NORTHBRIDGE — As part of its “Random Acts of Kindness” program, one local bank has donated many educational items to Northbridge Elementary School in Whitinsville.

“The staff of our branches feel incredible every year that we do this. It’s a very tangible way to give back to our community,” said UniBank Whitinsville Area Manager Bo Daley.

UniBank has supported its branches in conducting random acts of kindness for the past four years, said Daley. It is a weeklong event in which each branch of UniBank participates separately.

Each branch gets a different week of the year to conduct these acts of kindness, and the local Whitinsville branch held its kindness week at the beginning of September this year.

Douglas announces Red Ribbon Week at end of October

BY KIM PALMUCCI
CORRESPONDENT

DOUGLAS — The Douglas Board of Selectmen have approved a proclamation recognizing “Red Ribbon Week” at the end of October supporting the ridding of communities of illicit drug use and those who traffic or profit from illicit drugs.

Red Ribbon Week will be held Oct. 23 through Oct. 31 in Douglas, according to the proclamation. A statement from the town said the Natchaug River Young Marines, of Dayville, Conn., were awarded the prestigious Enrique “Kiki” Camarena Drug Enforcement Administration Award.

This award represents the thousands of hours the Young Marines have spent on Drug Demand Reduction and Prevention. Red Ribbon Week will be actively participated in by the Natchaug River Young Marines, and supported by the Douglas Board of Selectmen.

The proclamation recognizing Red Ribbon Week states that the week is a campaign to show support for ridding communities of illicit drug use and those who traffic and profit from illicit drugs.

Since its beginning in 1985, the Red Ribbon has touched the lives of millions of people around the world. In response to the murder of DEA Agent Enrique Camarena, angered parents and youth in communities across the country began wearing Red Ribbons as a symbol of their commitment to raise awareness of the killing and destruction cause by drugs in America, according to the Red Ribbon campaign website.

Enrique “Kiki” Camarena was a Drug Enforcement Administration Agent who was tortured and killed in Mexico in 1985, the website reads. On Feb. 7, 1985, the 37-year-old Camarena left his office to meet his wife for lunch. Five men appeared at the agent’s side and shoved him in a car. One month later, Camarena’s body was found. He had been tortured to death.

In honor of Camarena’s memory and his battle against ille-

The vote to appoint Sette was by a unanimous vote of the Uxbridge Board of Selectmen and was made subject to successful negotiation of contract.

Sette will succeed the town’s previous Town Manager, Angeline Ellison. A seven member ad hoc Screening Committee worked with the Community Paradigm Associates of Plymouth to screen 35 applicants for the position, according to the town’s statement. Two candidates were interviewed by the Board of Selectmen on Thursday, Sept. 26; the Board of Selectmen then voted unanimously during its Sept. 26 meeting to appoint Sette to the position.

During the meeting, both candidates were asked a series of questions by each member

Local Freemasons warmly welcome public to Open House

Freemason Members of the Seven Southern Worcester County Masonic Lodges will open their Lodge doors to the public on Saturday, Oct. 19, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., for their annual "Open House," a day of offering public information about Freemasonry and its charitable work.

If you've ever wondered who the Freemasons are, what they do, whether they are the descendants of the Knights Templars, or what the inside of their Lodge buildings look like, here's your chance to visit, meet and talk with Massachusetts Masons and learn more.

The seven Masonic Lodges listed below will host their annual Autumn Open House to help the public gain a better understanding of Freemasonry, and the positive impact that it has on its members, their families, and their communities. Members will offer tours of their buildings, discuss the fraternity's history, provide printed information, discuss Masonic rituals, explain what they do, and describe Masonry's many charitable programs.

Freemasonry helps men to be the best possible version of themselves through the practice of Brotherhood, Service, and Integrity. Our Lodges provide opportunities for fellowship, charity, education, and leadership.

"The Open House is a great opportunity for anyone interested in learning more about Freemasonry to meet and talk with Masons in their community, and enjoy a tour of our Masonic Lodges" said James Gonyea, District Deputy Grand Master of Masons in the 24th Massachusetts Masonic District and the presiding officer of more than 1,000 members. Although many have heard of us, very few are aware that for more than 300 years we have been part of an unbroken tradition of great men who have changed our world in big and small ways. Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Thurgood Marshall, and John Glenn, for example, all joined the Masons prior to achieving the greatness we recognize them for. There are countless other great men, whose names are not widely known, that made their families, workplaces, and communities better because they were Masons. I warmly invite the public to join us on Saturday October 19."

The branches are located at:
Olive Branch Lodge – 7 Depot Street – Douglas, MA 01516
Solomon's Temple Lodge – 20 Court Street – Uxbridge, MA 01569
Webster Lodge – 27 Brandes Street –

Webster, MA 01570
Oxford Lodge – 22 Mt. Pleasant Street – Oxford, MA 01540
Quinebaug Lodge – 339 Ashland Ave. – Southbridge, MA 01550
Joel Prouty Lodge – 780 Southbridge Street – Auburn, MA 01501
Rose of Sharon Lodge – 88 Masonic Home Road – Charlton, MA 01507
Freemasons trace their roots to the stonemason guilds that built Europe's cathedrals and castles during the early part of the last millennium. As construction of these buildings declined, they began accepting members from outside their trade. These new members, influenced by the "Age of Enlightenment," transformed the organization from a group for builders to one focused on developing the character of its members. Officially, Freemasonry was founded in London, England in 1717. In 1733 it was formally organized in Massachusetts, making it the oldest Masonic group in the Western Hemisphere and the third oldest in the world. In 2019, Massachusetts Freemasonry celebrates its 286th Anniversary.

Freemasonry, the world's oldest and largest charitable fraternity, seeks to bring together men of every country, religion, race, background, and opinion and develop the bonds of friendship between them.

Uber 911 safety integration now available across all of Massachusetts

Uber today announced that it is rolling out its 911 information sharing program to the entire state of Massachusetts. This means that when a rider or driver uses the in-app emergency button to call 911, key trip details will be automatically sent to 911 dispatchers in an emergency. The product is available in other cities and counties in the United States, but Massachusetts is the first place in the country where it's available statewide.

Uber first introduced the emergency button for all riders and drivers in 2018. The feature shows GPS location and car details (make, model, color, and license plate) in the app so that when a rider or driver taps Uber's emergency button to call 911, they can tell dispatchers that information.

Uber has partnered with RapidSOS to pilot 911 integration with local emergency authorities. This technology allows the rider or driver's exact location (even as the car is moving) and car make/model, color and license plate number to be sent to the 911 center electronically. The feature was made available in Boston and Springfield in September 2018 and in Cambridge in February 2019.

"Safety is at the heart of everything we do, and we believe technology can help make the roads safer than ever before. Every second counts in an emergency, and we want to make sure our users get help quickly with accurate information if faced with an emergency situation," said Chad Dobbs, Head of Rides for Uber in Massachusetts.

"I am happy to see that this 911 enhancement has been expanded to our community and throughout the state. With many of our residents, young adults and college students using Uber to get in and out of the city, anything we can utilize to make it safer is a benefit to all," said Michael Lawn, Chief of the Watertown Police Department.

"Our mission is to connect the world to public safety to get the fastest and most appropriate care possible to an emergency incident," said Jeff Robertson, SVP & GM of Public Safety at RapidSOS. "We are excited to expand our partnership with Uber to the state of Massachusetts, connecting life-saving data from riders and drivers to all 911 centers across the state."

Rallying for the future

WORCESTER — Several hundred area residents joined millions of other people in hundreds of world cities on Friday, Sept. 20, rallying to urge leaders to take the climate crisis seriously.

In Worcester, the City Council became one of the few municipal governments so far to approve a “Climate Emergency” resolution pledging to become carbon neutral by 2030, among other things.

The concept, and countless protests worldwide, are being spurred by growing concern over scientific reports from the International Panel on Climate Change and other bodies projecting increasingly dire consequences if the climate continues to warm. Largely due to growing concentrations of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere (primarily carbon dioxide and methane, both of which are significantly higher today than they were a century ago), scientists argue we’re seeing more severe storms, more erratic weather patterns, desertification in some areas, and an overall increase in global temperature. That temperature varies greatly by region; in some, like the Arctic, it’s rising very rapidly; in others, it may even be cooling.

According to data from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration website, the global average is now 0.79 deg C (1.42 deg F) above the 20th-century average, with almost all of that warming happening since 1980. Projections for the future range greatly, largely dependent on whether atmospheric carbon keeps growing, levels off or declines. The best IPCC model (RCP 2.6) shows a roughly stable temperature slightly above that of the present through 2300. The worst (RCP 8.5) projects an increase that ranges from 3 deg C to more than 12 deg C above present by 2300. The wide range is in part because scientists do not yet have a good handle on numerous natural feedback loops that might be triggered by such events as melting permafrost and sea ice or ocean acidification.

Worcester’s event was organized by Climate Strike Worcester, a coalition of several regional environmental groups. Participants primarily came from four Worcester colleges — Holy Cross, Worcester State, WPI and Clark — in marches to the City Hall rally site from WPI and Clark. Several older residents (one dressed like Greta Thunberg) and younger children were also involved, as were representatives of the state’s Green-Rainbow Party, Socialist Alternative and Extinction Rebellion. One counter-protestor carrying a “useful idiots” sign also walked by the peaceful crowd.

Youth deer hunt passes, while pheasant hunting approaches

• • • • •
TRUE

This past Saturday the one day youth deer hunt was held in Massachusetts. The annual event allows a young hunter 12-17 to hunt deer with a licensed adult hunter, with a special permit from Mass. Fish & Wildlife. They can hunt with a bow or a shotgun. This past Saturday young Tyler was hoping for another harvested deer with his bow, no report as of this deadline.

This week's picture shows Tyler with his first doe he harvested with his dad a few years ago using his shotgun. Upland bird hunters in Mass. are gearing up for the Oct. 19 opening of pheasant hunting. A few clubs received their Pheasant from Mass. Fish & Wildlife a number of weeks ago, and the results of their success in raising the pheasant are great this year. The clubs that raise pheasant from the state are required to stock the birds in open covers that are accessible to all Mass. licensed hunters.

Concerned local bird hunters are worried about West Hill in Uxbridge being stocked this year with pheasant because of a dispute with an abutting land owner, which has shut down access to a section of the West Hill. There should not be a problem, as the access to the site can be made at the Dam area on Hartford Ave.! It was used for years prior to the shut-down for access to the hunting site and hopefully it will be used this year if no changes or settlements are made with the abutting landowner. Unfortunately, hunters will have a longer walk to the hunting areas, as they will need to park at the parking lot off of Hartford Ave. Stay Tuned!

Hunting open covers in October will no longer offer great hunting for Woodcock and Grouse locally because of the near extinction of grouse in the valley, and the low populations of woodcock in the area due to lost habitat. The word upland bird hunting is rarely used by this writer, because of the loss of these two great game birds in the valley area. Areas in other parts of the state also no longer have the woodcock and grouse populations they once had, but are not in as bad a shape as were are.

Flights of woodcock do provide some limited shooting if you are in the right place at the right time. Owning a good pointing bird dog can provide some fast shooting on these birds that are often called timber doodles. When the woodcock flush they often rise straight up, giving the hunter a somewhat easy shot. The whistle of the bird when they take flight is a great sound, and gives the hunting a slight edge in making a good shot. Numerous bird dogs do not like the taste of woodcock in their mouth as they have a livery taste, but other dogs are not bothered by the taste. Woodcock are great table fare if they are prepared correctly, and it takes quite a few birds to make a meal for the family. People that cook with numerous wines make the taste of the bird a lot sweeter, while grouse do not need any special dressings or preparation.

The Salmon River continues to give up some impressive Coho salmon for anglers that are fishing there now. They had a good dose of rain last week in the area, and that is good news, helping to move the fish upstream.

Fish stocks of some species in the saltwater are being devastated by Cormorants and seals. These protected species are causing serious damage to our winter flounder populations, especially in Rhode Island waters. The winter flounder fishing is nearly non-existent in the Narragansett Bay area for years now because of cormorants. In past years I have watched these birds eat hundreds of the recently hatched winter flounder in Rhode Island waters.

Seals eat massive amounts of fish daily and their populations continue to rise annually also. Something needs to be done soon. The commercial fishermen cannot be all to blame for our dwindling fish stocks in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Numerous attacks by sharks are also becoming more frequent because of the out of control of seal populations. There should be some type of control of these two species.

and into the community and give to the community in ways that impassion each of them," said Daley. "Some ways that we choose to give to our community are by donating needed items to the senior center, providing lunch to our first responders, buying haircuts for random members of the community, handing out gift cards at Shaw's, and the list goes on and on."

Daley added that in Whitinsville, the giving is driven by what the bank's staff members are impassioned by — as far as Northbridge Elementary School, two of the organization's associates knew of the struggle that teachers have when it comes to supplies and the need to spend their own money to stock classrooms, he said.

"When we had our branch meeting about Random Acts of Kindness week, the two associates brought that need to the table. We chose Northbridge Elementary based on its proximity to the branch," said Daley.

Donated items included paper towels, tissues, crayons, dry erase markers, pencils and colored pencils, hand sanitizer, Play-Doh, paint brushes, glue sticks, and more.

"UniBank, as a company, prioritizes giving back to the communities that we serve. If we help our communities, we all are better for it," added Daley.

Next year, UniBank will celebrate 150 years of giving back to the local communities that they serve.

NURSING

Practical Nursing program was established in 2009 to help men and women make the leap into career pathways in nursing. To accommodate non-traditional students who are balancing personal and professional commitments; the program utilizes a non-traditional schedule: classes meet for six hours per night on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays and one weekend per month. The program is completed in three 20-week terms for a total of 60 weeks in the program.

The graduates of the program have maintained stellar success on the NCLEX-PN exam for Practical Nurses, and they have gone on to have rewarding careers in the healthcare industry. A recent graduate said, "I strongly recommend this program for the amazing job they do in preparing you for the real world of nursing."

"This year marks our programs tenth anniversary. We are proud of our graduates and the continued success of our program in maintaining high standards in practical nursing education and meeting the needs of the health care industry and our community," said Practical Nursing Coordinator Joann Monks, MBA, MSc, RN-BC, RMA. "This is a tribute to the dedication and hard work from the faculty, staff, and our students," of the Board. For Sette, the Board first asked what immediate needs he feels Uxbridge would require and what makes him a good fit for the position.

Sette said he believes that residents of the town need to have confidence in the Town Manager position again, adding that the town needs a face to be "available and accessible" when they need it.

Sette said he believes in building relationships with people in town and with department heads.

He said in his previous roles, he also worked closely with the Superintendent of Schools and the School Committee. Sette added that he believes there are tremendous opportunities for growth in Uxbridge.

After being asked how he would be a good fit for the town, Sette replied that he has an ability to connect with people and has an open-door policy. He takes the time to talk with people and build relationships, he added.

Before voting, the Board discussed not only who was qualified for the position, but who would be a good fit as far as the demeanor, professional dynamics, and character of the town.

Midstate Trail to host ultramarathon Oct. 12-13

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — For long distance hikers, downtown Oxford is notable for something most other people wouldn’t notice. It’s the lowest point on the Midstate Trail.

That will become a factor later this month when the first Midstate Massive Ultra trail race comes through town Oct. 12 and 13. Instead of the slow pace of hikers, people might (depending on what time it is) see up to 100 runners following the trail from the New Hampshire border to its end in Douglas State Forest.

“This is just a spectacular resource in our backyard and almost nobody knows about it,” said race organizer Rich Mazzola.

This is his first time organizing an ultramarathon — a two-day race over the peaks, valleys, steep ledges and lowlands of the Midstate Trail. It will have three starting points: Windblown Ski Area in New Hampshire for those seeking to do the whole distance (about 100 miles), Rutland’s Long Pond for those doing half, and Bay Path for those doing 30 miles. The longer two actually run through the night of Oct. 12, while the third route is a daytime run Oct. 13.

Unlike most marathons, there won’t be water stops every mile or so, just at 16 set locations which vary from 3.7 to 8.7 miles apart.

“To do this, you need to readjust how you take in water and nutrition,”

Mazzola said, describing trail running as “a different dynamic” than a road race. “You need to get your joints flexible enough to accommodate an uneven running surface. They’re not running it terribly quickly. You can go at your own pace completely.”

Mazzola said he expects around 100 runners total.

“We are prepared to be able to handle most weather situations so we can provide a safe event for all participants. However, we do require the support of state and local officials to conduct this race safely and will only do so with their continued approval,” the race handbook states. “... If a significant event were to occur on or near race weekend and state and/or local authorities deem it unsafe for us to hold the event, we will be obligated to cancel the event.”

The potential impact worries Midstate Trail Committee chair Kimball Simpson, who notes much of the trail’s length is on private property where many of the owners had agreed to open it to hikers with “handshake agreements.” He said his committee “didn’t want to be involved in it in any way,” but if Mazzola has secured owners’ permission, they won’t interfere.

“The impact of lots of footsteps on the trail and lights at night could be upsetting to landowners, but I believe they’ve been notified, so that’s not an issue,” Simpson said. “I wouldn’t want to be running the trail with a headlamp in the middle of the night.”

He also expressed concern about potential impact on wet areas along the trail, noting a lot of people “could cause them to expand. That would be a real issue.”

Mazzola said he’s been reaching out to the various owners, adding signs and, in some cases, rerouting the race. He’s run some of it, while his friend and co-organizer Andy Marx has run about 75 miles of it. The handbook notes the route has been revised “to avoid sensitive areas as designated by the Midstate Trail [Committee].”

“The trail itself is very, very well marked, but it’s not marked from the perspective of a runner,” Mazzola said. While hikers are willing take a little time to find where the route turns or crosses a road, runners tend to be impatient and “we don’t want anyone to get lost,” he said.

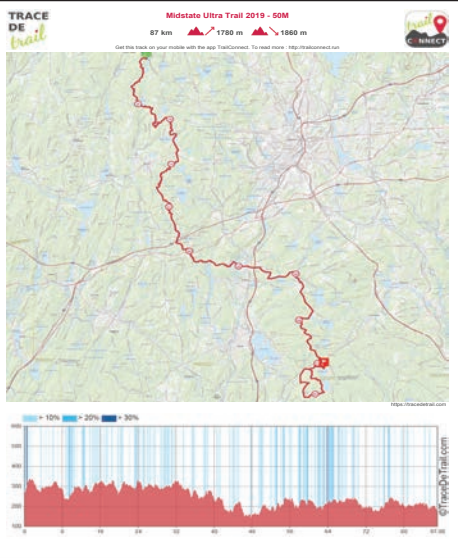

So he’s traveling its length and adding reflective signs at all intersections.

One thing he said he didn’t expect to be an issue was wild animals.

“That kinda goes with the territory. It’s never been a problem,” he said. “We’re making noise, running the trail, have lights and are not trying to be quiet.”

Mazzola said he’s seeking volunteer groups “of all shapes and sizes” to staff the 16 aid stations along the route. Those who do will get donations. Sign-ups to race close Oct. 7 or when they sell out. Those interested in volunteering should email Carol at volunteers@newenglandraceevents.com.

gal drugs, friends and neighbors began to wear red badges of satin; parents, sick of the destruction of alcohol and other drugs, had begun forming coalitions. Some of these new coalitions took Camarena as their model and embraced his belief that one person can make a difference, the Red Ribbon campaign continues. These coalitions also adopted the symbol of Camarena’s memory — the red ribbon.

In 1988, National Family Partnership sponsored the first National Red Ribbon Celebration. Today, the Red Ribbon serves as a catalyst to mobilize communities to educate youth and encourage participation in drug prevention activities. Since that time, the campaign has reached millions of children and families nationwide.

Locally, the young marine program promotes good citizenship and healthy lifestyle through education and awareness; the best way to educate is to lead by example, the town proclamation continues.

“The Natchaug River Young Marines should be recognized as an outstanding opportunity for our local youth and for their continuing efforts to educate and promote a healthy drug-free lifestyle,” the proclamation states.

Residents of the town are encouraged to wear a red ribbon during Red Ribbon Week to show support for the Young Marine program and its mission.

Felix and Felixiano are brothers of Caucasian and Hispanic descent. They are very close and play well together. Felix describes himself as a caring, friendly, funny boy who likes karate and is a good sharer. He loves to eat and will try almost anything, including vegetables! Felix identified basketball as his greatest talent and when he grows up he wants to be a teacher or a firefighter. He is communicative, outgoing and likes to ask questions so that he knows what is going on around him. Felix enjoys school, and has a strong desire to learn. He particularly enjoys math.

Felixiano describes himself as a boy who does the right thing and likes to play catch with his friends. Felixiano also enjoys playing basketball, video games, giving hugs, superheroes, cooking and playing outside. His favorite color is red and his favorite food is pancakes. When asked what he wants to be when he grows up, he said to be a teenager. Others who know Felixiano say that he is a playful and curious boy who is eager to please, and is both endearing and imaginative. Felixiano is very smart and performs well in school. His teacher reports he is helpful in the classroom and gets along well with the other students.

Legally freed for adoption, Felix and Felixiano can be placed in a home of any constellation, with or without other children. Any prospective family must be open to maintaining relationships with the boys’ siblings and biological parents.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have “a permanent place to call HOME.”

Don't give in to the winter blues

So often, people strive to become happier by doing this, or obtaining that; however, sometimes it's what we give up that makes us more content. With the fast drop in temperatures, down into the 30's, we know winter is coming. With this, we want everyone to enjoy the changing leaves, fall sunflowers and all things pumpkin.

For many out there, winter is a dreaded season. It's not so much the snow as it is the frigid temperatures and high cost of fuel. We happen to enjoy the fall and winter seasons ourselves, but for those who are having glum feelings about the colder weather, or even for those who love all weather, we have some tips on some things you can toss, to create more happiness in your world.

One thing you can say "be gone" to is the idea that you have to always have a positive outlook on any given situation. If you try to avoid negative feelings all of the time, you're not creating a healthy space for when you are truly happy. If you need to vent, do it. If you're upset and need to cry into a bowl of ice cream, have at it. It is your overall life satisfaction that matters.

Minimize your time on social media. Remember the days when you didn't know what your friends, family or even celebrities were doing every second of the day? Those were blissful times. The only way we knew what someone was up to was to pick up the phone, wait for the dial tone, and make that call. We're not sure we ever inquired about what our friends were eating. All of that unnecessary knowledge is overwhelming at times, and simply put, unnecessary.

One study showed that the more time people spend on social media, the more depressed they are. When we spend too much time online we know that we are wasting time. The idea of wasting time can inflict a feeling of depression on anyone who is typically highly motivated and energetic. Documenting every aspect of your life can be exhausting and takes away from the actual experience. If you order a rack of lamb, just enjoy every bit of it without feeling the need to share it with the world. Your experiences will be more fulfilling overall.

Don't compare yourself to others. We love the phrase "No one is you, and that is your power." People have been comparing themselves to others since the dawn of time. The idea of keeping up with the Joneses is outdated. Don't do that. Love the idea that the person sitting next to you or walking down the street is nothing like you.

Keep like minded company. If you have friends who are Eeyore like or always seem to be complaining, less is more. We don't have time in our precious lives to listen to chronic complaining. At the end of your life, do you want to think to yourself, "Wow I spent so much time listening to people complain?" We're guessing you don't.

Have realistic goals. If you start with lower expectations and grow from there your success rate in reaching your higher goals will be greater and less stressful to obtain.

Forgive others. This one is extremely hard. However, forgiving those who have hurt you is key to feeling relaxed and happy.

Eating too much sugar can lead to depression. Balance in your meals has been scientifically proven to make people happier. More vegetables, more fiber and less processed food.

Opt to spend your money on experiences rather than things. Experts say the satisfaction of an experience will last much longer.

Lastly, choose good posture. While sitting up you automatically feel more energetic and positive. Slouching can lead to feel nervous, sleepy, sluggish and fearful.

A quote by Jim Rohn sums it up, we think: "Happiness is not something you postpone for the future; it is something you design for the present."

Opinion and commentary from the Blackstone Valley and beyond

If it were easy, would everyone really be doing it?

I find it fascinating how the most successful people I know are rarely the most talented. It doesn't matter ... whether it's business, inter-personal relationships, the arts, sports ... the people who achieve the greatest heights all share a single quality that propels them above others. It's not talent, intelligence or luck. It's not knowing the right people or being in the right place at the right time. What is it that the successful have that others do not?

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

or ability, that belief drives your success. If you don't believe, sell yourself! Face it, if you think you don't have a chance, why would you try?

It's rarely the most talented that achieve the pinnacle of success. Of course, talent matters, but ability is something that can be achieved through dogged determination. Sticking with your dream and driving to greater heights through practice, study and a passionate drive that always ask the question: If others can reach the top and achieve their dreams, why not me?

My dad had a simple statement that is applicable. If I were to ask him why most people don't succeed, he'd respond, "It's easier not to ..." Apply that as the answer to almost any question.

Why aren't you disciplined? It's easier not to be.

Why weren't you on time? It's easier not to be.

Why didn't you stay and work on your marriage? It's easier not to work on it.

Why won't you quit smoking? It's easier not to quit.

Why aren't you a good student? It's easier not to get good grades.

Why didn't you get that promotion? It's easier not to get it.

Why are you not financially successful? It's easier not to be.

Why didn't you finish that book you were writing? It's easier not to finish.

Apply that answer to almost any question of success or achievement and it is almost always true. It is easier not to succeed. Success takes persistent hard work. It takes the attitude that screams that you will not be denied the success you desire. It requires that dogged persistence that says, yes, it's easier to quit, but you are willing to stick to the task at hand and pay the price for success. As the old adage proclaims, "If it were easy, everyone would be doing it!"

The truth is, if you dig in and not quit, you will find the only resistance is you. If you chisel away the resistance, you will find a clearer path to your success.

Take the road less traveled. The vast majority will always say, "It's easier not to." In a world dominated by those unwilling to pay the price, success is there for the taking for those who do.

It's never too late.

Why not you?

How to become a long-term investor

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

It's a fairly predictable pattern: When the stock market rises, more people invest, but after a large-scale drop, many of these same people head for the exits. But by staying out of the financial markets, and only putting their money in "safe" vehicles that offer few or no growth prospects, are they really helping themselves? Here's the bottom line: If you're going to make progress toward your long-term goals, you have to become a long-term investor. But how?

To begin with, you need to understand that long-term investing involves accepting inevitable short-term price swings. You may not like seeing those sharp price drops, but it will help your outlook greatly if you can keep them in perspective. Studies have shown that the longer you hold your investments, the less impact market volatility can have on them.

So, to reach that point where the market's ups and downs have less of a cumulative impact on your holdings, consider the following actions:

Only invest money you won't need for a long time. If you can tell yourself that the money you are investing today is money you won't really need for 20 or 30 years, you'll be better prepared, psychologically, to get through the down periods of the financial markets. And as long as you aren't overextending yourself financially in other parts of your life, you really shouldn't need those investment dollars for a very long time. They should be earmarked for goals you hope to achieve far into the future, such as a comfortable retirement.

Keep your focus on what is most important to you. If you can visualize your long-term goals, you'll find it easier to keep working toward them. For example, if you are hoping to travel extensively when you retire, keep thinking about what that might look like. You might even research the countries you plan to visit, even if these trips are far in the future. Ultimately, if you know where you're going and you're determined to get there, you'll get past the bumps in the road.

Don't spend excessive time reviewing your investment statements. A bad month or two can cause some noticeably negative numbers on your investment statements. But if you can discipline yourself to avoid spending too much time dwelling on these figures, you may feel less stress about investing – and you may even be less tempted to make short-term moves that could have unfortunate long-term results. However, if you do want to study your investment statements, don't just stop at the most recent results. Instead, look for trends that might tell a different story. Has the number of shares you own in various investments increased significantly over time? And over the past five or 10 years, has your portfolio's overall performance been positive? By digging a little deeper into your statements, you might gain more confidence in the course you're following.

Short-term price drops are not pleasant to experience. However, you can help yourself become a better long-term investor by following the above suggestions, so put them to work soon – and stick with them.

Rams, ‘playing better every game,’ ultimately tie Auburn

Hannah Lomonaco of Northbridge (11) celebrates with Ally Boucher after scoring the go-ahead goal versus Auburn.

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

NORTHBRIDGE — When Hannah Lomonaco scored in the 73rd minute to give the Northbridge High girls’ varsity soccer team a 2-1 lead over Auburn High on Monday, Sept. 30, it appeared as if the Rams were destined to grab their second victory of the season. But, in the final minute, the Rockets’ Emily Turcotte scored her second goal of the game to draw even, 2-2, and keep Auburn’s unbeaten streak alive. And while neither side was thrilled with the tie, both teams will take the positives from the outcome. “We’re totally proud of our effort,” said Northbridge head coach Kristin Strazzulla. “It’s just heartbreaking because of all the work that went into the 80 minutes. They continue to get better every game.” “I think in the second half our effort definitely improved,” said Auburn head coach Emily Para, whose team trailed at the half, 1-0. “We can’t go into games thinking that we’re going to win.” The Rams struck first in the 10th minute when Lily Modica worked the ball down the right sideline and into a scoring area. She then sent a centering pass over to Ally Boucher, whose shot left her foot like a laser beam, and it found the upper portion of the net. “She was up and down that sideline all game,” Strazzulla said of Modica’s work to set up the goal. “She just works and works and works and does not stop.” With a few minutes remaining in the half, a timeout was called. There, Para let her team know that they could and should be playing better. The message was well received, as the Rockets scored just six minutes into the second half. Turcotte was in the right place at the right time when the ball ricocheted off a Northbridge defender and right to her. Turcotte’s shot then got past keeper Hannah Direnzo for the equalizer. Then, in the 73rd minute, Lomonaco made a huge defensive stop for the Rams. She wasn’t done there, though, as she kept control of the ball, dribbled past an Auburn midfielder, outraced a Rocket defender and launched a 25-yard shot up and over keeper Alyssa Wright and into the goal. “She sat in the back all game...and then found her moment,” Strazzulla said of Lomonaco’s play. “We’ve been trying to put her in the mid-field, but when we play a team that has some speed up top, we sit her back. When she sees that moment, away she goes.” Turcotte, again, was then in the perfect spot in the final minute to salvage her team the tie. Emily Flaherty sent a 40-yard boom of a kick from just inside the midfield line down to Turcotte, who adjusted her body to make sure her shoulder made contact with the ball. It then slowly rolled into the back of the net. “I moved Turcotte, our center-midfielder, up because she’s just a hustler,” Para said of the second half adjustment that paid ultimate dividends. “I’m glad that she got those two goals.” On that second goal, Para said, “She [Flaherty] looked, she saw her [Turcotte], and it was a great ball. She threw her body into it and it was just enough to roll in. We were very lucky, but we’ll take the tie.” Auburn is now 6-2-1 at the season’s midpoint and hasn’t lost in seven games. “We’re in a good place. Sitting at 0-2, it’s hard to coach the morale of the team knowing that we’re better, but I was happy that we’ve turned it around and have had a good streak,” said Para. Northbridge, meanwhile, is only 1-7-1, but they play harder and better than their record indicates. “The thing I like about these girls is they don’t look at the record and say they stink. They look at it and say, ‘we’re getting better every game,’” said Strazzulla. “It’s my first year with this program and you always want a winning record, but we have learned to look for the wins in every game. At first we put together 20 minutes and today I really feel like we put together 80 minutes of soccer.”

Back on Lasell Field, Northbridge football hosts Grafton on Homecoming

NORTHBRIDGE — Even though field turf should be installed on Lasell Field in time for next fall’s high school sports season — that is the tentative plan, at least — there were still extensive measures taken this spring and summer to make the grass was playable for some games this year. According to Northbridge High

Athletic Director Jeff Kozik, all four of the Rams’ varsity football team’s home games will be played at Lasell, as well as select games in the other fall sports. And on Saturday, Sept. 28, Lasell hosted Homecoming for the girls’ and boys’ soccer teams, as well as the football squad. In the football game, versus Grafton High, it was a tight affair. In the end, though, the Indians (who held a 7-6 halftime lead) held on for a 15-14 victory to improve to 1-2. Northbridge is also now 1-2. Before the game started, Northbridge athletics honored head football coach Ken LaChapelle for his 50 years of coaching at the school. In that time he has accumulated a record of 363-115-6. The 363 victories are a Massachusetts state record.

Uxbridge’s defense causes five turnovers to get past Pirates

UXBRIDGE — The Uxbridge High varsity football team's defense has carried the Spartans to wins versus North High (14-6) and Burncoat High (24-0) to start the season, and their D did it again when facing Oxford High on Homecoming Saturday, Sept. 28. Uxbridge pounced on four Pirates' fumbles and came away with a pick-six touchdown late en route to a 28-12 victory.

"The defense has been carrying us all year," said Jeff Stewart, the Spartans' first-year head coach after 10 years in the program. "Third week in a row the defense has scored a touchdown."

For Oxford, head coach Jeff Clarkson said that the struggles began a week ago during a 38-14 victory versus North High when they played a poor second half of football.

"Last week we came out like gang-busters against North High School, but in the second half we just got sloppy," said Clarkson. "We never righted the wrongs and it seems like it rolled into this week. We just couldn't bounce back. It's gameday practice yesterday and we're still going over assignments. Hopefully we can bounce back."

After a scoreless first quarter of play, Uxbridge got on the board first early in the second. Quarterback Matthew Stark, a senior co-captain, rolled out to his left and threw a pass to junior Rory Paul, who juiced past a defender and found his way into the end zone, good for a 33-yard score. Junior Brendan Thompson then tacked on the extra point to make it 7-0.

Thompson (12 carries, 67 yards) did the scoring on the next Spartans' possession, booting a 27-yard field goal through the uprights to up the lead to 10-0 four minutes before halftime.

Then, following Uxbridge's first defensive takeaway on an Oxford rushing play that resulted in a fumble, Stark finished the first half by calling his own number and scampering 36 yards to pay dirt for the TD and 16-0 lead.

"Matthew Stark took the game in the first half. Senior captain, extremely intelligent, does the right things — he's making his reads. He's making the call," Stewart said of Stark (3 for 6, 75 yards, TD; 9 carries, 51 yards, TD) either passing the ball or deciding to take off and run.

Stewart was quick to mention the other senior co-captains — Eli Roerden (offensive guard, defensive end) and Lucas Maietta (offensive guard and defensive tackle) — who work well in the trenches and allow Stark the time to make his reads.

"We're blessed with three senior captains that are leaders. We have a young, young team, but we've got three senior captains that show us the way every week. They're high character leaders," said Stewart.

Uxbridge extended the lead late in the third quarter following another Pirates' fumble. Thompson finished the drive with a 1-yard scoring plunge up the middle.

Oxford then got on the board with 8:40 to play when junior Sam Wing blocked a Spartans' punt in the end zone and junior Robert Nieves caught the ball for the touchdown, cutting the deficit down to 22-6.

And the Pirates' defense came away with a turnover, recovering a fumble, they tried to mount a comeback. But junior quarterback Devin Audette threw an interception to junior Shane Fowler, who took the pick 80 yards for the score.

"He's playing some awesome cornerback for us," Stewart said of Fowler, a first-year football player.

Wing (17 carries, 151 yards) then scored on a 6-yard run for Oxford in the final minute to conclude the scoring at 28-12.

"Their fate's in their hands," Clarkson said of his now 2-1 team. "We have a lot to fight for, a long season left."

The Spartans remained unbeaten at 3-0.

Spartans sweep Homecoming Weekend

Not only did the Uxbridge High varsity football team defeat Oxford High, 28-12, but all of the Spartans' other varsity teams also won on Homecoming.

The results are below:

Field Hockey — Uxbridge 4, Holy Name 1

Sarah Johnston opened up the scoring one minute into the game with an assist from senior Madison Ouellette. The next goal came with seven minutes left in the half off a corner play, senior Katelyn Jones assisting on a goal by Chloe Kaeller. In the second half Meghan Smith scored off a pass from Jones and one minute later Kaeller scored again off a pass from Ouellette.

LEICESTER — For nearly 74 minutes of game action, Community Field didn't yield a goal when the Uxbridge High boys' varsity soccer team visited Leicester High's home pitch on Wednesday, Sept. 25.

Then, with the game winding down, both sides found the back of the net for a thrilling 1-1 draw. And although both teams would have preferred a victory, the dramatic tie was a solid result.

"I thought that they played very well," said Spartans' head coach Bruce Chartier. "This was our best game so far and they started piecing things together. [Leicester] is a pretty good mid-level team we played, so I'm very happy with the result. Obviously I would have rather had the win, but..."

"We've seen glimpses of what we can be and one of our captains just said, 'this needs to be a turning point' because we can still get to Districts and if we play our game there aren't many teams left on the schedule that can beat us," said Trevor Berg, head coach of the Wolverines.

Uxbridge struck first in the 74th minute via a corner kick. There, senior Tyler Washington serviced the ball into the box. After bouncing around a little bit, the ball found the foot of senior Bretton Knapik, who delivered a strike past Leicester senior keeper Dylan Modig (10 saves) and into the back of the net.

"You get the ball in front and any touch you can on net is what you're looking for," Chartier said of Knapik's goal.

Berg noted that his team may have put their collective heads down for a moment, only to realize that time was of the essence as the clock ticked downward. Then, with 10 seconds to play, they delivered the equalizer.

Handling the ball down the right side of the field, sophomore Jack O'Leary made a cross to the left. Junior Ben Granville was there to head the ball back to the right side, which slid past Spartans'

"O'Leary, he got it on the sideline and sent a beautiful cross in. Granville did what we have been trying to get them to do, which is crash the net, follow the play and don't give up," Berg said of the scoring play.

The tie produced the first point of the season for Uxbridge (0-5-1) in Chartier's first season as head coach, as he said his team will continue to compete.

"That's what we're looking for," he said.

Leicester is now 3-4-1 as they hope to play .500 soccer and qualify for the Central Mass. Division 4 Tournament. Berg noted that the Wolverines led Division 1 Grafton High at the half, 1-0, and produced a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over Burncoat High, another D1 squad, so the potential is there.

FOOD

Match food to your favorite brews

The rise of craft and home brewing has created more beer flavor profiles than ever before. In fact, there's likely a beer for everyone, whether you're a novice or connoisseur.

The Brewer's Association, a trade association that represents small and independent American craft brewers, reports that, in 2018, small and independent brewers collectively produced 25.9 million barrels and experienced a 4 percent total market growth. The BA also states that these small brewers achieved a collective retail dollar take-in of $27.6 billion.

While wine will always have its enthusiasts, beer is fast on its heels as a popular mealtime beverage. Much in the way wines are paired with certain foods, it has become the natural course of action to pair certain foods with particular styles of beer.

"Beer is a great match for food because of the complexity of its flavors, its ability to provide refreshment and to interact with many food flavors," says Marc Stroobandt, a master beer sommelier for the Food and Beer Consultancy, UK.

Although each person has his or her preferences, here is a brief listing of generalized pairings, courtesy of the Brewer's Association and CraftBeer.com.

- American Amber Lager: Creamy risotto, wild rice, polenta
- American Pale Ale: Game birds, such as duck and quail
- Belgian-style Dubbel: Pork chops, sausage, tenderloin
- Belgian-style Flanders: Grilled rib-eye, root vegetables
- Blonde Ale: Chicken, salads, salmon, nutty cheese
- Dark Lager: Barbecue, sausage, roasted meat
- Hefeweizen: Weisswurst, seafood, sushi
- Imperial Stout: Smoked goose, foie gras, strong cheeses
- IPA: Spicy foods, curries
- Porter: Roasted or smoked foods, blackened fish

The Brewer's Association recommends matching delicate dishes with delicate beers and strong dishes with assertive beers. Commonalities, like aromas and sub-flavors, also work together. A beer with roasted notes may pair well with chocolate, for example. Opposites also attract, in that a spicy food may taste best when paired with a sweet beer.

Pairing might once have been limited to matching wines with certain foods. But the booming craft beer business has popularized pairing flavorful beers with foods to make meals even tastier.

What to know about food portions Portion control is a big part of a healthy diet. In fact, the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases notes that, when it comes to maintaining a healthy weight, how much food a person eats is just as important as what he or she eats.

No two people are the same, so a portion that's satisfying and healthy for one person won't necessarily be the same for another person. Answering some common questions about food portions can help people understand this vital component of a healthy lifestyle.

What is the difference between portions and servings?

The NIDDK notes that a portion is how much food a person chooses to eat at one time, while a serving size is the amount of food listed on the Nutrition Facts label. The portions a person eats may or may not match a serving size. That's because a healthy portion size is typically based on various factors, such as age, weight and gender, unique to individuals.

Should calories come into play when determining healthy portion sizes?

Calories definitely merit consideration when determining healthy portion sizes. However, the amount of calories a person needs is based on a number of factors, including how physically active that person is. The NIDDK notes that a 150-pound woman who exercises vigorously throughout the week will need more calories than a woman about the same size who is not as physically active. When trying to determine their calorie needs, men and women should consult with their physicians, who will consider their lifestyle, age, medical history, and other factors before advising patients about how much they should eat.

What if I am still hungry after reducing portion sizes?

It's likely that people accustomed to big portions will still be hungry as their bodies adjust to reduced portion sizes. In such instances, people can try taking more time to eat. Even if there's less food on the plate, eating slowly gives the brain a chance to receive the message that the stomach is full. According to the NIDDK, it can take as long as 15 minutes for that message to make its way to the brain. Eating slowly reduces the risk of overeating, and you may even be surprised to learn that a smaller portion size than you're used to is all you really need to feel satisfied.

Vegetarian-friendly foods high in protein

People choose a vegetarian lifestyle for a number of reasons. Some individuals have an aversion to eating meat because they're concerned about animal welfare, while others find that a low-calorie, vegetarian diet promotes long-term health.

Vegetarianism can certainly be a healthy option, but those who eschew meat and sometimes eggs often have to find alternative sources of protein to meet dietary needs. According to the Dietary Reference Intakes, the average sedentary man should have 56 grams of protein per day, while an average sedentary woman should consume 46 grams per day. The amount of protein needed will increase if a person is more active, advises Healthline.

Protein helps a person feel fuller, longer, and it is crucial for all cells in the body. Protein is used to build and maintain bones, muscles, skin, and much more. The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics also states that protein is very important as one ages because aging men and women don't absorb or metabolize amino acids, which are the building blocks of protein, as well as they did when they were younger.

Those adhering to vegetarian diets will find there are plenty of non-meat protein sources. Meatless protein sources that offer the biggest health bang for one's buck are "complete proteins," which have the essential amino acids the body requires. Some complete proteins include:

Vegetarians have several non-meat choices to get their recommended protein allowances.

- eggs,
- milk,

- cheese,
- soy, and
- quinoa.

Some other great protein sources may not have all of the amino acids, but they can be paired with other foods to get a fuller nutrient package.

- seitan: This is a meat alternative made from wheat gluten.

- lentils: Lentils pack 18 grams of protein per cooked cup.

- beans: Many forms of beans contain a high amount of protein per serving.

- nutritional yeast: This is a strain of yeast that has a cheesy flavor. It can be sprinkled on foods to add a protein punch.

- ancient grains: Ancient grains include spelt, teff, barley, sorghum, farro, and einkorn. These ancient grains are higher in protein than common grains.

- hemp seeds: These seeds come from hemp, which is in the same family as marijuana. However, hemp will not cause a high because it only has trace amounts of the THC compound that produces that effect. Hemp seeds contain 50 percent more protein than chia seeds and flax seeds, offers Healthline.

In addition to these foods, peanuts and other legumes, almonds, peas, oatmeal, spirulina, broccoli, brussel sprouts, and sweet corn also are good protein sources for vegetarians.

Even though it may seem like skipping meat products would leave vegetarians lacking for protein, there really are quite a number of alternative protein sources out there.

Skewered chicken goes great on the grill

Grilling chicken is an easy way to transform this versatile food into something even more delicious. Various cultures serve chicken in kebab form after grilling it over an open flame, and taste is a big reason this particular method of cooking chicken is so beloved.

While you might not expect to see kebabs on the menu at your favorite Italian restaurant, "spiedini" is Italian for "little skewers," proving that Italian chefs recognize how delicious chicken can be when served in kebab form. In this recipe for "Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde" from "Cooking Light: Dinner's Ready" (Oxmoor House) by The Cooking Light Editors, skewers are paired with a zesty salsa full of nuts, herbs and citrus, which makes for the perfect complement to the smoky grilled flavor.

Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde
Makes 6 servings

- Salsa:
- 1 cup chopped flat parsley
 - 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, toasted
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
 - 3 tablespoons capers, chopped
 - 12 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
 - 12 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme

- 12 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano
- 14 teaspoon kosher salt
- 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 1 garlic clove, minced

- Spiedini:
- 1 1/2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
 - 6 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 1 1/4 pounds)
 - Cooking spray
 - 14 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Soak 12 (10-inch) wooden skewers in water for 30 minutes to prevent burning.

Bring the grill to medium-high heat. To prepare the salsa, combine the first 12 ingredients; set aside.

To prepare the spiedini, thread the chicken and zucchini alternately on each of the 12 skewers. Coat the spiedini with cooking spray; sprinkle evenly with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Place on a grill rack; grill 6 minutes or until done, turning once. Serve with salsa.

Tip: Prepare the salsa up to a day ahead, and assemble the skewers earlier in the day. Coat with the seasonings just before grilling.
