Charlton, Dudley deemed high risk communities for EEE

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

As the concern over the Eastern equine encephalitis virus, also known as EEE or Triple-E, grows, both Charlton and Dudley have been deemed a “high risk” community after a local man was confirmed to have contracted the virus.

The state Department of Public Health confirmed the 11th case of EEE in a press release on Sept. 25, an unidentified Charlton resident in his 70s. State Representative Paul Frost took to social media that same day confirming that his office was notified about the case.

“My office has been informed by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health that Auburn & Charlton have been raised to the High Risk Category for EEE, now joining Millbury & Oxford,” Rep. Frost wrote. “DPH is confirming a human EEE case in Charlton.”

The press release from the State DPH also singled out Dudley, Leicester, Southbridge and Spencer as high risk communities while confirming that an Essex County resident became the fourth recorded death in Massachusetts from the EEE virus. A 12th human case of the virus was later recorded in Hampden County, again a resident in their 70s, leading several more communities to be deemed as “high risk.”

As of Sept. 26, 35 communities were deemed as critical risk, 53 were considered high risk and 121 were considered moderate risk in the commonwealth. Eight confirmed animal deaths from the virus have also been recorded.

The EEE virus is spread mainly through mosquito bites and the threat of the illness has led many schools and communities to cancel outdoor activities after dark. State Epidemiologist Dr. Catherine Brown released a statement in the State DPH’s press release warning that while the mosquito population is dwindling for the season, the risk is still there for infection.

“The weather is keeping them active,” said Dr. Brown.

Dudley to seek debt exclusion for Town Hall projects

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

DUDLEY — Over the past year Dudley has worked to improve several aspects of the town municipal complex, Dudley’s version of a town hall housing the senior center, police department and town offices. These have included improvements to the HVAC system as well as a new roof, which were approved during a town meeting in May of 2018. Over a year later Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda is looking to correct what he believes to be the result of miscommunication by seeking a debt exclusion for those projects.

Ruda brought the idea to selectmen during a meeting on Sept. 23 where he explained that he believes a past vote to avoid a debt exclusion was the result of a lack of understanding. He explained that under the current situation the town is merely paying interest on the loan, but a debt exclusion would see the town pay off the debt faster.

“After I’ve had a chance to speak to all the board members individually, I think there was a miscommunication when that vote was taken in April of this year not to debt exclude [the HVAC and roof project]. When we originally voted on this and we put it forward on the town meeting warrant to be voted upon to borrow the money it was understood that it would be a debt excluded item. For some reason when it came back up in April it was voted ‘no’ and I think there was a complete lack of communication,” Ruda said.

He added that if a debt exclusion is not approved and passed at a town election the

Polletta named Dudley’s Highway Superintendent

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

DUDLEY — The town of Dudley now has a permanent Highway Superintendent, and it’s a very familiar name.

Selectmen officially hired Vincent Polletta, Sr. as the new full-time Highway Superintendent during a meeting on Sept. 23 after Polletta served in the post on an interim basis for around a year’s time. With 32 years of service to the department Polletta officially takes over for Daniel Gion, who retired in 2018.

Polletta’s hiring brings the long-time employee’s career full circle. The soft-spoken leader of the highway department said he called the promotion the pinnacle of his career in the town bringing him to the highest point that he has sought to reach for so many years.

“This is the top of the ladder. It was a good career and it’s still going,” Polletta told selectmen before putting his signature to the contract.

Polletta came highly recommended in 2018 as the temporary replacement for the retiring Gion, who handpicked Polletta as his successor. Polletta started with a salary of $77,000 in 2018, however the

Midstate Trail to host ultramarathon Oct. 12-13

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — For long distance hikers, downtown Oxford is notable for something most other people wouldn’t notice. It’s the lowest point on the Midstate Trail.

That will become a factor later this month when the first Midstate Massive Ultra trail race comes through town Oct. 12 and 13. Instead of the slow pace of hikers, people might (depending on what time it is) see up to 100 runners following the trail from the New Hampshire border to its end in Douglas State Forest.

“This is just a spectacular resource in our backyard and almost nobody knows about it,” said race organizer Rich Mazzola.

This is his first time organizing an ultramarathon — a two-day race over the peaks, valleys, steep ledges and lowlands of the Midstate Trail. It will have three starting points: Windblown Ski Area in New Hampshire for those seeking to do the whole distance (about 100 miles), Rutland’s Long Pond for those doing half, and Bay Path for those doing 30 miles. The longer two actually run through the night of Oct. 12, while the third route is a day-time run Oct. 13.

Unlike most marathons, there won’t be water stops every mile or so, just at 16 set locations which vary from 3.7 to 8.7 miles apart.

“To do this, you need to readjust how you take in water and nutrition,” Mazzola said, describing

‘The Spirit talks through the singer’ DUBEAU KICKS OFF NATIVE SERIES AT LIBRARY

CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER — In most Native American cultures, the drum is a man’s instrument, while women typically use rattles. But Lorelee Spirit Singer Dubeau has permission from the Elders to do both.

Her drumming of various personal and social songs drew a few dozen people to Gladys Kelly Library last weekend, kicking off a five-week series exploring Native culture all around us.

Whether they’re sunrise songs to celebrate living another day, or songs intended to smooth a dying person’s passage into the Beyond, they’re “about living in relation to all things and each other,” she noted. Often, the same words pop up in multiple songs, words expressing gratitude for life and asking for help, but the energy and meaning are very different depending on how the song came to the person during a vision and/or what the community needs at the time.

“I allow Spirit and the Ancestors to use my voice,” she said. “If I use my ego, it won’t come out correctly. ... It’s not easy to allow Spirit to take over and put yourself in the background.”

For Dubeau, the path to becoming a ceremonial leader was a long one, starting as a child when she was still Catholic 40 years ago. She said she always felt different from those around her, had vivid dreams of what she later learned were Inipi (purification) ceremonies, and wanted to be a singer and teacher

Local Freemasons warmly welcome public to Open House

Freemason Members of the Seven Southern Worcester County Masonic Lodges will open their Lodge doors to the public on Saturday, Oct. 19, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., for their annual “Open House,” a day of offering public information about Freemasonry and its charitable work.

If you’ve ever wondered who the Freemasons are, what they do, whether they are the descendants of the Knights Templars, or what the inside of their Lodge buildings look like, here’s your chance to visit, meet and talk with Massachusetts Masons and learn more.

The seven Masonic Lodges listed below will host their annual Autumn Open House to help the public gain a better understanding of Freemasonry, and the positive impact that it has on its members, their families, and their communities. Members will offer tours of their buildings, discuss the fraternity’s history, provide printed information, discuss Masonic rituals, explain what they do, and describe Masonry’s many charitable programs.

Freemasonry helps men to be the best possible version of themselves through the practice of Brotherhood, Service, and Integrity. Our Lodges provide opportunities for fellowship, charity, education, and leadership.

“The Open House is a great opportunity for anyone interested in learning more about Freemasonry to meet and talk with Masons in their community, and enjoy a tour of our Masonic Lodges” said James Gonyea, District Deputy Grand Master of Masons in the 24th Massachusetts Masonic District and the presiding officer of more than 1,000 members. Although many have heard of us, very few are aware that for more than 300 years we have been part of an unbroken tradition of great men who have changed our world in big and small ways. Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Thurgood Marshall, and John Glenn, for example, all joined the Masons prior to achieving the greatness we recognize them for. There are countless other great men, whose names are not widely known, that made their families, workplaces, and communities better because they were Masons. I warmly invite the public to join us on Saturday October 19.”

The branches are located at:
Olive Branch Lodge – 7 Depot Street – Douglas, MA 01516
Solomon’s Temple Lodge – 20 Court Street – Uxbridge, MA 01569
Webster Lodge – 27 Brandes Street – Webster, MA 01570
Oxford Lodge – 22 Mt. Pleasant

Street – Oxford, MA 01540
Quinebaug Lodge – 339 Ashland Ave. – Southbridge, MA 01550
Joel Prouty Lodge – 780 Southbridge Street – Auburn, MA 01501
Rose of Sharon Lodge – 88 Masonic Home Road – Charlton, MA 01507

Freemasons trace their roots to the stonemason guilds that built Europe’s cathedrals and castles during the early part of the last millennium. As construction of these buildings declined, they began accepting members from outside their trade. These new members, influenced by the “Age of Enlightenment,” transformed the organization from a group for builders to one focused on developing the character of its members. Officially, Freemasonry was founded in London, England in 1717. In 1733 it was formally organized in Massachusetts, making it the oldest Masonic group in the Western Hemisphere and the third oldest in the world. In 2019, Massachusetts Freemasonry celebrates its 286th Anniversary.

Freemasonry, the world’s oldest and largest charitable fraternity, seeks to bring together men of every country, religion, race, background, and opinion and develop the bonds of friendship between them.

town would start paying the debt from free cash with the first payment being $165,000. Ruda argued a debt exclusion would save the town, at minimum, $19,000 a year in interest. Selectmen agreed in a 3-0-1 vote to place the question of a debt exclusion on the 2020 election ballot. Kerry Cyganiewicz voted “present” while selectman John Marsi did not attend the meeting. Ruda said the town hall is examining ways to publicize the proposal to avoid any confusion as to exactly what the town will be asking for next year. “The amount that will be borrowed will be specified when we set the tax rate and that amount can actually be figured so that you can say it adds two or three cents to a tax bill. I can’t figure that right now because it’s a crystal ball. I will say that between now and our 2023 budget we will be retiring over $577,000 in debt so we’re well within the range of not sky rocketing tax bills,” Ruda said. That means they would be retiring debt that exceeds the “ballpark figure” $450,000 being targeted for the debt exclusion. The town administrator also noted that this does not factor in any items yet to be discussed at the fall annual town meeting. A second project, the shift to LED streetlights, was also discussed, but Ruda is not seeking a debt exclusion for that initiative. Selectmen had previously discussed the likelihood that the investment in the more energy efficient bulbs would pay for itself in time, however Ruda believes that the town also needs to change its strategy for paying off that debt putting the focus on free cash. “It’s $200,000. That, I think after doing some research and finding out what we have available for grants and incentives, I’d like to pay that off through free cash because I think we can manage that over the course of the next three years easily. We have about $98,000 in incentives coming back,” said Ruda. He noted that the town currently has $47,000 in available funding earmarked for that expense and another $14,000 in Green Communities account funding to help offset the impact to free cash. Another $40,000 is expected to come back to the town from National Grid.

trail running as “a different dynamic” than a road race. “You need to get your joints flexible enough to accommodate an uneven running surface. They’re not running it terribly quickly. You can go at your own pace completely.” Mazzola said he expects around 100 runners total. “We are prepared to be able to handle most weather situations so we can provide a safe event for all participants. However, we do require the support of state and local officials to conduct this race safely and will only do so with their continued approval,” the race handbook states. “... If a significant event were to occur on or near race weekend and state and/or local authorities deem it unsafe for us to hold the event, we will be obligated to cancel the event.” The potential impact worries Midstate Trail Committee chair Kimball Simpson, who notes much of the trail’s length is on private property where many of the owners had agreed to open it to hikers with “handshake agreements.” He said his committee “didn’t want to be involved in it in any way,” but if Mazzola has secured owners’ permission, they won’t interfere. “The impact of lots of footsteps on the trail and lights at night could be upsetting to landowners, but I believe they’ve been notified, so that’s not an issue,” Simpson said. “I wouldn’t want to be running the trail with a headlamp in the middle of the night.” He also expressed concern about potential impact on wet areas along the trail, noting a lot of people “could cause them to expand. That would be a real issue.” Mazzola said he’s been reaching out to the various owners, adding signs and, in some cases, rerouting the race. He’s run some of it, while his friend and co-organizer Andy Marx has run about 75 miles of it. The handbook notes the route has been revised “to avoid sensitive areas as designated by the Midstate Trail [Committee].” “The trail itself is very, very well marked, but it’s not marked from the perspective of a runner,” Mazzola said. While hikers are willing take a little time to find where the route turns or crosses a road, runners tend to be impatient and “we don’t want anyone to get lost,” he said.

So he’s traveling its length and adding reflective signs at all intersections. One thing he said he didn’t expect to be an issue was wild animals. “That kinda goes with the territory. It’s never been a problem,” he said. “We’re making noise, running the trail, have lights and are not trying to be quiet.” Mazzola said he’s seeking volunteer groups “of all shapes and sizes” to staff the 16 aid stations along the route. Those who do will get donations. Sign-ups to race close Oct. 7 or when they sell out. Those interested in volunteering should email Carol at volunteers@newenglandraceevents.com. Gus Steeves can be reached at gus.steeves2@gmail.com.

Celebrating Webster fundraiser brings new visitors to library

WEBSTER — Last week’s first Celebrating Webster fundraiser for the library was a smashing success. Organizers had to stop selling tickets at 150 and “started to turn people away” because it was so popular.

“We didn’t know what kind of turnout we’d have. We just guessed and were really surprised,” said Friends of the Library President Tom Klebert.

The event also drew a dozen local restaurants, who provided samples of everything from sweet and sour chicken to pizza and pulled pork sandwiches. One thing they didn’t have, which Klebert said he hadn’t noticed until a restaurateur pointed it out, was dessert. He noted they’ll correct that for next year.

“We plan to do it every fall, but not the same thing,” he said. The event’s goal was to raise $5,000 but “for the first try, we didn’t even know what goal to have.”

Afterward, he said they hit that goal after expenses.

“However just as important, we were very pleased to have many new visitors to the library,” he added by email.

“They had an opportunity to see the new facilities that have helped make the library a community center in addition to simply offering books and other reading materials.”

from age 5, but expected it to be in the Western tradition of pop music and schools. By age 15, that had changed, and she participated in her first Sacred Pipe. Such pipes are a red stone bowl representing the female energy with a wooden pipe representing male energy that “becomes a living being” when put together. Once it’s smoked, Dubeau said, the prayer is heard and will be answered, but not necessarily in a way we expect. “We let Spirit handle that part,” she added.

“We all have male and female energy within us,” she noted. “We have an outward sex, but have both sides inside that need to be balanced.”

Over time, Dubeau has participated in and learned from a wide range of Native cultures across the Americas, but generally relates mostly to ceremonies of the Lakota tradition. In that time, she’s undergone seven vision quests (an unusual experience for women, her first was age 19), has become guardian of eight Sacred Pipe bundles, which she describes as her “children,” and been gifted two drums plus a variety of songs from other elder singers. She said she’s “never been called to have” actual children, largely because “if I’d had children, I’d never would have been able to travel, to work with the Elders, to do what I was meant to do.”

“Songs can be in a low, soft voice to ground the energy, or rise with intensity to lead you to the Creator,” she said. “They’re from the heart, not the head.” Some have words that are translatable, some are just “vocables,” and both styles can be for personal or community use, but must be learned in person.

When a singer sings, “it may not even be your voice,” but is instead an Ancestor or other spirit. “If one is truly a ceremonial singer, the Spirit will talk through the singer,” she noted. While other participants can join the song, out of respect they should not sing over the singer because the spirit may want the song to change through the singer’s voice in ways they don’t expect, she said.

Among her examples, she sang a song used during the process of piercing during Sundance, and one used while exiting the sweatlodge during the inipi ceremony. Her other songs included the “Sunrise Song” she uses every morning, a women’s empowerment song in honor of the many grandmothers who have died over the years, and various “social songs to help the people.” Some of them came from encounters with actual animals; some from animal spirits. Dubeau noted it’s unacceptable to sing someone else’s song without permission unless you’ve been taught for ceremony, and she won’t sing certain songs whole (Such songs generally have four or more verses; she purposely didn’t sing all of them.)

She said she became a singer in the community of a Sundancer trained by the Lakota. It happened in a way many Westerners might see as chance — the woman who was slated to sing at a ceremony got her period, and women can’t participate during menses. Dubeau filled in and began her journey as a ceremonial singer.

The Lakota were able to keep most of their traditions because they survived as a people, while many other tribes did not. Today, she noted, some tribes are adopting Lakota songs and ceremonies because they lost their own. Although the federal government passed the Religious Freedom Act in the 1970s, FBI and police still try to infiltrate Sun Dances, so the Lakota do them secretly and only by invitation.

To the Lakota, the Sundances are “intentional prayers for the continuation of the people” — not just their own, but all humans, she explained. “They know they’ve got to pray for everyone so the human race will go on.” Thus, they dance (after preparing by fasting) over the course of four days, giving some of their skin and blood “in gratitude for the seven generations before us, and the seven that will come after us,” she said.

Dubeau noted that everyone needs to find the spiritual path that suits them, since “the Native path is only one way.” While many paths lead to the “top of the mountain,” those who fight to convert others are not following their own path.

“It’s not about teaching you to follow my path, it’s about showing another side so that the diversity of paths is not scary and feared, and to help us all come together,” she said of why she does presentations like this. “Your [path] is not better than mine, and mine is not better than yours.”

Future events in this Native American series will happen each of the next four Saturdays at noon at the library. This Saturday, Oct. 5, Ken Kind Warrior White and David Tall Pine White will talk about the history of the local Nipmucs. On Oct. 12, Steve Quiet Wolf Bachand talks about Eastern Woodland Stories and Traditions. On Oct. 19, Del Bachand talks about Native healing plants. The series concludes Oct. 26 with Craig Standing Bear, who will tell Native stories and play the flute.

Commended Shepherd Hill students in the 2020 National Merit Scholarship Program

William F. Chaplin, Jr., Principal of Shepherd Hill Regional High School, has announced that Hannah C. Guerin, Madison P. Hill and Ryan P. Moore, have been named Commended Students in the 2020 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from the School and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the program, was presented by the principal to these scholastically talented seniors.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although these students will not continue in the 2020 competition for National Merit Scholarship awards, these Commended Students placed among the top 50,000 scorers of more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2020 competition by taking the 2018 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT).

“Those being named Commended Students have demonstrated outstanding potential for academic success,” commented a spokesperson for NMSC. “These students represent a valuable national resource; recognizing their accomplishments, as well as the key role their schools play in their academic development, is vital to the advancement of educational excellence in our nation. We hope that this recognition will help broaden their educational opportunities and encourage them as they continue their pursuit of academic success.”

“We continue to emphasize the need for people to protect themselves from mosquito bites.”

While EEE is considered a rare disease, it can be fatal and affect people of any age. This is not the first time Massachusetts has been a hotbed for the virus. Outbreaks occurred from 2004-06 and again in the first few years of the 2010s. Aerial spraying has been taking place throughout the state in an attempt to control the population of potentially infected mosquitos. The Department of Public Health has made resources available on its website for prevention and protection from the EEE virus as well as a map of high-risk communities and schedules of aerial spraying.

specifics of his new salary were not divulged during the Sept. 23 Board of Selectmen meeting. Polletta’s contract will run through November of 2020.

The appointment was welcomed by selectmen who complimented Polletta’s dedication to the job during his year of service as interim as well as his over 30 years in other positions in the department. Selectman Steve Sullivan said it was an easy decision that would solidify leadership for the winter months and beyond.

“We really wanted Vinny to continue on and get us through the winter season and into the construction season next year. It’s going to work out well,” said Sullivan.

As a requirement of his new contract and position, Polletta also resigned as a highway foreman from the department opening a position that is expected to be filled in the coming months. Poletta officially takes his new post on Oct. 7.

Rallying for the future

WORCESTER — Several hundred area residents joined millions of other people in hundreds of world cities on Friday, Sept. 20, rallying to urge leaders to take the climate crisis seriously.

In Worcester, the City Council became one of the few municipal governments so far to approve a “Climate Emergency” resolution pledging to become carbon neutral by 2030, among other things.

The concept, and countless protests worldwide, are being spurred by growing concern over scientific reports from the International Panel on Climate Change and other bodies projecting increasingly dire consequences if the climate continues to warm. Largely due to growing concentrations of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere (primarily carbon dioxide and methane, both of which are significantly higher today than they were a century ago), scientists argue we’re seeing more severe storms, more erratic weather patterns, desertification in some areas, and an overall increase in global temperature. That temperature varies greatly by region; in some, like the Arctic, it’s rising very rapidly; in others, it may even be cooling.

According to data from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration website, the global average is now 0.79 deg C (1.42 deg F) above the 20th-century average, with almost all of that warming happening since 1980. Projections for the future range greatly, largely dependent on whether atmospheric carbon keeps growing, levels off or declines. The best IPCC model (RCP 2.6) shows a roughly stable temperature slightly above that of the present through 2300. The worst (RCP 8.5) projects an increase that ranges from 3 deg C to more than 12 deg C above present by 2300. The wide range is in part because scientists do not yet have a good handle on numerous natural feedback loops that might be triggered by such events as melting permafrost and sea ice or ocean acidification.

Worcester’s event was organized by Climate Strike Worcester, a coalition of several regional environmental groups. Participants primarily came from four Worcester colleges — Holy Cross, Worcester State, WPI and Clark — in marches to the City Hall rally site from WPI and Clark. Several older residents (one dressed like Greta Thunberg) and younger children were also involved, as were representatives of the state’s Green-Rainbow Party, Socialist Alternative and Extinction Rebellion. One counter-protestor carrying a “useful idiots” sign also walked by the peaceful crowd.

Webster Dudley Business Alliance to host annual event

The Webster Dudley Business Alliance invites all local business representatives to our Annual Meeting & Elections to be held on Thursday, Oct. 24, 6:30-8:30 p.m. at Point Breeze Restaurant, 114 Point Breeze Road in Webster. The event is free but pre-registration is required by emailing contact@thewdba.org or calling Deb Horan at (508) 949-6232 by Oct. 21.

Guest speaker Scott Snow will give a presentation on “4 Strategies for Improving Your Work/Life Balance.” Hot and cold appetizers, chowder & fritters will be served along with a cash bar. Attendees may take chances in a “lottery tree” raffle, sponsored by The Marzeotti Group and Green Tree Insurance. A door prize will also be awarded.

Scott Snow is a time management expert with a unique approach. He has a degree in music education and is a board-certified music therapist. Scott is a professional life coach having coached entrepreneurs and executives in the areas of personal productivity and work life balance.

Scott was a featured presenter for the student leaders at Nichols College in Dudley. He has written articles for the Worcester Business Journal and recently authored a book titled “Think Like a Musician: The Time Management System for Innovators and Visionaries.”

Myrtle Ave. project complete in Webster

Starting at the end of March 2019 the Water Department started making improvements to the lines between Park St. and George St. on Myrtle Ave. Costing $571,425 and taking just under four months the relining is complete. The first step to the project consisted of taking the water main off-line and funning temporary lines for the residents in the area. Once off-line the pipes were mechanically cleaned then lined with a cured-in-place structural line, also known as an Aqua Pipe. The complete process can be seen on the Water Department’s page of the town website <https://www.webster-ma.gov/871/Myrtle-Avenue-Rehabilitation>. In talking with the Superintendent of the Water Department, Gregory Woods, this should add approximately 60 years to the water main. This process is being worked into the capital plan to be done in more areas in town over time.

PLACE MOTORS IS PROUD TO SPONSOR

Friday’s Child

Hi! Our names are Felix and Felixiano and we care a lot about each other!

Felix and Felixiano are brothers of Caucasian and Hispanic descent. They are very close and play well together. Felix describes himself as a caring, friendly, funny boy who likes karate and is a good sharer. He loves to eat and will try almost anything, including vegetables! Felix identified basketball as his greatest talent and when he grows up he wants to be a teacher or a firefighter. He is communicative, outgoing and likes to ask questions so that he knows what is going on around him. Felix enjoys school, and has a strong desire to learn. He particularly enjoys math.

Felixiano describes himself as a boy who does the right thing and likes to play catch with his friends. Felixiano also enjoys playing basketball, video games, giving hugs, superheroes, cooking and playing outside. His favorite color is red and his favorite food is pancakes. When asked what he wants to be when he grows up, he said to be a teenager. Others who know Felixiano say that he is a playful and curious boy who is eager to please, and is both endearing and imaginative. Felixiano is very smart and performs well in school. His teacher reports he is helpful in the classroom and gets along well with the other students.

Legally freed for adoption, Felix and Felixiano can be placed in a home of any constellation, with or without other children. Any prospective family must be open to maintaining relationships with the boys’ siblings and biological parents.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have “a permanent place to call HOME.”

Don't give in to the winter blues

So often, people strive to become happier by doing this, or obtaining that; however, sometimes it's what we give up that makes us more content. With the fast drop in temperatures, down into the 30's, we know winter is coming. With this, we want everyone to enjoy the changing leaves, tall sunflowers and all things pumpkin.

For many out there, winter is a dreaded season. It's not so much the snow as it is the frigid temperatures and high cost of fuel. We happen to enjoy the fall and winter seasons ourselves, but for those who are having glum feelings about the colder weather, or even for those who love all weather, we have some tips on some things you can toss, to create more happiness in your world.

One thing you can say "be gone" to is the idea that you have to always have a positive outlook on any given situation. If you try to avoid negative feelings all of the time, you're not creating a healthy space for when you are truly happy. If you need to vent, do it. If you're upset and need to cry into a bowl of ice cream, have at it. It is your overall life satisfaction that matters.

Minimize your time on social media. Remember the days when you didn't know what your friends, family or even celebrities were doing every second of the day? Those were blissful times. The only way we knew what someone was up to was to pick up the phone, wait for the dial tone, and make that call. We're not sure we ever inquired about what our friends were eating. All of that unnecessary knowledge is overwhelming at times, and simply put, unnecessary.

One study showed that the more time people spend on social media, the more depressed they are. When we spend too much time online we know that we are wasting time. The idea of wasting time can inflict a feeling of depression on anyone who is typically highly motivated and energetic. Documenting every aspect of your life can be exhausting and takes away from the actual experience. If you order a rack of lamb, just enjoy every bit of it without feeling the need to share it with the world. Your experiences will be more fulfilling overall.

Don't compare yourself to others. We love the phrase "No one is you, and that is your power." People have been comparing themselves to others since the dawn of time. The idea of keeping up with the Joneses is outdated. Don't do that. Love the idea that the person sitting next to you or walking down the street is nothing like you.

Keep like minded company. If you have friends who are Eeyore like or always seem to be complaining, less is more. We don't have time in our precious lives to listen to chronic complaining. At the end of your life, do you want to think to yourself, 'Wow I spent so much time listening to people complain?' We're guessing you don't.

Have realistic goals. If you start with lower expectations and grow from there your success rate in reaching your higher goals will be greater and less stressful to obtain.

Forgive others. This one is extremely hard. However, forgiving those who have hurt you is key to feeling relaxed and happy.

Eating too much sugar can lead to depression. Balance in your meals has been scientifically proven to make people happier. More vegetables, more fiber and less processed food.

Opt to spend your money on experiences rather than things. Experts say the satisfaction of an experience will last much longer.

Lastly, choose good posture. While sitting up you automatically feel more energetic and positive. Slouching can lead to feel nervous, sleepy, sluggish and fearful.

A quote by Jim Rohn sums it up, we think: "Happiness is not something you postpone for the future; it is something you design for the present."

VIEWPOINT

If it were easy, would everyone really be doing it?

I find it fascinating how the most successful people I know are rarely the most talented. It doesn't matter ... whether it's business, inter-personal relationships, the arts, sports ... the people who achieve the greatest heights all share a single quality that propels them above others. It's not talent, intelligence or luck. It's not knowing the right people or being in the right place at the right time. What is it that the successful have that others do not?

Persistence.

Successful people simply do not quit. They don't give up. I've told the story before, but it's appropriate to do so again.

I'm the author of three successful books. To begin writing a book isn't hard, but completing the task is monumental. There are thousands of people out there that have a book in their head and heart. They began writing with passion but at some point, early in the writing process, they stop. Starting and completing a book project of eighty thousand words or so is a monumental task that few ever complete. Why do they stop? They do not have the persistence to finish. Now let's look at the very few who do finish. Writing the book, as difficult as it is, is easier than getting published. My first book, "Playing with the Enemy," was rejected seventy-four times by publishers. It was the seventy-fifth that took a chance on an inexperienced and unknown author and "Playing with the Enemy" became a surprise hit. A surprise to everyone but me. I knew if I could get it published, the book would resonate with audiences. That belief is what drove me to not quit.

What would happen if you didn't quit?

How many talented baseball players left their dreams of major league stardom behind because they gave up too soon? How many artists or musicians stopped short of the coming success they could have enjoyed? How many marriages end in divorce because one or both parties in the relationship just decide to give up? In each case, they didn't have the persistence to see it through to a successful end.

Is persistence the only quality needed to succeed?

Of course not, but it is the most important. Who really thinks Johnny Cash or Bob Dylan had a great singing voice? They had talent to be sure but I'm certain I can find someone within five miles of my home with a better voice.

So, if persistence is most important, where and how do I get it?

Persistence is driven by your belief system. If you believe you have talent or ability, that belief drives your success. If you don't believe, sell yourself! Face it, if you think you don't have a chance, why would you try?

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

It's rarely the most talented that achieve the pinnacle of success. Of course, talent matters, but ability is something that can be achieved through dogged determination. Sticking with your dream and driving to greater heights through practice, study and a passionate drive that always ask the question: If others can reach the top and achieve their dreams, why not me?

My dad had a simple statement that is applicable. If I were to ask him why most people don't succeed, he'd respond, "It's easier not to ..." Apply that as the answer to almost any question.

Why aren't you disciplined? It's easier not to be.
Why weren't you on time? It's easier not to be.
Why didn't you stay and work on your marriage? It's easier not to work on it.
Why won't you quit smoking? It's easier not to quit.
Why aren't you a good student? It's easier not to get good grades.
Why didn't you get that promotion? It's easier not to get it.
Why are you not financially successful? It's easier not to be.
Why didn't you finish that book you were writing? It's easier not to finish.

Apply that answer to almost any question of success or achievement and it is almost always true. It is easier not to succeed. Success takes persistent hard work. It takes the attitude that screams that you will not be denied the success you desire. It requires that dogged persistence that says, yes, it's easier to quit, but you are willing to stick to the task at hand and pay the price for success. As the old adage proclaims, "If it were easy, everyone would be doing it!"

The truth is, if you dig in and not quit, you will find the only resistance is you. If you chisel away the resistance, you will find a clearer path to your success.

Take the road less traveled. The vast majority will always say, "It's easier not to." In a world dominated by those unwilling to pay the price, success is there for the taking for those who do.

It's never too late.

Why not you?

Drug Take Back program set for October 26

CHIEF'S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

I wanted to take this opportunity to inform the residents of Dudley that on Saturday, Oct. 26 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., the Dudley Police Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) will give the public another opportunity to prevent pill abuse and theft by ridding their homes of potentially dangerous expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs. This has been a popular and much requested program in the past. I wanted to provide some information to people once again on this event.

The Drug Take Back has been held several times over the years in Dudley. The last took place this past April. A large quantity of prescription medications and medical sharps were taken in at that time. The service is free and anonymous, no questions asked. This initiative addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. Medicines that languish in home cabinets are highly susceptible to diversion, misuse, and abuse. Rates of prescription drug abuse in the U.S. are alarmingly high, as are the number of accidental poisonings and overdoses due to these drugs. Studies show that most of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet. In addition, Americans are now advised that their usual methods for disposing of unused medicines — flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash — both pose potential safety and health hazards. Fortunately, thanks to the effort of District Attorney Joseph Early's Office, we now have a permanent Drug Disposal Kiosk located in our Police Station Lobby. These items can now be disposed of locally at any time during the year. Other communities have these kiosks at their police stations or other town buildings. If you are not from Dudley, be sure to check with your community for one of these disposal locations.

In addition to the prescription disposal, officials from Harrington Hospital have once again generously offered their assistance to dispose of medical sharps (needles, etc.) on this same day. Collection bins will be on hand to properly and safely dispose of these items as well.

A number of these programs will take place on this same day in communities all over the area. If you are not a Dudley resident, please check with your local officials for a disposal site near you. In Dudley, bring your medications to The Dudley Police Department located inside the Dudley Municipal Complex at 71 West Main Street Dudley. We thank everyone in advance for their participation in this worthwhile program.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department 71 West Main St. Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

How to become a long-term investor

It's a fairly predictable pattern: When the stock market rises, more people invest, but after a large-scale drop, many of these same people head for the exits. But by staying out of the financial markets, and only putting their money in "safe" vehicles that offer few or no growth prospects, are they really helping themselves? Here's the bottom line: If you're going to make progress toward your long-term goals, you have to become a long-term investor. But how?

To begin with, you need to understand that long-term investing involves accepting inevitable short-term price swings. You may not like seeing those sharp price drops, but it will help your outlook greatly if you can keep them in perspective. Studies have shown that the longer you hold your investments, the less impact market volatility can have on them.

So, to reach that point where the market's ups and downs have less of a cumulative impact on your holdings, consider the following actions:

Only invest money you won't need for a long time. If you can tell yourself that the money you are investing today is money you won't really need for 20 or 30 years, you'll be better prepared, psychologically, to get through the down periods of the financial markets. And as long as you aren't overextending yourself financially in other parts of your life, you really shouldn't need those investment dollars for a very long time. They should be earmarked for goals you hope to achieve far into the future, such as a comfortable retirement.

Keep your focus on what is most important to you. If you can visualize your long-term goals, you'll find it easier to keep working toward them. For example, if you are hoping to travel extensively when you retire, keep thinking about what that might look like. You might even research the countries you plan to visit, even if these trips are far in the future. Ultimately, if you know where you're going and you're determined to get there, you'll get past the bumps in the road.

Don't spend excessive time reviewing your investment statements. A bad month or two can cause some noticeably negative numbers on your investment statements. But if you can discipline yourself to avoid spending too much time dwelling on these figures, you may feel less stress about investing — and you may even be less tempted to make short-term moves that could have unfortunate long-term results. However, if you do want to study your investment statements, don't just stop at the most recent results. Instead, look for trends that might tell a different story. Has the number of shares you own in various investments increased significantly over time? And over the past five or 10 years, has your portfolio's overall performance been positive? By digging a little deeper into your statements, you might gain more confidence in the course you're following.

Short-term price drops are not pleasant to experience. However, you can help yourself become a better long-term investor by following the above suggestions, so put them to work soon — and stick with them.

Youth deer hunt passes, while pheasant hunting approaches

.....
TRUE

This past Saturday the one day youth deer hunt was held in Massachusetts. The annual event allows a young hunter 12-17 to hunt deer with a licensed adult hunter, with a special permit from Mass. Fish & Wildlife. They can hunt with a bow or a shotgun. This past Saturday young Tyler was hoping for another harvested deer with his bow, no report as of this deadline.

This week's picture shows Tyler with his first doe he harvested with his dad a few years

Upland bird hunters in Mass. are gearing up for the Oct. 19 opening of pheasant hunting. A few clubs received their Pheasant from Mass. Fish & Wildlife a number of weeks ago, and the results of their success in raising the pheasant are great this year. The clubs that raise pheasant from the state are required to stock the birds in open covers that are accessible to all Mass. licensed hunters.

Concerned local bird hunters are worried about West Hill in Uxbridge being stocked this year with pheasant because of a dispute with an abutting land owner, which has shut down access to a section of the West Hill. There should not be a problem, as the access to the site can be made at the Dam area on Hartford Ave.! It was used for years prior to the shut-down for access to the hunting site and hopefully it will be used this year if no changes or settlements are made with the abutting landowner. Unfortunately, hunters will have a longer walk to the hunting areas, as they will need to park at the parking lot off of Hartford Ave. Stay Tuned!

Hunting open covers in October will no longer offer great hunting for Woodcock and Grouse locally because of the near extinction of grouse in the valley, and the low populations of woodcock in the area due to lost habitat. The word upland bird hunting is rarely used by this writer, because of the loss of these two great game birds in the valley area. Areas in other parts of the state also no longer have the woodcock and grouse populations they once had, but are not in as bad a shape as were are.

Flights of woodcock do provide some limited shooting if you are in the right place at the right time. Owning a good pointing bird dog can provide some fast shooting on these birds that are often called timber doodles. When the woodcock flush they often rise straight up, giving the hunter a somewhat easy shot. The whistle of the bird when they take flight is a great sound, and gives the hunting a slight edge in making a good shot. Numerous bird dogs do not like the taste of woodcock in their mouth as they have a livery taste, but other dogs are not bothered by the taste.

Woodcock are great table fare if they are prepared correctly, and it takes quite a few birds to make a meal for the family. People that cook with numerous wines make the taste of the bird a lot sweeter, while grouse do not need any special dressings or preparation.

The Salmon River continues to give up some impressive Coho salmon for anglers that are fishing there now. They had a good dose of rain last week in the area, and that is good news, helping to move the fish upstream.

Fish stocks of some species in the saltwater are being devastated by Cormorants and seals. These protected species are causing serious damage to our winter flounder populations, especially in Rhode Island waters. The winter flounder fishing is nearly non-existent in the Narragansett Bay area for years now because of cormorants. In past years I have watched these birds eat hundreds of the recently hatched winter flounder in Rhode Island waters.

Seals eat massive amounts of fish daily and their populations continue to rise annually also. Something needs to be done soon. The commercial fishermen cannot be all to blame for our dwindling fish stocks in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Numerous attacks by sharks are also becoming more frequent because of the out of control of seal populations. There should be some type of control of these two species.

Harvest Goods = Impressive Gifts

With today's appreciation of home-made foods, hand crafted side dishes and condiments have never been more popular. Merging the art of basic canning with fresh, delicious ingredients and a dash of creativity results in upscale food gifts that rival pricey gourmet food catalog offerings. Such creative goods are an ideal way to bring something truly special to the harvest table or to share with family and friends throughout the year.

The following recipes are not only easy to whip up; they'll also earn rave reviews from lucky recipients!

Pear Honey
This old fashioned recipe relies on fresh pears for its smooth, fruity flavor.
Ingredients: six cups of ground pears; five cups sugar; four cups crushed pineapple
Directions: Peel and core pears.

Process pears until coarsely ground. Add sugar to pears and cook down until mixture thickens (can take up to four hours). Add the crushed pineapple and continue to cook and stirring periodically until thick and of a syrup consistency. Once desired thickness is achieved, pour hot liquid into hot sterilized jars. Process is hot water bath for ten minutes.

Gift Tip: A perfect pairing for poultry, a jar of homemade pear honey is an ideal gift for the Thanksgiving host.

Thanksgiving Pickled Eggs
For some New Englanders pickled eggs are as traditional as cranberry sauce on the Thanksgiving table. This recipe is sure to "hit the spot!"

Ingredients: eight eggs; 1 (15 ounce) cans beets with liquid; 1/2 cup white vinegar; 1/2 cup white sugar; 1/2 cup water; 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon (optional).

Directions: Hard boil eggs, cool and peel. In a medium saucepan combine beet liquid, vinegar, sugar, water and cinnamon. Bring to a boil and stir under sugar is fully dissolved. Pour mixture over eggs. Place egg in a saucepan and cover with cold water. Bring water to a boil and immediately remove from heat. Cover and let eggs stand in hot water for 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from hot water, cool, and peel. Pack eggs loosely

Peach Salsa
Sweet and spicy, a fiesta of spices elevates this salsa from simple to sensational!

Ingredients: 9 cups fresh peaches, chopped; 2 tablespoons lime juice (fresh or bottled); 4 cups fresh tomatoes; 2 large bell peppers, diced; 1 large red bell pepper, diced; 2 cups sweet onions; 1 cup vinegar; 3 garlic cloves, chopped; 1 tablespoon cayenne pepper; 3 tablespoons honey; 1 tablespoon crushed red pepper flakes

Directions: Peel, pit, and dice peaches, and mix with lime juice. Peel and chop tomatoes. Combine all fresh fruits and vegetables in a large stainless steel pot. Add vinegar, honey, cilantro, cayenne, and crushed red pepper. Bring mixture to boil over medium heat. Cook for about three minutes, stirring frequently. Turn heat to simmer for three minutes more.

Ladle salsa into hot sterilized canning jars, leaving 1/4 inch headspace. Screw on band tightly and process in a hot water bath for ten minutes. Makes a dozen half pint jars.

Gift Tip: Present a jar of peach salsa with a spice packet of Old Bay seasonings for grilled fish. This lets the recipient know this salsa is not just for dipping tortillas!

Wine Jelly
Made from just four ingredients, this simple recipe transforms white or red wine into a sweet spread sure to impress.

Ingredients: 3 1/2 cups red or white wine; 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice; 1 (2 ounce) package dry pectin; 4 1/2 cups white sugar.

Directions: Combine wine, lemon juice, and pectin in a large saucepot. Bring to a boil, stirring frequently. Add sugar, stirring until dissolved. Return to a rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim foam off top, if necessary. Ladle hot jelly into hot, sterilized jars, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Tighten two piece lids. Process for five minutes in boiling water bath. Makes five half pint jars.

Hostess Gift Tip: Gift with crackers and a wedge of aged cheese.

Roasted Red Cherry Tomatoes
Rich, red Lilliputian tomatoes, fresh garlic and authentic Italian spices create this savory Mediterranean side dish.

Ingredients: Two pounds of cherry or grape tomatoes; six whole, peeled garlic cloves; 1/2 cup good olive oil; one teaspoon each fresh oregano and basil; 1/2 tsp each: salt and pepper

Directions: Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Slice tomatoes in half and place in a bowl. Peel garlic, add to bowl with tomatoes. Stir in olive oil to coat. Pour mixture onto a shallow sheet pan with rim. Roast for 30 minutes or until edges of tomatoes are slightly charred. Pack into two ounce canning jars and pour oil over tomatoes to fill jar. Makes four jars.

Gift Tip: Tie with a raffia bow and include a bruschetta recipe.

Festive Red & Green Jelly
The pop of festive colors in this pepper jelly make it a favorite accompaniment to the holiday meal.

Ingredients: 1 cup chopped red bell pepper; 1/2 cup chopped jalapeno pepper; 5 cups sugar; 1 1/2 cups apple cider vinegar; 1 six ounce bottle liquid pectin

Directions: Mince stemmed and seeded jalapenos in a food processor. Combine peppers, sugar and vinegar in a heavy pot. Bring to a rolling boil for three minutes. Remove from heat and cool for five minutes. Stir in pectin. Allow to cool for two minutes, and then stir for two minutes. Ladle into four ounce canning jars. Process in a hot water bath.

Gift Tip: Save a few jars for impromptu Christmas gifts! String a silver jingle bell through red curling ribbon and tie a big bow on the top of the jar.

Rams rack up points to outscore North Middlesex, 53-21

DUDLEY — Richard Carmignani Memorial Field saw a multitude of points when the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity football team hosted North Middlesex Regional on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 28. And the majority of them came from the Rams, who outscored the Patriots, 53-21, to improve to 3-0 on the young season. Nate Cooper and Mike Raymond both scored a pair of touchdowns to lead The Hill's offense, while Gabe Dos Santos threw for one TD and rushed for another score. Other Rams' touchdowns were had by Xavier Nieves, Tyler Brassard and Anthony Sacco. Next up for Shepherd Hill is a date at St. John's High on Friday afternoon, Oct. 4 with a 4 p.m. kickoff.

Tomahawks too much after rallying by improved Shepherd Hill

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

NORTHBOROUGH — The Algonquin Regional boys' varsity soccer team spotted Shepherd Hill Regional an early one-goal lead and then charged back, scoring three unanswered goals and defeating the Rams, 3-1, at the Richard Walsh Athletic Field on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

With the win the Tomahawks improved to 4-1-2 overall and 3-0-0 in the Mid-Wach League's A Division. Shepherd Hill fell to 3-3-1 overall and 0-3-0 in league play with the loss.

The Rams grabbed a 1-0 lead in the game's 16th minute, senior Nick Diamond heading the ball past Algonquin goalkeeper Brendan McCarthy.

Diamond's header came after a 40-yard boot into Shepherd Hill's attacking zone by junior captain Matt Nguyen. Nguyen's high kick was right on the mark and Diamond positioned himself to the left of the goal, leaped up and headed it into the far side of the net.

Diamond's goal got Algonquin's attention.

"It certainly did, but it was more like, 'I can't believe we're allowing this to happen'" said Ken Morin, the Tomahawks' longtime head coach. "But, it's what happens when you have young players.

"At times we need to play faster. We want to possess the ball but at times we do it really slowly," explained Morin, who has seven sophomores and 15 juniors on his roster. "And that invites teams to get on you and apply pressure. We just have to be better at hitting the ball harder. After Shepherd Hill scored we started moving the ball really quickly and it made a huge difference."

Algonquin tied the game, 1-1, 16 minutes later, junior Carsten Boloz scoring on a direct kick from 20 yards out. The right-to-left kick was angled perfectly, getting past Rams' senior goalkeeper Jake Fortin and into the far side of the net.

The Tomahawks took the lead, 2-1, in the third minute of the second half.

Algonquin senior Jake Thibodeau sprinted downfield, got behind the Shepherd Hill defense and received a pass in from classmate Patrick Freeman. Thibodeau, who induced Fortin to come out of the net and charge the ball, then changed directions, streaked past Fortin and scored into a wide-open net.

Sophomore Charlie Hynes pushed the Tomahawks' lead to 3-0 in the final 30 seconds of the game. Hynes dribbled the ball along the left endline, cut into the field of play, dribbled around his defender and then dribbled around Fortin and pushed the ball into the net.

"Algonquin is a quality team. They possess the ball well and they move the ball well. What we have to do now is figure out if it's us," Shepherd Hill head coach Tim Cormier said. "I think this game, for us, was a case of adjusting a little bit too late.

"We're only [seven] games into the season, but for us this was a good start," Cormier said. "We know where we're at and we know the teams we're up against. We're not going to be able to just show up and win games. We have to be able to put together a better performance and a better game plan than we did today. In that regard this game was a step back."

Cormier said the momentum shift in the game was not a case of Algonquin making an adjustment or flipping a switch.

"It wasn't about that at all," Cormier said. "We've played skilled teams in the past. For whatever reason we took a step back today. We started getting emotional, the in-game drama got the best of us and we lost our focus."

Morin said Shepherd Hill is becoming a team to be reckoned with.

"They are 100 times better than they have been," Morin said. "I thought last year that I could see it coming. I told [Cormier] after the first time we played them last year, 'you guys are coming.' High school soccer is a matter of getting enough players around those two or three really good players. They have a couple of very good guys and now they're working on filling in around them so they can be consistent. We're still working on that ourselves."

Josh Faubert of Shepherd Hill gains a step on Algonquin's Will Smith while controlling the ball.

Matt Nguyen of Shepherd Hill sends a free kick on its way.

Uxbridge’s defense causes five turnovers to get past Pirates

Oxford's Ben Wing (44) reaches out and nearly blocks an Uxbridge kick.

Oxford's defense gang-tackles Uxbridge's ball-carrier to the ground.

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

UXBRIDGE — The Uxbridge High varsity football team's defense has carried the Spartans to wins versus North High (14-6) and Burncoat High (24-0) to start the season, and their D did it again when facing Oxford High on Homecoming Saturday, Sept. 28. Uxbridge pounced on four Pirates' fumbles and came away with a pick-six touchdown late en route to a 28-12 victory.

"The defense has been carrying us all year," said Jeff Stewart, the Spartans' first-year head coach after 10 years in the program. "Third week in a row the defense has scored a touchdown."

For Oxford, head coach Jeff Clarkson said that the struggles began a week ago during a 38-14 victory versus North High when they played a poor second half of football.

"Last week we came out like gangbusters against North High School, but in the second half we just got sloppy," said Clarkson.

"We never righted the wrongs and it seems like it rolled into this week. We just couldn't bounce back. It's gameday practice yesterday and we're still going over assignments. Hopefully we can bounce back."

After a scoreless first quarter of play, Uxbridge got on the board first early in the second. Quarterback Matthew Stark, a senior co-captain, rolled out to his left and threw a pass to junior Rory Paul, who juked past a defender and found his way into the end zone, good for a 33-yard score. Junior Brendan Thompson then tacked on the extra point to make it 7-0.

Thompson (12 carries, 67 yards) did the scoring on the next Spartans' possession, booting a 27-yard field goal through the uprights to up the lead to 10-0 four minutes before halftime.

Then, following Uxbridge's first defensive takeaway on an Oxford rushing play that resulted in a fumble, Stark finished the first half by calling his own number and scampering 36 yards to pay dirt for the TD and 16-0 lead.

Oxford quarterback Lucas Lambert looks toward teammate Nick Sellig before firing a pass off his way.

Sam Wing of Oxford gains more yardage carrying the ball by stiff-arming Uxbridge defender Shane Fowler.

Kick returner Darius Richardson of Oxford looks for open running room.

"Matthew Stark took the game in the first half. Senior captain, extremely intelligent, does the right things — he's making his reads. He's making the call," Stewart said of Stark (3 for 6, 75 yards, TD; 9 carries, 51 yards, TD) either passing the ball or deciding to take off and run.

Stewart was quick to mention the other senior co-captains — Eli Roerden (offensive guard, defensive end) and Lucas Maietta (offensive guard and defensive tackle) — who work well in the trenches and allow Stark the time to make his reads.

"We're blessed with three senior captains that are leaders. We have a young, young team, but we've got three senior captains that show us the way every week. They're high character leaders," said Stewart.

Uxbridge extended the lead late in the third quarter following another Pirates' fumble. Thompson finished the drive with a 1-yard scoring plunge up the middle.

Oxford then got on the board with 8:40 to play when junior Sam Wing blocked a Spartans' punt in the end zone and junior Robert Nieves caught the ball for the touchdown, cutting the deficit down to 22-6.

And the Pirates' defense came away with a turnover, recovering a fumble, they tried to mount a comeback. But junior quarterback Devin Audette threw an interception to junior Shane Fowler, who took the pick 80 yards for the score.

"He's playing some awesome cornerback for us," Stewart said of Fowler, a first-year football player.

Wing (17 carries, 151 yards) then scored on a 6-yard run for Oxford in the final minute to conclude the scoring at 28-12.

"Their fate's in their hands," Clarkson said of his now 2-1 team. "We have a lot to fight for, a long season left."

The Spartans remained unbeaten at 3-0.

Webster Five announces purchase of new corporate headquarters

Webster Five is pleased to announce it has purchased the property located at 35 Millbury Street in Auburn, which will be the future home of the bank's corporate headquarters. The bank plans an extensive redesign and remodel of the building to allow for an exciting and collaborative workspace for its employees. Design and construction is expected to take 12 to 15 months with the anticipated move-in date occurring during the first quarter of 2021.

Webster Five has seen significant growth over the past 25 years and its footprint now extends well beyond its original markets of Webster, Dudley and Oxford. As the bank approaches $1 billion in asset size, it will need a larger, more centralized location to support its planned growth. The new headquarters space will allow the bank to consolidate three non-branch office locations currently in Webster, Auburn and Worcester. There will be no change to the bank's retail footprint and, therefore, the existing branches in Webster, Auburn and Worcester will continue to be important for the bank's future success. The consolidation of Webster Five's operational staff will help increase operational efficiencies and allow the bank to be more collaborative in its approach to serving customers' needs. Donald F. Doyle, President and Chief Executive Officer of Webster Five, stated, "While Auburn is an ideal central location for its employees, Webster Five will remain deeply committed to its roots in Webster. We also believe that this property will transform into an ideal workspace for our employees and play a significant role in meeting our vision of being a more innovative bank and continuing to be a leading community bank in Worcester County." About Webster Five Webster Five is a full-service, $880 million community bank with a history of financial strength and has branch offices located in Auburn, Dudley, Oxford, Shrewsbury, Webster and Worcester. The bank is committed to creating a sense of community such that people feel supported in what they need by people who truly care about their best interests. Through the Web of Caring to Make a Difference program, the bank has provided millions of dollars in charitable contributions to local nonprofit organizations and programs.

Uber 911 safety integration now available across all of Massachusetts

Uber today announced that it is rolling out its 911 information sharing program to the entire state of Massachusetts. This means that when a rider or driver uses the in-app emergency button to call 911, key trip details will be automatically sent to 911 dispatchers in an emergency. The product is available in other cities and counties in the United States, but Massachusetts is the first place in the country where it's available statewide. Uber first introduced the emergency button for all riders and drivers in 2018. The feature shows GPS location and car details (make, model, color, and license plate) in the app so that when a rider or driver taps Uber's emergency button to call 911, they can tell dispatchers that information. Uber has partnered with RapidSOS to pilot 911 integration with local emergency authorities. This technology allows the rider or driver's exact location (even as the car is moving) and car make/model, color and license plate number to be sent to the 911 center electronically. The feature was made available in Boston and Springfield in September 2018 and in Cambridge in February 2019. "Safety is at the heart of everything we do, and we believe technology can help make the roads safer than ever before. Every second counts in an emergency, and we want to make sure our users get help quickly with accurate information if faced with an emergency situation," said Chad Dobbs, Head of Rides for Uber in Massachusetts. "I am happy to see that this 911 enhancement has been expanded to our community and throughout the state. With many of our residents, young adults and college students using Uber to get in and out of the city, anything we can utilize to make it safer is a benefit to all," said Michael Lawn, Chief of the Watertown Police Department. "Our mission is to connect the world to public safety to get the fastest and most appropriate care possible to an emergency incident," said Jeff Robertson, SVP & GM of Public Safety at RapidSOS. "We are excited to expand our partnership with Uber to the state of Massachusetts, connecting life-saving data from riders and drivers to all 911 centers across the state."

Free event with books available for purchase. Marie LeClaire has spent the past thirty years as a mental health counselor encouraging others to look beyond our sometimes limited perspective and see a bigger picture of what influences our lives and guides our behavior. She has been writing novels and short stories for the past five years. She still does a little counseling part time but her love now is purely fiction - sort of. Our newest endeavor is a support group for the family and friends of those suffering from this disease. It is a family and friends illness. The meeting is not affiliated with any other group. It is designed to provide an informal forum for those who are suffering where they can share experiences in a safe, anonymous and supportive place. The gatherings are on Thursday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m. at Opening the Word Peer Recovery Center, 10 Mechanic Street, Webster. If you have any questions, feel free to call Mark at 774-482-6013. We hope to see you there.

FOOD

Match food to your favorite brews

The rise of craft and home brewing has created more beer flavor profiles than ever before. In fact, there's likely a beer for everyone, whether you're a novice or connoisseur.

The Brewer's Association, a trade association that represents small and independent American craft brewers, reports that, in 2018, small and independent brewers collectively produced 25.9 million barrels and experienced a 4 percent total market growth. The BA also states that these small brewers achieved a collective retail dollar take-in of $27.6 billion.

While wine will always have its enthusiasts, beer is fast on its heels as a popular mealtime beverage. Much in the way wines are paired with certain foods, it has become the natural course of action to pair certain foods with particular styles of beer.

"Beer is a great match for food because of the complexity of its flavors, its ability to provide refreshment and to interact with many food flavors," says Marc Stroobandt, a master beer sommelier for the Food and Beer Consultancy, UK.

Although each person has his or her preferences, here is a brief listing of generalized pairings, courtesy of the Brewer's Association and CraftBeer.com.

- American Amber Lager: Creamy risotto, wild rice, polenta
- American Pale Ale: Game birds, such as duck and quail
- Belgian-style Dubbel: Pork chops, sausage, tenderloin
- Belgian-style Flanders: Grilled rib-eye, root vegetables
- Blonde Ale: Chicken, salads, salmon, nutty cheese
- Dark Lager: Barbecue, sausage, roasted meat
- Hefeweizen: Weisswurst, seafood, sushi
- Imperial Stout: Smoked goose, foie gras, strong cheeses
- IPA: Spicy foods, curries
- Porter: Roasted or smoked foods, blackened fish

The Brewer's Association recommends matching delicate dishes with delicate beers and strong dishes with assertive beers. Commonalities, like aromas and sub-flavors, also work together. A beer with roasted notes may pair well with chocolate, for example. Opposites also attract, in that a spicy food may taste best when paired with a sweet beer.

Pairing might once have been limited to matching wines with certain foods. But the booming craft beer business has popularized pairing flavorful beers with foods to make meals even tastier.

What to know about food portions Portion control is a big part of a healthy diet. In fact, the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases notes that, when it comes to maintaining a healthy weight, how much food a person eats is just as important as what he or she eats.

No two people are the same, so a portion that's satisfying and healthy for one person won't necessarily be the same for another person. Answering some common questions about food portions can help people understand this vital component of a healthy lifestyle.

What is the difference between portions and servings?

The NIDDK notes that a portion is how much food a person chooses to eat at one time, while a serving size is the amount of food listed on the Nutrition Facts label. The portions a person eats may or may not match a serving size. That's because a healthy portion size is typically based on various factors, such as age, weight and gender, unique to individuals.

Should calories come into play when determining healthy portion sizes?

Calories definitely merit consideration when determining healthy portion sizes. However, the amount of calories a person needs is based on a number of factors, including how physically active that person is. The NIDDK notes that a 150-pound woman who exercises vigorously throughout the week will need more calories than a woman about the same size who is not as physically active. When trying to determine their calorie needs, men and women should consult with their physicians, who will consider their lifestyle, age, medical history, and other factors before advising patients about how much they should eat.

What if I am still hungry after reducing portion sizes?

It's likely that people accustomed to big portions will still be hungry as their bodies adjust to reduced portion sizes. In such instances, people can try taking more time to eat. Even if there's less food on the plate, eating slowly gives the brain a chance to receive the message that the stomach is full. According to the NIDDK, it can take as long as 15 minutes for that message to make its way to the brain. Eating slowly reduces the risk of overeating, and you may even be surprised to learn that a smaller portion size than you're used to is all you really need to feel satisfied.

FOOD

Vegetarian-friendly foods high in protein

People choose a vegetarian lifestyle for a number of reasons. Some individuals have an aversion to eating meat because they're concerned about animal welfare, while others find that a low-calorie, vegetarian diet promotes long-term health.

Vegetarianism can certainly be a healthy option, but those who eschew meat and sometimes eggs often have to find alternative sources of protein to meet dietary needs. According to the Dietary Reference Intakes, the average sedentary man should have 56 grams of protein per day, while an average sedentary woman should consume 46 grams per day. The amount of protein needed will increase if a person is more active, advises Healthline.

Protein helps a person feel fuller, longer, and it is crucial for all cells in the body. Protein is used to build and maintain bones, muscles, skin, and much more. The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics also states that protein is very important as one ages because aging men and women don't absorb or metabolize amino acids, which are the building blocks of protein, as well as they did when they were younger.

Those adhering to vegetarian diets will find there are plenty of non-meat protein sources. Meatless protein sources that offer the biggest health bang for one's buck are "complete proteins," which have the essential amino acids the body requires. Some complete proteins include:

Vegetarians have several non-meat choices to get their recommended protein allowances.

- eggs,
- milk,

- cheese,
- soy, and
- quinoa.

Some other great protein sources may not have all of the amino acids, but they can be paired with other foods to get a fuller nutrient package.

- seitan: This is a meat alternative made from wheat gluten.

- lentils: Lentils pack 18 grams of protein per cooked cup.

- beans: Many forms of beans contain a high amount of protein per serving.

- nutritional yeast: This is a strain of yeast that has a cheesy flavor. It can be sprinkled on foods to add a protein punch.

- ancient grains: Ancient grains include spelt, teff, barley, sorghum, farro, and einkorn. These ancient grains are higher in protein than common grains.

- hemp seeds: These seeds come from hemp, which is in the same family as marijuana. However, hemp will not cause a high because it only has trace amounts of the THC compound that produces that effect. Hemp seeds contain 50 percent more protein than chia seeds and flax seeds, offers Healthline.

In addition to these foods, peanuts and other legumes, almonds, peas, oatmeal, spirulina, broccoli, brussel sprouts, and sweet corn also are good protein sources for vegetarians.

Even though it may seem like skipping meat products would leave vegetarians lacking for protein, there really are quite a number of alternative protein sources out there.

Skewered chicken goes great on the grill

Grilling chicken is an easy way to transform this versatile food into something even more delicious. Various cultures serve chicken in kebab form after grilling it over an open flame, and taste is a big reason this particular method of cooking chicken is so beloved.

While you might not expect to see kebabs on the menu at your favorite Italian restaurant, "spiedini" is Italian for "little skewers," proving that Italian chefs recognize how delicious chicken can be when served in kebab form. In this recipe for "Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde" from "Cooking Light: Dinner's Ready" (Oxmoor House) by The Cooking Light Editors, skewers are paired with a zesty salsa full of nuts, herbs and citrus, which makes for the perfect complement to the smoky grilled flavor.

Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde
Makes 6 servings

- Salsa:
- 1 cup chopped flat parsley
 - 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, toasted
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
 - 3 tablespoons capers, chopped
 - 12 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
 - 12 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme

- 12 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano
- 14 teaspoon kosher salt
- 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 1 garlic clove, minced

- Spiedini:
- 1 1/2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
 - 6 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 1 1/4 pounds)
 - Cooking spray
 - 14 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Soak 12 (10-inch) wooden skewers in water for 30 minutes to prevent burning.

Bring the grill to medium-high heat. To prepare the salsa, combine the first 12 ingredients; set aside.

To prepare the spiedini, thread the chicken and zucchini alternately on each of the 12 skewers. Coat the spiedini with cooking spray; sprinkle evenly with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Place on a grill rack; grill 6 minutes or until done, turning once. Serve with salsa.

Tip: Prepare the salsa up to a day ahead, and assemble the skewers earlier in the day. Coat with the seasonings just before grilling.
