Fire claims commercial building

BY GUS STEEVES
STAFF WRITER

OXFORD – Lisa Caccialino plans to rise from the ashes.

Last Friday, her year-old business, Rust to Ruffles Antiques, was one of those destroyed by the 710 Main St. fire, but she has every intention of keeping it going.

“It pretty much devastated me and anyone that was in the store with me,” she said Monday. “But we’re going to start over. The building owners plan to rebuild, and we’ll reopen as soon as we can get the doors open.”

Until then, Caccialino admits she’s not quite sure we’re she’ll be, but she’s already trying to replace her destroyed inventory. When she spoke, she was at an auction.

“I’ve got people offering me space, but I have no inventory right now,” she said, noting she’ll maintain a Facebook presence and might sell out of a storage space for a while.

According to the Oxford EMS blog page, the fire broke out about 6:45 p.m. when the dispatcher started getting “multiple calls reporting ‘smoke coming from the chimney and front door, still no fire seen.’” At the time, Oxford EMS was responding to a car accident with an Auburn rescue truck, and those two became the first vehicles on the fire scene with another Auburn fire engine.

According to Auburn Deputy Chief Glenn Johnson, his crew saw “smoke pouring out of the eaves of the building.

There was heavy smoke; we definitely had a building fire.”

It soon became apparent the fire was on the second floor, racing its way the length of the building, but people on the scene quickly determined it had been evacuated. Nobody was hurt, but “given the extensive damage to the building and its multiple commercial tenants/contents, the dollar loss is estimated at one million dollars,” the blog states.

“The building burnt down, but the business is going to continue,” Caccialino said, noting she was previously in Grafton from 2008-12. She said she believes the cause was electrical, but has heard nothing regarding the investigation.

The State Fire Marshal’s office said she’s probably right.

“The fire started in the void space above the ceiling in the attic, but that area is gone now,” said Fire Marshal’s spokeswoman Jennifer Mieth. “They suspect this was an electrical fire, but

Oxford master plan seeks input

OXFORD – “All planning is local,” observed Glenn Chalder of Planimetrics. “There’s really no planning at the state and national levels.”

That’s why it’s important to pay attention to and participate in processes like the ongoing Oxford Master Plan, which is “probably weeks of months away from some sort of formal endorsement.” After a year of work with a local committee, Chalder was presenting that plan to about 30 people last Thursday.

“The townspeople need to be educated in how we can be a better town and take more pride in our town,” said Mary Ann Perveiler, a member of the Master Plan Committee (MPC). “The key issue is finding the money to do these things.”

“These things” comprises a long list – a variety of proposed changes over the next 10 years from expanding the sewer system to “enhancing downtown” with parking, pedestrian safety and zoning improvements, from protecting water and agricultural sources to guiding business growth. Chalder said the last time Oxford actually looked at the whole town this way was in 1984; since then it’s done some “topical updates along the way, but not really a comprehensive view.”

In that time, he said, Oxford has seen less population growth than expected, and its demographics have generally shifted toward the older age range, prompting him to state,

Legion hosts flag retirement ceremony

OXFORD – Many times, public events involving burning flags are situations of protest. But not last Sunday. There, it was a sign of respect, with salutes and even “Taps” played on a trumpet.

Veterans and other supporters gathered in the American Legion parking lot for the first formal flag Retirement Ceremony in years.

In a brief introduction, organizer Rick Vincent said he set up the event because the flag has been in every battle “from the American Revolution to the present day” and wanted to “value the sacrifices” of those who fought those battles.

“There was no official ceremony, and I wanted to bring awareness to the kids of what the flag means to them,” he said, adding he hopes it will spark interest in the wider community. Since he works at the middle school, he

June Real Estate Market Update

The Federal Reserve has once again for the 3rd consecutive quarter raised their benchmark interest rate. Which means it is up 1% since 2008 and continues to show the confidence in our current market and the health of our economy. The change in this rate does not have a direct result in mortgage interest rates but there is correlation between the two rates which means we should continue to see rising interest rates. As long as we continue to see positive growth in the economy we will most likely see another rate hike this year.

Today we have 1829 homes for sale in Worcester County compared to last month where we have 1709 homes for sale or about a 7% increase in homes for sale.

REALTOR'S REPORT
JAMES BLACK

I am still in the thought process that our inventory is too low for this interest rate hike to have a negative effect on our local Real Estate Market. It may even have the opposite effect and cause some buyers to push forward and buy before they increase ally stabilize our very active Real Estate Market. If we look at homes sold over past 12 months compared to the same time for the previous year there is an almost 3.7% increase in sales and a 6.4% increase in sales price while it taking over 20.6% faster more. I do however believe these moves to raise interest rates will eventually stabilize our very active Real Estate Market. If we look at homes sold over past 12 months compared to the same time for the previous year there is an almost 3.7% increase in sales and a 6.4% increase in sales price while it taking over 20.6% faster to sell the homes this year than last year in Worcester County. All three of these numbers were slightly better than last month showing continued positive information for sales in Worcester County. I will continually look at these numbers which when they start changing we know our market is starting to stabilize. If you hire Realtor that understands the economics that drive Real Estate they should be able to help you make the best financial decision for you.

Malser Trust Awards Grant to Blessed Backpack Brigade

The Blessed Backpack Brigade (BBB) and the Webster-Dudley American Legion (WDAL) are thrilled and grateful to the Janet Malser Humanities Trust for their grant of $8,250.00 for 2017-18. The funds will be used to provide free Fellowship Meals throughout this period.

The BBB was originally an offshoot from the Fellowship meals at St. Andrew Bobola church, which began in February, 2016. The BBB broke off from that group late in 2016 in order to provide the much-needed meals on weeks not covered by St. Andrew's. The BBB sought a new location and the WDAL quickly stepped up and offered their facility. The resulting "marriage" has worked out beautifully.

The result? Tasty and nutritionally balanced meals are provided free every 2nd and 4th Wednesday of each month from 5-6 pm. Meals are prepared under the supervision of Dave Hebert, General Manager of Food Service at Nichols College and his staff. In addition, volunteers buy the food, do food prep, Tuesday night set up, serving all meals via buffet-style lines, clean up after every meal, and publicity.

No one gets paid. Everyone does this because they want to give back to their communities.

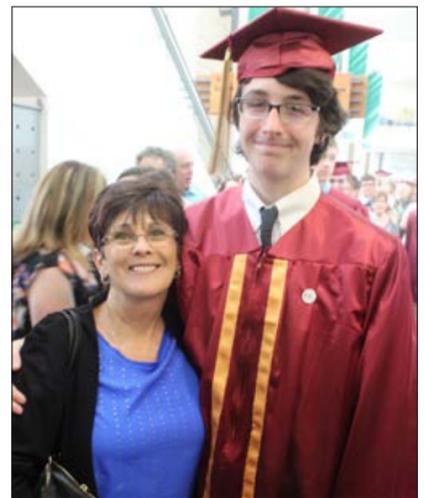

The meals are open to anyone...senior citizens, the needy, disadvantaged, homeless, unemployed, and under employed. To date, the BBB/WDAL meals are feeding between 87 and 110 people each meal.

In addition, the Blessed Backpack Brigade provides clothing, foodstuffs, and everything from toiletries to tents and sleeping bags to anyone who needs them. Donations of clean, usable items are always welcome. There is a donation barrel in the lobby of the Dudley PD.

You can also volunteer or make donations by calling Lisa Berg at 508-330-7242, or by calling Lauri Joseph at 508-943-1910.

CORRECTING AN ERROR

Quaboag Plantation - 300th Celebrations

2017 BRINGS THE OPPORTUNITY TO CELEBRATE 300 YEARS OF THE QUABOAG PLANTATION

With a theme of "Into the Wilderness and Out of the Flames" three local churches are preparing to celebrate 300 years of continuous service to the Brookfields.

Throughout the summer each of the churches with roots to the first meeting-house will be celebrating their individual histories as the Quaboag Plantation evolved to the precincts of North Brookfield, West Brookfield and South Brookfield, which became Brookfield. These separations were more driven by proximity to the meetinghouse(s); a fun fact, as we look to the histories of the churches.

August 19, will be a true milestone as the First Congregational Church of West Brookfield looks back in history and seeks reconciliation with its wronging of Lucy Stone by removing her from the church. Lucy was one of the nation's first woman's rights advocates. The event starts a 10 a.m. at the Bandstand on the Common in West Brookfield. Please put this date on your calendar to ensure you will be part of this historical ceremony.

October 14 the year will culminate with a commemoration of the installation in 1717 of the first "settled" pastor in the Brookfields. The "settling" of the pastor led to the General Court adopting Brookfield as a township, enabling the first Town Meeting held on December 5, 1718. This event will begin at 10 a.m. at the Foster Home site, Foster Hill Road in West Brookfield. The Brookfield Congregational Church, the West Brookfield Congregational Church and the Unitarian Universalist Church of Brookfield will participate.

Friday's Child

Devin is an adventurous thirteen-year-old boy of Caucasian descent. Devin likes to be outdoors whether it is on his bike, his skateboard or going on walks along nature trails. He has previously been in the Boy Scouts and was proud of the badges he earned. Devin does well in school where he is passing all of his classes. He does not require additional assistance with his educational needs in the classroom. He adores animals and does well when placed in a home with them. Devin is able to vocalize his feelings with adults he trusts. He wants to please adults and earn their praise.

Legally freed for adoption, Devin's social worker is seeking a single or two parent family with or without other children in the home. Devin has requested that if there are other children in the home they not be too much younger than him. Devin will need a family that is understanding of teenagers and it would be beneficial if a family has parented before or has worked with children. He will need a family that is able to continue twice per year visits with his birth mother and monthly contact with his four siblings who are placed separately.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Church honors its pastor for 31 years of service

WEBSTER — This past April, the First Baptist Church of Webster on East Main Street honored its pastor, Thomas B. Harmon, with a special day of acknowledgement for his service to his Lord and Savior through the church.

The congregation, family, friends, and fellow preachers were in attendance and testimonies of Pastor Harmon's service were given. A slide show was presented and recognition was given for many activities and events the church has sponsored over Pastor Harmon's pastorate. Many renovations, repairs, and improvements were done to the buildings during these years as well, mostly headed up under the direction of Pastor Harmon.

Plaques and awards were given to the Harmon's for their work done for and at the church. Claudette Harmon, the pastor's wife, was recognized and given flowers by the children in attendance for her work in children's ministries. She also is and has been office manager of the church.

A wonderful luncheon was served for all in attendance.

The day of honor was planned and structured by Deacon Ryan Labbe and Jenn Labbe with help from some of the congregation.

The Harmon's came to Webster in 1986. Pastor Harmon now holds the distinction of having pastored at this church the longest time followed closely by Rev. Thomas Filmer who had pastored 30 years.

Pastor and Mrs. Harmon will be stepping down shortly from their positions due to the Pastor's newly diagnosed terminal illness. A new Pastor will assume duties soon, church services go on regularly.

Time for a festival!

DUDLEY -- Sun and warmth graced this year's 67th annual Dudley Grange Strawberry Festival last Thursday afternoon. Hundreds of people came to sample the event's signature shortcake and other food, play some kids' games, tour a fire truck, listen to some fiddle tunes, and tour the nearby Black Tavern, among other attractions.

"It's important for us to bring in younger people." Such people today tend to favor denser areas with access to transit (which the seniors also need), so the plan seeks to encourage more apartments, more walkable access to businesses downtown, and developing the existing east-west and north-south hiking trail system. Related to that, the plan calls for finding some way to add commuter service to the existing freight railroad. Several participants (very few gave their names) referred to traffic, parking and road conditions as problems that are stymieing development, with one saying, "We've devalued our future development because it's traffic bound." Another said he'd like to see a commuter station "in the western part of town to alleviate the traffic coming through the town." Chalder agreed, noting Oxford's location has both good and bad qualities. Although it's accessible by I-395 and the railroad, the way Oxford's laid out funnels almost all traffic through the central intersection. One resident and business owner said he has a "love/hate relationship" with that traffic. Downtown firms are very concerned about parking "so we can stay in business." In response, Chalder said the plan doesn't commit Oxford to any specific approach addressing that; it advises looking at it in more depth, rezoning downtown into a central business district, adding multi-family buildings, and "creat[ing] an active streetscape" to encourage more walking around. Another resident cited a potential issue: "65 percent of the center of Oxford could be sold" in short order because so much of it is owned by a very few people. "Companies are coming in and biting," and the town needs to be able to control what happens, he said. MPC and Planning Board member Norman LeBlanc said the town tried that about 10 years ago, but Town Meeting rejected it, leaving the bylaws "very, very loose." Many developers have been willing to work with the board to give their projects a "village" look, but three of them rejected an attempt to promote shared parking. Chalder said the plan's key environmental concern is groundwater protection because "the water we drink comes from either a well on your property or a well in town." Most of the town's people -- and therefore most of their septic systems -- are in the area that has the best soils which drain to the aquifer most easily. Thus, "Watch what you do and be careful." He noted the MPC meetings discussed the need for a land trust and for protecting Chapter 61 land. "We should have a strategy in place. If these properties become available and it's a worthwhile proeprty, we should acquire it," he said. The problem, as always, is money, though: "we're not flush with cash," and Oxford needs to plan how to get it, he added. Similar care should be applied to development, where Chalder said the plan foresees more use of conservation or "open space" development for homes and creating or expanding business areas in three key parts of town -- the southern end, near Texas Pond, and near Depot Road -- while mixing the two into a "strong village area" downtown. One issue that concerned some people was the photo of a rotary downtown. Chalder said that was included only as an example of some of the ideas that have been considered over the years, not as something the plan is actually proposing. Leblanc agreed, noting the Planning Board "will probably discuss more of these things in detail" starting in August. He said their implementation depends on the citizens, and Chalder added it'll also depend on the selectmen's willingness to budget for things. In his experience, towns usually complete a third to half of the ideas within a ten-year period. Chalder said the plan's available on the town website, and the MPC is accepting comments on it until June 30. People should email them to plan@town.oxford.ma.us or contact Town Hall.

reached out to the seventh graders to get essays on that subject, and selected Victoria Lemay's brief piece as the winner of a $100 prize. "To me, our flag symbolizes every bit of pain and restraint America has overcome to be here today," Lemay wrote (and read Sunday). "Every single piece of matter to ever make up those stripes and stars to me represents a stout-hearted soldier and their family. "Our flag has innumerable meanings," she continued. "Our flag today holds the bottomless love and courage of every patriot in this country. Our flag is an emblem of everything we are privileged to have. We are able to create our new and own identity every day. Our flag will continue to fly high for now, and the rest of time." Afterward, Lemay said she wrote the essay because "there was nothing to lose. I knew what I was going to write, and decided it was the best I could do, so I entered it." Some of those present weren't veterans besides Lemay and others too young to be. One was Ken Germain, who said he joined the Sons of the Legion because his parents, grandparents and other family members were vets. "I had to do something because I didn't serve but have respect for those who did," he said, noting the various groups work well together. "We're all very cohesive now and try to give each other full support." According to www.ushistory.org's webpage on the subject, such a ceremony is normally done with two primary flags -- the old one and its replacement -- with any others collected being incinerated (as the Legion did). It should be done outdoors, preferably at sunset, with two color guards -- one for each flag -- and a brief "final tribute" to the old flag as it's brought down from the pole for the last time. For the retirement burning itself, it states, "It is important that the fire be sizeable -- preferably having burnt down to a bed of red hot coals to avoid bits of the flag being carried off by the roaring fire." The flag is then refolded from its traditional triangle into a "coffin shaped rectangle" and consigned to the flames with a salute. While it burns, the National Flag Foundation recommends singing "God Bless America," talking about the flag's meaning, and doing the Pledge, followed by silence. Once it has burned completely, the ashes should be buried, it states. Another page of the website give s a timeline of flag history. The first Stars and Stripes, with a circle of stars, was created by Betsy Ross in May 1776; the Continental Congress adopted it in June 1777. A few variants without stars had been in use previously, including one with Britain's Union Jack in the corner. Several versions besides the official changes to reflect added states were used in various places for many years afterward. It wasn't until 1897 that the first flag desecration statutes came into being in several states "after supporters failed to obtain federal legislation," the site states. The first federal flag code came in 1941, Flag Day in 1949, and federal flag desecration law in 1979. By then, most states had created their own, and they were first upheld by the Supreme Court in 1907. That case specifically outlawed exactly what we now often see -- beer being sold with a flag label -- and most statutes ruled commercial use of the flag illegal. Later cases restricted flag desecration laws on free speech grounds, and there have been a few failed attempts to push anti-desecration constitutional amendments since then.

there's no area of origin left to examine, so it will be listed as 'cause undetermined.'" The fire ultimately reached three alarms, and Oxford called on mutual aid for more help, with 11 communities from as far away as Upton and Southbridge coming to help. Johnson said Auburn's people were on scene for about six hours, departing around midnight, and the blog states the last Oxford person cleared the scene a little after 1 a.m. Saturday. Johnson said each town defines a third alarm, or any other, a little differently depending in part on what equipment it has. Fire department dispatchers typically have "alarm cards" that define which other towns to call for specific needs, and a third alarm is usually "when you really start bringing in other towns," he said. Newly-arriving towns often start by providing station coverage while whoever's there goes to the fire scene, although they're sometimes sent directly there. For major events, fire crews can travel quite some distance. Johnson said the farthest he could think of that Auburn went was Springfield, in response to the 2011 tornado. Such services are provided free of charge; towns don't bill each other. "Essentially, you could go anywhere, but you typically stick to your neighbors," he added. "Mutual aid is essential to all our communities. We rely on it because none of us have the resources without it." Assessing records show the building is owned by James Smith, who is also a principal of its main tenant, New England Land Survey. He could not be reached for comment.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gervasi: Poor decision

To the Editor:
 Harrington Hospital was established in 1931 to serve Southbridge and nearby communities. The seed money for the hospital, $150,000, was pledged by Charles and Gertrude Harrington. Through the years Harrington Hospital has had fund raisers to build additions to meet the needs for technological advancements. Many people from near and far have taken part in these fund raisers. Now, after 85 years of having a maternity ward, the community faces the news that the maternity ward will be relocated to Worcester and the mentally challenged from the Worcester area will now occupy the maternity ward facility. My first disappointment is the fact that when the Harrington family funded this hospital it had a maternity ward. Next is the fact that residents of Brimfield, Brookfield, Charlton, Dudley and Webster and more depended on this service, but now they will be told to go to Worcester. This is an insult to all who contributed to the growth of the hospital, to have the privileges of the maternity ward moved away. I urge the community to stand up and have their voices heard, this is not right, it is simply a money matter and poor administration.

To the Editor:
 I would like to thank all of the candidates who volunteered to serve our town by running for office on the June 12, 2017 ballot here in Dudley, I look forward to working with all of you. I am honored to be your newest Selectman. I am truly humbled by the results. Although my campaign is finished, my work has only begun. Whether you voted for me or not, rest assured I heard you.

I want to continue to listen to you. With that in mind, I have changed the name of my campaign Facebook page to Kerry Cyganiewicz Sr., Dudley Selectman. Feel free to reach out to me there with any questions and concerns as you see fit. Thank you again for your support.

Don't obscure number plates with carriers and racks

CHIEF'S CORNER
 STEVE WOJNAR

With warmer weather finally here, people are seeking outdoor recreation or traveling on vacation. Bicycle racks are a common sight on the rear of many cars at this time of the year. I was asked if there were any restrictions on the use of these racks attached to the rear of a vehicle.

Luggage or bicycle racks are an easy way to increase a vehicle's storage or trunk space while traveling. One main concern, that many people may not be aware of, is the possible obstruction of the vehicle's rear license plate. If a bicycle rack or other device is placed in such a way as to block the clear view of the number plate, this is a violation.

Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 90 Section 6 outlines the display of number plates. It states in part, "number plates shall be kept clean with the numbers legible and shall not be obscured in any manner by the installation of any device obscuring said numbers, and during the period when the vehicle or trailer is required to display lights the rear register number shall be illuminated so as to be plainly visible at a distance of sixty feet."

This law requires all number plates to be visible. It particularly prohibits the installation of any device which can obscure the numbers. A bicycle rack or other type of carrier must be positioned in such a way so as to not interfere with the display of the license plate. It is also important to remember this law applies to both the front and rear plates. A violation of this section can result in a $35 civil infraction.

This law insures vehicles traveling on the roads can be properly identified. It is important to keep the plate clearly visible. This is a critical consideration before purchasing or installing any device on your vehicle. If the use of a storage rack on the vehicle blocks the number plate, you may need to seek an alternative, such as a roof device. This will still allow you to transport larger items and keep you in compliance with the law.

I wish to congratulate Sergeant Dean Poplawski, Principal Pare, the staff, faculty, and students of the Dudley Middle School for another successful completion of the sixth grade DARE Program. The ceremony took place on Wednesday, June 14. A large crowd was on hand to support the students as they completed this course designed to promote anti-drug and anti-violence attitudes with our young people. This is completely funded by donations and fund raisers. I congratulate the students and thank the school staff, Sgt. Poplawski, and the parents for their dedication to these children.

Principal Pare is moving on to other opportunities after the school year. He has done an outstanding job. We thank him for his support of this program and wish him all the best in his future.

Finally, Congratulations go out to all involved with the Dudley Grange's Annual Strawberry Festival. The weather was great and another large crowd was on hand Thursday, June 15, to enjoy the events of the evening and the shortcakes. Thanks also go out to Nichols College and the others who allowed use of several properties for parking. The use of this off road parking, and the cooperation of those who attended, made the area much safer for vehicles and pedestrians. My thanks go out to all those who worked extremely hard to make this celebration another success and an unofficial welcome to summer.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com.

Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

EDITORIAL

Fill'er up

We get to a point in this business when we stare at the plans for a new issue and begin to worry...what is happening? Will there be good, interesting items to fill the pages? Will we be needing to fill pages with unrelated, albeit useful information because there isn't enough news pertinent to a town?

It's the one big nightmare. So far, because the towns covered by Stonebridge Press newspapers are vital, vibrant and busy places, the nightmare has yet to come true.

Could we do a better job of finding more pertinent information? Especially as it pertains to what is happening in town hall or as it affects the budgets and the roads and stuff that affects taxpayers and wallets? Always. In every town.

And there is also this, if we don't get to every meeting or at least due diligence on following up and following through, it gives anyone who just MIGHT think no one is watching a freer hand to do something we all might regret later.

No specific things come to mind, but temptation is always greatest when you think you can away with it. When no one is watching.

And that is a big piece of what journalism is supposed to do. From the first small, single sided sheets that raised questions about local taxes (visit Old Sturbridge and the print shop, they have examples), and as it followed of course the "sedition" that caused the entire colonial set up on this side of the Atlantic to rebel and become its own nation thank you very much, has been charted and in some cases fomented in the pages of a newspaper or its equivalent of the time.

Patrick Henry wrote pamphlets explaining his theories of government. Newspapers reprinted them.

It is still happening, newspapers do indeed keep an eye on local politics, state politics and yes, national politics, whether politicians want them there or not. Budget cuts mean there aren't nearly as many feet on the ground doing it, but they are still there and the ones who are there are working very hard at it.

We have a theory in the business, if you think we must be decrying the screaming and ranting about whether the news being reported is "fake" or in some way manipulated. It probably isn't, being purposely tilted or created as an entirely bald faced lie of any way shape or form, but reporters might take a stance, choose which quotes to use, so as to give a story the "flavor" they want. Yes, it does happen. Is the entire story a "fake" then? No, most certainly not. The choice of which quotes to use are relevant of course, they give more weight to a story, and actually often make it easier to read, clarify information and let you know how people feel about issues. If we DIDN'T quote anyone that too would cause problems.

If you listen and watch carefully, to the quotes and then those who dislike the choices, you might quickly discover that, whoever doesn't like the quote and derides it most likely prefers the opposite point of view; no matter which one that might be. And rather than pick up the gauntlet and explain their own point of view in a serious way, would rather level accusations of bias, fakery and lying hoping in some way someone will take up the topic for them.

And back to that theory here it is: whether you liked it or hated it, you read it. And that is always the ultimate goal. We hope you read it, we hope we give you information you can use, we hope we perhaps entertain you a bit, and leave you wanting more.

In a different vein entirely we must apologize profusely for mistakes made in the newspaper recently. We have reprinted both an obituary and a photo with corrected information; we apologize for errors made.

PATRIOTISM

As we reflect on the recent observance of Memorial Day and prepare to celebrate Independence Day on July 4th, it is worth pausing to ponder the meaning of patriotism. Unfortunately, the word "patriotism" is sometimes misused and over-invoked to the point that one may say it has become diluted or devalued. It would be useful, therefore, to unpack the concept of "patriotism" and reflect on its real meaning.

BEYOND THE PEWS

MSGR. ANTHONY CZARNECKI
 RECTOR OF ST. JOSEPH BASILICA
 WEBSTER, MA

The word "patriotism" comes from the Latin word "patria," which means homeland. The root word is "pater," meaning "father." There is an analogous relation between one's homeland and one's father. According to the teaching of Saint John Paul II, patriotism is connected with the Commandment of the Decalogue to love your father and your mother. The heritage which we call the "fatherland" or "motherland" comes to us through our parents and requires the duty of "pietas," which according to the ancient Romans implied filial affection, respect, and reverential love.

True patriotism means something totally different than blind nationalism and chauvinism. Excessive nationalism is the self-centered love for one's country with an overpowering, aggressive attitude toward others. It is also an outlook on life, an ideology. Chauvinism is the exaggerated attachment to one's country with disregard for others. Patriotism, on the other hand, has an emotional connotation and means loving and having a healthy sense of pride toward the homeland - especially, its history, tradition, language, common achievements, and so forth. It is that love which motivates a person to be inspired and to do extraordinary things when the common good is in danger. The history of our country shaped the identity of the American Nation. Monumental achievements like the Constitution and Bill of Rights, national heroes such as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and personalities such as Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin, made a lasting imprint on the common psyche of our society.

Unfortunately, in our country, as well as many others, egocentrism, exaggerated individualism, and disregard for Judeo-Christian tradition are becoming part of everyday life. This callous disregard for the common good is a sharp thorn in the lives of the majority of Americans.

Many place patriotism at the top of the hierarchy of American values because it determines our identity. Patriotism is personified in national symbols, such as the American flag, the national anthem, the Office of the President, the legislatures, and the courts—to name a few. These icons are the living embodiment of our nation's spirit, values, ideas and character.

The present reality of our country with its demonstrations, violence, intimidation and mutual distrust threatens the foundation of our country, our national ethos, and degenerates the true spirit of patriotism. It appears that the core force behind our nation's cultural turmoil which distorts our understanding of the word patriotism is a misunderstanding of the word freedom. The concept of freedom has not only a variety of meanings but became a slogan repeated in many circumstances of life.

The purpose of freedom when properly understood, always leads to full realization of the human person, to his greatness, to his fidelity of great ideals. If freedom is disassociated from the dignity of the human being, from the goodness, altruism, and ability to make sacrifices, then it leads to confusion, enslavement, and dysfunction. We cannot follow the noisy ideas and empty slogans. Therefore, on a daily basis, we need to reflect on life, on the system of values, and return to the core source where the word freedom is defined and learned. The school of true freedom and patriotism is the family because a family has to be built by love. The family is the environment where every member rediscovers the flame of love and affirmation for his own life and is accompanied with the sense of responsibility for its future. It is the family which carries, in our time, the overall responsibility of the ontological state of our nation and the level of patriotism in our homeland.

President Kennedy once said, "Unless there is a most intimate association between those who look to the far horizons and those who deal with daily problems, we shall not pass through these stormy times with success."

When we come together, to support our fatherland and each other with love, respect, and clear-minded loyalty, and not fear, hate and small-minded hostility that is when we will find what it truly means to be patriotic. We have to pray and trust in God that even in the center of darkness of human absurdities, the new dawn of hope forces its way which will make polarized society one family again. Perhaps this is the time to forget division, party lines and rediscover the true meaning of the first words of our Constitution—"We The People."

Stripers get the fishermen out early

Freshwater fishing on local ponds and lakes has been providing anglers with some great fishing for largemouth and smallmouth bass. Early morning and late evening fishing is the most productive for many anglers. Weedless surface plugs and soft plastics fished along top of lily pads, has produced a lot of fish, if you can pull them out of the pads after a hookup. Braided lines make the task a lot easier when fishing in heavy weeds and lily pad areas. One local angler harvested a nice four pound largemouth bass from the West River last week. Webster Lake, known for the large population of smallmouth bass, has also been giving up some nice fish. Live bait is also working well for bass fishing anglers. Meadow Pond in Whitinsville continues to produce some big bass.

This past weekend West Hill Dam held their annual Kids Fishing Fair. The turnout was light, but all kids that participated in the annual event had a great time. A few trout were caught along with a few other species of fish. This week's photo shows 4 1/2 year old Ava Howard and her dad Mike enjoying a day of fishing at the fish fair.

Fishing for stripers last week on the Providence River was very good for this writer and my brother Ken. After listening to other striper fishing anglers all week about their successful fishing adventures on the Providence River, we decided to give it another try last Wednesday. Pulling my old dilapidated body out of bed at 2:00 a.m. was not easy, but after taking a shower & eating a light breakfast we were on the road by 3:30 a.m. Arriving at the boat ramp at Hanes Park by 4:30 a.m., first light was already starting to show. We soon encountered some nasty mosquitoes at the ramp. With everything in the boat and ready to go, we climbed into the boat. The outboard motor quickly thrust the 16 ft. watercraft into the early morning light, and we were on our way. What a beautiful morning. Winds were light and the seas were calm.

As we headed out into open water we observed a few bait fish breaking on the surface. We attempted to snag a few for fishing with no success. Sunrise was fantastic. Starting the motor again we headed out to the "BP" Buoy and noticed a small group of boats fishing in the area. It did not take long before we observed a school of porgies breaking on the surface. We quickly snagged a few baitfish for fishing. I observed a couple of anglers fighting stripers on their fishing rods, and we soon realized we had landed in the middle of a feeding frenzy.

I also observed most of the boats in the area trolling live porgies, and most anglers had fish on in a matter of minutes. We quickly rigged our rods for trolling and hooked a live pogie in the mouth. Slowly letting the fish out in back of the boat my brother Ken and I each had a strike, but missed both fish. Letting the bait out again using my lead core 50 lb. test line had me placing my live baitfish under the school of fish. Within a few minutes, I had a nice fish on. When it was finally brought to the side of the boat I realized a nice 40 inch striper. My brother netted the fish and pulled it into the boat.

After a couple of pictures, we started to fish again. My brother Ken soon had a striper on and it was quickly brought to the boat. We were all done fishing in two hours, as the daily limit is one fish per day per angler. What a great few hours on the water. We were back home early morning and I was back in bed by noon for a few hours of sleep. Gone are the days of fishing all day. This week's second picture shows Joe Kelley of Quincy with his 46 1/2 lb. striper after weighing it in. Photo courtesy of On the Water magazine. A report of big stripers moving into the area of Block island is good news. Colder than normal water temperatures are being blamed for their late arrival this year.

It sure will be nice when all of the gypsy moths are gone. So much for the prediction of rain causing the nasty critters to die off. The devastation to the trees again this year is almost as bad as last year.

Roundup of Timely Tips for Summer

TRAINOR

The "lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer" will soon be here - if you know some tricks of the trade to make your warm weather activities less of a hassle! The following timely tips are a roundup of seasonal hints geared toward carefree summertime living.

Yard & Garden Tips:

*Citronella candles can be costly! Make your own economical citronella candles to protect your patio or deck from insects by drilling a one inch hole near the wick of an ordinary thick candle.

Fill the hole with citronella, cover with melted wax and pocket the savings!

*'Tis the season of poison ivy! If you find some of the pesky plant in your yard, here's an environmentally safe way to bid the stop the poisonous pest in its tracks. Mix together three pounds of regular table salt with a gallon of soapy water. Spray the solution directly on the plant's leaves and stems. It works for mere pennies a treatment.

*Bug repellents are costly, but not if you cut out the fluff and buy the active ingredient in expensive commercial formulas. The Center for Disease Control recommends "Repel" as a safe and effective mosquito repellent. Before you run out to buy a pricy pump bottle of the stuff, stock up on its main ingredient, lemon eucalyptus - and save a bundle!

*Who wants to spend money on a new garden hose? Extend your leaky hose to the end of the season this way: Insert a toothpick into the hole, just penetrating the hose wall. Cut off the toothpick flush with the surface of the hose. Wrap the hose with duct tape that covers the toothpick plus two inches on each side of the repair. As the water flows through the hose, the toothpick will swell and fill up the hole and making a tight seal.

Produce Pointers:

*Bananas give off a gas called ethylene. If you want to speed up the ripening of other fruits place them next to your bananas.

*When green grapes have a yellow tinge to them they are at their sweetest.

*Never store tomatoes in the refrigerator. Besides losing their nutritional value, they will also lose their flavor. Store tomatoes above 55°F.

*Washing produce is a necessary chore, but you can save money if you whip up this homemade version of the pricey commercial brand for pennies: In a spray bottle, mix two tablespoons of baking soda with one cup of water. If you want add a tablespoon of lemon juice. Spray veggies, let sit for a few minutes and rinse!

*To make a homemade "fruit fresh" clone, dissolve two vitamin C tablets in a large bowl of water. Dunk in the fruits or vegetables to keep them fresher longer.

Vacation Tricks:

*Going on vacation? You can keep your house plants watered for up to a month by watering the plant well and then placing it (pot and all) in a clear plastic bag. Tie it securely on the top and bottom. Place the plant in northern light. When you return, simply untie the top and let the plant adjust to room air for a day or two before removing the plastic completely. Or, if you have several smaller plants, simply place a thick, wet towel in the bottom of the bathtub and place pots on top of the towel for the duration. The plants should remain moist for about a week.

*Planning a road trip? Make up economical freezer packs to keep cooler foods chilled while you're on the road. Mix one part rubbing alcohol with two parts water & freeze in a gallon size ziplock bag. The bag will be pliable enough to conform to soda cans, fruits or other cooler items. Just re-freeze and use over and over again. This same formula made up in a smaller batch also works great as an icebag to sooth injuries. Just be sure to put a damp cloth between the skin and the ice-pack to prevent frostbite.

*Always toss several ziplock storage bags in your luggage. They can be used to stow wet swimsuits, dirty socks, sandy seashells, and have dozens more impromptu vacation uses! When you pack, toss a tablespoon or so of baking soda into a large ziplock bag to prevent wet bathing suits from getting mildew on the trip home.

Declare your financial Independence Day

We're getting close to the Fourth of July, when we celebrate the freedoms we enjoy in this country. The U.S. constitution grants us many of these liberties, but we have to earn others - such as our financial freedom. What steps can you take to achieve the financial independence you need to reach your long-term goals?

For starters, always work to build your resources. Contribute as much as you can afford to your IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. At a minimum, put in enough to earn your employer's matching contribution, if one is offered. If you don't take advantage of this match, you are essentially leaving money on the table.

While how much you invest is an essential factor in gaining your financial freedom, how you invest your money is equally important. So make sure you have sufficient growth potential in all your accounts. While growth-oriented investments, such as stocks and stock-based vehicles, carry investment risk, you can help moderate this risk by also including other investments, such as bonds.

Another way to gain your financial independence is to liberate yourself from the shackles of debt. This isn't always easy, of course - most of us have experienced times when our cash flow simply wasn't sufficient to meet our expenses, so we had to take on some type of debt, either through a credit card or a loan. But the more you can control your debts, the more money you'll have to save and invest for your future.

One way to manage your debt load is to build an emergency fund, containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, which you can use to pay unexpected costs such as a major car repair or a large medical bill. Ideally, you should keep this money in a liquid, low-

risk account, so you can access the funds quickly and without penalty. Aside from possibly helping you control your debts, an emergency fund also may enable you to avoid dipping into your long-term investments to pay for short-term needs.

Thus far, we've only discussed achieving your financial freedom through methods of saving and investing. But you also need to consider your protection needs, too. If you were to become ill or suffer a serious injury, and you could not work for a while, your financial security could be jeopardized. Your employer might offer you disability insurance as an employee benefit, but it may not be enough for your needs, so you might need to purchase some additional coverage on your own. And to help ensure your family's financial security, you'll also need sufficient life insurance.

You also might want to protect yourself from the catastrophic costs of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay. The average annual cost for a private room in a nursing home is more than $92,000, according to the 2016 Cost of Care Study issued by the insurance company Genworth. And Medicare generally covers only a small percentage of these expenses. You may want to consult with a financial professional to learn about ways you can protect yourself from the long-term care burden.

By following these suggestions, you can go a long way toward declaring your own financial independence. Consider taking action soon.

Graduated seniors play in Mewhiney Chapter Central Mass. All-Star Classic

WORCESTER — Commerce Bank Field at Foley Stadium once again hosted the Joseph R. Mewhiney Chapter Central Mass. All-Star Classic on Friday evening, June 16. The Classic, its fourth annual, highlights recently graduated high school football players. The game featured a North versus South format, with 13 members of the South team representing the Stonebridge Press coverage area.

And South picked up an early safety to lead, 2-0, before Shepherd Hill Regional's Josh Gelb caught a 4-yard touchdown pass as they surged ahead, 9-0. South held a 16-0 halftime lead and grew the advantage to 23-0 shortly after Uxbridge High's Mike Rosa hauled in an interception early in the fourth quarter.

The North side then scored to make it 23-6. South finished the scoring with another touchdown to win a 30-6 decision.

Cherry Valley Legion falls to Milford as it searches for first victory they are playing out of position to fill the void needed by the team.

Cherry Valley played Post 59 (4-1) scoreless through the first two innings — starter Evan Bond escaped a jam in the first and then retired the side in order in the second — but Milford erupted for seven runs in the bottom of the third.

Post 443 had its best chance to score in the fourth inning — and actually did get a runner to cross home plate — but a substitution error negated the run. Brett Willand led off with a bunt single and stole second base. Then Bond hit a grounder to second, which took a tough hop for an error that allowed Willand to score. But the run was disallowed and Milford tacked on three runs in the fourth before getting through a scoreless fifth inning to end the contest because of the 10-run differential.

Tyrus Garvin may have been Post 443's best player, as he recorded seven putouts from his shortstop position and also went 2 for 2 at the plate.

Stephens believes that the team is starting to play better and that a victory will come soon.

"There were three games that we played last week that could have gone either way," he said of close-call losses to East Side, North County and Northbridge.

Stephens also noted that his players are gaining valuable experience, which bodes well for Cherry Valley's future.

"I'm going to lose two kids off this team, and that's it. They [the rest of the roster] should all be back," he said, as first baseman Ryan Fahey and Kyle Johnson — who pitched the fourth inning versus Milford — are in their last year because of the age restriction.

BY GREG BARLOW
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE — The thunder started to roar and then the rain began to pour during the fifth inning of Sturbridge Post 109's American Legion baseball game versus Northborough Post 234 on Monday, June 19 at Tantasqua Regional. The remainder of the contest was postponed due to the inclement weather, as Sturbridge trailed Northborough, 2-0.

The game was scheduled to pick up right where it left off on Friday, June 23 — with one down in the bottom of the fifth and Sturbridge's Nate Carty on second base after a very wet, wild pitch was tossed roughly three feet high by Northborough starter Anthony Francalancia.

Francalancia, whose breaking ball was working well versus Post 109, had logged four strikeouts in the game, giving up just two hits. Matching his four K's was Southbridge High product Tyler Stoever, who started on the bump for the home team. Stoever gave up five hits and two earned runs through the first five frames.

Sturbridge entered the game 3-5 overall after coming off two straight losses.

"Hopefully the bats will come alive on Friday," said Sturbridge manager Jim Rosseel.

With just one player in college and only a couple seniors on the roster, Sturbridge is a young team. Rosseel, who has been at the helm of the program for 11 years, looks to build his squad and expects to be at the top of the Zone in the coming seasons.

"We beat three good teams, including Grafton Hill, Northbridge, and then we beat last year's champs, Shrewsbury," noted Rosseel. "We're young — the year after next, we're going to be something."

Post 109 got runners on base in four of the five innings played, but unfortunately, the runs weren't there. On the other hand, Northborough (2-4) entered the diamond hot after winning its past two games.

Stoever ran into trouble in the opening inning. Leading off for Northborough, Clark University product Collin Mitchell launched the first pitch down the middle for a base hit before stealing second base. He reached third on a grounder and was driven in by Max Morhardt on a sacrifice fly.

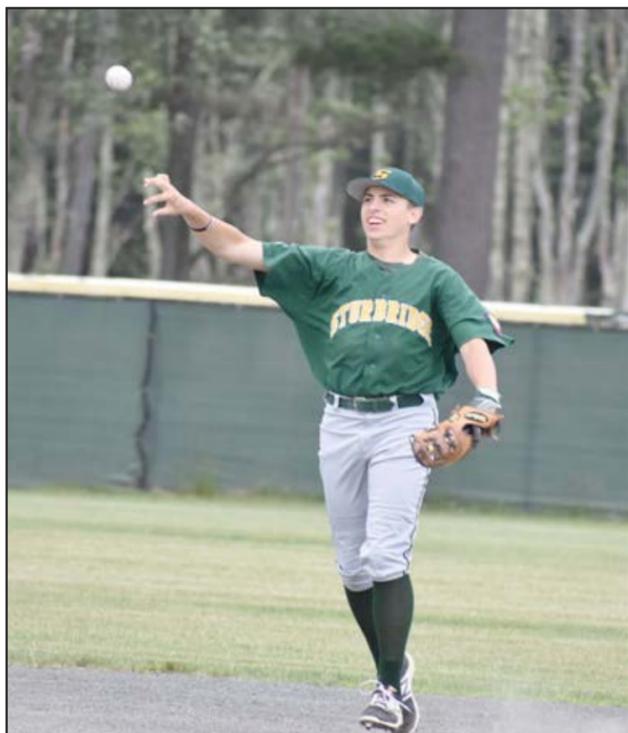

Northborough held its 1-0 lead through the next three innings, as both pitchers retired nine of the following 11 batters faced. Sturbridge then went down 2-0 in the top of the fifth inning after Northborough plated a run on a RBI double to left field by Drew Courtwright.

The rain then started to come down hard in the bottom half of the fifth, as Carty, who walked, reached second base on a wild pitch before the empires decided to postpone the contest.

Both teams agreed to finish the game at Memorial Field in Northborough since they were originally scheduled to play another game there that day.

hit. Wilbur's complete game included two earned runs allowed on eight hits with five strikeouts and four walks.

June 18
Wachusett 15, Sturbridge 6 — Post 109 ended their weekend with their second straight loss, as Sturbridge's record dropped to 3-5.

Central Mass. Pop Warner votes to become an Unlimited Division

Central Mass Pop Warner Youth Football & Cheer has voted to move from the traditional weight metric that Pop Warner is known for, to an Unlimited Division. Parents who were told in the past that their children did not meet the weight requirements to participate in the Pop Warner program can now enroll their sons and daughters for the 2017 season. This decision was a result of the ever-changing demographics as they relate to youth football in New England in general and in Central Massachusetts in particular. The Unlimited Division has been piloted over the past few years with great success in regions from the eastern seaboard to the Midwest states.

"In the past two years, we have lost some programs with 40-year traditions because they wanted higher weight limits to allow for greater access to all that the Pop Warner experience offers. This announcement today not only eliminates the discussion about weight altogether for Central Mass. Pop Warner teams, but more importantly, clearly communicates to all parents and youth football and cheer programs in the area that they are all welcome, regardless of a player's size," said Ginger Ferraro, Director.

The benefits of this move are many and varied, including among others: A reduction in travel time for most teams, inclusion of more athletes in more regions, greater access to Pop Warner's many scholarship and grant opportunities, and perhaps most importantly, the ability to experience Pop Warner's emphasis on scholastic achievement and recognition for efforts off the field.

Two food trucks are coming this year and there will once again be a raffle and DJ. Local police departments and fire departments, and police departments from far away as West Springfield to North Providence will be coming to join.

All donations and proceeds made through sponsorship and the tournament will go to the Memorial Fund for the Tarentino Family. Each sponsor will be recognized on a single sponsorship banner displayed at the tournament with the Grand Slam sponsors receiving recognition on their own personalized banner. Charlton Wildfire make it three for three in tournament play this spring

During the weekend of June 10-11, the Charlton Wildfire softball team traveled to Cranston, R.I. to play in their 14U invitational and, once again, pulled out an exciting finish to win their third tournament in as many tries this spring. The team is made up of players from Brimfield, Charlton, Dudley and Leicester.

Last month they scored three runs in their last at-bat to win a tournament in Tewksbury, 3-2, and they came back from a 4-1 deficit to win walk-off style in their home tournament with a 5-4 victory. In Cranston, it wasn't a walk-off but still came in dramatic fashion against a very good Cranston team, 7-6.

Charlton is led by the pitching trio of Racheal Flamand, Grace Gamelli and Sofia Hargrave, who have all split pitching duties with great success in leading the team to an 18-1 record so far.

In pool play on Saturday the Wildfire defeated Dartmouth, 9-1, behind Gamelli's four-hit pitching and the hitting of Brooke Garrepy and Erin Gerber, who each had two hits while Gerber drove in four.

Later that day Hargrave, who hit three home runs in the Charlton Tournament, shutout FPN Blue with a one-hitter to go along with six strikeouts and didn't allow a runner past second base. It was a scoreless game until the fourth when Garrepy broke the tie with a single to right field that scored two runs. Emma Lanpher, who hit all weekend, reached based three times with two hits and a walk.

In their final pool play game Charlton ran up against a very good Cranston Ravens team that runs, bunts and runs some more and ran past Charlton, 9-2. The Ravens put three up in the first against the Wildfire and didn't look back. Flamand went the distance and battled throughout in taking the loss.

On Sunday's knockout day, the Wildfire started the quarterfinals by shutting out Apponaug, 10-0, behind another pitching gem from Gamelli. She allowed just three hits and only threw 40 pitches in five innings of work.

Charlie Blair got the offense going in the first with a two-run single and had four-RBI's for the game. Kyleigh Sutherland played an outstanding third base as she has all season and made multiple putouts, including a hard line drive out in the second inning.

In the semifinals the Wildfire jumped out to early 10-0 lead and held on for a 14-6 victory over Dartmouth to advance to the final. Flamand pitched the victory striking out six and then capped off the game by making a sensational catch in right field to end it.

Lanpher and Samantha

Zannotti got on base six times between the two to set the table for the middle of the lineup and Gerber and Hargrave knocked in four runs combined.

The Wildfire advanced to face the Cranston Ravens, the only team to beat them this spring. The championship started like the game the day before with the Ravens getting an early lead, this time 4-0, but then the fifth inning happened.

Probably no one watching saw it coming, except maybe the players and coaches. Coach Al Hargrave had this to say: "They refuse to give up and never stop playing hard, even when falling behind against a very tough opponent."

To that point in the game, there had been nine innings between the teams, Cranston had outscored the Wildfire 13-2, and had 27 base-runners to Wildfire's 10. However, in the fifth inning of the championship, it turned in dramatic fashion as Charlton batted 13 times, Fiona Doiron got two hits in the same inning, the first eight players reached and by the time the inning ended the Wildfire had put up seven runs to take the lead, 7-4.

Cranston put up two in the bottom half of the fifth and then the Wildfire hung on in the last two innings to win an exciting championship, 7-6. As much as the fifth inning was the turning point in the game, it was the defense throughout that was a big factor in the victory. Catcher Doiron picked off a runner at first and threw out a would-be base stealer at second. Jessie Calkins made a sensational catch in foul ground and stopped everything thrown her way at first base. Lanpher made a diving play to her left to save run and was part of a double play with Garrepy. Garrepy was everywhere, making catches and backing up infield throws. Finally, Hargrave settled down and retired the final nine batters to complete an improbable championship for Wildfire.

Coach Hargrave summed up the team this way: "Their hard work this winter is paying off in a big way, helping them compete in every game they play. They have transformed into a group that really enjoys playing together, pulling for each other and has the confidence that they are never out of any game. Fun to watch."

The Wildfire has three tournaments remaining, including the ASA state championships in Chelmsford the weekend of July 1 in Chelmsford.

Blackstone Valley tops Rochdale in CNEBA play

BY GREG BARLOW
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

LEICESTER — Three runs were all that the Blackstone Valley Cats needed in Central New England Baseball Association (CNEBA) action versus Rochdale at Rochdale Park on Thursday, June 15.

Coming off a 14-0 loss to Ronnies of Worcester earlier in the week, Blackstone Valley is back on track after a 3-2 win. The Cats hold a 5-5 record in CNEBA play, while Rochdale dropped to 5-7.

"It feels great after the thrashing the other night, we'll take the win," noted Blackstone Valley manager Scott Kennedy. "It's good to get the bats going a little bit, and it's great to get a win."

Batting .500 on the night and fueling Blackstone Valley's offense was Western New England University product Eric Laclaire. Going 2 for 4 at the plate, Laclaire had a triple, one run scored and an RBI single. The Cats ended the night with six hits.

"I was just trying to look for good pitches to handle, so I just drove it and tried to get things started for our team," said the center fielder, who entered the contest leading his team with 11 hits. "He [Ryan Logan] threw strikes, so it kind of kept us off balance, but we got to him. It feels good to get a 'W' under our belts."

Batting second and third in Rochdale's lineup, respectively, center fielder Travis Dinsdale (Quinsigamond) and shortstop Alex Augustine (Worcester State University) each had two hits to combine for the home team's only four base-knocks of the contest. Struggling to put a dent in his opponent's pitching arsenal, Rochdale manager Joel Hart knows that his team will have to get its offense going to win games.

"We have to start hitting the ball more consistently — we're just not putting enough balls in play," he said. "Timely hitting is just not there yet. It will come. It's a long season, we'll get there."

Rochdale starting right-hander Ryan Logan (Quinsigamond) ran into trouble early on, as Blackstone Valley tallied its three runs during the first two innings.

Laclaire led off the opening inning with a triple to deep left center, as Union College's Zack Twitchell hit a sacrifice fly to right field to drive him in.

Rochdale then battled back in the bottom of the first, registering back-to-back singles from Dinsdale and Augustine, but Tanyon Ventres, the Cats' starting southpaw and Becker College product, logged two strikeouts to end the inning to keep Rochdale off the board.

Ventres had five strikeouts and allowed just four hits and two earned runs through five innings pitched.

"Bouncing back and to come out strong early on, that's huge," noted Ventres. "I pitch for contact and don't really get a lot of K's, so every play counts. They [Blackstone Valley] made it easy for me tonight."

Blackstone Valley carried the momentum into the second inning, tacking on two unearned runs to move out to a 3-0 lead. Salem State's Pat Fitzgerald and Laclaire each picked up the RBIs during this span.

"When we get the opportunities, we love making the most of them because that's what wins ball games," said Kennedy. "Our defense has been solid all year, and when you get runs early, it puts the pressure on them."

Both sides played strong defense for the remainder of the contest, committing just one error each on the night as scoring opportunities were limited. The Cats held their three-run lead through the next two frames, but struggled to get runners on with Logan retiring 10 straight batters faced through the third, fourth and fifth innings. He took the loss but ended the night allowing just one earned run with four strikeouts, pitching a complete game.

"That was Ryan's first outing of the season, and he knew the ball was going to be in his hands for the majority of the night," mentioned Hart. "He did a great job pitching for his first night out, so I can't ask more for that."

Rochdale answered in the bottom of the fifth to make it a 3-2 game. St. Petersburg's Zach May led off the inning with a walk before Dinsdale plated him with a RBI triple. Augustine then brought Dinsdale home on an infield pop-up that gave the Cats trouble.

"They did a good job coming back, but we have to do better in situational play, hitting in the right count and making sure we're picking our pitch instead of their pitch," explained Hart.

The home team's spurt, in the end, wasn't enough. Coming in to close out the final two innings for Blackstone Valley was Becker College's Corey Shepard, who retired six of the seven batters he faced and recorded two strikeouts to end the seventh inning with the save.

Work in concert with nature to manage garden pests and mosquitoes

.....
MELINDA
MYERS

A garden filled with flowers, birds, bees and butterflies is a sight to behold. These winged beauties add color, sound and motion to our gardens. Plus, they help maximize a garden's productivity by pollinating plants and managing plant-damaging pests.

But what about those unwanted visitors to the garden? The aphids, mites and cabbage worms that feed upon our plants or the mosquitoes that feed upon us. There are ways to have a beautiful garden and at the same time enjoy the outdoors when we work with nature to manage our landscape.

Add a birdbath, a few birdhouses and plants for the birds. They'll repay you by eating many of the insects that feed upon your plants. Include seed-bearing plants like coneflowers, Rudbeckias and cosmos as well as berry plants like Juneberry, dogwood and firethorn. Add an evergreen and a few trees for shelter and nesting, if space allows.

Include a hummingbird feeder and a few of their favorite flowers like columbine, salvia, penstemon, and phlox. Then watch as these fast flyers feed upon aphids, mites and mosquitoes in between sips of nectar.

While watching the birds, bees and butterflies, examine your plants for garden pests. Catching insects early may mean the difference between a successful harvest and disappointment. Before reaching for the pesticides and destroying their food source, attract the good guys and manage unwanted pests with a few of these eco-friendly strategies.

Tolerate a bit of damage and wait for the birds, lady beetles, praying mantis and other beneficial insects to move in and eat the bad bugs in the garden. Use barriers like row covers to keep cabbage worms off your cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts. Sink shallow containers filled with beer into the soil around hostas and some of the other favorite plants of slugs and snails. These pests are attracted to the fermenting yeast, crawl inside and die.

If the bad guys persist, step up your eco-friendly control. Knock small populations of aphids and mites off plants with a strong blast of water. Apply insecticidal soap or Summit Year-Round Spray Oil if nature needs a helping hand. These organic insecticides are effective at managing pests, while gentle on the good guys when used properly.

Keep mosquito populations to a minimum. Drain water from toys, buckets or any object that can hold water and serve as a breeding ground for mosquitoes. Change the water in birdbaths several times a week. Toss a Mosquito Dunk (SummitResponsibleSolutions.com) in rain barrels and water features. This organic insecticide only kills the larvae of mosquitoes, black flies and fungus gnats. It won't harm bees, butterflies, birds, pets and people.

Evaluate your success and make needed adjustments. Write a note in next year's calendar to watch for the return of these pests. You'll be ready to step in and lend nature a hand if needed.

As you begin to work in harmony with nature you will find more birds, bees and butterflies visiting your garden. Together you can grow a beautiful and productive garden for all to enjoy.

Professional appraisal vs opinion

We recently signed contracts to provide written, certified appraisals for two couples who are moving out of state...one to Florida, the other to Mexico. Both will work through us to sell or donate all personal property that they are not taking with them. We will remove all items to sell for them, and then we will make arrangements to donate the remaining items to Habitat for Humanity and/or a charity of their choice.

We are nationally certified appraisers of personal property...all personal property from a stuffed aardvark to an antique zither. We DO NOT appraise real estate. Our certification and certified appraisals are accepted by the IRS and every court of law in the country. We are often called in for this type of appraisal, as well as for cases where someone passes away without a will or when a will is being contested. These are among our favorite types of work. Our least favorite? Divorce cases.

On occasion, we are also asked to provide appraisals in bankruptcies and liquidations.

In each of the current situations we first did a walk through with the clients. They identified, and we tagged all items they were taking with them. We then used a different colored label for those items we were removing to auction/sell. Those items were inventoried and a written copy was given to the owners. This will enable them and us to account for each item as we sell it.

Then, in one day, we inventoried and photographed all items to be donated. I am valuing each item in accordance to strict USPAP (Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practices). Each item listed will include a condition grade, value, and source(s) of the valuation. We will provide the client with a signed copy of the appraisal. Our clients then decide how to use the charitable deduction with the advice of their tax consultant. The final step will be to arrange a date for pick up by the charity. This is done after the clients have moved out and before the new home owners are ready to move in.

TREASURES IN YOUR HOME

In the case of providing an appraisal as part of the probate process, the certified values become the basis for determining the value of the Estate and/or dividing the personal property equitably among the heirs.

When there is agreement among the heirs, or when there's a single heir, the probate process is simple. However, when distribution of the contents is contested (and we've encountered some pretty ugly ones), the distribution is considerably less orderly.

So, how does a certified appraisal differ from an opinion from a dealer who claims to have knowledge, but is not a certified appraiser? Our certification requires us to be able to defend our valuations in a court of law. An appraiser who is not certified does not have to, and may not be able to, defend the values to the court's satisfaction, thereby leaving the client high and dry.

By the way, we have NEVER had a certified appraisal contested in court, regardless of the situation. In our next column we will discuss LOVE TOKENS.

Big River makes big splash at opening night

Old Sturbridge Village is the site of a revival of the beloved retelling of Huckleberry Finn in a stage setting.

Cost is $35 for general admission, $30 for Museum members and are now available.

Last week, a packed house experienced Old Sturbridge Village's inaugural summer musical, with the opening night performance concluding with a standing ovation and rave reviews. Big River: The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn literally takes place along the banks of the Village's Quinebaug River in a 300-person pop-up, outdoor amphitheater. The Tony Award-winning musical is brought to life with a regional cast of 15 actors, singers and musicians, a 75 foot-wide stage set and a score featuring country, bluegrass and gospel music.

Here's what audience members had to say about Big River at Old Sturbridge Village:

"I can't imagine beginning my summer any other way. Big River was more than we ever expected!"

"I was completely blown away. Super-talented cast and the setting... Wow!"

"Old Sturbridge Village outdid itself. One of New England's best living history museums just became a legitimate regional theater venue... What show are you doing next?"

"If you thought The Sleepy Hollow Experience was amazing, you must see Big River. OSV outdid itself with this show."

Tickets are now available at $35 General Admission, or $30 for Old Sturbridge Village members. To purchase tickets, visit www.bigriverosv.org. The show runs Wednesday-Sunday at 7:30 p.m. through July 9, with additional Sunday matinees at 2 pm.

Setting The Record Straight: Common Myths About Vacation Rentals

(NAPS)

Vacation rental homes are becoming increasingly popular. In fact, 89 percent of travelers who have never rented a vacation home before would consider it, according to a recent study. However, popular misconceptions prevent some people from doing so. Here are a few facts that can help.

Myth #1: More space = a higher price tag. Many travelers assume vacation rentals are more expensive than traditional lodging. Think again: When you break down the price per night and per room compared to traditional accommodations, vacation rentals typically offer better value—plus, you get added living areas. Rental homes can also prove more cost effective when you average in all the convenient amenities, such as kitchens to save money on meals, or washers and dryers to cut down on baggage fees because you can pack less.

Myth #2: I need to have a large group. Vacation rental homes come in all shapes and sizes, from studio units and condos in resort-style communities to larger, private homes with four or more bedrooms. Solo travelers, couples and families alike can enjoy rental homes for the convenience and can find the right-sized home for their needs.

Myth #3: I have to stay for at least a week. Many vacation rental homes offer flexibility when it comes to length of stay. Travelers can often find rentals for weekend stays, especially during off-peak travel periods.

Myth #4: You have to book far in advance. There is no set time frame for booking a rental home before your trip. While booking further in advance can give you a greater selection to choose from, there are often great last-minute deals in many popular vacation destinations for those who can't plan as far ahead.

Myth #5: If I need help, I'm on my own. This one depends on how you book your rental home. If you book directly with a homeowner through a listing site, you will have to work out any issues directly with the owner. However, if you book through a professional manager, such as Wyndham Vacation Rentals, there is someone available 24/7 to assist you and to serve as a liaison between you and the property owner. Wyndham even offers a "Vacation Rental Bill of Rights" that assures travelers that their expectations will be met.

Take Your Getaway From Vacation Stressed To Vacation Ready

You'll likely enjoy your vacation more if you plan properly before you go.

(NAPS)

Raising families, navigating jobs, balancing social commitments—there's a lot on Americans' plates these days. In fact, 51 percent of U.S. vacationers admit they're more stressed today compared to a year ago, according to a recent study from Wyndham Vacation Rentals. When you add to that the pressure of vacation planning, the stress is not only preventing many from enjoying their vacation to the fullest but stopping them from going in the first place! Fortunately, there are a number of simple tips that the majority agree reduces stress and helps them get the most out of vacation by being more vacation ready.

- Don't wait until the last minute to pack: According to the same study, packing is so dreaded that half of all vacationers said they would give up alcohol for a month or social media for a week to avoid doing it! Travelers can reduce the stress of packing, though, without making too much of a sacrifice. Nearly two in three say not procrastinating on packing your bags minimizes stress.

- Unplug from work: Creating separation from work can help you get into a vacation-ready mind-set. More than half felt not checking work e-mail and voice mail reduces stress. The majority of travelers said taking an extra day off work before leaving for vacation or coming back a few days before returning to work would also help.

- Space, clean clothes and closed doors: More than three in five vacationers think booking accommodations with space and privacy would make their next vacation less stressful and half of vacationers think that being able to do laundry would help. Consider booking a vacation home with Wyndham Vacation Rentals for a kitchen, laundry room, multiple bedrooms and lots of living space.

- Plan out your budget: Three in five vacationers reported being stressed about spending too much money on vacation. Thankfully, planning ahead of time by making a budget (and sticking to it!), saving enough before you leave, and bringing along your own road trip snacks and drinks can help. If you're staying in accommodations with a kitchen, cooking in for a few meals while you're away can also keep your wallet fuller.

- Seek advice from others: Many travelers feel burdened by the overload of vacation planning information available, but nearly half would find premade itineraries valuable. There are a lot of great resources out there for top things to do, see and eat in every destination. For example, Wyndham Vacation Rentals' local market experts curated destination experience guides that strike the perfect balance between downtime and "go" time, so travelers can relax while still seeing the best of each location and experience hidden gems when it comes to dining and shopping.

In addition to these destination guides, Wyndham has also created a planning hub that includes more tips for overcoming travel pain points and great summer travel deals to further help the everyday traveler get vacation ready. To visit the Wyndham planning hub, go to www.BeVacationReady.com.

Try A Tropical Stay-cation For A Day

(NAPS)

For a great family time together, enjoy a minivacation at home by bringing a bit of the warmth of the Caribbean into your house.

HERE ARE FIVE HINTS ON HOW:

1. Get a taste of the place with such popular Caribbean foods as jerk chicken or other meat (smoked or grilled meat marinated in a very spicy rub), roast pork with rice and beans, or callaloo: leafy greens boiled into a thick stew, with peppers, coconut milk, okra and all kinds of meats and seafood. Serve fruity drinks with paper umbrellas in them and perhaps a bit of rum for the grown-ups. For dessert, try this recipe for spiced, glazed pineapple:

SPICED, GLAZED PINEAPPLE

1 l i m e
2 Tbsp honey
2 pinches ground cin-

Treat yourself to a virtual vacation in the Caribbean with the food, music and more of the islands.

namon
1 pinch nutmeg
2 tsp confectioners' sugar
3/4 cup low-fat Greek yogurt
2 tsp butter
1 fresh pineapple, cut into 8 long wedges, skin and core removed

Zest and juice the lime.

Mix the lime juice and half the lime zest with 1 Tbsp honey, a pinch of the cinnamon and a pinch of nutmeg. Set aside. Stir the confectioners' sugar and a pinch of cinnamon into the yogurt. Heat the butter and remaining honey in a non-stick frying pan until melted. Add the pineapple and cook over a high heat for 8 minutes, turning regularly until caramelized. Pour in the spiced lime sauce and bubble for a few seconds, tossing the pineapple to glaze in the sauce. Serve immediately, sprinkled with the remaining lime zest and accompanied by a dollop of the cinnamon yogurt.

2. Crank up the beat and wear your dancing clothes. Put up travel posters.

3. Watch a film about the area. Whether it's "Island in The Sun," "Dr. No" or "Pirates of the Caribbean," you'll enjoy seeing the beautiful views of the forests, waters and shining sands of the islands as well as of the charming people.

4. Listen to calypso music. You can get sheet music to play and sing yourselves or CDs of some of the most famous songs, such as the original million-selling album "Calypso," created by Harry Belafonte and songwriter Irving Burgie. In fact, Burgie is known as the father of modern calypso, having created such songs as "Day-O," "Jamaica Farewell" and dozens more.

5. Read up on the islands. Revisit Stevenson's "Treasure Island" (or read it to your children). For the very young, there's the "Island in the Sun" picture book based on the song. You can also get into the island mood by reading Burgie's autobiography "Day-O!!," available at Amazon and Barnes & Noble, or watching a beautiful, tuneful DVD of his life from www.irvingburgie.com.

Sun Protection Myths And Facts

(NAPS)

Sunscreen is an important part of protecting your skin. However, some information about sunscreen can be confusing, making it difficult to know how to best protect the skin you're in. Seeking shade when the sun is especially strong (from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.), wearing clothing that protects your skin as well as hats and sunglasses, and separating myth from fact about sunscreen are three key steps you can take.

Here are a few facts on sun care you should know:

Myth: Skin cancer is not a common problem.

Fact: 1 in 5 Americans will be diagnosed with skin cancer in their lifetime.

Myth: Protecting my skin from the sun is time-consuming and not worth the trouble.

Fact: Sunscreen is a simple solution to address this problem. You should use sunscreen regularly and reapply often. It only takes a short amount of time to protect your skin.

Myth: Sunscreen SPF labels can't be trusted.

Fact: Coppertone's commitment to the quality, safety and effectiveness of its products has helped it earn the trust of consumers for more than 70 years. This is especially true when it comes to product labeling. In fact, Coppertone recently opened its doors to an independent firm to conduct testing of Bayer's sunscreen. The report found that the products reviewed complied with internal and all applicable external requirements to ensure the quality, safety and efficacy of its products. You can be confident that when you use Coppertone, your skin is well protected.

Myth: There's no evidence that sunscreens lower the risk of most forms of skin cancer.

Fact: Not only is this false, it is a dangerous message. When used regularly with other sun protection measures, a broad spectrum sunscreen with SPF 15 or higher can decrease the risk of skin cancer.

Myth: I only need sunscreen for long days in the sun and don't need to reapply.

Fact: Sunscreen should be used year-round for any sun exposure, regardless of weather conditions. Reapplication of Coppertone after 80 minutes of swimming or sweating, immediately after towel drying and at least every two hours is important to ensure effective sun protection.

Myth: I don't get a lot of sun or my skin doesn't burn.

Fact: Incidental sun exposure is the kind of sun exposure that you may not be aware of. It builds up over the years from brief everyday activities, such as dog walking and commuting. Sun damage occurs even when skin doesn't turn red, and all skin types carry risk of skin cancer.

Myth: There's SPF in my makeup and moisturizer so I'm protected from the sun.

Fact: Although makeup and facial moisturizers with sunscreens have adequate SPF levels, the products typically don't provide the same amount of protection because they are generally not reapplied. People also don't take quantity into account, and often they don't apply enough to fully protect their skin from the sun.

Myth: When it comes to sun protection, all sunscreen is the same.

Fact: At Coppertone, the company that introduced the first commercial sun care product in the U.S. in 1944, researchers are always hard at work creating innovative sunscreens that provide transformative ways to stay protected in the sun. For example, Coppertone just introduced a new form of sun protection—Coppertone Whipped Sunscreens, that feel great on skin while providing trusted broad-spectrum protection.

Cormier Jewelers of Spencer was established in 1949 by Joseph and Claire Cormier. The store was remodeled by their son, William, and nephew, Marc Seguin, in 1986 doubling its original size. Shortly after, Marc and his wife, Doreen, purchased the store and have continued to offer the same personalized service and quality. Cormiers has been known for. The tradition of a family oriented business continues with daughter, Jessica, and Kyle Hartshorn who have both been there for 18 years. Both have completed courses through the Gemological Institute of America (GIA) to help ensure that their quality service continues. In 2002 they expanded again adding a new art gallery featuring 70+ members of the Massasoit Art Guild as well as Gary Lippincott and Fran Gianfriddo. There is always a large assortment of paintings, prints, cards, and other works of art at reasonable prices.

Cormier Jewelers and Art Gallery has all the options and variety of the big chain stores but with Cormiers, quality always comes first, allowing you, the customer, to benefit from their knowledge and experience. If you haven't visited Cormiers lately, come in and see all you've been missing.

Also, while you are in the store, sign up for their monthly drawing for a $50 Gift certificate and add your name to their mailing list for Birthday and Anniversary coupons, information on events, and monthly specials!

Ye Olde Tavern, built at West Brookfield in 1760, has been a center of colonial life in Massachusetts since that time. President George Washington was a guest on October 22, 1789, and made mention of his visit in his journal.

President John Adams came in 1799 and in 1804 Jerome Bonaparte and his beautiful bride Elizabeth Patterson stopped here on their honeymoon.

Lafayette was a guest in 1824, as was the Minister from the Netherlands somewhat later.

An early guest was Daniel Shays, famous leader of Shays' Rebellion.

Over the years the Tavern has undergone many a renovation.

In 1938 a major renovation transformed the structure from its original 3 ½ stories to the 2 ½ story building that it is today. It was during this renovation the indoor plumbing was added to the east side of the building. That addition has now been removed to accommodate an outside dining patio.

Some two hundred and fifty-seven years later, Ye Olde Tavern continues to extend hospitality and personal attention to our guests daily as well as during your most memorable moments.

Casual Dining

Serving guests great food 7 nights a week with lunch on Friday, Saturday & Sunday.

Each meal is cooked to order with fresh, local, and organic foods whenever possible. Our wood fired brick oven cooks amazing thin crust pizzas as well as wings, steaks, and chops!

Our newly renovated Great Room is perfect for your next special event!

Function Facility

The George Washington Room where then President Washington ate in 1789 is a perfect space to host your intimate gathering of up to 25 guests.

Please join us as we celebrate 10 years as owners and caretakers of Ye Olde Tavern with a month of specials and events every day in August! Check out the full details at www.westbrookfieldtavern.com or follow us on Facebook.

Where it all began in 1997

1997 - 1999
Gracie's (I) ↗

Scott and Gracie are a couple of Coast Guard Veterans that wherever stationed, enjoyed entertaining friends with dinners, barbecues, spontaneous gatherings, and pretty much anything to do with food. After Scott's military retirement, they packed up their two boys, the dog and cat, and two days before Christmas during school vacation in 1996 moved to Scott's home state of Massachusetts to begin a new career path.... feeding truck drivers 7 days a week, 6 am - 11 pm, in an old airport-shuttle-bus-turned-Gracie's-foodtruck, at the New England Truck Stop in Sturbridge.

Gracie's (II)

As they grew, they closed the food truck and moved into the old Sturbridge Tavern next door to the truck stop on Rt 20, Sturbridge, revamped it a bit and opened Gracie's Roadside Cafe, focusing on classic American comfort food. Fond memories with great customers were made in those 7 years. With a new venture underway, Gracie's (II) closed after E.B.Flatts was opened.

2002 - 2005
Gracie's (III)

Amongst those years while operating Gracie's in Sturbridge an opportunity presented to purchase the old Drake's Sad End Cafe in Charlton City. More memories and friends were made. Setting our sights out toward a new direction, Gracie's in Charlton was sold in 2005.

2006 - Present
E.B. Flatts

In 2006 the property on Main Street in East Brookfield was purchased. Gracie, not wanting a Gracie's IV, suggested it was time for a name change...
E.B.Flatts was born, named after the area known locally in East Brookfield as the flats. We continue to cook as we would for friends, fresh cooked down-home comfort food that we enjoy. Hearty breakfasts, juicy burgers, fresh salads, homemade chili, our #1 selling sandwich the classic old-fashioned reuben, dinners featuring bbq ribs from our smoker, juicy prime rib, chicken parm, fish and chips, stuffed haddock, scampis... are just some of our guests favorites. We attend seminars, classes, (and yummy wine tastings) to bring something new to our guests. If we like it, it will show up as a special. If our guests don't like it, we won't bring it back. Homemade sausages by Scott appear often, as well as fresh veggies from our garden. We have a fabulous staff and phenomenal customers. With their input, suggestions, and complaints, we have grown. Our beautiful building was built by Hardwick Post and Beam, we've loaded it up with quirky decor, much of it nautical because of our Coast Guard past, lots of birds because we like them, a great little train that runs overhead along the top of the beams, a 1940's handmade wooden speedboat, a front end of a TR4, a leg lamp, and more!
A mishmash of items, some thoughtfully gifted, each having a dear spot in our hearts. We love what we do, who we do it for, and the community we do it in!
Come on out!...to our flat little corner of the world, we'd love to see you!
