Life through a camera lens

BY KAREN BUTERA
FOR THE VILLAGER

PUTNAM — Steampunk was the theme of the last First Fridays downtown street festival of the season on October 4. It was one last chance of the year to dress up for this themed event. “Steampunk is on the idea of Victorian- futuristic — steam engines and gears,” said Jen Brytowski of the Putnam Business Association.

One of the main parts of attire is the top hats. On these hats one would find clock wheels and chains, but one of the main items you would find on the hat are Steampunk Goggles.

Many of the same food vendors were there providing food and snacks for all. There were also a variety of craft vendors with their handmade soaps and lotions, candles, wooden products, art and photography. One of the photographers was Tara Scanlon, from North Grosvenordale, with a table displaying her photos for her business called “The Artsy Lens.”

Scanlon had a digital camera that she used to take photos of her children when they were younger. After going to Johnson and Wales College and taking Business Administration Courses she started to take photos and became hooked. She always wanted a good camera with a nice lens for close up. She purchased a Cannon Rebel and for her the rest was history. She has been involved in photography since 2016.

Along with her love of photography she had a love of hiking and merged the two. She enjoyed taking shots of nature and wild animals in the outdoors.

“I would spend about six hours a week hiking and taking photos while I hiked. I go to places to get a good shot that I probably shouldn’t,” Scanlon said.

She finds her hobby peaceful and views things differently from behind the lens of her camera.

Her daughter is also fond of photography, but she prefers taking photos of people and her friends, where Scanlon enjoys nature and still shots, both in color and black and white.

“I found out about the Quinebaug Valley Photography Club that meets twice a month from September through May,” said Scanlon. “I have only been twice but I enjoy it. You bring your photos there and they are critiqued by the members. They give pointers on helping

Farming in Pomfret

BY KAREN BUTERA
FOR THE VILLAGER

POMFRET — Tony and Willow Therrien of Pomfret are farmers in every sense of the word. It is in their blood — something they love doing. This husband and wife team both teach full-time. Tony teaches science in the Killingly School District and Willow works in the Brooklyn School District as a librarian.

Their farm, Maple Brook Farm, was originally in Chaplin when they started out growing vegetables, such as tomatoes and sweet corn, but after awhile they outgrew the farm size and purchased land in Pomfret where they were able to grow larger crops. A move to live in Pomfret and be closer to the land quickly followed.

Today their farm is a small family farm.

“We started to sell our produce because Tony would plant so many vegetables that we had an abundance of them. We felt that it was a good summer job and we wanted to involve the kids and teach them the value of work,” Willow said.

The kids are getting older now and two of them are involved in sports. As the years went by it became more difficult for the family to balance farm and family like. The kids still help out when they are able to and help with planting, mulching and picking. Once school starts Tony and Willow are doing double jobs with the harvesting, pickling and teaching positions. At times they have talked about giving it up but found

Position sought: Board of Finance
Town of: Woodstock
Background/Qualifications: Member of the Board of Finance for the last 5 years.

Previously served on the Planning and Zoning Commission for 7 years. Served as its vice-chairman for 6 years.

What makes you the best candidate for this position? Experience. As an active, involved member of the Board of Finance, during 5 budget cycles, working diligently in collaboration with the Board of Education, Board of Selectmen, and Town Treasurer, I examine all information prior to each meeting. I am always well prepared. I was selected, as statute requires, the responsibility for supervising the creation of meeting minutes and verifying they are submitted to the Town Clerks office in compliance with statute.

What differentiates you from your opponent(s)?

Community service experience I believe is valuable, and if the voters choose to re-elect me, I will continue to perform my duties with the same diligence and attention to detail I have demonstrated in the past. I don't consider other candidates to be opponents but rather citizens who wish to provide community service as do I. There are 2 BOF open positions and 3 good candidates. I look forward to being one of those elected.

What is your vision for the future?

My vision for the BOF is to work collaboratively to continue providing a stable and reasonable mill rate for the citizens of Woodstock, while responsibly providing the funding required for the essential services the townspeople have come to expect to provide the quality of life that makes Woodstock such a desirable place to live and raise a family.

Name: Anthony Gronski, Executive Director YMCA Camp Woodstock, 42 Camp Road, Woodstock Valley 06282
Position sought: Board of Ed.
Town: Woodstock

Background/Qualifications: Born and raised in Scranton Pennsylvania. Spent 8 years in the Army went and to college on the GI Bill. I graduated from Penn State University. I served as an Infantry Officer in Iraq in 2004 and when I finished my military commitment moved my family to the Quiet Corner to raise our three daughters. My wife Melany and I have lived in several different states. our three daughters, Madeline, Grace and Sophie were all born in different states but all went through the Woodstock school system. We know the importance of a great town and a great education. I believe it takes collaborations and partnerships to make a town great and a school great. We need to collaborate with local businesses and community leaders to help enhance our school and our kids educational experience. Woodstock has a lot of talented people who are passionate to help our kids and this community. I would like to bridge those community resources to the school and its staff. Together we can provide the teachers what they need in the classroom to help each student build the skills needed to be successful in a world market.

My vision is for each resident to ask themselves, "What have I done to make this school great?" "What have I done to support the people that work inside that school?" And the residences of Woodstock to be a resource for those teachers and the administration so every kid has the opportunity to be the best version of themselves. By providing leadership, positive mentors, learning opportunities, donations and values

2019 CANDIDATES QUESTIONNAIRE

Name: Scott Pempek
Position sought: Selectman
Town of: Putnam
Background/ Qualifications: Life Long Resident of East Putnam, Married to Cheryl with 2 daughters, Kristen and Rebecca. Current Putnam Selectman 3rd term, 1982 Graduate of Putnam High, B.S. in Management, Bryant University and a M.B.A, Nichols College. Just retired from a 25 year career as a Senior District Sales Manager with American Honda Motor Co I recently joined Berkshire Hathaway as a real estate sales agent.

• What makes you the best candidate for this position? I am a Three Term Selectman, having served both as a majority and minority selectman, I can see both sides and understand where the other side is coming from and why. I have a proven track record of deciding issues based on what I feel is the best solution for Putnam and not what my party necessarily wants. I also think my formal education is a huge asset to the town. An example would be my ability to amortize bonds and borrowing costs. This is a huge help when projecting the impact projects will have on our mill rate.

• What differentiates you from your opponent(s)? I put the people of Putnam 1st over party politics, I'm running as a Democrat, but many of my past votes have been with the Republicans.

My philosophy of public service has always been to chose the best ideas from both sides and formulate policy that benefits all the people, not just a few. I also have the unique perspective of having served on the Board of Education for 8 years prior to becoming a Selectman. I know what the Board of Education needs and wants and am able to work well with them to develop a budget that meets the needs of the students while not putting a burden on the taxpayers.

• What is your vision for the future? Construction of the Town Hall Library complex, development of athletic fields off Sabin St. Grown our grand list thru the sale of industrial lots in the Tech park and attraction of business to complement our diverse and growing down town area. Be able to help offset the debt service on the Town Hall Library complex by the growth in the grand list. Fix the infrastructure of Putnam, roads, bridges and sidewalks.

Name: Erika Smith, Ph.d.
Position sought: Board of Education (Full Member)
Town of: Woodstock
Background/ Qualifications: Dr. Smith is an Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Business, and Chair of the Civic Leadership and Politics program at Nichols College. She currently serves on the Woodstock Recreation Commission and has two daughters attending Woodstock Elementary School.

What makes you the best candidate for this position? Dr. Smith has over ten years of experience in higher education, including state universities, private colleges, community colleges, and online adult learning. In addition to teaching, Dr. Smith has experience working for both Republicans and Democrats in the Office of the Governor of Illinois (Boards and Commissions) and Executive Office of the President in the White House (Office of Correspondence). Her university work includes the fields of assessment, accreditation, and adaptive learning (UDL).

What differentiates you from your opponent(s)? I feel honored to be among a slate of talented candidates and believe that both of my Democratic colleagues are equally qualified to represent the interests of our community.

What is your vision for the future? I believe that our community schools should be based on a set of partnerships between the school and other community resources. We should continue to foster an integrated focus on academics, health and social services, youth and community development, and civic engagement, knowing that this will lead to improved student learning outcomes, stronger families, and a healthy community.

Area EMS personnel honored

BY RON CODERRE
FOR THE VILLAGER

PUTNAM — In a scene reminiscent of a Norman Rockwell Saturday Evening Post magazine cover, the East Putnam Fire Department hosted a family style picnic for the Northeastern Connecticut EMS community on Sunday, Oct. 6.

More than 200 first responders and their families, representing a dozen first-responder services, were in attendance. Fire, police and ambulance services from Putnam, Woodstock, Thompson, Danielson and West Gloucester, R.I., had vehicles manned with personnel on hand for the event. The day featured hamburgers, hot dogs and all the trimmings prepared and served by members of the Gilman and Valade Funeral Homes and Crematory staff, as well as a variety of games and entertainment.

"It's an honor to host today's event. We thank Bob Fournier and his staff for this great idea. First responders don't usually receive this type of recognition," said East Putnam Deputy Fire Chief Rene Bates.

The program opened with a moment of silence in memory of fallen firefighters, police officers and medical personnel who have given their lives in the line of duty. Putnam resident Linda Colangelo presented the National Anthem, followed by the presentation of a monetary gift by Fournier to the East Putnam Fire Department.

"We're most appreciative of the support of Mr. Fournier. Our department is in the process of raising funds to replace our current Scott Air Packs. His gift will go a long way in moving this purchase along," said Deputy Chief Bates.

"If this small token of our appreciation helps to save one life, this gift will be well worth the effort put on today by everyone involved," said Fournier.

Among the festivities, participants and especial the youngsters on hand enjoyed corn hole games, two bounce lands and photo touch-a-truck opportunities. The Northeast District Department of Health was on hand offering flu shots to attendees. Prior to the start of the program, everyone in attendance witnessed the hanging of a giant American flag hung by the ladder companies from the Putnam and West Gloucester Fire Department. Tyler Lussier of West Gloucester and Joe Donovan of Putnam had the honor of draping 'Old Glory' from 75 feet atop their respective ladders.

"I've been a fireman for 40 years and have been atop the ladder fighting fires and cutting into roofs but hanging the flag is always a special honor," said Lt. Donovan.

Earnie Greenwood, a Funeral Director with Gilman and Valade proposed the idea and saw the entire day through to the very last detail.

"This day was exactly how I envisioned it originally. It's all about families getting together and for the men and women of the departments to enjoy the camaraderie of each other's company. Seeing the stress free faces of first responders and the smiles on the faces of the youngsters says it all," said Greenwood.

Five-year-old Ryan Bates, who attends Putnam Elementary School, was on hand attired in his fireman's suit complete with helmet and simulated air pack on his back.

"When I get big I want to be a fireman because I want to put out fires and help people in danger," Bates said.

The culminating event of the day was a fly-in by Hartford Health Care Life Star helicopter. Based out of Backus Hospital in Norwich, the helicopter landed on the front grassy area of the East Putnam Fire Department in the presence of the more than 200 spectators. The Helicopter was manned by pilot Sean Rorke, who has more than 15 years of experience flying the emergency air ambulance. He was accompanied by nurse/paramedic Eric Tuvell, respiratory therapist/paramedic Kyle Irczyk and Dr. Eric Kroff, who was enjoying his initial flight in the whirlybird.

A panel of judges, Putnam Mayor Norman "Barney" Seney, and State Representatives Rick L. Hayes and Ann Dauphinais, selected five winners among the variety of emergency vehicles on hand. The prize for the vehicle that traveled the furthest went to the Montville/Mohegan Fire Department. The Putnam Fire Department received the award for the Most Unique apparatus; Best-in-Show Antique Award went to the East Putnam 1988 Service Truck, which is owned by John Williams; and the Best-in-Show Modern and Judges' Choice went to East Putnam Engine #479.

The People's Choice Award was also captured by East Putnam Engine #479. In a gesture of gratitude and appreciation Deputy Chief Bates presented the award to Montville/Mohegan Fire Department.

"The sharing of the People's Choice Award is another demonstration of the unity that is enjoyed by all first responders. The people of our communities can't say thank you often enough for the dedication of the volunteers of these departments," said Putnam Mayor Barney Seney prior to the conclusion of the day.

"I just love to see events like we've witnessed today. So often we allow the little thing in life get in our way and we don't take the opportunity to get together and enjoy each other's company. I'd love to see this event happen every year," said East Putnam firefighter Aaron Archambault.

The event was sponsored by the Gilman and Valade Funeral Homes and Crematory in honor of its 100th Anniversary celebration.

"We're honored to collaborate with the East Putnam Fire Department. This is our way to say thank you for the work of area Emergency Medical Services as part of our Centennial celebration. The work of these men and women often goes unrecognized. They are the everyday heroes of our communities," said Bob Fournier, owner of Gilman and Valade.

Nicole Bennett

DAYVILLE — Nicole Bennett of Canterbury has been selected as September's Employee of the Month at Westview Health Care Center. She serves as a third-shift Certified Nursing Assistant at this skilled care facility, so she is tasked with filling the overnight needs of a medically necessitating population.

Educated locally at the Woodstock Academy, Bennett went on to graduate from the CNA program at Quinebaug Valley Community College. She was hired in July of 2017 and has taken every opportunity to contribute to the health and wellbeing of her patients as well as her colleagues. As the midnight hour nears, she is just beginning her vigilant duties to caring for the Westview populace.

"I have been at Westview for two years now and it has been a great experience. I am very grateful to receive Employee of the Month, and appreciate working with such wonderful people. Westview is a great facility, and I'm proud to be a part of the team," Bennett said.

During recreational and relaxing moments Bennett appreciates the warmth of friends and family. Whenever possible, she looks forward to connecting with her mother and father, Lori and David, and her brother Jacob.

"Our greatest responsibility is to provide the best of care to our residents on a 24-hour basis and our health care professionals working on third shift are simply amazing. Outstanding people like Nicole keep a careful watch over those entrusted to our care and the ultimate beneficiaries of our efforts, our residents. Congratulations to Bennetton being named Employee of the Month," said Westview Administrator David T. Panteleakos.

they have never been able to go through with it.

They spend a lot of time pickling many of their vegetables. Tony does the cooking and has been following the same recipes that they came up with when they started.

"Return customers know what they will get year after year. Tony's Dill Pickle recipe is very popular. He cooks and I can the product," said

Willow. "It is a full time summer job."

Tony also raises bees and produces honey.

"Raising bees takes time and money. We always worry that they won't survive the winter," said Willow. "As a science teacher he likes bees. He started about five years ago. They are amazing and fascinating creatures. We currently have eight hives."

Another thing that they like to do on the farm is tap their maple trees for maple syrup.

"We have a small maple sugar bush. We get about ten gallons of syrup per year that we separate into jars," said Willow.

Along with a seasonal stand at their farm, the only other place where they sell their products is at the Putnam Farmers Market on Saturday mornings. If the love they have for farming continues, you will probably find them at the Farmers Market again next year.

Thompson's Kenney Store and Post Office exhibit opens

THOMPSON — The M&J Kenney General Store and the Mechanicsville Post Office have been a part of the Thompson landscape for more than a century. The store was among the most familiar in town, supporting the families of those who worked at the Mechanicsville Mill, located in Mechanicsville.

The store was opened in 1898 by Irish Immigrant James Kenney (b.1874), from Country Westmeath, Ireland. James opened the store when he was a young man. He was soon joined by his brother Michael, and the store was named the M&J Kenney Store. The store and small Post Office, placed in the store by the U.S. Postal Service in the early years, eventually came under the operation of Michael's son Harold and his wife Anne. Harold died in 1958 and the store's business began to rapidly decline shortly thereafter, mostly due to the introduction of the supermarkets.

Anne incredibly kept the store open to service the local village folk until she was forced to close the business in 1974. Because of Anne's advanced age, the post office remained open, but its operation was turned over to several temporary postmasters until it was finally closed in 1984. Anne passed away in 1987 and the store, and all its memories, were passed on to her son Jay Kenney. Jay's dream was to keep the store in its original shape, a dream he worked at for many years. After Jay recently passed, the store was then passed to sister Glennyce.

Glennyce Kenney began discussions with the Thompson Historical Society in 2018, and through those discussions, it was decided the ideal way to preserve both the family's history, and the general store and Post Office, was to dismantle both and reassemble them at the 1909 Tourtellotte Memorial High School Historical Learning Center, located in North Grosvenordale.

"This is a significant part of our history that will now be preserved and become part of our schools' history curriculum," said Joe Iamartino, President of the Thompson Historical Society.

The first showing of the exhibit was held on Oct. 5, during Thompson's Community Day. The Thompson Historical Society said that it is planning a formal opening in mid-December.

October birthdays

As a country, we may not agree on much, but as New Englanders, we can agree that October is a wonderful month. The heat of summer is just a memory and the blizzards of January are too far off to matter. Some of us like to consume anything that includes the flavor of pumpkin. Some of us celebrate a birthday in October and that is what holds the most import for me.

It seems that there are more people are born in October than any other month. Over the years I've gone to big parties that celebrated October birthday people. I don't recall being invited to fete let's say for July celebrants. As Libras, our symbol is the scales, perhaps of Justice, and in the years when I faithfully read my horoscope, the predictions are pleasant. Best of all, my older brother celebrates his birthday one day after mine. For him this is a big birthday year. We will be celebrating together.

NANCY WEISS

There are more birthdays behind me than ahead. A friend told me that she was shocked one morning when the drive through coffee place automatically gave her a Senior discount on her order. She was not pleased. I've long since accepted that I look my age and while a contrary side of my nature sometimes think that older people should pay more because we've been given so much, I am grateful for the little gestures and discounts. I don't turn them down.

As a child I had big birthday parties. They weren't on the scale of those my grandchildren attend with bounce houses and kid gyms, but they were special to me and often did include a pony. My mother insisted that I invite every child in my class. Occasionally I find a photo from one of the parties and peer into the faces of those long-ago children. In my little elementary school class, more than half are gone. If I try hard I can remember all their names and feel pretty good that once we all had fun together.

My parents didn't live to be as old as I am now. Sometimes I feel a flush of panic in not being able to clearly remember them. My brother, who plays excellent golf in his mid-80's, is my example of how to stay healthy and fit. Health is the great divide at this point in my life and certainly going forward.

We traveled this fall and in our group there were two people, traveling alone in their 80's. One, a retired pediatrician, developed a detached retina and was sent to Palermo to have an operation. She spoke no Italian and stayed for days in a hospital. Better to travel abroad now and at home later. That's the lesson I learned.

I live in the same small town where I grew up. When I drive by a house or a farm I remember the old people who lived there. At parties, my husband and I are among the elders. How odd, I think, as we were always among the youngest in the community, our careers and in our families. Sometimes when I have a thought or puzzle over a piece of local history, I realize that the key person who would have set me straight or enjoyed reminiscing is gone. At least there is no one to contradict me, I murmur.

I'm grateful for another birthday, especially one spent with my brother. As we chalk up the years, gratitude, a sense of humor and perhaps a newly acquired taste for pumpkin give an October birthday some balance and optimism.

Reading the morning newspaper is the realist's morning prayer.

Mastri supports Farrow

As someone who has had the pleasure to work alongside Mr. Doug Farrow as fellow teacher for three years, I wanted to write in and give my perspective. Frankly speaking, one could not hope to have a more affable, professional, and caring educator on the Board of Education than Doug. He mentored me at length and always modeled best practices in working with special needs students. No matter how busy he was, between teaching and coaching, he always had time for his kids who wanted some extra attention and life advice. He was also always positive and approachable to his colleagues, always ready with a good joke and valuable insight and advice that we all respected and appreciated.

Brotbeck supports Shields

I am writing today to endorse Mrs. Shields as my candidate for the Thompson Board of Finance. I have known her for eight years and I can say that she is smart, well-schooled, hard-working, and honest. Her knowledge of town government, building costs and codes, and client relations makes her ideal for this board. Mrs. Shields grew up in a business environment. Her grandfather started his company, Frank J. Shields, Inc. in 1935. Nancy worked for her father until the early 1990's, managing every aspect of the heavy construction business. Mrs. Shields was born in Providence and went to St. Louis School in Webster and Marianhill C.C.H.S. in Southbridge. She is a graduate of the University of Rhode Island and

I am writing in support of Ken Beausoleil as he seeks re-election as First Selectman for the Town of Thompson. I have known Ken for a good many years and have always admired his straight forward, no-nonsense approach to any situation. He has a calm, relaxed demeanor, which in some cases helps to defuse a potential volatile situation. He has the uncanny ability to not take things personally – yet remains steadfast in his dedication to the citizens of Thompson. Ken is a full-time Selectman who can be found attend-

Danburg supports Ferron

At the September Killingly BOE meeting, Norm Ferron was rejected by Democrat Board of Education (BOE) members to replace Republican Diane Summa on our BOE. It's a sad day when a traditional routine BOE replacement vote becomes a partisan issue and is used to disparage a citizen volunteering to serve our town.

Norm Ferron is a good man. He is a small business owner, a mold making company located in our industrial park, a father, and grandfather, a veteran that has lived in Killingly over 30 years whose children went to Killingly public schools, as will his grandchildren.

The only apparent reason for his rejection, Norm opposed eliminating the Redmen legacy. He dared to disagree with the Democrats on the BOE, and as a result they disqualified him to serve on our town's BOE. This is not right.

At the meeting, BOE member Hoween Flexer's questioning of Norm was disrespectful and combative. She treated him like a child and a hostile witness and not a citizen willing to serve our community. Why? She should be embarrassed by her performance.

Norm Ferron is a good man and I encourage all to vote for Norm this November.

Durst urges voter turnout

On November 5, Tuesday, voters in Woodstock will vote for municipal positions, including for our Board of Finance. The candidates Dave Fortin, Mike Bernardi, Michele Woz and Barry Shead have the experience and fiscal acumen to handle the issues thrown our way by Hartford, to look ahead and plan a sound, responsible fiscal approach to Woodstock's needs, and to work collaboratively with our Education system to maintain the excellence we are so proud of.

In fact, Fortin, manager in high-tech manufacturing and Bernardi, manager in personal services field, have broad experience in handling major matters that arise, while Woz and Shead are employed in the financial services field—all directly applicable to service on the BOF.

Bernardi (BOF incumbent since 2017) and Fortin (BOF incumbent for 5 years) have contributed to Woodstock's outstanding financial condition. Michele Woz, the only female candidate, and Bernardi have served on the Board of Education, and bring with them

His perspective on education, especially in this community, is one that's been tempered with years of experience, and that's something that, I'd think, would be absolutely beneficial to the Board. What's more, he regularly managed to weave themes of civic responsibility and empowerment into lessons, which "clicked" with learners from a variety of levels. Indeed, having a voice like Doug's on the Board of Ed is tremendously valuable and appreciated, as those who've had the opportunity to work alongside him know very well.

the Stockbridge School. She has been a homeowner in Thompson since 1987 and is currently employed by the Town of Charlton in their Building and Inspectional Services Office. Her background, skill set, common-sense attitude, and encyclopedic knowledge of costs make her ideal for this board. When asked about the election, she had this to say, "If elected, I will show up and do the job to the best of my ability with transparency, fairness, and compassion. I was asked to run for this board because I have time and energy to give to the Town of Thompson. I want to see a vibrant Thompson thrive."

ing Board and Committee meetings – and is highly visible out in the community – even plowing when needed! There have been improvements to many town roads, filling of pot holes, mowing along the edge of roads, repairs to drains, and having trees trimmed back. Let's continue the good work that has been done under Ken's leadership by keeping him in office for another term.

For Hoween to disparage this man is not right. I'm quite sure Norm will treat all citizens with respect, unlike Hoween.

And to be clear, Hoween and the Democrats believe eliminating the Redmen legacy is just one step in moving the town of Killingly forward from our racist past. Once they have total BOE control, they will be able to eliminate all of Killingly's racist heritage. This is complete nonsense.

I encourage all my friends to vote for Norm Ferron for BOE this November.

I recommend voting all Republican if you want to stop the toxic political correctness that has overtaken our BOE. If Democrats control our BOE, our town and our children will suffer, and more Leftist ideology will be forced on we the people at the town level. Hoween Flexer will be our BOE chair. Sheesh.

When our town is promoting Drag Queen transgender story hour at our local library for kindergarten and grade school children, this will be on you, the citizens of Killingly who vote for Democrats who believe such nonsense is a public service.

to the BOF a direct, solid understanding of matters related to our school system. Fortin brings 7 years previous experience on the Planning and Zoning Commission, where attention to detail and to precise language of Connecticut Statutes and to regulations became ingrained. You will see Barry Shead's name in several volunteer positions including the United Way. Each of the four participates in the community in various capacities, giving them a broad perspective and community awareness.

The ballot is set up, in part, with "vote for 2 of 3 of the BOF candidates" so when you see this, Woodstock voters, look carefully for these four names, on the second line, and re-elect Fortin and Bernardi and elect Woz and Shead. Help assure that Woodstock will continue to have highly-qualified, careful, responsible members on the BOF.

Strategic investment planning

FINANCIAL FOCUS
 JIM ZAHANSKY
 INVESTMENT ADVISER

As we continue discussing Financial Planning Month and the factors of the strategic planning process – knowing your financial life goals, risk tolerance, and time horizon – this week we will illustrate diversification and asset allocation. When investing, particularly for long-term life goals, you will likely hear about these two concepts over and over again. Diversification helps limit exposure to loss in any one investment, while asset allocation provides a blueprint to help guide your advisor make strategic investment decisions that align to your financial life goals. At Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors, we develop a unique investment strategy tailored to your specific long-term goals, risk assessment, and time horizon.

Diversification: Spreading out risk: Diversification refers to the process of aligning your investments in a number of different securities to help manage risk. The theory is that if some investments in your portfolio decline in value, others may rise or hold steady.

For example, say you wanted to invest in stocks. Rather than investing in just domestic stocks, you could diversify your portfolio by investing in foreign stocks as well. Or you could choose to include the stocks of different size companies.

If your primary objective is to invest in bonds for income, you could choose both government and corporate bonds to potentially take advantage of their different risk/return profiles. You might also choose bonds of different maturities, because long-term bonds tend to react more dramatically to changes in interest rates than short-term bonds. As interest rates rise, bond prices typically fall.

Asset allocation: Investing strategically: Asset allocation is a strategic approach to diversifying your portfolio among different asset classes that seeks to pursue the highest potential return within a certain level of risk. After carefully considering your financial goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance, you would then invest different percentages of your portfolio in targeted asset classes to pursue your financial life goals. A careful analysis of these three personal factors can help you make strategic choices that are tailored to your needs.

Generally speaking, a large accumulation goal, a high tolerance for risk, and a long time horizon would typically translate into a more aggressive strategy, and therefore a higher allocation to stock/growth investments.

The opposite is also true: A small accumulation goal (or one geared more toward generating income), a low tolerance for risk, and a shorter time horizon might require a more conservative approach.

Rebalance to stay on target: Over time, asset allocation can shift simply due to changing market performance. For example, in years when the stock market performs particularly well, a portfolio may become over-weighted in stocks. Or in years when bonds outperform, they may end up comprising a larger-than-desired percentage of the portfolio. In these situations, a little rebalancing may be in order.

There are two ways to rebalance. The first is by simply selling securities in the over-weighted asset class and directing the proceeds into the underweighted ones. The second method is by directing new investments into the underweighted asset class until the desired allocation is achieved. Working with a financial planner from Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors can help to

Thanks to PAWS shelter

My son recently expressed his desire to have a pet...a cat. As a child and later raising a family, I had many pets...dogs, cats, birds, gerbils, a turtle and even a ferret. For many years now, we have not had pets. In fact, sharing a cute puppy video a few years ago elicited a shocked response from my grandson..."Grammi! I thought you didn't like animals!" I explained that I did and had many over the years, but just didn't want the care and responsibility at that point in time.

After serious consideration, our family decided to investigate the possibility of adopting a cat and visited the Paws Cat Shelter in Woodstock. Seeing these sweet felines really melted my heart. Talking with the volunteers about their various needs and personalities was quite the experience. They were knowledgeable about each cat's disposition and sensitive to what kind of demeanor we were looking for. So happy to say that we found and adopted what seems to be a very good match.

LaChance supports Beausoleil

The Town of Thompson is fortunate to have a First Selectman who is dedicated to the successful movement of the town into the future. Ken Beausoleil has proved his value, with an open door policy, and his availability to all. As Chairperson of the Library Bd. of Trustees, I am pleased with his care of the Library Community Center. Ken's quick response to the care of a 25-year-old structure is amazing. Recently, Ken's opponent moved to cut the Library's budget by $20,000. Her motivation was "I never use the Library."

Ken was instrumental for returning the money to the budget. When running for First Selectman it is important to care for all the needs of the town's residence.

In my opinion, Ken is doing just that. He has proved his worth and then some. I urge the $6,200 Library card-holding patrons to vote for Ken Beausoleil. I also urge all my fellow Sr. Citizens to vote for a man who has our best in mind. Vote for a proven leader.

Putnam landfill is bad idea

Regarding Putnam's proposed ash landfill expansion, here are a few facts about what happens when trash is incinerated: (With thanks to Michael Ewall, Esq., Energy Justice Network) Toxic trash materials already present in products such as toxic metals in inks or electronics are immediately freed and released in a form (toxic ash) that is more available and easier to enter our water supply and the air we breathe. In other words, burning trash might look like it is reducing the trash, but in reality it's increasing its toxicity. I urge Putnam to seriously investigate the real dangers to our public health that will be magnified by expanding the ash landfill. Also keep in mind that town elections are coming up November 5th.

ELECTION LETTERS POLICY

Editor's Note: With an election season upon us, the Villager's guidelines for submitting election-related letters and guest columns.

It's election season. Candidates in our communities are gearing up for Nov. 5, and just as they are hoping for a good voter turnout, Villager Newspapers wants to hear from you. Who do you support in your town's upcoming election? Why? What issue is most important to you?

Our Election Letters and Guest Column policy is as follows:

During the election season no letters or Guest Columns will be printed from any office holder or candidate, candidates have an opportunity to share their views by requesting a questionnaire from the Villager, which they can fill out and return for publication. All letters must be sent from the sender's e-mail — no batches of letters or multiple letters can be sent from one e-mail address.

All endorsement/election-related letters must be received in a timely enough fashion to allow for publication up until one week before your town's election. While space dictates how many letters are published in each issue, prompt submission will increase the likelihood of inclusion. In other words, writers are advised not to wait until two weeks before an election to submit a letter.

All letters must be free of personal attacks and libelous remarks. Letter writers are encouraged to remain focused on endorsing a candidate, and to refrain from commenting negatively about opponents. Failure to follow that guideline will result in the rejection of a letter to the editor. For election-related letters there is a 300-word limit, and all submissions will be published as space is available.

The editor reserves the right to edit any and all submissions at his discretion. When possible, attempts will be made to allow the letter writer to rewrite, but the final decision rests with the editor. No "Guest columns" will be accepted as candidate endorsements. No letters from politicians endorsing fellow politicians.

The last edition including political letters will be the Friday, Nov. 1 Villager. Letters must be received by the editor no later than noon on Tuesdays. All letters must be signed, with a place of residence and phone number supplied for verification. Failure to include any of that information will result in your letter not being published.

The editor reserves the right to refuse a submission if it does not meet any of the aforementioned guidelines for publication. The editor may otherwise edit or reject a letter at his discretion. There are a lot of important issues facing every town this year and you deserve a say in them. You'll get one chance at the polls on Election Day. You have another chance on our Op/Ed pages.

Louis Comfort Tiffany's Killingly roots

AT 300

First, thank you to everyone who attended the October 5th Walktober walk on Putnam Heights/Killingly Hill. Hopefully you came away with a better feel for that area which was a focal point of Killingly during the Colonial era. Special thanks to the other walk leaders Louise Cutler Pempek, Bill Pearsall, and Marcy Dawley.

For me last weekend was packed with history since the following day I went to Lyman Allyn Museum in New London for a presentation by Louis Comfort Tiffany's great-grandson Michael J. Burlingham entitled Louis Comfort Tiffany: A Personal Portrait. I was eager to attend his lecture since in the early 1990's, when Walktober was in its infancy as Walking Weekend, he had come to Killingly/Brooklyn and had helped the late Linda Walden and I with two Tiffany walks. Michael showed photos and spoke of his early ancestor Comfort Tiffany who arrived in Killingly ca 1809 and was one of the original investors in the Danielson Cotton Company (located on the Five Mile River somewhere near the river trail parking is on Water Street). Exactly where Comfort's house was located is unknown (perhaps present-day Maple Street), but he was living on the Killingly side of the river when the 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Not many years after his arrival in town, his noted son, the New York jeweler, Charles L.

Tiffany was born. Michael noted that Comfort not only ran the company store, but he also purchased a farm. A frugal man, by 1827 he had acquired sufficient funds for his own cotton mill, which he erected on the Brooklyn side of the Quinebaug River. It eventually became part of the Quinebaug Mill complex (the Quebec Square area of Brooklyn). Comfort soon transferred his residence to the Brooklyn side of the river. The house, which he erected was later moved and is still standing in a different location. Michael is hoping that someone has an ancient piece of fabric tucked in an attic, with "C. Tiffany & Son" on the selvage edge. If so, please contact me.

As a teenager Charles Tiffany worked in his father's company store and so became adept at keeping the books; he even kept track of the mill finances for his father. In addition, he became comfortable with traveling to purchase goods in far away cities like New York. His long-time Killingly friend John B. Young, son of mill-owner Judge Ebenezer Young, had gone to New York City and worked in a stationery store. "Charles had often visited the city on business and was drawn to its vitality. He discussed with John the possibility of combining his experience at the store and mill with John's knowledge of dry goods. They agreed that the range of merchandise in dry goods would give them latitude to establish a market" (The Last Tiffany, p.12). In 1837 Charles Tiffany decided to leave Killingly and throw in his fortunes with John Young. Comfort Tiffany gave the young men a loan of $500 each as seed money, and the firm Tiffany & Young opened for business at 259 Broadway on September 18, 1837. In 1841 Charles married

Harriet Young of Killingly, his partner's sister, and they had six children including noted glass-maker Louis Comfort Tiffany.

I cannot begin to summarize the entire lecture. Burlingham has written about the family, with a focus on his grandmother Dorothy, daughter of L. C. Tiffany in The Last Tiffany: A Biography of Dorothy Tiffany Burlingham (titled Behind Glass in paperback). The book contains photos of the family and the home in Northeastern Connecticut in addition to wonderful stories about the family. If you are fascinated by the Tiffany family and its connection to this area, it's well worth reading.

I thought I'd again take a look back to see what was happening in Northeastern Connecticut in October past. Although the United States went through an era of prohibition in the 1900's, there were years in the previous century when sale of intoxicating beverages was cause for arrest. I must admit that I have yet to understand the intricacies of who was permitted to sell liquor and who was not. "Last Thursday evening Officer Sayles searched the Hutchins hotel and found several kegs of beer, whiskey, ale, etc. The amount of stock on hand was so large that the bar keeper owned up that it was too big for him to get out of the way in time to escape the officer's search" (Windham County Transcript 10/4/1893). The October 18, 1893 edition contained the following: "The Town of Killingly will obtain some five thousand dollars from the rum sellers this year, and will need all of it, and probably more, to help the families of poor, deluded men who waste their hard-earned wages for 'the devil's water'".

The next extract made me realize that some rum sellers did have licenses. "A woman of Principle. Madame Cyr was offered $900 rent for a corner store to sell liquor in her new block and she replied she would not take $900 or $1900 for such a purpose. Mrs. Cyr has seen too much of this rum business to lower herself to any such low methods of obtaining money. She and her customers have been subjected to insults by such a nuisance rented in the basement under her present store in Evans block. We have been told that had there been no rum shop allowed under her store she would probably have stayed where she is and not built a new block, but she could not stand the miserable nuisance any longer." (Madame Cyr was a milliner and the only female that I am aware of to erect a business block on Main Street in Danielson. The building is still standing at the southern end of the street).

The October 18th issue included a number of individuals from different parts of Killingly who were applying for licenses to sell liquor and the individuals who endorsed them. I did not see any notations about which individuals were permitted to sell spirits.

On October 7 of that year the town was treated to a Fireman's Parade that was witnessed by seven to ten thousand people. Unlike today's parades this went from Railroad Square, up Main Street to Elm Street then counter-marched back down Main to Cottage Street and then up to Broad Street to Davis Park for a review before returning back to Railroad Square. 100 couples were in the Grand March. Decorations were reminiscent of the Fourth of July (WCT 10/11/1893).

The same issue had an article from South Killingly about the Grange. "The Grange has purchased of E.E. Salisbury the site where the store was burned last year and are to erect a Grange hall. The building is to be of quite generous proportions, and two stories in height besides basement. It is to be commenced at once and to be pushed forward to completion."

The Genealogy Club at the Killingly Public Library will meet Saturday, October 12 from 10-11 a.m. All are welcome. New attendees are always welcome. You do not have to be a resident of Killingly to attend. Have you hit a roadblock? Come and see if someone can help. ensure that the decisions being made are tailored to your financial life goals.

Keep in mind that selling securities can result in a taxable event, unless they are held in a tax-advantaged account, such as an employer-sponsored retirement plan or an IRA.

Risk in various asset classes: Diversifying among asset classes can be important; although stocks in general, and foreign stocks in particular, have come out on top in the past, the amount of volatility they experience is typically greater, and sometimes far greater, than that of cash and bonds.

The principal value of cash alternatives may fluctuate with market conditions. Cash alternatives are subject to liquidity and credit risks, so like with any asset class, it is possible to lose money with this type of investment.

The principal value of bonds may also fluctuate with market conditions. Bonds are subject to inflation, interest rate, and credit risks, and bonds redeemed prior to maturity may be worth more or less than their original cost. U.S. Treasury securities are guaranteed by the federal government as to the timely payment of principal and interest, whereas corporate bonds are not.

The return and principal value of stocks may fluctuate with market conditions. Shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

The risks associated with investing on a worldwide basis include differences in financial reporting, currency exchange risk, as well as economic and political risk unique to the specific country. Investments offering the potential for higher rates of return also involve higher risk.

Investing in mutual funds: Because mutual funds invest in a mix of stocks and bonds chosen by a fund manager to pursue the fund's stated objective, they can offer a certain level of "built-in" diversification. For this reason, mutual funds may be an appropriate choice for novice investors or those wishing to take more of a hands-off approach to their portfolios. Including a variety of mutual funds with different objectives, stocks, and bonds in your portfolio will help diversify your holdings that much more. You can also select a combination of mutual funds to achieve your portfolio's targeted asset allocation.

Diversification and allocation, simplified: Taking the time to work with a financial advisor to help align your financial life goals to your unique time horizon and risk tolerance is important in taking the first steps of financial planning. Knowing your own expectations and level of comfort with the process is an important factor when making decisions with your financial planner. At Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors, we understand how diversification and asset allocation is unique to each client. We help our clients create a unique and strategic financial plan which determines how to align investments to reach your financial life goals. Make sure to check back next week as we continue to discuss financial planning! Country Music finds beauty in our imperfections

I just finished watching the final of eight episodes of the Ken Burns Country Music documentary. Last week I wrote of how Country Music was the soundtrack of my life. Every Country song up until a specific date in my life triggers a memory for me. As is life, some memories are happy and others not, but in almost every moment of my life until 1983, a Country song was playing in the background.

My dad was a devoted Country Music fan. His favorite artists were Merle Haggard, Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson, Ernest Tubb, Bob Wills and many others, but Merle Haggard topped his list. He knew all the words and after a beer or two on a Saturday night he'd begin singing them.

My sisters and I idolized our father for many reasons. He was always there for us regardless of the problem. He always had a kind and encouraging word and could make us laugh at the drop of a hat. We loved Country Music because he did. I can name the specific moment that I pushed Country Music out my life. It was 6:15 PM on May 13, 1983. My dad died suddenly and unexpectedly of a massive heart attack and for me, Country Music died with him. The music I grew up listening to became representative of the loss of the pillar of our family. I shut it off. Every musical memory included my father and he was now gone. Ken Burns brought me back to the music of my youth and I am grateful.

And I have a lot of catching up to do! So many new artists came after that date and I missed them all. I find myself especially attracted to the music and sound of Dwight Yoakam. To me he's a country music newcomer even though he's been around for thirty years. It's as if I turned off the radio and fell asleep for over three decades and I'm hearing many of the stars and their music for the first time ... and loving it.

None among us is perfect. Not one.

What is it about this enduring musical genre that captivates millions around the globe? I think that Country Music finds beauty in our imperfections. Death, addiction, divorce, pain, loss, failure ... it doesn't matter which of life's problems are featured, Country finds a way of creating acceptance. It let's us know we are not alone, and others have experienced the same and suffered with us. It shares that as bad as things may be, 'the music' understands and will stay by our side as it helps us sort through the pain and find a way to overcome. Country Music is more than notes on a page or organized sounds, it is a friend when you need one the most.

Country Music is also respect. I've never heard of a Country star trashing his or her hotel room or cursing at fans. I have not seen a Country star give his fans the finger or walking off stage during a temper tantrum. Country Music stars genuinely seem to understand they are nothing without the people who buy tickets or download their songs. I always am touched by their respect.

Arlene and I were at a business meeting in Branson, Missouri in 1993 and was having breakfast on our last day. I looked over after we were seated, and I saw Merle Haggard sitting at a table talking to a younger band member. He was telling the younger that it is okay to make mistakes if you learn from them. He was coaching a younger musician about something that had happened. I remember the kindness in his voice.

I asked our server to please give me his check, which she did. After a while, Haggard stood and asked his server for his check and she pointed over to our table and said we had paid it. He walked over and thanked us then asked, "Why'd you want to buy our breakfast?"

"My dad loved your music and you made him happy for many years. He died in 1983 and he never got the chance to thank you himself. So, this is his son's way of thanking you on his behalf." He responded, "Thank you. I'm sorry I never had the opportunity to meet him." We exchanged a few other pleasantries and he turned to leave the restaurant, then he stopped, turned back and laughed. "Where will you be for lunch?"

It was a beautiful experience for me to be able to thank Merle Haggard for his music and I was genuinely touched by his kindness.

I think most importantly for me, Country Music is forgiving. I dropped it without notice and left thirty-five years ago and didn't look back. But now, that I have returned, Country Music has welcomed me back with open arms and only responded with the title of the Kathy Mattea hit song ... "Where've you been?"

BEYOND THE PEWS

JOHN HANSON

Lake is the largest manmade lake in Connecticut. With over 60 miles of shoreline, this lake has been a recreation magnet and created some of the most expensive real estate in the area. But it wasn't created for the real estate value, it was created to be a source for electricity.

The lake was constructed between 1926 and 1928. Six thousand acres of land in five towns had to be purchased from farm owners. One thousand, four hundred men were hired to clear out the valley of four thousand, five hundred acres of trees. Six cemeteries worth of coffins had to be dug up and thirty-five families needed to be relocated. After the hydroelectric dam was built, 7.5 billion gallons of water were pumped up from the Housatonic river to create this major water feature. It changed everything. Average land became prime real estate.

When CT Power and Light launched the project, it was largest of its kind and quite different from the typical reservoir: Similar to a giant battery, its main purpose is to store water during periods of low electrical demand for power generation when demand is high. Excess electricity from the valley's hydro-system is used to pump water up a hillside into the lake from the nearby Housatonic River during spring, and overnight hours in summer. The water is then allowed to flow back down into the river when extra electricity is needed in the grid, often during the region's mid-to-late summer heat waves. (Wikipedia)

Man has gone to great lengths to create dams and reservoirs, like Candlewood Lake, all over the world. Driven by the need for electricity and massive quantities of water, mankind has built some of the biggest man-made structures on the planet. The survival of a populated earth demands these great water sources. Now water gates all over the world regulate the flow of water and electricity to the people they serve.

In much the same way, mankind's spiritual survival is dependent on another source for survival: God's love and power. Our God is an inexhaustible reservoir. He has ordained gates and channels by which he can flood our lives. He flows through His Word. He flows through people who love and serve Him by ministering to others. He flows through churches who let people know about this tremendous life source. He is the source of salvation joy, peace, healing and wholeness. When God flows into someone's life, it changes everything.

You can have it if you can afford it: A beautiful five-bedroom, stone home that is advertised to "easily accommodate fourteen family members." Located in Danbury, Connecticut, this 4,000 square foot home with oversized windows and a floor-to-ceiling stone fireplace is definitely appealing. But, even with all that, you may wonder why it is on the market for $2.7 million. The answer: it is located on Candlewood Lake.

At 5,420 square acres, Candlewood

Falleluiah!

Why can't we just have Spring, Summer, Fall, then back to Spring again? Is this pesky Winter weather really necessary? I'm certain anyone who plows snow for money would readily disagree with me. I'm pretty sure I'm never going to ski again, considering my right leg looks like a hardware store, and I haven't skied in at least 20 years anyway; I highly doubt I'm going to decide to dust them off and take them for a spin anytime soon. I've never been on a snowmobile. I was under one once - when my cousin ran me over when I was five - but that doesn't really count. Everybody has an "under the chin" scar, and that's where mine comes from.

Fall would be so much more enjoyable if Winter wasn't looming around the corner randomly breathing its chilly, icicle breath on the ground at night. Autumn is the time of year when we experience all four seasons in one day. Morning is Winter, Spring is mid-morning, Summer is noon to four, and then Fall from supertime to ten pm. How does one dress for this? In the morning we're wearing winter coats, by noon it's tank top, then by supper we're all in flannel. It's like Mother Nature is having hot flashes! No wonder everyone in the house has a cold. Sean generously donated his to Sophia, and I when he was finished with it. He's sweet like that. Don't get me started on "man colds", but it's amazing he lived through it.

I decide in the morning when it's cold out that beef stew would be a nice, cozy dinner but then the temperature jumps 30 degrees as the day progresses, and we end up eating beef stew, and sweating out brains out. We haven't turned the heat on yet because we're stubborn, and cheap. The cats and the dog have fur so they're warm enough, and maybe I'll sew some clothes for the parakeets or something. Our 1840 Colonial gets pretty chilly in the morning but we're not seeing stalactite forming on the ceiling, so throw on a sweater, and stop complaining. Besides if there's any heating issues, there's Hometown Heating in Brooklyn. They'll deliver when we need oil. If you want to be warm but still pretend its Summer ring Jason at New England Spas in Auburn, and buy a hot tub! Bar not included. Shout out to Ed Barbeau, and his wife Michelle, (aka Naughty Nana). I'm not quite sure why he calls her that, and I probably don't want to know. They don't worry about snow because they keep escaping to the Caribbean...or they are escaping their kids. I can't remember which.

Have a Fall-bulous Week!

Killingly High's Kameron Crowe run against Berlin last Friday.

BY CHARLIE LENTZ
VILLAGER EDITOR

DAYVILLE — It looked dire late in the third quarter with Berlin leading Killingly High by a touchdown and driving for more last Friday night. Dire isn't fun but it can sometimes be useful for a young team early in a football season.

"I'll tell you what, I'd take a game like this over a 50-to-nothing game. This was fun. It was a battle to the end," said Killingly coach Chad Neal. "This is what high school football is all about."

The battle was tipping in Berlin's balance by one touchdown late in third quarter — until Jackson Lopes' interception help turn things around and spark Killingly's 14-7 victory over the Redcoats. The two-touchdown rally was a good lesson in perseverance and lifted Killingly's record to 3-0.

"We talked about it at halftime because their heads were down. We said cut it out. It's 7-0, let's come out and win this game. Let's find a way to win this game and pick it up," Neal said. "We hadn't lost the game yet. They rallied. We made a lot of adjustments at halftime. And the kids paid attention to it and they executed."

Late in the third quarter with Berlin leading 7-0 and on its own 46-yard line and driving — on third-and-eight, quarterback Justin Skates tossed a pass over the middle that was tipped — Lopes intercepted the ball to give Killingly possession on its own 47-yard line with 1:18 left in the third quarter.

"It was huge. To get the ball back there, right at midfield, that could have been it. If they go up 14-0 that's it," Neal said. "We had to get a stop there."

Lopes said he knew Killingly needed a big play and the game was literally hanging in the balance as the tipped ball rotated above the field.

"I knew we needed to make a turnover. We needed to make a big play. We needed a mental shift at that moment," Lopes said. "Luckily the ball went up in the air. I was able to make a play on it. My mind just goes blank and I just think 'ball' and I'm going for it."

After Lopes' interception gave them the ball at their own 47, Killingly drove 53 yards in five plays. Jack Sharpe (100 yards on 13 carries) capped the march with a 28-yard touchdown run. Chris Jax kicked the point after to tie it at 7-7 with 11:31 left in the fourth quarter.

Lopes sensed the game turning after his interception and Sharpe's touchdown run.

"The momentum definitely shifted," Lopes said.

On Berlin's ensuing possession after Sharpe's touchdown, Killingly's defense came up with a key stop with 9:19 left in the game. On fourth-and-one from Killingly's 47-yard line, Killingly stuffed Berlin's Elijah Crowley for no gain — giving the ball back to Killingly. From there, Killingly drove 53 yards in five plays for the go-ahead score — senior quarterback Jacob Nurse capped the march with a 20-yard touchdown run with 7:47 remaining. Jax kicked the extra point to put Killingly up 14-7 and complete the scoring.

Neal adjusted his offensive attack in the second half and that led to two late rush touchdowns.

"We ran that shotgun wing set and we were able to run some quick passes out of it, the screens — we saw they were slanting to our wing tight end side so we ran just the same side trap and the kids blocked it well. We made it look like we were running that way but we cut it back," Neal said.

The defense sparked the win with the interception by Lopes and the fourth-down stop of Crowley in the fourth quarter. Killingly limited Berlin to 49 yards rushing and 129 yards passing. Killingly's only defensive lapse came on Jamie Palmese's 57-yard catch-and-run touchdown reception with 5:58 left in the first quarter.

"Defense played really good. One mistake really on that pass, it was an R.P.O., a run-pass option. We got caught. Hats off to them. They were well prepared for us. It was a chess match right to the end. Our kids just prevailed," Neal said.

The loss dropped Berlin's record to 2-1. Killingly (3-0) is next scheduled to play host to Fitch (2-1) at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 5, at Killingly High School.

Coach Neal said his team has played well early on. Killingly scored a touchdown with under a minute left to defeat Cumberland, R.I., in the season opener, and then topped Capital Prep 51-12 in game No. 2.

"We saw it Week One in Cumberland, we won it in the last seconds," Neal said. "I think we're well-conditioned. I think they have a lot of heart," Neal said. "We saw a lot of guys lead tonight — the Jackson Lopes, the Jonathan Creswells of the world led tonight."

hear it in the practices. He's talking to the team about where to mark and what to do," Frechette said. "And he's playing the balls in the correct spots for other runners. He's a coach on the field at times. He's definitely integrated into the team and they're really listening to him."

Frechette said his team has done some good things through seven games.

"We look good when we've got the ball and possess it — in the attacking third there's options. I like the fact that everybody's still looking for those options. Nobody's going — me, me, me. It's a team. I like to see that," Frechette said.

Killingly senior forward Christopher Lackner suffered a season-ending knee injury in a game against Putnam High on Sept. 16. Frechette said some newcomers to the roster have been thrown into the fire early.

"Chris Lackner was one of those key pieces that we lost in the first game and it's almost impossible to replace him," Frechette said.

Killingly's Kevin Rice scored two goals and Yotti and Evan Townsend each scored one goal in the 4-0 victory over New London on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at Killingly High School. Billy Carver notched two assists and Townsend and Yotti each recorded one assist. Killingly out-shot New London 16-4. Killingly keeper Connor Chahanovich made four saves. Killingly led 9-1 in corner kicks. Rice and senior defender Gary Salisbury were voted Men of the Match for their contributions to the win over New London.

Wesley Paulo scored the lone goal for New London (0-6). The win lifted Killingly's record to 3-3-1. Killingly is next scheduled to play host to Griswold under the lights at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Killingly High School.

"We're .500 right now. We've got three wins and a tie. We've got to find another three wins so we can at least make states," Frechette said. "We've got to compete. We've had a couple games where we should have played better than we did — where we gave up some big scores — but I think we're better than that. And I think you're going to see that in the second half."

DAYVILLE — Spanish exchange student Pablo Yotti has put his spin not only on the soccer ball but on his teammates — trying to rub off some of soccer savvy at Killingly High. Killingly had a .500 record (3-3-1) through seven games and coach

Ron Frechette said Yotti has been his playmaker. The coach watched Yotti played his typical game in a 4-1 victory over New London on Tuesday night at Killingly High School.

"He was telling guys where to mark and he was picking up the loose guy. He's also talking to the guys when he's doing that. You don't see it from the sideline but I

Ellis Tech goalie Brett Gile readies to make a save against Vinal Tech on Sept. 26.

DANIELSON — Ellis Tech's boys soccer team won five of its first six games as the program builds on last season, when Ellis Tech qualified for the state tournament for the first time since 2014. The Golden Eagles earned a state tourney home game and finished with a record of 10-7-1 in 2018. Two seasons ago Ellis Tech ended with a mark of 5-10-1 in the regular season. In both the 2015 and 2016 seasons the Eagles mustered just two wins.

Drew Mizak is in his second season as head coach after serving as an assistant for nine seasons. Jay Hardell is the team's assistant coach. Mizell said the program is going in the right direction. "The season's off to a good start. We've got a great group of guys, a great mix of upperclassmen and underclassmen. But we've got to stay hungry," said Mizell after a 6-0 win over Vinal Tech on Sept. 26.

The Golden Eagles lost four seniors (Jared Oenning, Danny Savino, Travis Jacobson, Logan LeBlanc) to graduation and have a talented group of players back.

"We lost four kids but we have five seniors this year, all great players. We have a nice balance, we're not top heavy, we young guys too that are coming up to the program," Mizell said. "We've got quality freshmen through seniors."

Some of the returnees include senior midfielder Austin Desrosiers and senior forward Chad Cramer. Desrosiers and Cramer are the Golden Eagles primary scoring threats.

"Both those guys are forwards, they're our primary attacking threats," Mizak said.

Senior midfielder Collin Lavoie is a defensive midfielder, the back four are led by junior defender Mike MacCracken and senior Gaevin Vegiard. Sophomore goalkeeper Brett Gile returns. Ellis Tech plays in the Connecticut Technical Conference East Division and is classified as Class L for the state tournament.

"Our goal is to make the state tournament and to make a deep run in the CTC Tournament. Last year we got a tough matchup in the first round, played a tough team in Platt Tech, lost 2-1. But our goal is to make a deep run, I'd live to be playing on that Saturday for a championship," Mizell said.

In the 6-0 win over Vinal Tech on Sept. 26, Austin Desrosiers scored two goals. Collin Lavoie, Mike MacCracken, Evertt LeBlanc, and Kyle O'Connor each scored one goal for Ellis Tech (5-1 overall, 4-0 Connecticut Technical Conference). Ellis keeper Brett Gile made five saves. Notching assists for Ellis Tech were Chad Cramer, Desrosiers, Jake Piche and LeBlanc. Ellis Tech is next scheduled to play at Grasso Tech on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

PUTNAM — With the loss of nine seniors to graduation and an influx of new players, Tourtellotte coach Deb

Spinelli is pleased with her team's start through six games — a start that included a five-game winning streak after a season-opening loss to Ledyard. "I wasn't sure after graduating nine kids what we were going to look like. We're actually looking for each other. We're not playing kickball as much," said Tourtellotte coach Deb Spinelli after a 1-0 win over Putnam High last Friday. "Some of them are actually figuring out how to use each other in combinations."

The coach said the Tigers have been able to win despite some injuries.

"We're pretty beat up right now," Spinelli said. "I've got four starters out right now. We're getting other kids some time out on the field. I'm still weak on my outside-mids but I've got to keep my stronger group right up the gut."

Kaylee Tackson scored the game's lone goal off an assist from Ashley Morin in Tourtellotte's 1-0 win over Putnam High on Sept. 27 at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex in Putnam.

Spinelli said they were playing well during their five-game winning streak, capped by the win over Putnam High.

Coach Spinelli said she's been relying on Kaylee Tackson, Morin, Makayla Tackson, Chloe Manzo, and Hannah Leclaire.

"Those kids, up the gut, have to be on the field the whole time," Spinelli said. "I need that group out there."

Tourtellotte is next scheduled to play host to East Hampton at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 8. The season is young and coach Spinelli said many tough games remain.

"We've got a big week next week," Spinelli said. "Hopefully we get healthy and stay healthy."

PUTNAM — Putnam High fell to Tourtellotte Memorial 1-0 last Friday at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex. The loss dropped Putnam's record to 2-3 through five games. Putnam assistant coach Molly Panteleakos said the Clippers defense shut down the Tigers but just couldn't put the ball in the net.

"They've been working really hard in practice and games. Any time you're going to play Tourtellotte, we're rivals, we've been playing for many years now, we always know it's going to be tough competition. (Tourtellotte coach) Deb (Spinelli) prepares her squad awesome. We just came up a little bit short," Panteleakos said.

The coach acknowledged that Tourtellotte's record was 5-1 through six games and the Clippers worked hard and held the Tigers to one goal in the loss on Sept. 27. Kaylee Tackson scored for Tourtellotte with an assist from Ashley Morin.

"We had a little bit of trouble getting the ball up top. Our defense held strong, one goal, it's a close game. We're not upset with the result. I think we're going to take a lot from it, come back on Monday, and work hard for our next game," Panteleakos said.

The Clippers have a tough stretch ahead. They are next scheduled to play at Lyman Memorial at 4 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 4. The Clippers travel to Parish Hill for a 3 p.m. start on Saturday, Oct. 5.

"We have high hopes. Just keeping the positivity and motivation going. We take one game at a time," Panteleakos said. "This is a 1-0 loss but sometimes you learn more from losing than you do from winning. So we're going to take what we can work on and apply it to the next game and try to get a win next game."

Putnam returns home to play host to Lyman

Memorial on Monday, Oct. 7, with kickoff set for 3:45 p.m. at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex.

Todd worked as a carpenter and cabinet maker his whole life, most recently at Lopes Carpentry in West Newbury and at Commonwealth Carpentry in Boston. Prior to that he worked for Stephen Swift Furniture, and then ran his own company, Form and Function Design, in the Auburn area for several years. He was a talented carpenter/cabinetmaker, meticulous at his craft, and especially enjoyed doing custom design work for his clients or friends. He also worked on one of the tiny houses for the Tiny House Nation show. He will be remembered by his family and friends for his infectious smile, big heart, sense of humor, loving nature, and willingness to help others.

In addition to his parents, Todd is survived by his sister, Erin Blake and her husband Jacob of Reno, NV, and their children, Hayden, Annabel, and Thayer. He is also survived by his uncles, Thomas (Cynthia) Denne of Cheshire, and Mark (Darlene) Denne of Lincoln, RI; and his cousins, Thomas (Jennifer) Denne, Jill (Jonathan) Stanizzi, Scott (Tatjana) Denne, Greg Denne, and Eric Denne; and other family and close friends. Glen Richard Dash

Glen Richard Dash, of Boston, MA, and Pomfret, CT, died in his home in Boston on September 19th, 2019. He was 66. Glen was raised in Skokie, Illinois and attended MIT where he received a degree in electrical engineering, before earning a combined Harvard Law degree and a Sloan School (MIT) MBA. As an undergraduate he designed the electronics of one of the first electronic games, TV Tennis along with its hockey/soccer follow up which were sold by a toy manufacturer. As part of the product development, Glen succeeded in getting both products through the Federal Communications Commission approval process for electronic interference. Glen later co-founded his own testing business, Dash, Straus and Goodhue. Glen used his legal background to successfully challenge the monopoly that Underwriters Laboratory held on product testing. Hundreds of specialty testing companies are now in business because of that effort.

When Glen sold his testing business about a decade later, he was able to turn his attention to his first love, archaeology. That interest was sparked by a trip to Iran as an undergraduate. In this new career, he was able to use his electrical engineering background to conduct subsurface surveys using magnetometry and ground-penetrating radar in Greece, Crete, and the Gaza Strip. In the United States, he was involved in an effort to locate the Underground Railroad in Port Tobacco, MD.

By far, most of Glen's work was in Egypt. He conducted both surface and subsurface surveys over several seasons to locate underground cavities in both the main and west valleys of the Valley of the Kings. On the edge of the Red Sea, he was able to locate an ancient harbor. The majority of Glen's time was spent on the Giza Plateau understanding the structures buried under the surface that would have been there as the pyramids were constructed, and probing the inside of the Sphinx. He was able to provide new, more accurate measures of the size and orientation of the Great Pyramid. Back in Pomfret, he was able to show how ancient Egyptians could have attained the necessary accuracy using only primitive materials and the sun.

Glen enjoyed tennis, the Patriots, and played softball on the same MIT team for 44 consecutive summers. He leaves a daughter and son-in-law, Becky and Eric Sperber, and a sister Terry Dash and her husband, Stephan Miller. He was married to Joan Dash for 33 years. A memorial gathering will be private.

Sr. Rose Mary Iannucci, 102

Windham, CT - Sr. Rose Mary Iannucci, 102, a member of the Daughters of the Holy Spirit, died on Sunday September 29, 2019 at St Joseph Living Center in Windham, CT.

Born on June 6, 1917 in Waterbury, CT, the daughter of the late Giovanni (John) and Antoinette Conte Iannucci, Sr. Rose Mary entered religious life in 1938 and made her profession at the Motherhouse in St. Brieu, France on March 27, 1940. She was then known as Sr. Jean Antoine.

She remained in France for her first community in LeLegué. Once the United States declared war on Germany, she and 23 other Daughters of the Holy Spirit were arrested. Sr. Rose Mary was held in the detention camp at Vittel for more than two years. She and the other American Sisters taught the children in the camp which had been originally created to intern nationals of enemy and neutral countries whom Germany wanted to exchange for their own nationals held in enemy camps. The 22 DHS in Vittel were released as exchange prisoners in 1944. Sr. Rose Mary is the last surviving member of that group.

Once back in the U. S., she taught in elementary schools in CT, MA and VT while obtaining her B.A. and M.A. in education. In 1975 she moved to West Sacramento, CA for 22 years where she ministered as a teacher before earning her certificate in pastoral care from the Medical Center in San Francisco in 1980. She then ministered as a pastoral associate at Our Lady of Grace Parish in West Sacramento. She was instrumental in bringing the Associate Program there.

Upon retirement in 1998, she resided at St. Clare Convent in Newport, RI before moving to the Provincial House in Putnam, CT in 2007. She was one of the first Sisters to begin the new community at St. Joseph Living Center in Windham, CT in 2016.

She is survived by the Daughters of the Holy Spirit spiritual family – her sisters in community, the Consecrated Seculars and the Associates as well as several nieces and nephews. She is predeceased by her brothers and sisters, Clementina Rossi, Susan DiLeo, Martha DiPietro Hadsock, Philip Iannucci, Michelina Martino, Philomena Balduc Lata, Eva Dileo and John Iannucci.

Calling hours will be on Wednesday, October 2, 2019 from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. at St. Joseph Church, 99 Jackson Street, Willimantic, CT with a prayer service at 10:00 a.m. A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11:00 a.m. followed by burial in St. Mary Cemetery in Putnam at 2:30 p.m. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to DHS Retirement Fund, P. O. Box 497, Putnam, CT 06260. The Gilman Funeral Home, 104 Church St., Putnam, CT have been entrusted with arrangements. For memorial guest book, please visit www.GilmanandValade.com.

Skewered chicken goes great on the grill

Makes 6 servings

Salsa:
 1 cup chopped flat parsley
 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, toasted
 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
 3 tablespoons capers, chopped
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
 1/2 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme
 1/2 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano
 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 1 garlic clove, minced

Spiedini:
 1 1/2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
 6 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 1 1/4 pounds)
 Cooking spray
 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Soak 12 (10-inch) wooden skewers in water for 30 minutes to prevent burning.
 Bring the grill to medium-high heat. To prepare the salsa, combine the first 12 ingredients; set aside.
 To prepare the spiedini, thread the chicken and zucchini alternately on each of the 12 skewers. Coat the spiedini with cooking spray; sprinkle evenly with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Place on a grill rack; grill 6 minutes or until done, turning once. Serve with salsa.
Tip: Prepare the salsa up to a day ahead, and assemble the skewers earlier in the day. Coat with the seasonings just before grilling.

Grilling chicken is an easy way to transform this versatile food into something even more delicious. Various cultures serve chicken in kebab form after grilling it over an open flame, and taste is a big reason this particular method of cooking chicken is so beloved.

While you might not expect to see kebabs on the menu at your favorite Italian restaurant, “spiedini” is Italian for “little skewers,” proving that Italian chefs recognize how delicious chicken can be when served in kebab form. In this recipe for “Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde” from “Cooking Light: Dinner’s Ready”

(Oxmoor House) by The Cooking Light Editors, skewers are paired with a zesty salsa full of nuts, herbs and citrus, which makes for the perfect complement to the smoky grilled flavor.

What to know about food portions Portion control is a big part of a healthy diet. In fact, the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases notes that, when it comes to maintaining a healthy weight, how much food a person eats is just as important as what he or she eats.

No two people are the same, so a portion that’s satisfying and healthy for one person won’t necessarily be the same for another person. Answering some common questions about food portions can help people understand this vital component of a healthy lifestyle.

What is the difference between portions and servings?

The NIDDK notes that a portion is how much food a person chooses to eat at one time, while a serving size is the amount of food listed on the Nutrition Facts label. The portions a person eats may or may not match a serving size. That’s because a healthy portion size is typically based on various factors, such as age, weight and gender, unique to individuals.

Should calories come into play when determining healthy portion sizes?

Calories definitely merit consideration when determining healthy portion sizes. However, the amount of calories a person needs is based on a number of factors, including how physically active that person is. The NIDDK notes that a 150-pound woman who exercises vigorously throughout the week will need more calories than a woman about the same size who is not as physically active. When trying to determine their calorie needs, men and women should consult with their physicians, who will consider their lifestyle, age, medical history, and other factors before advising patients about how much they should eat.

What if I am still hungry after reducing portion sizes?

It’s likely that people accustomed to big portions will still be hungry as their bodies adjust to reduced portion sizes. In such instances, people can try taking more time to eat. Even if there’s less food on the plate, eating slowly gives the brain a chance to receive the message that the stomach is full. According to the NIDDK, it can take as long as 15 minutes for that message to make its way to the brain. Eating slowly reduces the risk of overeating, and you may even be surprised to learn that a smaller portion size than you’re used to is all you really need to feel satisfied.

Portion control is a great way to get healthy and maintain a healthy weight
