Farmer's market vendor eliminating plastic waste one bag at a time is featured at the Sturbridge Farmer's Market this year, is proving that one simple material straight from nature can help reduce the use of plastic produce bags and keep vegetables, fruits, and herbs fresh longer.

The brand uses 100 percent certified organic cotton from India to tightly weave durable bags that allow for proper air circulation for the items inside, helping produce to stay fresh for weeks and even months longer than it would out in the open or in plastic bags from the grocery store.

"I started going to farmers markets here and there last year and one by one I started growing it and doing really well," said DiPilato. "This started as a need for the money, but it became a mission. Forty percent of people in this country waste food and 35 percent waste food because they don't know what's in their refrigerator."

DiPilato came up with the idea for B-Organic Produce Bags after she lost her job in the restoration field and started hosting children between the ages of 13 and 18 from China who were going to school in the United States. She wanted a way to stop wasting so much food in her household.

"They were eating a lot of vegetables and fruit and I needed to make my food last longer," she said. "After doing some research, I found that cotton actually makes your food last longer. I started ordering cotton from the U.S. and all different countries around the world and found that organic cotton works the best. Once they started using these bags, they wouldn't

Planning Board seeks new member

BY ANNIE SANDOLI
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE — The Planning Board is seeking a new member to fill an open position and the Town of Sturbridge is encouraging all interested residents to apply.

The citizen who is chosen to fill the opening by the town administrator will replace Heather Hart, who is moving out of town and will therefore not be seeking reappointment after her term ends this year.

"It's a pretty important function, planning boards are important to every community," said Charles Blanchard, Chair of the Planning Board. "Anyone interested should send a letter of interest to the town administrator and then he will probably interview them to see what their interest is and whether they would be a good fit for the Planning Board in his view. Then the appointment would go before the Board of Selectmen who can say yes or no. We generally meet twice a month on the second and fourth Tuesday, but sometimes it varies a little depending on the work load."

Established under Chapter 41, Section 81-A of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Planning Board consists of seven members who are appointed for five year terms. These members have responsibilities such as acting as the Special Permit Granting Authority and reviewing and approving Subdivision Plans, as well as working on long-term planning tools for the town, including developing Zoning Bylaws, Rules and Regulations, Subdivision Regulations, Master Plans, and Community Plans.

"One of the big things this year was working on the zoning bylaws for marijuana, both medical and recreational marijuana," Blanchard said. "We are also looking at reconsidering the zoning along old Route 15. There was an area that had a certain type of zoning down there and we had a public meeting to find out what people would like to see in that area. The board evaluates requests for zoning changes and make sure the zoning bylaws are properly enforced and adhered to. If new developments come in that require site plan approval, we review the site plan and make sure it's consistent with the zoning bylaws."

Charlton Board of Health might hold hearings on NEC plan

An updated map recently sent to the DPU project email list shows where the proposed NEC gas storage facility would be on Route 169.

BY GUS STEEVES CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — After a discussion of the NEC gas storage plant project that included Southbridge Health Department representatives, the Charlton Board of Health voted unanimously to "preserve our rights to hold site assignment hearings" on the project.

Under state law, the board has wide authority to hold hearings if it deems them necessary to protect public health and the environment. Members said they'd see what happens with the state Department of Public Utilities process that has already begun, for which they also voted to apply to be interveners.

At present, Charlton has an intervention committee comprising Selectman Bill Borowski, Health Director James Philbrook, Building Commissioner Curt Meskus and a member of the Planning Board.

"If we have our own site assignment process, that's totally different from being interveners [in the state process]," member Kathleen Walker said. "It's an option we should take and a Board of Health ourselves."

"If we have to show probable cause of a health risk, I think we could do that in two seconds," agreed Chair Matt Gagner.

He was referring specifically to resident Melissa Widing's earlier statement that normal operation of her nearby welding company could produce the spark that sets off a gas explosion if the plant were to leak.

Southbridge BOH member Roland Larochele said liquified natural gas is flammable but not explosive as long as it's in liquid form. However, it also "stays low to the ground" and rapidly vaporizes, and under certain conditions vapors could reach concentrations at which a spark could detonate it.

"It'll seek low-lying areas, go down Cady Brook toward us," he said, noting he "question[s] the security" of such a facility and

Old Sturbridge Academy students launch Little Free Libraries

BY ANNIE SANDOLI

STURBRIDGE—The second graders at Old Sturbridge Academy Charter Public School are currently getting ready to complete their year-long learning project on libraries and will be painting and placing “Little Free Library” cubbies filled with books of all genres for all ages at locations in Sturbridge and Southbridge in the next few weeks.

The project is part of the EL Education earning curriculum, which requires that students in every grade at their schools partake in an Expedition Learning project each year that somehow helps their community. The second grade class decided to do theirs on libraries, spending the past few months learning about books and how people access

“At the beginning of the school year, we started talking about different types of schools around the world and different challenges there are when it comes to getting to school,” said Liv Berger, one of the second grade teachers at Old Sturbridge Academy Charter Public School. “One of the common threads was access to literacy and books, so we started talking about libraries.”

As part of the project, the kids visited the District School at Old Sturbridge Village and Jacob Edwards Library in Southbridge to learn about the history of books, researched what would make an ideal location for a library, familiarized themselves with the Little Free Library non-profit organization, and wrote letters asking for book dona-

“We saw some of those books and what books looked like back then and what books look like now,” said Berger. “We also talked about who has access to them and why.”

After learning so much about libraries, books, and how people receive information, the second graders came up with the idea for the Little Free Libraries project themselves, wanting to make sure people in the area have easier access to reading materials no matter where they are. The cubbies operate according to a “take one leave one” system and bring new information to places where it might not be expected.

“I think the kids are very excited,” said Berger. “In their research, they found that they needed to include books for all ages, not just kids, and it really helped start to build or develop their awareness of outside the classroom and start thinking about communities all over that don’t have books.”

One of the locations that approved the second graders’ request for a space for a Little Free Library there was Big Bunny Supermarket in Southbridge. Store Manager Jon Cournoyer, who has a child in second grade at Old Sturbridge Academy Charter Public School, welcomed the idea and opportunity for the community.

“Big Bunny Market is excited to have this unique connection to the school and the communities that it serves,” he said. “The Little Free Library will be placed in a prominent spot for use by all of our customers.”

Berger said the idea behind this project and the hands on learning experience in general is to take learning outside the classroom, give back to the community, and help those who need it most.

“We definitely have a focus on service and reaching out to the community to connect what we are learning in the classroom with a need for something we can fill,” she said. “We have been talking a lot about equal rights and social justice this year and all of them want to be change makers. This is really a step to becoming change makers.”

Summer Concerts on the Common return

BY ANNIE SANDOLI
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE—The summer concerts on the Sturbridge Town Common will be back this year on Thursday evenings from 6 until 8 p.m. starting June 20 and ending on Aug. 15, and will feature both new and returning local musical artists.

Organized by the Sturbridge Recreation Department, the concerts have become a seasonal tradition in the town since 2005, bringing residents of Sturbridge and the surrounding towns together to enjoy the nice weather, listen to many different genres of music, and support local creative talents.

“It’s a great community activity people can look forward to annually,” said Annie Roscioli, Recreational Director for the Town of Sturbridge. “All kinds of people come, some use it as a chance to get their kids together and many meet up with old friends.”

Each concert in this year’s series is sponsored by a local businesses, organization, or branch of the town, including Savers Bank, Lions & Rotary Clubs, Sturbridge Federated Church, Betterment, Sturbridge Tourist Association, and the Sturbridge Cultural Council. Their funding pays for the musicians’ time and energy.

“The businesses reach out to us and ask us what we need each year,” said Roscioli. “We apply for the funding from the other sponsors like the Sturbridge Cultural Council.”

This year’s series will feature an equal number of musicians who have played at the Concerts on the Common in the past. Because so many people ask to perform, the Sturbridge Recreation Department tries to rotate the bands each year and welcome new musical artists as often as possible.

“If they are returning, most people don’t go consecutively year to year,” said Roscioli. “There’s a lot of outreach and for only having 11 spots and I get flooded with people looking to perform down there. The bands who have come back for several years in a row are the Abletones and Island Castaways, and LA’s Backstage Pass is retuning again after they were the most liked band of the summer on a survey we did.”

This month’s concerts include Island Castaways on June 20 and New England Digital Accordion Orchestra on June 27. The June 13 show with Haphazard Jazz was cancelled due to inclement weather and will likely be rescheduled for a rain date later in August.

Next month will feature Uncle Sam’s Jazz Band as part of the Sturbridge Fourth of July festivities, Will McMillan with Joe Reid playing the songs of Oscar Hammerstein II on July 11, Glenwood Mills Band with Mark Chevalier on July 18, and the Abletones on July 25.

The final month of concerts will start with Mark Mandeville & Rianne Richards on Aug. 1, LA’s Backstage Pass ‘80s rock tribute band on Aug. 8, and Southern Voice Band on Aug. 15.

Along with the music, there will also be two vendors this year. Friendly’s will be back again this year with an ice cream cart and the Publick House, new to the Concerts on the Common, will be selling hot dogs, chips, and drinks. Those who attend should bring lawn chairs and blankets and remember that parking directly on the Town Common is not allowed at this event.

For more information on the Concerts on the Common, contact the Sturbridge Recreation Department at 508-347-2041 or go to <https://www.town.sturbridge.ma.us/recreation>.

Charlton to provide access sex offender resources

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

CHARLTON – The Charlton Board of Selectmen has decided not to proceed with posting fully detailed sex offender information on cable access channels after consulting with local law officials and neighboring towns.

In May, Charlton's Board of Selectmen decided to form a Sex Offender Bylaw Committee after board Chair David Singer suggested the concept for serious consideration. During those talks the newest selectman in town, Bill Borowski, asked if it would be a good idea for the sake of public awareness to publish information on local sex offenders on cable access channels. Selectmen decided to table the discussion for another meeting and to seek input from Charlton police and from other communities about how they have handled public notification of sex offender information.

The result of those discussion has led selectmen to believe the cable access proposal may be a step too far. Selectman Singer explained he discussed the idea with the Police Chief Graham Maxfield and it was recommended to avoid such an extreme measure and to utilizing other ways of creating public awareness instead.

"(Chief Maxfield) stated that there are specific cautions for this. He had concerns about putting them up on our own as offenders come on and off the roll, liability if they are found to be innocent if it's still in our system or if they change levels which is go from level one to level three, and liability if we have it wrong. The chief suggested putting a link for the State Registry for Sex Offenders on our website. That's what he does," Singer explained.

Borowski recanted on his recommendation from May. After consulting other local towns including Auburn, Millbury, Sutton and Webster he felt that such a drastic move would require too much manpower to keep things up to date. Instead he offered a compromised concept he felt the board and town could get behind. Similar to the police chief, Borowski recommended putting up a link that would direct someone to the state website to do a query.

"That way we know it's most up to date. There's no question of people moving in or moving out or getting stale information. Chief Maxfield brought up some good points. I know other towns do it different ways, but I think for now this will at least get us in the right direction, and it will both educate the town and at the same time minimize and resource constraints that we have," Borowski said.

Selectmen voted on a motion to work with the chief and the town administrator to put a notification on a local access channel that would contain the link rather than specific information about sex offenders in Charlton. Selectmen also took the time to ensure members of the community that the recent discussions about sex offenders were not sparked from a specific incident. The goal is simply to be proactive and make sure citizens have access to important information the deserve to be aware of.

"Knowledge is power and for me this issue is getting long needed attention," Selectmen Singer said. "I think the more we educate the public to this and the more information you put out there the safer our communities would be."

Brimfield resident Cullen McCarthy returns following research project

WORCESTER — Cullen McCarthy of Brimfield, a member of the class of 2020 majoring in biomedical engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), was a member of a student team that recently completed an intense, hands-on research through the WPI project center in Denmark. The project was titled A Sustainable Business Model for Urban Natural. In their project summary, the students wrote, "The purpose of this project was to establish a value proposition and Business Model Canvas for Urban Natural, a green space participatory mapping tool."

At WPI, all undergraduates are required to complete a research-driven, professional-level project that applies science and technology to addresses an important societal need or issue. About two-thirds of students complete a project at one of the university's 50-plus off-campus project centers, which are located around the world. A signature element of the innovative undergraduate experience at WPI, the project-based curriculum offers students the opportunity to apply their scientific and technical knowledge to develop thoughtful solutions to real problems that affect the quality of people's lives-and make a difference before they graduate. room and their comfort zones and into the global community to apply their knowledge and to solve problems," said Professor Kent Rissmiller, interim dean of the WPI Interdisciplinary and Global Studies Division. "Students are immersed in all aspects of a different culture, from the way people live and work to the values they hold to the foods they eat - all valuable perspectives for surviving and thriving in today's global marketplace. They also learn the meaning and magic of teamwork; make a real and meaningful difference in their host community; and gain a competitive edge for any resume, or graduate or professional school application."

About Worcester Polytechnic Institute

WPI, a global leader in project-based learning, is a distinctive, top-tier technological university founded in 1865 on the principle that students learn most effectively by applying the theory learned in the classroom to the practice of solving real-world problems. Recognized by the National Academy of Engineering with the 2016 Bernard M. Gordon Prize for Innovation in Engineering and Technology Education, WPI's pioneering project-based curriculum engages undergraduates in solving important scientific, technological, and societal problems throughout their education and at more than 50 project centers around the world. WPI offers more than 50 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs across 14 academic departments in science, engineering, technology, business, the social sciences, and the humanities and arts. Its faculty and students pursue groundbreaking research to meet ongoing challenges in health and biotechnology; robotics and the internet of things; advanced materials and manufacturing; cyber, data, and security systems; learning science; and more. www.wpi.edu

Pasture Prime Players bring classic thriller to the stage

CHARLTON — Pasture Prime Players, Inc. is pleased to announce performance dates for "Wait Until Dark" by Frederick Knott and directed by Marty Black-Eagle Carl.

A sinister con man, Roat (Stephen Jean), and two ex-convicts, Mike (Jason Iannone) and Carlino (Brooke Lyons), are about to meet their match. They have traced the location of a mysterious doll, which they are much interested in, to the Greenwich Village apartment of Sam Hendrix (Leo Rull) and his blind wife, Susy (Carol Vancil). Sam had apparently been persuaded by a strange woman to transport the doll across the Canadian border, not knowing that sewn inside were several grams of heroin. When the woman is murdered, the situation becomes more urgent.

The con man and his ex-convicts, through a cleverly constructed deception, convince Susy that the police have implicated Sam in the woman's murder, and the doll, which she believes is the key to his innocence, is evidence. She refuses to reveal its location, and with the help of a young neighbor (Laura Jedynasty), figures out she is the victim of a bizarre charade. But when Roat kills his associates, a deadly game of cat and mouse ensues between the two. Susy knows the only way to play fair is by her rules, so when darkness falls she turns off all the lights leaving both of them to maneuver in the dark until the game ends.

Performances are Fridays and Saturdays, June 21, 22, 28 and 29 at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays, June 23 and 30 at 2 p.m. at the Charlton Arts & Activities Center, 4 Dresser Hill Rd., Charlton. Ticket prices are $15 for adults and $12 for seniors 60 and older and students 18 and under. Music and muskets on Sturbridge Common June 22

STURBRIDGE—On Saturday, June 22, the Sturbridge Colonial Militia will re-enact the muster of local patriot forces on the town Common in response to the news of the British expedition to Lexington and Concord in April, 1775. The program of drill, musket firing, and historical commentary begins at 6:30 p.m. Visitors are most welcome at the Revolutionary-era encampment on the Common from 4 p.m., followed by a concert of period music at 6 p.m. by the Yalesville (CT) Senior Fife and Drum Corps. These events are presented with the generous support of the Sturbridge Tourist Association and the Sturbridge Historical Society.

According to veteran re-enactor Douglas Quigley, who portrays Captain Timothy Parker, this is the 23rd consecutive year the "new" Sturbridge Colonial Militia has commemorated its ancestor's 1775 gathering on the Common. The historical background for the event is based on the continuing research of Sturbridge historian Brian Burns. See Sturbridge Colonial Militia on Facebook for updates on this rain-or-shine event.

PUZZLE SOLUTION

Liam M. Wilson graduates from Colby College

WATERVILLE, Maine — Liam M. Wilson, of Holland, was one of 462 seniors who graduated from Colby College in Waterville, Maine, May 26, receiving a bachelor of arts degree at the College's 198th Commencement. Award-winning television writer David E. Kelley was the guest speaker.

Wilson, who majored in psychology and educational studies, attended St. Johns High School and is the son of Jennifer Wilson of Holland, Mass., and Michael Wilson of Holden, Mass.

David E. Kelley, creator of popular and critically acclaimed shows from Ally McBeal to Big Little Lies, spoke to a crowd of more than 3,000 and urged Colby College graduates to reject a career that is "not so terrible" and instead pursue what will make them truly fulfilled.

Acknowledging that his advice might seem banal, he urged students to do what gives them joy. "Cling to the [inner] scream," Kelley said. "Keep it in there because so many, after failing to get what they want, decide the easier route is just to invalidate the want and pretend it was never a goal to begin with, and you become a little more deadened inside."

Colby President David A. Greene handed a diploma to each of the graduates.

Founded in 1813, Colby is one of America's most selective colleges. Serving only undergraduates, Colby offers a rigorous academic program rooted in deep exploration of ideas and close interaction with world-class faculty scholars. Students pursue intellectual passions, choosing among 58 majors or developing their own. Colby's innovative and ambitious campaign, Dare Northward, will support deeper connections between the College and the world and a fully inclusive experience for all Colby students. Colby is home to a community of 2,000 dedicated and diverse students from more than 80 countries. Its Waterville, Maine, location provides unique access to world-class research institutions and civic engagement experiences.

To help the kids identify what was inside each bag since they are not transparent, DiPilato came up with the idea of painting various vegetables, fruits, and herbs on the bags with their help on Wednesday "paint nights." She now uses dyes made from fruits and vegetables to create more than 75 custom designs on small, medium, and large organic cotton bags that sell for $5, $6, and $7.

"The guy I purchase the cotton from has a huge weaving machine and he does all the weaving and it makes it into this material," she said. "He sends me the material and I do the designs and printing and then I do the making of the bags and labels."

The fact that DiPilato's bags help produce stay fresh longer was even tested as part of a study at Clark University in Worcester with extremely positive results after the bags were handed out and the amount of time the food items stayed good was recorded.

"I got connected with the marketing and communication students at Clark University and we did a research on how long the fruits and vegetables were going to last," she said. "We had an event that was at Holy Cross College where we handed out the bags."

Not only will B-Organic Produce Bags make an appearance at farmers markets all over the state this summer, including the Sturbridge Farmers Market on July 7, 14, and 21, Aug. 4 and 18, Sept. 1, and Oct. 6, but was also given a spot in the Massachusetts building at the Big E in Springfield—one of the most difficult buildings to get into with an extremely long waitlist.

"I became part of the Northeast Organic Farming Association and the USDA has a program where they help farmers in Massachusetts," said DiPilato. "They tried out my bags and I went in front of a panel of 17 people and was voted in."

DiPilato is hoping that her bags will reach more and more people, especially farmers, and ultimately do her part to help eliminate the world's waste one bag at a time.

"I'm hoping farmers will give these bags to their CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) members and eventually help all of the farms make their food last longer," she said.

Summer antiquing in Southern New England

My last column offered suggestions for antiquing on Cape Cod this summer. There are plenty of other great vacation spots in New England and many more opportunities to look for antiques. I'll focus on Southern New England in this column.

ANTIQUES, COLLECTIBLES & ESTATES

Connecticut has some coastal vacation destinations with great antique shopping. "The Antiques Depot" in Old Saybrook describes itself as "a Warehouse Antique Center featuring 3500 square feet of fine quality antique and used furniture, crystal, pottery, clocks, artwork, estate jewelry, watches, sterling silver and much more!" The Mystic and Stonington areas have attractions including the Mystic Seaport Museum, Mystic Aquarium, Foxwoods and Mohegan Sun Casinos. One of the local antique shops is "Grand & Water" in Stonington. They tout that they've "been buying and selling antiques and objects d'art" for over 2 decades. Holly Hock Farm Antiques in Mystic website describes themselves as "a major retailer of quality antiques and custom made furniture." There are many other shops along the Connecticut coast. More information is available on the Connecticut Office of Tourism's website www.ctvisit.com.

Rhode Island also has many great options for antiquing. If your plans take you to Misquamicut Beach, Homespun Cottage Antiques & Collectibles is located in Westerly. In addition to their shop, they also run auctions. Their website notes that there are many other antique shops nearby. Newport is another great Rhode Island antique destination. Armory Antique Marketplace boasts over 70 dealers in their 6,000 square foot location. There are plenty of other shops near the Rhode Island coast. Jules Antiques & General Store in Richmond houses "70 dealers in our spacious 8,000 square-foot rustic farm building." Dealers at the General Stanton Inn Flea Market in Charlestown offer antiques and newer items on Sundays.

Traveling further east into Massachusetts, New Bedford Antiques at the Cove is a huge shop with 260 dealers in a 55,000 square foot facility. Their Website notes that they are open seven days a week in a refurbished mill building. You'd expect the Plymouth area and the rest of the South Shore to be home to many antique shops, and you'd be right. Main Street Marketplace in Plymouth is "an eclectic antique and collectible marketplace" that has over 100 vendors, according to their website. The Fancy Flea antique show takes place on June 22 at Edaville Railroad in Carver. If you prefer the North Shore, Oldies Marketplace in Newburyport is an "indoor/outdoor marketplace on Newburyport's waterfront." Todd Farm Antique and Flea Market in Rowley has been running on Sundays for 47 years. If you prefer the mountains to the ocean, the Great Barrington Antiques Center in the Berkshires is a 5,000 square foot multi-dealer shop.

If you've gotten too much sun this summer, you can go inside for some shade at local antique shops or go to a flea market and walk a little after those big summer barbecues.

We continue to make pickups for our Aug. 29 auction in Worcester. We have other sales and appraisal events in the works. Please see www.centralmassauctions.com for details on these and other events.

In search of Stripers

Striper fishing is heating up at Block Island, as this weeks pictures show. A group of local anglers chartered the Maridee 11 out of Galilee Rhode Island this past Saturday and had a fast bite on some serious size stripers. It was unknown the day before if the boat could get to the fishing grounds because of high winds. The Captain advised us to meet him at the boat the next morning, and a last minute decision on weather to cancel the trip would be made then. As we approached the Marina, we noticed very little wind, but the seas were still choppy from the day before.

The Captain and Mate showed up on time (5 a.m.), and the decision to leave the marina was made. As we entered the opening at the outer wall of Galilee, waves were breaking over the wall and the boat started to list from side to side. At the time it did not seem to be a good Idea to go fishing at Block Island, but as we ventured farther out to sea the waves did not seem that bad. After a one and a half hour boat ride we reached our destination and the mate quickly let out two lines equipped with umbrella rigs. It is not this writer's favorite way to fish but my son Ralph Jr. invited me along with his buddies for a Father's Day gift.

When the mate finished setting the lines to the proper depth it was only a matter of minutes after a voice shouted "Fish On!" Suddenly the other rod was bending with another fish slowly stripping the line from the reel. The Captain slowed the boat to a crawl and two of our fishing party were reeling in a fish. After a somewhat brief battle, two impressive stripers were brought into the boat. One was at least 40 pounds, and the other was in the 30-pound range.

The mate quickly placed the bass into the live well and the umbrella rigs were again set to the proper depth and placed in the rod holders.

Suddenly, both rods were bending with a couple more stripers. When all was said and done our group had landed six nice stripers all in the 30-to-40-pound range in only two hours. All of the stripers were bright silvery fish with numerous sea lice on them indicating they had been in the area a very short time, arriving from deeper cold waters. It was time to break out the fluking rods and head for our new fishing hole.

The seas were quite calm, and I started to wonder if the weatherman had his report of high winds all day was wrong. After fishing for a half hour numerous short fluke were caught and released. After an hour of fishing only a few were of legal size. Suddenly, everything changed, and the wind started to pick up. Fishing with eight-ounce weights to keep the bait on the bottom, had us soon using 10 ounces and then 12 ounces, trying to hold bottom. The wind kept increasing and it was time to head home. By the time we entered Salt Pond, the waves were smashing the breaker wall. We had left the area just in time avoiding a major bumpy ride to port.

Fishing live eels is a method that this writer enjoys for catching stripers

Using a light rod provides some great fishing excitement, and the bass often needs to be chased down to retrieve some of the line that had nearly emptied the spool, from the initial run of a big striper. Other methods include using chunk bait and drifting it away from the boat while anchored. Trolling tubes also works well imitating a live eel. It is often tipped off with a fresh live seaworm, or one of the plastic scented baits imitating a seaworm. With the high price of seaworms today the plastics work nearly as well. Jigging over a school of stripers, or surf fishing all provide great opportunities to catch a big striper. If you get the striper fishing fever, it is best to take the wife or girlfriend along, or she is going to home alone an awful lot.

Take A Kid Fishing & Keep Them Rods Bending!

Prevent tick-borne diseases while enjoying the outdoors

You've grabbed your water bottle, sunscreen and hat for a hike in the park or some gardening. Add a bit of tick protection to your must-have items when you head out the door for an adventure, to garden or play.

Continue enjoying the outdoors by enlisting a variety of strategies to limit your risk of exposure to ticks and the disease pathogens they transmit. Here are just a few of the ways to increase your safety and enjoyment.

Wear light colored clothing to more easily spot the tick before it moves onto your skin. Wear long pants and tuck them into your socks and tuck your shirt into your pants. Ticks often gain access through pant legs or shirttails and crawl up looking for a place to settle in and feed.

Consider spraying your clothing with an insecticide labeled for repelling and killing ticks. Spray your clothing and let it dry before wearing. Or invest in pre-treated clothing for gardening, hiking or other outdoor activities. Read and follow label directions carefully.

Always conduct a tick check on yourself, children and pets after spending time outdoors. Studies show that regular tick checks are the most effective way to prevent diseases transmitted by ticks. Ticks can feed anywhere but are often found in and around the ears and hair, inside the bellybutton, under the arms, around the waist, back of the knees and between the legs.

Check your clothing inside and out. Ticks can survive for several days in the house and even when washed in warm or hot water. An hour in the dryer on high heat will kill them.

Shower within two hours after spending time outdoors. The water can help dislodge any unattached ticks plus this provides a second opportunity to conduct a tick check. Studies found this practice greatly reduces the risk of tick-borne diseases.

Manage your landscape to reduce the tick population. Keep the grass mowed and remove brush, groundcovers, firewood piles and birdfeeders near the home or where the family frequents. Keep swing sets away from the woods and placed on woodchip mulch. Eliminate invasive barberry, honeysuckle and buckthorn that create a tick-friendly habitat.

Many of us are doing the opposite. We are eliminating lawns, increasing groundcover, planting more trees, shrubs and flowers to create more diverse wildlife-friendly habitats. There is limited evidence that increasing animal diversity may help reduce the rate of tick associated diseases. Unfortunately, the fragmented woodlands and ecosystems do favor deer and white-footed mice that are key to the maintenance and transmission of tick-borne diseases.

Consider creating a tick safe zone area where your family frequents and limit your time in tick infested areas. Widen pathways, prune trees to increase light, exclude deer and discourage rodents to reduce the risk of exposure.

And if additional control is needed to create a tick safe zone, consider using a pesticide like Summit Tick & Flea Spray that contains permethrin. You'll only need small amounts at the right time of the year for effective control. One application in spring or fall is usually sufficient for managing the ticks that can transmit Lyme disease. For the dog tick, also known as wood ticks, an application can be made anytime after the adults emerge. As always read and follow label directions.

Make these practices part of your routine so you and your family can continue to safely enjoy all your favorite outdoor activities.

Cooking Tips from Classic Chefs

Does the extent of your gourmet cooking talents consist of nuking a Lean Cuisine or skewering a scallop and bacon appetizer? If culinary cleverness has eluded you, why not borrow a few tried and true tips from top chefs? The following "tricks of the trade" from famous cooks are sure to stir up some excitement in the kitchen.

The queen of French cooking, Julia Child never failed to amaze. Whether she was literally tossing a chicken in a pan or stirring up a storm, Julia Child's unique techniques were fodder for both cooking schools and late night talk show hosts.

From Julia Child:
A good artichoke will talk to you. When it is fresh, it will squeak when lightly handled (but when over-squeaked, it will bruise).

Julia says while many recipes suggest cooking fish until it flakes. It should almost flake; if it actually flakes it's overdone, according to the cooking icon.

The French Chef also revealed how to peel a large number of garlic cloves efficiently: Drop them into a pan of boiling water and let boil for 30 seconds. Drain, drop them into cold water, then slip off the skins with your fingers.

And she also has a hot tip for cooking green beans ahead of time: The beans may be cooked several hours in advance, but to keep their freshly cooked taste, the cooking icon advises drying them thoroughly in clean towels, then refrigerating them in a covered bowl.

Who could forget the flamboyant style and humor of 1960s TV cook Graham Kerr, aptly named the Galloping Gourmet? Here are some top tips he passed along as he trotted on the screen each afternoon.

To refresh fish that's gotten sticky on the way home from the store, Kerr advises trying this ancient Scottish crofter's trick called "crimping": Add sea salt to cold water, about one tablespoon for two quarts. Drop in enough ice cubes to plummet the temperature to North Sea levels, slip your fish directly into the iced "sea water," and leave it there about 15 minutes. When you dry it off, give it a sniff. It should smell sea-sweet.

The Galloping Gourmet also advises: To effectively approximate the rich nutty flavor of clarified butter, add a touch of toasted sesame seed oil to another light-flavored oil.

Dubbed "the Father of American Cooking," the late James Beard taught many a budding cook the way around a kitchen via his dozens of classic cookbooks, popular TV show and his famous cooking school.

Here is a sampling of his advice:

TAKE THE HINT
KAREN TRAINOR

For richer chili and sauces, James Beard advises doing what the Mexican's do: Toss a grating of bitter chocolate into chili to give it body and mellow the flavors.

He also recommends putting a piece of bread in the bottom of the broiler pan to catch grease and discourage broiler fires.

Here are a few more tips from famous cooks:

The "Bam Man" Emeril Lagasse passes on this foolproof tip for cooking fresh asparagus: Stand the spears, points up, in a glass or Pyrex coffeepot, add water, cover, and use the pot as a steamer.

Bobby Flay claims less is more when it comes to grilling. He recommends simply brushing food with olive oil and sprinkling with a little salt and pepper. According to Flay, overdoing elaborate marinades and rubs can dominate the taste of food.

The Queen of Cuteness Rachael Ray, sweetens up tomato sauce without sugar. She says before you start the sauce, add half a minced onion to the garlic and let it soften and sweeten over medium low heat for about ten minutes. Then add your tomato products to build your sauce.

Wolfgang Puck advises adding a bit of lemon juice just before serving cream of mushroom soup to bring out its full flavor.

James Villas claims changing the water fresh asparagus is stored in every three to four days will keep it fresh for as long as two weeks.

the wisdom of "having all your package in one bottle."
That's a reference to the fact NEC plans to build one roughly 100-foot-tall, two million gallon LNG storage tank on the property, which sits on Route 169 south of Millennium Power and Incom and just east of Incom's solar array. He said he'd prefer its original design – ten 100,000-gallon tanks – or several much smaller tanks, noting that if smaller tanks leak, there's far less risk.

Southbridge Health Director Andy Pelletier added his department has been "having a miserable time finding out what they're doing." He said he's "not sure if this plant is dangerous" yet, but concerned about its size. Philbrook said he's looking into a similar plant in Hopkinton, noting he finds it "pretty scary to see something up there of that size."

NEC representative Matt Taylor said his firm has been reaching out to various town boards and praised Charlton for "trying to bring a cross-disciplinary team" to the process. But he claimed they didn't reach out to the BOH specifically because "there is actually no water used in the processing" (which has little to do with the BOH's authority; that's under the Water/Sewer Commission). He tried to assuage fears by saying Philadelphia has been home to a 48-million-gallon facility for many years, adding that "already 100 trucks a day go through Charlton on the Mass Pike to 20 National Grid storage tanks across Massachusetts."

"Just because nothing's happened to another tank in another area doesn't mean it won't happen here," Walker replied. "People make mistakes."

What drives success?

Whether it's a skyscraper with more than 50 floors playing host to a huge corporation or a tiny farm stand on the side of a rural back road, each business has a story of success. What defines success is, by most, put into monetary terms; however, self satisfaction and the ability to do good for others tops the list as well. Teamwork is the backbone of most success stories. We all work with others, even if we own and operate a one person business.

When you stroll into work, take a look around. You know who does what and how each person contributes to the overall success of whatever it is that your business is trying to achieve. Here are a few suggestions for optimizing your team's ability to reach their full potential.

If your co-workers know what the end goal looks like, and that goal is the same for everyone, communication becomes easier. When each person is aware of their individual role and responsibilities things also tend to run much more smoothly. When you give someone a purpose, they are innately more driven. Having a leader that sets the bar high but backs it with positivity is a must. Good judgement among all team players along with their leaders is also key.

Whether you are working in an insurance office, a restaurant or an amusement park and your co-workers are actively listening to one another and are aware of what's going on around them good things start to happen, and good things happening drives success. If you are the type of person that can deal with different personality types, you are more valuable than you think.

Staying knowledgeable about whatever it is you are doing is crucial. Keeping track of changes in your industry and following the trends will keep you on the path to success. Taking into consideration different scenarios that could take place in the future and preparing for them is always a smart move.

If you look at a large conundrum you may face at work, finding a solution is a challenge, and a challenge can be looked at like a game, albeit a very important one. Solving puzzles happens on a daily basis, some puzzles larger than others. When you and your team hit an 'a ha' moment success has occurred. A string of those moments leads us all to where we want to go.

Realizing that you, as well as your co-workers, are capable of making a mistake and moving forward is the healthiest outlook. We're all human, and making mistakes is how we learn and grow. It's really that simple. Allowing the space to make a mistake and to note that the world isn't coming to an end is a great outlook.

Something to strive for, or to recognize if this already exists in your work environment, is a team who communicates well together and remains focuses on goals and results. When each team member contributes equally, you know things are moving in the right direction. Offering co-workers support creates an environment where productivity will soar. Making sure you have a team comprised of different personalities and skill sets makes success easier to achieve based on the simple fact that the world is filled with different types of people. To be able to have a person on your team to step forward in any given situation is an asset. The most important thing when showing up to work, is to be able to spend your day working hard, but to remember to have some fun. Life is short, we spend a large amount of our days working and if we can't have fun in what we're doing than it's time wasted.

IEWS AND COMMENTARY FROM STURBRIDGE, BRIMFIELD, HOLLAND AND WALES

Chamber Corner

BY JACK STARKEY

Let's Talk about Hypnosis at June's Brown Bag Seminar

Another great benefit of Chamber Membership are free learning opportunities offered monthly in spring and fall. Our Members are local business-people and experts in their fields, and they share their knowledge on a wide variety of interesting topics at these lunchtime sessions which are held at the Chamber office in Sturbridge. The Brown Bag Seminar series not only gives our Members an opportunity to learn something new, for free, but also the chance for Member business owners to highlight their products and services by presenting these sessions.

On June 25 at noon, Deb Kizilcan of Deb K Hypnosis in Sturbridge will give a fascinating presentation on hypnosis for self-improvement. And no, she won't make you quack like a duck.

When most people think of hypnosis, they think of funny stage hypnosis or a scary movie where hypnosis was used to do crazy things. Come learn about modern hypnosis. Bring your questions to this fun, casual talk and find out why hypnosis is so successful for letting go of self-sabotaging habits and beliefs, habits that we may want to let go of and that may no longer serve us. These habits are done subconsciously, sometimes not even thinking about it in the moment, like over-eating, smoking, nail-biting, worrying or stressing. Learn a simple tool (self-hypnosis) to reduce stress in your life. Change your mind....change your life!

About the Presenter: Debra Kizilcan BA. is a Certified Consulting Hypnotist with over 20 years in the wellness field. She is trained and certified as a massage therapist, yoga teacher, mindful meditation teacher and hypnotist. Deb is a Member of National Guild of Hypnotists, holds Certification in Medical Hypnosis, Certification in EFT (Emotional Freedom Technique). She is the owner of Deb K Hypnosis located at 511 Main Street in Sturbridge. You can find her online at www.DebKHypnosis.com.

The seminar is free for CMS Chamber Members, $15 for non-Members. Space is limited! Please RSVP by calling 508-347-2761 or email info@cmschamber.org

Remembering Dad ...

Each of us have a recording playing in our minds. Our belief systems play over and over inside our heads as a personal verification of what we believe to be true. A few of us have made a conscious decision of what we believe, but most have developed their beliefs subconsciously based upon their life experiences. In one case, a person decides what is true for them and in the other, they allow their life to dictate what they believe.

As I have shared with you before, I was raised by a father who told me from my earliest memory that I had the power to make my dreams come true. He told me I was smart, handsome and talented and that I could achieve anything my imagination could create. My mother was a wonderful person but suffered from a severe and undiagnosed form of PTSD. Her beliefs were that tragedy, pain and failure were always right around the corner. As is true with many growing up in the 1960's my mom stayed home, and my dad worked a job as a bakery delivery man. As such, my sisters and I spent far more time in the home with my mother. Mom was loving and nurturing, but her life experiences told her that to protect her children she must temper their expectations by emphasizing the negatives of life. It was her attempt to protect us.

Fortunately, we gravitated to the positive reinforcement and encouraging messages from Dad. Our father had a booming laugh that was contagious. If he laughed everyone near laughed with him. When he spoke, everyone listened. He had a magnetic personality that attracted others. To us, he was larger than life. We wanted to be just like him, and I think in many ways, we are.

My dad dropped out of school in the eighth grade to help on his small family farm in Sesser, Illinois. I imagine for the Moore family that life was hard. John Moore was a full-time coal miner but also a full-time farmer. He mined the coal to pay the bills and farmed so their family of seven children could eat. They were raised in a seven hundred square foot, three room home on the corner of Matthew and Mulberry. The parents and the two youngest children slept in the only two beds while the other five children slept on cots, or on the floor.

Understanding the circumstances, it would be easy to wonder how Dad could have been raised to be such a positive force, but if you met my grandparents, you'd know why. John and Allie Moore radiated positivity and as such, they raised positive children even under the poorest of circumstances.

My mom painted one life picture for her children and my dad another. Mom's was of failure and tragedy while Dad's was of success and optimism. A friend who is a Psychologist shares that I am unusual. I consciously mad the decision to follow my father's positive life example. He says that in most cases, children would be heavily influenced by the negative messages. It is easier to believe the negative about ourselves and life. My sisters and I defied the negative and to this day it is the voice of Dad we hear in our heads and we are grateful.

Smart financial moves for every stage of life

Regardless of what stage of life you're in, you must make financial and investment decisions that will be with you for the remainder of your years. But the moves you make when you're just starting out in your career may be quite different from when you're retired. So, let's look at some of these moves, stretched out across your lifetime.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

In your 20s and 30s: During this period, you should strive to place yourself on a sound financial footing by taking steps such as reducing, and hopefully eliminating, your student loans and embarking on saving for retirement through investments such as a 401(k) and IRA. You also might buy a home, which offers some financial benefits, but be careful not to become "house poor" by devoting too much of your monthly income to mortgage payments. If you have young children, you might also want to start saving for college, possibly through a 529 plan, which offers tax benefits, high contribution limits and the ability to switch beneficiaries, as needed. And if you do have a family, you'll certainly need to maintain adequate life insurance.

Also, since you're at the early stages of your working life, you should chart a long-term financial and investment strategy with the help of a financial professional. Your strategy should encompass your important goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. And you'll want to revisit your strategy regularly to accommodate changes in your life and financial situation.

In your 40s and 50s: These are the years in which your career advances, leading to bigger salaries. The more you earn, the more you should be putting away in your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, along with your IRA. During the middle-to-end of this particular period, you might finish helping pay for your child's higher education - which should free up even more money to put away for retirement. You also may want to consider long-term care insurance, which can help protect you against the devastating costs of an extended stay in a nursing home.

In your 60s, 70s ... and beyond: Once you're in this age range, chances are pretty good that you'll either retire soon or are already retired. (Although, of course, you may well want to work part-time or do some consulting.) However, you certainly haven't "retired" the need to make financial and investment decisions, because you'll have plenty, including these: When should I take Social Security? Will my investment portfolio provide me with enough income to help keep me ahead of inflation? How much can I afford to withdraw each year from my retirement accounts without outliving my resources? Again, a financial professional can help you deal with these and other issues.

Also, if you haven't done so, now is the time to draw up your estate plans, so you can leave the type of legacy you desire - one that provides for the next generation (or two) and the charitable organizations you support. You'll need to work with a legal professional to create estate planning documents and arrangements appropriate for your needs.

You will spend a lifetime making financial and investment decisions - so put in the time and effort, and get the help you need, to make the best decisions you can.

Tantasqua Regional Youth Soccer Results — Pair of U12 girls' teams compete in Gaffney Cup

Savannah Prest and Camden Thompson mount a formidable defense against a Northbridge striker.

Tess Alexander is all business as she hustles the ball up-field versus Dudley.

Jordan Field is 100 percent focused on maintaining possession against Dudley.

Tantasqua Regional Youth Soccer had several teams competing in the Gaffney Cup at Ruel Fields in Oxford this past weekend. Two of those teams represented the U12 girls' league on Saturday, June 15, one coached by Paul Wengender with assistance from Matt Vejack, and the other coached by Rob Brodeur and assisted by Tim Doolin. All teams in the Gaffney Cup were playing the last two games of their season in a jamboree format.

Coach Wengender's team had their first contest against Dudley. Tess Alexander started in net and swapped duties with center striker Isabelle Alden at halftime. Rosie Wengender, Abbie Wotton and Kina Demears played the back line; Sophia Webb and Maddie Vejack played the midfield; and Jordan Field and Grace Solari flew up and down the wings. Without subs, these girls were on their own to muscle through both games under bright, warm skies. They did just that in superb fashion, beating Dudley, 6-1, before winning their second game against Shrewsbury.

Coach Brodeur's team won their first game, 5-3, against Holden before heading into their next contest against Northbridge. Maddie Gaumont donned the goalie gloves for the second game behind the defensive line of Riley Brodeur, Savannah Prest and Camden Thompson. Chloe Doolin chewed up whatever came at her in the midfield and returned the ball up to Bryce Vonhold, Ava Lavesque and Natalie Bruneau. Rachel Salisbury prowled the offensive third for Tantasqua. Savannah Sheerin was the lone sub and she contributed in the forward positions. Both teams scored one piece early in the first half before Northbridge looped in the one and only goal in the second half for the game winner. Bryce Vonhold almost made it a tie game in the waning minutes, but her shot skipped frustratingly off of, and then over, the crossbar.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Local 5K Race to benefit Bay State Equine Rescue set for July 7

Runners and walkers of all ages are invited to take part in the seventh annual Run Like the Dickens 5K race on Sunday, July 7 at Old Sturbridge Village. The race is the year's principal fundraising event for Bay State Equine Rescue, an all-volunteer non-profit organization that rescues and rehabilitates abused, neglected and abandoned horses.

The course of the race offers participants a unique experience of Old Sturbridge Village, as it winds through the Village's picturesque roads and trails. This is the only public race through the Village.

Prizes will be awarded to the overall first-place male and female finishers, as well as to first-place male and female finishers in six age-based divisions. Entry fee for Run Like the Dickens is $30 until July 1 and then $40 from July 2 until race day.

Participants can register online and find more information on the race and on the Rescue's work at www.BayStateRescue.org. Bay State Equine Rescue is funded entirely by private donations and is staffed exclusively by volunteers. All proceeds from the Run Like the Dickens 5K will be applied to food, vet and farrier care for the 10 horses currently recovering and living as the SBER's facility on New Braintree Road in Oakham. Sue Sheridan, founder of BSER, says, "We depend on the public to keep us going. It's a lot of work trying to keep up with the bills. The race is our biggest fundraiser of the year and is very important to keep our work with the horses going."

Jim and Cheryl Zanello purchased the 80-acre lot in Sandown, NH in 2000 after retiring. Four years later Zorvino Vineyards was established. The "Zor" in Zorvino comes from the original family name Zorzanello and "Vino" means wine. Family and Wine, the perfect pairing.

In the first years, 150 cold climate vines, mostly hybrids, were planted. To date, there are roughly 2,000 vines on site. The bulk of the grapes are brought in from Italy, California and South America. They are mostly known for their "off dry" fruit wines. blends and unusual 100% fruit or vegetable wines like Pumpkin, Beet and Rhubarb to name a few. New favorites include their red wines and white wines aged in American White Oak.

OBITUARIES

James Michael Blanchard, 49

STURBRIDGE-BALTIMORE- James Michael Blanchard, 49, a psychologist at the Mount Royal School in Baltimore City, passed away on May 29, 2019 after a courageous, nine-year battle with multiple myeloma.

James was born in Hartford, Connecticut, and grew up in Sturbridge, Massachusetts. Following graduation from Tantasqua Regional High School, he attended American University in Washington, D.C., where he earned his bachelor's degree in political science in 1991. After interning at the International City/County Management Association (ICMA), he worked for the Health Industry Manufacturers' Association (HIMA) (now AdvaMed) for nearly a decade.

James changed career course in 2000, when he pursued a degree in school psychology from George Mason University. After earning his Master's Degree in 2002 and a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Studies in School Psychology in 2003, he relocated to Baltimore and began a 16-year career in the Baltimore City School System. It was there that he discovered his true passion: helping shape the lives of the city's K-middle-school students. He was involved for many years in the Baltimore Teacher's Union (BTU) and American Federation of Teachers-Maryland (AFT). With BTU he served first as an Executive Board at-large member from 2006 until 2013 and then as Treasurer from 2013 until the time of his passing. For AFT-Maryland he served as At-Large Vice President from 2012 until 2018 and then K-12 Vice President from 2018 until the time of his passing. James enjoyed traveling and spending time with his family and close friends, including annual trips to Cape Cod and Assateague Island State Park in Maryland. He enjoyed attending flea markets and classic car shows and was an avid collector of vintage clocks. One of the trips he enjoyed most was his annual excursion to North Bay Environmental Center with students from Mount Royal.

James is survived by his parents, Charles and Mary (O'Connor) Blanchard (Sturbridge); brothers Brian (Flagstaff, Arizona) and Michael and his wife Kerry (Nurmi) (Sturbridge); a sister Kerry and her husband Damian Marotta (Brooklyn, New York); a niece and nephew, Emily and Liam Blanchard (both of Sturbridge); and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Receiving of Friends will be held in honor of James at Sansoucy Funeral Home, 40 Marcy Street, Southbridge, MA 01550 on Friday June 21, 2019 from 5-7PM. The funeral Mass for James will be held at 10AM on Saturday, June 22, 2019 at St. Anne/St. Patrick's Church, 16 Church Street, Fiskdale, MA 01518. Burial will follow at North Cemetery, Maple Street, Sturbridge, MA 01566. www.sansoucyfuneral.com In lieu of flowers please consider a donation to the International Myeloma Foundation or a charity of your choice.

"A CARING PLACE" MEMORY CAFÉ: A Memory Café is a place where people living with a cognitive related illness or injury such as; Parkinson's, Dementia, Alzheimer's, PTSD, autism and any other related illness or injury can go with their loved ones (often their caregivers), and spend quality time together away from the negativity and stigma that often accompanies this. A Memory Café is a safe, judge free and fun place for people to go where they can be themselves and enjoy the company of loved ones and never have to worry about what others are thinking. We will never ask for a diagnosis and anyone from any town or city and any age are welcome. We only ask that all guests have a caregiver with them and that the guest has a cognitive related illness or injury. Staff is not responsible for the personal care of any guest. We are accepting to any level of ability and always welcome new people. Our Memory Café is run on donations and sponsors. Light refreshments are often served. Our atmosphere is geared toward fun yet comfortable and always safe. Our Café often hosts singers, dancers and performers who will help bring back old memories and days gone by. MOORE

My father, Warren E. "Gene" Moore left us so suddenly that it is still hard to believe he isn't here. I had lunch with him on Friday May 13, 1983, and six hours later we received the news he was gone. A sudden heart attack took the man we believed to be invincible. I don't have many regrets in life, but I do regret the things I did not have a chance to say to him. Mostly, I regret not thanking him for the way he shaped us into positive and optimistic people.

I didn't realize at it at the time, but my book about his life in baseball and war, "Playing with the Enemy," was my attempt to thank him for his positive influence. In the book I tried to say the unsaid words in my heart and show my deepest respect to such a positive force.

This will be my thirty-seventh Father's Day without my father, but I miss him as though he left us only yesterday.

Thank you, Dad. I wish I would have thanked you for your positive influence on my life but when you died, I was only twenty-nine years old and didn't fully realize the incredible gift I received. I regret most of all that I didn't tell you, the last time I saw you, how much I loved you ... but I believe you now understand.

Happy Father's Day, Dad. I love you.

No Substitution

“If you want to know what’s going on in your town – whether the news is about the mayor or taxes or high school football – there is no substitute for a local newspaper. Wherever there is a pervasive sense of community, a paper that serves the special informational needs of that community will remain indispensable...”
