AUBURN — The Pumpkin Patch at First Congregational Church in Auburn is more than an annual fundraiser. Since the first event in 2007, the Pumpkin Patch has become an Auburn tradition for many families.

Sitting at the busy intersection of Church and Central Streets, it's hard to miss the striking scene: Bright orange pumpkins sitting among fallen leaves and maple trees in fall foliage, all against the backdrop of First Congregational's classic New England white-steeped church.

The pumpkin patch at the First Congregational Church in Auburn will be open starting Saturday, Sept. 28, continuing daily until Oct. 31. Help unloading the more than 2,000 pumpkins is always appreciated.

The pumpkins are grown on the Navajo Indian Reservation in Farmington, N.M., where they harvest approximately 1,200 acres of pumpkins and employ more than 700 Native Americans during their harvest months of September and October. They also have a full time off-season staff

Caissie nominated for Dudley Court post

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

BOSTON — The lone Republican member of the Governor's Council in Boston, which vets and confirms the judicial nominees set forth by the governor, has been nominated by the Governor and Lieutenant Governor to serve as clerk magistrate of the Dudley District Court.

Gov. Charlie Baker and Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito have tapped Oxford lawyer Jennie Caissie to serve the local court with her confirmation hearing having been set for Wednesday, Sept. 18, after our press deadline for this week's edition.

Caissie has served on the Governor's Council since 2011. A 1995 graduate of Assumption College, Caissie has practiced criminal and civil law since 1998, the same year she earned a degree from New England School of Law. She received her MBA from Nichols College in 2000 and served as a selectman in Oxford from 1997 through 2000, and again from 2003 through 2013.

Caissie's nomination is not a surprise as rumors of her interest in the position and the Governor's interest in nominating her have circulated for some time making headlines in numerous publications throughout the commonwealth. Gloucester Democratic Councilor Eileen Duff was to head Caissie's confirmation hearing as voted by the Governor's Council as normal rules would otherwise have Caissie presiding over her own confirmation hearing. Caissie informed the council that she will resign if confirmed. She was not present for the council's meeting on Sept. 11 seeing her nomination as a conflict of interest. In addition, the case against Cassie's husband, Burke Desautels, stemming from an alleged drunk driving incident in Webster in April has been moved to a court in Palmer for further proceedings to eliminate any conflict of interest concerning Caissie's nomination for the Dudley District Court position according to the Boston Herald.

In a prepared statement to the media Governor Baker called Caissie an accomplished attorney worthy of the nomination.

"Attorney Caissie's public service experience and career in criminal and civil law will bring sound legal insights to the Dudley District Court," said the Governor.

Car seat technicians take pressure off new parents

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — Over the last few decades, the Oxford Fire Department has worked hard to provide several needs for the community at larger by increasing personnel, services and even its own facility. Among those offerings is one that seems like a simple service, but it's an important one especially for new parents in an advanced age of child safety in vehicles.

Over the past few years, the Oxford Fire Department has worked to increase their staff of certified car seat technicians with five firefighters and paramedics now certified to help parents learn the basics of car seat safety and installation. Acting Fire Chief John Belanger said this service has been in high demand over the years especially as car seats have become more advanced and with the police department unable to provide the service to the capacity it used to, the fire department worked to serve the need.

"The police department used to do it as well, but it's not something they're able to continue to do. So, we only had one car seat technician intown. I asked for a volunteer from each working group to go to the class. I now have a car seat technician on hand most of the time. A lot of times it's a last-minute thing like when

Charlton looking at sidewalk improvement options

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – The town of Charlton will be exploring options for sidewalk improvements over the next year.

Continuing a conversation sparked in July, Selectman Bill Borowski readdressed citizen demands for improvements along the Main Street area and Route 31 during a Board of Selectmen meeting in late August. He reiterated that the need is certainly there and citizens and residents want to see a more user friendly center of town for foot traffic. Borowski said the purpose of his bringing the matter to a Board of Selectmen meeting was to make sure that all departments are working in tandem towards a common goal.

“What I’m looking to do is really coordinate our infrastructure approach with at least a potential estimate and focus on the downtown area first and really leave it up to the voters. What I don’t like to see happen is different groups working solo,” Borowski said.

While the selectman’s comments weren’t accusatory, he did want to make sure that the highway department, selectmen and planning board were all on the same page.

As fate would have it,

Charlton Planning Director Randy Benson discussed the Planning Board’s efforts to would with the Central Massachusetts Regional Planning Commission (CMRPC) to utilize funding from the Massachusetts DOT’s Complete Streets program to address such needs in the community and the Main Street area is on their radar.

“It’s a three-tier program where you have to first get committed by the Mass. DOT and determine where you would want to build new sidewalks. This program can be something as simple as a bus stop to a whole street corridor.

They do have a funding limit of $400,000. The Planning Board has gotten to tier three which we have a $10,000 allocation right now that would pay for engineering, design and a cost estimate for the project then we’d apply to the Mass DOT for the funding,” Benson said.

The question on hand now is where the public wants the focus to be and clearly Selectman Borowski’s experience with citizens has given the Planning Board some direction. However, the board isn’t closing the door to other potential priorities. In the end the public will indeed be a deciding factor in which part of town receives upgrades.

“We discussed possibly going out into the village district. We are exploring some of our options and then bringing it to the public to decide where they would like to see our resources spent in terms of sidewalk projects,” Benson said.

Selectman Borowski called the situation “serendipitous,” as Main Street is, in fact, in the village district of town.

With the next round of grant funding set for the year 2020 the town has time to decide how it would like to proceed. Benson said the town is in “a good position” to apply for the funding next year.

Battle the monster in the closet with Gateway Players

SOUTHBRIDGE — Gateway Players Theatre of Southbridge presents “There’s a Monster in My Closet” by Angela D. Stewart, Music & Lyrics by Bill Francoeur. Performance dates are Oct. 4 and 5, at 7:30 p.m. and Oct. 6 at 2 p.m. All performances will be held at the Fellowship Hall of Elm Street Congregational Church, 61 Elm St. in Southbridge. Parking is available on Elm Street, or in the parking deck behind the Southbridge Town Hall.

This production will be directed by Lou-Ellen Corkum, and produced by Kathi Grenier. Tickets are $15 for adults and $13 for seniors and youth under 18. Tickets may be reserved by calling Gateway at 508-764-4531. Online credit card ticket sales are available at: <https://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/4351821>.

This program is supported in part by the Southbridge Cultural Council, a local agency, which in part is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

Presented by permission through special arrangement with Pioneer Drama Services.

In the play, Emily has a sleepover with her best friend Stephanie when they discover there’s a monster in her closet! To investigate they recruit their friends to help capture the monster. What they don’t know is that Murray, the closet monster, doesn’t mean any harm. He only wants to play Emily’s new video game. He’s more scared of kids than they are of him!

When the Dream King hears that Murray is goofing off on the job, Murray is put on probation. It’s a fact that when a child is born, a monster is assigned to watch over them – not play with their things. Other wonderful entertaining characters include Sandy the Sandman and his dream weavers, Emily’s big brother and friends, and various inhabitants of the dream world.

Norcross Wildlife Foundation moves headquarters to Wales

WALES — Charles Baeder, Chairman of the Board, has announced the relocation of Norcross Wildlife Foundation’s headquarters from New York City to its wildlife sanctuary in Wales.

According to Mr. Baeder, the Sanctuary, known locally as Tupper Hill, has always anchored the organization’s mission. In recent years, the organization’s focus shifted from grant-making to a renewed emphasis on the Norcross Wildlife Sanctuary and related education, outreach, and conservation programs.

“This move aligns with the Foundation’s desire to focus on the Sanctuary and its surrounding communities, strengthen regional coalitions, and lead efforts for habitat conservation,” Baeder said.

Karen Outlaw, Executive Director of Norcross since 2007, has chosen not to relocate with the Foundation to Massachusetts.

“We thank Karen for her leadership, dedication, expertise, and friendship,” Baeder said. “We know she will continue to make important contributions to the conservation community in the years ahead.”

Ms. Outlaw thanks the Norcross Wildlife staff and board, its partner organizations and constituents for their outstanding work in support of the Norcross Wildlife Foundation and its mission.

James Elder, a Director of the Foundation since 2017, and a Founding Director of the Campaign for Environmental Literacy and the School for Field Studies, resigned from the Norcross board to serve as Interim Executive Director until a permanent Executive Director is selected. Baeder and Outlaw will transition in their roles through October.

MARION, Ind. — Students from Dudley and Charlton returned home this fall as World Champions after winning the title Aug. 8 as a member of the Spartans Drum and Bugle Corps at the Drum Corps International (DCI) Open Class World Championship Finals in Marion, Ind. This is the Spartans' sixth world championship.

The Nashua, New Hampshire-based Spartans are one of 48 members of DCI that compete throughout the country each summer. In addition to their six world championship titles, the Spartans won the Bronze Medal in Open Class in 2015, and placed fifth in Open Class in 2016, 2017, and 2018.

"Each year, I am more and more amazed at the group of young people we work with," said Paul G. LaFlamme, Jr., president of the Spartans. "Their commitment, dedication, love of music and willingness to give up beach days and summer parties to work hard for 14 hours a day in the hot sun never ceases to amaze me. This year's corps is no different – they worked hard, they left it all on the field, and together with our staff, they brought another World Championship home. I couldn't be more proud of them all."

DCI accepts high school and college students age 15 to 22. While many of the members participate in their school's marching band or other ensemble, it is not a prerequisite. Members of the Spartans do not have to live in the New Hampshire area — those members who reside outside of the area can be paired up with volunteer parents who open their homes to Spartans members during the summer. Parents make up a big portion of the Spartans workforce, volunteering to travel as chaperones, cooks, tailors and much more.

The Spartans will host audition camps in November and December for anyone interested in learning more or in joining the corps for the 2020 season. For more information on the Spartans and the audition camps, visit www.spartansdbc.org.

Mopar division first place winner was Richard Langmeyer of Upton, and second place went to Frank Zicaro of Oxford. Tolland, Connecticut resident John Piader took first place in the Open category. And the People's Choice trophy was awarded to Ron Keogh of Webster.

Congratulations to Auxiliary member Carolyn Smith of Webster, who received a second place trophy for her Corvair Monza.

In addition to the car show, the event included a 50/50 raffle and a general raffle with an assortment of prizes from gift certificates to automotive-related items. The Harrington on Wheels (HOW) van was also on hand and offered free blood pressure screenings and distributed health-related educational materials.

Popular DJ Dick Salvas kept the crowd entertained with a variety of Golden Oldies.

Car show co-chairs, Kelly and Dan Hibbard, and several other Auxiliary members volunteered their time to assist at the event, which raised $3,517 to support programs and services provided by Harrington HealthCare System.

Vehicle requests to appear on town meeting warrant

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — Continuing the goal of annually updating the town's vehicle fleet, Charlton's Fire and Police Chiefs are bringing several vehicle purchases requests to next month's annual fall town meeting.

Both Chiefs appeared during a joint meeting of the Finance Committee and Board of Selectmen on Wednesday, Sept. 11 with the police department seeking three new cruisers and the fire department asking for a new fire truck.

Charlton Police Chief Graham Maxfield is continuing his efforts to update the aging vehicle fleet in his department, an effort he began when he took the position two years ago and is asking for funding to purchase three new cruisers as several current vehicles are approaching unserviceable mileage.

"The two years that I've been chief we've gotten three because we're trying to catch up. The fleet has been neglected for frankly twenty years. I'm just trying to get a serviceable number of cars in the rotation," Chief Maxfield said. "I really need four cars, but I'm only asking for three."

Maxfield said the vehicles do receive a lot of mileage as they are traded off between officers as they change shifts. Several vehicles have been taken out of service in recent years and are used for spare parts as needed. According to Maxfield at least one car currently in use has surpassed the 90,000 serviceable limit for police vehicles and another is quickly approaching that number.

"It's just a matter of maintaining. We generally have three or four cars out at a time. You put one down for service we don't have an extra sometimes, so the guys are forced to grab a detail car since it's all that's available in the lot," Chief Maxfield said. "We pretty much have the six and usually four of them are in use."

On the fire department side, Chief Chief Edward J. Knopf is seeking the purchase of a $603,000 fire truck to replace a severely age vehicle that has become a safety hazard and does not meet current specifications set by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

"What it buys you is a new NFPA compliant fire engine for the town. It is in line to replace Engine 1, which is out of compliance. It is twenty-five years old. There's severe wear and tear on it. Every cycle they add on new safety measures and there's an issue with roll-over stability, there's no seatbelt warning system in the vehicle, it doesn't have enough surface lighting to make the area around the vehicles safe for operations," Chief Knopf said.

The chief warned town officials that noncompliance would create a liability issue should the truck be involved in an incident of any kind. The new vehicle would be similar to the current Engine 1, but would come with a larger 1,250-gallon tank as opposed to the current 1,000-gallon tank.

Both proposals will be part of the town meeting warrant set for Tuesday, Oct. 8.

CAR SEATS

someone is going into labor," Chief Belanger said.

Brandon Andexler and Ben Lewis, each with around two years of service to the Oxford Fire Department, were among those trained to serve as car seat technicians. While it might seem like a quick, easy and simple responsibility on the surface both men see it as an important service they are providing to make sure parents are educated and kids are truly secure in these seats.

"Our goal is to educate the parent or guardian on how to properly install the seat. We want them to understand how to install the seats themselves in case they have to change vehicles," Brandon Andexler said.

"The multi-day program gave us a broad knowledge of the different brands and different kinds of car seats. We also learned about how different ages need to be accommodated," Ben Lewis added. "It just helps us gain the knowledge to answer whatever questions parents have and to access the resources we need for proper seat choices and ever recalls if need be."

Among the more experienced members of the car seat technician crew is 16-year Oxford Fire Department veteran Captain Ken Sellers who spoke from experience that the need is out there and Oxford Fire Department is on hand to assist those who need help even with such a seemingly simple task.

"It's gotten more and more common. The car seats are much more technical than they were, say, 20 years ago. Parents are having a harder time installing these things but now they can come here, see any one of us and we can help them. It's just one more way we can interact with and provide a service to the public," Captain Sellers said.

Those in need of assistance with car seat installation can learn more by calling the Oxford Fire Department at (508) 987-6012.

that is comprised entirely of Native Americans. This has a positive and lasting impact on a region with 42 percent unemployment.

For area residents, there is a certain allure to buying pumpkins from First Congregational, where the proceeds go toward supporting the church and its work in the local and global community. Sure, marching through a muddy field in search of that perfect $32 pumpkin has some appeal. But it just can't compare to wandering around the idyllic church yard, under an azure October sky, while youngsters jump in leaf piles and struggle with pumpkins twice their size.

Daily hours are from 10 a.m. (11 a.m. on Sundays) to dusk. If you have questions, feel free to call the church office at 508-832-2845.

Hunters aren't the only ones getting excited

A touch of fall last week sure had my two dogs acting a bit excited, as they also know that hunting season is just around the corner. For sportsmen that own a good bird dog, and have spent many hours in the field conditioning them for the upcoming season, it will all start to pay off in just a few weeks. Watching your bird dog on point, or having a pheasant flushing ahead of a good retriever can provide the ultimate experience in bird hunting.

I always said that if I did not have a dog to hunt with, I would give up bird hunting. It is all about the dog! Only a bird hunter can enjoy the real feeling of a day in the field with his dog. Unfortunately, the bird hunting season does not last that long in Massachusetts. There are a couple of hunting preserves that are open to bird hunters in the valley, & they provide some great bird hunting activities throughout the year. Check them out. Addieville East in Rhode Island and Ladywoods hunting preserve with offices in Uxbridge, can provide some great bird hunting experiences. They also provide pheasant and chukar partridge hunts for small groups that are guided using their dogs, or you can use your own dogs.

Belonging to a Rod & Gun Club that has a Preserve permit to hunt year around, is the best of both worlds. Clubs that possess a preserve permit can stock hundreds of Pheasant a year for their members to hunt on a daily basis. There are only two clubs in the valley that are fortunate enough to have a large number of pheasant hunters, and hold a preserve license. Holding numerous functions a year to raise money for their bird hunting activities will provide these members with many great days in the field.

Just as the ocean starts to calm down, another storm was heading our way. Although the storm is well off of our coastline, it continues to send large swells, making fishing a bit uncomfortable for larger vessel and at the same time keeping smaller craft off of the water. Anglers are hopeful that the fall migration of stripers will give them one more shot at landing a few more lunker fish before mother nature sends in the freezing temperatures.

Tautog fishing is also starting to provide some nice fish for anglers in Mass. & Rhode Island. Rhode Island limit as of Aug. 1 is three fish daily. The limit starting Oct. 15 is five fish daily. Seabass can be caught in the same waters as tautog using the same bait. Green crabs are the number one bait at this time of year. Tautog are a great eating fish.

The Whitinsville Fish & Game Club will hold their annual Field Day this Saturday at their club grounds in Douglas, off of White Court. This could be your last opportunity to enjoy some great food like Lobster and Clams in an outdoor environment. Meeting old friends and enjoying some great country music, and other entertainment is sure to make a great day for the family. Numerous games and prizes will also held throughout the day. There is no charge for admittance to the club activities, and they are open to the public.

This week's picture shows a German Shorthair Pointer doing what they do best! The dog is owned by Bob Brooks of Uxbridge.

The other picture shows a large sea bass taken in the waters around Point Judith lighthouse in Rhode Island using a RoadRunner Jig.

Why do we like being scared?

“IT: Chapter Two” was released on September 6 around the country. Anyone familiar with Stephen King’s horror novel, “IT,” published in 1986, knows all about Pennywise and red balloons. In Lancaster, the Rialto Theatre had some fun on the eve of the release by placing red balloons on gutters throughout town. The balloons are what Pennywise the clown uses to lure in his victims — and to frighten those who would dare to oppose him.

When our Editor was in high school, an attempt to read the original novel — which clocks in at a daunting 1,100 pages, give or take, depending on the edition in question — did not go so well. Being far too scared by the time we reached the third chapter, the book was closed and has been collecting dust since. As an avid reader of Dean Koontz, the thought of reading “IT” didn’t seem so scary at first. Suffice it to say, lesson very humbly learned.

When the film now known as “IT Chapter One” was released in 2016, our Editor took another stab (pun very much intended) at the story, this time via motion picture. Perhaps due to the 20-plus years of maturity between the attempt to read the novel and seeing the film, we must say, we did not find it nearly as scary. Disturbing, yes, but not scary.

A decision to forego seeing “IT Chapter Two” was made, for fear of being scared again; however, a recent trip to Bangor, Maine changed that.

It was coverage of a local fighter competing in an MMA brawl that led us to the hometown of Stephen King. The trip from New Hampshire to Maine was vast, with winding roads and was fairly vacant. Small towns were passed and if you blinked, you would miss them. Farm stands and old farm houses lined the roads and we could see why it would be the perfect place for an author to relax their minds, and get creative.

The morning following the fight, we embarked on a trip into downtown Bangor (which, incidentally, provided the inspiration for Derry, the fictional Maine town that serves as the backdrop for the events of “IT”). The interest to go and see Stephen King’s home wasn’t planned, it was more of a, ‘since we’re here’ type of situation. The downtown area was quaint, and had less people than one would think on a Sunday, sunny morning. King’s home was located just about a mile from the downtown area.

Anyone with any knowledge of the famous author could pick his house out right away. Red balloons celebrating the release of the new movie were seen swinging and bobbing from the tall black gates, with iron cobwebs and a bat at the top. Our first guess was that the balloons were placed by enthusiastic fans; however, a closer look and one will notice a red balloon inside the home, peering from a window. Thank you, Stephen (or the home’s caretakers), for playing along.

A conversation with the Editor in Chief for Salmon Press provided us with the knowledge that King was working as an Associate Professor of English at the University of Maine, barely making ends meet, when his wife rescued the manuscript for his first published novel, “Carrie,” from the trash and sent it to Viking, his original publisher. The book became a phenomenon, and the rest, as the old saying goes, is history.

This left us pondering the question, Why do people like being scared? Human beings have been telling ghost stories around the campfire, jumping from cliffs for “the thrill of it,” or daring one another to explore the decrepit house at the end of Main Street that’s rumored to harbor restless spirits since

Another election cycle is upon us

I’m writing to you this morning during a beautiful Labor Day weekend. So many are lamenting the end of summer, but I love the beauty and crispness of Fall. It is my favorite of the four seasons. The leaves on some trees are already turning and I love it all.

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

Let’s call for a different kind of boycott. Let’s boycott the intense anger at those who disagree. Instead, let’s all pull together this election season, regardless of where you lean and not allow the anger and vitriol to pull us under. Embrace those with a different opinion and you may learn something! As I have shared before, half of my friends lean left, and I love them. The other half lean right, and I love them too. I’m going to encourage you once again to love your friends and neighbors regardless of political leanings. Do not get into ideological arguments on social media, but if you do, please don’t unfriend your friend! Just ignore them until the dust clears. Remember, they are a friend for a reason ... keep them as a friend after the election. Life is too short and true friends are too precious to do otherwise.

Speaking of changing seasons, the election season is now upon us. Yesterday, Arlene and I travelled to a nearby lake and enjoyed a beautiful lunch at an outside table on the water. It was a gorgeous day, watching boats with brightly colored sails maneuver silently and gracefully across the blue water. As we sat in peace, enjoying the moment, a wedding party was assembling for pictures not far from our table. The party seemed celebratory and joyful, then it began.

“Did you hear what that rotten ‘bleep’ had to say last night? Election day can’t come fast enough. There’s a guy at work who supports him, so I unfriended him on Facebook and I do everything in my power to make his life at work miserable.”

I wasn’t shocked by the conversation, but was saddened. Because of a difference in political choice, one person is working to make another’s life on the job miserable. You are not surprised. We hear it from both sides all the time. There are calls for boycotts against companies who advertise on television and radio programs because we disagree with their point of view. Politicians are harassed in public in front of their families. When and where does it stop? We live in a country that claims to celebrate diversity — unless it’s diversity of political thought. In the case of a difference of political opinion, all acts of tolerance and civility are tossed out the window. It is not just un-American ... it is un-civilized and shameful.

Don’t let an election cycle define you as a person.

Work hard for your candidate. Donate money if you wish. Root for them as the night unfolds but when a winner is declared, accept the results of the will of your fellow citizens. The intelligence of our electorate has chosen candidates that have built the most successful nation in the history of mankind. Trust the will of the people. If a mistake is made, we’ll vote them out next time. Don’t allow an election to determine your happiness.

As I keep sharing with you ... regardless of who wins in 2020, the sun will rise the next morning. These United States of America will remain a beacon of democracy in a world looking to us for leadership. Rejoice in the fact we live in a country that allows “We the People,” the common citizen, to choose. I love my life in the greatest nation in the history of mankind. Please rejoice with me in the realization that no matter who wins or loses, the USA will continue to thrive.

May God help us through another election and continue to bless The United States of America.

Can “AI” help you become a better investor?

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

For the past several years, artificial intelligence — or AI — has increasingly found a place in many walks of life. Almost certainly, you use some form of AI, whether it’s your time on social media, your use of mobile banking, the navigation system you rely on for directions, or any of the many other AI-driven applications relevant to your daily life. But AI has also become a significant part of the financial services industry. So, you might wonder if AI can help you become a better investor.

To begin with, what is AI? Essentially, it’s the ability of a computer program or machine to think or learn. Using complex algorithms (a set of rules, or steps), computers and machines can mimic many of the thought processes of human beings.

But how can you use AI to invest? And should you?

In the financial services world, many companies use AI to select investments for specific funds. On an individual level, you can work with an AI-powered “robo-advisor” to build an investment portfolio. These robo-advisors are typically quite affordable, and they generally follow proven investment principles, such as diversification, in making recommendations.

Yet, you are more than just the sum of your answers to a robo-advisor’s online questionnaire. Investing is a highly personal matter, which means that, in the following areas, you may well benefit from some human intelligence — and empathy:

Understanding of your risk tolerance — A robo-advisor will ask you to identify your tolerance for risk — low, medium, high — and will plug in your answers when constructing a portfolio. But only a human financial advisor — someone who truly knows you, your personality, your family situation and your hopes for the future — can know how your sensitivity to risk might cause you to react to events such as sudden market declines. Armed with this knowledge, a financial advisor can talk through your options to help keep you on the road toward your goals.

Answers to qualitative questions — A robo-advisor can provide you with many key data points — rates of return, projections of future accumulations, etc. But so can a personal financial advisor, who can also go beyond the numbers to help you answer qualitative, subjective questions: How can I save for college for my children and my own retirement at the same time? If I change jobs, should I leave my 401(k) in my former employer’s plan, move it to my new employer’s plan or roll it over to an IRA? What’s the best way to guard my financial independence if I ever need some type of long-term care, such as an extended stay in a nursing home?

Guidance for the “big picture” — Your investments are important, but they’re also connected to other areas of your life, including your taxes and your estate plans. And while a financial advisor might not provide you with tax or legal advice, he or she may be able to connect you to other, appropriate professionals, and work with them to help you put together your “big picture.” That’s not something a typical robo-advisor is equipped to do.

Artificial intelligence will support many of your activities throughout your life. But when it comes to investing, a personal touch may never become obsolete.

Autumn Edibles Go from Décor to Table

Plump round pumpkins and tri colored Indian corn are sure signs autumn is here. While these harvest favorites are familiar sights at entry ways and front stoops, they are also edible! Speckled Indian Corn and seasonal pumpkins, from large Jack-O-Lanterns to squat pumpkins, are favorite fare for the harvest table. Read on for suggestions to take them from décor to the dining table!

TAKE THE HINT
KAREN TRAINOR

Pumpkins with Purpose: Jack-O-Lanterns are a Halloween tradition. Whether illuminated by old fashioned candles or flickering flameless lights, the carved pumpkins attract trick or treaters near and far to neighborhood doorsteps. Dark orange sugar pumpkins handily go from fall centerpiece to the dinner table. The solid, sweet orbs hold up nicely for displays both indoors and out, and in true frugal fashion, after they have served their time they can be enjoyed as dessert pies, creamy soups and holiday breads. It’s no wonder harvest pumpkins have long remained an autumn wonder, prized for both their culinary and decorative virtues!

Perfect Picks: Keep in mind when initially choosing pumpkins that the variety you select should fit your need. For example, if you desire a pumpkin for pie, a medium sugar pumpkin, which is typically small and sweet with a dark orange color, is the best choice. For carving, look for well rounded pumpkins that have good color with stem intact. Pumpkins earmarked as Jack-O-Lanterns are usually larger and contain too many strings and seeds to be practical for pie making, but the seeds are ideal for toasting.

Pumpkins’ Past: Pumpkins boast a long history at the harvest table. Native Americans revered the pumpkin as a valuable source of food to carry them through the long, cold winters, teaching early English settlers how to grow and prepare pumpkins, which became an important seasonal mainstay of the pioneer diet. The pilgrims utilized every part of the pumpkin, roasting the flesh, drying the seeds, making flour from dried pumpkin, and even weaving floor mats out of pumpkin skins, a method learned from the Native Americans. In New England, colonists made the first crustless pumpkin pies by cutting the top of the pumpkin, removing the seeds and filling it with apples, milk, sugar and spices and baking it whole.

Fresh Pumpkin Bisque: After your (still intact) sugar pumpkin has served its time as an autumn prop, why not serve it up on the dinner table? Here’s an easy recipe for a rich pumpkin soup. For a vegetarian version, just switch vegetable broth for the chicken broth.

Ingredients: 1 medium onion, chopped; 2 stalks celery, chopped; 3 cloves garlic, chopped; 4 cups chicken (or vegetable) broth; 2 tomatoes, chopped; 2 bay leaves; ½ teaspoons nutmeg; 2 cups pumpkin purée (one medium sugar pumpkin, about four pounds, yield about 1 ½ cup purée); salt and pepper to taste; 1 cup heavy cream. Instructions: Sauté onions, celery, and garlic in butter. Add broth, tomatoes, bay leaves and nutmeg. Cook until vegetables are very soft. Strain and reserve liquid. Purée vegetables with some liquid and strain through a sieve. Combine liquid, puréed vegetables, and pumpkin; heat. Add cream and season with salt and pepper.

Colorful Corn: A trio of colorful corn cobs, dried and hung on a back door are a sure sign of autumn. “Indian Petin,” with husks pulled back to expose petite, speckled ears are a New England treat in more ways than one. The delightfully

Labor Day tradition continues at Old Home Day

CHARLTON – Continuing a longstanding tradition, the town of Charlton braved the rain on Labor Day Monday 2019 for the annual Old Home Day celebration. The annual event has long been an opportunity for Charlton to embrace a sense of community with ceremonies acknowledging community volunteers, games and activities for the young and young at heart, the Scottish Highland Games, live music and more making up the morning and afternoon of activities. Despite early afternoon rain the day also included the popular Old Home Day parade which capped off a successful celebration of everything that makes Charlton a truly special town of Southern Worcester County.

ornate corn cobs have long been used as home décor to usher in the autumn season, but did you know some strains of Indian corn are edible? Food grade Indian corn on the cob is often available at Farmer's Markets and specialty grocery stores during the harvest season. These "calico" colored pointy eared cobs are not only delicious – they are fun to eat when popped on the cob!

Pop Corn: Individual ears of dried food grade Indian Corn may be (carefully) popped in the microwave using the standard paper bag method. Keep in mind Indian corn is harder and tougher than traditional corn, but the "fun factor" makes it a treat worth trying! In addition, fresh Indian Corn may be cut off the cob to be popped on the stove or in a popcorn maker.

Note: Keep in mind if you plan to eat

Indian Corn it is of utmost importance that the corn is a strain safe to eat and that it has not been treated. Some farm stands and markets are now offering authentic Indian Corn cobs dried and ready for popping.

Food Fact: Believe it or not, certain varieties Indian Corn can also be eaten fresh, steamed or boiled. The key is choosing edible Indian Corn that is freshly picked and young and tender. If the kernels appear dried, the corn is too old to be enjoyed fresh.

Corn Décor: Once you've eaten your fill of freshly picked Indian Corn, you can easily recycle the rest for ornamental use. Pull the husks all the way over the stalk and allow them to dry out for about a week. To make Indian Corn last the season and beyond as a decoration, simply spray or paint shellac on the kernels.

the dawn of time, but why? There are some people who abhor being scared, and there are those who love nothing more. Horror has become fun and a major pillar of the entertainment world.

Experts say we get a rush from the fight or flight response. This happens when a person feels threatened. That natural high can leave some people feeling great. The Excitation-Transfer Theory could play a role as well. This is when a group experiences extreme emotions together, which can build stronger relationships. The oxytocin released tends to make those moments more prevalent in our brains. There is also the Reward Pathway Theory, in which the brain thinks you're in danger while watching a scary movie or reading a horror novel. When the story is over, your brain 'likes' not being scared, and therefore provides a reward.

For King's own analysis of what scares us, and why we seem to so love the sensation of being frightened out of our wits, we highly recommend "Danse Macabre," his nonfiction survey of horror on screen and in print.

The trek to see "IT Chapter Two" will likely happen for us some time in the very near future, with the hopes that it will not cause us to sleep with the lights on. Or to see any red balloons peeking out of our windows when we get home.

Auburn on the offensive attack in win over Indians

Jason McKay photos

Auburn's Haley Norris boots the ball away while a Bartlett defender gives chase.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER — Liv Mathews scored two goals and assisted on another, and Julia Lussier added a goal and two assists to lead the visiting Auburn High girls' varsity soccer team to its third straight victory, the Rockets defeating Bartlett High, 8-0, on Monday, Sept. 16.

With the win Auburn improved to 3-2 overall and 3-1 in Southern Worcester County League (SWCL) action. The Indians dropped to 1-4 overall and 0-4 in the SWCL with the loss.

The Rockets were on the attack from the opening whistle, jumping ahead 3-0 before the game was eight minutes old.

Lussier staked Auburn to a 1-0 lead in the third minute of the game, gathering in a crisp entry pass from Mathews on the left side before turning and sending a shot into the right side of the goal from about 15 yards out.

Mick Sampson pushed the Rockets' lead to 2-0 a minute later, her right-side shot from 10 yards out deflecting off Bartlett goalkeeper Cam Heenan's hands and bouncing into the goal. Lussier set up the goal with a pass into the box that landed on the foot of Sampson.

In the seventh minute of the game Mathews extended Auburn's lead to 3-0. On the play Mathews, with her back to the goal, settled a pass in from Lussier and then spun toward the goal and shot the ball all in one motion past Heenan.

Mathews, Lussier and Sampson are all seniors.

Lussier, who has missed a lot of playing time during her high school career due to injury, appears to be rounding back into the form that made her an offensive player to watch in the SWCL early in her career.

"Julia is definitely coming back," Auburn head coach Emily Para said. "She definitely has her quickness, her agility and her speed back, but she gets frustrated sometimes, I think, because she is not where she wants to be yet. But we all see the progress. Julia has put in a lot of hard work and she looks great."

Junior Allie Morawski closed out the Rockets' first-half scoring — while upping the Auburn lead to 4-0 — with a goal in the 20th minute. Morawski gained control of a bouncing ball in the Rockets' offensive zone and then took a right-to-left shot that banged off the far post and bounded into the net.

Scoring in the second half for Auburn were Mathews, juniors Emily Turcotte and Taylor Blanton, and sophomore Karina Sargent. Alyssa Wright, the Rockets' junior goalkeeper, made four saves, all in the second half, to earn her first shutout of the season.

Wright has stepped in this year in net for classmate Kaitlyn Jess, who is out for the season after suffering an injury in preseason.

"Alyssa has been awesome; she's really stepped up big for us," Para said. "Alyssa is a physical player who is not afraid to come out and play the ball."

Bartlett head coach Sean Hansen thought his team played well following Auburn's early-game scoring barrage.

"I thought we settled down really effectively after we gave up those three quick goals. We made it really difficult for them for the remainder of the first half. We kept our shape really well, we pressured the ball really well and we forced them to make some mistakes and make some passes they didn't want to make," Hansen said. "The game got away from us in the second half because we had some injuries and we have a small bench, which is always going to make it tough."

Keeper Alyssa Wright of Auburn sprawls out to make a save versus Bartlett.

"We have some hard-working girls; they're a great group of girls to coach," Hansen said. "They're really willing to put in the work they need to put in and they're willing to accept the coaching. None of them thinks they know more than anyone else, so they're all willing to help each other out. They're a really good bunch."

Oxford's close win reignites rivalry with Rockets

OXFORD — An old-time high school football rivalry is back, and the end result was a little bit different than it has been in the past.

The Oxford High and Auburn High varsity football programs met each year from 1968 until 2012 (with the 1971-2012 games being played on Thanksgiving). The Rockets were 37-8 in those games, including a 34-8 mark on the holiday. Auburn then beat Oxford in a non-play-off game last year, but this time around it was different.

Behind a fourth quarter score to break a tie, the Pirates went on to beat the Rockets, 18-12, on Saturday, Sept. 14 in the season-opener for both squads.

The scoring started in the first quarter, with C.J. Willis catching a 29-yard touchdown pass from Auburn quarterback Griffin Handfield, and Oxford countered with a Tyler Mello 90-yard kickoff return for a TD.

Then, in the second quarter, both teams scored again. There, the Pirates' Nick Sellig had a 13-yard touchdown run and the Rockets' Anthony Cintron caught a 29-yard score from Handfield.

That had the game knotted at 12-12 at halftime and after the third quarter until Oxford's Sam Wing (26 carries, 143 yards) scored on a 6-yard run in the fourth quarter to account for the final score.

It was the Pirates' first victory over the Rockets since 1999.

Potent offense delivers for Wolverines in win over Bay Path

Bay Path's Jonathan Nussy returns a kick through the middle of the field.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — In its season-opening game with Bay Path Regional, the Leicester High varsity football team's offense was in midseason form. That was the story of the Wolverines' 44-13 victory over the Minutemen on Saturday, Sept. 14 at George L. Fowler Memorial Field.

Leicester scored on all five of its first-half possessions and the defense chipped in with a safety to give the Wolverines a 37-7 halftime lead.

Senior Bryce Gosselin led the high-octane attack, rushing for 161 yards, which included touchdown runs of four and seven yards, on 15 carries. Junior Stephen Olsen added 64 yards on nine carries and he scored a pair of touchdowns, on runs of eight and 12 yards.

The Wolverines got it done through the air, too, as senior quarterback Dan Mero completed 5-of-7 passes for 121 yards, four of his completions ending up in the hands of senior Jack O'Neill, who finished with 101 receiving yards, including a 31-yard scoring strike from Mero in the second quarter.

"We return everybody and we have legit good skill kids who pretty much knew everything coming into the pre-season," Leicester head coach Tim Griffiths said. "So, we didn't have to spend a lot of time teaching and coaching kids on formations and responsibilities and where to be on what play. We were able to focus on repetition and fine tuning."

After Bay Path went three-and-out on the opening possession of the game, the Wolverines put together a seven-play, 60-yard drive that Gosselin capped with a seven-yard scamper over the left side. Senior Nolan Power then tacked on the first of his six extra points, giving Leicester a 7-0 lead with 7:36 left in the first quarter.

Bay Path needed just one play from scrimmage to tie the game, 7-7, as Tyler Gillespie galloped 70 yards through a gaping hole on the left side of the Minutemen's offensive line and Zach Whittemore added the PAT. Gillespie finished with 124 rushing yards on 15 carries. Gillespie also scored Bay Path's other touchdown, on a nine-yard run, on the final play of the game.

Gosselin said Leicester did not approach the game with the attitude that it was the first game of the year and they would see what happens.

"Our mindset coming in was perfection. We're perfectionists and coach Griff is a perfectionist, too, so if everything's not perfect, it's a problem," said Gosselin who was, for the most part, pleased with his team's performance. "We've definitely got work to do. We made some mental mistakes that we have to clean up. As for my performance, I would say I had a good game, but I can do better."

Mero and O'Neill were in sync from Leicester's first offensive play, a 19-yard completion. Their 31-yard scoring play is sure to be on the Wolverines' Year in Review Highlight Video. In the back corner of the end zone O'Neill leaped and reached high to grab a bullet of a pass from Mero, a pass that was still rising when O'Neill plucked it out of the sky.

"Danny made a great throw on that play," O'Neill said. "It was a nice high throw; he allowed me to go up and work my magic."

After the game Bay Path head coach Matt Fall gave credit to Leicester's potent offense.

"They've got a three-headed monster on offense," Fall said, referring to Gosselin, Mero and O'Neill. "The problem is you can't plan just for one guy. If you are ready for one, they're going to hit you with the others. If you're trying to stop all three, all 11 of your guys on the field have to be ready to play their position and play it with discipline. I'm not sure we were quite ready to do that today."

Fall said the Minutemen's final TD of the day could hold the key to the season. "That was important," Fall said. "Opening up with these guys is a tough open, obviously, and moving forward if we have any thoughts of getting into the playoffs we've got to learn and we have to have something to hang it on."

"We decided on that drive that we were going to find out how tough we were. We wanted to see if we could put together a nice sustained drive to finish the game," Fall continued. "We wanted something positive to go into Bartlett with because we know the Bartlett coach [Dane Laboissonniere] will have their team ready next week just as much as we're going to try to have our team ready."

Bay Path's Anthony Catino punts the ball away to Leicester.

Dhamanjie ~ Age 14

Hi! My name is Dhamanjie and I love to build with Legos!

Dhamanjie is an easygoing 13-year-old boy of African American descent. He has a good sense of humor and enjoys making others laugh. In his downtime, Dhamanjie enjoys watching cartoons with his favorite superheroes and playing with his Lego sets. Dhamanjie is a smart student who is thriving academically.

Legally free for adoption, Dhamanjie is in need of permanent and loving home where he could gradually transition.

He will do well in a single or two-parent family that can give him a lot of attention, structure and consistency. Dhamanjie visits with his siblings a few times per year, and this should continue once a placement is identified.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

What our employees have to say...

"One of my favorite things about working at Quaboag is that you can tell the staff is here because they care about the patients. I have also found that my supervisor and administrator are very approachable when I have any concern. There are a lot of places where someone in a supervisor position is not that approachable."

— Nicole F. (CNA)

"Everyone at Quaboag is really dedicated to caring for the residents and helping others at the workplace. I've definitely enjoyed working here so far."

— Lillian M. (CNA)

"It's always a pleasure when I go to work! The staff is polite and respectful. I enjoy taking care of my residents."

— Marangelle R. (CNA)

"In the time that I have been working at Quaboag I have witnessed the well-being and comfort of the residents as the main priority of the facility. The facility is centered around patient care and is designed in the best interest of the residents."

— Lynnea T. (CNA)

How mulched leaves help your lawn

Various chores are synonymous with certain times of year. For example, cleaning a pool is a summertime task. In addition, rare is the instance that Mother Nature forces anyone to break out the snow shovels outside of winter. Raking leaves has long been a task for fall afternoons, but homeowners may be surprised to learn that they might be better off putting their rakes in permanent mothballs.

In the 1990s, turfgrass specialists at Michigan State University began exploring the potential benefits of leaving mulched leaves on a lawn instead of raking them and leaving them for curbside pickup. While the researchers noticed an obvious leaf residue on the lawn after mulching, they noted that it only sticks around for a few days. Eventually, the tiny pieces sifted down into the lawn, ultimately serving to control future weed growth while also providing the lawn with essential nutrients. Over time, researchers noted that homeowners who mulched rather than raked their leaves needed less fertilizer to give their lawns a green look in spring, saving homeowners the effort and cost associated with fertilizing.

Researchers also noted that decomposing pieces of leaves cover up bare spots between turf plants, which have traditionally proven to be excellent spots for weed seeds to germinate. In fact, MSU notes that homeowners can expect a nearly 100 percent decrease in dandelions and crabgrass after mulching leaves for just three years.

Depending on the type of mower being used, up to six inches of leaves can be mulched at a time. Push mowers can handle smaller amounts, though can still be as effective as ride-on mowers.

Fall may be synonymous with raking leaves. However, homeowners who want to give their lawns a healthy boost should consider putting their rakes away and mulching their leaves this fall.

Choosing the right yeast strain for brewing

Home brewers learn a lot about the brewing process as they grow from novices into skilled brewers. Brewers must familiarize themselves with the process of brewing and the equipment necessary to create beer. Brewers also must learn about the ingredients necessary to create beverages they can be proud of.

One of the key components in the fermenting process is yeast. The yeast chosen can impact the fermentation, flavor profiles and more. It can be easy to underestimate the power of yeast. Get the process right and there's a delicious brew to sip. But get it wrong and home brewers might have to pour entire batches down the drain.

According to Beer Advocate, a brewer and beer enthusiast's guide to all things beer, in the past there were really only two yeasts used for beer brewing: ale yeast (the "top-fermenting" type) and lager yeast (the "bottom-fermenting" type). Now there are hundreds of yeasts to choose from that fall into the top- or bottom-fermenting categories.

In short, top-fermenting yeasts rise to the top of the wort during fermentation. This type of yeast is used for ales, porters, wheat beers, and stouts, and the beer is normally brewed at warmer temperatures. It can form a rich head and fruity flavor, according to 52Brews.com, a beer review site. Bottom-fermenting yeasts settle toward the bottom of the wort and are best used for lagers, pilsners, bocks, and American malts.

Many yeast varieties are named for the types of beers they help create, making it easier for novice brewers to find some that will work on their batches. However, Craft Beer and Brewing magazine says to also consider various factors when selecting yeasts that can impact performance.

- Attenuation: Attenuation is the percentage of available wort sugars that a yeast strain actually ferments. High attenuation may produce a sweeter beer while low attenuation can produce a dryer finish. Select a yeast that will achieve these desired results.

- Flocculation: This refers to how the yeast cells clump together and drop to the bottom of the fermenter. Choose a strain that flocculates in a way that is appropriate to the beer brewed.

- Alcohol tolerance: Certain yeasts can survive beyond the beer's estimated alcohol level and produce a higher ABV. It all depends on what's needed for the brew.

- Temperature range: Select a yeast that can ferment at the desired temperature in a home or garage.

A good brew shop can help home brewers find the right yeasts. Learning more about yeast by reading blogs and/or brewing resources also can get a person well on his or her way to brewing delicious beers.

A guide to safely removing fallen leaves

Raking leaves is a chore many people immediately associate with autumn. Even though raking seems like a simple activity, it's still possible to be injured while removing leaves from the yard.

The University of Pittsburgh Medical Center advises that pain from outdoor leaf chores can range from strained back muscles to twisted knees. Blisters on the hands and sunburn are other potential side effects. Many people do not realize that raking is a thorough cardiovascular workout. Individuals at risk for cardiovascular disease or those who have recovered from surgery may not be well enough to rake leaves.

Here's how to make autumn leaf removal more of a breeze when the job is done safely.

- Pay attention when using a leaf blower. Be cautious not to point an operational blower in the direction of people or pets, as debris can be blown about and cause injury.

- Stretch out before raking leaves. Warm up muscles beforehand so they are less likely to cramp. UPMC experts suggest taking a short walk prior to raking to stimulate circulation.

- Use proper raking form. Much like snow shoveling, one should emphasize proper posture when raking, with legs slightly bent and weight distributed evenly. Hold the rake handle close to the body and keep one hand near the top of the rake for better leverage.

- Use the proper gear. A leaf rake fans out like a triangle and comes in various widths. Choose a lightweight material that can be easily maneuvered. A metal rake is for stones and dirt and shouldn't be used for leaves. To get between bushes, a smaller version of a leaf rake, called a shrub rake, should be used.

- Wear protective gear. When raking or leaf blowing, protect your eyes against debris. You also may want to use a mask to prevent inhalation of leaf mold and other particulates. Gloves can protect hands from blisters.

- Follow manufacturers' directions. Read the instructions for powered leaf blowers, and never modify the device in an unauthorized way.

- Use a tarp and lift wisely. Rake leaves onto a tarp that can be dragged to a garbage pail or to the curb for municipal pickup. For those who must lift bags of leaves, do so by bending at the knees, not from the waist.

- Wear sunscreen. Protect skin from the sun. Even though temperatures are cooler in the fall, this does not mean the sun's rays are any less harmful. Also, take breaks to rehydrate frequently.

- Use a secure ladder. When removing leaves from gutters, be sure the ladder is sturdy and secure. Consider having a friend serve as a spotter, holding on to the ladder to offer greater security. Do not overextend to stretch for leaves.

If at any time during leaf clean-up you feel sharp or dull, incessant pains, stop working. Listen to your body's signals and start the task anew the next day or when you feel better.

Interesting facts about fall

Weather is often the first indicator that the seasons are changing. For many people across the globe, the hot days of summer will soon be giving way to the more crisp days of fall.

For those who live in regions where summer only subtly gives way to fall or is seemingly gone before the end of August, the 2019 autumnal equinox occurs on September 23. That marks the official beginning of fall, also known as autumn. In fact, that the season the follows summer seemingly goes by two different names is just one of many interesting facts about fall.

- A season by any other name ... Fall is the term most often used to reference the season succeeding summer in the United States. But the season is referred to as "autumn" in other parts of the world, including Great Britain. Fall was once even known as "harvest" because of the harvest moon, which appears close to the autumnal equinox.

- The colors of fall foliage are actually present year-round. Fall is known for its colorful foliage. But the pigments responsible for those colors are actually present year-round. According to the SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry, green, yellow and orange pigments are present year-round. However, during spring and summer, the leaves serve as factories where many foods necessary to help the tree grow are manufactured. That process takes place in the leaf in cells containing chlorophyll, which gives the leaves their green color. This process ceases as hours of daylight decrease and temperatures drop. As a result, chlorophyll breaks down, the green color disappears and the vivid colors of fall foliage begin to appear.

- Squirrels have a (sophisticated) plan out there. Squirrels hiding food in autumn for the upcoming winter is a familiar sight. And squirrels are more organized than many people may know. Groundbreaking research released in 1991 found that, even when squirrels bury that stash of nuts closely to one another, they will each return to the precise location of their personal cache. Recent research also has shown that squirrels bury their stash based on certain traits, such as the type of nut being buried.

- Babies born in fall are more likely to see the century mark. Researchers at the University of Chicago studied more than 1,500 centenarians born in the United States between 1880 and 1895. They then compared birth and death information with those centenarians' siblings and spouses so they could compare their early environment and genetic background and their adult environment. Their research found that most centenarians were born between September and November.

Natural ways to fight fall allergies

Leaves are a known cause of fall allergies. Raking them can stir up mold and pollen.

As the days become shorter and the weather cools down, a new crop of allergy symptoms can arise, turning the autumn season into one marked by sneezing, scratchy throats and itchy eyes. Medications can alleviate such symptoms, but allergy sufferers may want to investigate some natural ways to beat allergies.

According to the American College of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology, ragweed is one of the more common triggers of autumnal allergies. Ragweed contributes to "hay fever," which is a term to describe allergic rhinitis that occurs as a symptom of ragweed pollen in the air. Ragweed releases pollen in mid-August, and it can continue to be problematic until a deep freeze arrives.

Other sources of fall allergies include leaf mold and pollen that is present on fallen leaves. This gets circulated when people begin to rake or blow fallen leaves. Classroom pets and chalk dust in schools (although chalkboards are largely a thing of the past) are other autumn allergens.

The good news is that many natural remedies work just as effectively as over-the-counter medications in regard to combatting ragweed and pollen problems. Here's how to beat the fall allergy blues.

- Stay away from pollen. Stay away from pollen and prevent it from being tracked indoors. Remove shoes when walking through the door. Take off clothes worn outside and launder them promptly, showering to wash pollen off of the body. Use an air conditioner or keep windows closed when the pollen count is high.

- Increase omega-3 fatty acids. It is well documented that fatty acids are good for brain health and cardiovascular well-being. But these acids also may help with allergies. A German study linked foods high in omega-3 fatty acids with the ability to fight inflammation, which is a hallmark of allergy suffering. Foods that are high in fatty acids include walnuts, flax, eggs, and cold-water fatty fish.

- Rinse off pollen. Use a mild cleanser to rinse the eyelids and eyelashes of pollen, as this is where it tends to congregate after being outdoors. Use saline spray to clear nasal passages of excess pollen as well.

- Take natural supplements. A study published in the journal Clinical and Experimental Allergy found participants who used tablets of the herb butterbar showed significant allergy relief after only one week. Select herbs from reputable manufacturers who certify them.

- Use eucalyptus oil. This oil is great to have in the house to help clear up sinuses and provide nasal congestion relief. Mix a small amount with coconut oil and rub onto the chest. There also is some evidence that adding a few drops of eucalyptus oil to cleansing products can help kill dust mites around the house.

- Wear a mask. When doing housework or yard work, wear a mask to reduce the inhalation of specific allergens.

Avoid seasonal allergies by exploring natural ways to find prevention or relief of symptoms.

Protect your plants from winter weather

For the majority of gardening enthusiasts, gardening is a warm weather activity. While some people live in climates that make it possible to enjoy gardening year-round, those who don't often lament the end of the gardening season.

Winter might not be conducive to gardening, but the arrival of cold weather does not necessarily mean a gardener's work is done until the following spring. Taking steps to protect plants from winter weather is an important part of maintaining a healthy garden that thrives from year to year.

Timing is of the essence when winterizing a garden. The online gardening resource Get Busy Gardening!™ advises gardeners that the best time to winterize is after the first hard freeze in the fall. A hard freeze occurs when temperatures dip below freezing overnight. When that occurs, annual plants and vegetables are killed off and perennial plants, which grow back year after year, begin going dormant.

Better Homes and Gardens notes that perennials are the easiest plants to prepare for winter, as they require just a little cutting back and mulching to be safe from cold weather. But no two perennials are alike, so homeowners should consult their local gardening center for advice on how to prepare their particular perennials for the coming months.

The steps necessary to winterize annuals depends on which type of annuals, cool- or warm-climate, you have. Cool-climate annuals should be covered with polypun garden fabric when light frost is in the forecast. In addition, Better Homes and Gardens recommends pulling dead annuals and adding them to a compost pile after a killing frost. Any annuals that developed fungal disease should be discarded. Mulch annual beds with a three- to four-inch layer of chopped leaves or similar materials, spreading the mulch only two inches thick over self-sown seeds you want to germinate in the spring.

Warm-climate annuals also should be covered with polypun garden fabric when light frost is expected. Seeds of cold-hardy annuals can be planted for extended winter bloom, while gardeners also can collect seeds of warm-weather plants that will breed true to type. Even though you're winterizing, Better Homes and Gardens recommends that gardeners continue to weed and water their plant beds and plants while also keeping an eye out for pests. If organic mulch has decomposed or thinned out, replace it with a new layer.

Get Busy Gardening!™ notes that the bulbs of tender plants like dahlias and tuberous begonias can be dug up and overwintered in their dormant state. All dead foliage should be removed after the bulbs have been dug up, and the bulbs should be allowed to dry out a little before being stored. Container gardeners can overwinter their tender bulbs in their pots inside, but be sure to remove their foliage and store them in a dark, cool place that maintains temperatures above freezing. Winterizing may mark the end of gardening season, but it's an important task that can ensure a healthy, beautiful garden next spring, summer and fall.
