Community garden prepping for first growing season

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE – After officially breaking ground for a new community garden in Sturbridge, the Community Food Collaborative is making strides to be ready for the 2018 growing season.

The collaborative celebrated the groundbreaking on April 11 and on Saturday, April 21 began the process of filling growing boxes and preparing the land for planting with the help of athletes from the Tantasqua men’s and women’s lacrosse teams. The garden is positioned on land donated by the nearby Sturbridge Federated Church and includes numerous beds and a small tool shed with volunteer manpower expected to be used to maintain the garden every day.

Joe Coan, president of the Community Food Collaborative, said the purpose of the garden is to provide fresh foods for the John Paul the Second Food Pantry in Southbridge in order to allow for more nutritious options for those in need.

GOODMAN, TEAM QUARTERBACK, COMMITS TO NICHOLS COLLEGE

Tyler Goodman, the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High starting quarterback, committed to Nichols College shortly after he, three other classmates and a pair of Nichols coaches endured the mass school shooting together while locked in a coach’s office.

DUDLEY — Valentine’s Day 2018 began like every other day Paul Brower has spent on the recruiting trail in the last several years, as the Nichols College men’s and women’s tennis coach and its dean of admissions. By early afternoon, however, it was a day unlike any other in his life, and one he prays never repeats itself.

After visiting four Florida high schools: Fort Lauderdale High School, Coral Springs Charter School, Coral Springs High School and North Broward Preparatory School, Brower and St. Clair Ryan, the Nichols running backs coach, arrived at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland to discuss the possibility of attending Nichols with four senior members of the Eagles’ football team.

Stoneman Douglas was familiar territory for Brower; he had made recruiting visits there many times and considered head coach Willis May and Recreational plans for field project proposed

The Sturbridge Recreation Committee has finalized the plans for the Town Barn Field Project on New Boston Road Extension, which is located down past the DPW building. The Recreation Committee developed this plan to provide recreational facilities for residents of Sturbridge that address a number of needs in a growing town, while improving the quality of life. Working with Craig Miller and Jacob Murray of Waterfield Design, we present these plans for your review and questions.

Proposed project addition of

One Little League baseball field; and one multi purpose field with lights, basketball courts with lights, parking for more than 90, lights for parking, bocce ball courts, concession stand and stands, landscaping and playground.

Current amenities include a Little League baseball field, softball field, multipurpose field, minimal dirt parking and no lighting.

Cost

Based on the 2018 estimated construction numbers the total project cost is $6.7 million. $5.7 million would be funded through a debt exclusion vote, and $1 million will be funded with Community Preservation Funds through borrowing. This project will add approximately $0.42 to the property taxes ($5.7 million at 4.10% for 20 years). That translates to an annual increase of $118 for an average resident home value of $279,755.

Public Information Meeting

Join us on Wednesday, May 2 at 7:00 PM at the Sturbridge Town Hall for a public information night and presentation by Waterfield Design Company on the Field Plans Project.

Town Meeting

The annual town meeting is Monday, June 4th at 7:00 PM at Tantasqua High School.

Babysitters will be available at the High School, contact Recreation Department at (508) 347-2041 to reserve a spot.

Church sale going strong after 30 years

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE – The Federated Church annual rummage sales are nothing short of a tradition after 30 years of success helping the men’s and women’s groups of the church assist the community in whatever way they can.

On Saturday Koinonia, the women’s group of the Federated Church of Sturbridge, held the spring edition of the event that runs twice a year, every year, offering used goods for sale while raising money to allow the women’s group to give back to the church and the town.

Janet Rae-Sinianian is the chair of the event for 2018 and said this rummage sale is among the most popular and long-lasting programs the church holds annually. It takes about a week to set up and the result provides plenty of income to give Koinonia a leg up in providing support to the church’s programs and community outreach.

“A lot of our church members donate, and we’ve advertised more so people have been coming in through that to give their donations. Shoppers will even come in with donations and leave with something new,” Rae-

Take a Stab at Fencing!

BY DIANA CAISSIE

BRIMFIELD-Local residents of Brimfield and the surrounding towns have been showing up in increasing numbers to Andrew Bloch's fencing lessons at Hitchcock Academy on Wednesday evenings. Lessons are offered for both youths (ages 8-16) and adults (ages 16 and up).

Fencing is a sport that was developed from the art of swordsmanship, used for dueling and self-defense. Over the early years of the Renaissance, schools of fencing in Spain, Italy and France were equally popular but were primarily used to train soldiers for the military. In the mid-18th century the focus of fencing shifted to a sport with the publication of The School of Fencing by Domenico Angelo, an Italian fencing master of a school in London. Much of his posture and footwork are still used in today's sport.

In Bloch's lessons, he places a heavy emphasis on the proper footwork and technique before his students fence for the first time. Discussion of the classic French techniques are vital for safety and provide a good foundation to become great fencers.

If you are interested in learning how to fence at Hitchcock Academy, see www.hitchcockacademy.org for more information or call 413-245-9977 ilies a week as well as 150 seniors a week, so their need is massive. We have a 3,000 square foot garden with 22 raised beds and we'll have everything planted in another week or so. Everything we grow will go to the pantry. The Tantasqua carpentry students made all of our raised bed frames and today we have Tantasqua's lacrosse teams filling the beds with the loam, so it's become a true community effort to make this happen," Coen said.

The garden was conceptualized through a collaborative effort between the Sturbridge and Southbridge Rotary Clubs who formed a joint organization called the Rotary Community Corp of Southbridge and Sturbridge. The group wanted to create something that would provide for the local community and what better way to give back and get locals involved during the warmer months than through a community garden?

Klaus Hachfeld, a member of the Sturbridge Rotary Club, said it was a no brainer to pick the John Paul the Second Food Pantry as the beneficiary considering their history with the Rotary Club. "We've been working with the food pantry now for several years and we've come to the conclusion that they are a very worthy organization to work with. It's really, truly a collaborative. It's meant to be a way of engaging the community," Hachfeld said. "We just received a Rotary grant for this. The clubs and local businesses and students have put substantial time, effort and money into this as well. This is dynamic to say the least. We started in October of last year and there's been a lot of work in a short time. Now the thing to get out is we need to be able to schedule volunteers and bringing in people who want to work on this garden. All of that is organized. We're really getting our act together and we're really pleased with it. We want the world out that this exists, and we want people to know what this is all about. It's just been an amazing project with a lot of positive support."

Setting an example for how important volunteers will be for the project, the men's and women's lacrosse teams of Tantasqua took time from their school vacations to lend a hand filling the growing boxes and preparing the garden for the transplanting of seeds. Lacrosse Coach Heather Egan said it was an important opportunity for the young men and women of Sturbridge to learn the value of lending a helping hand.

"It's important that the kids learn that they should give back to the community. A lot of times our community service stuff focuses just around Tantasqua and doing things around the school, but to know that there's a bigger community they are involved with too is a good thing," Egan said. "At school we already do things like food drives but to see it from a different angle and help with providing healthy alternatives is good for the kids to see and appreciate."

With the Community Food Collaborative garden taking shape and many businesses, community members and even town officials pitching in to help make it happen, Joe Coen said it's inspiring to see it all come together. With growing season about to begin Coen said it's nice to take a breath and see it all finally coming to fruition.

"The enthusiasm is contagious. When we first started it was just an idea and it's really taken off. People have come from everywhere wanting to get involved and it makes you proud to live in a community where there's that kind of response to something like this," Coen said. "Our goal is to expand as much as possible over the next couple of years. There are so many people behind this from the Rotary Clubs to the volunteers and town officials and local businesses. It's truly a community effort."

With low inventory should I build a new home?

Ever since the most recent housing crash the building of new homes has been minimal. It has grown over the past few years however. According to the National Association of Home Builders it was 925,000 in 2013 and up to over 1.2 Million in 2017 for the entire U.S. This is an almost 30 percent increase over those 5 years but yet has not kept up with demand. The median homes prices also rose from $288, 500 in 2014 to $321,100 in 2017 and is continuing to rise in 2018 with the continued rise in building costs. Inventory for new and existing homes is still extremely low which is causing a growth in new construction.

The best thing about building a home is that you get to choose the finishes, the style of home, where it sits on the lot. You truly get to make this home your own by adding all the features you want. The downside to buying a new home is that you will need to wait for it to be completed. Most new builds you will see taking 6-9 months in this area to complete so you have a narrow window to start construction so you can be in the home before school starts or you start a new job. You also

and then move into temporary housing until your home is complete. The other thing to consider is that the cost of building is significantly higher than the cost to purchase an existing home so you probably want to increase your budget when looking at new homes. Lastly, if you have very specific taste or want lots of upgrades you may need to come out of pocket during the build to pay for the many upgrades and the cost of the home may also go much higher and possibly the bank will not appraise it and you may need to change the plans or the features of the home so you can afford it.

I suggest when you are thinking about moving to sit down with a local Realtor so they can consult with you on what direction makes the most sense based on your needs in a home to either buy new or to purchase an existing home.

CHURCH SALE

Sinanian said. “We usually make about $1,500 net income from this event. We have a few expenses we have to cover. All that money we make goes to support the various aspects and mission of the church.”

Susan W. Schwartz, another member of Koinonia, said that both the spring and fall sales the church holds are major fundraising efforts that bring a lot of support and a lot of input from the women of the church. Not only is it a chance to give back to the church and the town, it also allows for members of the community to come in and get to know the women of the Federated Church of Sturbridge and what their all about.

“It’s a real community outreach opportunity and we are so cost friendly here. Our prices are unbelievably cost effective.

We also do things like gathering not so pristine blankets and stuff like that for the Second Chance Animal Shelter or any kind of program in need. We’re also giving some used blankets to another church that is making sleeping bags for the homeless. This is all part of the same effort to take one person’s junk and make it someone else’s treasure to give back to our local community the best way we can,” Schwartz said. “I think what we all think is one of the most lovely things is that this is such a good opportunity for community outreach particularly in these economic times. We have such a range of items from clothing to knick-knacks, books, jewelry, toys, sports, electronics and people buy them as they need them and every cent goes back to help the church in its mission.”

While Koinonia ran the major event inside the church, the church’s men’s group

Crossroads held another sale outside of larger furniture items that member Tom Bardsley said helps them contribute to helping those in need in their own way.

“The profits for our men’s group help us meet the needs of families in the area and assist with different things that come our way. We’ve helped families with many different issues. We’ve helped one family get a set of tires and another lady get a sofa. We want to help where we can, and this money helps with those kinds of initiatives,” Bardsley said. “It’s a lot of work for a little income because we don’t charge very much. We might make $200 at a yard sale but that’s $200 we don’t have to spend out of pocket to help a family in need.”

The event also included an electronics drop off for disposal of used television, VCRs, radios and the like to proper disposal. This third-party collection also provided part of the proceeds from the recycling to the church’s effort as a thank you go hosting the drop off during the rummage sale event.

Ladies from Koinonia, the women’s group of the Federated Church of Sturbridge, pose for a photo in between customers.

Taking to the stage

Comedian Jonathan Fletcher with friends and family after his performance

KIMBERLY MASCHI
STONEBRIDGE PRESS

A musician, a comedian, and a poet walk into Nu Café in Worcester. Hilarity ensues, original songs are song and a new look on poetry is heard.

It was open mic night at the Café and the event drew in a vast and eager crowd. Nicole Manning from Berlin is a beautiful young woman who is self-taught and written over 30 original songs. Manning took to the mic and sang her heart out while strumming her guitar. Manning was captivating and the crowd was engrossed in her original song work.

"I love to write music," says Manning, "I hope to become a country music song writer."

Manning has also performed at The Bluebird Café in Nashville, TN.

"I like performing, I get nervous but it is so much fun," says Manning. Manning was a shining star in the list of performers, following Manning, an aspiring comedian took to the stage and fought through a heckler, a blender and a few nerves in between.

In the longest stand-up set that anyone performed at the café, Jonathan Fletcher, from Worcester says "I like talking in front of people, this was one of the better shows I have had."

Fletcher, known for his luxurious locks, 9.5 fingers (.5 lost in a construction accident), and being your one liberal friend, had a lot of fun at the event.

"I had to compete with a blender, but other than that it went great," says Fletcher.

A loud blender was not the only obstacle for Fletcher. When the comedian started his routine, he was immediately met with a not so rare, but often despised, heckler. Fletcher did not let one single "boo," which is all he received, stray him from his goal, he was there to make people laugh, and laugh they all did. Among the crowd of strangers; friends and family were there to support Fletcher. To show their support they each waved a big red foam hand with one finger cut down in 9.5 finger solidarity. Nearing the end of his routine, Fletcher picked up a guitar and began to sing Lola, by The Kinks. The comedian sang a short portion of the song but this is where Fletcher really gained the attention and admiration of the crowd. Fletcher has multiple talents and is always looking for new adventures to explore. For the heckler, well... he was up next to perform.

He goes by the name of Wik. That's it, no last name. Believed to be residing in Worcester, but he refused to give an exact location. Wik writes poetry and he writes it in a different way. His first poem included binary code, with 1's and 0's that expanded to discuss how everything around us can relate to math. "Everything is coded," says Wik.

This enigmatic poet has a background in coding. He was an engineering student, on his way to earning a Ph.D. but now he is heckling comedians and reading poetry. Wik states that he just wants to start living: “having big plans screws everything up. I was looking for the title of Ph.D., but I wasn’t enjoying the experience.”

Now this mysterious one named poet is looking to let go of fixing and solving everything and wants to express his ideas on paper and in front of a crowd.

When an open mic night is hosted, the crowd never knows what to expect. It's a gamble each audience member takes, either you've wasted a night or you've found gem in the rough. Luckily, there were many gems that performed. Each brave participant brought something different to the occasion. Through laughter, a noisy blender, and a couple of jeers; each performer did their best and most importantly had fun.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

MASH UPS
• • • • •

A fire-fighter! A police-officer! A doctor! Or in my case; I haven't got a clue but I'm thinking something along the lines of a gelatinous blob that absorbs information at lightning speed and can morph into whatever tickles my fancy at that given moment.

Maybe an oozing blob with a hankering for knowledge is not your speed. Maybe a chameleon that changes who it is to match the scenery it has discovered is more you. Or maybe you do have a very distinct goal with straight path from point 'A' to point 'grown up and fully acclimated in this magical world of certainty'.

If you are the latter than this article is not for you. Move on you organized and majestic creature of certainty and understanding of a world I will never know. It is time for us Uncertains to get to know one another. We are the Uncertains and we have no clue what we are doing, but we are doing something.

While working with children in past careers, I would often ask them, so what do you want to be when you grow up? One spritely lad stated he wished to be a mechanic, but oh! not just any mechanic, he wanted to fix the space ships of our future. A young girl I know decided she wanted to be a doctor, to help people? I asked. No, because they make a lot of money she replied while shrugging her shoulders in mock apathy. Some kids have it all figured out.

But somewhere along the lines of growing older we lose a piece of us, a piece that wonders and explores. We turn uncertain. I have many ideas as to how and when this happens. We reach a point in our lives where we realize that our dreams were just that, dreams. Aspirations that are no longer feasible as we grow to know the way the world really works.

First culprit in our aspirational demise, taxes. The minute you see that the government reaches into your paycheck and takes a chunk of your earned income; a piece of you dies a wee little bit. What do you mean we have to pay for the freedom of democracy? What do you mean we have to pay for filling broken roads, ensuring my safety through various departments, and maintain a society that sometimes works and sometimes doesn't? Taxes are to dreams as A) a bucket of water is to an open flame. B) an overzealous squirrel is to an acorn C) a lightning strike is a watermelon or D) All of the above. Which brings me to my next offender of our every longingly desire to follow our hearts instead of consuming currency. SAT's and all standardized testing.

Scholastic Aptitude Test, the dreaded SAT's. The test that you take at the end of your high school endeavors, you know, while going through puberty, getting ready for college and being set out into the world that makes no attempt to ease you into the transition at all. This test basically designs your future capabilities with bubble letter answers and questions that have no real-life implications in the least. Tests like this lets you know if your dreams are in your grasps or out of reach. SAT's are soul crushing-ly designed to let you know the reality of your situation, well unless you get a great score, then good for you! Can you go cure the common cold now please? Thanks. Tests like these have a debilitating outcome, it makes a person believe they are not good enough. This is simply not true. Just because you have trouble with algebraic equations does not make you less than anyone else. It just means maybe don't become an accountant unless that's your passion. Than account away just own a really good calculator! Standardized testing takes each individual person and turns them into one solid entity that needs to be uniform in every way. This is not the world we live in. We learn in different ways, we blossom at different times, we need; you need to know that a score on some test that I bet the designers couldn't even ace does not define you or your prospects. Do not let a standardize test be your outline for what you can accomplish, taxes are a different story, there's no getting out of that one. We as Uncertains must realize that there are things we can't control and things we can control. We can control our view on our future and not let anyone or anything stand in our way of progress. We can't control that we need an adequate income, health benefits, and vast amounts of caffeine each day to survive. So, try to at least be passionate about something that can feed and clothe you.

There are many other instances in life that can damage the part of us that wishes and wonders. Sex, drugs, not rock and roll though, rock and roll is A-OK. Death and heart break, sickness and disaster, failure and self-doubt. But counteract all of these afflictions with the never-ending urge to be happy and fulfilled in life. It is okay to be uncertain, as long as you never stop learning, growing and trying. When asked what you want to be when you grow up, know that time is fluid and growing up is what we do each and every day. There is no limit, no set age where you need to be held to any sort of standard. You can be 18 and on a direct path to becoming a lawyer. Or 57 and working three different part-time jobs all over the community. Or you can be 34 years old and writing for a local paper, while in school for psychology, and raising two kids and still not knowing what you want to be and as you vent to a populous hidden within the context of this paper you wonder, I am not alone in this right? There are Uncertains just like me who are forever changing their minds while paying their taxes.

Kala Farnham in concert in mid-May SOUTHBIDGE — On Saturday, May 12 at 6 p.m., Rhode Island Songwriters Association Songwriter of the Year and YouTube sensation Kala Farnham will be performing at Elm Street Congregational Church, 61 Elm St. Tickets are $15 per person and $12 for seniors. Children under 10 are free. There will be a meet and greet with Kala beginning at 6 p.m., concert starts at 7 p.m. Free parking is available behind the Southbridge Town Hall. For more information call (774) 318-1844. All proceeds from this concert are being donated by Kala to the church. Also performing will be the Elm Street Church Bell Choir.

John Fuzek, Roots Report Motif RI, describes Kala as “a classically trained musician with influences of pop, Broadway, and world music in her sound. Farnham’s sound can be compared to Kate Bush, Tori Amos, Fiona Apple, and Norah Jones, but she definitely has a style of her own. Those who are fortunate to see Kala live are wowed the same way I was.”

Please visit Kala’s webpage at <http://www.kalafarnham.com/>

Farnham is a multi-instrumentalist singer-songwriter homegrown out of the Quiet Corner of Connecticut. Kala began her musical journey at the young age of three, when she learned the theme to Close Encounters of the Third Kind on a toy piano. By age seven, she was gracing the stage playing Mozart concertos and Chopin nocturnes. In high school, she established herself as a working musician as her alma mater’s theater accompanist; in college, she furthered her studies in music technology, composition, and jazz. Since then, music has continued to be the defining factor of Kala’s life.

Kala is described by RI’s Motif Magazine as a “pint-sized, piano-playing powerhouse...with influences of pop, Broadway, and world music.” Her signature songwriting has been likened to a reinvention of the traditional folk made popular by artists such as Joni Mitchell and Joan Baez; she is praised for her complex classical undertones and playful dose Broadway theatricality onstage, reminiscent of modern day performers Tori Amos and Regina Spektor. Her affinity for poetry and creative writing is evident through signature lyricism that springs to life with heartfelt and creative storytelling, cultural references, and rich metaphor.

Spring 2014 marked the release of her first professional studio album “Anahata: Wake Up Your Heart”, leading to a nomination for Best Americana Album in RI’s Motif Music Awards alongside a nomination for Best Female Americana Vocalist.

In 2015, she was selected as an Official Showcase Artist in the 2015 SERFA Music Conference. October 2016 marked the release of her second studio album “Samadhi: Home Is Where You Are”, as well as another nomination for Best Americana Album. In 2017, Kala was selected as one of 12 songwriters from across the world invited to the John Mercer Songwriters Project. Kala is the winner of the 2017 Rhode Island Songwriters Association Performing Songwriter Contest.

Throughout her career, Kala has traveled the east coast and shared the stage with the likes of Tony Bennett, Don McLean, Tower of Power, and Christine Ohlman. She has appeared at such venues as The Garde Arts Center, The Regent Theater, The Bushnell’s Autorino Hall, and Arnold Palmer’s Kingdom Cup.

Kala has fully immersed herself in the music world, supplementing her performing songwriter pursuits as a studio session musician (Signature Sounds Studio), live session musician with several New England bands, and as a musical theater director, accompanist, actress, and composer (The Bradley Playhouse, Bryant University, Emerson Theater Collaborative). In addition to performing, Kala works behind the scenes in live and studio music production, providing technical support for The Guess Who, Foghat, Little Big Town, Easton Corbin, and Bachman-Turner at Connecticut’s Woodstock Fair. Fatal Sturbridge fire started in microwave oven

STURBRIDGE — State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey, Worcester District Attorney Joseph P. Early Jr., Sturbridge Fire Chief John Grasso and Sturbridge Police Chief Thomas J. Ford III said yesterday’s fatal fire at 16 Fairgrounds Road, originated inside the microwave oven. A woman was rescued by firefighters and transported to the hospital where she succumbed to her injuries. The elderly woman is believed to be the resident of the apartment. The District Attorney’s office will release the victim’s name once formal identification has been completed by the Medical Examiner’s Office and next of kin notification is complete.

Chief Grasso said, “On behalf of the town of Sturbridge I offer my condolences to the woman’s family and friends. This is such a tragic way to lose a loved one.”

The fire started inside the microwave in the kitchen. Whether the microwave itself failed, or food inside the microwave ignited cannot be determined. The fire from the microwave oven ignited the victim’s clothing. She may have attempted to extinguish the flames. When firefighters located her, water was still running in the sink.

The hard-wired smoke alarm inside the apartment did not operate. The alarm was found to be more than ten years old, and the back-up battery was dead. Chief Grasso said, “We are working with the owner of the building to ensure that every apartment has working smoke alarms that are less than ten years old and has working back-up batteries. In addition, we are working with the owner to ensure all the required fire detection systems are in place.”

Ostroskey said, “Smoke alarms must be replaced after ten years. Like any home appliance, they don’t last forever. After ten years, the sensing mechanism can no longer be relied upon to function when needed, as seems to have been the case in this tragedy.”

Members of the Sturbridge Fire and Police Departments and State Police assigned to both the Office of the State Fire Marshal and to the Worcester District Attorney’s office jointly investigated this fire. The Department of Fire Services’ Code Compliance and Enforcement Unit assisted and is working with the Sturbridge Fire Department to ensure the smoke alarms in every apartment are working and up-to-date.

How to Respond to Microwave Oven Fires

The best thing to do when a microwave oven fire occurs is to keep the door shut, turn the oven off, and only if it is safe to do so, unplug the appliance. People may wish to consider buying a safety sensor that will shut off the power to the microwave oven at the first sign of smoke. For more information on fire and burn safety for older adults, please go to <https://www.mass.gov/service-details/fire-and-burn-safety-for-older-adults>.

Academy Director Gretheline Bolandrina MSN Ed, RN, CRRN and Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy Class of 2018 were invited to the University of Massachusetts to attend the Nursing Schools Expo. Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy's invitation to the educational event — put on by the Graduate School of Nursing and supported by the member schools of the Worcester Nursing Pipeline Consortium — recognized Bay Path's active promotion of academic progression.

"We encourage our practical nursing students to be actively learning about academic progression opportunities," Bolandrina stated, "we support learning and collaboration especially with University of Massachusetts Graduate School of Nursing."

The 32 students of PN Class of 2018 boasts of the largest number of student body since the Academy opened in 2009. Nine of the 32 practical nursing students are men, a first for the Academy. The PN Class of 2018 and over 120 other students (freshmen, sophomores, juniors and senior high school students) with their parents and other education leaders from surrounding areas, heard from a variety of nursing experts. Among the most notable was Laura Maguire PhD, RN forensic clinical nurse specialist, child protection program at UMass Memorial Hospital, who expanded on the importance of using technology as a tool in forensic nursing.

"One of the main points from the expo was to explore career options with expert nurses," stated PN student Brittany Stolberg of Millbury "I was excited to learn first-hand about NICU, Pedi, ER, and military nursing."

By encouraging and supporting attendance to the nursing expo, Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy promotes academic progression to practical nursing students. This is an undertaking fully supported by the staff and faculty of Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy, aiming for excellence when it comes to practical nursing education and academic progression.

Friday's Child

Hi! My name is Jaycob and I love to smile and give hugs!

Jaycob is a charming, engaging and likeable boy of Caucasian descent who is quick to give hugs. Those who know him best say that he has a silly side and is remarkably kind. Recently, when he was at the doctor's office he asked for extra stickers so that he could bring them back to the other children in his home. Jaycob loves playing with Matchbox cars, Pokémon, Beyblade toys and video games. Jaycob hopes one day to be a contestant on the television show Wipe-Out, where contestants have to navigate an obstacle course. He plays the video game version and believes that he could complete the course in real life if given the opportunity.

Jaycob enjoys going to school, is academically on track, and gets along well with his peers.

Legally freed for adoption, Jaycob will do best in a two-parent family. He is eager to live in a home with other children and will do best with children of a similar age or older.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Our one true thing

Democracy is crazy system of government. It depends entirely on the honesty of its people to direct themselves. It expects those people to trust. To put their trust into other people to invest their time into the complexities of day to day government on their behalf.

It expects the lowly ‘us’ to put certain expectations on those we entrust with this duty. We want them to be honest, that’s a given.

We want them to be fair.

We want them to NOT be biased or racist or sexist or any of a zillion other isms or ists that exist to render them incapable of clear thought.

We want them to work always on our behalf, without thought of their own possible gain.

We want them to listen to our tales of woe, even if they can’t fix the problems; but we certainly would like to have the problems fixed too.

Hardest of all, no matter where we fall on the left-right spectrum, every single one of us wants our person to be on our “side.” To represent our views, whatever they may be. And if someone is elected that does not suit our own view of the world, we find ourselves working harder than ever to oust that person and get one of our own stripe in.

Whether the person seated is actually doing a good job...or not.

How we decide what that ‘good job’ should look is so subjective. If we like welfare and do-gooder programs than we sure do want those front and center.

But if we think there is way too much given away already and not enough accountability for the way that money is spent, then that’s a different expectation.

Should there be a single way to pay for health care? Should we abolish private insurance? Is that even feasible with the size of the health insurance giant that exists in our country? That alone could give elected officials headaches forever.

Biggest problem with that dismantling is several fold, and really had not much to do with quality of health care issues at all. It has to do with unemployment (where will all those private insurance companies, now defunct, find work for their myriad staff? A government run program can certainly absorb some, but not all.) We would be creating our own depressed economy with that many people out of work all at once.

Then, there would just be the logistics nightmare of reinventing the wheels of industry on this one. You think wading through paperwork for private insurance is a nightmare? Imagine what it will be if the government runs it. They did, after all, create the IRS. How was doing your taxes this year?

And finally, there’s the biggest hurdle of all, the money, money, money. When you pay insurance premiums to a private insurance company; and beyond their costs of doing business and paying the doctors etc., there is actually of course a profit margin. Guess where it is? The stock exchange. Of course it is. So if we dismantle the private industry, what happens to their invested money? Think about it. Think depression. Think millions subtracted from stock and bond availability. The dirty little secret that keeps the insurance companies in business isn’t even related to doctors and hospitals, it’s related to Wall Street.

So when we take about our power to elect and who we want to put into place, we have a lot to think about in the next few years. We have those who appreciate hardily the status quo and the profit sharing and the ways things have always been.

Business people doing government and government doing business are two different things.

When they meet, it becomes muddy.

And it can only get worse as we struggle with insurance, banking and now international trade and tariffs that can only impact how we run our world, from Wall Street to Main Street, in ways we cannot even fathom.

Even on the local level, think about your vote with caution, and strap in tight. It truly is going to be that proverbial bumpy ride.

BBQ basics: skill with the grill

Grilling is one of the simple pleasures of the season. Whether outdoor suppers consist of an impromptu barbecue or elaborate grilling feast, it’s all about technique. From proper preparation to skill with the grill, this week’s column reviews some BBQ basics.

The Waiting Game: As a rule of thumb, when you grill with charcoal, it takes about 30 minutes for coals to reach a medium temperature and become ash covered. For gas grills, allow about 15 minutes for the grill rack to preheat properly.

Turn the Heat Up: To increase the heat on a charcoal grill, try these tips. Simply push the coals together; add more coals as needed; lower the grilling surface, or fan the fire and tap the ashes from the coals.

Call for Coal: Did you know as a general rule, it takes about 30 coals to grill one pound of meat? But keep in mind the number of coals required can vary depending upon weather conditions. Cold temperatures and high humidity call for the addition of more coals.

Cool It: To quickly decrease the temperature on a charcoal grill, just raise the cooking grid or carefully sprinkle the coals with a little water to cool it down fast.

Tasty Turns: When marinating meat or other foods for grilling, you should move or turn the meat in its container every half hour or so to ensure an even distribution of the sauce.

Dry Off: Did you know meat that has been marinated should be blotted dry before searing in order to form a second skin?

Don’t Flip Out: Did you know if you flip your steak more than once, you’re probably cooking it wrong? Grilling experts say you can properly sear meat by using higher heat, and turning it just once. A nice crust will form and seal in the flavor, and keep foods from sticking.

Cut Curls: If you slash the edge of the fat around a steak or chop it will prevent it from curling as it cooks. Just make cuts in the edge every couple of inches.

Water Rub: When grilling ham-

TAKE THE HINT

burger patties, you’ll get a juicier burger if you rub each side of the meat with cold water before grilling.

Sugar Stall: Barbecue sauce containing sugar should be applied for only the last 20 to 30 minutes of cooking because putting it on sooner may cause the meat to burn. For grilled chicken, baste with sauce the last ten minutes.

Basting Basics: Basting on the grill can be a tricky challenge. Try this timing trick: For hot dogs and sausages, baste with BBQ sauce for the last five to six minutes of cooking time; barbecued meats cooked by indirect method should be basted with sauce the last hour of cooking.

Spray to Stay: Want your spices to stay put on meat while grilling? Try spritzing a little nonstick spray on the meat after seasoning to keep it in place better.

Cut Cleanup: Here’s a tip to cut grill cleaning time. After cooking, place a piece of tinfoil over the grate and turn the gas up to high for about a minute, and then turn it off. The foil attracts the heat, burning the bits to an ash. When cool, crumple up the aluminum foil and use it to scrape off the residue.

Take steps to control your investment taxes

FINANCIAL FOCUS
JEFF BURDICK

Tax Season is finally over. Of course, how much you pay in taxes depends on a variety of factors, many of which you can’t control. But you might give some thought to how you can manage your investment-related taxes.

Here are some suggestions to consider:

Contribute to your employer’s retirement plan. If your employer offers a 401(k) or similar plan, such as a 403(b) or 457(b), contribute as much as you can afford. The more pre-tax dollars you put in to your retirement plan, the lower your taxable income. Your employer also may offer a Roth 401(k) option, under which you invest after-tax dollars, so your annual income won’t be lowered and your withdrawals will be tax-free.

Contribute to an IRA. Even if you have a 401(k) or similar plan, you may still be eligible to contribute to an IRA. With a traditional IRA, your contributions may be fully or partially deductible, depending on your income level; with a Roth IRA, contributions are not deductible, but your earnings can grow tax-free, provided you’ve had your account at least five years and you don’t start taking withdrawals until you’re 59½.

Follow a “buy-and-hold” strategy. You can’t control the price movements of your investments, but if you do achieve gains, you can decide when to take them – and this timing can make a substantial difference in your tax situation. If you sell investments that you’ve owned for one year or less and their value has increased, you may need to pay capital gains taxes at your personal income tax rate, which, in 2018, could be as high as 37 percent. But if you hold investments for more than one year before selling them, you’d be assessed the long-term capital gains rate, which is 0, 15 or 20 percent, or a combination of those rates.

Consider municipal bonds. If you’re in one of the higher tax brackets, you may benefit from investing in municipal bonds. The interest on these bonds is typically free of federal taxes, and possibly even state and local taxes. Interest from some types of municipal bonds may be subject to the alternative minimum tax (AMT). However, because of the new tax laws, the AMT exemption amounts were increased significantly.

You might be wondering what these new laws mean to investors. In terms of your regular investment activities, the effect might not be that significant. The tax brackets for qualified dividends and capital gains – such as those realized when you sell stocks – will remain about the same. This means that most investors will continue to pay 15% to 20% on long-term capital gains and dividends. Consequently, the new tax laws shouldn’t really affect you much in terms of your decisions on buying and selling stocks or investing in companies that may pay dividends. Of course, it’s still a good idea to consult with your tax advisor on how the totality of the new laws will affect you.

Ultimately, your investment decisions shouldn’t be driven only by tax implications – nonetheless, it doesn’t hurt to take steps to become a tax-smart investor.

Colorful caladiums brighten shade gardens all season

MYERS

Tuck them into the garden, pop some in a container or dress up a window box. Then water as needed, add a bit of fertilizer and wait for the color explosion.

The showy heart-shaped leaves of caladiums come in combinations of pink, red, white and green. These heat-loving plants provide beautiful color all season long. Best of all, no deadheading is needed.

Caladiums can be used to create a stunning garden almost anywhere around your home. These tropical beauties grow well in full to partial shade, and some varieties grow equally well in full sun. Choose varieties that will provide the color, size and look you want to achieve, and that match the light conditions in your yard.

Compact caladiums, such as lime and dark pink Miss Muffet, grow about 12" tall and are perfect for lining a pathway, edging a flowerbed or dressing up a container. Florida Sweetheart's bright, rose-pink leaves have ruffled green edges, and Gingerland has creamy white leaves that are decorated with splashes of green and red. All of these miniature varieties combine nicely with larger caladiums and elephant ears.

Step up the color impact with caladium Red Flash. This full-size caladium grows about 20" tall and has brilliant red centers, decorated with pink dots that pop against the large, deep green leaves. Use these anywhere you want a big splash of color in a garden bed or container.

Combine caladiums with shade-loving annuals like begonias, coleus, and mildew-resistant impatiens or other summer bulbs like cannas and elephant ears. Visit Longfield Gardens (longfield-gardens.com) for a bit of inspiration and container design ideas. You'll find simple combinations that provide big impact on a deck, patio or entryway.

When planting caladiums directly into the garden, wait until at least two weeks after all danger of frost has passed. Nights should be warm, and the soil temperature should be at least 65° F. Prepare the soil before planting. Add compost or other organic matter to improve drainage in clay soil and the moisture-holding ability in fast draining soils. Plant tubers about six inches apart and two inches below the soil surface. Water thoroughly and often enough to keep the soil moist, but not soggy.

Those gardening in cooler climates may want to start the tubers indoors for an earlier show outdoors. Plant indoors four to six weeks before moving them into the garden. Set the tubers near the surface of a shallow container filled with a well-drained potting mix. Grow them in a warm sunny spot indoors, keeping the soil barely moist. Move outdoors once the danger of frost has passed and the soil has warmed.

As the summer temperature rises, watch your caladiums shine while many other flowers fade in the summer heat and humidity. Continue to water as needed and fertilize throughout the summer to encourage new growth.

Those gardening in zones nine through eleven can leave their caladiums in place year-round. Others can either treat these colorful beauties as annuals or dig up the tubers and overwinter them indoors. Dig tubers in early fall when soil temperatures drop to 55°. Spread them out in a warm, dry location for at least a week. Label each variety, remove the foliage and place tubers in a mesh bag or pack loosely in dry peat moss. Store in a cool, dark location at around 60 degrees.

Make this the year you add caladiums for beautiful splashes of color throughout your landscape all season long.

Shelter helps reunite those separated by Hurricane Maria

Daya waits patiently after the grueling trip.

NORTH BROOKFIELD — There wasn't a dry eye in the room as Juleyka Cruz and her family first saw their beloved dog Daya. It took a moment for the dog to realize what was going on, and then she leapt for joy into their arms.

The family had been forced to relocate to Framingham without their dog after Hurricane Maria devastated Puerto Rico. They were excited to learn that Daya had been found and was on her way to Second Chance Animal Services Almost Home facility in North Brookfield.

Daya was one of 18 pets that arrived at Second Chance on the transport facilitated by St. Hubert's Animal Welfare of Madison, NJ and the Puerto Rico Animals Unite Initiative. Second Chance picked up the pets in New Jersey this morning. The remaining pets who don't have owners will be available for adoption at the Second Chance Adoption Center in East Brookfield after completing a quarantine period and medical release by staff veterinarians.

Conditions in Puerto Rico after Hurricanes Maria and Irma changed the lives of many families in Puerto Rico. Some who decided to relocate were forced to leave their pets behind due to a lack of transportation options. Second Chance was happy to continue their mission to help animals affected by the hurricanes by reuniting this dog and the owner. Last year Second Chance took in 120 pets from hurricane ravaged areas to help make room in the shelters in the affected areas for incoming pets. Second Chance also mentors a shelter in Puerto Rico through the Operation H.O.P.E. program. Two Second Chance vet techs traveled to Puerto Rico this past January, bringing supplies and helping to train local staff.

Second Chance CEO Sheryl Blancato reports Second Chance is grateful for their partnerships in Puerto Rico.

"We are excited to be a part of the happy ending for pets and owners who have been through so much. Keeping pets and their families together whenever possible is our first priority."

Second Chance is an emergency partner for the ASPCA, Humane Society of the United States, and several others. They answer the call for help from many locations.

Second Chance is a nonprofit 501c3 tax exempt organization that began in 1999 in East Brookfield and relies solely on donations and grants to operate. The organization operates an Adoption Center in East Brookfield, and three full-service Community Veterinary Hospitals North Brookfield, Springfield and Worcester. Second Chance helps over 34,000 pets a year through adoption, spay/neuter, veterinary care, community outreach, educational outreach programs, training, and a pet food pantry. ‘Nice win over a quality team’ for Warriors as Tantasqua tops Westborough

WESTBOROUGH — Regarded by head coach Gregg Anderson as “one of the best players in Central Mass., if not the best player,” Tantasqua Regional senior Tom Muir has helped the Warriors’ varsity lacrosse team grow leaps and bounds over the years. Anderson was quick to add that each team will key in on Muir, though, so a total team effort must be had to win as many games as possible. Tantasqua had Muir excel — he finished with five goals and two assists — but various other Warriors also chipped in to combine for six goals and two assists as they defeated Tantasqua's Drew Darger reaches his stick up in the air to catch a pass.

Westborough High, 11-7, at Joseph R. Mewhiney Field on Friday, April 13. “I think we got more kids involved in the offense,” said Anderson when compared to games a season ago. “I think this is a better team effort. I think at times we rode [Muir] like a rented mule [last season] and he was just exhausted. We’re not going to kill him by the end of the year. “Teams are really going to try and lock off Tom — he’s our best guy — and what we want to do is make them pay for it,” added Anderson. Tantasqua scored on its first shot just 2:13 in. Muir collected a pass from Drew Darger and rifled the ball past Rangers’ goalie Drew Arnold (nine saves). Darger scored again in the first quarter, this time with Chase Carlson assisting, as the Warriors led, 2-0, after the first 12-minute period. The next two goals were scored from the stick of Tantasqua’s Sean Farland — both in the first minute of the second quarter — as the Warriors jumped out to a 4-0 advantage. Westborough cut the deficit down to 4-1, but Muir completed first half scoring with another tally to make it 5-1 at the break. “I was really pleased with the way they came out and the way they kept their focus,” Anderson said of the Warriors’ mindset from the opening faceoff. Tantasqua continued to apply pressure in the third quarter, as they scored three of the four goals in the frame to surge ahead, 8-2, with just a period to play. Third quarter goals came from Darger, Muir and Cody Robert. Robert opened the final frame with a strike, and Muir and Austin Varney (Muir assist) also pocketed goals to finish off the Warriors’ 11-goal offense. Westborough scored five times in the fourth, but it was too little, too late for the Rangers, as Tantasqua goalie Mike Lucas played exceptionally well in the early stages of the game and finished with 12 saves. Defender Billy Jones was also instrumental in limiting Westborough’s offense. “Our goalie Mikey Lucas played really well,” said Anderson. Jon Rodenbush (three goals), Jackson Katz, Jack Taylor, Brendan Gately and Declan Gardner provided the offense for the Rangers, who dropped to 1-3 with the loss. “Central Mass. lacrosse has come so far in the last 10 years. This is one of the really top teams traditionally in Central Mass. and to beat them was a really nice way to start off,” said Anderson of getting the better of Westborough to improve to 2-0. “We’re happy with a nice win over a quality team.” Anderson is also pleased with the way his team is listening in practice to important assistant coaches David Ashworth and Tom Mills. “They’re doing the stuff we practice, and for me that’s a really good sign for things to come,” he said. “My assistant coaches, they’re the brains behind the operation. They put the schemes in.” The Warriors’ next chance for a win comes April 24 at Hopedale High, after press time, as Tantasqua has the entire April Vacation off from game action.

Sturbridge 10U romps over Spencer

Despite being able to hold only two indoor practices due to the horrible spring weather, the 10U Sturbridge Girls Softball League team was ready for its opening game of the season against Spencer. The team, sponsored by Table 3 Restaurant Group, scored early and often to win handily, 13-0.

Table 3 totaled 23 hits in the win, led by Stephanie Krog's four hits. Gretchen Strasheim, Madilyn Kerrissey, Fiona Knott and Ella Reed each had three hits. Abby Nduyu had a bases-loaded single and a long triple to right. Alexis Leclair and Annaleise Olander had two hits apiece. Maddie Brigham and Kiley Ryan also had singles, while Sophia Linden hit a hard grounder to first in her very first at-bat ever as a softball player.

Knott scored three runs, while Krog, Leclair and Reed each scored twice. In the field, Strasheim and Reed both pitched two shutout innings. Reed had an assist and Nduyu had a putout.

Stephanie Krog takes the ready position at first base.

Gretchen Strasheim had six strikeouts in two innings on the mound.

Alexis Leclair gets ready to nail one of her two hits on the day.

Tantasqua Regional Youth Soccer — U12 Division 2 girls battle hard

Parker Tunley track a midair throw-in.

The Tantasqua Regional Youth Soccer U12 Division 2 girls' team took on a strong squad from North Brookfield on Saturday, April 21 under a warm sun at Hitchcock Park in Holland. Coaches Jen Bailey, John Buday and Victor Matheson deployed a reduced roster on the tail end of Spring Break. Grace St. Laurent took her place between the posts, while Ella Gosselin, Leana Matczak and Ally Matheson assumed back-line duties with Abby Widen ready to sub in to help. Parker Tunley, Eleanor Colati and Emily Ogden positioned themselves across the midfield behind Kaylee Cain and Lauren Bailey at the forward positions.

North Brookfield fielded a considerably strong and mature team who were consistently able to beat Tantasqua to loose balls. St. Laurent was kept busy in net, but she helped immensely by taking the pressure off with aggressive keeper play and booming punts over midfield. Tantasqua's hard-working defense only gave up two rebound/deflection goals, giving North Brookfield a 2-0 lead at halftime.

At the half, Tantasqua got some much needed midfield assistance from Stella Buday. But, North Brookfield added two goals in quick succession to make it an insurmountable 4-0. Regardless, the Tantasqua girls showed their mettle by hustling and keeping the pressure on, coming oh-so-close to notching a goal on Colati's midfield crossbar ringer.

Ella Gosselin races to a 50-50 ball outside the penalty box.

Lauren Bailey takes away the midfield, forcing North Brookfield to go up the wing.

Turkey on the move as season opens

Wild Turkey!! Love them or hate them they are here to stay. Turkey have become a real nuisance to farmers and the general public in some areas. Birds raiding farmers' grain piles, and turkey chasing residents as they walk on their daily exercises, have many residents of the valley area looking for ways to get rid of them. Even Barry Burbank, a meteorologist on channel 4 was complaining last week about wild turkey chasing him as he was taking his daily jaunt.

Although some of the wild turkey seem a bit wacko at times, hunting them is an exciting and rewarding experience, not to forget the excellent eating that they provide for the family. It is not easy to call a wild turkey close enough for a shot, but that is why it is so rewarding to a hunter.

Turkey hunting opens April 30, in Massachusetts, and hunters should be able to harvest some of the nuisance birds. With all of the sightings, it should be a record year. The birds are already gobbling and strutting their stuff, and with the forecast for warmer weather this week, the birds should be getting well into their breeding season, and should be receptive to their calls.

Hunters are practicing wild turkey calling daily, trying out some of the latest calls. Mouth calls are very hard for some hunters to master, while others have very few problems. Box calls are the easiest to use and are the number one call being used by turkey hunters today. One local turkey hunter has mastered calling in wild turkeys with only his vocal chords. I swear he must have swallowed a mouth call and it became lodged in his throat. He is really good.

Many wild turkey hunters shoot only long beards, which are often three years of age or more. They often tip the scales at 20 + pounds and can weigh as much as 30 pounds, although 25 pounds is considered a trophy. Beard and spur length often make bragging rights among trophy hunters. Jakes are one year old birds that are easier to call into range for a shot, but an old tom bird can have you coming back on numerous days before giving the hunter a shot. The gobble of a turkey coming in at full strut can only be fully appreciated by a hunter.

After a few years of hunting wild turkey while sitting up against a large oak tree or against an old stone wall, I realized I was becoming a meal for the blood sucking ticks that managed to attach themselves to my body every year. After numerous tick bites and contracting Lyme disease twice, I decided to try a ground blind. Finally, I was off of the ground away from ticks, sitting in a comfortable chair, sipping coffee and having a bit to eat, as I patiently waited for a wild turkey to approach my set of decoys. Not only was I free of tick, but I found that calling in a wild turkey into range was a lot easier, as their keen eye sight was no match for my ground blind. I had turkeys walking within 10 feet of my blind. Using a spray called perimtrin on my clothing, I was tick free on my last two years of hunting turkey.

Arriving at your hunting site early is essential if you want to enjoy the hunt. Setting up my turkey decoys in the dark needs to be done prior to first light. My three decoys consist of one hen and two jakes that have a couple of fan tails from previous birds I harvested. The tails are dried on a board that has the scales at 20 + pounds and can weigh as much as 30 pounds, although 25 pounds is considered a trophy. Beard and spur length often make bragging rights among trophy hunters. Jakes are one year old birds that are easier to call into range for a shot, but an old tom bird can have you coming back on numerous days before giving the hunter a shot. The gobble of a turkey coming in at full strut can only be fully appreciated by a hunter. Hearing the put, put from a hen turkey will often shock the tom into gobbling also.

Patience to wait for a full strutting bird and gobbling as he comes in range for a shot is extremely exciting. As you squeeze the trigger, the gun discharges sending a loud roar thru the valley. Looking out of the window of your blind, you should see your bird lying motionless on the ground.

As you exit the blind a fast dash to the unresponsive bird is necessary, as some shot turkeys often play dead until you approach them. You may need to restrain the bird for a short period of time by placing your foot on him. Picking up the bird, you realize the huge bird's size and the long beard and nasty looking spurs that are signs of a trophy bird.

Shoot straight and be safe!!

Trout fishing is in full swing at local brooks, lakes and ponds. Most areas have had at least two stockings of trout placed in them from Massachusetts Fish & Wildlife to date. More on trout fishing next week!

Ticks are already showing up on local outdoorsmen and women, and their pets. Be sure to take preventive measures every day. Checking your pets and family members daily is essential. If ticks are allowed to stay embedded in your dog's skin or on yours for more than 24 hours, you may need to see your family doctor or veterinarian. Be sure to keep all of your pets medications up to date. It is going to be a long summer!

assistant coach Aaron Feis friends.

"We had been talking to the kids for about 10 minutes when we heard a fire alarm go off, but it only went off for about 10 seconds, which is very unusual," said the 40-year-old Brower. "Usually when you hear a fire alarm it usually goes off for about 10 minutes. It was one of those moments where you look around at each other and go, 'OK'."

Moments later Brower, Ryan, May and the four student-athletes who were meeting in the coach's office inside the boys' locker room found out the school was not holding a fire drill or testing the system.

"The fire alarm was shut off so quickly we thought nothing of it, but about 45 seconds later the words 'Code Red' came over the loudspeaker — twice," Brower recalled.

"Coach May went to the outer locker room doors and locked those and told everybody to get into his office."

"Shortly thereafter, we heard a popping noise and somebody said over the radio, 'hey, is that a firecracker?' And a voice came back and said, 'that ain't no firecracker'," Brower said.

"A minute or two later we heard 'pop, pop, pop.' One of the guys then opened one of the side doors to the outer office and when he did that you could hear the shots clear as day. They were a lot less muffled. At that point, we knew someone was shooting inside the school."

Brower, who grew up in the Brookfields and now lives in Auburn, and Ryan, a first-year coach at Nichols, had found themselves inside one of the deadliest school shootings in the nation's history; 17 students, teachers and administrators were killed that day.

Feis, who worked security at the school and served as the football team's offensive line coach, was one of the casualties.

Brower sized up the situation quickly and when he realized that he, Ryan, May and the four athletes were in the safest place they could be in the school, his attention turned to the student-athletes in the room.

"To see these four football players learning about one of their coaches being a victim of this was very hard for me," Brower said. "And, naturally for Coach May, who was very close with Coach Feis — Coach Feis had played for Coach May — it was really hard for him, too. All of those guys, Coach May and the four kids did an amazing job keeping their head on straight through all of it. It was definitely something you could see wasn't easy for them to find out about."

At that point, Brower — who with wife Amy is the parent of a 5-year-old daughter named Kaylee — and Ryan, went into a parental mode.

"We were really just trying to keep everyone's mind occupied by talking about football, by talking about college; anything not to focus on what was going on what's outside the room," Brower said.

"It was an incredibly stressful situation. That's not our community. We don't live there; we don't know the people in that community. I had only met these four young men that day, but they're hearing about friends and classmates; people they grew up with and they have known since they were little kids. I can't even fathom what was going through their heads."

One of those four young men was Tyler Goodman, the starting quarterback on the football team. The actions of Brower and Ryan have left a lasting impression on Goodman.

"Coach Brower and Coach Ryan kept us, the recruits, completely calm. They were trying to discuss any other topic they could than what was going on outside the locker room. That's what impressed me the most," Goodman said in a phone interview.

"When it came down to making my decision that was a big part of my deciding to go to Nichols. They treated me like a son. Every parent wants their children to go to a school where they know their kid would be treated like a son; treated the same way they were treated at home. You know, reminding us to stay on top of our school work, things like that — parental things."

Goodman made an overnight visit to Nichols Feb. 24-25. At the end of the first night of his visit he verbally committed to attend Nichols and play on the football team. Goodman said Coach Ryan was particularly comforting when Goodman found out Feis — whom he was very close to — had been killed in the shooting.

"When I found out Coach Feis passed, I lost it. A friend of mine actually called me and told me, 'Coach is gone.' I was in the coach's office and I broke down," Goodman said.

"Coach Ryan told me, 'it's going to be all right. You've just got to toughen up right now. You can call me whenever you need to and we can talk about this, but right now you have to be tough and strong for your team.' When I found out Coach Feis passed away, that took a chunk out of my heart."

Goodman said when he got onto the Nichols campus he received a sign from Coach Feis and the others who perished in the school that this was the place he was destined to continue his education.

"I visited Western New England College the day before and it was 75 degrees and hot and I was like, 'this is Florida weather'," Goodman said. "When I woke up the next day it was kind of chilly out and we drove to Nichols and it started snowing as soon as I got there. And it wasn't that icy snow, it was soft and fluffy snow."

"I looked up [toward heaven] and said, 'if someone is sending me a sign, I see it. I see the sign. OK guys, I get it. I got you. I'm listening.'" Goodman explained. "When I got to the administration office I saw Coach Brower and I went to shake his hand and he said, 'no, I want a hug.' I loved the campus. I'm not a big school type of kid. I'm a small school guy. When I found out the whole school was on one street I said to myself, 'you know what, this school is the perfect size for me.' Everything is all together. I committed right then."

Safety tips for parents of teen travelers

Graduating from high school is a significant milestone in the lives of young people. The next step for many teenagers after graduating from high school is to go off to college. But before teens make their way to college campuses, some may celebrate their graduations by traveling overseas without parental supervision for the first time.

Whether it's through a school-sponsored program or a graduation gift, overseas trips can be life-changing experiences for young people. Doing so without mom and dad in tow allows them to experience the sense of independence they will soon enjoy as college students.

While teenagers may look forward to traveling abroad, the parents they'll leave behind will no doubt experience some anxiety as their children travel thousands of miles away. But parents can take certain steps to reduce that anxiety without making trips less enjoyable for their sons and daughters.

- Stay in (digital) touch. Thanks to social media, parents no longer need to sit at home imagining what their wandering youngsters are doing in foreign countries. When sending children on overseas trips, parents can purchase international service for their children's phones so kids have access to social media websites and apps via their phones. Parents can then communicate with their children through such apps, asking kids to check in at the end of each day through direct messaging.

- Enroll youngsters in STEP. STEP, or the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program, is free to U.S. citizens and nationals. Sponsored by the U.S. Department of State, the service is invaluable to overseas travelers who, once enrolled, will receive important information about safety conditions from the embassy in their destination countries. It also makes it easier for embassies to contact travelers in case of emergencies like natural disasters, civil unrest or family emergencies.
- Make copies of travel documents. Before teens head overseas, parents should make multiple copies of important travel documents, including passports, travel itineraries, travel reservations (i.e., flight, hotel, etc.), and any bank and/or credit cards teens will be using while overseas. This can help local authorities track travelers who have gone missing or help those travelers who have been victimized by thieves or criminals. Keep a copy of these documents at home and give teens a copy of each document to take with them as well.

- Document your teenager's medical history, including medications. Parents no doubt know their children's medical histories backwards and forwards, but teenagers may not be so familiar, and, even if they are, that familiarity won't be too useful if kids are unconscious. Create a file that documents your child's medical history, including all medications the child takes and any allergies he or she has, and make sure kids travel with it at all times. Medical practitioners overseas will find this invaluable if they need to treat teens.
- Discuss safety and overseas laws. Before kids head off, parents should have a lengthy discussion about safe travel and the importance of obeying laws in their destination countries. Make sure youngsters know to avoid walking alone at night and to resist strangers' offers of food or drinks. In addition, teenagers should abstain from consuming alcohol even if it's legal for them to do so in their destination countries, as their low tolerance for alcohol can put them in precarious positions.

Overseas travel can change the lives of young people for the better. But parents of teens traveling abroad without parental supervision for the first time should work with their children to ensure they're safe for the duration of their trips.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING:

"DEFINITELY RECOMMEND"

We just recently bought a pre-owned Dodge truck. Smooth sale from start to finish. We worked with Frank who was very professional and easy to work with. We would definitely recommend Imperial.
