Holiday magic, memories & traditions celebrated at Christmas by Candlelight

Old Sturbridge Village releases event dates in December, tickets on sale now

STURBRIDGE — Christmas by Candlelight will return to Old Sturbridge Village (OSV) this December, as a time-honored tradition of the season celebrating New England Christmases of the 19th century and today. On select dates in December, from 3 to 8 p.m., the Village will open special for guests to take in the holiday cheer. Tickets are on sale now for members and will go on sale to the general public on Nov. 17.

This annual event has been re-imagined in 2020 with safety in mind, taking many favorite activities outdoors. Guests can see demonstrations of classic Christmas projects like knitting stockings, wreath-making, natural ornament-making and more, and watch as costumed interpreters create a traditional Christmas meal or work on special projects such as making ice skates or a sled from scratch. A horse-drawn carryall (a large wagon) will run throughout the Village offering rides and several bonfires will be lit throughout the night to warm up beside.

A returning favorite of the event, visitors are invited to stroll the Christmas Tree Trail – new in 2019 – featuring dozens of sparkling, decorated trees. Tucked away from the hustle and bustle of the Common, the trail welcomes wanderers in to enjoy the sights, ending at the special Christmas Wish Bridge.

Several dates during December offer additional activities for guests – including Members’ Shopping Nights on Dec. 4-6 and the firing of OSV’s 24-foot kiln for the second

Gobi, Berthiaume investigate COVID outbreak at Soldiers’ Home

BY KEVIN FLANDERS

REGION – A special oversight committee that includes two local legislators is continuing its review of the mass casualty COVID-19 outbreak at the Holyoke Soldiers’ Home.

This past spring, at the start of the pandemic, 76 veterans lost their lives in the outbreak at the western Massachusetts facility. Several probes and reports have indicated that the outbreak was caused by major failures in policies and decisions at the leadership level.

For State Rep. Donald Berthiaume and Sen. Anne Gobi, both of Spencer, it has been an honor to serve on the special oversight committee tasked with getting answers for the families of victims.

“Our mission is to draft legislation to present to our colleagues that will ensure the tragedy that occurred at the Holyoke Soldiers’ Home never happens again,” Gobi

Harrington named Center of Excellence for lung cancer screening

SOUTHBRIDGE — Harrington HealthCare System has been named a Screening Center of Excellence by the GO2 Foundation for Lung Cancer for its ongoing commitment to responsible lung cancer screening. Low dose CT screening for lung cancer carried out safely, efficiently and equitably can save tens of thousands of lives a year by finding lung cancer early when it is most treatable and even curable.

“We are proud and honored to be working with Harrington HealthCare System as a GO2 Foundation for Lung Cancer Screening Center of Excellence. Their commitment to practice responsible lung cancer screening will lead to advancements in research and many lives saved. They are an example to follow,” says GO2 Foundation Co-Founder, President and CEO, Laurie Fenton Ambrose.

TCA holds first mass of 2020-21 school year

SOUTHBRIDGE — On Nov. 4, Trinity Catholic Academy was able to hold their first school wide mass for this academic year. Usually, this is held within the first days of returning in September, but current pandemic situations postponed this ritual till recently. All students were social distanced throughout Notre Dame Church to make this a safe event for teachers, students, parents, and grandparents alike to be present for the annual occasion.

It was a noteworthy opportunity for all, to celebrate the safe school year that they have been able to experience thus far during the pandemic. The celebration of Saints by Grade 3 and the blessing of the sweatshirts for our graduating eighth graders were added experiences at this Mass.

On Nov. 4, Trinity Catholic Academy was able to hold their first school wide mass for this academic year.

Simon, St. and Francis of Assisi to name a few. Each “saint” had the opportunity to tell their saint’s story for a great interactive experience with Fr. Ken Cardinale and enjoyed by all who attended on Nov. 4. Fr. Ken shared the realization that we have all had to sacrifice many meaningful activities this year, much like sports figures do to reach the Hall of Fame through practices, activities, and development. Saints do much the same to get to Sainthood. We are all saints in progress with the ultimate Hall of Fame of Sainthood! Included photos include some of the Sainted honored on this day, as well as a look back at a class (in 1944-45?) that celebrated All Saints Day at Saint Joan of Arc School. A true tradition of Southbridge Catholic Schools. (You may share names of those you identify at: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/SBDGECATHALUMNI>) Grade 8 Students very successfully carried out all the reading and prayers of the faithful and were able to receive their well-earned 8th Grade blessed sweatshirts, with their school activities printed on the sleeve.

TCA is grateful for the school year they have been able to have so far.

Did you know?

Giving the gift of an experience is a rising trend, particularly among millennials. Harris research has determined that millennials (defined as people born between 1980 and 1996) highly value experiences, and they are increasingly spending time and money on them. Types of experiences include athletic pursuits, cultural visits, concerts, social events, and various travel. The research goes on to say that more than three out of four millennials choose to spend money on a desirable experience instead of buying a product. And it's not just millennials. Overall, consumer spending has shifted in the last 10 to 15 years. HSBC bank chief economist Kevin Logan has said consumer spending on recreation, travel and eating out has been trending upward for more than a decade, while purchases of clothing and shoes as a share of discretionary spending has dropped. These trends can help drive purchases during holiday gift-giving. Gifts that are more experience-oriented may be more appreciated by their recipients.

Professor Cheryl Cahill, MSN, RN. UNICEF Club Co-chair Meghan Reidy of Auburn reported that "Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF" was established by UNICEF 70 years ago in 1950 and is the longest running youth engagement campaign in America. Campaign funds go to providing children with education, safe water, sanitation, nutrition, emergency relief, and immunizations. The funds provide children in 190 countries and territories with the relief they desperately need. Reidy said, "Small contributions can provide great resources for children; for example, $20 can buy 100 bars of soap, $40 can buy a round of vaccines for a child, and $185 can buy school supplies for 40 children!" Reidy added, "Despite our current unprecedented times, money was still able to be raised from the Bay Path Practical Nursing Students as some towns still had trick-or-treating."

Seven Hills Family Services receives grant

WORCESTER — Seven Hills Family Services, which operates a Family Resource Center in Sturbridge, has received a $49,620 grant from The Health Foundation of Central Massachusetts to upgrade the AV equipment in one of its Family Support Center classrooms in order to record sessions, edit, translate, and post them on its website so that families who cannot attend the sessions can access them at their convenience. The grant will also be used to purchase technology for Family Support Navigators to enhance integrated supports to families.

The grant was one of 14 Activation Fund grants recently awarded by the Foundation totaling almost $700,000.

"Throughout Worcester County, there are many important health, education, and human service agencies and organizations, which, through the efforts of their dedicated staffs, are providing essential services to our most vulnerable populations," said Francis M. Saba, Chairman of the Board of the Foundation. "The critical nature of their work has been heightened by the challenges of the current pandemic. Through our Foundation's annual Activation Fund process, we are able to help support many of these agencies and organizations. In 2020, 66 letters of intent to participate in the application process for support from the Activation Fund were submitted. Of the 66 letters, many were from organizations that had never applied and others from both previous applicants and agencies that had not previously been invited to apply. The 66 letters in 2020 compare with 38 from 2019. Clearly the need for support has increased and is significant. After a thorough review of the letters and applications by our experienced and thoughtful Foundation staff, 14 projects with support of $698,039 were funded. Five of the projects totaling $271,000 were specifically funded in response to the pandemic. Our Foundation is pleased to continue to do our part in helping these agencies."

The other grants awarded are: Quinsigamond Community College (QCC) - $70,790 to upgrade instructional equipment in QCC's Radiologic Technology program to better prepare QCC students for their clinical rotations and entering the workforce. Worcester Common Ground (WCG) - $100,000 to install a rooftop greenhouse on an affordable housing project WCG is developing in Worcester which will allow residents to grow produce for themselves and their families. NEADS World Class Service Dogs - $50,000 for the construction of its Behavioral Check List space to test puppies to determine their eligibility to enter NEADS training programs as Service Dogs. Living in Freedom Together (LIFT) - $19,000 for the installation of sprinklers at its residential home for survivors of commercial sexual exploitation. LUK, Inc. - $50,000 to support telebehavioral health services for students in middle and high schools in Central Massachusetts. Edward M. Kennedy Community Health Center - $60,000 for four dental chairs as part of its plans to expand its Milford site to include dental services, optometry and a 340B pharmacy. Building Futures - $49,998 for facility and technology upgrades to the Worcester Housing Authority's Youth Center in Great Brook Valley, which provides youth ages 5-14 with tutoring and homework help. Christopher House of Worcester - $39,082 for a program to enhance the skills of its first line managers and train peer mentors with the goal of reducing the turnover rates of both nurses and CNAs.

Jeffrey's House - $23,772 for the installation of sprinklers in three sober living houses it operates in Fitchburg and for accessibility renovations in two of the houses. CENTRO - $50,000 to hire a community health worker to assess the needs of people using its food pantry and refer them to other services. CENTRO offers if they are eligible. Genesis Club - $40,000 to create a "virtual clubhouse" to enable Genesis Club to reach out to people recovering from mental illness who cannot access its physical location, allowing people to access clubhouse services remotely. Open Sky Community Services - $45,777 to expand telepsychiatry services in 33 of its group homes. South Middlesex Opportunity Council - $50,000 for the pre-development costs associated with converting the second floor of a building in Worcester into a 50-bed permanent emergency shelter facility. The Foundation was established in 1999 with the proceeds from the sale of Central Massachusetts Health Care, Inc., a physician-initiated, not-for-profit HMO. The Foundation currently has assets of approximately $79 million and has awarded grants totaling over $45 million since it began its grantmaking in 2000. For further information about these grants or about the Foundation's grantmaking programs and application process, please visit The Health Foundation's website at www.hfcm.org or call (508) 438-0009.

Friday's Child

Zayalani
Age 11

Hi! My name is Zayalani and I am very kind.

Zayalani, who likes to be called Zaya, is an affectionate and easy-going girl of Puerto Rican descent. She can be shy with new people, but once she opens up, she can connect well with others. Zaya is said to possess a caring heart and has a strong desire to help others. Some of her favorite activities include arts and crafts, listening to music, spending time outdoors, and spending time with her foster family.

At school, Zaya is receiving extra support, both academically and emotionally. She does very well with one-on-one attention and also gets along with her peers.

Legally freed for adoption, Zaya has the potential to thrive in a family that can provide her with nurturance and support. Her social worker believes that she will do well in a family with at least one mother and where she can be the only or youngest child in the home. Prospective families must be willing to help Zaya maintain her relationship with her sister and her biological father.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

State takes additional steps to curb rise in COVID cases

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
STAFF WRITER

REGION – State officials have taken several additional measures in response to a steep rise in COVID-19 cases over the last three weeks.

Gov. Charlie Baker announced last week that a field hospital will be set up at the DCU Center in Worcester. With new COVID-19 cases rising throughout the state, officials are prepared for an influx of hospitalizations as winter looms.

The Worcester site, which will be built by the National Guard, is the first field hospital to open in the state since June.

“The Commonwealth continues to see an alarming rise in cases and hospitalizations for COVID-19, and we are acting now to expand hospital capacity,” Baker said. “All residents are urged to follow guidance to wear masks, stay home at night, and stop gathering. We are preparing our hospital system to add more beds and stand up our first field hospital to care for COVID-19 patients if these trends continue.”

If needed, the Worcester field hospital is expected to be available for patients in the first week of December. Additional locations can be added if conditions dictate a need.

State and health officials are also coordinating to prepare hospital staffs across the state for a wave of patients.

“Since day one of our response to this crisis, we have worked to ensure that our hospitals and healthcare providers have the resources they need to meet the acute health needs of our residents,” said Massachusetts Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders. “We are in a much better position to respond to what will be a difficult next few months.”

Statewide, COVID-19 hospitalizations since Labor Day have increased from 178 to 661. Several days last week saw new cases exceed 2,000.

If needed, the Worcester field hospital will provide approximately 240 additional beds to care for lower-risk COVID-19 patients, helping preserve the hospital system capacity for higher-risk patients.

The Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) will coordinate the logistics of the DCU Center field hospital, in close collaboration with health officials.

“The Commonwealth’s forward planning is a direct result of lessons learned and our experience during the first wave of the pandemic,” said MEMA Director Samantha Phillips. “We hope that we won’t need all of these overflow beds, but if we do, they’ll be ready.”

The DCU Center was the first of five field hospitals constructed by the Commonwealth during the response to the springtime surge of COVID-19 cases. From early April until late May, when it was demobilized, the Worcester site served 161 patients.

Meanwhile, officials throughout the county and state continue to deal with COVID-19 flare-ups at all levels of the community. The East Brookfield District Court was closed for multiple days last week after a staff member tested positive for COVID-19.

Even the State House had to be heavily sanitized last week, after two officials tested positive for the virus. Privacy laws regarding medical information prevent the officials from being identified.

For more information about ongoing state efforts to combat COVID-19, visit www.mass.gov.

Sheriff's Office launches winter coat drive

WORCESTER — As you can imagine, the need for a warm winter jacket is greater than ever. The pandemic has created challenges for many.

To help those most in need in our community, Worcester County Sheriff Lew Evangelidis is proud to announce our partnership with Dr. Moses Dixon, Executive Director of Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, for this year's Sheriff's Office Annual Winter Coat Drive.

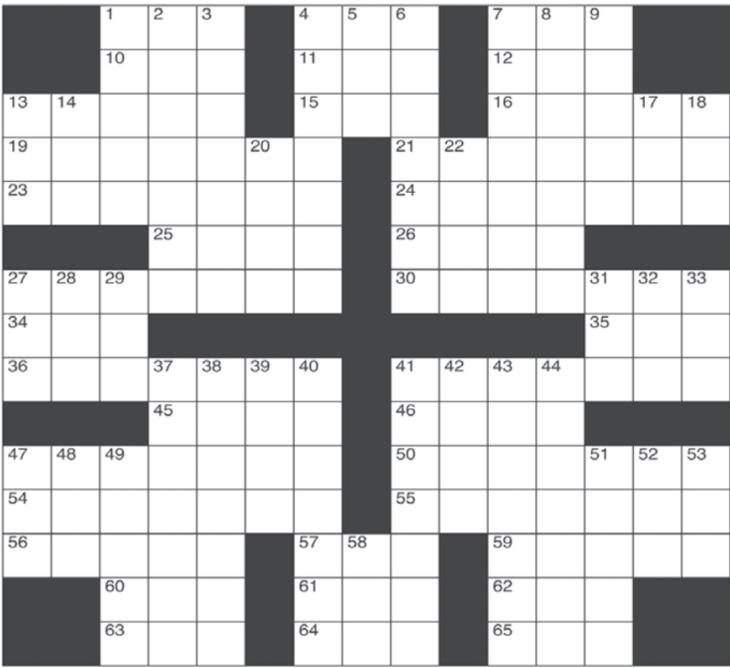

Together, the Worcester County Sheriff's Office and Central Mass Agency on Aging are determined to continue the tradition of holding one of New England's largest Winter Coat Drives. Unlike years past, collection boxes for pre-owned jacket donations cannot be placed in the community due to COVID. This year, we are solely relying on community grants, monetary gifts and new coat donations. Today, we are proud to report we are now up to more than 1,100 new winter jackets to help families, children and seniors in need throughout Worcester County. We are hoping with increased media exposure and circulation, we will be able to secure more coat donations which will help so many during the cold winter months.

To assist with this effort, both Sheriff Lew and Dr. Dixon are available for any media opportunities/interviews which will significantly help this cause during this incredibly challenging year.

We appreciate and value our extraordinary friends in the press, who have always helped us in this mission.

Winter coats will be distributed the first week in December to charitable organizations throughout Worcester County, including but not limited to: Abby's House, LIFT, Hector Reyes House, St. John's Food for the Poor, Webster-Dudley Food Share, Gardner CAC, Alyssa's Place of Gardner, Spanish American Center of Leominster, Restoration Recovery Center of Fitchburg, Our Father's House of Fitchburg, Women's Recovery Program of Leominster, St. Anne's Human Services of Shrewsbury, Rutland Food Pantry and various senior centers throughout Worcester County.

Old Sturbridge Village, Country Bank partner to give back to community

STURBRIDGE — Old Sturbridge Village (OSV) and Country Bank have partnered together for over a decade. In that time, Country Bank has sponsored numerous seasonal programs at the Village such as, the Education Center, Visitor Center, Bump in the Night, Sleepy Hollow, Phantoms & Fire and the beloved Christmas by Candlelight. In addition to program sponsorships, Country Bank has also sponsored Old Sturbridge Village's Annual Gala over the years as well.

Perhaps one of the greatest sponsorships that Country Bank is supporting, particularly in this year of COVID, is the Kids Free Program. This has enabled families to enjoy the activities, history, programming, traditions and opportunities that Old Sturbridge Village has to offer making it a great value for families. This year, Country Bank extended its Kids Free Sponsorship from June through the end of November.

Both organizations wanted to ensure that all families had every opportunity this year to participate in the outdoor experience the Village offers.

"Country Bank has a long-standing commitment to Old Sturbridge Village and its historical place within our communities. As New England's largest outdoor living history museum, the Village welcomes thousands of visitors annually where they offer authentic hands-on history and seasonal programming for all ages," stated Paul Scully, President and CEO of Country Bank. "As a community partner, we care deeply about the sustainability of the Village. As such, and in recognizing the burdens that our communities have experienced throughout this year, we wanted to offer our support in sponsoring the fall and winter season events at the Village. It is our hope that visitors will enjoy an afternoon or evening stepping back in time and making memories with their friends and families during what has been the most stressful time in our history. Supporting and enriching our communities is not only a part of our mission, it's simply who we are."

"We are extremely grateful for the support of Paul Scully and his strong team at Country Bank," stated Jim Donahue, President and CEO of Old Sturbridge Village. "The partnership, over the years, has enabled us to make significant contributions to the community while building dynamic programming throughout the year for our visitors. We continue to find ways of collaborating and giving back to the community which is a core priority with both our organizations."

Old Sturbridge Village and Country Bank will be collaborating this upcoming Thanksgiving to serve families in the community with more than 700 meals. Old Sturbridge Village will be cooking and assembling the meals, while Country Bank will be distributing the meals out to food pantries, senior housing, churches and alike.

Green Meadows Farm appoints Robert H. Patton to CEO

SOUTHBRIDGE — Green Meadows Farm (Green Meadows), a cannabis company based in the heart of Southbridge, has announced the appointment of Robert H. Patton to Manager and CEO. Patton will lead the establishment of a new family tradition: to grow and sell cannabis with the same dedication to veterans, community service, and organic agriculture that the family is known for.

"My grandfather, General George S. Patton, Jr., dedicated himself to fighting for his country and my father, George S. Patton IV, did the same, while my mother has given lifelong support to special-needs charities, the arts, the environment, schools, museums, and churches," said Patton. "Building on that example, our family seeks to contribute to the economic development of the Southbridge community, while making a positive impact on the cannabis industry, and more importantly, on the people who live and work in the communities we serve."

Patton is leading the company through its final stage of licensing to open as an adult-use retailer in a restored 19th Century mill building in downtown Southbridge, a commercial hub located at the intersection of I-90 and I-84 just north of the Connecticut border. In a rarity for Massachusetts cannabis, Green Meadows will launch its cultivation and processing facility under the same roof as its retail dispensary, ensuring a seamless integration of customer-facing retail and premium organic production. Once vertically integrated from seed to sale, Green Meadows will activate its pending medical cannabis license and serve registered patients along with adult-use customers.

Patton brings rich, diverse experience to his CEO role, working as a Capitol Hill reporter, a commercial fisherman, and a real estate developer before launching his career as an author with the publication of his family memoir, "The Pattons: A Personal History of an American Family" in 1994. Since then, he has published three novels and two histories.

In addition to heading up the Green Meadows management team, he is an advisor to the Patton Veterans Project, founded in 2012 by his brother Benjamin Patton to help veterans and their families cope with post-deployment issues of PTSD and social isolation.

Patton co-founded the Fairfield County Youth Football League in Connecticut in 2003 and spearheaded a $1.2 million project to build multi-use turf athletic fields for youth sports programs in Darien, Conn. in 2008. Patton holds degrees in literature and journalism from Brown University and Northwestern University.

Laforest completed her first week of training and states "the new job is going well!" She is at a new department and relishes getting things up and running.

She stated, "Last week, I rounded with the nursing supervisors at University Campus and will round with the nursing supervisors at the memorial campus this week."

Part of her job is seeing what the needs are for staff depending on patient acuity level.

Laforest adds "Although I have worked there forever it is nice to go around and see how all the different units run and what each floor's specialty is, and how that affects their staffing numbers."

Donation to help Nichols Endowment Fund

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

DUDLEY — Nichols College in Dudley has announced a $2 million anonymous donation that will boost the school's endowment increasing a scholarship that assists both local students and numerous academic initiatives.

The $2 million donation was provided to the school from a global financial services leader who has chosen to remain anonymous. The gift will serve to support the primary objective of the college's Bicentennial Campaign to raise funds for capital projects, endowments, and leadership education which has to date surpassed the $45 million goals set three years ago. A new goal has been set to raise $20 million in additional funds to help increase the endowment and support scholarships, professorships and college programs.

Nichols College President Susan West Engelkemeyer, Ph.D. released a statement expressing gratitude for the gift thanking the anonymous donor for their generosity.

"This gift will advance our mission of transforming lives through expanded educational and experiential opportunities for our career focused students. It ensures our continued success as a college of choice for business and leadership education," President Engelkemeyer said.

Chair of the Nichols College Board of Trustees and member of the Class of 1972 John H. Davis also expressed his gratitude for the gift calling it critical support for the endowment especially in a time of uncertainty in higher education.

"Most importantly, it will increase experiential opportunities for our students to give them a competitive edge," Davis said.

The $2 million donation, along with other funds from the endowment, will assist with launching a business consulting center in addition to supporting a scholarship for students in the Southern Worcester County region. The $2 million will also be utilized to augment the Student-Managed Investment Fund which was founded in 2019 through alumni donations.

A story of inspiration for a sunny morning

Twenty-year-old Chris Nikic of Maitland, Fla. made history last Saturday when he became the first person in history with Down Syndrome to complete a full distance Ironman triathlon. Watching the video of Nikic crossing the finish line in Panama City, Fla., did not leave this writer with dry eyes. This was good news, in an otherwise chaotic news cycle.

As most people know, a full Ironman consists of a 2.4 mile swim, a 112 mile bike ride and a 26.2 mile run. The race, has a time cap of 17 hours. Nikic completed the race in 16:46:09.

Nikic had a few setbacks throughout the race, including two falls from his bike.

Special Olympics Florida President and CEO Sherry Wheelock released a statement. In it she said, "He's become a hero to athletes, fans, and people across Florida and around the world. He's an inspiration to all of us."

Nikic is no stranger to triathlons and has been training since he was a teenager. Looking ahead he will strive to qualify for the 2022 Special Olympics USA Games.

In an Instagram post, Nikic wrote "Goal set and achieved. Time to set a new and bigger goal for 2021. Whatever it is, the strategy is the same. One percent better every day. Yes, I did the work, but I had angels helping me. God surrounded me with angels. Best part of all. New family and friends. All about awareness and inclusion. Awareness for Down Syndrome and Special Olympics. Inclusion for all of us with all of you."

His proud father, Nik Nikic, released his own statement: "To Chris, this race was more than just a finish line and celebration of victory. Ironman has served as his platform to become one step closer to his goal of living a life of inclusion, normalcy, and leadership. It's about being an example to other kids and families that face similar barriers, proving no dream or goal is too high," he said.

Nikic completed the 2.4 mile swim (along with his coach Dan Grieb) in just under two hours. Just prior to getting on his bike to attack the 112 miles, he was bitten by fire ants. He forged ahead and finished the bike portion in 8:12:37. He then went on to finish the 26.2 mile run in 6:18:48.

Nikic's father says that the mantra is to improve one percent each day. His coach, Grieb said in a statement, "I'm no longer surprised by what Chris can accomplish because I recognize who Chris is; a human being that has goals and dreams just like everyone else. He wants to make the path easier for those just like him and can follow his lead."

He is now a Guinness World Record holder.

This is a story of inspiration, hope and positivity, and now, more than ever, the world needs more of it.

OPINION

VIEWS AND COMMENTARY FROM STURBRIDGE, BRIMFIELD, HOLLAND AND WALES

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Like a limerick? Write a limerick

BY SALLY SEELIG
STURBRIDGE

A flea and a fly in a flue
Were imprisoned, so what could they do?
"Let us flee," said the fly!
"Let us fly," said the flea!
And they flew through a flaw in the flue.

To write a limerick, there are five lines — A,A,B,B,A. Lines 1, 2, and 5, the rhyme and rhythm are the same. Lines 3 and 4 have the same rhyme and rhythm as each other, but different from line 1, 2, and 5. (Edward Lear, Ogden Nash and Lewis Carroll wrote limericks for adults.)

1. A mathematician confided
2. That a moebius strip is one sided.
3. But you'll get quite a laugh
4. When you cut it in half
5. For it stays in one place when divid-ed.

Rudyard Kipling — limerick:
There was a small boy of Quebec,
Who was buried in snow to his neck;
When they said, "Are you friz?"
He replied, "Yes, I is —
But we don't call this cold in Quebec."

Edward Lear:
There was an old man with a beard,
Who said "It is just as I feared!
Two owls and a hen,
Four larks and a wren,
Have all built their nests in my beard!"

Ideas for thanking your family

JEFF BURDICK

It's almost Thanksgiving. And although 2020 may have been a difficult year for you, as it has been for many people, you can probably still find things for which you can be thankful — such as your family. How can you show your appreciation for your loved ones?

Here are a few suggestions:

- Invest in your children's future. If you have young children — or even grandchildren — one of the greatest gifts you can give them is the gift of education. You may want to consider contributing to a higher education funding vehicle.

- Be generous. Do you have older children, just starting out in life? If so, they could well use a financial gift to help pay off student loans, buy a car or even make a down payment on a home. You can give up to $15,000 per year, per recipient, without incurring gift taxes. Of course, you don't have to give cash — you might want to consider presenting your children with shares of stock in companies they like.

- Review your insurance coverage. If you weren't around, it would leave some gaping holes — financial and otherwise — in the lives of your family members. That's why it's essential you maintain adequate life insurance. Your employer might offer a group plan, but it may not be sufficient to meet your needs. There's no magic formula for determining the right amount of coverage, so you'll have to consider a variety of factors: your age, spouse's income, number of children and so on. Also, you may want to consider disability insurance — if you were unable to work for a while, it could cause a real problem for your family's finances.

- Preserve your financial independence. When your children are young, you take care of them. But you certainly don't want them to have to do the same for you — so it's essential you maintain your financial independence throughout your life. You can do this in at least a couple of ways. First, consider investing regularly in your 401(k), IRA and other retirement accounts. The greater your resources during your retirement years, the less you may ever need to count on your family. And second, you may want to protect yourself from the devastating costs of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay. A financial professional can suggest a strategy to help you cope with these expenses.

- Create an estate plan. To leave a legacy to your family, you don't have to be wealthy — but you do need a comprehensive estate plan. You'll have to think through a lot of questions, such as: Have I named beneficiaries for all my assets? How much do I want to leave to each person? Do I need to go beyond a simple will to establish an arrangement such as a living trust? For help in answering all these issues, you'll want to work with an attorney.

By making these moves, you can show your loved ones, in a tangible way, how much you value them — and that can help you keep the spirit of Thanksgiving alive all year long.

Common Sense Tips to Save Fuel Costs

The bad news is, heating your house will likely cost you a bit more this winter. The good news is, a few common sense tips can cut your losses down to size.

According to a Nov 10, 2020 report from the EIA, oil, gas and electricity prices are set to bump up in 2021. With the uncertainty of COVID restrictions looming, even the slightest increase can upset a household budget. Instead of digging deeper into your pockets this winter, you can offset the expected modest increase by making some common sense changes around the house.

And lest you think a little energy loss here and there won't add up, ponder this: Heat loss from a one quarter inch gap in a door threshold is as great as that from a four inch hole in the wall!

The following practical ideas (some of which were previously featured in this column) reveal how a little compromise and effort can add up to impressive energy savings.

 Families typically use more hot water in winter months and heating up the water can account for nearly 15 percent of total household energy costs. Lowering the temperature on the hot water heater to 120 degrees can add up to substantial savings throughout the winter. Here's a simple test to check if you're heating water hotter than necessary: Place the back of your hand under a stream of running hot water. If you cannot comfortably keep your hand under the water, your water temperature is too high and you're wasting money.

 Think lowering the thermostat temperature slightly won't make a dent in your fuel savings? Think again. Did you know turning down the thermostat just one degree can save three percent on your fuel bill? Better yet, lowering it five degrees for four hours a day can add up to a ten percent savings! Lower your thermostat at night and use an extra wool blanket or quilt. And if the house is empty for more than four hours per day turn the thermostat down five or more degrees when you leave for work and crank it back up when you return.

 Another easy money saving tip is to opt for showers instead of baths during winter months. While a long, hot bath is tempting, remember, it will almost triple your cost over a shower as more water is used and must be heated. To save even more on hot water costs, replace shower heads with low flow models. New ones are so improved, you'll hardly notice the reduction in water flow.

 If you have an older hot water heater, check with your utility company to find out if it would benefit from an insulation jacket. This cost effective tip can add up to over $100 a year in energy cost savings.

 Here's another quick tip: If you are going on vacation, be sure to turn the hot water thermostat down a bit. You'll save money even while you're gone!

 Doing laundry takes its toll on water usage and hot and warm water cycles use more fuel than you might think. Save money by buying a cold water detergent and doing all your laundry in cold water. Typical savings realized by a family of five is up to $250 annually.

 During the winter months, use your stove and bathroom fans sparingly, as they remove precious warm air from the room. Obviously, you'll want to use a vent to dispel moisture in the bathroom, but there's usually no need to switch on the vent fan every time you put on the bathroom light. Ditto for a kitchen fan vent. Use it periodically while cooking; do not leave it on constantly unless smoke is an issue.

 If you have an electric heating element in a small bathroom, consider disconnecting it. Supply plenty of thick towels to dry off fast, place a fuzzy scatter rug on a tile floor and your family may never miss the heat!

 Use good old fashioned solar power to cut down on heating costs. On sunny winter days, open curtains or blinds on the south side of the house. Just be sure to close the curtains or drapes at night to block out drafts.

 Check your furnace filter frequently. A clogged filter greatly decreases the furnace's efficiency and makes it work harder. Some energy efficient advisors suggest automatically replacing filters each month. They claim the savings realized in efficiency more than make up for the cost of the new filters.

 Dust is a powerful insulator and dusty baseboard vents and radiators use more energy than necessary to heat up a room, so keep surfaces clean. If you have a coil thermostat, be sure to clean it each season to ensure accurate readings. Just take off the cover and wipe or blow away dust.

 Do a vent check. If you have baseboards, make sure they are fully open and operable. Move any furniture or drapes that could be blocking warm air flow. Vents or baseboards that are even partially blocked result in an unnecessary hike in heating costs.

 Automatic timers are very affordable and they make adjusting thermostats a no brainer. Typically they will keep the temperature steady during the day and automatically reduce it at night, resulting in substantial savings.

 Take full advantage of heat created from cooking. Warm up the house while you cook by planning slow cooking stove top dishes such as stews and simmering soups. When you are done using the oven for cooking and shut it off, keep the door open to release the remaining hot air into the kitchen. When you heat water, use a tea kettle or pot instead of the microwave oven, etc.

 Generations before us took frugal advantage of the fact moist air retains heat. Stoves of yesteryear often had a pan of water to add moisture to the air. Today, a humidifier is often the choice to boost the effect of heating, which translates into lower fuel costs.

 If you run a dishwasher you can

A well trained dog makes for easier hunting

TRUE

A change in the warm weather to a bit more normal for this time of year has made all outdoor activities more comfortable, especially for hunters. Bird hunters have been doing very well in the valley. Watching a well trained dog point or flush a bird in a field is something only a hunter can appreciate. For the hunter that owns a good bird dog, he or she can get the most satisfaction from a hunt. A lot of hours training the dog has made the four legged family member enjoying the hunt as well.

This past week, this writer hunted the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club and brought along a young hunter hoping he could get a shot at a bird. Young Aiden loves dogs and was overjoyed when I asked him to handle my nine year old Lab "Twig" on the leash, as we walked along a road leading to some decent pheasant cover. Aiden is the grandson of Steve Rondeau who walked along with us as we followed Twig through the heavy cover. He was allowed to carry a 410 single shot shotgun and was kept in front of us as we navigated the underbrush. It was not long before "Twig" flushed a Cock Pheasant from the cover, and we told Aiden to shoot. As the young hunter put the sites of the 410 gun on the flushed bird, the shotgun discharged and the pheasant folded to the ground. «Twig» was on the bird in seconds and did a great retrieve bringing the bird back to me. That was the highlight of the day for us. We headed back to the club to order breakfast and sat under the Pavilion at the club, to discuss the hunt and enjoy our food. This week's second picture shows Aiden with his pheasant and this writers Lab, Twig! The club host youth hunts annually prior to the hunting season!

The hunt brought back many memories of my childhood, with a Daisy Red Rider BB gun my parents put under the Christmas tree for me when I was around 10 years old. It was the best Christmas present I received that year. I was allowed to take the gun outdoors on my own, after my dad told me about the dangers of the gun, and to never ever point the gun at anyone. "It is not a toy," my dad stated numerous times. Fortunately, I never got into trouble with the gun. My dad was more of a fisherman than a hunter, so we got to enjoy fishing on the Meadow Pond

Midcentury glassware

Regular readers of this column know that "brown furniture," glassware and china prices have dropped over the years. There are a few notable exceptions though, including many midcentury (1940s to 1960s or 1970s) glassware pieces.

ANTIQUES,
COLLECTIBLES
& ESTATES
WAYNE TUISKULA

Some kitchenware from the midcentury is collectible. Green "Jadeite" Fire King prices may have peaked when Martha Stewart displayed pieces in a cabinet behind her on her cooking show, but it still sells fairly well today. Five Fire King mixing bowls recently sold for $70 at auction. A large 87-piece group of mixed dinnerware brought $550. Pyrex kitchenware is also in demand. A pink one and a half quart divided covered casserole cooking dish recently sold for $54. A set of nesting Pyrex mixing bowls in yellow, green, red and blue went for $120 this month.

Midcentury modern art glass is also quite popular with collectors. When thinking of glass from this era, most people think of Murano (Venetian glass). It was popular in the 1960s but has a much longer history, dating all the way back to the 1200s. Venetian glass was in high production during the 15th and 16th centuries. Glassmaking in Murano declined in the 17th century, but it came back in the 19th century. During the 1920s, Murano produced art nouveau design glass. World War II saw production drop, but it came back strong again after the war.

Prices have increased for midcentury Murano glass. Glassware that may have sold at estate sales for anywhere from two bucks to $10 in the 1990s may now bring 10 times those prices. For example, a Murano cockatoo recently sold for $50 and two Murano "Aquarium bowls" by Alfredo Barbini, with fish designs on the bottom, sold for $200 and $250 this month.

Nordic countries also produced some quality art glass during this time. Gerda and Asta Stromberg made tall cylindrical "Sputnik" vases, along with other patterns for Strombergshyttan of Sweden. The well-known Swedish glassmaker Orrefors purchased Strombergshyttan in 1976. Riihimäki glass of Finland made colorful vases and other art glass objects during the 1960s. Many had a clear base with curves, creating the effect of multiple levels.

America also produced some quality midcentury art glass. Higgins glass designed what was called a "glass sandwich." According to higginsglass.com: "on one piece of enamel-coated glass, a design is created, either drawn with colored enamels, or pieced with glass segments." Another piece of enameled glass is placed on top of that. Blenko Glass created amberina glass (red and yellow colors merging) among many other patterns during the 1960s. Other companies like Heisey offered some modern design glassware as well.

Some midcentury glassware can fetch high prices at auction. A large 1940s-1950s Asta Stromberg Diamant (Diamond pattern) glass vase by Strombergshyttan sold for $735 in a 2013 online auction. A "peacock" Blenko floor bottle brought $2,100 at auction in 2016. A set of four Riihimäki glasses made by the artist Nanny Stil for the Riihimäen Lasi Oy company went for £4,000 ($5,278 U.S.) in 2011. A 1960 Michael and Frances Higgins Rondelay screen with five rows each with five round pieces of glass and brass sold for $13,000 in 2014. A 1960 Murano "Dorico Corniola" vase by Ercole Barovier, described in one auction catalog as "colourless glass with inclusions in carnelian, white, violet and colourless," was auctioned for $29,000 in 2013. Art glass has still been selling well more recently. A pair of Murano glass chandeliers sold for $2,750 in late October. Despite the pandemic, there is still bottled up demand for high quality art glass.

We will be offering a large collection of antique and newer toys from one estate in several online auctions over the next few months, beginning with some die-cast cars. We also will be offering paintings by Fay Moore from her estate. Moore is well known for sporting scenes and horse racing paintings. I'll provide additional updates in future columns.

and numerous brooks, catching brook trout. Every year, he took time for us to go fishing for trout on opening day, at Prentice Brook and Johnsons Brook in Whitinsville.

When I became 15 years old, my Uncle the late Paul Hale purchased a H & R 12 gauge shotgun from Harrington & Richardson. Paul was employed at the H & R factory and was able to purchase the gun for very little money. The gun was a bolt action shotgun, with a clip to hold additional shotgun shells. It had a Polly choke that could change the discharged load from open to full. I had a lot of fun shooting ducks back then. As I got older, I purchased a new Browning 20 gauge automatic, from a gun shop in Douglas. I later purchased an Ithaca light weight 12 gauge shotgun, with two barrels. One for deer hunting and one for bird hunting. The 12 gauge Ithaca I now own was purchased at Sparky's gun shop in Webster which is now closed after his passing. It is a great gun and is used by my Granddaughter Andrea, for trap shooting on occasions.

As I was growing up, I can fondly remember all the good times I had hunting with our two sons David and Ralph, Jr.! It was a time that leaving a gun in my car or truck was permitted, without a trigger lock on. Pickup trucks often had a gun rack in the rear window with two guns left in the unlocked truck as hunters stopped to have breakfast or some other chores. It was a time when youngsters respected someone else's property and were taught right from wrong. There are still a lot of great kids out there today.

Archers are harvesting some impressive deer locally and in neighboring states, as this week's first picture shows. Numerous 10 and 12 point bucks weighing in at over 200 lbs. dressed are being reported. It is hard to believe that Mass. is producing such impressive deer. It is normally a deer that comes from Maine or Canada, but they are being harvested here in new England. Shotgun season in Massachusetts starts Nov. 30. Are you ready?

We are in for a rough ride this winter because of the pandemic, and it will require all family members to use common sense, and to wear masks and practice social distancing. This is serious stuff!

Just a reminder that Wallum lake is open to fishing until the last day of February, as it is governed by Rhode Island regulations. Hopefully, there will be some ice this winter to do some ice fishing for some of the recently stocked trout.

Select the right tool for the pruning task

MYERS

Deadheading, trimming, and pruning are part of growing and maintaining a beautiful and productive garden and landscape. Make sure you are outfitted with the right tool for the job. Matching the tool to the pruning task will help ensure a proper cut, reduce hand fatigue, and allow you to work longer.

Since most pruning cuts in the garden and landscape are between a quarter and three quarters of an inch, a bypass hand pruner is a must. These pruners have two sharp blades like scissors, making a clean cut that closes quickly. This helps reduce the risk of insects and disease moving in and harming your plants.

Avoid hand-held pruners that are too heavy or open too wide for your hand size. Those with a spring action return help reduce hand fatigue as long as the opening matches the size of your hand. Make sure the pruner does not open wider than your hand can easily grip. Select a tool that fits in your hand, is comfortable, has an ergonomic grip and is easy to control.

Matching your pruner to your hand size is as important as matching it to the cutting job. Opting for an oversized pruner to make larger cuts can lead to hand fatigue, frustration, and improper cuts. Measure the width across the palm of your hand at the base of your fingers. Next, measure the height from the middle of the base of your hand to the tip of your middle finger.

A pruner rated for half inch cuts is a good match for those with small hands less than 3 1/2" wide and 6 1/4" high. If your hands measure three and a half to four inches wide six and a half to eight inches high, you may want to purchase a three-quarter-inch pruner. Those with larger hands should do fine with a one-inch hand-held pruner.

But size is just one factor to consider. Hand strength also influences the diameter of the stems you will be able to cut. Just because a tool is rated for three quarters of an inch doesn't mean everyone will be able to apply the needed pressure to make such a large cut. Invest in tools with compound levers or ratchets when you need a mechanical advantage to make cutting easier. When the job is too big for you or the tool, select one better suited to the task. Employ a bypass lopper like Corona Tool's ComfortGel SL 3164D with tactile handles. Loppers have long handles that give you greater leverage and extend your reach. This extra reach makes it easier to prune all parts of small trees, shrubs, and roses.

Invest in a foldable pruning RazorTOOTH Saw (coronatoolsusa.com) with a pull stroke cutting action and ergonomic handle. You'll be able to make cuts fast and easy and minimize hand fatigue. Foldable saws allow you to tuck the blade into the handle for safekeeping and reduce storage space.

Saws are useful tools for cutting larger branches on trees and shrubs that you can safely prune. Although I am a certified arborist, I only prune small trees and shrubs. I save big tree work for my colleagues that climb, have the equipment and training to do the job safely.

said. "Additionally, this legislation will aim to improve the care of our veterans at the Commonwealth's soldiers' homes."

The oversight committee has held in-person and remote hearings over the last three weeks. The initial hearings included statements from family members of victims lost to the outbreak. Subsequent hearings featured testimony from Holyoke Soldiers' Home employees.

The former director of the facility from 2011-16, Paul Barabani, was also in attendance to discuss warnings he provided years in advance about the facility's deficiencies and vulnerabilities. He resigned in early 2016 after voicing concerns over limited staffing and long overdue renovations.

At the time of the COVID-19 outbreak in the spring, the Holyoke Soldiers' Home was run by Superintendent Bennett Walsh. He resigned from his position in October and now faces criminal neglect charges for his actions before and during the outbreak. The facility's former medical director, Dr. David Clinton, is also facing charges.

A scathing June report from an independent investigator suggested that Walsh was unqualified to lead the facility. The management team's decisions in response to the worsening outbreak were described as "utterly baffling" by investigator Mark Pearlstein in his 174-page report.

Several additional investigations revealed that infected residents at the facility were not properly isolated after testing positive. Others displaying symptoms of COVID-19 were allowed to remain in the general resident population while awaiting their test results, investigators said. Later, after even more residents contracted the virus, COVID-19 patients were still allegedly mixed with healthy residents in a scrambled response.

Shortly before the release of the independent report in June, Massachusetts Secretary of Veterans' Services Francisco Urena resigned from his position.

For Berthiaume and Gobi, who work on opposite sides of the aisle, the special oversight committee provides a unique opportunity to join forces to get answers.

"I'm looking forward to a final resolution to this process to give closure to families that have suffered due to the mismanagement of this virus response at the Holyoke Soldiers' Home," Berthiaume said. "It's unconscionable that this was allowed to happen to those who gave so much of themselves to our great country."

The joint oversight committee will wrap up hearings in the coming weeks.
