Uxbridge owns the 4th

BY ERICA CHICK
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

Over five years ago, the Uxbridge 4th of July committee was formed in an effort to bring a holiday celebration like no other back to Uxbridge. The committee consists of Travis DoRosario, Sean Matthews, and Amie Briggs. Despite their greatest efforts and working tirelessly, it just wasn't happening. Events like this are costly and can be a great financial burden.

A little dancing before the fireworks show.

Chris Whitten, of Premeer Real Estate, noted, "After two years of fundraising, they turned to Premeer to see if we could team up with them to bring fireworks back to Uxbridge after a nearly dozen year hiatus. In a heartbeat, we said 'yes' and got to work with the committee immediately. Our Premeer team (myself, Shelley Ferrage, Molly Mullen and Matt McLaughlin), along with the committee, hit the ground hard for sponsorships to hit our magic number in order to bring the fireworks back to Uxy. After many Meerkat promotional videos and other out-of-the-box marketing ideas, both the Uxbridge 4th of July Committee and Premeer are proud to say that we brought back the boom in 2016! The struggle was just as tough in 2017, but we hit the mark to make them bigger and better. Now in year three of the fireworks, we've got them on the field and continue to grow."

And grow it has. Attendance is estimated between 3-3.5k people. There were over 40 sponsors, several vendors, and plenty of bouncy houses for the younger crowd to enjoy.

This year's Hollywood Blockbuster theme brought some creativity to the $300+ sponsors. In previous years Whitten created and produced promotional videos with Premeer's mascot, Murray the Meerkat, for each of the sponsors. This year, he took his creative skills on a different journey and created a Hollywood Blockbuster movie poster for each of the sponsors. The posters had a different twist to them, playing on the type of business

Thunder rocks the Valley

BY ERICA CHICK
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

The VFW Post 1385 in Uxbridge proudly hosted the 15th annual Thunder in the Valley on Saturday, July 14. Several parents brought their children to be mesmerized by the sight and sounds of all the motorcycles driving off.

Hunter Wilson, age 4, donning his reflective sunglasses, stared in awe at these powerful and loud machines as they drove past. He pointed and jumped up and down, calling ecstatically, "Look! Look! All the motorcycles!"

It surely was a sight to admire.

Thunder in the Valley is a memorial motorcycle ride and chicken barbeque that honors the life of Officer Chet Dzivasen. Officer Dzivasen was a dedicated officer on the Uxbridge Police Department and a resident of the town of Douglas. Chet passed away while coaching his son's Little League game at the age of 35.

A memorial scholarship was established in 2003 to honor Officer Dzivasen. Due to the overwhelming success of this event, the scholarship has been funded for many years to come. In 2007, it was decided that a local charity should be helped. After much consideration, the Adam Bullen Memorial Foundation was chosen.

The Adam Bullen Memorial Foundation is based in Oxford and is dedicated to helping patients and their families dealing with cancer. They provide both emotional and financial support to local children and adults through the many stages of this life threatening disease. Residents throughout the Work is valued and then some

It's a national program that involves students from across the country, and here in the Blackstone Valley, the students work with the Blackstone Valley Heritage Corridor in a myriad of ways.

Church groups from Prince Edward Island, Michigan, New Jersey as well as Whitinsville take part in the project. A total of 95 Youth Serve volunteers worked this summer, with the current value of a volunteer's time placed at $24.69 per hour.

After totaling the time of adult and student volunteers, it was determined the value in Whitinsville is $123,353.

The volunteers worked throughout the six communities of the Heritage Corridor.

Thank you to all who volunteered and made a difference throughout the communities of the Blackstone Heritage Corridor. We imagined YOUR possibilities and you all delivered beyond our wildest expectations!!

Pleasant Street Church of Whitinsville hosted the volunteers for the third year in a row and partnered with BHC to enroll the teens with the National Park Service's Volunteers-In-Parks program which BHC manages. After the week of service, Buchanan tallied the numbers and at the closing ceremonies on July 12 revealed that Whitinsville Serve 2018 contributed 4,996 volunteer hours which resulted in an-kind donation of $123,353 to the Volunteers-In-Parks program.

An enchanted afternoon to meet an author

KIMBERLY MASCHI
STONEBRIDGE PRESS CORRESPONDENT

What is better than finishing your favorite book? Getting to ask the author any questions you like! Enchanted Passage LLC in Sutton made it possible for authors and patrons to come together in a fair filled with games, plays, prizes, and discussions. Fair goers had the opportunity to ask their favorite authors questions about their process, characters, plots, and future projects.

Tui T. Sutherland, author of over 30 books for kids and teens answered questions about her Wings of Fire series. One young girl asked Sutherland, "how do you finish a book?"

Sutherland responded, "I figure it out as I go. I really like to know everything about a character's backstory and I let it all come naturally."

On the panel discussion was author Ammi-Joan Paquette, author of The Train of Lost Things and Bunny Bus.

Paquette says her process is much different, "I tend to be a planner. I write in little chunks and knowing where I am going means a lot to me."

Anna Staniszewski, author of Dogosaurus Rex and The

SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

The annual Worcester Shakespeare Festival is scheduled Aug. 3-26 at the Alternatives' Singh Performance Center, 60 Douglas Road, Whitinsville. Performance dates are: Friday, August 3, 10, 17, & 24 at 8 pm; Saturday, August 4, 11, 18, 25 at 8 pm and Sunday, August 26 at 2:30 pm

Worcester Shakespeare Company presents "The Herbal Bed" by Peter Whelan. The year is 1613. The place is Stratford-upon-Avon. William Shakespeare's eldest daughter, Susanna Hall, has been accused of adultery with Rafe Smith, a married man. Susanne, herself married to prominent Stratford doctor Jonathan Hall, sues her accuser, Jack Lane, for slander in the court of Worcester Cathedral. Shakespeare's presence looms ethereally over this emotional take of forbidden love and private intrigue.

Tickets and full performance calendar online at: WorcesterShakespeareCompany.org or at the door. Adults $20, Seniors/Student $15, Children under 12 free. Produced by special arrangement with Dramatist Play Service, Inc.

MILLVILLE PROJECT FUNDING

BOSTON — State Senator Ryan C. Fattman (R-Sutton) announced over $1,500,000 was adopted in the state senate's environmental bond bill for the town of Millville.

Fattman's amendment authorized funding for improvements to Millville's water infrastructure. The bill, which bonds spending for environmental projects throughout the Commonwealth, included funding for projects pertaining to climate change, environmental stewardship, and species adaptation and mitigation.

"I am appreciative of the State Senate moving these community oriented amendments forward," said Fattman. "Clean water, parks, and trails are integral parts of our communities and need to be funded as such. Every dollar matters in helping local government."

The bill now moves to conference committee to iron out differences between an earlier version passed by the House of Representatives last month.

OKTOBERFEST PLANNING

DOUGLAS — Planning is underway for the 2018 Douglas Oktoberfest. The event will be held on Saturday, Oct. 6 from 9am to 4pm on Main Street. The popular festival features a beer garden, wiener dog races, live music, a car show, an assortment of local food, family games and rides, diverse vendors, and a live petting zoo.

As planning for the Douglas Oktoberfest ramps up, the festival committee is seeking vendors, volunteers, and entertainers.

Interested vendors can find vendor forms at www.douglasoctoberfest.com. Local retailers, antique dealers, and artists are encouraged submit vendor forms.

The committee is seeking volunteers for the day of the event. Jobs include setup, breakdown, and staffing of activities.

Entertainers interested in performing should contact Keith Menard.

The 2018 festival will mark the event's 27th year. The event typically sees attendance upwards of ten thousand people from around the Blackstone Valley. For more information, contact Keith Menard at douglas_octoberfest@yahoo.com or visit www.facebook.com/douglasoctoberfest.

Car Buying Tips

People ask Place: My new car seems so complicated. Why do I have all this technology?

The Right answer: During our recent Classic Cruise we were able to see first hand the many differences in todays cars versus the cars of yesteryear. The new cars had so much more in electronics to increase performance, efficiency, comfort and most importantly safety. The innovations many of us have simply grown to expect in our cars were not available in the 50's, 60's or even 70's. Much of the now standard features were developed in just the last few decades. Federal regulation and of course customer demand have contributed to much of the new technology in the new cars. Even some of the new technology like your cell phone have sparked new tech in your cars. Airbags that were once only in the steering wheel now seem to come from everywhere and can create a complete "canopy" offering protection to passengers in every seating position. Ford even has available inflatable seat belts to provide rear passengers even more security. Anti-lock braking systems, stability control systems, adaptive cruise control, automatic climate control, intermittent wipers, infotainment systems, all-wheel drive, 6 and 10 speed automatic transmissions, power windows and door locks, back up cameras, electronic ignition and fuel injection are just some of the things we have seen in todays cars that weren't in those classic cars we love. In fact, did you know that in early F series pickups a passenger side windshield wiper was an extra cost option. We love those old cars and trucks. They sure are great to admire. Look closely at the new cars and trucks and marvel at the things they can do. The advancements are incredible and much more is coming to improve the next generation of transportation.

MFB promotes three

MILFORD — Milford Federal Bank is pleased to announce the appointment of Kim Anderson to senior vice president chief financial officer.

Anderson joins Milford Federal with extensive experience in the banking industry, including her most recent position as vice president director of finance at Unibank. Anderson holds a Bachelor's degree from Worcester State and an MBA from Nichols College. Additionally, Anderson graduated from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking and earned the Wharton leadership certificate.

Milford Federal is also pleased to announce the promotions of Donna Desjardin and Melissa Mestre.

Desjardin was promoted to the position of senior vice president residential & consumer lending. She first joined Milford Federal in September 1986 as a data entry clerk and has since held the positions of assistant branch manager in Whitinsville, assistant to the loan officer, lending/sales manager, assistant vice president loans and most recently vice president loans.

Mestre was promoted to the position of vice president finance. Mestre holds a Bachelor's degree in accounting from Worcester State College. She first joined

SUMMER KIDS PROGRAMS

Build & Fly Air Powered Rockets and Airplanes!

Wednesday, August 1, 10:30-11:30am

Description: This 1-hour workshop with Ed the Wizard is for grades 1 - 6, and registration is required, so email deb.soderman@hotmail to reserve your spot. Here is the program description from Ed himself: "I am offering a workshop on building and flying Air Powered Rockets and Airplanes using paper, balloons, straws, and modeling clay. We are not building "stomp rockets." Upon the completion of our planes and rockets, we will learn basic aerodynamics enabling our aircraft fly further, straighter, and perform stunts. My experience comes from a life time of aircraft enthusiasm and model building. From an early age I was designing and flying my own gas powered model aircraft, several of which I still have, include one model that reaches speeds of over 100 mph! This workshop is best for grades 1 and up. Although I will provide hands on help as needed, patrons must have basic manual dexterity and to be able to understand and follow simple art and craft instructions; of course, parents are always welcomed to join in! All materials are included." Sponsored in part by the Douglas Cultural Council.

Crafts & Games

Wednesday, August 8, 10:30-11:30am

Dirt Diary has another process of writing.

"I am in between, I jump in and I always get stuck at page 50. This is when I start to plan out the book I am writing," says Staniszewski.

More authors line the lawn in front of the Enchanted Passage book store. Young authors Laura and David Lee, from Shrewsbury, share their love of writing with everyone.

"We self-publish our books," says David Lee, published author since the age of seven. David writes kids chapter books while Laura writes young adult fantasy books. Laura is proud of her book, Two Worlds. David's first book, Danny and the Portal of the World, shows the imagination and dedication he has to his writing. David was host to work shops within the store, he taught young children how he wrote action scenes. Laura discussed how she starts a novel. The siblings are a great team, they support each other and love to write.

Kate Narita helping Charlotte Henry find 100 bugs!

Author April Jones Prince

Author of Goldenlocks and the Three Pirates and 101 Dinosaurs, April Jones Prince from Shrewsbury shows that she likes to "put little nuggets of history" into her books. Prince loves having her books in independent bookstores and not only does she discuss her own books but she is thrilled with her friend and fellow writer Kate Narita. Narita wrote 100 Bugs and she helps the children wander through the books store on a scavenger hunt to find 100 Bugs!

Owner of the Enchanted Passage LLC, Kimberly Cake, had this to say about the amazing event that took place.

"We were delighted to have such a wonderful group of well-known local authors, readers of all ages, and vendors at our first Author Faire. The excitement and awe of kids meeting their favorite authors and hearing new stories was truly enchanting. We are thankful to everyone who attended. We look forward to next year's fair! It's been an enchanting summer here, and there is so much more to come, from the Moana Luau to Harry Potter Week and more. In August we are excited to host our first mom's night out with Expressions of You as we host a shop for a cause for the UMass NICU, a dragonfly paint-night, a teddy bear picnic and other events for all ages. We look forward to seeing everyone soon!"

The Enchanted Passage is a hidden marvel in Sutton off Rte. 146. This book store is an experience to behold. Each room has a theme like fairies, science, Harry Potter, and more.

Friday's Child

Jaeden
10-Years old

Hello! My name is Jaeden and I am a loyal friend!

Jaeden is an imaginative girl of Caucasian descent. Those who are close to her describe her as feisty, sweet, outgoing and sometimes silly. Some of her favorite activities include making up stories and songs, playing with her Barbie's, and playing dress up with jewelry and make-up. She also enjoys riding her bike and playing outside, whether it's swimming, going to the beach or playing with friends. Jaeden likes to be in charge and independent but is also described as a loyal friend. She enjoys the structure of school, and in general thrives in an attentive environment with lots of positive reinforcements.

Legally freed for adoption, Jaeden will do best in a family with a mother and a father or two mothers. If there are other children in the home, they will need to be an older female. Most importantly, Jaeden needs a family who will stick by her side through ups and downs. A family must also be open to helping Jaeden visit with her birth parents three times a year and maintain contact with her two sisters with whom she is close

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a "permanent place to call HOME."

CELEBRATION

and their business name. Some even had their headshots swapped in for an actor's head. Going along with the Hollywood Blockbuster theme, during the fireworks scores from movies such as E.T., Star Wars, and Jurassic park, bringing extra smiles to the faces of the on-lookers.

As with many events, the safety of the attendees is imperative. Whitten wants to make sure to thank everyone involved.

"We want to thank the UFD, especially Chief Bill and Steve Tancrell for working with the state fire marshal and our amazing fireworks company to get them onto the field. Safety was always our first concern. We also want to thank the UPD for their help with traffic, parking, and overall safety of the event," said Whitten.

Last year traffic on Oak street was an issue as people were parking on both sides of the street, not allowing enough room for moving traffic. This year it was announced that event-goers should park on the school side of the street only. Cars were parked up past Whitin Elementary School for the event. Many people from town chose to walk to the field to see fireworks instead of trying to find parking and dealing with the traffic afterwards. Starting around 5 pm, groups of people could be seen walking through town heading to the field, with chairs and blankets, donning their red, white, and blue.

When asked what the plans are looking forward, Whitten replied, "We are already talking about how to make the fireworks even better in 2019! It's all possible due to many sharing the same vision and working towards that big goal."

Lastly, the Uxbridge 4th of July committee and those at Premeer would like to say, "We love you, Uxbridge! Not many towns can pull off what you have the past few years. In a world filled with negativity and insensitivity, you continue to be a bright, uplifting firework of compassion and community. Thank You!"

A history lesson to relearn

While the lofty ideals of the American Dream would have us all religious zealots intent on creating heaven on earth, idolizing a perfect democracy already in our hearts as we set forth boldly where no one had gone before in the late 1500s and early 1600s to that great unknown continent; the bitter truth is so, so unkind.

Most of us were not so inclined.

The Cotton Mathers of the world were few and far between.

The explorers had found a wild land, ripe for the taking and the exploitation; to hell with the people already there.

The business people were wringing their hands with glee, great corporations created just to rape those profits as quickly as possible: the licenses to settle given over only through them and the right to ship and receive goods only through their trading companies.

Immediately the need for more hands and muscle was needed. Not education, not intelligence, just strong backs. Those corporations, the Hudson Bay Company, East India Trading and so on were only the beginning and as they grew stronger, or smaller splinter companies broke off and became independent, they had to find ways to populate their colonies, cheaply.

Deals were struck.

Jails were emptied.

Poor houses and debtors' prisons were cleared.

Not that they didn't fill again, because life was hard; but there was opportunity offered. Indentured servitude was one way out of a hard life, and judges were convinced to give banishment to the colonies as a punishment in some cases.

Some were just plain bought. And not even for much of a bribe.

Documentation from the time, from those who lived it, and those who were trying to make it work, say it all:

"A great part of the new company," says Mr. Stith, "consisted of unruly sparks, packed off by their friends to escape worse destinies at home. And the rest were chiefly made up of poor gentlemen, broken tradesmen, rakes and libertines, footmen, and such others as were much fitter to spoil and ruin a Commonwealth, than to help to raise or maintain one. This lewd company, therefore, were led by their seditious captains into many mischiefs and extravagancies. They assumed to themselves the power of disposing of the government, and conferred it sometimes on one, and sometimes on another. To-day the old commission must rule, to-morrow the new, and next day neither. So that all was anarchy and distraction."

Excerpt From: John Marshall. "The Life of George Washington, Vol. 1." iBooks. https://itunes.apple.com/us/book/the-life-of-george-washington-vol-1/id492181829?mt=11

It is no wonder our rebellious spirit continues to this day. We just don't like government much. Never did. Never will.

We cast fish eyes at anyone who tries to rule. We have a history of it.

So when someone comes along who isn't a politician, swears he will do it different, will drain the life out of those already there, will shake it up…of course we listen.

We were "led by our seditious captains into many mischiefs" and continue to be so.

We may now recognize that perhaps our rebel does have an agenda and his own cause. And he really doesn't understand that politics is a different animal and his business practices don't always work the same way in this world as they did in his private world. We may have had our rose colored glasses about him rubbed a bit less shiny; and do understand there are some problems with his revolving door policies with aides and appointed henchmen; a peek into ethics might be needed.

He is far, far, far from being an innocent in any sense of the word. He is manipulative, arrogant and a narcissist; and it has always worked for him in the private sector, not so much in the public sector.

But he is the president, he does have the power that goes with that office; and while he wields that power whether we agree or disagree with him; like or dislike how he represents our country, he's it.

Our history as rabble rousers and libertines means if we don't like it we can very well rise up and throw him out the next time around. What was a golden boy this time can easily become pond scum the next time. It has happened before and will again.

It is a lesson to learn and relearn.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Rubin: Early won't debate

To the Editor:

Yet again, I challenge the incumbent to a debate. I have made numerous requests for a debate over the past three months through social media, radio, television and most recently an article in the Worcester Telegram, which ran on June 8, 2018. To date, the incumbent has refused all my requests. His refusal to debate me is nothing short of disrespect to the voters of Worcester County. With your help, I would like to conduct multiple debates across Worcester County.

By comparison, the Suffolk County District Attorney's race has already had six debates and forums, with at least one more scheduled. Due to the incumbent, the transparent process taking place in Suffolk County is regrettably absent in Worcester County, and quite frankly, disrespectful to its residents who deserve more.

That the incumbent refuses to give the residents of Worcester County an opportunity to hear a discussion on the issues is outrageous. More outrageous is the outright denial of the incumbent politician to address my numerous requests for this debate. One can only surmise that the incumbent is not willing to speak publicly without the benefit of the carefully crafted and scripted press releases he quotes from that are drafted by high priced political consultants he pays for from his campaign account. I, on the other hand, have been speaking directly to the public for over 22 years without the assistance of political consultants or three press consultants who are currently on the DA's payroll at an annual cost of approximately $196,000 to the taxpayers.[1]

As an attorney with over 16 years of experience as a prosecutor and 5 years as defense counsel, as well as having worked in 3 different District Attorney's Offices, I know how the precious resources of the public should, and more importantly, should not be spent. If elected, I will spend the vast majority of the budget on paying and retaining experienced, dedicated and ethical prosecutors to work in the courtrooms representing the citizens of Worcester County. I am opposed to using taxpayer dollars to pay high priced administrators, supervisors, support staff and others who don't directly further the cause of public safety.

I am ready, willing, and able to discuss ALL issues of interest to the residents of Worcester County.

As a candidate for Worcester County District Attorney, on the ballot for November 6, 2018, and more importantly a resident of Worcester County, I request your assistance in moderating a debate with an incumbent who refuses to do so. The residents of Worcester County deserve no less.

Thank you very much.

BLAKE J. RUBIN
CANDIDATE FOR WORCESTER COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

The Constitution is not neutral: courts of justice should not act like courts of order

FREEDOM WATCH

JOHN WHITEHEAD

"The Constitution is not neutral. It was designed to take the government off the backs of the people."—Justice William O. Douglas

For those still deluded enough to believe they're living the American dream — where the government represents the people, where the people are equal in the eyes of the law, where the courts are arbiters of justice, where the police are keepers of the peace, and where the law is applied equally as a means of protecting the rights of the people—it's time to wake up.

We no longer have a representative government, a rule of law, or justice.

Liberty has fallen to legalism.

Freedom has fallen to fascism.

Justice has become jaded, jaundiced and just plain unjust.

And for too many, the American dream of freedom and opportunity has turned into a living nightmare.

Given the turbulence of our age, with its police overreach, military training drills on American soil, domestic surveillance, SWAT team raids, asset forfeiture, wrongful convictions, profit-driven prisons, and corporate corruption, the need for a guardian of the people's rights has never been greater.

Yet as the events of recent years have made clear, neither the president, nor the legislatures, nor the courts will save us from the police state that holds us in its clutches.

After all, the president, the legislatures, and the courts are all on the government's payroll.

They are the police state.

Certainly, Americans can no longer rely on the courts to mete out justice.

The courts were established to serve as Courts of Justice. What we have been saddled with, instead, are Courts of Order.

This is true at all levels of the judiciary, but especially so in the highest court of the land, the U.S. Supreme Court, which is seemingly more concerned with establishing order and protecting government interests than with upholding the rights of the people enshrined in the U.S. Constitution.

Whether it's police officers breaking through people's front doors and shooting them dead in their homes or strip searching innocent motorists on the side of the road, these instances of abuse are continually validated by a judicial system that kowtows to virtually every police demand, no matter how unjust, no matter how in opposition to the Constitution.

As a result, the police and other government agents have been generally empowered to probe, poke, pinch, taser, search, seize, strip and generally manhandle anyone they see fit in almost any circumstance, all with the general blessing of the courts.

Rarely do the concerns of the populace prevail.

When presented with an opportunity to loosen the government's noose that keeps getting cinched tighter and tighter around the necks of the American people, what does our current Supreme Court usually do?

It ducks.

Prevaricates.

Remains silent.

Speaks to the narrowest possible concern.

More often than not, it gives the government and its corporate sponsors the benefit of the doubt, which leaves "we the people" hanging by a thread.

Rarely do the justices of the U.S. Supreme Court— preoccupied with their personal politics, cocooned in a priggish world of privilege, partial to those with power, money and influence, and narrowly focused on a shrinking docket (the court accepts on average 80 cases out of 8,000 each year)—venture beyond their rarefied comfort zones.

Every so often, the justices toss a bone to those who fear they have abdicated their allegiance to the Constitution. Too often, however, the Supreme Court tends to march in lockstep with the police state.

The Court's 2017-18 term was a particularly mixed bag. Here are some of the key rulings and non-rulings handed down by the Court this term:

Speech, Religious Liberty and the First Amendment

In Janus v. American Federation, a 5-4 Supreme Court chose to err on the side of the First Amendment when it concluded that state laws forcing public-sector employees to provide financial support for unions that engage in political activities with which they disagree violates the First Amendment.

In Masterpiece Cakeshop, Ltd. v.

Where you live as retiree can affect financial strategies

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Upon retiring, many people relocate to enjoy a more favorable climate, or to be closer to grown children, or to live in an area they've visited and enjoyed. If you, too, are thinking of moving someday, you'll want to study possible locations, but you also need to be aware that where you eventually decide to live can greatly affect your savings and investment strategies – both now and during your retirement.

Here are some relocation costs to consider:

Housing – Not surprisingly, the larger the city, the more expensive the housing is likely to be. Also, locations near an ocean or the mountains tend to be more costly. But the type of housing you select – house, apartment or condominium – also can affect your financial picture in terms of initial expense, maintenance and possible tax benefits. Plus, you can now find newer types of arrangements, such as senior cooperative housing, in which you own a share of the community and have a voice in how it's run.

Health care – If you are 65 or older when you retire, you'll have Medicare to cover some of your health care costs, though you'll still likely need to purchase some type of supplemental coverage. However, out-of-pocket health care expenses may vary in different parts of the country, so this is something else you'll want to check out before relocating. Of course, the availability of good medical facilities may be just as important to you as health care costs.

Taxes – You may hear about people moving to a different state to lower their tax burden during retirement. A few states don't have personal state income taxes, and many others offer favorable tax breaks on retirement income, so, if taxes are a major concern, you'll want to research the tax situation of prospective retirement locations. You may also want to consult with your tax advisor.

These aren't all the areas you will need to consider when estimating your total cost of living in a retirement destination, but they should give you a good idea of what you can expect. And your choice of where to live as a retiree can affect your financial strategy in at least two ways: how you invest today and how much you can withdraw from your retirement accounts when you're retired.

Regarding how you invest today, you should evaluate whether your current investment strategy is likely to produce the resources needed to support you adequately in the retirement location you've chosen. So, for example, if you think you're going to live in a fairly expensive place, you may need to reduce your expenses, delay retirement or work part time.

Your choice of a retirement destination also may affect how much money you withdraw each year from your 401(k) and IRA. When choosing an appropriate withdrawal rate, you'll need to consider other variables – your age, the amount of money in your retirement accounts, other available assets, etc. – but your cost of living will be a key factor. A financial professional can help you determine the withdrawal rate that's right for you.

When you retire, it can be a great feeling to live where you want, but you'll enjoy it more if you're fully aware of the costs involved – and the financial steps you'll need to take.

FREEDOM

Colorado Civil Rights Commission, the Court ruled narrowly that government officials had violated the First Amendment rights of a baker by discriminating against his religious views regarding same-sex marriage.

In National Institute of Family and Life Advocates v. Becerra, the Court ruled against compelled speech by a government agency when it found that a California state law violated the First Amendment by forcing pro-life crisis pregnancy centers to provide patients with information about how to obtain an abortion.

In Minnesota Voters Alliance v. Joe Mansky, the Court struck down as unconstitutionally vague a Minnesota law that bans political speech on any "badge, button, shirt, or hat" worn at election polling stations. Critics had argued that the law opened the door to abuse of voters' free speech rights by giving appointed election officials unlimited discretion to determine what political speech should be censored.

Police Misconduct

In refusing to hear the case of Young v. Borders, the Supreme Court declined to hold police accountable for shooting and killing an innocent homeowner during the course of a middle-of-the-night "knock and talk" police tactic gone awry. The Court's refusal to review the case let stand a lower court ruling that exonerates police who, while executing a "knock and talk" investigation of a speeding incident, banged on the wrong door at 1:30 am, failed to identify themselves as police, and then repeatedly shot and killed the innocent homeowner who answered the door while holding a gun in self-defense.

In Kisela v. Hughes, the U.S. Supreme Court shielded a police officer who shot a woman four times in her driveway as she stood talking to a friend while holding a kitchen knife. As Justice Sonia Sotomayor acknowledged in her dissent, "It tells officers that they can shoot first and think later, and it tells the public that palpably unreasonable conduct will go unpunished." Sotomayor, one of the few justices who speaks out consistently against police misconduct, denounced the ruling as "part of a disturbing trend of unflinching willingness' to protect police officers accused of using excessive force. The court's decisions concerning qualified immunity, she wrote, 'transforms the doctrine into an absolute shield for law enforcement officers'."

Privacy and the Fourth Amendment

In Carpenter v. United States, a 5-4 Court sent a strong message about privacy rights in an age of government surveillance, ruling that police must generally obtain a warrant before obtaining cell phone data to track a person's movements.

In Collins v. Virginia, the Court refused to grant law enforcement yet another loophole to encroach on the rights of citizens to privacy in their homes, ruling 8-1 that police may not intrude on private property in order to carry out a warrantless search of a vehicle parked near a residence.

In United States v. Microsoft, the Court sidestepped a debate over digital privacy in the face of government surveillance when it mooted a case over whether Microsoft had to comply with a request to provide emails hosted on overseas servers in response to government subpoenas.

In Byrd v. United States, a unanimous Court ruled that drivers of rental cars—whether or not they are explicitly named in the rental agreement—are generally entitled to the same reasonable expectations of privacy under the Fourth Amendment as the individual listed in the rental agreement.

In Dahda v. United States of America, the Court ruled 8-0 that evidence obtained under orders that violate the nation's federal wiretapping law can be used against a defendant in a criminal trial.

Immigration and the Power of the Presidency

In Trump v. Hawaii, a polarized Supreme Court upheld the Trump Administration's ban on foreign travelers from Muslim-centric nations, ostensibly giving the president the power to discriminate on the basis of religion, while simultaneously overturning the Court's World War II-era ruling in Korematsu v. United States that saw nothing wrong with the government imprisoning Japanese-Americans in internment camps. In other words, the Court righted one wrong (Korematsu) while sanctioning another. As Justice Sotomayor concluded in her dissent, "By blindly accepting the government's misguided invitation to sanction a discriminatory policy motivated by animosity toward a disfavored group, all in the name of a superficial claim of national security, the Court redeploys the same dangerous logic underlying Korematsu and merely replaces one 'gravely wrong' decision with another."

States' Rights

In Murphy v. NCAA, the Court ruled 7-2 in favor of the 10th Amendment, which reserves to the States (and the people) the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it. The case was factually about the right of the states to legalize sports gambling despite a federal law prohibiting it, but the ramifications of the ruling could extend into the area of marijuana legalization.

Voters' Rights and Gerrymandering

In Husted v. A. Philip Randolph Institute, the Court gave the green light to Ohio to remove people from its voter registration rolls if they hadn't been heard from in four years.

In Gill v. Whitford and Benisek v. Lamone, the Court weighed in on two cases that challenged the practice of gerrymandering, in which the boundaries of an electoral constituency are drawn in such a way as to favor one side over another in an election. Instead of addressing the issue of partisan gerrymandering, the Court disposed of the cases on procedural/standing grounds.

Commerce

In South Dakota v. Wayfair, the Court leveled the playing field, at least when it comes to collecting sales tax, between online ecommerce retailers and traditional businesses with a physical presence in a particular state.

So where does that leave us?

Still in the clutches of the American police state, I'm afraid.

In recent years, for example, the Court has ruled that police officers can use lethal force in car chases without fear of lawsuits; police officers can stop cars based only on "anonymous" tips; Secret Service agents are not accountable for their actions, as long as they're done in the name of security; citizens only have a right to remain silent if they assert it; police have free reign to use drug-sniffing dogs as "search warrants on leashes," justifying any and all police searches of vehicles stopped on the roadside; police can forcibly take your DNA, whether or not you've been convicted of a crime; police can stop, search, question and profile citizens and non-citizens alike; police can subject Americans to virtual strip searches, no matter the "offense"; police can break into homes without a warrant, even if it's the wrong home; and it's a crime to not identify yourself when a policeman asks your name.

The cases the Supreme Court refuses to hear, allowing lower court judgments to stand, are almost as critical as the ones they rule on. Some of these cases have delivered devastating blows to the rights enshrined in the Constitution. By remaining silent, the Court has affirmed that: legally owning a firearm is enough to justify a no-knock raid by police; the military can arrest and detain American citizens; students can be subjected to random lockdowns and mass searches at school; and police officers who don't know their actions violate the law aren't guilty of breaking the law.

What a difference nine people can make.

More often than not, the Roberts Supreme Court has been characterized by rulings that show an abject deference to government authority, military and corporate interests (rulings have run the gamut from suppressing free speech activities and justifying suspicionless strip searches and warrantless home invasions to conferring constitutional rights on corporations, while denying them to citizens).

Contrast the Roberts Court with the Warren Court (1953-69), which handed down rulings that were instrumental in shoring up critical legal safeguards against government abuse and discrimination.

Without the Warren Court, there would be no Miranda warnings, no desegregation of the schools and no civil rights protections for indigents. Among those serving on the Warren Court were Chief Justice Earl Warren, William J. Brennan Jr., William O. Douglas, Hugo Black, Felix Frankfurter and Thurgood Marshall.

Yet more than any single ruling, what Warren and his colleagues did best was embody what the Supreme Court should always be: an institution established to intervene and protect the people against the government and its agents when they overstep their bounds.

Indeed, Justice Douglas, who served on the Supreme Court for 36 years, was particularly vocal in his belief that Americans have a right to be left alone ("The right to be let alone is indeed the beginning of all freedom"). Considered the most "committed civil libertarian ever to sit on the court," Douglas was frequently controversial and far from perfect (he was part of that 6-3 majority in Korematsu vs. United States that supported the government's internment of American citizens of Japanese descent during World War II.)

Perhaps the greatest difference between Justice Douglas and his contemporaries and those who occupy the bench today can be found in his answer to a government that refuses to listen to its citizen or abide by the rule of law. "We must realize that today's Establishment is the New George III," noted Douglas. "Whether it will continue to adhere to his tactics, we do not know. If it does, the redress, honored in tradition, is also revolution."

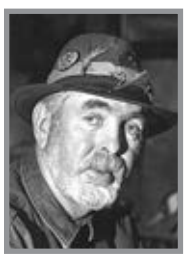
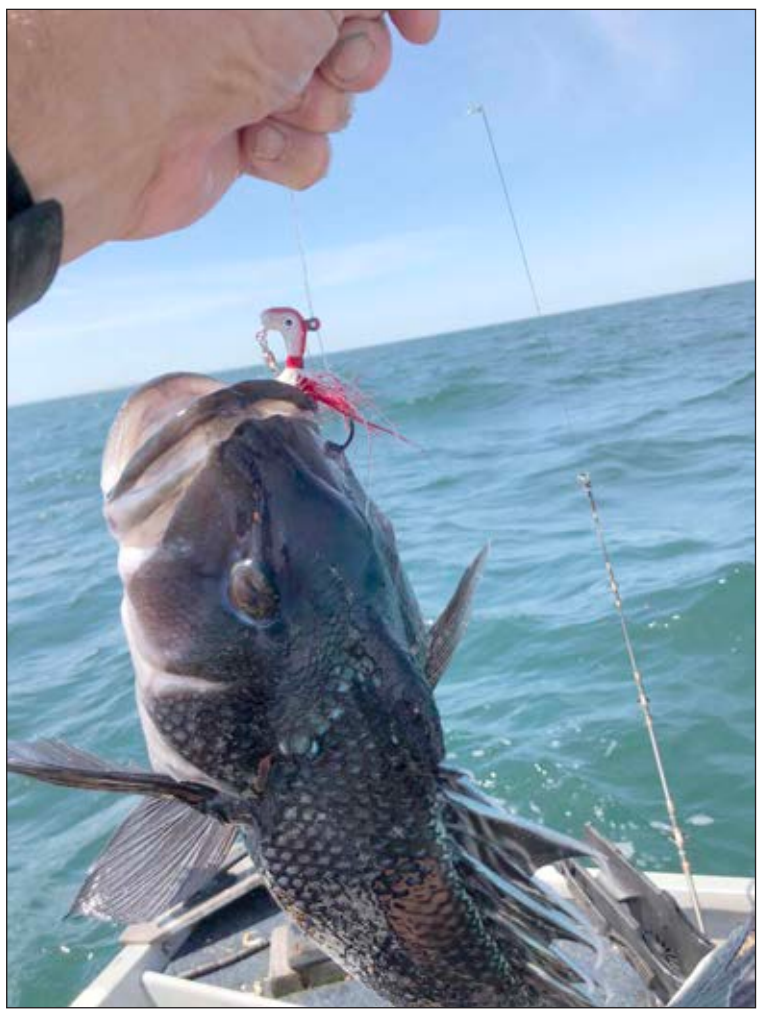
Ain't nothin' but a good bird dog



THE GREAT OUTDOORS

RALPH TRUE



One of many caught and released seabass off the coast of Rhode Island.

A new spring spaniel is at home with Jerome Jussaume.

Although upland bird hunting is a couple of months away many sportsmen that want their dogs in top shape when it arrives, are conditioning the dogs early. This week's first picture shows Jerome Jussaume of Douglas with his new springer spaniel that he recently purchased from a breeder out of state. Although Jerome has a couple of other springers, he enjoys training them, and also competes them in numerous trials throughout the year. Now that he has retired, he gets a lot of satisfaction training and conditioning his dogs at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club on a daily basis. That is what it takes to have a great hunting dog. Jerome has entered numerous trials over the years with his dogs, and has won many awards.

Bird hunters that are looking to purchase a hunting dog for this year need to decide on the breed of dog that they will be happy with for many years to come. It is a long commitment when purchasing a dog, and requires a lot of time and patience, not to forget the cost. Vet bills are extremely expensive and the initial cost of purchasing a dog from a breeder is not cheap. $1,000+ for a dog from a highly respected breeder is the going price.

Sportsmen that belong to a Rod & Gun Club like Uxbridge, that have a preserve status license for hunting birds from September to March, also get to enjoy a lot of days in the field hunting birds raised and stocked on the premises on a weekly basis. Quail, chucker partridge and pheasant are made available to the members for training dogs and for hunting. It takes a lot of work to keep the program going each year, and it often falls on the shoulders of a few members every year. Hopefully this year will be different as numerous new members have joined the club and have bird hunting dogs. Other clubs that have similar programs are Wallum Lake Rod & Gun, Singletary Rod & Gun & the 200 Sportsmen's Club, although Singletary and the 200 Sportsmen's club receive state birds to raise, and they must stock them in hunting areas that are open to all state licensed hunters.

A raccoon recently tested positive for rabies in Uxbridge. The animal was shot by an area resident when the animal constantly harassed him, and would not leave the premises. The resident notified police of the incident, and the town dog officer picked up the animal to have it tested for rabies. It came back positive. My son Ralph Jr. also had an encounter with a raccoon when he went to deposit some trash into his dumpster this week. The animal was very mangy and did not move when he opened the cover of the dumpster. He left the cover open and the animal was gone the next day. Residents need to be careful with all wild animals that act strangely, and police need to be notified.

Saltwater fishing is red hot in both Massachusetts & Rhode Island. Stripers, seabass & fluke are still providing action for area fishermen. This past week this writer and Harry Salmon fished a couple of miles east of the Center Wall at Galilee RI and had a great time catching monster seabass. We were also surprised to catch a couple of mackerel in the same area. We had not caught mackerel in the area for years. Reports of large schools of mackerel near Block Island could be the reason for the great striper fishing in the area. The second picture shows a monster seabass taken on a 1/4 oz. Road Runner jig with red and white colors. It was tipped with a live mummy. It was released with numerous others, because we already had our limit of seabass.

You are welcome to join us for lunch!

Friday, August 31, 11:30am–12:30pm, End of Summer Luau! Time to say goodbye to Summer and welcome in the Fall! Be sure to join us for our annual Luau and have some fun! Sign up early as seating is limited.

On Wednesday, September 19th, we are going on an Indian Princess Summer Cruise around the scenic Webster Lake. The Indian Princess is a modern-day replica of the grand riverboats that plied the Mississippi River in the late 19th century. Cost will be $30 per person and includes a boxed lunch, chips, fruit, cookie and soft drink. Payment is due when you signup.

The Silver Club BUS TRIPS for 2018

Please call Sue at 508-476-5820 for more information.

Sept. 7-9: Boothbay Harbor The Silver Club of the Uxbridge Senior Center is planning a trip on Sept. 7-9 to Boothbay Harbor for $449. Stay across the footbridge from the town of Boothbay Harbor at the Boothbay Harbor Inn right on the water! September is a beautiful time to be on the coast of Maine. The crowds are gone and you can enjoy the serenity! There is a lobster bake, a harbor cruise, a visit to the botanical gardens, and the Carousel Dinner Theatre included. There is also a stop in Kennebunkport.

Oct. 3: Jersey Boys at Ogunquit Playhouse. $121. Lunch at the Bull and Claw in Wells, ME. The choices are seafood Newburg, prime rib, baked haddock, or chicken Parmesan all served w/salad, baked potato, vegetable, rolls, soda or coffee, and blueberry crisp for dessert. Leaves Whitinsville at 9 a.m. & Westboro at 9:45. Home around 7 or 7:30.

Oct. 5-8: Washington, DC $699. What better time to see the Washington Monuments than Columbus Day weekend? An illuminated night tour, time to go to the Smithsonian Buildings, plus a tram tour of Arlington National Cemetery are some of the highlights.

Oct. 10: Portland, ME Narrow Gauge Railroad (ride and museum) with lunch at The Clambake Restaurant in Scarborough, ME. $64. Lunch: baked haddock, baked stuffed chicken breast, or fried clam strips all served w/coleslaw, rolls, and fries. Coffee, tea, soda, apple crisp w/whipped cream. Leaves Whitinsville at 8AM, Westboro at 8:45, home around 6 - 6:30.

Oct. 17-19: Penn Dutch w/"Jesus" great in the fall! $479. The Sight and Sound Theater is presenting their newest show "Jesus" this year. That is the biggest reason for some people to go to Amish country. The beautiful fertile farmland and simple way of life of the Amish draw people back year after year.

Nov. 1: Newport Playhouse w/the play "Sylvia" about a married couple and a dog that Greg found in the park, Sylvia. Always great funny plays, & wonderful food w/their huge buffet! It's a yearly tradition! $77. Leaves Westboro at 8 a.m., Whitinsville at 8:45, home around 6 or 6:30.

Nov. 28: Newport Mansions w/ "At the Deck" on Waites Wharf on the water. Choices for the meals are: steak frites (grilled hangar steak), penne alla vodka, or lobster roll, all w/coffee, tea, & dessert. The opulent Newport mansions are beautiful themselves but at Christmas time they take on another whole dimension with the amazing decorations! The Breakers and Marble House are all decked out in their Christmas finery! $86. Leaves Westboro at 7:30 a.m., Whitinsville at 8:15, home around 5:30 or 6.

Dec. 5: Bright Nights, Storrowton Village, Storrowton Tavern and Yankee Candle $76. Tour of the decorated buildings of Storrowton Village (like a mini Sturbridge Village, decked out in 1800s Christmas style), eat lunch at the Tavern, shop at Yankee Candle, then tour the Bright Nights (Forest Park in Springfield is a drive-through tour of Christmas lights with all kinds of fun things!) Lunch choices are: Yankee pot roast, baked scrod, or vegetable compose (potato, house and seasonal vegetables), served with butternut squash and twice baked potato. Leaves Westboro at 8 a.m., Whitinsville at 8:45, home around 8 or 8:30 p.m.

Dec. 12-14: White Mt. Hotel & Resort, North Conway, NH $469pp double, $579. single. North Conway is the place to be at Christmas time and the White Mt. Hotel is decorated in Colonial Williamsburg style! Order off the menu (all meals included: two full breakfasts, one luncheon, & two dinners), three Christmas shows, guided tour of Mt. Washington Valley, Christmas gift, and more!

All trips leave from the Whitinsville Walmart and the Stop & Shop at 32 Lyman St, Westboro. Make sure to include entree choice, phone # (esp. cell) and an emergency # when sending payment. "Like" us on FacebookThe Silver Club and The Uxbridge Senior Center.

Northbridge Post 343 takes two on final day, including win at Sturbridge Post 109, to reach playoffs

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE — The Northbridge Post 343 American Legion baseball team stormed into the Zone 4 Samko Playoffs on the final day of the regular season, winning a pair of road games to improve to 9-15 and grab the eighth and final postseason berth.

Northbridge began the day — Saturday, July 14 — by defeating Sturbridge Post 109, 8-4, in a game that started at 11 a.m. at Tantasqua Regional. Then, after some lunch and some rest, Post 343 traveled to Worcester's Vernon Hill Park, where it defeated Main South Post 341, 9-4, in a game that started at 5:30 p.m.

The Zone 4 Playoffs began Tuesday, July 17 after press time, where Northbridge was set to play top seeded Leominster Post 151, and were scheduled to run through Tuesday, July 24.

Northbridge's game with Sturbridge was a mini-playoff game for both teams, which began the day in contention for that coveted No. 8 spot in the Zone 4 Playoffs.

Post 343 took care of business quickly against Post 109, scoring three runs in the top of the first inning. One run scored on a wild pitch, another on a bases-loaded hit batsman and the third on a groundout to second base.

Sturbridge pulled to within one, 3-2, in the bottom of the second inning, with Nolan Kingman driving in both runs with a sharp single to center field.

Northbridge pushed its lead to 5-2 with a run in the top of the third and fourth innings. In the third Harrison Mansfield's RBI single to right plated Brian Iarussi, who had reached on a two-out walk. In the fourth Logan Troy scored on a one-out fielder's choice off the bat of J.P. Lucier.

Sturbridge cut the Northbridge lead down to 5-3 in the bottom of the sixth inning, Curtis Koebke walking and then scoring on a groundout by Deven Kingman.

Post 343, however, put the game away with three runs in the top of the seventh to go ahead, 8-3. Northbridge scored its runs on an RBI single by Caleb Visbeek, a wild pitch and a balk by the Sturbridge pitcher.

Post 109 added a run in the bottom of the seventh on an RBI single by Jared Langevin to account for the final score of 8-4.

"It was a must-win situation and we just went out and took care of business," said Northbridge assistant coach Andrew Reed said after Northbridge's victory over Sturbridge.

Reed was sent to talk to the media by Manager Dave Meech, who needed to deal with a couple of injury situations.

"Everybody hit the ball well; everybody did their part," Reed said. "They knew it was a must-win game and they came to play."

Troy, Zach Roberts and Jeremy Jenoure led Post 343's 10-hit attack with two hits each.

While Reed felt Northbridge took care of business against Sturbridge, Post 109 manager Jim Rosseel felt just the opposite about his club, who managed just three hits off of Northbridge pitchers Dave Meech Jr. and J.P. Hayes.

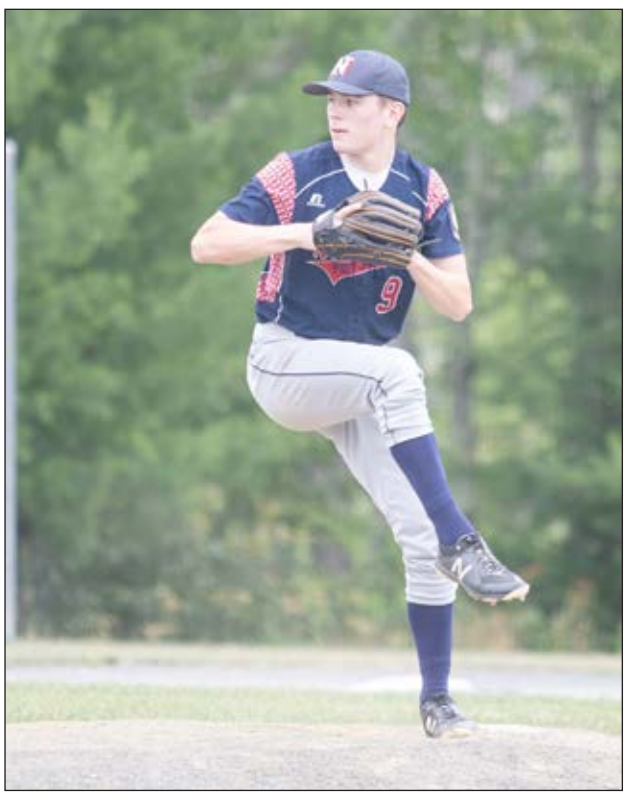
Northbridge's Brian Iarussi gets plunked on the back of the belt for a free ride to first base.

"We didn't come to play today. We were down. It just wasn't there," Rosseel said. "But to get to the final day with a chance to make the playoffs, well, that was ahead of my projection. My projection was for us to make the playoffs next year and I still think that will happen. If we would have made the playoffs this year it would have been an extra bonus for us like you wouldn't have believed."

While Rosseel was pleased with his entire team's effort, he was particularly impressed by the play of Tyler Stoever, Patrick Wilbur and Spencer Cipro.

"Stoever was solid all year for us and Patrick pitched a lot of games for us," Rosseel said. "And Spencer Cipro, he's just a 14-year-old and we were able to get him seven or eight starts. This experience for Spencer was second to none.

"It was a good year for us but a bad year as well; we were better than our record," Rosseel added about finishing 7-17, two games shy of Northbridge's mark. "There were a lot of growing pains but making the playoffs would have been huge for us. The experience value of making the playoffs this year would have been immeasurable. You make the playoffs and now you're playing with the big boys. We had a chance to do that and that's more than I thought we were going to have at the beginning of the year. We did all right."



Dave Meech Jr. winds up for a pitch for Northbridge versus Sturbridge.

Another State Title for Uxbridge Cal Ripken baseball

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

UXBRIDGE — It's déjà vu all over again — with a twist — for Uxbridge's 10U Cal Ripken All-Star baseball team.

This year Uxbridge, like it did last year as a 9U team, won the District 4 and Western Mass. State Championship tournaments. The team, last year, went on to capture the New England Regional Championship as well.

Unlike last year, however, this season Uxbridge will advance to the Cal Ripken 10U World Series — which will be held Aug. 4-11 in Vincennes, Ind. — should it successfully defend its Regional title this week.

"Last year we stopped at Regionals; we couldn't go any farther. Cal Ripken Baseball only had World Series Championship tournaments beginning at 10U," explained Uxbridge manager Bob Badzmierowski. "This year they modified it and they now host and 8U and 9U World Series as well."

Uxbridge advanced to the Regional Tournament this year thanks to a 14-5 win over Milford in the Western Mass. State Tournament Championship final, played July 2 in Milford. Uxbridge also beat that very same Milford team to win the District 4 Championship, 7-3, in Northbridge back on June 25.

The members of the Uxbridge 10U Cal Ripken baseball team are: Nathaniel Badzmierowski; Camden Bartlett; Brady Esposito; Sean Farrell; Shane Gilmore; Willem Haker; Liam Kaferlein; Camden LaChapelle; Talen Rosborough; Maxwell Roy; Thatcher Sweeney; and Cody Veneziano. Bob Badzmierowski's coaching staff consists of: Chris Haker; Neil Rosborough; and Dan Bartlett.

Uxbridge entered the Regional Tournament with a 16-0 record. Uxbridge was 6-0 in the District 4 Tournament and 5-0 in the Western Mass. State Tournament. Uxbridge's wins in the state tournament came in pool play over Greenfield (12-2), Narragansett (20-3) and Bolton (20-0). Uxbridge then defeated Pepperell/North Middlesex, 6-4, in the State Tournament semifinal round.

Against Pepperell/North Middlesex, Uxbridge trailed, 4-1, as play headed into the bottom of the fifth inning. Uxbridge erupted for five runs in the bottom of the fifth and won the game, 6-4.

The Regional Tournament is being held this week at Burnt Hill Park in Hebron, Conn. In addition to Uxbridge, teams competing in the Regional Tournament include: Quincy (Eastern Massachusetts state champions); Norwalk (Conn. State Champions); Rham Revolution of Conn. (the host team); Manchester (Vt. State Champions); Quintown (N.H. State Champions); Andy Valley (Maine State Champions); and Washington Park (R.I. State Champions).

When asked about the leaders of his team, Badzmierowski declined to mention any specific players.

"It's actually all of them, to be honest with you. I don't mean to be poetic but these 12 kids — they're the same 12 we had last year — are truly a team," he said. "I'll have a stud that's not having a good game and someone else picks it up; they really do. They've been educated that way. Our whole coaching staff has told them, 'there are no heroes on this team. We are 12 kids and four coaches.'"

The Uxbridge 10U Cal Ripken All-Star baseball team is playing in the New England Regional Championship after winning its second straight Western Mass. State Title.

When asked about the statistical leaders of the team — highest batting average, lowest earned run average — Badzmierowski had a similar answer.

"We don't keep stats," he said. "Every single kid contributes. I/we have preached to these kids that it doesn't matter if you're the kid on the mound throwing a no-hitter or you're the guy at the plate hitting a home run or the guy that unfortunately is not playing because only nine out of the 12 can play at any one time, everybody has a role. These kids have bought into our philosophy. I don't care if you're not playing in a game; if you're only warming up the pitcher or the right fielder, you have a role to play and it's just as important."

The Regional Tournament has a double-elimination format this year. Up until this year it had been single-elimination tournament. In the Regionals Uxbridge is defending the 2017 regional title it won last year against Norwalk, Conn. (5-3) at Little Fenway in Freetown, Mass., on Aug. 3, 2017.

Prior to the District 4 and Western Mass. state tournament wins Uxbridge won the Sharon, Mass., Father's Day Tournament, going 5-0. Uxbridge won the same tournament in 2017 as well.

Heading into the Regional Tournament Uxbridge had compiled a two-year record of 40-1 (16-0 this year, 24-1 last year).

Tatnuck gets to Douglas pitching late to win Senior Babe Ruth playoff semifinal

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

WORCESTER — Top ranked Douglas struck first in its Senior Babe Ruth semifinal matchup versus No. 4 Tatnuck on Tuesday, July 10 at Vernon Hill Park, but late inning pitching struggles called for a tough 10-3 loss in the Paul N. Johnson League playoffs. Tatnuck (13-7) then lost to No. 2 Shrewsbury in the championship series two days later, while Douglas finished 12-5.

Douglas and Tatnuck had traded runs since the first inning — Colin Faucher got it started with an RBI single into left field — and they trailed, 3-2, in the fifth. That's where Matt Fiore plated Devon Paine with an RBI single to tie the game at 3-3.

Douglas then made the decision to send Christian Russo in to relieve starter Dom Decarlo. Decarlo pitched five solid innings, allowing three runs and striking out seven Tatnuck batters.

Russo's outing started out unfortunate when he struck out the first batter he faced, but a dropped third strike allowed the batter to get to first. This base runner came around to score the run that broke the tie. After giving up the free base runner, things started going downhill for Russo when he plunked two batters and walked two more to give Tatnuck a 5-3 lead. However the competitiveness showed in Russo as he bounced back and struck out back-to-back batters. Unfortunately in the next at-bat Tatnuck cleared the bases with a triple to open up an 8-3 lead.

Colin Faucher of Douglas makes a defensive play at shortstop.

Douglas got to the playoff semifinals with its pitching, but against Tatnuck it just wasn't meant to be.

"Our strength was our pitching," expressed Douglas manager Justin Carter. "We had four real solid starters and we had a really good mix of veterans and our young guys. Five or six 16 year olds really infused some energy into the team and they learned a lot as well as gaining a lot of valuable experience."

Douglas fought hard throughout and it showed their dedication to a rigorous summer baseball schedule.

"It has been a long summer," explained Carter. "It is an aggressive season that they cram into about a month. I can't thank these guys enough for giving me 110 percent. I am very proud of them."

Chris Inman of Douglas races home and tries to avoid a tag from Tatnuck's catcher.

Douglas' Chris Inman rips a ball into play, driving in a run.

Coming back and coaching his son [Nolan Carter] on a team he played for was quite an experience for Carter.

"It means the world to me," he expressed emotionally. "It has been a great opportunity to coach this group since this is a team I played for back when I was a kid. I had some fond memories, it is a great program. To coach a special group like this and see them come this far I am super proud of them."

Visiting museums

Antiques, Collectibles & Estates

WAYNE TUISKULA

Some of you may be heirs to the Rockefeller fortune or may have founded an internet startup that got purchased for billions of dollars. But the rest of us won't ever have the money to own a painting by Renoir or Monet. That doesn't mean that you can't see art by some of the greats, though. Visiting museums is one fun and affordable way to gain more knowledge about art and antiques.

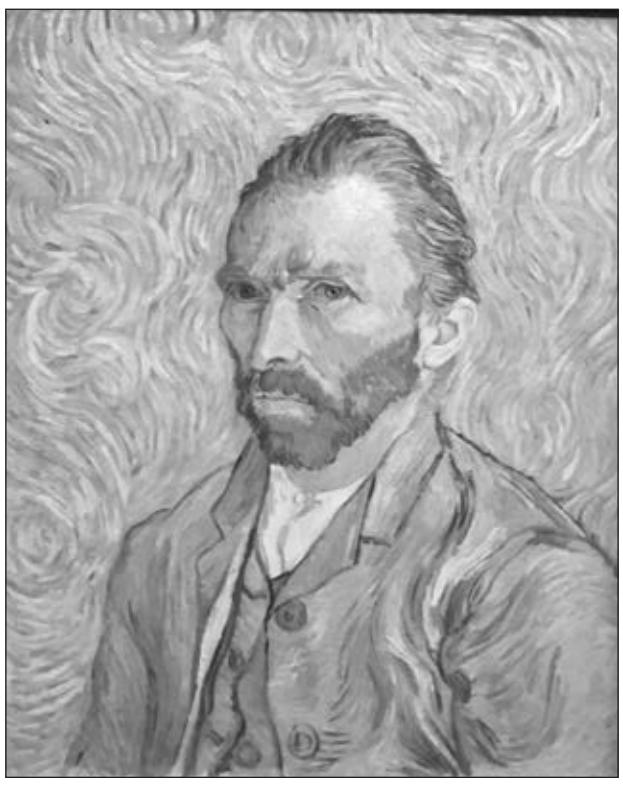
I was fortunate enough to visit France recently. Auguste Rodin's "Le Penseur" (The Thinker) statue, along with many of his other works are on display in an outdoor garden at the Rodin museum in Paris. The Musee d'Orsay houses works by many of the greatest artists of France, along with important works by artists from other countries. There are works by Cézanne, Monet, Gauguin, Renoir, Manet and Degas. Vincent Van Gogh's famous self-portrait is also exhibited there.

The Louvre Museum, also in Paris, was formerly a royal palace. It was founded in 1793 and is the world's most visited museum. It offers artwork from across the globe. A travel guide told our tour group that if you spent 10 seconds looking at every piece of art in the museum it would still take you over three months to see them all. The Mona Lisa, the statue of the Winged Victory of Samothrace, and Venice de Milo are three of their more famous works.

You don't need to travel to France to see great art, though. We have many wonderful local museums. Boston has the Museum of Fine Arts, the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum and the Institute of Contemporary Art. Worcester Art Museum will exhibit "The Poetry of Nature: Hudson River School Landscapes from the New-York Historical Society" beginning on Sept. 8. The Fitchburg Art Museum will host "Interior Effects: Furniture in Contemporary Art" beginning on Sept. 23. The Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford contains a wide range of objects ranging from the Morgan collection of Greek and Roman antiquities to the Samuel Colt firearms collection.

When I began selling antiques, I took a course with George Michael. He was a New Hampshire antique dealer and auctioneer who hosted an antique show that ran nationwide on PBS during the 1960s to 1980s. He showed us slides picturing antiques that he had sold, seen or owned. One of the slides was of an unusual antique basket used by the people of Lappland that he had seen in a museum. Mr. Michael told us that he later saw another Lappland basket like the one in the museum being offered at a local auction. He was the only one in the crowd who knew what it was and purchased a museum piece for very little money. Visiting museums literally paid off for him.

We have many events taking place and others being scheduled. We will run an estate sale in Holden on July 21 and July 22 and another in Spencer on July 28 and 29. We plan to run a live coin auction and an antique estate auction in the Fall. I will be teaching my "Evaluating your antiques" class on Oct. 15.



I'll be appraising items for the Winchendon Historical Society on Oct. 28 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.. See www.centralmassauctions.com for details on these and other upcoming events.
