

School Committee discusses state funding changes

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Budgetary issues were the main focus of the most recent School Committee meeting, as district leaders explored changes in what Webster will receive in Chapter 70 aid, special education proposals, and related issues. According to Business Manager Monique Pierangeli, the Governor’s budget calls for a $303.5 million increase in statewide school aid, of which Webster is slated to get about $1.13 million more than last year. The state’s plan under the Student Opportunity Act passed in November, is to increase aid over seven years to address five key areas: employee benefits and fixed costs, special education, low income needs, English language learners, and guidance-related areas. She said the complex formula includes six factors: enrollment, wage adjustment, inflation, property values, income levels and municipal growth, with the last three going toward determining what the local share should be. Based on those factors, Webster’s total comes to about $11.5 million, of which about $6.37 million is effectively a “tax write-off.” The town can deduct several things from its actual school support, including charter and

ALL SAINTS STUDENTS CELEBRATE MARTIN LUTHER KING’S LEGACY

Students from All Saints Academy were recognized on Monday, Jan. 20 at the 35th Annual Worcester County Community Breakfast honoring Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The fourth and fifth graders were selected as the winners of the 2020 MLK, Jr. Art Contest. The selected winners in both the essay and art contests were all from schools in the Worcester Diocese, and all had to reflect on an excerpt from a sermon of Dr. King’s: “Not everybody can be famous, but everybody can be great, because greatness is determined by service.” All Saints Academy’s art teacher, Mrs. Beth Crowley and principal, Mrs. Joan Matys were also in attendance with students and their parents. When asked about the program, Mrs. Matys shared, “I am most proud of our students, and of Catholic education. Part of our mission is to teach children the importance of service and giving back to our society.”

Dudley officials approve first marijuana host agreement

BY JASON BLEAU

DUDLEY – The town of Dudley is one step closer to hosting its first marijuana business after selectmen approved the town’s first host agreement at a meeting on Jan. 28.

After hosting a public hearing earlier in the month, the Board of Selectmen cast a unanimous vote, with Selectman John Marsi absent, approving a host agreement for DMA Holdings LLC for an adult-use marijuana growing, processing and retail sales site at 35 and 37 Chase Ave., repurposing an old mill. The agreement is the same one presented in mid-January that included the maximum financial requirements and contributions available through such negotiations. Prior to the vote, Selectman Kerry Cyganiewicz said the agreement was the best they

Selectmen approve fire, police personnel changes

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – The Dudley Fire and Police Departments are both looking to expand their department staff over the next calendar year after selectmen expressed their support of personnel changes during a meeting on Jan. 27.

The Dudley fire department easily received approval to add a pair of new full time positions to the staff to bring the department to 24-hour operation, Chief Dean Kochanowski said he was able to rework his budget to accommodate the changes without adding any new expenses to the town budget.

“Basically, what I’m doing is I’m taking the per diem line and moving it into some other lines to create two full time positions so that we can go to 24-hour staffing which is the model standard throughout the industry. In order to try and hold on to some good help and stay competitive we have to move in this direction,” said the Chief.

Selectmen approved the changes unanimously. Chief

CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD – At last week’s public forum on the Route 20 reconstruction project, several citizens raised concerns about its impact on certain neighborhoods, particularly Thayer Pond Village, Oak Drive, Bay Path Road and homes directly along the highway.

In general, residents sought an additional traffic light at Bay Path/Glenmere, requested changes to the traffic flow near Thayer in light of another proposed condo development nearby, and objected to the possibility of having new pull-off zones be too close to some homes and the fact dividing the highway makes it difficult for some homes to get trash and other services.

Before citizens could voice such issues, Design consultant Richard Kelley summarized the project and several changes since the public last saw it at the formal 25 percent hearing. It covers 3.2 miles from Richardson Corner Road to Route 12, a stretch he said really represents two distinct areas:

Baker-Polito administration announces $8.1 million in Complete Streets funding awards

FITCHBURG — This week, Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito, Transportation Secretary and CEO Stephanie Pollack, and Highway Administrator Jonathan Gulliver joined Fitchburg Mayor Stephen DiNatale and other local leaders in Fitchburg to announce the latest round of Complete Streets Funding Program awards, totaling $8.1 million in funding to 24 communities. These awards will be used to fund local, multimodal infrastructure projects that improve accessibility for bicyclists, pedestrians, public transit users, and people using other forms of transportation.

“The Complete Streets Program is one of the many ways our administration partners with cities and towns to improve their local transportation infrastructure,” said Gov. Charlie Baker. “This latest round of funding will help ensure that local roadways provide accommodations for all modes of travel, and we were pleased to include additional funding for the Complete Streets Program in our administration’s transportation bond bill to continue supporting this program.”

“We are proud to continue supporting our municipal partners so they can achieve their transportation and economic development goals,” said Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito. “These funding awards will enable communities across the Commonwealth to carry out projects that install new sidewalks, bicycle lanes, crosswalks and intersections for people to safely and easily reach the places they need to go.”

A “Complete Street” is one that provides safe and accessible options for all travel modes and for all people, taking into account the ages and abilities of individuals. The Baker-Polito Administration has now awarded a total of 148 construction grants at $46 million since creating the funding program for Complete Streets in February 2016.

The Baker-Polito Administration included $20 million for the Complete Streets Program as part of the Administration's $18 billion transportation bond bill. In July, the Administration filed “An Act Authorizing and Accelerating Transportation Investment,” which will provide both resources and tools that will enable MassDOT and the MBTA to repair and modernize the state’s transportation system faster, improving its reliability, sustainability and resiliency.

“Thanks to the leadership and support of Governor Baker and Lieutenant Governor Polito, MassDOT is continuing to partner with municipalities to increase connectivity and better enable residents and commuters to reach their jobs, homes, friends, families, and opportunities across the Commonwealth,” said Transportation Secretary and CEO Stephanie Pollack. “The Complete Streets Program is a reflection of our commitment to ensuring that our roadways work for everyone and benefit people of all ages, abilities, and modes of travel.”

“We appreciate the hard work of all those who are helping manage and implement this important funding program,” said Highway Administrator Jonathan Gulliver. “We are continuing to receive positive feedback and support from the local communities that are benefitting from these awards and we look forward to seeing these projects carried out.”

These Complete Streets funding awards are in addition to $1.1 billion authorized by the Baker-Polito Administration in Chapter 90 local transportation funding for cities and towns since 2015. In addition, $43 million has also been awarded through the Administration's Municipal Small Bridge Program, which was announced in 2016 and allows municipalities to repair or replace their small bridges which are not eligible for federal funding.

“The Complete Streets Funding Program provides the necessary resources so that municipalities like Fitchburg can design and build infrastructure projects to benefit pedestrians, cyclists, and transit users,” said Fitchburg Mayor Stephen DiNatale. “I would like to thank the Baker-Polito Administration and MassDOT for their support and confidence in Fitchburg’s Application.”

The Complete Streets Funding Program was launched on February 1, 2016. To date, 208 municipalities have approved policies and 173 (nearly 50%) have approved Prioritization Plans. Examples of projects that can be addressed through the program include improved street lighting, radar speed signage, intersection signalization, new multimodal paths and new signals at crosswalks.

The announcement regarding the Complete Streets Program provides funding to the following communities:

Webster – Commercial
District Network
Completion and Safety
Improvement $368,377

The project fills this important network gap from Paradise Lane to Thompson Road by constructing a new sidewalk, striping new crosswalks across Paradise Lane and installing pedestrian warning beacons.

Students named to University of Hartford Dean's List

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. — The University of Hartford is pleased to announce the following students have been named to the Dean's List for Fall 2019.

Ninamarie Ayala of Dudley
Christopher Krajeik of Dudley
Paige Richard of Dudley
Sean Dupuis of Oxford
Alexa Stinson of Webster

Spread across seven dynamic schools and colleges, the University of Hartford has been guiding the purpose and passion of students for over six decades. On our 350-acre campus alongside Connecticut's capital city, approximately 4,800 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students representing all 50 states and 51 countries come together for a common purpose: to collaborate across different disciplines, diversify perspectives, and broaden worldviews. We're a four-year private university focused on advancing the public good through meaningful connections within our communities. Our unique approach to comprehensive education gives us the critical perspectives that lead to impactful change, regionally and beyond. With degree programs spanning the arts, humanities, business, engineering and technology, education, and health professions, we focus on doing the work that matters.

A busy summer ahead in Webster

WEBSTER — This summer will be a busy one for the Town of Webster, with several very significant projects planned for construction or in design phase. These projects have been years in the making and we are very excited that ground will be broken on many of these momentous projects. A big thanks to the many Town staff members that have tirelessly worked behind the scenes to make it a reality. Specifically, Carol Cyr, Office of Community Development Director; the Redevelopment Agency Board; Kenny Pizzetti, Highway Superintendent; Carole Marchand, Recreation Director; and Ann Morgan, Town Planner deserve a big shout out for their efforts.

Veterans Memorial Beach
Last fall, the Town was awarded $400,000 for improvements to Memorial Beach. Improvements are currently in the design phase, but will include a combination of renovations to the existing beach house, enhanced playground equipment, a water feature, trails, picnic tables and other amenities. We expect the design to be completed in May and have construction begin in July (after the fireworks of course). Keep your eye out for future updates on this exciting project.

Lake Parkway/Klebart Ave Roadway Reconstruction and Sidewalk Construction

Currently out to bid, Lake Parkway/Klebart Avenue will be reconstructed from Route 193 to Brandes Street. This project is being done in partnership with MassDOT as part of their Transportation Improvement Plan. The project will be a full-depth reclaim of the existing roadway and construction of sidewalks on both sides of the street. This is a very important stretch of roadway to ensure the safety of our children as both the High School and Middle School are located just off of this roadway.

Eddy Street Roadway Reconstruction

In partnership with the Webster Redevelopment Agency, Eddy Street will also receive a full-depth reclaim roadway reconstruction—including sidewalks. The construction will be similar to the reconstruction process that was recently done on Dresser Street. In addition to this, the Highway Department will overlay or crack seal several other roads this summer.

French River Walk
In the next phase of this ongoing, transformational project, the main parking area along Davis Street will be reconstructed. The new parking lot will correlate with the most recent completed phase of the Riverwalk. This past fall, a gazebo and an overlook of the French River were completed extending the Riverwalk.

East Main Street Sidewalks

We are currently in the process of designing sidewalks to be constructed along portions of East Main Street. Through a Complete Streets grant from the Commonwealth, the Town received $368,000 for this project. Depending on the cost of the construction bid and other available funding, the project will begin near Burger King and hopefully extend to Park Ave. The proposed draft design can be found on the Town website and we welcome any comments. All of the proposed work is planned to be constructed in the existing right-of-way and does not require any taking of abutter's property.

Our goal of this project is two-fold. First, the sidewalks will dramatically improve the safety for pedestrians in this our busiest commercial district. It will also improve traffic safety as driveway ingress and egress will be more defined. Second, we hope this project will beautify the area.

Exit 2
In another project in partnership with MassDOT's Transportation Improvement Plan, the on and off ramps of Exit 2 are being redesigned to improve safety and traffic flow. Anyone that has driven through Town knows this is a much-needed project. MassDOT recently completed the 25 percent design on the project. The Town is doing its best to push this project forward amongst the other MassDOT priorities.

Town Hall
This past summer, the Town received a grant from the Massachusetts Historical Commission to evaluate and provide plans for our historic Town Hall. The evaluation process was just recently completed. The study's priority projects are the cupola clock tower, slate roof, roofing membrane over the auditorium and repairs to the auditorium ceiling. The Town will be applying for a small grant to assist in the roof repairs from the Massachusetts Historical Commission and will be bidding out the project this spring.

These projects will enhance the quality of life for all Webster Residents. We ask for your patience this summer as some of these construction projects will coincide, but we are confident you will be pleased with the results. Additionally, if you have any thoughts or ideas on how we can continue to enhance the quality of life and beauty of the Town of Webster, please contact us at town.administrator@webster-ma.gov.

While the host agreement was approved with little debate, there have been concerns brought to the attention of selectmen concerning the addition of a marijuana business to the community. Selectman Paul Joseph said he wanted citizens to know that their concerns were heard but that the reality is marijuana is now legal in Massachusetts and the revenue will serve as a significance boost for the town.

"I want to point out to those citizens that still have their doubt that just like alcohol marijuana is now legal. It's not against the law. The opening of pot shops, although there's not a great deal of longevity in terms of record, there's no record that doing so effects the crime rate within that town," said Joseph. "This proposal does a lot of different things. It provides for use of a great building that has a history in town that the town will benefit from and it won't change the exterior of the building. Secondly, it's going to provide additional income for the town, perhaps significant, and third it's going to provide jobs for people in the town. Despite periodic opposition, in my opinion this is a no brainer."

Hi! My name is Ashlynn and I love to draw!

Ashlynn is a kind girl of Caucasian descent who likes to please and make others happy. She can start off shy with new people but warms up quickly. Ashlynn enjoys music, drawing, spending time with her friends, and swimming. She loves to spend time with her siblings and is very protective of her younger brothers. Ashlynn is in the 5th grade and has friends at school. She does well in class with extra supports.

Legally freed for adoption, Ashlynn will thrive in a home that can provide her with her own space and individualized attention. Her social worker is open to exploring homes with a mother and a father or two mothers. Ashlynn will do best as the youngest or only child in a family. Ashlynn has four brothers and two sisters in Massachusetts, and it is extremely important that she maintains a relationship with them.

Who Can Adopt?
Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.
The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.
To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Eighth grader wins St. Joseph Spelling Bee

WEBSTER — Eighth grade student, Daniel Gronek, won the St. Joseph School competition of the National Geographic Bee on Jan. 29 and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. Other finalists in the school Bee included: 2nd Place – Tessa McCabe, Grade 8; 3rd place – Rocco Rudnicki, Grade 6; and finalists Faustina Kohut and Brett McCarthy, Grade 5; Hannah Watson, Grade 6; Elizabeth Mahler, Grade 7; and, Wiktor Potem and Kai Lukasek, Grade 8. Gronek was also a finalist in 2019 and the school champion in 2018.

The school Bee, at which students answered questions on geography, was the first round in the 32nd annual National Geographic Bee, a geography competition designed to inspire and reward students’ curiosity about the world.

Thousands of schools around the United States and in the five U.S. territories are participating in the 2020 National Geographic Bee. The school champions, including Daniel, will take a qualifying test; up to 100 of the top scorers on that test in each state will then be eligible to compete in their state Bee on March 27.

The National Geographic Society will provide an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. for state winners to participate in the Bee national championship rounds May 17-21. In 2019, the national champion received a $25,000 college scholarship, $1,000 in cash, a lifetime membership in the National Geographic Society, and a trip to the Galápagos Islands; second place received a $10,000 college scholarship and $1,000 in cash; third place received a $5,000 college scholarship and $1,000 in cash; and seven runners-up received $1,000 in cash each.

This year marks the 32nd anniversary of the National Geographic Bee. The National Geographic Society developed the National Geographic Bee in 1989 in response to concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States. St. Joseph School has participated in the National Geographic Bee since its inception.

Global warming is for real

Global warming is sure showing the nonbelievers that it is for real. The unbelievable weather conditions that we are now experiencing are sure nice to see, but the overall picture is not good for our planet. Ocean water temperatures continue to rise, which have some species of fish migrating into new England waters that we rarely see. On the positive side, seabass numbers are increasing annually as well as their size in our coastal waters, but at the same time fish that are native to our waters are moving out. Lobsters are also heading out to cooler waters.

The effects of climate change are staggering, and are sure to change the planet in a negative way for many years to come. We depend on our elected politicians to make sensible changes in the laws that will slow down the threat of global warming. Emissions from cars and factories are the largest polluter. The way we dispose of our waste is another big problem. Hazardous waste is a serious threat to our planet.

Plastic bottles and bags need to be phased out and replaced with reusable bags. All plastic bottles need to have a nickel deposit on them including water bottles, detergent bottles, etc.! Tons of plastic end up in the ocean every year. Our fresh water lakes and ponds are becoming so polluted that eating fish from them could cause serious health risks. Lead in our drinking water supply in many states is unacceptable. I sure hope that we start cleaning up the mess that previous generations left behind, as well as our own continued dumping of waste today.

With all of the warm weather we are experiencing, ice fishing has been put on hold by most anglers. There are a few anglers taking the risk to fish on unsafe ice, but most sensible anglers are playing it safe. This past week, an 11 year old girl fell through thin ice locally, and was fortunate enough to be pulled from the icy waters by rescue teams. Most fishing derby's have been canceled in the valley until further notice. Inviting anglers and their family's onto unsafe ice would be foolish and dangerous. If you want to go ice fishing bad enough, head North. Maine has plenty of ice. Start getting the fishing rods and reels ready! It is going to be an early spring ,no matter what the groundhog predicts.

The Big "E" Sportsmen's show (OSEG) will open their doors on Feb. 21-23, and is the largest show in the Northeast. Doors open at noon on Thursday. Hunting and fishing guides from all over the United States will be on hand to take reservations for their upcoming seasons. Numerous seminars by hunting and fishing professionals will be held all three days. For a complete list of seminars and other activities, go to their Web site at osegsportsmen.com!

Striper fishermen are anxious to hear the final regulations on the 2020 striper season in Mass. & Rhode Island, which should be finalized by March. Big changes are expected to include a slot size limit this year, with a one fish per day limit. Taking the big trophy size stripers could be off limits this year. The circle hook regulation required to fish for stripers with chunk or live bait, will not take effect until 2021.

This is the time of year for Rod & Gun Club membership renewals. Every year, members at some clubs forget to pay their annual dues. Do not let it happen to you! Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club started taking renewal memberships this past Sunday. The next three Sundays will be the last chance for renewals at Uxbridge starting at noon to 4 p.m. After that date, the club will start to take in members on the waiting list.

Keep houseplants healthy while keeping pets safe

MELINDA
MYERS

You love them both – your pets and houseplants – but it can be challenging to safely raise them together in the same house. Reduce the risk by selecting pet-safe plants and safely managing houseplant pest problems.

Avoid problems by selecting plants suited to your home's growing conditions and gardening style. Then narrow the list further to plants that are non-toxic specifically to the type of pets you own. Consult with your veterinarian and visit the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) website for a list of pet-safe and toxic plants.

Create a list of all the plants you are growing. Include both common and botanical names for accurate identification. Do a bit of research on the care they need and their toxicity to your pets. If you suspect your pet has ingested a toxic plant, you'll have the proper plant name when contacting your veterinarian.

Match the pet-friendly plants you select to their preferred light conditions. An east- or west-facing window provides enough light for most indoor plants. Keep those that need brighter light within two feet of the window. Those that prefer lower light can be grown near a north-facing window or up to six feet back or off to the side of an east- or west-facing window.

For low light situations, consider cast iron plant, Lady palm, and parlor palm or add artificial lights when growing other pet-friendly plants in lower light situations.

Grow grape ivy, spider plants, baby tears (Soleirolia), peperomias, prayer plants, Boston ferns, ponytail palm, and hoyas in brighter locations. Save the brightest locations for Norfolk Island Pine, lipstick plant and haworthia.

Add some color to your indoor garden with popular flowering plants like African violet, Christmas cactus and moth orchid. These are also listed as non-toxic on the ASPCA Web site.

Water plants thoroughly as needed. Tropical plants prefer slightly moist soil, while cacti and succulents like it drier. Always pour off any excess water that collects in the saucer. Allowing plants to sit in water can increase the risk of disease and lead to root rot.

Regularly groom and wipe dust off the leaves of your indoor plants to help reduce the risk of insect damage. Remove spotted leaves when they appear and adjust watering. This is often enough to correct fungal disease problems.

When pest problems require control, always select pet-friendly options. Start with a strong blast of water to dislodge pests like aphids and mites. Follow with an application of a lightweight horticulture oil such as Summit Year-Round Spray Oil (SummitResponsibleSolutions.com). This organic spray controls aphids, mites, immature whiteflies and all stages of scale and mealybugs.

And if those tiny fruit-fly-like gnats are too annoying to tolerate, consider treating the potting mix with a Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis product such as Summit Mosquito Bits labeled for controlling fungus gnat larvae. Just sprinkle it on the soil surface and this naturally occurring soil bacterium kills the fungus gnat larvae in the soil. It's an organic insecticide safe for people, pets and plants. No matter the product you select – organic, natural or synthetic – be sure to read and follow label directions.

Proper plant selection and maintenance can help keep your indoor plants healthy and pets safe from harm.

Keeping the coronavirus in perspective

With the recent headlines surrounding the coronavirus outbreak, many Americans are petrified that they will somehow contract this disease that originated in China. Despite all the press being given to this new threat, however, the fact remains that many more Americans are likely to contract and die of the regular flu.

To date, the coronavirus has infected eight people in the country. Just this year alone, there have been roughly 19 million cases of the flu reported, resulting in 10,000 deaths. Across the globe, the flu takes roughly 650,000 lives per year, according to the World Health Organization. Compare that with the roughly 400 confirmed coronavirus fatalities to date, and it certainly puts the situation in perspective.

Doctors are telling those with concerns that if you have not traveled to Wuhan, China, or have not come into contact with an individual who has come from there, your chances of contracting the disease are extremely low.

So far this year, 68 children have passed away from complications stemming from standard influenza, including eight in the state of Tennessee. Many schools across the country have had to shut down, sterilize the facilities and give students time to recover.

Confirmed cases of the coronavirus in China number just over 14,000, resulting in 360 deaths as of our press deadline for this week's edition. Of the eight cases confirmed in the U.S., none have proved fatal. A 35 year old from Washington with a confirmed case of coronavirus did develop pneumonia, but has improved and is left with a mild cough.

Flu season is at its peak between December and February, and can take the lives of roughly 61,000 Americans each year. Medical professionals are quite rightly reminding people to be more concerned with flu prevention than the coronavirus — again, not to diminish its seriousness, but to be realistic about the magnitude of the threat it currently poses. While even one death is one too many, it is vital to avoid panic, and to remember that the overwhelming majority of those diagnosed with coronavirus, both in China and elsewhere, have been able to beat it back.

Vulnerable citizens are advised to get the flu shot; however, there are other ways to prevent the flu. Washing your hands regularly, avoiding those who are sick, covering your mouth when you cough, avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth as germs are spread easier this way and to clean and disinfect surfaces.

Be still and know ...

As regular readers of my column know, I'm being challenged in my life by a life-threatening health problem. A Neuroendocrine tumor is a rare affliction that is hard to diagnose by the average unexposed physician and medical facility. It is often identified with the late Apple founder and CEO, Steve Jobs, as this is the disease that took his life.

Luckily, my diagnosis was made and I'm hard at work with my insurance provider and family doctor to find the medical team/facility with expertise and experience to help me beat this affliction ... and beat it, I will.

I'll confess, that this health crisis challenges everything I've written and spoke of regarding the power of optimism. Yet it is my optimism, when I clear my mind, that helps me focus on the positive outcome that I believe I will achieve. My plan isn't to survive but to thrive.

I'll give you an occasional and short update now and then, but this health-obstacle will not dominate my column moving forward. I'll go into some detail today because of the overwhelming response and well-wishes from readers, friends and family since my diagnosis. Make no mistake about this ... I will die some day because of something, but it's not going to be this.

Of all the incredibly supportive communications I've received, there was one short and negative response to last week's column. The reader said ...

"I am a three-time cancer survivor and the premise you can will it away is insulting. It doesn't just take your life away: it takes everything."

I responded that she should read the column rather than just reacting to the headline. I don't believe you can 'will away' cancer or really anything. My point is always that optimism gives you a better chance of overcoming obstacles because an optimistic view gives you the encourage to fight. If you pessimistically believe you cannot overcome, why would you go to the trouble of fighting?

There are more studies that I can count, verifying the powers of a positive mind in the treatment of disease. Believing in a positive outcome gives you the drive to have an increased focus on being part of the solution. With only 700 words available to me in this space, I won't take the time to list or footnote the studies, but if you go to the search engine of your choice, you will see countless studies by many of the most revered institutions in the world, showing the power of optimism on successful outcomes.

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

Once again, I'll say that there are some medical realities that optimism cannot overcome. And in the case of almost every illness, optimism alone will have little positive impact. The power of optimism comes into play in partnership with modern medicine. You don't have to really do any research other than asking your doctor. Optimism will always give you greater chances for success than pessimism.

Vince Lombardi was often quoted as saying, "Fatigue makes cowards of us all." I've learned over the last few weeks how true this is, as my mind works overtime with my diagnosis. When I'm rested, optimism is easy, but as fatigue sets in, my resistance to pessimism weakens. I'm finding two solutions. The first and obvious remedy is to get lots of rest. The second isn't as easy but even more powerful and that is to quiet your mind.

Depending upon your belief system or faith, you may look at this from different points of view. I've heard some say that only in silence your soul or inner self will speak to you. Others say that through a quiet mind you can only create the solutions you seek. All good and I believe true. My experience in life takes me to Psalm 46:10. "Be still and know that I am God." It is those moments where I can force all the thoughts and words that I allow into my head back out, that I hear the voice that provides direction, comfort and healing.

So enough on cancer. Next week we'll return to my mission of helping others lead a more optimistic life. I'll keep you posted, and prayers are appreciated, but again, I'm not focused on just surviving, I plan to overcome this and thrive.

How dark is too dark?

CHIEF'S CORNER

STEVE WOJNAR

This past week, I was asked a question regarding tinted windows on motor vehicles. The person recently purchased a vehicle from out of state and found it would not pass the Massachusetts safety inspection due to dark window tinting. This had to be removed before it was able to pass. I was asked to explain the rules on this tinting of windows.

The rules pertaining to this subject are contained in Mass General Laws chapter 90 Section 9D. It is a rather lengthy law with several exemptions. Basically, it applies to "after-market" applications of signs, posters, stickers, tinting, shades, louvers, or similar devices which are on "the front windshield, and the side windows immediately adjacent to the right and left of the operator's seat." Anything not installed at the factory, under the appropriate federal regulations, must comply with this law. As for window tinting, it is allowed on vehicles if it has "not more than thirty-five per cent...light transmittance." The 35 percent tinting on windows is determined to be enough to reduce much of the solar glare. At the same, it enables clear vision from inside and outside of the passenger compartment. Inspection stations should be equipped with devices that can test window tinting to determine if it is legally permissible.

Numerous exemptions exist in the law which allow tinting, shades, or other materials. For example, a darker six-inch tint is allowed on the top of the front windshield if it does not impede with the driver's clear vision. Vehicles registered out of state are exempt. If some shading is necessary for medical purposes, a licensed physician can authorize it and the Registry can approve of the placement of an appropriate device. Several other exemptions apply. I would refer you to review the law to determine if any apply to your circumstance. A first offense violation of this law is a civil infraction with a penalty of up to $250.

The main purpose of this law is to provide clear vision for drivers. Some tinting can be helpful in dealing with sunlight. Please review the law carefully before you add anything to the vehicle which may in some way impair your vision. Distractions should be limited as much as possible in order to reduce crashes and injuries.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Be aware of Social Security myths Social Security can be one source of retirement income for you and your spouse. To maximize your benefits, you'll need to make some key decisions and be aware of some common myths.

- Myth 1: Always take Social Security early. You can file for Social Security benefits as early as 62, but you could get 25 to 30 percent more if you wait until your "full" retirement age (likely between 66 and 67). You can receive even more if you wait until 70, at which point your benefits will "max out." However, there's no right time to file for everyone – it depends on your situation, including factors such as your life expectancy, employment, financial need and spousal considerations.

- Myth 2: When you claim Social Security won't affect your spouse's benefits. This is not true. How much you receive in Social Security can affect your spouse's benefits while you are alive (spousal benefits) and after you've passed away (survivor's benefits). Your spouse could receive up to half of your retirement benefit, offset by his or her own benefit, so the longer you work before collecting Social Security, the greater the potential spousal benefits.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

For survivor benefits, your spouse would receive 100 percent of your benefit or his or her own, whichever is larger, so when you file affects how much your spouse would receive if you pass away early. In any case, you'll want to consult with the Social Security Administration about how much your spouse can receive, as his or her own benefits can also affect your decision-making.

- Myth 3: You can't work during retirement and collect Social Security. Yes, you can. But if you start receiving Social Security before your full retirement age (likely between 66 and 67), you can only earn up to $18,240 in 2020 and still get your full benefits. Once you earn more than this, Social Security deducts $1 from your benefits for every $2 you earn. But during the year you reach full retirement age, you can earn up to $48,600 without your benefits being withheld. If you exceed this amount, $1 will be deducted for every $3 you earn during the months before you attain your full retirement age. Social Security will increase your benefits when you do reach full retirement age to adjust for the previous work-related withholdings. So, if you plan on working and receiving Social Security, it may not make sense to file if most of your benefits will be withheld. Once you reach full retirement age, you can earn any amount without losing your monthly benefits, although your benefits could still be taxed.

- Myth #4: Social Security will provide for all my needs in retirement. Social Security will provide about a third of pre-retirement income, on average, according to the Social Security Administration. Consequently, you'll probably still need other sources of retirement income because Social Security alone most likely won't be enough to meet your needs. So, throughout your working years, contribute as much as you can to your IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. Combining these income sources with Social Security can help improve your chances of enjoying the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned.

Boucher's defense the difference for Indians over Oxford

Dylan Grandmaison of Bartlett gets fouled by an Oxford defender while shooting a layup.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — Folks who didn't attend the Bartlett-Oxford boys' varsity basketball game, played Friday, Jan. 31 at Roger D. Bacon Gymnasium, will look at the final score and draw conclusions that may not be accurate.

Yes, Brandon Boucher's game-high 24 points did help the Indians defeat the Pirates 75-52, but it was Boucher's defense more than his offense that allowed Bartlett to win its 13th consecutive game and improve to 15-1 overall and 10-0 in Southern Worcester County League (SWCL) play.

In addition to the points he scored, and the five assists he recorded, the player the Indians and their fans call "Bouch" made nine steals in the game, six leading directly to fast-break layups by himself or one of his teammates.

"Bouch was all over the place tonight. We got a ton of steals off our press and Bouch was a big part of that," Bartlett head coach Tony Paranto said. "Brandon has very quick hands. We created a lot of things for ourselves with our defense and it led to some easy baskets for us down at the other end to extend the lead."

When asked about his night of thievery, Boucher flashed his trademark smile before answering.

"My defense typically gets my offense going and I feel like I turned my defensive effort up a notch tonight because I was going against my good friend Alex," Boucher, a junior captain, said about being matched up against Alex Duval, Oxford's senior captain. "I like competing with Alex."

"I take pride in my defense and it felt really good to come in here and get the win," added Boucher, who felt like the Indians' tenacious defense — Oxford committed 21 turnovers in the game — was the perfect remedy for some early offensive woes. "Sometimes shots aren't going to fall, but that's when you have to work even harder on defense to get it done, to get the dub."

Bartlett led at all the stops — 16-10 after the first quarter, 37-24 at halftime and 51-32 after three — but Oxford stayed within a possession or two of the Indians' lead for the first 11 minutes.

"When we ran our press break right, because we knew they were going to press us, we were OK. But, at other times, we let their press affect us, which is what they want it to do," Pirates' head coach Dave Aldrich said. "The press is designed to make you play faster than you want to play. Once we started breaking the press consistently, they stopped pressing us."

Offensively Bartlett had two other double-digit scorers in the game — seniors Logan Paranto (16 points) and Wilson Aybar (12) — while sophomore Colin Minarik added nine points and junior Dylan Grandmaison chipped in six. Currently Boucher, Paranto, Aybar and Grandmaison are averaging double figures in scoring while Minarik is with-in two points of having an average in double digits. For the game Bartlett connected on five of its 3-point shot attempts.

"That's a great facet of our team this year; it's hard for teams to beat us by just stopping any one of our starters," coach Paranto said. "Teams try to contain Bouch and Logan — because they're our go-to leading scorers — and Grandmaison, and Wilson and Colin Minarik can all go off at any time, too. It's a nice liberty to have as a coach."

Oxford (7-7 overall, 5-6 SWCL), which hit on six shots from beyond the 3-point arc, was led by Duval (22 points), fellow senior captain Elijah Williams (10) and another senior on the team, Justin "Bird" Freeland (8 points, two 3-pointers).

"We knew this was going to be a great game," said Aldrich, whose Pirates lost to Bartlett 60-49 back on Jan. 10. "We didn't quit, they just outscrapped us. We're young, but we'll get there. We're playing for this year, though. We want to get to 10 wins and make States."

"We've got to learn how to win; that's what's happening right now," Aldrich added.

Oxford's Alex Duval rises up for his signature elevated jump shot.

Elijah Williams of Oxford makes a drive on Bartlett's Dylan Grandmaison.

Bartlett's Wilson Aybar has the time and space to shoot a left-side 3-pointer.

Panthers pull away to beat Bartlett in fourth quarter

WEBSTER — With the game on the line in the fourth quarter, the David Prouty Regional girls' varsity basketball team was looking for a player to step up when the Panthers took on Bartlett High on Wednesday, Jan. 29. Prouty held a 36-25 lead through three periods and the advantage was down to eight points (40-32) with five minutes to play.

Insert Liv Pepin.

The Panthers' freshman was the team's closer, scoring 12 of her game-high 22 points in the final frame as Prouty won a closer-than-the-final-score-indicated decision, 55-36.

"We needed Liv to step up in the fourth quarter and she realized it," said David Prouty head coach Johanna Annunziata. "Overall, they got the job done."

The Panthers relied on sophomore Gabby Soter early — the team's point guard scored 11 of her 19 points in the first half — before Bartlett's defense buckled down on her. That freed up Pepin, who finished the game much like her sister Brooke did last season as a senior.

"It's nice her being younger, getting her earlier than I got Brooke, she works so hard," the second-year Annunziata said of Pepin.

Annunziata announced that Soter has helped Prouty throughout the season, an amazing achievement seeing as how she is only a sophomore.

"She plays a lot of AAU, she plays a lot in the offseason, and that's where her IQ comes from," Annunziata said of Soter. "She knows the game really well."

Annunziata called Soter the team's floor general and on-the-court leader.

"It's what your point guard should be. And she's such a good role model for Liv," said Annunziata.

The Panthers were able to out-rebound the Indians by a 37-25 margin, thanks in part to Jenna Petruzzi. The sophomore not only scored 12 points but also pulled down 14 boards for the double-double.

"She's a big presence," Annunziata said of Petruzzi, the Panthers' best interior player.

David Prouty is now 9-5 as the victory moves them a game away from qualifying for the Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament for the second straight season.

Bartlett is now 5-10, but head coach Kashawn Hampton acknowledged that the game was much closer than the eventual 19-point deficit.

Breanna Ward of Bartlett looks for an open teammate to pass the ball to.

"It was a tight one," he said. "They did have a little bit more firepower and we're missing two of our better players. They just had more gas than us."

It didn't help the Indians' cause that juniors Kayla Berthiaume and Gabriela Piwowarczyk both fouled out on back-to-back possessions, Piwowarczyk's coming with 4:38 remaining and Bartlett still in it, down by eight points. From there, Prouty ended the game on a 15-4 run.

Nonetheless, the Indians have already improved from last year's 4-16 campaign, a sign of good things to come under the first-year Hampton.

"I've been told that they've probably won three or four games the last couple years. We're just trying to slowly change the culture around here," he explained. "We're putting things in [the game plan] that they're not used to doing, we're putting some high-intensity stuff that they're adjusting too, but it'll take some time. The majority of the team will be back next season."

Hampton was pleased with the scoring totals from sophomore Cam Heenan (19 points) and Berthiaume (11 points) but is looking for some complementary point producers.

"Those are our elite scorers on the team and we're looking for some other players to step up. We need those other ones to step up to capitalize," he said.

Piwowarczyk led the Indians in rebounding with 10 boards.

Fighting for postseason berth, interior play lifts Pirates past Southbridge

SPORTS STAFF WRITER

OXFORD — With a decisive height advantage against Southbridge, the Oxford High girls' varsity basketball team was delivered two messages by head coach Joe Pietrzak before the two tangled on Thursday, Jan. 30. The first was to get the ball inside, and the second was to display strong defense.

Both instances occurred as the Pirates overwhelmed the Pioneers, 61-29.

Leading the charge in both regards for Oxford was junior Chloe Davis. Often unheralded, Davis had her moment to shine versus Southbridge, finishing with a double-double (12 points, 12 rebounds).

"The thing about Chloe is she truly works so hard in practice and to see her — to score the ball, too — it's confidence," said Pietrzak. "She's really learning a lot."

Davis knew that with the height advantage came more opportunity for her under the basket on both ends of the court.

"It's better to get it inside instead of just shoot," said Davis. "It's a better opportunity for the centers to start getting the ball and do the work down low."

Davis scored on five interior baskets, plus two free throws, but she was more excited to speak about the "dirty work" that helped lead to victory.

"I'm not really a scorer much, I'm better at defense and rebounding and boxing out," she said. "I get excited to be able to get the rebounds."

Oxford outrebounded Southbridge in the game by a substantial margin, 58-28. The Pirates led throughout, but the Pirates put forth a strong first quarter. Southbridge trailed by eight points (16-8) at period's end, but they were making plays and creating shots — it's just that the shots weren't falling.

The second quarter was a different story, though. Oxford scored all 12 points in the frame, again oftentimes getting the ball down low for easy baskets.

"In the second quarter they got away from what they were doing in the first quarter — as far as the passing, cutting, just being on the same page on the offensive sets — they just started going one-on-one, which I don't want. The wheels just fell off," said Southbridge head coach Elvin Rodriguez, as the Pioneers trailed 28-8 at the break. "The first quarter was great. We didn't score a lot, but we were just missing shots. I was happy with it."

Midway through the third quarter

Oxford had accumulated 13 more points — all of which came in the paint or at the free throw line — and they totaled 21 points in the frame to the Pioneers' 11 to lead 49-19 with a quarter to go.

The Pirates then had a feel-good moment with 6:30 to play in the fourth when senior co-captain Hannah Volpe subbed into the game for her first action of the season. Volpe tore her left ACL on July 10 in a summer league contest.

"As a coach, my heart broke for her this summer. I was at the game watching from the stands," said Pietrzak. "She told me from the beginning, 'Coach, I'm going to get back.' As you could see tonight, she's clearly not 100 percent but mentally she's been to everything. She comes to every practice, she does her physical therapy — she's just worked so hard to get back."

And Volpe made the most of her three-plus minutes of game action, connecting on a deep jump shot from the left corner and also pulling down a rebound.

"Once I found out I tore my ACL I was devastated," said Volpe, who went in for surgery on Aug. 14 and was glad to finally get back out on the court. "It felt really good. I was nervous because it was my first time out there, but it felt so good when I scored."

points), senior Isabella Rosario (9 points), freshman Carly Cornacchioli (6 points, 12 rebounds) and freshman Alexis Steiger (6 points, 9 rebounds) also contributed immensely for Oxford, who improved to 8-8.

The Pirates, who began the year 0-5, must win at least two of their final four regular season games to finish 10-10 and qualify for the Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament for a fifth straight season.

"I think for us, coming from where we came from and believing in what we're doing and working to get better every day, to now be on the cusp of it is exciting for us, all of us," said Pietrzak.

"It is exciting after going 0-5 to 8-8. We'll get [to the playoffs], the energy will be up," mentioned Davis.

"I want it really badly because we've worked really hard from going 0-5 and then bringing our record back," added Volpe.

Southbridge, meanwhile, remained winless on the season. Spirits remain high, though, according to Rodriguez.

"They're upbeat, they understand [that it's a rebuilding year], they know what we're going through. They know they'll all be back next season," he said of his senior-less squad.

Junior Ashanti Morales-Rivers scored a game-high 20 points for the Pioneers, including four 3-pointers.

Shepherd Hill gives good fight against undefeated Wachusett

DUDLEY — At halftime against the undefeated Wachusett Regional girls' varsity basketball team on Friday, Jan. 31, two-win Shepherd Hill Regional may have trailed by 16 points (28-12), but head coach Maura Hackenson called that a solid performance.

"It felt like 28-20," she explained. "We had a game plan in place and played well defensively. It was a moral victory."

The Mountaineers pulled away in the second half, however, outscoring The Hill in the third quarter 22-6 and in the final frame 11-9 to win a 61-27 decision.

Belle Lanpher (18) and Cate King (11) were double-digit point producers for Wachusett.

Shepherd Hill (12-2) picked up points from Grace Nellis (9), Trinita Sughrue (6), Paula Barbale (5), Emma Lanpher (3), Emery Mullen (2) and Sydney Fitzgerald (2).

Fast-paced action favors Beavers, who outlast Bay Path

CHARLTON — The Blackstone Valley Tech (BVT) boys’ varsity basketball team may have lost the 3-point shooting contest in its game with Bay Path Regional on Tuesday, Jan. 28, but the Beavers still managed to defeat the Minutemen 91-75 in a game where the teams combined to make 23 shots from beyond the arc.

Bay Path, by the way, easily captured the three-point contest, hitting 17 long-range jumpers while BVT was “only” able to connect on six of its attempts from distance.

The Beavers, who improved to 6-5 overall and 5-1 in Colonial Athletic League play, were led by the three-headed monster that is junior Shea Finnegan and sophomores Josh Mateo and John Furno. Mateo finished with a game-high 27 points (one 3-pointer), while Finnegan checked in with 26 points and three 3s. Furno added nine points to the winning cause to go along with a game-high 23 rebounds.

In a game that, at times, looked more like an indoor track meet, BVT started quickly, opening leads of 11-6 and 22-17 before finishing the first quarter with a 27-22 advantage. Just when one thought the pace of the game couldn’t get any faster, Valley Tech slammed its offense into another gear, the result of which was a 46-36 halftime lead.

“In the first quarter we did shoot well, however we did not defend well,” explained Brew Cupid, BVT’s second-year head coach. “The message going into the second quarter was to increase our pace of play because we knew coming into this game that Bay Path is a team that enjoys shooting 3-pointers; that’s how they want to play.

“But, as is the case with any shooter, if you’re having to defend speed on the other end of the floor, speed kills,” Cupid added. “If you have to defend speed it doesn’t matter how great a shooter you are, when your mind tells you you’re fatigued, your body slows down and you start to miss shots. So, our defensive approach after the first quarter was to play faster on offense.”

That concept was fine with Mateo, who scored 20 points in the first half, and Finnegan, who scored 21 points in the second half.

“We played a little sloppy in our last few games, so we came into this game wanting to get back to playing basketball the way it’s supposed to be played — fast, strong and physical,” Mateo said. “That’s the way we’ve been playing for most of the year.”

Finnegan credited Mateo for his offensive pyrotechnics in the second half.

“The first half started a little slow for me, but in the second half Josh found me for some open shots and that helped me get back in my groove,” Finnegan said. “Basketball is really all about mental toughness. If you miss a shot, you can’t get down on yourself. That’s where my teammates really help my game; they’re always bringing me up and keeping me up.”

When either team missed shots, it seemed like Furno was there to snatch the ball out of the air. He was simply a rebounding machine, grabbing seemingly every uncontested rebound as well as several contested ones.

“Rebounding is all about effort, and I’m all about effort,” the 6-foot-4, 240-pound Furno said. “I like crashing the boards and being as tough as I can be underneath the basket. I’ve played that way my whole life and it’s worked, so why change it?”

The Beavers continued to push the tempo of the game in the third quarter and led 68-53 as play headed to the final period. BVT led by as many as 24 points, 90-66, with three minutes remaining in the game, which is when both teams liberally subbed in their reserves.

Cam Hafner led Bay Path, pouring in a team-high 26 points and hitting four 3-pointers. Dylan Cotton added 17 points and Jomar Torres 16 points. Cotton and Torres each drained five treys.

“We’re very young, but these kids can play,” Bay Path head coach Al Greenough said. “I know our record is 2-10 but every single game that we’ve had this year — except the first one, at Bartlett where we just weren’t ready to play — we’ve been right there, in the game. We’ve lost a lot of games in the fourth quarter that have been tied with a minute to go or two minutes to go.

“But being young and inexperienced, sometimes what comes with that is not being able to make that big play to win the game and get your team to the next level. That’s what my team is learning right now, the hard way, with losses,” Greenough added. “The development this team has shown through the course of this year is actually ahead of where I thought they’d be. I’m excited about this team going forward, but we need to play better defense as a team. We’re giving up too many points. We’re scoring a lot, but we’re giving up too many.”

Anthony Barbale of Bay Path lets go of a 3-pointer versus Blackstone Valley Tech.

Kochanowski said the changes won't go into effect until July 1, the start of the next fiscal year, and that the new hires won't be named until likely September or October to accommodate training schedules and requirements.
On the police side Chief Steve Wojnar also sought two new positions, one that would involve the promotion of an internal candidate and a second that would add a new individual to the force. In 2020, Chief Wojnar wants to promote an officer to a detective position while calendar year 2021 would see the addition of a lieutenant to the force.

“A I'm predicting the budget going forward to next year, if I'm adding a new (lieutenant) position, I'm looking at roughly 7 percent as an overall increase. If I wasn't adding a new position it was going to be around 4 to 5 percent,” Chief Wojnar said.
The chief broke down numbers for selectmen presenting a projected $899,844 budget including contractual obligations and the new position to accommodate the addition of a lieutenant. Th new position itself would cost an added $45,613. The chief said he is examining grant opportunities to help offset the cost. After some clarification of projected costs and figures selectmen unanimously approved the request. Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda also made a public statement supporting the personnel changes for both departments.

Flower Power: Legends and Lore of Blooms

With Valentine’s Day around the corner, this week’s column will focus on the symbolism of flowers. From romance to luck, flowers have long played a role in our everyday lives and according to folklore, perhaps even our futures. Read on for a review of the old fashioned legends and lore of beautiful blooms!

The “magical” power of blooms is legendary, as the following superstitions suggest:

Romance:
Daisies: Perhaps the most familiar floral “predictor” of love is the daisy. Plucking off petals one by one while reciting “He (or she) loves me, he loves me not,” has long served as an amusing indicator of requited love.

Bachelor Buttons: Folklore may explain how these bright blue and purple cornflowers earned their name. Legend has it that young suitors would place freshly picked flowers in their pocket while courting. If the “bachelor buttons” remained fresh and unwilted for the duration, it was a sure sign the relationship is on a steady course of success!

Roses: Romantic lore claims rose petals helped young ladies of earlier eras choose between two or more suitors. Writing the name of each prospective husband the petals and tossing them to the wind, it is said the last petal to hit the ground holds the name of the one she shall marry.

Luck:
Primrose Etc.: Superstition has it that bouquets of flowers should always contain an odd number of blooms, lest bad luck be lured. This belief especially applies to primroses, as the English believed the flowers should be only be brought into the house in groups of 13 to ensure good fortune.

Daffies: Perky yellow daffodils can be an instant mood booster, but according to Welsh folklore the flower can also bring wealth. It is said the first person who spots a spring daffodil will be rewarded with prosperity throughout the year!

Roses: To bring good luck into a home in days of yore, rose leaves were tossed into the fire-place flame.

Health and Well Being:
White Flowers: White blooms are beautiful, but they can carry a melancholy message, according to age old folklore. Think twice before you send a bouquet of white flowers to a sick friend in the hospital as legend claims whites with a strong fragrance can worsen a sickness or even bring on death! Ditto for white flowers that show signs of wilting. And never pair white and red flowers in a bouquet for a sick person, as the combination is said to bring bad luck.

Day Lilies: These bright orange flowers, common to the New England landscape, were considered a lucky health charm when worn. It was believed wearing a lily would lighten one’s worries and lessen distress.

Poppies: While wearing a poppy in the lapel on Veteran’s day has long been a tradition to honor those who served and died for their country. poppies were also worn in the belief they help dispel worries and anxiety.

Valentine’s Day: What does your gift of roses mean?
Roses, which are steeped in sentimental tradition, are the top choice for Valentine’s Day bouquets. The “language of flowers” can be traced back to the Victorian Era when the number and color of flowers were used to express love and to signify a romantic message.

Number of Roses:
*A single rose means “I love you” and symbolizes unwavering devotion
*Two roses intertwined can act as a marriage proposal.”

*A half dozen roses in a bouquet mean “to love and cherish.”Six Roses signify a need to be
*Eleven roses confirm the recipient is truly and deeply loved. Thirteen roses indicate a secret admirer
*One dozen roses is a declaration of true love.

Color of Roses:
Red: Passion, Desire, love
Dark Red: Beauty and perfection
Pink: Romance and happiness
White: Innocence and purity
Yellow: Friendship and joy
Coral/Salmon: Desire
Purple: Devotion and enchantment
Red and Yellow mix: Falling in love
White and Red: Unity, endless love

Beneficial Blossoms
“Flower Power” takes on new meaning when you understand fresh flowers have the capacity to alter our energy and emotions. Why not take the benefits of the flower garden one step further and plant specifically to improve both body and soul?

Roses: No flower is more sentimental than the romantic rose. And it’s no wonder. The scent of roses evokes nostalgia, which can recall happy memories from the past.

Violets: Research shows violets enhance learning speed by 17%, and also improve concentration when used in study rooms.

Lilies: Need an energy boost? The scent of Lily has been proven to increase wakefulness and help you stay alert.

Lavender: Want to relax? Plant lavender. The scent of lavender prompts calmness. It’s well known that studies report that the smell of lavender triggers alpha waves in the part of the brain associated with a relaxed state.

school choice costs, services the town itself provides (like accounting), health and other insurance, and plowing. Taking those into account, Pierangeli said the state expects Webster to provide $5.1 million, thus making the minimum budget about $20.02 million.

The preliminary school proposal seeks $22.63 million, which is an increase of 3.75 percent over last year. According to the draft budget on the district website, most of that increase ($532,338) is for additional staff: four full teachers (grades 4, 7 and 8), two special education teachers, two paraprofessionals, one counselor, one nurse assistant (shared by the middle and high schools), and several part-time increases (some to full time) in various areas.

As that list suggests, the special education department is getting several of the new people, mostly at Park Ave Elementary, Kathleen Baris said. They’re seeing a hike in the number of incoming kids needing support at the lowest grades, including four move-ins needing applied behavioral analysis. But she said it’s “pretty typical for the early childhood referrals to be high.” The district saw 124 new special ed referrals last year and has 86 in process now; the most common issue is a communication disability of some type.

Although the state couldn’t tell her how it was calculated, Pierangeli said the state determined Webster’s “status quo” aid increase would have been about $200,000 without the November legal changes.

At the same time, the district’s food service program is now getting audited under new federal regulations covering a wide range of areas, Director Ellen Nylen said. She said she just finished drafting the corrective action plan to address the auditors’ concerns, which included such things as how Webster counts what’s a reimbursable meal, identifying eligible categories, food safety, maintaining it as a non-profit account, and meeting “significant changes” in proper food quantities. Several of them focused on the Breakfast in the Classroom program, “which is what we expected,” she added.

“It is extremely comprehensive. It is the nitty-gritty of federal regulations,” she said. For example, the auditors determined the apples Webster uses (and gets from the state’s suppliers en masse, just like other towns) are not big enough to qualify now.

“On a positive note, audits do bring us an opportunity to look at our practices,” Superintendent Ruthann Petrungo-Goguen said. “...On a positive note, Breakfast in the Classroom is a wonderful program we have in all three schools. We just learned how to implement it better. ... Audits don’t look at those extra-special things that go above and beyond.”

the “very rural” area west of Route 56, and a “bedroom community” east of there. It carries around 26,000 cars per day, “a lot to ask of a roadway that is only 11-foot travel lanes and no formal shoulders,” he said.

While that lane width won’t change, the project calls for making the now-temporary median barrier permanent (in some parts, concrete, in others an island), adding shoulder pull-off zones for breakdowns and emergency vehicles in several key areas, four-foot shoulders for better drainage, new “shared use paths” for pedestrians and bikes east of 56, bridge work at French and Little rivers, adding traffic lights at Oxbow Road, and “U-turn bulbs” in a couple areas. It also includes a 42-acre conservation parcel for environmental mitigation and extension of water/sewer lines west to the Oxford town line, but there’s no plan to connect that to the existing Charlton line, which ends farther west. He noted MDOT is also working with the WRTA to make areas safe enough for buses to pick up passengers along that stretch.

According to Massachusetts Department of Transportation Operations Engineer Thomas Emerick, the project has been scaled down. Then it was tagged at $75 million-plus, but a “value-engineering review” cut $15-20 million in ways he said won’t harm safety “while reducing impact to residents and the environment.” The biggest of those changes was simplifying the intersection at 56 from the original proposal that was more cloverleaf-like.

Kelley noted they plan to seek permits and hold the final design hearing this fall, bid it in late 2021, and start construction in 2022.

According to State Rep. Paul Frost, that’s actually shorter than original envisioned, largely because of MDOT’s willingness to work with the towns and people.

“Until a few years ago, this project would have been broken into two phases,” with the first starting around 2025 and the second 2030 or later, but now it’ll be done at once over three construction years.

Saying he supports the changes, he noted “there are a lot of advocates out there who have been very passionate about seeing this project done.”

Several of them spoke up Wednesday. Ron Gagner of Oxford specifically objected to the widening putting the road “right next to my house,” and said he didn’t think bicycles should be on Route 20 at all. To him, the pulloffs “will destroy a residential area totally.”

For Lauren Baxter, the big issue is that even the temporary barrier has increased emergency response times to her Oak Drive neighborhood and has reduced property values there. She was one of those citing a difficulty in getting trash collection.

For Wendy Garrigus, adding a Bay Path/Glenmere light will help take traffic, including trucks, off her side street. Right now, she said, trucks from nearby Helgerson’s cannot go onto Route 20; they have to take side roads to Richardson Corner, and she also sees summer weekend driver driving “hell bent for election” on Route 20. A light, even if flashing, will slow that down, while it’s now too dangerous to cross or walk dogs in the area.

Art Annamorati agreed, saying he’s seen about 12 accidents there in five years. All but one involved people turning right into or out of the highway, in part because people “are doing 70 mph” along that stretch.

A couple Thayer Pond residents noted they’re planning to repave their driveway soon, and are concerned the project could tear that up. One, Pete Mancuso, also noted “left-hand turns out there are a nightmare” already, and right turns are often difficult, especially at rush hour. He foresees that getting worse with as the nearby 300-condo project gets built and occupied.

Oxford Planning Board member Norman LeBlanc said his panel is working with the condo developer, Eastland, to add a light on Route 56 where their driveway will be and a lane parallel to Route 20 to make access safer. He urged MDOT to include the necessary infrastructure now to avoid “having to wait 10 years after we get all this [new] traffic.”

Charlton’s Rob Lemansky objected to several of the “cost-saving” changes, saying he’d rather see the lanes be 12 feet wide, in part because of truck traffic, and restore the “waiting lane” for turns at Route 56. Objecting to additional lights in other places, he said they should look at Route 9 in Natick, where people have gotten used to having to drive a little farther to lights for U-turns.

VALENTINE’S DAY

Tips for buying jewelry this Valentine’s Day

Valentine’s Day is rife with tradition. Couples may have their own unique traditions, but others, like Valentine’s Day date nights, are widely popular.

One Valentine’s Day tradition many couples embrace is the exchange of gifts. Shoppers might not need much advice when purchasing heart-shaped boxes of chocolates or flowers for their sweethearts. However, when shopping for jewelry, Valentine’s Day celebrants may feel as though they’re in over their heads. The following tips, courtesy of the Better Business Bureau®, can help shoppers as they navigate the potentially confusing process of buying jewelry.

DIAMONDS

The BBB notes that diamonds’ value is based on color, cut, clarity, and carat. Often referred to as the “4 Cs,” this criteria refers to the grade of the color (color), the way the diamond is finished (cut), how flawless the diamond is (clarity), and its weight (carat). When shopping for diamonds, the BBB advises asking jewelers if they have the most up-to-date testing equipment, which makes it easier for them to distinguish between diamonds and lab-created gemstones. That’s important, as lab-created gemstones resemble diamonds and may not be detectable if jewelers are using testing equipment designed to identify cubic zirconia.

COLORED GEMSTONES

Colored gemstones are very popular, and the BBB notes that various new stone treatments have been developed to improve their appearance and durability. However, the BBB also notes that such treatments may adversely affect the value of the gem and necessitate special care in order to maintain the gem’s appearance. When shopping for colored gemstones, ask the jeweler if an item has been treated and if there’s any special maintenance required. Imitation or assembled stones may look like natural stones, so shoppers should ask if a stone is natural, synthetic or imitation before purchasing anything.

GOLD

When used alone, the word gold implies an item is all gold or 24 karat gold. But the BBB notes that gold is naturally soft and, as a result, is typically mixed with other metals to improve its hardness and durability. The karat-quality marking indicates what proportion of gold is mixed with other metals. For example, the most common mark for gold jewelry is 18K of 750, which signifies an item is 75 percent gold. Lower-karat gold jewelry may include copper, silver, zinc, or other metals. Consumers should ask about these alloys and determine if the item’s ultimate recipient is allergic to certain metals or if he or she has a high acid content in their bodies. People with high acid content in their bodies may have their jewelry turn black as a result.

Buying jewelry can be intimidating. However, jewelry buyers can work with their jewelers to find a beautiful piece their sweethearts will be proud to wear this Valentine’s Day. More information on buying jewelry can be found at www.bbb.org.

Red gemstones for your sweetheart

The world is awash in red come Valentine’s Day. Red is considered a passionate and warming color, which is why it often is tied to the emotions of love and desire. Red also symbolizes heat, longing and strength. In some cultures, red is viewed as good luck and used to ward off bad spirits.

Gift givers who want to embrace red hues even further during Valentine’s Day can dote on their sweethearts with red-colored precious and semi-precious gemstone jewelry. Rubies may come to mind, but there are quite a few stones that offer rosy appeal.

- Agate: Red and red-banded agate can be attractive stones. They are a translucent variety of microcrystalline quartz. These stones have a smooth sheen and are relatively durable.
- Garnet: Garnets tend to be a darker red than rubies and are not very expensive stones. They’re easy to find and can be beautiful in jewelry. Garnets are somewhat soft, so they can be scratched or damaged easily, necessitating caution with their handling.

- Red topaz: Like other stones, topaz comes in different shades. Red is one of the hues. Durability, being plentiful and possessing a vibrant luster make red topaz ideal in all types of jewelry.
- Red zircon: Pure red zircon stones are unique. Zircon is one of the oldest known minerals on Earth, so zircon stones in varying colors have been around for quite some time. Zircon is quite hard, so it can be worn daily, making it an ideal stone for rings.
- Ruby: Rubies are often expensive and highly sought after gemstones. Natural, untreated rubies are very rare. They are made of corundum and are the red versions of sapphires. Rubies are hard and durable and will hold up to daily wear.

- Spinel: Much like fool’s gold looks like gold, spinel resembles a ruby so much that it is often mistaken. This stone often has high levels of clarity and a high refractive index.
- Tourmaline: This is another stone that comes in all different colors of the rainbow, including red. It has a pinkish-red hue, and may be called rubellite. Rubellite is commonly cut into long shapes, but it can be made into many common jewelry styles and faceted to maximize the reflection of light.

Red gemstones may be the perfect fit for Valentine’s Day. Always work with trusted jewelers to find quality, authentic stones that will retain their value.

Jewelry buyers’ guide

Jewelry is a common gift for Valentine’s Day. Customers should know before they buy to get the best value.

You can’t buy love, but on Valentine’s Day those in love certainly like to treat the special people in their lives to some lavish tokens of affection. According to the National Retail Federation’s Valentine’s Day Consumer Spending Survey, Americans spend an estimated $19 billion on gifts, flowers, dinners, and more come Valentine’s Day.

In addition to chocolates and flowers, jewelry is a popular Valentine’s Day gift. Since jewelry is often a personal taste, much like a fragrance, it can be challenging to find the perfect item. With so many different styles, colors and pieces, it’s no surprise that so many jewelry shoppers feel overwhelmed. Some expert advice can make the process go more smoothly and ensure you’re getting the best value for your money.

The Federal Trade Commission suggests thinking before you shop. Since jewelry is a major purchase, shoppers should first establish a budget. Consider the gift recipient’s style and look at other jewelry he or she wears. The more informed you are before visiting the jewelry stores, the easier it will be to find a piece he or she will like and one that you can afford.

Take the time to become educated about diamonds and other gemstones. Diamonds’ value is based on four criteria: color, cut, clarity, and carat (often referred to as “The 4 Cs”). Color ranges from the diamond being nearly white to graded down to yellow. The cut is the way the stone is fashioned. Clarity informs consumers if the stone is flawless or has specs or scratches inside of it. Carat refers to the weight of the diamond.

Diamonds and gemstones can form naturally or be manufactured in laboratories. Lab-created gemstones may look like natural gemstones but be of lesser value.

Shop around and get referrals for reputable jewelry stores. You can consult the Better Business Bureau to see if any complaints have been lodged about a particular store. Many consumers are most comfortable purchasing jewelry made in-store so they can verify the merchandise and retailer.

Check for the appropriate markings on gold, silver and platinum jewelry that indicate their authenticity. Make sure the jeweler will include certification or a grading report with the jewelry and your receipt.

No matter how much research you do, realize that there’s a chance the jewelry you purchase will not prove the perfect fit. So make sure you understand the store’s return policy and if there is a charge to have rings or other items resized.

Jewelry is a classic Valentine’s Day gift. With the right approach, shoppers can make the process of buying jewelry a lot less intimidating.

VALENTINE’S DAY

Top gifts for your valentine

Valentine’s Day is an opportunity to show the ones you love just how much you care about them. This is achieved through various gestures, including giving heartfelt gifts.

Research from Business Insider found that 51 percent of Americans now celebrate Valentine’s Day. While a recent poll from Insights West found that although many Canadians view Valentine’s Day as overly commercial, 75 percent still plan on celebrating it. People are still spending big bucks on making Valentine’s Day special. The National Retail Federation indicates Americans spent more than $20.7 billion on the holiday in 2019 and forecasters predict similar spending in 2020.

Every Valentine’s Day, certain gifts emerge as the most popular. While certain gifts are common, there are ways to make them seem fresh and exciting. Here are some ideas for Valentine’s Day gifting.

FLOWERS

The National Retail Federation estimates that people spend around $2 billion on flowers for gifts. While roses are much sought after, thinking outside the bouquet can produce unique results. Choose different blooms, perhaps a loved one’s favorite flower or something regional. Potted plants also will last longer than cut flowers, giving them more staying power. Skip bouquets in favor of table centerpieces, which can be eye-catching.

JEWELRY

Gifting jewelry can be tricky because it is such a personal gift that must tie into a sweetheart’s style. It may be tempting to go with something large and flashy or full of diamonds, but a better option is to take inventory of what your loved one wears on a daily basis and try to mimic the size and scope in your gift. Other thoughtful jewelry gifts include understated pendant necklaces or bracelets engraved with key dates or the names of their children. Colored gemstones in lieu of diamonds also may be a striking choice.

ENTERTAINMENT

Dinner and a movie is a classic date night, but on Valentine’s Day restaurants and theaters may be overcrowded and only offer limited menus. An alternative can be to arrange for a gourmet meal to be delivered and wrap up a new streaming movie/TV device already primed with a subscription to his or her favorite streaming service. Then all you need to do is snuggle on the sofa for a romantic night in.

CHOCOLATES AND CANDY

Roughly $1.8 billion is spent on candy each Valentine’s Day, says the National Retail Federation. A box of chocolates certainly can fit the bill, but other options abound. Perhaps a sweetheart has a favorite candy that recalls his or her childhood or prefers a chocolate maker from his or her hometown. Purchase those items to add a bit of nostalgia. Make the holiday magical by setting up a candy bar right at home, where your sweetheart can pick and choose from candies displayed in eye-catching bowls and canisters. Another novel idea is to use candy molds to make your own sweet treats.

Thoughtful Valentine’s Day gifts can make the day even more special for sweethearts.

How did “XO” come to symbolize kisses and hugs?

Love letters are a great way for couples to express their affection and devotion to each other. The sentiments expressed in love letters are as unique as the couples who write them. However, love letters often contain one particular turn of phrase regardless of their authors.

When signing a love letter, it’s customary for writers to include at least one “XO” near their names. “XO” is widely recognized as symbolic of wishing “hugs and kisses” to a letter’s intended recipient. This tradition is such an ingrained part of romantic letter writing that few may stop to pause and wonder just how the letters “XO” came to symbolize hugs and kisses.

The origins of “XO” are not definitively known, though many historians note that signing letters with “X” dates back to the Middle Ages. Few people could read and write in the Middle Ages, but signing “X” did not require either of those abilities. Christianity played a big part in many people’s lives during the Middle Ages, and “X” was seen as a representation of the Christian cross. So when people signed “X” on legal documents, they were essentially stating the contents of the document were true in the name of Jesus Christ.

While Jesus Christ’s teachings are rooted in showing compassion for one’s fellow man, signing a letter with “X” did not symbolize love in the Middle Ages. In fact, that development did not come about until much later. The Oxford English Dictionary attributes the first use of “X” to symbolize love and/or kisses in a letter to English naturalist Gilbert White. However, some historians debate the accuracy of that attribution, saying White’s use of the letter “X” in his letter was likely meant to convey blessings on the letter’s recipient.

Researcher Stephen Goranson found many uses of the letter “X” to convey love and/or kisses in or after the 1880s, so it’s very likely that this was the first time that including the letter “X” at the end of a letter took on the meaning so many people give it now.

As for “O” symbolizing hugs, even less is known about how that came about. The late American writer Leo Rosten, whose writings included 1968’s “The Joys of Yiddish,” suggested that including “O” at the end of a letter might have a similar origin story to “X.” Rosten theorized that “O” was used by Jewish immigrants who did not want to sign a document with “X,” which they, like the people in the Middle Ages, interpreted as symbolic of the Christian cross.

Exactly when “O” was paired with “X” and came to symbolize hugs is unknown, though various historians suggest the two were not paired until the latter half of the 20th century.

8 sweets for your sweetheart

Few things can elicit “oohs and aahs” on Valentine’s Day as much as decadent desserts. Sweets and romance seem tailor-made for each other. That’s why heart-shaped boxes of chocolate and other sweets are snatched up in droves and handed out like, well, candies, come February 14.

According to Nielsen Product Insider, Valentine’s Day chocolate sales reached nearly $11 billion in 2018, and candy generated $695 billion in sales. In terms of baked goods, the top-selling items sold during Valentine’s Day included dipped/covered treats, message cookies, iced cookies, cupcakes, and two- to five-count doughnuts. Wine, chocolate and strawberries also are very popular Valentine’s treats.

Those pondering giving something sweet this year can consider the following desserts.

1. Bananas Foster: This treat is made from bananas and vanilla ice cream. A sauce made from butter, brown sugar, cinnamon, dark rum, and banana liqueur is placed over the cooked bananas and ignited like a flambé to create a caramelized dessert.

2. Black forest cake: This chocolate cake marries layers of chocolate sponge cake with a rich cherry filling. It is based on the German dessert, schwarzwälder kirschtorte. Whipped cream often tops off this rich cake.

3. Cannoli: These Italian pastries originated on the island of Sicily. They consist of tube-shaped fried pastry dough filled with a ricotta cheese-based cream.

4. Cheesecake: Cheesecake often is made with a crust of crushed cookies, graham crackers or sponge cake. A thick layer of batter made from sour cream, cream cheese, eggs, and sugar is cooked into a semi-soft consistency. Some cheesecakes are light and fluffy, while others are dense and decadent.

5. Chocolate truffles: Not to be mistaken for their fungi cousins, chocolate truffles are made by forming balls out of chocolate ganache (made from heavy cream and melted chocolate), and rolling them in cocoa powder.

6. Cream puffs: These tasty morsels are made from a French choux pastry dough filled with a moist filling of sweet cream or custard.

7. Napoleon: The French offer a layered dessert, and it comes by way of mille feuille, also known as a Napoleon pastry. Puff pastry dough sandwiches vanilla custard or cream in various layers.

8. Tiramisu: Meaning “pick me up,” tiramisu is the Italian take on a layered dessert made from ladyfingers cookies dipped in coffee and a whipped mixture of mascarpone cheese and cream, topped with cocoa.

Dessert and other sweets are often a part of Valentine’s Day celebrations.
