Dudley reserve officers approved for 2018

BY JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – Dudley's police force has renewed the terms of eight expiring reserve officers while also taking steps to bring two new reserve officers on board as well.

As is done at the end of each calendar year, Dudley's selectmen approved the new terms for the duration of 2018 during a Dec. 18 meeting with officers James Rivera, Robbie L'heureux, Daniel Melhouse, John Glowacki, Ryan Kasik, James Mastrogiovanni, Eric Gulkin, and Anthony DiDonato returning to the force. Chief Steve Wojnar also asked selectmen to approve conditional appointment for two other officers that would add some diversity to the Dudley police force.

"The Board of Selectmen had authorized up to five positions on the reserve force. We're down a few members at this point," Chief Wojnar said noting that the evaluation committee held interviews for two new reserve officers.

"This just extends them the opportunity to complete the rest of the process because we need that conditional appointment to get some of these things down in time."

The two new officers are female, Page Moroz and Kristin Robinson, and according to Wojnar the two are extremely promising officers whose hirings fit with the goal of the department to allow opportunities for aspiring women officers to be a part of the Dudley force.

"They're going to have to get their physicals. They have to do their strength and agility tests, psychological evaluation and complete background checks. Once that's all done I'll resubmit the names to the Board of Selectmen who will formally appoint them as reserve officers. This is just an offer of employment, but they have to meet all the qualifications to be brought back for a formal appointment later," Chief Wojnar said. "We've been trying to get female officers on board for quite some time. We interviewed six individuals and these two finished at the top of the list. These two are the two top written scorers as well."

Selectmen agreed to the chief's request and it wasn't the only attempt by the chief to think ahead in the closing days of 2017. Wojnar also discussed plans to stay ahead of a potential departure of a full time officer which, while not solidified, has been all but confirmed without an expected resignation date in hand. DANGEROUS DOG HELD ON DEATH WATCH

BY GUS STEEVES
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD – Selectmen unanimously voted to put a "dangerous dog" on what's effectively a three-week death watch.

If the owners do not find "an acceptable and safe place" by their next meeting, Jan. 9, the selectmen and animal control officer indicated they would probably euthanize the dog. But several of them agreed with Meghan Troiano, who said, "I don't want to see her euthanized, but I can't see how we can say she wasn't in violation."

The issue grew out of a Rutland dog hearing on Nov. 6, when that town's selectmen identified a 65-pound Catahoula named Lacey "dangerous" after she had bitten the same Rutland woman twice in April 2015 and August 2017. Before that hearing happened, though, Lacey's owner, Guy Berry, had moved to Oxford, where Lacey allegedly attacked another dog on Oct. 26, "causing several bite wounds," Oxford ACO Kelly Flynn wrote.

Flynn found out about the Rutland hearing and attended, subsequently hand-delivering Rutland's fairly long order requiring eight "remedial actions" to both Berry and his landlord. Among other things the order required him to

MassDEP penalizes realty trustees $8,800 each for violations involving soil excavation

BOSTON – The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) has penalized the former trustees of G & P Realty Trust/McCarthy Motor Sales at 217 Main St. in Oxford for waste site cleanup violations involving soil excavation at the site. John E. Guerin and George A. Phillips, the former owners/trustees, authorized soil excavation at the site in violation of state cleanup regulations.

An oil spill that was satisfactorily remediated in March of 1995 resulted in an activity and use limitation (AUL) being established and attached to the property deed by the Realty Trust under the stewardship of Guerin and Phillips. The AUL was required to limit exposure to the remaining residual contamination on-site. Despite being reminded of the AUL restrictions in 2011 and 2015, both Phillips and Guerin authorized soil excavation at the site in 2016 without first

Sex offender connected to death of Webster dancer

JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

WORCESTER — A Northborough man has been identified and charged as the individual responsible for the burning of a car containing the body of a Sterling woman in early December.

Steven Foley, a 56-year-old registered level 3 sex offender, appeared in Central District Court on Dec. 20 after being connected to the burning of a red Buick containing the body of a Sterling woman on Dec. 12. Cynthia Webb, a 59-year-old dancer at Mario's Showplace in Webster, was found in the trunk of a burning car at Hope Cemetery in Worcester on Dec. 12 after reports indicated she had met up with Foley in Worcester the day before.

Foley was said to be a frequent visitor to Mario's Showplace, and workers at the venue confirmed Foley had paid a visit to that venue on the night of Dec. 11. Foley interacted with Webb before leaving in a Honda CRV at around 7 p.m. after which Webb was shown leaving less than 15 minutes later in a red Buick on surveillance cameras. Police records revealed that the two individuals met again at the Lamplighter II strip club in Worcester before 8 p.m. where Webb allowed Foley to take over driving duties of the Buick.

The two drove away at around 7:47 p.m. and it was the last time Webb was seen alive. Details released by police did confirm that Foley was recorded in a cab around 2:44 a.m. on Dec. 12 in Northborough near a home on Shadyland Avenue where Foley is said to reside before being returned to the Honda CRV in Worcester and driving off. Police obtained video footage of an individual driving the red Buick near the cemetery later in the morning at around 8:20 a.m. before the man hailed a cab from a phone registered to Foley and returned to a Northborough. Foley was arrested on Tuesday, Dec. 19 in a hotel in Peabody after being connected to the investigation into the fire.

Police said 12 hours later, Webb's body was discovered in the same Buick, which had been set on fire at Hope Cemetery. As of this report police have not openly discussed the manner or circumstances of Webb's death in public or in court and have yet to officially label the situation a murder investigation specifically. To date Foley has yet to be connected with any violent act against Webb prior to her death.

Foley has two convictions on his record with the Sex Offender Registry Board. At least one involved the force-

Costs for winter expected to go over budget

BY JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – As winter weather begins to take its toll on the region, Dudley's Board of Selectmen submitted a now annual approval for the town's highway department to overspend on the budgeted amount for snow account in the town. This practice has been in place for several years according to selectmen with Highway Superintendent Dan Gion telling selectmen that the $90,000 budgeted for the current winter season has been nearly depleted with $83,000 already expended for salt and other materials alone. The typical discussion to allow for overspending turned into a much deeper conversation as Gion sought to find a more permanent solution to the annual spending and cost gap.

"The account has been increased by $10,000 by Town Administrator Greg Balukonis over the last year or two, but it's still nowhere near enough given Dudley's financial situation," Gion said. "Compared to the towns around us it's about half of what Webster gets and it's about a third of what Oxford gets."

Officials said the goal of the current format is to be fiscally responsible while also keeping public safety in mind. According to selectman Jonathan Ruda the yearly approval for overspending is by design in order to reduce the town's required financial commitment when budget season come around without sacrificing a willingness to invest what they need to in public safety during the colder months.

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: When is the best time to buy a Car or Truck?

The RIGHT answer: (Part 2) There are some times of the year that seem better than others. I already spoke about the end of the year. Another good time is toward the end of winter going into spring. We all know about the Presidents Day sales in February. Customers, dealers and manufacturers all are beginning to feel a little stir crazy from the long cold days of January and early February. As this holiday comes along there is a bit more excitement and a strong desire on the dealer and manufacturer to get selling for the spring and summer markets. Usually this is also a time in which the manufacturers step up their advertising and incentives to support this goal. The model year changeover is a good time to buy. This is normally the September, October time frame. Incentives on the current model year are usually strong and inventories are still pretty good as the new model year is beginning to show up. Dealers will be making room for the next years vehicles and starting to trim inventories approaching the year end and holiday seasons. At Place Motor we will always do our best to save our customers as much as possible whenever you decide to buy. We will lay out all your options for you to see and make your best decision. We want the time you choose to be the right time to buy your new car or truck.

year's drive once again. Also, a special thank you goes out to the members of the Webster-Dudley Boys and Girls Club, the Dudley Women's Club, Jimmy's Pizza, Dean Mason Paving, the Fels' Family Foundation, The Bliss Family from Dudley and Nichols College Public Safety for their assistance with this program. Dudley reminds citizens of plowing bylaws

TIMES CORRESPONDENT

The first snow of the season has fallen and already the winter weather has proven to be a bit of an inconvenience for residents of Dudley.

Town Administrator Greg Balukonis told selectmen in early December he had already received complaints about snow removal and addressed a town regulation that pertains to proper removal of snow during the winter season as a reminder to citizens as they try to clear their private properties in the months still to come.

"There is a bylaw that says there should be no snow removal that puts snow onto the town roads," Balukonis said. "If so there is a $25 fine."

Balukonis said this reminder was specifically in response to at least one in-person complaint he received in his office pertaining to individuals pushing snow into the roadways and right of ways off of their properties. Over six inches of snow fell on Worcester County on Dec. 9, leaving many residents to pick up the first winter mess of the still-young winter season.

"We've posted this information. People need to be aware that when they hire a private contractor, that contractor shouldn't be pushing snow into the town roadways," Balukonis said.

Dudley's bylaws specifically state, in Article 10 Parking Rules Section 3, that "no person, firm or corporation shall plow or deposit upon any town highway or road or public way in the Town of Dudley, any accumulation of snow or ice that poses a hazard or restraint to the flow of traffic" before further defining a warning for the first offense and the $25 fine for each subsequent offense. Furthermore, bylaws require all vehicles to be parked off the roadway during winter weather so as not to interfere with plowing operations. This bylaw is usually enforced through parking bans.

In the past, communities throughout the region have reported concerns about private citizens plowing or shoveling snow into roadways, creating an unsafe situation for commuters especially after snowplows have already covered the area. Residents are reminded to be courteous and considerate when removing snow in the winter season.

Barton Center and Red Cross plan 10th annual event

FREE TOURS OF CLARA BARTON BIRTHPLACE MUSEUM ALSO OFFERED

NORTH OXFORD — Free tours of the Clara Barton Birthplace Museum will be offered during the 10th annual Blood Drive, which will be hosted by the Clara Barton Birthplace Museum in North Oxford and the American Red Cross in Worcester from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 7.

An American Red Cross blood drive will be held at The Barton Center for Diabetes Education's Chabot Center, 60 Clara Barton Road, which is adjacent to the museum.

To celebrate Clara's birthday (Dec. 25, 1821), the museum will be open for free tours, featuring an original quilt signed by Civil War doctors and officers given to honor Clara's dedication. A new display was added in 2015, featuring over 130 American Red Cross Chapter and Disaster Relief pins.

Clara's mission was one of service. Her amazing accomplishments included delivering medical supplies to Civil War battlefields and nursing wounded soldiers. In 1881, she founded the American Red Cross and served as the organization's president for 23 years.

Anyone interested in donating blood is encouraged to schedule an appointment by calling 1-800 RED CROSS or register online at www.RedCrossBlood.org. Walk-ins are always welcome, however appointments are preferred. Blood donors must be at least 17 years old (16 with parental permission) and weigh at least 110 pounds. Donors who are taking medications are usually acceptable, but potential donors can check with the Red Cross when they make an appointment.

The Clara Barton Birthplace Museum teaches the timeless lessons of compassion and service through Clara Barton's life story. Throughout her long life she sought to improve people's lives by, in her own words, "offering a hand up, not a handout." Clara Barton has inspired countless teachers, medical professionals and social workers. Almost two centuries after her birth, the incredible stories of this great humanitarian continue to draw students and families to her childhood home to learn about her boundless mercy and commitment. This American treasure, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, preserves Clara Barton's legacy of compassion. Located within the Quinebaug-Shetucket Rivers Valley National Heritage Corridor in North Oxford, Massachusetts, the property is also home to The Barton Center for Diabetes Education, Inc. a premiere health education institution for children with diabetes and their families.

be prepared to fill the position, Wojnar told selectmen he is bringing a candidate on board to learn the ropes within the department and possibly fill the vacancy when the opportunity arises.

"In anticipation of (the potential departure) we posted the position amongst our reserve officers to see who would be interested," Chief Wojnar said. "I have an officer who is interested and he was actually the second place candidate on our last exam that we had. I would like to bring him on and have him work a set shift as a part time officer until such time when we can determine when a full time vacancy exists."

Considering that an official notice for the vacancy has not been received yet the chief felt this was a safe move to prepare the reserve officer for moving up in the ranks at some point, sooner or later. The chief also told selectmen this reserve officer would assist in performing duties within the department and reduce the need for overtime to perform daily tasks during their training. Both the officer who may leave Dudley and the reserve officer up for promotion remained unnamed as the vacancy situation and subsequent filling of the position remains a personal matter for the time being.

Day Kimball Hospital ranks in the top third for patient safety in CT and the US.

The Leapfrog Group, a national nonprofit healthcare ratings organization, recently awarded us an "A" grade for patient safety. We're one of just seven "A" hospitals in Connecticut, and just 832 in the entire US. That puts us in the top third of hospitals for patient safety in both Connecticut and the nation.

While this important achievement is great news for our patients, it's also a testament to the hard work, dedication, and collaboration of our entire staff. It proves that the way we all work together to keep our patients safe and provide the best possible care is truly making a difference.

Questions to ask when interviewing Real Estate Agents

Most people are not selling homes on a regular basis. It is scary to think of how important it is to make the right decision when hiring a Real Estate Agent. Think of what is important to you and make sure to ask questions around that to each person you interview. I would first suggest asking friends and family who they have used and had a good experience. Also, if you see the agents sign all around your town then I would interview them as well. I would suggest you interview 3 agents to ensure you are making the right decision. This is probably the largest financial transaction you will ever be involved in. The most important thing is trust, so you want to hire someone you can trust to truly put your needs in front of their own. You also want to make sure they have a track record of selling home that is better than the average agent. For the past year, the average sales price in Worcester County for single family homes was $308,196 which means you will be spending around $15,000-$20,000 on the services of a Real Estate Agent. Below are some questions to ask the agent to help you discover if you are hiring the right person for the job.

How many homes have you sold this year? This will let you know if they have recently been selling homes and have experience in the current Real Estate Market, since it is ever-changing.

How many homes have you sold in the last 5 years? This will show you that they have consistently been helping people in this area sell homes over a period of time and their marketing plan must be working.

Do you have a written marketing plan to get homes sold? It is important that the agent have a plan in place to sell your home rather than just "winging it". Some agents may have a plan they use for every home or customize the plan for each home they sell, but make sure they do have a plan.

Do you have a full-time staff working together to get my home under agreement and sold? This is important to know if when your agent is meeting with another seller that they are not missing valuable phone calls from buyers interested in your home. In addition, what if your agent goes on vacation? Is your home sale going on vacation too or is there a plan in place for coverage while they are gone.

On average how many days does it take you to get an offer on your listings? This is especially important if you need to move by a specific timeframe and need to know you are selecting an agent that will get you moved in the timeframe that you need. I would also ask them to show the date for what the average hour of them leaving a message.

REALTOR'S REPORT

How quickly will you respond to other agents who have interested buyers in my home? It is important to respond quickly to questions as that will keep the buyers interest in the home. If they ask questions and it takes a few days to get a response, most likely the buyer will have moved on to another home.

What type of regular training do you attend to keep you at the top of your game? The Real Estate Market is constantly changing and in order to help someone to sell their home quickly and for the most money then agents need to constantly be learning new techniques for marketing and skills for negotiating. There have been studies done that the most successful agents on average spends 40% of their days in some sort of training to increase their skills.

What percentage of your listings sell vs. expiring? When you decide to sell your home, you want to actually have it sell. This will help you see if the agents marketing strategy is effective to get homes sold. Just because an agent has lots of signs in yards in your area does not mean the homes are actually selling.

agents takes to see how it compares. What is your list price to sales price ratio on homes you have sold? This will give you a good idea on how well the agents negotiate to get you the best price for the home they sell and will get you the best price for yours. I would ask here for them to show you date on the average agent in you area to ensure their ratios are above average.

How quickly will you respond to buyers that call or email you about my home? This is important, knowing that it is crucial for an internet lead to be contacted within 5 minutes of the inquiry and hopefully while they are still searching the agents website. After 5 minutes the odds of them responding back diminishes greatly. People who are calling it is not as urgent but still best if they can have a live conversation with them or at least call back within an

Dudley officers continue High Five Fridays

On Friday, Dec. 22, the Dudley Police Department participated in another “High Five Friday.” Officers were at Dudley Middle School to offer “High Fives” to students on their way into school and on the last day before the Holiday Break. The goal of this program is to:

- To Promote Positive interaction with school children and police officers
- Add to the sense of security for faculty, students and parents
- Build trust
- Reduce fear
- Foster positive relationships
- View police officers as guardians and part of the community
- Allow officers to gain a greater sense of friendship with faculty, students and parents

This program enhances many of the positive collaborations with the local schools and the Dudley Police Department. School Resource Officer Phil Megas and DARE Officer Sergeant Dean Poplawski worked to coordinate this event. The plan is to continue these at other schools in town at various times during the year. The Dudley Police wish to thank Principal Christopher Starzewski and his staff for working on this and many programs at the school. They also wish to thank Superintendent Desto and all the principals from each of the Dudley Schools for their assistance promoting various initiatives throughout the years.

Sacarappa Road fire kills woman

BY GUS STEEVES
STAFF WRITER

OXFORD – Firefighters from Oxford and nearby communities got a call Dec. 14 that nobody ever wants to hear: “Building on fire with one of the occupants trapped.”

When they arrived at 16 Sacarappa Road just before 8 p.m., they saw “fire through the roof and very heavy fire from the back,” and were not able to find the trapped person in the areas they could get to, Deputy Chief John Belanger recalled.

When they finally suppressed the fire, they did find the victim, whom he identified as Josephine Mulvey. The District Attorney’s office, however, said they’re “still awaiting the official identification from the medical examiner’s office.”

“Her daughter came home and found the home on fire, but there was a little delay in notification because she had to go to a neighbor’s house [to call us],” Belanger said, noting he doesn’t know how long it might have been burning before being first seen.

“The house was just filled with debris and clothing items,” he said, with the press release describing it as “hoarding conditions” that made access difficult.

Unfortunately, outside issues also created problems. Because that neighborhood lacks town water, the department needed to rely on tanker trucks from Sutton, Millbury and Leicester “to shuttle water from a different location,” and one of them broke down, he said.

According to the state Fire Marshal’s office, the fire was still under investigation, but “it appears accidental; there’s nothing suspicious,” spokesman Jim DeSimone said.

While hoarding does not cause fires by itself, it is “a factor when it comes to safety in relation to fires,” Belanger added, noting he has seen it be a factor in a few fires in his career. In such situations, the accumulation of papers, boxes, mail and countless other things can provide a lot of fuel for a fire, make it difficult to get in or out, and potentially hide an electrical or other problem that might spark a fire.

Belanger said the department does try to get people help when they come across such cases, including recommending counseling. “But part of the issue is that people who suffer from the disease have to want to clean their home,” he added.

At about 11:30 p.m., while crews were still fighting that fire, a second call came in of a barn burning on Federal Hill Road. Belanger said he stayed at the Sacarappa site, and therefore couldn’t comment on it.

The department’s press release states “crews found a fully-involved barn with no life hazards present,” either to people or animals. That incident is also still under investigation.

Additionally, two firefighters at the Sacarappa site were taken to an area hospital for treatment of non-life-threatening injuries. The Chief’s Administrative Assistant Laurie Burlock couldn’t identify them or give details because of HIPAA regulations, but said they were already back on duty.

Friday’s Child

Olivia and Aleah are friendly sisters looking to find their forever family together! Olivia is an artistic 9-year-old girl of African American descent. Some of Olivia’s favorite activities include crafts projects and reading. In school, her favorite subjects are science and music. Olivia is an accelerated reader and has received high grades on her reading tests at school.

Aleah is a 6-year-old girl of African American/Hispanic descent. Those who know Aleah say she has a bold personality. Aleah enjoys activities such as arts and crafts and playing with her bouncy ball. She also likes to play outdoors.

Legally freed for adoption, Olivia and Aleah thrive in structured environments with a consistent routine. They could be successful in any type of family, with or without other children in the home. Any interested family should be strong advocates for the girls, and be open to engaging in ongoing services with them.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have “a permanent place to call HOME.”

Makeathon summit includes Bay Path mentor

Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy Director Getheline Bolandrina, MSN Ed, RN, CRRN, attended the TOM: Boston Makeathon at the Ruderman Inclusion Summit, hosted by TOM, Ruderman Foundation, and Northeastern University. The event took place in November at Seaport Hotel & World Trade Center, Boston. The team Bolandrina participated in, called "Team Hippo" won the Makeathon. The Makeathon (a marathon of making) was a gathering of makers, engineers, designers, therapists, nurses, and nursing students that created solutions to assist and empower individuals living with disabilities.

The Makeathon was a 48-hour event where working prototypes were developed. Using 3 D printers and rotary saws, Team Hippo learned how resilient and innately innovative humans can be when faced with challenging circumstances. Input from nurses was clearly valuable during the design, ideation, and prototyping stages at the Makeathon. Bolandrina was one of 12 nurses who contributed to the conception and production of the winning product alongside engineers, designers, and programmers. The product, affectionately called The Hippo, is a portable clip that enables the zipping of coats, jackets and sweatshirts using only one hand. Northeastern alumni Anand Shankar and engineer Jack Cardin pioneered the product designed to help people affected by hemiparesis, conditions of muscular weakness or partial paralysis to one side of the body.

"TOM: Boston Makeathon is a noteworthy part of the Inclusion Summit," stated Bolandrina, "having been grouped with minds of all kinds to brainstorm and eventually create a solution to every day issues faced by those living with physical disabilities is such an honor!"

Healthcare allows for an abundance of opportunities for new innovations. Utilizing nurses' knowledge of patient needs makes them agents of change.

The Makeathon was an opportunity to turn fresh ideas into solutions for problems faced daily by individuals living with physical disabilities.

"When I first heard of this event, I knew I wanted to be involved," added Bolandrina, "I am excited about further building my portfolio, networking with insightful participants, and best of all, improving the quality of someone's life."

Team Hippo is continuing their product development at Northeastern University's Ideas Venture Accelerator. Team Hippo members include Jack Cardin, Susan Soe, Elisa Tran, Rebecca Love, Thelma Ajayi, Chris Sullivan, Noah Hender, Anand Shankar, Mohul Sisodia, Aimee Marchand, Valeria Ramdin, Oded Shorer, Sean Hennessy, Saw Tee, Waleed Meleis, Paul Rockwell, Bolandrina, Hiyam Nadel, and Christine O'Brien.

ensuring workers had the required protection, and without notifying MassDEP. "Property owners are responsible for complying with notices of AUL limitations that are necessary to establish a condition of no significant risk at sites where contamination remains," said Mary Jude Pigsley, director of MassDEP's Central Regional Office in Worcester, "For public health and safety reasons, owners of property with residual contamination must ensure that workers are aware of the contamination and take appropriate measures to conduct their work safely."

In July 2016, the Oxford Board of Health notified MassDEP of excavation being conducted at the site. A MassDEP inspection confirmed that Phillips and Guerin had authorized soil excavation as trustees for the property, but failed to ensure that workers were informed and properly trained as required by the AUL.

Phillips and Guerin have each agreed to pay separately $8,800 penalties for failing to comply with the conditions of the AUL.

MassDEP is responsible for ensuring clean air and water, safe management and recycling of solid and hazardous wastes, timely cleanup of hazardous waste sites and spills, and the preservation of wetlands and coastal resources.

Stawiecki: Manzi's is a memory

To the Editor:
 2017 closed on a sad note for me and many other locals. Fred Manzi of Manzi's Barber Shop Webster closed his doors after many years of service to our community. His shop was the "text book" old time tonsorial parlor. Political talk was frequent and controversial. He and I were at different ends of the political spectrum, but he was always cordial and respectful. He had his thumb on the pulse of main street.
 Fred was and is a diehard Red Sox fan. Memorabilia decorated the shop. His nemesis and Yankee lover Bill Steglitz was seen frequently tormenting Fred. One time he actually stood in front of Fred's window in full Yankees garb. Hysterical! Fred and Bill even did a brief Local Cable show about their rivalry. The town's people ate it up.

 I'm proud to call Fred my friend and wish him luck and good health in his retirement. I'm hoping to catch a glimpse of him strolling at Old Orchard Beach this summer.

PACC: not entirely gone

To the Editor:
 No doubt the news will quickly spread around Webster that the PACC has closed its downstairs bar. It is with regret that we had to do this but unfortunately it became no longer profitable to keep it open.
 And though I will not blame anybody or anything for why it happened, now is the time for us to move on if The Polish American Citizens Club is to remain a part of Webster's future. The "PACC Hall" will continue to be available for rent, but now the "PACC Downstairs" will also be an option for functions and events not requiring a larger hall. The "PACC Downstairs" will open on an "on demand" basis, and on weekends for some of our regularly scheduled monthly events like Harry's Live Music Night, DJ/Karaoke with Emily and occasional live bands. Check us out on Facebook at "PACC of Webster" for these events.

 And please consider the PACC for wedding receptions, private parties, stag and showers, dart, pool or pitch leagues, baby showers, birthday parties, anniversaries, graduations, after funeral gatherings, etc. Remember that we have the largest area hall with plenty of easy off road parking. We at the PACC are looking forward to your future support.
 Thank You.

Beware the elusive scammer

CHIEF'S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

A variety of financial "scams" continue to occur. These are prevalent around this time of the year in order to take advantage of people's generosity. I was again asked to warn local residents of this type of activity.
 Telephone, internet, and mail scams have been occurring for many years.

With advances in technology, these have occurred with greater frequency. Those responsible prey on unsuspecting individuals and they obtain either quick cash or other personal data, such as bank account numbers. Armed with this information, they can commit identity theft and access your finances. The quickest and safest way to guard against this is to not provide personal information unless you are confident it is for legitimate purposes. If notified by someone with a great offer, it is always an option to obtain call back numbers or other contact information. It is best to speak directly to representatives of your bank, credit card companies, or other agencies you do business with to insure the offer you are being presented is legitimate. It is a good idea to look into some identity protection services. These can play a vital role in safeguarding your identity by notifying you of attempts to access your personal information.

Be cautious if you receive unexpected checks in the mail. Of particular concern is when you receive a check for several thousand dollars and are asked to send back a payment for "service fees" in order to receive a larger amount of money. Typically, the original check is no good and the victim is out their money. Another recent scam involved an individual being given an offer of a large sum of money in exchange for the purchase of gift cards, such as "iTunes." They encourage a victim to buy them and send them the pre-paid card numbers. If successful, the victim will lose everything they spent and receive nothing in return.

The important thing to remember is do not conduct business transactions unless you are sure of the people and places you are dealing with. This is especially important at this time of the year when people are buying a number of items on line. If you are not expecting something (money or other items), there is a strong likelihood that the offer is not legitimate. Be very cognizant of these occurrences and report these immediately to the police and or your bank. Be very protective of your personal information. When in doubt, ask a question of the proper authorities and avoid becoming a victim.

On behalf of everyone at the Dudley Police Department, I wish you and yours a safe, healthy, and happy holiday season and best wishes for the New Year.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com.

Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

EDITORIAL

Everything old is new again...

As in, new year of course. Why the Gregorian calendar chose to turn the year in the dead of winter is mysterious; perhaps to give people a reason to celebrate a mite. Most likely to adapt to the solstice holidays and continue that vein of thinking.

Janus, the god for whom January is named, is the one looking both backward and forward; two faces and neither of them looking terribly happy. So that too plays into the mythology. Let's put the year change right...here... where we can say Janus is watching over the change and decrying what happened the last few months and is upset about what might happen coming up.

Yeah, that makes sense.
 January isn't much fun. It's usually dark, and dreary and cold and snowy. There are no holidays in January. It's a full 31 days long, no slack there.

Bears and several other smaller mammals hunker down and just sleep through it. Smart.

We don't have any comedy relief this year with politics either.

It's the same old, same old there too. We do have government still paying its bills for a few more weeks at least, the highly lauded tax cuts included all kinds of hidden agendas that got approved as well with no debate and no one the wiser.

Those who approve and think the government is going great are happy.

Those who don't are grumbling and trying to figure out how to change it.

This was part of why 200+ years ago the debating founders attempted to put safeguards in place for the republic. Making certain there would always be debate, no one would ever have complete control, and despite the present climate of big money controlling the vote, no, ultimately the people will still eventually take it all back because they will realize their VOTES are what have the power. The candidates put up by the machines and the money get the publicity of course, but if the people truly wanted to vote their minds, they could easily defeat any of them; starting locally and working their way through the milieu.

They just haven't figured out that power yet.

They did in Alabama earlier. It worked right there. The people voted. And their choice is now in the Senate.

See, we have all been fed the pabulum a long, long time. We don't realize what we are capable of at all. There are ways to get what we want, locally, state and federal levels. But it takes attention and work.

And we can't wait for someone else to take the lead on it. We have to do it ourselves. In small groups, in local Democratic or Republican town committees; local grassroots organizations for local causes, independent ventures. Don't wait for someone else, and don't decry what happened already; don't be Janus. He is only a talking head, talking out of both sides of his double mouths and never accomplishing a thing.

Held by what we hold

You are held by what you hold. Do you believe that? Think about it. If you're holding onto stress, that stress is holding you. Or did you fall in love in 2017 with someone who fell in love with you? You hold them. They hold you. We are held by what we hold.

BEYOND THE PEWS
 FROM REV. JOHN R. WHITE
 THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF DUDLEY
 UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

When I was a boy, my mother and father set the Christmas creche scene on the top of our piano. In my mind baby Jesus always lay in the manger, just so, with his mother and father and shepherds and wise men near him, in very specific places, on a piano. Likely this isn't literally how it happened yet holding those figurines helped the meaning of this season hold me.

We've done a lot of thinking about truth in reporting this year. Let me simply say when thinking about the events of Christmas that the truth of this story guides all the loving actions of my life, even if every detail of the story isn't literally true as recorded. I also believe in what is literally true yet not recorded.

Think about it. Mary is about to give birth to her first child under less than perfect conditions. She is likely not looking like she does in pictures and statues. She's likely disheveled, sweaty and exhausted, yet her face glows with joy and love as she holds tiny baby Jesus so close. She wants to hold him closer. Have you ever had that feeling? You want to hold something you love closer yet you're already as close as is possible. Maybe Mary gazed reverently at the Christ child...perhaps. More likely, I believe, she just beamed with love.

As a new parent, she's busy counting all his fingers and toes, noticing the hair he did or didn't have, smelling his skin and hair as he is covered in that wonderful smell only new babies have. I imagine her giving him a raspberry, and not the fruit, yet making a motorboat sound against his neck to make him laugh. This miracle of Christmas and scenes like it are playing out all over the world right now, even as you read this, in well run hospitals with great health care, and in dangerous conditions in war torn countries. Somehow love keeps working its way into the world, in the best and the worst of conditions.

It was tough for Mary and Joseph, yet we are grateful they nurtured the Savior of the world, One born in nowhere Bethlehem, birthed by unknown and uneducated teenagers who believed and would not stop believing in the hope they held. As they held this hope, this peace, this love, this joy which is Jesus, he held them.

Here's a classic story. I can only guess at the year. The message is timeless.

The soldier walked down the road that led into the city just as dawn was breaking. Soon the soldiers came upon an old graystone building over whose main entrance were carved the words, 'Queen Anne's Orphanage.' They decided to knock and see what kind of celebration was taking place inside. In response to their knock, a matron came and explained that the children were war orphans whose parents had been killed in the bombings.

"The soldiers went inside just as the children were tumbling out of their beds. There was no Christmas tree in the corner and no presents. The soldiers moved around the room, wishing the children a Merry Christmas and giving as gifts whatever they had in their pockets: a stick of chewing gum, a Life Saver, a nickel or a dime, a pencil, a knife, a good luck charm. One soldier noticed a little fellow standing alone in the corner. He looked a lot like his own nephew back home, so he approached and asked, 'And you, little guy, what do you want for Christmas?' The lad replied, 'Will you hold me?' The soldier, with tears brimming his eyes, picked up the boy, nestled him in his arms, and held him close."

I Used with permission of Homiletics (a preaching resource) - December 24, 2017

At the end of 2017 and start of 2018 I believe each of us yearns to be held. God's love holds you, yet you are held by more, held by what you hold. Perhaps you are held by concern, resentment, fear of facing another day or fear of the other. Whatever it is, I urge you to consider how you are holding the Christ child and all the children of the world. As I recently shared on Twitter @PJsPeace, open your eyes. Open your mind. Open your heart. Be true. As you await a savior of the world, work towards some Christmas peace by saving the world in which you live. Hold it. Love it. As you do, you will gain a sense of being held and loved.

You are held by what you hold. What do you hold?

You hold hope. You hold joy. You hold peace. You hold perfect love. Be held by what you hold.

Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! Peace...Pastor John.

Western Massachusetts is still coughing up nice fish despite the onset of winter. Dan Southwick caught and released the largemouth bass and pike after a good fight from both. The third picture is a group of anglers aboard the Island Current with their catch of cod.

Start those engines. You will be glad that you purchased a gas ice auger for this year's ice fishing. As we fell into some serious cold weather this week, ice thickness has increased dramatically, but still unsafe ice remains on some lakes and ponds. A couple of residents found out last week as they fell through thin ice on a lake in Shrewsbury. Fortunately, they were both rescued by a local bystander when he heard their cries for help. Snow covered ice is extremely dangerous, as it hides thin ice. Snowmobilers are the most vulnerable to thin ice.

This week's pictures show ice fishing legend Dan Southwick with couple of impressive fish taken in the western part of Massachusetts last week. The largemouth bass was caught on a jig stick, with 4 lb. test line. The 19 lb. 12 oz. pike was caught last week on a shiner, and was quickly released to fight another day, as was the largemouth bass. Nice fish. Dan was sure dressed for the cold weather as this week's picture shows. He has been known to camp out on the ice during numerous fishing expeditions.

The Island Current fishing vessel operating out of Snug Harbor Marina in Rhode Island, has his patrons catching some nice cod even under the extreme cold weather fishing conditions. Cod fishing at Cox Ledge has improved dramatically over the last few years, and during the following weeks it will only get better. This week's picture shows a couple of anglers, with a pair of nice cod aboard the Island Current. Check him out on his web site at www.islandcurrent.com.

Year's day, with only a few catches of white perch, and a few largemouth bass. Wallum Lake and Webster Lake are safe in some areas for ice fishing, but caution needs to be used. Local Rod & Gun Clubs are planning their annual ice fishing derbies in the next few weeks. It looks as though they will not be canceled again this year due to poor ice conditions.

Now that the Massachusetts deer hunting season is over, some hunters are still deer hunting Connecticut and Rhode Island. The last day of the black powder season a local hunter harvested a nice 10 point buck in the Douglas state forest with his black powder gun. The Douglas state forest annually gives up some very nice deer, and this year was no different. It will be nice to see the preliminary numbers of the Mass. deer harvest, which should be available this month. The final count should be available in March.

The Singletary Rod & Gun Club will hold their annual Game Dinner on Feb. 24, & their ice derby is planned for January 28. Tickets go on sale this month for the game dinner.

Goose hunting in the Central District closes Jan 11. The late goose season opens on January 20, with a five bird daily bag limit.

There are a lot of geese in the valley but the big freeze could push them out to the coast. The first thaw, if it happens soon, should make for some great goose hunting.

New Year's - time for New Year's financial resolutions

We've reached the end of another year - which means it's just about time for some New Year's resolutions. Would you like to study a new language, take up a musical instrument or visit the gym more often? All these are worthy goals, of course, but why not also add some financial resolutions?

Here are some ideas to think about: Increase contributions to your employer-sponsored retirement plan. For 2018, you can contribute up to $18,500 (or $24,500 if you're 50 or older) to your 401(k) or similar plan, such as a 403(b), for employees of public schools and some nonprofit groups, or a 457(b) plan, for employees of local governments. It's usually a good idea to contribute as much as you can afford to your employer's plan, as your contributions may lower your taxable income, while your earnings can grow tax-deferred. At a minimum, put in enough to earn your employer's matching contribution, if one is offered.

Try to "max out" on your IRA. Even if you have a 401(k) or similar plan, you can probably still invest in an IRA. For 2018, you can contribute up to $5,500 to a traditional or Roth IRA, or $6,500 if you're 50 or older. (Income restrictions apply to Roth IRAs.) Contributions to a traditional IRA may be tax-deductible, depending on your income, and your earnings can grow tax-deferred. Roth IRA contributions are not deductible, but earnings can grow tax-free, provided you don't start taking withdrawals until you are 59-1/2 and you've had your account at least five years. You can put virtually any investment in an IRA, so it can expand your options beyond those offered in your 401(k) or similar plan.

Build an emergency fund. Try to build an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the money held in a low-risk, liquid account. This fund can help you avoid dipping into your long-term investments to pay for unexpected costs, such as a new furnace or a major car repair.

Control your debts. It's never easy, but do what you can to keep your debts under control. The less you have to spend on debt payments, the more you can invest for your future.

Don't overreact to changes in the financial markets. We've had a long run of rising stock prices - but it won't last forever. If we experience a sharp market downturn in 2018, don't overreact by taking a "time out" from investing. Market drops are a normal feature of the investment landscape, and you may ultimately gain an advantage by buying new shares when their prices are down.

Review your goals and risk tolerance. At least once in 2018, take some time to review your short- and long-term financial goals and try to determine, possibly with the help of a financial professional, if your investment portfolio is still appropriate for these goals. At the same time, you'll want to re-evaluate your risk tolerance to ensure you're not taking too much risk - or possibly too little risk - with your investments.

Do your best to stick with these resolutions throughout the coming year. At a minimum, they can help you improve your investment habits - and they may improve your financial picture far beyond 2018.

ANTIQUES, COLLECTIBLES & ESTATES

WAYNE TUISKULA

Some of these items were in my top 10 antiques and collectibles list in 2015. There are additional items in this article though.

Mid-century collectibles and furnishings continue to fetch strong prices at auction. Baby boomers who grew up in the 1940s through 1970s remember many of these collectibles from their youth. Younger collectors also appreciate the sleek lines and simplistic design of mid-century design.

Valuable collectibles for 2018

As we start a new year, I thought it might be a good time to take another look at which collectibles have been selling well and may continue to sell well during the new year.

There are many mid-century "baby boomer" collectibles that are selling well. We've auctioned comic books from the 1960s that have brought over $100 an issue. Older ones can bring even higher prices. A baseball card collection from the 1950s and '60s brought five figures at a recent auction. Older sports memorabilia remains popular too. We sold a baseball with a drawing by George Sossak that brought $3,500 at auction in 2017. One card of a star player in pristine condition can bring a figure in that range by itself. Toys remain popular. A toy robot from the 1960s brought a figure over $500 at one of our auctions a few years ago.

Bicycles are also popular with collectors. Early high wheeled and turn of the century bicycles can bring five figure sums at auction. Many more modern bicycles also realize strong auction prices. Schwinn Sting-Ray "Krate" bikes from the late 1960s and 1970s featured high handle bars and banana seats. Some of these bicycles can bring figures in the thousands. Benjamin Bowden designed the Spacelander bicycle in 1946. The futuristic bicycles were then produced in 1960. There are believed to be only 522 that were produced. They typically sell for five figure sums at auction.

Military items remain popular with collectors. There has always been considerable interest in Civil War memorabilia. I've also seen increased interest in World War II artifacts in recent years. For example, we sold a diary of a captured American soldier in a German prison. The diary contained information on daily life in the camp and drawings. It brought several hundred dollars at auction.

Coins remain a very popular collectible. Dollar coins, half dollars, quarters and dimes from 1964 and earlier are made with 90% silver. They are worth at least their weight in silver. Coins with rare dates can be worth much more than the silver value though. For example, we sold a silver dollar with a CC (Carson City, Nevada) mint mark that brought around $500 at auction in 2017. Many old gold coins are worth well over their scrap value as well.

Other collectibles continue to bring strong prices at auction. Old movie, travel, advertising, Rock and Roll, circus, sports and other posters are very desirable. The market is still great for old advertising signs and displays.

Historical memorabilia still commands strong prices at auction. In 2017, we auctioned some postcards written by Alexander Graham Bell to his attorney.

They rang up $1,000.

We continue to pick up some great items for our January 25th live auction. My Evaluating your Antiques class at Bay Path Evening School is scheduled for March 5. We are scheduling some estate sales for after the holidays. Keep checking www.centralmassauctions.com for details.

Tales from the top of the world

BY GUS STEEVES
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD - As writer and retired teacher Sarah Lamstein found out years ago, stories can connect people thousands of miles apart.

In the 1980s, Lamstein found the tale of The Princess Naulakha during her two visits to Nepal, and has since seen it all over the world, including here. When she summarized its plot - that of a poor girl mistreated by arrogant, rich step-sisters - to a group of kids Thursday at Oxford Library, it only took seconds for one of them to recognize it as the familiar story Cinderella.

When she asked her audience why it's such a common tale (with 500+ versions worldwide), one older girl surmised it could be that "our story was written in their language." While that could explain some of them, Lamstein herself noted it more likely reflects the fact people in those cultures all had similar experiences.

Making such connections between cultures fuels a lot of Lamstein's children's books and her own life. She said afterward she tries to make her characters non-mainstream, including a black teacher and others in "I like your Buttons!" a young black boy in "Big Night for Salamanders," and the various figures from Nepali folklore in From the Mango Tree. She co-wrote the latter with Nepali scholar Kavita Ram Shrestha, who recalled most of the tales being told around the nightly fires during his childhood.

Visiting Nepal, she said, "was just lovely," although since she was living with other expatriate Westerners, it was also "a very unreal situation" not much like how most Nepalis lived. "You'd look out your glamorous hotel window onto these lean-tos," she recalled.

Most people there, she said, were poor, but very tolerant with religion "everywhere." That religion is a mixture of faiths, with Buddhism and Hinduism interwoven, and temples of both kinds all over Kathmandu, where she mostly stayed. One of the more notable ones she had a photo of featured giant Buddha eyes looking out over the city from each of its four walls. The Hindu temples were also "amazing. Monkeys everywhere," she added, noting many temples are designed to look like the pine trees of the mountains.

When she was there, Lamstein said most of the people outside Kathmandu were farmers, often growing rice on terraces designed to trap the mountain runoff. In the older homes, it was common to have farm animals occupy the first floor, while the family lived above them. Since most people couldn't afford cars (the cities had bicycle rickshaws and motorbikes), they carried their stuff the traditional way - large loads on their backs balanced with a strap over their foreheads - while telling each other stories to pass the time.

"Composing songs and singing extemporaneous verses have long been a tradition among Nepalis in general," Mierow wrote. "Those who are work-secure Lacey in a chain-link fenced area when outdoors, muzzle her in there and whenever walking her, obtain at least $100,000 in insurance, and provide "information by which a dog may be identified," including microchip.

After some questioning, selectmen determined only one of Rutland's requirements had been met, although Berry's partner, Marlene Johnson, said he never received Rutland's hearing notice. She said they "did look into all of those things," but never implemented most because the landlord told them to get rid of the dog and they've been trying to find a home for Lacey with various friends and relatives. For some periods, they said, Lacey was in Connecticut, but Johnson noted she has been in Oxford since August. (Flynn said she'd visited their home "on numerous occasions," sometimes when they weren't there, and never saw or heard Lacey, although she did see Johnson's dog.)

Lacey has been in Oxford's pound since Dec. 2, after she was found roaming for several days. Under state law, violating Rutland's order means Berry forfeits ownership of Lacey to the town of Oxford, but Johnson agreed to continue working with Flynn to find a new home. Johnson said they've looked at a no-kill shelter in Maine if no other solution works.

Flynn noted state law doesn't allow Oxford to order them to take Lacey out of state, but they can do so voluntarily. That prompted Selectmen Cheryll Leblanc to observe transporting the dog will cost something, and she asked

Johnson and Berry "to help defray the cost as a good-will gesture to the town" and the victims Lacey bit. Johnson said they would, and are willing to pay a sum the victims proposed, although she didn't say how much it was.

In other business, selectmen also unanimously hired two men - Robert Amaral and Ryan Kasik - to be full-time police officers. Both had been named part-timers a few meetings ago, so the selectmen didn't conduct any significant interviews. Instead, they made reference to their earlier sessions and asked if either had anything to add, but neither did.

Chairman Dennis Lamarche said both were recommended by Police Chief Tony Saad as "doing well right now."

A third candidate, Chad Kasik, was passed over because "he has a little bit less training," Saad said. He's also a part-timer, but unlike the other two is now in the part-time academy, while his brother and Amaral have already completed it. Both of them will be sent to the next full-time academy that opens, which Saad wrote will be in Reading in June 2018.

Town Manager Brian Palaia noted the selectmen will have to start the process of hiring a new lieutenant to fill the job from which Chief Saad was promoted. In the interim, he recommended promoting a sergeant temporarily, while also seeking a new sergeant to fill the permanent role.

On a related issue, the selectmen praised police, fire, EMS and mutual aid crews for their efforts handling three recent fires, snowstorms, accidents and a carbon monoxide issue recently.

is to get the account back on par with other neighboring towns because the Chapter 90 money we receive really should be dedicated towards, for the most part, snow removal and road improvement projects. In the past, there's been a tradition to under fund this account because there was some provision where if we fund it at a certain level we're required at the next year to continue to fund it at that certain level. We've traditionally under funded the account and then granted permission to overspend and then almost adjust to the penny at the end of the year as opposed to being locked into certain amount each year," Ruda said. "It gives us flexibility. It's not the greatest practice, but it's been necessary based on past budgets."

This approach allows Dudley to spend what it needs to on winter weather preparation without investing a large some of dedicated funds that could be used elsewhere if winter costs prove to be less than expected. This spending item is the only item selectmen are authorized to allow for overspending above and beyond the budgeted total in the approved spending plan. Balukonis said that increased costs and other factors have made this approach effective in its own way.

"The cost of materials has gone up so much that before the plows even hit the road we've almost expended our budget in its entirety. The goal was to increase it $5,000 to $10,000 a year going forward until we've reached that sweet spot where our neighbors are," Balukonis said. "We have 90 miles of road and the amount of money we spend compared to neighboring communities is next to nothing."

According to Gion, Dudley has hauled in 723 tons of salt and 3,300 tons of sand to date for the current winter season, which he said is enough to sand the town 18 to 20 times. Gion clarified that this is specific covering of the road, not the number of snowstorms overall. According to Gion the six inches of snowfall Dudley had received prior to the Dec. 18 meeting alone required the highway department to sand the road twice and once the plows hit the roadway they had to sand again. "With that little storm most of the roads were sanded three or four times," Gion said meaning Dudley is working on a very limited amount of sand and salt with a long winter still to come.

A whopping 15 3-pointers made by Sutton in win over Bartlett

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER — The Bartlett High boys' varsity basketball team couldn't slow down Sutton High's hot 3-point shooting on Saturday, Dec. 30 in the consolation game of the Bartlett Holiday Hoops Tourney. The Sammies downed the Indians, 89-64.

From the opening tip-off, it was clear what Sutton's strength was, and that was shooting from distance. The Sammies started quick, hitting back-to-back 3's to give them an 8-2 lead right out of the gate. Not slowing down, Sutton hit four more treys in the first quarter, one being at the buzzer from half-court by senior captain Ashton Grenon, who paced the Sammies' offense with 22 points. Grenon hit six of his team's 15 made 3-pointers.

Trying to fight back into the game, it would've been easy for Bartlett to try and match Sutton from the 3-point line, but that wasn't the case. The Indians tried to push the ball inside in order to create opportunities at the free throw line and to create open shots. Pacing Bartlett's offense was senior captain Johnny Torres, who scored eight of his 14 points in the first quarter.

The Indians and Sammies went bucket for bucket in the second quarter to make the game interesting because Bartlett's offense showed some life. Going into halftime the Sammies were leading, 46-32, but each team scored 20 points in the frame.

Coming out of the half, Sutton opened the third quarter on 10-0 run to extend their lead, but the Indians never stopped competing. It was to no avail, though, as Bartlett couldn't match the Sammies' high-octane offense, which won second half scoring, 43-32, to win by 25 points.

The Indians were edged out by South High, 75-65, in overtime on Dec. 28 in the first round of the tournament to play Sutton, who lost to St. Peter-Marian.

Young, but more experienced Douglas edges Indians

WEBSTER — Douglas High's Triniti Sughrue picked a great time to score her only basket of the Tigers' 36-30 win over host Bartlett High on Friday, Dec. 29.

Sughrue, an eighth-grader, scored on a layup off a crisp pass from Alexa Gresian to give Douglas a 32-30 lead with 2:25 to play. Sughrue was fouled on the play and while she missed the free throw, Tigers' sophomore teammate Jen Walker (six points) scored five seconds later on a put-back after grabbing the rebound of Sughrue's miss to extend the Douglas lead to 34-30.

With five seconds to play sophomore Allie Benedict (six points) scored on a breakaway layup for the Tigers to account for the 36-30 final.

Douglas improved to 3-3 with the win while Bartlett fell to 1-5 with the loss.

The game was tight throughout with the lead changing hands in all four quarters. Bartlett led, 12-11, after the first quarter and 19-17 at halftime. The game was tied, 26-26, after three quarters.

Behind the shooting of senior Kyara Binienda, who poured in a game-high 17 points and hit a pair of 3-pointers, Bartlett tied the game, 30-30, with 4:19 to play on a baseline drive by Binienda. The Indians had a chance to take the lead on its next four possessions, but missed three shots and committed a turnover.

The two teams met in the season-opening game with Douglas winning, 40-22.

"We're a young team and we don't have tons of experience yet," Bartlett head coach Julie Silva said. "But, the more we're in these close games the easier it's going to be for us. We were able to pull the last one out, against Auburn, but unfortunately we weren't able to do it in this game. The more close games we have, the more we're forced to battle, the better off we're going to be, long term."

Silva said she was encouraged at how competitive the second game between the teams was given Douglas' margin of victory in the first game.

"It shows the growth that we've made so far this season," Silva said. "The season is so young. We have a lot of work to do, but we can explain the progress to the girls by telling them the first time against this team we lost by 20, this time it was a six-point game. The effort is there, we just got to get a 'W.'"

Also scoring for Bartlett was Alyssa Ward (four points), Brittany Ward (three), Allison Grzembki (two), Julia Podedworny (two) and Breanna Ward (two).

For Douglas, junior Melina Schilling — no relation to the former Red Sox pitcher Curt Schilling — led the way with 14 points, while classmate Devin Haire added four and Gresian, Katie Peloquin and the aforementioned Sughrue added two each.

"It was a tighter game this time, but to be honest we expected it would be," Douglas head coach Ralph Quinn said. "We knew they'd be better. We had them the first game of the year and I think we were more ready to go than they were."

The Tigers, who played for the Central Mass. Division 4 Championship the last two years — losing to Millis High both times — have no seniors and three eighth-graders on their 10-player roster.

"I thought we had an advantage in the first game because we had some girls who played roles for us last year that are on this team," Quinn said. "This is kind of what I expected. We're pretty evenly matched teams. They've got some good young players and so do we."

"I think the difference in the game is that we got some good play from a couple of young players," Quinn continued. "Katie Peloquin came off the bench and had a good game for us. She did some phenomenal defending; we were giving up some outside shots and she came in and shut them down. She competed; the girl was out there hitting shots and she went in there and completely shut her down in the second quarter and I brought her back in the fourth quarter and she did the same thing. And she grabbed some rebounds, too. We got a real positive contribution from her."

Quinn said he was also pleased with the play of Haire, who is a junior captain.

"Devin had a real good game. She had eight rebounds, which is a testament to what a competitor she is because she is undersized," Quinn said. "I have her defending up at a forward position and she is really a guard. She competes. I think she had a real nice game."

Inside-outside game helps Oxford roll to win over Panthers

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

SPENCER — Oxford High pulled away from David Prouty Regional in the second quarter and never looked back during their boys' varsity basketball contest on Tuesday, Dec. 19. Guard McAddai Owusu scored a game-high 22 points and center Klaytin Silva added an additional 20 to lead the Pirates — who used their inside-outside game to a T — to a convincing 70-44 win over the Panthers.

It looked like it was going to be a back-and-forth game throughout as Oxford and Prouty were matching buckets in the early going. The Pirates closed out the first quarter strong, using a 13-7 run to take a 15-13 lead heading into the second quarter.

From there, Oxford got scoring while their defense made it tough for the Panthers to find baskets. Owusu scored 8 points in the second quarter, pushing the pace of the offense and helping the Pirates open up their lead, 32-21, at halftime.

“Our guards are very fast, athletic and good at reading stuff,” explained Oxford head coach Anthony McDonald. “They’re very good instinctively and that was the difference, especially during the second quarter during that little spurt.”

The Pirates came out of the half on fire and with a burst of energy. They played aggressive on-ball defense that forced Prouty into countless turnovers, which resulted in extra possessions for Oxford. The Pirates opened up their lead by outscoring the Panthers in the quarter, 25-11.

“We have a lot of guards who have played for us the last couple years, Jared Perkins was a sophomore on the state finalist team so we have a lot of guys with experience now that know how to guard the ball and we want to put them in spots to make them the most successful,” expressed McDonald.

Aside from the guard play, senior big-man Silva had a great game to help lead the Pirates. Oxford forced the ball inside much of the game and other than their aggressive defense on the perimeter, scoring in the paint was another reason why they were able to pull away from the Panthers.

“Yeah, it is something that we have stressed at the beginning of the year,” stated McDonald. “The first two games of the year were a real tough test, but we do have two 6-foot-4 kids so we want to get looks in there with the flow of our offense, but we did make an emphasis coming into the game to get the ball inside.”

Silva scored 13 of his 20 points in the second half.

“This was his coming out game,” McDonald praised of Silva. “He had a really good summer and fall. It was just a couple tough matchups to start the year, but he played good against Leicester Friday and I thought he was going to have a big game tonight and he did.”

Shooters' hot start, Doherty's late presence enough for Marlborough to get past Rams MARLBOROUGH — Coming into their game with Marlborough High on Tuesday, Dec. 19, the Shepherd Hill Regional boys' varsity basketball team's plan was to limit the production of Panthers' senior Chris Doherty, a 6-foot-7 forward set to play his college ball at the University of Notre Dame.

And the Rams did just that in the first half of play, as Doherty scored just 7 points and came down with only 6 rebounds through the first 16 minutes.

But Marlborough still led at the half, 36-22, because their other contributors shot well from the outside. The Panthers collectively drained nine 3-pointers, five in the first half.

Doherty then came alive in the second half and finished with game-high totals of 20 points and 13 rebounds for a double-double performance. And the Panthers won the game, 78-52.

Defender Aiden Bishop of Shepherd Hill employs a full-court press on Marlborough's Michael Villodas.

"The energy definitely wasn't where we wanted it to be tonight, and that's our thing," explained first-year Shepherd Hill head coach Mike Byrnes. "We live and die off our energy."

When asked why the Rams may have lacked the energy that they desire, Byrnes said, "we didn't shoot the ball well tonight and we didn't execute well in the half-court."

Marlborough opened the game with a 5-0 lead and, with 6:45 to go in the opening quarter, Byrnes called a time out. Shepherd Hill then exhibited its best performance of the game during the coinciding stretch, going on a 14-9 run as the score was all tied up at 14-14 after the first quarter.

The Panthers won second quarter scoring, 22-8, with Stephen DiGregorio, Kevin Short (11 points) and Michael Villodas all hitting 3's, and Doherty showed what was in store in the second half with five seconds to go until halftime when he had a traditional three-point play off an inbounds pass.

"The game plan was to shut him down," Byrnes explained of Doherty. "We were playing a 2-1-2 zone trying to slow him down and it worked early on, but other guys from their team stepped up."

Byrnes credited the defense of David Bilis for slowing Doherty down in the first half.

Shepherd Hill's Cody Adams attempted to keep his team in the game in the third quarter when he drained a pair of 3-pointers to trim his team's deficit down to 40-28, but the Panthers embarked on a 23-6 run to close the third quarter with an insurmountable lead of 63-34.

The Rams then won fourth quarter scoring, 18-15, to account for the 78-52 final.

"We've got to get better, and it starts tomorrow," said Byrnes, as the Rams — now 2-2 — hope for a

Adams led Shepherd Hill with 17 points, while Kenny Flynn chipped in 16 points.

SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN — A fast start, which included four first period goals, was more than enough for the Auburn High boys' varsity ice hockey team in their dominating 8-3 win versus East Longmeadow High on Wednesday, Dec. 20 at the Horgan Rink.

"We came out with fire and that was the difference," explained head coach Glen Bombard. "We have been coming out pretty fast and tonight we talked about coming out and getting a jump so we can put this thing away in the first period and we pretty much did what we wanted to do in the offensive zone; we shut them right down and from there we put it out of reach early continuing our play in the second period."

The Rockets' co-op team — which also includes student-athletes from Shepherd Hill Regional, Tantasqua Regional and Millbury High — came out on fire and it didn't take long for their first goal to pierce the back of the net. Five minutes in, captain defenseman Cam Dungey ripped a shot from the blue line that was redirected by junior forward Drew Darger and into the back of the net for a quick 1-0 lead.

Out-hustling East Longmeadow and crashing the net was the story of success for Auburn and a point of emphasis coming into the contest.

"It is something we have

been practicing with these guys because the first couple of games we weren't going there hard enough and it showed," explained Bombard. "If we go to the net with our sticks down, we are going to slam them home and that is what we did, but it had been one of our major issues that we push."

The Rockets scored three more goals in the first period to give them a commanding lead going into the second period. Auburn was dominating, scoring another rebound goal by Kyle Spurr, a shorted-handed breakaway goal by junior forward Anthony List and with less than a minute left in the first period yet another rebound goal finished by Colin McKeon.

Continuing their dominance in the second period to really put the game out of reach, the Rockets scored three more times off the sticks of three more players.

"The more kids that score the more you have to worry about," stated Bombard. "All three lines are putting the puck in the net."

Junior center Caleb Mackin started the scoring in the second when he put home a rebound goal within the first minute of the period. Halfway through the period scrappy junior center Ryan Slade scored the first of his two goals on the night. To conclude another dominate period, sophomore Colin Lutz scored his first varsity goal when he ripped a slap shot from the blue line that snuck by the East Longmeadow goalie. Entering the third period with a commanding 7-0 lead, it was clear that the Rockets lost some of their urgency as they surrendered three East Longmeadow goals, but they did not do goalkeeper Mike Sosik any justice because he was nothing but amazing in net for Auburn in this contest, recording 29 saves.

"Mike, he works hard in practice," Bombard expressed. "It was his first game tonight and he did an excellent job. Unfortunately, we didn't play too much defense in that third period for him to help him out, but I thought he played phenomenal. We have a lot of trust in him when he is in net."

Candle Tips

Even with the popularity of flameless candles, nothing sets the holiday mood like the real deal. Conventional candles are a valuable decorating tool, and the fragrant luminaries are never more popular than during this time of year. Whether you use candles to create ambiance or to simply fill the air with a pleasant scent, the following tips will help you enjoy the magic of candles during the yuletide season and throughout the year.

Happy Holidays!

Did you know candles don't just cover up odors? They actually eliminate them by burning off the tiny odor particles that permeate the air!

Here's a trick from the swinging sixties: Before a dinner or party, light and then extinguish new candles as they will light more quickly and easily when you are ready to use them.

If you are grouping two or more candles together, be sure they are a few inches apart when burning. If candles are placed too close to one another, they can each create their own draft, causing the flames to flare.

Here's another excuse for burning candles: studies show candlelight induces quiet! Light a few after dinner to help the kids settle down.

Believe it or not, lighting a votive candle on the bathroom vanity prevents steam from fogging up your mirror when you get out of the shower. Try it, it works!

Here's another vintage tip from the cocktail party generation: Extend the life of wax candles by refrigerating them first. Chill candles in airtight plastic bags to prevent wicks from absorbing moisture.

Don't have a long match and need to light several candles? A piece of uncooked spaghetti will do the job!

The next time you light floating candles, place them in warm water instead of cold. This method extends the burn time of floaters.

It's important to trim candle wick to ¼" before burning wax candles. Doing so not only limits soot, but the short wick allows for proper heat of the wax for efficient burning.

Burning candles properly is essential for getting the most burn time and to provide even burning throughout the lifetime of the candle. For example, jar candles should be allowed to burn until the liquefied wax reaches the full diameter of the candle surface. When you blow out the candle too soon, you limit the wax pool to that diameter and shorten the life of the candle. This is important to prevent tunneling down the center of the candle. (As always, burn candles in appropriate vessel and on a safe surface).

If you are burning cone or bell topped candles, burn for about five to ten melt as they burn, the tighter the fit the longer the life of the candle.

Black soot on the glass of a burning votive means the wick is too long. Extinguish the candle, trim the wick and relight.

Always put out a flame when it burns to ½" of the bottom of the candle. I found out the hard way that even tempered glass can shatter and spill hot wax onto a surface if allowed to burn too low to the bottom!

Did you know many candles (even top shelf brands) can fade in color if displayed in windows or exposed to bright lights for an extended period of time?

Burning the candle at both ends
Burning lots of candles means plenty of leftover candle stubs. Before you toss the stubs out, check out these creative ideas to recycle and reuse them.

* Simply place a disk of scented candle wax in a drawer, gym bag or under the seat of your car for an easy instant freshener.

*Or use the leftover stubs as tart wax. Just pop the leftover wax out of the minutes the first time. Gradually increase the time with each subsequent burning until the candle is level, then burn as for pillars.

Votive candles should always be burned in a snug fitting, safe holder. Because the candles votive holder and place in a tart burner. Light a tea light candle underneath it and it releases a nice scent for many hours.

*Toss a few stubs in a jar to use in the workshop. The wax can help a stubborn drawer slide smoothly, protect a saw blade from rusting, and lubricate a squeaky door hinge.

*You can even make new candle medley by re-melting assorted stubs in a double boiler. Then pour into votive glass with a wick and cool. Freeze and tap out to use freestanding.

Farm Service Agency: a vital source of assistance to America's farmers

WASHINGTON DC — Through the work of dedicated staff in over 2,100 county and state offices, the U.S. Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency provides vital farm safety-net assistance to agricultural producers across America.

"We've seen recent challenges in farm income and commodity prices," said Dr. Robert Johansson, acting Deputy Under Secretary for the Farm Production and Conservation mission area. "The 'safety net' provided in the 2014 Farm Bill has helped producers withstand economic losses as well as losses resulting from natural disasters. Loans for operating expenses, farm purchases and other purposes help current producers stay in business and allow a new generation of farmers and ranchers get their start."

Agriculture demands working capital. According to Johansson, FSA provided credit, either directly or guaranteed through commercial lenders, to 120,000 family farmers across the country.

In fiscal year 2017, USDA Farm Loan programs pumped $6 billion in support to a diverse group of producers across America. That was the second highest total in FSA history. Over $2.5 billion of that total was direct and guaranteed operating loans, and another $3.5 billion was allocated for direct and guaranteed farm ownership loans. This additional financing enabled farmers and ranchers across the country to access capital to start their operations, or to expand their existing operations. The new lending continued the recent growth in FSA's farm loan portfolio.

FSA highlights from the year include:

Agriculture Risk Coverage and Price Loss Coverage and Conservation Reserve Program

USDA is issuing approximately $8 billion in payments under the ARC and PLC programs to agricultural producers who suffered market downturns in 2016.

In 2017, FSA distributed $1.6 billion in CRP payments to over 375,000 Americans for doing their part in improving water quality, reducing soil erosion and increasing wildlife habitat.

Disaster Assistance

In response to Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria, USDA announced special procedures to assist producers in states and territories who lost crops or livestock or had other damage to their farms or ranches. Also, because of the severe and widespread damage caused by the hurricanes, USDA provided flexibility to assist farm loan borrowers. FSA dispatched additional staff to the affected areas and, in response to a request for assistance, rolled out a special program providing vouchers to dairy herd owners in Puerto Rico who used the assistance to purchase feed.

USDA also provided extensive assistance for a variety of other disasters throughout the country, including drought in the northern high plains, wildfires in the west and central plains, floods, tornados, freezes and other storms. For example, in July, USDA authorized the use of additional CRP lands for emergency grazing and haying in and around portions of Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota affected by severe drought. USDA also added the ability for farmers and ranchers in those areas to hay and graze CRP wetland and buffer practices. This followed a previous action in April and June to assist the area and provided livestock producers with an additional feed source. In October, FSA teamed with other USDA agencies to provide assistance to wildfire-damaged areas of northern California, including loans and other disaster assistance programs.

New Farmers

In August, Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue signed a Memorandum of Understanding with officials from SCORE, the nation's largest volunteer network of expert business mentors, to support new and beginning farmers. The agreement provides new help and resources for beginning ranchers, veterans, women, socially disadvantaged Americans and others, providing new tools to help them both grow and thrive in agribusiness.

Johansson said these accomplishments are in line with Secretary Perdue's goals of maximizing the ability of the men and women of America's agriculture and agribusiness sector to create jobs, prioritizing customer service every day for American taxpayers and consumers and ensuring the food we produce meets the strict safety standards we've established while always remembering that America's agricultural bounty comes directly from the land.

To access programs, contact Dawn S. Pindell, Outreach Specialist for Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island USDA Farm Service Agency at the Connecticut State Office,
