Local Coats4Vets event to be held in Uxbridge

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

UXBRIDGE — Local veterans and military personnel in need can receive brand new winter coats at no cost at a Coats4Vets event in Uxbridge tomorrow.

The Massachusetts Military Support Foundation (MMSF), along with State Rep. Michael Soter, will distribute the coats on Saturday, Feb. 20, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Uxbridge VFW, 13 Cross Rd. in Uxbridge.

"I am so thrilled to be able to take part in the Massachusetts Military Support Foundation initiative this year," Soter said. "I am eager to get these coats to the deserving veterans in my district to make sure everybody is staying warm and healthy. These winter months can be brutal in Massachusetts so I will be working with town officials and veterans' organizations to promote this initiative."

The MMSF provides programs, services, and goods that help satisfy critical needs and enhance the well-being and quality of life for Massachusetts veterans, active-duty military, National Guard, Coast Guard, and their families, according to a press statement.

"Through the Coats4Vets program, we distribute coats to veterans in need to help make sure that they are safe from the unforgiving winter weather," the MMSF wrote on its Web site. "Coats4Vets is made possible through the generous donations from Ocean State Job Lot Charitable Foundation."

"It's a pleasure to have the support of State Representative Soter to help provide brand new, warm winter coats to local veterans," added Don Cox, President of Massachusetts Military Support Foundation.

Since the onset of COVID-19, MMSF has also expanded services to assist other families in need as well. In response to the massive food insecurity problem posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, MMSF now focuses on "sourcing, packaging and distributing Vital Meal Kits."

"These contain nonperishable and well-balanced meals. Each food package contains enough food and nutritional value for two people to have three meals a day for 14 days," the group released.

To date, MMSF has provided more than 3.5 million meals to veterans and military families. Other programs they run include SafeHomes4Vets, Jobs4Vets, Operation Backpack, Operation Santa, and more.

More information is available online; those wishing to receive a coat are asked to register online by visiting SoterRep.com or visiting the Massachusetts Military Support Foundation Web site at www.mmsfi.org.

Grafton presented award for outstanding voter record

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

GRAFTON — The town of Grafton has earned an "outstanding citizenship award" that recognizes high voter turnout.

Town officials announced recently that Grafton was presented with the Senator Louis P. Bertonazzi Outstanding Citizenship Award, a recognition for having the highest voter turnout over the last two years amongst the 19 towns that were in Senator Bertonazzi's district.

Across five elections in the last two years,

Grafton had a voting rate of 38.79 percent, according to town reports.

"Due to our residents' strong showing at the polls, the Select Board will receive a plaque, which will be displayed for two years," the town released.

The public will receive a commemorative banner and the Board of Registrars will also be presented a check for $1,000, which will be used to "help increase voter awareness and turnout."

"This is the first time we have won this Award during my time as Clerk, so I'm happy to see our residents recognized," said Kandy Lavallee, Town Clerk for Grafton. "Our office and the Registrars will continue to work hard to keep our voting rate high."

Lavallee pointed to the many voting programs the town has in place and cited the proactive voting base as the foundation of Grafton's success. Due to the "unique nature of the past year," the Clerk's Office included a voting schedule in the Town Census form and encouraged people to vote by mail for local elections.

"The residents of Grafton should be proud of their accomplishments. Our Town is very engaged, and hopefully this will encourage more people to get involved and become a part of the process," added Peter Carlson, Chairman of the Grafton Select Board.

The award was presented at the Board of Selectmen meeting on Tuesday, February 16. In addition to the plaque presented to the Select Board, the commemorative banner marking the town's accomplishments will be displayed prominently as soon as weather permits.

State awards fire education grants to local departments

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

REGION — Several local fire departments have been awarded state grants to fund fire education programs for children and older adults.

Douglas, Northbridge, Sutton, Uxbridge, and several other local towns were among the 239 municipal fire departments across the Commonwealth that received nearly $2 million through the Student Awareness of Fire Education (S.A.F.E.) and Senior SAFE grants.

"Since 1996, the S.A.F.E. program has brought fire education to hundreds of thousands of students in the Commonwealth," said Gov. Charlie Baker. "This program allows firefighters and teachers to work together to provide fire and life safety education to young people. This collaboration contributed to a major accomplishment. No children died in fires in Massachusetts last year."

The average number of children dying in fires annually has dropped by 78 percent since the S.A.F.E. Program began, according to reports. The Senior SAFE Program is in its seventh year, providing firefighters with the funding to deliver fire safety education to another vulnerable population—seniors citizens.

"Home visits, smoke and CO alarm installations, and fire safety presentations at senior centers by firefighters with senior agencies help older adults develop

DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

Visit one of these Professionals to improve your family's oral health.

Good dental hygiene is very important to overall good health.

When can children brush their own teeth?

Parents quickly learn that their children go through a transition marked by a desire to be more independent. They're picking out their own mismatched clothes and no longer want any help when solving puzzles or complex toys. That newfound independence signals getting older and can be a healthy thing to nourish. But what happens when a youngster suddenly believes he or she is capable of brushing his or her teeth without assistance?

Parents wrestling with their kids' can-do attitude and if it's wise to allow them to brush their teeth unassisted can familiarize themselves with certain guidelines to determine their youngsters' readiness. According to Scripps Pediatric Dentistry & Orthodontics, most kids are at least six years old before they have developed the finesse and dexterity to handle a toothbrush in a manner that will effectively remove plaque. Dentists also may ask if the child can tie his or her own shoes, which can serve as a barometer of readiness to wield a toothbrush without assistance.

Pediatricians and pediatric dentists recommend that children visit a dentist as soon as a child's first tooth starts to appear. This also is when parents should begin to clean their children's teeth. As a child ages, the natural proclivity to want to take charge of brushing teeth takes hold. The child may not yet have the manual dexterity to brush alone, but parents can encourage the child to brush and then go over the teeth as a "double check." This helps foster independence while also ensuring teeth are fully cleaned.

Flossing may require even more dexterity than brushing, but it is essential for sloughing off plaque that accumulates between teeth and below the gum line, according to Parents magazine. Moms and dads can introduce their children to pre-threaded Y-shaped flossing tools, which are easier to handle than loose floss.

Parents will have to check on children even as they age to be sure they are practicing good oral hygiene. Parents who are in doubt about their children's readiness can work with dentists or dental hygienists to assess skills and get other pointers.

Friday's Child

Tatiana Age 12

Hi! My name is Tatiana and I want to try gymnastics!

Tatiana is a funny and lovable girl of Hispanic descent. She loves playing with dolls, coloring and riding her bike outside. One day she hopes to join a gymnastics team.

Tatiana receives extra supports in school to help address her academic, intellectual and social/emotional needs. Tatiana particularly struggles with relating to her peers and often presents as a much younger child. She is on the Autism Spectrum.

Not yet legally freed for adoption, Tatiana will benefit from joining a loving family of any constellation who can provide her with stability, structure and a dependable routine. She will do best as an only child or with older siblings. An ideal family will be comfortable navigating the mental health and educational systems, and be able to act as a strong advocate for Tatiana. A family should also be open to helping Tatiana maintain a relationship with her four siblings and birth parents, who she currently visits with monthly.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

Unsung generosity

To the Editor:

Under normal circumstances, a picture would appear in the paper to acknowledge a gift, but 'normal' has not existed for almost a full year! Nonetheless, the pandemic has not stopped Unibank from quietly continuing its support of good causes.

One such recent recipient is the Simeon Wheelock House (c. 1768) on North Main Street in Uxbridge. Surrounded by many large, old trees, some of which were dead with dangling limbs, this posed a potential safety hazard for the historic house and Unibank. A generous donation of $1,000 was made toward tree removal services. Thank you, Neighbor!

strategies to stay safe at home for longer," said Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito.

"The S.A.F.E. and Senior SAFE grants represent a smart investment in fire safety," said Public Safety and Homeland Security Secretary Thomas Turco. "Youngsters and older adults are historically at greater risk in house fires, but that risk can be reduced through the targeted outreach, education, and awareness programs these grants help to fund."

According to a list of grant recipients, the following towns received funding: the Northbridge Fire Department was awarded $5,281 for SAFE and $2,680 for Senior SAFE; Upton Fire Department awarded $4,692 for SAFE and $2,480 for Senior SAFE; Blackstone Fire Department, $4,692 for S.A.F.E. and $2,480 for Senior SAFE; Douglas

Fire Department, $4,692, S.A.F.E., and $2,480, Senior SAFE; Millville Fire Department, $3,794, S.A.F.E., and $2,180, Senior SAFE; Sutton Fire Department, $4,692, S.A.F.E. and $2,480, Senior SAFE; and Uxbridge Fire Department, $4,692, S.A.F.E., and $2,480, Senior SAFE.

A full list of grant recipients can be found on the state's website, mass.gov.

"The S.A.F.E. and Senior SAFE Programs are successful because we have trained firefighters who deliver education to children and older adults," said State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey. "The fire departments being supported in these public education efforts are increasing the safety of the people in their communities."

The S.A.F.E. and Senior SAFE Programs provide $1.9 million through the Executive Office of the Public Safety and Security to local fire departments. The programs are administered by the state Department of Fire Services.

Lost time is never found again

Lately, we've been hearing an awful lot of chirping about how people are too busy. Too busy to catch up with extended family; too busy to grab a workout; too busy to read a book; too busy to do the things we forgot we enjoyed doing. The largest contributor to the lack of free time boils down to time spent at work. Many people in today's world have two or three jobs to make ends meet. Sometimes, however, we need to make some cuts in our lives to give ourselves something more valuable than money, time. Time is a treasure.

For one, you can't make more time. Ways to earn money will always be at your fingertips however there is never a way to create more time. There is not a spell book that has the answer to creating more hours in a day or a way to give you more years on Earth. Time is finite, something we all can stand to remember.

Take a moment to think about the fact that you can do more with time off than with a day's pay. While we all can earn a different amount of money during a shift at work, a day off is the same to all of us. During a day off, you can choose to do what you want with it. Catch up on chores, hike a mountain, catch a movie, enjoy a nice lunch or pick up your dusty guitar and remember how to play the C chord.

Memories hold more stock in our lives, than money. When we think back on our past experiences that brought us fond memories, how many of those were because of money and how many were because of another person? Travel of course costs money, or the purchase of a fancy boat, however it is the simple moments that are always the ones that count.

At the end of a person's life, you will never hear them say they wished they had more money, however you will hear them say they wished they had more time. A good question to ask yourself if you had a short time to live, 'would you like $5 million dollars or ten more years to live?' The answer is obvious.

A survey of roughly 5,000 people was conducted to back up the fact that most people prefer time over money. Most people opted to take a position with less hours and less money over long hours with a high salary. Young people, who have more time ahead of them, did choose to make more money, however this proves the point that if you have less time, you value it more.

Money changes in value every day; time does not. Think about the price tag you would place on a three-hour beach day with good friends. In the time of a pandemic these moments become even more important.

Time brings us awareness and clarity and gives us a chance to figure out the person we want to be or already are. These things cannot be bought. Sure we need money to live, however time is what puts life, into our lives. Often we need to get creative about how we can give ourselves more time. We must always remember to protect and prioritize our time.

A MOMENT IN HISTORY

BEVERLY GUDANOWSKI UXBRIDGE

For the seventh time, Americans have watched the truly amazing Tom Brady win another Super Bowl. It's kale ice cream from now on! But this Moment in History is not about Tom. We learned of another amazing story on Super Bowl Sunday, revealed in a Toyota ad entitled "Upstream."

The story of Jessica Long, the competitive Para Olympic swimmer, is one of those "only in America" stories: a child who seemed to have no promise turns into a golden girl in the hands of a loving American family. Long, at the age of 28, is one of the most decorated Para Olympic athletes of all time, winning 23 Para Olympic medals, including 13 gold medals. How did this happen?

In 1992, things did not look very promising for Jessica when she was born in cold Siberia, a district of Russia. Given up for adoption by her sixteen-year-old unwed mother and by her young father, Jessica was born pre-term with a rare condition which would require her legs to be amputated.

When the adoption agency called Long's future parents, the agent warned them about the little girl's condition, saying that her life would not be "easy". Nevertheless, Beth and Steve Long courageously and faithfully proceeded with the adoption.

Long said: "It shows how selfless my parents were. I think they are crazy in the best way. They wanted a little baby from Siberia, Russia. They had two children already. I just think the amount of love was super special."

Long's life in America began with difficulties. She learned to walk with prosthetic legs. As a child, she experienced the discomfort of not having legs like other children in her school. Yet, her parents enrolled her in sports, such as gymnastics, cheerleading, ice skating, biking, trampoline and rock climbing. Her parents were brave. Swimming became Jessica's "oasis".

"I didn't start swimming thinking that I was going to win gold medals or be in a Super Bowl commercial," Long said. [I am sure Brady didn't start playing football thinking he would win 7 Super Bowls either!] Long says that she started swimming because she truly loved the water and "it was a place that I felt really free."

Long describes being nervous, scared and intimidated to be the "only girl missing legs on the swim team, [but] I just had such determination and a spirit to keep fighting." And fight, she did.

Long discusses her changed attitude: "It took me years to realize that if I act ashamed and I try to hide them [my legs] people kind of react the same way, but if I wear my shorts or a cute summer dress and I show off my legs and I'm willing to talk about it, people are engaged and they want to know about my story."

Yes, they do. Now all of America is talking about Jessica and her story.

Regarding losing her biological parents and being adopted, Long said: "I have no regrets. I believe it's all part of God's plan. I have only love for my [biological] mother for what she did." Her birth mother, Natalia, recently told the press that the doctors pressed her to place her child in an orphanage, convincing her that she was too young to care for a disabled child. She complied.

Finding her birth mother is another unique characteristic of Jessica's life. In 2012, while competing in the London Paralympics, Jessica came to the attention of a Russian reporter who tracked down her biological parents. This led to a joyful family reunion. Her birth parents, Natalia and Oleg, married after giving up Jessica and had three more children, including a daughter with a serious health condition. They were determined to keep this second daughter and did not give her up.

Rereading about Jessica Long, you discover this young woman is a beautiful bundle of courage and faith. Jessica said that she hopes the "Upstream" ad reminds people that nothing is impossible. Has Jessica's life been easy? No, it takes hard work and sheer grit to become a competitive swimmer, in the face of the odds stacked against her due to her physical challenge. Jessica rose to the challenge.

Only in America, Jessica. Only in America.

Could you be brave enough to adopt a child from Siberia, of all places, and raise that child to be a great athlete winning honors for this great nation of ours? Could you be as brave as Jessica Tatiana Long, swim "upstream," and proudly stand on the podium, hand over heart, gold medal draped around your neck, as our national anthem plays?

Protect benefits for children with special needs

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DARREN PARENT

If you have a child or other family member who has special needs due to physical or mental conditions, you face a variety of challenges planning for their care, including financial ones. You may also have some well-meaning relatives who want to help, but who may not realize that their moves could actually result in some serious lifestyle and monetary problems for your loved one. Fortunately, by planning ahead, you can avoid these potential traps.

As you probably already know, individuals with special needs are eligible for a variety of government benefits and local programs that provide assistance with housing, medical needs, specialized equipment, independent living, job training and other services. You may also know that some of these programs require participants to meet financial criteria to qualify for benefits. Usually, this isn't a problem if your loved one has little income and few assets.

Difficulties can arise, though, when other relatives, such as grandparents, include loved ones with special needs in their estate plans by naming them as beneficiaries of insurance policies or retirement assets, or as beneficiaries of any trusts the grandparents have established. In these situations, loved ones who receive or inherit a sizable amount of assets may then be ruled ineligible for some important services.

Hopefully, your relatives will have informed you of their plans. If so, let them know that although you appreciate their generosity, the way they've chosen to show it could have unanticipated – and harmful – effects. You could then suggest ways they could structure their gifts to be more valuable.

Specifically, they can help through a special needs trust, either one that's already been created or one they create for their gift. A special needs trust is designed to help people with special needs use financial gifts or inheritances for a variety of purposes while keeping their eligibility for some government programs and other services. There are two main types of special needs trust:

First-party special needs trust
An individual with special needs, their legal guardian or the court can establish a first-party special needs trust benefiting that individual. The first-party special needs trust is funded by the individual's own assets, either through earnings or an inheritance or a personal injury award. A first-party trust contains a "payback" rule, which means that when the individual beneficiary with special needs dies, the trust must pay back the state for certain benefits received.

Third-party special needs trust
A relative or person other than the individual with special needs who wants to include that individual in their estate plan can set up a third-party special needs trust. The third party trust is funded with assets from someone other than the individual with special needs. With a third-party trust, no "payback" provision is required.

Many issues are involved in establishing an appropriate special needs trust. Consequently, you'll need to consult with your legal advisor to determine your next steps. Afterwards, you'll want to involve everyone in your family who could contribute to a trust, so they'll all know what to expect and how they can participate. Once the arrangements are made, you can all feel like you've done your part to make things easier for the loved one in your life with special needs.

Lenten Recipes Clone Restaurant Favorites

As we gear up for meatless meals, whether due to Lent, which begins this week, or simply a desire to cut down on meat, preparing creative new dishes can pose a challenge. So why not take the cue from some popular restaurant dishes? This week's column will feature a few delicious restaurant "clones" sure to have your family praising your culinary talents.

The following are easy recipes that require nominal effort. Best of all these dishes boast the same tastes as the eateries that inspired these yummy copycats.

* Outback Steakhouse Coconut Shrimp

Crisp coconut shrimp dipped in a sweet and savory sauce is a favorite dish at the Outback. Thanks to this easy clone recipe, you can bring the taste to your dining room table.

Ingredients: 1 (16 ounce) bag large frozen cooked shrimp; 1/2 cup flour; 1/2 cup cornstarch; 1/2 Tablespoon salt; 1/2 Tablespoon white pepper; 1 cup cold water; 2 Tablespoons vegetable oil; 2 cups vegetable oil (for frying); 3 cups sweetened shredded coconut

Marmalade Dipping Sauce Ingredients: 1 cup orange marmalade; 1/8 cup Dijon mustard; 1/3 cup honey; 1 teaspoon hot sauce

Directions: Preheat oven to 400 degrees F.

Rinse off thawed shrimp and pat dry, set aside. In a medium mixing bowl combine flour, cornstarch, salt, and white pepper. Then add in water and 2 Tablespoons vegetable oil. Whisk together until well blended. Set aside. Heat 2-3 inches oil in a large pot until oil reaches 325 degrees F. Place coconut on a small cookie sheet or pan. Dip each shrimp in the batter and then roll in the shredded coconut. Fry shrimp in hot oil just until they start to turn golden brown. Place fried shrimp on a large cookie sheet and bake in preheated oven 5 minutes to finish cooking. While shrimp is baking, make the Marmalade Dipping Sauce by combining the orange marmalade, Dijon mustard, honey, and hot sauce in a bowl. Serve shrimp with the marmalade dipping sauce.

Olive Garden Alfredo Fettuccine Clone

This is one of my favorite recipes and has appeared previously in this column. But be forewarned, it is rich. So rich in fact, that the first time I prepared it over a decade ago, my husband accused me of trying to "do him in!" But he ate it anyway, and with great gusto, I might add! The original recipe does not call for shrimp, but it tastes great and makes for a perfect Lenten supper.

Ingredients: 8 ounces cream cheese, cut in bits; 3/4 cup Parmesan cheese, grated; 1/2 cup butter; 1/2 cup milk; 8 ounces fettuccine; cooked and drained; 1/2 pound of fresh medium shrimp, peeled and cooked (optional).

Directions: In large saucepan combine cream cheese, Parmesan, butter and milk, stirring constantly on low to medium heat until smooth. Remove from heat and add shrimp if desired. Toss pasta lightly with sauce, coating well. Leftovers freeze well.

Applebee's Faux Baked French Onion Soup

This hearty yet elegant soup presents well, and it's easy enough for an everyday dinner.

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons vegetable oil; 6 medium white onions, sliced; 8 cups beef broth (Swanson is best); 1 cup water; 1/2 1/2 teaspoons salt; 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder; 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper; 5 plain hamburger buns; 10 slices provolone cheese; 10 teaspoons shredded Parmesan cheese.

Directions: Add 3 tablespoons oil to a large soup pot or saucepan over medium/high heat. Add the sliced onions and sauté for 20 minutes until the onions begin to soften and start to become translucent. Do not brown. Add the beef broth, water, salt, garlic powder and black pepper to the pan and their dogs alongside lakes ponds and rivers, unless they are on a leash. They can get into trouble real fast, as we have already observed dogs falling through thin ice on local news channels. It is also time to license your dogs in most area towns! They do require certification of a dog's rabies shots. Hopefully, a few veterinarian's will be holding rabies clinics next month in local towns.

Numerous attempts to reintroduce smelt into Lake Quinsigamond and Wallum Lake were unsuccessful. Mass. Fish & Wildlife was netting thousands of smelt from the Quabbin Reservoir and stocking them in those two lakes, Another largemouth bass caught last weekend.

This week's picture shows Adam with his nice largemouth bass he caught this past weekend. Another picture will follow along with this week's column.

Local ponds and lakes all have a substantial amount of ice on them, as of this past weekend, and if the weather forecast is correct, safe ice should last a couple of weeks, if not longer. That is not to say that fishermen and the general public should assume that every body of water has safe ice. Constantly checking ice thickness needs to be practiced. Snow covered ice is the most dangerous. Numerous near fatalities from people falling through the ice have been reported this year, with snowmobilers being at the top of the list in Maine & New Hampshire.

Numerous deer have fallen through unsafe ice in the past two weeks, and more are sure to lose their life in the coming weeks. I have spotted many ponds with deer tracks in the snow, as they navigate ice covered bodies of water. Local residents should not walk

This past weekend had a lot of ice fishermen enjoying the great outdoors, and there were many families out enjoying it also. This week's two pictures show a couple of anglers with their impressive largemouth bass. Many reports of bass, pickerel, perch, calico bass, and trout are being reported daily. Wallum Lake in Douglas has been giving up some nice trout, if you have the patience to wait for the bite, that can start fast and end fast, or not start at all. Anglers are reminded that Wallum Lake is an interstate body of water, & that it is governed by Rhode Island regulations. The lake closes to all fishing on Feb. 28, and will reopen on April 10!

Fishing for smelt in the state of Maine can be a lot of fun, and can provide some great eating, if you can catch them before March 31, in Aroostook County. The smelt are called the «French Fry» of the lake, and have local anglers fishing for them every year. They have elaborate bob houses to fish in, and often fish for the smelt at night. Placing a light near the hole draws the smelt to the hole, and they can be caught with a light jig rod similar to the jig sticks we use here. Be sure to check all regulations and dates for smelt fishing. Using nets is illegal. Back in the day, local anglers fished for smelt on Lake Quinsigamond in Shrewsbury. This writer spent many nights catching smelt near the boat ramp. Unfortunately, pollution and acid rain pretty much cleaned them out.

but they failed to spawn in some of the tributaries around both lakes. That was before the MDC poisoned the smelt at the Quabbin. Soon the state was placing egg screens at the tributaries of both lakes, but they also failed to work. In a last-ditch effort to get smelt back into Wallum Lake, Shoal Spawning alewives were placed in the lake to provide a forage fish for the trout. That was thirty or more years ago.

The Alewives reproduced for many years, and some still do keep a small population in the lake. Trout do not grow fast on insects, and need a good forage fish to get big fast. Attempts to get MFW to procure some of the brown trout fry from New York's Lake Ontario failed many years ago, would have now been reaping rewards. Anyone that has fished Lake Ontario for brown trout, know how fast they grow, and how big they get. With the loss of the federal brood trout program maybe the state can revisit the possibilities of receiving some brown trout from New York and stocking them at Wallum Lake!

At one time back in the day, the state was supposed to work with Rhode Island to make Wallum a trophy brown trout pond. Unfortunately, both states could not work together, and the communications were stopped. Catching four to 10-pound brown trout were common when the two states were actively supporting the program. The lake was also limed by a company called "Living Lakes" bringing in numerous tankers loaded with lime which was loaded onto a large boat & digitally spread over the entire lake. It solved the problem of acidity at the lake for many years, right up to this day.

The Whitinsville Fish & Game club will sponsor a fishing derby at the club pond on Feb. 20, for club members and their family. The pond will receive another stocking of trout prior to the derby. A full breakfast will be served starting at 8 a.m. The club is also planning a Wild Game supper in March. It is a carry-out only meal. Call the club or check their web site for all particulars & tickets.

The Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club is planning a Clam Bake this Summer. It was one of the best attended events, the club held annually. There will be a limited number of tickets, so get them early. Lobster, clams, corn, chowder, and much more.

Take A Kid Fishing & Keep Them rods Bending!

A step back a few decades with my friend Rob ...

Our dear friends, Rob and Tracey Shirk from Waterloo, Iowa were passing through our area on Thursday and came to visit. The following day at breakfast, Rob walked in carrying what appeared to be a big magazine. As he sat at the table, I realized it was a road atlas of the USA ... something I have not seen nor used in at least fifteen or more years.

I asked, "Where did you pick up that antique?" He looked confused. I continued, "Where'd you find that old relic?"

"It's a map," he responded while turning to a map of Indiana.

"I know it's a map," I said with a laugh, "But why do you have it?"

"Because I'm traveling and I don't know how to get to Marion, Indiana from here." He looked down at the map and began tracing a route with his finger.

At this point, I thought he was still kidding. "Use the GPS on your phone ... step out of the 1980's and into the 21st century!" I held up my phone.

Rob looked at my phone, grunted, then looked back at his atlas saying, "That's a phone. I need a map."

I must confess that I'm lost without my GPS, but not too many years ago, my phone was only a phone. We travelled from coast-to-coast years ago with our little family in our motor home and enjoyed every minute and every mile. Much of the fun was sitting at our dining room table with Arlene and our three children, gathered around a big road atlas, deciding where we'd go,

POSITIVELY
GARY W.

what we'd see, and how we'd get there.

I think our first trip was our most memorable and that was our trip to Yellowstone. We took off before cell phones with an Atlas opened on the dash and we were rolling ... our first stop was the Mitchell "Corn Palace" in Mitchell South Dakota. I remember our oldest, Toby looking at the building and saying, "We drove all this way to look at a building made of corn?" However, the next stop promised to be better as we headed off to "Wall Drug!" It's amazing how a little ingenuity and the promise of "Free Ice Water" transformed a small-town drug store into an internationally known tourist stop.

The badlands followed and then a stop at Mount Rushmore. I'll confess, I was awestruck at the first siting of this incredible monument. I hope to see it again someday. Then we were off to Devils Tower and the magnificence of Yellowstone. We made it all the way there and home, without the use of a phone or GPS.

We headed East the following year to the history of the Williamsburg area and Washington DC. The following year, we headed south to Texas and the Alamo. All incredible memories with the help of Rand McNally and their big and beautiful road atlas.

I must admit, some of the happiest times of my life were planned around that Rand McNally Road Atlas. It was like an instruction manual for our travel dreams, providing the guidance and recipe for family fun and togetherness. The excitement and anticipation ... all the laughs and love along the way warms me still and always brings a smile to my face. All great family memories. Weeks after returning from one vacation, we were sitting around the table with our map plotting our next adventure.

After ridiculing Rob and his relic of a guidance system, I need to make an admission. I ordered a new 2021 road atlas online. So maybe I owe Rob an apology?

Nah ... he deserves a little laughing at his expense. Maybe in reality, he has inspired another road trip, as he brought to my mind some of the most precious family times we've experienced. There is still so much to see and do and Arlene and I deserve to get out on the road.

Our children are all grown and on their own, but we have two wonderful grandsons, Caleb, and Noah. Maybe they need to see the Mitchell Corn Palace?

As Willie Nelson so eloquently sang, maybe it's time to get "On the Road Again."

Planning and designing a productive vegetable garden

Whether planning your first, second or tenth vegetable garden it can be overwhelming. There are so many tasty vegetables and never enough space and time to grow them all.

Start with a plan. Locate your garden in a sunny location with moist, well-drained soil. Save those partially sunny areas for greens like lettuce, chard and kale as well as root crops like radishes and beets. These prefer full sun but will tolerate more shade than tomatoes, peppers, squash, broccoli and other plants we eat the flowers and fruit.

Review your favorite recipes and make a list of family favorites and those vegetables most often used. Then check the list to see which vegetables are suited to your climate and growing conditions and those that make the most economic sense to include in your garden.

Tomatoes and peppers produce lots of fruit from one plant and are common ingredients in many recipes. Sweet corn is fun to grow but needs lots of space for a relatively small harvest. If space is limited, consider buying your sweet corn at the farmers' market and use that space to grow other edibles.

Every gardener struggles with determining how many of each type of vegetable to grow. This depends upon the productivity of the variety selected, your family's eating habits and of course the impact of weather on the harvest. It is always better to start small, build on your successes and expand the garden in the future. Track your planting and harvesting results to help when planning future gardens.

You will need to plant more if you plan to preserve or donate a portion of your harvest. Purchasing vegetables from your local farmers' market is a way to ensure you have sufficient fresh produce when you are ready to can, freeze and ferment.

Sound overwhelming? Consider enlisting help from Gardener's Supply by using one of their vegetable garden plans (gardeners.com). You'll find customized plans for those who like to cook, want to grow ingredients for a garden-fresh salad, salsa or cocktails, or are following a Mediterranean diet. Many come with seed packets for all the featured plants.

Maximize the available space by growing vertically. Train pole beans, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers and even squash and melons up trellises. Growing vertically not only saves space, but also increases disease resistance by increasing light and airflow through the plants. And picking beans at waist height is much easier than harvesting from low-growing, bushy plants.

Increase space with containers. Consider growing some of your frequently used herbs and vegetables in pots on the patio, balcony, or deck for convenience. You can quickly grab what you need when creating your favorite meal.

Grow multiple plantings in each row. Start the season with cool season veggies like lettuce, peas and radishes. Once the temperatures climb and these plants are harvested and enjoyed, replace them with warm weather vegetables like tomatoes, peppers, beans, cucumbers, squash and melons. Finish off the season by filling any vacant rows with fall crops like greens, beets and radishes.

Take some time to plan a garden that will provide you and your family with fresh produce you can enjoy all season long. Involving everyone in the planning process just might get them to show up and help weed.

bring mixture to a boil. When soup begins to boil, reduce heat and simmer for 45 minutes. To make the croutons cut off the top half of each top of the hamburger bun so that the bread is the same thickness as the bottom half of each bun. Throw the tops away. Now you should have 10 round pieces of bread, 5 bottom buns, and 5 top buns with the tops cut off. Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Place the bread in oven directly on the rack and bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until each piece is golden brown and crispy. Set these giant croutons aside until you need them. When the soup is done, spoon about 1 cup into an oven-safe bowl. Float a crouton on top of the soup, then place a slice of provolone cheese on top of the crouton. Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon of shredded Parmesan cheese over the provolone. Place the bowl into your oven set to high broil. Broil the soup for 5 to 6 minutes or until the cheese is melted and starting to brown (you may need to broil longer if you are making more than one bowl at a time).

Sprinkle an additional 1/2 teaspoon of shredded Parmesan cheese over the top of the soup and serve. Makes 10 servings

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Shoppers' guide to Presidents' Day sales

On the third Monday in February, Americans stop to remember the contributions of the many great leaders who have served as President of the United States. Certain Presidents' Day traditions have developed over the years, including an opportunity for shoppers to find great deals on a host of items.

Originally established in 1885 to recognize President George Washington, the day we now know as Presidents' Day was then known as Washington's Birthday and was traditionally celebrated on February 22. The holiday became known as Presidents' Day after it was moved to the third Monday in accordance with the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, which enabled the nation's workers to enjoy more three-day weekends. In addition, the Uniform Monday Holiday Act served as a way to combine the celebration of Washington's birthday and Abraham Lincoln's birthday, which is February 12.

In addition to serving as a chance to celebrate and reflect on the contributions of our nation's past presidents, Presidents' Day has emerged as a day to rest and shop. Stores across the country advertise special prices to tie into the day and capitalize on the three-day weekend. For many retailers, Presidents' Day is the first major sales opportunity of the new year. The following are some ways shoppers can capitalize on Presidents' Day sales.

- Stock up on winter apparel. Now is the time to enjoy deep discounts on winter apparel. Purchase clothing, coats and boots that your family can wear next year. Parents can estimate sizes for growing children. Discounts on winter apparel as winter winds down may be as high as 70 percent, meaning savvy shoppers can save substantial amounts of money.

- Score big on big-ticket items. Appliances may go on sale at steep discounts on Presidents' Day. Shoppers who need new appliances for their kitchens may find Presidents' Day sales have what they need at the prices they want to pay. Save even more on big-ticket items by using cash-back or points balances on credits cards to lower out-of-pocket costs even further.

- Shop around for electronics. Computers, laptops and many different electronic devices go on sale on Presidents' Day. Compare and contrast items you have had your eyes on for some time, determining regular prices for each item. Knowing the regular prices and sale prices will help you determine if the Presidents' Day sale price is a good deal.

- Don't overlook deals on automobiles. Certain holidays, such as Presidents' Day, provide opportunities for consumers to find great deals on new vehicles. That's because sales tend to be slow in February. Scout out the deals being offered on the car or truck you want. Sales personnel may be more open to negotiations if it will close the sale.

Presidents' Day is, first a foremost, a chance to reflect and honor past presidents. But it also is a day for shoppers to find great deals on a host of items.
