

Charlton Receives second renewal for DEP grant

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – The Town of Charlton will continue to benefit from a state grant that was first received for the 2018 season.

Water and Sewer Superintendent Peter Boria revealed to the Charlton Water & Sewer Commission on Nov. 4 that the $200,000 grant through the Department of Environmental Protection initially received last year has not only been extended for a second time into 2020 but has also been replenished for a second time back to the full $200,000 amount.

“In FY19, we probably used approximately $170,000 to $180,000 to do the exploration up at Buffumville to find a public water supply. I made the same request to use the remaining funds for FY20 and fortunate enough they extended it with a fresh $200,000,” Boria said.

A scope of the expected work for 2020 to be funded through the grant has been submitted to the DEP in draft for and will need to be approved by the Water and Sewer Commission pending an changes requested by the DEP.

A lot of the funding will be used to continue the town’s efforts to add to its well systems in the coming year. Boria presented some details as to what the town can look forward to as that project continues into the new year.

“We’re in the process of hopefully purchasing the 25 acres where the wells will go by the end of December. We’re on track to do that. There’s a few more steps we’d have to take to satisfy DEP but I’m in the process of doing that so we should be good to go,” Boria said.

He added that the next step would be to move forward with site designs and planning as well as designs for the road and some leveling of the property in question. The town is also working on a preliminary conceptual design of how the water will travel from the property to the existing infrastructure.

“I think this is an important piece so that we can give something to the Army Corp of Engineers for them to consider while we’re in the process of designing the site,” Boria said.

“Also getting the proposed plan to work with them to maybe access a portion of their property to run the water line over, get their commitment or buy in and see if we have any concerns about that and see if we have to redesign it.”

Another task would be the continuation of the water management program screening process, a step required to move on to the long-term pump test once the wells are drill. This, in addition to wetlands considerations and the slew of meetings still to take place with town boards and commissions, will all be part of the forthcoming process.

“It’s pretty inclusive of what can happen this fiscal year. The nice thing is the DEP has awarded us the grant again. I think we’ve been using their money very wisely and they’re happy with the progress we’re making so they’re continuing to let us use it. Hopefully, they’ll review this and understand the direction we’re going and come back with a thumbs up to continue in this manner,” Boria said.

The superintendent added that the town has used around $400,000 in grant funding over the last two years on the water wells project showing the significance of the grant to getting the project down and relieving taxpayers of the costs of the initiative.

Wings of Song presents “An American Christmas”

REGION — This December, Wings of Song—formerly the Quinebaug Valley Singers—inaugurates its new name with a program of American Christmas favorites from colonial times to the present. The chorus’s concerts will take place on Saturday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 at St. Joachim Chapel, St. Anne/St. Patrick Parish, Fiskdale (Sturbridge), just up from where Routes 20 and 148 meet; and on Sunday, Dec. 8 at Elm Street Congregational Church, just outside the center of Southbridge. A free-will offering will be collected at both concerts; and, as always, the music will be followed by tons of yummy refreshments. Both venues are handicap accessible.

A huge variety of Christmas music will be on the chorus’s program—everything from 18th-century “fuging tune” settings of “While shepherds watched their flocks by night” to the original version of “Jingle Bells” (with a very different refrain from the one we’re used to) to an irresistibly jazzy “Sleigh Ride” to choral works for the season by three Wings of Songs members (Ted Bradley and Donna Duchesne of Woodstock, Conn., and Nym Cooke of Petersham, Mass.). Of course there will also be audience sing-alongs, and stellar keyboardist Brooks Milgate will surely be persuaded to tickle the ivories during intermission.

Music Director Cooke is excited about the level his chorus is reaching.

“They’ve never sounded better,” he says, and adds, “They’re learning pieces faster and more solidly than ever. The musicianship of this group is steadily increasing. It helps that we have some high-caliber musicians in our ranks—professionals like Ted Bradley and Sarah Jo Burke and Terry McGinty. I know of at least five Wingers who write songs or compose choral music. That says something about where the chorus is at these days. And of course, we draw.”

Cooke is also interested in attracting more young singers to the chorus; three teenaged girls now sing with Wings of Song, and he’d like to see some boys sign on as well. Homeschooled kids without access to school ensembles might especially want to consider joining. Any musical individual who can sing in tune is welcome, from age 10 up.

Don’t miss this dynamic 55-member chorus in its early December performances! Because the chorus tends to sing to packed houses these days, plan to arrive early to be sure of a good seat. You’ll leave thoroughly imbued with the Christmas spirit—“maybe five different Christmas spirits,” Nym Cooke comments, “—the devotional spirit, the cozy spirit, the jolly spirit, the humorous spirit, and the meditative spirit.”

All these will, indeed, be part of the show.

For more information on the concerts, or on joining Wings of Song (note that a special program about climate change, with projections, readings, and rock-band accompaniment, is planned for Spring 2020), contact Nym or WoS President KT Therrien (Nym is at nym-cooke@gmail.com or 978-724-3438; KT is at kt2nc@aol.com or 508-410-8575)

Funding available to help Woodland Owners develop land responsibly

REGION — Forest landowners in south-central Massachusetts take note: substantial funding is now available to help you manage your land while improving habitat for birds and other wildlife. The MassConn Sustainable Forest Partnership (MassConn) is helping landowners apply for funding to create a forest management plan and bird habitat assessment for their property.

The program is part of the $6.1 million Southern New England Heritage Forest (SNEHF) conservation initiative, an unprecedented three-state collaboration involving Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island made possible through the Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) of the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS).

A professional forester trained in the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation’s “Foresters for the Birds” program will work with you to develop a high-quality forest stewardship plan consistent with your goals for your land including a bird habitat assessment. The plan will recommend specific steps you can take to benefit the health of your woods, improve wildlife habitat, enhance recreational opportunities, and provide added value. The plan will meet federal and state requirements and may be used for enrollment in the state’s Chapter 61 property tax reduction programs.

Grant funds are available to pay for most of the forester’s costs and to completely fund the bird habitat assessment.

Landowners will be responsible for choosing a forester from an approved list and paying for a percentage of the total cost of the forest management plan. This program is ideally suited for landowners who have never had a forest management plan and own more than 10 acres of woodlands.

Massachusetts is accepting applications on a rolling basis so you may apply at any time. To get started, contact Christopher Riely at christopher@sweet-birchconsulting.com or (401) 225-6135. Visit the website of the lead partner organization, The Last Green Valley (www.thelast-greenvalley.org) in Connecticut, for links to the application materials, including a list of the towns in south-central Massachusetts that are included in the program region.

The Southern New England Heritage Forest is a 1.5 million-acre core forest corridor stretching along the Connecticut and Rhode Island border to the Quabbin Reservoir in Massachusetts. Bounded by more heavily urbanized areas with more than one million nearby residents, the SNEHF still has an astonishing 76% forest cover and offers one of the last viable wildlife corridors from southern to northern New England.

Tantasqua to appear on WGBH's "High School Quiz Show"

LOCAL TEAM WILL FACE OFF AGAINST WESTON IN WILD CARD GAME

Tantasqua Regional's "High School Quiz Show" team will face off against Weston High School in the Wild Card match on WGBH's "High School Quiz Show." Episodes will begin airing Feb. 1.

BOSTON — WGBH's "High School Quiz Show®" has announced the 17 schools from across Massachusetts that will compete on the 11th season of the public television academic tournament. Hosted by Boston media personality Billy Costa, the broadcast competition tests students' knowledge in math, science, civics, literature, history, current events and more.

Representing cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth, fourteen of the schools qualified based on their scores on a written quiz at the Super Sunday qualifying event held last month at WGBH's studios. The 15th school qualified by outscoring seven other schools at "High School Quiz Show: Extra Credit," a tournament hosted at An Unlikely Story, the Plainville, MA bookstore owned by Jeff Kinney, author of "Diary of a Wimpy Kid." A new wildcard approach will fill the 16th and final spot on the broadcast.

"As we begin our second decade, 'High School Quiz Show' coaches and team members are becoming increasingly sophisticated with their preparation and strategy, taking everything from player aptitude and commitment to buzzer and gameplay strategy into consideration," said executive producer Hillary Wells. "We're thrilled that the series is fueling a growing network of school-sponsored academic tournaments, contributing to Massachusetts' success in academic competitions at the national level."

Among the top 15 schools is last year's defending champion, Boston Latin School. And three schools are competing for the first time -- Salem Academy Charter School, Taunton High School and Waltham High School.

The schools that will compete for the state championship title are:
Acton-Boxborough Regional High School
Andover High School
Arlington High School
Belmont High School
Boston Latin School
Brookline High School
Lexington High School
Mansfield High School
Needham High School
Salem Academy Charter School
South High Community School (Worcester)
Taunton High School
Waltham High School
Wellesley High School
Whitman-Hanson Regional High School

The Wildcard match will feature newcomers Tantasqua Regional High School from Fiskdale taking on Weston High School. The wildcard involves the top two highest scoring teams outside of the top 14 from Super Sunday that have not participated in the "High School Quiz Show" broadcast competition, or have not been on the show in the past five years. Weston High School last appeared in Season 3. The winner of their match, which will air on the February 1 season premiere, determines the final spot in the tournament bracket.

"High School Quiz Show" begins taping at WGBH in January in front of a studio audience. It will premiere Saturday, Feb. 1 at 6 p.m. on WGBH 2. Episodes can also be streamed at WGBH.org and on YouTube.

Bay Path students take part in theater makeup design workshop

CHARLTON — Just in time for Halloween, Cosmetology students from Bay Path Vocational Technical High School in Charlton experienced a workshop on theater make-up design from Broadway Makeup artist Joe Dulude II. Mr. Dulude is the makeup designer for "Beetlejuice," "Wicked," and "Into the Woods."

During the workshop, students watched as Mr. Dulude transformed their teacher and a colleague into characters from the Broadway hit, "Beetlejuice." They also learned about the various career opportunities available to them once they graduate high school with certifications in Cosmetology, including work in theatre, movies, and television.

Bay Path graduate and valedictorian (Class of 2002) Troy Mercier, planned this event with the school's Curriculum Director, Bethann Cormier. His niece is currently a student at Bay Path, and his two parents were long time teachers at the school.

He stated, "I just want to give back to the school that did so much for me." Mr. Mercier sponsored the event.

PLACE MOTORS IS PROUD TO SPONSOR

Friday's Child

Hi! My name is Zadrik and I love to watch sports on TV!

Zadrik is a healthy, friendly, talkative and pleasant boy of Hispanic descent. Zadrik is a home-body and likes to stay inside at home rather than going shopping or even taking a vacation. He is cautious about trying new things and is selective about what he eats. He loves to watch sports on TV, especially basketball. He also loves to play wrestling video games.

Zadrik is very resourceful and is very good at advocating for himself. He is in the 8th grade. He has friends at school and gets along well with both adults and his peers.

Legally freed for adoption, a very structured home and a consistent parenting style seems to works best with Zadrik. He would do well in most any family constellations with or without children as long as he receives love, attention and encouragement to help build his self-esteem. Zadrik would like to maintain contact with his 2 sisters, his paternal grandmother and his last pre -adoptive father.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Markey, McGovern: ‘Everyone is included’ in Green New Deal

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WORCESTER — As part of a continuing effort to build public support for the Green New Deal, US Sen. Edward Markey and US Rep. James McGovern drew hundreds to a “town hall” forum at Worcester’s ClarkUniversity recently.

“There are no emergency rooms for planets, so we have to have preventive care,” Markey said, noting recent studies show Massachusetts could see increases of 7 deg. F in temperature and 11 feet in sea level by 2100.

To address that, they’re proponents of the wide-ranging GND. In its current form, it’s a 14-page resolution calling on the country to change our energy, transportation, food and other systems and create the jobs and infrastructure improvements necessary to implement those changes, to prevent the likely damage from climate change. He later noted, only half in jest, one likely example of the impact: “Mar-al-Lago will turn into Mar-al-Lagoon.”

“It’s not just a resolution, it’s a revolution we’ve filed,” he said, noting it specifically includes “communities that were excluded from the [original] New Deal” by “explicitly stat[ing] who is included and why. ... Everyone is included.”

He later said the GND is “about frontline communities,” including economically poor areas, minority and Native communities and others, and aims to include and protect them “not because they’re the most politically powerful, but because they’re the most vulnerable.”

“We all have power, and some of us

have power we haven’t tapped into yet,” McGovern later said.

Markey noted some have dubbed that “socialism,” but he argues, “What do you call 100 years of tax breaks” for fossil fuel corporations? When some claim it’ll “kill jobs,” he argues it calls for establishing transition training for those who do lose jobs, a “green bank” to upgrade facilities and increase energy efficiency, plans to promote smaller-scale and more local “low-till” farming, and other things.

McGovern agreed, saying Congress needs to redirect funds away from fossil fuels, and both citizen and government should “do business with companies that get it when it comes to the climate crisis.”

That includes buying local and organic food “so we’re not shipping food half-way around the world.” In general, he added, we need to have government agencies “care more about the health of the people than profits for the corporations.” The current administration has pushed rolling back many environmental, consumer protection and oversight regulations, he noted.

As an example of the problem, Markey said Japanese women in Japan have breast cancer rates of one-third to one-half American women, but see that rate rise to the same rate within one generation of living here.

“It’s something we do to ourselves,” he noted.

One part of the effort will have to be changing our gasoline-fueled transport system to one that includes electric cars and what McGovern hopes to be the world’s best rail system. Markey agreed, noting the president campaigned on having a $2 trillion infrastructure bill, but still has not proposed it to Congress. “By 2030, the era of the internal combustion engine will be increasingly seen in the mirror of history,” he said.

Some of the citizen participants raised concerns about the GND plan, with one noting it has “messaging problems” because it doesn’t clearly lay out the steps to achieve its goals and some claim it’s not scientifically or politically feasible.

Markey noted it sets goals and “we need to have the debate around the specific steps needed to meet these goals.” He noted some of the steps are already in progress, citing the increase in solar and wind power in the past 10 years. At different times, he compared it to both President Kennedy’s setting a goal to get to the moon (which was implemented by years of Congressional acts and funding) and to the detailed Waxman-Markey bill of 2008, which ran for 1400 pages and aimed for an 80 percent greenhouse gas reduction.

Other participants sought to introduce other issues into the forum, including Sen Elizabeth Warren’s presidential run, general lack of trust in government, the impeachment effort in the House, handicapped access to transit and what one person dubbed “corporate crimes in Puerto Rico.” McGovern and Markey generally tried to take anything raised and turn it back to the Green New Deal.

The GND resolution was introduced in Congress early this year by Markey and Rep Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. It faced a late March procedural vote in the Senate which failed 0-57 to take it up for debate, with 43 Democrats (including Markey) voting “present.” CBSnews.com reported at the time that Democrats saw the vote as an attempt by Senate majority leader Mitch McConnell “to use it against them in the upcoming 2020 elections.” McConnell derided it then as “a socialist fantasy,” CBS reported.

This is not the first version of the Green New Deal. During 2016’s presidential campaign, Green Party candidate Jill Stein campaigned on a more comprehensive proposal bearing that name. Among other things, it included Medicare-for-All; a full employment program focused on sustainable energy, mass transit and the like; right to a living wage and tuition-free public education through college; publicly-owned utilities; breaking up big banks and creating nonprofit public banks; making several election reforms; repealing the Patriot Act; and slashing military spending by half. Some of those items are now being promoted, in various forms, by various presidential candidates.

Bay Path teachers awarded Auburn Chamber mini-grants

CHARLTON — Two teachers at Bay Path Vocational Technical High School in Charlton were surprised in their classrooms by members of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce, who presented them with checks for mini-grants. Science teacher Heidi Zydlo was awarded $11. for her Lab Safety Escape Room project, while Graphic Communications teacher Dawn Wilson won $250 for her program, Project Inspire. Both teachers submitted proposals to the Chamber in September and did not know the results until the representatives walked into their classrooms with checks and balloons. Students applauded their instructors.

It truly takes a village

The phrase “It takes a village” is thrown around so often, it almost feels cliché; however, nothing could be further from the truth. As we grow older, and watch our children enter into adulthood, that phrase rings loud and clear and as such, a feeling of appreciation is in order.

Recently, a member of our staff received a phone call from her college aged son about a close mentor who had passed away. This gentleman played a transformative role in his life and as a parent, it brought into light just how important that ‘village’ is. Although this gentleman was thanked for his kindness several times, it just never seemed like enough. So to you, Mr. Killam, thank you.

From a parent’s perspective, we sometimes forget the role other adults play in raising our children. A good friend coming over at the drop of a dime to watch our toddler so we can make it to work. An aunt being available to pick up a tired soccer player because work became busy just at closing. A grandparent who is always in the audience during those early years of holiday recorder concerts, or a helpful neighbor who just happens to be good at calculus to help your high school student — it all adds up.

Just one encouraging comment from a teacher or coach, during a random school day or practice, can often times be the catalyst for something great, then the domino effect takes hold. When you see a happy, successful individual, think about what their village must have looked like. What did your village look like? What does it still look like now?

Throughout your lives, think about those people who believed in you enough to make a difference. Those people who at different moments, said or did just the right things, and met you where you were at. Did it happen in high school? Or were you in college when an engaging professor was impressed with a paper you handed in? Maybe you were in your twenties and waiting on tables when a customer handed you a business card for an opportunity you never thought possible. Every person that comes to mind, no matter their role, played a part in your ‘village.’ As life moves on, despite your age, your village will not disappear. When we really start to think about those people, we can connect the dots. What role will you play for someone else?

The best way to appreciate those people in your life, whether they are still with us or not, is to live well and, by all means necessary, make your happiness your number one priority...after all, that, we believe, is the secret to life.

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

By GARY W. MOORE

We’ve all been told to “Be part of the solution” and “If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem.” Both statements are good and true. Most people holding elected office and almost all of those running for president, apparently didn’t get that memo.

Beto O’Rourke recently dropped out of the race. I can tell you almost everything he was against, but would be hard-pressed to tell you what he was for. Screaming against or at issues is not the same as proposing and selling solutions. My suggestion to all of those running for office, and especially those holding power is to be for and not against something.

You may say Beto was for gun control ... but I never heard him articulate that. Instead I heard him attacking the National Rifle Association and saying he would seize guns from law abiding citizens. I never heard him propose a positive plan for legal immigration but instead he said he’d abolish ICE and he was against a wall. Attitude of your approach matters. Beto never got his message across because he was negatively attacking rather than positively proposing. He spent all his time telling us what he is against instead of what he is for. When you are against something, you come across as negative. When you are for something you come across as positive and Americans almost always vote for the candidate who gets their positive message across.

Like him or not, Donald Trump won with a simple and positive message. Make America Great Again. His opponents attacked his slogan by calling it racist, homophobic, misogynistic and worse. Instead, maybe they would have been better served by being more “Pro-America” and less “Anti-Trump?”

A positive message sells, while a negative message repels.

This is not a political message nor am I taking a side. I am strongly stating that people who are for something move their agenda forward and attract followers, while those who are against something are obstructionist and attract negative people. You may say, “I’m against racism” and I’ll respond by saying “try being for unity and to love your neighbor regardless of race, color, religion or nationality.” You may say you “are anti-drug” and I’ll respond with, “be pro good health and clear mind.” How we approach our problems matters because people respond to and are drawn to a positive message and approach and turn away from the negative. As such, I believe the negative approach of those who want Donald Trump out of office are assuring his reelection. Ronald Reagan and Bill Clinton were both elected because of their positive and optimistic messages. So, my message to those wanting my vote is “I don’t care what you are against. Tell me what you are for.”

It’s not only true in political elections but also in the workplace and in our homes. Our children need to understand what their parents are for. When a parent is always telling their children what they are doing wrong, they are damaging their child’s self-esteem and teaching them to communicate the negative. Certainly, we must correct our children, but the power of motivation is in building the child up, not tearing them down. Correct them positively.

Employees need to understand the same from their business leadership. Screaming at an employee for making a mistake assures they will never take risks but will also turn them against the boss and the company. When that happens, the employee may work to sabotage their boss and turn down the quality of work they perform. Positive always trumps negative. Employees need to understand what their leadership and their company values. Then, the leadership must model those values in a positive and easy to understand way.

This is a difficult point to make in under eight hundred words but let me try with this simple story.

Mother Teresa is known worldwide for her work with the poor and the tremendous legacy she left behind. If you are ever tempted to ask if its possible for one person to make a difference, remember Mother Teresa. She is credited with saying ...

“I was once asked why I don’t participate in anti-war demonstrations. I said that I will never do that, but as soon as you have a pro-peace rally, I’ll be there.”

Mother Teresa
What did this kind, gentle and positive person who made a profound difference in the world say?

Anti-Anything never works. Be pro something.

I want to be known by what I’m for. How about you?

What can investors learn from veterans?

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Each year, Veterans Day allows us to show our respect for the sacrifices that military veterans have made for our country. But have you ever stopped to think about what lessons our veterans can teach us about how we conduct various aspects of our lives? For example, consider the following traits and how they might apply to your actions as an investor:

Perseverance – Even veterans who have not served in armed combat have had to persevere in challenging situations. The military life is not an easy one, as it often involves frequent moves, living in foreign countries, time away from loved ones, and so on. As an investor, in what ways do you need to show perseverance? For one thing, you’ll need to stick it out even in the face of volatile markets and short-term losses. And you’ll need the discipline to make investing a top priority throughout your life, even with all the other financial demands you face.

Willingness to learn and adapt – During the course of their service, military veterans frequently need to learn new skills for their deployments. Furthermore, living as they often do in foreign countries, they must adapt to new cultures and customs. When you invest, you’re learning new things, not only about changes in the economic environment and new investment opportunities, but also about yourself – your risk tolerance, your investment preferences, and your views about your ideal retirement lifestyle. Your ability to learn new investment behaviors and to adapt to changing circumstances can help determine your long-term success.

Awareness of the “big picture” – All members of the military know that their individual duties, while perhaps highly specific, are nonetheless part of a much bigger picture – the security of their country. When you make an investment decision, it might seem relatively minor, but each move you make should contribute to your larger goals – college for your children (or grandchildren), a comfortable retirement, a legacy for your family or any other objective. And if you can keep in mind that your actions are all designed to help you meet these types of goals, you will find it easier to stay focused on your long-term investment strategy and not overreact to negative events, such as market downturns.

Sense of duty – It goes without saying that veterans and military personnel have felt, and still feel, a sense of duty. As an investor, you are trying to meet some personal goals, such as an enjoyable retirement lifestyle, but you, too, are acting with a sense of duty in some ways, because you’re also investing to help your family. There are the obvious goals, like sending children to college or helping them start a business, but you’re also making their lives easier by maintaining your financial independence throughout your life, freeing them of potential financial burdens. This can be seen quite clearly when you take steps, such as purchasing long-term care insurance, to protect yourself from the potentially catastrophic costs of an extended nursing home stay.

Military veterans have a lot to teach us in many activities of life – and investing is one of them. So, on Veterans Day, do what you can to honor our veterans and follow their behaviors as you chart your own financial future.

Giving Thanks: For Traditional Native American Dishes

Americans have much to be thankful for, and while details of the “first” Thanksgiving are debatable, there is no denying the major role American Indians played in the lives of early settlers. From teaching Colonists to hunt turkey and deer and cultivate corn to showing them how to tap Maple syrup and cook wild cranberries, Native Americans are credited with preventing mass starvation in early settlements.

In appreciation of the American Indians’ vast contributions to the dinner table, this column will spotlight some Thanksgiving-worthy Native American classics.

Indian Pudding

Among the most memorable of New England comfort foods, Indian Pudding is a regional dessert that frequently makes an appearance on the Thanksgiving table. The many hours required to cook the thick cornmeal and molasses custard, along with the high calories and richness of the old fashioned dish make the “once a year” dessert worth waiting all year for.

While the sweet, steamy pudding continues to be served up as a rustic treat in fine Yankee restaurants, the traditional dish boasts a humble history.

Tracing its roots to the Colonists’ love of England’s “hasty pudding”, Indian Pudding was made with cornmeal, which was plentiful in the New World, along with molasses and maple syrup, two common sweeteners of the day.

History reveals President John Adams and First Lady Abigail served homemade Indian Pudding at White House receptions.

Plimouth Plantation Slow Cooker Indian Pudding

Ingredients: three cups whole milk; 1/2 cup cornmeal; 1/2 teaspoon table salt; two tablespoons unsalted butter, plus extra for greasing cooker; two large eggs; 1/3 cup molasses; one teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon ginger; 1/2 cup dried cranberries (optional); Serve with ice cream or whipped cream.

On the hunt for bear

As the shotgun season approaches for Massachusetts deer hunters (Dec. 2), numerous big game hunters that hold a Massachusetts hunting license are contemplating purchasing a bear hunting license because of all the sightings of bear in the area during the last few weeks. Douglas, Northbridge and Uxbridge residents have reported numerous bear sightings. The second season of bear hunting in Massachusetts runs from Nov. 4-23. The bear may only be taken with bow or rifle, which includes a muzzle-loader gun. See page 31, of the 2019 Mass. Fish & Game for all regulations pertaining to bear hunting. Shotguns are only permitted during part of the shotgun deer season. For a $5 permit to hunt bear in Mass., it could be the best $5 you have ever spent. A 205-pound, 10-point buck was harvested recently by a bow hunter in Uxbridge. Numerous other impressive deer in the 160-pound-plus range were harvested last week in the valley, and the action is only going to get better as the rut heats up. Noel Rabidor harvested another nice buck last week in Uxbridge with his compound bow. Drivers are reminded that the chances of having a car deer collision is extremely high in the next few weeks, and requires constant attention while driving, especially during dawn and dusk. Only drivers can retain any deer that are struck and killed, but must be reported to the Mass. Fish & Wildlife. Bear and moose may not be retained. Fisher Cat & Bob Cat populations are on the increase in the valley area. Numerous reports by bow hunters spotting them while hunting are a sure sign of their significant increase in numbers. They are often looking for an easy meal and can kill cats and small dogs when the opportunity arises. Coyote numbers are also on the increase. Never let your pets out alone in a back yard, or they could become a meal for these free roaming killers. This week's second picture shows what a fisher Cat looks like. With the recent cold snap, Ice fishermen are getting their gear ready for first ice. Back in this writer's younger years I can remember ice fishing on Thanksgiving Day at New Pond in Whitinsville, and the coves on Meadow Pond known as Kane's Cove. The last few years ice fishing days were few, but hopefully we will have a better season this year. Checking on the condition of your ice tilts and ice auger now will, insure that you are ready for first ice. Always use an ice chisel to check the thickness of first ice as you slowly navigate across any pond or lake. Every year, someone loses their life on thin ice. This is a good time to talk to your family members, especially youngsters about the dangers of thin ice. They should never be walking on ice without adult supervision. Many ponds and lakes have springs that often stop the ice from freezing, and can prove to be deadly if residents are not aware of them. The most dangerous ice conditions are when the lakes and ponds are snow covered. Snow insulates the ice, keeping it from freezing. Please use caution. The Whitinsville Fish & Game Club will host their annual Roast Beef supper this Saturday Nov. 16 at their club's headquarters on White Court in Douglas. The annual event still had a few tickets left as of this past Saturday. Be sure to call the club for tickets at 508-476-7204. You will be in for a great meal if you attend. This week's first picture shows young Aiden Walker, grandson of Steve Rondeau, holding my yellow lab. Twig during last week's pheasant hunt at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club. Twig managed to track down a couple of pheasant that we harvested, & Aiden carried back our two Pheasant, which he thought was awesome. A new hunter was born!

In a medium-size bowl, combine eggs, molasses, and spices. Add some of the hot cornmeal mixture to the egg mixture to temper the eggs; then transfer egg mixture into the pot. Stir in cranberries, if you like. Scrape batter into the slow cooker and cook on high 2 to 3 hours or on low 6 to 8 hours. The center will be not quite set.  Cranberry Chutney & Sauce Wild cranberries have long held an important rank in Native American culture. American Indians ate cranberries in a variety of dishes and used the bright red berries as a natural dye to color textiles. The native fruit was also hailed as valuable medicine, as a poultice of the berries was applied to wounds, including serious war injuries. Native Americans introduced the tart berry to the settlers who gave the cranberry its current name. The pink flower blossoms on the cranberry reminded early Colonists of the Sandhill Crane in their native land, thus they called the fruit "cranberries." Raw cranberries, which are an excellent source of Vitamin C, were also coveted by early 19th century whalers as they brought cranberries on board their vessels to prevent scurvy. Today, cranberry sauce served along with a traditional turkey is a much anticipated Thanksgiving Day tradition. Read on for an old fashioned homemade cranberry sauce and an authentic chutney, both from Native American recipe files.

Cranberry Sauce Sweetened with Maple

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups pure maple syrup; one half cup water; one tsp. ground ginger; four cups fresh cranberries. Directions: In a medium saucepan of heavy weight, bring syrup, water and ginger to boil over medium heat. Stir in whole cranberries. Simmer until the cranberries start to pop, stirring occasionally. Mash lightly. Pour into a bowl and cool before refrigerating.

Cranberry Chutney, American Indian Style

Ingredients: Three cups cranberries; one dozen cored apples; one onion, sliced; one cup golden raisins; 1 1/2 tablespoons ground ginger; two ounces chili peppers; four cups apple cider vinegar; two tablespoons salt; one pound dark brown sugar; two tablespoons flour dissolved in 1/4 cup water. Directions: In a heavy large saucepan mix together apples, onion, raisins, ginger, chilies, vinegar, salt and brown sugar. Cook over low heat for about 30 minutes. Add cranberries and flour/water mixture. Simmer until cranberries pop and mixture thickens, about ten minutes. Let set to cool and further thicken. Refrigerate after cooling.

 Succotash Corn was a staple crop of American Indians and they prided themselves on cooking it many different ways. Succotash, of which corn is a main ingredient, is a simple yet delicious dish that is familiar to most folks of Native American descent. The hearty "stew" typically consists of corn, beans, and sweet peppers. The low cost and relatively easy access to homegrown ingredients made this common fare at Thanksgiving time and all year round.

Succotash Stew Ingredients: Four ears of fresh sweet corn; four cups of fresh lima beans (frozen may be substituted) ; 1 1/2 cups of water ; 1/2 cup butter; 1 1/2 cups of sliced green onions; one green and one red bell pepper, diced Directions: Cut corn cobs into 1 1/2 inch lengths. Place corn, beans, water, and butter in a large saucepan. Salt and pepper to taste. Cover and bring to a boil over high heat. Reduce heat to medium-low and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir in onions and peppers and continue to simmer for 6 to 10 minutes, until beans are tender and peppers are slightly tender. Remove lid and cook over high heat for 3 to 4 minutes, until liquid is reduced to about a half cup.

Rockets redeem themselves in beating Hudson, knocking Hawks out of tournament

Auburn's Fidel Castro dribbles the ball up the sideline, attempting to outrace Hudson's defenders.

Sam Almeida of Auburn prepares to head the ball to move it down the field.

Auburn's Dillon Winkelmann launches a kick up and over a Hudson defender.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN — It took 363 days, but the Auburn High boys' varsity soccer team finally got a chance to avenge its loss to Hudson High in last year's Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament, and the Rockets made the most of it, ousting the Hawks from this year's postseason, 1-0, at Memorial Field on Wednesday, Nov. 6.

With the win third-seeded Auburn (12-1-6) advanced to the semifinal round of the tournament, where it played 14-4-1 Blackstone Valley Tech, the No. 2 seed. The Rockets ultimately lost that game, 1-0. Check back next week for a story and photos. Hudson, the No. 6 seed, finished its season 10-6-3.

"That game has kept me up at night a lot in the last year because we could have won that game," said Auburn junior Nate Lewos, who scored the lone goal of the game with 12:34 remaining. "We talked a lot about that game all year."

Hudson defeated Auburn, 2-1, on Nov. 8, 2018, in a Central Mass. Division 3 semifinal, played at Lunenburg High. Hudson scored in the final two minutes of the game to break a 1-1, tie, the Rockets tying the game on a goal by, coincidentally, Lewos.

Auburn head coach Chris Bailey said that last year the team addressed the need to work hard in the offseason, come back strong, qualify for the postseason and hopefully get a chance to knock Hudson out, just like Hudson had done to them a few minutes earlier.

"We've talked about playing Hudson in the tournament this year since the day of that loss last year," Bailey said. "Before we left the field up in Lunenburg Mike Breen, our center back, said 'we've got to come back and play these guys; this is who I want.' So, it's been [363] days that we've been thinking about this game."

Lewos' game-winning goal — which he called the biggest goal of his high school career — started out like a lot of Auburn's offensive plays did in the game, with a long pass in from midfield, this one coming off the foot of senior captain Sam Almeida. Almeida's high shot came down amid a pack of Auburn and Hudson players and deflected off Drew Lemanski, the Rockets' junior midfielder, and right to Lewos.

"The ball literally landed at my feet. I was about 15 yards out in front of the net, a little left of the goal and I just settled it and shot it lefty in one motion, and fortunately it went into the side of the net," said Lewos, who stood motionless as the ball found its way into the net and then turned and sprinted to midfield — where he was mobbed by his teammates — with his arms raised high over his head. "It took me a second to realize what had happened. I was a little surprised the ball went in."

Bailey wasn't surprised that Lewos was the player that scored.

"Nate is a good, smart player. He's the only kid in Auburn who is a junior and is in his fourth year playing in the boys' soccer program," Bailey said. "When he was in eighth grade we were allowed to bring up some eighth graders to fill out our junior varsity team. So, this is Nate's fourth year in our program. It makes a big difference. He's a kid who knew where to be and was in the right spot, I think, because he's been with us for four years."

With about three minutes to play Auburn had a golden opportunity to get an insurance goal and push its lead to 2-0. Senior forward Emmanuel Teedo Pannah broke in on Hudson goalie Ray Figueiredo and shot the ball past him, but Pannah's shot missed the goal, wide left, by about three feet.

Hudson's best chance to score the game-tying goal came with less than two minutes to play.

Sophomore Dominic Branco took a high shot from about 30 yards out that Coleman Picard, Auburn's senior goalkeeper, was able to just get his fingertips on and tip it up and over the crossbar. On the ensuing corner kick, Picard stepped in and plucked the ball out of the air before any Hudson players could attempt to make a play on it.

"I had a feeling that's where he was going to go," Picard said of Branco's shot. "In a situation like that, late in the game, I try to let it all come naturally. I try to trust the work that we've put in at practice and hope everything goes the way it should. It seems like it usually does, so we're obviously doing something right here."

Bailey credited the work Picard puts in as the chief reason he came up with the save on Branco's shot.

"Everything Coleman does is because No. 1, he has great athletic ability, and No. 2, because of the work coach [Hans] de Klerk has put in with him for four years," Bailey said. "Coach de Klerk is an outstanding goalie; he does a great job with our keepers. Being able to put his talents and Coleman's athletic ability together is huge for us."

wasn’t a tool or a stone out of place,” he added. “He took a lot of pride in that place.”

According to McDuffie’s 2017 obituary, he lived in East Brookfield and retired from 40 years at Smith Valve Co before becoming maintenance manager at Capen Hill.

“Ray was with us before I started, and I’ve been at Capen Hill 20 years,” Nolin said. “... The first time I met Ray, they were still building the WalMart on Route 20. A family of ducks walked across the street in front of me and the mother got killed. I was horrified, and took [the ducklings] to Capen Hill. That’s how I met Ray – he was chasing a squirrel.”

Amanda Montville, the dinner’s chef, knew him nearly as long.

“Capen Hill is a family tradition,” she said. “My grandfather helped started it with Ruth Wells and built the barn with the Boy Scouts. He used to drop me off and I’d hang out with Ray. I’ve been going there since I was five.”

Most of the time, Montville is quite happy being on the go as a cook for Charlton Middle School or Chuck’s Steakhouse, and noted her normal day off is Sunday, which she spent cooking for this event. But she especially likes summers off from school, when she volunteers time as a camp counselor at Capen. Her mother Paulette is also involved, including being vice president.

“The best part is just sitting in the field hanging out with the crickets,” Amanda said, describing that as “serenity.”

“We’re hoping that when people come, they look at it as a sanctuary, not just a place,” said Capen Hill President Barbara Frederick, who handled ticket sales at the door Sunday.

She said the board of directors “has a long-term plan to make it more of a venue” for weddings, musical events and the like, as well as building “something that’s entirely run on wind and solar,” fixing the barn McDuffie built years ago, and expanding other services. One of those will be a teen camp next summer for ages 13-17, run by teen counselors.

Sunday’s silent auction featured a wide range of donated prizes, including a $330 iPad, a $200 stay at Embassy Suites, a $260 set of Dexter knives, a cribbage board set, an Amazon Echo, and various gift cards and certificates. Nolin noted that’s where most of the funds have typically been raised, not the dinner itself.

“We don’t do this for the money, glory or fame,” she said. “We do it to bring the community together.”

And for those who are curious,

The night’s chef, Amanda Montville, flavors a batch of sauce.

Amanda Montville openly admits her “secret” sauce ingredient is nothing more than “lots and lots of brown sugar.”

Six things to help evergreens through winter

GARDEN MOMENTS

MELINDA MYERS

Prepare your evergreens now before winter weather takes its toll on your boxwood, arborvitae and rhododendrons. Winter wind, sun, frozen soil, snow and ice can wreak havoc on our plants, especially evergreens.

Water plants, especially evergreens and new plantings, thoroughly before the ground freezes. Evergreens continue to lose moisture throughout the winter even when the soil is frozen or dry.

Apply a layer of mulch to the soil under and around trees and shrubs or freshen existing mulch. A two- to three-inch layer of woodchips or shredded bark insulates roots from temperature extremes, conserves moisture, suppresses weeds during the growing season and improves the soil as it breaks down in the future. Keep mulch several inches away from the trunk of trees and stems of shrubs.

Shelter evergreens from winter winds and sun that increase moisture lost through evergreen needles and leaves. Broadleaf evergreens like rhododendrons and boxwoods are most susceptible and benefit from shelter when planted in exposed locations.

Create an attractive winter shelter with one of the commercially available winterizing products or build your own. Use a bit of decorative fencing or recycle a locally grown Christmas tree to cast a bit of shade and block the wind. Christmas tree windbreaks also add greenery to the winter landscape and shelter for visiting birds.

Loosely tie together stems of upright arborvitae, junipers and yew hedges subject to heavy snow and ice loads. As the snow and ice pile on, it can cause these plants to split. The shrubs often recover in spring, but years of repeated damage can eventually disfigure these plants.

Use strips of cotton to loosely tie the multiple stems together so the snow rolls off the plant. Or wrap the whole shrub or hedge in bird netting. The netting blends in with the foliage so the plants are secure and still add beauty to the winter landscape. The netting also helps discourage hungry wildlife.

Install fencing, apply repellents or enlist scare tactics to reduce the risk of damage from hungry animals. Applying wildlife protection before critters start feeding increases your chance of success. Monitor plantings for damage, adjust as needed and consider using a combination of animal protections.

Delay major pruning until the worst of winter weather has passed. The inner needles and leaves of evergreens have been sheltered by the outer layer of growth. Removing the outermost growth in fall exposes the tender inner growth to the harsh weather, increasing the risk of winter damage. It's better to wait until early spring to shape, if needed, while correcting any winter damage.

A few hours spent preparing evergreens for winter now can save you hours repairing damage next spring and money spent on replacement plants.

learned the training. The AG letter goes on to delve into the finer details of the meeting in question that sparked the complaints. It explains that Valley Green Grow was not specified as a topic in the open forum and the status of the project was questioned by a citizen leading to discussion. Attorney Michael Pill, a land use attorney who offered his input on the ongoing debate, also arrived to speak on the matter only introducing himself just prior to the Planning Board meeting and was allowed to address the board once the VGG topic had been brought forth.

Chase's letter says that after considering all details the Attorney General's office concluded the Planning Board followed proper protocol and did not violated state law.

“Here, we find that the ‘Open Forum’ was truly guided by public questions and comments. Although the Chair had learned about the VGG negotiations the night before, she did not know that a member of the public would ask about the status of the project at the February 6 meeting. The Chair also did not reasonably anticipate that Attorney Pill would speak about the VGG project at the time that the meeting notice was amended at 9:35 a.m. on Feb. 6. The Chair assures us, and we have confirmed in our independent discussion with Attorney Pill, that the Chair had never met Attorney Pill before he introduced himself in the few minutes before the meeting. Attorney Pill has stated to us, and we credit his account, that his explanation of the Planning Board's legal rights was extemporaneous and not planned in advance by either himself or the Chair,” The letter concludes.

The Attorney General's

Office further concluded that the discussion of the VGG topic under the open forum section of the agenda, typically reserved for items not on the agenda at times of posting, and Attorney Pill's last minute contributions to that discussion gave the public the impression of wrongdoing where there was none.
