Locals discuss overdose training and suicide prevention

BY KAREN BUTERA
FOR THE VILLAGER

THOMPSON — In 2017 the United States Health and Human Service Department announced that the opioid overdose epidemic in America had become a public health emergency. The number of deaths continue to increase every year.

Naloxone - Narcan is a drug that can help to bring someone back from an overdose. The drug was approved by the FDA in 1971. On September 25 the Thompson Public School Department, TEEG and SERAC came together to provide directions for QPR-Suicide Prevention and administering the Narcan drug. The event for the evening discussed Substance Abuse and Narcan training along with the signs of suicide risks.

Vickie Meyer, North Region Program Coordinator with SERAC - Supporting and Engaging Resources for Detection and Change- was on hand to provide the class. SERAC was created in 1989 by

“We will be identifying opioid overdose and suicide prevention training- QPR, which stands for Question, Persuade and Refer which are three steps that can help to save a life from suicide,” said Meyer.

The first steps to the presentation was to identify an overdose. “An overdose causes a lack of oxygen so look for blue

State lawmakers oppose Killingly plant

KILLINGLY — State Senator Mae Flexer (D-Killingly) and State Representatives Pat Boyd (D-Brooklyn) and Raghib Allie-Brennan (D-Bethel) are leading a group of over two dozen legislators in calling on Governor Ned Lamont (D-Conn.) to oppose the construction of a gas-fired power plant in the town of Killingly.

Local lawmakers oppose Killingly plant.

“The Connecticut Siting Council’s decision to approve the construction of the Killingly Energy Center is disappointing and something I have long opposed,” said Flexer. “Killingly already makes a highly disproportionate contribution to the power generation needs of Connecticut and neighboring states. The future of Connecticut’s goal of reducing our carbon emission is at stake as is the health and wellness of Killingly and surrounding communities. Connecticut should be leading the way to combat climate change, not building more polluting infrastructure. I hope Governor Lamont will join us in opposing this fossil

DANIELSON — Quinebaug Valley Community College has a Veteran’s Garden dedicated to both the veterans in the community and also those attending the college. Bricks line the garden and are dedicated to veterans. Twice a year the Veteran’s Services Department raises money to add more bricks.

The idea for the current garden started years ago when now retired Director of Transition

Services, Pamela Brown of Woodstock came up with the idea.

“It began with a conversation about the Veteran’s Oasis,” said Brown. “The veterans who were students appreciated having their own space but did not feel that the college was military friendly because the Oasis was in the back of the school. At the time, you could not see it since there was a portable building in front of it. They said it would be

MEET THE CANDIDATE

Name: Jeffrey A. Gordon
Position sought: Planning & Zoning Commission
Town of: Woodstock
Background/ Qualifications:
I have served on the PZC the past twelve years and I have served as the Commission Chair the past eleven years. I have the first-hand experience, knowledge, and skill set to continue serving Woodstock. I know how zoning regulations work, how the land use permit process works, and how to make town government work for people. My track record of getting many things done and getting things done right is important.

What makes you the best candidate for this position? I believe in common sense, putting people over politics, and teamwork. I keep people informed, give people opportunities to be heard, and show people that I listen to them. I promote fairness. I make informed decisions. My track record as a Commissioner and as the PZC Chair demonstrates that a positive approach to public policy decision-making works. It is not just what we do that matters, but also how we do it that matters.

What differentiates you from your opponent(s)?
My experience, positive ways of doing things, and community involvement. I do the hard work of making decisions based upon facts, understanding a situation, and using common sense. I work with people and help them. These are the things that Woodstock needs. These are the things that I have been doing as a Planning & Zoning Commissioner and in my leadership role as the Commission Chair.

What is your vision for the future?
I want to keep a common sense balance between the continued growth of Woodstock and the preservation of the town's character. We must protect individual property rights while providing for our town's overall welfare. We must have meaningful zoning regulations that are not overly burdensome. We must promote good economic development for tax base diversity and jobs. I want to continue a reasonable and responsible approach to what we do in and for Woodstock.

Brooklyn man arrested for drugs

BROOKLYN —On Sept. 30 at approximately 6:41 p.m., members of the Connecticut State Police Troop D – Quality of Life Task Force spotted a vehicle in the area of I-395 near exit 87 in Plainfield and recognized the driver as Charlie Clavell, of 29 Tiffany Street, Brooklyn. QLTF Troopers recognized Clavell from previous police related contacts and knew that his Connecticut driver's license was suspended. Troopers stopped the car and placed Clavell under arrest for operating with a suspended license. While interviewing Clavell, Troopers observed several indicators of criminal activity and became suspicious that narcotics may be on his person. K9 Ambrie, a female black Labrador trained in narcotic detection, was used to sniff Clavell and gave a very strong alert to his waistband area. Clavell later admitted to having "crack cocaine" hidden in his pants. Numerous clear plastic knotted bags of

"crack cocaine" packaged for sale were seized by Troopers. Clavell was placed under arrest without incident and transported back to Troop D where he was processed and charged with Possession of Narcotics – 21a-279(a), Possession of Narcotics With Intent to Sell 21a-278b and Operating a Motor Vehicle while under Suspension 14-215. Clavell was released on a $10,000.00 bond and is to appear in Danielson Superior Court on Oct. 16. Members of the Connecticut State Police are committed to combating drug activity in the "Quiet Corner" and anyone

THOMPSON — Soldiers from North East Connecticut National Guard units, past and present, gathered Sunday, Sept. 22, at the West Thompson Dam for their annual reunion. Former soldiers from the 169th Infantry, the 101st, 242nd Combat Engineers and 250th Engineers shared stories, food and a lot of laughs. Many of the Guardsmen are combat veterans, having fought in Vietnam, Iraq, and Afghanistan. Event organizers were pleased with the turnout and expect to hold the event again next year. According to several of the participants, a special bond that lasts a lifetime is formed between soldiers when serving. That bond was evident this past Sunday.

WOODSTOCK — State Representative Pat Boyd (D – Pomfret) toured the Linemaster Campus in Woodstock along with Eric Gjede, Vice-President of the Connecticut Business and Industry Association. Prior to the tour of the 93-acre facility, Rep. Boyd discussed the current business operation and associated challenges, including the regulatory environment, with Linemaster’s CEO Joseph

J. Carlone Sr. and President Joseph J. Carlone Jr. “Having an open dialogue with local businesses is important for me to do my job well in Hartford. Linemaster is a successful company that employs over 200 people in Northeastern Connecticut,” said Boyd. “Businesses like Linemaster are the backbone of our state’s economy and we must explore opportunities to further promote their growth.” Since 1952, Linemaster has continued to manufacture industrial and medical foot controls by developing and implementing new technologies. Today, the company produces approximately 85 percent of foot switches in the global market, and about 50 percent of their business is related to medical device manufacturing.

Annhurst College reunion

WOODSTOCK — On Saturday, September 21, 2019, over one hundred Annhurst College Alumni attended their annual reunion at the former Annhurst College Student Center, now owned by Woodstock Academy. Attending the reunion were graduates from 1947 (94 year old Edna Cassolini) to 1980, when the college closed. Also there were several Daughters of the Holy Spirit Sisters who once worked at Annhurst in various capacities as well as Theresa O’Neil, former Director of Teacher Training. Mary LaChance, coordinator of the event and 1979 graduate, was pleased and excited by the large turnout of alumni who traveled from as far away as Texas. Besides laughter and unlimited conversation, the alumni also enjoyed purchasing Annhurst merchandise and memorabilia. Before heading downstairs to the dining hall, a basket raffle with more than 20 baskets was held. After the buffet several Annhurst Alumni took advantage of tours of the campus given by Woodstock Academy students. Although the campus has seen many changes since 1980, all who took the tour were grateful that most changes are in keeping with the original Annhurst College campus, including a building that was renamed Annhurst Hall. Saturday, September 21, was a beautiful autumn day made more beautiful by the combined efforts of the Annhurst College Alumni Association and Woodstock Academy. Undoubtedly, all in attendance will cherish the memories shared on such a remarkable day. The Annhurst reunion takes place on the third Saturday of September each year. Next year the reunion will fall on September 15, 2020, and will be held again at the Woodstock Academy campus. For more information involving the Annhurst College Alumni Association, please contact Mary LaChance at annhurstalumni@gmail.com.

POMFRET — The eight area high schools that traditionally draw students from Pomfret visited Pomfret Community School on Sept. 26 during grades seven and eight open house for our Second Annual High School Fair. All the families were invited to attend the Fair to find out more about the schools, learn about admission and application processes, and ask questions of representatives from each of the schools. The schools that were hosted included: Woodstock Academy, Ellis Tech, Killingly Vocational-Agricultural Center (Vo-Ag), Arts at the Capitol Theater (ACT), Quinebaug Middle College (QMC), Pomfret School, Marianapolis Preparatory School, and Putnam Science Academy (PSA).

As a reminder, Woodstock Academy, Killingly High School and Putnam High School are the designated high schools for all Pomfret students. Should your family be exploring other high school options, all of the other schools require an application process, tests may be required and visits might need to be planned. If you were not able to attend the High School Fair and still want more information, keep an eye out in the local media for Open House events throughout the Fall

A trip to Sicily

Travel is a way of seeing things in a new light. As we dragged our suitcases, to the basement and stopped feeling exhausted mid-day, I took a deep breath to inhale the smell of fall in my own backyard. After three weeks away, touring Sicily and briefly visiting Greece, I am home. The anticipation of traveling absorbs a large part of my brain until it's over. Then I can reflect on what I learned.

Why a trip to Sicily? Isn't it dangerous, gritty, hot and dry? Dominated by the Mafia? Well, yes and no. It is as multilayered as Pasta a la Norma, their signature dish and far more exotic. Palermo, where the tour started, is a port city with its share of dingy buildings. One night we walked into a park to hear a Portuguese guitar player. Next morning, we visited a puppet museum that preserves historic stories using marionettes. Music and art are potent languages.

Sicily has been invaded regularly since the dawn of time. From the Phoenicians to the heavy bombing in World War II, the island has endured seven conquests, one after another. For the Sicilian people the effect is to adapt and live with little. Now, when times are good, despite a 50% unemployment rate, they cook and eat with gusto and treat driving as a blood sport.

One morning we met with two men from Corleone, once the home base of the Sicilian Mafia or Cosa Nostra. Our tour group, Overseas Adventure Travel, has been criticized for working with Angelo Provenzano, son of Bernardo Provenzano, who led the mob for decades. Angelo was brought up in hiding with his family. He never went to school and now discusses his life as a fugitive. The men discussed the historic decisions that led to the rise of the mafia and its eventual fall in the 1990's. It was a mix of the drama of The Godfather, and a poignant look at family dynamics, crime and the impact of oppression.

We met a captain of a fishing boat, who while casting his nets in the sea between Sicily and Africa, snagged and salvaged an ancient statue, the Dancing Satyr. It is on display in a lovely museum, which has brought the small town of Mazara del Vallo tourism and prosperity. Captain Ciccio is now a retired grandfather with a book about his experiences. He and his crew protected the statue as part of their collective heritage rather than selling it on the black market. His actions made him a hero and a happy man.

There were visits to beautiful churches, climbing on Mt. Etna, which still emits smoke and deep rumbling sounds, lunch an orphanage that shelters Nigerian girls, and delicious food, often vegetarian, covered in local soft cheeses.

Opera composer, Bellini, came from Sicily. Much of their history and culture feels like the libretto for an opera. Life is infused with passion, jealousy, joy and sorrow. Sicilians accept immigrants without judgement, because they know what it feels like to suffer. They don't talk while eating out of respect for the food. They know the stories of countless Catholic saints and often make the sign of the cross, but few attend church services.

Sicily is a bubbling cauldron of history, geography, immigration and emigration, volcanos, earthquakes, treachery and integrity. At the Museum of the Landing in Catania, photos of American soldier entering the city as liberators showed people filled with hope. Sicilians seem to welcome each day with a shrug of recognition for what is wrong and a hearty sense of how to enjoy whatever happens next.

Opinion and commentary from the Quiet Corner

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Why no mosquito tests?

I am writing in regards to the inequitable distribution of mosquito testing sites. According to the map provided by portal.ct.gov/caes, towns in the Quiet Corner do not have any mosquito test sites. This includes: Woodstock, Union, Pomfret, Putnam,Thompson, Chaplin, Eastford, Ashford, Brooklyn, Killingly. However, the towns of Greenwich, Darien, Milford, New Canaan, Stamford, Stratford, Wilton all have 2-3 mosquito testing sites per each town. These very wealthy towns represent a smaller geographical coverage than ours. I talked to the official with the CT mosquito trapping and testing program and was told sites are based on historical outbreaks. If there are no testing sites in our Quiet Corner, there is no data available to support or not support an outbreak. In addition, there are no testing sites in another large geographical area, the Northwestern part of our state including towns of: Canton, Avon, Simsbury, Torrington, Burlington, Granby,

On politics

Mr. Etzel's article (Sept. 27 Villager), "Bring Back Basic American Values", apparently he feels President Trump has destroyed, was my best laugh for the week. He continues with "Honesty, Morality and so on, all supposedly the Democrats represent and all the hypes that go with this, including the Joe Biden and the Ukraine. President Trump didn't hold the Ukrainians hostage, Joe Biden did and he bragged about it. President Trump didn't demand that the Ukrainian prosecutor be fired an gave them 6 hours to do so, Joe Biden did all to get his son Hunter, who received a dishonorable discharge from the Navy, and getting him to earn over $50,000 a month with no experience from the Ukraine government. So, because President Trump asked, not demanded as Joe did, the Ukraine government to investigate, that didn't sit well with the Democrats.

How about Joe Biden sending a letter to every major TV news network telling them to keep Rudy Guilani off the airwaves. If you're a presidential candidate calling for a specific individual to be kept off the news you're admitting you've lost control of the narrative, so is this OK? Since President Trump was elected in January 1, 2017, that same day the Democrats have called for his impeachment and it's on going for 1006 days. The Democrats have tried to impeach 5 of 6 Presidents since Dwight D. Eisenhower so there is where the problem exists.....the Democrats, like a continuous childish temper tantrum. Mr. Etzel speaks about "bribery" but fails to mention Joe Biden as a perfect definition of the word. How about another word, "accusations" he uses? Isn't it strange that before Mr. Trump became

Blight and junk

With community day fast approaching and elections just around the corner I wonder how many taxpayers have driven through out Thompson and are annoyed by the blight and junk visible all over the town or in your neighborhood? Which Town officials or those running for office are serious about a blight ordinance?

Although rejected a few years ago, I believe there is enough interest in revisiting this proposal.

A few months ago resident Alan Rivers complained about the concern he had with a decrease in his property value due to this exact issue. Well look around folks it is right in your neighborhood as well as mine.

Many of my neighbors have expressed concern over our area and now it is time to do something about it.

The P&Z needs to have more support in writing a fair assessment of what constitutes Blight and Junk.

Although we have an enforcement officer I am certain little can be done because it is not written in the books, yet.

Those who would oppose such action are the violators or offenders. It may be time to call out the properties and owners so people can see for themselves.

Ryan is for Farrow

I would like to offer my endorsement to Doug Farrow for membership on The Killingly Board of Education. He brings excellent credentials to the position and a wealth of experience to the position. Doug has been a professional teacher for over 25 years with an emphasis on special education. He willingly volunteers his time to student athletics and numerous other extracurricular activities. As the parent of a special needs child myself I know firsthand that Doug cares not only about the students in the Killingly school district, but also the parents. He is very accessible and always willing to dis-

New Hartford, Goshen, Bloomfield. Also, towns along the CT river next to those that tested positive for the EEE virus have no testing sites such as: Deep River, Essex, Old Saybrook. In fact, one of the two recent deaths due to the EEE virus, was a person from East Lyme, a town with no test site. Wouldn't that constitute an outbreak for a test site?

If budget is a concern, leaving one test area in each of the towns that have 2-3 sites will allow for re-distribution of testing sites to those areas like ours which have no testing sites. We should be able to have peace of mind that our area is being tested, especially with the outbreak of the EEE virus. If you find it alarming that we do not have any test sites in such a large geographical area, write or e-mail your state congressman and state senator.

President, everyone was his friend? Does Mr. Etzel talk about "Morality" and "Ethics" and the Clintons', the most corrupt people in the history of politics. "Ethics" and moral principles doesn't exist in the Democratic party and all I will mention "murder", allowing babies to be killed up to and including birth which the Democrats defend. The "values that need to re-establish in our political system " is totally impossible for the Democratic Party, there is a better chance of hell freezing over. Than we have House Intelligence Committee Chairman Adam Schiff (D-CA) for performing a fabricated conversation between President Donald Trump and Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky. Democrat Adam Schiff passes it off "as it was a parody". He must think we are fools, but the Democrats believe it and did the medial call him out on it? The Democrats in Washington are America's biggest problem today. They have ruined our country, just look at Chicago, Baltimore, Detroit and even our own Connecticut which is at the bottom of every category and now ridiculous taxes and no wonder why people are moving out of our State. Connecticut ranks 7th in residents moving out of state and that we can attribute to the Democratic leadership we had and have. So. Mr. Etzel and the Democrats, you lost the 2016 election, GET OVER IT and do something, anything for your community and especially AMERICA instead of constantly complaining and don't talk to us about values, honesty, loyalty, and all the other bull you profess.

TOM PANDOLFI

Drive around Alim Road, Center St (off Babula Road), Porter Plain Road, or even Grosvenordale section of Thompson and see the beauty of this town. These are people do not care about anyone or their neighbors at all.

If you have 4 or more vehicles on your property they should be registered or apply for a junk permit.

If you have a summer shack and because of the safety conditions the power company won't turn on your power, forcing you to live in tents, it may be time to tear it down and clean up the property.

If you have old campers around your mobile home with your living room furniture on the lawn you too need some help getting the property cleaned up.

These are clearly examples of inconsideration for others, posing a health issue, and just a lack of common sense.

In the very near future you will have an opportunity to be heard regarding blight and junk and I hope you too feel the same as many of us and will speak up.

cuss ideas as well as keeping residents up to date on pending issues. Recently the town of Killingly was embroiled in a debate to eliminate the long standing name for the Killingly sports teams,"Redmen". Doug tried his best to fight the elimination of this long standing traditional reference. If you are looking for a candidate with traditional values, who's opinions don't change along with the latest trends, then please consider voting for Doug Farrow for Killingly Board of Education.

Financial life goals and investment strategies

FINANCIAL FOCUS

JIM ZAHANSKY
INVESTMENT ADVISER

This month, we are going to be discussing the basics of financial planning so that you can be prepared to Plan Well. Invest Well. and Live Well.TM Now imagine this: go out into your yard and dig a big hole. Every month throw $50 into it, but don't take any money out until you're ready to buy a house, send your child to college, or retire. It sounds a little crazy, doesn't it? But that's what investing without setting clear-cut goals and developing a unique strategy is like. If you're lucky, you may end up with enough money to meet your needs, but you have no way to know for sure.

How do you set financial life goals? Setting investment goals means defining your dreams for the future. When you're setting goals, it's best to be as specific as possible. For instance, you know you want to retire, but when? You know you want to send your child to college, but to a distant university or a local college? Writing down and prioritizing your investment goals is an important first step toward developing a strategic investment plan. Meeting your financial goals is one part of the process but using those achievements to continue to live well is what the unique and strategic process is all about. At Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors, we know the important of meeting your goals is more than attaining a certain amount of money, it's enjoying the life you've created.

What is your time horizon? Your investment time horizon is the number of years you have to invest toward a specific goal. Each investment goal you set will have a different time horizon. For example, some of your investment goals will be long term (e.g., you have more than 5 years to plan), some will be short term (e.g., you have 5 years or less to plan), and some will be intermediate. Establishing time horizons can help you determine how aggressively you may need to invest to accumulate the amount needed to meet your goals.

How much will you need to invest? Although you can invest a lump sum of cash, regular, systematic investing is another way to build wealth over time.

Start by determining how much you'll need to set aside monthly or annually to meet each goal. Although you'll want to invest as much as possible, choose a realistic amount that takes into account your other financial obligations, so that you can easily stick with your plan. But always be on the lookout for opportunities to increase the amount you're investing; participating in an automatic investment program that boosts your contribution by a certain percentage each year, or by dedicating a portion of every raise, bonus, cash gift, or tax refund you receive to your investment objectives are all common strategies.

Which investments should you choose? Regardless of your financial goals, you'll need to decide how to best align your investment dollars in the manner that is right for you. One important consideration is your tolerance for risk. All investments involve some risk, but some involve more than others. How well can you handle market ups and downs? Are you willing to accept a higher degree of risk in exchange for the opportunity to earn a higher rate of return?

Whether you're investing for retirement, college, or another financial goal, your overall objective is to max-

This weekend and next are packed with Walktober events. I mentioned a few last week and will continue with local ones in this week’s column. It’s so nice that there are walks for all ability levels and even walks that permit dogs.

Bring your dog along on this Killingly walk. I mentioned it last week, but the Walktober calendar did not include directions. I’ve included them. Trees are beginning to change so you might even see some gorgeous fall foliage. Sunday, October 6. 1-3:30 p.m. What’s a Quandoc? 246 Brickhouse Rd. Killingly, CT. Killingly Planning Office. 860-779-5311. Explore Quandoc Conservation Area with Killingly Conservation Commission leaders. Walk the 1.5 mile trail through a variety of tree species and learn about recreated wetlands. 125 acres is preserved for passive recreation environmental education wildlife habitat and ecosystem protection. Sponsored by the Killingly Conservation Commission. Killinglyconservation.org #95. Directions: From Danielson area drive east on Route 6 for about 3 miles. Go left on Bailey Hill Road for .8 miles. Turn right on Brickhouse Rd. for 1.2 miles to walk parking area. 246 Brickhouse Road, Killingly. (Follow Recycling & Transfer Center and Walktober signs). Phone 860-774-5310.

Saturday, October 12. 11-12 Noon. The History of Thompson Congregational, United Church of Christ. 347 Thompson Road, Thompson. Walk around Thompson common and learn sites of the earlier churches. Sponsored by the Church. 860-706-254-4026. Find them on Facebook. #116.

Did you know that the earliest

Thompson Congregational Church was part of Killingly? From its incorporation in 1708 until 1785, Killingly extended from Plainfield to the Massachusetts border. During that time frame several church societies were established to meet the needs of the expanding town. In truth, the far northern portion of town was settled more quickly than the southern.

Nineteenth century Windham County historian Ellen D. Larned, a resident of Thompson, devoted an entire chapter in volume I of her History of Windham County, Connecticut to the establishment of this society, the construction of the first meetinghouse, and the settling of an “orthodox” minister. Keep in mind that at that stage in Connecticut’s history, the establishment of a church society needed the approval of the General Assembly.

The Assembly had denied a petition for a separate town for these northern residents in 1727. “The inhabitants of this tract were now becoming very urgent for greater privileges, and as Killingly had assumed its jurisdiction they applied to her for relief, and Jan. 30, 1728, received liberty from that town to embody as a distinct society or precinct.” (I, p. 305). A petition to the General Assembly about the establishment of this new society was approved in May, 1728, and its first public meeting was held on July 9 of that year. It took a year to prepare the wood and erect the structure but “on August 1, 1729 the society met for the first time in their meeting-house.” “The site is near the centre of the present Thompson common.” It was near Hezekiah Sabin’s house “near where was an old wigwam.” (I, pp. 306-307). Join the walk to see where this earliest Thompson meetinghouse was located and learn about others.

Note to those doing family history. The early Thompson Church society line, and the 1785 southern boundary of the town, were a little south of the present Thompson town line. A marker at the intersection of Pitkin Road, Tourtellotte Road, and Upper Walnut Street in Putnam marks the old boundary. Thompson Church had good baptism and marriage records. Keep in mind that until 1785 vitals (births) were recorded in Killingly. The same goes for land records if you are trying to try to place family farms and members.

Sunday, October 13. 1-2 p.m. 1866 “New” Trinity Church, Brooklyn, CT. 7 Providence Rd. (Route 6), Brooklyn. Built in Gothic style, walk outside and then inside. See the beautiful Tiffany stained glass windows. Sponsored by the church and Rev. Jane Hale in conjunction with the Unitarian Universalist walk. 860-773-9352. #131.

Sunday, October 13. 3-4:30 p.m. Social Ferment and the Old Meetinghouse. Unitarian Universalist Society. 7 Hartford Rd. (Route 6), Brooklyn, CT. Visit the restored 1771 Meetinghouse and hear about its history and controversial beginning. Walk leader Dennis Landis sent me the following in an email: “As we walk the Green and other nearby structures, we will talk about the May and Alcott meeting, the home of Rev. Whitney, the now vanished home of Ephraim Avery, which later became Israel Putnam’s famous tavern. We will speak of George Benson’s Friendship Valley, Samuel May’s onetime homes, Prudence Crandall’s trials in the former Windham County courthouse, and we will stand on the foundations of the lost neoclassical Congregational church. Finally, we will speak of the equestrian statue of General Israel Putnam, by which the state of Connecticut honored its greatest historic hero, just months before the centennial of his death” (email 9-30). Learn about religious crises and impassioned social movements (1815-1875) that emanated from the village center and nearby. Subjects include Israel Putnam, Josiah Whitney, Samuel J. May, Bronson Alcott, and Celia Burleigh. Sponsored by the Unitarian Universalist Society. 860-779-2623. #137.

I recently attended a LiR presentation by on the 100th Anniversary of Women’s Right to Vote (the passage of the 19th Amendment) by Denise Merrill, Connecticut’s Secretary of State and Joan DiMartino, Curator of the Prudence Crandall Museum. The presentation included a few of the Connecticut activists who were instrumental in women gaining the right to vote. They asked us to think about other women we knew about who aided the cause. Celia Burleigh definitely should be included on the list. Not only was she was the first female to be ordained a Unitarian Universalist minister (1871), in addition she spoke about many social issues including voting rights for women. To see what is happening for the 100th anniversary in 2020, visit the website www.votesforwoment.com. There is a schedule of events in addition to resource materials for teachers.

Monday, October 14. 8:30-10 a.m.; repeats 11:30-1 p.m. Where the Bison Roam. Creamery Brook Bison, 19 Purvis Rd., Brooklyn, CT. Take a walk to see the bison and their handling facilities. Remember to wear walking shoes that can get dirty. Visit the farm store. Lunch will be available for purchase at 11:30 a.m. Sponsored by Creamery Brook Bison. 860-779-0837. #139.

The Genealogy Club at the Killingly Public Library will meet Saturday, October 12 from 10-11 a.m. All are welcome. New attendees are always welcome. You do not have to be a resident of Killingly to attend. Have you hit a roadblock? Come and see if someone can help.

If it were easy, would everyone really be doing it?

I find it fascinating how the most successful people I know are rarely the most talented. It doesn’t matter ... whether it’s business, inter-personal relationships, the arts, sports ... the people who achieve the greatest heights all share a single quality that propels them above others. It’s not talent, intelligence or luck. It’s not knowing the right people or being in the right place at the right time. What is it that the successful have that others do not?

Persistence. Successful people simply do not quit. They don’t give up. I’ve told the story before, but it’s appropriate to do so again.

I’m the author of three successful books. To begin writing a book isn’t hard, but completing the task is monumental. There are thousands of people out there that have a book in their head and heart. They began writing with passion but at some point, early in the writing process, they stop. Starting

MOORE

and completing a book project of eighty thousand words or so is a monumental task that few ever complete. Why do they stop? They do not have the persistence to finish. Now let’s look at the very few who do finish. Writing the book, as difficult as it is, is easier than getting published. My first book, “Playing with the Enemy,” was rejected seventy-four times by publishers. It was the seventy-fifth that took a chance on an inexperienced and unknown author and “Playing with the Enemy” became a surprise hit. A surprise to everyone but me. I knew if I could get it published, the book would resonate with audiences. That belief is what drove me to not quit.

What would happen if you didn’t quit?

How many talented baseball players left their dreams of major league stardom behind because they gave up too soon? How many artists or musicians stopped short of the coming success they could have enjoyed? How many marriages end in divorce because one or both parties in the relationship just decide to give up? In each case, they didn’t have the persistence to see it through to a successful end.

Is persistence the only quality needed to succeed?

Of course not, but it is the most important. Who really thinks Johnny Cash or Bob Dylan had a great singing voice? They had talent to be sure but I’m certain I can find someone within five miles of my home with a better voice.

So, if persistence is most important, where and how do I get it?

Persistence is driven by your belief system. If you believe you have talent or ability, that belief drives your success. If you don’t believe, sell yourself! Face it, if you think you don’t have a chance, why would you try?

It’s rarely the most talented that achieve the pinnacle of success. Of course, talent matters, but ability is something that can be achieved through dogged determination. Sticking with your dream and driving to greater heights through practice, study and a passionate drive that always ask the question: If others can reach the top and achieve their dreams, why not me?

My dad had a simple statement that is applicable. If I were to ask him why most people don’t succeed, he’d respond, “It’s easier not to ...” Apply that as the answer to almost any question.

Why aren’t you disciplined? It’s easier not to be.

Why weren’t you on time? It’s easier not to be.

Why didn’t you stay and work on your marriage? It’s easier not to work on it.

Why won’t you quit smoking? It’s easier not to quit.

Why aren’t you a good student? It’s easier not to get good grades.

Why didn’t you get that promotion? It’s easier not to get it.

Why are you not financially successful? It’s easier not to be.

Why didn’t you finish that book you were writing? It’s easier not to finish.

Apply that answer to almost any question of success or achievement and it is almost always true. It is easier not to succeed. Success takes persistent hard work. It takes the attitude that screams that you will not be denied the success you desire. It requires that dogged persistence that says, yes, it’s easier to quit, but you are willing to stick to the task at hand and pay the price for success. As the old adage proclaims, “If it were easy, everyone would be doing it!”

The truth is, if you dig in and not quit, you will find the only resistance is you. If you chisel away the resistance, you will find a clearer path to your success.

Take the road less traveled. The vast majority will always say, “It’s easier not to.” In a world dominated by those unwilling to pay the price, success is there for the taking for those who do.

It’s never too late. Why not you?

imize returns without taking on more risk than you can bear. But no matter what level of risk you’re comfortable with, make sure to choose investments that are consistent with your goals and time horizon. A financial professional can help you construct a diversified investment portfolio that takes these factors into account. At Weiss, Hale & Zahansky Strategic Wealth Advisors, our advisors are dedicated to creating an investment plan that you are comfortable with and is tailored specifically to help you meet your goals.

Investing for retirement: For some people, retirement may seem like it’s a long way off, but it’s never too early to start planning, especially if you want to Live Well.TM in retirement.

For example, let’s say that your goal is to retire at age 65. At age 20 you begin contributing $3,000 per year to your tax-deferred retirement account. If your investment earns 6% per year, compounded annually, you’ll have approximately $679,000 in your investment account when you retire.

But what would happen if you left things to chance instead? Let’s say that you’re not really worried about retirement, so you wait until you’re 45 to begin investing. Assuming you contributed the same amount to your retirement account and the rate of return on your investment dollars was the same, you would end up with approximately

Making the most of your retirement is about creating a portfolio that will support your goals for retirement. Maybe you want to buy a second home, travel, take up a hobby, or spend more quality time with your friends and family. Our unique and strategic Plan Well. Invest Well. Live Well.TM process takes every aspect of your financial life goals into consideration, so you can make the most out of retirement.

Investing for college: Perhaps you faced the truth the day your child was born. Or maybe it hit you when your child started first grade: you have only so much time to save for college. In fact, for many people, saving for college is an intermediate-term goal — if you start saving when your child is in elementary school, you’ll have 10 to 15 years to build your college fund.

Of course, the earlier you start, the better. The more time you have before you need the money, the greater chance you have to build a substantial college fund due to compounding. With a longer investment time frame and a tolerance for some risk, you might also be willing to put some of your money into investments that offer the potential for growth.

Investing for a major purchase

At some point, you’ll probably want to buy a home, a car, or even that vacation home you’ve always wanted. Although they’re hardly impulse items, large purchases are usually not something for which you plan far in advance; one to five years is a common time frame.

Because you don’t have much time to invest, you’ll have to budget your investment dollars wisely. Rather than choosing growth investments, you may want to put your money into less volatile, highly liquid investments that have some potential for growth, but that offer you quick and easy access to your money should you need it.

Assess, revise, Plan Well. Over time, you may need to update your unique investment strategy. Get in the habit of reviewing your plan with your financial advisor at least once a year to make sure it still aligns with your goals — more frequently if the market is particularly volatile or when there have been significant changes in your life. You may need to rebalance your portfolio to bring it back in line with your financial life goals and risk tolerance. A financial advisor from Weiss, Hale & Zahansky can help you decipher the progress toward meeting your goals and any other questions regarding your portfolio. Make sure to check back next week as we continue to discuss financial planning! Desrochers supports Langlois

With the elections in Thompson coming up on November 5th, I would like to endorse Charlene Langlois for the Board of Selectman. With Charlene’s business experience, her energy and her dedication, I feel she will make the best candidate for this position. I have known Charlene for 30+ years and the commitment she has to achieving her goals is part of who she is. She is one of the hardest working individuals I know. I know this because I’ve worked along side her over the years on many projects. She is a doer and finisher. Her desire to see the town of Thompson grow is infectious and I feel together with Thompson’s current First Selectman, Ken Beausoleil, the two of them will make the best team for Thompson. Together they will keep Thompson moving forward. Please join me and vote for Charlene Langlois and Ken Beausoleil on November 5th.

4-H Camp gets spruced up

POMFRET — Paper Birch cabin by the lake in the boy's area at the Windham-Tolland 4-H Camp was built 65 years ago. Re-stained numerous times, in the 1990's, it received a new "top coat" of siding on top of the original. Although it looked better for a while, it was the next cabin chosen to be renewed with completely new siding, shutters, screens, vents and stairs by the Camp Director. This cabin renewal initiative was undertaken in 2018 with funds raised specifically for each cabin by the Windham County 4-H Foundation. To date four cabins have been completed, stripping them down to the support beams. Earlier this year, SPIROL responded to the Foundation's fundraising request by pledging $36,000 over three years to renew one cabin a year, starting this fall.

When Paper Birch's outside shell was uncovered by builder Christian Fongemie , it was discovered that carpenter ants had enjoyed a cozy little hiding place between the two layers of siding, so some structural repairs needed to be completed before the residing work could begin. Jeff Koehl, Chairman, SPIROL International, stopped by to join Heather Logee, Camp Director, 3 year old "camper in training" Emmett Knowlton, builder Christian Fongemie, and long time camper "RJ" Smith, to remove the last pieces of old siding on the cabin. Koehl is planning to return with a team from SPIROL to stain the cabin when the residing is complete. In the next two years, adjoining cabins Linden and White Pine will be renewed by pledges from SPIROL.

The Windham County 4-H Foundation and the many summer campers who will be sleeping in these cabins over the next 65 years are extremely grateful for this generous support.

Free guided mountain bike rides

PUTNAM — The Quiet Corner Chapter of the New England Mountain Bike Association (NEMBA) is holding FREE guided mountain bike rides at Goodwin State Forest as part of The Last Green Valley's Walktober series. There will be rides offered for both kids and adults at all levels of riding ability. Families and beginners are welcome. These events will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19, at 9 a.m. (weather permitting). Registration starts at 8:45 a.m. at 23 Potter Road in Hampton. Mountain bike and helmet are required for all riders.

The adults will be split into groups according to distance, pace and ability in order to cater to various experience levels. Trails range from the flat, gravel Airline Rail Trail to beginner level single track and cart roads to challenging technical terrain. This is a great opportunity to try new trails with experienced leaders or see if mountain biking is a good fit for you.

The children's ride will introduce kids to mountain biking and is recommended for age 8-plus (participation at parents' discretion). Kids must be comfortable riding their bikes and helmets are required for all riders. Children will be placed into groups according to experience. Ride leaders will guide each group on skill-level-appropriate terrain and trails. Parents must be present (on site) during this event. They can ride with the kids, join the adult group, or enjoy Goodwin's many trails on foot while they wait.

For more information, see www.facebook.com/QuietCornerNEMBA/ or email QuietCornerNEMBA@gmail.com. Visit www.TheLastGreenValley.org to download the full Walktober Brochure. NEMBA is a recreational trails advocacy organization for mountain bikers with 27 chapters throughout New England and over 6,000 members. Its mission is to promote the best that mountain biking has to offer, steward the trail systems where we recreate and preserve open space. For more information about the Quiet Corner Chapter, visit www.nemba.org/chapters/qcnemba.

- bluish lips and fingernails. If you think someone is overdosing, call 911 and administer Narcan if you have it. If you don't, you can administer CPR or at least chest compressions. Sometimes it can take up to ten doses of Narcan to bring someone out of it," said Meyer. Some of the other symptoms to look for are pinpoint pupils, breathing problems breathing, sleepiness, floppy arms or legs and snoring or gurgling. "If you administer Narcan and someone is not having an overdose reaction, nothing bad will happen." You can also rub above their upper lip to try to cause them pain or rub up and down their sternum with your knuckles to help arouse them if possible.

From there Meyer moved onto the QPR portion of the program- the suicide risk portion.

"Most people give signs before suicide," said Meyer. "If someone says things like I've decided to kill myself, or I wish I were dead, or I'm going to commit suicide, then have a conversation with them." Other things to look for is if someone gives away their prized possessions. Some will purchase a gun or collect pills, while others may put their affairs in order. For some, once they decide they are going to commit suicide they get a sense of peace." Meyer encourages that you take the clues seriously and to use your gut.

Melinda Smith, Superintendent of Thompson Public Schools said, "As Superintendent of Thompson Public School, I realize that it is essential to reach out to the community organizations for resources to support our students and their families. Working with Anne Miller and her team at TEEG we applied for a grant from SERAC to provide our teachers with adolescent mental health professional development. The TEEG, Thompson Public Schools and SERAC partnership allowed us to offer a workshop on Narcan/ Suicide Prevention training."

TEEG Executive Director, Anne Miller said, "This is a great turnout we have. We are a youth service bureau serving the towns of Thompson, Pomfret, Putnam and Woodstock."

For more information on suicide prevention go to www.qprinstitute.com for additional direct and indirect verbal clues and behavioral clues. For more information on SERAC training go to www.seracct.org.

TLGV October calendar of events

DANIELSON — In addition to all the Walktober events being hosted throughout The Last Green Valley National Heritage Corridor, TLGV staff and rangers are hosting the following events. To find a full Walktober guide visit TheLastGreenValley.org.

25 Years More! Looking Forward in The Last Green Valley: 6-7:30 p.m., Oct. 29, TLGV Office, 203B Main St., Danielson. As we celebrate 25 years of The Last Green Valley National Heritage Corridor, join us for a look back at how partnerships have shaped this unique and nationally significant region. Then share your vision of how we can ensure future generations will be able to care for, enjoy and pass on the beautiful landscape, rich history and proud culture of the National Heritage Corridor. Light refreshments will be served. Registration required by contacting Kyle Gregoire at Kyle@tlgv.org or 860-774-3300.

Stones, Stones and Stones: 10 a.m. to Noon, Oct. 30, Rt. 44, Eastford. Parking lot just west of Fire Tower Rd. Visit a lone grave of a black Civil War veteran and a cellar hole with a nice front step. Next stop is a very large erratic and moving on you will see a CCC-improved stone well and across the way, the remains of a quarrying operation. Lastly, we will visit the remains of a stone stile, the sole access to a cemetery. Most of this 2-mile walk is on a CCC-improved forest road and will be led at a very slow pace by TLGV

Ranger Dick. Call 860-315-9869 for more information.

Rolltober - Trails for the Mobility Impaired: 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Oct. 9, entrance to the Air Line Trail, Willimantic. Take drive-way off Bridge St. toward the Connecticut Eastern Railroad Museum. Everyone deserves time in the peace and tranquility of the natural world. That is why The Last Green Valley's Trail Assessment Team (HETAP/High Efficiency Trail Assessment Process) has been working hard to inventory objective information about trail conditions (e.g. grade, cross slope, width, obstructions). The information gathered can be used by all trail users, including those with mobility challenges, by providing accurate, objective information about the Air Line Trail from Pomfret to Willimantic. Come take a stroll with us and learn about the information we're creating to help you determine whether a trail is right for you. You'll also learn about the next steps for the team while we take in the sights of the Air Line Trail. Registration is encouraged but not required, to Lyann@tlgv.org or 860-774-3300. Rain cancels.

Enjoy the Dark Side of The Last Green Valley: 8 p.m. to Midnight, Oct. 11 and 25, Lebanon Town Green, Lebanon. Join TLGV Rangers Kim and Geoff for a night observing some far distant objects like galaxies, clusters of stars, Red Giants and Nebulae. If you have a telescope - bring it. If you don't know how to use it come early and we'll help you get started. Learn how to find the North Star. We'll talk about - and answer - all kinds of astronomical trivia while we observe. This is a family-friendly event. Please - no lanterns; flashlights should be only red lights. No white lights. For information call 860-886-8599.

25 Years More! Looking Forward in The Last Green Valley: 6-7:30 p.m., Oct. 24, Pearl L. Crawford Memorial Library, 40 Schofield Ave., Dudley, Mass. As we celebrate 25 years of The Last Green Valley National Heritage Corridor, join us for a look back at how partnerships have shaped this unique and nationally significant region. Then share your vision of how we can ensure future generations will be able to care for, enjoy and pass on the beautiful landscape, rich history and proud culture of the National Heritage Corridor. Light refreshments will be served. Registration required by contacting Kyle Gregoire at Kyle@tlgv.org or 860-774-3300.

Acorn Adventure - Hug A Tree and Survive: 10 – 11:30 a.m., Oct. 26, James L. Goodwin Conservation Center, 23 Potter Rd., Hampton. Before you can truly enjoy the outdoors, you need to learn how to be safe outdoors. First, we will watch a short video and talk about how to find your way and stay safe out in the woods. Then, we'll go out and put our new skills to work on the trails. For more information call 860-774-3300 or email Fran@tlgv.org

Cherish the Night Sky: 7 – 9 p.m., Oct. 26, Camp Laurel, 175 Clubhouse Rd., Lebanon. Join The Last Green Valley as we turn our gaze to the skies to look at our constellations and how light pollution impacts our night sky viewing. We will show you how to use a light meter and share information about our efforts to reduce light pollution in the National Heritage Corridor and ensure generations to come can still see the stars. You'll also learn about our new Night Sky Ranger volunteer program and how you can be a part of the effort to Cherish the Night Sky.

Quinebaug River Paddle: 1-3 p.m., Oct. 6, Canoe Launch at Holland Pond outlet (also known as Lake Siog), 20 Pond-BridgeRd., Holland, MA. 860-774-3300. Join Chief Ranger Bill for a scenic 4-mile paddle on the Quinebaug River National Recreation Water Trail. This segment flows through a Watchable Wildlife Area managed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. It has extensive wildlife habitat, good fishing, three picnic landings, very little current and no portages. While this segment is an excellent choice for beginning paddlers, participants should be prepared to face strong winds on the last leg across East Brimfield Lake. Registration is required by calling 860-774-3300 or email Bill@tlgv.org

fuel power plant.”

“We commend the strides that the Governor and his administration have made toward green energy solutions in our state such as Executive Order 3,” said Allie-Brennan, who serves as the Vice Chair of the Energy and Technology Committee as well as the Co-Chair of the Bipartisan Clean Energy Caucus. “This is why we find the Siting Council’s approval of this plant confusing. This year, we supported initiatives like the off-shore wind bill and the extension of solar programs which both invest more in renewable energy. In light of these successes, the construction of this plant is in direct conflict with our goal of curbing greenhouse gas emissions. Two years ago, plans for a similar facility were rejected because it was deemed unnecessary. If need has grown since that period, we should explore investing in clean alternatives like solar and wind power. The argument against increasing greenhouse emissions is compelling and we must assume a leadership role in exploring those options. Now is the time for bold, innovative solutions...it’s not the time to backtrack.”

“Our state has made significant progress implementing green technology to reduce our carbon footprint, but this proposed facility contradicts that progress. We need to work collaboratively to move our state forward and lead by example for other states that continue to employ technologies that endanger the environment and exploit natural resources,” said Boyd. “As state leaders, we must balance the need for adequate, affordable and reliable utility services with the need to protect our environment.”

Twenty-six members of the Senate and House Democratic caucuses co-signed the Letter sent to the Governor’s Office. The petition urges the administration to oppose the Killingly plant and asks for a review of the permit processes offered through the Connecticut Sitting Council and other state agencies to ensure that they account for Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions limits set by state law in 2015 under the Global Warming Solutions Act and this year’s Executive Order 3.

According to the Letter, if constructed, the gas-fired power plant would account for 5 percent of Connecticut’s total yearly GHG emissions, or 2.2 million tons of carbon dioxide. The action follows a summer of outcry from state environmental advocacy groups, including an August demonstration outside of the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection offices in Hartford, and last week’s Climate Strike, which saw millions marching around the world, including 1,000 in front of the Connecticut State Capitol Building.

“The Siting Council’s approval of Killingly, another fossil fuel power plant, immediately contradicts Governor Lamont’s commitment to getting Connecticut to 100 percent carbon-free energy by 2040,” said Samantha Dynowski, State Director of Sierra Club Connecticut. “Moving forward with this plant is a colossal mistake. We applaud the climate leaders in the legislature who spearheaded this letter to stop the Killingly plant and ensure that decisions made by bodies like the Siting Council adhere to Connecticut’s climate goals and policies.”

“Fracked gas and other fossil fuels are our past, not our future,” said Lori Brown, Executive Director of the Connecticut League of Conservation Voters. “Given Governor Lamont’s commitment to clean energy and a zero-carbon electric grid, there is no reason to move ahead with the Killingly project. Studies show investments in natural gas are on the decline. Connecticut should not invest in a dated, dirty, and depleted fossil fuel when we are making significant strides in solar, offshore wind, and other clean, renewable energy sources.”

great if there could be some sort of symbol in the building entrance that shows college support for veterans.”

They came up with various ideas but none of them would work due to different reasons. After parking in the front of the entrance of the school one day, Brown noticed a circular area that was overgrown with weeds and flowers — it had long since been abandoned.

“That is when I got the idea for a Veteran’s garden,” said Brown.

First came the idea, then came the approval from the cabinet, then the cleanup.

“It was dedicated in 2011,” Brown said.

In the fall Brown vacationed at the cape and noticed a brick walkway with engraved stones. “When I got back, I talked about doing something similar for QVCC and the community veterans with Joel and Devin who were working on the Oasis. They helped make it happen. We were hoping for 50 bricks that first year and received orders for 225. The first bricks were installed and dedicated on Veterans Day, 2012,” Brown said.

There are currently over 600 bricks in the garden. Annie Hill of Brooklyn is the current Veteran’s Associate and has kept the circle moving in the right direction since July, 2018. Twice a year she promotes the purchasing of more bricks, adding to the size of the circle.

“We want to bring the bricks out more on the sides to make it look like wings,” she said. “There is a bench and flowers. It is a garden for remembering and honoring local Veterans. People like to read the names on the other bricks and see if there is anyone there that they know.”

Once again, they are looking for sponsors to purchase a brick.

“Bricks are $40 each and are made out of granite. The price includes engraving. About 36 characters can be added. Most bricks are engraved with the name, rank, branch of service and date of service,” said Hill. “They can be dedicated to a Veteran, family member or other Veteran that they know. They can even dedicate it to themselves.”

Bricks will be ready and laid in time for a dedication ceremony to be held for their Veteran’s Day Celebration on Nov. 8 at 2 p.m.

For more information on purchasing a brick to dedicate, go to their webpage at www.QVCC.edu. Go to the student resources tab for veteran resources. Or you can call Annie Hill at (860) 932-4141.

Killingly High's Kameron Crowe run against Berlin last Friday.

VILLAGER EDITOR

DAYVILLE — It looked dire late in the third quarter with Berlin leading Killingly High by a touchdown and driving for more last Friday night. Dire isn't fun but it can sometimes be useful for a young team early in a football season.

"I'll tell you what, I'd take a game like this over a 50-to-nothing game. This was fun. It was a battle to the end," said Killingly coach Chad Neal. "This is what high school football is all about."

The battle was tipping in Berlin's balance by one touchdown late in third quarter — until Jackson Lopes' interception help turn things around and spark Killingly's 14-7 victory over the Redcoats. The two-touchdown rally was a good lesson in perseverance and lifted Killingly's record to 3-0.

"We talked about it at halftime because their heads were down. We said cut it out. It's 7-0, let's come out and win this game. Let's find a way to win this game and pick it up," Neal said. "We hadn't lost the game yet. They rallied. We made a lot of adjustments at halftime. And the kids paid attention to it and they executed."

Late in the third quarter with Berlin leading 7-0 and on its own 46-yard line and driving — on third-and-eight, quarterback Justin Skates tossed a pass over the middle that was tipped — Lopes intercepted the ball to give Killingly possession on its own 47-yard line with 1:18 left in the third quarter.

"It was huge. To get the ball back there, right at midfield, that could have been it. If they go up 14-0 that's it," Neal said. "We had to get a stop there."

Lopes said he knew Killingly needed a big play and the game was literally hanging in the balance as the tipped ball rotated above the field.

"I knew we needed to make a turnover. We needed to make a big play. We needed a mental shift at that moment," Lopes said. "Luckily the ball went up in the air. I was able to make a play on it. My mind just goes blank and I just think 'ball' and I'm going for it."

After Lopes' interception gave them the ball at their own 47, Killingly drove 53 yards in five plays. Jack Sharpe (100 yards on 13 carries) capped the march with a 28-yard touchdown run. Chris Jax kicked the point after to tie it at 7-7 with 11:31 left in the fourth quarter.

Lopes sensed the game turning after his interception and Sharpe's touchdown run.

"The momentum definitely shifted," Lopes said.

On Berlin's ensuing possession after Sharpe's touchdown, Killingly's defense came up with a key stop with 9:19 left in the game. On fourth-and-one from Killingly's 47-yard line, Killingly stuffed Berlin's Elijah Crowley for no gain — giving the ball back to Killingly. From there, Killingly drove 53 yards in five plays for the go-ahead score — senior quarterback Jacob Nurse capped the march with a 20-yard touchdown run with 7:47 remaining. Jax kicked the extra point to put Killingly up 14-7 and complete the scoring.

Neal adjusted his offensive attack in the second half and that led to two late rush touchdowns.

"We ran that shotgun wing set and we were able to run some quick passes out of it, the screens — we saw they were slanting to our wing tight end side so we ran just the same side trap and the kids blocked it well. We made it look like we were running that way but we cut it back," Neal said.

The defense sparked the win with the interception by Lopes and the fourth-down stop of Crowley in the fourth quarter. Killingly limited Berlin to 49 yards rushing and 129 yards passing. Killingly's only defensive lapse came on Jamie Palmese's 57-yard catch-and-run touchdown reception with 5:58 left in the first quarter.

"Defense played really good. One mistake really on that pass, it was an R.P.O., a run-pass option. We got caught. Hats off to them. They were well prepared for us. It was a chess match right to the end. Our kids just prevailed," Neal said.

The loss dropped Berlin's record to 2-1. Killingly (3-0) is next scheduled to play host to Fitch (2-1) at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 5, at Killingly High School.

Coach Neal said his team has played well early on. Killingly scored a touchdown with under a minute left to defeat Cumberland, R.I., in the season opener, and then topped Capital Prep 51-12 in game No. 2.

"We saw it Week One in Cumberland, we won it in the last seconds," Neal said. "I think we're well-conditioned. I think they have a lot of heart," Neal said. "We saw a lot of guys lead tonight — the Jackson Lopes, the Jonathan Creswells of the world led tonight."

Killingly High’s Pablo Yotti moves upfield against New London on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at Killingly High School.

BY CHARLIE LENTZ
VILLAGER EDITOR

DAYVILLE — Spanish exchange student Pablo Yotti has put his spin not only on the soccer ball but on his teammates — trying to rub off some of soccer savvy at Killingly High. Killingly had a .500 record (3-3-1) through seven games and coach

Ron Frechette said Yotti has been his playmaker. The coach watched Yotti played his typical game in a 4-1 victory over New London on Tuesday night at Killingly High School.

“He was telling guys where to mark and he was picking up the loose guy. He’s also talking to the guys when he’s doing that. You don’t see it from the sideline but I hear it in the practices. He’s talking to the team about where to mark and what to do,” Frechette said. “And he’s playing the balls in the correct spots for other runners. He’s a coach on the field at times. He’s definitely integrated into the team and they’re really listening to him.”

Frechette said his team has done some good things through seven games.

“We look good when we’ve got the ball and possess it — in the attacking third there’s options. I like the fact that everybody’s still looking for those options. Nobody’s going — me, me, me. It’s a team. I like to see that,” Frechette said.

Killingly senior forward Christopher Lackner suffered a season-ending knee injury in a game against Putnam High on Sept. 16. Frechette said some newcomers to the roster have been thrown into the fire early.

“Chris Lackner was one of those key pieces that we lost in the first game and it’s almost impossible to replace him,” Frechette said.

Killingly’s Kevin Rice scored two goals and Yotti and Evan Townsend each scored one goal in the 4-0 victory over New London on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at Killingly High School. Billy Carver notched two assists and Townsend and Yotti each recorded one assist. Killingly out-shot New London 16-4. Killingly keeper Connor Chahanovich made four saves. Killingly led 9-1 in corner kicks. Rice and senior defender Gary Salisbury were voted Men of the Match for their contributions to the win over New London.

Wesley Paulo scored the lone goal for New London (0-6). The win lifted Killingly’s record to 3-3-1. Killingly is next scheduled to play host to Griswold under the lights at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Killingly High School.

“We’re .500 right now. We’ve got three wins and a tie. We’ve got to find another three wins so we can at least make states,” Frechette said. “We’ve got to compete. We’ve had a couple games where we should have played better than we did — where we gave up some big scores — but I think we’re better than that. And I think you’re going to see that in the second half.”

Ellis Tech soccer on a roll

Ellis Tech goalie Brett Gile readies to make a save against Vinal Tech on Sept. 26.

BY CHARLIE LENTZ
VILLAGER EDITOR

DANIELSON — Ellis Tech’s boys soccer team won five of its first six games as the program builds on last season, when Ellis Tech qualified for the state tournament for the first time since 2014. The Golden Eagles earned a state tourney home game and finished with a record of 10-7-1 in 2018. Two seasons ago Ellis Tech ended with a mark of 5-10-1 in the regular season. In both the 2015 and 2016 seasons the Eagles mustered just two wins.

Drew Mizak is in his second season as head coach after serving as an assistant for nine seasons. Jay Hardell is the team’s assistant coach. Mizell said the program is going in the right direction. “The season’s off to a good start. We’ve got a great group of guys, a great mix of upperclassmen and underclassmen. But we’ve got to stay hungry,” said Mizell after a 6-0 win over Vinal Tech on Sept. 26.

The Golden Eagles lost four seniors (Jared Oenning, Danny Savino, Travis Jacobson, Logan LeBlanc) to graduation and have a talented group of players back.

“We lost four kids but we have five seniors this year, all great players. We have a nice balance, we’re not top heavy, we young guys too that are coming up to the program,” Mizell said. “We’ve got quality freshmen through seniors.”

Some of the returnees include senior midfielder Austin Derosiers and senior forward Chad Cramer. Derosiers and Cramer are the Golden Eagles primary scoring threats.

“Both those guys are forwards, they’re our primary attacking threats,” Mizak said.

Senior midfielder Collin Lavoie is a defensive midfielder, the back four are led by junior defender Mike MacCracken and senior Gaevin Vegiard. Sophomore goalkeeper Brett Gile returns. Ellis Tech plays in the Connecticut Technical Conference East Division and is classified as Class L for the state tournament.

“Our goal is to make the state tournament and to make a deep run in the CTC Tournament. Last year we got a tough matchup in the first round, played a tough team in Platt Tech, lost 2-1. But our goal is to make a deep run, I’d live to be playing on that Saturday for a championship,” Mizell said.

In the 6-0 win over Vinal Tech on Sept. 26, Austin Desrosiers scored two goals. Collin Lavoie, Mike MacCracken, Evertt LeBlanc, and Kyle O’Connor each scored one goal for Ellis Tech (5-1 overall, 4-0 Connecticut Technical Conference. Ellis keeper Brett Gile made five saves. Notching assists for Ellis Tech were Chad Cramer, Desrosiers, Jake Piche and LeBlanc. Ellis Tech is next scheduled to play at Grasso Tech on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

NEW HAVEN — Ian Welz picked up 90 yards on 15 carries to help Woodstock Academy defeat Amistad Academy 36-0 on Sept. 28. The win lifted the Centaurs record to 3-0. Woodstock led 22-0 at halftime. Gavin Savoie, Ethan Davis and Adam Exley all scored touchdowns on the ground for the Centaurs. Travis White caught an 11-yard touchdown pass from Davis. Trey Ayotte caught three passes for 40 yards. The Centaurs defense recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass. The loss dropped Amistad’s record to 0-2. Woodstock is next scheduled to play host to Plainfield (2-1) on Saturday morning, Oct. 5, with kickoff set for 10:30 a.m. at Bentley Athletic Complex.

Quinebaug Valley downs Vinal Tech

MIDDLETOWN — Lee Schiavetti rushed for 146 yards and two touchdowns to help the Quinebaug Valley Pride defeat Vinal Tech 29-8 on Friday, Sept. 27, at Palmer Field. The Pride led 21-8 at half-time.

Schiavetti rushed 25 times for 146, two touchdowns, and one two-point conversion. Bernie Barron picked up 40 yards on 10 carries. Colby Pederson rushed for eight yards and one touchdown on two carries. Pride quarterback Mike Merrill was 3-of-8 passing for 58 yards. D’Andre Therecka snagged three passes for 58 yards. Sam Rebello was 3-for-3 on extra-point kicks. Defensively, Pederson returned an interception for touchdown in the second quarter.

The loss dropped Vinal Tech’s record to 1-2. The win lifted Quinebaug Valley’s record to 2-1. The Pride are next scheduled to play host to Prince Tech in the afternoon on Friday, Oct. 4, with kickoff set for 3:30 p.m. at Ellis Tech’s field.

Tourtellotte girls soccer on a run

Tourtellotte's Kaylee Tackson tries to get past Putnam Hannah Smith last Friday.

BY CHARLIE LENTZ
VILLAGER EDITOR

PUTNAM — With the loss of nine seniors to graduation and an influx of new players, Tourtellotte coach Deb

Spinelli is pleased with her team's start through six games — a start that included a five-game winning streak after a season-opening loss to Ledyard. "I wasn't sure after graduating nine kids what we were going to look like. We're actually looking for each other. We're not playing kickball as much," said Tourtellotte coach Deb Spinelli after a 1-0 win over Putnam High last Friday. "Some of them are actually figuring out how to use each other in combinations."

The coach said the Tigers have been able to win despite some injuries.

"We're pretty beat up right now," Spinelli said. "I've got four starters out right now. We're getting other kids some time out on the field. I'm still weak on my outside-mids but I've got to keep my stronger group right up the gut."

Kaylee Tackson scored the game's lone goal off an assist from Ashley Morin in Tourtellotte's 1-0 win over Putnam High on Sept. 27 at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex in Putnam.

Spinelli said they were playing well during their five-game winning streak, capped by the win over Putnam High.

Coach Spinelli said she's been relying on Kaylee Tackson, Morin, Makayla Tackson, Chloe Manzo, and Hannah Leclaire.

"Those kids, up the gut, have to be on the field the whole time," Spinelli said. "I need that group out there."

Tourtellotte is next scheduled to play host to East Hampton at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 8. The season is young and coach Spinelli said many tough games remain.

"We've got a big week next week," Spinelli said. "Hopefully we get healthy and stay healthy."

PUTNAM — Putnam High fell to Tourtellotte Memorial 1-0 last Friday at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex. The loss dropped Putnam's record to 2-3 through five games. Putnam assistant coach Molly Panteleakos said the Clippers defense shut down the Tigers but just couldn't put the ball in the net.

"They've been working really hard in practice and games. Any time you're going to play Tourtellotte, we're rivals, we've been playing for many years now, we always know it's going to be tough competition. (Tourtellotte coach) Deb (Spinelli) prepares her squad awesome. We just came up a little bit short," Panteleakos said.

The coach acknowledged that Tourtellotte's record was 5-1 through six games and the Clippers worked hard and held the Tigers to one goal in the loss on Sept. 27. Kaylee Tackson scored for Tourtellotte with an assist from Ashley Morin.

"We had a little bit of trouble getting the ball up top. Our defense held strong, one goal, it's a close game. We're not upset with the result. I think we're going to take a lot from it, come back on Monday, and work hard for our next game," Panteleakos said.

The Clippers have a tough stretch ahead. They are next scheduled to play at Lyman Memorial at 4 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 4. The Clippers travel to Parish Hill for a 3 p.m. start on Saturday, Oct. 5.

"We have high hopes. Just keeping the positivity and motivation going. We take one game at a time," Panteleakos said. "This is a 1-0 loss but sometimes you learn more from losing than you do from winning. So we're going to take what we can work on and apply it to the next game and try to get a win next game."

Putnam returns home to play host to Lyman

Memorial on Monday, Oct. 7, with kickoff set for 3:45 p.m. at St. Marie Greenhalgh Complex.

Donald A. Notis, 90

FABYAN, CT- Donald A. Notis, 90, of Fabyan, died Saturday, September 21, 2019 in Day Kimball Hospital. His wife of 52 years Elinor E. (Prince) Notis died in 2005. He leaves his three children, John A. Notis and his wife, Kathleen of Killingly, Diane C. Light and her husband, Lawrence and Paul A. Notis and his wife, Melissa all of Woodstock; five grandchildren, Amanda, Christopher, Kyle, Sarah and Keira.; nieces and nephews. He was born and raised in Fabyan, son of Costas and Christina (Mipa) Notis. He graduated in 1947 from Tourtellotte Memorial High School. Don proudly served his country in the United States Army later serving in the United States Navy. He was employed in the trucking industry as a financial analyst throughout his career until his retirement at the early age of 58. Don enjoyed sky-diving (completing over 2000 jumps), downhill skiing, backpacking, boating, fishing, hunting and motorcycle riding. He also maintained an exotic pheasant, quail and dove aviary. He was a great husband and father who will be missed by all. The funeral service will be private. There are no calling hours. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to: St. Jude's Children's Hospital Fund, 501 St. Jude's Place, Memphis, TN 38105. The Shaw-Majercik Funeral Home, 48 School Street, Webster are handling arrangements. A guest book is available at www.shaw-majercik.com where you may post a condolence or light a candle.

Raymond A. Donais, 84

Ronald L. Nadeau, 75

Our brother Ronald L. Nadeau entered the Kingdom of God on September 8, 2019, at the age of 75. Throughout his life, Ron was a gentle, caring and loving person. During his early life, he was deeply involved in sports, playing at a high level in basketball, baseball and golf. He served his country for four years in the Airforce and left with a rank of Sgt. Following his return, he worked as a mechanic at Anchor Glass until his retirement. Golf was his passion throughout his life along with his love of the Boston sports teams. He could always be counted on to help whenever his family or friends needed it. He was warm hearted and had great empathy for everyone he knew. Later in life, Ron met the love of his life, Vivian and after a brief time, they married. Their loving relationship was filled with many happy moments until the day he met the Lord. Ronald was predeceased by his Father and Mother; Albert and Marie Alice Nadeau, his sisters Elaine Dawley Nadeau, Alice Streich Nadeau, and his brother Jean Nadeau. He is survived by his wife, Vivian, son, Paul Nadeau, step-daughters, Leane Humphreys Sayer and Janis Sayer, his siblings Lillian Gibson Nadeau, Lauraine White Nadeau, Jeannette Shaw Nadeau, and Roger Nadeau. A mass will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church, at 10 am of the 5th of October. Following the mass, he will be buried at St. Mary's cemetery with Military Honors. Please park along the street in front of the church so we can proceed directly to St. Mary's cemetery following the mass.

Todd R. Worsham

Auburn, MA- Todd R. Worsham passed away unexpectedly on Tuesday, September 10, 2019. Todd was the beloved son of Robert and Elizabeth (Denne) Worsham. He was born in Putnam and grew up in Woodstock.

Todd worked as a carpenter and cabinet maker his whole life, most recently at Lopes Carpentry in West Newbury and at Commonwealth Carpentry in Boston. Prior to that he worked for Stephen Swift Furniture, and then ran his own company, Form and Function Design, in the Auburn area for several years. He earned Associates degrees from both QVCC and New England Tech. Todd enjoyed music, nature, sports, trail running, the ocean, and time spent with his family. He played the bass guitar with the Satellite Rockers, a reggae group, putting on shows in the Worcester area and throughout New England, many as fundraisers for various charities. He was a talented carpenter/cabinetmaker, meticulous at his craft, and especially enjoyed doing custom design work for his clients or friends. He also worked on one of the tiny houses for the Tiny House Nation show. He will be remembered by his family and friends for his infectious smile, big heart, sense of humor, loving nature, and willingness to help others.

In addition to his parents, Todd is survived by his sister, Erin Blake and her husband Jacob of Reno, NV, and their children, Hayden, Annabel, and Thayer. He is also survived by his uncles, Thomas (Cynthia) Denne of Cheshire, and Mark (Darlene) Denne of Lincoln, RI; and his cousins, Thomas (Jennifer) Denne, Jill (Jonathan) Stanizzi, Scott (Tatjana) Denne, Greg Denne, and Eric Denne; and other family and close friends. Todd will be remembered with love by Stacey Rogers and the Rogers family. Todd was predeceased by his girlfriend Tanner Katherine Wilson and their unborn son.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Gilman Funeral Home and Crematory, 104 Church St, Putnam, CT. A celebration of his life is being planned for a later date. In lieu of flowers, donations in his memory may be made to the Wyndham Land Trust, PO Box 302, Pomfret Center, CT 06259 or online at wyndhamlandtrust.org. For memorial guestbook, visit www.GilmanandValade.com.

Glen Richard Dash

Glen Richard Dash, of Boston, MA, and Pomfret, CT, died in his home in Boston on September 19th, 2019. He was 66. Glen was raised in Skokie, Illinois and attended MIT where he received a degree in electrical engineering, before earning a combined Harvard Law degree and a Sloan School (MIT) MBA. As an undergraduate he designed the electronics of one of the first electronic games, TV Tennis along with its hockey/soccer follow up which were sold by a toy manufacturer. As part of the product development, Glen succeeded in getting both products through the Federal Communications Commission approval process for electronic interference. Glen later co-founded his own testing business, Dash, Straus and Goodhue. Glen used his legal background to successfully challenge the monopoly that Underwriters Laboratory held on product testing. Hundreds of specialty testing companies are now in business because of that effort.

When Glen sold his testing business about a decade later, he was able to turn his attention to his first love, archaeology. That interest was sparked by a trip to Iran as an undergraduate. In this new career, he was able to use his electrical engineering background to conduct subsurface surveys using magnetometry and ground-penetrating radar in Greece, Crete, and the Gaza Strip. In the United States, he was involved in an effort to locate the Underground Railroad in Port Tobacco, MD.

By far, most of Glen's work was in Egypt. He conducted both surface and subsurface surveys over several seasons to locate underground cavities in both the main and west valleys of the Valley of the Kings. On the edge of the Red Sea, he was able to locate an ancient harbor. The majority of Glen's time was spent on the Giza Plateau understanding the structures buried under the surface that would have been there as the pyramids were constructed, and probing the inside of the Sphinx. He was able to provide new, more accurate measures of the size and orientation of the Great Pyramid. Back in Pomfret, he was able to show how ancient Egyptians could have attained the necessary accuracy using only primitive materials and the sun.

Glen enjoyed tennis, the Patriots, and played softball on the same MIT team for 44 consecutive summers. He leaves a daughter and son-in-law, Becky and Eric Sperber, and a sister Terry Dash and her husband, Stephan Miller. He was married to Joan Dash for 33 years. A memorial gathering will be private.

Sr. Rose Mary Iannucci, 102

Windham, CT - Sr. Rose Mary Iannucci, 102, a member of the Daughters of the Holy Spirit, died on Sunday September 29, 2019 at St Joseph Living Center in Windham, CT.

Born on June 6, 1917 in Waterbury, CT, the daughter of the late Giovanni (John) and Antoinette Conte Iannucci, Sr. Rose Mary entered religious life in 1938 and made her profession at the Motherhouse in St. Brieuc, France on March 27, 1940. She was then known as Sr. Jean Antoine.

She remained in France for her first community in LeLegué. Once the United States declared war on Germany, she and 23 other Daughters of the Holy Spirit were arrested. Sr. Rose Mary was held in the detention camp at Vittel for more than two years. She and the other American Sisters taught the children in the camp which had been originally created to intern nationals of enemy and neutral countries whom Germany wanted to exchange for their own nationals held in enemy camps. The 22 DHS in Vittel were released as exchange prisoners in 1944. Sr. Rose Mary is the last surviving member of that group.

Once back in the U. S., she taught in elementary schools in CT, MA and VT while obtaining her B.A. and M.A. in education. In 1975 she moved to West Sacramento, CA for 22 years where she ministered as a teacher before earning her certificate in pastoral care from the Medical Center in San Francisco in 1980. She then ministered as a pastoral associate at Our Lady of Grace Parish in West Sacramento. She was instrumental in bringing the Associate Program there.

Upon retirement in 1998, she resided at St. Clare Convent in Newport, RI before moving to the Provincial House in Putnam, CT in 2007. She was one of the first Sisters to begin the new community at St. Joseph Living Center in Windham, CT in 2016.

She is survived by the Daughters of the Holy Spirit spiritual family – her sisters in community, the Consecrated Seculars and the Associates as well as several nieces and nephews. She is predeceased by her brothers and sisters, Clementina Rossi, Susan DiLeo, Martha DiPietro Hadsock, Philip Iannucci, Michelina Martino, Philomena Balduc Lata, Eva Dileo and John Iannucci.

Calling hours will be on Wednesday, October 2, 2019 from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. at St. Joseph Church, 99 Jackson Street, Willimantic, CT with a prayer service at 10:00 a.m. A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11:00 a.m. followed by burial in St. Mary Cemetery in Putnam at 2:30 p.m. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to DHS Retirement Fund, P. O. Box 497, Putnam, CT 06260. The Gilman Funeral Home, 104 Church St., Putnam, CT have been entrusted with arrangements. For memorial guest book, please visit www.GilmanandValade.com.

Skewered chicken goes great on the grill

Grilling chicken is an easy way to transform this versatile food into something even more delicious. Various cultures serve chicken in kebab form after grilling it over an open flame, and taste is a big reason this particular method of cooking chicken is so beloved. While you might not expect to see kebabs on the menu at your favorite Italian restaurant, “spiedini” is Italian for “little skewers,” proving that Italian chefs recognize how delicious chicken can be when served in kebab form. In this recipe for “Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde” from “Cooking Light: Dinner’s Ready”

(Oxmoor House) by The Cooking Light Editors, skewers are paired with a zesty salsa full of nuts, herbs and citrus, which makes for the perfect complement to the smoky grilled flavor. Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde

- Makes 6 servings
- Salsa:
- 1 cup chopped flat parsley
 - 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, toasted
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
 - 3 tablespoons capers, chopped
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
 - 1/2 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme
 - 1/2 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano
 - 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 - 1 garlic clove, minced
- Spiedini:
- 1 1/2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
 - 6 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 1 1/4 pounds)
 - Cooking spray
 - 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Soak 12 (10-inch) wooden skewers in water for 30 minutes to prevent burning. Bring the grill to medium-high heat. To prepare the salsa, combine the first 12 ingredients; set aside. To prepare the spiedini, thread the chicken and zucchini alternately on each of the 12 skewers. Coat the spiedini with cooking spray; sprinkle evenly with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Place on a grill rack; grill 6 minutes or until done, turning once. Serve with salsa. Tip: Prepare the salsa up to a day ahead, and assemble the skewers earlier in the day. Coat with the seasonings just before grilling.

What to know about food portions

Portion control is a big part of a healthy diet. In fact, the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases notes that, when it comes to maintaining a healthy weight, how much food a person eats is just as important as what he or she eats. No two people are the same, so a portion that’s satisfying and healthy for one person won’t necessarily be the same for another person. Answering some common questions about food portions can help people understand this vital component of a healthy lifestyle.

What is the difference between portions and servings? The NIDDK notes that a portion is how much food a person chooses to eat at one time, while a serving size is the amount of food listed on the Nutrition Facts label. The portions a person eats may or may not match a serving size. That’s because a healthy portion size is typically based on various factors, such as age, weight and gender, unique to individuals.

Should calories come into play when determining healthy portion sizes? Calories definitely merit consideration when determining healthy portion sizes. However, the amount of calories a person needs is based on a number of factors, including how physically active that person is. The NIDDK notes that a 150-pound woman who exercises vigorously throughout the week will need more calories than a woman about the same size who is not as physically active. When trying to determine their calorie needs, men and women should consult with their physicians, who will consider their lifestyle, age, medical history, and other factors before advising patients about how much they should eat.

What if I am still hungry after reducing portion sizes? It’s likely that people accustomed to big portions will still be hungry as their bodies adjust to reduced portion sizes. In such instances, people can try taking more time to eat. Even if there’s less food on the plate, eating slowly gives the brain a chance to receive the message that the stomach is full. According to the NIDDK, it can take as long as 15 minutes for that message to make its way to the brain. Eating slowly reduces the risk of overeating, and you may even be surprised to learn that a smaller portion size than you’re used to is all you really need to feel satisfied. Portion control is a great way to get healthy and maintain a healthy weight
