Local Curves fundraises for Ukrainian refugees

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Children never make the decision to go to war, but are often subjected to it. In Webster, members of the local Curves facility recognized that and are sending funds to a school in Poland to help displaced Ukrainian refugees. According to Jeanne Frowein, the idea started as a conversation with a friend about possibly “adopting” a Ukrainian family there. But Jolanta Bugajski has relatives in Krakow, Poland, who were telling her it was far more than one family. About three and a half weeks ago, Krakow Elementary School #12 had 13 refugee children, and was spending about $60 per month per child for dinners (270 zloty in Polish currency). Frowein said the school only had enough funds for seven children at that time. By last week, the number had grown to 39. In most cases, they came with their families, but the local Catholic parish is also aiding another group of displaced orphan girls in nearby Gorlitz. “Within a day and a half, we had $500” collected from Curves members, Frowein said. That was the first Western Union transmission; they sent “another $500 last Friday.” The plan is to keep doing it as long as the school year lasts (until late June, just like here). “Many people want to help, but there are so many scams,” Frowein noted. Bugajski agreed, saying, “We’re very happy about this. Every single penny goes directly to the school. ... I was so touched when Jeanne approached me to do this. She’s very in touch with everything that’s happening there.” The project was made possible by Bugajski’s personal connection: her brother and niece Edyta live there, and her great-niece Ania is a student in that school. She said she came to Webster from Poland about 40 years ago from the town of Jaslo about two hours outside Krakow and returns to her homeland periodically. Bugajski is planning her next visit for this summer. “Krakow is one of the oldest and most beautiful cities in Poland, where the kings used to live,” she recalled, noting it’s “like Boston,” with many colleges and good public transit. But it’s also crowded, with few vacant apartments for refugees, while the outskirts have the housing but are hard to reach for those without cars. Historically, the Poles and Western Ukrainians have a connection. The area around what’s now Lvov, Ukraine, was part of Poland between the world wars of last century, and Poland-Lithuania ruled all the way to the Black Sea during the 15th century.

Leadership Council proposes internship, civic capstone programs

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY/CHARLTON – The Dudley-Charlton Leadership Council, or DCLC, has seen significant growth over the past school year. The student-led organization of Shepherd Hill Regional High School, previously known as the Superintendent’s Council, has made great strides towards increasing accessibility to the high school for incoming students while also paving the way for future initiatives to provide students with real-world experience. Three officers of the DCLC appeared before the Dudley Charlton Regional School Committee on March 23 to present the Council’s progress over the past year. The group has seen increased interest growing from 14 students in 2021 to 21 active members in the 2022 school year. The Council has continued its work on a website that served as their primary project of 2021 which allows incoming high school students to learn about the school and its numerous clubs and extracurricular opportunities and contains an ever-changing map of the school to reflect new teachers or relocated classrooms. However, the main theme of the presentation to the School Committee was three new initiatives the Council has championed in the 2022 school year. The first was presented by Council Treasurer Trevor Wallace and is called the “Civic Capstone Project” which would provide students with opportunities to become a larger part of their local communities. “This is one thing I’ve certainly been pushing for and that we’ve been discussing together as a group,” Wallace said noting that the idea would be to make

Private roads seek betterment agreement with Dudley

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – Three subdivisions could be on their way to entering into betterment agreements with the town pending the results of town meeting votes and the residents’ willingness to invest in their streets. Dudley Highway Superintendent Jeff Murray presented an update on petitions from residents of Partridge Hill, Tobin Farms and Misty Meadows during a meeting of the Board of Selectmen and Finance Authority at the end of March. He confirmed three placeholders were on the warrant for the upcoming annual town meeting for the agreements with each subdivision, however exactly how much it would cost the residents had yet to be finalized. “The cost to bring those up to the town standard will be put out to all the residents so they’ll still reserve their right to change their mind if they so choose, but we would hope that they’ll move forward with doing the work,” Murray said. Graves Engineering out of Worcester has been hired to provide estimates for the extend of the renovations. Murray anticipates that the numbers will be acted on at the Annual Town Meeting with the work to take place over the summer. The process would include a layout hearing and establish the groundwork for the subdivisions to potentially be accepted as town ways. The town meeting vote would also contain an article that would allow for street acceptance during the fall town meeting. The process would require ballot votes for the funding which Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda explained. “We’ve been discussing this and trying to fine tune how it’s going to work. We’re waiting to get the final numbers – The next step would be to bring those numbers to the residents of those private ways to see if they want to move forward with it,” said Ruda. “The Board of Selectmen would have to vote to put that on the June ballot in advance of the question passing at town meeting to borrow for the betterment. Then, of course, if it didn’t pass at town meeting it would be null and void if it was voted at the ballot.” What this means is that the items would need to be approved at the Annual Town Meeting in order for any vote at the polls to be accepted. Officials fully anticipate having the estimate numbers in hand and presenting to residents in time for the town meeting in May.

Ag Commission seeking growth in Dudley

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – Dudley’s Agricultural Advisory Commission is back to business after spending more than a year on hiatus due to the COVID-19 pandemic and one of their first major goals is investing in ways to raise awareness of Dudley’s agricultural identity. Commission Chair Linda Lorkiewicz presented a modest financing request to the Board of Selectmen and Finance Authority on April 4 totaling $1,500 to help purchase signage that will remind anyone traveling through the town of Dudley’s status as a “Right-to-Farm” community. The label indicated Dudley’s commitment to encouraging the pursuit of agriculture. The Agriculture Advisory Commission serves as a leading authority on pushing for ways to encourage agricultural business and farmland preservation. “We were going to purchase a banner that would advertise the commission and we also want to look at getting some road signs put up that say ‘Right-to-Farm’ at strategic points as people enter the town just to let people know we are a Right-to-Farm community. Some of the budget money is for pamphlets, brochures, and supplies,” Lorkiewicz said.

SOUTHBIDGE — On Monday, April 4, Quinebaug Masonic Lodge in Southbridge had a Fraternal visit from the 24th Masonic District Deputy Grand Master R.W. Anselme Maxime, along with some special guest who accompanied him to this fraternal visit.

At each fraternal visit, the DDGM usually has brethren in his suite from all around his District and beyond, accompany him at times. On this visit he had many brethren from Joel H. Prouty Lodge of Auburn. The Chairman of this mission is Wor. Kevin O'Donnell and they call themselves the "Gavel Grabbers". These men were on a mission to retrieve and bring back home "The Barston Gavel" which is heavy and weighs in at 34.5 pounds, filled with lead and hollowed out and filled with bird shot. Oxford Lodge had this gavel until December of 2021 which is when Quinebaug Lodge of Southbridge retrieved that gavel at a regular official stated meeting and brought it to their lodge. This Barston Gavel from Joel H. Prouty Lodge of Auburn has done some traveling within the 24th Masonic District.

Other lodges in our district or state may come to collect any Traveling

Gavel or Sword by attending one of the official monthly meetings at any Masonic Lodges that have these items. To collect these items and return it to their lodge there must be a minimum of three people attending which must include the Worshipful Master, an officer and a fellow brethren. In return the lodge that it was taken from must go to one of their meetings to retrieve it. This is how fellow Masons meet new brethren. If you would like more information about Freemasonry, go to www.massfreemasonry.org and to find a lodge nearest to you.

WEBSTER — Saint Joseph School concluded its winter athletics season when it hosted the 40th annual Route 395 League Basketball and Cheer Tournament from April 1-3.

The Saint Joseph School cheer team was awarded second place for their outstanding routine that was full of stunts, tumblers, cheers and awesome dance moves. The cheer tournament culminated with the Mary Paul School Spirit Award presentation to the Saint Joseph School Cheer Team. The recipient of the Mary Paul Spirit Award is determined by the schools that participate in the Route 395 League. Each athletic director is given the opportunity to vote for the cheer squad that they believe exhibits the most enthusiasm, sportsmanship, and school spirit. Congratulations, SJS cheerleaders!

Capacity crowds filled the Richard A. Nowak Gymnasium throughout the weekend to watch exciting boys' and girls' basketball. Teams were recognized for their regular season records, as well as the tournament results. Saint Joseph School is proud to announce that their JV Boys, Varsity Girls and Varsity Boys all finished the season in second place in their divisions. The tournament also concluded with each Saint Joseph School team playing in Championship Games. We are excited to announce that the Varsity Girls and Varsity Boys finished tournament play in second place. However, the JV Boys were victorious in their championship game and finished tournament play in first place. It was an incredible game that had everyone on the edge of their seats. Congratulations to all SJS basketball teams!

The basketball tournament culminated with the presentation of MVP trophies to varsity players and the Route 395 Sportsmanship Award to Saint Joseph School. Saint Joseph School MVPs include Varsity Girls — Leah Boudreau and Gabriela Pianka — and Varsity Boys — Andrew Bergeron and Rocco Rudnicki.

Like the Mary Paul Spirit Award, the Sportsmanship Award is determined by the schools that participate in the Route 395 League. Each athletic director is given the opportunity to vote for the school that exhibits the best sportsmanship which includes fair play, courtesy, school spirit and grace in winning and losing. Saint Joseph School is extremely proud of its student athletes, coaches and fans. It is an honor for our school to be presented the Mary Paul Spirit Award and the Route 395 Sportsmanship Award. Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Legends of spring

The first day of spring just passed us by on March 20. Now that we are over the hump and into the rainy/muddy season, we thought we would share some fun myths surrounding this blooming time of year.

The first story begins with Persephone and Demeter. Persephone was the goddess of spring and holds the most well known story of the season to date. Persephone is the daughter of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture and Zeus, the king of the gods. Persephone married Hades who kept her hidden against her will. Demeter set off to find her daughter and for every minute she was lost, not a crop would grow. Zeus then ordered his daughter to remain in the underworld for half of the year because she ate all of the fruit (pomegranate seeds), the other half of the year she spent with her mother. The idea is that every time Persephone goes into the underworld, winter arrives and the crops die, when she is with her mother, crops bloom.

According to Cherokee legend, the reason trees lose their leaves in the fall is because of the communication between animals and humans. Apparently, animals were able to communicate with humans and the world was utopian. Every year the birds would fly south for the winter. During one particular year, a Sparrow who was injured was not able to fly south, he sent his flock ahead without him so the would not freeze, meanwhile he sought shelter. The bird flew to an old Oak tree and was told that he could not seek shelter in its branches, the same thing happened with every tree the bird visited until he was finally granted permission to stay in a pine tree. The pine tree, not popular with the others because of its hard, sharp leaves welcomed the little bird. The Sparrow was forever grateful.

The Sparrow survived the winter and welcomed his family home during the warmer months. Because the other trees, turned on the Sparrow during a most vulnerable time, the creator cursed their leaves to die during the winter except for the pine tree.

The Shinto Sun Goddess and Bringer of Light, Amaterasu, according to legend, is in control of the sun's movement to insure rice and other crops will grow. This goddess is well known for her ability to spin satin. Her fame caused her brother Susanoo, the god of storms, to become extremely jealous. The angry deity destroyed his sister's weaving loom and wrecked her rice fields. The rampage caused one of Amaterasu's closest friends to parish, as a result she locked herself inside a mountain resulting in the disappearance of light. Because of this, crops would not grow. Uzme, the goddess of laughter traveled to the mountain where Amaterasu was hiding. She placed a shiny necklace on a tree, then began to dance causing the other gods to laugh. When Amaterasu heard the laughter she peeked out of her cave and slowly began to walk towards the necklace. At this, Uzme had the cave blocked and light was restored to the world.

Some actual facts concerning the spring season are as follows; in 1582, if Pope Gregory XIII would not have established the Gregorian calendar, then every 128 years the vernal equinox would have come a full calendar day earlier, which would put Easter in the middle of winter.

The famous myth about being able to balance an egg on its end on the spring equinox is not true. Attempting to balance an egg on its end is no easier on the spring equinox than on any other day.

During the springtime, birds are louder as they sing to attract mates and to warn enemies to steer clear.

The term "spring fever" refers to the psychological and physiological symptoms that go along with the arrival of spring, which include, daydreaming and restlessness. Over the years, scientists surmise the cause in the hormone shift could be due to the increase in sunlight and increased physical activity.

Through the cross we have joy

"Christianity is a joyless religion." Alexander Schmemmann once stated that this accusation, made by the French philosopher and atheist Frederick Nietzsche, described Christians who believed in God but who didn't seem to enjoy life. Schmemmann responded to this accusation by saying "Christianity without Joy is incomprehensible... It is only as joy that the Church was victorious in the world."

Joy should be one of the most evident fruit the world sees in followers of Christ. Take a moment and think about this. When people see us and how we live, do they see joy? Will others describe us as people who radiate the fruit of the Holy Spirit – love, peace, hope, and joy?

Even though our Great Lenten journey is supposed to be a sober, serious discipline and a struggle that leads us to repentance, denial of self, and greater self-awareness, at the same time this holy season should be a time of cultivating and discovering joy. Pay attention to some of our Lenten hymns: "With joy we enter into the Fast... Let us joyfully journey through the all-hallowed season of abstinence... There are 40 days in the Fast, let us keep each one of them with joy."

We read throughout Holy Scripture about the Good News of Great Joy with the coming of Christ. Our Lord says, "I have told you these things so that my joy might be in you and your joy might be complete." Saint Paul reminds us to "Rejoice always. Pray without ceasing. And give thanks in all circumstances. For this is the will of God." Nehemiah the Prophet says, "The joy of the Lord is my strength."

It is only as joy that the Church was victorious in the world!

To rejoice and radiate the joy of the Lord reflects who we are and what we believe. Joy reveals the essence of our faith. Without joy we clearly don't understand who Jesus Christ is and what He has done in the world. Without joy Christianity is a religion without grace and power. Authentically following Jesus Christ displays a way of life that impacts everything we do in our lives and fills it with joy.

Of course, this doesn't mean that we will act giddy all the time. Life is a deep mystery that sometimes takes us down dark, difficult, challenging paths filled with suffering and even terrible evil. We never sugarcoat the cross we have to carry in life. At the same time, we realize that "through the Cross joy has come into the world." Because of the Cross, darkness, evil, suffering, and death have been defeated!

It is only as joy that the Church was victorious in the world!

Think about it. Why do followers of Jesus Christ radiate inner joy?

Because we know the deepest foundation of hope is in the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. We no longer fear anything, even death itself. Human life is the expectation of that which is at the end, and at the end is the joy of the Bridal Chamber, the joy of the Resurrection.

Because we know through the victory of Jesus Christ we experience "an explosion of cosmic joy at the triumph of life," as Dumitri Staniloae says.

Because through this triumph of life we discover the deepest meaning, purpose and direction that guides us every day.

Because no matter how dark and depressing the world may appear, what lies within us is greater than what lies outside. "In the world you will have tribulation," Christ said, "but be of good cheer for I have overcome the world."

Because Jesus Christ turns our whole being into a feast day of life. Whatever life brings, we travel these roads praising God and sail the rough seas singing His glory!

Through the Cross joy has come into the world.

So, how can we be filled with such joy? How can we learn to rejoice always and rejoice in all circumstances?

We need to open our hearts and be filled with the Holy Spirit, inviting the Source of all good things to dwell richly in us. Saint Isaac the Syrian reminds us to "constantly ponder on the Holy Word of God and always be filled wit the incomprehensible wonder and joy of God"

Schmemmann teaches us that "Joy is not something one can define or analyze. One enters into joy. And we have no other means of entering into that joy, no way of understanding it, except through the one action which from the beginning has been for the Church both the source and the fulfillment of joy – the very sacrament of joy, the Eucharist... The Liturgy is, before everything else, the joyous gathering of those who are to meet the risen Lord and to enter with Him into the bridal chamber."

Mother Teresa once noted, "A joyful heart is the normal result of a heart burning with love." Therefore, we must cultivate lives burning with love. Love means sacrifice and when we embrace meaningful sacrifice in our lives, we discover ultimate joy.

Through the Cross, joy comes into the world.

Such joy is not a cheap joy, but a joy born out of pain. The source of Christian joy is forgetting self and focusing on others. The greatest obstacle to joy is death itself, yet the Resurrection changes the despair of death into joy. Saint Paul could write, "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain." Whatever God touches he turns into joy, even death.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Accountability needed on Oxford Board of Selectmen

To the Editor:
The recent Open Meeting Law complaints reported in the April 8 issue of the Webster Times speak to a lack of accountability on the part of the Board of Selectmen and Chairman Michael Daniels-Demers.

Daniels-Demers blaming the board's assistant for being grossly behind on meeting minutes is scapegoating. It is the legal responsibility of the board, and Daniels-Demers as Chairman, to ensure the minutes were written and reviewed in compliance with the law.

For anyone who may not have read meeting minutes before, they are just a summary of the discussion, not a transcript, and are not very detailed. If the assistant's workload is too much, Daniels-Demers could write the minutes himself. During executive sessions in the past where the assistant could not be present, the draft minutes were written by a board member. The fact that putting in a few hours of extra time in service of the law and the residents of Oxford was not even considered as an option by the board speaks to why so many townspeople are frustrated with the current board. This behavior is not isolated; in the same article in the Webster Times, the board (through its attorney) claims that the video of the controversial Sept. 21 meeting was lost due to an inexperienced operator. It is the responsibility of the Board to ensure records of its meetings are properly captured. I have personally recorded nearly every selectmen's meeting since June of last year and I am just a private citizen without the resources of the town government behind me. I do not understand why the concept of a 'backup' recording for a legal public record is such a foreign concept. Some people believe in problems, I believe in solutions.

This issue illustrates why I am running for the Board of Selectmen, why I am running against Daniels-Demers, and why I believe I am the right person for the Board at this time. The residents of Oxford deserve someone who is willing to put in the extra time to do things right. The town needs a person on the Board willing to take responsibility for problems in the town and to fix them rather than seeking out who to blame. The community deserves someone willing to speak to their issues and give voice to their concerns. If you agree, I ask for your vote on May 17.

Storing unregistered vehicles

With the snow gone and leaves still off the trees, some things, normally out of sight, are now visible. I was asked a question regarding the storage of unregistered motor vehicles on properties here in town. Many people have unregistered cars or trucks on their property for one reason or another. I was asked to explain the Town By-law.

Article 280-8 is the section of the Dudley By-laws which pertains to storage of unregistered motor vehicles. Unless a person is the holder of a license, such as a car dealer, or unless given a special permit by the Selectmen, they cannot have more than one unregistered motor vehicle on a lot in Town. The vehicle can be assembled or disassembled for the purposes of this law. The term "lot" is defined as "a parcel of land held in identical ownership throughout including all contiguous land held in the same ownership."

Should someone request a special permit, a public hearing will be held, and the Selectmen "may" issue one if certain criteria are met. Some items of consideration include whether the vehicles constitute a nuisance and if they do "not adversely affect the neighborhood."

This By-law does not apply to vehicles stored within an enclosed building or if they are designed for farming or other agricultural purposes. Penalties for a violation are twenty dollars per day for each violation. This law is designed to avoid hazardous situations and the compiling of junk vehicles. Should you find yourself with a potential violation, it is good to know you have options. Many charities or scrap dealers will take old vehicles off your property at no cost. You may also receive a tax credit in some cases. Feel free to contact our office should you require assistance with this problem.

For those still seeking COVID-19 vaccination or other information, it can be found at www.dudleyma.gov or by calling 508-949-8036. We encourage everyone to continue to be safe. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated. These times continue to be challenging and we, at the Dudley Police Department, greatly appreciate the support we receive from our community.

*Thanks again for your questions and comments. # Will your money last as long as you do?

We all hope for long, healthy lives. But there's a serious "side effect" of longevity – the possibility of outliving our money. How can you help prevent this?

It's useful to know the seriousness of the threat. Consider this: About 41 percent of all U.S. homes in which the head of the household is between 35 and 64 are projected to run short of money in retirement, according to the Employee Benefit Research Institute.

While this statistic indicates a cause for concern, it certainly doesn't mean that you are necessarily headed for trouble – because there's a lot you can do to help build and manage enough resources to last a lifetime. Here are a few suggestions:

Consider your estimated longevity. On average, a 65-year-old man can expect to live another 17 years, while a 65-year-old woman can anticipate about 20 years, according to the Centers for Disease Control. Of course, you'll want to take into account your health and family history of longevity to arrive at a reasonable estimate. You can then use this figure to help determine how much money you'll eventually need. To play it safe, you might even want to try to build an income stream that can last beyond your estimated lifespan, possibly up to age 90.

Don't overlook health care costs. When budgeting for retirement, allow enough for your health care expenses, which can be considerable. Even with Medicare, you can expect to spend anywhere from $4,500 to $6,500 per year, per person, for traditional medical costs. Also, you may want to prepare for two to three years of long-term care expenses, which currently range from about $50,000 per year for home health care to over $100,000 per year for a private room in a nursing home.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Keep building assets for retirement. While you're working, constantly try to put away as much money as possible for your retirement years. Each year your salary goes up, increase your contributions to your 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan. You may also want to contribute to an IRA, depending on your goals. And within your retirement savings, make sure you devote a reasonable percentage of your investment dollars to growth-oriented vehicles that align with your goals and risk tolerance.

Seek out sources of guaranteed income. As a retiree, you will receive Social Security benefits – and the longer you wait before claiming them, the bigger your monthly checks will be. But you might also consider investments that can provide a source of income you can't outlive, such as annuities.

Revisit your strategy before you retire. As you near retirement, you may want to review your investment strategy, possibly adjusting your risk level so that your portfolio would be somewhat less susceptible to market volatility. This is also a good time to review your spending needs in retirement.

Maintain a reasonable withdrawal rate. Once you are retired, you'll likely need to start withdrawing from your 401(k), IRA and other investment accounts. To avoid taking out too much money too early in your retirement, you'll need to set a reasonable, sustainable withdrawal rate based on your assets, age and retirement lifestyle. A financial advisor can help you determine an appropriate rate.

It will take dedication and determination to help ensure your money doesn't run out during your lifetime. But you'd probably agree that it's well worth the effort.

Memories of opening day fishing

Trout fishing officially opened in Massachusetts, which I consider to be official after the opening of Wallum lake in Douglas, Mass. this past Saturday. It is the only opening day for Mass. & Rhode Island anglers every year. Many anglers miss the opening day of trout fishing, that once was a big event, and it brought excitement to thousands of young anglers annually. As a youngster, opening day of trout fishing had my family excited, and we did not sleep well the night prior to opening day. My brothers and I would go shopping at the fair discount store for last minute items, and our fishing rods were ready weeks ahead of time.

The night before opening day, my dad sent us to bed early, in anticipation of the next day's fishing trip to numerous brooks in the valley that were stocked with brook trout. Lying in bed, I slept only a few hours before my dad came to wake us up, announcing it was time to go fishing. A quick breakfast and we were ready to go. My dad's old 1937 Pontiac was already running, and we were loaded into the old car, and headed to our first brook in Whitinsville called Prentice Brook, which is now directly across from Walmart.

We had dug worms a few days before for our morning of fishing. My dad had to be back to work at the former Whitin Machine Works by 10 a.m., so we had to try to catch our limit of brook trout before he had to leave. After fishing Prentice Brook, Johnson Brook and Purgatory Brook, we often had limited out on eight- & 10 - i n c h trout, in time for my dad to go back to work. Most of the trout were raised at the former Sutton hatchery and stocked in local streams and brooks throughout the valley. The trout would be cooked for supper, after my dad returned home from work, so my brother Mel and I went fishing for the rest of the day, at the Meadow Pond in Whitinsville, catching numerous, bass, perch, pickerel etc.! I have fond memories of those early days of my life fishing with my dad, who always found time to take us fishing.

birds that do not migrate South every year. Reports of the bird flu killing more than 60 geese and ducks in one neighboring state, is enough to sound the alarm. This is not the first year that the bird flu has been detected in the Northeast. In all, our wildlife is having some m a j o r problems with disease & hopefully they can all be addressed soon, before it becomes out of control.

With the closing of the Lower Forty fly fishing store in Worcester, Mass. not long ago, it has left the area with few options to purchase fly tying materials, other than to visit a big box store. This past week, my brother Ken was looking for someone to fix one of his favorite fishing rods, and was told to try Cote Fly and Rod Building Supply's in Leicester, Mass. It was a bit of a ride, but he and his wife decided to make the trek to Leicester & check it out.

Ken was amazed at the equipment and inventory in the shop, and was told about the business that his father and law had started years ago. Cotes is one of the last remaining rod building companies in the area, and he does excellent work, as Ken soon found out. Big box stores just do not have the employees that have many years of experience in the business, and finding some younger person to have the knowledge that Cotes shop has been hard to find. The late Paul Kukonen was another master in the art of fly tying and fishing rod repair, and Murats, located on Route 146 in Woonsocket, was another great store that did great work building fishing rods.

The Pout Pond Recreational committee is planning another fishing derby in Uxbridge on May 7, in cooperation with Mass. Fish & Wildlife. Stay tuned for more details in the coming weeks.

Tips to Decrease Stress with Everyday Activities

Stress is a part of daily life and common, everyday tension can take a toll on both your physical and mental health. With more than half of Americans concerned about the high levels of stress they experience in their daily lives, high anxiety is practically an epidemic in this country. While it's a fact that frayed nerves are often the price you pay for an overactive lifestyle, that doesn't mean you can't diffuse the impact. In fact, odds are your daily routine includes everyday activities that have been proven to lessen the stress factor.

From petting your dog to writing in your diary, read on for simple and deliberate actions you can practice to de-stress without reaching for a pill.

If you drink coffee in the morning a study by University College of London might convince you to switch to black tea. According to the study, drinking daily cups of the tea has a positive effect on stress hormone levels, which can help a person recover more quickly from everyday stresses.

The research, published in the journal Psychopharmacology, revealed found that people who drank black tea were able to de-stress more quickly than those who drank a placebo tea. Moreover, the participants (who drank black tea four times a day for six weeks) displayed lower levels of the stress hormone cortisol after experiencing a stressful event, as compared to a control group who drank the placebo tea for the same period of time.

Exercise is a proven method of lowering stress levels, and many people make a workout part of their daily routine. And there's good news for those who don't go to a gym on a regular basis. Research reveals a daily 20 minute walk can be as effective as a mild tranquilizer.

And if you choose to take your daily walk along a country or scenic road you increase the stress busting efforts. According to a study performed by the Horticultural Therapy Association, simply looking at trees and vegetation reduces stress, lowers blood pressure and relieves muscle tension.

It's no surprise pets play an important role in reducing stress. What is surprising is a research study that shows pets may be better at reducing stress than a loved one! According to a past report published in the journal Psychosomatic Medicine, researchers examined the effects of the presence of friends, spouses and pets on the level of stress associated with certain relatively unpleasant tasks. They found that compared with human support, the presence of pets was associated with lower perceived and actual responses to stress.

De-stress Strategies

*It's a known fact that color can alter our moods. "Cool" colors like violet, purple and green can soothe jittery nerves. Blue has shown to be the most calming color influence of all.

*A NASA-funded study revealed chewing gum can ward off stress. Scientists from Wheeling Jesuit University monitored the responses of 25 college students during simulated driving scenarios. The volunteers reported that chewing peppermint gum lowered their feelings of fatigue or anxiety by 20%. Peppermint and cinnamon each decreased frustration by 25%, increased alertness by 30%, and made the ride seem 30% shorter.

*Meditation can be a powerful weapon in the fight against stress, and can work to head off a panic attacks. Meditation and proper breathing can helps slow the heart rate and calm nerves. A quick calming trick is to close your eyes and breathe slowly and deeply, focusing on the breaths.

*Another way to relieve stress naturally is to bring nature indoors with fresh flowers. Ongoing research leaves no doubt the therapeutic effects of garden flowers. In a study at Kansas State University, students thrust into a stressful situation responded positively to bright red geraniums in the room.

*Prayer helps you focus within and can offer a calm perspective on the world. A research study showed that that college students who practiced a religion were less stressed than their non-religious counterparts. Other research suggests that those who are religious are less likely to have a stress-related mental illness.

*Taking a deep breath and stretching often not only brings instant relief to a stressed, frazzled body, but it has been shown to lower cortisol levels, which can help reduce stress and anxiety. Deep breathing can also cause a temporary drop in blood pressure.

*Naps are also therapeutic for diffusing stress. A study found that workers who nap for at least 45 minutes during the day had lower average blood pressure after suffering psychological stress compared to those who did not. The researchers, whose work is published in Springer's International Journal of Behavioral Medicine, noted: "Our findings suggest that daytime sleep may offer cardiovascular benefit by accelerating cardiovascular recovery following mental stressors."

*According the Calm Clinic, whole grain snacks, blueberries, peaches, almonds, and dark chocolate are all good food choices with natural calming properties. Also, foods with magnesium, vitamin B12 (and other B vitamins), zinc, and antioxidants can be beneficial for helping you deal with stress.

Spring into the growing season

Spring flowering bulbs and perennials are filling our landscapes with color. As your gardens come alive this spring, start making notes on needed improvements and provide some early season color and nectar for the pollinators. This will keep your landscape looking its best all season long and for years to come.

Start a garden journal or photographic record of your garden. Make notes or take pictures of what is working in your landscape, plants that need to be removed or areas where more color or new plants are needed. These notes will help as you create a landscape filled with year-round beauty.

Make sure your plants receive sufficient moisture. It is easy to overlook watering during the cool and often wet spring months. A rain gauge can help you monitor the rainfall in your yard. Plants benefit from thorough watering that encourages deep, drought and pest resistant roots. Check the soil moisture and water when the top four to six inches are crumbly and starting to dry. Established drought tolerant plants tolerate drier soil.

Start pulling weeds as they appear. Removing them when small makes removal easier and prevents them from flowering and producing seeds. That means fewer weeds to pull next year.

Disease and pest-free leaves, ever-green needles and other organic mulch covering the soil surface help suppress weeds, conserve moisture, and improve the soil as they break down. Leaves also provide homes for many insects, frogs, and toads. You’ll achieve lots of benefits from this one task.

Leave perennials stand until daytime temperatures are consistently 50 degrees. This allows overwintering eggs to hatch and insects to exit their winter homes. If waiting is not an option, cut most stems back to the ground and stack them out of the way. This allows the insects to exit their winter homes when the time is right. Leave some stems standing eight to 12 inches above ground so insects can form new homes. Chop up the removed plant material in mid-summer or fall to use as mulch in the garden or the compost pile.

Watch for animal damage and protect your plantings as needed. Fresh new growth in the spring garden makes a tasty treat for rabbits, deer, and other wildlife.

Many gardeners enlist the help of repellents to protect their landscape plants.

Always check the label for details on use, application rates and timing. Research has proven that odor-based repellents like rain and snow resistant Plantskydd (plantskydd.com) are more effective than other types of repellents. Plus, this will cause wildlife to avoid plants rather than taking a bite before they discover they don’t like the taste.

Treat pathways used to access your landscape as well as key plants before the animals begin feeding. It is easier to keep them away before they find all the delicious plants growing in your garden.

Continue taking pictures of your landscape throughout the year. Make note of any challenges encountered and needed adjustments in care. Include any failures; all gardeners have them. These are just another step toward growing a healthier and more beautiful garden.

Then take time to enjoy the beauty of your landscape. Find a comfortable spot to sit, relax, listen to the birds, and take in all the wonders spring has to offer.

The documents produced using these resources will help the Commission promote itself through activities at town events such as the annual Apple Festival. Lorkiewicz said they don't expect to expend all $1,500 in the next year but have pinpointed that number as a starting point for future growth.

Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda recommended support for the funding which will come from free cash. Lorkiewicz said the specifics for any signage has yet to be finalized but they anticipate having signs at each entrance to neighboring towns and Connecticut. The Commission is also working on expanding its presence online including utilizing the town's website, social media and the Dudley Farmers website to promote future projects and events. The Commission's first major event of the year will be its first annual "Dudley Grows Together" Plant Hop on May 14, just in time for the spring gardening season.

the project a staple of each student's junior year experience. "We've been working towards ensuring that students at Shepherd Hill are getting a real-world experience of what it means to be a member of a community and what it means to be civically engaged. This project is going to really help embody that."

Going beyond civic engagement, the Council is also seeking ways to give students professional experience in the workforce. Council President Bronson Dubey presented an initiative which would establish an internship program connecting students with local businesses. Currently Shepherd Hill does not require internships to graduate which Dubey pointed out is contrary to many other districts.

"We do not have any sort of work study or public service internship type of experiences," said Dubey. "I felt that other schools have those opportunities, and it would be great for Shepherd Hill to get out in our community and have students find something that they're passionate about and get real life work experience."

Dubey added that he has spent the past few months working with the guidance department at Shepherd Hill to determine how the internships could be implemented in the curriculum. Currently the district does offer teaching internships which Dubey said is considered a pilot program in the 2022 school year.

The third and final project was presented by Council Secretary Nicole Moore and is an attempt to increase the school's preparedness for medical situations. The Council's "EpiPen Project" seeks to make the titular life-saving device more accessible to different departments in the school.

"We've been trying to implement at least two (EpiPens) in the nurse's office, one in the gym and one in the cafeteria. We want to train cafeteria workers or anyone who can help in case faculty and staff have an allergic reaction to anything. We're trying to figure out the financial part of everything, but I think once we get it done it's going to be very helpful in case of an emergency," said Moore.

The project will also include installing boxes for quick access to the EpiPens if the need arises.

When you're on a mission to accomplish your dream, you'll sail through vicious storms. Waves will be high, and winds strong. When this happens, you must endure with a positive attitude.

Ernest Shackleton, a born adventurer, tried three times to get to the South Pole. He failed twice, but Shackleton was optimistic to the core. His third journey was legendary.

We can learn much from studying Ernest Shackleton's third trip to Antarctica.

In 1914, Shackleton left England with 27 men, bound for the South Pole aboard his ship "Endurance." They were aware that they might never return, but Shackleton's enthusiasm was so powerful they couldn't help but believe in their success.

They began their approach to Antarctica in dangerous waters. Whalers warned them not to proceed, but Shackleton staked everything on this mission; it was his last chance to achieve his dream.

They had to navigate through one thousand miles of thick ice fields. After six weeks, they were only one day away from Antarctica.

Suddenly, the sea froze around them; they could not move in any direction. The crew was troubled, but this is when Shackleton showed his greatness. He didn't show the slightest sign of disappointment. He calmly told them they must stay for the winter, never losing his optimism.

"Difficulties are just things to overcome," said Shackleton.

After ten months, their ship sank. They were now living on shifting ice, with a fraction of their supplies and three lifeboats.

Forces beyond your control will try to shatter your determination. You must stay optimistic.

Shackleton recognized he wouldn't accomplish his dream. He changed his plan to achieve something more purposeful, to bring all his men home alive.

If you must retreat from your dream, you can transform it into something more meaningful.

Melting ice eventually forced them into their boats. Searching for a distant island and altering course for another, morale was low, and death seemed inevitable. One sailor marveled, "Shackleton never appears to be anything but the acme of good humor and hopefulness; he is one of the greatest optimists living!"

Some thought he was foolish, a blind optimist who falsely thought everything would be alright. Shackleton maintained his faith even when fiercely preventing a mutiny with his revolver.

At night, they slept on icebergs. One night, the ice split open, and a man fell in; risking his life, Shackleton was quick to pull him back.

They suffered constant storms, frost-bite, frozen clothing, little food, and killer whales. The men broke down and wept, only able to continue because of Shackleton's sheer will. He never said a negative word; he always maintained every one of them would reach safety!

Eventually, they found their island. The island had no supplies; there was no chance of rescue. Undaunted, Shackleton chose six men and set out for help eight hundred miles away through the world's roughest ocean, promising to come back and rescue the rest.

Soon the water was pouring into their boat. Around the clock, they bailed out water and worked the sails. Wave after wave almost flipped them into the icy waters. When all seemed lost, Shackleton demanded they be cheerful. Often, they whistled and sang songs in defiance of the terrible conditions.

Miraculously, they made it through 17 days of violent storms to land on the wrong side of the island. Knowing they couldn't survive another day on the water, and with three of his men almost dead. He hatched a plan to climb through the icy mountains twenty-two miles to the other side.

They didn't have the proper equipment, and twisted screws from their boat into the bottom of their shoes for traction. They went into the mountains, walking through ice fields, jumping crevasses fifty feet deep as they made their way. One slip would end them. Through it all, they never said one negative word, never one complaint. Thirty-six hours later, they reached a whaling station. Shackleton was true to his word. He went back and rescued every man.

Like Shackleton, when you find yourself in desperate circumstances, keep an attitude of optimism, knowing you'll come out on the other side better than before. Any negative thought, word, or action could make the difference between life or death.

Saint Isaac the Syrian warns us that "there is no greater sin than to be insensitive to the joy of the Risen Christ." Never let anything that happens in life make us forget that Christ is Risen.

Thus, we learn to rejoice in our challenging circumstances because of the hope and strength of the Lord. Life is a mystery that may bring terrible, depressing, and seemingly hopeless circumstance, but the Lord is a steady rock that can never be moved by any circumstances. We "rejoice in the Lord" in our challenging circumstances because of our Lord.

To rejoice is a choice. We choose to open our hearts and minds to the Presence of God and keep our focus there. We cannot command ourselves to be joyful, but we can choose where to focus our attention. We may have pain and failure. Grief may sweep over us. Death may threaten us. Yet our joy is not tied to these uncontrollable variants of life. Our joy lies deep in the love of God. Nothing shall be separate us from this love and joy of Christ.

Let us remember that through the Cross joy has come into the world. It is only as joy that the Church was victorious in the world!

Jaylen - 04/17
Age 14

I love to listen to music!

Jaylen is a kind and caring child of Caucasian decent. He is very intelligent and is succeeding in all of his classes at school. He loves to read, do puzzles and play computer games. He does not like video games. In his program he is described as loving, independent, outgoing, and resilient. Jaylen loves to be outdoors and would like the freedom to go out with his friends. When older Jaylen would like to be either a veterinarian, dog trainer, pet sitter or zoo keeper. Like all kids Jaylen has his favorite things: favorite ice cream is "strawberry", favorite color is "candy red", favorite scary movie is "Lucifer" and his favorite people are "those who own and love animals". Jaylen is also artistic and likes to listen to music and create art. Jaylen is just beginning to question and explore his sexuality. Jaylen receives therapeutic services in his program in eastern MA to help with anger and behavioral issues..

Jaylen very much wants to be adopted. He is legally freed and would like to join a caring family that can support his needs. He also wants to be part of his own adoption process and feels that he would like as family who has pets and maybe a family with some older children in their home. Jaylen's worker feels that he would do best in a home with structure and routine. Jaylen wants a home where he can feel safe and able to engage in activities with his family without feeling judged or disrespected. It is important for Jaylen to maintain contact with his grandparents and brother who live in western MA.1

Local students to appear in Western NE production of “Chicago”

Dean College announces Spring 2022 Honor Societies inductees

SPRINGFIELD — Western New England University Stageless Players return to the stage with three highly anticipated performances of Chicago on April 1-2. The dazzling and satirical “Chicago” gives the audience a glimpse into how fame, justice, and the media machine were portrayed in the roaring ‘20s. Filled with captivating performances of hit songs such as “All That Jazz,” “Cell Block Tango,” and “Razzle Dazzle” the sold-out shows production ended Stageless Players season on a high note.

“Chicago” tells the story of Roxie Hart, a chorus girl who murders a faithless lover and convinces her husband, Amos, to take the blame until he learns that he has been lied to which made him turn on Roxie. Convicted and sent to death row, Roxie met “Merry Murderess,” Velma Kelly. There began their struggle for the spotlight and the headlines which led to them ultimately joining forces in search of fame, fortune, and acquittal.

The production, with music by John Kander and book by Fred Ebb and Bob Fosse, was directed by Alexandria Escribano, choreographed by Aileen Merino Terzi and Karen McMahon, and musical direction was by Debi Salli. The performance was made possible by Student Senate, the Office of Student Involvement and Leadership, and the Department of Communication, Media, and the Arts.

Allie Provost of Dudley plays Roxie Hart.

Bartlett battles back from seven-run deficit, but Douglas prevails in the end

Bartlett shortstop Camden Heenan fires the ball over toward first base.

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS EDITOR

DOUGLAS — Both the Douglas and Bartlett High varsity softball teams had much to be proud of following their early-season matchup on Tuesday, April 5 behind the home team’s elementary and middle school. The Tigers and Indians both exhibited plenty of grit, determination and perseverance in a game that featured multiple lead changes and high-end drama.

In the end Douglas, which held a 9-2 lead before seeing it slip away, won the game in the bottom of the seventh inning, 12-11.

“We battle well together. I think we’re equally matched,” said Douglas head coach John Furno before turning his attention to finding a way to win after losing the lead. “That’s character in a team, as far as I’m concerned, because we could have laid down and died. And this great group of kids, they didn’t give up one bit.”

Despite the loss, Bartlett head coach Courtney Stawiecki said that this game showed just how far the team has come in a few short years.

“I think our girls stepped up when they had to. The strides they’ve made in the program over the last three years is really amazing. They don’t really give up. They don’t usually hang their heads,” she said. “Sometimes they need a little inspiration to get them through, but they’re really good at backing each other up. They play for each other, they care about each other.”

This being the season opener for Douglas improved their record to 1-0, while the Indians are now 1-2.

The Tigers held a 1-0 lead after one inning before Bartlett took a 2-1 advantage into the top of the second. In the home half of the frame, Douglas regained the lead, 7-2, thanks to a six-run outburst. The Indians’ catcher, Imani Washington, suffered an ankle injury late in the inning and needed to be replaced, although Washington did return later in the contest. Starting pitcher Taryn Gerber went behind the plate and Elisabeth Adams was inserted to pitch.

The Tigers scored twice more in the bottom of the third to surge ahead 9-2, but from there Bartlett battled back and made a game of it — something that impressed Stawiecki.

“The pitcher that went in, it’s her first time throwing this year. She hasn’t thrown since last June,” Stawiecki said of Adams. “The starting pitcher that went in to catch [Gerber] had never caught a high school game in her life.”

Starting pitcher Taryn Gerber of Bartlett winds up and delivers a pitch to the plate.

Stawiecki had more good things to say about Adams.

“Eli has totally stepped up. She’s definitely one of those kids that anger fuels her, so getting called out on that illegal pitch [during the middle innings] made her step her game up.”

The Indians began their comeback bid with a five-run top of the fourth inning to trim the deficit down to 9-7.

“I told my assistant coach, I can smell when this stuff is about to happen,” Furno said of Bartlett’s comeback.

The Indians then tied the game 9-9 in the top of the sixth, only for Douglas to regain the lead at 10-9 in the bottom of the inning. Bartlett then scored twice in the top of the seventh to keep the game alive and lead 11-10, but the Tigers had last ups.

In the bottom of the seventh Douglas’ Madison McDermott hit an RBI single to tie the game and Raine Beaulieu later scored on a passed ball to end it.

“I told her any passed ball, just take off. That kid, for an eighth grader, her head is in the game,” Furno said of Beaulieu.

The Tigers are an extremely young team with seventh, eighth and ninth graders littered throughout the lineup, but Furno expects them to compete at a high level this season.

“This group, a lot of them having been playing since 8U together. They’ve won a lot of games together as youngsters and I’ve got my captain, Katie Peloquin, leading these kids. She knows she has seventh and eighth graders to nurture and it’s working well,” said Furno.

Some Douglas statistics from the game are as follows:

- Ayla McDermott: 3 for 3
  - Raine Beaulieu: 2 for 4, scored winning run on passed ball
  - Madison McDermott: 3 for 5, 4 RBI; complete game pitching
  - Emilee Hamelin: RBI double
  - Katie Peloquin: 2 for 4, 2 RBI
- Some Bartlett statistics from the game are as follows:
- Isabella Mello: 3 for 4, 2 RBI
  - Camden Heenan: 2 for 3
  - Sienna Stawiecki: 2 for 4
  - Dakota Vaudreuil: 3 for 4, RBI
  - Vicky Spitz: 2 for 3
  - Camryn Phillips: 2 RBI
  - Nyia Gonzalez: RBI single

Hit parade helps Bay Path overwhelm young Indians

artlett’s Jacob Plasse winds up and delivers a pitch to the plate.

Kole Sebastyanski of Bartlett backtracks from behind first base to make a catch in foul territory.

By Nick Ethier
Sports Editor

WEBSTER — The Bay Path Regional varsity baseball team may be young, but they sure can hit. When playing at Bartlett High on Friday, April 8, the Minutemen scored 24 runs on 20 hits while defeating a rebuilding Indians squad, 24-3, in five mercy-rule shortened innings.

“We’re very young. The thing is, can the younger kids play at a higher level? So far, a lot of them are stepping up,” said Bay Path head coach Mark Sansoucy.

Freshmen at the top and bottom of the Minutemen’s lineup produced in the victory. Dale Nussey batted leadoff and was 3-for-5 with a walk, 4 runs scored and a pair of RBI. Kaiden Brochu batted eighth and was 3-for-3 on a trio of triples, a walk, 3 runs scored and 3 RBI. It helps Sansoucy that Nussey, Brochu, plus various other freshman can all play anywhere on the diamond, including the pitcher position.

“This year, I really feel comfortable putting any kid in any position. Sometimes you’re a little weary, but I don’t feel that way,” said Sansoucy. “They’re all baseball players. They don’t throw, they pitch.”

Luke Hill got the start for Bay Path and was relieved by Nussey, who finished the game.

Other offensive stars for the Minutemen included Zach Fritze (3-for-4, 2 walks, 4 runs, 3 RBI), Brandon Martocci (3-for-4, walk, 3 runs, RBI), John Schramm (4-for-5, run, 5 RBI) and Jon Nussey (2-for-3, walk, 3 runs).

Bay Path scored in each inning, including two runs in the first, four in the second and third, an eight spot in the fourth and six more in the fifth, as they improved to 2-1.

Bartlett, meanwhile, is another young squad that is still rounding out its roster and lineup.

“We’re a real young team. It’s getting better and better every week. We’re finding new arms and new players are stepping up doing new things,” said head coach Keith Sebastyanski, as the Indians dropped to 0-4. “Some kids are playing out of position. We don’t have the pitching staff like other teams — we only have two legit pitchers — so some are going to have to learn how to pitch.”

Jacob Plasse, Adam Urato and Adam Phillips all took the hill for Bartlett. Offensively, the Indians did their damage in the bottom of the third inning. Peter Lavache ripped an RBI single into left field and Mason Sebastyanski (2-for-

3) followed with an infield RBI single which was followed by an error to plate the third run.

Hear from one of our customers:

“After this experience I feel that Renewal by Andersen’s reputation is really well deserved and I would give them the highest recommendation. The installers were so respectful and careful of my house, its contents and even my outside flower garden. I am amazed at how efficiently the windows were replaced and every bit of trash and dust was removed. And now I have high quality windows and screens, and I feel truly separated from the outside noise and elements.”
