WEBSTER On Friday, Oct. 23, the St. Joseph School Cross Country team completed their inaugural season with a final run at Webster Lake. The group, coached by St. Joseph School Math and Science Instructor Jeffrey Grupposo, began its season when students returned for in-person learning this past September. Typically, the Fall sport at SJS is soccer. However, due to the pandemic, the school had to cancel the soccer

Nevertheless, the St. Joseph School Athletic Program was determined to offer an option to encourage physical activity while complying with the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association (MIAA) and the Massachusetts Department Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) guidelines. Coach Grupposo and Athletic Director Joey Boudreau worked to design a running program that would be competitive, fun, and safe. Knowing that they would not compete against other schools, they wanted to develop a plan so participants could focus on personal three times per week immediately following school dismissal. As the season progressed, Coach Grupposo spent time mapping out trail runs to challenge the young runners. Courses included the Airline State Park Trail, a run to the Tri-State Marker, and Memorial Beach. Surfaces had pavement, dirt, grass, and beach sand. The length of the trail runs ranged from 1.2 miles to three miles. At each trail run, volunteers timed the runners so the students could track their finishes and measure their progress.

Participants on the team include 5th Grade students Rvan Grupposo. Hachigian, Molly Laura Ibrahim, Violet Johnson, Emily Macko,

Senate races, ambulance on Dudley ballot

BY JASON BLEAU CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY - The 2020 Presidential Election is quickly approaching on Tuesday, Nov. 3, but there will be more than just the presidential race on the ballot for the town of Dudley.

While voters will be asked to play a part in determining who will be the next President of the United States, incumbent Republican Donald Trump or Democratic challenger and former Vice President Joe Biden, six other races and three questions will also be presented on the ballot as voters will also determine the new Register of Probate, Senator, Representative, Councilor and state Senator and Representative that will represent Dudley for the next several years. Just below the presidential race on the ballot, which also includes Green-Rainbow Party nominee Howie Hawkins and Libertarian candidate Jo Jorgensen in addition to Trump and Biden, voters will have two choices for Senator in Congress with incumbent Democratic Senator Ed Markey being challenged by Republican Kevin O'Connor. Markey lost the town of Dudley to opponent Joe Kennedy, III during the Democratic primary in September and lost the town of Dudley during the 2013 to his Republican challenger Gabriel Gomez. O'Connor easily defeated Shiva Ayyadurai in Dudley during the Republican primary. Unlike the Senate race, the Representative in Congress race is pretty cut and dry with only Democratic incumbent Richard E. Neal on the ballot.

The races for State Senator and State Representative are pretty similar with the Senate race contested and the Representative race having only the incumbent on the ballot. For State Senate Ryan Fattman is looking to continue his work on Beacon Hill seeking re-election for a second term after his surprise victory over twenty-year incumbent Richard Moore in 2014. He is challenged by Christine Crean from the Democratic party on the ballot. Republican Peter Durant sits alone on the ballot as the incumbent candidate for State

As one of three questions on the Election Day Ballot and the only question specific to Dudley citizens, voters will be asked whether or not they want to exempt from

Dudley FD selling shirts to support local nonprofit

CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY - For the past month the Dudley Fire Department Local Union 4271 has been selling t-shirts to help support breast cancer during Cancer Awareness Month.

The gray shirts include pink logos and lettering featuring the Dudley Fire Department logo and wordmark. It's the first year the union has sold the shirts, and union President Steve Chenard admitted they were inspired to start the program in 2020 after other departments had found success with similar fundraisers in years past.

We decided to do it as the union and kind of try to see how it worked out. Fifty percent of the proceeds from the shirts go towards a cancer foundation and we decided to donate to Why Me, an organization out of Worcester that helps kids that are diagnosed with any type of cancer," Chenard said. Founded in 1985, Why Me is a non-profit created to help Central New England families cope with childhood cancer. The organization is not affiliated with any national organization making it a truly home-grown initiative that has helped children and families overcome cancer battles for more than 30 years. The name Why Me originally started as an acronym for Worcester Help for Youth, Memories Everlasting.

Chenard said that being able to support a local nonprofit in their efforts to battle childhood cancer has been a rewarding mission for the men and women of the union. The department has seen citizens, nurses, and fellow firefighters all turn out to purchase shirts and while the effort hasn't received quite the response the department was hoping for Chenard still considers the fundraiser a success.

"We try to do the right thing and it's tough to come up with different ideas to do something that another department hasn't done. This was a tough one for us to pick on an idea that many other departments have done. As far as picking who we were going to donate to, we knew we wanted to donate locally so we picked something we thought would stick out a bit more. Plus, it's kids, nobody wants to hear that kids have cancer so we're glad to support them whatever way we can," Chenard said.

The efforts of the union also received praise from Dudlev Fire Chief Dean Kochanowski who spoke highly of his staff for coming together for such a great cause.

"I'm proud of my guys for doing this. I think it shows how good they are. We're all unified as a family and I'm just proud of the men for doing this," said the chief.

T-shirts will continue to be available beyond the month of October. They can be purchased at the Dudley Fire Department for $20 with half of the proceeds going to Why Me. Sizes range from small to extra-large. As of this writing department confirmed that XXL sizes had at least temporarily sold out.

Hearing offers insight into Jericho/Brandon Road study

BY JASON BLEAU CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY - The town of Dudley held the first of two public hearings concerning grant-funded infrastructure studies taking place on Jericho and Brandon Roads on Oct. 22, giving some insight into the inevitable needs of those sections of the community. Funded by a Community Development Block Grant, the project includes input and contributions from the Central Massachusetts Regional Planning Commission and Tighe & Bond who have spent the bulk of 2020 studying the needs for two of the oldest and most work down area of the small

Andrew Lowe, who serves as the CMRPC representative helping to administer the project on the town's behalf, presented details of the initiative explaining that the project was first developed in 2018 when Dudley prioritized infrastructure in its Community Development Strategy.

The idea under the Community Development Strategy was to focus our efforts on neighborhoods that have the oldest infrastructure in town and that best fit this particular program's grant criteria. They have to be primarily residential areas. They have to be at least medium density and they have to have a moderate to lower average income level. That's really what brought us to focus on these particular parts of town," Lowe said.

Field surveys were conducted by Tighe and Bond in 2020 with the idea being that the plan resulting from the work will be completed before the end of the winter. Any design or construction projects that come from the surveys would then be in the town's hands to pursue grants other funding mechanisms.

What we'll try to do is come up with five concept designs that will be put together to give us an idea of what the project would look like if it were to get fully designed and give us an idea of what things would cost, the amount of materials that would be needed. That kind of thing," Lowe said. "They'll all be put in the full planning document that compiles everything (Tighe and Bond) worked on and that's going to be the evidence that we can take to these other grant programs to try to get things first designed and then built."

Tight & Bond's survey's included examinations of the water and sewer systems, sidewalks and other public infrastructure as well as limitations created by the design of the streets and placement of properties. Matt Wzorek, Project Manager for Tighe and Bond, clarified that these are not demanded upgrades but rather recommended priorities when the town is ready to pursue making infrastructure improvements in the Jericho and Brandon Road areas.

This was just to compile the findings and then the next phase is to come up with a prioritization list and submit that for grant applications to actually fund the construction and design of those projects. One of the goals is just to put together a plan and then use this plan to submit for future grant funding to make these improvements," Wzorek

The public hearing lasted just under and hour and included input from several citizens who attended in person, several of them voicing their opinions of which parts of town should be prioritized first. A second public hearing will be scheduled once the field work is completed likely taking place in conjunctions with an upcoming meeting of the Board of Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

help support the renovation project planned for the historic Stevens Linen Mill property which is slated to be transformed into a combination of commercial and residential among other possible uses. Camden Partners is the latest company to invest in revitalizing the mill proposing a $40 million initiative at no cost to the town to transform the property into something new while maintaining the historical integrity of the building. The Planning Board recommended approval of the article at the town meeting which would expand the limitations of what would be deemed as "commercial use" for projects within the Mill Conversion Overlay District and allow for a special permitting process for developers to request a waiver from the affordable dwelling unit requirements within the bylaws requiring Planning Board and Board of Selectmen approval. After a roughly 20-minute debate, voters approved the article in a 117 to 23 decision, meeting the two-thirds majority required for passage.

The most contentious articles however were still to come as the final articles of the night sought to change both the Town Clerk and Town Treasurer/Collector positions from elected posts to appointed positions. It took over half an hour, or more than a quarter of the town meeting's entire run time, to resolve these articles which received support from selectmen but not from the voters in attendance.

At the request of a citizen, Board of Selectmen Chair Kerry Cyganiewicz revealed that despite years of the Town Clerk position being elected it was the clerk herself who requested the change

"She requested to become appointed. Town Council has requested that we got this route because a number of communities have been doing this - If someone is elected the only requirement for the position is that they're a registered voter or possibly a resident. This would put a little more requirements as far as who can do the job. This isn't to get rid of anybody. That's not the intention," Cyganiewicz said.

Resident Richard Raymond said he felt like the message being sent was that town officials didn't trust the voters to elect the proper people.

"It's almost like with this article you're not trusting us to elect the people we have elected over the years. I'm a little concerned with appointments because it's a very narrow scope. I understand you're concern about qualifications, but don't we as a whole group when we elect people have to deal with that as well? I'm very concerned about giving up the right the vote on elected positions," Raymond said.

Raymond's concerns were echoed by others as the discussion progressed. In the end voters decided against the article in a 74-48 vote.

Other decisions made on the night included spending or allocating the bulk of the towns free cash with $60,000 appropriated for road maintenance, $48,900 put towards salaries for patrolmen, $34,422 allocated for insurance, $30,000 approved for firefighter expenses and $100,000 being transferred to the capital improvement savings account. The Water-Sewer Commission received approval to purchase a pickup truck and plow. Voters in attendance also granted the town administrator's request to dedicate half of all revenue from Cannabis Host Community Agreements as well as revenue from solar farm leases to capital improvement. Speaking of solar farms, selectmen also received approval from voters to enter into a payment in lieu of taxes agreement as part of a solar array installation being installed at the Indian Road former landfill lot. Finally, selectmen received authorization from voters to petition the state for a special act that will permit the town administrator to sign for payment of payroll and bills on the Board of Selectmen's behalf.

DUDLEY POLICE REPORT SUCCESSFUL DRUG TAKE BACK EVENT

On Saturday, Oct. 24, the Dudley Police Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) conducted another prescription drug "Take Back" event. For the 16th time in Dudley, the public had the opportunity to provide for safe disposal of expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs. The service was free and anonymous. This was a well-attended event. More than 20 people dropped off a large quantity of prescription medications. A total of 12 boxes were turned in for disposal. It was another successful event and the Dudley Police encourage everyone to take advantage of these programs in the future. The next one is tentatively planned for the Spring of 2021.

supply contract with Dynegy, which will take effect as Webster's current contract with First Point Power ends.

Beginning with November 2020 meter reads, Webster PowerUp's new prices will be as follows:

The PowerUp Standard price will lower to 9.509 cents/kWh, which is 1.42 cents/kWh below the current price. With the new price, an average Webster household enrolled in PowerUp Standard and using 650 kWh/month would see a savings of more than $9 per month when compared with the current price for PowerUp Standard. Most participants in Webster PowerUp are enrolled in PowerUp Standard.

The PowerUp Green option, which provides 100% renewable electricity to those who request it, will increase by 0.993 cents/kWh to 12.281 cents/kWh. The small increase reflects an increase in the amount of New England-based renewable electricity in the PowerUp Green option. Currently, PowerUp Green participants receive 100 percent renewable electricity, but the majority is generated by wind projects outside of New England. With the new Dynegy contract, PowerUp Green participants will receive all of their electricity from renewable energy projects within New England. By increasing the demand for locally produced renewable electricity, participants in PowerUp Green will now help to drive the development of new renewable energy projects on the New England grid more aggressively than in the past.

"Our first electricity supply contract for Webster PowerUp will have delivered a total of nearly $500,000 in savings for participants as well as almost two years of stable prices," said Webster Town Administrator Doug Willardson. "With this new contract, we are looking forward to more success. With lower prices for most participants, three years of stable prices for everyone, and no early termination penalties or hidden fees, Webster PowerUp offers a strong, trustworthy alternative to other electricity offers in the marketplace."

The new PowerUp Standard price is more than two cents below National Grid's winter residential Basic Service price of 12.388 cents/kWh, which will take effect on Nov. 1. However, it should be noted that, during the course of the contract with Dynegy, National Grid's Basic Service prices may at times be lower than the Webster PowerUp price. Webster PowerUp aims to provide savings when compared with the average of National Grid's changing prices, not when compared with each individual National Grid price. Additionally, because future National Grid prices are not known, savings compared with National Grid's Basic Service prices cannot be guaranteed.

The new prices apply to all rate classes, including residential, commercial, and industrial accounts. The new prices will be fixed from November 2020 until November 2023. The long duration of the price makes the program different from National Grid's Basic Service. National Grid's fixed Basic Service prices change every six months for residential and commercial customers and every three months for industrial customers. Longterm price stability can also make the program different from many electricity supply offers in the marketplace, which can offer a low introductory price that rises after the introductory period is over. Webster PowerUp prices would only change in the event Massachusetts law changes and that change in law requires Dynegy to incur costs that they did not anticipate when the contract was signed.

All active program participants in Webster PowerUp will automatically be enrolled into the new Dynegy contract with their November meter read, and they will be enrolled in the same program option they have in the current First Point Power contract. Participants will first see the new program price on their December 2020 National Grid electricity bills, and their electricity supplier will be listed as Dynegy- Webster PowerUp Aggregation.

Participants in Webster PowerUp may opt out of the program at any time after the new contract takes effect with no penalty or fee. Anyone who wishes to change their program option or opt out before being enrolled in the contract with Dynegy should make their change no later than Oct. 30. Changes can be requested on the program website, WebsterPowerUp.com, or by contacting customer support at 844-379-2171. Anyone wishing to enroll as a new customer in the new contract may also do so on the website or by calling customer support.

Tax-exempt account holders will need to submit tax-exemption documentation to Dynegy to retain their tax-exempt status in the program. This documentation must be submitted to Dynegy even if it was submitted previously to National Grid and First Point Power. Information about where to submit taxexemption documentation is available on WebsterPowerUp.com.

Webster PowerUp is a group buying program for electricity from the Town of Webster for Webster residents and businesses. Massachusetts State law allows cities and towns to choose the electricity supplier for their electricity customers rather than having the local electric utility, which is National Grid for Webster, buy their electricity. Webster PowerUp offers long-term pricing and consumer protections, such as the ability to leave the program at any time with no penalty or fees. Participating in the program changes the price that National Grid uses to calculate the supply services portion of participants' electricity bills. National Grid's delivery charges are not impacted by participation in Webster PowerUp.

More information is available by visiting the program website at WebsterPowerUp.com or by calling customer support with Webster's program consultants at 844-379-2171.

Your voice, and your vote, matter

We have heard a good deal of buzz from younger voters recently regarding the upcoming election, and the overwhelming consensus among them is a sense that their votes do not count. While there are exceptions to this rule, we feel it is important to stress to our younger counterparts how important it is to pay attention and to head to the ballot box.

The youth voice is important, whether you are a Republican, Democrat, Independent, Libertarian, or something in between. Important issues in every election directly relate to concerns students and young professionals have, which is even more reason to arm yourself with knowledge. Truth be told, younger voters are needed now more than ever. Issues that concern students are college tuition reform, healthcare and federal job programs to name a few. You may not care now, but you may care a few years from now when choices politicians make, begin to affect your life, and they will.

Young voters make up almost 50 percent of the voting population, giving you a stronger voice than you think, making your votes collectively more influential across the board. An interesting bit of trivia is that youth votes declined by 2 percent from a record of 52 percent in 2008. In 2016, 19 percent of those ages 18-29 voted in the presidential election. Those ages 45-64, however, made up for 49 percent of the vote.

You may not think your vote matters, but the fact is that every vote counts. The climate of the country appears to be so divided that the youth vote matters now more than ever. Oftentimes, politicians will win by a small margin as low as 20 votes, especially in local and state races, proof that your vote does matter. Young people that want to inspire change need to find the candidate who represents their values best, and cast

With news at our fingertips these days, it's easier now more than ever to educate yourself regarding politics. Sure it may seem boring and often times it is, but educating yourself on current events and the issues will serve you well. One bit of advice is not to believe everything you read or see, and to always fact check your sources. Protect your interests and use your voice, after all this is what democracy is all about.

Do not be discouraged or intimidated to vote — it's easy. You have a right to be at the polls just like every other American. Bring a friend and go grab some lunch or breakfast afterwards, making it a fun occasion.

A reflection on the elections Unemployment

"Love vour enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you... Treat others as you would have them treat you." (Luke 6:27-

Wow! What an incredibly hard, and seemingly impossible mission Jesus Christ gives to the world. When we are attacked by others, whether verbally or physically, when we are mistreated by others, when we are hated, too often we want to respond back in like manner.

Christ warns us, however, that if we treat kindly only those who are kind to us, that's no big deal. If we love only people who love us, that's not to our credit. If we do good to only those who treat us well, again, that's nothing special. To follow Jesus means to walk a very different path than many people. Following Christ means acting extremely different by treating others with radical, divine love, to live in a way than many people in the world simply won't understand!

These are relevant words especially as we enter into the final days of a brutal, divisive, and extremely challenging political season. Too many people on either end of the political spectrum feel that the end of the world will happen if their side loses. We have allowed fear to dominate.

Of course, we face a very real possibility of chaos, danger and even violence from either the extreme left or extreme right depending on the election results. In the midst of these uncertain elections, we continue with the stress and anxiety of the ongoing pandemic. During these ambiguous times, we must stay grounded in the only unmovable rock and foundation that remains firm in the midst of the most destructive storms of life – our faith in Jesus Christ and the peace and hope that He offers.

Regardless of who wins the political election, Christ is still our Lord and our God. Regardless of how long the pandemic continues, the Great Physician of our souls and bodies still holds our lives in His hands. Regardless of society's chaos and instability, our call as followers of Jesus remains the same - to act as peacemakers and agents of reconciliation in a world broken, confused, and in despair. As this election ends, let us heed Christ's commandment to "treat others as we want to be treated." Whether Donald Trump or Joe Biden prevail, let us offer words to one another that bring grace and healing to a divided nation.

Our society right now desperately needs people to act as instruments of light in an extremely dark world, as vessels of love in a hate-filled society, as agents of peace in the midst of violence and aggression.

The Prayer of Saint Francis of Assisi can remind us how to live our lives each day.

Lord, make me an instrument of peace. Where there is hatred, be bring love. Where there is injury, let me offer healand pardon. ing Where there is sadness, let me bring joy Where there is despair, let me bring hope. Where there is doubt, let me bring faith. Where there is darkness, let me shine forth Your light.

Yes Divine Master, help me not so much seek To be consoled, console. as to To be understood, understand. to as To be loved, as to love.

For it is in giving, that we receive. It is in pardoning, that we are pardoned. And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace.

My prayer is for our country is that we all try to act as instruments of sharing God's light and love, of bringing His comforting Presence wherever we go in society.

CORNER STEVE

WOJNAR

As a follow up to a recent article on financial fraud "scams," a new one has been brought to my attention that has impacted many unsuspecting people. The COVID-19 situation has resulted in large numbers of unemployment applications being filed. This is also an opportunity for fraud. I wanted to make people aware of this issue and provide some information in the event you are a victim.

Numerous money and identity scams have been occurring for many years. Due to the volume of unemployment cases being filed during this pandemic, combined with these submissions being conducted on-line, this situation is a prime target for illegal activity. There is a great deal of personal information required before a claim can be made. In these false claim instances, much of the information is reported to have been obtained via previous data breaches or computer hacking operations. This is certainly stressful for anyone who is a victim. In Massachusetts, the Department of Unemployment Assistance (DUA) has begun implementing additional identity verification measures that can temporarily delay the payment timeframe for many unemployment claims. As a result, people may be asked to provide additional identity information in order to verify the validity of their claim.

If you have been the victim of this type of activity, you can call the DUA customer service department at (877) 626-6800. The Attorney General's Office is another resource for people. Their consumer hot line number is (617) 727-8400. You can also seek information through your bank, tax professional, or financial advisor if you are more comfortable dealing with them. These individuals should be able to guide you in the right direction. The DUA may require a police report to be filed. Dudley residents can contact us at 508-943-4411, option 0. You can be provided with a call number for your report. More information can be found at https://www.mass.gov/news/ nationwide-unemployment-scam-targets-massachusetts-claimants. Pease be cognizant of these occurrences and try to protect your personal information. Always report anything suspicious to the proper authorities.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Take heart — the madness of 2020 is coming to an end! until after the election. If

A friend texted me a few days ago and said, "You're going to need to issue a retraction.'

I responded with a very articulate and intelligent "Huh?"

She then texted a picture of my first column of the year, entitled, "2020 Promises to be Awesome!" Maybe awesome wasn't the correct word.

Another friend posted on Facebook, "Dear Mom, you once threatened to slap me into next vear. Does that offer still stand?"

Although a funny statement, I think most of us would endure that slap if it truly delivered the desired result.

I'll admit, 2020 wasn't exactly what I expected and hoped for. We were handed a virus, (I believe history will show it came from China, but does it really matter?) that we didn't and maybe still don't understand. One side is saying, "We left you a plan! All you had to do was follow it," while the other side is claiming that early closing of the borders saved lives. I really don't care who was in office, this is a virus no one understood and it's impossible to prepare for something you don't understand. Those screaming that the current administration has blood on their hands are making irresponsible claims to gain votes.

However, it's election season and irresponsible and ridiculous claims are being sprayed like machine gun fire from both sides. As we talked about a few weeks ago, it would seem that civility is dead.

The best news of the year is that the election will soon be over and "hopefully" the heat of the national discourse will cool.

Is that wishful thinking? I keep making the same point, but it's important.

I trust the will of the American people. If your candidate doesn't win, it's not the end of life on earth as we know it. There is another election in four years and the beauty of our system is that we have checks and balances to keep us from driving off the rails until then. The worse thing that can happen is if a single party takes control of all three branches of government. Trust me, neither party is always right or always wrong. A little gridlock slows things down and forces negotiation.

I've never seen both sides so frantic. The screams from both left and right claim that if the other party ends, the nation will be irreversibly changed for the worse.

Irreversibly?

I don't think so. So please lower the volume, take a breath, and relax. The sun will rise on November fourth and life will go on.

As for COVID-19 ... it's become so politicized that it's hard to know what's true. And shame on both parties for using a national life and death circumstance as a tool to gain

But that is how 2020 began. It doesn't mean that it must end this way. I am not naive'. I understand there's nothing that's going to change we are going to save our nation, we must accept the will of the people, regardless of who wins, then move forward together.

Sounds simple ... but it's not easy.

First, watch a few movies and skip the evening news channels. Prime time is where the barking opinion heads work hard to hijack your head and heart. Watch a movie, read a book, take a walk ... do anything but expose yourself to the evening vitriol.

While in your car, listen to music and again, avoid the shrill political voices coming out of your radio. Please understand ... these voices are rarely there to inform. They are there to manipulate your hearts and mind to come over to their side.

Relax. Take a breath. Turn off the noise. We are better than this and from Nov. 4 to Dec. 31, don't let the results of this election determine your happiness. Let's work on taking our year back and ending on a happier note.

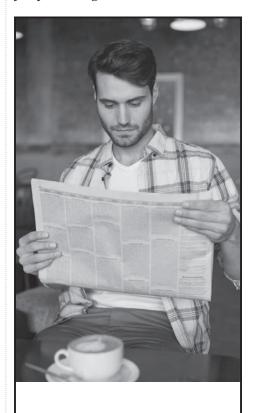

American optimism is what has made the United States of America a beacon of hope, peace, and prosperity. Be hopeful. Find your peace. Let's all prosper together, regardless of outcome.

I choose optimism over despair.

Vote, then move on.

Will you join me?

Protect your family from long-term care costs

Like everyone, you want to remain physically and financially independent throughout your life. But if you lose some of this freedom, the last thing you'd want is to become a burden on your family. How can you keep this from happening?

First of all, you need to be aware of the risk. Someone turning 65 today has almost a 70 percent chance of eventually needing some type of long-term care, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Of course, this doesn't necessarily mean that you face that 70 percent likelihood. In reality, you have either a zero percent chance of requiring long-term care (you'll never need it) or a 100 percent chance (you'll definitely need it).

Nonetheless, if you think you've got that zero percent chance, you're taking a gamble – and it could be a big one, because long-term care is expensive. The median annual cost for a private room in a nursing home is over $102,000, according to Genworth, an insurance company. Other longterm care services, such as those provided by a home health care aide, also don't come cheaply.

Furthermore, you can't count on Medicare paying all these costs – in fact, it would probably only cover a small portion of a nursing home stay and provide limited assistance for home health care. So, if you were financially unprepared for the expense of long-term care, the burden might fall on your loved ones. This could be a big financial challenge, in two ways.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

First, if a family member had to become your caregiver, this individual might have to abandon a career, or at least substantially reduce their working hours. Not only would this result in a loss of income, but it could also lower the amounts that could be contributed to a 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan.

Second, if your family members couldn't leave their jobs or cut back on their hours, or they were simply unable to provide the type of long-term care you need, they might be forced to pay for a nursing home stay or home health care worker out of pocket.

To avoid these outcomes, you have a couple of options:

Self-insure – You could conceivably "self-insure"

against the costs of longterm care by devoting a portion of your investment portfolio specifically to this purpose. However, if at some point you require admission to a nursing home, it may require a significant commitment of your resources.

Purchase protection Over the past decade or so, there's been an increase in the types of long-term care protection vehicles available. These instruments vary widely in cost and in what they cover, but by choosing a protection option, you may greatly lower the financial risk you might face. By consulting with a financial professional, you should be able to find an arrangement that's appropriate for your situation.

Preserving your financial independence and helping protect that of your family should be a key financial goal. And you can make progress toward accomplishing this by recognizing the potential cost of long-term care and taking steps to deal with it.

Paint a Room - Change Your Mood

Perhaps nothing provides the "wow" effect as fast (or as cheaply) as redoing the walls of a room. After all, paint offers an easy and inexpensive means of transforming a living space but that's not all. While paint can make a significant difference in a room's appearance, it can also make a difference in the mood of the people within those four walls. Case in point: In the 1950s color experts shared their groundbreaking data that revealed that rooms painted certain shades of blues and green not only served to calm, but could have a sedative effect! A decade or so later, prison officials discovered cell walls painted a bubble gum pink color calmed violent prisoners.

Alexander Schauss,
Ph.D., director of the American Institute for Biosocial Research in Washington, who was the first to research and report on the "pink effect", stated: "Even if a person tries to be angry or aggressive in the presence of pink, he can't. The heart muscles can't race fast enough. It's a tranquilizing color that saps your energy. Even the color-blind are tranquilized by pink rooms." For all those painting this season, here's a rundown on the psychology of paint.

Creative Color: Want to foster your creativity? Try painting an office or work space light blue. Light blue also promotes imagination, inner security and confidence! Need to be more organized? Try pairing light blue with yellow, to stimulate the mind and help with organizational skills.

Deep Sleep: Dark blue, however, tends to encourage deep and peaceful sleep, which makes the dramatic color ideal for a bedroom.

Diet Aid: According to the Paint Quality

KAREN TRAINOR

Institute, medium blue is an appetite suppressant, so you might want to avoid using it in the kitchen or dining room, unless you're on a diet. In that case, a blue plate might just do the trick.

Bright and Brighter: The color yellow is not only bright, it inspires mental brightness too! Yellow is associated with intelligence and expressive thoughts. Yellow is even credited with improving memory. If that's not enough to sell you on the color, yellow is a mood booster too!

But with yellow a little goes a long way, and too much bright yellow can over stimulate the nervous system.

Chit Chat: Aqua or Turquoise encourages

Turquoise encourages communication, making it the perfect paint color for a teenager's room or in a salesroom office where the deal is sealed.

Hunger Pangs: It's no secret red inspires hunger, and many restaurants use the color psychology to whet a diners appetite. Red also increases the heart rate, energy and passion. But don't run off to buy a gallon of red yet. Studies show too much of some intense reds can cause irritability and anger. If you're using red in your room, try a darker shade of red, or try painting one wall to avoid becoming overwhelmed by the energetic color.

Spa Shade: Green is considered a healthy color, fostering comfort, relaxation and a sense of wellness. Green is a good choice for a bathroom, sun porch or reading nook. On the other hand, lighter shades of green such as mint green, can refresh and invigorate the mind. Darker greens, however, add a sense of calm to the decor and are another favorite bedroom color.

Bust the Blues: Depressed? Try painting your walls orange, or at least a workable shade of orange, such as peach or terra cotta. Orange is the top mood booster, according to experts. Orange fights depression and cultivates good humor. The powerful energy of orange even promotes the capacity to forgive!

My favorite time of year

The month of October Is my favorite time of year. Hunting and fishing provides us with a lot of opportunities to get out and enjoy all Mother Nature has to offer, before we head into the cold weather, and more than likely a few snow storms before all is said and done. As we grow older, time seems to go a lot faster. I do not want to wish my life away, but because of Covid-19, I will be happy to see spring. That is when a vaccine will more than likely be available to the general public, and we can get back to some form of normality. Until then, we will need to take life a bit slower and refraining from social gatherings. It is only six months away. Hoping everyone stays safe until then.

People that love the outdoors and do hunting and fishing should have no problem social distancing while still enjoying life. Deer hunters are often perched up in a tree observing wildlife and waiting for that big buck to walk into shooting range. If he does not come, harvesting a smaller deer will still give him some venison for the cold months ahead.

Bird hunters also should have no problem with social distancing, walking through the woods with a couple of buddies, and their dog. With the state stocking birds once a week at two local hunting areas, bird hunting should provide some great hunting opportunities through the Thanksgiving holiday.

After hunting a local stocked area for pheasant last week, I noticed a few ticks on my Labrador retriever when I brought her home. After removing as many as i could locate, I ran a flea comb through her hair the best that I could. Next came a bath with a flea & Tick shampoo. I keep her on Nexguard which is a once a month pill to keep her from contracting Lyme disease.

This past weekend, I decided to bake one of the pheasant that i retained from a hunt in open covers. The Ringneck pheasant THE GREAT was at least a couple of pounds after cleaning. I located an electric roaster oven that my wife always used to bake our Thanksgiving turkey. After she passed a couple of years ago, I had to take up cooking my own meals. I always liked to cook, but she would never let me into her kitchen. I can remember her words «You like to cook but you never clean up when you are done." That was not exactly true. It was just that she was a very, very fussy person, and cleaning was something she practiced daily.

Anyway, I went on to YouTube and found a receipt for baking a chicken and figured it should apply to any bird. I quickly cleaned the baking oven three times, splashing soapy water all over the kitchen sink, and onto the floor. If my wife could see me now! After a good cleaning I washed the bird a couple of times and patted it dry per instructions.

Salt and pepper and a full stick of butter was added to the bird along with a liberal amount of celery and onion. Placing the bird into the pan after heating it to 350 degrees, and it was time for the one hour or more cooking time. My two dogs Twig and Molly seemed to be entertained by my actions.

Finally, it was time to taste the results of my first baked bird Allowing the bird to cool a few minutes I pulled a leg from the bird's body and took a good bite into the meat. It was a bit chewy and did not have much flavor. After a few bites, I looked at the two dogs that seemed to be drooling, hoping for a bite. I took another bite and soon realized I had screwed it up. I lifted the remaining bird from the pan allowed it to cool, cut off some of the bird for the dogs, and threw the rest in the trash.

My next bird will come from the supermarket, and I still had the mess to clean up that I had made while preparing it. The two dogs will eat almost anything that looks like food, so I could not tell if even they really liked it!

My wife often said that I only married her because of her great cooking. It was one of the reasons, but staying married for 62 years there had to be a lot more than just her cooking. Rest in peace, babe!

With many people out enjoying the outdoors this year, they to need to be very careful with their children becoming infected with Lyme disease. Daily checkups by parents should be made of all family members at the end of the day. A Thorough examination of the body, looking for a tick requires a few minutes to spot the extremely small deer tick. It could save one of your family a serious tick infection, that can turn into a life-threatening disease. There is a spray for your clothes called Permethrin that works very well to ward off ticks, but it should never be used on the skin. It is for clothing only, and can last up to a couple of weeks or more. Be sure to read all of the instructions before applying the spray.

This week's picture shows Andrea Henchey and her husband Curis shooting clay birds at the Uxbridge Rod & Gin Club this past Sunday. The trap range is open every Sunday weather permitting. It is open to the general public, so give it a try. You cannot find a nicer group of trap shooters, and they will be happy to help improve your shooting skills.

For 25 years, we've been making this project easy and stress-free.

We're the only full-service replacement window division of Andersen, one of the oldest window companies in the country, so you know we're not going anywhere. We manage and are accountable for everything—selling, manufacturing, installing and the warranty for all your windows and doors. And know that we've adjusted our operations to serve you in the safest way possible.

After 25 years, our Fibrex® material is still vastly superior to vinyl.

We custom build all of our windows with our exclusive composite material called Fibrex. Andersen researched and tested Fibrex for decades before ever installing it in a home. Our windows feature reinforced seals for greater protection against drafts and sloped sills to drain water away. Don't settle for vinyl windows when Fibrex is two times stronger than vinyl.

After 25 years, our installers have seen it all.

When it comes to home improvement, experience matters. Our Certified Master Installers are incredibly skilled professionals who've installed thousands of windows and doors. Extend your enjoyment of nutritious pumpkins

Pumpkin is not just for dessert. Consider using this low calorie, flavorful vegetable, botanically classified as a fruit, in any of the courses of your fall or holiday meals.

The beta carotene that gives pumpkin its orange color is an important antioxidant. Increasing the beta carotenes in your diet can reduce the risk of developing some cancers and provide protection against heart disease.

And do not throw the seeds in the compost pile, roast them instead and enjoy the anti-inflammatory benefits of this snack. Remove the pulp by rinsing the seeds in cold water. Spread the seeds in a single layer on a baking sheet treated with a non-stick cooking oil. Lightly salt. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes. Stir the seeds after 10 minutes. Allow to cool and store any leftovers, if there are any, in an airtight container. Harvest pumpkins when the fruit is fully colored and the rind has lost its shine and is hard. The curly tendrils near the pumpkin will turn brown and die when the fruit is fully ripe. Use a pruning shear to cut the stem and avoid damage to the plant and your harvest. Leaving several inches of the pumpkin's stem intact increases their storage life. And look for blemish-free fruit with intact stems when buying pumpkins from the grocery store or farmers' market.

Always harvest pumpkins before the first frost. Or cover plantings with floating row covers, old sheets or blankets when frost is in the forecast. Protecting plants from the first few frosty nights can keep them growing until the remaining frost-free days of the season are back in the forecast.

Only store pumpkins free of soft spots, cuts and other damage that can lead to decay. Cleaning them before storing can help extend their shelf life. Wipe them down with a dilute solution of one tablespoon of bleach per gallon of water. Allow them to dry thoroughly before placing them in storage. Washing the fruit removes bacteria and fungal spores that can contribute to decay.

Store pumpkins in a dark, dry, cool location between 50 and 60 degrees for storage. Place them in a single layer on cardboard, crates or wooden shelves. Avoid storing them directly on a concrete floor that can lead to rot.

Check pumpkins regularly for rot and soft spots. Remove any that show signs of rot and add them to the compost pile. Pumpkins that are stored properly can last for several months.

Remember to take time this season to enjoy the harvest and flavor as you cook up some tasty, nutritious pumpkin dishes this fall.

United Way kicks off annual campaign with $450,000 in grants

SOUTHBRIDGE Thursday morning the United Way of South Central Massachusetts (UWSCM) kicked off its annual appeal campaign via a virtual Zoom event.

Usually, we hold a breakfast and invite our workplace campaign managers, corporate partners, member agencies and individual donors to a breakfast event to introduce the new campaign theme and video and to learn more about our programs. But due to Covid-19 restrictions we all have to do things differently this year," stated UWSCM Executive Director Mary

O'Coin.

Webster & Dudley merged with the United Way of Southbridge, Sturbridge and Charlton in April the creating United Way of South Central Massachusetts. By combining the two regions, resources and programs were combined. The funds raised in the 2020 We are Stronger Together campaign will support the $435,000 in grants awarded to 28 local non-profit programs through the UWSCM Community Impact Fund. In addition, UWSCM has raised and distributed more than $15,000 in grants to help local food pantries impacted by the COVID-19 crisis, bringing its total recent grant awards and distributions to $450,000.

UWSCM The Community Impact Fund makes grants annually to programs that address the region's most critical needs in the areas of health, education, and financial stability. The recent round of grants will support a wide variety of programs that provide services including housing and shelter, food and nutrition, early literacy resources, and youth engagement.

"We are honored to support these dedicated and mission-driven organizations, as the need for these critical services has never been greater," says 2020 Campaign Chairman Jim Croteau. "We look forward to working together to strengthen our community during this unprecedented time."

Several non-profits have received Community Impact Fund grants for multiple years, enabling them to build longterm partnerships with UWSCM. For example, both the Boys and Girls Club of Webster-Dudley and YMCA of Central MA

Tri-Community Family Branch in Southbridge continued to receive funding for their services for families and children experiencing both daily and afterschool childcare needs.

"There is the rich history of support and partnership between the Tri-Community YMCA and the United Way of South Central Massachusetts," says Christina Hadis-Blackwell, Branch of Director Tri-Community YMCA. "From childcare to teen programs, summer camp to family programming, the United Way and the YMCA Tri-Community Family Branch are committed to working together to make our community a place for families to learn, grow and thrive. We look forward to continuing our work together and ensuring the success of the region.'

The United Way of South Central Massachusetts serves the communities of Charlton, Dudley, Southbridge, Sturbridge and Charlton. To learn more about programs, view the new United Way video and donating to the United Way visit www. uwscm.org.

A sweet and savory Halloween treat

Bacon makes everything better ... even s'mores.

Save the tricks for another time; this Halloween is all about the treats. Halloween parties are par for the course, and spooktacular hosts and hostesses want to serve their guests something special. Enter a dessert hybrid that layers various flavors to create a masterpiece that simply works.

This recipe for "Grilled Chocolate Chip Cookie Bacon S'mores," courtesy of the National Pork Board and Tiffany Edwards of Le Crème de la Crumb, is the Frankenstein's monster of the dessert world. You'd be hard-pressed to find a person who can pass up the salty swagger of smoked bacon paired with the creamy richness of chocolate and the crunch and sweetness of a chocolate chip cookie. Top it with marshmallow and this Halloween treat is alive with flavor!

GRILLED CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIE BACON S'MORES

Yields 12

thick-cut slices bacon (hickory 12 smoked, Applewood smoked or maple)

large marshmallows 12 2-inch squares chocolate good quality

skewers 12

tablespoons butter, softened cup brown sugar

cup sugar

teaspoons vanilla

egg plus 1 egg yolk

cups flour 3.4-ounce box instant French vanilla pudding mix, dry, not prepared

teaspoon baking soda

1/2teaspoon salt

cups semi-sweet chocolate chips

Make the cookies: In a bowl, cream together butter, sugar and brown sugar for 1 to 2 minutes until light and very fluffy. Add vanilla, egg and egg yolk, and mix well. In a separate bowl, whisk together flour, pudding mix, baking soda, and salt.

Add dry ingredients to wet ingredients and mix until incorporated and dough comes together. Stir in chocolate chips. Cover very tightly and chill for at least 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 350 F. Roll dough into balls (about 11/2 inch) and space 2 to 3 inches apart on a baking sheet. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes, until lightly browned on top. Allow to cool 5 to 10 minutes on baking sheet before transferring to a cooling rack to cool completely.

To grill the bacon: Heat a grill to medium-high heat. Thread bacon onto skewers in an S-shape. Place skewers directly on grill and cook 8 to 12 minutes, rotating as needed to ensure even cooking. Transfer to a plate, let cool and then remove bacon from skewers. Set aside.

Meanwhile, roast the marshmallows: Roast marshmallows directly over the grill using skewers or roasting sticks until cooked to your preference.

Assemble s'mores: Flip one cookie over so it's upside down. Place a square of chocolate on top of the upside-down cookie, then top with grilled marshmallow, bacon and a right side-up second cookie. Serve immediately.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Representative with no opposition. In addition, Democratic candidate for Councillor Paul DePalo os also running unopposed. The final race on the ballot includes Senator Fattman's wife, Stephanie Fattman, who is seeking to retain her position as Register of Probate hoping to stave off a challenge from Democrat John Dolan III.

In addition to the races, three questions will be found on page two of voters' ballots, two state questions and one local issue seeking public input. Question 1 is a statewide ballot question asking voters if they support a proposed law that would require manufacturers of motor vehicles sold in Massachusetts to equip vehicles from model year 2022 and on with telematics systems that collect and wirelessly transmit mechanical data to a remote server with a standardized open access data platform. The proposed law as written on the ballot states that with vehicle owner authorization, independent repair facilities not affiliated with a manufacturer and independent dealerships would be able to retrieve mechanical data from, and send commands to, the vehicle for repair, maintenance, and diagnostic testing. A ves vote would provide motor vehicle owners and independent repair facilities with expanded access to wirelessly transmitted mechanical data related to their vehicles' maintenance and repair while a no vote would make no change to current regulations and laws.

Question 2 would implement "rankedchoice voting" where voters rank one or more candidates by order of preference in primary and general elections for all Massachusetts statewide offices, state legislative offices, federal congressional offices, and certain other offices beginning in 2022. Ranked-choice voting would not be used in elections for president, county commissioner, or regional district school committee members. This would effectively turn voting into a series of "rounds" and would be limited to single-winner races rather than positions with more than one winner. A yes vote would support the change and a no vote would keep the election format the same.

Question 3 is a Dudleyspecific question for voters involving a purchase for the town's fire department. The question asks Dudley voters if they would allow the town to exempt from the provisions of Proposition 2 ½ $260,000 to purchase and ambulance and related equipment. Dudley voters approved the purchase in June but need to approve the funding mechanism during the election. Contrary to an override which is a permanent addition to the towns tax levy, the question is seeking a debt exclusion which would disappear once the vehicle is paid off. Officials from the Dudley Fire Department estimate the vehicle will be paid for in two or three years.

The 2020 Presidential Election will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 3. Voting details and a copy of the election ballot have been made available on the Town of Dudley Web

the provisions of Proposition 2 ½ $260,000 to purchase a new ambulance for the fire department. The investment is part of the normal upgrade schedule at the department who usually rotates ambulances every five to ten years according to Fire Chief Dean Kochanowski.

We're supposed to replace ambulances every five years. We get ten years out of ours. This is just a normal scheduled replacement," said the Chief in an interview. "People have to understand that these things are like mobile emergency rooms. You don't want to be in an ambulance that could potentially fail or not work when you have yourself or a family member in the back of it with a serious illness, not to mention the fact that if we lost our second ambulance we'd probably lose about $200,000 to $250,000 in revenue per year. This thing almost pays for itself in a little over a year.

Leading up to Election Day, the chief has received several questions for clarification on the matter. The first is the common confusion between a debt exclusion and an override. By definition, a debt exclusion, which is what Question 3 will be asking of voters on Election Day, is a temporary addition to the tax levy that disappears once the investment is payed off whereas an override is more for personnel expenses and is a permanent addition to taxes. The chief estimates the ambulance would be payed off within two or three years based on the town's past history quickly paying of its loans.

Another question that has surfaced is why the town can't use the ambulance receipts to pay for the ambulance itself. Ambulance calls make up around 70 percent of the call volume at the department and bring enough money yearly to pay for a new vehicle in theory. However Chief Kochanowski clarified for voters that due to a past vote concerning the receipts that money cannot be used for capital purchases such as a new vehicle. "Half of our money that supports our budget is from ambulance receipts even though it goes into the general fund. People have always asked why we can't purchase the ambulance with those receipts. We can't because back before I was chief, probably fifteen years ago, it was voted to have that money go into the general fund. By law, it's not eligible for capital purchases," said the Chief.

To help voters understand Question 3 better, the town of Dudley posted an informational video featuring Chief Kochanowski on the Town of Dudley Facebook page and website. The video, which runs a little over nine minutes long, sees Kochanowski explain the reason for the purchase and the consequences of not buying a new ambulance. During the video the chief explains that it has become increasingly difficult for Ambulance 1 to pass required inspections and at 104,000 "hard miles" the vehicle requires consistent investment to keep it on the road. While Dudley has two ambulances, losing one would put significant strain on the department as multiple ambulance calls are usually answered at a time and having only one operational ambulance would significantly impact revenues.

Voters will have their say on whether or not to support the debt exclusion when they head to the polls for Election Day on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

DUDLEY — Bring a friend and celebrate the continuance of our 13th year! Our November Club meeting will be held on our regular meeting night of Nov. 12, starting at 6 p.m. It will be held, socially distanced, at Our Father's Table, 1020 Riverside Dr. (Route 12) in North Grosvenordale, Conn. An additional giving project this month will also be gift cards to local businesses such as grocery stores, Walmart, Target or any other local business for donation (in lieu of our regular food donations) to this year's more 'virtual' version of Veterans Baskets.
