Groundbreaking a reality for the dog park

"Follow me," she said as she walked her dogs across the muddy expanse that is to become the Uxbridge Dog Park and up a giant mound of dirt.

"I want to stand up here and look at it all. I feel like we've conquered something great! I'm overwhelmed with happiness and excitement. We finally did it!" said Laura Ozella-Hamel, one of the members of the Uxbridge Dog Park committee.

Ozella-Hamel noted, as she spoke to the supporters at the groundbreaking ceremony for the park, "It all began over a cup of coffee and a Facebook post."

As the committee stood smiling and holding their shovels on the Sutton Street location, their supporters stood alongside their own pups, excited about the new opportunities the dog park will bring for them.

Ali Raposo, Travis DoRosario, Cindy Scott, Jen Modica, and Ozella-Hamel make up the committee that rallied the town of Uxbridge together and raised the funds to make their dream a reality.

Chris Hamel, Tori Rampino, and Sgt. Josiah Morrisette were also key volunteers. Sgt. Morrisette was the Stanton Foundation liaison and police department grant writer. DoRosario spoke about the financial journey the committee has endured,

"The town of Uxbridge received a grant in the amount of $20,500 from the Stanton Foundation which has allowed us to move forward with the design portion of the project. It was about a year-long process to do a site analysis, survey the land, and then come up with a design with features that were within our budget, as well as meeting the needs of what we were looking for. We finalized the design, we sent the project out to bid, and we had 14 interested parties in our project. Base prices ranging from $188,000 to $523,000. Looking at our options, our budget, our

Uxbridge schools welcome two to administrative team

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Frank Tiano is pleased to announce two new hires to the Uxbridge administrative team: Wendy Phillips, who has been chosen to be the next director of curriculum, instruction, and accountability for the district, and Carla Squier, who will be the assistant principal at the Taft Early Learning Center. Both administrators will begin their Uxbridge careers in August.

"We are excited to welcome two quality educators and leaders to our district," Tiano said. "They are both eager and excited to start, and I know that our students, staff, and entire community will benefit from their expertise and energy."

Phillips was chosen from a strong pool of 30 applicants to replace the outgoing Director of Curriculum Dr. Rich Drolet, and is quite eager to Celebrate art at the historic Uxbridge Quaker Meetinghouse

Join talented local artist Sue Dion and other members of the artistic community for an exhibit and (weather permitting) plein air painting session at the Uxbridge Quaker Meetinghouse Open House on Sunday, Aug. 12 from 2 to 4 P.M.

Dion's work is well known throughout the area, from her artistry with a brush to the special sense of design she brings to the craft of framing. Her classes in watercolor and other media attract students from an ever-widening area.

The event on Aug. 12 continues a long tradition of support and appreciation for the arts that reaches back to the founding of both the Quaker Meeting House and the Blackstone Valley Art Associations. Faded photographs and newspaper clippings attest to the close collaboration of the two organizations from their very beginnings. Exhibits were held on the town common and at the meetinghouse (1959). A junior and senior high school student art show and one-artist shows by Thomas Hanley of Woonsocket, R.I. (1959) and Gordon Harris of Lincoln, R.I. (1962) were sponsored by the two groups.

From a newspaper article in June of 1968 we learn that "...visitors (to the Quaker Meetinghouse) may view exhibitions of paintings by members of the Blackstone Valley Art Association on (certain summer) Saturdays..."

Members of the Quaker Meeting House Association will be on hand at the Aug. 12 Open House to share the history

Car Buying Tips

People ask Place: My new car seems so complicated. Why do I have all this technology?

The Right answer: During our recent Classic Cruise we were able to see first hand the many differences in today's cars versus the cars of yesteryear. The new cars had so much more in electronics to increase performance, efficiency, comfort and most importantly safety. The innovations many of us have simply grown to expect in our cars were not available in the 50's, 60's or even 70's. Much of the now standard features were developed in just the last few decades. Federal regulation and of course customer demand have contributed to much of the new technology in the new cars. Even some of the new technology like your cell phone have sparked new tech in your cars. Airbags that were once only in the steering wheel now seem to come from everywhere and can create a complete "canopy" offering protection to passengers in every seating position. Ford even has available inflatable seat belts to provide rear passengers even more security. Anti-lock braking systems, stability control systems, adaptive cruise control, automatic climate control, intermittent wipers, infotainment systems, all-wheel drive, 6 and 10 speed automatic transmissions, power windows and door locks, back up cameras, electronic ignition and fuel injection are just some of the things we have seen in today's cars that weren't in those classic cars we love. In fact, did you know that in early F series pickups a passenger side windshield wiper was an extra cost option. We love those old cars and trucks. They sure are great to admire. Look closely at the new cars and trucks and marvel at the things they can do. The advancements are incredible and much more is coming to improve the next generation of transportation.

Uniquely Uxbridge Day planning underway

SUBMITTED BY: TRAVIS ANN DOROSARIO

On Saturday, Sept. 1, Uxbridge will be celebrating the sixth annual Uniquely Uxbridge Day on the town Common and Pout Pond. This day is to enjoy all the things that make us a great community to live in!

Part of what makes Uxbridge a fabulous community is how we support others in need. In 2016, we announced the creation of the UU Scholarship Fund. For the past two years, we were able to present graduating Uxbridge residents with monetary gifts towards their education. We hope to be able to continue this tradition.

The day starts at 9 a.m. on the Uxbridge Town Common. Ample parking is available behind UniBank and the Uxbridge Free Public Library, as well as the Saver's parking lot. Admission is free, so come on down, catch up with friends, and enjoy the last weekend before the school rush.

While you are there, do some fun shopping, visit with the local crafters and artisans, and have the kids take part in the Kidz Korner activities. The perennial favorite, Table Talk pie eating contest will return at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Face painting and skill games are some of the fun activities that kids can enjoy in our Kidz Zone, on the north end of the Common.

This year, the crafter and vendor fair features 45 top local artisans in the area. If you want to get a start of your holiday shopping, now is the time. Handmade jewelry, crochet items, primitives, wood decor, healthy living, skin and personal care items are just a few of the vendors you will find. You will also be able to meet local business owners that focus on multi-media, performing arts, fitness, massage and of course, food. Civic and non-profit organizations will be on hand to help you learn about all of the great areas in town that need volunteers and how you and your family can get involved. The raffle table is also a great spot to visit and enter to win fantastic prizes.

After 3 p.m., head down to Pout Pond for a gathering. Get your paddles ready as the cardboard boat race launches at 3:15 p.m. this year, you don't want to miss it.

Then sit back, listen to the music, grab a bite to eat, and take part in a game of volleyball or tug of war. Raffles winners will be announced at 4:30 p.m. Admission to the Pond will be free at that time.

Uxbridge is a great town with many fantastic businesses, people, and places to visit. Please come out on Saturday, Sept. 1 and support our local families and our Unique town!

Please visit the event page at facebook.com/UUxbridgeDay for updated details. Any questions on the Uniquely Uxbridge Day please contact uxbridge-day@gmail.com. Thank you and we hope to see you there!!

"Waverly", the 2017 prize winning Community Gardens scarecrow, provided a humorous comment on last year's extremely wet season. With flippers, snorkel, goggles and accompanying flamingoes she was right at home in the soggy environment!

Gather your family and friends and head to the Uxbridge Community Gardens for the annual Evening in the Evening in the Gardens scheduled Aug. 16

Gardens on Thursday, Aug. 16 from 6 to 8 PM.

Rain date for the event is August 17. The evening will feature a contest to choose the most creative, humorous and overall best garden scarecrows plus scavenger hunts and lawn games for the kids. A Bake-Off Contest will feature creations using fresh garden ingredients. Gardeners will also vie for bragging rights at the Top of the Crop Veggie contest. You be the judge!

Local bluegrass talent Emily Rose and Generation Gap will provide entertainment as you stroll through the 100 cultivated gardens and enjoy simple complementary refreshments.

The Gardens are in their 7th season, continuing the mission of providing a place for members of the community to come together to grow healthy food for their families. Veteran gardeners are eager to lend their experience and advice to those who are just beginning. Many new friendships have been forged over the challenges of gardening in a strictly organic manner.

There are several gardens spaces available as of this date. They can be claimed without cost for the remainder of the 2018 gardening season. This is a great opportunity for a new gardener to get a jump on soil preparation and improvement for the following spring.

The Gardens, located at the 100 Acre field on Sutton Street, are operated by a volunteer committee of the town of Uxbridge. They receive no public funding, but rely on fees and donations from individuals and local businesses for support. A garden space (20'x25') may be had for $20 a season; new applications are accepted in January of each year.

Follow on facebook at facebook.com/groups/371002709593995/. For more information go to the Uxbridge town web site and find Community Gardens under 'Committees'.

forward with not only our based dog park, but our two alternates which includes paved walkways, as well as shade structures. This came in at a price of $218,000, for which we received a grant in the amount of approximately $196,000. Very impressive amounts for a small committee that has been holding spaghetti dinners, paint parties, motorcycle runs, Halloween parties, and selling commemorative bricks for the past few years," said DoRosario.

Over the past five years there have been plenty more cups of coffee. The process to make this project come to fruition has been a learning experience for all of them. They have spent countless hours devoted to this project.

"This process has required a great deal of fundraising, education, planning, and effort, but the ultimate reward will be that we have created a special place where dogs and their families can run, play, and socialize", remarked DoRosario.

"This year at our spring town meeting our committee gained three alternative member positions and those spots need to be filled. I hope by watching this amazing opportunity come to fruition for our Blackstone Valley that you are able to find your motivation, like I did. Become a member, join our meetings, and come enjoy your Uxbridge Dog Park!" Raposo jubilantly ended.

Damage ignored, the show goes on

KIMBERLY MASCHI
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

The show must go on, through the tornados wake, KBC Brewery blocked off their damaged area and still held a magnificent show for local residents. The brewery, located off Main Street, behind the police department, suffered damage from the tornado that swept through Webster. Along the French River walk trees were uprooted, fences were shattered, and the beer garden suffered dearly. "We will rebuild," says owner Brian Kretschmann with fiancé Kelly Vermette. Vermette gently rocks their newborn daughter and is worried about the damage.

"I am so happy we were still able to open," says Vermette. "Everyone is still able to make it to the show." Vermette is referring to the well designed and hilarious "The Beer Show, A Royal Mocktober Feast!" that went on as scheduled Saturday night after the storm. The show is designed to highlight the brewery and the many batches of beer it creates. KBC specializes in German and American style beer and is place where many local residents gather for laughter, music, and comradery. Those who ventured out were thankful for a place to go where they could come together and enjoy some positivity through the destruction. Kretschmann and Vermette are always looking for ways to help their community in the best way they can, this time it was to help those in attendance take a break from the chaos and remember that even when times are tough, laughter can lift you up.

The beer show was performed by a group of very talented actors and one musically valuable minstrel, Paul Courchaine. Frank Dixon, from Franklin comes from The King Richards Faire in Carver, where he plays the jester. Bill Forbes from Mapleville, Rhode Island is an actor and joined by his daughter Bryson Michaels from Sutton and his sister Tina Kenney from Norfolk.

"They really put on an awesome show" says Vermette.

Tony Island from Oxford did the catering for the event and made a German feast fit for a King. The feast was complete with potatoes, sauerkraut, sausage, and rich chocolate cupcake. Each course was accompanied by beer tasting of the finest brews from the KBC brewers.

The entire Sherwin family from Oxford came out to enjoy the show. They put on their Viking hats and braved the storms damage to have a good time. The actors sang songs and played games with all in attendance. Michaels was a shining star with her Prinderella story, "Twonce upon a Mime" she stumbles and somehow made the story of Cinderella come to life with funning slurrations. Kenney got everyone at the tables to hoot and holler for their provinces and join in the games. Forbes had everyone laughing with his antics and Dixon was such a grand ole' king. "We had a wonderful time," says Sergio and Johnna Bacelis of Worcester. Aimee Jones from Spencer enjoyed the show and bought canned beer from the brewery to bring back home to her husband. The Hefeweizen was a light and airy German Wheat Beer and is canned upon request. The IPA called Grace is robust and strong and a favorite among many. Paired with the dessert, the Summer Porter, was crisp and tasty with hints of blueberry.

Webster caused many hearts to break. With buildings gone; lives are displaced, businesses are suffering, and the community is shaken. Those at the KBC Brewery pushed aside their thoughts of damage and chaos and worked hard to put on a show for those who needed a place to go and a reminder that when times get tough, there are people around you who will share a laugh, a smile, and a beer with you.

Local law enforcement goes through Drone training

KIMBERLY MASCHI
STONEBRIDGE PRESS

Officers from all over Worcester County have come to the Oxford Police Department for an in-depth experience and knowledgeable information on drone tactics and maneuvers. Michael Uleski from Dart Drones came to teach officers from various towns how to correctly and safely use drones for search and rescue missions. Uleski has a private pilot's license and graduated from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University with a Bachelor's degree in aeronautical sciences. He has years of experience and is currently a patrol division Sergeant with public safety department in Daytona Beach. He has also been cross-trained in law enforcement, fire-fighting, and EMT which makes him the perfect guide for the task of teaching all participating officers the benefits and maneuvers of a drone. Officer Crag Gagner of Oxford Police Department heads this training program as the leader of the new drone projects. Gagner has been self-trained and expertly uses the drone that belongs to Oxford PD.

"It is great that all of these officers from varying communities have come to learn first-hand about drones and how they can help their communities" says Gagner.

Drones are being used to help with search and rescue missions. A number of examples and exercises were being set up for the officers to learn from. For example, a doll, about the size of a three-year-old child was dressed in clothing and set-up in the distance of the field in Greenbriar where the hands-on training was taking place. Those operating the drone would raise the machine into the air and look for the doll. There are many programs and attachments to the drone that can help with these real-life scenarios. There is also night a night vision lens that proves its importance with search and rescue in the dark. Officers take turns practicing and asking questions. In one scenario an officer plays the role of someone stuck and in need of water. The drone picks up a bag that has a bottle of water and flies off to deliver this to the person in need. Other scenarios where this would work would be someone lost in deep water and the drone can deliver a life jacket before any responders could reach them in time. The possibilities are endless with this new technology and the officers are excited.

"We always look for ways to help our community and citizens," says Randy McCarthy of the Auburn Police Department.

"Oxford has launched the future of law enforcement search and rescue with drone accessibility," says Oxford PD Chief Anthony Saad. "With Craig Gagner leading, we are helping other communities learn what assets drone can be."

Saad was impressed with how many officers joined Gagner in the training sessions. Uleski from Dart Drones went over many tactics that the drones can follow with different applications and equipment. Officer Mike Daniels from Westborough PD took control of the drone and felt comfortable with the maneuvers. Other officers involved in the drone training were officers George

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Crossbow hunting fails to make it out of committee again

TRUE

By now most sportsmen are aware of the failed attempt to pass a crossbow bill in Massachusetts, allowing any licensed person to use them for hunting. Although disabled hunters are allowed to use one, it was disappointing that the bill failed to even get it out of committee. There was little hope that it would become law among most hunters in the state, as it required the legislature to back the bill. Many politicians are not hunters and care very little about hunting and fishing regulations, and have very little knowledge about wildlife conservation. Hunting with a crossbow would allow hunters to harvest deer in populated areas. Hunting deer or turkey with a bow needs to be changed from 500 ft. to 300 ft. from an occupied dwelling, and even closer with landowner's permission. Wildlife has learned to adjust to encroachment by humans, and feels safe living within 50 or 100 ft. of homes.

This past week I was involved in a conversation about Mass. Fish & Wildlife and the new appointments that are being made within the agency. Why are so many employees leaving the agency? Many are at that age for retirement and want to enjoy time with their families. That is a good thing. I was also told that many new employees are college graduates that do not fish and hunt? This is not good for the future hunting and fishing public. One of the qualifications should be that the new hires hunt or fish.

New wannabee legislators are circulating their papers for numerous positions throughout the state. It is very important that sportsmen get out to vote for the candidate that will work for you!!! Every year we lose more of our rights to own fire arms and to enjoy the great outdoors. There are less hunting and fishing activities by the younger generation today because of parents' failure to expose their children to the sports.

Are you ready for another hike in your hunting and fishing license? Do not be surprised to see it at next year's renewal of your hunting and fishing license. The average hunter or fisherman has little time to hunt or fish in today's world, and the increase will only deter new hunting or fishing residents of our state from participating.

We cannot afford to lose any more of the hunting and fishing public.

Massachusetts wildlife populations are exploding on all fronts. Turkey populations are out of control in some areas, as well as deer populations. An increase in the daily bag limit is warranted over and above the recent extra hunting days recently approved. Antlerless deer permits are being cut in some zones in Massachusetts and deer hunters are questioning the reason for the cuts. Recent winters have been kind to wildlife with deer and wild turkey thriving. Goose populations are also a continued nuisance, polluting our lakes and ponds annually. The big problem there is the private property providing sanctuaries for the geese during hunting season. No hunting in these areas has allowed the goose populations to get out of control in many areas. The recent increased daily bag limits will not help if they cannot be hunted.

Feeding any waterfowl is against the law, but it is rarely, if at all, enforced. The bottom line is that hunting is the only means of controlling our wildlife populations & keeping them healthy. Just imagine if deer hunters did not harvest more than 10,000 deer annually. Disease and starvation of the animals would be overwhelming, and car & deer collisions would rise dramatically causing death and injury to family members.

Saltwater fishing has slowed on many fronts with Block Island area giving up very few stripers last week according to a Snug Harbor report this past Saturday. Bluefish have started to provide some action for party boats and other small charters. Bluefish are also showing along the beaches and at the Point Judith lighthouse. A few mako sharks are being caught at the Mud Hole with some false albacore showing around the Point Judith lighthouse.

A king salmon caught in the Salmon River last year.

Red Top Bait shop reported inconsistent action on stripers with no real blitz. Being there at the right time is the key to all fishing.

Lake Ontario fishing is starting to heat up!! August is the start of the king salmon run and provides some great fishing. More on this subject in the coming weeks. This week's picture shows a very happy angler with a king salmon she caught last year on the Salmon River in upstate New York.

CONSTRUCTION HAS BEGUN AT HARRINGTON ED

Harrington has begun construction on its new Southbridge Emergency Department. This project has four distinct phases; the first is expected to take six months to complete. We acknowledge this is a very challenging project, and we are working diligently to do everything we can to accommodate our patients and visitors to minimize disruption. Our emergency department will remain open during the entire construction process, but modifications will be made for patient entrance, security and parking.

Beginning Friday, Aug. 3, the current entrance to the ER was closed off for construction. Patients and visitors are now routed to a new temporary entrance adjacent to the construction area (see photo). We will continue to employ the same security protocols as the safety of our patients, visitors and employees remains a top priority.

We appreciate everyone's patience and understanding. Should you have any concerns when you arrive, please reach out to our Public Safety or ED staff; everyone is doing their best to make this process as smooth as possible. We will keep you updated as the phases progress on this project. We are all looking forward to the completion of this construction!

This map outlines the new parking and entrance.

Should I think about resale when purchasing a home?

The answer to this question is always yes. You never know when life will change and you will want or need to move again. Even if someone tells me they never plan on moving again I will always point out downfalls with a home that could cause a resale issue even if the person purchasing the home does not care about that downfall. Some of the important factors to consider that can affect the resale of a home are as follows:

Buying a home on a busy road - Many people are fearful having kids or pets on a busy road or the road could be a detractor as well.

Buying a home with 2 bedrooms on 2nd floor and 1 bedroom on 1st floor - If a family has children then they may not want them on a different floor than them and this can cause an issue.

Home being on a private road - For you buying a home on an unpaved private road may be nice to keep people driving slow through your neighborhood but for someone else they want a smoother ride home and let dirt and dust and the uncertainty of who may be fixing the potholes in the road may be a deterrent.

Big House and Small Yard - You may love the idea of having a nice easy yard to maintain while many people looking for a large home have a large family and they want lots of outdoor yard space.

Wallpaper and Carpet - You may be fine with the wallpaper and prefer the

carpet over the hardwoods. Most people prefer to have painted walls and will prefer hardwoods over carpets and sometimes the carpets are an allergy issue. Luckily these are things that can be changed.

Close to railroad tracks - You may not mind the tracks or even think the sound of the train going by is soothing. Other people it will wake up in the night and they may be concerned about their children or pets ending up on the tracks.

Home with no basement - You may feel you don't need that extra storage space in the basement. In many areas of the country homes do not have basements but around here it is more common to have on and most people want it to have the ability to store items there.

Biggest house in the neighborhood - People prefer to buy homes that are in a neighborhood with other similar homes. If you have a 3000 square foot colonial in a neighborhood of 1000 square foot ranches you will have a challenge reselling the home compared to one in a neighborhood with similar homes.

These are just a few examples of things to consider. If you are buying a home then consult with a local Realtor who can let you know when they see things that could impact resale and you can decide if you overlook them as it is the perfect home for you.

Definitions of a political entity

In an age of political correctness, we cringe at certain words. We do not wish to offend, or at least some of us don't.

Others just let that freak fly. But that is for a different essay. Which is why we read the letters to the editor with a very jaundiced eye. Sure we believe in free speech, but come on. Why should we allow the name calling that sometimes deteriorates to the level of the sandbox? Really? These pages are for thoughtful, approximately intelligent exchange of ideas. We are great with opposing viewpoints. We are not happy with gutter sniping.

When you bring up a letter, talk about the politics, not the letter writer. Make your point, move on. 'Nough said.

But back to the original purpose of the whole thing.

There are debates, real, genuine intent debates, about whether the words 'illegal' or 'undocumented' should be part of the lexicon for the people now in the country improperly.

Yes, they absolutely are here illegally, because they overstayed a visa, crossed a border without the right paperwork, were brought here by parents without the right paperwork, had paperwork lost or stolen, or for whatever reason; they do not have what they need to stay here correctly. And because of that, yes, they are here illegally and obviously without the right paperwork, they are undocumented.

So both terms work. The argument is over whether one term or the other is more derogatory, and whether one is less dehumanizing.

People, say the advocates of undocumented, cannot be 'illegal'. Their actions might be, but people can't. It is in their eyes, an incorrect term.

But, those who don't like undocumented say it is too 'soft' for those who have come here and are intentionally by definition committing a crime.

Derogatory terms for immigrants isn't new.

FOB: fresh off the boat. Didn't matter from which country, and isn't interesting that someone not wanted could easily be FOBbed off.

WOP: with out papers. That's right, while it was usually associated with people of Italian descent, the derogatory term was originally applied to many groups who arrived without proper documentation, illegal immigrants. But in the earlier days of such migration, paperwork was less important, and in fact, harder to have.

What the country might very well need are a series of Ellis Islands once more. Centralized places where everyone comes through the same place.

We've seen scenes from such historic films as the Godfather, where a small Italian child w-o-p, and in fact ill, is placed in quarantine but eventually is reunited with family. This is in the early 1900s, and we are complaining about it happening now?

History is circular. We don't learn very well from our mistakes. Crossing invisible lines and protecting ourselves from ourselves has been happening since the first cave family decided not to share their campfire.

The words we use to say we don't like how we feel about one another or how someone else feels or thinks hasn't changed much either. Different time, different language, same nonsense.

We become enraged over those who think differently than ourselves, how dare they not understand our way is best? How can't they see what we see? Don't they see it our way?

Apparently, they don't. And we can't see it their way either.

We actually think that is a good thing, we're back to the beginning here: opposing viewpoints is a good thing.

How stale a world it would be without variety.

Local officials push for judicial accountability

BY SENATOR ANNE GOBI, SENATOR RYAN FATTMAN, CHIEF STEVEN WOJNAR, AND JENNIE CAISSIE

Our Constitutional Republic is founded upon the idea that government is of the people, by the people and for the people, not above the people. No one serving in elected or appointed office should be above this standard, including those in our judicial branch.

In the wake of recent tragedies and loss of innocent lives, we believe it is time for meaningful, bipartisan reform in judicial accountability in Massachusetts.

Judges are appointed for life in Massachusetts, and command a position of power and respect. The prestige of their position is reflected in their compensation, benefits, and retirement because the decisions they make carry great consequence, altering the lives of our citizens and society. But to whom much is given, much is required. And what is required today is far different than the process our Founding Fathers established in the Massachusetts Constitution in the 1780s for judicial accountability.

Judicial accountability only exists in two forms, the first of which is extremely rare, and the second of which is surreptitious: (1) impeachment as outlined by the Constitution (2) confidential judicial evaluations that are performed by the Supreme Judicial Court of each judge, shared with them, and then destroyed.

Under the first method of accountability, only three judges have ever been removed from office since the Massachusetts Constitution was enacted in 1780. The last judge removed by the Governor's Council was before the Civil War in 1821. Under the second method of accountability, we simply do not know the consequences for each judge as the process is not salient to the public.

In the near-term, more scrutiny and transparency is required in the judiciary. First, Massachusetts General Law Section 211 must be changed to allow this to happen. Judicial performances evaluations should not be confidential, and only reviewed by a small group of unelected judges. These performance evaluations must be public and available to the Governor's Council, the elected body responsible for vetting and appointing judges, and to elected members of the legislature serving on the Senate and House judiciary committees. This increased transparency on the conduct of life-time appointed judges will provide greater insight into our judicial system.

Second, the Governor's Council should be able to conduct open, transparent, and public hearings reviewing judicial performances.

Finally, there must be a constitutional amendment brought before the legislature to enhance judicial accountability that empowers the Governor's Council to review a trial court judge every five years, and by super majority, be able to unappoint said judge. This process will be lengthy, requiring citizens to collect thousands of signatures, two Constitutional Conventions of the Legislature over a four-year period where 50 members elect to vote affirmatively, and a vote on the ballot by the voters of the Commonwealth. Although arduous, it is a worthy and important endeavor we hope to lead.

Let us be very clear; we do not want to elect judges, nor do we want to encroach upon the founding father's vision of an independent judiciary. We understand the need to have a separate but equal judicial branch. But there must be a healthy balance between independence and accountability.

Are we to believe in a state that boasts of the world's oldest Constitution, that in over 200 years of existence, only three judges have been worthy of criticism so great they were due for removal? Recent tragedies where clear patterns of direct and indirect judicial decision making irrevocably impacted the lives of law enforcement officials and families answer the question: no. Poor judgment as evidenced by poor outcomes, or poor behavior by a life-time appointed official, should not only call into question the opinion of said judge, but also question their very appointment.

Moreover, these efforts are not designed to impede upon the symbiosis of three independent branches of government, but to simply align democratic intentions and parity between officials dully appointed or elected in the Commonwealth. No one should be above the law, and while executive and legislative branches have continued to operate in the same continuum of rules and accountability set out in the original constitution, the judicial branch has not. It's time for that to change.

Thank you.

Time to put excess cash to work?

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

You'll always want to base your investment decisions on your own needs and goals. But there may be times when you might consider adjusting your portfolio because of risks and opportunities. Now may be one of those times.

Here's some background: In recent months, the Federal Reserve has raised short-term interest rates several times, and given its generally favorable outlook on the economy, it has indicated it may continue bumping up interest rates gradually over the next year or so. The Fed doesn't control long-term interest rates, but these rates often follow the lead of short-term movements. However, longer-term rates haven't yet risen as much as shorter-term ones, which means the difference between short- and long-term rates is relatively small, historically speaking.

This doesn't mean you should make drastic changes to your portfolio. You still need to stick with the asset allocation that's suitable for your situation, which typically involves owning a certain percentage of growth-oriented vehicles, such as stocks, and a certain percentage of fixed-income securities, such as bonds. However, if you do have space in the fixed-income part of your portfolio, you may find the higher interest rates offered by short-term bonds and certificates of deposit (CDs) to be attractive. To take advantage of this opportunity, though, you will need to have the cash available to invest.

Some people hold too much in cash, waiting for interest rates to rise, or as protection against the risk of a market decline. But holding excess cash involves its own risk - the risk of not investing. So, if you have your cash needs covered, you may want to consider investing any excess cash.

To determine if you are holding excess cash, you'll need to review your entire cash situation. For example, do you have enough cash, or cash equivalents, to create an emergency fund of three to six months' worth of living expenses? This fund can be vital in helping you pay for things like a major car repair or an unexpected medical bill without dipping in to your long-term investments. And, of course, you need enough liquidity to provide for your lifestyle, including your regular spending needs - your mortgage, utilities, groceries and so on. Also, you may want to set aside enough cash for a goal you want to reach in the next year or so, such as a vacation.

But if you have taken care of all these needs and you still have excess cash, you may want to consider putting this cash to work, possibly by investing in short-term fixed-income vehicles now being issued at higher interest rates.

And keep in mind that regardless of where interest rates are going, bonds and other fixed-income investments can offer some key benefits to investors. In addition to providing a source of regular income, these types of investments can help reduce the effects of volatility on your portfolio. While bonds can, and will, fluctuate in value, they typically can provide more stability to your portfolio and tend to behave differently than stocks over time.

After years of historical lows, shorter-term rates now have risen to levels that are more attractive to investors. Take the time to review your situation, perhaps with the help of a financial professional, to determine if taking advantage of these rates may be appropriate for you.

*Cool down quick by taking mini baths or showers throughout the day when possible. Tepid water works best to refresh.

*Cool off instantly by placing a cold compress on your forehead or an ice bag on your head or on the back of your neck.

*Drink plenty of chilled, non-alcoholic fluids during a heat wave. Experts advise avoiding caffeinated, sweet, or alcoholic beverages as they act as diuretics and can play havoc with your body temperature.

*On hot summer days, you'll sweat less if you eat foods high in water content, such as fruit and vegetables. Also avoid heavy meals that are harder to digest.

*If you are exercising or are performing physical work during a heat wave, be sure to drink two to four eight ounce glasses of water an hour. When possible choose sports drinks instead.

Cool down tips for the home:

*If you have mini blinds and find that closing them to keep the house cool keeps out too much light, try angling them upwards. This way, the light is reflected up and into the room, but the heat of direct rays are kept away.

*Pulling the shades down in east and west windows during a heat wave can lower an inside temperature as much as 20 degrees, as compared to unshaded windows!

*Using a window air conditioner? To boost its efficiency, use a fan with your a/c to circulate the cool air throughout the home. Fans are best placed on north facing, shaded windows, if possible.

*Never place lamps or TVs near your air conditioning thermostat. The heat from these appliances will cause the air conditioner to run longer.

*Electronics, such as TVs and computers not only emit phantom energy but they produce heat even when shut off. Unplug these devices whenever possible.

*Compact fluorescent lights not only use less energy than incandescent bulbs, but they burn much cooler, preventing an unnecessary source of heat.

Hints to keep cool:

*Natural fabrics such as cotton keep you cooler than synthetics. Breathable fabrics such as organic cotton helps to wick moisture away from your body, helping you stay cool and dry. And be sure to wear loose fitting clothes on hot days to allow air to circulate and keep you cool naturally.

*Want sweat free slumber? Sleep on 100% cotton sheets. And swap out synthetic pillows for cooler feather ones. Better yet, switch to a buckwheat pillow, which is the coolest of Cheryll LeBlanc (a detective), Tom Turcotte (Peter Ness) and Kelly Craft (Mary Katen-Ashley) took their parts sort of seriously.

Kelly Craft as Mary Katen Ashley was assistant to the producer, a real Sleazy character.

Elaine Henry became Donna Badthing, and enjoyed the part.

MASCHI

On a dark and stormy night, a group of friends and family got together for merriment, murder, and mayhem. It was my husband Keith's 30th birthday party, and I wanted him to have the most amazing night. I decided on a 1930s Hollywood theme, rated R (because we are all adults and ready to let loose a bit.)

I hired an acting troupe from The Murder Mystery Co. grimprov.com. The actress came with outfits, props, binders, and suspect personalities to make the party a magnificent event. The actress' pseudonym was Mr. Warren Peace, a Hollywood producer, and he was to be murdered! (insert grave music here!)

Mr. Warren Peace invited up all to his mansion for a party and to figure out who wanted him dead. But one guest never made it. Mrs. Peacock who was writing a new script has been shot and killed. It is time for us to get into costume and begin the murder mystery.

Keith, from Oxford, became the Butler Jarvis Deedit, Kelly Craft from Maine became Mary Katen Ashley, assistant to the producer. Mark Cady, from Oxford, became Sleazy McQueen, producer. Lisa Henry, from Worcester, transformed into Cherry Bomb, aspiring actress. Thomas Turcotte from Webster was the amazing detective Peter Ness, but his friends called him P. Ness. Elaine Henry from Webster was Donna Badthing a very prominent actress. Katrina Grandelski from New Hampshire became OohLa La, the maid.

Chris Gilbert from New Hampshire was the rich Mr. Greenspan, banker. Mike Henry from Webster was Professor Purple who continually tried to explain to people just how much of a genius he really was. And I was the very successful Dr. Sarah Dippity. The other guests, Silvia Gilbert, Dawn Moore, Megan Turcotte, Robert Henry, and Cheryll LeBlanc, were all detectives trying to solve the case. We all had a part to play and had to figure out who was the killer by the end of the night.

We all walked around the room on the top floor of the KBC Brewery in Webster. We were pleased to find out that the building we were in used to be a speakeasy! How perfect! We listened to 1930s music and strolled along the twinkling lights with drinks in hand. We each had props and outfits to go with our characters, the moment I put on the doctor's robe I was transformed into a know it all nuisance...not much of a transformation for me.

Keith played his butler part extremely well, I contribute his butler likeness to my constant nagging for him to help clean the house.

Sleazy McQueen sported a baseball cap with long strands of hair in the back, he was an excellent sleaze who had sordid affairs with all the ladies around him. Could he be the killer?

Cherry Bomb was sweet and kind and had nothing but nice things to say about everyone. Detective Peter Ness had many questions and with badge in hand he hounded every character. Donna Badthing was above everyone else and knew it. She threw her boa around and pranced about flaunting her many accomplishments and assets.

Mr. Greenspan sipped

his drink at the table and gasp! He fell forward and died! Someone has gone ahead and killed someone else now! The rich banker is now dead and we are all still suspects.

As the doctor of the group I was the one in charge of pronouncing people dead. My binder stated that to do this I gently touched the tip of the corpses nose and say "they are dead".

If you are reading this and have read any of my past columns you know I tend to be dramatic and overly involved. So, when Mr. Greenspan took a sip of his beer and died. First, I tried to pry the beer from his hands, poison or not a free drink is a free drink. But alas he would not give, "rigor mortis has already begun I announced."

Next, I had to gently touch the tip of his nose and declare him dead. Instead, I fondled his nose, flicked it a bit, pushed it to one side and then the other, Chris aka, Mr. Greenspan tried to remain quiet and corpse-like while I drew little circles on his schnoz. Good job Chris. I finally announced he was dead and we all got on with the show.

Kelly, aka Mary Katen Ashley, was the best actress of the group. She was told to be clumsy and cute and she pulled it off with flying colors. She spoke in a mousy voice and tripped over every chair and table. She fumbled her books and stole the show, everyone agrees Kelly, you need to go into improv my dear, you are a shining star!

The maid Oohla La had a big part to play as she was initially framed for poisoning Mr. Greenspan. But Oohla La was not who we thought she was. She was actually an undercover FBI agent! Keith, aka Jarvis Deedit, admitted to having a plan to kill Mr. Warren Peace with Mr. Greenspan but it didn't work! I, the doctor, was apparently in love with Sleazy McQueen and asked him to marry me and of course he said yes. But I was also a marksman and who else would know how to kill someone other than a doctor? Professor Purple had his own reasons for wanting Mrs. Peacock dead, he wanted everyone to think he wrote the script she was working on.

Do you know who the murdered was? Have you guessed correctly? Was it the debonair actress Donna Badthing, was she jealous of Mrs. Peacock's success and angry with Mr. Greenspan? Was it the doctor who was a marksman and having an affair with Sleazy? Was it Sleazy who was sleaz-ing it up with everyone? What about the genius Professor Purple? Could he have murdered so blatantly? Everyone always says the butler did it, but did he? Did Cherry Bomb, aspiring actress, have something to do with this? What about the clumsy Mary Katen Ashley, was her klutziness just as act? Oohla La and detective Peter Ness are law enforcement, but does that mean they are not guilty? Only those at the party know.

Our refreshments were very well themed

We had a champagne toast at the end of the mystery, I toasted to my husband on this very special birthday of his. We ate blood splattered cookies and cake from Jess' Sweets & Treats in Oxford. We danced to the music and drank heavenly beer from the brewery. We were swept away to a different place and time for a few hours and it was amazing. From pearls and boas to blood and poison, the night was a scream!

Harvest and preserve herbs for flavorful meals year-round

MYERS

Add a flavorful boost to any meal with garden-fresh herbs. You'll quickly discover the difference fresh herbs make when preparing any meal or dessert.

Harvest herbs whenever you need them for cooking or garnishing a favorite dish. Adjust the quantity of herbs used to allow for variations in flavor intensity and your family's preference.

In general, you will need two to three times more fresh than dried herbs. So, if the recipe calls for one teaspoon of dried parsley use one tablespoon (three teaspoons) of fresh parsley leaves.

Use a pair of garden scissors or pruners for harvesting. Make your cuts above a set of healthy leaves. The wound will close faster, and the remaining plant will look better. Rinse off the clippings and remove tough stems and any discolored or damaged leaves and start cooking.

Store the extra, unwashed leafy herbs in a vase of water and loosely cover with a plastic bag. Keep basil on the kitchen counter and cold-tolerant herbs like parsley and cilantro in the refrigerator.

Wrap thicker-leaved herbs like sage and thyme in a paper towel, set inside a plastic bag and place in a warmer section of the fridge.

Don't be afraid to keep harvesting. Regular picking encourages new growth for future harvests. Just be sure to leave enough foliage to maintain plant growth. You can harvest as much as 50 to 75% from established annual herbs and one third of perennial herbs at one time.

Clip off leaves and stems before the plant begins flowering to encourage more tender growth. You'll get the greatest concentration of flavor when the plant has formed buds, but before they open. However, don't discard the flowers if you've waited too long. Enjoy the beauty and added flavor of basil, lavender, lovage, monarda, oregano, rosemary, sage, sweet marjoram and thyme blossoms in salads, soups and other beverages.

As the season winds down, consider preserving some of your favorite herbs to use all winter long and to give as gifts.

Drying is one of the easiest ways to preserve your herbal harvest. Collect large amounts of basil, rosemary, marjoram and sage just prior to flowering. Cut the plants back about halfway in the morning after the dew has just dried off the leaves. Rinse—do not soak—the clippings and then remove any damaged or dried leaves.

Gather the herbs into small bundles and secure with a rubber band. As the stems shrink, so does the rubber band. Use a spring-type clothespin to hang the bundles from a clothesline or hanger.

Store the bundled herbs in a warm, dry, airy place out of direct sunlight for drying.

Some gardeners cover the drying herbs with a paper bag to keep them clean.

You can also dry herbs in the microwave. Remove the leaves from freshly harvested herbs. Evenly spread two cups of washed herb leaves on a double thickness of paper towel. Microwave on high for four to six minutes, depending on your microwave.

Fully dried herbs will be brittle and rattle when stirred. Store dried herbs in an airtight container for later use. Label the container with the name of the herb and date preserved.

Then add these flavorful additions to your meals throughout the winter. You're sure to savor the flavor and memories these homegrown preserved herbs add to every meal.

Laid Back Competitive Baseball League concludes regular season, gears toward playoffs

STURBRIDGE — Now in its seventh season, the Laid Back Competitive Baseball League (LBCBL) has grown to a 10-team league with a full regular season slate of up to 14 games played. And on Sunday, Aug. 5, that regular season came to a close.

Below is the league's history and mission statement, found on the LBCBL website.

Our History

The Laid Back Competitive Baseball League (LBCBL) was founded in the summer of 2012, by the current Director of Baseball Operations, Cody Mundell. Nearly 6 seasons ago Cody rounded up 5 teams to take part in our very first season. What was his vision you ask? To start his own league, where guys who are still looking to play some baseball can do so in a fun and competitive atmosphere. But most importantly everyone is welcomed!

Over the past few seasons Cody has worked diligently growing this league from the ground up. He has invested countless hours, and money into the league, to give players of all skill levels a place to play a good brand of baseball. We have since reached 10 teams spread across a number of locations in Central Massachusetts including: Sturbridge, Southbridge, Oxford, Shrewsbury, North Brookfield, Dudley & Charlton. Our players are of all skill levels: former professionals, former collegiate players (all different divisions), high school standouts, those who did not stand out in high school, and guys who have never played. Even dad can play! What's most important, is that we all just want to play.

For years we have tried our very best to provide a fun/laid back, but competitive atmosphere. It sounds like it doesn't make sense, but once you play you will understand. We strive to be as affordable and convenient as possible. We typically play all of our games on Saturdays and Sundays in the mornings, and our average player pays roughly $100 to play (can be more depending on team size and uniform purchases). These fees can be reduced by team and league sponsors given by local businesses for marketing opportunities on social media, our league website. Some team sponsors may also have their name put on uniforms. The league encourages all players to try to get sponsors for their team if at all possible.

If you don't want to hang up the spikes, or you don't want to play softball, or you just want to play. Join us! We are always looking for more players/teams!

Our Mission

Moving forward, we hope to continue expanding across the immediate area in locations such as: Spencer, Leicester, Auburn, Millbury, Sutton, Webster, Douglas, Grafton, Northbridge, Uxbridge & Worcester. The deadline for putting a team in for the 2018 season has passed, however we are always taking deposits for our next season. If you are interested in joining the league, please do not hesitate to reach out. Don't forget to ask about getting on our sub list!

Fairly soon, we will be filing to become a 501-c3 non-profit. It will be our mission to work with local communities to help fix up the fields that we are using. A portion of our proceeds will be used to help make the baseball experience the absolute best for our players, while the other portion will be used to help maintain, fix, & restore the baseball fields in the communities we play in. In doing so we hope to build lasting relationships with local little leagues and municipalities for years to come!"

Eight teams have reached the playoffs, and those games start on Saturday, Aug. 11. To check out a game, please see the locations below.

Stephanie Kielbasa, 94,

WHITINSVILLE-Stephanie Kielbasa, 94, died peacefully at home on July 27, 2018. She was predeceased by her loving husband, John Kielbasa, in 1988.

She is survived by her daughters: Mary Kielbasa, with whom she lived, and her fiancé David Milburn; Debora Sullivan; Janice Hanny, and her husband Scribner; Anne Marie Kielbasa, and her husband Jon Pollard; and her granddaughters: Mary Sullivan and SaraBeth Hanny. She leaves her sisters: Adeline Ziegler and Lillian Provencal; her brothers: Henry Simonis and Francis Simonis; and sisters-in-law: Wanda Jarosz and Alfreda Simonis. She also leaves many nieces, nephews, and their families. Stephanie was predeceased by her parents; sister, Loretta Simonis; and son-in-law, Robert Sullivan.

Stephanie was the daughter of John and Mary Simonis, and grew up in Whitinsville. After graduating from Northbridge High School in 1941, Stephanie worked for the former Whitin Machine Works until she enrolled in the Worcester City Hospital School of Nursing, Class of 1947. She was a proud member of the Cadet Nurse Corps. Her career as Registered Nurse spanned many years, in both the public and private sectors. She was a public health district nurse in both Worcester and Uxbridge, school nurse for the Northbridge Public Schools, and a private duty nurse throughout the Blackstone Valley. Stephanie was employed as charge nurse at the Whitinsville Hospital, and head nurse at St. Vincent Hospital in Worcester, where she later specialized in ostomy care. Stephanie stepped down from her career to provide full-time, in-home care for her mother but returned to community nursing in 1987. She retired from her cherished profession in 1994.

Stephanie dedicated her long life to her beloved family, and she was thankful for many wonderful neighbors in her lifetime, including childhood friends and their families, who settled in the Plummers section of town. She will be remembered for her sensibility and wisdom, as well as for her loving, kind, and generous spirit. She was a dedicated and committed professional who cared deeply for her patients. Stephanie was a lifelong learner, who eagerly pursued higher education to enhance her knowledge and skills, and she willingly shared what she learned with others. She was proud to be an original and ongoing member of the Harvard Medical School's Nurses' Health Study. Stephanie lived her life simply. She was an avid reader, gardener, bird watcher, and an excellent Wonderword searcher. She delighted in attending the theater in Boston, New York, and Providence.

The ravages of progressive dementia over the last decade of Stephanie's life did not rob her of her spiritual essence. Even as her precious memories slipped away from her one by one, Stephanie remained humble, benevolent, gracious, patient, humorous, and unyielding in her abiding love of family and her appreciation for this Earthly life she so enjoyed. In her words, she was indeed "so glad to be here" until God finally fulfilled her wish to "go Home."

A private celebration of Stephanie's life was held on July 30, 2018, directed by the Jackman Funeral Home. If desired, memorial donations may be made to The Eric Carle Museum of Picture Book Art, 125 West Bay Road, Amherst, MA 01002 (www.carlemuseum.org). The Carle was one of Stephanie's favorite places to spend many joyful hours with her family.

Don't settle for poor-quality vinyl windows.

Not only can they look shiny and low-end, some poor-quality vinyl windows can warp, leak and become drafty after just a few years. Our windows are made of our exclusive Fibrex[®] material, which is twice as strong as vinyl.

Unlike some other companies, we warrant our windows and installation.*

Renewal by Andersen is the full-service replacement window division of Andersen Corporation, and because they've been around for 115 years, you know we'll be around to stand behind our window, our service and our installation.*

CRAFTS/HOBBIES

Emerging trends in crafting

“Why buy it when you can make it yourself?” is a mantra many crafters or do-it-yourselfers live by. Crafting can be an excellent outlet for self-expression and an entertaining way to pass the time. Many crafters even turn their hobbies into successful business ventures.

This year certain trends are poised to take crafting by storm, while fads of 2014 should continue. Those making the rounds on Pinterest® and crafting blogs may discover the following crafts are trending in 2015.

NATURAL ELEMENTS

Crafters are taking their cues from nature, and you're certain to find natural elements, such as wood, bark and burlap, in craft projects. Distressed finishes on furniture and photo frames will still demand attention. Do-it-yourself projects, such as turning a slab of a tree trunk into a table or upcycling wooden shipping palettes into shelving, also will grow in popularity. Whenever working on designs that feature natural materials, try to repurpose elements whenever possible for the most rustic, authentic feel.

CHEVRON AND DIAMONDS

Those sprucing up home decorating elements with stencils or chalk paint can find inspiration in many places. Patterns that continue to show up in abundance include chevron and various incarnations of the diamond. It's easy to dress up just about any element with some well-placed stenciling, which does not necessarily require a wealth of skill or experience. Stencils also can be used on flooring to create a faux area rug effect.

COLOR OF THE YEAR

If you get giddy over the warmth of browns and reds, you will be enamored with Pantone®'s 2015 Color of the Year. The authority on color and a provider of color systems, Pantone® has chosen Marsala to be the “it” shade for 2015. Blending burgundy and brown tones to create a hue perfect for filling a wine glass or painting dining room walls, you will see plenty of this robust shade in decorative elements and clothing in the year ahead.

BRINGING THE OUTSIDE IN

An ecologically sound and creative trend for spring involves crafting your own garden terrarium. Terrariums can be made out of just about any shaped glass or plastic container. Use hardy plants and a moisture-holding substrate to help your terrarium flourish. Terrariums can be interesting focal points for any room, and they're a creative use for empty vases, aquariums and other containers collecting dust.

PAINTING ON CANVAS

Each year brings with it a new crafting obsession. This year it's poised to be watercolor painting. Classes are bound to pop up in craft stores and other hobby centers near you. Or you can experiment at home with just a few basic tools.

Another growing paint trend is to enjoy a ladies' night out that pairs painting with wine and socialization.

Participants work on a painting over a predetermined number of sessions and then take their masterpieces home.

SPRING INTO GREEN

Green hues and floral and foliage patterns for decorating will be popular this year. Anyone can liven up interior spaces with elements that borrow from nature, including leaf patterns and flowers.

Crafting continues to be a popular form of expression and a beloved pastime. Certain trends emerge each year that set the course for do-it-yourself projects.

Scrapbooks can help document your year

Showcase the special memories of the year ahead by starting a scrapbook.

Many interesting and special events take place during the course of a typical year. While the trend is to share photos and anecdotes via social media, these memories tend to be forgotten soon after they are posted. Rather than relegate birthdays, holidays, school milestones, and other such yearly events to the black hole of cyberspace, crafty men, women and children may want to display them in more prominent ways.

Scrapbooking is a popular hobby that can help people document various events over the course of the year. But scrapbooking can be much more than that as well. Scrapbooks can serve as valuable resources that speak to the way life once was.

Such traditions are not new. Books highlighting family memorabilia, such as recipes, poems, letters, and illustrations, were popular in England as early as the 15th century. Even school yearbooks are a type of scrapbook, highlighting students and events in a single convenient book.

The reasons for scrapbooking are the same today as they once were. Scrapbooks preserve memories, record family stories and pass down information through generations. Scrapbooks can even be customized in any manner their creators desire.

For those who have resolved to devote more time to documenting happy times and special events in the year ahead, scrapbooking is a great way to do just that. Here's how to make the process creative and successful.

- Devote a box to “scraps.” At the beginning of the year, set aside a medium-sized box, such as a shoebox, that can store various items you want to include in your scrapbook. These may include ticket stubs, receipts, brochures from trips, or any other items you deem worth saving.

- Make time to scrapbook. Set aside a few days each month to go through collected items and organize them so you have an idea of what will be included on your pages. Every event may not make the final cut, but that's up to you.

- Indulge in some craft-store shopping. Not everyone has the time to design each scrapbook page from scratch. Fortunately, there are numerous pre-designed templates or slip-in pages that require little work on the part of scrapbookers.

- Use your own handwriting. Handwritten sentiments can make the scrapbook even more meaningful.

- Don't overload with photos. Let one or two photos on a page best convey the emotions and stories. Create balance with white space, text and other accents.

- Categorize your photos. Disorganized photos can make scrapbook creation more challenging and ultimately frustrating. Organize your photos by month and rely on cloud-based photo storage systems to keep them safe. Then, when you need them, you can print only those images you want to include in your book.

- Have fun with the process. You have the entire year to create a beautiful scrapbook. Take your time and experiment with different ideas.

Crafts for the not-so-crafty hobbyist

Creativity lends a lot to everyday life. School parties are made that much better by intricate dessert designs. Handmade blankets tend to be more inspiring and cherished than mass-produced alternatives. Because of that, many people find hobbies that inspire their creativity to be incredibly rewarding.

While crafting is a hobby that can be enjoyed by people of all ages and skillsets, some people are more craft-inclined than others. That doesn't mean those with little arts and crafts experience cannot make items they can be proud of. The following are a handful of projects for inexperienced crafters who may feel as though they have two left thumbs.

Dress-up premade items

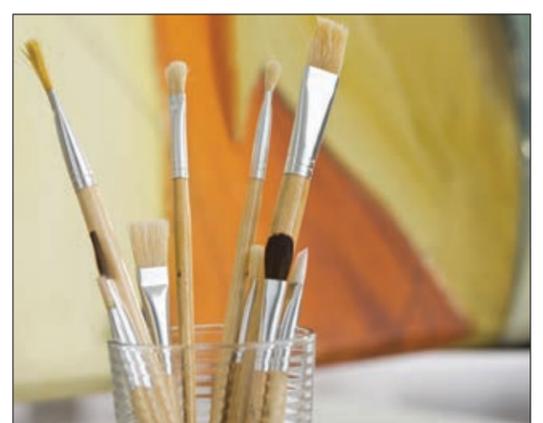

Sandra Lee made a career of teaching people how to blend some prepackaged food items with other ingredients to create semi-homemade menus. Anyone can use the same mentality to put together craft projects without having to start from scratch. Search the hobby stores or department stores for items that can be paired together. For example, why not glue a 4-by-6-inch picture frame to the top of candlestick holder for an ornate and interesting design element at home? Mason jars can be embellished with just about anything — from ribbon to fabric to glitter — giving them a decorative touch. Simply giving an item a new coat of paint or adding some decorative tacks or hooks can easily change its look and give it a crafty feel.

Grow comfortable with a computer printer
Homespun graphic arts can be mastered by just about anyone with access to some clip art, fonts and basic design software. You may also be able to find free apps or shareware online providing ready-made templates. Print out cute labels or tags that match party themes and put them on favor bags or prizes. Print cute slogans on cardstock and staple them to a small, filled plastic baggie to serve as classroom gifts or Valentines. Make a collage of different images and print them out to frame. Or snap a picture of a particular pattern or design element that fits with a room's theme and then frame that image for matching artwork.

Make soaps or candles

Thanks to the bevy of kits available at craft stores, it's easier than ever to make your own soaps or candles at home. All it usually takes is melting down the medium, adding the desired scents and colors and then allowing them to set in a mold or container. The result may seem like you worked for hours when really it was a relatively easy task. These handmade products can make great hostess gifts or nice touches when guests stay over at your home.

Personalize clothing

You do not have to be an artist to create t-shirts, aprons or other items that have that personalized touch. If you do not want to hassle with the mess of fabric paints or pens, use iron-on stencils or letters. Another idea is to create your own stencil (fire up that printer again), cut out your design or letters and then use a bleach pen sold in the laundry or cleaning aisle to color in the design. Let it sit and then launder for a faded and fun project.

Crafting doesn't have to be difficult. Projects exist for people of varying skill levels.

Find a hobby that works for you

Hobbies can serve many functions. Some men and women turn their hobbies into careers, while others rely on their hobbies to provide a relaxing respite from the hustle and bustle of daily life.

Inspiring hobbies can make life more rewarding. While many people experience some trial and error as they seek something to fill their downtime, the following are a few tips to finding a hobby that will enrich your life and maybe even the lives of others.

• Consider your interests. Much like you considered your interests when choosing a career path, you can benefit from doing the same when the time comes to find a hobby. If your work remains your passion, look for ways to share that passion with others. Perhaps you can teach a class at your community's learning annex or volunteer to work with high school kids who might have expressed an interest in your line of work. If you want to leave the office behind in your downtime, consider your other interests. Avid readers may want to start a local book club, while film buffs may enjoy starting a local film appreciation group. The more passionate you are about a topic or activity, the more likely you can turn it into a successful and rewarding hobby.

• Consider your needs. Another way to find a successful hobby is to consider why you want one in the first place. If your workdays tend to be hectic and you want a quiet escape, then a peaceful hobby such as painting might do the trick. If you're looking for a hobby that can add some spice to your social life and help you meet new people, look for something that encourages teamwork or interaction with other people your age.

• Consider your availability. Another thing to consider when choosing a hobby is how much time you will have to pursue it. If your schedule is especially hectic or unpredictable, avoid hobbies that require a big time commitment, as such activities may prove too difficult to commit to. In such situations, a hobby that allows you to embrace it on your own time will likely prove more enjoyable than one where you must adhere to a schedule that you simply can't honor. If you have a substantial amount of free time, then something that requires more involvement on your part might be right up your alley, whereas hobbies that don't require much regular participation likely won't provide the respite or fulfillment you're looking for.

• Consider those closest to you. Many people find that the best hobbies are the ones that allow them to spend more time with their loved ones, whether those loved ones are their own children, their parents or their close friends. Parents may want to find an activity that allows them to bond with their children, while young working professionals may want to find an activity that provides them with opportunities to spend time with their equally busy friends.

3 great reasons to give homemade gifts

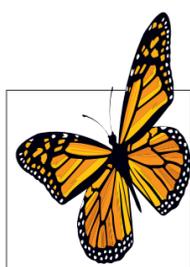

Nearly every holiday shopper has at least one person on their list who seemingly has everything. When shopping for such loved ones, shoppers often find the perfect gift to be especially elusive.

While gift cards are a go-to fallback option when shopping for the person who has it all, many gift givers feel such cards are a tad too impersonal. But in lieu of traditional store-bought gifts, shoppers stuck on what to buy should consider the many great reasons to give homemade gifts.

1. Homemade gifts show your loved one how much they mean to you. Gift cards are practical, but they rarely elicit the warm feelings holiday shoppers want their gifts to produce. A homemade gift will show your loved one that you put time and effort into making their holiday season special, and that's something they will appreciate when they use or see the gift.

2. Homemade gifts won't break the bank. Holiday shoppers working on tight budgets likely won't have to break the bank to create a homemade gift. The Internet is a great resource for inexpensive homemade gift ideas.

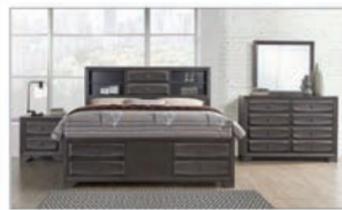

3. You can control quality with homemade gifts. Store-bought items are not always of the highest quality, and no shopper wants to give a gift that falls apart within a few days. By creating the gift yourself, you can ensure it's made with the highest quality materials so it will withstand the test of time.
