fertility problems or whose children have inexplicable health problems, to women simply looking for what’s actually safe to use in their homes.

The Savvy Women’s Alliance prides themselves on answering the questions like “Where should I start?,” “What should I use?,” and “What do I need to know?” It then moves members as far up the ladder in making change as they want to go, from switching to healthy products all the way up to testifying on policies and participating in as leaders in the movement.

Women make up a powerful economic force, making 85% of consumer decisions in the average home.

“I designed the Savvy Women’s Alliance to nurture women’s strengths to truly make change in their own lives, the lives of their families, and on a bigger scale,” said Marsh. “Savvy connects women eager to make a difference to a thriving community of change-makers; with companies making safe products and food so that they can flex their economic muscles to move the market; and with other nonprofits creating a safer and protective world. .”

The Savvy Women’s Alliance is a nonprofit member-style association focused on exploring nontoxic living through enrichment and community, and shifting nontoxic living to the new mainstream norm.

About founder Kristi Marsh: After enduring chemotherapy and cancer as a young mom of three, Kristi Marsh skyrocketed to become one of our generation’s leading advocates on the swelling topic of personal environmental health. She founded the organization Choose Wiser, authored the book Little Changes, and has spoken at numerous events from the Senate building in Washington D.C. to the Sustainable Cosmetics Summit.

What should I consider when selecting lender for my home purchase?

When buying a home it is important to make the right choices for the all the professionals you hire to help in this process such as the Realtor, Attorney, Home Inspector, Insurance Agent and the Loan Officer. It is important to select the right loan officer but equally important is the lender that they work for. Many people will start by going to the bank that holds all their accounts, which may be a local bank or a large national lender. This will definitely make it easier to have all accounts in one place but you want to ensure that they have the best financial products for you and that they have a good streamlined process. I have had experiences where buyers thought they could not buy a home and it was because their bank just didn't have the loan options the buyer needed or where the bank took too long to close the loan and caused the buyer to lose the home or get charged per diem fees for the extensions.

The other options besides your bank would be a broker or a direct lender. The broker and direct lenders may have more loan options but have to have the loan fit inside a box so they can resell the loan. The direct lender will close the loan and then sell it so you don't know who you will be paying your mortgage to once the loan closes. The Broker will actually broker out to the lender and they will approve the loan during the process and that lender will actually fund the loan so you know who the loan is going to when it closes. In both these scenarios it is very common for the lender to resell the loan to other lenders but all terms have to stay the same you would just pay your payment to someone else.

I think the most important thing to do is to ensure you select the right loan officer. Someone you can trust to put you in the right product and make the sale go smooth even if their companies processes are not perfect. You also want to keep in mind that the seller of the home and their agent will be looking at your preapproval letter and part of their decision to accept you offer will be based on that lender and the loan officer who pre-approved you. If the agent and seller have had experiences with this lender or loan officer that was positive they will be more apt to take your offer. If they had a bad experience or don't know your lender they may try to go with another offer where they are confident the deal will close.

I have seen some lenders underwrite the loan prior to your going to search for houses so all they need to do is approve the home since they already approved you. This will make you a much stronger buyer and it may make sense to find a lender willing to do this in the extremely competitive environment we are in.

As always hire a Realtor that knows your market to ensure you are making the right home buying decisions. That Realtor should be able to give you names of lenders that they have worked with and had good experiences. Otherwise ask friends and family who they have used and had a good experience with when purchasing a home.

State Senate increases penalties on hit-and-run animal deaths

BOSTON — State Senator Ryan C. Fattman (R-Sutton) announced his amendment to increase penalties against hit-and-run drivers who strike a family pet was adopted in the State Senate. The amendment was included on senate bill 1155, an act relative to protecting puppies and kittens, which updated animal cruelty laws.

"I'm glad there was great bipartisan consensus on this issue, and it passed with so much support," said Fattman. "Pets are like family, and people expect them to be treated as such."

The amendment passed 35 to 1, and strengthens the consequences for hit-and-runs on family pets making it a misdemeanor and punishable by a $100 fine and or 10 days in county corrections. A second offense includes a fine up to $500, inclusion of medical expenses, or no more than six months in county corrections, or both. Current law already requires individuals who hit a dog or cat to notify the police. Fattman's amendment increased the penalties for failing to do so.

"I filed an amendment to this bill based on two conversations I had with constituents from Oxford and Webster whose family's dogs were killed in hit-and-run crimes. When I looked into the law and consequences for those caught committing this crime and failing to report it, I found a very weak $50 fine as the punishment," said Fattman

Senate passes housing bond bill

BOSTON – Senator Anne M. Gobi (D-Spencer) and the Massachusetts Senate voted to pass S.2368, "An Act financing the production and preservation of housing for low and moderate income residents" (Housing Bond Bill). The bill is a result of a session long collaboration between the Senate and House with a focus on preserving and producing the state's affordable housing stock.

"The Housing Bond bill we passed today reflects our commitment to providing housing that is affordable to the vital and diverse workforce that is fueling the Commonwealth's economic growth," said Senator Gobi. "This bill is the first step toward ensuring Massachusetts develops enough affordable housing to support both its workforce and its economic future."

"Massachusetts must do better to provide affordable housing to its residents," said Senate President Harriette L. Chandler (D-Worcester). "This bond bill will support the development of affordable housing for low and moderate-income residents across the Commonwealth. As long as one family remains unable to afford adequate housing, our communities suffer."

In spite of other strong economic indicators, Massachusetts is in desperate need to further develop affordable housing. The housing shortage has placed the State in the bottom tier of housing affordability and rents have risen to third highest in the nation. The Housing Bond bill authorizes $1.8 billion in investments in the preservation and production of affordable housing across the Commonwealth.

Critical authorizations include:
$600M for the modernization and redevelopment of the state's public housing stock;
$400M for the development and preservation of affordable and mixed income housing;
$125M for the preservation and improvement of existing and expiring use affordable housing;
$100M for the preservation and development of workforce housing;
$65M for community based housing for individuals living with mental illness or disabilities;
$60M for home modification for elderly residents and those living with severe disabilities
$50M to incentivize smart growth production and transit oriented developments;
$45M for the capital investments in early education and out of school programs for low income residents.

The bill also extends and expands critical tax credits dedicated to incentivizing the development and modernization of the Commonwealth's housing stock.

The bill will now be reconciled with a version passed by the House of Representatives.

Neon lights

It may be hard to believe, but neon lights were invented over 100 years ago. The American Physics Society website states that Georges Claude, known as the Edison of France, played a major role in their development. Claude was an electrical inspector while also working on scientific inventions. He invented 20 foot neon tubes that lasted for 1,200 hours. He took out a pattern in 1910 and showcased them at the Paris Motor Show in 1910. Claude sold his first neon sign to a barbershop in France in 1912. He offered franchises in his neon light business that sold very well. Claude received a U.S. patent for neon lighting in 1915. His first sale in America was to a Packard Automobile distributor in California. He held a monopoly on neon signs until around 1920 when his patents expired and trade secrets leaked to competitors.

Neon lights remained popular through the 1920s. Even during the depression, sales were $9 million, up 40% from the previous year. During the 1930s, Claude's competitors created most of the large neon signs for Times Square. American Heritage stated that the new neon sign makers also "experimented with displays that incorporated smells, fog, and sounds as part of their total effect." Demand remained high for neon through the start of World War II. Demand was so strong that best producers of neon couldn't keep up with it. Less skilled makers created signs of lesser quality. "Neon shops began to emphasize efficiency of production over good design." After the war, new companies began producing signs with plastic enclosed fluorescent lights. The sale fluorescent light signs increased while neon signs were considered crude and old fashioned. During the peak years, there may be one place even more well known for neon signs than Times Square. Las Vegas has a rich history and even has a neon museum. The Neon Museum has 11 neon signs that still light up from casinos that were in their prime when Frank Sinatra and the Rat Pack ruled the town. The "Neon Boneyard" contains 200 historic signs and the Neon Boneyard North Gallery has 60 more. Prices for neon signs vary dramatically. A search of newer neon beer signs showed some had sold for under $25 on eBay recently. Of course, there are many that are much more valuable. Neon clocks advertising Rolex watches, Liberty Flour and Fisk Tires each brought $8,500 in 2013, 2011 and 2016 respectively. This year, a Lionel dealers' sign sold for $20,000. A Ford V-8 porcelain and neon sign fetched $21,000. A large 14' X 7' Art Deco Coca Cola neon sign from the 1930s sold for $30,000 at auction in 2012. An Indian Motorcycles dealers' sign from the 1930s reached $48,500 in 2016. Two early Harley Davidson neon signs really lit up the auction block when they sold for $82,000 and $85,000 in 2016. We have an online auction in Sterling that is currently running. Preview is at the home April 21st. We will be running another online auction in Weymouth. Bill increases protections for students and employees

BOSTON — The Massachusetts State Senate unanimously passed S.2320, An Act relative to social media privacy protection, which aims to protect the personal social media accounts of students and employees across the Commonwealth. "The bill helps protect privacy and personal information in the face of growing technology use and how people interact with one another. Private information stored online should be privy to the same privacy as any other medium," said State Senator Ryan C. Fattman (R-Sutton). Specifically, the legislation prevents employers and schools from requesting and requiring access to the personal social media accounts of applicants, employees, and students as a condition of acceptance, employment, or participation in school activities. More than twenty-five states have already enacted legislation addressing this issue, and bills on this topic are pending in many other jurisdictions. This is the third session in which the Senate has voted favorably on this bill. The legislation now goes to the House of Representatives for consideration.

Dasanee hopes her future family will have pets and other children in the home. An active family would be ideal as Dasanee enjoys being active and getting out of the house frequently. Any interested family should be open to maintaining Dasanee's connections with her brother, aunt and cousin whom she visits with regularly

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples. The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for. To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

LEARNING

Four hardworking seniors named students of the month

Hard working, determined and attentive to details, just a few characteristics of Morgan McCarty who has been selected as one of Uxbridge High School's seniors of the month for January.

Morgan has an exceptional personality, and an impressive character. Her true passion lies in her work with the Best Buddies program. Morgan was part of the student group that brought the Best Buddies program to our school this year. She was named president due to the high amount of involvement and planning she put in to all that the program has to offer.

Morgan is a member of Student Council and National Honor Society, and puts in countless hours of community service not to just fulfill requirements but because she loves working with people and making their lives better through the mission of each service.

Morgan is one of UHS' best athletes. She is captain for all three sports she plays, field hockey, softball and basketball. She fully understands the mentality of working as a team toward a common goal, the dedication and passion that one needs to put forth to be successful, and working through the adversity you can experience during challenges that come with competition.

Morgan always takes time to help other students, while being encouraging.

Teachers describe him as courteous, conscientious, and a general pleasure to be around. Wesley Mattson has been selected as one of January's seniors of the month.

Wesley pushes himself to be successful in the classroom and challenges himself outside the classroom as well. He sets high expectations for himself, and has a special kind of vision he is able to share with others.

Wesley has taken 11 honors level classes and three AP courses. He is intelligent, yet stays humble and compassionate.

He has challenged himself with the language of Spanish. Wesley surrounds himself with Spanish-language music and watches Spanish-language television. This year, Wesley is our department intern. Our three Spanish teachers at UHS are able to utilize his expertise and have him act as an exemplar for our lower-level classes.

Outside of the classroom, Wesley is highly involved in our music and performance programs. He has been a part of concert choir and band, a capella, theater, marching band and pep band. His performances have enabled him to find his voice as a performer and artist which is also something in which he takes great pride.

An exceptional personality, passionate and honest, Kayte Rooney has been selected as one of Uxbridge High School's Students of the Month for February. Kayte's personality and character are remarkable and make her an incredible person.

Kayte not only gets good grades, she earns them and works intensely and diligently to make sure she understands all concepts. Because of her desire to learn, she has come in extremely early in the mornings to be sure that she becomes confident with some materials in her classes. As a junior, Kayte received the George Eastman Young Leaders Award for outstanding academic commitment. She has an internship this year, working with the elementary speech and language pathologist to further her experience working with school-aged children in hopes to one day work in education.

Some of Kayte's greatest achievements have come through her community service projects that demonstrate her dedication and commitment to her school and community. Kayte is a member of the National Honor Society, band and chorus. She has also taken on the role of choreographer for our drama department. The amount of time she spends helping the drama program is astonishing.

Katye is the type of student who sets the bar very high for herself and is achieving her goals.

With a character equal to none, which is evident, both in and out of the classroom, Austin van Lingen has been chosen as one of Uxbridge High School's Students of the month for February.

Austin has a great sense of humor, and is always very honest. He brings great insight to discussions and is very easy to have a conversation with. Over the course of the years, Austin has pushed himself to improve on his skill set, and when he didn't understand something he tried other methods and asked for help when necessary.

Austin's talents are not limited to the classroom. He has amazing performance ability. He has held important parts of our school drama production for the past four years. Austin brings a positive attitude and encouraging word each day.

Austin hopes to one day work in the business world of professional sports. He has held a summer internship the past three years with the Worcester Bravehearts, a local semi-professional baseball team.

With Austin's dedication to improving himself, along with his work ethic, his growth for the future is promising.

Plant lilies for a summer garden of elegant and fragrant blooms

Lilies add long-lasting color and fragrance to flower gardens and summer bouquets. These stately flowers provide vertical interest and blend nicely with other perennials. And best of all, with very little care, you'll be enjoying them for years to come.

Plant different types of lilies to extend your enjoyment from early summer into fall. The colorful and often fragrant blossoms add elegance to any bouquet and are long-lasting in a vase.

Start off the summer with Asiatic lilies. These compact plants have upward or outward facing blooms, and though they are not fragrant, they do come in bright colors that will light up your early summer garden. All are hardy in zones 4 to 9.

The next lilies to bloom are LA hybrids. These trumpet-shaped lilies are a cross between fragrant Easter lilies (Lilium longiflorum) and colorful Asiatics. Choose from an array of rich colors including cream, pink, yellow, orange and red. Hardy in zones 4 to 9.

The dainty blossoms of Turk's cap lilies open in early summer. Also known as Martagon lilies, these flowers have recurved petals and look like they are dangling from an upside-down candelabra. Hardy in zones 3 to 9, these lilies prefer partially shaded gardens and woodland edges.

Trumpet lilies steal the show in mid-summer. Like their close relative the Easter lily, these big, outward-facing blossoms have long trumpets and are wonderfully fragrant. Hardy in zones 4 to 9.

Another group of midsummer lilies are the Oriental-Asiatic hybrids. These have the compact height and outward facing flowers of Asiatics and the larger flowers and heady fragrance of Orientals. Look for the variety Kaveri, which has golden yellow petals touched with tangerine and burgundy. Hardy in zones 4 to 9.

Species lilies have downward facing flowers with reflexed petals and extra-long stamens. Bloom times vary. Lady Alice (Lilium henryi) and coral lilies (Lilium pumilum) flower a full month before tiger lilies (Lilium lancifolium). The latter are treasured for their big orange flowers and prominent black spots. Over time, tiger lilies form impressive clumps, with towering, 4-foot stems. Hardy in zones 3 to 9.

Oriental-Trumpet lilies are hybrids with fragrant, upward-facing flowers that can measure 9" across. Colors range from maroon and rose pink through gold and cream. The cool yellow flowers of Yelloween make this OT lily a favorite among florists. Hardy in zones 4 to 9.

The lily season ends with a bang, when the Oriental lilies begin to bloom. These big, open-faced flowers have a spicy fragrance that can perfume an entire garden. A wide range of colors, including the popular variety Stargazer, invites lots of creative pairings in the garden and in a vase. Hardy in zones 5 to 9.

Now is the time to order your lily bulbs. The earlier you shop the more choices you'll have. Legislation mandates proper safeguards and insurance for tow companies

BOSTON — The Massachusetts State Senate took action to protect the motoring public by establishing a licensing mechanism for voluntary towing.

The bill, filed by Senator Michael O. Moore (D-Millbury) who serves as Senate Chair of the Joint Committee on Public Safety and Homeland Security, requires all companies, whether voluntary or involuntary, that perform towing services to hold a certificate from the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities. Presently in Massachusetts, anyone can purchase a tow truck and hold themselves out to be a tow company.

As it currently stands, only those companies that perform involuntary towing services, such as police-ordered tows after an accident or law enforcement related incidents where there is no one to drive the car, are required to have a DPU certificate, which mandates proper safeguards and insurance. In addition, companies that provide involuntary towing services for the Massachusetts State Police are required to have a Criminal Offender Record Information (CORI) background and minimum insurance standards.

By requiring DPU to establish minimum insurance requirements and CORI standards for all tow trucks, the motoring public will know that there are safety standards in place when a tow company arrives to tow their vehicle. In addition, by requiring tow companies to obtain a certificate, the Commonwealth will ensure tow companies are maintaining workers' compensation insurance and other legally required documentation.

"This bill is about public safety and consumer protection," stated Senator Moore. "By requiring the safeguard included in this legislation, we will ensure that when drivers are vulnerable and stranded on the side of the road, they can feel confident that their safety is the primary concern of the towing industry."

"The Massachusetts Senate is dedicated to ensuring consumer protections for residents of the Commonwealth," said Senate President Harriette L. Chandler (D-Worcester). "This legislation safeguards the well-being of drivers and their vehicles. I am very pleased that the Senate passed this bill."

"I thank the Massachusetts Senate for passing this important legislation that will ensure the safety of the motoring public," stated William Johnson, president of the Statewide Towing Association of Massachusetts. "This legislation will bring a uniform standard of accountability to the towing industry thus increasing public safety."

The legislation, which passed the Senate unanimously, has now been referred to the House of Representatives for consideration. To continue tracking the bill, S.2354, please visit the Legislature's website, www.malegislature.gov.

Taking a stand in Massachusetts

The state Department of Elementary and Secondary Educatory and state level school board took a vote saying they are not in favor of arming staff in state schools in any way.

They’ve taken a firm stand on it.

The statement made was that they felt students were not safe when unintentional consequences could be the results of people not professionally trained to handle the situations that might arise.

We support that.

We have said in several places the rights of others to own firearms, those who want to hunt, those who want to target practice, those who want to feel themselves safer because they are trained in weapons have every right to that; but they also have to understand the rights of those who don’t feel the same way.

There does indeed need to be some restraint on just who can purchase, own and handle firearms. Deadly force is possible, so anyone with a history of instability, violence, or criminal behavior does indeed need to be denied the right to own them.

There is a fine line to be drawn here. And just who it is who can determine those rights must be unbiased, unequivocally qualified to make the decision, and make the decision made on facts, not emotions.

There also needs to be a way for a person, who has done their due diligence to earn back their responsible lives to also earn back a possible right to bear arms once more.

This is the discussion that should be happening.

It should be a discussion involving mental health professionals, law enforcement, judicial presence, legislators, and others with a stake in the outcome, including gun rights advocates.

There can be a lot written into laws that allow for training of young hunters without allowing them to own guns outright; let them wait to the age of 18 to own them.

Anyone can take classes in gun safety and obtaining licensing without actually purchasing a weapon.

So let’s take the emotion out of this and be more objective.

We don’t want our children with their hands on guns. We don’t want the violent and unstable with their hands on guns. We don’t want those who respect weapons correctly to lose their rights either.

So find the places to make the meeting of the minds.

It is time.

What to look for in a politician

Have you already made up your mind about how you’re going to vote — at least by party — in this year’s important elections? I hope not.

Because to serve our nation well at this troubled time in its political history, you should be looking for certain qualities in the politicians you favor. Ideology, party affiliation, positions on key issues — these are important considerations, but this year demands more from us as voters.

ers — that we’re all in this together. We need leaders who can rise above the polarization and divisiveness that current politicians have done so much to exacerbate, and instead begin focusing on cooperation, collective purpose, and the common good.

Our institutions are badly in need of repair. Making them work better, which is urgent, will not happen with scorched-earth politicking. It can only come from political leaders who embrace bipartisanship and the traditional values of democracy: pluralism, free speech, and tolerance for opposing points of view.

We want to find politicians who respect and look for the facts, not simply the facts as they wish them to be. We need to examine candidates’ rhetoric with great care, and understand that it’s easy to state a problem and then lapse into meaningless generalities when it comes to solutions.

By contrast, it’s hard — but vitally important in this climate — to speak with clarity and thoughtfulness not just about what needs to be done, but about how to help make it happen. Politicians who are blatantly unrealistic as they pander to voters’ prejudices — “I’ll balance the budget in three years!” I heard one say the other day without telling us how — do not deserve our attention.

Instead, we should be looking for politicians who can move us beyond our current paralysis. Who are open to different opinions and ideas, will work hard to bring together people of different points of view, and who seek opportunities to discuss public issues forthrightly rather than dodge them. Who prefer to answer hard questions, rather than just give a big speech and then leave the room.

Here’s the bottom line: citizens today carry an extra burden — not merely to pick a politician we might favor for some reason, but to make choices that move us away from ideology and our own biases, and toward getting this country running again.

Should you make extra mortgage payments or boost your investments?

ANTONOPOULOS

Every month, you pay your mortgage. And, depending on your circumstances, you may be able to afford to put in additional payments — perhaps sizable ones. But should you? Or, if you really have the extra money, should you invest it?

Initially, you might think it would be quite nice to rid yourself of that mortgage sooner, rather than later. But is it really the burden it seems?

Actually, you get some real benefits from a mortgage. It certainly provides something of great value to you — your home. If you got your mortgage — or refinanced your home — within the past decade or so, you are borrowing money at a pretty favorable interest rate, by historical standards. And even assuming a mild rate of inflation, such as we’ve had for the past several years, you’ll essentially be paying off your mortgage with cheaper and cheaper dollars over time. Plus, your interest payments may well be tax deductible. (The new tax laws limit deductions on new mortgages of $750,000 or more. For questions on your specific situation, consult your tax professional.)

So, given these advantages, an argument could be made that you should be in no hurry to pay off your mortgage. Still, you might be tempted to make the extra payments because you’ll be building home equity. After all, isn’t this equity valuable? It is — to a degree. The larger your home equity, the more money you’ll get to keep when you eventually sell your home.

But in the meantime, that home equity may be less useful than you might imagine. For one thing, just building more equity won’t make your home more valuable — it will rise (or fall) in value along with whatever’s happening in the housing market. By contrast, you could take the extra money and buy more shares in an investment such as stocks — and the more shares you own, the more valuable your investment will be if the price per share rises.

Also, if you were to experience a temporary job loss or some other financial emergency, your home equity might not help you much; if you’re not working, you could even have trouble getting a home equity loan. Conversely, your investment portfolio can offer you greater liquidity, depending on your specific investments. Most investment vehicles, such as stocks and bonds, generally can be sold quickly, without much difficulty. (Keep in mind, though, that if you were forced to sell investments when their price was down, you could take a loss on the sale.)

Clearly, you could gain some advantages by using any extra money to invest, rather than paying down your mortgage. Nonetheless, you may simply get emotional and psychological satisfaction by speeding your progress toward the day when your house is paid off — and that type of satisfaction certainly has value. You’ll need to weigh these intangible factors carefully in deciding whether to increase your investments or make extra mortgage payments — because, ultimately, you need to feel that you’re doing the right thing, for the right reasons.

Waiting for the hatchery stock to hit the waters

Although spring is slow in arriving in Massachusetts this year, local anglers are enjoying some great fishing, catching recently stocked trout. The loss of 4,800 trout at the Sandwich hatchery this year, that were intended to be stocked throughout the state, will have a small impact to the stocking program this year, but it could have been a lot worse.

Generators were brought in to minimize the loss of even more trout including next year's fish, after the recent storms knocked out power to a portion of the fish hatchery. Rainbow, tiger and brown trout were lost. With the loss of brood stock salmon from federal hatcheries, most anglers will need to be satisfied with 12 to 18 inch fish. Still not bad from years ago, with most trout averaging 10 to 12 inches.

The excitement of opening day at Wallum Lake in Douglas on April 14 this year, it will draw a lot fewer anglers than in earlier years. Back in the '80s Wallum Lake had a few hundred anglers waiting to wet a line in hopes of catching some rainbow, brook and brown trout. Many arrived at the boat ramp the evening before to ensure a spot for opening day. Camping out the night before & sitting around a fire with family and friends, cooking & eating hot dogs, and drinking a soda, are fondly remembered by many adults today. Youngsters and adults alike witnessed the excitement of opening day for many years and have fond memories of bringing their youngsters there to go fishing. Unfortunately, fishing has taken a back seat to all of the other sports like baseball, hockey, football, etc.!

These sports are great, but adults need to get there kids out into the relaxing world of fishing, which is not competitive. If they are introduced to fishing I am sure that they too will get hooked on this great past time. They can never say that they have nothing to do!! Fishing is a year round sport that can be enjoyed 24 hours a day seven days a week. I can remember our dad taking us to the Fair store in Whitinsville to buy some last minute fishing hooks or new line for our fishing poles. We also climbed into our dads 1937 Pontiac and went out to pick night-crawlers for bait a few days before at a local golf course. Taking a flashlight and an empty Maxwell House coffee can to put our night-crawlers in, we often harvested a few hundred of them in a single night, which were later stored in our family's cellar. A combination of sod and dampened newspaper kept the crawlers in great shape for weeks.

My dad had built a 12 ft. row boat that was kept at the Meadow Pond located at Kane's Cove. The Cove was named after the Kane family that had lived at the corner of Main & Border streets for many years! I have great memories of our dad taking my brother Mel and I out fishing in the boat on early Saturday mornings to catch a stringer of bass, bluegills, yellow perch and pickerel. Double spinners and a worm had us catching a lot of fish for a good fish chowder for supper. I have not had a bowl of fish chowder since he had passed.

As we grew older, our dad let us sell some of our worms to other fishermen which often gave us some spending money to go to the Arcade Store with during the week to buy a bag of potato chips, a fudge cycle and a few funny books. Owner Tom Nugent was extremely tolerant of us kids as we sat on the floor of the candy shop reading some funny books and having a treat. I often got a call from a few local anglers that would order a few garden worms for fishing in some of the local brooks like Prentice, Ironstone & Johnson Brook. I was glad to get the order for the garden worms, as it had me harvesting the worms near my girlfriend's house on Arcade Street!!! She was a real pretty girl, but as she grew older, she soon found someone else.

"Oh Well," like my dad said, there are plenty more fish in the brook, and he was right!!

My wife Judy and I celebrated our 60'th anniversary last October. Now that needs to be a record of some sort!!!

We often fished the Arcade Pond for calico bass using our fly rod and a Mickey Finn fly. After fishing we headed back home, as we were told to be back before dark. The smell of hot dogs cooking at "Paul Devlin's" hot dog stand often had us stopping to have one before we got home. His hotdog stand was located at the corner of Main and North Main street in Whitinsville back in the old days. Coney Island had nothing on Paul's hot dogs. Good thing we had our money from worm sales. Our worm business started to do so well that my brother Mel & I hired the late Donald Clark to make and paint a sign advertising our worm business.

Don was a born artist, but after he grew up he mastered the art of masonry. The sign was finished and erected while my parents were gone for the day. When they came home my mother almost passed out, and started to rant and rave about the sign on our lawn.

"That thing is coming down!"

"GEE, I thought it was great!"

My mom was the boss and her final word was it. God rest her soul. The sign was a full sheet of plywood advertising our bait business and had a large nightcrawler three foot high over the top of the plywood sign. The worm had big eyes and a smile. I sure wish I had a picture of it. It was great.

Haddock fishing opens in Massachusetts on April 15, this year, with a 15 fish limit. Contact Capt. John boats in Plymouth for reservations and more information. This week's picture shows a happy angler last year holding a nice haddock aboard a charter boat out of Massachusetts!

The Singletary Rod & Gun Club will hold their annual fishing derby on April 22. Kitchen will be open for breakfast at 6:00 a.m.

Spring has finally sprung! As we gear up for the warm season, a big “thank you” goes out to the readers who took time from their busy schedules to share their favorite tips and tricks. From makeshift pie guards to recipe ideas, the following submissions prove that this month, it’s about cooking!

No bones about it, this reader has the secret to great homemade soup! I really enjoy your column and after reading your “Celebrate Soups!” article, I realized that, besides loving to eat a good homemade soup... it’s always so good to make and share soup with someone who might not be able to make their own or simply don’t know how to make soup! I find making soup very easy, but I did notice that your article and the recipes don’t use what I use in my most basic soup recipes....bones! There is so much flavor in them it’s a shame to waste the yumminess that soup bones add to a good stock and the best part is often, bones are free! And that is a word we don’t hear much and it is true! Chicken carcasses add tons of flavor to a delicious chicken soup, ham bones can’t be beat in split-pea soup or luscious lentil soup, and beef bones make the perfect flavorful ingredient to beef-barley soup! I must admit I’ve bought beef marrow bones for my beef barley soup and they are not cheap, but the savory taste they add is incomparable! There are many yummy soup recipes on Pinterest, if you’re looking and I’d be happy to share mine! Soup bones are a tradition that my mom and grandmother always had in their soups and my daughter and I use today... it’s a keeper, and again, it’s free deliciousness! Try it, you’ll like it! Thanks to a CT reader for a lesson in “Cooking and Preparing Lobster 101” Here is how to boil live lobsters without the stress of putting them in boiling water: Use two pots, approximately the same size. Fill one pot with water as you would normally use and put it on the stove to bring to a boil. In the meantime, put your lobsters in the second pot, without water, cover the pot and put it in the sink. This allows the lobsters to get comfortable and rest quietly while the water in the first pot comes to a boil. When water boils, simply pour the boiling water over the lobsters in the pot in the sink. There will not even be a flutter. Cover the lobster pot and transfer it to the already hot burner on the stove and cook as required, I will cook two chicken lobsters this way, timing it after it returns to the boil for ten minutes. Next empty the pot, lobsters and water into the sink. When the water drains away, begin. Do all your dismantling in the sink. For the big claws: I twist them off, put them on a cutting board, cover them with a dish towel and whack them with a rolling pin to crack the shell. For the tail: Twist to separate from the body. Twist off the fins and cut the underside of the shell with a knife. Open the shell and the tail is easy to remove. I then remove the big vein and rinse off any unpleasant remains. Since all the work is done in the sink, cleanup is easy...just rinse it away. No nutcracker is needed except to open the highly recommended bottle of champagne to go with this fine meal. Don’t pop the cork. Instead, remove the foil and wire and grasping the cork with the nutcracker, give one gentle twist and pull. No flying corks; no spilled wine. Also, if you like chowders and seafood bisque, put all the shells and bodies back in the lobster pot, cover with water, bring to a boil and simmer for two to three hours. Strain and save the broth for seafood stews. This freezes well. Enjoy. Lorraine Pasqualetti North Grosvenordale, CT The following kitchen tips are served up by a reader who repurposes: To keep frying food from spattering, invert a metal colander over the pan. Another hint is when using a double boiler, put a few marbles in the bottom and when the water boils down, the noise will let you know. Betty Bliss West Brookfield  A clever reader took matters (and a disposable pie tin) into her own hands: I can never seem to find a proper pie crust shield. (Just to be clear a pie crust shield is a flat aluminum ring that fits around the edge of your pie crust so that the edge of the crust does not brown excessively before the center of the pie is done.) If you purchase them at retail store they are either flimsy tin foil sections that are difficult to stay in place or not the right size. One day I finally decided to make one of my own. Since most of my pie baking involves buying a 9” frozen Mrs. Smith’s pie crust shell, I had several disposable, empty pie pans (you’ll probably see my kitchen on an episode of the “Hoarders” show one day). I take the clean, empty pie pan and cut out the bottom with scissors. Before you put your pie in the oven invert the cut pie pan over the pie until the last 10 minutes or so and your crust should be evenly browned (do take a peek every so often and if necessary leave the shield in place until the end of the bake time). One more thing...since the cut edge of the inner circle of the pan can be sharp I modified my design to include a safety feature. Instead of cutting out the pan right at junction of the bottom and the side I cut the inside circle about ½ inch smaller and then I cut slits every inch so I can fold them up out of the way and the sharp edge is not exposed. Cathy Buonomo Fiskdale  Prize winner Congratulations to Cathy Buonomo of Fiskdale, who won Dinner for Two at the Publick House in Sturbridge. She submitted the pie guard tip above. Win Dinner for Two at the Publick House Your tips can win you a fabulous dinner for two at the historic Publick House Historic Inn in Sturbridge! Stonebridge Press Winter Season Recap

As the spring season for local high school student-athletes (hopefully) begins after press time, let's take one last look back at the winter season that was.

Northbridge High saw its boys' basketball, girls' basketball and ice hockey teams all reach postseason play. On the court, both the boys' and girls' teams reached the quarterfinal round of the Central Mass. Division 3 tournament before bowing out. The boys, who also qualified for the Clark Tournament, finished 14-8, while the girls' record stood at 17-5. On the ice, the hockey team advanced to the Central Mass. Division 3A semifinals and finished with a record of 12-10. The swim team also saw six of its athletes — Adam Briand, Willow Dunster, Devon Foster, Alvin He, Samantha Kilcoyne and Ivan Zou — compete in the State Division 1 championships.

Over at Uxbridge High, the boys' basketball team competed in the Central Mass. Division 3 tournament and lost in first round play to nearby Northbridge High. The Spartans also took part in the Clark Tournament and wound up 11-10.

For Douglas High, both Alec Goldenberg (600-meter run, fifth place) and Maureen Grady (55-meter dash, eighth place) medaled in the All-State indoor track meet. Goldenberg then achieved the rare feat of qualifying for the New England Meet.

Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams at the Whitinsville Christian School posted impressive resumes, as the boys' squad (16-7) advanced all the way to the Central Mass. Division 3 final, while the girls' team (13-9) reached as far as the Central Mass. Division 4 quarterfinals.

And at Blackstone Valley Tech, the girls' hoopsters played in a pair of championship games: the State

Vocational Large Schools final as well as the Central Mass. Division 4 title tilt. The Beavers finished with a record of 21-5. The boys' basketball team finished under .500 but reached the Central Mass. Division 4 tournament by way of finishing in second place inside the Colonial Athletic League. The hockey team, which co-ops with Grafton High, beat Northbridge in the Central Mass. Division 3A semifinals before losing in the district final and finishing 20-1-1.

GARDENING

How to keep animals out of your garden

Many gardeners understand the frustration that stems from seeing a garden destroyed by wildlife. While protecting wildlife is a cause that's near and dear to many gardening enthusiasts, even the most ardent wildlife supporter does not want to see his or her garden trampled, eaten or adversely affected by animals.

Safeguarding gardens from local wildlife can require some trial and error. Animals may find ways to circumvent gardeners' initial efforts to protect their gardens, but the following methods might just do the trick the first time around.

- Erect physical barriers around gardens. Barriers may not be gardeners' first choices, as some people feel barriers such as wire cages or mesh coverings make it more difficult to tend to gardens and rob gardens of some of their aesthetic appeal. But coverings and wire cages can effectively prevent wildlife from trampling or eating plants while still allowing the gardens to get adequate sunlight. Make sure barriers extend to the ground so animals cannot access gardens by entering beneath the barricades.
- Fight intruders with odor. Stray cats may mistake gardens for litter boxes and enter them to relieve themselves. Preventing such intrusions can be as simple as placing items around the garden to reduce the likelihood that gardens will be mistaken for litter boxes. Peels from oranges and lemons or coffee grounds can be placed in the garden and can emit odors strong enough to deter cats.
- Install motion detecting lights around gardens. Motion detection technology might be enough to deter nocturnal wildlife from trampling or eating gardens. Animals might be spooked and run away when lights suddenly turn on. A similar approach can be taken using noise instead of lights. Gardeners who hope to avoid erecting barriers around their gardens can put up posts instead, attaching aluminum cans or wind chimes to the posts that will make noise when animals come near. Much like light, noise can be enough to deter animals.

- Consider raised garden beds. When small critters, such as moles, are the main problem, then raised garden beds with wood or plastic bottoms and sides can be enough to safeguard gardens. Raised garden beds might not be accessible to small critters, though such beds likely won't deter larger animals from getting into gardens that are not barricaded.

- Erect fencing around the yard.

Though fencing is expensive, fencing in a backyard or side yard where gardens are located can deter wildlife big and small from trampling or eating gardens. Wildlife is worth protecting, but gardeners must also take steps to protect their gardens from animals looking for something to eat.

Go green in your lawn and garden this spring

Spring is a season of rejuvenation. As the cold days of winter drift away, spring blooms begin to sprout and grass regains its lush green look.

Green is certainly a color that's synonymous with spring. Gardening enthusiasts can find a way to make spring even more green by embracing several eco-friendly gardening practices as they bring their lawns and gardens back to life in the months to come.

- Create a compost pile. Composting is an eco-friendly way to enrich lawns and gardens. Composting helps to conserve water because compost promotes moisture retention in soil, reducing homeowners' need to water their lawns and gardens while also helping them to save money on their water bills. Composting also helps homeowners avoid the need to use potentially harmful chemical fertilizers because compost is a natural, slow release fertilizer. In addition, according to Canada's Green Action Centre, compostable materials make up 40 percent of residential waste. So composting can dramatically reduce the amount of waste homeowners ultimately send to landfills.
- Replace gas-powered mowers with reel lawn mowers. Reel mowers may seem like relics from simpler times, but today's reel mowers, while just as eco-friendly as their predecessors, are unlike those of yesteryear. According to the Planet Natural Research Center, an online resource for organic gardeners, gas-powered engines emit more than 10 times the hydrocarbons per amount of gas burned than auto engines. But reel mowers are fuel-free and less expensive than gas-powered mowers. Planet Natural also notes that reel mowers snip grass like scissors, leaving finer trimmings that can serve as nourishing, weed-detering mulch for yards.
- Water at the right times of day. Homeowners who water their lawns and gardens at the right time of day can help the planet and reduce their energy bills. As spring gradually gives way to summer, temperatures typically rise. Watering during the coolest times of the day means less water will be lost to evaporation, ensuring water-needy soil will get all it needs to help lawns and gardens thrive. Early morning watering before the sun reaches its midday peak and/or evening watering as the sun is setting are typically great times to water lawns and gardens, rather than when temperatures are at their hottest.
- Use a rain barrel. Rain barrels provide another great way to conserve water while tending to lawns and gardens. Rain barrels collect and store rain water from roofs and downspouts, keeping water from washing into sewage systems where it can't be put to good use. Water collected in rain barrels can be used in various ways. Many homeowners can use water from rain barrels to water their lawns, gardens and houseplants, saving money on their water bills along the way.

Spring gardening season provides a great opportunity for lawn and garden enthusiasts to embrace a variety of eco-friendly practices that can save them money and protect the planet.

Fast-growing vegetables for the impatient gardener

CAPTION: Leafy greens can be fast-growing additions to a home vegetable garden.

Stepping outdoors and picking a freshly grown vegetable is a joy for many homeowners who like to garden.

Growing vegetables at home offers many benefits. In addition to providing a worthwhile hobby that can increase your physical activity, having control over your own produce can reduce exposure to a number of chemical pesticides and fertilizers. This translates into foods that are healthier for the body and the environment. Gardens also can help the average person save money on often costly produce, all the while reducing gardeners' carbon footprints.

Waiting to reap the rewards of a harvest can try the patience of those accustomed to satisfying their needs on a moment's notice. This is especially true for young gardeners who have grown up in a society that increasingly provides immediate gratification.

While tomatoes, peppers and watermelons require long growing seasons, many other fruits and vegetables grow much faster. This offers plenty of bounty in a short time for those who may have gotten a later start on their gardens or simply don't have the patience to wait on the more time-consuming growers.

- Arugula: Some people call arugula "rocket" because of just how quickly it grows. The green has been growing in popularity as a salad starter or vegetable side dish. Simply cut the leaves when they are large enough and as needed for recipes. Other fast-growing greens include kale, chard mustard greens and watercress.
- Radishes: Radishes are typically ready for harvest about one month after planting, making them among the fastest-growing vegetables around.
- Snap beans: Beans can be steamed, added to salads or eaten raw with dips. They're often a summer staple. Some of the fastest producers are ready to harvest in about 50 days.

- Turnips: Both the roots and the leaves of turnips can be eaten, and this old-fashioned vegetable makes a great addition to soups and stews. Because the plants tend to be tolerant across many gardening zones, they're handy and easy-to-grow even as the weather cools.
- Squash: Don't mistake the squash in the garden for cucumber. Both look similar but green squash, or zucchini, can be much more versatile. Zucchini can be grilled, baked, sautéed, stuffed, fried, and even turned into noodles.
- Green onions: To add fresh flavor to foods, green onions (scallions) grow much more quickly than it takes onion bulbs to mature.

Speak with a garden center expert to learn more about which vegetables, fruits and herbs grow quickly and will thrive in your home garden.

OBITUARIES

Robert I. Moon, 88

WHITINSVILLE- Robert I. Moon, 88, passed away Mon. March 26, 2018 at Overlook Healthcare in Charlton, surrounded by his loving family after a long illness. He was predeceased by his beloved wife Doris (Piette) Moon in 2003.

He is survived by his son, Mark and his wife Lisa (Charest) Moon of Whitinsville, his daughter Laurie (Moon) Zukowski and son-in-law William Zukowski of Spencer; 6 grandchildren, David Zukowski, Stefanie Natale, Alexa “Zoey” Zukowski, and Kyle, Ethan, and Jacob Moon; 3 great-grandchildren, Thomas and Jillian Zukowski, and Kaitlyn Natale; several nieces, nephews, and friends. He was predeceased by 2 sisters, Kathryn Johnson, and Ruth Spahl. Bob was born in Worcester on June 27, 1929 to Herbert and Lela (Beesmer) Moon. He proudly served his country in the U.S Army Military Police. He retired from Mass Electric Co. (now National Grid) after 33 years. After retiring he started working for Wolf Coach picking up and delivering their vans around the country.

Bob was a devout family man who never missed his children’s activities. He faithfully brought his family to the beach on summer vacations for years even though he was not a beach fan himself. Bob enjoyed bowling, and was a great cribbage player. But the biggest joy he had was playing golf with his friends and winning championships at Pine Ridge in Oxford. After moving to Whitinsville he joined Blissful Meadows CC.

Bob loved watching his children grow up, get married and having kids of their own. He supported them every step of the way. When the grandchildren were born it was a whole new life for Bob. He enjoyed spending time with all his grandchildren from going to sporting events and loved to teach them cribbage and mostly life’s lessons. Bob’s last joy in his life came when he got to spend time with his newest great-grandchild Kaitlyn Natale. It was also said if Bob loved you he would kid with you and make you part of the family like he did from day one with Lisa and Bill. He will always be loved and greatly missed.

His family would like to extend their deepest gratitude to the staff at Overlook for the exemplary care and love they provided to Bob, and the support they showed his family. God Bless them for their kindness.

Bob’s family invites all to attend his graveside funeral service, with full military honors . It will be held on Thurs. April 12, 2018, starting promptly at 11am in Worcester County Memorial Park Cemetery, 217 Richards Ave., Paxton. There are no calling hours. In lieu of flowers, donations in his memory may be made to: The Overlook Attn: Fund Development, 88 Masonic Home Rd., Charlton. WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING:

"HIGHLY RECOMMEND"

Firas was extremely helpful and made the process as simple as possible. He greeted us immediately and helped us through the process without being overwhelming. He helped make sure we got the most for our trade ins as well as getting the best prices for the 'new to us' cars that we purchased. I would highly recommend both Firas and Imperial when you are looking to buy a new car.
