Selectmen analyze fire 'Mayday' incident

BY GUS STEEVES
STAFF WRITER

OXFORD – Back in January, two Auburn firefighters aiding at an Oxford fire scene ended up in a “Mayday” situation, disoriented inside a smoky building. But they were able to find their way out without injury, what fire officials term a “near-miss incident.”

On Tuesday, Oxford selectmen heard their consultant’s report on why that happened and how to prevent it going forward.

Retired Fire Chief Shawn Murray, now running Municipal Resources Inc, described a fairly long list of intersecting issues, many of them accidental, that led to the incident. Among them were the fact the Auburn radios had unintentionally been set to a frequency that wasn’t normal – he said their Mayday call was relayed to dispatch by way of a citizen with a scanner and a call from a distant town’s dispatcher.

That might never have come up, though, had communication on the scene worked properly, he added. His investigation found the dispatcher on duty did not get a clear message that all people had evacuated the building safely, which would’ve made entering the site unnecessary. Initially, there was also some confusion as to where the fire was, since the caller reported it as being “on the highway,” which the Oxford dispatcher believed to be I-395, rather than Route 12. A police officer found the actual site and was the first on the scene.

The dispatcher, he noted, was alone at the time and also dispatching the police; acting Chief Paul Ford said attempts to call in another were unsuccessful.

“All of that is going on with one person there,” Ford said. “It’s a recipe for disaster.”

Police Chief Tony Saad agreed, noting he’d like to see at least two on at all times.

Additionally, Murray noted there was “no initial Oxford fire response” to the scene – the Auburn crew was there first, and it took seven minutes before the first Oxford truck started rolling. That, he found and Ford confirmed, was because the highest ranking person on duty at the time was a support person, didn’t have a lot of experience and was waiting for an officer to arrive, when none had been assigned to that shift.

“No one should be in a position of command who hasn’t been trained to that level,” Ford said. “He shouldn’t have been placed in that role.”

Ford said that has since changed, with a captain or lieutenant assigned

As part of Community Policing Week, the Dudley Police Department joined in on National “Coffee with a Cop” day.

This is a day dedicated to encourage communication and positive interaction between law enforcement agencies and the public. It began as part of National Community Policing Week in 2016 and is scheduled to continue on the first Wednesday in October of each year. The hope is to further the efforts nationwide to bridge the gap between the community and the law. In addition, Massachusetts Governor Charlie Baker declared this first week in October as Community Policing Week.

School committee praises new school resource officer

BY JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Following the passing of much beloved school resource officer Cynthia Johnson in July of this year Webster public schools has a new officer on duty who hopes to do the position justice as he tries to fill the gap.

The Webster School Committee hosted a brief introduction to Tim Whiting who was hired earlier this year after Johnson’s illness forced her to step down from her post within the Webster public schools. Whiting, who began his tenure working for the town of Webster and its police department in one form or another in 2010, has since taken the role to heart working to become just as approachable and helpful as Johnson was while also putting his own touch on the security and safety of the schools.

Whiting said he was more than happy to step up when he learned that Johnson was stepping down from her position as school resource officer. Understanding how important the position and Johnson were to the town Whiting and his fellow officers agreed that Webster needed to have a school resource officer on hand and, having children in the system, Whiting saw a chance to become a bigger part of his community.

“We thought it was very important to have someone in the school,” said Whiting. “I actually had a couple kids in the Webster school system and I saw it as a great opportunity to see what’s going on in the schools. I coach baseball, basketball, and soccer so I’ve actually had a pretty good rapport with some of the kids. At the end of the last school year I was able to get my feet wet.”

So far Whiting has worked closely with administrators and town officials to address a few issues he feels could create safety problems for each building. With a background in law enforcement and security, Whiting is putting everything he has learned in his past careers to the test.

“I think that safety is one of the most important things, especially if a parent is sending their child to school. Our full expectation is to get that child home and safely. The past couple of days I’ve completed the ALICE program where I can assist in teaching that program to the Webster school systems. It’s an enhanced lockdown system that would be slowly introduced. Judge swears-in historic number of court appointed special advocates for children

The advocates at the swearing in ceremony

There are currently hundreds of children in Worcester County who have been removed from their homes because of abuse or neglect. Although Court Appointed Special Advocates continue to serve more of these children each year, the need for CASA volunteers continues to grow as more children enter the child welfare and court systems. On Oct. 12, the Worcester court swore-in 22 of the 30 new CASA volunteers who will advocate for the best interest of these children.

These advocates join our other dedicated Worcester County CASA volunteers who have passed a thorough screening process and completed comprehensive training in child development, the court and child welfare systems, interviewing children, and much more. In 2017 160 new volunteers were added to the team of dedicated volunteers at CASA of Worcester county.

CASA volunteers work one-on-one with an abused or neglected child, advocating for his or her best interests.

Essentially, CASA volunteers “speak up” for these children in the court and child welfare systems, making sure they are safe and well-cared for, are getting the services they need, and are placed in a permanent, safe, nurturing home as quickly as possible. These children may also have health, learning, emotional, or psychological challenges, and need special services

Gobi bill would protect towns from electric bill surcharges

BOSTON – A bill filed by Senator Anne M. Gobi (D-Spencer) that would protect existing renewable energy projects from being assessed a surcharge was discussed by the Joint Committee on Telecommunications, Utilities and Energy.

The bill addresses the ability of utility companies to submit proposals to the Department of Public Utilities for what has been called a monthly minimum reliability contribution (MMRC). An MMRC is a month surcharge added to the electric bills for those receiving net metering credits.

“I am glad to work to offer protections to our towns so that they are receiving the intended value of their investment,” said Senator Gobi.

Municipalities with existing projects, planned prior to the possibility of a monthly surcharge, would experience cost impacts that were not anticipated, negatively affecting their short and long term budget planning. The bill filed by Senator Gobi would exempt municipal ratepayers and community solar ratepayers from the monthly surcharge. The bill would also exempt low-income ratepayers, however existing law does allow DPU to choose to exempt or modify the monthly surcharge.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Senator Gobi’s office at (617) 722-1540.

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: Should I buy a new or used vehicle?

The RIGHT answer: This is a question that people have asked for years. The answer is one that is dependent on a number of factors. Some people are concerned about potential problems when buying a used car. At Place Motor we complete a 172 point inspection of our used vehicles. We make sure that our customers can feel confident they are getting a good car or truck when they do business with us. While an extended service plan can help alleviate these concerns it doesn't always do enough to make a customer happy. New Vehicles carry the factory warranty to solve these issues.

Usually a defining factor is budget. Customers must consider what they can comfortably afford. Buying a used car or truck saves customers thousands of dollars as compared to a new vehicle. Sometimes when buying a used car payments can still be a problem for a customer's budget. Many banks will shorten available terms or require more money down and this can strain anyone's budget. We work with several lenders and offer certified used vehicles so in most cases we are able to help customers achieve their required budget. While new vehicles are more expensive than used, new vehicles generally have rebates or special finance rates to make them more affordable. We have seen cases where the monthly payment for a new car is very close to that of a used car. With the availability of leasing programs a new car payment could even be less than that of a used car.

Here at Place Motor our goal is to help you get the RIGHT vehicle for your needs and budget. We will spend some time with you to make sure we understand your needs, offer you affordable solutions and make sure that you get the RIGHT vehicle at the RIGHT price. Come see why at Place Motor we are the RIGHT PLACE SINCE 1923.

It was a'za night

It was "Webster Night" on Sept. 27, as local officials, town employees and their families, and town businesses banded together to provide and serve the Pizza Night Fellowship Meal at the American Legion.

Webster Firefighters along with Chief Hickey, Selectmen Andrew Jolda, and Robert Miller, Town Administrator Doug Willardson, and many others came to help serve those in the local community, and both Chief Hickey and Mr. Jolda spoke to the crowd. Fr. Robert Fredrickson "Chap" gave the blessing.

Food was provided for by Northeast Pizza, and also the Webster House of Pizza who had 54 delicious large pizzas of various different toppings delivered to us! Thank you so much, John! Your pizzas were a huge hit!

Many thanks especially to executive secretary Jennifer Cederberg for coordinating this effort - we couldn't have done it without you.

Everyone enjoyed themselves, and by the end of the evening, all of the food was gone. Thank you again to everyone who continues to help the Blessed Backpack Brigade in their mission to serve others. We are truly grateful.

Department of Veteran Affairs to host clergy training program

NORTHAMPTON — The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs will offer free training for community clergy and religious leaders to assist them with helping veterans and their family members at three Massachusetts churches in November.

The VA Community Clergy Training Program will be held at three locations:

Nov. 7 at Athol Congregational Church, 1225 Chestnut St., Athol; Nov. 8 at Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, 133 Main St., Greenfield; and Nov. 9 at Temple Anshe Amunin, 26 Broad St., Pittsfield.

The program was developed as a partnership with the VA's Veterans Health Administration Office of Rural Health and the National VA Chaplain Center to assist veterans living in rural areas who have limited access to health care and other resources.

The training runs from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., and lunch is provided. Clergy, lay leaders and other members of the faith community from any religious denomination are welcome at any of the three training locations.

Training topics will include military culture and a discussion about the wounds of war, the potential roles of clergy with assisting veterans, VA suicide prevention training, and methods in building community partnerships that support veterans.

"The challenges veterans face when returning home from their military service, coupled with issues that may be tied to their service, can result in problems that go unrecognized or develop slowly," said David F. Whiteley, the lead chaplain for the VA Central Western Massachusetts Healthcare System, based in Northampton. "When these issues become critical, veterans are most likely to seek information and support from people they know. Many veterans seeking support start with their local clergy and members of the faith community."

The goal of the program is to assist local clergy in responding to these situations, said Whiteley.

For more information or to register for the training, contact Whiteley at (413) 584-4040, extension 2281. If a clergy person is unable to attend, clergy-in-training, laypeople, or a member from the faith community may attend.

Features that add value to a home

There are many features that add value and others that just help the home to sell quicker. Depending on the location, size and price range some of these features may be less or more important. If we had a 3 bedroom 1 bath home and compared it to a 3 bedroom 2 bath home I would add 10K in value for the 2 bath home. If the market is flooded with 1 bath homes and there is only one home with 2 baths you may have several offers pushing the value up even higher. Another great example is a garage which I typically give 10K in value per garage stall. However, if your home does not have a garage and every other home in the neighborhood has garages you may lose more than 10K per stall due to functional obsolence. Where someone moving into that area would expect a garage. There are other great features like being in a neighborhood rather than on a busy road. This will vary greatly but that neighborhood setting will get a higher value. Having a pool does not necessarily add value because some buyers will not want a pool and may look at the cost of filling it in. However some neighborhoods and in certain price ranges the buyer want a pool and the buyer may buy your home with a pool a pay a little more than the neighbors if everything else is the same. Having privacy vs. no privacy will typically help your home sell quicker and it wont necessarily add value unless there are multiple buyers for the home due to the privacy driving the value up. You will typically get more value for hardwoods and tile floors than carpet and vinyl as well as hard surface countertops rather than a laminate. Landscaping is crucial for the curb appeal just to have the buyers come into the home to view it and it will give them a feel about the home helping them to make a buying decision. Since every market and price range is different, I suggest consulting with a local Realtor to ensure any improvement are a good return on investment and that your home is not getting over-improved for the neighborhood. Also keep in mind that the thoughts above are only my professional opinion and other agents opinion may vary as well as appraisers who determine the value of your home for the bank when the buyer is purchasing your home.

What's your stuff worth?

ANTIQUES,
COLLECTIBLES
& ESTATES
WAYNE TUISKULA

I get many calls and emails from people looking for appraisals. When looking for an appraisal, they often are asking for a variety of different things.

Much of the time, they are planning to sell their items. We advise them that they may not need an appraisal. If they sell items at auction or have us run an estate sale, evaluating their items is part of our services.

Many calls are from an estate personal representative or someone downsizing who wants to know what is treasure, what is trash and what is somewhere in between. We are often able to advise people whether their personal property is best suited for an auction, estate sale or a different option over the phone. We may ask them to email photos to help evaluate their items. When there are items that need closer evaluation, we schedule an onsite visit.

Estate personal representatives sometimes call to determine the value of the personal property in an estate for equitable distribution. They sometimes just need verbal estimates. Other times, they request a written appraisal that they can share among the heirs.

Others call us for insurance appraisals. It doesn't take a disaster like a tornado or fire to damage antiques and collectibles. A broken water pipe or excessive heat could ruin items in your collection. Your insurance may not cover a large and valuable collection. You may need to add a rider to cover these pieces. Your insurance company may request that these items be appraised before issuing the rider.

Sometimes people hire an appraiser because they want to sell personal property on their own. No one wants to sell an oil painting worth $4,000 for $10 at a yard sale.

Your tax preparer may ask you to get an appraisal when donating something of high value. The American Society of Appraisers lists some of the circumstances that require an appraisal. Artwork exceeding $20,000 and personal property exceeding $5,000 are two of the examples that they cite.

Estate personal representatives may need an appraisal for probate or tax purposes. Your attorney or financial advisor can determine if this is necessary. An appraiser should be USPAP certified when performing appraisals for insurance, probate or tax purposes.

USPAP is the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice. USPAP was adopted by Congress in 1989 and contains standards for those who perform personal property, real estate and business appraisals.

There are some things that you should look for when hiring an appraiser. Along with being USPAP certified, you will want to make certain that your appraiser has knowledge of what they are appraising. Someone who appraises antiques probably won't also be appraising commercial aircraft and vice versa. Determine what the fees will be. Most appraisers are paid hourly. An appraiser's fee shouldn't be a percentage of the items' value that they appraise. It is also a conflict of interest for an appraiser to appraise your items and then buy them after the appraisal.

If you have something that you think may be valuable, you can also attend a local appraisal event. I announce upcoming events in this column. It is always nice to meet readers of this column at the events, and even better when I have good news about the items they brought to be appraised.

We have an estate sale scheduled in Lancaster on October 20th and 21st. The preview for our Duxbury online auction is on October 21st. Other events are being planned. See www.centralmassauctions.com for details.

Two students commended

William F. Chaplin Jr., principal of Shepherd Hill Regional High School, announced Zachary Blauvelt and Eryk Pecyna have been named commended students in the 2018 National Merit Scholarship program.

A letter of commendation from the school and the National Merit Scholarship Corp., which conducts the program, was presented by the principal to these scholastically talented seniors.

About 34,000 commended students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although these students will not continue in the competition for more than 1.6 million students who entered by taking the preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship qualifying test.

"The young men being named commended students have demonstrated potential for academic success," commented a spokesman for NMSC.

"These students represent a valuable national resource; recognizing their accomplishments as well as the key role their schools play in their academic development, is vital to the advancement of educational excellence in our nation. We hope this recognition will help broaden their educational opportunities and encourage them as they continue their pursuit of academic success."

to each of the four fire groups, and the department is increasing its training of the crews in various ways. One factor, he said, is that some of their part-timers don't have certification for some fire-fighting functions, making it "difficult" to ensure all duties get adequately covered on the scene.

"We don't do these things everyday," he noted. "We need. "We need to train."

Among other things, the firefighters are now required to review a standard operating procedure of their choice daily, and the department has several signed up for more advanced training.

Despite the ongoing training, which is routine to all departments, Murray noted Oxford's department is in general "well-trained" and effective. He also declined to identify individuals involved because "MRI didn't see a benefit in calling specific people out."

"Well-trained," it's nice to hear you say that," Selectman John Saad said. "But in your report, you recommend more training."

Murray noted all the equipment and most functions require people to maintain certification. Some people aren't certified to go into buildings, for example, and that affects the number of people who can do things. Additionally, national standards call for a minimum of 15 people on any fire scene, but that's often hard to achieve. In this case, there were about 10 when the Mayday call happened, he said.

Selectman Meghan Troiano noted she has "definitely seen forward progress" in fixing the issues that caused this incident.

Ford and Police Chief Saad noted they've had frequent conversations surrounding issues related to communications and general cooperation. Both chiefs agreed with a Murray recommendation that dispatch should have a fire officer assigned to it during incidents because police and fire dispatch issues are different, but Ford noted he doesn't have enough staff to be able to dedicate one to that function.

SCOO COMMITTEE

we can just put into place," Whiting said. "We plan on going through all the buildings. We've already walked the high school with the fire chief and members of the police department and faculty and staff. We went room by room and corridor by corridor and found stuff that would or could possibly be safety issues or stuff that needs to be looked into. We'll do that for the rest of the schools as well."

The short seven-minute back and forth ended with compliments from School Committee Chair David Hurton who said that while Detective Johnson was a valuable an irreplaceable part of the Webster public schools, it appears that the district has brought to right man on board to help the district continue to progress and be a safe and secure learning environment for the students it serves.

"I've spoken to a lot of staff and administrators and I think (Officer Whiting) actually said to me too that he has big shoes to fill with the unfortunate passing of Detective Johnson. I've heard nothing but wonderful things about Officer Whiting's professionalism, his ability to relate with the children and interact with the staff in his role. I know at times he tends to deal with some of our more challenging students. I've heard wonderful things about his abilities and the presence that he brings," Hurton said.

Readers Share Favorite Hints

It's the best time of the year for New Englanders, and thanks to all the readers that took time out from the busy leaf peeping season to share their favorite tips and tricks! From primping the pumpkins to perking up blooms, the following hints really do make life a little easier!

And remember readers, send in your best tips and you could win dinner for two at the Publick House!

This reader rediscovered an old tried and true tip for extending the life of fresh flowers:

Do you want to have your floral arrangements or your beautiful roses last longer? Instead of the old remedy of bleach or an aspirin in the water, try this - it works so great, making your flowers "perk up."

Try adding a teaspoon of sugar and a few copper pennies to the water and see how amazing the flowers react! Enjoy!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and this reader's foresight came in handy when her luggage was lost!

It's that time of year and I just located in my phone and in the pocket of my carry on, photos of my checked luggage. This (identifying tip) came in so handy at the airlines once. And even the agent was impressed that I had a photo! Happy travels.

Baked goods are twice as sweet when batches are doubled and frozen to share: Why didn't I think of this years ago? Now when I make my homemade breads I always make two at a time. After they cool, I slice the whole loaf and put in a zip bag to store in the freezer. This is so handy when anyone pops in for coffee and...

It thaws in five minutes and is quickly available. I do this even if I am giving the entire loaf as a gift, but I wrap in aluminum foil and put on a bow.

You could also do this when you buy homemade breads from the Church bazaars.

This tip not only preserves Halloween pumpkins and Jack-O-Lanterns, but it (literally) makes them shine!

Want to have the best looking and longest lasting pumpkins on the block? Coat your pumpkins with a thin layer of varnish or polyurethane -it makes them stand out (glossy) and prevents rotting, even in humid weather that we seem to often get in the early fall.

Jane Reynolds
Charlton, MA

This mystery reader sent in this thrifty repurposing tip:

In magazines such as Vanity Fair, there are one or two pages featuring perfumes. You can cut these out, and put them in your dresser drawer or put them in your purse. The scent lasts for a few weeks.

Two quick fixes for a duo of common hassles:

I use Scotch tape to hold up a hem until I can sew it.

Also, I wash black pants inside out. It keeps the lint off.

Congratulations to Jane Reynolds of Charlton, who won Dinner for Two at the Publick House in Sturbridge. She submitted the pumpkin tip above.

New Hope: advice to heed

To the Editor:
October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Here at New Hope, we find ourselves quite busy with community events, helping to raise awareness of the issue and to let survivors know we are here to help them. Over the years, the field of domestic violence has resulted in more coordinated approaches between organizations such as New Hope and law enforcement, the courts, medical providers, and child protection agencies. These collaborations represent advances in keeping survivors safe and helping to extricate them from violent situations. However, the one resource frequently overlooked is the role of friends, family members, co-workers and others often referred to as informal networks.

Often, the survivor will first disclose the abuse to persons who are members of that informal network. In one Canadian study, 80.5 percent of women and 57.1 percent of men relied on this system of informal networks for help. (D.L. Ansara and M.J. Hindin, Social Science & Medicine 70, no 7 (2010): 1011-1018).

Given that one in four women and one in seven men will experience interpersonal violence at some point in their lives, I suspect that almost everyone reading this letter knows someone who is or has dealt with this issue. So, what if you are someone's informal network? How do you respond?

Many good intentioned persons want to help, but a fear of putting themselves at risk of violence, a belief that DV is a personal issue between the two parties, and/or simply not knowing how to intervene, leads to inaction at best or actions that makes things worse such as distancing oneself from the survivor.

For those of you who may suspect someone is experience such violence, here are some of the signs: controlling daily activities of the survivor, isolating the survivor from family and friends, constant texting, the presence of a firearm in the home, increase in severity of the violence, forced sex, past threats used as a weapon, history of strangulation, threats to kill the survivor or the children, abusing and/or threatening to kill a family pet, threats to commit suicide, addiction history (drugs and/or alcohol).

What can you do? Offer to hold onto copies of important papers and money for the survivor should they need to flee suddenly. Offer or encourage a survivor to use your phone and/or computer to access information online. Arrange for a code word they can text or use in conversation if they require immediate assistance. Check in on them regularly. Stay vigilant when in the presence of the survivor and the abuser. Use distracting or delaying techniques when you suspect the abuser is escalating. Speak up if you feel it is safe to do so. Finally, if you know of someone who may be dealing with these issues, encourage them to reach out to New Hope, or you can call the hotline for more support.

We provide vital information and resources that can help you develop strategies and safety plans to keep you and your friends and family safe. The 24/7 hotline is always answered by a 'live' person, who can offer support and assistance.

The number is 800 323-4673.

Domestic violence is a public health issue, and you can make a difference.

Doing our part against drug abuse

CHIEF'S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

I wanted to take this opportunity once again to remind the residents of Dudley that on Saturday, Oct. 28 from 9:00 a.m. to 1 p.m., the Dudley Police Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) will give the public another opportunity to prevent pill abuse and theft by ridding their homes of potentially dangerous expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs. This has been a popular and much requested program in the past. I wanted to provide some information to people once again on this event.

The Drug Take Back has been held several times over the years in Dudley. The last took place this past April. A large quantity of prescription medications and medical sharps were taken in at that time. The service is free and anonymous, no questions asked. This initiative addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. Medicines that languish in home cabinets are highly susceptible to diversion, misuse, and abuse. Rates of prescription drug abuse in the U.S. are alarmingly high, as are the number of accidental poisonings and overdoses due to these drugs. Studies show that a majority of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet. In addition, Americans are now advised that their usual methods for disposing of unused medicines — flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash — both pose potential safety and health hazards.

Fortunately, thanks to the effort of District Attorney Joseph Early's office, we now have a permanent Drug Disposal Kiosk located in our police station lobby. These items can now be disposed of locally at any time during the year. Other communities have these kiosks at their police stations or other town buildings. If you are not from Dudley, be sure to check with your community for one of these disposal locations.

In addition to the prescription disposal, officials from Harrington Hospital have once again generously offered their assistance to dispose of medical sharps (needles, etc.) on this same day. Collection bins will be on hand to properly and safely dispose of these items as well. Harrington Hospital officials are also expected to be on site to conduct blood pressure screenings and provide valuable medical information to anyone interested.

A number of these programs will take place on this same day in communities all over the area. If you are not a Dudley resident, please check with your local officials for a disposal site near you. In Dudley, bring your medications to the Dudley Police Department located inside the Dudley Municipal complex at 71 West Main St. We thank everyone in advance for their participation in this worthwhile program.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com.

The right to be independent

We hear a lot of words bandied about these days about freedoms. Freedom to speak, to carry firearms, to feel what we feel and think what we think without fear.

We are actually quite lucky to still be able to do that in this country.

We may complain about the Powers That Be at every single level of government, from that most junior elected selectman to the man in the country's own country estate: the White House; but what is interesting about that is though your neighbors may get on your case about it, not agree with you, twitter, tweet and Facebook you to death over it; no armed guards will show up at your door to disappear you over it.

You won't get arrested for telling others your opinion of the state of affairs.

You may not always be liked, but you won't get arrested.

And this is a most unusual thing in many, many countries around the world. It's why people are fleeing their homes in droves. Yes, they fear having a firefight of the war happening right outside (because it will); but they also fear for their own safety if they disagree with those in charge.

It happens. A lot.

Dissidents don't live long. We are the children of dissidents. We are the lucky ones, because we won. Others, not so much.

Some are still fighting for the right to call their government a bunch of idiots and not die for it.

Can you imagine living with that fear?

And not knowing, indeed, whether your neighbor is for you, or against you. If you voice an opinion, will it be reported? Will your children's teachers tattle on you if you complain about something in passing?

Will the police become your enemies?

When we in America decry the state of affairs of having illegal people in our country; we can't, for certain, know the circumstances they've left. Because we, as a country, don't pay a lot of attention to the governments elsewhere. We don't know about the "disappeared" in Latin American countries, about the sex trade, about children sold so the rest of the family can buy food, about droughts and famines and wildfires we never hear of here that wipe out small subsistence farms and leave people destitute.

And with no government to turn to.

So they try something else. They have no paperwork, most smaller countries, especially small villages and farmers, don't keep good records to have birth certificates and accurate dates for children still born at home with midwives in attendance. So there is no way to get the "legal" work needed to become a "real" immigrant.

And many can't wait. There is no food. There is no home. There is no work. They are often in a hostile environment, perhaps in yet a different country, there is no protection.

It could be South America. It could be Yemen, or Afghanistan. It could be an African country or an Asian one. This description fits many places, many people.

But it doesn't fit us...yet.

I Believe in Angels

At the end of September and the beginning of October we celebrate in the Catholic Church two beautiful feast days that draw our attention to what we profess in the Creed, "I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible." In this world I believe that what God created that is beyond our physical sight are angels.

As purely spiritual creatures angels have intelligence and will; they are personal and immortal creatures, surpassing in perfection all visible creatures, as the splendor of their glory bears witness. (CCC 330).

Angels have been present since the beginning and throughout salvation history. They have served the Lord in accomplishing the divine plan of our salvation. Just to cite a few examples; they closed the earthly paradise; protected Lot; saved Hagar and her child; stayed Abraham's hand and spared Isaac; announced births and callings; and assisted the prophets. The Scriptures are full of many references to the existence and usefulness of these angelic spirits.

At the beginning of this brief article I mentioned two feast days associated with angels. The first is the Feast of the Archangels, Michael, Gabriel and Raphael-September 29. These are the only three mentioned by name in the Scriptures. Michael in the Book of Revelation leads God's armies to final victory over the forces of evil. He also appears in Daniel's vision as "the great prince" who defends Israel against its enemies.

ST. ROCH'S CHURCH

Gabriel also makes an appearance in the Old Testament book of Daniel in this prophet's vision announcing Michael's role in God's plans. Of course his best known appearance is an encounter with a young Jewish girl named Mary, who consents to become the Mother of the Messiah.

Raphael's activity is confined to the Old Testament story of Tobit. There he appears to guide Tobit's son Tobiah through his adventures that lead to a threefold happy ending; Tobiah's marriage to Sarah, the healing of Tobit's blindness and the restoration of the family fortune.

Believers still experience God's protection, communication and guidance in ways that defy description. We must not dismiss angels too lightly.

The second celebration of the angels in the Liturgical Calendar is observed on October 2. The Holy Guardian Angels.

Put lessons from “Retirement Week” to work

To raise public awareness about the importance of saving for retirement, Congress has designated the third week of October as National Save for Retirement Week. What lessons can you learn from this event?

First of all, save early – and save often. Too many people put off saving for retirement until they are in their late 40s – and even their 50s. If you wait until you are in this age group, you can still do quite a bit to help build the resources you will need for retirement – but it will be more challenging than if you had begun saving and investing while you were in your 20s or early 30s. For one thing, if you delay saving for retirement, you may have to put away large sums of money each year to accumulate enough to support a comfortable retirement lifestyle. Plus, to achieve the growth you need, you might have to invest more aggressively than you'd like, which means taking on more risk. And even then, there are no guarantees of getting the returns you require.

On the other hand, if you start saving and investing when you are still in the early stages of your career, you can make smaller monthly contributions to your retirement accounts. And by putting time on your side, you'll be able to take advantage of compounding – the ability to earn money on your principal and your earnings. Here's another lesson to be taken from National Save for Retirement Week: Maximize your opportunities to invest in the tax-advantaged retirement accounts available to you, such as an IRA and a 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan. If you have a 401(k)-type plan at work, contribute as much as you can afford every year, and increase your contributions whenever your salary goes up. At a minimum, put in enough to earn your employer's matching contribution, if one is offered.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Apart from saving and investing early and contributing to your tax-advantaged retirement accounts, how else can you honor the spirit of National Save for Retirement Week? A key step you can take is to reduce the barriers to building your retirement savings. One such obstacle is debt. The larger your monthly debt payments, the less you will be able to invest each month. It's not easy, of course, to keep your debt under control, but do the best you can. One other barrier to accumulating retirement resources is the occasional large expense resulting from a major car repair, sizable medical bills or other things of that nature. If you constantly have to dip into your long-term investments to meet these costs, you'll slow your progress toward your retirement goals. To help prevent this from happening, try to build an emergency fund big enough to cover three to six months' worth of living expenses. Since you'll need instant access to this money, you'll want to keep it in a liquid, low-risk account.

So, there you have them: some suggestions on taking the lessons of National Save for Retirement Week to heart. By following these steps, you can go a long way toward turning your retirement dreams into reality.

Support cancer patients by giving blood with the Red Cross

During Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the American Red Cross encourages eligible donors to give blood to support cancer patients and others.

Mary Alice Donofrio gave blood for the first time in memory of her mother who received several blood transfusions while being treated for breast cancer.

"I had no idea what to expect, but the experience was very easy and quite rewarding. Ever since then, I try and give blood as often as I can, and every time it gives me a good feeling in my heart. It is so nice to know that taking just an hour or so out of my day can help save the lives of others."

According to the American Cancer Society, nearly 1.7 million new cases of cancer are expected in the U.S. this year. Breast cancer is the most common cancer among women, with nearly 253,000 women expected to be diagnosed in 2017. Cancer patients may need blood products during chemotherapy, surgery or treatment for complications.

BEYOND THE PEWS

We might look at guardian angels as the subject for bedtime stories for children. But Pope St. John XXIII saw them differently.

"Our Father in heaven," he wrote, "has charged his angels to come to our assistance during our earthly journey... so that, protected by the angels' help and care, we may avoid the snares upon our path, subdue our passions, and ... follow always the straight and sure road that leads to Paradise."

God loves each of us so much that he has given us our very own angel to watch over us. Day after day, no matter what you are doing, your guardian angel is with you, praying for you, sending messages of hope and comfort, urging you to stay close to the Lord.

On a personal note, about fifteen years ago I had an experience that filled me with confidence in God's protective care. Late one night I got a flat tire on Rt. 146 almost directly on the Massachusetts and Rhode Island state line. It was a sort of no man's land as no state troopers came by. The car was a fairly new to me and I got out the manual and by the headlights read the instructions. I finally got the flat off and retrieved the spare from the trunk. After many, many attempts to put the spare on the posts I gave up; suspecting I'd have to wait there until the first light. Within minutes a car pulled up and a tall man got out. What I remember distinctly was that at 2 a.m. he had on the whitest, most crisply ironed white shirt I'd ever seen. I explained my dilemma, he said, "I've done this many times before." Within a few minutes the spare tire was mounted and the nuts tightly secured and he was driving away. I was left with the question, "Do angels walk among us?!"

Friday's Child

Aleenah is a healthy ten-year-old girl of Caucasian descent. Aleenah is a child who is easily entertained but particularly enjoys activities such as bowling, roller skating and going to the movies. Aleenah also loves to draw and sing along to the radio.

Aleenah is in need of a family that can provide her with a structured, loving home. She wants a family that will take care of her and keep her safe. Aleenah enjoys visits with her sisters and other birth family members.

Legally freed for adoption, Aleenah could be placed in a home with a single mom or two-parent family as the only child in the home or with much older high school or college-aged children. Continued contact with her siblings who are placed in other homes will be required. Aleenah also maintains monthly visits with her birth mother and twice per month visits her maternal great grandmother.

The haunting of Dudley Middle School

DUDLEY -- All kinds of ghouls, superheroes, fairies, dinosaurs, cartoon characters and several whatzits gathered behind Dudley Middle School Sunday for the first Trunk or Treat. Most of them went home with sugar highs, some also took scarecrows or painted pumpkins they'd made, and many even learned a bit about fire safety, thanks to the Fire Department's rolling Safe House.

According to Parent-Teacher Association president Vicky Choinski, the idea was born out of a desire to "do something in our community for school-age children," and it was "a bigger turnout than I anticipated."

Trunk or Treat is an alternative to traditional trick or treating. Instead of going door-to-door, the kids go from car to car, with the cars decked out in their own Halloween finery. Several sported traditional ghouls, zombies, witches, spiderwebs and the like -- at one, the zombies danced -- but one featured what might be called a grass monster. "It's a popular new idea," Choinski said, "and safer than going door-to-door."

Parent volunteer Lisa Scola agreed, noting she went to a trunk or Treat at a church in Connecticut last year. That was so popular "you couldn't get in, so it's nice people can move around [here]."

She thanked the several local companies who donated their time, staff and resources to make the event possible.

Mason (the shark) and Travis (Halo) Pytko check out the pumpkins.

Bartlett secures postseason bid with win over Panthers

SPENCER — After missing out on a spot in the Central Mass. Division 3 sectional tournament in 2015, the Bartlett High boys' varsity soccer team will be returning to districts for the second straight season after officially punching their ticket following a 5-1 win over David Prouty Regional on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

The Indians led at the half, 3-0, thanks to two goals scored by Owen Simonis (the first from Kyle Stewart) and one by Sean Kunkel (from Simonis).

Isaac Prouty scored early in the second half for the Panthers — with Sage Maryanek assisting — to cut the score down to 3-1, but Stewart and Jacob Vosburg retaliated with goals for Bartlett to put the game away.

The Indians' Justice Ofori played a very strong midfield throughout the game to help Bartlett maintain control.

The win improved the Indians' record to 7-2-4 as head coach Ryan Renauld will guide his team into the postseason for the 13th time in his 14-year career.

Bartlett then defeated Quaboag Regional and Tantasqua Regional as of press time to improve to 9-2-4.

Shepherd Hill can't keep up with high-flying St. John's

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

SHREWSBURY — The undefeated St. John's High varsity football team continued its 2017 Tour of Domination against Shepherd Hill Regional on Saturday, Oct. 14, completely dismantling the Rams, 64-24 at Pioneer Field on Open House Weekend.

The 6-0 Pioneers, who scored on its first nine possessions, led 40-0 before Shepherd Hill earned a first down. St. John's led, 50-8, at halftime and 64-16 after three quarters.

The Rams, who were playing without their top two leading rushers — Zack Magdis and Ben Carpenter, both out with injuries — continued to pick away at their deficit, scoring a pair of second half touchdowns.

Ryan Dugan, the Shepherd Hill head coach, openly bristled and scoffed at the notion that injuries may have played a role in his team's lopsided loss.

"Injuries are not an excuse; we have faith in all our backs," he said. "They're an excellent football team. To play an excellent football team at home you've got to come with an A-plus game and we came with maybe not even our 'C' game. I thought our line blocked, we just didn't perform to our standards. We didn't play well enough; it's that simple. They're a very good team; obviously the class of the league. So, it's a standard we can hold ourselves to. We just have to get better."

Senior quarterback Steve Buccigliola once again led the Pioneers' high-octane offense, completing 19 of 24 passes for 324 yards and five touchdowns, four of the scoring strikes coming before intermission.

"They're just an excellent offensive team," Dugan said. "They've got a very good line, they've got a great quarterback, and they've got multiple weapons. Their whole team is good. You've got to play perfect against them and we didn't."

With St. John's leading, 40-0, midway through the second quarter, Shepherd Hill finally showed signs of life, marching 79 yards on 14 plays for a touchdown, sophomore Nathaniel Cooper plowing in from a yard out for the score. Rams' senior quarterback Mick Sullivan then scampered in for the two-point conversion to make the score 40-8.

Shepherd Hill's second touchdown came on the first drive of the second half. After Cooper returned the kickoff 37 yards to the St. John's 43-yard line, Sullivan completed three straight passes, the last a 32-yarder to sophomore Kobe Jean-Guillaume for the score.

Prior to Sullivan's scoring strike to Jean-Guillaume, he completed two 14-yard passes, the first to junior Drew Montigny, and the second to senior Ryan Fenton. Sophomore Gabe dos Santos then rushed for the two-point conversion to make the score 50-16.

Jean-Guillaume closed out the scoring in the fourth quarter, crashing in from a yard out with 7:02 remaining in the game. Senior Joe Oriente rushed for the two-point conversion.

Dugan expressed some disappointment and frustration in the way his backs ran the football against St. John's.

"Honestly, I don't think our running backs ran hard enough today," Dugan said. "St. John's outplayed us today. They came to play and we came to show up."

Shepherd Hill's Mick Sullivan reaches the ball past the goal line for a successful two-point conversion rush.

With win over Algonquin, Rams return to district tournament

NORTHBOROUGH — After enduring through three tough sets versus Algonquin Regional, but winning all three, the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity volleyball team is officially back in the Central/Western Mass. Division 1 sectional tournament. Set scores in the game, played Tuesday, Oct. 10 were 25-23, 25-22, 25-21 as the Rams improved to 10-4.

“For us to get a win here today, they’re one of the perennial best in Central Mass.,” first-year head coach Chris Lindstrom said of beating the Tomahawks. “They whooped us last year. It was done with a smile, and we gave it back with a smile.”

Shepherd Hill also defeated Algonquin earlier in the year at home. “I’m very, very impressed with the girls,” said Lindstrom. “We’re getting our fundamentals down.”

But, like any good coach would say, the Rams still have things to work on while they prepare to better their seed before entering the district tournament.

“We need to be a better passing team and serve-receive we need to do a little better job. We’re getting there, though,” Lindstrom concluded.

year long, were kept off the scoreboard again, but a bright spot remains intact on the other side of the field in keeper Alyssa Trueman.

“We’re super young and hopefully with time and varsity experience [the wins] will come,” said Shepherd Hill head coach Sarah Garneau. “More than half of my team played JV last year.”

The Rangers, who improved to 8-3-2 and qualified for the Central Mass. Division 1 sectional tournament with the victory, scored in the sixth and eighth minutes — Bethany Woodcock and Casey McNamara tallied — before the Rams shored up their defense. The game remained 2-0 into the halftime break.

“We definitely figured a few things out, or so we thought, and held them off for the half,” said Garneau, but the team couldn’t figure out a way to score on Westborough keeper Carolyn Kelley. “We cannot put the ball in the net for whatever reason. We’ve had multiple shutouts where it just doesn’t come.”

Shepherd Hill, who has scored fewer than 20 goals through their first 11 games played, had two moments of close calls early in the second half.

First, in the 42nd minute, sophomore Madi Marsh made a great individual effort with her footwork to shake off a Ranger defender and rip a shot in stride that clanged off the right post.

Then, in the 49th minute, junior Reese Hammond had a free kick from 40 yards out. The ball took a high bounce into the box, where sophomore Skylar Pietz tried to head it into the net, but Kelley (5 saves) was there to punch the ball out.

From there, Westborough’s Sarissa Volin, Miriam Levesque, McNamara and Skyler Barry scored to put the game away.

Despite the Rangers’ six-goal output, the work of Trueman — Shepherd Hill’s junior keeper — cannot be forgotten. She finished with 19 saves, including a beauty in the 43rd minute when it was still 2-0. Trueman was caught flat-footed but still mustered enough athleticism to elevate just enough to push Westborough’s shot attempt up and over the crossbar in what otherwise would have been a surefire goal.

“I said, ‘she’s having the game of her life,’ and it happens to be while we’re down,” Garneau remembered saying to assistant coach Meg Dunn during the course of the contest.

Even one of the referees acknowledged the work put in by Trueman.

“The ref came up to me at halftime and said, ‘is your goalie for sale?’ and I said, ‘what?’ and he goes, ‘I’ll pay $1 million for her,’” said Garneau.

Trueman will play soccer for Southern Virginia University in two years after graduating from The Hill, who dropped to 3-8, but Garneau believes that the near future could be a strong one for the Rams.

“I’m only losing two seniors this year and I’ll have the majority of my team back,” she concluded.

The Shepherd Hill girls’ cross-country team recently won the Bay State Invitational Class B Meet.

18:39.96, with teammate Gabrielle Lawrence finishing second in 19:13.08. The Rams’ Christina Gunsalus (sixth place), Emma Sullivan (eighth place) and Helena Duke (ninth place) rounded out the top five finishers. Their combined placement equaled 26 points, 64 points fewer than second place Hamilton-Wenham Regional.

Shepherd Hill’s Emma Whitehead, Casey Clark and Audrey Carragher also competed and finished in 10th, 14th and 45th place, respectively.

The Hill’s boys’ team also ran in Wrentham, and they finished in 10th place in Class B. Brian Belmonte was the Rams’ top performer, taking 12th place in 16:45.24. Keegan Casey, Andrew Stefanik, Andrew Bullen, Matthew Gard, Henry Weiland, Tommy Dziechiarz, Rhylan Hopkins and Sam Evans also competed for the Rams.

ning display en route to winning the Bay State Invitational Class B Meet.

Pirates' football faces adversity, but rally to take down David Prouty

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

SPENCER — Despite trailing for the first time this season, Oxford High's varsity football team used its senior leadership and resilience as a whole to score 28 unanswered first half points on Friday, Oct. 13 en route to gaining the lead the rest of the way versus David Prouty Regional. The end result was a 44-26 Pirates' win as they remained undefeated at 6-0.

"We worked hard and are having great practices; the distractions are at a minimum. The kids want it and it shows," expressed Oxford head coach Jeff Clarkson. "It was the first time our guys were down all season and they fought back."

The atmosphere from Homecoming for David Prouty at Eugene Hurley Field had the Panthers full of energy from the start. Senior Ryan Anderson booted a successful inside kick that gave the Panthers great field possession to open the game. Six plays in, quarterback Braedon Wood found senior wide receiver Nick McNamara on a slant route and McNamara did the rest, taking the pass 35 yards for a touchdown. This gave Prouty an early 8-0 lead after a successful two-point conversion.

This was something that the Pirates have never dealt with throughout the first five games, and they looked toward senior defensive end and co-captain Ryan Nolan for leadership — and he stepped to the plate. Nolan got his young defense to regroup and remain focused.

"We have a bunch of young defensive linemen and they come to play," expressed Clarkson. "I will tell you this, our co-captain Ryan Nolan tonight just gets better and better every game and he is a leader on and off the field and he corrals these youngsters."

The Pirates' defense in turn forced turnovers, as Joseph Grady and Niko Murray had interceptions and as a defensive unit forced a fumble on a gang tackle.

Murray made his presence in the Pirate secondary, but he was also the leading option for their offense as well. He sparked the comeback with an 89-yard sprint up the left sideline to start the rally. The junior standout didn't stop there, though, as he added two more rushing touchdowns from 38 and 36 yards out to eclipse the 200-yard mark (213) on just 11 carries.

"He is all business, we have gone on that theme all year 'all business' and he is quiet, I don't think he has any expectations, he just gets it done, but it was a whole team effort and behind our great offensive line that is what he does," Clarkson expressed about his star running back.

Prouty turned to an aerial assault, as Wood completed 21 of 45 passes for 321 yards and four TD's. McNamara caught two of the scores, and Anderson and Cameron Dubey each hauled in one to keep the game close. Despite the sustained pressure from Oxford's defense, Prouty head coach Pat Rossi believed that Wood showed promise in the pocket.

"He is going to be special. If you had saw him from the summer to now it is incredible to see the progress he has made," expressed Rossi. "By this time next year I think he is going to be one of the top passers in Central Massachusetts...once he gets a little bit more knowledge out there and settles down and takes every play a little bit slower he will be real special."

The Panthers have shown massive strides since the start of the year. Despite their 1-5 record, Rossi likes what he has seen from his players.

"Effort was good, we were down a few guys tonight and we had a few freshmen and sophomores step up into the starting lineup and played the whole game and played well. I know a freshman was our leading tackler, so that is a real positive," explained Rossi. "Overall I am proud of our effort; we don't have many subs, we don't have many numbers, but our kids are tough and they fight."

Ground attack helps Beavers remain unbeaten (6-0), while Bay Path slips to 3-3

UPTON — Jim Archibald, head coach of the Blackstone Valley Tech varsity football team, took the famous mantra of "if it ain't broke, don't fix it" to heart when the Beavers hosted Bay Path Regional during their Monday matinee on Oct. 16. Valley Tech noticed early on that primarily running the ball versus the Minutemen was the way to go; so they ran, ran and ran some more on their way to a 41-6 victory.

"We felt like the stuff we were running was there," said Archibald. "Our line came to us early on and told us they felt like they had an advantage up front, so we were able to take advantage of that."

The Beavers totaled 332 yards on the ground on 34 carries and scored five of their six touchdowns that way. Leading the charge were Conner Polymeros (12 carries, 160 yards, 2 TD's), Joseph Antaya (7 carries, 86 yards, 2 TD's) and Aidan Fitzgerald (7 carries, 50 yards, TD).

"Any time you can rush for 300 I think your chance of winning is going to be good," said Archibald. "We broke some long runs, which we haven't been doing this year, which is good."

"We definitely have a nice rotation of backs right now, which is nice to have some depth," added Polymeros, who had long rushes of 45 and 61 yards, with the last one going for a score. "Our line, a big shout out to them because they just kept opening holes and I just kept hitting them."

It was Bay Path who scored first, though, when they received the opening kick-off and proceeded to march 65 yards on seven plays. Quarterback Christian Keeler (12 of 20, 83 yards; 3 carries, 32 yards) took that seventh snap and optioned the ball back to Pat Dyer, who then ran 40 yards to pay dirt as the Minutemen grabbed a 6-0 lead less than four minutes in.

"That first drive proved that we can play and then the final scoreboard showed that we really didn't belong here today," said Bay Path head coach Matthew Fall.

That was because the Beavers made the necessary adjustments and scored the game's final 41 points.

"I think that's the first time this year that somebody's got the ball and went down the field on us," said Archibald. "We had to make some adjustments defensively and we were able to do that. I'm proud of the way our guys battled back."

Fitzgerald scored from 31 yards out about four minutes later and quarterback Reece Hendriks — who doubles as the team's kicker — booted the first of his five extra points in six attempts to give BVT the lead.

The Beavers scored a pair of second quarter touchdowns — Polymeros from a yard out, and Hendriks (3 of 7, 40 yards) passing to Jordyn Amero from 20 yards — to up their halftime advantage to 21-6.

Valley Tech added a 10-yard touchdown by Antaya and Polymeros' 61-yard score in the third quarter before Antaya finished things off with a nine-yard TD on the first snap of the final frame to account for the 41-6 final.

The one possible downside to BVT's victory was the a fourth quarter injury to Hendriks, who possibly hurt his collarbone on his team's final kick-off.

"He's going to get checked out now," said Archibald. "It sounds like he's going to be out for a while."

Bay Path's Christian Keeler launches a pass down the field.

Archibald added that Scott Mackay is the backup and will be ready to go in the Beavers' next game, as they are now 6-0 and hope to remain undefeated.

The Minutemen are now 3-3. "Things got a little rough and I saw some leadership characteristics come out of some players and I saw the lack of leadership maybe come out of others," said Fall, whose team needs to regroup. "The goal right now is run the table and at the end let's just see where the chips lie."

Jake Leone of Bay Path (12) not only stripped the ball out of a Blackstone Valley Tech ball carrier's hands, but he also pounced on it for a fumble recovery.

Carrier named MASCAC Women's Cross-Country Rookie of the Week

WORCESTER — Worcester State University freshman Julia Carrier of Oxford and Shepherd Hill Regional has been named the Massachusetts State Collegiate Athletic Conference (MASCAC) women's cross-country rookie of the week, as announced by the conference Monday afternoon, Oct. 9.

Over the Oct. 7-8 weekend, Carrier came in 43rd place at the 22nd annual James Earley Invitational meet at Stanley Park with a 5k time of 19:57.84.

"Julia found her running zone the last four meets, posting higher finishing places while lowering her PR [personal record] competition times," said head coach Gary Jusseaume. "Carrier ran her best 5k race to date as 19:57 is an outstanding performance."

"As we head into major invitational, conference and NCAA championship meets this cross-country season, Julia is sure to lower her PRs while helping guide Worcester State through its best ever cross-country season," Jusseaume added.

Impressive Wolverines top young, talented Oxford squad

Oxford's Gina Parmenter fires off a shot at Leicester's net.

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — Playing aggressive and controlling possession throughout was the plan of attack for the Leicester High girls' varsity soccer team in its 3-1 win over a talented but young Oxford High squad on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

"Possession is our game, I knew coming into the game we would be able to possess the ball and that is what we did," explained Tim Hippert, head coach of the Wolverines. "We were a little anxious in the first half getting a little too direct and in the second half we settled down and we controlled the possession and were the aggressors."

Tight defense and some missed opportunities from Leicester was the tale of the tape for the first nine minutes of regulation until the Wolverines took advantage of a solid throw-in by freshman Jenna Soden that landed at the feet of senior striker Madison Dufries. With some space inside the Pirates' box, Dufries got off a shot that ended the scoreless tie.

Now with a one-goal lead, Leicester didn't take its foot off the gas-peddle, but a solid defensive effort from Oxford made it difficult for the Wolverines to get clean looks at the net. That was until sophomore center Madison Hippert raced up the middle of the Pirate defense and found sophomore wing Aaliyah Hernandez racing up the left side for an easy one-time goal to up Leicester's lead to 2-0 going into halftime.

"Second half we played well, in the second half that is what we do," expressed Coach Hippert. "We practice those things on a daily basis, we could've finished a little bit better, but overall I am very happy with our possession throughout the game. No matter what I put in they were able to play the way that we practice and how they are supposed to."

The Wolverines came out of the half and controlled possession and had the Pirates pinned inside their defensive box. They were able to pad their lead early in the frame when Leicester's sophomore duo reversed roles. Hernandez raced up the right sideline until she found Hippert in the middle of the field, just outside of the box, where she rocketed a shot into the upper-left 90 just over the outstretched arms of Oxford keeper Felicity Steiger.

Despite letting up three goals, Steiger was the anchor to a very good defensive effort from the Pirates. Steiger controlled the defense, showing leadership by calling off her defenders countless times saying that she had the ball before eventually hitting a teammate with a pass. On top of the great leadership shown, Steiger tallied 19 totals saves — including a few remarkable diving stops that erased for-sure goals.

"Felicity was out of her mind tonight, she has had a few very good games in a row," Oxford head coach Bob Fuqua said.

Fuqua was proud of his team's entire defensive unit, which he employed with a different style of 'D.'

"We run a different system than most teams, we mark, most teams allow forwards to have space and do what they want to do and want the ball directly at their feet and we don't allow them to get it at their feet and they have to work hard for a ball," explained Fuqua.

Laura Richmond of Oxford is able to head the ball out of her team's defensive zone.

The Pirates, now 4-8-2, have played a tough schedule throughout the season, competing against many teams in higher divisions. With that said, Oxford believes it can parlay the tough opponents into a regular season-ending winning streak.

"That team just dropped out of the top 10 in Central Massachusetts," Fuqua said of Leicester, which improved to an impressive 11-2. "They are a Division 3 team and we are a Division 4 team. The first part of our schedule we had Division 1 teams, Division 3 teams, two-time division champions Millbury and right about now we are starting to hit our stride at the right time. We need four wins to get into districts and we have four games that are very winnable."

Perhaps a sign of things to come, junior forward Gina Parmenter tallied in the closing minutes for Oxford to make it a 3-1 game and potentially gain momentum for the remainder of the season.

LEICESTER — In search of their first victory of the season, the Oxford High varsity field hockey team took on Southern Worcester County League rival Leicester High on Wednesday, Oct. 11. The Pirates lost to the Wolverines by a 3-0 final earlier in the year, and this time they fell, 2-0.

Oxford's best offensive chances occurred when they generated three penalty corners, including two in the game's final minute. But Leicester's defense stood tall, as the Pirates slipped to 0-12.

Oxford goalie Nickole Biedrzycki kept her team in the game by finishing with 14 saves, including a sensational stop on a Leicester (5-6-2) penalty stroke opportunity.

Fall hunting sports are just getting started with a...bang

RALPH TRUE

Archery season for deer opened this past Monday, Oct. 16, in Massachusetts under above average temperatures. A good frost is needed to get the trees to shed some of their leaves, which will give the hunter a better chance of harvesting a deer. Hunting from a tree stand gives the hunter a good opportunity to harvest a deer, but ground blinds also work very well. Archers are a very serious group of hunters that take a lot of time prior to opening day to scout out an area and set out their tree stand or blind well in advance of opening day.

Archery hunters try to set up their stands away from other hunters and do not appreciate other hunter encroaching on their hunting sites. Always look around the area that you plan to hunt, to ensure that no other tree stands or blinds are in your area. There are a lot of woods out there to hunt, and there is no reason to set up on top of another archer.

Sunday hunting is being addressed by the Mass Fish & Wildlife board this year, and it has a good chance of passing. The crossbow bill is also being addressed this year and it too seems to have the backing of the Fish & Wildlife board. If passed any licensed hunter could purchase and use a crossbow while hunting. Both bills are long overdue.

Goose and duck hunting started off slow for some waterfowl hunters and was great for others. As soon as we get some cooler weather and more corn fields are cut, local geese should start to feed in them. Some geese are still feeding on grassy fields, and many are frequenting un-hunttable areas. A good freeze up of local ponds will push ducks and geese into new areas, but the weather will need to change fast.

Pheasant hunting opened this past Saturday in Massachusetts. Unfortunately, a few hunters took their dogs out to the newly stocked areas prior to opening day, and flushed the birds out of the area as they like to train their dogs on the pheasant. When the hunters arrived to hunt on Saturday very few birds were found at two local covers. A new regulation needs to be passed prohibiting training of dogs on newly stocked pheasant prior to hunting season.

Coyote season also opened on Oct. 14, this year. Numerous complaints from residents of the valley area about coyotes killing family cats and small dogs have residents much more appreciative of hunting activities in their areas, and are much more inclined to give hunters permission to hunt their land. Asking private property owners for permission to hunt their land should always be a top priority for hunters. Giving the land owner some of your harvested deer and other wild game is a good way to insure hunting in the coming years.

With the bear population increasing every year throughout the state it might be a good idea to purchase a bear permit prior to hunting season. The second black bear season in Massachusetts opens on Nov. 6, thru Nov. 25 in zones 1-14, and is open from Nov. 27-Dec. 9 this year. Be sure to read all of the regulations before going out bear hunting.

Saltwater fishing for stripers and tautog should start to get into full gear this month as the waters cool and migration of both species have them in a feeding frenzy. Hopefully the wind will subside long enough to allow anglers with boats to enjoy some great fall fishing. Some of the best tautog fishing is in the month of November.

It is not too early to get your ice fishing gear in order. Power ice augers need a bit of maintenance every year, and ice tilts and jig sticks often need new line and sharp hooks. I can remember ice fishing on the Meadow Pond in Whitinsville on Thanksgiving Day in my earlier years. Hopefully we will get some good ice to fish on this year. Cape ponds have seen very little ice in the past few years.

Keep orchids beautiful and blooming

Lift your spirits, enliven your indoor décor or give the gift of beautiful blooming orchids. You'll enjoy these exotic blossoms for months with just minimal care – once you know what to do.

Start with a healthy flowering plant. The phalaenopsis or moth orchid is the most widely available and easiest to grow. It's similar to caring for an African violet. When you provide the proper growing conditions, maintenance is a breeze.

The challenge comes with less-than-ideal indoor growing conditions of low light and dry air. Fortunately, there are a few things you can do to create a better environment for your orchid.

Keep in mind that most orchids are epiphytes. In nature, they grow on other plants and obtain water and nutrients from the air, water and plant debris that accumulates in their environment. This is why they are grown in an orchid mix made of organic material such as peat, fir bark and perlite. This, or a similar combination, retains water while providing needed drainage.

Give your orchid a good soaking once a week. Pour off any excess water that collects in the saucer. Don't allow orchids to sit in water and don't water them too often. This can lead to root rot and death of your plant.

Further improve the environment

GARDEN MOMENTS
MELINDA MYERS

by increasing the humidity around the plant. Group them with other orchids and indoor plants. As one plant loses moisture, or "transpires", the others will benefit from the increase in humidity. Plus, you'll create a beautiful display while improving the growing conditions.

Alternatively, you can create humidity trays. Place pebbles in the saucer and the pot on top of the pebbles. Allow excess water to collect in the pebbles below the pot. As this evaporates it increases the humidity around your plant. This also eliminates the need to pour off the excess water that collects in the saucer.

For larger plant collections use rubber humidity plant tray grids. These save space by allowing you to place several plants on one tray. These are perfect for growing on tables or light stands.

Place your plant in a bright location. Orchids do best with 12 to 14 hours of sunlight. Unobstructed south- or east-facing windows are usually the best. Or give plants a boost with artificial lights. Newer full spectrum LED lights provide needed light while using less energy.

And there's no reason to hide your orchid and light setup in the basement.

Check out the attractive, new indoor grow light systems like the Coltura LED Grow Frame (gardeners.com). It can be mounted on the wall or set on a table. Either way, your orchids will be in full view for all to enjoy.

Fertilize actively growing plants with an orchid fertilizer. Michigan State University developed a fertilizer that efficiently provides the nutrients orchids need. They have "Orchid Tap Water" and "Orchid Pure Water Fertilizer" formulations. Just follow label directions for best results.

Once the plants are done flowering, you can keep them growing indoors. If you like a challenge, try reblooming. On phalaenopsis orchids, just cut back the flowering stem between the second or third node from the bottom. Or give the plant a rest and cut the flower stem back to the leaves. Continue to provide proper care and wait to see if you were successful.

You can also simply treat an orchid plant like a long-lasting bouquet. That way there's no guilt if you decide to toss it. And if the guilt is too much, just look for an avid gardener. There's always someone who would be happy to adopt and try to rebloom your non-flowering plant.

Successfully switch auto insurance providers

Once drivers purchase an auto insurance policy, many simply let the policy renew each year. But with a little digging, drivers may be able to reduce their insurance costs considerably.

According to the Insurance Information Institute in New York, consumers should ask themselves if they're happy with the cost, service and coverage of their existing policies whenever it's time to renew. If they are, they should stick with their existing policies. However, if customers feel things can be better, then it's a perfect time to see what's available. Many driver advocates advise shopping for a new policy every two or three years.

When it comes time to switch car insurance companies, follow these steps and remember to avoid gaps in the coverage.

- Compare apples to apples. When shopping for new policies, consumers should compare the same features offered by various providers, including coverage types, deductibles and any limits. Keep a copy of your existing policy's declarations page so that all quotes can be accurately compared to the existing policy.

- Research any cancellation fees. Before shopping over, find out if there are any cancellation fees associated with an existing policy.

- Eliminate coverage gaps. Eliminate gaps in coverage by ensuring a new policy begins the moment the existing one ends. This prevents potential financial ruin should a driver get into an accident without any insurance during a gap period.

- Take note of any lifestyle changes. Be sure to list anything that can affect the cost of coverage, such as anti-theft devices on the vehicle, window etching or updated driving habits.

- Explore union or group affiliations. Drivers who are members of particular clubs, professional organizations or something similar may be eligible for special policies with certain providers. Make a list of any affiliations and contact the organizers to see if they have relationships with auto insurance providers. Law enforcement personnel or veterans may be eligible for certain discounts as well. Some insurance carriers only cover police officers or former military. It pays to look into these discounts.

- Consider small companies. Just because they don't advertise as much as some of the more well-known providers does not mean small insurance companies are not capable of providing sufficient, affordable coverage. There are plenty of reputable small companies that offer excellent rates to drivers willing to exercise their due diligence.

- Check with the existing provider, too. Drivers can discuss their current rates and coverage with their existing insurance company, who may offer suggestions on reducing coverage or even offer lower prices in an effort to hang on to customers.

Consider these possibilities before switching.

Shopping around for a new automotive insurance policy may help customers cut rates and increase coverage.

Safe driving tips for teen drivers

Earning a driver's license is a milestone in a young person's life. Teenagers typically take to the open road without adults riding shotgun between the ages of 16 and 18, depending on where kids live. Although this can be an exciting time for them, it's also a time that can change the family dynamic.

Parents may have mixed feelings about their children getting their drivers' licenses. Although many parents recognize the convenience of having another licensed driver in the house, it's understandable if moms and dads are weary about inexperienced children behind the wheel.

Such fears are not unfounded, as vehicular fatalities remain the leading cause of death for many teenagers. In the United States, teens are three times more likely to crash per mile driven than adults, according to data from Allstate. The Canadian Automobile Association states that drivers in Canada between the ages 16 and 19 years have a fatality rate that is more than four times as high as that of drivers between the ages of 25 and 34 and nine times as high as that of drivers between the ages 45 and 54. To help reduce the propensity for crashes, injury and death, families can work together to focus on safe driving tips.

• Take a safe-driving course. Any licensed driver can benefit from a safe-driving course. Check with the department of motor vehicles to find an approved list of driving courses available. In addition to providing valuable safety tips, enrollment in these courses may entitle people to discounts on auto insurance.

• Stay off of the phone. Texting and making phone calls reduces alertness on the road. That loss of focus, even if only for a few seconds, can result in drivers driving the equivalent of an entire football field without having their eyes on the road. Avoid mobile devices while driving. Pull over to make a call if there is an emergency; otherwise, leave the phone out of reach in a backseat.

• Use the headlights. Many cars now feature daytime running lights. For those that don't, engage the headlights when driving. Using headlights increases visibility and helps other drivers see approaching vehicles, even during the daytime.

• Leave plenty of time. Rushing around to make it to class or other appointments can lead to speeding and other dangerous driving habits. By leaving extra time, drivers will not feel stressed or rushed.

• Limit distractions behind the wheel. Novice drivers may become easily distracted by the radio or even other passengers. Until they gain ample experience, teen drivers should keep passengers and noises to a minimum.

• Stick to easy parking for now. New drivers can opt to park in spaces that have plenty of room or allow for pulling out (rather than backing out). This can improve visibility and reduce the risk of hitting other vehicles.

Driving is exciting for newly licensed teens, but parents must emphasize the importance of defensive driving to their young drivers.

OBITUARIES

John Alton "Jack" Barrett, 88

WEBSTER - John Alton "Jack" Barrett, 88 years young, bid farewell to life and the family he loved beyond measure with a bittersweet, raspy, raucous kind of laugh, and a "let me go, I've had a good life", and "I love you all" declaration from his lips. Jack would tell you that "Life is so precious" and "God is Love". He died of complications of old age on Monday, October 9, 2017, in Overlook Hospice. He will be deeply missed!

He was born in New Rochelle NY on May 17, 1929, the son of Alton Herbert & Gladys Leila (Walch) Barrett. He was predeceased by 4 brothers and 1 sister: Raymond W. Farnum, Arthur Bates Barrett, Horace Mitchell "Bud" Barrett, Daniel Lincoln Barrett, and an infant sister Ruth. He was deeply influenced by his relationship to his maternal grandparents, Horace H. "Buddy" Walch and Winifred E. (Bates) Walch.

He instilled in our family a love for life, respect for our fellow man, a mischievous twinkle in the eye, an appreciation for poetry, history, and YES ~ POLITICS (Ugh! & a LOL!), that freedom is not free, self-reliance & work ethic are good qualities, and to have never ending HOPE!

Jack was a man of great wisdom, a deeply spiritual man with a magnificent loving heart and incredibly brilliant mind. He lived life with gusto, had great humor, laughed often, and loved well. He had a deep love for his wife Vada, saying "we had something really special, your mother and I". He was always young at heart and would tell us..."growing old is mandatory, growing up is optional".

He leaves his loving wife of 63 years, Vada Mae (Eggers) Barrett, 3 children, Sharon Pelletier, Katherine Barrett, all of Webster, his son Alton Barrett of Prudence Island RI; 5 grandchildren... Kyle & Tyler Bennett, Michaela & Desiree Pelletier and Aribella Barrett; 3 great grandchildren... Sakaya "from Hawaii" Bennett, Oliver "the Genius" Bennett & Cooper "Super Duper" Bennett.

He leaves in-laws and outlaws he loved dearly... Bryan P. Pelletier, Gary E. Bennett (recently deceased loving father of the Bennett Boys), Debra Henault, Mary Ellen "Mimi" & Juliana Henault (long-time companion of Alton & her children), Sutton Tucker Bennett (wife of Kyle), and Dr. Jillian Reed Bennett (wife of Tyler), and his remaining sisters-in-law from Forest VA: Mattie (Eggers) Droog & Helen (Eggers) Davidson; and his many predeceased brothers & sisters in-law.

He had a special place in his heart for his nieces and nephews, their husbands, wives, children, grandchildren & great grandchildren, from New England to Virginia & beyond!

Jack thoroughly enjoyed many a Barrett Family Fun Day in August at Prudence Island RI, Barrett winter snow skiing trips to King Pine in NH, Eggers Family Reunions in the mountains of NC and family trips to Virginia. Times treasured and fondly remembered.

Jack's father worked for Standard Oil Co. and the family travelled extensively. Jack lived many places in his first 17 years, including: Aruba as a young boy with oil tanker trips to the states, destination Webster MA & Prudence Island RI to visit his grandparents; the Admiral Farragut Academy in Pine Beach, NJ, Saint Andrews School in Barrington RI, to Oakridge, TN, New York, Chicago, Michigan and more.

He proudly served our great nation in the US Navy from 1946 to 1952. He enlisted at 17 years old from Newport RI. He did his basic training in the Great Lakes, Chicago, Illinois, where he set out hitch hiking with a friend along Route 66 to report for duty in San Francisco, California. He served in Kodiak and the Aleutian Islands of Alaska, the Mediterranean and beyond! Many a great story has been told of his adventures, and some kept quiet, only hinted to by the scar of a serious head injury and the arm tattoo of a skull & banner with the words "Death before Dishonor".

Upon discharge, he tried his hand at raising beef cattle with his brother Bud on a farm in Concord VA. Relatively short lived, he soon moved to Lynchburg VA where he met the love of his life Vada, who followed him back to Webster where he finally settled down to raise their family.

in the early 1960's, Jack ran an outdoor ice skating arena in Webster on the corner of Thompson & Birch Island Roads, but due to an ultimatum and a proposed promotion from his full time employer (BW Footwear), he gave up his beloved freedom to settle down and work in manufacturing. He was an entrepreneur at heart, a leader with great problem solving skills, a Jack of all trades, and founder of his own manufacturing firm, Barrett Stitching Co., in 1975.

In around 1990, after retirement, he created Jack's Hope Realty on Prudence Island RI. As owner, broker of his own real estate sales company, and with the help of his friend and fellow agent, Sam Cambria, they were able to share the dream of vacation home ownership with other Prudence Island RI enthusiasts for many years! Jack excelled at whatever he put his mind to!

He was a physical kind of guy and loved to swim, sail, ice skate, play ice hockey, touch football, softball, run, snow ski, and enjoyed raking leaves on a windy fall day (to the chagrin of our neighbors, LOL). Captain Jack, the old salt, would take the land-loving Vada and grandchildren on expeditions in Narragansett Bay on his Sports Fisherman boat and would teach the grandchildren how to hold the helm from the fly bridge. They often joyfully played and ate at Rocky Point Park, welcomed the Tall Ships to Newport a time or 2, explored and camped on Prudence and Dutch Islands! In later years, he thoroughly enjoyed winters in Southwest FL. He enjoyed walking the boardwalk at Englewood beach, the sunsets at Manasota beach and the lighthouse at Boca Grande. He was tech savvy and an avid Ancestry.com guru, who let us know our heritage, firmly planting our roots in the rich soil of our loving past some-ones! We are grateful for his great legacy, and his very own incredible penned poetry! Farewell & Enjoy the Tide Dad, Grampa, Uncle Jack! See You Soon!

Visitation was held on Sunday, October 15, 2017 from 2:00 to 4:00 pm in Scanlon Funeral Service, 38 East Main Street, followed by a service at 4:00 pm at the funeral home. The Reverend John R. White officiated. A graveside service was held at 11:00 am, Monday, October 16, in Mount Zion Cemetery, Worcester Rd, Webster. The Webster-Dudley Veterans Council performed military honors.

Donations in his name may be made to the Disabled American Veterans, at: DAV, 24 Beacon St, Suite 546 Statehouse, Boston, MA 02133. For more information on local DAV services to veterans, please visit www.DAVMA.org
