Doyle among artists who open their studios

BY KAREN BUTERA FOR THE VILLAGER

DANIELSON — Artists Open Studios has been ongoing for 31 years in Northeastern Connecticut. Held once a year - local artists open their studios to the public. This year's dates are Nov. 29 through Dec. 1 and Dec. 7-8. They invite visitors to view their work and their workplaces.

One of the artists is Judy Doyle, from Danielson. She started painting at 10 years old when her parents signed her up for oil painting lessons.

"From there I started in pastels over 50 years ago, and water color about 15 years ago," said Doyle.

Her paintings hang and stand all over her studio. She is inspired by colors and forms - doing many landscapes and figures in landscapes. She is a member of the Northeast Connecticut Art Guild and has several shows per year through the guild. She has shown her work in various galleries throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island and recently exhibited her work at the Pomfret Library.

She does much of her painting inside but will occasionally paint plein air (outside). She gets her inspiration when she is out and about on foot, on a bicycle, in a car or in a kayak.

Judy Doyle

If something catches her eye, she takes a photo of it for reference.

"I find endless inspiration in the colors, textures and forms of our villages, architecture, shores, valleys, hills and mountains," Doyle said. "Painting deepens my enjoyment of our wonderful natural world.'

Doyle will be hosting visitors for all five days of this year's Artists Open Studios. Shauna Shane was the first artist to open her studio in her area of Mansfield and Storrs. She and a couple of other artists from the area were the first ones in Northeastern Connecticut to do this.

PUTNAM Mike Bogdanski of Quest Martial Arts says "it's the 50th anniversary of this martial arts student and I am still learning." His near-lifelong karate endeavor started when he was 16 years old.

Mike Bogdanski

"My story started out like many others," he said. "I was bullied and beat up.'

The bully was a neighbor and among his circle of friends.

"He use to pick on me. I was shy and he had a bad temper. After arguing one day, he punched me in the eye. I was embarrassed and the eye was swollen shut," Bogdanski said.

Because the bully was part of his circle of friends he lost them all that summer. He was afraid to go out. Summer was turning to fall and school would be starting soon. He did not want to return to school but had to. That October that he saw an ad in a newspaper for mar-of as mystical. Now it is mainstream," said Bogdanski. "I asked my mom if I could take classes and she had multiple excuses why I couldn't.'

He told her he would do whatever it took, wash her car or any other chores she could think of.

"I was desperate. I thought that if I could take lessons, I would be unstoppable," he said.

He finally got his chance to watch a class. He waited for everyone to leave then spoke with the teacher, letting him know he wanted to learn martial arts. When the teacher asked him what motivated him, he said, "I want to beat up bully's. He told me with that attitude he couldn't teach me. I leaned it was not about fighting nor about anger. He wanted to teach me to walk confidently."

A short time later he started training. Then Bogdanski

NORTH GROSVENORDALE - Emanuel Lutheran Church held its Holiday Craft and Bake Sale on Nov. 23. Church members came together to sell their handmade crafts and baked goods to benefit the church. Ashley Lynch, owner of EllaBella Bow Co. and her mother-in-law Donna Lynch, owner of Heartful Stitches, displayed their wares.

The pair love creating their own items and co-sharing a table at craft fairs. Ashley started out as an avid Cricut fan — a die cutting machine that allows you to design an image on the computer and then print it. She made shower decorations and other designs for family and decorated her infant daughter's nursery.

"My daughter is almost a year old now and I realized I was always buying bows of all types for her," said Ashley Lynch. "One day I thought I can make these.'

She named the business EllaBella Bow Co. after her daughter Ella. She set out to domake bows in all shapes and sizes and started her project earlier in the year. Although she is a full time nurse she still found time to make the bows and discovered she really enjoyed creating them.

"I would wait until after Ella fell asleep at night and would set up my dining room table as a bow-making work station. It is very relaxing," she said.

After creating a large enough inventory she started her business and has set up her bows at five different fairs since the summer. Her goal after the holidays is working on her Etsy Shop and helping it to grow. Ashley started sewing when she was in elementary school. Her mother was a 4-H leader and that is when she learned. Today she still sews, but is also crochets.

When Donna taught she knew a fellow teacher friend who retired and opened a local art gallery in Killingly. Donna placed some of her items in the store. They did quite well. About four years ago she decided to set up at local fairs to sell her fabric cre-

Woodstock Academy alumnus rides the waves

BY KEN POWERS OR THE VILLAGER

WOODSTOCK — When Nick Fernandez attended a family gathering on Webster Lake 11 years ago, he had no idea he was going to be introduced to something that would change witnessed the sport of wakeboarding for the first time. He quickly became obsessed with the sport and was out on the water every day he could talk his mother or his father — or anyone else, for that matter to drive the boat for him.

Fernandez is an alumnus of Woodstock Academy, Class of 2018. In September Fernandez, a sophomore at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., was crowned Men's A Division National Champion at the 2019 Collegiate Wakeboard National Championships, held at the Orlando Watersports Complex.

Fernandez's performance helped lead Rollins College to a ninth-place overall finish. The event included teams from all the elite watersports schools, including the University of Central Florida, South Florida, Florida, Miami, Arizona State, Baylor, Michigan State, Mississippi State, Oklahoma State, Texas A&M and Wisconsin.

Along with the designation of national champion came another honor for Fernandez, a spot on Team USA in the 2020 Fédération Internationale du Sport Universitaire (FISU)

Nick Fernandez, a Woodstock Academy alumnus, was crowned Men's A Division National Champion at the 2019 Collegiate Wakeboard National Championships.

World University Waterski and Wakeboard Championships. The FISU championships will be held Sept. 22-27, 2020, in Dnipro, Ukraine.

Fernandez grew up on Webster Lake, close to Point Breeze, before his family moved to Woodstock. He graduated from Woodstock Academy in 2018.

"I started wakeboarding when I was 8 years old because two of my cousins that I am best friends with (Austin and Travis Sroczenski) learned how to do it and I thought it was cool," Fernandez said during a phone interview. "That day I asked my mom to buy me a wakeboard."

Fernandez's mother, Webster native Jill Pratt, an accomplished water skier during her college days at Eckerd College in St. Petersburg, Fla., was all for it.

"We went right over to Lakeview Marina and picked up a wakeboard," Fernandez said. "From there we went to the lake and I tried wakeboarding for the first time and loved it. I 100 percent fell in love with wakeboarding. I was out on the lake every chance I could be. I was out on the lake every day in the summer. I just wanted to keep going and keep improving.

'I wakeboarded all the time," Fernandez said. "In the winter I snowboarded. That was my cross-training, so to speak. It was all just for fun.'

Fernandez began competing in wakeboarding tournaments when he was 11.

"At that point I started getting recognized by some of the local shops and some of the brands more involved in the sport. They gave me some small sponsorships to start," said Fernandez, now in his second year as captain of the Rollins College wakeboard team. "That was very motivating; to be recognized by these water skiing and wakeboarding shops.

The dictionary defines wakeboarding as "the sport of riding on a short, wide board resembling a surfboard and performing acrobatic maneuvers while being towed behind a motorboat.

Fernandez has a different definition.

"I would describe it as snowboarding behind a boat," he said. "We use the wake of the boat to jump high and do flips and spins. In competitions you usually get two runs up and back down a certain stretch of the lake you're on. You usually get to do four-five tricks in either direction, and whoever does the best tricks wins.

"The judges sit in the boat and they give you a score out of 100 points," Fernandez said. "It's based on a couple different things — how difficult your tricks were and how well you executed them. The way it's scored, honestly, is like gymnastics."

Interestingly enough. Fernandez is not attending Rollins because of wakeboarding.

"Rollins is one of the top business schools in Florida. It is a really good school," Fernandez said. "The wakeboarding just came with it because Orlando is basically the water sports center of the universe.

Fernandez said he has no plans to become a professional wakeboarder.

not," "Absolutely said Fernandez. "There is no money in professional wakeboarding whatsoever. I do it purely for fun and for the love of doing it. I feel like instructing might be a career path for me, It's so much fun. One of the best feelings I get from wakeboarding is teaching new people. The smile on their faces when they try it and realize they love it is just priceless.'

Miracle on 34th Street at Bradley Playhouse

PUTNAM — The Bradley Playhouse is presenting Miracle on 34th Street. This TNECT performance is directed by Jennifer Briere, assisted by Tonya Brock and performed by Walter Wright as Kris Kringle, Kelly Lambert as Doris Walker, J. Matthew Bailey as Fred Gayley and Lauria Lavallee as Susan Walker, as well as a troop of many actors and actresses at the Bradley Playhouse, December 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15, 21, and 22, Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m.

Each night we will feature two "Putnam Celebrity" Guest Performers as Lou and Al, U.S, Mail Workers, and area pianists playing live Christmas music. The Dec. 7 performance will feature music from Sally Rogers and Howie Bursen and the Dec. 21 performance will feature the Blackstone Valley Community Chorus, for preshow entertainment.

Most are familiar with the 1947 Christmas movie, Miracle on 34th Street. The inspiration for the story, about a disillusioned woman, her skeptical daughter and a mysterious man who believes he is the real Santa Claus, came when Valentine Davies was standing in line at a big department store during the Christmas season. Davies took his story idea to writer and director George Seaton, who turned it into the screenplay Miracle on 34th Street (1947) which earned Davies an Academy Award for Best Story.

After having written the story for the film, Davies did a novelization of it, which was published as a 120-page novella in conjunction with the film release. In 1982, the Mountain Community Theater in Ben Lomond, California adapted a play from the novella by Valentine Davies. The story in this play is completely faithful to Davies' book.

The story takes place Thanksgiving between and Christmas Day Day in New York City, and focuses on the effect of a department store Santa Claus who claims to be the real Santa. In this heartwarming holiday story we find, by chance, Kris Kringle, an elderly gentleman, acquiring a job working as Santa for Macv's Department store. Kris releases waves of good will by referring parents to other stores to find the exact toy their child has wished for. Seen as deluded and dangerous by the store's vocational counselor, Kris ends up in a court competency hearing. In an innocent turn of events and truly magical moment, the Christmas Spirit is reclaimed. Reserved seating tick-ets may be purchased at the Bradley Playhouse box office, 30 Front St. Putnam, Monday, Wednesday through Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., or by calling 860.928.7887 or on-line at https://www.thebradleyplayhouse.org.

Fund raising campaign for Matulaitis

Nusing Home in Putnam has initiated a campaign "Whatever the called Weather Club." The goal of the program is to offer residents the opportunity to venture out to the courtyard patio to enjoy sunshine, autumn breezes, winter snow and the springtime thaw. The idea caught on with residents and their families, sparking the need to improve the surrounding outdoor areas.

In an effort to improve and enhance the court-

PUTNAM -- Matulaitis yard patio surroundings, Matulaitis has reached out to area community leaders to assist. The goal of the campaign is $15,000. Mary Vitale and Frances Bousquet are serving as co-chairpersons. The active phase of the campaign will continue through the end of November. Individuals interested in supporting the campaign may do so throughout the next 10 months. For more information contact Lisa Ryan at (860) 928.7976 or e-mail lryan@matulaitisnh.org.

"A couple of years later I joined," said Aline Hoffman of Maple Brook Studio in Coventry, President of Artists Open Studios since 2006. "The artists change from year to year. Some years there has been as many as 95 artists and as few as 65."

Hoffman started in painting and is now doing pyography, a wood burning technique. She has a lot of help from others, including six regional managers. Since most studios are inside of the homes of the artists, some will join forces and set up their crafts in a group show such as in a senior center, or sometimes one artist will get together with another artist and set up in the same home.

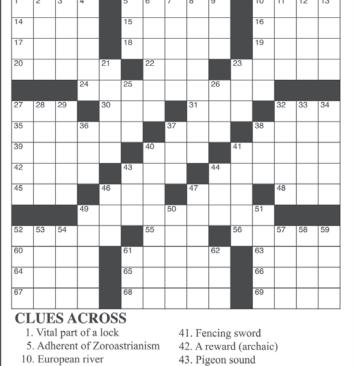

This year there are 74 participants with many of them working in oil, acrylics, water color or pastels. There are also photographers, potters, weavers, jewelers, wall hangings, wood workers, fused glass and others. The event includes artists from Woodstock, Thompson, Pomfret, Putnam, Danielson and Eastford. For a list of all artists, locations and their open studio dates, visit www.aosct.org.

In healthcare, one quiet corner institution is quietly making some noise.

The community hospital that's been part of life around here for 125 years is now years ahead. At Day Kimball Healthcare, we're taking the lead in a national movement that's changing the way people think about a community hospital. A community hospital that's your resource for just about any medical issue you can name. All while setting national standards for care. Your hospital. Revolutionizing care.

Seeing is believing

I wasn't sure that I wanted to meet his eyes. A friend and I had spent the day in Newport and as we left there were men on the median holding signs asking for money. When the light turned red, they approached cars and looked at the drivers. I've always felt I should look people in the eye, but I felt intimidated. When the light turned green, we sped away, eyes straight ahead. How incredibly sad for a grown man to be driven to beg in the middle of the road. Just the moment to think about generosity.

For more than twenty years, I worked in development, a euphemism for fund-raising. During the holidays, I was on the road calling on donors. Our interactions were pleasant. Often we discussed the mounreceived from other equally worthy charities. One donor tossed all the letters into a box between Thanksgiving and Christmas. He then read them all and made his decisions. Others put them in the recycle bin as soon as they arrived.

to say that we prefer to give locally, as nice a sentiment as eating local food, buying from local merchants and dining at local-owned restaurants. The truth is a bit different. He always gives to his private high school, because it meant so much to his life. I give to my university, where I studied and worked. We give to an orphanage in Africa and to various land conservation groups. The local charities call to us as well. What to do?

On an annual 'girls" overnight, this year in Portsmouth, a friend wondered if she is really generous. Two of us laughed. Our friend is the first person to bring food to anyone who is celebrating or suffering. She is as kind as anyone I have ever known. She is wise without being preachy and quiet when someone says something really foolish. She believes she isn't generous because she doesn't give much money. We insisted that her gifts were incredibly valuable, but I know exactly what she meant.

If a gift is anonymous, does it mean more? I've told the story before, but here it is again. During the Depression, a wealthy man asked my father what he could do that would really help the town. My father told him that he could wipe out the debts owed by certain families at three, small general stores. He would save the stores and give the families a clean slate. I'm sure everyone learned the donor's name, as there are no secrets in a small town, but the donor never sought recognition for his gifts. At this time of year, church fairs are humming, because of volunteers. The Hospice trees brighten the darkness and commemorate lost loved ones. TEEG, Daily Bread, town food pantries and many other groups provide easy, even joyful ways for us to support them. We feel good when we give something. Occasionally a women stood in the median strip at the nearby shopping center with a sign. I couldn't pass her by. I looked her in eve. I offered to drive her to a shelter or a bus stop. She declined. I gave her some cash. The light changed. I moved on. The poor are always with us so the saying goes. They ask for help on their own or organizations ask on their behalf. They may be troubled. They may be victims. It isn't always ours' to know. What matters is to consider what generosity means, give one's own gift and look the needy in the eye.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Be prepared to lose Boy Scouts in Pomfret

As a former Boy Scout and the father of one, I can appreciate that the BSA name is not what it used to be. Some within the national organization caused irreparable harm to others and it's policies on inclusion seem antiquated in this day and age. That being said, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in Pomfret have been a positive and unifying force within the town. That organization will soon cease to be in our community very soon. With the dissolution of the Cub Scouts recently and our failed attempt to bring it back, we are forced with the very real situation where there will be no young people to join the Boy Scouts and that our troop will collapse as well. Scouting in Pomfret has been primarily focused on the community; from picking up trash on Earth Day, to planting flags on Memorial Day, or pancake breakfasts at PCS, these activities are there for the town. The other parts of scouting, skill building and outdoorsmanship, are not done by any other group. Scouting is the only group that fosters relationships between our high school children

Down on Trump

I totally agree with Stephen Etzel"s letter to the editor (Nov 22). Trump needs to be removed from office and replaced with a person who understands government and the role of America as a world leader. America First cannot mean punishing our allies and belittling them . America First does not mean trade wars that hurt our farmers, our producers and ourselves as consumers. We need to reaffirm our commitments to racial equality, justice and fairness for all, and

Bashing Trump gets old

Let's talk about the never ending story by "No Fan of Trump" and really, it's getting old. Remarks on the Ukraine issue with "many highly credible witnesses" has to be the jokes of many days of impeachment hearafter they leave for other schools. If this is gone, I would ask our community "What will replace it?". Some organizations could do the tasks above but none right now include our children or would foster the type of community service and group activities that scouting provides. A few have shown interest in keeping their children in scouting but it can't be done on the shoulders of one individual, it has to be a group of families working together investing their time in order to succeed. So if the community is interested in this group it has to act as a community in restoring it. I say this not to reproach anyone but to inform our town of what is about to happen to this organization. If it is to phase out, I'm proud of the opportunities it has given my son and the people I have met. I just hope something takes its place so that Pomfret continues to have groups which help our children interact with the community in positive ways and not less.

> NICK HEMEON Pomfret

compassion and empathy for immigrants and those who suffer from political and social oppression. On Trump's agenda, does he care about immigrants, racial bias, the suffering of the Kurds, the Syrians, the Palestinians, the Yemeni people? No he does not, it is only his bottom line that he cares about and keeping his base happy.

forget abortions and dismissing all of the Member above, the leading cause of death in 2018 was a Registered Investment abortion, over 41 million, murdered/killed, a Adviser. staggering number and totally condoned by Street, Pomfret the Democratic Party and just unbelievable Let's go back to the impeachment hearings whzwealth.com. and the Adam "Shifty" Schiff Show. The many Hale & Zahansky Strategic days of "star" witnesses was a joke, all talked about their assumptions, presumptions, second/third hand testimony. The public is sick Network do not provide legal and tired of impeachment. What really have the Democrats done since Donald Trump took office? Can you think of any major accomplishments other than spending their entire time trying to impeach him from day one and the impeachments hearings alone cost over $40 million. 12 "star" witnesses were called by the Democrats, all had no "direct" knowledge of phone calls, meetings, and some will be successful. were not even in their positions at that time. During the Schiff Show, he changed the rules as the hearing when on, would not allow most of the witnesses that the Republican wanted to testify and allowed "hearsay" constantly when questioned by the Democrats or their lawyer but he did warn the witnesses about hearsay when questioned by the Republicans. Even the whistleblower's evidence was hearsay.....give us a break andin any court of law, hearsay is inadmissiable. Joe Biden openly bragged about holding back funds from the Ukraine and that was definitely quid quo pro So now they want the President impeached even as Ambassador Sondland testified that he personally spoke to the and asked the President what he wanted him to tell the Ukraine President, and his answer was "tell him to do the right thing" I for one have had it with the murdering Democratic Party and all politicians who find a home in Washington, become millionaires, have the best benefits and represent only themselves. Time to change American politics.

Thankful thoughts from WH&Z Wealth Advisers

FINANCIAL FOCUS JIM ZAHANSKY INVESTMENT ADVISER

This week, we wanted to take some time and reflect upon the things in life we are grateful for. 2019 has been a year of ups and downs, but now we can step back and appreciate how fortunate we are for the continued trust and support we receive from our readers.

Our Appreciation: At Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors, we are thankful for the opportunity to provide our readers with timely information each week so that you can be empowered to Live Well.TM Our mission is not only to advise clients in their financial decisions, but also to work toward the betterment of the community. By doing so, we feel we are able to give back and extend our appreciation to the people who work tirelessly each day to create a thriving community.

Now is the time to gather with friends and family to extend gratitude for the ways in which we all lean on one another. Let us all take this opportunity to slow down just a bit and enjoy each moment we have with our loved ones. Remember to extend gratitude for all that you are thankful for and be kind to one another this holiday season, and always. Be sure to check in next week for key year-end planning strategies. Bringing bribery, religion, birds of a feather (that's a new one), scandals, filth, etc., into his article and the best one recession, giving credit to Obama for turning it around and President Trump enjoying the momentum of Obama. I like his statements on religious values of President Trumps. Did the President ever use religion in his campaign unlike others who profess they found God or are following in his footsteps? I know where Jesus is....in prisons because everybody finds Jesus in prisons. Why do politicians pretend to be God loving, God fearing, bible quoting doers of good and working for the people? President Trump never did but than we had Obama who we know where his sworn allegience was and it wasn't America. I don't want to see President Trump's tax return. He became President while a millionaire.....I want to see the tax returns of all those Congressionalpeoplewhobecamemillionaires after they got elected and that is unbelievable. When Donald Trump was campaigning, he laid it on the line on what he was going to do, "drain the swamp" and he has been doing just that. He has fired many of his administration or they left on their own, definitely because there are no "Yes" people in his administration unlike Obama who created 45 Czars, more than the Russian Romanovs. We know exactly where President Trump stands...with our military, our police, our country. He came from business and knows how Washington works and that's why Washington does not like him. He's upsetting the "good ol boy club" and doesn't want to be part of it. Term limits is needed now more than ever and you can see that every day. Cities who have the highest crime rates, highest homeless, sanctuary for those breaking the law, worst economy, most dangerous and less healthy are all under Democratic Control. Let's not

I love to laugh. Even more so, I love to make others laugh. Last week I wrote of my addiction to BPTS ... Breaded Pork Tenderloin Sandwiches. It was all, of course, meant to be tongue-incheek. I do love the sandwich, but addiction may be an overstatement. The column did create the largest Email response I have ever received, and surprisingly, it was all positive. I did worry after I submitted it for publication that some suffering from real addictions may think I was making light of a very serious problem. Fortunately, those who responded all thought it was funny ... until I picked up my daughter, the Pastor, at the airport and she said, "I was so worried and upset when I read the first half of your column. I could not believe you were confessing to the world you have an addiction and didn't bother telling your family first!"

A friend, and fellow columnist wrote, "I along with most of your readers were on my knees praying for you, until I realized your addiction was a sandwich!" The response has been surprising and huge. Thank you.

The biggest windfall of the column has been all the pictures of BPTS and suggestions of where I can find the best locations to quench my appetite. Thank you and trust me ... I'll try them all.

I think this verifies the need to laugh in our lives. Life is better when we laugh. The news of the world doesn't offer many opportunities for humor. Impeachment, corruption, collusion, foreign interference in our elections ... it's a wall of negative information trampling over us daily. As I have said before, never in my lifetime have I witnessed nor experience the vitriol coming out of our nations' capital. Politicians are fighting for airtime to deposit their prewritten and rehearsed sound bites rather than doing our business, the business of We the People. So, I think it is more important than ever that we smile and laugh more. Not

The women and girls who voyaged on the Mayflower

Since this is Thanksgiving weekend, I again want to write a little about the early Mayflower passengers who arrived in Plymouth almost 400 years ago. As you might recall, it was only the men on the Mayflower who signed the Mayflower Compact. I thought I'd start with a little about the women and girls who had come aboard the ship.

'As the Mayflower left England for America, there were 18 adult women on-board. Three of them, Elizabeth Hopkins, Susanna White, and Mary Allerton, were actually in their last trimester of a pregnancy. All the adult women on the Mayflower were married; there were no single women--although there were a few teenage girls nearing marriageable age. While no women would die during the Mayflower's voyage, life after arrival proved extremely difficult. In fact, 78 percent of the women would die the first winter, a far higher percentage than for men or children. Dorothy Bradford was the first woman to die, and the only woman who died in the month of December. While many of the men, including her husband, were out exploring on Cape Cod, she accidentally fell off the Mayflower into the bitter cold waters of Provincetown Harbor. Most of the women's death dates were not recorded, but we do know that Rose Standish died on January 29, Mary Allerton died on February 25, and Elizabeth Winslow died on March 24. Most of the women died in February and March." "The women were confined to the damp. filthy and crowded quarters offered by the Mayflower, where disease would have spread much more quickly. The two-month voyage was long enough; the women, however, remained living on the ship for an additional four months while the men built storehouses and living quarters on shore. Weak bodies or not, by the time of the famous 'Thanksgiving,' there were only four women left to care for the Colony's fifty surviving men and children. The four women were Eleanor Billington, Elizabeth Hopkins, Mary Brewster, and Susanna (White) Winslow.(http://mayflowerhistory.com/women)

"There were a number of children among the passengers of the Mayflower. This was of great importance to the survival of Plymouth Colony. Many of the children had become accustomed to hard labor since they needed to work in Leiden to help support their families. As with many immigrant families in 17th century Holland, the Pilgrim fathers were generally hired for the lowest paying occupations.

"When the struggling group of colonists faced the cruelties of the first New England winter with its illnesses and deaths, it was the children who many times stepped in to assist the adults. Undoubtedly, brave young souls were kept busy tending the sick, fetching firewood and water, helping to prepare food and doing whatever was necessary.

There were fewer deaths among the children that first cruel winter, which ultimately increased the chances of survival for the struggling colony.

Children on the Mayflower who left descendants with approximate ages: Bartholomew Allerton (7), Mary Allerton (3), Remember Allerton (5), Francis Billington (14), Love Brewster (13), Mary Chilton (13), John Cooke (13), Samuel Eaton (1), Samuel Fuller (12)son of Edward, Constance Hopkins (14), Giles Hopkins (12), Richard More (6), Priscilla Mullins (17), Joseph Rogers (17), Elizabeth Tilley (13), Peregrine White (born aboard the Mayflower), Resolved White (5). (www.themayflowersociety.org/the-pilgrims/children-on-the-mayflower).

A number of the families chose to leave daughters behind with relatives, believing that the rigors of the crossing and breaking a new settlement would be too difficult and hazardous to their health. "Despite the general belief that girls were weaker, 11 girls, ranging in ages from 1 through 17, did make the voyage on the Mayflower with their families. And perhaps more surprisingly, young girls proved to have the strongest bodies of all: the first winter, 75 percent of the women died, 50 percent of the men died, 36 percent of the boys died, but only two girls (18 percent) died." (http://mayflowerhistory.com/ girls)

The fact that John Carver (ca. 1580/1-1621) had been confirmed as Governor affirmed his high standing among the passengers. He "was one of the most prominent members of the Pilgrims church in Leiden... Carver married, perhaps around 1616, to Katherine (White) Legatt, the daughter of Alexander White. John and Katherine Carver buried a child in Leiden in November 1617. "When the Pilgrims made the decision to begin moving their church to somewhere in America, they sent John Carver and Robert Cushman as their representatives to England to negotiate with the Virginia Company and organize the business. Carver survived the death-filled winter only to die of an apparent sunstroke in April 1621. His wife Katherine survived only a few weeks, supposedly dying of a broken heart. (mayflowerhistory.com).

Carver was wealthy enough to have a servant. John Howland (1599-1672/3), who had ten children and became the forefather of numerous descendants. God must have been with him on his crossing on the Mayflower for during a storm Howland fell overboard. "Luckily for his millions of descendants... (including Presidents George Bush and George W. Bush, and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt) he managed to grab hold of the topsail halyards, giving the crew enough time to rescue him with a boathook." He married Elizabeth Tilley about 1624 in Plymouth. Howland's Allyn descendants were the first owners of the Killingly property where I live, and the first settlers of present-day Killingly, so I always have had a soft spot for him. ## Thank you Joe Lindley

Everyone has that person who has made a significant impact on their life or career choice. One of the most influential people to affect my career came to me at the latter part of my journey as an educator.

I first met Joe Lindley during the second phase of the interview process for Superintendent of Thompson Public Schools. I arrived at the the appropriate response.

I was relieved to learn that I was selected as a finalist even after the interview blunder and was invited to attend a tour of the schools that was hosted by Joe and Kathleen Herbert. Joe led the tour of the school campus stopping often to speak teachers or students introducing each person by name. He navigated through the school's security system with ease and clearly knew his way around the campus. I was astonished that a board member knew school personnel and students so well. During the tour, Joe and Kathleen answered all of my questions about the facility, sports programs, and the curriculum. Being in education for almost forty years, I had never known a board member to be so involved and connected to the schools. I would later learn that Joe Lindley was a big part of what makes Thompson Public Schools special.

me on a tour of Thompson, so I could better understand the town's history. I had already read the two volumes of Echoes of Old Thompson loaned to me by a teacher. I was happy to have some background knowledge about the history of the town before I took the tour with Joe. During this personal guided trip, I learned about this man's self-sacrificing efforts to precontinued to volunteer his time for the betterment of the town despite having his own health challenges.

Joe taught me the importance of providing clear and accurate information to the community about the school district. He reminded me that I work for the children in town and to always be prepared to advocate for their needs. Joe reminded me that the interview feeling confident. I had researched student outcome data, learned about the curriculum, and the basic demographics of the community; I was well prepared for this interview – so I thought. That was until Joe posed a question that I could not answer. The question, "What do you know about the history of Thompson and how has this history shaped our community?" I danced around answering the question using some of the information I found during my study of the town. I knew by the look on Joe's face that I failed to give him

The final stop of the tour was the Tourtellotte Memorial Museum. I can still remember the feeling I had when Joe pulled open the large brass doors to this magnificent space. Joe's passion and knowledge of this museum was obvious. He provided me with an overview of the history of the museum and the amazing artwork and artifacts on display. It was then that I realized why the history question posed during my interview was so important to get right.

Shortly into my tenure as Superintendent, Joe called to invite serve Thompson's history and impart his knowledge to children attending Thompson Public Schools.

Over the next few years I had the good fortune to attend numerous tours and history lessons taught by Joe to Thompson students. He would often tell me of his own personal struggles in school and the teachers and staff who helped set him on a positive career path. Joe was a proud member of the Tourtellotte Alumni, Veteran, coach, author, successful businessman, and historian. He served on many committees and past has a significant connection to the future.

Joe Lindley died last month leaving behind his own legacy that is now forever a part of the history of Thompson. During this season of Thanksgiving it is only fitting to note that I am forever thankful for knowing and working with this wonderful community leader. Thanks again, Joe.

Melinda Smith is the superintendent of the Thompson Public School system.

because what is happening isn't important ... it is ... but because it is essential for our mental health that we look up from the fray, take a breath and find reasons to laugh.

Laughter really is the very best medicine. According to research from Loma Linda University, there are eight convincing health benefits of laughter. Emily Lockhart, writing for "Active Beat," lists the following eight benefits.

Laughter is a natural pain killer. Laughter produces endorphins, that serve as a "happy brain chemical" that soothes stress, reduces anxiety and eases chronic pain.

Laughter strengthens your heart. Believe it or not, laughing is cardio in the same way that walking benefits your heart. So, you can walk or laugh. Better yet walk with a friend and laugh together!

Laughing wards off disease. A Harvard study revealed that the more you laugh and approach life positively (like reading this column, I'll strategically insert) the fewer chronic diseases you will develop.

Laughter tones your abs. Spending hours doing sit ups? Get off the floor and laugh your way to an abdominal six-pack! Laughing boosts immunity. Laughing activates your body's T-cells (immune system cells) that help you ward off germs, flues and illness.

Laughing decreases blood pressure. The number of American's on blood pressure medicines is at an all-time high. Don't stop taking your prescription medicines but laugh more and you and your doctor may be positively surprised at the result.

Laughter banishes stress. Rough day at home or at work? Laughter won't solve all your problems, but it is proven that it reduces the anxiety produced by living or working in a stressful environment.

Laughter helps those suffering from depression. A 2011 study from Oxford University shows how laughter improves our overall outlook on life.

Long before Loma Linda, Harvard and Oxford, my grandmother always said, "Laughter is the best medicine," and it appears, even though she never attended medical school, she was right.

I hope last week's spook on my addiction made you laugh. I laughed for hours writing it and laughed all week at the responses.

Thank you for improving my health!

became involved in helping out at the school. He eventually became an instructor — helping people achieve their goals and see their potential.

In 1984 he started Mike Bogdanski's School of Karate on a part time basis. In 1988 he opened the school full time, changing the name to Mike Bogdanski's Martial Arts Center. He and Kristin Duethorn became partners around 2002. She was a sixth-degree black belt and one of the highest ranking women in United States. They joined forces "to transform lives" through martial arts, renaming it Quest Martial Arts, located in Putnam

They teach the traditional Tang Soo Do technique and also self-defense techniques.

"The first thing we teach them in the first class is self-discipline. They make their beds. We don't want to discipline, we want to teach them self-discipline," He said. "Martial arts is a fighting system for self-defense. It is a success system — mental, emotional and physical. It teaches better concentration and focus and how to achieve goals. They have better concentration."

He didn't want to be bullied but would have never started down his road without the harassment. It ultimately gave him the means to help others.

"It became an opportunity for good that never would have happened if it had not been for that one nexus," said Bogdanski.

Fifty-years later and Bogdanski is an eighth-degree black belt. He has a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology and also a Master's Degree in School Counseling. Today he is a member of the International Bullying Prevention Association. When not teaching martial arts he presents seminars on 'Stop the Bullying In Your Schools' — a topic he totally understands.

BY CHARLIE LENTZ VILLAGER EDITOR

GROTON — The roller-coaster ride that was Woodstock Academy's volleyball season plunged below the net in the semifinals of the Class L state tournament. The Centaurs up-and-down season came to dead stop against Guilford High in five dramatic sets at Fitch High School on Nov. 20with the Indians prevailing 3-2 (25-23, 21-25, 14-25, 25-20, 15-11). For senior outside hitter Paula Hernandez this season's thrill ride exceeded last year's journey — when the Centaurs went unbeaten until falling to Joel Barlow in the Class L state final.

"I'm going to remember this season more because of all the struggles we had," Hernandez said. "And all the effort we put into each other to getting better — not necessarily volleyball but as people. This season has been very different from all of the ones in the past. There's been a lot of mental work, not even volleyball work, just a lot of mental work."

To say the Centaurs have been inconsistent would be an understatement. Woodstock opened the season against three of the best teams in the state — Coventry, Greenwich, and Waterford — and fell to 0-3. Woodstock regrouped — capturing the regular-season title in Division I of the Eastern Connecticut Conference winning 16 of 17 matches following the 0-3 start. But the Centaurs faltered in the ECC Division I Tournament — earning the No.-1 seed in the ECC tourney but falling in straight sets to fifth-seeded Fitch in the semifinals.

Eighth-seeded Woodstock resurrected itself in the Class L state tournament — defeating No. 25 Maloney in the opening round, avenged last season's loss in the Class L final by knocking off defending-state-champion and ninth-seeded Joel Barlow in the second round — then Woodstock upset No.-1 seed Bristol Eastern in five sets (25-19, 23-25, 25-23, 26-28, 15-13) in the Class L quarterfinals on Nov. 16.

Woodstock's emotional roller coaster reached its zenith in the win over Bristol Eastern but it was perhaps too tough to keep that momentum on the rails. Woodstock coach Adam Bottone counseled his players to not let down after toppling Bristol Eastern.

"We totally talked about it. We talked about it at practice. We talked about it pre-game. I mean, that was a heck of a battle there between us and Bristol Eastern. That was the No.-1 ranked team in the state. It's hard when you play such an emotional game to just turn around and have another game that's just as emotional as that and play through it," Bottone said. "That would be the case with any team out there. How do you rebound from that and keep that emotion high and that play high?"

Hernandez said the emotion expended in the win at Bristol Eastern was hard to recapture.

"That was a really hard game. Everyone on that court was against us — the refs, everything. When we got that last point we didn't even realize we had won. We couldn't believe it. We had like a minute there, frozen. We were paralyzed, even the parents, they had to run and say 'We won.' In some way it felt like the finals were against Bristol Eastern. After that it felt definitely weird," Hernandez said. "Bristol Eastern was a very exciting game, probably the best game of the whole season. Now you come to play this team (Guilford) that you haven't necessarily heard of. It's not the same. It's not a thrill."

Woodstock's season-ending loss to fifth-seed Guilford was a microcosm of its mercurial season. The Centaurs lost the first set (23-25), regained momentum by rallying to win the next two sets (25-21, 25-14) before sagging in the fourth set (20-25).

"That comes back to what we always talk about with the mental toughness," said Bottone of the fourth set. "How do we face adversity? What's our mindset? Do we slow our breathing down? Control that, get healthy mentally and make good decisions — and they struggled with that which is unfortunate but it is what it is — part of the game."

The Indians seized momentum in the fourth set and carried it into the fifth set.

"That fourth set, they had a pretty good lead (18-11), we came back. We fought hard. We came up short because of the errors and then we struggled with receive right from the getgo in five." Bottone said.

In the decisive fifth set Woodstock rallied from a 6-1 deficit to pull within one point (10-11) — before losing 15-11. Hernandez notched 31 kills and made 36 digs. Sophomore setter Annarose Avery had 26 assists. Sophomore Aurissa Boardman had 11 service points and nine kills. Junior Libero Marissa Mayhew had 26 assists.

The win lifted Guilford's record to 20-4 and advanced the fifth-seeded Indians to the state final against second-seeded Avon. Avon defeated Guilford in straight sets in the Class L state championship match on Nov. 23. The Centaurs' season ended with a record of 19-6 falling one game short of the state final. Mayhew said they just couldn't sustain consistent play against the Indians.

"We had too many highs and too many lows," Mayhew said. "Just didn't stay level enough and balanced and that's, I think, what brought us down."

Woodstock's up-and-down season was brought to a dead stop in the Class L state semifinals. Guilford finally cut the power on the Centaurs roller coaster.

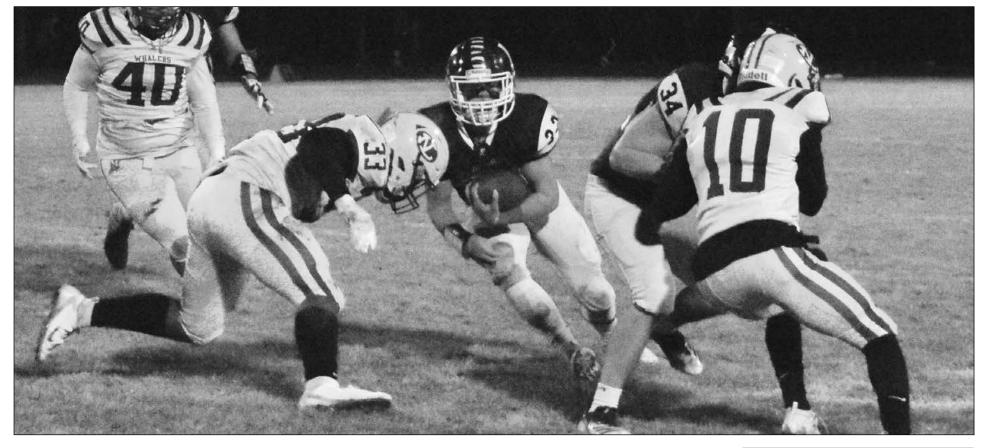

"They had all that momentum. They just went for it. They brought everything they could," Mayhew said. "We could have brought a little bit more. But we did as much as we could with what we had."

Killingly sets sights on state crown

BY CHARLIE LENTZ VILLAGER EDITOF

DAYVILLE — The chase is on. Killingly High kicks off its hunt for the Class M state championship when the playoffs arrive on Dec. 3. Killingly captured a berth in the postseason with a 21-7 win over New London on Nov. 22. After the victory coach Chad Neal gathered his players near the 30-yard line and pointed his Red Hawks toward the ultimate quarry.

"Now it's time to dial in and chase the ring," Neal said.

Killingly lifted its record to 9-1 with the win over New London and will likely finish with a top-four ranking when the Class M tournament seedings are announced on Friday, Nov. 29. A top-four rank would give the Red Hawks a home game in the first round of the Class M playoffs on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 3.

We're in. I don't see why we wouldn't have a home game," Neal said. "Now it's just matter of who we're going to play.'

The Red Hawks will have had a 10-day layoff between their win over New London and the opening round of the Class M playoffs. Neal isn't concerned about the hiatus.

I'll give them a couple days suming ground game. The Red Hawks ran the ball 53 times for 229 yards. Sophomore running back Jack Sharpe led the attack with 204 yards and two touchdowns on 38 carries.

The Red Hawks defense came up big when needed. With Killingly leading 14-0, New London received the second-half kickoff and drove 47 yards in six plays to the Red Hawks 12-yard line — with Whalers junior running back Keeano Gonzalez opening the drive with a 25-yard pickup. But on fourth-and-two from the 12, Killingly senior defensive tackle Connor Leduc stuffed Gonzalez for no gain to thwart the drive with 8:38 left in the third quarter.

"It was really huge," said Killingly senior quarterback Jacob Nurse of Leduc's tackle. "It really kept the momentum on our side. We were able to keep the ball too and keep their offense off the field."

On Killingly's ensuing possession following Leduc's key stop — Nurse completed a pair of clutch passes on third down to help sustain a 14-play 88-yard drive. The march consumed six minutes and 52 seconds. During the drive — on thirdand-seven from Killingly's 15-vard line — Nurse connected with senior Kameron Crowe on a 30-yard pass to move the ball to the 45. And on thirdand-nine from New London's 41-yard line, Nurse hooked up with senior tight end Nate Keefe on a 19-yard completion to set up the Red Hawks on New London's 22-yard line. Nurse capped the march with a one-yard sneak and Chris Jax booted the point after to stretch Killingly's lead to 21-0 with 1:46 left in the third quarter.

Leduc's clutch tackle of Gonzalez helped prevent New London from perhaps pulling within a touchdown early in the third quarter and Killingly's ensuing 88-yard drive stretched its lead to three touchdowns. Killingly defensive coordinator Gary Brine called a timeout to talk things over before Leduc stuffed Gonzalez for no gain.

"When it comes down to it we still may have won the game but that was key in winning the game. Because they moved the ball. They came out (in the second half), they ran that wedge play down the field. We waited until they came out in that formation and then Gary (Brine) called a timeout. The keys — especially number 71 (Teshuah Williams) for them — they like to run behind him. We told them to stay low off the ball and make sure you don't jump offsides," said said Neal of the stop of Gonzalez on fourth down.

Nurse tossed only three passes all evening. But when Killingly threw the football it caught New London off-guard.

"When you don't throw much ke we do — we wanted to keep possession tonight again and keep the ball out of their hands - you're going to have to make plays in situations like that, a pass play, maybe two, three times a game — but you've got to make it. And Jacob (Nurse) does a great job with that and the receivers did an awesome job catching the ball and pulling it in," Neal said.

Nurse said the Red Hawks shouldn't be affected by the 10-day lavoff between the end of the regular season and the start of the playoffs.

"We've got to stay focused. We've got to work on the little things, just focus on what we've got ahead. Get prepared for whoever we're going to play, get healthy too,' Nurse said.

Senior safety Jackson Lopes said the Red Hawks will be ready when the first round of the playoffs begin on Tuesday, Dec. 3.

"We do our business, prepare and watch film. I'm not sure who we'll play first but we'll be prepared," Lopes said. "We've got to come here and we've got to play. That's all it is. It's the playoffs — survive and advance."

Killingly was ranked No. 3 in Class M following its win over New London. Depending on how things play out the Red Hawks could move up to a top-two ranking after ksgiving Day gan Than top-two seeding would ensure two home games in the playoffs, assuming Killingly can win in the opening round. Regardless of their seeding Neal said his team is battled tested at home and on the road — having reached the Class M semifinals in each of the last four seasons.

ENFIELD — Woodstock Academy sophomore quarterback Ethan Davis ran for two touchdowns and passed for four TDs to lead the Centaurs past CREC 45-42 in the final game of their season on Saturday, Nov. 23. With Woodstock trailing 42-37 in the fourth quarter, Davis capped his impressive day with a seven-yard touchdown pass to Luis Miranda to rally the Centaurs to the win.

Davis ran for 161 yards and two touchdowns on 14 carries. He completed 21-of-31 passes for 264 yards with one interception. Davis tossed a nine-yard touchdown pass to Aidan Morin in the first quarter, a 47-yard scoring strike to Miranda in the second quarter, a 26-yard touchdown pass to Nick Bedard in the third quarter, and the game-winning seven-yard completion to Miranda in the fourth quarter.

The win lifted Woodstock Academy's record to 7-3. The loss dropped CREC's record to 6-4.

Woodstock Academy vs. Guilford in Class L semifinals

GROTON — Woodstock Academy's volleyball season came to an end one game short of reaching the Class L state championship game. Guilford High defeated the Centaurs in five sets (25-23, 21-25, 14-25, 25-20, 15-11) in the Class L semifinals at Fitch High School on Nov. 20. The Centaurs were the regular-season champions of Division I of the Eastern Connecticut Conference and finished the season with a record of 19-6.

len Elsinore Mansion! The magnificent Glen Elsinore mansion is one of the largest and most intriguing antique mansions in Connecticut. Built in 1911, as a summer cottage, by Mrs. Mary Vinton Clark of Boston MA, the Glen Elsinore is a resemblance of what one might see on the famous Cliff Walk in Newport RI. Glen Elsinore, along with it's rich history, is tucked away in the beautiful setting of rural Pomfret, and conveniently located 1:20 from Boston, 21/2 hours from New York and 50 min from Providence RI. Although originally a private residence, the Glen Elsinore is zoned commercially and has been the home of several organizations as well. Passing through the gateway to a circular drive around a lighted koi pond with a fountain, you will come upon this massive yet elegant structure yielding approx. 30,000 sq. ft. To the right of the foyer is the grand ballroom with 4 sets of french doors leading to the large terrace, a large bar with granite counters and a massive fireplace. Turn to the left and you will find a gorgeous formal dining room, sitting room and library. Further down 2 powder rooms, 2 office rooms, a kitchen and recreation room. There is an elevator shaft (no elevator) that leads to all 4 floors. Up the solid oak staircase there is two more floors filled with an abundance of space, master suites with attached bathrooms, function rooms, and living space. Each floor has 5 working fireplaces, some piped for propane. There are 9 full baths and 3 half baths, some are partially finished.

Antoinetta Cortigiano, 90

WOODSTOCK-A n t o i n e t t a Cortigiano, 90 years old, affectionately called Nella, passed away peacefully in Danielson, Connecticut on November 23, 2019, following a long illness. She was born on April 2, 1929 in Rossano, Italy to Renato and Giuseppina Donato. She was married in Italy in 1955 to Leonard J. Cortigiano, Jr. (who passed away in 2003), following a whirlwind courtship.

She emigrated to the United States that year on board the Andrea Doria and later became a United States citizen. The couple settled in Bridgeport, Connecticut where they had two children, Laura and Leonard. The family moved to Trumbull, Connecticut in 1958. Antoinetta was a homemaker for many years, and she enjoyed raising her children, gardening, and hosting large family gatherings. She and her husband frequently enjoyed dinner and dancing with family and friends. She enjoyed bowling, and racquetball, and spent many happy years pursuing those pastimes. She attended ceramics classes and enjoyed displaying many of her creative pieces.

She traveled to her native Italy many times over the years to maintain close relationships with her own mother and her five siblings who predeceased her: Leda, Teresa, Aldo, Massimo, and Domenico, their spouses, and her many nieces and nephews. Occasionally, she and her husband enjoyed spending the winter months in Florida with friends. In addition, she was an avid fan of professional Tennis. She also enjoyed socializing often with her friends. More recently. she passed the days with her loving caregivers, her children, her granddaughter, and close friends and family nearby who loved her deeply and were there to support her. She is survived by her children, Leonard Cortigiano (and his spouse, Keary Nichols) and Laura Cotnoir (and her spouse, Marc Cotnoir), her beloved granddaughter, Nicole Cotnoir, several nieces and nephews in the United States and several relatives in Italy.

Funeral arrangements have been entrusted to the Gilman Funeral Home and Crematory, 104 Church St. Putnam, CT. 06260. The family will host a Celebration of Antoinetta's Life for family and friends at a later date. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made in her memory to a charity of your choice. ## Create a delicious one-pot meal for a crowd

Warm, hearty meals, including stews, casseroles, soups, and chilis, make for great comfort foods when temperatures drop. Another advantage to these types of meals is they can easily be expanded to serve extended family. Also, when prepared using a slow cooker, these meals can be easily transported to a friends' potluck or relative's home.

Beloved for their turn-it-on-and-forget-it convenience, slow cookers allow cooks to start meals in the morning and then return home at night and have dinner ready and waiting. Busy working families may find that the convenience of slow cookers is unparalleled.

This recipe for "Creamy Ham 'n' Broccoli" from "Taste of Home Casseroles, Slow Cooker & Soups" (Taste of Home Books) is ideal for a cool fall or winter evening. It's a delicious meal to come home to after a busy day and also a great way to make use of leftover ham from a previous meal, such as a family gathering during the holiday season. CREAMY HAM 'N' BROCCOLI

SERVES 6 TO 8

3 cups cubed fully cooked ham 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli, thawed

1 can (1034 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup, undiluted

1 jar (8 ounces) cheese sauce 1 can (8 ounces) sliced water chestnuts, drained 11⁄4 cups uncooked instant rice

- cup milk
- celery rib, chopped

- medium onion, chopped
- 1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1⁄2 teaspoon paprika

In a 3-quart slow cooker, combine all of the ingredients except the paprika. Cover and cook on high for 2 to 3 hours, or until the rice is tender. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving. Sprinkle with paprika.
